Image attracts over 1,000 to area

The crowds grow larger as word of the image spreads

What appears to many to be the image of Christ's face has become visible on the concrete backporch at the home of Marciana and Nilda Hernandez.

The apparition is a three-quarter profile and can be seen facing the right or left and some persons have even stated they can see an image from the opposite side. Depending on the viewer, the apparition may be simply a face, holding a staff or wearing a halo.

It was at a birthday party held Sunday, July 10 for the Hernandez' three year-old granddaughter, Katrina, when the image first became apparent.

Through the course of the party, a pinata was knocked to the ground several times and in following the path of the pinata, the illusion was captured on film.

It was not however, until the videotape of the party was shown later that evening in their son's home that anyone saw the image. Katrina's parents noticed but it was Katrina who stated "Look, Daddy, there's Jesus. He came to my party."

The younger Hernandez' said nothing to their mother about illusion, though they did tell someone else who related the story to her on Monday.

Mrs. Hernandez then reports that she prayed to God to let her see the face on Tuesday. "I went out the next morning but I was looking in the wrong place. I finally saw it about 8 p.m. that evening and I started crying and trembling.

"I don't know how I got the strength to pick my husband up but I did and I carried him to the door. He had tears running down his face and he said 'It's Jesus'."

Mr. Hernandez, who has a brain disease, suffered his first stroke in May, 1988, the second on Father's Day and is confined to a wheelchair.

Many things have happened since the appearance of the image. One neighbor several blocks away asked the Hernandez' about a flaring light she had seen over the house; another reported a blue glow surrounding the residence.

Mrs. Hernandez decided to place a Bible beside the image. "When I picked up the Bible, it fell open to the Thirty-third Psalm and though the wind has blown the pages, it always stays open at that place."

When she awoke July 16, Mrs. Hernandez says a feeling came over her and she got a tablet and began to write, then she went to the piano and played music she had never heard before.

"The words I had written fit the music," she says. She knew she had written a song to the image which begins:

*One Day when I least expected, you came into my home.
You revealed yourself by the door so that I could see You as I walked by.*

Several prayer services have been held at the home; the first had approximately eighty-five in attendance and second between 200 and 250 people.

Mrs. Hernandez says one of their sons said the apparition was for their family. "I told him no, we needed to share it."

To date, over 1,000 persons have registered and the list of names was begun only this past week. There is no accurate way of knowing how many people have actually seen the image as not all have signed the register.

Mrs. Hernandez recalls one five hour period when 118 persons came to see the illusion. The news has spread to a large number of communities outside Sonora and visitors have come from Eldorado, Ozona, San Angelo, Rocksprings, San Antonio, Acuna, and Lubbock.

"Some say we are blessed. We don't know why He has appeared but he has a message. I know my husband will be healed. He may do it quickly because He has the power or He may do it slowly to keep people coming together," says Mrs. Hernandez.

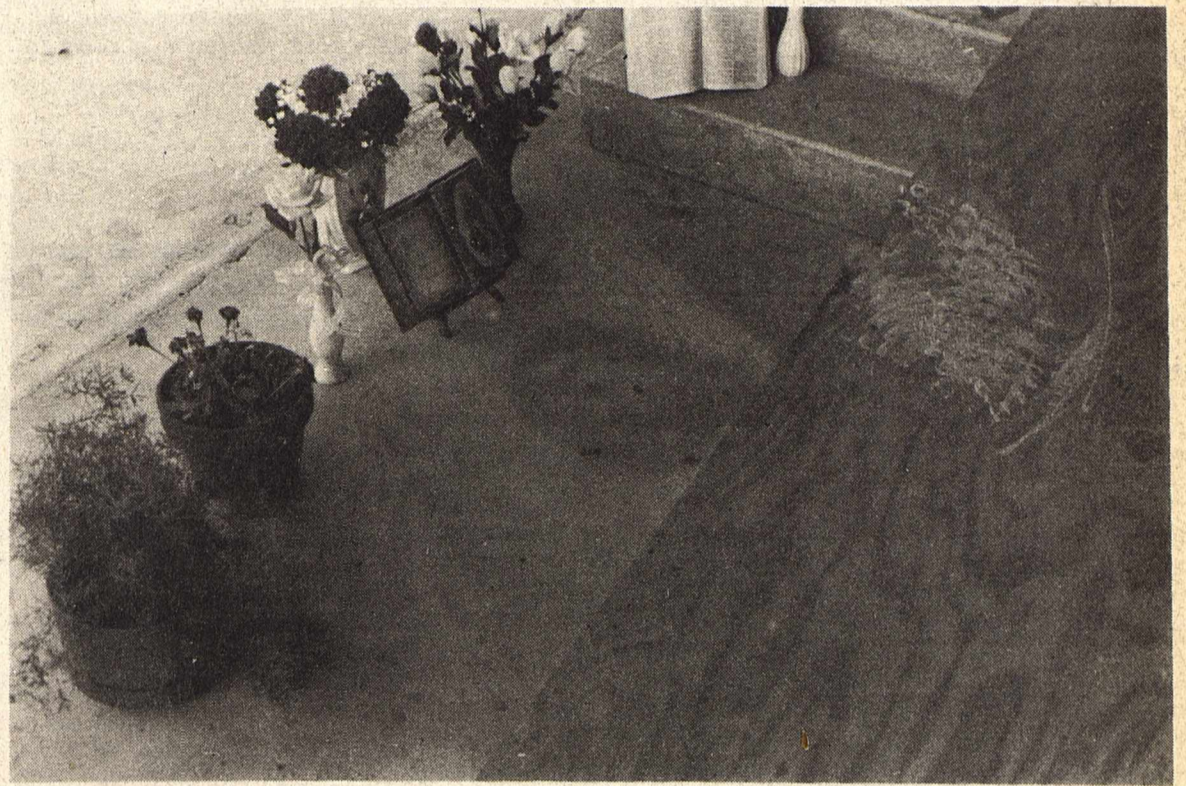

"I prayed to God and said 'If you are using my house to bring people to you, I'll do what you want.'"

Mrs. Hernandez said the doctors office called July 19 after Mr. Hernandez went in for routine bloodwork to tell them the doctor was amazed at how clear the tests were.

Hernandez fed himself breakfast July 21 for the first time in two months and walked a short distance on July 22.

Mr. Hernandez smiles happily as he says he is feeling better.

Regardless of the origin of the illusion, a stain, a spill, a blessing from God, the image has worked as a miracle in the Hernandez household and for many who have viewed it.

Commissioners look for cuts to avoid tax increase

Each year at budget time, taxing entities are forced to look at expenditures versus expected revenues.

After the approval of current bills and certification of the anticipated collection rate for 1988, this was the main thrust as County Commissioners met Monday for preliminary budget discussions.

Line items were discussed with County Judge Carla Fields explaining that preliminary figures reflected a year end balance for 1988-89 of only $215 thousand which must be adjusted to contain a balance of $300 thousand at year end.

At the onset of the discussions, Commissioner Bill Keel stated that he was not voting for any budget which contained even one cent tax increase; he then made a motion to rescind his motion of last month that the budget include a raise for all commissioners and for the Sheriff. The motion carried unanimously.

The Commissioners authorized Charlie Graves to meet with Auditors of the five other counties with which Sutton County shares expenses in various organizations to compile information. In this way Sutton County would know the percentage of expenditure and revenue by each of the other counties. This decision followed requests for pay increases for District Court personnel, which were turned down, and an increase in the office supply budget for the Department of Public Safety.

Discussion between Commissioners concluded that cuts must be made somewhere in order to avoid a tax increase but there was no agreement on where the cuts should take place.

"We haven't made any headway (budgetwise) in four years," Keel stated, "And we aren't living in 'Boomtown'." He stressed that county salaries were out of line with the private sector and he suggested cooperation between City and County to avoid duplication of services.

Auditor Charlie Graves commented that cooperation was the key word stating "Double taxing because we can't cooperate--and I'm not saying that is the case--that's the worst kind of tax."

Graves went on to say that the crucial issue was to balance services to consumers with the expenditures.

Officer added to force

You may have already seen a new face on the Sonora Police Force as Officer Mike Routh has been added to the roster. Routh began his official duties on July 18.

Routh, (pronounced Ruth) is a native of Camp Wood and spent two and a half years as a Deputy Sheriff in Real County prior to accepting the post in Sonora.

He says of Sonora, "I like the town. Everyone here is so friendly and helpful. I am glad to be here and I plan on staying awhile." Chief Gesch adds that he is also glad Routh is here.

Routh and his wife, Beverly, also a lifelong resident of Camp Wood, have two sons, eight year old Matt and Justin who is four.

Seminar offered

The Internal Revenue Service is conducting a Small Business Tax Workshop August 8, 1988. The workshop will be from 9 am to 12 noon and will be held in Room 312 of the Internal Revenue Service offices located at 33 E. Twohig, San Angelo.

The workshop explains business taxes, highlights tax benefits and obligations connected with a small business, and emphasizes employer tax responsibilities.

The workshop is free and materials are provided.

The City Council met in regular session on July 19 with a lengthy agenda.

Reports from the Sutton County Appraisal District stated the tax collection rate to now stand at 90.6 percent for the City.

Fire Chief Kyle Donaldson gave the quarterly report from the Volunteer Fire Department and the utility policy maintained by the department was discussed. Before qualifying for paid water, sewer and garbage removal, a volunteer must assist in forty percent of all fires and attend sixty percent of the drills for a full two year period. At the end of a four year period, a volunteer meeting these requirements is eligible to electricity also.

Bids were opened for the purchase of a one ton truck and the bid was awarded to Sonora Ford Sales for a total of $16,260 for a 1989 unit to be delivered within sixty to ninety days.

Flooding on Pecan and Water Street was discussed and a plan to eliminate the problem through storm sewer facilities is being developed.

As preliminary discussions on the 1988-89 City budget continued, City Manager Pete Gildon stated he felt it was possible to maintain all services within the current taxing structure and further added that he saw no need to make any adjustments to water and sewer rates nor did he anticipate any change. The first public hearing of the proposed budget will be in the August meeting of the Council.

Land Board taking bids

The Veterans Land Board will be opening bids at 1 p.m. on August 31, 1988 for the sale of repossessed Veterans' tracts to eligible veterans. Bids must be received prior to that date and time.

There are special conditions placed on the sale of these tracts and the Veterans Land Board has issued a brochure explaining the qualifications. Copies may be obtained from the Land Board by calling their toll free number-1-800-252-VETS. A copy of the brochure is available for public viewing at the Devil's River News office.

Some of the points of importance the booklet covers are:

1. The tracts are available for purchase by Veterans who satisfy the eligibility requirements set forth in the publication.

2. The tracts are sold AS IS.
3. Each bid must be accompanied by a $25 non-refundable fee.
4. You must submit closing fees totaling $320 with your bid. If you bid on more than one tract, you need only submit the $320 closing fee once.

5. All necessary closing documents must be submitted to the Board within forty-five days from the date of the "Award Letter."

In addition to containing bidding instructions, the brochure also lists land tract locations and descriptions including total acreage and minimum bid.

There are no tracts available in Sutton County, the closest being in Edwards, Kerr and Val Verde.

The Council members primary concern on the budget dealt with salaries for City employees, feeling that many were too low and concern was expressed at the large variances of salaries between employees. Gildon presented his recommendations for salary increases for the new budget and after deliberation, the Council adopted the recommendation to go into effect immediately, the current budget to be amended at the August meeting to accommodate the changes.

The Council also directed Mr. Gildon to research a job classification and pay schedule to be established which will go into effect by the first part of October, 1988.

The contract for use of the City Drug Dog in S.I.S.D., drawn up by City Attorney Beth Wallace with the aid of Police Chief Brent Gesch and Councilman Thomas Adkins, was read to the Council but no action was taken pending presentation to School Superintendent James Bible.

The Council heard a plan to commence the Castle Hill water and street project which will possibly alleviate the problem of water pressure on Hightower by linking the two water systems together.

In other business, the ordinance was adopted to lower the speed on Deerwood Drive to 20 miles per hour with signs to be posted immediately.

In the last order of business, the Council approved a resolution to submit a proposal for an aging service grant under Title III of the Older Americans Act. The monies received from this grant will go toward payment of salary to the Senior Center Director.

Publishers Comment

It seems as though it's once again time to remind many in the community of the need to pay for the newspapers removed from the honor racks around town.

Since most people would never think of taking merchandise from a business without paying for it, it only seems natural the philosophy would carry through to newspapers also. Not so. It was discovered on deliveries this past week that while one rack was empty of its fifteen papers, the coin slot yielded only 95¢. Now, it doesn't take a wizard to know that doesn't work out to 30¢ a paper.

The short of this lecture is--If you're gonna read, please pay now cause you'll forget later.

It is perhaps, a bit ironic that the Writer's strike has caused me and many other Americans to do more reading. This was probably not their intent.

Let's face it though, the reruns weren't very exciting the first time and who in their right mind is interested in reruns of the reruns?

With books, I'm offered an option. I choose to rerun a particular book because I choose to reread it and I doubt the author is concerned about royalties from my second reading!

The one exception for television viewing so far this summer has been the Democratic Convention. While the writing in it contained some fresh perspectives and a few good "catch lines", the story line was much the same.

August will produce the Republican Convention and it will probably be much the same-fresh perspectives, same story.

As for me, let the Writer's strike continue--a good book, the porch in the evening fighting mosquitos instead of commercials--What more could you ask?

We received a letter this week from a newcomer to the area which I would very much like to print, however, the letter was unsigned.

We encourage Letters to the Editor but the rules remain the same though--all letters must be signed and include a telephone number for verification of the author.

This is the time that everyone should be attending the meetings of the taxing entities to offer your suggestions on how you want your tax dollars spent. Our elected officials need your input in order to represent you as you wish.

How accurate are those unemployment figures?

DEAR COMMISSIONER NABERS: I have been unemployed and diligently seeking work for six months. So far I have had no success. I think I have discovered how the Texas Employment Commission keeps its unemployment figures at an artificially low level. Once a person has run out of benefits, he no longer has to report to the TEC office and thus is no longer a statistic as far as the State is concerned. In other words, even though I still have not found a job. I am no longer considered to be among the unemployed.

Commissioner
Mary Scott Nabers

Texas Business Today

As for your own situation let me suggest that you go to a local TEC office and ask for information on Job Search Workshops. The success rate for those going through the program is outstanding and there is no charge. Good Luck!

P.H.
Abilene, Texas

DEAR P.H.: Yours is a common misconception. The State unemployment rate is calculated according to a rather elaborate formula devised by the U.S. Department of Labor. It includes, in part, not only those who are actively filing claims but also those who have exhausted their benefits, those who filed but failed to qualify, and estimates of those who have never even darkened the door of a TEC office. It is a little known fact that at any given time only about 15 to 20 percent of the total unemployment population of Texas is filing for and receiving benefits. If we based our unemployment estimates only on this small population then we would certainly be far off the mark. Be assured that the statistics supplied by the TEC are based upon much more than just current claim activity.

DEAR COMMISSIONER NABERS: When are those Texas Business Council meetings going to start again? I like the concept of state government and business working together for change.

Troubled & Tired Taxpayer

DEAR TROUBLED AND TIRED: The first meeting is scheduled for September 8 and we will be traveling all over the state meeting with taxpayers for three months. Watch this column for the entire statewide schedule. It will be available soon.

Letters

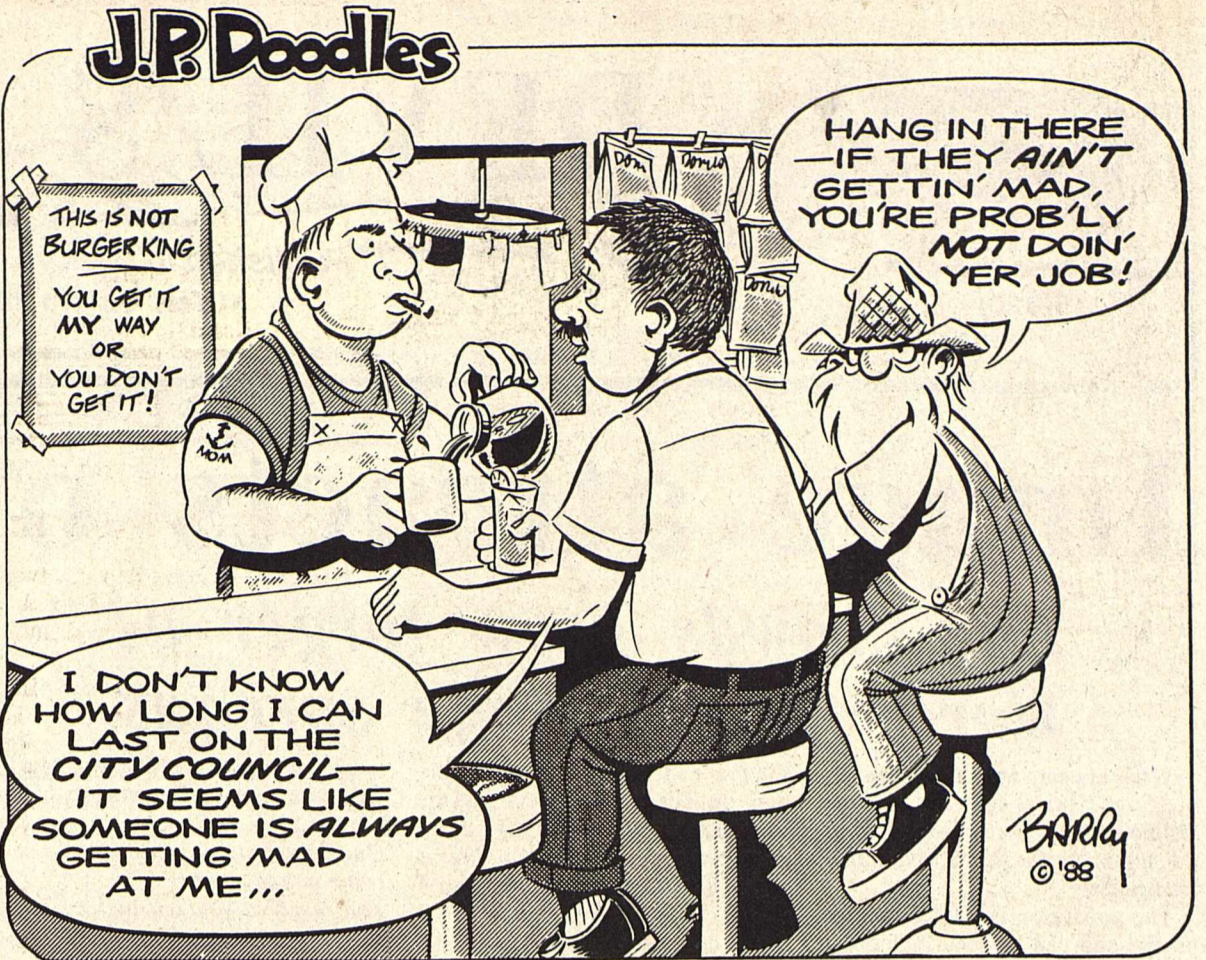

Dear Ms. Cates,
I hope you will pass along my thanks to all the wonderful people of Sonora who contributed so much to my marvelous vacation in Texas. It was a long drive (4,537 mile round trip) and every mile reassured me all the more that America is still alive and well, like the song says.

Even the rain at the Dinner Theater was refreshing. Overheard: (#1) "Don't apologize to me ma'am. I've got seven horses on hay and the rain looks good to me." (#2) "Are you going to get the refund, Dad?" "No, we've already got more than our money's worth. It was a good evening, wasn't it?" "Sure was!" Everyone felt the same.

The only bad glitch in the whole trip was the tape deck eating a cassette I'm not fond of anyhow, and my brother-in-law fixed that in Kansas City so it hardly counts. And even the bluegrass pastures in Kentucky are brown, and the Mississippi is visibly low. You can see where the shoreline used to be. Cool air and showers followed me the whole way which made delightful traveling but I do wish it had added up to more inches. Maybe soon--.

Most sincerely,
Anne Cramer

Dear Editor and Dear Sonora Friends,
Got my last week Devils River News and saw the Devils River full of water. Made me feel so happy about all those good rains that will help the ranches and everything.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

by T. Driskell

The Dukakis-Bentsen swing through Texas after their convention was enlightening. The speech in McAllen, Texas, delivered partially in Spanish, promised with a straight face, a job for everyone in South Texas without regard to desires or skill levels. Bentsen, in true vice-president posture offered a chorus of the same tune in Houston. We are left with a question: Where is the money coming from? Although the conclusion follows that judging from the by product we should have held races that week in the Valley--"hot air" balloon races.

Democrats by tradition have been a little hazy regarding funding their programs, and the Reagan deficit they keep harping on was aided by escalation clauses built in democratic programs over the last forty years. The cap is that the present deficit went through a congress where one or both houses were controlled by Democrats. The stock solution has been--turn on the printing presses.

Look carefully at Dukakis programs. It is not recommended that you look at his performance in Massachusetts unless you need a permanent because it is hair curling. Seventy million deficits come out as six-hundred million and an indigent health bill was signed into law that should rocket the deficit. Ignoring Massachusetts, but bringing together the indefinite programs such as better child care, pregnancy leaves, better medical coverage, better education, plant closure notices and several lesser programs you come up with almost two-hundred billion dollars.

There are three conclusions you can make. One, there is a severe shortage of hot air balloons considering our generation capacity. Two, the purveyors of these plans know they cannot be implemented through Congress. Three, the plans will be implemented and the cost superimposed on business not through taxes but federal law requirements. Alternatively new taxes will lift the program's cost out of the taxpayer's pocket.

It would seem that America should adhere to an ancient Eastern Mediterranean adage. It makes no difference what language they are speaking; beware of Greeks bearing gifts.

You can't have rosy thoughts about the future when your mind is full of the blues about the past.

Gamblers are like toilets--broke one day and flush the next.

Criticism is one thing that most of us think is more blessed to give than to receive.

Our aim should be service not success.

We commit the Golden Rule to memory and forget to commit it to life.

Those who gossip are often caught in their own "mouth-trap."

Nothing makes an argument so one-sided as telling about it.

Everybody should have two friends--one to talk TO and one to talk ABOUT.

Gossip is a "negative" that is developed and then enlarged.

Two reasons for a change in government; First, too much overhead and second, too much underhand.

Express gratitude generously and sincerely; receive gratitude humbly and graciously; expect gratitude rarely, if ever.

Most great men come from small towns. We don't know whether it's from ambition or gossip.

American Cancer Society thanks volunteers

The American Cancer Society Sutton County Unit wants to thank all of the volunteers who helped with the residential and business drives in Sonora this year. The citizens of Sonora donated a total of $6,902.00 to be used in providing public education programs, services for cancer patients, and research grants. This figure is about $2,798.00 short of our goal for this fiscal year which ends August 31.

Last year, the American Cancer Society provided an estimated $2,000 worth of services to cancer patients and $3,000 worth of public education programs and materials. These figures represent what the services and educational materials would have cost each person if they had to purchase the items individually. What many people do not realize is that Sutton County residents can and do receive direct benefits from the work of the American Cancer Society. Last year seven patients received services worth $3,062. That means approximately one-third of all monies raised here were spent to help Sutton County residents. This Unit has a proud record of 35 successive years in meeting and surpassing its goals to receive the golden achievement award.

With the help of each and every person in Sutton County, we can still reach our goal of $9,700. We are asking that the donations be made in the form of memorial gifts or honor gifts. Memorial gifts should include the name of the deceased, the name and address of the person you wish to send the card to, and your name and address. Honor gifts should include the name and address of the person you wish to honor, the reason you wish to honor this person (ie. birthday, anniversary, or just because), and your name and address. All of these gifts should be sent to Allie Askew, P.O. Box 1133, Sonora, Texas 76950.

Why teen marriages are vulnerable

When teens marry, they are two to three times more likely to divorce than people who wait until they are older. Why?

According to family life researchers, one cause of failure is that teens often marry for the wrong reasons. They may think their spouse will be perfect, fulfilling all their needs, like the husband or wives on television and movies.

When a partner doesn't live up to unrealistic expectations, the teenager begins to look elsewhere for answers or relationships and unfaithfulness often results.

Teen couples may be plagued with money problems because they have only enough education and training to hold down entry-level jobs. When the couple lives with parents because they can't afford a place of their own, bonding together and becoming financially and emotionally independent is more difficult. Often it's easier to turn to a parent for consolation or financial help rather than work things out as a couple.

Married teens may also feel they've lost their freedom, are being suffocated by their mate's possessiveness or have been cheated of the fun things in young adulthood. Teen couples need to communicate. But if they didn't have good communication with their parents, they may have little practice sharing feelings, controlling outbursts and taking on new roles.

Not every teenage marriage fails. A willingness to adjust to a new lifestyle, a commitment to staying married and working hard at the marriage can provide a strong foundation for any marriage.

Depot Diary

by Anne Karnes May

Remember and old saying, "My, how time flies." Well, before we know it, 1990 and the Sutton County Centennial will be here. There's a lot to be done, and we need to start now!

The old jail needs to be white-washed and cleaned and a new ramp needs to be built. The Miers Home Museum needs period furniture for the parlor bringing it back to the way it was the 1890's. The Depot needs benches for 2 waiting rooms, and the ticket booth needs to be finished. The building needs to be painted inside and outside, and a dock needs to be built around the building. The blacksmith shop on the grounds behind the Miers Home Museum needs improvement; any picture of Sonora in the 1890's that are available are needed.

To accomplish this, we need carpenters, painters, welders, historians, artists-whatever time, talent, or expertise each of you will give to see that it all comes together. If each of us would give a 1/2 day of time (12 working hours) in the next 760 days, it would be greatly appreciated.

If you're interested in being a part of the Centennial, come to the Planner's Committee meeting on August 1 at the old jail at 4:30 p.m., or call 387-3649.

Yes, time flies--It's September, 1990, and Sutton County had the best Centennial ever--and guess what! Each of us was a part of it!

CHAT with ANNE

by Anne Karnes May

When, as a little girl, I moved to town from the ranch, I became friends with another little girl named Nancy Ann Neill, and this has been a lifelong friendship.

Last Saturday, I was in San Antonio for the wedding of Nancy's daughter, Judith Neill Law to Douglas Aldwell McPherson. This couple is unique, for their lives were intertwined generations before they were born. Doug's great-grandfather was William Lea Aldwell, one of the founders and Presidents of the First National Bank of Sonora. Mr. Aldwell gave the young Jack Neill, Judy's grandfather, a job in the bank, Jack Neill was Doug's god-father, and Winnie Lea Aldwell McPherson, Doug's mother, has been a member of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank for 13 years.

But, then we are all in a unique way a part of this picture. Each of us, to some degree, has had our lives intertwined with those of Judy's grandparents, Jack and Elizabeth Neill, and we're all the richer for it.

Jodie and Lawrence Finklea recently returned from a trip to Italy and the Swiss Alps, where they had a most enjoyable vacation. Around 60 people were on this Texas Exes Flying Longhorn-Intrav tour.

The first stop on the trip was Rome, the Eternal City, where they drove to the Roman Forum, the cradle of Roman civilization. Here was the religious, political and economic center of public life during the days of the Empire.

Then, they traveled on to the Colosseum, originally known as the Flavian Amphitheater, which seats 50,000 spectators. The tour concluded at the Trevi Foundation to throw in three coins to ensure their return to Rome.

The next stop in Rome was to Vatican City, a small state within the Italian Republic, where the Pope lives. While there, they also viewed the Sistine Chapel and the Vatican Library.

Florence, home of the Italian Renaissance, was the second city in Italy visited. This is a city of cathedral's, statues, and art.

Venice was the last city on the tour, which included St. Mark's Square, the Clock Tower and Campanile.

Then on to Zurich, Switzerland, one of the leading banking and finance centers of the world. They also viewed the Alps and the Black Forest in Germany from Mt. Pilatus.

The yearly Duplicate Bridge Tournament was held in Sonora on July 18, in the Sutton County National Bank Hospitality Room and the lobby. Ten tables were present, including members from Rocksprings, Eldorado, Mason, Junction, Ozona, and Sonora.

The North-South winners were Bea Porter, Eldorado, and Trouba Kaplan, Sonora, 1st; Sammie Espy and Ehtel Olson, Sonora 3rd; and Lottie Puckett and Fred Adkins, Sonora 3rd.

The East-West winners were Bill Rogers, Mason, and Frank Tillman, Junction, 1st; Nita Tillman, Junction and Sadie Davidson, Ozona, 2nd; and Norma Murray, Sonora and Tom Peaslee, Eldorado, 3rd.

Eldorado had their yearly Bridge tournament on July 14, in the Community Building. Winning High over-all were Helen Blakeway, Eldorado, and Metha Trainer, Sonora. Sixteen tables made up the tournament.

Til next week, remember to Take Care and God Bless!

Library News

The Sutton County Library Pre-schooler Storyhour was visited by a clown on Friday morning. Cynthia Kepler charmed the 3-5 year olds by letting them watch her transform herself into a clown with face paint. The children then had their choice of having their faces painted, also. After the face painting, the boys and girls drew pictures of clowns on the sidewalk with chalk.

Cynthia is one of two teenage girls employed by the Sonora Woman's Club to help out at the Library for the Summer. Cynthia is the leader of the pre-school storyhour for the summer. Her ingenuity has kept between 20 and 30 pre-schoolers captivated for the hour long sessions on Friday. Her assistant is Sandra Cooper, head Librarian. Cynthia is the daughter of Rev. Kent and Virginia Kepler. She will be a Senior at S.H.S. next fall.

Anna Mesa is the other young lady employed for the summer by the Woman's Club. Anna is the daughter of Modesto and Juanita Mesa. Anna's job includes helping with the Movietime Hour on Wednesday mornings. Movietime is the summer program for the sing-alongs, movies, crafts, and stories. In addition, Anna has helped with the Book Mobile. She will be a Senior at S.H.S. and is a twirler.

Ramirez one of two hundred fifty students

Two hundred-fifty high achieving Hispanic students from Texas high school around the state convened at Southwestern University July 24-31 for the seventh annual Lorenzo de Zavala Legislative Session sponsored by the National Hispanic Institute (NHI). Attending from Sonora was Juan F. Ramirez.

Recognizing the need for active community involvement in the development of Hispanic youth, Ernesto Nieto, a 1964 graduate of Southwestern, founded NHI in 1979. NHI developed the Lorenzo de Zavala (LDZ) program to address not only the concerns of Hispanic youth but also the Hispanic community's need to train these young people to assume roles of civic responsibility and leadership after college.

Using a mock legislative/political debate format, LDZ is carefully orchestrated to give the teens a chance to develop confidence. They are encouraged to get into debates on topics they choose themselves, to use their imaginations and to speak their minds before large groups. After three days of party formations, platforming, caucusing, campaigning and elections, the youth legislators travel thirty miles to the state capitol in Austin where they use the chambers of the Supreme Court, the Senate and the House of Representatives to conduct their mock government.

The setting and activities are carefully designed to help participants gauge their abilities in communications, inter-personal relations, management, marketing and strategy.

At the end of the week, participants and their parents are given the opportunity to meet with representatives of fifty of the nation's top colleges and universities. NHI then follows up with a one-to-two year support service on college admissions and negotiations on financial aid packages. LDZ participants have a 95 percent college placement record with students at Yale, Harvard, Norte Dame, Vassar, and MIT as well as many Texas institutions.

Surplus sale held at station

by Nick Garza
The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station located between Sonora and Rocksprings held their annual surplus sheep sale on Tuesday, July 19, 1988. Fifty-three lots with a total of 112 sheep were auctioned at an average price of $103.22. According to Dr. Charles "Butch" Taylor, Station superintendent, the sale was conducted "Australian" style which moves buyers from pen to pen rather than moving animals. "We like that method because it goes faster and leaves more time for the buyers to look around and inspect the animals" says Taylor. He also adds that "we have the facilities and it is a much better use of available manpower."

The offering included eight yearling rams, 32 ram lambs, 35 ewe lambs and 37 aged ewes. All animals had been raised at the Sonora station or at their Barnhart location.

A total of 33 buyers were present for the sale, two from as far away as Midway, near Temple, Texas. Volume buyer was Wesley Hodges from Sterling City who purchased 43 head of for $3825.00. Second was Don Smith of Talpa who purchased 21 head for $2070.00. The high selling animal was a yearling ram purchased by Larry Williams of Ozona for $925.00.

Person interested in future sheep sales at this station can write Dr. Charles Taylor, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, P.O. Box 918, Sonora, Texas 76950 or they can call (915) 387-3168.

"SELF" CONTROL

by J. Michael Fish

"You are somebody"

"And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth." Genesis 1:26

Wester's New Twentieth Century Dictionary defines 'dominion' as, "sovereign or supreme authority; the power of governing and controlling; domination; sovereignty; control."

In light of this; can you fathom that God would have created us and give us 'dominion' of our world, without the means to achieve His purpose?

How could we, even for a moment, consider that we are not worthy of the health, happiness, peace of mind, growth, prosperity, or whatever optimizes the fulfillment of life that He wants for us?

The fact is; we have or are able to attain the means that is necessary for the realization of all our life's rewards.

The problem is; far too many of us don't know and/or don't care, are involved in 'self' at the expense of others, feel helpless or unworthy of life's rewards, or any degree and combination of the above.

Because we were created in God's image and have dominion of our world, we are most assuredly worthy of that, that He wants for us-a fulfilling life.

"Imagination of all man's faculties is the most God-like," said Glenn Clark. "The faculty of imagination is the great spring of human activity, and the principal source of human improvement..Destroy this faculty, and the condition of man will become as stationary as that of the brutes," said Dugold Stewart, the famous Scottish philosopher.

Man, the creature, is made more than that by use of his imagination. He is a creator; "Let us make man in our image, after our likeness..." Man alone can achieve any number of goals by the use of his creative ability. However, in order to achieve the maximum benefit of your imagination you must first have a clear concept of YOU.

The concept one has of one's 'self', or 'self-image', is the keystone to human behavior and personality. The self-image will define what is humanly possible for that individual-what they can and cannot do. When you formulate a realistic self-image that incorporates an acceptable set of standards (your standards) it will seem as though you have uncovered new talents and capabilities.

"The secret is this: To really 'live,' that is to find life reasonably satisfying, you must have an adequate and realistic self-image that you can live with. You must find your self acceptable to 'you'. You must have a wholesome self-esteem. You must have a self that you can trust and believe in. You must have a self that you are not ashamed to 'be', and one that you can feel free to express creatively, rather than to hide or cover up. You must have a self that corresponds to reality so that you can function effectively in a real world. You must know yourself-both your strengths and your weakness and be honest with yourself concerning both. Your self image must be a reasonable approximation of 'you', being neither more than you are, nor less than you are." The late Maxwell Maltz, M.D., F.I.C.S.; from his book "Psycho-Cybernetics."

Essentially, your self-image reflects your beliefs and how you feel about yourself and your physical qualities, as well as your attitude toward others. It develops from past experiences and interactions with other people; beginning as early as infancy with input from your parents, siblings, grandparents, aunts and uncles, etc.

Their reactions and attitudes became a permanent record within the 'memory-banks' of the mechanism you refer to as your 'sub-conscious mind.'

When you were confronted by an unfamiliar problem and needed data to deal with the situation, your mind scanned this mechanism for appropriate solutions. Having no other information to recall, your mind reacted to the situation the only way it knew; with those recorded reactions and attitudes of others.

This 'mechanism' then made a permanent record of this experience, including refinements to previously recorded data, within your memory banks.

The process remained the same through the many thousands of experiences that have brought you to this point in time, with dominion over the world or 'reality', as it were. Through school, your community, and fellow workers on the job. All your successes and failures, humiliations and triumphs have left their mark of feeling and assumption just as imbedded in your self-image.

At one time or another, we all have felt rather small and insignificant, pitting our 'pint-sized' will against the negative barriers keeping us from realizing our true happiness and fulfillment. However, there is within each of us, possessing a realistic self-image, the inherent instinct to strive for health, happiness, peace of mind, growth, and prosperity. We use our imagination and positive thinking on a daily basis that we may experience life's rewards in the present. We know, regardless of our station in life and field of endeavor; that we are SOMEBODY, not merely a 'pawn in someone else's game', and have dominion of our world.
