Legislation passes

Legislation permitting the establishment of a Sutton County Underground Water Conservation District has passed both the Senate and the House of Representatives and has been sent to the Governor for signature. According to State Senator Bill Sims, the bill received a favorable vote from the Senate on Friday, May 19.

The proposition must now be submitted to the voters of Sutton County for approval. A date for that election has not been set.

The underground water conservation district will include all of Sutton County with the exception of a small section in the northwestern part of the county. The excluded area is already part of the Edwards Plateau Underground Water Conservation District with headquarters in Eldorado.

Voters will also elect five local directors. The three directors receiving the most votes would serve two-year terms and the other two directors would serve one-year terms.

Also to be decided during this election will be the question of levying, assessing, and collecting any ad valorem tax throughout the district. The bill sets a limit of five cents taxation initially. Any increase in this limit would require a district-wide election.

Meeting scheduled

The Texas Sesquicentennial Quilt Association is sponsoring an important statewide contest and exhibition of contemporary quilts with a Texas theme for Texas' 150th birthday. The contemporary exhibit will be held in conjunction with a statewide exhibition of antique quilts made in Texas or brought to Texas prior to 1936, the state's Centennial year. Both exhibits will open in Austin, the state capital, in the spring 1986, and will tour Texas and possibly other states through 1986 and 1987.

A group of Sonora residents have begun plans for construction of a contemporary quilt to be entered in the contest. Anyone interested in contributing either skills or financial assistance in this project is encouraged to attend a planning meeting June 6, at 10 a.m. at Patricia's Place, 305 SE Crockett, Sonora. A pattern or theme will be chosen at that time, and plans will be made for beginning construction immediately after the meeting.

If you desire more information about this project, call Patricia Johnson at Patricia's Place (387-5334) or the County Extension Service.

Gonzales indicted

Sutton County Commissioner Juan Carlos Gonzales was indicted Monday, May 20 on charges of felony theft.

According to the indictment handed down by the 112th Judicial District Grand Jury Gonzales is accused with theft of about $11,500 from the Colonial Food Store in Sonora. The alleged incident occurred on July 11 at which time Gonzales was employed as store manager.

Gonzales is free on $10,000 personal recognizance bond granted by 112th District Judge M. Brock Jones.

District Attorney J.W. Johnson, Jr. has declined to comment on the case he has presented or on the investigation which was conducted.

Gonzales is presently serving his third term as Commissioner of Precinct 4. He had been manager of the Colonial Store until early in this year.

Commissioner Gonzales will continue to hold his office since an indictment, as opposed to a conviction, does not require that a public official resign.

New fishing regulations announced

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission approved a number of fishing regulation changes for 1985-86 in a public hearing May 2 in Austin.

Some of the more significant changes involved special bag limits for large mouth bass and crappie on selected reservoirs, minimum size limits on red snapper and a new statewide limit on hybrid striped bass.

All adopted changes to the freshwater fishing regulations will be effective September 1, 1985, but changes in the saltwater fishing regulations will be effective June 1, 1985.

The commission approved the staff recommendation to establish a "slot" limit for largemouth bass at Nacogdoches City Lake at Nacogdoches, Houston County Lake near Crockett and Fayette Power Project Reservoir near LaGrange. After August 31, anglers will be prohibited from retaining largemouth bass between 15 and 21 inches long. All other sizes may be retained, and a three largemouth bass per day bag limit will be in effect.

Tradinghouse Creek Reservoir in McLennan County and Aquilla Creek Reservoir in Hill County will have a three largemouth bass per day bag limit with a 16-inch minimum length limit. The same limit already is in effect at Squaw Creek and Coletto Creek Reservoirs.

Lake Worth in Tarrant County

Ramblin' Raun Outdoors

by Jerry Raun

and Lake Fork in Wood, Rains and Hopkins Counties will have a slot limit of 14-18 inches, with a daily bag limit of five largemouth bass, possession limit 10.

A five largemouth bass per day bag limit and minimum length limit of 14 inches was adopted for Lake Brownwood in Brown County, Coleman Lake in Coleman County, Falcon Reservoir in Zapata and Starr Counties, Lake Jacksonville in Cherokee County and Lake Whitney in Hill and Bosque Counties.

The standard bass limit on lakes and streams not affected by special lake regulations is 10 bass in the aggregate (largemouth, smallmouth or spotted) per day, 20 in possession, with a 10-inch minimum length limit.

For the first time ever, bag and length limits were established for crappie in several Texas reservoirs. In Brandy Branch Reservoir in Harrison County, Lakes Braunig and Calaveras near San Antonio, Lake Fairfield in Freestone County and Lake Jacksonville in Cherokee County, the daily bag limit will be 15 crappie (black or white), possession limit 30, and minimum size limit 10 inches.

The commission authorized a 25 crappie per day bag limit, possession limit of 50 and 10-inch minimum length limit for Lake Fork in Wood, Rains and Hopkins Counties; Lake Palestine in Anderson, Cherokee, Henderson and Smith Counties; Lake Meredith in Hutchinson, Moore and Potter Counties; Lake Whitney in Hill and Bosque Counties; and the Brazos River above Lake Whitney in Hill, Bosque and Johnson Counties.

Fisheries staff members told the commission that most of the reservoirs recommended for the limits are power plant cooling ponds which traditionally have very poor crappie reproduction, making restocking essentially a put-grow-and-take concept. Coldwater lakes such as Palestine were selected to assess the effects of the limits on that type of habitat.

The commission adopted a statewide limit of five per day, 10 in possession, for hybrid striped bass. The only exceptions will be Lakes Arlington and Graham, which will have no bag limits for evaluation purposes. The five per day bag limit for hybrid stripers already is in effect at Calaveras and Squaw Creek Reservoir in Hood and Somervell Counties.

The commission also set a daily bag limit of five, possession limit of 10, catfish in lakes of less than 500 acres lying totally within the boundaries of state parks, and reopened the tailrace area below Lake Granbury Dam to fishing.

Also adopted was a "final destination" regulation covering fish and other wildlife resources. For fish, "final destination" is defined as "a place either on the mainland, a peninsula or barrier island where a fisherman finally lands his catch and does not further transport his fish by boat." Final destination does not include jetties or piers. Final destination for all other wildlife resources means the permanent residence of the person possessing or receiving the wildlife resource, or a part of the wildlife resource, or a commercial processing plant after the carcass of the wildlife resource has been finally processed.

The commission adopted a 13-inch minimum length limit for red snapper in coastal waters under state jurisdiction. Anglers will be allowed to retain five snappers under the minimum per day. Headboats taking seven or more persons fishing for a fee, and persons legally operating trawls are exempted from the regulation. The snapper regulations are identical to those already adopted by the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council for federal waters beyond nine nautical miles offshore.

10 local Scouts attend Camporee

Ten Boy Scouts from Sonora recently attended the Diamond Jubilee Council Camporee held April 12-14 in Christoval at Camp Geronimo.

In 1926 the first Council Summer Camp was held in Christoval. The 10 day camping experience was called Camp Geronimo I and was located at the old Baptist Encampment on the South Concho River. A swimming bridge connected the camping area with the dining hall on the north side of the river.

Some 150 Scouts attended the first camp under the leadership of Brice Draper, Scout Executive.

To celebrate the Diamond Jubilee of the Boy Scouts of America, the Concho Valley Council returned to the same site for a council-wide camporee. This was a weekend of real Scout camping with every Scout and every troop in the Concho Valley Council meeting together to enjoy the thrill and excitement of the "jamboree style" big event.

Each troop provided their own camping equipment, food, etc. and they prepared their own meals during the camporee.

Tech medical student writes top paper on suicide

One of the ten finalists among papers by American medical students is "A Proposed School Program for Stress and Suicide Prevention," submitted by sophomore medical student Robert Curtis of Texas Tech University Health Science Center (TTUHSC) School of Medicine in Lubbock, Texas.

This honor advances the Curtis paper to the third of four levels in national competition for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) prestigious "Award for Innovation in Health, 1985".

The competition was established in 1983 to encourage new ideas in preventive health services, health protection, and health promotion from students of medicine, nursing, allied health, dentistry, pharmacology, podiatry, optometry, osteopathy, public health, health administration, health education, and veterinary medicine.

As one of ten selected by the Association of American Medical Colleges from entries from the nation's medical schools, the Curtis paper will compete with finalists from twelve associations, affiliated with the Federation of Associations of Schools of the Health Professions (FASHP). FASHP will select 20 top papers to be judged in the fourth level of competition by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Among the twenty finalists, honorariums of $3,000 for first place, $2,000 for second place, $1,000 for third place, and $250 for each of the remaining 17 places will be awarded.

Curtis writes with conviction of the need for stress reduction and suicide prevention. His proposed prevention program for schools has been entered under the contest category: control of stress and violent behavior.

Other categories are physical fitness and exercise, nutrition, misuse of alcohol and drugs, smoking and health, high blood pressure control, family planning, pregnancy and infant health, immunization, sexually transmitted diseases, toxic agent control, occupational safety and health, accident prevention and injury control, fluoridation and dental health, and surveillance and control of infectious diseases.

Entries in all four levels of competition are judged on criteria evaluating the degree of innovation in approach to health promotion and disease prevention, on the feasibility of the approach, and on the potential for impact on a community or target population.

Awards are called "The Secretary's Award for Innovations in Health Promotion and Disease Prevention" in honor of the Secretary, Department of Health and Human Services. The three top winners will receive inscribed plaques from the department in a special ceremony and the 17 finalists will receive Certificates of Merit. The three top winners will receive Certificates of Merit. The three top winners and the 17 finalists' abstracts will be published by the department.

Anthony B. Way, M.D., Ph.D., chairman of the TTUHSC Department of Preventive Medicine and Community Health who encouraged sophomore students to participate, has said, "Mr. Curtis' national recognition through advancement to the third level of competition is an honor for him as an individual and for TTUHSC as a Texas medical institution."

For the low price of one admission ticket, you can experience a showcase of Texas traditions through the songs, food, dance and crafts of the 30 different ethnic groups who settled and developed the state. Once you enter the Festival grounds let your eyes, ears, and nose lead you from one cultural adventure to another. Begin your journey in Cajun Country while sampling a bowl of shrimp gumbo and cheering your favorite contestant on to victory in the crawfish race.

Explore the fascinating culture of the Wends and delight in their handmade noodles. Observe how sausage is stuffed, then compare Alsatian, British, German, Hungarian and Ukrainian varieties.

A stroll through the Mexican area offers spicy rewards in gordita de queso and fajitas. Along with the music of mariachi and conjunto bands and new additions, including demonstrations by a saddle-maker, boot-maker and herbalist, the area has all the sights, sounds and feel of a true Mexican market.

The spirit of the state's early settlers comes vividly back to life as Festival participants demonstrate pioneer crafts and skills in the "Back 40" area. Discover Texas' proud heritage as wheelwrights and blacksmiths practice their trade. Learn how to make rush candles, quilts, lye soap and shoe a horse. And nearby, Festival storytellers spin captivating yarns about life in early Texas.

Next, jump on the horse-drawn wagon for a ride to the Festival farmyard where you can pet sheep, chickens, pigs, and other friendly animals. "Back 40" activities also include games and contests such as corn shuckin', trick roping, tobacco spitting and horseshoe pitching.

When the school bell rings, visit the one-room schoolhouse and learn how the three Rs were taught to frontier children. Start your travel and practice your handwriting on slates as the schoolmaster gives instruction in chirography, the study of penmanship.

Throughout your tour of Texas' past enthusiastic participants eagerly answer your questions with a mix of history and folklore making the Festival an education excursion and memorable occasion for the whole family.

Jewels & Gems
by John Tedford
Metals are generally categorized into "precious" and "base". The precious metals include gold, platinum and silver which are also called the noble metals because they resist corrosion and oxidation. This is the process in which air and the elements in the air eat away at the metals to form tarnish and rust. All other metals are base metals. Their resistance to corrosion is less and include such metals as copper, nickel and iron. Most metals used in jewelry are combinations of both precious and base metals. Although the precious metals can be said to be diluted by the base metals, the reason that they are combined has less to do with making the precious metals less expensive than in making them more durable.
At Tedford Jewelry you can select from the work of the finest craftsmen in sterling: Gorham, Kirk-Stieff, Towle, Lunt, Oneida Heirloom and International. Sterling silver is at its lowest price in over five years, and silver market experts predict that, in the next few years, we may see it rise to unprecedented heights. Shouldn't you start or add to your sterling flatware pattern today at Tedford Jewelry?
Hint: An "alloy" is a combination of two or more metals.

Judge Martin's Office is located in the Police Department at 304 N.E. Oak Street. The telephone number is 387-5237.

Telephone customers to pay $1

Most telephone customers across the nation, including those served by General Telephone, will begin paying a monthly $1 subscriber line charge beginning June 1.

Ranchers to be contacted

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in mid-May for 1985 crop information and mid-year livestock inventories.

State Statistician Dennis Findley emphasized that information from these surveys is very important to the entire agricultural industry. "The current economic uncertainties of agriculture are weighing heavily on most producers' production and marketing decisions. These mid-year crop and livestock estimates will provide farmers and ranchers with information they can use to adjust their plans for 1985."

Results of the confidential interviews, conducted by mail or in person by field enumerators, will be published in July.

To reduce survey costs, Findley is urging farmers and ranchers to return the mailed questionnaires as soon as possible. The reported information will be combined for state and county estimates.

Annual county estimates are published for livestock, dairy, poultry, cotton, field crops, small grains, fruits and pecans, vegetables and cash receipts from the sale of farm products.

The changes are an effort to keep high volume users on the local network since artificially high long-distance rates make it possible for them to find economical alternatives to using telephone company facilities for completing their long-distance calls. When this occurs, it is called bypass.

Telephone company officials say that if the high volume users leave the network, the investment and maintenance costs are still there and must be spread among the remaining customers, driving up local rates.

The incentive to bypass is lessened when the subsidy is reduced and long-distance rates decrease.

The $1 subscriber line charge applies to all customers of all exchange telephone companies providing local exchange service. The charge is scheduled to increase to $2 on June 1, 1986.

Protecting your children

Homemaker Update

by Gail Rucker

Each year over 50,000 children are either kidnapped or simply wander off by themselves. National efforts are being made to help parents become more alert to how this occurs.

A nonprofit agency called Child Find estimates that only 5,000 of these missing children are found alive and reunited with their families each year. Many are murdered or are never found.

Parents need to be alert to possible situations that could lead to kidnapping. Here are some suggestions for parents:

- *Do not leave your child alone in a car, store or other public places. Know where your child is at all times.
- *Teach your children how to use the telephone and make sure they know your number, including the area code. Children should also know how to dial the police for an emergency.

- *Fingerprint your child and keep the prints for identification purposes.
- *Develop a secret code or secret word that only you and your child can use, especially in case of emergency or danger.
- *Tell your child never to go with a stranger.
- *Encourage your neighbors to participate in a neighborhood self-help program. Establish a safe home where children can go for help if they are pursued by a stranger while playing outdoors or going to school.

Parents can take preventative measures by teaching their children to be aware of dangerous situations and to say "no". If more parents take the time to help their children understand what possible dangers exist, perhaps the alarming number of missing children can be reduced.

Wake Up America

1st Chronicles 12:32 "...men who understood the times, with the knowledge of what Israel should do."

Christians need to understand the times in which we live, and also to have knowledge of what needs to be done. Deterioration is running its course in our nation! We are certainly living in the last days!

Did you know that for each minute you spend reading this article three babies will die by being vacuumed, sucked, or scraped out of their mothers' womb--salt poisoned or actually delivered alive only to be left to die. By the end of the day 4,320 babies will have been disposed of by one or another of these methods.

Did you know the Unitarian Universalist Fellowship, a humanitarian church, has decided to recognize marriage between homosexuals?

Most people know there is a new candy that has been introduced to the U.S. from Europe. It's a small white chocolate skull, when squeezed, brings out a red substance from the sides, the mouth and eyes.

Did you know Billy Graham's recent film "The Prodigal", was given a PG rating by the Motion Picture Association of America. Their reason for the PG rating, "Pre-teenage children should not be exposed to christianity without their parents consent."

Christian values, according to Hollywood are dangerous and no child should be exposed to them without their parents' consent."

Christian; let me put the question to you. Do you really understand the times?

Here are some excerpts The Second American Revolution, by John Whitehead and The Light and the Glory, by Peter Marshall and David Manuel.

At the appearance of a strange star in 17 B.C., Ceasar Augustus inaugurated a celebration where he was hailed as "The Son of God." The state claimed to bring prosperity and salvation to man. A few years later, a small man in a Roman prison would challenge Ceasar's deity by declaring, "Neither is salvation in any other; For their is no other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Paul was to lose his head because of such hearsay.

In the middle ages a medieval Theologian by the name of Thomas Aquinas made a distinct departure from the Bible when he began to teach that man was partially fallen. He said that man was not a total sinner. His mind, or at least part of it, was not degenerate. As a result man could receive divine revelation through intellect without reference to the Bible. The Bible was authoritative, but only partially so! The Bible was no longer the sole source of truth.

Along came Martin Luther and John Calvin and the Reformation. They fought Aquinas' concept of the fall of man. They said man was sinner and the Bible was the ultimate authority of all truth.

Thank God there were men that understood the times and they have supernatural knowledge from the Word of God what to do! Even though excommunication came, and heartache, Luther and Calvin took a stand against erroneous teaching and began to preach the truth.

Remember this! Jesus said, "The Truth shall set you free." We need wisdom, knowledge, understanding, and the truth. Christians lift up the banner of the Blood Stained Cross so that America can see truth that it might return to its 1st love!

Robin Snodgrass severely burned

Robin Snodgrass, formerly of Sonora, suffered severe burns Friday, May 24 when he was cleaning the residue from a barbecue pit in San Angelo.

Snodgrass, raised here in Sonora, is the son of Bob and Barbara Snodgrass of Sonora.

He was taken to Shannon West Texas Memorial Hospital for treatment of third-degree burns to his hands and second and third degree burns above the waist.

Later Snodgrass was flown to Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio.

According to Ken Land, Fire and Arson Investigator in San Angelo, Snodgrass was burned when he poured a coffee can of gasoline on a barrel-type barbecue pit. Land said the gasoline was probably ignited by heat from an earlier fire Snodgrass had set to clean out the pit.

Cards and letters may be sent to U.S. Army Burn Center, Brooke Army Medical Center, Ward 15, Fort Sam Houston, Texas 78234-6200. Snodgrass may also receive telephone calls at 512-221-2943, 512-221-6591, or 512-225-9214.

4-H Roundup planned

More than 2,000 4-H members, adult leaders, friends of 4-H and county Extension agents will gather on the campus of Texas A&M University June 4-6 for the annual Texas 4-H Roundup.

The 4-H'ers will be participating in 39 different contests and events, ranging from demonstrations in consumer and mechanical skills to livestock and horse judging and public speaking, says Gayle Hall, 4-H specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. The Extension Service is the parent organization of 4-H, a program for youth between the ages of 9 and 19.

Roundup activities will begin with the State 4-H Food Show and State 4-H Project Show the first day.

An open assembly at 7 p.m. in Rudder Auditorium the first evening will officially kick off Roundup activities, Hall says.

Two 4-H alumni will be recognized for their long-time support of 4-H. Also, 99 outstanding 4-H members will be awarded scholarships totaling more than a half million dollars.

Competition in various contests and method demonstrations will command attention the second day of Roundup. 4-H'ers competing in these contests must have won at the county and district level to qualify for state competition, says Hall. Roundup contest winners will be recognized at a special assembly in Rudder Auditorium that evening at 8 o'clock.

The state 4-H Project Show will be open for viewing beginning at 10 a.m. June 5 in the Memorial Student Center on the A&M campus. The show provides an opportunity for 4-H'ers to demonstrate their expertise in certain project areas which they have developed over the years, notes the 4-H specialist.

A special luncheon on June 5 will honor 28 outstanding 4-H adult volunteer leaders from across Texas, two from each of the 14 Extension Service districts.

4-H'ers attending Roundup will be able to choose from a number of career workshops presented by the Texas A&M University staff on the final day. The workshop will include the fields of agriculture, engineering, business, and veterinary medicine.

4-H members will compete in and enjoy a host of events and activities during the three-day Texas 4-H Roundup, which many consider a highlight of their association with 4-H, Hall says.

Tom Loeffler Reports

In the next several weeks, the fiscal year 1986 budget debate, which thus far has been focused on the Senate, will move to center stage in the House of Representatives.

The Congress is faced with an urgent and imperative challenge: to reduce the unacceptably large federal budget deficits which threaten the viability of our economic recovery and expansion.

President Reagan, in his television address to the Nation last month, urges the American people to support a comprehensive effort to curb the federal government's profligate spending habits. The President stated that the continued success of this bipartisan recovery program, which has been responsible for the remarkable economic turnaround this country has experienced over the past four years, is dependent upon this effort to reduce spending for programs which are unnecessary, inappropriate, or no longer affordable.

The President also reaffirmed his commitment—which I fully support—to oppose efforts to raise your taxes in order to fund these spending programs which benefit selected groups rather than advancing the interest of our nation as a whole. It was in the spirit of shared sacrifice that the President appealed to the citizens of this country to consider reductions in a myriad of government programs that have grown and evolved over time to address virtually every problem that may have arisen over the years.

The President's agreement with the Senate leadership for deficit reductions totalling $50 billion in this fiscal year and $300 billion over the next three years through spending cuts rather than tax increases has set the appropriate framework for the budget debate. Every area of government spending is touched by this budget agreement, including spending for national defense, which unarguably remains one of the primary responsibilities of the government on behalf of its citizens.

If the Congress, with the support of the American people can operate in the spirit of shared sacrifice, it will be possible for us to move forward to remove the remaining obstacles to prosperity and opportunity in the years ahead.

As a member of the House Budget Committee, I intend to make every effort to ensure that this Congress makes significant progress in reducing budget deficits while adopting policies which are equitable, responsible and responsive to the legitimate needs of our Nation and of our citizens.
