Absentee voting starts March 18

Absentee voting for the Sonora Independent School District Board of Trustees election will begin Monday, March 18 and continue through Tuesday, April 2.

Voters who wish to vote absentee may do so at the school administration office located at 807 South Concho Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m.

All seven seats on the board are being elected April 6 due to a recent ruling by the federal court in San Angelo.

The new election plan called for four of the seven seats on the board to be elected from each of the four Sutton County precincts and three seats to be elected at large.

What this means is that each voter may cast their vote for one candidate in his/her precinct plus three (3) candidates listed under the "at-large" category.

Candidates seeking election in precincts include Joe Garcia, precinct one; Johnny Fields, precinct two; Carl Teaff, precinct three; and Julio Samaniego Jr., precinct four.

Four citizens have filed for the three at large seats. Those persons are Rosemary Mathews, Sam Perez, Scott Shurley, and Earnest Lykins.

LATTA FILES FOR CITY COUNCIL

Joan L. Latta has announced her candidacy for the Sonora City Council. The election will be held Saturday, April 6. Ms. Latta is administrative secretary in the Superintendent's office, Sonora Independent School District. Ms. Latta and her husband Ross, who is employed by a local general offsite construction firm, moved to Sonora in the summer of 1977. They have three grown children, John of Richland, Washington, Steve of Eldorado and Linda who lives in Sonora. They have one grandchild. Ms. Latta said, "I think the present City Council is doing a good job but it is time for a new face and perhaps some new ideas in city government. I would like to see some sort of joint-venture project between recreational facilities and programs for young people of the community. She has signed an affidavit stating that she would accept no salary if elected since she is a salaried district employee and already is paid by tax funds.

Search for missing Sonora woman ends

Dark grey clouds hung low over the bluffs along the Pecos River as about 40 persons began another search for a missing Sonora woman. At 10:00 a.m. Saturday, March 9, the line of searchers spread out across rugged terrain some 30 miles west of Ozona. Thirty minutes later the search had ended.

The body of Nancy Nester Pohl, a 41 year-old teacher from Sonora, was found atop a bluff high over Live Oak Draw approximately two miles west of Interstate Highway 10. Ms. Pohl, wife of Phillip J. Pohl also a Sonora school teacher, had been missing since February 20.

The woman's body was located by a search party led by Sutton County Sheriff Bill Webster. In addition to Sutton County Sheriff's personnel the search party consisted of Crockett County Deputies, Department of Public Safety Troopers, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Game Wardens, Texas Rangers, members of the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department, HNG Oil Company employees, teachers from the Sonora Independent School District and other Sonora residents.

Webster said that the woman may have been killed by a single gunshot wound to the chest. A Ruger Blackhawk .357-magnum pistol was found alongside the body.

Crockett County Peace Justice Raymond Davee declared the woman dead at 11:15 a.m. Saturday. The body was taken to Sizemore Funeral Home in Ozona.

Judge Davee said that he had ordered an autopsy and the body was taken to the Bexar County Medical Examiner's Office in San Antonio. No ruling had been made in the death at press time.

Sheriff Webster said that "An autopsy was ordered into the death and we're going to wait on the evidence to rule the cause of death." The pistol has been released to the Texas Department of Public Safety Laboratory in Austin. Ballistic tests will be performed.

Ms. Pohl had been the object of several searches after the family pickup was found abandoned about 1.3 miles northeast of where the body was eventually found.

Unsuccessful searches had been carried out on foot and horseback for three days after the vehicle was found. A DPS helicopter had also been used. The last search utilized more persons and covered a wider area.

Webster said, "We started searching at 10 a.m. by forming a line spaced about 15 yards between searchers. A man in the upper part of the line found the body."

Webster said that identification was made by eye glasses which were on the body, physical description, description of clothing and by several persons who knew and worked with Ms. Pohl.

According to Webster the search would have been impossible without the cooperation of many persons. "I would like to sincerely thank each and every one for all of their help", he said.

Council and Commissioners discuss joint paving project

BY CAROL JONES

Members of the Sonora City Council and the Sutton County Commissioners' Court mutually agreed Tuesday morning that a joint paving project for the streets inside the city limits should be more thoroughly investigated and discussed by both governmental bodies.

The City Council hosted a breakfast at 7:30 a.m. March 5 at the Sutton County Steakhouse, inviting all of the county commissioners, Sutton County Judge Charlie Sherrill, County Attorney David Wallace, and the local media. The purpose of the breakfast was to attempt to reach an agreement concerning the repair of certain city streets that were damaged during the severel snow and ice storms this past winter.

The city has incurred approximately $120,000 or more in material damages this year. According to Jim Dover, city manager, the city has enough money to purchase materials but would run short on equipment hours and labor involved in repairing the streets.

County Commissioner for Precinct Three Bill Keel told the group Tuesday that "we (the County) want to work with the city all we can" and that he thought it was outrageous for the city to buy equipment when the county has it just sitting there. "We can't just come in and stay on the city streets for three months, but if we can help, I think we should," Keel added.

Council members asked if the county could give Dover an approximate date to plan on for the county road crew to get to the city streets and Keel asked Dover to furnish a copy of the damage estimate to each commissioner.

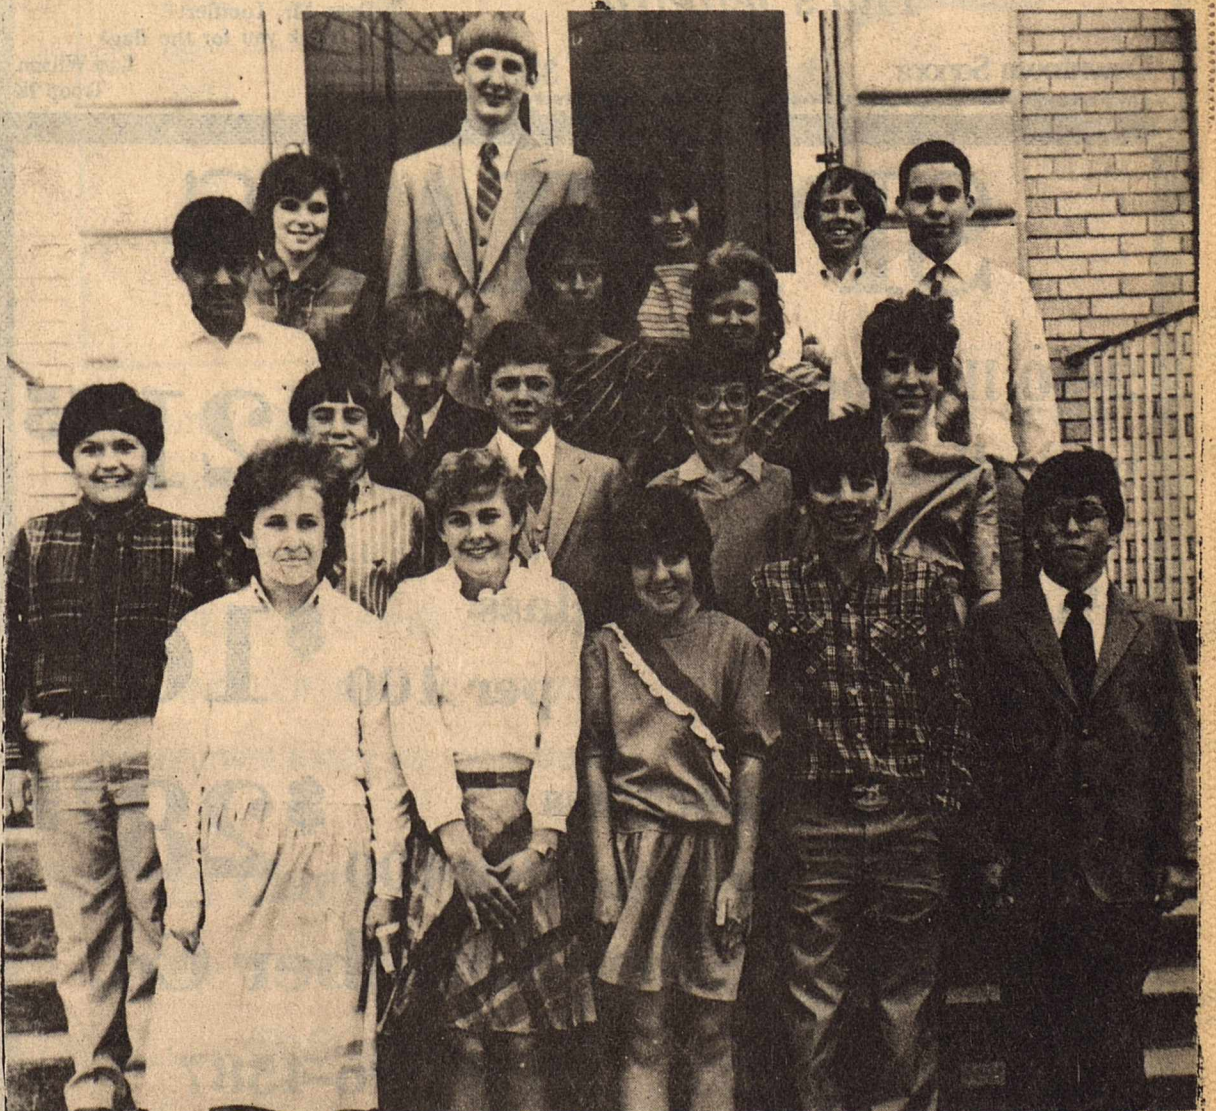

Councilman Matt Davenport stated that he thought taxes were already being paid to maintain these streets and, "Why do we have to pay for it twice?" He suggested that the city provide the materials and that the county provide equipment and labor.

Keel stated "I still think we can help, we'll just have to figure out how much. I'm definitely all for helping you all we can, but there's going to have to be some long, hard thought on a total change."

Keel added that this item would be on the agenda of the March 11 commissioners' meeting and Dover assured him that the estimates would be furnished to each commissioner before that meeting.

City officials attending the breakfast included Dover, Mayor Bill Gosney, City Secretary Becky Covington, City Attorney Elizabeth Wallace, Gene West, and council members Matt Davenport, James Trainer, Margaret Cascadden, and Lemuel Lopez.

County officials attending were David Wallace, county attorney, and commissioners Keel, Bill Wade, and Mike Villanueva.

Double winner and record setter Jose Escalante led the Broncos as he bested his own records with 10:05.18 in the 3200m and 4:34.38 in the 1600m.

Junior Ricardo Sanchez with a very strong finish out-distanced a huge field in the 800m, with a fine time of 2:03.6. Manuel Duran was 5th in 2:07. Flat tax could hurt oil and gas industry

BY GOVERNOR MARK WHITE
If Congress adopts the U.S. Treasury's proposed flat tax, the oil and gas industry predicts a sharp decline in production, job layoffs, and a dangerous over-reliance on foreign fuel sources.

I have written to President Reagan asking that he meet with me and Oklahoma Governor George Nigh to discuss the problems associated with the flat tax.

As co-charimen of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, Governor Nigh and I commissioned a study on the effects of the flat tax. From preliminary study results, we conclude that the flat tax proposal would cripple domestic oil and gas production by eliminating many of the tax exemptions which have historically underwritten the risks associated with energy production.

More than 80 percent of our nation's oil and gas reserves are discovered by independent oil and gas producers who rely upon many individual private investors to finance their high risk search for new energy supplies. Historically, Congress has supported the need for tax breaks and other incentives to encourage this kind of investment.

But the Treasury's flat tax proposal, initiated by the department's former Secretary Donald Regan, constitutes a near-sighted attempt to eliminate these incentives at a time when the administration should be taking a leadership role to achieve more national energy independence and to encourage domestic energy production and development.

The U.S. Treasury is proposing to eliminate the oil depletion allowance which permits independent producers to recover their capital costs. Tax deductions for intangible drilling costs such as fuel and labor, would be eliminated along with incentives to develop new technology to enhance oil recovery.

According to preliminary results of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission study, the flat tax could reduce oil production by more than 750,000 barrels per day by 1991 and shrink tax receipts by hundreds of millions of dollars over the next five years.

As the country's largest oil and gas producing state, Texas would feel the brunt of the proposed flat tax. Texas could lose 85,000 to 170,000 oil-and-gas-related jobs by 1990, and the state severance tax revenues could drop by more than $100 million annually between now and 1991. Texas royalty owners could lose $30 million in payments per year.

Our state and nation cannot afford this predicted downturn in oil production. We cannot support tax policies that will put many independent oil and gas operators, out of business and idle an estimated 460 drilling rigs a year.

Twelve years have elapsed since the American consumer and the oil and gas industry suffered the high prices and long gas lines imposed by the Arab oil embargo.

Our country learned a difficult lesson about the importance of maintaining our energy independence, and it is a lesson we cannot afford to ignore today.

Bentsen Reports

Senator Lloyd Bentsen launched a campaign Wednesday to convince the carmaker General Motors that it should locate the factory that will build its new Saturn compact automobile in Texas.

Bentsen, in a memorandum to the Texas Congressional Delegation in Washington, said the plant "will employ 6,000 workers and inject $500 million annually into the economy of the community selected." He urged members of the delegation to join him in sending letters to GM and Saturn executives urging that the plant be located in Texas.

In addition, Bentsen, a friend of GM Chairman Roger Smith, and President James McDonald, said he will be in personal contact with them on the matter.

"Several Texas cities are competing for selection to the new plant site, including Beaumont, Dallas, Eastland, El Paso, Houston, San Antonio, and Waco," Bentsen said in the memo.

"They are facing heavy competition from across the nation, including Illinois where Governor Thompson has offered the research resources of the University of Illinois as an incentive to site in his state, and Michigan where Governor Blanchard has promised to match any offer by any state."

"In order that the bids from Texas can at least achieve parity with their competitors, I believe that the Texas Congressional Delegation should attempt to demonstrate that it would be most profitable for GM to locate its new plant in our state."

According to press reports, GM management has established several factors that will be considered in selecting a factory site. These include "state and local economic and business climate;" cost and availability of skilled labor, energy and transportation; proximity to suppliers and markets; and availability of "training opportunities" for Saturn employees.

"With one of the best business climates in the nation, central location, predictable rates for electricity over the long term and some of the finest educational opportunities in the nation, I believe that the Texas candidates for the site meet and exceed all of the criteria established," Bentsen said.

I believe it is important that the Texas Congressional Delegation communicate its strong support for locating the new Saturn plant in Texas to the top officials of GM and the new Saturn subsidiary," Senator Bentsen concluded.

Pinewood derby held

The Sonora Cub Scouts of Pack 19 held their annual Pinewood Derby Saturday morning, March 9th at the First United Methodist Church.

Each cub scout received a pinewood derby kit earlier in the year. Each was responsible for designing, carving, and decorating as he chose.

Derby competition went according to age groups. In the eight year old group, the winners were: 1st place - Joel Cox, 2nd place - Peter Noriega, 3rd place - Marcus Reed. Winners in the nine year old group were: 1st place - Adam Mirike, 2nd place - Kenny Zortman, 3rd place - Brian Rogers. In the 10 year old group, the winners were: 1st place - Wesley Griffin, 2nd place - Jared Brosig, 3rd place - Harvey Badillo. These nine boys are eligible to compete in the Amangi Trail District's Pinewood Derby Championship on Saturday, March 16th in San Angelo.

A Pack competition race was also held in which the cub scouts from all three age groups competed against each other to determine the Grand Champion of Pack 19.

The winners of the pack race were: 1st place - Kenny Zortman, 2nd place - Wesley Griffin, 3rd place - Adam Mirike. Awards were also presented for the Best-looking cars. The judges for this contest were the cub scouts themselves. Each boy was given the opportunity to view all the pinewood cars participating in the derby and to choose the three cars they thought looked best. Winners of the Best-Looking Car awards were: 1st place - Jared Brosig, 2nd place - Harvey Badillo, 3rd place - Robby Zook. After all the Pinewood Derby racing was completed, everyone enjoyed picnic lunches and visiting.

"Texas Most Wanted" fugitive captured

Governor Mark White announced February 25th that detectives from the Austin Police Department, acting on a tip to Texas Crime Stoppers, apprehended "Texas Most Wanted" fugitive Darwin Adrain Fowler.

Fowler, 34, a former State of Texas bank examiner, was arrested without incident at his Austin residence. State-wide publicity about Fowler began Saturday, February 23, 1985.

Fowler was wanted on two counts of Attempted Murder following the May 12, 1983, shooting of two employees of a Lubbock car wash. Both employees survived the attack.

Police reports indicate the shooting resulted from an argument over a broken windshield. Fowler was indicted by the Lubbock County Grand Jury on May 24, 1983, and had remained at large until his arrest today.

Fowler was the seventh fugitive featured as "Texas Most Wanted," and the first to be arrested. Another fugitive, Joseph Patrick Costello, who was wanted on a murder charge in Kermit, turned himself in just before he was to be featured by the state-wide program.

Governor White announced the start-up of the "Texas Most Wanted" program at a January 10 press conference.

"It is clear, from the apprehension of Mr. Fowler, that the new Texas Crime Stoppers program has focused new public attention on unsolved crimes and is making it very difficult for fugitives to avoid detections in Texas," Governor White said. "I am pleased by the quick and immediate success of the program and believe that it will continue to benefit society by increasing public awareness and participation in the criminal justice process."

Sgt. George Vanderhule, coordinator of the Austin Crime Stoppers Program, said Fowler was working as a realtor and accountant in the Austin area.

Four Wishes of Childhood...

BY PASTOR LOUIS HALFORD
1ST ASSEMBLY OF GOD

Luke said in Chapter 2 verse 40, "And the child grew and became strong; he was filled with wisdom and the grace of God was upon him." Of course Luke was speaking of Jesus, but I believe with all of my heart that the desire of God's heart is to see all children grow up in this fashion.

God has put the desire in my heart to help children grow! When I say children, I also mean young teenage kids.

Dr. U.I. Thomas of the University of Chicago says that the four factors most important to the understanding of childhood is: adventure, recognition, security and love.

A child has a built-in craving for adventure! Woe to the parent and society that cannot cope with the spirit of its children.

There was a boy injured when he fell from a moving truck which he was trying to steal a ride was asked the question, "Didn't you know it was dangerous to steal a ride on a moving truck?" the reply from the boy was, "Sure that's why I did it."

Some parents would ask what they should do with such a child. Of course you would not want to break the child's spirit.

The answer is to fill your child's mind with God's truth and their hearts with his spirit as they develop their guidelines. And let us as Christian "parents" care with intelligence about our children and use the best of both worlds for their informal and prayerful direction.

Our young people and children want recognition. They hunger for attention. Every person needs to feel he or she is significant. Therefore one of the most important tasks of parents is to recognize their child as a person.

Our kids need recognition in our homes and churches or they will look for it elsewhere. Many times they seem very annoying because they want "center stage". This is the nature of a child.

Children want to be appreciated. As parents, teachers, and spiritual leaders we need to find ways to express genuine appreciation when a child excels. Children love to be complimented.

The third basic wish of childhood is security. So many children feel so insecure! A child needs a parent that they can lean on. They need parents that they can come to with out the parents getting all uptight if there clothing is rumpled after a big hug of appreciation.

They need the security and knowledge of knowing that you are always there for them.

Love is the most important of these four basics but as you can tell they all work together. A child wants to be loved unconditionally! So many children are shown love only after a good behavior is evident. When your child makes a mistake (no matter how bad it is), it would be a lot simpler if they could be forgiven. They need to understand that God never quits loving them by your example.

I am reminded of a story about a man in Chicago rushing from his office to keep a social engagement. It was very cold and as the man passed by an alley he spotted an eight year old boy crying and shivering in his thin clothing. After they conversed, it was found out that the boy was sent to the store to buy bread and milk. Lo and behold he had lost the money and was afraid to return home. Why? He knew that his father would be drinking and that he would receive a beating.

The man wrapped the boy in his overcoat, took him to the store, bought the milk and bread, and a bag of candy. The lad put his arms around the man's knees and hugged tightly. "I wish I had a daddy like you," he said.

That man forgot all about his engagement that evening and spent the next hour walking the streets of Chicago looking for another little boy who needed a father's love!

Friend, let's be sensitive to our young people, not only as parents but as concerned adults. Remember God Said, "Suffer not little children to come unto me."

God has time for all of his children so let us learn to take time out for ours!

FmHA adjusts debt program

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) is making changes in its regulations to encourage commercial lenders to help their farm borrowers, who are having economic problems, by taking advantage of the FmHA's debt adjustment program according to Ben T. Rucker, Jr., county supervisor.

The debt adjustment program is part of the Farm Credit Initiatives announced by President Reagan last September. It is designed to help banks and other lenders reduce the amount of loan payments down to a level farmers can afford.

The program allows FmHA to guarantee a portion of farm loans owed to banks and other lenders under certain conditions. FmHA agrees to make up part of the loss to the lender if the borrower defaults. This government guarantee makes it possible for the lenders to stay with their farm borrowers longer than they could otherwise.

The new regulations will help banks and other lenders cooperate with the program by allowing them to write down interest in exchange for the government guarantee. Previously, they were required to write off a minimum of ten percent of the principal of the loan. When the change becomes effective, they can reduce the loan through interest or principal or a combination of both.

Under another part of the President's Farm Credit Initiatives, FmHA is reviewing loans of its own borrowers. So far, in the Eden area office, Ben Rucker said FmHA has been able to adjust loans for over sixteen farmers. FmHA County Supervisors will be getting additional staff help from other U.S. Department of Agriculture agencies to review FmHA loans.

FmHA also has selected expert credit teams that will assist farm borrowers if the bank they have loans with has failed. In addition, the agency is cooperating with the state and other agriculture agencies and groups to establish a "hot line" telephone service in some areas.

The Agriculture Department is working closely with other federal and regulatory agencies such as the Treasury Department, the Farm Credit Administration, the Comptroller of the Currency and the Federal Deposit Insurance Cooperation (FDIC) to provide whatever help they can for farm borrowers in economic trouble, Rucker said.

The Eden area office services six counties—Concho, Menard, Kimble, Sutton, Crockett, and Schleicher.

A person who works for more than one employer during the course of a year may have more Social Security taxes withheld than are required by law, Franklin H. Upp, Social Security manager in San Angelo, said recently.

"If this occurs," Upp said, "the person may claim a refund for the excess amount when he or she files an income tax return for that year; however, if the excess withholding occurs because an employer deducts too much in taxes, the person should ask the employer for a refund."

"Earnings in excess of the maximum amount that counts for Social Security cannot be used in figuring the benefit rate."

Additional information about taxes and refunds may be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service. Information about Social Security benefits can be obtained from the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608.

Commissioners inspect County Annex

The Sutton County Commissioner's Court inspected the new County Annex Building during the regular meeting Monday, March 11. After the inspection, during which commissioners and Judge Sherrill were accompanied by architect Gary Donaldson, the Court voted to accept the building as "substantially complete."

It was agreed to pay the contractor $45,195.45 for that portion of the project which has been completed. Additional minor work and touch-up needs to be done. The remainder of the payment on the contract, $21,780, is being retained until completion of work. Another inspection is scheduled for Monday, March 25th at which time the Annex should be accepted. The motion to make the payment was made by Commissioner Keel and passed unanimously. Commissioner Gonzales was not present.

Coordinator Lenora Pool presented specifications for the purchase of a new ambulance. The ambulance, which will be purchased with revenue sharing funds, will replace a 1978 ambulance now in service. Commissioners authorized the advertisement for bids on this unit.

Sheriff Bill Webster reported that the jail had recently undergone state inspection. A minor deficiency in the fire alarm system has been corrected and the jail should be recertified following another inspection. He also reported that his department has accepted two new patrol cars.

The Court approved the appointment of a County Historical Commission. Members of the Commission are: President, Bill Stewart; Vice President, Frances Ross; Secretary/Treasurer, Gretta Smith and members Dorothy Cusenbary Guila Vicars, James Hunt and John Eaton.

Two bids were received for the drilling, casing and testing of two water wells for the County Park and Cemetery. After discussion Commissioner Keel moved that both bids be rejected and that additional information be sought in order to determine the best route to take. The motion carried unanimously.

The Court adjourned at 11:17 a.m. after other routine business was conducted.

Crime Stoppers seeks fugitive

Cynthia Hynd McCray had dedicated her life to helping people.. until the night of January 9, 1981.

Once described as a "good, very professional nurse" by police investigators, Ms. McCray is now a fugitive. She has eluded police since the January, 1981, murder of Buford Johnson, 42, of Dallas.

Police reports indicate that Johnson, a black male, died almost instantly from a gunshot wound in the face fired from point blank range.

Detectives say Ms. McCray who was a nurse at Children's Medical Center in Dallas at the time of the shooting, had been dating Johnson. On the evening of January 9, 1981, he had been at the Knight's Inn Tavern in the 500 block of Corinth Street in Dallas. Apparently Johnson offered a woman at the bar a ride home. As the pair got into Johnson's vehicle, another car drove up.

A witness told investigators that Ms. McCray got out of the other vehicle and approached Johnson. "There you are," she is reported to have said. "What are you doing?"

When Johnson replied that he was going to take the other woman home, a shot was fired and Johnson slumped down in the front seat of the car.

Investigators were told that Ms. McCray then fled the scene in the other automobile. Law enforcement officials have been trying to catch up with her ever since.

This week Cynthia Hynd McCray has made the Texas Most Wanted List. A $1,000 reward is being offered for information leading to her capture.

Ms. McCray is described as a white female, 38 years old, 5-5, 115 pounds with brown hair and green eyes.

Investigators believe she still might be working as a nurse in the State of Texas, possibly under a slight variation of her real name. In the past she has used several aliases, including Cynthia Louise Reales, Cynthia Louise Stone and Cynthia Louise Hynd.

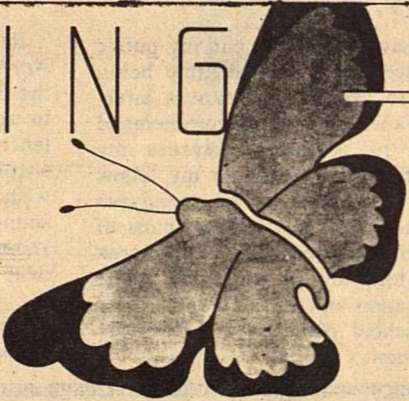

Anyone with information about Ms. McCray's whereabouts is asked to call Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll-free at 1-800-252-8477 or their local Crime Stoppers program.

Texas Most Wanted is a cooperative effort between Texas Crime Stoppers and the Department of Public Safety and is designed to enlist the public's aid in the capture of fugitives wanted for serious crimes committed in the state.

Exotic protection considered

Exotic game animals, that is non-native species, have become a factor on many ranches and game preserves throughout Texas. A number of different species have been introduced and the numbers of individuals have increased to the point that it is no longer a rarity to see exotic wildlife. These animals represent a considerable investment by the landowners and in many places have become important to the hunting economy.

Despite the fact that some biologists and others have voiced objection to the introduction of exotics into the Texas ecosystem, the fact is that they are present in significant numbers and that they are quite probably here to stay. Those who object do so on the grounds that the exotics are in direct competition with white-tailed deer, the single most important game animal in Texas.

Which ever side of the question one chooses to defend, exotics are an important resource to landowners and those hunters who can afford the cost of hunting them.

Poaching is also a fact of life in the wide open spaces of West Texas. There is too much area for game wardens and landowners to adequately patrol making it exceptionally easy for illegal hunters. Let's assume a game warden stops a vehicle on a county road and finds a whitetail in the back. If it is not hunting season it is an obvious case, regardless of the circumstances of the kill. If it is during the hunting season and the deer has no tag it is also clearly illegal. The game warden, or other officer can press charges.

What happens if, in the same situation, the animal in possession is one of the exotics? Absolutely

Ramblin' Raun Outdoors

by Jerry Raun

nothing! There is nothing illegal about possessing an exotic animal. The only way that a case can be made against the poacher of exotics is if he is caught in the act of trespassing, actually shooting the animal or shooting across a public road. There is no way, after the fact, to establish ownership of the animal even when it is perfectly obvious to everyone involved where the animal came from. Even if the animal were branded it might not be possible to make a felony case.

A bill, pertaining only to Edwards County, has been introduced into the present legislative session that may solve this problem. This local bill would make it illegal to hunt exotic animals without the express consent of the landowner or to have the carcass of an exotic animal without the knowledge and consent of the owner.

It should be pointed out that this proposed bill does not alter the status of exotic wildlife. It does not regulate the hunting or the ownership of exotics under the Parks and Wildlife Code. The owner of the exotics has the right, as now, to do whatever he wants to with the animals. It does not regulate the hunting or sale of the animals, nor does it make them the property of the state as are white-tail deer and other native game species. It is an attempt to protect the owner against theft of his property.

The language of the bill would amend Section 1, Chapter 169, Parks and Wildlife Code, by adding Subchapter C. "Nongame Animals". The proposed Subchapter would read as follows:

Sec. 169.021 EXOTIC ANIMALS DEFINED. In this subchapter, "Exotic animal" means axis deer, fallow deer, blackbuck antelope, sika deer, aoudad sheep, mouflon sheep, barbado sheep, European red deer, Corsican sheep, four-horned sheep, sambar deer, eland antelope, sika antelope, white-tailed gnu, impala, greater kudu, blesbok, gazelle, oryx, guanaco, llama, thar, nilgai antelope, or ibex.

Sec. 169.022. HUNTING EXOTIC GAME ON THE ROAD. No person on a public road or on the right-of-way of a public road in Edwards County may hunt an exotic animal.

Sec. 169.023. HUNTING EXOTIC ANIMALS WITHOUT CONSENT OF LANDOWNER. No person may hunt on the land of another in Edwards County for an exotic animal without the express consent of the owner of the land to hunt for exotic animals.

Sec. 169.024. POSSESSION OF CARCASS OF EXOTIC ANIMAL. (a) Except as provided in Subsections (b) and (c) of this section, no person may possess the carcass of an exotic animal in Edwards County. (b) Subsection (a) of this section does not apply to the owner or employee of the owner of the exotic animal, a public health officer, a law enforcement officer, or a veterinarian. (c) It is an affirmative defense to a prosecution under Subsection (a) of this section that the person possessed the carcass of the exotic animal with the knowledge and consent of the owner.

Sec. 169.025. PENALTIES. A person who violates this subchapter is guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction is punishable by a fine of not more than $1,500 or confinement in jail for not more than six months or both.

Is Edwards County the only area where such a bill is desirable? The Devil's River News would be interested in receiving input from interested persons, pro or con, regarding the desirability of comparable legislation elsewhere. All such comments received will be forwarded to the proper state officials.

UPS application granted

The Railroad Commission recently granted the application of United Parcel Service for authority to transport packages from point to point within Texas.

The Commission voted two to one to approve the examiner's recommendation and grant the UPS application. Chairman Buddy Temple and Commissioner Mack Wallace voted for approval, while Commissioner James E. (Jim) Nugent voted against and filed a dissenting opinion.

The order signed by Temple and Wallace adopted the examiner's conclusion that the proposed UPS service would "meet the demonstrated public need for a single, consistent, and reliable statewide carrier" and that it would "advance the commercial potential of all areas of the state, not just the locations along service routes."

The commissioners went on to say that "no existing regulated transportation service can presently fulfill this public need."

Nugent said in his dissent that "I am firmly convinced the Legislature has not granted the Railroad Commission the power to grant authority for a common carrier to operate over irregular routes with no schedule." He also said the evidence in the case "demonstrates the applicant does not intend to provide a service in accordance with present laws and regulations of the Commission."

UPS filed its application with the Commission in August, 1978. After lengthy consideration in state courts of the question of whether the Commission had jurisdiction to consider the application, hearings were conducted by the Commission's Transportation Division in 1982 and 1983.

In August of last year, the hearings examiner recommended the application be denied, saying state law requires applicants to provide specific route maps and service schedules and that in her opinion, the UPS application did not meet those requirements. Commissioners Wallace and Temple overruled that recommendation and directed the examiner to prepare a new recommendation based on the question of need for the proposed service in Texas.

The examiner returned to the Commission December 10 with a recommendation that the UPS application be granted, citing the testimony of over 300 public witnesses who supported the application.

Today's Commission order grants UPS authority to transport packages or articles between all points in Texas. The packages or articles may not exceed 50 pounds in weight or 108 inches in combined length and girth measurement. Each package or article must be considered a separate shipment.

Before beginning its package delivery service within the state, UPS must file a schedule of proposed rates for Commission approval. Examination of such rate requests usually involves a public hearing. Another matter to receive Commission examination will be the type of shipping documents UPS will use in its service. The company must also file proof of insurance and must register all vehicles it will be using in the state with the Commission.

Fields competes at state

Amy Fields will be competing with hundreds of fellow contestants on the state level following her recent first place finish at the state qualifying meet in El Paso.

Amy, a sixth grade student at Sonora Junior High, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Johnny Fields and has been an active gymnast since the ripe old age of four.

At the qualifying meet in El Paso, Amy competed in Class II, intermediate optional, with 24 other contestants. She placed first in her floor exercise with a score of 8.45. She won second in both beam and bars with scores of 7.35 and 7.15 for the two difficult events. Her third place in vault with a score of 7.55 gave her an overall score of 30.5 to win first all-around in the meet.

Her trip to Houston on March 30 will be the first time ever for Amy to compete at the state level.

This meet is a United States Gymnastics Federation meet.

She was invited to an "Invitation Only" meet in Houston this past weekend.

Letter to the Editor

TO THE CITIZENS OF SUTTON COUNTY:

It is with mixed emotions that I will finish my two terms and five years of service as a member of the Board of Trustees for your school district on election day, April 6. Those eventful five years have seen changes in administration, in state and local policies, and in the financial picture for Sonora ISD.

The passage of HB 72, 'the education reform bill', by the state legislature during the summer of 1984 has resulted in many of those changes, some good and some not so good. Only the passage of more time will reveal just how much of the reform bill will have the hoped-for long range good effect on the overall picture in public education. I am proud to have been a part of your Board when we were having to adjust to the harsh financial picture caused by our cutback in state funding. I am convinced that our administrative staff has succeeded in holding the line so far as spending is concerned, and will be equally successful in adjusting to the new curriculum requirements mandated by state legislation.

I would like to thank the voting public, the faculty and staff of the school district, and especially the administrators who have done a spectacular job of continuing to provide quality basic education to the youth of our county. The guidance of the Board, coupled with the 'can-do' attitude of school district employees, has resulted in the Sonora ISD's continued excellence.

I have decided to end my public service career for the time being due to expanding business interests and a few health problems. I wish to personally express my sincere appreciation to my fellow Board members, to all employees of the school district, and most of all, to the fine people of this area who have always supported public education and without whose help no school district can effectively function.

Regardless of the outcome of the April 6 election, I am confident that the Board of Trustees will continue to uphold the standards of excellence which have long made Sonora a truly outstanding school district. I wish each and every one of them soundness of judgment, a sound knowledge of the issues, and great deal of good luck.

Jimmy Condra, Retiring Member Sonora ISD Board of Trustees

Manuel "Tiger" Duran stretches to limber up for competition in Eldorado Saturday. The varsity tracksters finished fourth overall, and the JV team ended the day in second place.

Choir advances to state contest in May

While most students were having fun during spring break, the SHS Choir was busy preparing for the UIL Solo and Ensemble Contest held in Brownwood March 2. Of the soloists who participated, the following six made the superior rating 1: Edward Mata, Scott Miller, Teri Williams, Shelly Lykins, Kristin Keel and Rachel Chavez.

The ensembles practiced very hard also. The girls ensemble sang two songs which were, "For the Beauty of the Earth" and "Heavenly Aeroplane" which made the outstanding rating of 1, which qualifies them for state competition.

The mixed ensemble which did a dance to the song "get on Board," also made a first division rating. This also qualifies them for state.

Everyone was very excited and pleased with their accomplishments. Mrs. Caldwell, the choral director, said, "I am very proud of everyone."
