Editors Note: The following was written by Jim Fish in 1983 and won Honorable Mention for Poets Lariat (1984), Silver Poet Award (1985) and Golden Poet Award (1986). The poem was also published in Our Worlds Best Loved Poems by the World of Poetry Press in 1985.

We Made Her a Day

We can write all the words that were written for her
In the songs that our hearts often tried to confer,
But the words never told in an accurate way,
How important our moms were to us everyday.

How her kiss healed a cut and her hugs ended cries
Or the shame that we felt when she caught us in lies,
How we yearn for the days of her loving and care
And the peace that we felt just to know she was there.

We matured in our needs and our bodies are grown;
Had to go into life, in a world, all alone;
But we grew in her love and as children remain
In the warmth of the thoughts that her heart will retain.

So we made her a day that again passes by;
Just a day in a year to remember and try
To repay with our thoughts for her loving and care,
And the peace that we feel just to know she was there.

With parents and students gearing up for summer and the end of school, faculty and administration at the high school are making plans for the 1988-89 school year.

Mr. Russell and Mrs. Fields will be preregistering students through their English classes according to the following schedule: May 9-June 9; May 10-Sophomores; May

This meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Library Conference Room of the High School. Mr. Russell stresses the importance of the accuracy of preregistration. LETTERS to the EDITOR

Dear Editor,
I just wanted to write and say how pleased I am that the U.I.L. academic and drama programs have come to the elementary and junior high schools here in Sonora. I have heard both positive and negative comments on the new program, and I would like to say that in my opinion, these programs are highly beneficial to both the students and the school system in general.

I have participated in the U.I.L. program since 5th grade and have found that it has not only helped me with my school work, but it has also given me the opportunity to work with groups of people that share a common interest with me. The students who enter the program at the elementary and junior high levels are more prepared for high school competition. The competition, however, is not the most important thing at the elementary and junior high levels, nor is it stressed. What is stressed is team cooperation, working together to better each other, and education. Once the high school level is reached, competition becomes a factor for most simply because the amount of money in scholarship that is being competed for. Many of you may not know it, but every year over $400,000 (and that figure is quickly rising!) is awarded in scholarship grants to students who reach the state level of competition. By starting now with the program, these students may have a better chance at receiving one or more of these scholarships.

I congratulate each and every one of the students who participated for their school in U.I.L. events. You may not realize it now, but what you're doing is "going the extra mile". Stay with your hard work and determination and "going the extra mile" may become a habit all through life! This should be your main incentive as well as the fun and rewards possible through the program. Good luck in your future in U.I.L.!

Sincerely,
Cynthia Kepler

Dear Editor,

Special people abound in this special city! A few weeks ago, Guila Vicars stopped me and mentioned the fact that some of the outdoor furniture for the nursing home was getting beyond the point of no return. But she did more than that. She asked me to buy new furniture and then to send her the bill! We now have two new benches at the end of the nursing home where residents and families enjoy sitting! Thank you Guila.

Then we had a barbeque just a few weeks ago. Joseph and Mabel VanderStucken donated the goat and we had it processed and cooked at the Branding Iron. It was excellent. All the residents of the nursing home, plus their families, plus any staff on duty in the hospital and nursing home, plus 5 hospital patients were fed that evening. Our special thanks to Joseph and Mabel.

But the story goes on. Ken Nelson was busy building some sturdy, very good looking picnic tables to be used this summer by the Dinner Theatre and had no place to store them prior to transport to the Caverns, so I suggested he put them in front of the nursing home, and we could use them for our barbeque. It worked out great. But I had so many compliments on the tables, and had so many staff people suggest that we needed a few of them out in front of the nursing home for the patients, families, and staff to use that I thought I'd press my luck...

So I'm looking for people who'd like to make a donation to the nursing home/hospital (tax deductible) to call me at the hospital 387-2521, so we can purchase at least two of the picnic tables for our future use.

Any takers??

Thanks, Sonora. You're a wonderful place to live and work.

Carriers in Texas to cover screening

Insurance carriers in Texas will be required to cover as a benefit annual mammograms for women 35 and older in policies issued or renewed on or after January 1, 1988.

Texas Governor William P. Clements in June signed into law the bill, SB 1371, which becomes effective September 1, 1987.

The law mandates that every health insurance policy written in Texas to cover women 35 or older must include coverage for an annual screening by low-dose mamography for the detection of occult breast cancer. Carriers, including Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans and health maintenance organizations, will have to reimburse for mammography screening within the provisions of the policy at levels which are not less favorable than for other radiological examinations and subject to the same dollar limits, deductibles and coinsurance.

Under a Maryland law that became effective July, 1986, insurance carriers that offer supplementary coverage to Medicare beneficiaries are required to include annual mammography screening as a covered benefit. Under that law, policies providing "wrap-around" coverage will pay a maximum of $100 for a beneficiary's annual screening by low-dose mammography.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

by T. Driskell

We are suffering from an epidemic that is apparently a hereditary genetic malady. Its symptoms are the virtual worship of some sort of divinity which resides in small plots. The afflicted pour immense offerings into those plots from their resources ignoring conditions in their surrounding environment. They manure the plots, employ expensive professional help; purchase a horde of chemicals, and endure a persisting water bill.

Our malady which besets us is, for lack of a better name, called "The White Cottage-Green Lawn Syndrome" and is misleading. The infected, during a West Texas drought, behave as if they should have special cages built to receive them on the nearest "funny-farm." This symptomatic display is not confined to West Texas but it increases in violence as you progress into more arid areas.

The syndrome is caused by most likely one of two fundamentals or both. First, it could come from that motley bag of lore which we, with dubious pride, choose to refer to as our heritage. On the other hand it could be a piecemeal orgy of apologetics for the process of desertification we are methodically carrying out on our environment as a whole.

The "heritage" cause, considering the nature of man is quite likely. We picked up the green grass idea from England's houses in a sea of grass with moderate to high humidity. New Englanders learned that white lead diverted from ships was an excellent preservative for pine cottages in varying humidity, hence the white cottages. The two were blended and the white cottage behind a green lawn became an ideal the pioneers brought westward. Here I sit (figuratively speaking) in a West Texas drought trying to raise an alien grass lawn on a slope that takes the grass, soil, fertilizer and provides an infusion of new weed's seeds with every tantalizing shower. North winds bring in airborne thistle seeds, a shift to east southeast bring dandelions seeds and seventeen others from indeterminate directions. My activities hardly demonstrate enough intelligence to be classified as insanity, but must be dismissed as stupidity.

Our desertification process is showing amazing progress on the Edward's Plateau. Using the only data base I have access to shows that in less than 125 years we have reduced hilltop topsoil from thirteen grassy inches to two and one-half to four inches predominately loose. A similar loss took much longer in North Africa and Greece. Our utilization of grazing land is more intense, but the ultimate objective is known.

Severance pay does not diminish benefits

DEAR COMMISSIONER NABERS: We are having to cut back drastically just to keep our doors open and last week we let our secretary go, I realize she is entitled to unemployment benefits, but we did give her two weeks severance pay. I told the local Texas Employment Commission office about this and they said it did not matter, that the two week pay was a "gift". Why should this lady be eligible to draw benefits for these two weeks?

F.H.
Ft. Worth, Texas

DEAR F.H.: Under our law, only one type of post employment payment will delay a claimant's receipt of benefits and that is wages in lieu of notice. This payment means must what it says. If an employer gives an individual no notice that he is being let go and instead gives him additional wages

Commissioner

Mary Scott Nabers

Texas Business Today

to make up for this lack of notice, then those wages will delay payment of unemployment benefits for the number of weeks they represent. An employer is not obligated to pay wages in lieu of notice.

Severance pay, on the other hand, is not listed in the law as a type of payment which will delay, reduce, or otherwise affect the payment of unemployment benefits.

In contrast to wages in lieu of notice, severance pay is something your company has obligated itself to pay, either verbally or through written company policy or contract. It is usually based upon some formula which is tied to length of service-for example, one week's pay for each year with the company. The payment of severance is not a substitute for notice because it would be payable regardless of the amount of notice given.

If your company has a policy of giving severance, then you must realize your company is, in fact, augmenting payment which may be available under the unemployment insurance law.

Ms. Nabers represents 336,000 employers throughout Texas. If you have any questions you want answered, please write Commissioner Nabers at: TEXAS BUSINESS TODAY, 614 Texas Employment Commission Building, 15th and Congress, Austin, Texas 78778.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer that is small, even before it can be felt.

Appointment may be made by calling 387-2521. The Mobile

Breast Cancer Detection Unit will be in Sonora on Monday, May 16th.

The American Cancer Society has established guidelines for mammography in asymptomatic women. (Women who have no symptoms of disease). Those guidelines have been adopted by the American Academy of Family Physicians, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, and The American College of Radiology. Those guidelines are:

1. 35-40 years of age-One baseline mammogram.
2. 40-50 years of age-A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
3. 50 years of age and over-An annual physician examination and annual mammogram.
4. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

5. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $50.00. The unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

For more information or to make an appointment call 387-2521.

VA loan guaranty amended

Recent legislation signed by President Reagan allows the Veterans Administration to relax downpayment requirements in the sale of certain homes acquired by the VA through foreclosure, according to Ted W. Myatt, Director of the VA Regional Office in Houston.

The Veteran's Home Loan Program Emergency Amendments, said Myatt, allows the Houston Office to waive the five percent downpayment requirement on the purchase of VA-owned properties when it is determined necessary to market these properties competitively. This provision was effective February 29, 1988, the date the new bill was signed.

Myatt also noted that the measure redefined the method from computing remaining Loan Guarantee entitlement for veterans who had used some entitlement earlier. Now a veteran's previously used entitlement will be subtracted from $36,000, the maximum amount of loan guaranty benefits available to an eligible veterans, to determine his remaining entitlement. This provision applies to all loans closed on or after February 1, 1988, unless a guaranty commitment was made on or before December 31, 1987.

Snips, Quips, and Lifts

by Lottie Lee Baker

Enthusiasm is a good engine, but it needs intelligence for a driver.

Enjoy today and don't waste it grieving over a bad yesterday-tomorrow may be even worse.

Many Americans are trying to conserve energy as never before--they're now burning their morning toast only on one side.

The gap between enthusiasm and indifference is filled with failures.

There are always enough excuses if you are weak enough to use them.

A pint of example is worth a gallon of advice.

When you make a mountain out of a molehill, don't expect anyone to climb up to see the view.

Gossip is like a balloon- it grows bigger with every puff.

Some people stretch the truth, others mutilate it

The evils of men are divided into two classes, openly bad and secretly bad.

Shakespeare said the evil that men do lives after them. On TV this is called a rerun.

Some of the older generation's criticism of the younger generation is tinged with envy.

The road to failure is greased with the slime of indifference.

An election year is when a lot of politicians get free speech mixed up with cheap talk.

Staring up to admire your halo usually creates a pain in the neck.

Don't brag and blow; it isn't the whistle that pulls the train.

If your life is an open book, don't bore your friends by reading out of it.

Some men achieve greatness, others are born great, and a few have greatness thrust upon them. The rest of us just think we're great.

A Lift for the Week

Don't cheat the Lord and call it economy.

Scouting News

by Evelyn Zook

The boys in Den 4 said that they wanted to go camping. So in March they began preparing for their overnight campout.

They began by making first aid kits out of band aid boxes that they could wear their belts when they go hiking. Then they had a guest speaker, Mrs. Pool, from the EMS come and teach some basic first aid they need to know.

Our next project was making fire starters, which are made from strips of newspaper rolled tightly, tied with a cotton string and dipped into wax. We even made buddy burners. They are made by coiling strips of cardboard and placing inside of a tuna can. In the center a piece of cotton string is placed, as a wick, then paraffin is poured over it. These can be used in a tin can stove or as emergency road flares for your car.

The last project besides getting their personal gear together was making sit-upons. Sit-upons are made by folding newspaper into strips and weaving them into mats. The mats are then covered with plastic. We used them to sit on at our campfire.

Finally the time had come. We are ready. One Friday, April 22, 1988 the boys met at the Boy Scout building. We then went to my house on the 2D Genini Ranch south of town. When we arrived the boys went right to work setting up their tents. After camp was made ready and a snack, we were off on a hike. Some of the boys that looked quickly got to see some deer and turkeys.

After hiking the boys were ready for supper. They each had a hand in preparing it.

When they were finished they were given free time until just before dark.

They were again reminded about fire safety and taught how to build two types of fires.

Finally darkness came and the campfire lit. Everyone told a story. Some were ghost stories and others were just fun stories.

Later that night just as things got quiet the rain and hail set in. Everyone grabbed up some of their things and headed for the house. It wasn't long after everyone was inside that they went back to sleep.

Early the next morning about 5:30 two boys were up and ready to make breakfast. The other boys weren't so eager to rise until about an hour later.

By 7:30 a.m. everyone was up and had eaten pancakes, bacon, sausage, and eggs. They were wide awake, full of energy and ready to go.

They earned some arrow points by planting shrub; learning how to sharpen a knife and knife safety; and how to whip the end of a rope.

We went on one more hike before packing up and heading to town. I think everyone had lots of fun.

BRONCO TAILS

News from Sonora High School

by Heather Bunkley

Hey all you Bronco students--only 17 days left in this school year! For the seniors there are only 16 days left because the seniors will not have to attend the last day of school.

Sonora was well-represented at all the Regional athletic events held in Odessa this past week. The golf team will not be going to state but they represented us well and had a good time, and we are proud of them for qualifying for Regional--our District is a tough one for golfers! And the tennis team had two third place finishes at Regional--Mary Ross and Preccia Miller placed third in girls' doubles and Kelly Whitehead placed third in girls' singles. Thanks to them and to Jesse Lynch and John Russell for making us proud at District and for qualifying for Regional. Congratulations to these girls for being alternates to State. The track team competed at Regional over the weekend, but will not be sending anyone to State.

State literary events will be held this weekend in Austin. Cynthia Kepler and Rosa Trevino will be representing Sonora High. Our best wishes go with them.

The rodeo team finished their season this past weekend with Regional II finals in Ft. Stockton. The Sonora High School Rodeo Team will be sending three to State. Trey Wardlaw will go to State in tie-down calf roping; Anna Balch will compete in barrels, pole bending and break-away roping; and Rachel Merck will be going in barrels and goat tying. State finals will be held in late June in Seguin. Results from this past weekend in Ft. Stockton are as follows: Anna Balch-1st in barrels and 2nd in pole bending; Rachel Merck-3rd in barrels; Lewis Baker & Blayze Sikes-2nd in team roping; and Decky Spiller-6th in calf roping.

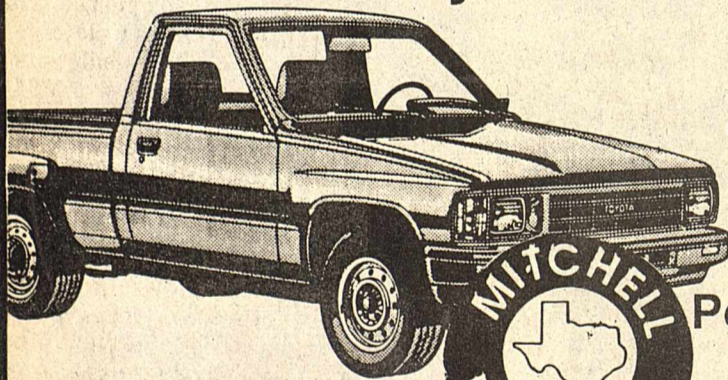

The academic awards assembly will be held Friday, May 20th, in the High School Auditorium. All parents are invited to attend.

Six weeks exams will be held the week of May 9-13, and semester exams will be held the 24-27 of May.

Congrats to some of our senior 4-H'ers--they competed at District last weekend in Kerrville and they fared very well! The Horse Judging Team of Allison Schweining, Decky Spiller and Russell Chalk left some tough competition in the dust and they will be representing us at State competition in June at Texas A&M! The senior Range Team composed of Tracey Love, Todd Keller, Brandi Wallace and Chacho Cahill also won first and will be competing at State in June. We are so proud of all of you and we want those State titles in June!

FEDERAL EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AGENCY FEDERAL INSURANCE ADMINISTRATION

Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations

AGENCY: Federal Emergency Management Agency
 ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY:
 Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations shown in your community's preliminary Flood Insurance Study and Flood Insurance Rate Map. These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the floodplain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP).

DATES:
 The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in the community.

ADDRESS:
 Study and maps showing the proposed base flood elevation and their delineation are available for review at the City Hall, 201 N.E. Main, Sonora, Texas.

Send comments to:

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The Federal Emergency Management Agency gives notice of the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations, in accordance with Section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added Section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR 67.4 (a)). These elevations, together with the floodplain management measures required by Section 60.3 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their floodplain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State, or regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for the new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

Pursuant to the provisions of 5 USC 605(b), the Administrator, to whom authority has been delegated by the Director, Federal Emergency Management Agency, hereby certifies that the proposed flood elevation determinations, if promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. A flood elevation determination under Section 1363 forms the basis for the new local ordinances, which, if adopted by a local community, will govern future construction within the floodplain area. The elevation determinations, however, impose no restriction unless and until the local community voluntarily adopts floodplain ordinances in accord with these elevations. Even if ordinances are adopted in compliance with Federal standards, the elevations prescribe how high to build in the floodplain and do not prohibit development. Thus, this action only forms the basis for future local actions. It imposes no new requirement; of itself it has no economic impact.

Lessees and owners of real property in the City of Sonora, Sutton County, Texas, are encouraged to review the preliminary Flood Insurance Study and Flood Insurance Rate Map available at the address cited above. Proposed base flood elevations along flood sources studied in detail are shown on the flood profiles in the study. The flood sources studied in detail are:

Dry Devil's River	2,116-	2,137
Lowrey Draw	2,123-	2,138
