SISD taxes bring in $5000 first day

BY CAROL JONES

Rex Ann Friess from the Sutton County Tax Appraisal District reported Tuesday night to the members of the Sonora Independent School District that $5000 was collected in school taxes on the first day that the new tax statements were released.

She added that a total of $6,993.70 was collected in delinquent taxes during the month of September including $4,766.52 for actual taxes, $912.14 for collection fees of 15 percent, and $1,315.04 for penalty and interest.

In other action, the board members voted to employ Diane Jacoby as accountant/secretary for the business office to fill an opening made by the resignation of Vicki High.

Members of the board also voted unanimously to authorize the purchase of an 83-passenger diesel Bluebird bus at a cost not more than 4 percent over the 1983 price of $68,299. The bus was to be ordered by Friday, October 19 by Mario Sotelo, assistant superintendent. State law requires all school buses to be yellow.

In other action, Janet Patton, gifted and talented coordinator for the school, submitted a letter to the board requesting permission to use the high school computer room as a meeting place for an Apple Computer users group.

Ms. Patton added that the aims of the group would be to promote the use of computers in Sutton County and surrounding areas, to provide owners of Apple computers an opportunity to discuss ways of using the machine in everyday and home settings. Included would be the opportunity to review available software and to provide prospective Apple owners an informal setting to see how the machines actually work.

The people who should benefit from the users club are (as the letter states) any adult in Sutton County who owns an Apple or is taking the computer class now in session, parents of students involved in computer class in Sonora High School who want to find out what their children are doing, and students who want to investigate areas not covered in class instruction. This can include students not presently enrolled in those classes.

The letter stated that the intentions of the group would be to have totally informal meetings once a month with no dues collected or fund-raising involved. Anyone interested in learning about Apple computers would be welcome.

The school board members agreed and informally granted permission to the group to use the facilities for the meetings.

In reports from various representatives, James Bible, SISD Superintendent, reported that there would not be a noon school board meeting Tuesday, October 23.

Tom McKenna, construction supervisor for the new high school project, reported that the rough grading, begun on October 10 was completed and that the cutting and filling was still continuing. McKenna was asked by the board to provide members with a full, written report concerning the progress of the project.

Clay Cade, elementary principal, reported an enrollment of 348 including 115 in kindergarten, 132 in first grade, and 101 in second. Cade added that the Parent/teacher conferences were scheduled to be completed by the end of last week.

Miguel Ramos, middle school principal, reported a total enrollment of 300 students in that building.

Smith Neal who is the principal of the junior high school reported 331 enrolled as of Tuesday. He also stated that there was a 98 percent attendance record for the first six weeks, but that the tutoring sessions were not having good attendance. Neal added that the sixth grade was having the best attendance in the tutorial session.

High School Principal Jack Asbill said Tuesday night that there were 366 enrolled with a 98.35 percent attendance during the past week.

Asbill went on to state that the tutorial attendance was poor and that one morning 10 teachers were available but only 2 students attended to take advantage of the sessions.

There are a number of conferences still going on between teachers and parents of high school students and Asbill said that he will begin teacher visitation this week.

Basketball season began for the high school girls Monday. The Mighty Bronco Band will compete in district competition October 27. Regional contest will be held November 3 and the state contest will be held November 12 or 13.

Principal Asbill added that school is scheduled to dismiss early October 31 for the Halloween carnival preparations.

There was a written report from Ms. Patton concerning the gifted and talented program in the Sonora schools. The report stated that the G/T program has been affected by the current education legislation and that the program is now divided into three learning sections including typing skills, research and computers.

Broncos fall to Bearcats

by CHARLIE ADAMS

The Ballinger Bearcats came out in overdrive hitting on all eight cylinders while the Sonora Broncos seemed to be somewhere between neutral and reverse. The Bearcats took a dominating 38-0 victory over the Broncos and moved to 2-0 in district 7-AAA play while the Broncos dropped to 1-1.

The Bearcats played as near a perfect game as can be played. They made very few mistakes and had no turnovers. The Bearcats scored on all four of their first half possessions while totally stopping the Bronco offense. The Broncos managed only one first down in that first half. The bearcats rolled up 253 yards rushing and 114 yards passing compared to 57 yards rushing and 59 yards passing for the Broncos.

The brightest part of the night for the Broncos was their first possession of the second half as they drove to the Ballinger five yard line before the Bearcats Kirk Francis intercepted a Scott Miller pass and returned it to the Bronco 41 yard line.

Miller was 3 of 12 with 3 interceptions. He seemed to be under a constant pressure by the front five of the Bearcat defense. He was sacked seven times for a minus 30 yards. Miller ended the night with minus seven yards on 12 attempts.

Joe Mike Noriega led the Broncos with 35 yards on 10 carries. Victor Lira added 29 yards on 8 tries. Esau Ramirez had 3 carries for 0 yards and John David Martinez had 1 carry for 0 yards. In the receiving department Esau Ramirez caught 1 for 23 yards, Ricky Mesa 1 for 19 yards and Joe Will Ross 1 for 17 yards.

Elsewhere around District 7-AAA, the 9th ranked in the state Colorado City Wolves roared past the Ozona Lions 46-0. Colorado City is now 7-0 while Ozona falls to 1-6.

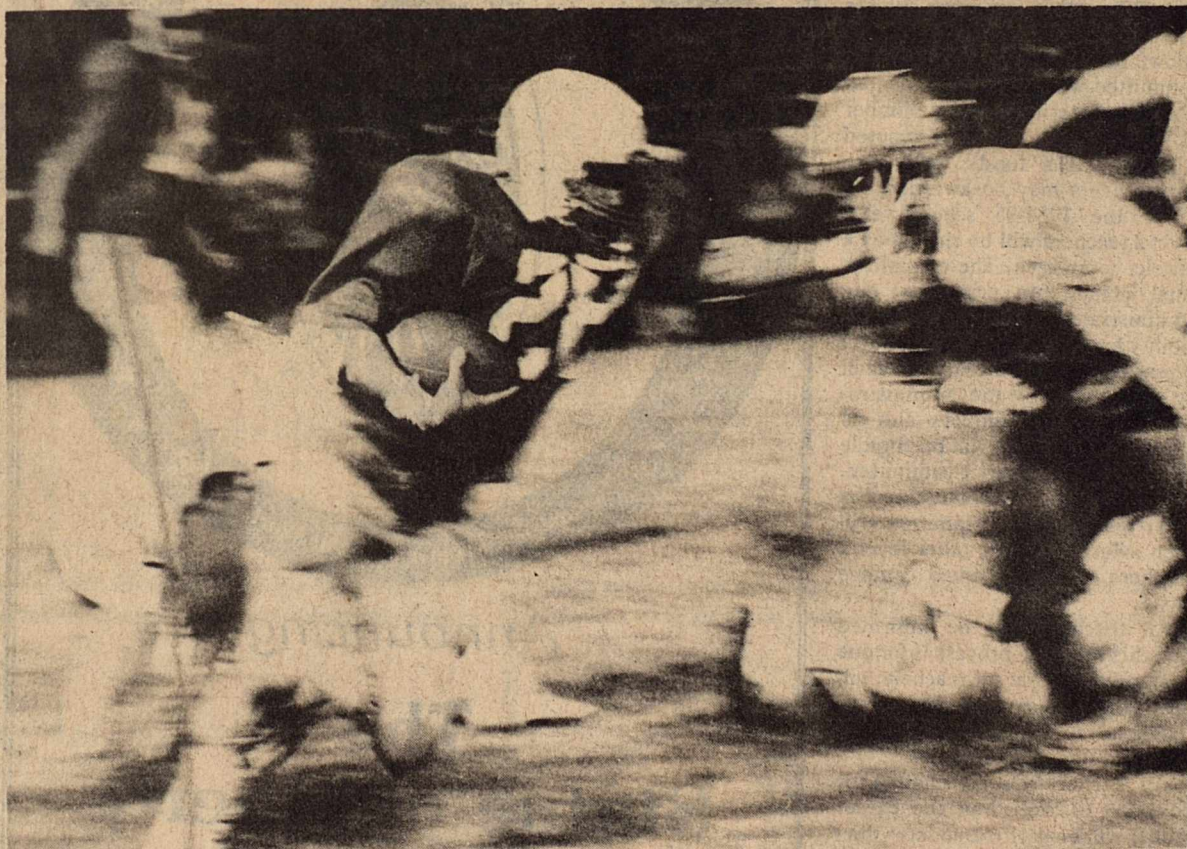

Coahoma used a play called the "swinging gate" on the extra point to beat Crane 15-12. Coahoma is now 3-3-1 on the year and 1-1 in district play. Crane is 1-6 and 0-2.

The matchups this next week will be Crane at Ozona, the big show down of the undefeated will take place in Ballinger as the Bearcats will play host to the Colorado City Wolves. The Broncos will travel north to take on the Coahoma Bulldogs. The Bulldogs are a hot and cold team. They are wide open offensively as they throw the ball about two out of every three plays. They use a Pro-type offense with four or five receivers downfield on pass plays. Their quarterback is tall and is a very good scrambler.

The Bulldogs will use a 5-2 defense like the Broncos employ. The game will be a very important one in that the loser will be eliminated from just about any chance of play-off possibility. The winner however could still play an important role in the final outcome of district 7-AAA. The game should be full of fireworks as both teams like to throw the football. The two teams will matchup very equally size-wise. Both teams also have better than average secondaries to try and stop the others passing attack. So be there and support the Broncos!

GET OUT OF MY WAY GUYS!

Victor Lira (28) appears to be warning the Bearcats that he is coming through--no matter what. The Broncos lost a real heart-breaker Friday night at the hands of the 1983-84 district champions, the Ballinger Bearcats. The Bearcats left Sonora with a 38-0 victory. Support the Broncos Friday night as they travel to Coahoma for their third district game. Kick-off time is 8 p.m. Be there!!! (Staff Photo by KKN)

Loeffler supports Reagan and Bush

by Carol Jones

Tom Loeffler, Republican United States Congressman for our district, spoke Friday to 200 or more citizens of this area in Sutton County National Bank where there was standing room only--and not much of that was vacant.

Individuals from all walks of life gathered to visit with Tom (who must be noted for his "down-home" friendliness). The local Republican party was the host for the luncheon, catered by Sutton County Steakhouse.

One remark made by Tom that is apparent in all of his congressional representation for our district was, "There's not a better district than this for Tom Loeffler!" He is certainly well known and greets almost everyone by their first name.

Tom is campaigning all over the district for President Ronald Reagan and Vice-President George Bush in their race for re-election as well as for Congressman Phil Gramm. Gramm is running for U.S. Senate.

Loeffler is also running for re-election as our congressman.

Seminars slated for drought-stricken

Recent rainfall across Southwest Texas brought a measure of relief to drought-stricken farmers, but the drought, which has plagued some parts of the state for several years, has not been broken. Keeping this in mind, three seminars, targeted toward helping dryland and irrigated farmers use water more efficiently, are scheduled for Castroville, Uvalde and Pleasanton.

Top specialists from across the state will be leading discussions at the day-long Water Use and Conservation in Agriculture conferences, sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, in cooperation with the Edwards Underground Water District.

Dr. John Sweeten, Extension agricultural engineer, headquartered in College Station, said the programs will cover the latest techniques that have been approved by researchers. Experts will give an update on the status of the Edwards and Carrizo Aquifers, and State Senator Bill Sims, D-San Angelo, will discuss groundwater district policies which will be discussed by the state legislature in 1985.

Programs will be held October 31 at the Livestock Performance

Center in Castroville; November 1 at the Uvalde Civic Center in Uvalde; and December 5 at St. Andrews Hall in Pleasanton. Each program will be designed for producers in the immediate area of the host county, but still will have similar characteristics, Sweeten said.

There is a need for farmers to conserve water, whether it is irrigation water or rainfall, Sweeten said.

"A total of 2.1 million people were on voluntary or mandatory water rationing in Texas as of October 1, 1984," he said. Drought and rapid population growth in a band from Abilene and Denton to Corpus Christi contributed to the water shortage, he explained.

"This continued population pressure will mean a need to feed more people and utilize even more water in the future," Sweeten said.

"These programs are designed to help farmers make plans for 1985 and beyond, using techniques and equipment which is economically feasible and affordable," he explained.

Crop water requirements, irrigation system efficiency, irrigation well design and construction, soil management practices and surge flow and trickle and drip irrigation are among the topics to be discussed.

Each program begins at 9:30 a.m. and lunch will be served. Tickets are available for $10 from local county Extension agents.

Phil Gramm honored by NFIB recently

Rep. Phil Gramm has earned the "Guardian of Small Business" Award from the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) for his outstanding voting record on small-business issues.

The nation's largest small-business group presented him with the award because he voted in support of positions voiced by the majority of NFIB members 88 percent of the time.

On announcing the award, NFIB President John Sloan said, "The voting record of Rep. Gramm throughout this Congress demonstrates that he is responsive to the needs of his state, because small businesses create the majority of new jobs and, if left to flourish, will continue to be the driving force behind this country's resurgent economic growth."

House members were rated in 18 recorded votes during this session of Congress. Issues ranged from cutting the federal deficit to controlling payroll taxes to giving small firms a chance to compete for government contracts. Members of Congress who failed to vote on at least 70 percent of the issues counted in the ratings were not eligible for the award.

NFIB is a non-profit, non-partisan organization representing 41,163 small-business owners in Texas and more than a half-million independent businesses across the country.

The research area for the first nine weeks is on organizational structures. According to the report, the students have been experiencing interviewing, inviting guest speakers to lecture (or viewing guest speakers on video tape) and surveying.

In other action, the board voted unanimously to adopt the new implementation for the teacher career ladder prepared by the administrators.

Sotelo will review personnel files and compile a list of teachers who have completed coursework past the BA/BS degree. Sotelo will contact all personnel and explain to them the need to document (throughout official college transcripts) any courses that are not on file. Documentation of coursework and/or inservice training hours shall be the responsibility of the teacher and not that of the district.

A career ladder advisory committee will be formed for the purpose of teacher input in the career ladder process. If the district finds that it has more eligible level 2 teachers than funds will allow, the career ladder advisory committee will offer recommendations for determining the number of teachers that can be promoted with available funds, and who supplements may be awarded.

For the 1984-85 school year, level 2 teachers will be chosen by a district committee. The committee shall include two principals, one administrator with direct responsibility for personnel, and two level 2 teachers. Level 2 teachers shall be designated by the administrative committee members and no administrator's wife will be eligible to serve on the district committee.

After the district committee has been formed, the committee will then select all of the other level 2 teachers on an individual campus basis.

All teachers will be informed that this selection process is for one year only and that all teachers will have the opportunity for career ladder advancement based on state requirements in the future.

All teachers who are eligible for selection to level 2 of the career ladder will be notified no later than December 15 of this year.

The board also voted Tuesday night to adopt the new teacher evaluation form. Bible stated, "The form was compiled by the building representatives and the school administrators to comply with House Bill 72".

In other action, the board also: Granted permission for Bible to advertise the discarded elementary auditorium seating for sale for anything the district might realize.

Discussed the possibility of not having the annual Christmas banquet for district employees and spouses in an effort to cut down on expenses-the board decided to put this matter on the November agenda, and

Tabled the possibility of sharing computer space with the county tax appraisal office.

School officials attending the meeting were Carl Teaff, president pro tempore; Kenneth V. Cayce, secretary; Jimmy Condra; Rosemary Mathews; Sam Perez; James Bible, superintendent; and Joan Latta.

Others present for the meeting Tuesday night included Janet Patton, Rex Ann Friess, Warren McCarron, Mario Sotelo, Smith Neal, Miguel Ramos, Clay Cade, Tom McKenna, Ocie McKenna, and Jack Asbill.

I wonder what happened to manners?—I never see a man in a restaurant take off his hat or cap at a ball game they sit with a big cowboy hat on, you can't see over or around them. At the show they wear their hats and it sure is hard to see the picture. I even saw some men wearing their hats at a dance.

So men, take off your hat - it won't hurt!
Mr. & Mrs. Johnny Morris and son Jeffery visited his parents, Mr. & Mrs. James Morris over the weekend.

Be a Wise Person

By Rev. David Griffin Pastor, 1st United Methodist Church

"Every one then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wiseman who built his house upon the rock; and the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat upon that house, but it did not fall, because it had been founded on the rock. And every one who hears these words of mine and does not do them will be like a foolish man who built his house upon the sand; and the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell; and great was the fall of it." Matthew 7: 24-27.

The church of Jesus Christ, as a community of believers, a redemptive fellowship, and the Body of Christ, pursues the ministries of worship, preaching, witnessing, serving, and teaching. The church has always been a teaching community. Jesus himself was a teacher first and foremost during his earthly ministry. Through parables and other means he taught the meaning of the Kingdom.

Not only did Jesus teach; he also appointed others to do so. Of particular importance here is the "Great Commission" of Matthew 28: 18-20. Faithful to the call of Christ the church proclaims that God is acting through Christ to save mankind.

Since the days of the early Church, the teaching ministry has continued to know high priority. Then and now a primary use of the Scriptures has been as the central resource for the teaching ministry. Through its teaching ministry the church nurtures children in the Christian gospel; youth are instructed in the meaning and application of the gospel to their life-choices; adults are led to a deeper understanding of life in Christ and the application of his teachings to everyday life.

Clearly then Christian education serves as a unique foundation for our lives. And if we can apply the same common sense to the building of our lives as we use in building a house the foundation will be built first and well. The parents of baptised infants promise to give this foundation priority; "To exercise all godly care that he/she be brought up in the Christian faith, that he/she be taught the Holy Scriptures," "To keep this child under the ministry and guidance of the church until he/she by the power of God shall accept for himself/herself the gift of salvation," "And to build well as Jesus has shown, to build not in the draw but on the hill. We must recognize the dangers of sandy foundations where a flash flood will destroy with deadly speed. Christ calls us to the hill. The slopes are often difficult to climb but do provide the solid foundation which guarantees safe haven in storm and sunlight.

C.U. in the church this Sunday.

David

Capitol Update

BY JOHN TOWER

When America won its freedom more than 200 years ago, a society was formed based upon freedom and individual liberty. A person's rights were not based upon class, wealth or arbitrary rule but upon law and equal justice.

In the following years, justice and civil rights were not always served, and people were discriminated against because of color, race or religion. However, our system of justice has evolved, and we have reached a point in our history where we strive to ensure equality for all Americans.

It is the responsibility of the federal government to see that civil rights continue to be protected and infringements upon those rights corrected. Accordingly, the Reagan Administration has worked diligently to root out discrimination in all areas. In virtually every area of enforcement, this administration has initiated more cases defending civil rights than the preceding one.

Recognizing the seriousness of racial violence, the Department of Justice has placed special emphasis on criminal rights enforcement and has initiated more cases than any prior administration in a comparable period of time. Additionally, the Department of Labor has filed more lawsuits in the past three years to compel compliance with the civil rights laws than any previous administration.

It is a sad fact that even today people are attacked, beaten and sometimes killed because of their race. We cannot rest until each case is prosecuted successfully. Cases of this kind lie at the heart of civil rights law enforcement. Assuring all our citizens that they will remain secure irrespective of their race is an essential function of the federal government.

The Justice Department has specific statutory responsibility for fighting racial discrimination by public employees such as states, cities, public schools, and police and fire departments. Discrimination in the private sector is illegal, but discrimination by the state itself is even worse. If government fails to live up to its own standard of equal treatment for all people, then discrimination is actually encouraged in the private sector. Thus, it is up to the federal government to set the example.

The Department of Justice has been diligent in pursuing employment discrimination suits. During the first three years of the Reagan Administration, the Justice Department brought more such suits on behalf of minorities and women than were commenced during the three-year period ending in 1980. From 1981-83, the Department of Justice secured nearly $6.9 million in back pay in such cases, three times the amount for the comparable period ending in 1980.

The Reagan Administration also

Reception planned

An open house and reception honoring more than 2,500 ex-students who have benefited from Massie Scholarships at San Angelo College, Angelo State College and Angelo State University over the last 50 years will be held Saturday, October 27 from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Massie Residence Halls on the campus of ASU.

The reception, which is open to the general public, is among an array of events scheduled for the 1984 Homecoming Weekend at ASU. Ex-Students who are former Massie Scholarship recipients may obtain tickets and information about the ASU Ex-Students Luncheon on Saturday by contacting the Alumni Affairs Office at ASU (947-2073).

has worked to ensure the availability of housing without regard to race. The responsibility of enforcing the Fair Housing Act has been shifted to Washington, D.C., to relieve overburdened U.S. attorneys across the country. The Justice Department has established a special housing unit to investigate cases of housing discrimination. This will result in increased enforcement of such cases.

I am pleased with the federal government's record in protecting our civil rights and fighting discrimination. Equal treatment under the law is the right of all Americans regardless of race, color or religion.

HAPPY HALLOWEEN!!!

Acquaintance of locals receives honor

Editor's Note: The following article was brought to the attention of the Devil's River News last week since the Opal R. Hall referred to is well known by many Sonorans. For more than 25 years, Mrs. Hall brought her speech students to the Sonora speech meet. She and her students were guests in the homes in Sonora; therefore, many people in Sonora know and respect Mrs. Hall and many of her former students.

This is a re-print from an article that appeared recently in the Denton Record Chronicle.

Opal R. Hall, director of the speech and drama department at Denton High School, has been named Texas Speech Teacher of the Year by the Texas Speech Communication Association.

The honor was presented at the state convention of the association at the Austin Hilton Hotel in Austin.

Each of the 20 districts of the association was entitled to nominate a candidate for the award. Mrs. Hall was nominated by Districts, X and XI of the association, which has 600 members.

A graduate of North Texas State University in speech and drama, Mrs. Hall also holds a master's degree in guidance and counseling and has done graduate work at Texas Woman's University.

She taught in the Denton County schools five years and for 37 years has been director of the Speech and Drama Department at Denton High.

Mrs. Hall has been director of the Denton Sweepstakes Speech Tournament for 23 years, working

Fair scheduled

Artists and craftsmen are encouraged to apply for acceptance to the 1985 Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair. The fair will be held in Kerrville May 25-26 and June 1-2. Deadline for exhibitor application is December 1, 1984.

The fair has been a tradition for Texas families for 13 years, and the 14th annual event promises to both present some new activities and hold on to old favorites. A new slate of entertainment is planned.

Exhibitors are carefully selected and applications are limited to residents of Texas. An official entry blank and full information is available by contacting TACF, P.O. Box 1527, Kerrville, Texas 79029-1527, or calling (512) 896-5711.

with NTSU and TWU in the three-state meet. She adopted and directed radio scripts for Radio Workshop Players on KDNT for seven years, and has been a critic-judge for speech and drama national tournaments for 20 years.

She has had state champions in University Interscholastic League contests, received the Distinguished Citizen Award from the Denton Junior Chamber of Commerce and was honored by the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and is a Double Diamond Key Coach of the National Forensic League.

Denton High won the Forensic League's traveling trophy under her sponsorship.

In nominating Mrs. Hall, Nancy

P. De Haven of Hurst said her "dedication and contributions to speech are almost legendary, as attested by her many former students who, themselves have become gifted and productive speech teachers."

Letters submitted in support of her nomination included those of Supt. Robert T. McGee, Principal Ivan Glascock and Dr. Mary Evelyn Huey, president of Texas Woman's University as well as a number of colleagues and former students.

Phyllis George Brown of CBS, former Miss America and wife of the former governor of Kentucky said, "her enthusiasm, knowledge and support were a great influence on my life."

TROOPER ARNALDO RAMOS

TROOPER RICHARD DICKSON

Ramos and Dickson assigned to Sonora

The Texas Department of Public Safety has commissioned 84 troopers and assigned them to various duty stations throughout the state.

Trooper Richard Dickson, 22, of Pecos and Trooper Arnaldo Ramos, 24, of Del Rio, received their commissions in a special graduation ceremony in Austin. Colonel Jim Adams, director of the DPS, presented the badges to the troopers.

Adams said the men and women of this graduating class have been given some of the best police training available during their 18-week course at the DPS academy in Austin.

"Due to the variety of law enforcement related situations facing our troopers we provided detailed training in criminal law, civil law, traffic accident investigation and dozens of other related police topics," Adams said.

"The trooper is traditionally a well-trained individual who is charged with the responsibility of providing the public with courteous service and the protection the citizens deserve," said Adams.

In addition to the basic law enforcement training, the recruits were instructed in first aid, firearms use, traffic management, defensive survival techniques, drug identification and other law enforcement courses.

Troopers Ramos and Dickson will be reporting to the new assignment in Sonora immediately to work in the Highway Patrol Service.

Proposition 2 to benefit P.U.F.

AUSTIN--Public universities in Texas are competitors in some ways, but they are united in seeking voter approval November 6 of a constitutional amendment to provide classrooms, libraries, laboratories and modern equipment for the future.

Proposition 2 establishes a new $100 million annual fund for all institutions outside the University of Texas and Texas A and M University systems while broadening participation in the bonding program of the Permanent University Fund to include all UT and A and M units.

Developed as a compromise in the Legislature in 1983 and passed overwhelmingly, the proposal has been endorsed by all of the state-supported universities, the Texas College Coordinating Board, the Texas Student Association, and both political parties.

The voters are being asked to ratify Proposition 2 as a major step toward assuring outstanding universities, medical schools and other facilities throughout Texas," said Larry Temple, Austin attorney who is chairman of the coordinating Board and also chairman of a program to inform the public about the proposition.

The 18-member College Coordinating Board earlier this year endorsed Proposition 2, citing the need to restructure the way that dedicated funds are allocated among state-supported universities.

"The need for modern, state-of-the-art laboratory and teaching equipment in our state-supported colleges and universities, is a problem of critical magnitude," Temple said. "Proposition 2 would remedy that problem.

"The Coordinating Board conducted a study that shows that we need $300 million just for repair needs at 25 of our public senior colleges to bring them up to standards," he said. "This includes some $63 million to meet life and safety codes."

Bringing all components of the UT and A & M systems under the PUF will save tax dollars because the PUF is supported by oil, gas and ranching leases on 2.1 million acres of public lands rather taxes," Temple said.

Another important feature of Proposition 2 would give all colleges and universities more flexibility in the use of their dedicated funds, he said.

"In the past, it's been easier for a college to construct a new building than to rehabilitate an old one due to restrictions on the use of dedicated funds," Temple said. "Proposition 2 would loosen those restrictions to permit our colleges to fund repairs and rehabilitation, which will cut waste and encourage a more rational use of taxpayers' money."

"This doesn't mean that public universities will be given free reign over use of these funds," Temple said. "Proposition 2 contains many built-in safeguards and restrictions on how the PUF and EAF funds can be spent."

Study proves drugs, alcohol related to burns

A study of burn patients by two psychiatrists in San Antonio has found that 46 percent were using alcohol either alone or with illegal drugs when the injury occurred.

"Several studies have found alcohol use to be a significant risk factor" in burns, Dr. Kenneth N. Vogtsberger and Dr. E. Ross Taylor wrote in Texas Medicine.

Their study showed that males tended to be young, drinking, and around vehicles when burned, while females were elderly, had physical or psychiatric illness, and usually were in the kitchen when burned.

"Most of the burns occurred in the home or near vehicles," they said.

Vogtsberger is on the medical school faculty at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, and Taylor is now based at the Naval Regional Medical Center at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Their article appeared in the October issue of Texas Medicine, the journal of the Texas Medical Association.

The doctors reviewed the records of 70 consecutive burn patients admitted to Medical Center Hospital, the county hospital for Bexar County. Patients included in the study had to be at least 15 years old and were hospitalized between August 1980 and December 1981.

The males burned around cars sometimes were pouring gasoline into a carburetor or removing a cap from a hot radiator, the doctors said. Almost three-fourths of male burns in the house occurred in rooms other than the kitchen.

Fifty-six percent of patients in the doctors' study had psychiatric problems before the accident.

"Two groups at particular risk to be burned were elderly women with physical illness and persons with psychiatric illness who were of low socioeconomic status," Vogtsberger and Taylor said in citing other studies. The reason for this is that their judgment is impaired in potentially dangerous situations or they are unable to respond correctly when a burn is highly likely.

The doctors also cited the "charcoal barbecue and martini syndrome." An intoxicated person tries to light a cookout fire with gasoline, which leads to an explosion and burns.

Vogtsberger and Taylor suggested a public information program to warn "weekend mechanics" of the dangers of automotive repair. In addition, "automobile manufacturers might design a radiator cap that diverts the hot liquid downward or into a reservoir."

The doctors also noted the high rate of psychiatric problems resulting from burns. "Concerns about body image, decreased functional abilities, and depression are common problems among burn patients."

President Reagan endorses Phil Gramm

President Reagan is urging conservative Democrats, independent voters and Republicans to join him in supporting U.S. Rep. Phil Gramm for the U.S. Senate "to keep this recovery going". "Today, America is stronger than anyone predicted four years ago," the President said. "A good deal of the credit goes to Phil Gramm."

Congressman Gramm faces Lloyd Doggett, an ally of former Vice President Walter Mondale, who has embraced the Mondale platform of raising taxes in order to finance government expansion.

The President noted that Gramm "puts principle above politics, and he shares my view of what America can be."

Unlike the Mondale-Doggett team, Gramm "has exhibited the kind of courage and leadership that we've all read about in our history books."

Congressman Gramm co-authored President Reagan's economic recovery program in the Congress, a program which so far has created 800,000 new jobs in Texas and which has driven inflation rates to new lows.

"I need Phil Gramm in the U.S. Senate to keep this recovery going," President Reagan said. "That's why I am asking Texans to support my good friend, Phil Gramm."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

With election day less than a month away, I wanted to write and personally ask for your editorial support in my race for the United States Senate.

I ask for your support based on my proven record of effectiveness in the House of Representatives for the last six years. In the House I co-authored the Reagan Economic program, which has brought the inflation rate to a standstill and put 7 million Americans to work in permanent, productive tax-paying jobs for the future -- 850,000 of those in Texas alone.

I wrote the two budgets in the House in 1982 and 1983 that reordered national priorities, provided our citizen-soldiers with the weapons they need to deter aggression and keep the peace, and provided the pay, morale and working conditions that have allowed us to recruit and retain some of the finest young men and women who have ever worn the uniform of our country. Under the first Gramm-Latta budget, we have also carried out a comprehensive audit of defense spending that has turned up waste, fraud and inefficiencies and finally forced the government to change the way it secures spare parts. Five months ago, on behalf of the President, I announced the implementation of the first phase of the Grace Commission report to set up a modern management procedure to oversee procurement of the 800,000 different spare parts purchased every year by the Pentagon. I have served as the ranking Texan on the Energy and Commerce Committee, and I have authored bills enacted into law aimed at getting on with the job of producing energy here at home at a price the consumer can afford to pay. I was a leader in the adoption of the 3-year tax cut that gave the working people of America their first effective tax relief since 1962.

I know politicians tend to exaggerate, especially in election years, but I don't believe Texans ever had a clearer choice than they have in this race for the United States Senate. I want to control spending to let the working people of Texas keep more of what they earn and my opponent wants to raise taxes so that government can go on spending as usual. I introduced the Balanced Budget Amendment to the Constitution the first day I got to Congress and have fought for its adoption ever since. My opponent voted against the resolution in the Texas Legislature calling on Congress to adopt the Balanced Budget Amendment and has campaigned against it on the same grounds that Tip O'Neill, Ted Kennedy and Walter Mondale have -- they want more spending, not more fiscal responsibility.

I have fought for a strong and efficient defense. My opponent opposes every major element of our effort to strengthen defense, including the B-1 bomber, the MX missile, and deploying the cruise and Pershing II missiles at our NATO allies' request in Europe. I supported the President's decision to send troops into Grenada to liberate our medical students there. My opponent called it unnecessary aggression and gunboat diplomacy. I support right-to-work guarantees to assure that no Texan is ever forced to join a union as a condition for getting a job. On five occasions my opponent has voted against right-to-work guarantees for Texas workers. I have co-authored the President's crime package and worked in Congress to bring a new balance between victim's rights and criminal's rights. My opponent voted against a bill which would have denied probation to violent criminals and voted against legislation that would have provided mandatory supervision for parolees. My opponent even opposes the death penalty for murders committed during rapes or other fatal assaults or robberies.

In short, there is a clear-cut choice in this race between a conservative who represents the traditional values of our state and a liberal whose views are closer to Ted Kennedy's than the average Texan's. In addition to these issues, Texas has benefited by having a Republican and a Democratic Senator. Lloyd Bentsen pointed out in his race against George Bush in 1970 that "Texas needs a Democratic and a Republican Senator. It gives us a power base in both parties and instant access into the White House no matter who is president." If you have a problem in your county and you need someone to ask the President for help, I think it's obvious that when I knock on Ronald Reagan's door during the next four years on your behalf, that door is likely to be open for me while it would not be open for Lloyd Doggett. Any influence we need in Democratic circles we will have through Lloyd Bentsen.

Finally, in asking for your editorial endorsement, I want to pledge that I will work with you and with the people of your area on the problems you face. Thank you for your consideration.

Yours respectfully,

Phil Gramm

Dear Editor,

I would like to remind this paper's readers of a concern that is so much a part of every day life that many of us overlook it. My concern is Heart disease, the Number One cause of death in this country.

Here in Sutton County, thanks to our Division of the American Heart Association and the events and activities it sponsors, we all have a chance to help solve the problems of heart disease. One very special Heart Association fund-raising event is scheduled for November 3, 1984.

It'll get off to a lively start at 9 a.m. at The First Methodist Church. It really is a fun event! So, I invite everyone in Sonora from you Devil's River News employees to students, bankers and homemakers, to get involved, either as walkers or as sponsors of Turkey-walk participants.

After all, this is a cause that's close to everyone's heart!

Dear Editor,

I retired in 1978 on a Texas Teachers pension and Social Security. I find that Medicare pays about half of my medical costs.

This letter is to tell you about how all of us need to act now to protect Social Security and Medicare.

State Senator Lloyd Doggett, the Democratic Nominee for United States Senator from Texas, is elected on November 6, 1984, will do more than anyone to protect our retirement programs--his record in the Texas Legislature proved that!

His Republican opponent, Congressman Phil Gramm, will do more to destroy those programs than anyone--his record as a turn-coat democrat (and later as the republican hatchet man) has proved that!

Senator Lloyd Doggett will work hard for all the people of Texas as well as for retired persons. He cares for people!

Help get out the vote November 6, 1984!

Howard Shackelford
Leander, Texas 78641

Thank you

We would like to thank the people that came to the open house.

A very special thank you goes to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Odom, Sr. for furnishing the cake and punch, and the Chamber of Commerce for the official ribbon cutting ceremony.

Also, to Sonora Floral, Joyce Chalk, Charles Howard Construction, and Mack Cauthorn for the beautiful pot plants.

Trick-or-treating safety tips outlined for parents to follow

The malicious acts of a few people do not have to spoil the excitement of innocent Halloween fun for children this year. With adult awareness and planning, the night of ghosts and goblins can be a happy time unmarred by accidents or willful destructiveness, according to George R. Gustafson, Executive Vice President of Texas Safety Association.

Because tampering with Halloween treats has persisted in recent years, many parents may want to consider a group activity instead of trick or treating. This may be a particularly attractive alternative in metropolitan areas.

Halloween parties with prizes, treats, and surprises in a safe setting can be just as much fun as traditional neighborhood treks, particularly for younger children who are not so accustomed to door-to-door activity and might not particularly miss it.

Having a haunted house tunnel at a party can be fun for slightly older children. In fact, a creative adult can make most seven-year-olds squeal from crawling through brains (spaghetti) and dealing with other surprises in a darkened sheet draped tunnel of card tables. The imagination is limited only by safety factors such as using a cookie sheet to hold "the brains", instead of a high-walled container which could cause bumps and bruises. Having an adult or teen helper to stand by the tunnel to ensure safe passage is also recommended.

If children do go trick or treating, adults need to remember these safety tips:

Make sure that they go in groups, rather than alone.

Make sure that groups of young children have some adult supervision for trick or treating in the neighborhood.

Remind children of basic pedestrian safety including the need to use sidewalks instead of street.

Make sure that costumes allow safe movement and masks do not obstruct the child's vision or breathing.

Provide a flashlight for children to use in trick or treating.

Ask children to refrain from eating any of their treats until after you have examined them. You should discard any unwrapped or loosely wrapped items and anything suspicious, as well as wash and cut fruit before allowing children to eat these treats.

Adults also need to make their property safer for Halloween visitors by:

Using a flashlight instead of a candle in the jack-o'-lantern.

Sweeping and clearing away any obstructions from sidewalks, driveways, and porches.

Turning on the porch light.

"All adults can do one more thing to protect Halloween for the children in their communities--drive with extraordinary care on Halloween night, watching for ghosts and goblins which could pop out of the dark," said Gustafson.

COMMUNISM AT TEXAS' BORDER?

The Republican Party recognizes the strategic importance of Central America. If Communism prevails there, the next step is Mexico.

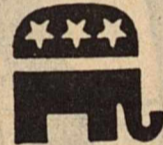

The Republican Party also condemns the Sandanista and Cuban governments' massive smuggling of illegal drugs into our country, bringing tragedy to American families.

Freedom in our hemisphere is worth preserving, without guilt or apology.

The Democratic Platform says, "We must terminate our support" of freedom fighters in Central America. There is no mention of Sandanista or Cuban drug smuggling.

Strake offers facts

BY GEORGE STRAKE,
Chairman, Republican Party of Texas

I write offering additional facts which fully justify my deep concern for the future financial stability of our state government. Simply put, we have a spending binge going on in Austin. Most of our Democrat officeholders have run to the legislature with "gold-plated" budgets completely out of character with the notion of fiscal responsibility.

The record of Governor White is legendary. But the unquenchable spending thirst of other state administrators, particularly Land Commissioner Garry Mauro and Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower, deserves scrutiny.

In Garry Mauro's 1986-87 budget request, which he described as a "prime the pump" budget, Mauro asked for a 47 percent increase in agency funds raising the Land Office budget to $39.1 million. In addition, he has requested 163 new employees, up to 562 from the current 399. He wants an extra $6.5 million for salaries not including the normal state pay raise.

Mauro's capital expenditure requests stagger the imagination considering the Speaker of the House recently asked officials to avoid capital expenditure requests when possible. Garry wants a 25 percent increase or $2 million more for new equipment. Why would his office need 31 new four-wheel drive vehicles or four new boats or an increase in airplane operations?

His priorities are even more unjustifiable. When asked to assign funding priorities to each of the 19 activities for which the Land Office is responsible, Mauro ranked his own salary number one and the Veterans Land Program dead last.

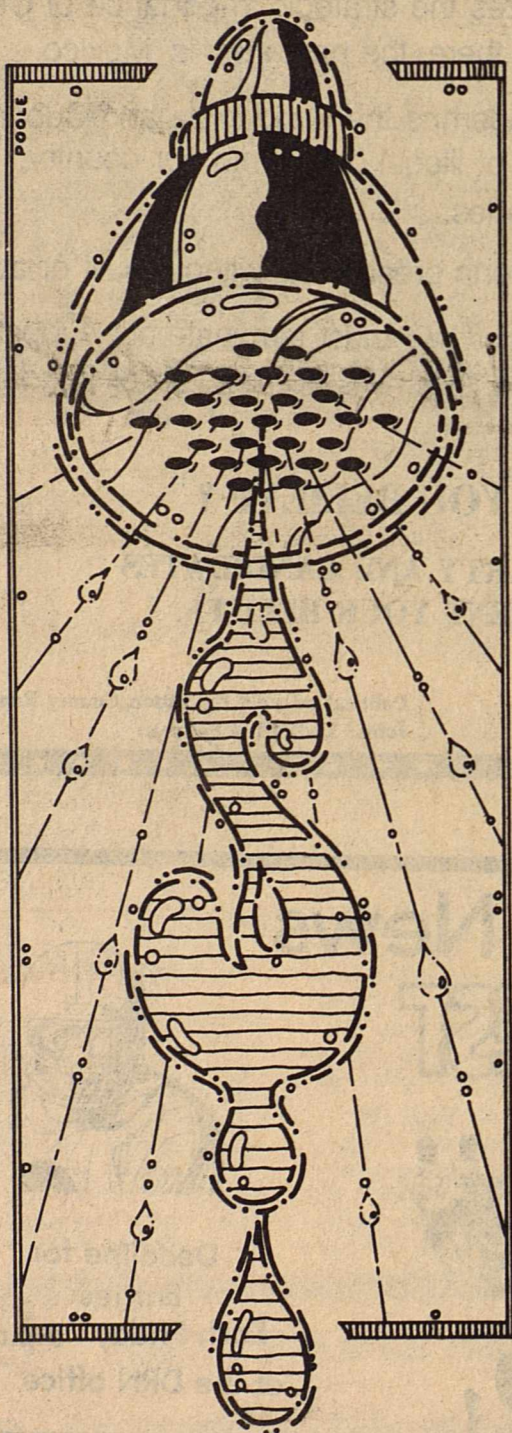

Commissioner Hightower's requests have also been absurd and his funding priorities may create a furor on Texas farms. Records reveal that Hightower took $560,000 from the the important fire ant control and farm export programs to help purchase a new airplane. But it doesn't stop there. Last year Hightower took $139,000 from the Plant Disease and Pest Control program and used it for salary increases.

For 1986-87, Hightower has requested a 33 percent for $14.5 million increase in agency funding. Hightower wants 64 new vehicles, 61 camper shells, and two forklifts. And when it comes to priorities, this so called "populist" places his own salary number one, the Consumer Affairs Division number eight, with the regulation of pesticides and herbicides last.

The taxpayers of Texas need a break from this type of reckless spending. These budgets should never have been contemplated much less submitted. I would call on Mr. Hightower and Mr. Mauro to go back to the drawing board and resubmit budgets more in line with the fiscal realities of the state so recently burdened with the largest tax bill in state history and a second multi-billion dollar tax increase being seriously considered.

All Texans must demand accountability and relief from building armies of new state employees and fleets of new vehicles.

WHY POUR MONEY DOWN THE DRAIN?

Get a high-efficiency gas water heater. It heats water for half the cost of non-gas heaters. Really. But cold cash isn't the only reason you should get a gas water heater. Gas heats water fast. So fast you'll have plenty for showering, washing dishes, doing laundry and every job that takes lots of hot water. Don't drain the budget. Get a gas water heater.

Points of Proposition 2 outlined

Republicans and Democrats may not agree on much this election year, but they are unified in their support of funding for college classroom needs.

At their state conventions in September both parties endorsed resolutions urging voter approval of Proposition 2, a constitutional amendment on the November 6 general election ballot.

Proposition 2 would broaden participation in the Permanent University Fund bonding program to include all components of the University of Texas and Texas A & M University systems. It also would create a special constitutionally dedicated fund, the Education Assistance Fund, for the 26 universities outside of the PUF.

"Proposition 2 would also provide potential tax savings by placing additional University of Texas and Texas A & M components under the Permanent University Fund and reducing their reliance on tax funds to meet their construction and rehabilitation needs," the Republican Party resolution said.

The GOP resolution said "Proposition 2 also expands usage of these funds to include rehabilitation of existing facilities and purchase of vitally needed equipment, library books and materials, as well as new construction."

The Democratic Party's resolution cited a study by the Texas College Coordinating Board indicating that 25 public universities need more than $300 million to bring existing facilities up to standards, "including some $63 million to meet life and safety codes."

"The need for modern state-of-the-art laboratory and teaching equipment in the state's public universities is a problem of critical magnitude," the Democrats' resolution said. The resolution cited provisions of Proposition 2 that require the Texas Legislature to develop formulas for distributing funds from the EAF to assure continuing equity and that provide safeguards to ensure "responsible review of expenditure of state funds."

Boy Scouts to sell popcorn

Baugh Lewis, president of the Concho Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, has announced that Concho Valley Council will sell Trail's End Gourmet Popcorn during November throughout the 23 1/2 county area of the Council. Proceeds for the Council-wide sale will be used to benefit the Scouting activities of the local Council, as well as individual Scouting Units.

Jack Moore, Scout Executive for the Concho Valley Council, indicated the sale of a product by the combined Scouting organization was prompted by the growing need for supplemental income to finance Scouting activities for the council, as well as individual Scouting Units. Escalating program costs, need for camp equipment and maintenance, as well as continued growth in youth sources of support. Lewis emphasized the primary income for Scouting activities will continue to come from community support through the United Way and from the Sustaining Membership Enrollment Program of the Council.

Trail's End Gourmet Popcorn was selected because it is a quality product with wide appeal. Popcorn is a great tasting, fun-to-make, wholesome, nutritional snack that the whole family can enjoy.

"The projected income from the popcorn sale will serve as a supplemental source of funding for the Council for 1985," Lewis stated. The income objective of $14,000--which represents the Council share of the proceeds serve as a primary source of income for the youth activities of many Scouting Units in the Council.

"The Trail's End Gourmet Popcorn Sale provides another means for our Council communities to support the youth development programs of Scouting through the purchase of a popular, high quality product," stated Moore.

Last year the Concho Valley Council sold 11,167 buckets of Trail's End Popcorn and raised over $24,000 for Council and Local Unit activities.

"We appreciate the support that our Scouting activities have received from the community and wish to express our thanks to everyone who participated," said Jack Moore.

YOUNG PEOPLE DESERVE A CHANCE

The Republican Party believes that most young people would like to hold part-time jobs, and would benefit greatly from the work experience.

However, they are unable to compete for job opportunities with trained, adult workers because most companies are required by law to pay minimum wage to all employees, regardless of age or training.

The 1984 Republican Platform calls for a "Youth Opportunity Minimum Wage to encourage employers to hire and train inexperienced workers."

The Republican Party believes that young people are saying, "Just give us a chance. We'll work!"

The Democratic Platform, bowing to massive pressure from organized labor, has denounced the "so-called sub-minimum wage" for young people.

In an exclusive interview with Tom, he stated that, "The election of 1984 is, in my judgment, the most critical election we've ever had."

He went on to say, "Following President Reagan's election in 1980, through his leadership and with his support of the bi-partisan coalition in 1981-82, the direction of Washington has been reversed to reflect what we've been calling for in West Texas for years."

"The President's program, which has reduced the rate of growth in federal spending, cut our taxes, eased the regulatory intrusions, and restored America's defense needs, has fostered economic opportunity for all and given us a stronger America," Tom emphasized.

"With the re-election of President Reagan and Vice President Bush we will continue programs in Washington which will return government to the people rather than allowing Washington to make decisions for us," he went on to say.

"Fritz Mondale would turn back the clock--increase federal spending, increase the deficit, and increase our taxes. I believe the tax burdens placed upon the American people need NOT be."

"Fritz Mondale is asking the American people to learn to live with less so that Washington can spend more--President Reagan and Tom Loeffler believe that Washington should practice austerity. The burden of austerity should not be placed on the American taxpayers," Tom concluded.

During the past session of Congress, Tom had the opportunity to serve as the Republican leader on the floor at which time he had occasion to say "No" to the Simpson-Mazoli issue twice.

Tom said that during that session a bill was passed authorizing an increase of 768 border patrol to be placed along the Mexican border. The Del Rio sector will get 78 and out of that, Sonora has already obtained 4 according to J.W. Johnson, Sutton County Attorney.

RIBBON CUTTING FOR EMS

The official grand opening and ribbon cutting for the new Emergency Medical Service Building were held Tuesday night, October 16 at 6:30 p.m. in the building located at 211 E. Third. The City of Sonora leased the county two lots for the building and Sutton County funded the construction. The ambulances finally have this new home after several years of being taken home by various people, being parked at the hospital and being housed at the fire station. [Staff Photo-CJ]

EMS Grand Opening successful

Open house and ribbon cutting for the Sutton County Emergency Service Building was held October 16. Punch and cake, furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Odom Sr., were served by members of the Emergency Medical Service.

The building houses the two Sutton County ambulances, the Emergency Management/Emergency Medical Service (EMS) office, and has a meeting/training room. Lenora Pool is the coordinator for the Emergency Management and EMS office.

Members of the ambulance service are Georgina Luckie, EMT/Instructor, Louise Hulsey, EMT, Tim Thorp, EMT, Sam Odom Jr., EMT, George Keese, EMT, Gene West, ECA, Joe Luttrell, ECA, Wayland Dobbs, EMT, Karen McAnally, EMT, Sharon Jardee, ECA, Judy Barton, EMT, Donna Keese, ECA, Leslie Thorp, ECA, Treva McReynolds, EMT, Billy Laxton, ECA, Pat Campbell, EMT, and Eddie McReynolds, ECA.

In the past 10 years ambulance services have gone from merely transport vehicles to a professional service. Laws, medical views, and other factors have brought to light the need for a trained EMS service in rural areas, as well as cities.

Sutton County is fortunate to have one of the more advanced organizations in this region for a small community, having its own department, and all personnel licensed. This particular system is set up on 12 hour shifts with three man crews. This enables the EMS to have constant service. A paging system in the Sheriff's Department enables quicker response from pagers carried by crew members.

The EMS holds business meetings the first Monday of each month, and training meetings the third Monday night. These meetings enable personnel to be aware of day to day operating situations and keeps skills sharpened.

The organization officers are Tim Thorp, president; George Keese, vice president; Donna Keese, secretary; Georgina Luckie, training officer; and Lenora Pool, coord./treasurer.
