Shurley announces for State Representative seat

Contributed photo
MARK SHURLEY

Sonora rancher and attorney Mark Friend Shurley, 37, has announced his candidacy in the March 8th Republican primary for the Texas House of Representatives, 67th District. The office is currently held by Gerald Geistweidt, who has announced that he will not seek reelection.

After attending Sonora Public Schools, Shurley graduated with Highest Honors from Texas A&M University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Economics. He then received a Doctor of Jurisprudence degree from Texas Tech University School of Law.

Shurley's family, after first coming to Mason and Kimble Counties shortly after the Civil War, settled in 1898 on various ranches in Sutton, Edwards, and Crockett Counties. The Shurleys are active in the ranching industry and make their home on the family ranch near Sonora. They are members of the Baptist Church.

Shurley and his wife, Kathy, have a son and daughter-in-law, Drake and Rhonda, who also live in Sonora. Kathy has a Bachelor of Science degree from Texas Tech University and is the Chief Juvenile Probation Officer for both Sutton and Crockett Counties.

A member of the State Bar of Texas, Shurley practices law in Sonora. He is one of the founding Directors of the Sutton County Underground Water Conservation District; a member of Phi Delta Phi, an international legal fraternity; a member of Lions International; and a Director of Sutton County National Bank.

Good hunting . . .

Hunters to Sutton County, as these pictured with their kill this past Sunday, seem to be finding very good hunting this year.

Royce Miers, of the Branding Iron Smokehouse reports the deer to be in excellent shape. "We haven't seen too many horns yet but they make up for that in condition. So far most everything we've had brought in has been bucks, very few does."

Miers says he had one whitetail brought in Monday that field dressed at 110 pounds. News photo/Ann Cates.

Band Boosters appear at Board meeting

The Board of Trustees of the Sonora Independent School District met in regular session at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, November 10, 1987.

The Boosters had made a request last spring for new band uniforms, stipulating that their organization would contribute all possible financial assistance if the Board would agree to finance most of the cost. At that time, the Boosters were asked to return with a firm offer.

James Blackman, co-president of the Band Boosters, informed the Board that $5,000 had been set aside as the Booster's donation to the cost of new uniforms. Band Director Bryant Harris then said that the estimated cost would be approximately $225 to $250 per uniform and that 150 were needed. He then displayed several illustrations of proposed styles.

Board President Shurley expressed the Board's thanks for the well-prepared presentation, adding that due to the cloudy financial picture, it was not possible for the district to commit itself at this time for a purchase which would amount to at least $30,000. It was suggested that the Boosters return to the Board in January for a definite answer to their request. By that time, the Board should have a fairly accurate estimation of the district valuation as of January 1, 1988, for budgetary planning for the 1988-89 fiscal year. As President Shurley pointed out, if the valuation drops substantially, the district's budget for next year will be tighter than ever.

Mr. Blackman thanked the Board for its time and consideration and agreed that the matter would be reconsidered early in 1988. This would allow the necessary time for delivery of the new uniforms, if approved, by the beginning of the school year.

After several questions by Board members were satisfactorily answered, current bills in the amount of $193,745.74 were unanimously approved for payment on motion of Sam Perez and a second by Joe Garcia.

House gives program to Sonora Kinder

Officer Mike House of the Sonora Police Department recently gave a program to each of the kindergarten classes in the Sonora school system pertaining to things all children should know.

House gave each student literature regarding the subjects covered in the program. Included was a coloring book, compliments of Chief of Police Brent Gesch and the Sonora Police Department, entitled Crack Down On Drugs. The book included different situations a child could encounter with the proper response to each.

Another booklet, How to tell the Good Guys from the Bad Guys, was prepared by the National Child Safety Council. The booklet explains to children that most of the people they will meet are "Good Guys" and then goes on to explain how to recognize the "Bad Guys" and what to do should they encounter one.

House impressed on the children the importance of remembering all that they could about any "Bad Guy" who approached them and reporting the incident to either parents or the police. Using his own mustache as an example, House explained that could be a feature that could help identify the "Bad Guy."

The material was presented so well that when Wanda Nixon's class prepared their thank you letter to Officer House, one child drew a picture of a man with a "stash" leaving little doubt, that after almost two weeks, the child remembered what she had been taught.

The children learned valuable information which they will retain in reserve for any time it is needed. They also learned the policemen are "Good Guys" and are anxious to have Officer House speak to them again.

This was some of the printed material presented to children in Kindergarten during Officer House's program.

Class of '88 works toward dream

The Class of '88 will be taking orders for baked goods through Monday, November 23 for a Bake Sale they are having on November 24 and 25 in front of Food Center. Orders may be called into Gwen Roberts at 387-5336 or Mitzi Matthews at 387-2795.

This is but one of the projects the Class of '88 is involved with the raise funds for a trip to be taken by the participating seniors after graduation. The fund raising and the trip are in no way affiliated with the Sonora school system but instead organized by a group of Senior parents. These parents, aware of the teenage drinking problem, wanted to reward the students for staying out of trouble and to also keep the students constructively busy.

At the beginning of the school year, each Senior was asked to participate in the project. If they choose to be a part of the program the first step was for the student and their parents to sign a contract. This contract is designed to inhibit the use of drugs or alcohol. In addition, each student had to agree to work on each project for points or dollar amounts. A student failing to participate in a given project is fined $25.

The idea for the project is one that has been in use successfully within other areas including Sterling City and Rocksprings. Parents interested in beginning such a project in surrounding towns have contacted the sponsors for specifics on "how-to's".

The Class of '88 participates in one projects each weekend some of which have included raking leaves, washing windows, car washes, bake sales and making tamales and are currently working on a raffle.

The students goal is to raise enough money for a five day, six night trip to Jamaica however, the destination is subject to change dependent on the amount of funds available at the time of the trip. Parents of students and other interested individuals will chaperone with a ratio of one chaperone per five students.

These students are learning that if you are willing to work and you "keep your nose clean", no dream is impossible.

New tax projections foreseen

DEAR COMMISSIONER NABERS: I heard you speak at a convention recently in Dallas. You said that the Texas Unemployment tax ranged from .44-8.44 percent. Will this rate hold for next year?

I'm trying to plan my 1988 budget. S.T. Dallas, Texas

DEAR S.T.: I'm glad you asked! I am trying hard to get the word out to all Texas Employers that TAXES ARE GOING UP! We will not know for sure what the 1988 minimum and maximum tax rates will be until the end of November but current estimates indicate the minimum will be around 12.3% and the maximum will be around 8.59%. Also keep in mind that in 1988, you will be paying taxes on the first $8,000 of an employee's earnings rather than the first $7,000. Beginning in 1989 you must pay taxes on the first $9,000 of an employee's earnings. I know this is not good news--but I feel it is important that Texas employers know what to expect!

DEAR COMMISSIONER: I have been in business for 15 years and have never had an unemployment claim filed against me until now. I had to lay off an employee because business is slow. Will all the taxes I've been paying all these years cover this claim? B.J. Bryan, Texas

DEAR B.J.: No, not in the way you mean. Your past taxes have already been spent in the form of unemployment benefits to unemployed Texas workers. If and when you pay benefits to your employee, your account will be

by T. Driskell

Watching international economics has a lighter side. Everyone is addicted to something. The Japanese have an addiction to the American dollar which represents thirty-eight percent of their export market. The American YUPPIES seem to have an addiction to cocaine and imported automobiles, gourmet foods. The world markets seem addicted to the U.S. trade balance figures and a purely symbolical slicing thirty plus billion off the 1988 budget (the deficit is 140 or 180 billion). This has an awesome implication--they are not dealing in reality, but making a controlled bet on how long America will continue deluding itself.

The Trade balance figures we cite are suspect in that they show our major exports are agricultural products and scrap metal. Scrap metal is fairly straight forward. Agricultural products are a real nest of worms. We export them at a certain price. What has their cost been to us? Do we figure in all the agricultural loans, all the disaster relief loans made at 3 to 4 percent (money which was borrowed at 6 to 8%). All price support costs. One gets an intuitive feeling that our agricultural products are exported at a net loss and represent a negative value on the balance of trade (the selling price minus the cost of production.) Operating in Washington D.C. arithmetic is far from an exact science.

We can only hope that we can overcome our addictions before Japan does. Her addiction is a pretty stiff one the dollar is worth one-half the number of yen it was twelve years ago and her investment in U.S. bonds has lost her about one-fourth. What is 38% percent of her export market worth to her?

Our job is comparatively simple. We must start living with our means and overcome our addictions.

To the Editor:
Last Saturday, November 14th, I accompanied 51 Junior and Senior High Youth to a Math and Science Meet held at Central High School in San Angelo. Our Sonora youth were great! They were on time, very conscientious, courteous, and above all, supportive and proud of each other. Not one of them ever caused the two teachers or myself a moment of concern. Giving up a Saturday to participate in strenuous academic pursuits does each of them credit. A Proud Bronco Parent, Virginia Kepler

by Diana Trainer

We are very excited here at the Chamber of Commerce, about the project we are about to undertake. We are going to install a Fundsearch Center which will be available to anyone and everyone in the community. The purpose of the Center will be to make available, all the foundation and corporations names and the necessary data needed to apply for grants and scholarships. All clubs, service organizations, hospital, churches, school and individuals can benefit from these sources of information.

Mr. Jon Guthrie of the Guthrie Institute in Austin, will be conducting several community workshops and will provide instruction on how to apply for these different grants and how the center is to be used. We will advise the community the exact dates of the workshops.

We certainly appreciate all the Chamber members who put up their Welcome Hunters signs. I understand that some of them faded a lot, but hopefully, we can replace those next year. I hope that everyone has been busy with deer hunters since the season opened. Billy Burch came by to tell me that Country Fried Chicken and Fish has started serving breakfast at 7 a.m. daily.

The Chamber of Commerce mixer and get acquainted party for Pete and Irene Gildon was a great success. We had about 80 people in attendance and really had a nice time. Hopefully, we can have another mixer in the near future.

We want to welcome two new members to the Chamber. They are O'Bryans Fashions and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Landers (He's the new postmaster.) We appreciate the support and welcome all new members.

Remember, the Chamber of Commerce is a voluntary organization. It unites business and professional leaders and firms, thus creating a central agency which lends itself to improving business and a central agency which lends itself to improving business and building a better community. The Chamber is people. There is a place in the Chamber for all who share the desire to improve the community and the conditions under which business is conducted. It directs the energies of those who believe that a community worth living in is a community worth improving. We need your support.

...IN SONORA

by Jonnie Hodges

I want to share with my readers the ups and downs of life as I see it.

As I grow older I have had a lot of lost items disturbing my life. I can't remember having the losses in my younger days.

How can keys just disappear? I know I put them right on the table as I came in, but when and if, I find them they are on the walkway to the stairs—could the dog have moved them? I'll bet that could be so, he's very clever you know.

Have you gone out to dinner and when it's time to pay there are no checks in your checkbook, or did you think you made a bank deposit and can't find the receipt?

Maybe this doesn't happen to you. Be glad you are all still here.

I know that I'm not alone, there are more of you out there who don't want to admit it, so here's a little something to help you through the day:

Prescription for Laughter
*Just a line to say I'm living
And not among the dead,
Though I'm getting more forgetful
And more mixed up in the head.*

*Sometimes I can't remember
When I stand at the foot of the stairs,
If I must go up for something
Or just came down from there.*

*And before the frig so often
My poor mind is filled with doubt,
Have I put some food away
Or have I come to take some out?*

*Sometimes when it's dark outside
With my nightcap on my head,
I don't know if I'm retiring
Or just getting out of bed.*

*So if it's my turn to write you
There's no need in getting sore,
I may think that I have written
And not want to be a bore.*

*So remember that I love you
And wish that you were here,
Now it's nearly mail time
So must say "Goodbye" my dear.*

*There I stood before the mailbox
With my face so very red,
Instead of mailing you my letter
I opened it instead.*

Life Care Communities

You may have heard of "life care communities" built and funded by elderly people who want the convenience and security of a well run condominium. You may also have heard that some of these communities have gone bankrupt, leaving their clients with shattered dreams and empty pocketbooks.

If you are considering a life care community, check out the sponsor or developer. An organization's claim of church sponsorship, for example, or the word "Christian" in its name guarantees neither church affiliation nor management expertise.

Make sure you have a thorough understanding of the fee structure. Be suspicious of one time only payment plans, or guaranteed fixed monthly fees. It would be wise to get the community's audited financial statement and have your own lawyer or accountant examine it and do further investigations.

Methodist Church hosts College night for SHS students in basement

First United Methodist Church sponsored a College Night several weeks ago for high school students and their parents to inform them about how to go about selecting a college.

Speakers from out of town presented the program which included Dr. Joe Elmore, President of the Texas Methodist College Association, Sharla Adams and Jimmy Parker from the staff of Angelo State University, and Clalene Stewart, a senior at ASU and a graduate from Sonora High School.

Sharla Adams spoke on how to select a college and what a college looks for in a student. How to pay for college was covered by Jimmy Parker. Joe Elmore talked on a Liberal Arts Education and private colleges. Clalene Stewart addressed "What I wish I'd learned in high school."

A question and answer period was held when the speakers concluded their portion of the program.

The Great American Smokeout is sponsored by the American Cancer Society each year on the third Thursday in November. It is a light-hearted event to encourage smokers to try quitting for 24 hours.

According to a Gallup survey, 23.7 million American smokers quit or cut down during last year's Great American Smokeout.

"The band's example will help us reach young Texas smokers who may not have considered quitting for health reasons," Frankhouser said. "We know smokers will relate to other smokers who are trying to quit...the whole purpose of the Smokeout is to give smokers an opportunity to try quitting in an atmosphere of support and good will," he said.

The Fabulous Thunderbirds will be featured in a 30-second television public service announcement for the Smokeout to be distributed statewide. In the spot, the T-Birds encourage others to join them in the Great American Smokeout by saying "...we think you're tough enough to quit, too."

For more information on the Great American Smokeout, contact your local American Cancer Society office.

The Sutton County Unit will have a table with material on smoking at the post office Thursday morning November 19.

A FEW QUIT TIPS

Hide all ashtrays, matches, etc. Lay in a supply of sugarless gum, carrot sticks, etc. Drink lots of liquids, but pass up coffee & alcohol. Tell everyone you're quitting for the day. When the urge to smoke hits, take a deep breath, hold it for 10 seconds, & release it slowly. Exercise to relieve the tension. Try the "buddy system," and ask a friend to quit too.

More bad news about smokers

Cigarettes low in tar and nicotine, often touted as being safer to smoke than regular cigarettes, may be just as hazardous to cardiac health as high-yield cigarettes, according to a recent study by Stanford Medical Center researchers.

In their study, published in the American Journal of Public Health, the researchers question federal testing methods that use machines to rate the health risks of various cigarette brands.

"People smoke cigarettes differently than machines," says Dr. David J. Maron, director of the Preventive Medicine Clinic in

Chief Appraiser Rex Ann Friess presented a report on tax collections, commenting that the rate stood at four per cent, the same as last year.

Superintendent James Bible commented briefly on Board training sessions scheduled by Education Service Center Region XV, on the new drug detection contract, and on the current fund drive by certain seniors to finance a post-graduation trip. He concluded his remarks with the observation that it was not clear to the general public that this trip was not connected with the school district in any way, and was asked to contact the parents who were acting as sponsors to clarify the matter.

Principals reported current campus enrollment as follows: Primary 311, Intermediate 251, Junior High 251, High School 324, for a district total of 1,137.

Bids for a 19-passenger diesel route bus were considered by the Board. After a brief discussion, the Board expressed its intention to accept the bid from Bridges-Hemphill for a BlueBird for the quoted amount of $22,601.

Bids for a 9-passenger general use vehicle were then considered at length.

The Board discussed the merits of the several vehicles and decided by consensus that the 9-passenger Suburban with a gasoline engine would provide the best all round service. Since the difference in bids was minimal, they expressed the desire to award the bid to a local business rather than one outside the district.

On motion of Rosemary Mathews with a second by Joe Garcia, the 19-passenger bus bid was unanimously awarded to Bridges-Hemphill for $22,601, and the 9-passenger bid was awarded to Chaparral Motors of Sonora for $15,257.44 or a grand total for both vehicles of $37,858.44.

On motion of Sam Perez with a second by Julio Samaniego, a resolution was unanimously adopted which cast the district's votes for three nominees for the Sutton County Tax Appraisal District's Board of Directors for two year terms to begin on January 1, 1988. The votes were cast as follows: Alvis Johnson, Jr.-1,163, Joe David Ross-1,163 and Albert C. Ward-1,163; for a total of 3,489.

The third annual performance report of the 1986-87 school year was unanimously approved for distribution on motion of Julio Samaniego and a second by Joe Garcia. The motion carried unanimously, and was followed by comments from the superintendent and the assistant. Mr. Bible thanked staff members for their work in compiling the report, and said that the test scores indicated that improvement in writing skills was needed. Assistant Superintendent Mario Sotelo reported that tests to determine if the curriculum adjustments made to improve skills in this essential area were effective.

On motion of Sam Perez and a second by Gary Hardgrave, the December regular meeting was moved from 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, December 8, to 12 noon on Tuesday, December 15, 1987.

There were no comments from members of the Board at this point on the agenda.

President Shurley thanked the audience for its attention and announced that the Board was going into executive session to discuss personnel matters, and that no action would be taken while in closed session.

The Board reconvened in open session with no motion needed. There being no further business to bring before the Board, the meeting unanimously adjourned at 9:27 p.m. on motion of Sam Perez and a second by Gary Hardgrave.

Stanford's department of medicine.

The researchers, who studied the smoking habits of more than 700 California residents, believe that machine tests used by the Federal Trade Commission are misleading because they do not take into account that low-tar and low-nicotine consumers tend to smoke more cigarettes per day, says Maron.

In addition, he says, smokers using low-yield cigarettes often inhale more frequently and more deeply, smoke to a shorter butt length and block the ventilation holes intended to dilute the inhaled smoke with air.

The bottom line, says Dr. Maron, is low-yield smokers get the same amount of the harmful components of tobacco as those who smoke brands with higher tar and nicotine.

The researchers cite some marginal advantages of low tar, low-nicotine brands, including the possibility of lowering the rate of certain cancers such as lung, throat and mouth cancers. But Dr. Maron emphasizes that no risk reduction has been shown for coronary heart disease, the No. 1 smoking-related killer.

Students researching Sutton County History

The students in the Gifted/Talented Program are currently researching Sutton County History. The students are creating a timeline of historical events as a scrapbook on the events and development of Sutton County. Fieldtrips to Ft. McKavett and the Ozona Museum have been helpful in understanding the inhabitants of this area from as early as 10,000 B.C.

After a foundation of Sutton County History has been established, the students will interview residents who have "Stories To Tell" about early Sonora.

Eventually, the students will work with the Sutton County Historical Society to develop a "Heritage Park". The Heritage Park will encompass the Train Depot, Miers Home Museum, and the Old Jail. The park will be funded by grants applied for by the student through the "Friends Of The Chamber Research Funding Library." The first steps in renovating the Depot have been taken.

William Osburn, Attorney with the Texas Railroad Commission, has spoken with members of the Historical Society about specifics involved in renovating the depot. His wife, an Architect, has consented to donate her time and talents to create a storyboard (drawing) of the proposed Heritage Park.

First, an entrance and/or parking area must be designated.

Once these foundations have been established, the students will assist the Historical Society in recreating the Miers Home Museum as an Early Settler's Home.

The students will continue their research on guidelines for establishing exhibits for small museums. As a result of this research, the students will create historical and county related exhibits to be housed in the Old Jail and Depot.

Establishing rituals and traditions in young families

One of the ways in which a family unit becomes strong is by the cultivating of family rituals or traditions. A ritual is any repeated, shared Rituals have been described as "family keepsakes that live in your heart."

In many families, rituals develop or arise with the coming of children. Rituals are important not so much for what is said or done but the results they yield, the sense of "we-ness" that grows out of a shared experience and the feeling of rightness that comes from repetition.

Rituals differ from family to family. Commonly, rituals are thought of only around holidays or special days. However, rituals need not be limited to these occasions. Families that have strong ties have more frequent rituals--for example, a special meal on Sundays. These times are often described as "the way our family is."

Some people feel that today's busy life styles work against family rituals. But strong families maintain their rituals to provide the sense of continuity, understanding and love that strengthens family closeness. Set aside some time when the family is together and make a list of your rituals. Ask "what do we do that has special meaning to us?" "What do we do over and over again that makes each of us feel good?" "What do we do that is a special memory of our family?" How did the ritual start? Why is it important to the family?

Once the family is aware of the importance of rituals, it is easier to begin a new one or even consciously improve or continue an existing one.

Observing rituals can provide wonderful opportunities to build a rich family heritage.

SWTEC receives certificate of excellence from safety program

Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative, Inc., is the recipient of a Gold Seal Certificate of Excellence from the Safety Accreditation Program sponsored by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA), it was announced by A.T. "Sonny" Turner, General Manager.

NRECA is the Washington, D.C.-based service organization which represents 1,000 rural electric systems serving 25 million consumer-members in 46 states.

"In order to qualify for the accreditation program, a rural electric system must undergo a safety audit conducted by several outside observers who use a checklist of 160 items that have bearing on accident prevention and job performance" Manager Turner said. The results of the audit are submitted to the seven-member National Safety Accreditation Committee which meets twice a year to review approximately 150 applications.

Since the inception of the safety program in 1967, 349 rural electric systems throughout the nation have received accreditation. Manager Turner explained that the program was started to establish effective self-policing of safety activities by rural electric systems, to set standards for reducing disabling injuries, to encourage on-the-job system training programs, and to provide national recognition for all rural electric systems which achieve these goals.

News from Sonora High School

by Heather Bunkley

This past weekend was a good one for Sonora High School students competing in UIL speech, math and science contests. The speech and debate teams went to San Antonio for one of their largest tournaments of the year. "We were very pleased to be competitive much less win," claimed Terry Marrs, debate and drama coach. We are very proud of Christi Spain who placed first in poetry.

San Angelo was another site for superior accomplishments by Sonora students. About 525 students from 25 different high schools competed for math and science trophies. Those placing from Sonora were as follows: Juniors-Cynthia Kepler-1st place in number sense, calculator and mathematic and Wheelless Baker-2nd place in science; Sophomores-Tracy Love-2nd place in mathematics and 3rd place in science and Sammy Sentena-2nd place in science; Freshmen-Catherine Kepler-2nd place in science and Karla Owings-3rd place in science.

There were also many junior high students from Sonora who competed and did well in San Angelo. Congratulations to all of you who represented Sonora! Sonora took the Science Award in Division II with 469 points.

The date for the Junior-Senior Prom has been set and the band has been selected. It will be a buffet and dance on April 23, 1988 with music by Los Lejanos.

The basketball teams played their first games of the season this past week, and it looks as though it is going to be a very good season. Everybody get out and support them!

This coming Saturday Shellie Lykins and Cleve Jones will be performing in the All-District Choir Concert in Stephenville. While in Stephenville, they will receive their District patches. Congratulations to Shellie and Cleve for a job well done. We are proud of you. Thanksgiving turkeys to be more economical this year

Thanksgiving dinner may be one of the most economical you eat this year--especially if you have a family tradition of serving a whole bird and making side dishes from scratch.

"Most supermarkets use turkey to attract holiday shoppers, so retail prices don't necessarily reflect wholesale prices," says Dr. Dave Mellor, a poultry marketing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service (TAEX).

He says unbasted, store brand turkey could be as low as 60 cents a pound, while basted, national brand turkey will be in the $90-1.00 per pound range.

A whole bird is the traditional favorite and less expensive than further processed turkey parts or roasts. For example, cooked drumsticks are running about $1.80 per pound, pre-basted breast about $1.40 per pound, and boneless smoked turkey about $4.58 per pound.

"More people are ordering fresh turkeys from supermarkets or meat markets, although they will be somewhat more expensive," says the specialist.

"There may also be little difference in quality, Mellor concedes. "Turkeys that are frozen immediately and held for sale months later could be fresher than turkeys that are refrigerated for up to two weeks before sale."

TAEX nutrition specialist Marilyn Haggard adds that the ultimate in convenience--the stuffed, cooked whole turkey from a deli or restaurant will top the list in cost.

"Some consumers want to trade the expense of a prepared bird for the extra time they can spend with the family, attending a football game, or using their energies to make special side dishes and desserts," she remarks.

Preparing a Thanksgiving dinner from scratch is instructive, claims Haggard, since it underscores the amount of money that goes toward convenience.

"The basic ingredients of a Thanksgiving feast, like corn meal, bread, celery and onions for stuffing, cranberries, plain canned or frozen peas, white potatoes and yams are relatively inexpensive foods," she says. "But if you choose instant potatoes or stuffing mixes, prepared cranberry relish and frozen peas in a special sauce, that cost will go up by half or more."

Both Extension specialists agree that among other things, Americans can be thankful for the fact that our food prices are among the lowest and our food quality among the best in the world.

History of Sutton County

By John Eaton's request we have decided to begin a column devoted to the history of Sutton County and surrounding area. John has assured us that he will add tidbits to pique interest. We do know there is interest as several people have stopped by to discuss the naming of the Devil's River.

Wilma Friend loaned us a book titled Off the Beaten Trail to read of the naming of the river. The only problem with this is that the entire book is good and we haven't gotten back to the portion dealing with the Devil's River.

Off the Beaten Trail begins with the history of Texas some 135 million years ago and is loaded with short stories from around the state. It's one of those books, that after finishing a story you reflect on the area in the story and think "Wow, now it all makes sense."

TASS will be collecting data

Texas pioneers used to brag that "other states were carved or born, but Texas grew from hide and horn." The saying is fairly accurate, because in the minds and hearts of many--Texas is Cattle Country.

But what's been happening to Cattle Country lately? In fact, the entire picture of Texas agriculture has undergone some drastic changes over the past few years, and just where producers go from here is anybody's guess.

To help bring this picture into

Robbery suspect apprehended after chase; charges issued

The evening of November 14, City Police Officer Bill Ware was sent to the Twin Oakes Motel in reference to an aggravated robbery. Upon arrival, Officer Ware spoke

We certainly recommended this book for history buffs.

Question time--Did you know that our First National Bank, established in 1900, was the third such financial institution in Sonora?

Did you know that Sonora also had two additional papers in the early 1900's. John Eaton has a copy of each which Smith Neal recently laminated. John says that these once fragile papers can be stomped on, thrown around, whatever and they are indestructible. He also goes on to say Rah for Smith Neal and the school.

with Jaime Laing Herrera who told Ware that a hitch hiker had stolen his vehicle, a 1986 Ford Mustang, at gun point and had left going toward San Antonio. Herrera said that the suspect, who had told him his name was Kevin, was armed with a pistol. Herrera described Kevin as a Caucasian male, 19 to 20 years of age, approximately 6 feet tall, 150 pounds, shaggy blonde hair and clean shaven.

Shortly thereafter, dispatcher Abby Gesch received a call reporting a Mustang at I-10 Exxon driving erratically without headlights on. Officer Mike House, with Ware as backup, responded finding the car eastbound on I-10 at the Poplar Street bridge. As House approached the car, the headlights were not on and the car was jumping as if the driver could not drive a stick shift. The driver attempted to drive away but appeared to stall the car on the bridge. Matching the description given by Herrera, the driver, later identified as Randall Glenn Fontenot, was taken into custody. An initial search of car revealed a Crossman Airgun.

Herrera was brought into identify the vehicle and the suspect, then signed a complaint charging Fontenot with aggravated robbery.

WHITETAIL LORE

by Ray Bronk

Ask any Texas whitetail deer hunter how he judges a trophy animal, and he will probably say, "By the size of the antlers."

This judging method is not as simple as it sounds, when one rates whitetails on a continent-wide basis. Problems arose when attempts were made to devise a method for keeping records of trophy heads.

Many tests were tried, including measuring total displacement of the antlers in water, weighing the antlers, a system of measuring lengths and antler points, and others. Finally, in 1952, after many false starts, a system was developed that has stood the test of time up to the present, with only minor changes in methodology. This system is known as the Boone and Crockett Club Scoring System For Big Game Trophies.

The Boone and Crockett Club is the keeper of the record book which recognizes outstanding North American big game trophy records for 32 categories of native North American big game.

North American is defined here as the area which includes Alaska, Canada, Greenland, the United States, and all of Mexico.

Over the years, few changes were made to the whitetail deer record keeping system, other than raising the typical antler minimum entry score from 140 to 150, then to 160, and finally to the present entry score of 170. The non-typical minimum entry score was raised from 160 to 180, and then to the present score of 195.

The whitetail category accepts all 30 subspecies of whitetail deer found in North America. The category is labeled Odocoileus virginianus virginianus, and rates typical antlers (symmetrical racks with few or minor irregularities) and non-typical antlers (those racks having major irregularities) in separate categories.

The information described in this column comes from the definitive record book, Records of North American Big Game, 8th Edition, 1981, published by the Boone and Crockett Club of Alexandria, Virginia. More recent information may be available by the time this information is printed.

ENRON GAS PROCESSING COMPANY HAS MADE APPLICATION WITH THE TEXAS AIR CONTROL BOARD FOR CONTINUANCE OF PERMIT NO. R-118 FOR A NATURAL GAS PROCESSING PLANT NEAR SONORA, SUTTON COUNTY, TEXAS. whitetail was bagged by James Jordan in Wisconsin, in 1914. This giant rack, with a B & C score of 206 1/8, has a long and tangled history. After shooting this giant, James Jordan lost track of the rack after giving it to a part-time taxidermist for mounting.

Fifty years later, Jordan spotted the rack and recognized it as the one he had bagged many years previously. The owner asked to have Jordan's story investigated. An investigation pointed to the truth of Jordan's claim, and in December, 1978, the B & C Records Committee voted to list James Jordan as the hunter, with the kill date and location as 1914, on the Yellow River, near Danbury, Wisconsin. James Jordan, however had died in October, 1978, at the age of 86, never knowing of the Club's decision.

Texas has produced five of the top 25 typical B & C racks. They are the 9th, 10th, 11th, 14th, and 21st in the record book. Maverick county has the 9th, a 14 pointer bagged in 1963, with a score of 196 4/8, and Dimmit county boasts two; the 10th, a 15 pointer bagged in 1932, with a score of 194 7/8, and the 21st, a 13 pointer shot in 1950, having a score of 190. Kenedy county claims the 11th, a 12 pointer shot in 1973, with a score of 194 4/8. The 14th place trophy was bagged in Frio county in 1903, a 15 pointer having a score of 192 2/8.

For many years, since 1892, Texas boasted claim to the world record non-typical whitetail rack. It was a giant rack, bagged near Brady, Texas, by Jeff Benson.

It is presently displayed, and has been admired for many years by thousands of visitors, at its home at the Lone Star Brewery Hall of Horns, in San Antonio. This massive rack, bearing 49 points and a score of 286, was thought to be unbeatable. The surprising fact is that after 90 years a champion, it has been beaten twice.

The first rack was found on a dead buck discovered near St. Louis, Missouri, scored at 333 7/8. The second was rack called the "Hole In The Horn Buck," found dead along a railroad track in 1940, and discovered on display in a hunting club in Ohio. This Ohio buck, with 44 points and a score of 328 2/8, has a mysterious small calibre hole in one of its drop tines!

Texas has two other bucks in the top 25 non-typical record book. There is the 4th, picked up near Junction in 1925, scoring 272, with 39 points. The other is the 19th, with 30 points and a score of 247 7/8, bagged in 1966.

The comparing of whitetail antler racks continues, from the bragging on the size of a truly big rack on a Muy Grande buck bagged in the Brush Country, to the equally prized spike rack on the first deer bagged by the first-time hunter. There may be an official method for a true comparison, but a trophy is really whatever pleases the eye of the hunter. Most hunters would not want it any other way.
