AJRA Rodeo starts today

The Sonora American Junior Rodeo Association (AJRA) Rodeo will be held starting today, June 5 and will run through June 8. The rodeo will be at the Sutton County Park arena and performances will start nightly at 7:30 p.m.

This is a Wrangler Series Rodeo and Wrangler is awarding a $50 gift certificate each night.

The stock producer is Bad Company Rodeo of Sonora and the rodeo clown is Chuck Kinney. Judges will be John Stokes and Mike Smith, both of Sonora, and Souli Shanklin of Rocksprings.

For more information about the rodeo call Claire Powers at 387-2949 or Mary Balch at 387-3278.

Chuck Kinney was born and raised in Southwest Louisiana. His father was a PRCA stock contractor in the 1950's and 60's. Chuck competed in all rodeo events throughout high school and college. So, this twenty-seven year old cowboy has been around rodeo all his life.

Chuck started fighting bulls in 1975, when he graduated from high school. Later, he went to Sul Ross State University, in Alpine, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in 1982.

Chuck has been a professional bullfighter for four years. He has fought bulls at rodeos like San Angelo, Texas; Pecos, Texas; Louisiana State Finals (3 years); College National Finals (1983); AJRA National Finals (2 years); and a lot of other youth, collegiate and professional rodeos.

The American version of Bullfighting is not only a method of getting cowboys to safety, but if an angry bull is determined enough to "hook" the bullfighter, he must use quick reflexes, speed, and "bull sense" to escape injury, while trying to make it look funny.

Does a bullfighter have any fear? "I think that fear is the thing that gets your adrenalin flowing," Chuck says. "I respect those bulls, and I get personal satisfaction when I save a bullrider or beat a bull in one-on-one."

Chuck has been fighting bulls for ten years, and now he invites you to watch as he protects these bullriders by distracting the bulls until the cowboy scrambles to safety and then plays a little "One-On-One" with the Bull!

Exotic wildlife to be protected

Exotic wildlife has been granted the same protection given a rancher's domestic livestock. As soon as Governor Mark White signs the bill, exotic animals will be protected from illegal hunting and theft.

The bill sponsored by Rep. Gerald Geistweidt, R-Mason, was approved by the House On May 17. Sen. Bill Sims, D-Paint Rock, succeeded in getting the bill on the Senate's local and uncontested calendar last weekend. The bill passed without objection from any senator.

The original intent of the bill was to help game ranchers who breed, buy and sell exotics in Kerr and Real Counties. Geistweidt said that it was amended to make the bill apply statewide at the urging of a number of persons.

Geistweidt said that under the provisions of the new law exotic animals should be treated the same as domestic livestock.

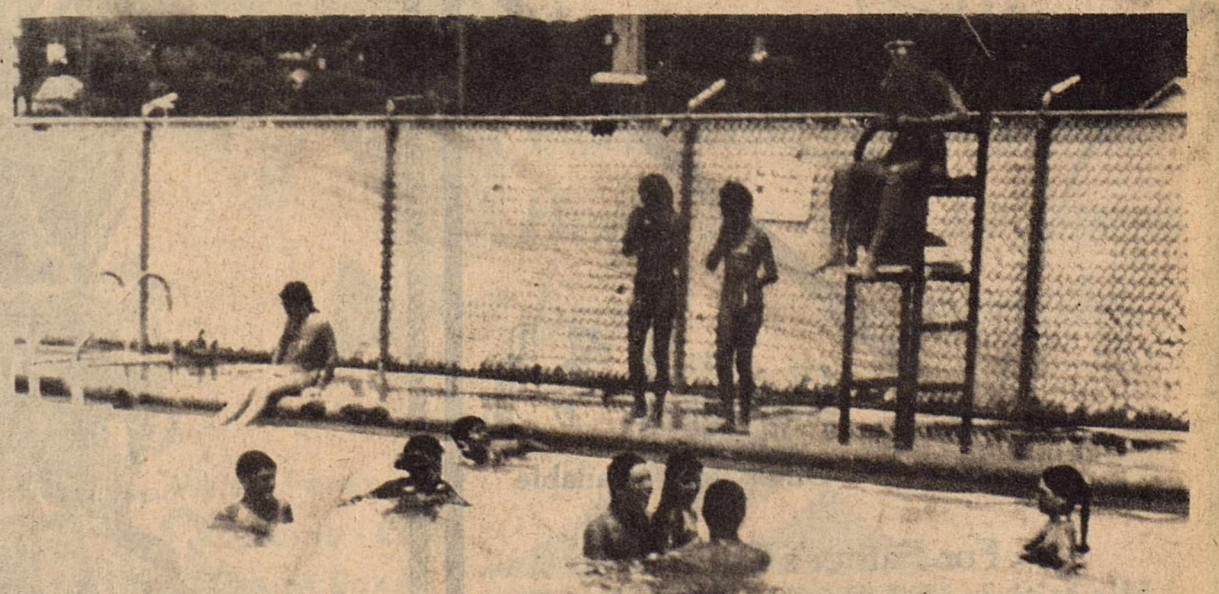

If an exotic game animal jumps a fence, the adjacent landowner would be subject to a $1,500 fine and up to six months in jail for killing it.

"If your neighbor's bull or cow jumps the fence, you're not supposed to shoot it, either," Geistweidt said.

The exotic animals protected included axis deer, fallow deer, blackbuck antelope, sika deer, aoudad sheep, mouflon sheep, barcardo sheep, European red deer, Corsican sheep, four-horned sheep, sambar deer, eland antelope, sable antelope, white-tailed gnu, impala, greater kudu, blesbok, gazelle, oryx, guanaco, llama, thar, nilgai antelope and ibex.

The bill will provide local law enforcement officers and game wardens with the ability to prosecute illegal hunters of exotic animals. Possession of an exotic without the permission of the landowner would be subject to a fine and jail sentence. In the past, prosecution was possible only if the illegal hunter was caught in the act of trespass.

The new law sets no regulations regarding the harvest of exotic wildlife by the landowner. They remain private property and subject to the desires of the owner.

Local swimming pool opened last Wednesday.

Registration set

Registration for the Red Cross Swim classes will be this Saturday June 8 from 9 a.m.-11 a.m. at the public pool.

Lessons will be June 10-June 14. There will be a $3 pool fee for the week. Children must be five years old. This year we will be changing the format somewhat. The lessons will be shortened from the usual hour to 45 minutes.

The classes will begin on the hour and the lessons will end 40-45 minutes later. We hope the younger children will tolerate this better.

The older classes which include advanced beginners, intermediates and swimmers will last a full hour. If you have any question call Mrs. Teaff at 387-2773.

Combined Bible school to begin

"God's People Pray" is the theme that's been chosen for the June 17-21 Episcopal, Methodist, and Presbyterian church school.

Daily classes for children age three through sixth grade will be held at the First Methodist Church. The time schedule will be from 9-11:30 a.m.

Any youngster is welcome to come and join in this time of fun and spiritual growth.

For more information contact the Methodist Church Pastor, David Griffin, 387-2466 or school organizers Dorothy Asbill 387-3765 or Sarah Wade 387-2908.

Charles Dry succumbs, funeral held in Winters

Charles Ray Dry known to everyone as (Koot) passed away at his home in Sonora early Friday morning at the age of 53.

Dry was the son of the late John R. Dry and Dora Williams.

He was born in Winters February 28, 1932. He attended Winters Schools and was a veteran of the Korean war.

He married the former Bonnie Bryan September 12, 1965, in Ballinger.

Dry was an employee of the Dry Mfg. Co. in Winters for over 25 years, being a foreman for many years. He also served as a volunteer fireman for 15 years.

He was a member of the Presbyterian Faith.

Dry and his wife moved to Sonora in 1982 where they lived at the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife Bonnie of Sonora; two children, Tony and Teresa; three brothers, Johnny, Cherry and Hal of Winters; and three grandchildren.

Services were held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, May 26 in the Winters Memorial Chapel with Rev. James Gehrels officiating.

Burial was in the Lakeview Cemetery under the direction of the Winters Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were: Van Ray Whittenberg, J.A. Henderson, Monty Briley, Leon Hilliard, Richard Hamilton, Michael Murchison, Lucius Wood, Johnny Merrill, and Dan Miller.

Several local youths to participate in rodeo

The 1985 Sonora A.J.R.A Rodeo will be held June 5-8 at 7:30 p.m. each night. This will be a Wrangler Series Rodeo, and a $50 Wrangler gift certificate will be given away each night. The lucky number will be included in the rodeo programs.

The American Jr. Rodeo Association was founded in 1952, and many of the present and past P.R.C.A. World Champions came up through the ranks of this organization of young cowboys and cowgirls. Contestants will be 19 years of age and younger and cannot be married.

Such rodeo greats as Roy Roy Cooper, Steve Bland, Bob Blandford, Mack Altizer, Olin Smith, Barry Burk, Byron Walker, Olin Young, Jimmie Cooper, Joe Beavers, Clay Cooper, Sherry Altizer, and many others are former A.J.R.A. members and champions. Also local ranchers Mickey Powers, Jimmy and Allison Powers, Zane and Barbara Powers, Jack David and Jessie Lem Wardlaw, Bob Caruthers, Maggie Walsh, Rande Fawcett, and Gerry Ingham were A.J.R.A. members.

Stock producer for this year's rodeo is Bad Company Rodeo Co., and the rodeo clown will be Chuck Kinney. Judges are John Stokes and Mike Smith of Sonora and Souli Shanklin of Rocksprings.

Local contestants competing will be Mike Friess, Marshall Tyler, Trey, Mack and Chase Wardlaw, Duane Jones, Jack and Blayze Sykes, Lewis and Wheelless Baker, Stephanie Powers, Matt and Cody Stokes, Houston Powers, Anna and Anita Balch, Cindy and Cathy Doran, Abe Carruthers, Rebecca Powers, Todd Keller, Mathew and Hadley Smith, Tammy Stokes and Will Trainer.

These boys and girls will be competing for prize money and for six All-Around buckles. Also they will be attempting to qualify for the National Finals Rodeo held in Snyder in August.

The Petroetts will have the concession stand for the rodeo.

For more information call Claire Powers at 387-2949 or Mary Balch at 387-3278.

Some consider it bad luck for women to look at trumpets.

Police Report

The five officers of the Sonora Police Department logged a total of 259 hours between May 24 and May 30.

The following calls were answered by the officers. Alarms-1; animal-2; assist motorist-12; attempt to locate-5; house watch checks-213; miscellaneous calls requesting to speak with an officer-44; open doors-2 and welfare assistance-3.

Officers are investigating two incidents of criminal mischief where tires were slashed.

Animal Control Officer logged 40 hours and impounded two dogs.

Locals may enter Texas Quilt Roundup

"The Great Texas Quilt Roundup" offers contemporary Texas quilters the chance to win more than $5,000 in prizes for exciting quilts on Texas themes. The top quilts will tour the State during the Sesquicentennial, Texas' 150th birthday, as part of an exhibition of the best modern quilts in Texas.

A special Sesquicentennial project, "The Great Texas Quilt Roundup" is jointly sponsored by the nonprofit Texas Sesquicentennial Quilt Association and The Rouse Company and its "Arts in the Marketplace" division.

The contest is open to all Texas quilters or quilters who have lived in Texas previously. Quilters can enter the contest in six categories: Texas history and symbols, Texas cultural influences, nature in Texas, traditional Texas quilt patterns, Texas industry, and Texas myths and heroes. Texas Sesquicentennial Quilt Association offers a brochure describing these categories in detail and providing examples of each.

First grand prize winner will receive $2,000; second grand prize winner, $1,500; third grand prize winner, $1,000; and top winners in each category will receive $100.

Bonnie Leman, editor and publisher of Quilter's Newsletter Magazine, the largest circulation quilt publication in the United States, will select the winners from finalists chosen by presidents of Texas quilt guilds.

Texas Sesquicentennial Quilt Association is officially sanctioned by the Texas Sesquicentennial Commission. The Rouse Company's "Arts in the Marketplace" division is corporate supporter of the contest and exhibition.

Quilters who want information or an entry form should send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to "Great Texas Quilt Roundup," TSQA, 10885 Katy Freeway, Suite 968, Houston, Texas 77079.

Deadline for sending TSQA a completed entry form with a photograph of the quilt is December 1, 1985, and deadline for sending the finished quilt for judging is January 15, 1986.

Working women do need a real vacation

Many of the women who most need a vacation are least likely to have one, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

"Women who work full-time jobs and then come home to cook, keep house, sew and play chauffeur, often with little help from other family members, have the equivalent of two full-time jobs," says family life specialist Diane T. Welch.

These women may be in a double bind at vacation time, she explains. Some tend to save up chores like sewing housecleaning, gardening or house painting to do on their vacation time.

Others may continue to carry the burden of house-cleaning, cooking and other tasks while the family vacations in a camper, cabin or condo. The surroundings may change but the work doesn't.

Employed women who "vacation" in this manner are getting no vacation at all, says the specialist. "They return to work exhausted, but in a different way."

When vacation time comes around, employed women should have a plan for using the time for self-renewal, she advises.

"Plan some time to relax completely when you do absolutely nothing and to do some activities just for enjoyment" Welch says.

Everyone—especially busy working women—need some true leisure time on vacation in order to go back to work renewed and refreshed, concludes the specialist.

Chamber Report

Texas and South Australia became political entities in 1836 and both are planning to celebrate their 150th "Birthdays" in 1986. We, in Texas, call it our Sesquicentennial. In keeping with this year long celebration, Sonora has been chosen to be a twin city with Wilmington, South Australia.

The Sonora Chamber of Commerce has been corresponding with different citizens of Wilmington. We have recently received a book about our "Twin City". The book is entitled "Beautiful Valley". It is a history of Wilmington and District 1876-1976. This fascinating book contains a collection of facts about the birth and growth of Wilmington.

We would be happy for anyone interested in seeing this book to come by the Chamber of Commerce office. You will enjoy reading and comparing the history of Sonora and that of Wilmington, South Australia.

The District Clerk of the District Council of Mount Remarkable, Wilmington, South Australia, has extended an invitation to the citizens of Sonora to attend a 3-day event, which is proposed to be a full re-enactment of the events of the Grain Trade era, which occurred 150-200 years ago.

The dates of this re-enactment are February 14, 15, 16, 1986. (Program of events is listed at the close of this article.) It would be such a great experience to travel to Australia and attend this event with our sister city. If this date is inconvenient for you and you wish to visit Wilmington on another date, there is a list of "Other 1986 Events" available in a brochure at the Chamber of Commerce office.

If you are interested in a trip to Australia in 1986, please visit the Chamber of Commerce office so that we can help you plan a more memorable trip.

PROGRAM OF EVENTS

Friday, Feb. 14, 1986
Demonstrations of Stripping of the wheat by Clydesdale horses and mechanical stripper, at Murraytown.

Bag Sewing demonstrations and competitions are proposed to be held.

Machinery exhibits, including threshing, winnowing, chaff-cutting, etc. as may be available from the BOULEROO CENTRE STEAM & TRACTION PRESERVATION SOCIETY, will be displayed on the MURRAYTOWN OVAL.

Unveiling of a Commemorative plaque at MURRAYTOWN.

Saturday, Feb. 15, 1986

Cavalcade of machinery, from the Clydesdale and Bullock Teams, drays, vintage trucks and machinery, through modern machinery. Procession to leave from Murraytown Oval, and proceed to Bangor.

The procession is proposed to involve as many community groups as possible, in portraying sections of consecutive eras.

Conducting a competitive SACK TRUCK RACE with competitor pushing a FULL bag of grain on a sack truck. MAJOR SPONSORSHIP is presently being sought.

"AUSTRALINA BUSH DANCE" with traditional damper, roast, billy-tea and live entertainment with frivality into the "wee" hours of the morning.

Unveil a plaque at Bangor to commemorate the old hotel, and the Stop-Over of the bullock teams on route to Port Germein.

Sunday Feb. 16, 1986

Recommence the Cavalcade of machinery through the "Back Creek Gorge" to Port Germein.

Reception of Cavalcade and "Sack Truck Race" in made-gras type street fair in Port Germein.

Cottage crafts, stalls, and historical displays in main streets and on the foreshore.

Ecumenical Church Service on the foreshore Bless the grain, and commence the loading of the token grain on the KETCH "FALIE".

It is anticipated the repairs to the PORT GERMEIN JETTY would have been completed by this time, and this could facilitate a "re-opening" ceremony to be conducted.

Unveil a further plaque on the foreshore at Port Germein to commemorate the visit of the Falie, and the effort of our pioneers.

Studies show safety in heating baby food

Warnings about the safety of heating baby food and infant formulas in a microwave oven have led to some confusion and unnecessary concern, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutrition specialist.

"Parents see a precautionary statement on the labels of some baby food products and assume it applies to all baby food," says Dr. Alice Hunt. "Others have simply heard second or third hand that microwave cooking is bad for baby foods."

But parents can be assured that microwaves are safe to heat any food, including baby food, she says. "Microwaves simply supply the energy which causes the food molecules to vibrate and causes the food to become warm."

Hunt notes that the problem, if there is one, arises from the speed and unevenness with which the microwaves heat food, causing splattering and hot spots.

Baby food products which cause the most concern are dense, high protein products like plain meats and poultry, high meat dinners, egg yolks and meat and poultry sticks, says the specialist.

Retain the nutrients in your food

There's more to nutritious eating than just selecting wholesome foods, says a Texas University A&M Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist.

"With only a few exceptions, nutrients begin to be lost from the moment a food is picked or processed," says Dr. Dymple Cooksey. "But you can hold these losses to a minimum with proper food storage, preparation and cooking."

The nutritionist advises the following steps to retain food nutrients:

*Keep milk cold, covered and away from strong light. The riboflavin in milk may be destroyed by sunlight or artificial light.

*Sun-ripen fresh fruit and vegetables and then chill them to preserve the content of Vitamin A, Vitamin C, folate and other nutrients.

*Avoid storing cut vegetables, since nutrients can be destroyed when the food is exposed to air. If necessary, wrap them tightly.

*Place a freezer thermometer in your freezer to make sure it's set at 0 degrees F or below. Nutrient losses occur when food is stored at temperature above that level.

Wash produce without soaking it to avoid leaching out nutrients. Then trim the produce only as necessary to remove the damaged parts. Also prepare vegetables close to serving time to minimize the exposure of cut surfaces to oxygen and light.

*Steam produce or cook it in as small an amount of water, for as short a time as possible to minimize nutrient losses from water leaching and heat.

*Cook only the vegetables you'll use at one time, since reheating causes loss of vitamins.

After you have bought nutritious food, don't let its nutrients value go down the drain by poor storage or preparation, cautions the nutritionist.

In ancient Greece, a person erroneously mourned as dead was not treated as alive again until he had gone through a re-birth ceremony—including being dressed in baby clothes.

University to offer courses

Angelo State University's Adult and Continuing Education Division is offering four courses for pre-teens and teenagers in a Summer Youth Enrichment Program.

The four courses include Junior Keyboarding, Junior Tennis, Introduction to Microcomputers, and Looking Your Best.

The Junior Keyboarding class, an introduction to typing skills for both traditional typing and computer keyboards, will run from June 3 through June 27, Monday through Thursday, Ruth Seefeldt, an instructor in the ACE program and a certified professional secretary, will be the instructor and registration fee is $45.

Three sections of junior tennis, from June 3 through June 13, are scheduled. Richard Schumacher, an instructor in the physical education department at ASU, will be the instructor. Registration fee is $20.

Clinton Henson, a teacher at Water Valley, will instruct the two microcomputer classes. The class for 9 through 12-year-olds is June 3 through June 13, and the class for 13-year-olds and older is June 17 through June 27. Registration fee is $45.

The Looking Your Best class, an introductory class in make-up, wardrobe, and skin care for young girls, is scheduled for three days with Anita Steans as the instructor. Two classes are scheduled for June 4 through June 6 and two more are scheduled for June 11 through June 13.

Registration deadline is one week prior to the beginning date of each class.

For additional information contact the Office of Adult and Continuing Education at ASU at 942-2339.

Letter to the Editor

Open Letter to Girl Scout Troop 276:

I was so proud of each of you Friday. I will miss you all so very much, must remember that you will always have a special place in my heart.

I'm sorry we were not together our last scouting year. I pray that you will remember the fun, excitement, and the fulfillment of being a scout.

You may not realize the accomplishments but I do. I also pray that your goals and dreams in life come true.

I love each and every one of you: Leah Evans, Sherry Ellison, Della Heffernan, Gina Black, Karla Jungk, Debbie Shannon, and Rebecca Hulsey.

Poetry contest open

A $1,000 Grand Prize is being offered in World of Poetry's New Poetry Contest, open to all poets. There are 100 prizes in all, with a cash value of over $10,000.

"You need not be a famous poet to enter," says Contest Director Joseph Mellon. "Indeed, we are keeping our eye out for beginning poets--poets who have written only one poem, or have never entered a poetry contest before. We expect our contest to produce some exciting discoveries."

For officials rules and entry forms write, World of Poetry, Dept. PR, 2431 Stockton Blvd., Sacramento, California 95817.

Drilling reports from RRC

A total of 3,139 drilling applications were processed by the Railroad Commission in April, according to RRC Chairman Buddy Temple. In March, the total was 3,162.

So far this year, oil and gas operators have filed 11,793 applications. Through the same period of last year, they had filed 12,486.

The April total included 2,310 applications for permits to drill new oil and gas tests, 80 to deepen existing holes, 254 to plugback existing holes, and 71 for service (non-producing) wells. Operators also filed 424 amended drilling applications.

Applications for new oil and gas holes in April included 255 in the San Antonio area (District 1), 79 in the Regugio area (District 2), 179 in Southeast Texas (District 3), 107 in deep South Texas (District 4), 66 in East Central Texas (District 5), 99 in East Texas (District 6), 372 in West Central Texas (District 7B), 148 in the San Angelo area (District 7C), 292 in the Midland area (District 8), 305 in the Lubbock area (District 8A), 324 in North Texas (District 9), and 84 in the Panhandle (District 10).

Saving water this summer

The summer fun of swimming, cool drinks and even car-washing, all require an ample water supply that we often take for granted.

By now, most Texans should know that our groundwater supplies are being depleted faster than they can be renewed. That means everybody needs to do their part to conserve water.

Some suggestions for how to reduce the amount of water we casually waste at home are:

-Keep a thermos of cool water on the kitchen cabinet or a jug of water in the refrigerator. Running the tap to wait for cooler water send about five gallons of water per minute down the drain.

-Take a quick shower. Every inch of water in a tub represents about 4 1/2 gallons of water and a shower

Homemaker Update

by Gail Rucker

without a water-saving device typically uses 5-10 gallons per minute.

-Use full loads of laundry to clean those summer clothes. Washing machines can use 40-60 gallons of water per load.

-Resist using the toilet for a trash basket. Every flush uses 4-7 gallons of water.

-Watch out for water hoses with the water left running. A water hose can deliver several hundred gallons of water in an hour. For that reason, it's probably better to fill the kids' wading pool than let them play with the hose.

-You can save water as you wash your car too. After you wet the car down, turn the water off or use a hose with a shut-off nozzle. Use buckets of soapy water to wash it and then give the car a final rinse with the hose.

Jewels & Gems

by John Tedford

A locket is a pendant that opens to reveal a picture or keepsake inside. Lockets go back to the 17th century when they were popular as containers for religious relics. Some early lockets contained painted miniatures or likenesses of a king or loved one. In the 19th century, lockets were widely used as receptacles for a beloved's hair or even a bit of clothing fabric. During the Civil War there was hardly a woman in the country who did not wear a locket that had an absent loved one's picture or "pledge". The shapes were generally oval. Round lockets became popular a few decades later. Today, lockets are still favored as sentimental gifts.

Tedford Jewelry has a wide selection of lockets--the ultimate keepsake jewelry. Large lockets make beautiful pendants, and small ones may be worn on charm bracelets. We even have tiny lockets for the baby. Lockets are available in 14 karat gold, sterling silver, or 14 karat overlay, which is very affordable and carries a lifetime warranty.

Hint: "Red Gold" is an alloy of gold and copper.

Faith....

By Don Jones,

Minister of the Church of Christ

I. Faith in God.

In order to convince the world of the existence of God it is necessary to go outside the Bible to show that God does exist. There were two very strong points to establish this faith. First was the existence and function of the universe. As we looked at the way our universe functions in such an orderly fashion it left only one logical conclusion and that is that this universe came from only one source, and that was God. The very orderly way the universe operates tells us that only a pre-planned creation, and not some accident, made our world and the universe and causes it to function as it does.

The other point made to increase our faith in God was the existence of man. As we looked at the make up of man it was concluded that man could have come from only one place and that led us to God. II. Faith in Christ.

For us to believe in Christ as the Son of God we explore six facts.

First, we look at what the prophets had to say and how their words came about hundreds of years later as if they actually say what they were writing about. The things they wrote came to pass exactly as they had said. They did not write in general terms but in detail as they were directed by the Holy Spirit (II Peter 2:20-21)

Second, we examine the pre-existence before the beginning of time (John 1:1-14). Christ Himself talked about his pre-existence (John 6:61-62). The apostles wrote about Christ being with God and like God, even that he was God, His equal (John 1:1 and Phil. 2:5,8). Then a study of Genesis chapter one reveals that the word used for God in the Hebrew language is Elohim which is plural and refers to God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit. Yes, Christ was in the beginning. He is eternal.

The birth of Christ was another miracle that increases our faith. Born of a virgin, a birth like this had never happened and has not taken place since. God revealed His plan to send Christ into the world through the virgin birth long before it happened and then at the birth of Christ announced by the angels to the world that a Savior was born.

The life of Christ was the fourth point and was and is very strong evidence that Christ was the Son of God. Christ lived under the Law of Moses and lived perfectly in all points. This had never happened before and has not happened since. He did this to be a perfect sacrifice for our sins. He submitted to God's will at all times (John 4:32; 5:19; 5:30; 6:38; 7:16; and 9:28-29). At His trial Pilate said, "I find no fault in Him." A confession that Christ was perfect.

Number five was the death of Christ for our sins. Who else but God would give us such a gift as eternal life when the purchase price was the death of His only begotten Son? Christ took our punishment to give us freedom (Rom. 6:23; 5:8-10). This was what God and Christ knew would be needed by all people of all time and had planned, before the beginning of all things, the death of Christ (Rev. 13:8). This brought to pass the promise of God in Genesis 3:15. Finally came the resurrection of Christ from the grave. This one miracle alone proves all other miracles to be true and to be the work of God. If you ever have any problems believing any miracle recorded in the Bible just turn and read the last four chapters of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. Once we understand the resurrection story then we can believe all the Bible. Faith in Christ will bring us to accept all, not just part, but ALL the commands of God and trust in Christ completely.

Chili Cookoff set

The Fourth of July Firecracker Chili Cookoff will be held in Eola (18 miles east of San Angelo) July 5-6, sponsored by Pepsi Cola Co. Admission will be $5 and children under 12 will be admitted free. Proceeds from the event will go to the Eola Volunteer Fire Department, the Paint Rock Volunteer Medical Center, Sherwood Courthouse fund and the Eden Ambulance Service. Radio stations KTEO and KWLW will have nine hours of live broadcasting. Texas Time Machine will play for dances both Friday and Saturday nights. There will be food and drink booths, arts and crafts booths, Lone Star Cafe and Saloon, helicopter rides, clowns and a flea market both days. There will also be men's horseshoe pitching with a $300 prize for first place, women's horseshoes, pool tournament with $200 for first place, '42' dominoes, Cotten Eyed Joe dance contest and Break dance contest. There will be a No-Talent contest, kite flying contest, chicken flying contest, washer pitching, volleyball, ugly legs contest, children's games, mud tug-of-war, and a great waitress race. In addition to the chili cookoff there will be a barbecue cookoff. Send your cooking entries plus $15 entry fee to Bill Ivey, 1715 S. Monroe, San Angelo, Texas 76901.

Fajita Cookoff to be held in Ophedale

Fajita cooking enthusiasts can compete against other aficionados Saturday, June 8 at the 1st Annual Orphans for Christ Fajita Cookoff to be held at Woody's Place in Ophedale, Texas just north of Eagle Pass. The benefit cookoff was the brainstorm of retired Southern Pacific railroad employee Woody Ramsey and a group of community minded G-Men (government employees). All proceeds will benefit Orphans for Christ in Eagle Pass. Orphans for Christ is a state licensed orphanage presently housing and educating, at their private school, sixteen children between the ages of three and fifteen. O.F.C.'s projected financial needs for 1985 are $75,000 but head mistress Ruth Raffitt stresses "this figure could increase if we reach our state license limit of twenty-two children." Anyone wishing to make a tax-deductible contribution to this worthy cause can contact them directly at P.O. Box 2588, Eagle Pass, Texas 78852. Free entertainment will be provided throughout the day from local musicians as well as national country and western star Johnny Rodriguez who has graciously agreed to make an appearance prior to a concert date in Goliad that night. Organizers invite any other musicians willing to donate their time to come out and entertain the crowd. The event will start at 3 p.m. and continue through the afternoon and evening until 9 p.m. Entry fee for the cookoff will be $10 but entrance to grounds is free. Contestants will prepare at least 10 pounds of fajitas of which five will be retained for judging. The remaining five pounds can be sold or given to the public in return for donations. Judging is tentatively scheduled for 6 p.m. So far about thirty individuals and teams have committed to competing in the event and organizers expect approximately fifty entries. Prizes and trophies will be awarded to the winners. Anyone wishing to participate can obtain an entry form package by writing Fajita Cookoff, 1531 Buckley, Eagle Pass, Texas 78852. All fees, donations and expenses are tax-deductible.

PUBLIC SERVICE NOTICE

Please beware of advertised bargains on parachutes, fire extinguishers, life preservers, brain surgery and dental care.

Physicians and dentists usually have to advertise when:

- 1) They do not have enough patients because of a lack of professional skill and judgement.
- 2) They are using the cheapest material possible (this includes anesthetics and medicines).
- 3) They offer a cheap service for a cheap price without regard to what long term effect it may have on your health.

The bitterness of poor quality lingers long after the sweetness of a cheap price is forgotten.

We want to take this opportunity to say "Thanks" to the many great patients we have had over the last 15 years. Thanks for your support and appreciation for the finest service modern dentistry can provide.

We look forward to continue to serve you in the future. Contrary to the rumors we are not leaving Sonora.

Sincerely Yours For Better Dental Health,
Dr. L.M. Pollard, D.D.S.

"Real" symbol means true dairy product

Shoppers pushing their carts down supermarket aisles and past the dairy case have thousands of foods from which to select. During the last year, new products in the dairy category included chocolate almond milk, butter blends, cheese snacks, low-sodium cheeses, lower calorie sour cream, flavored butters, freezer snacks and sugar free hot cocoa mixes.

Corporations are changing their names as well as their product lines. In the first half of 1984, more than five hundred American corporations changed their names, according to a semi-annual survey conducted by a New York City based marketing communications and design consulting firm. That is the second highest total number of changes on record and is largely due to corporate America's rapid growth.

One way in which the dairy industry is helping to simplify the shopper's selection is by placing a "REAL" seal (symbolic drop of milk enclosing the word "real") on genuine dairy foods. In many markets, the Seal is appearing on cartons and packages of milk, cream, half and half, butter, sour cream, concentrated milk, sweetened condensed milk, evaporated milk, lowfat and nonfat dry milk, ice cream, sherbet, frozen custards, ice milk, natural and processed cheeses, cottage cheese, yogurt and cream cheese—all products for which the standard has been set by law.

The "standard" is a legal description or recipe to which a product must conform. The standard for butter, for instance, requires it to be made from cream, with or without common salt. Standards for butter permit no preservatives or additives except approved food color (annatto and B-carotene). Butter contains not less than 80 percent by weight of milkfat and has the same calorie content as regular margarine.

Standards of identity for milk permit its fortification with vitamin D and described the appropriate methods for pasteurization and ultra-pasteurization. Whole milk contains not less than 3.25 percent milkfat and not less than 8.25 percent solids-not-fat. Vitamin A must be added to lowfat and skim milk to offset the vitamin A lost when milkfat was removed, but it is optional for whole milk. Lowfat milk is defined as having had sufficient milkfat removed to bring the fat level to between 0.5 percent and 2. percent. Skim milk's fat level is brought down to less than 0.5 percent. Both must contain not less than 8.25 percent solids-not-fat and 2,000 IU (International Units) of vitamin A per quart.

Shoppers can be certain they are selecting real dairy products when they see the "REAL" Seal on the package, or they can read the ingredient label carefully. Read dairy products which conform to legal standards are not required to list their ingredients, but many of them do in order to satisfy the consumers' desire to know that they are buying.

The "REAL" Seal may also appear on the package for pizzas made 100 percent with real cheese. It is also appearing in some fast food outlets and restaurants when real dairy foods are served to the exclusion of their imitators. As shoppers become more selective, product manufacturers are finding ways to give them information on which to base their choices.

The United States, which is the fourth largest country in total land area, occupies 6.4 percent of the world's land area.

Dove season changes proposed

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials have proposed to move the boundary separating the Central and South Zones for the 1985-86 mourning dove hunting season.

The change, if adopted by the Parks and Wildlife Commission, would move the boundary currently situated along U.S. Highway 87 between San Antonio and Port Lavaca northward to Interstate Highway 10 from San Antonio to Orange. (See map)

Dove Program Leader Ron George said a TPWD study of almost 5,000 mourning dove wings collected by hunters, game wardens and biologist in a 12-county area of Southeast Texas during September 1984 indicated approximately 17 percent of the doves were objectionably small (less than 54 days of age) at the time of harvest.

"Previous studies indicate the percentage of small doves would be even higher if Southeast Texas had received normal rainfall during the 1984 nesting season," said George.

Moving the zone boundary northward would delay the opening of the dove season from September 1 to September 20 in the affected

Social Security News

The Social Security programs are characterized by a combination of stability and flexibility. Franklin H. Upp, Social Security manager in San Angelo, said recently.

"Since the Social Security Act became law on August 14, 1935, its basic principals have remained unchanged," Upp said. "However, the law has been amended on several occasions to meet society's changing needs. The ability to adapt as the times require is the best guarantee the Social Security will be as relevant to the decade of the 1980's and beyond as it was to the postwar years of the 1940's and every decade since."

In terms of history, 50 years is a relatively brief period of time, Upp said. But, the past half century has seen Social Security established as the cash benefits program in which virtually all Americans have a stake.

The San Angelo Social Security Office is located at 2214 Sherwood Way, and the telephone number is 949-4608.

by Jerry Raun

area, and it should result in fewer small doves in the hunters' bag and minimize direct conflict between hunting and late-nesting mourning doves, George added.

The department staff is continuing to evaluate the effect of freezing weather during December 1983 and January 1985 on white-wing nesting habitat in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. George said citrus orchards, which provide nesting cover for about 50 percent of the whitewings in the Valley, were severely damaged during the 1983 freeze and moderately damaged in 1985.

"Native brush, which normally supports the remainder of the nesting whitewings, appears to be in excellent condition this spring," George said. "However, white-wing surveys scheduled for May and June may indicate the need for a restricted whitewing hunting season in the Lower Rio Grande Valley because of poor reproductive success." He said the restriction, if required, could be in the form of a shortened season or smaller bag limits.

No significant changes in season dates or bag limits are being proposed for doves, rails, gallinules or teal ducks in 1985-86. The following are proposed seasons, zones and bag limits:

Mourning doves: North Zone, Sept. 1-Nov. 9, Central Zone, Sept. 1-Oct. 30 and Jan. 4-13; South Zone, Sept. 20-Nov. 12 or Nov. 8 and Jan. 4-19. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset in all zones, and the bag limit and possession limit is 12 mourning, white-winged and white-tipped doves in the aggregate including no more than two white-winged, and white-tipped doves including no more than four white-winged and four white-tipped doves in possession.

The white-winged dove season in the Special White-Winged Dove area is proposed for Sept. 7-8 and 14-15. Shooting hours would be noon to sunset; bag limit would be 10 white-winged, mourning, and white-tipped doves in the aggregate including no more than two mourning doves and two white-tipped doves per day; 20 white-winged, mourning, and white-tipped doves in the aggregate, including no more than four mourning doves and four white-tipped doves in possession. One fully-feathered wing will be required on all dressed doves at all times in the South Zone and the Special White-winged Dove Area.

Seasons and bag limits proposed for other species are:

Rails, Sept. 1-Nov. 9 shooting hours one-half hour before sunrise to sunset; bag and possession limits are 15 and 30 respectively for large rails, 25 and 25 for small rails.

Gallinules, Sept. 1-Nov. 9, bag and possession limit 15 and 30, respectively; shooting hours one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

K-Mart promotes "The Lost Child Program"

Every day, children disappear across the United States. Whether they're abducted by an unknown person or kidnapped by a parent, whether they run away or are taken for pornography or prostitution, more than 200,000 will be officially reported missing this year and every year.

K mart Corporation and its five photofinishers have joined in a nationwide drive to make Americans aware of the tragedy of missing children. The Lost Child Program, which began operation on May 1 will distribute in every U.S. K mart store photographs of missing children as well as safety tips for parents and children. The information will be available in store displays to all K mart customers, with no purchase required. Each photo processing order will also include the material.

"Most important," said Samuel G. Leftwich, K mart vice chairman, "the Lost Child Program will serve as an education resource, with an objective of building a general awareness of child safety and ultimately lessening the number of future disappearances."

Leftwich indicated that K mart Corporation has the national reach to make a major impact. "Through its 2,000-plus stores nationwide, K mart processes more than 43 million photographic orders each year," he added.

Along with the family photo order will come a flyer with pictures and descriptions of four missing children. The flyer also includes safety tips for children and parents and the toll-free telephone number for Missing and Exploited Children (1-800-843-5678).

Guardian Photo, a subsidiary of Guardian Industries Corp., will work with K mart's other photofinishers across the country-American Photo, Colorcraft, Bicknell and Phototron-to prepare the flyers for distribution every 30 days. Each photoprocessor will insert the flyers with all K mart photo processing orders.

But the program goes further than flyer distribution. The major thrust of the Lost Child Program is to increase national awareness of the tragedy and terror of missing children.

"K mart stores will serve as a community resource-offering information through speakers and other materials," Leftwich said. "K mart will work with the National Center in the dissemination of information and the identification and recovery of children, regardless of the circumstances of their disappearance."

MORE ACTION COMING
About one million children voluntarily leave their homes each year. National Center for Missing and Exploited Children spokesperson Barbara Chapman explaining that this is an endangered group of children who often are victims of street crimes or exploitation. "Approximately 11 percent of these children end up as victims of criminal or sexual exploitation," she said.

Thousands of children are estimated to be victims of kidnapping by noncustodial parents each year. There are no standard methods of recordkeeping, and laws governing parental stealing are unclear, so the real impact of the problem is hard to gauge. However, the child is still in great danger of criminal or sexual exploitation.

The remainder of missing children are abducted by unknown persons. Chapman said estimates of children in this category vary greatly-up to 20,000 and more annually. Difficulties in establishing statistics, inconsistent investigative procedures, a myriad of search groups compiling information and sporadic efforts at increased public awareness all compound the problem on a nationwide scale.

Changes have been slow in coming, but the tide may be turning. Chapman said the 1984 Missing Children's Assistance Act led to creation of the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children as well as a President's Advisory Commission to study the problem. National Center Executive Director Jay Howell authored the act.

On a more local basis, parents, teachers, professionals and law enforcement officials are joining to present a united defense of their children. In addition to K mart's community awareness program, other private businesses-dairies, soft drink bottlers, advertising distributors, even utilities-have initiated regional programs to feature the photographs of missing children with their products.

"Even more importantly, parents should take an active role in the education of their children," Chapman said. "By explaining what their children should do if separated from their parents, making sure they know their address and phone number and other protective actions resolution of the problem will have begun.

"If through our efforts one child is returned, we'd be overjoyed," said Leftwich. "But our real objective is to educate parents and children about safety and to work toward a time when a program like this won't be necessary."

Exchange students prefer Lone Star State

Two of the Foreign Exchange Students coming to the U.S. next year who hope to be placed in Texas are 17 year old Juan Mejia of Columbia and 18 year old Jumi Nagashima from Japan.

Juan is a senior. His hobbies include playing soccer, raquetball and working with handicapped people. He also plays organ and flute.

Yumi is an "A" average senior who likes swimming, skiing, badminton, golf and table tennis. She plays the piano.

Both students have English and will come next September for the school year, returning in June, 1986.

Teachers to have duty free lunch

Becky Brooks, president of the 96,000 member Texas State Teachers Association called May 29 an historic day for Texas teachers as Governor Mark White signed into law a bill providing them with duty-free lunch.

"Now teachers will have the same rights as most other working people—the right to eat lunch away from their desks and children," Brooks said.

TSTA first started lobbying for the measure in 1971 and has authored similar legislation during the past seven sessions of the legislature.

Brooks said over half of the 1,100 school districts in Texas require teachers to perform duties during their lunch period. The new law will require districts to provide a 30-minute free period to every teacher at least four days per week.

Donna New, an Austin elementary teacher, said she welcomes the new law, stating that it will be beneficial for students, as well as for teachers.

"That 30-minute break away from the kids will allow teachers to be more refreshed for teaching the afternoon classes," she said. "It will also be good for the kids to get a break away from their teachers."

James Harris, a special education teacher in Lubbock middle school, also praised the bill.

"It means one more step toward being treated as true professionals and it will give teachers the stimulus of adult company during lunch," Harris said.

The measure will go into effect during the 1985-86 school year.

On the average, each person in the US uses about 70 gallons of water a day in his home.

PUC report announced

A Public Utility Commission examiner's report recommends that the Lower Colorado River Authority receive less than the $35.1 million increase in electric rates requested, but also supports several issues in the LCRA rate case.

"I guess you might say that LCRA is both sad and glad," said John D. Heaton, LCRA executive director of finance and administration, of the recommendations in PUC examiner Henry Card's report issued May 20.

"We are pleased that the PUC examiner supports many of the items suggested by LCRA, including the financial policy that formed the basis of our rate request," Heaton said.

"At the same time, we are very disappointed that the report took a very short-term view of LCRA's long-term revenue needs."

The PUC examiner recommended only $12.1 million of LCRA's $35.1 million base-rate request and that revenues from LCRA's fixed fuel factor be reduced by $35.5 million. The net result would be a $21.4 million decrease in LCRA rate revenues--7.83 percent than what it currently receives.

Final decision is up to the 3 PUC commissioners, who will consider the examiner's recommendations as they enter a final order scheduled for June 5.

Heaton noted that Card's report recommended approval of several issues advanced by LCRA during the proceedings:

"The report acknowledges the importance of LCRA's financial policy. (That policy calls for LCRA to maintain at least 20 percent equity in its system which will require that it fund approximately 20 percent of its construction program--for the Fayette 3 generating unit and other projects--through electric rates.)

"LCRA should be allowed to recover $987,513 in environmental operations expenses through electric rates to accomplish the purposes for which it was created by the Texas Legislature.

"Rates in LCRA's 3 retail--San Marcos, Kerrville and San Saba--should be adjusted to make rates in those cities comparable to the rest of LCRA's 41-county service area. Retail electric sales make up about 15 percent of LCRA's electric service load and would be adjusted by 1.5 times the system average rate increase.

"LCRA's quality of service and management is adequate and LCRA operates its system efficiently. "That is favorable statement, coming from PUC," Heaton said.

"LCRA is working toward the promotion of energy conservation.

The recommended fuel decreases come from recent contracts LCRA has negotiated for lower-cost coal, natural gas and rail transportation. "We worked hard to negotiate these contracts to ensure that our customers not pay more for fuel than was absolutely necessary," Heaton said.

Card recommended a $14.3 million decrease in LCRA's base-rate request for revenues for system improvements. "This is of major concern to us," Heaton said, "because in order to maintain our financial policy of 20 percent equity, we wanted to keep the increments of rate increases fairly even to avoid drastic and disruptive increases down the road. The majority of our wholesale customers agreed with this approach, and, consistent with our financial policy, we included those costs.

"The PUC examiner took a different view, saying that LCRA's financial integrity should be looked at one year at a time, or over the time period when LCRA will need to file for another rate increase." rice millers' convention in San Francisco.

"Since LCRA provides irrigation to rice farmers in South Texas," Card wrote, "the examiner considers this (the rice millers' convention trip) to be a legitimate LCRA expense. It is not an expense associated with LCRA's electric operations, however." Card recommended that it be excluded from LCRA's electric rates.

San Angelo seminar set

A Seminar, "Focus On Alzheimer's Disease", is being held June 11 at Angelo State University, San Angelo. Topics to be addressed are the clinical aspects of the disease, the special skills needed to care for the victims and the problems faced by the families of the Alzheimer's patient.

Lecturers will be J. Thomas Hutton, M.D. Ph.D., Associate Professor, Department of Medical and Surgical Neurology, Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, Lubbock, who will open the seminar with a presentation on the clinical aspects of Alzheimer's Disease.

Irene Mortenson Burnside, R.N., M.S., is a member of the Gerontological Society of America and a fellow in the American Academy of Nurses. She is an Assistant Professor at San Jose State, San Jose, California. She is the author of a number of professional texts and articles in the nursing field. She has given workshops in 33 states on psychosocial care of the elderly with Alzheimer's Disease.

Samuel Brinkman, Ph.D. is with the Neuropsychology Clinic in Abilene and has served as Co-director of Geriatrics at La Fayette Clinic in Detroit and chaired a Medical and Scientific Advisory Board for the Detroit Chapter of the National Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Association.
