Lions auction raises funds for community activities

The Lions Auction will be held on Tuesday, September 20 at the 4-H Building. Festivities will begin at 6 p.m. with a barbecue--free to the public.

Sale of donated items will begin after the dinner when Lem Jones of Harper steps to center stage. The walls of the building have heard Lem's wit and charm for over forty years as "What am I bid for . . ." usually follows a story told in a way that only Lem could tell. Incidentally, for those of you who watch news of the area on TV, Lem has probably been on your screen more through the summer than Johnny Carson as he has been at the auction block for all the livestock auctions throughout this part of Texas.

The Lions auction, which will celebrate its 50th anniversary this year, has enabled the Lions to help our community in more ways than most people realize.

Last year's auction raised over $11,000, most of which was put back into Sonora in the form of eye examination and glasses in the amount of almost $2,000; over $5,900 for utilities and improvements for local Scouting; almost $1,900 for the 1987 and 88

4-H Wool Show as well as the many other projects the Lions gave financial support.

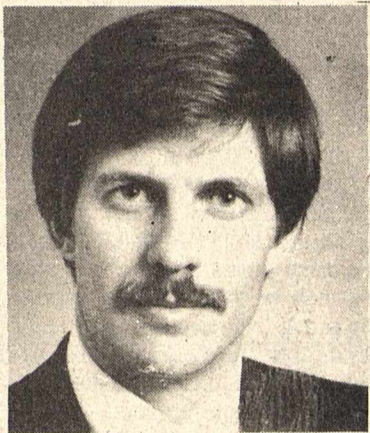

Without a fund-raising project of the magnitude of the auction, the Lions wouldn't be able to assist the citizens and projects of our community as they do and we must also commend them for the methods they have adopted to raise the funds--the yearly auction is 'downright fun!'

What can you expect to have the opportunity to bid on? Almost anything you can think of including baked goods, meals, heavy equipment work, various gift certificates and merchandise as well as many things you wouldn't imagine ever having a chance to purchase.

But you can't bid and help the Lions help the community if you aren't there. Please come and join everyone for a fun and essential evening.

Frank as many of you know him.

Frank and Zola Fish leaving Sonora after forty-four years

by J. Michael Fish

Dreams and a heritage in the modern American West brought a couple to our area forty-four years ago. They touched many of this community's personal lives in their special way and now are retiring, leaving us to settle near Rising Star.

Frank and Zola Fish came here in September, 1944. They began Bledsoe Livestock Company with R. L. Bledsoe of San Angelo, changing the name to Juno Ranch Company in 1955.

The ranch, sixteen miles west of U.S. 277 South on the Juno Highway, was virtually barren and rocky when they arrived. "You couldn't run twenty-five head of sheep on a thousand acres," said

Frank. "They wore ruts six to eight inches deep in the dry, powdery trails going to water."

Freely accepting and loving the challenge of the land and elements and the rough and wearisome lifestyle of the ranch, Frank and Zola managed to make to the ranch pay and become a successful ranching operation as well as an enjoyable retreat for dove, turkey and deer hunters from all over the nation.

Drought and flash floods presented the greatest and most reoccurrent obstacles to overcome. Labor was another, "trying to find somebody that don't mind work, is hard," Frank says.

"During drought you could always 'knock Soto' and let the livestock eat the tender parts of the leaves, or 'burn Prickly Pear, or feed 'em Sacawista. One thing about it, the ranch always had something to feed during drought."

Rain meant repairing roads and mending fences. No one could make digging a post hole an art like Frank Fish. Ninety-five percent of the holes were in solid rock and three feet deep. There was a certain way to hold the bar and a certain way to chip at the rock "to take the work out of it."

There was also an art to rounding-up and herding cattle, sheep and goats; to counting livestock; to pulling weeds; to everything.

Those of you who worked for him--did you ever make a mistake, then have him yell a string of words at you that sounded like he was going to cry? You knew he wasn't going to cry. And did you ever find him laughing at you after you were kicked or almost run-over by a bull, or thrown from a horse? "to keep your mind off your pain," he explains.

"There was always something to do on the ranch. Always had to put something off to do something else." When asked how much and where he was educated, Frank simply replied, "On the horse and 'crow bar'."

School came before anything else at the ranch and as a result Frank and Zola's four sons excelled academically and in sports in Ozona and Sonora schools.

The Fishes would invite the football boys out during the summers. Zola's cooking and Frank's 'rough-housing' and their values and attitudes toward work gave the team members an experience that would last a lifetime. They also learned not to call Zola's dinner rolls biscuits. "Rolls take a lot more time and work to fix," she informed.

Of the sons, Billy Frank went to Sul Ross and now runs a ranch in Sutton County for Jack Ray of San Angelo; Steve Henry attended Texas Tech and is a Certified Public Accountant and owns a newspaper near Phoenix, Arizona; Jimmy David went to Rice and on to Princeton for his PhD and is now a solar scientist near Albuquerque, New Mexico, The youngest of the four, Ted Dallas, went to Texas A&M to be a veterinarian and now lives in Ft. Stockton.

A few years ago, Frank's kidneys failed, a condition that claimed the lives of a brother and sister in 1959 and 1960 respectively. With technological advances, Frank's life was prolonged due to an operation which implanted a tube to drain the fluid into a bag he wears externally.

He is as active as ever with only slight changes in diet and working habits. The doctors are pleased and inspired by his adaptation and

You can join the team

They're volunteers

A call for help. A team responds. They're fast, they're trained, they're volunteers.

The Sutton County Emergency Medical Service offers a wide range of opportunities for volunteers interested in learning emergency medical treatment, helping others, and providing a critical community service.

The emergency medical service provided by Sutton County involves the work of volunteers who are: Ambulance Drivers, First Responders, Emergency Medical Technicians, and Emergency Care Attendants.

When a serious injury or illness occurs, a family member, friend or co-worker may seek emergency medical service (EMS) by dialing the Sutton County emergency phone number 387-2288. The radio communication system dispatcher then notifies EMS team members of the emergency, keeps team members in contact with each other, and assists with communications with the hospital.

Often, the first care giver to assist the patient will be an EMS first responder who provides the initial care to the patient until a trained ambulance crew arrives on the scene.

The ambulance crew includes the ambulance driver who has been instructed in correct driving techniques under various transport situations, emergency medical technicians (EMT's), and Emergency Care Attendant (ECA's) who have been trained to assess the patient's physical condition, treat the injury or illness, and care for the patient in the ambulance while enroute to the hospital.

EMT's are trained to provide basic life support, including cardiopulmonary resuscitation, oxygen therapy, bleeding control, treatment for shock, spinal immobilization, fracture management, and emergency childbirth.

The EMS team also includes crash victim extricators trained in the proper use of rescue tools and up-to-date crash/accident removal techniques.

Persons interested in volunteering, and who are at least 18 years of age, are encouraged to call 387-5132 Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. or attend a meeting on Mondays at 6 p.m. at the Sutton County Emergency Service Building, 211 E. 3rd Street, Sonora.

Federal review of unemployment system

I have often heard you emphasize the dual federal/state nature of the unemployment insurance system. Is there currently any legislative activity at the federal level regarding the unemployment program?

F.R.
Waco, Texas

Commissioner

Mary Scott Nabers

Texas Business Today

DEAR F.R.: On September 15, 1988, the House Ways and Means Subcommittee on Public Assistance and Unemployment Compensation will hold a public hearing on reform of the unemployment compensation system.

Representative Thomas Downey, a Democrat from New York, is the acting chairman of the subcommittee. Interest has been especially keen in light of the difficulty many states have experienced keeping their funds solvent during tough economic times. Because unemployment is now relatively low and most states' systems have recovered somewhat, it is an optimal time to look at major reform.

The hearing will begin at 1:00 p.m. in Room B-318 of the Rayburn House Office Building in Washington D.C. Anyone sufficiently interested in testifying in Washington may get on the list by calling Harriet Lawler or Diane Kirland at 1-202-225-1721.

Telephone requests must be followed by written requests to Robert Leonard, Chief Counsel of the Committee on Ways and Means.

If you cannot testify, and most of us cannot, you can still send your comments to your representatives in Congress as well as Representative Downey.

I will keep you informed of any proposals and/or recommendations which are issued by the Subcommittee

Ms. Nabers represents 336,000 employers throughout Texas. If you have any questions you want answered, please write Commissioner Nabers at: TEXAS BUSINESS TODAY, 614 Texas Employment Commission Building, 15th and Congress, Austin, Texas 78778.

WTU request increase

West Texas Utilities Co. has asked for permission to increase fuel factors effective on January 1989 bills. In the request filed today with the Public Utility Commission the company stated that the primary reason for the increase is the expiration of a 20-year gas supply contract at the Rio Pecos Power Station.

"This contract was essentially a fixed price contract which let us buy fuel at pre-1973 Oil Embargo prices," said WTU local manager. "Compared to the average cost of fuel during the last 20 years, this 22 cents per million BTU gas will have saved our customers almost $350 million by the time the contract expires in late December 1988," he said. That includes the period in the early 1980s when average fuel prices had reached $4 per million BTUs before declining to $1.95 in 1987.

The company will continue to operate its system in a way that will minimize fuel cost and is presently studying gas supply proposals. However, WTU expects to pay eight to ten times more for replacement gas than the cost of the expiring contract.

The local manager emphasized that this change is tied primarily to expiration of one contract. Since 1985 WTU has lowered the factor five times, and had six refunds totaling almost $50 million as a result of other contract changes.

WTU filed the request four months before the effective date of the factors to allow the commission time to review the request and process it through necessary channels.

Under the request a typical residential customer using 635 kilowatt-hours a month would see an increase of $2.97 or 5.7 percent per month on the electric bill.

Fuel factors cover the cost of boiler fuel used to make electricity. All other costs essentially are covered in base rates and can only be changed through a lengthy rate case proceeding. The company's last rate increase went into effect in January of this year. WTU officials do not anticipate the need for a rate increase in the foreseeable future although there can be some changes in the fuel factor as prices change.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

by T. Driskell

The Senior Citizen's Low Rental housing project discussed earlier is an excellent vehicle for us to do some soul searching in an economic sense. It can be very informative with regards to former transgressions. It, admittedly, is an unpleasant arena to investigate, but our time to consider the question is now.

Have you noticed, as I have, that in the last few months it has become progressively harder to get your funds to stretch from one end of the grocery store to the other? The same seems true of every area you shop in. Unfortunately, there is not much we can do about that trend, but associated with it, Sonora's business men are having a hard time due to an acute lack of spendable money on the streets. Our major problem is the lack of above minimum-wage jobs that are not seasonal plus a spending addiction left over from the gas boom of the early eighties.

Do not believe for a moment that we are unique. The malady is so widespread that it has been predicted that over 80% of small agricultural towns will perish as economic units. That is the background against which we begin our soul searching. The proposed elderly housing is at this time particularly significant because it is the tip on an iceberg which, if it is properly developed might be an answer to some of our problems. The question is: "Can we afford not to take full advantage of the situation?"

Think for a moment of outsiders building elderly rental property on a federal grant (for a profit of course) and then extraction of a monthly toll from the federal subsidy and walking away with it. The "affordability" question becomes almost unbearable in volume.

Our needs; jobs for more of our citizens that provide a spendable amount of money on our streets without seasonal variation. Plainly care for the elderly will be one of the fastest growing industries in the 1990's and will be, you may be sure, have a subsidy level comparable to the "sacred call" agriculture (because it will have the votes). It seems opportunity is not knocking, but kicking us in the teeth. What shall we do? Sit by and purchase a new dental plate through protracted installments? Coverly shall we develop this program and examine the many other benefits potential contained therein for local benefits?

It is going to be fascinating to watch and speculate what future occupants of low-rental elderly housing will do with this problem.

Wall residing in Santa Anna

Aaron Wall, formerly of Eldorado with many friends in Sutton County, is now residing at Ranger Park Inn, a nursing home in Santa Anna.

All his friends who wish to correspond with him may do so by writing to:
Aaron Wall
% Ranger Park Inn
P.O. Box 159
Santa Anna, Texas 76878

He would very much appreciate hearing from each of you.

A close friend of his, Edmund Weber of Eldorado, has written the following poem for Aaron.

Stand Tall
I know a man who stands tall,
My friends name is Aaron Wall.
Perley May is his pretty bride,
When we first met you stood side by side.
You still stand that way today,
Now your hair is turning gray,
You are wonderful in my sight,
If any say different, they will have a fight.
You worked hard all your life,
The road was rocky and there was some strife.
Hardship never got you down,
On that principle America was found.
To both of you I say thank you
For taking me in and loving me too.
Even though we weren't blood kin
You gave me a home and became a friend.
So as father time visits us all,
Do not hang your head but stand tall.
For you have something to be proud of
Because all through life you have shared your love.

Depot Diary

In the August 11 column, it was mentioned that the Historical Society is searching for funds from private foundations. Among the things considered in foundation grant giving is the degree of involvement within the community in the project for which the money is requested.

If the amount to reroof the Depot were to be raised within Sonora, our proposal asking for help with the exterior and the dock would certainly be viewed in a more positive manner.

DEATH NOTICES

Thomas E. Hardy
Thomas E. Hardy, 96, of San Antonio died Thursday in Audie Murphy Veterans Administration Hospital in San Antonio.
Masonic graveside services were held at 3 p.m. on Saturday, September 10, 1988 in Sonora Cemetery, under the direction of Kerbow Funeral Home.
He was born May 20, 1892, in Belgreen, Ala. He was a member of Masonic Lodge, Alamo Lodge No. 44 of San Antonio, for 68 years. He was a veteran of World War II, having served in the United States Navy, and a retired carpenter.
He is survived by faithful friends, Mr. and Mrs. L.Z. Brayson of Mesa, Ariz.; a good neighbor, Robert Floyd of San Antonio; and good friends, Mr. and Mrs. O.J. Buntyn of Sonora.

Masonic rites were by members of Dee Ora Lodge #715, A.F. & A.M.
Pallbearers were Tommy Valliant, Lester Rainier, Hershel Davenport, Ronnie Cox, Pete Anderson, Eddie McReynolds, Pat Campbell, Jessie Barton and Wayford Tyler.

comprehend. They're quick. They're alive, and yet it was a man who discovered the one remedy for their peculiar ailments.
The man was Dr. Pierce.
The discovery was his "Favorite Prescription"--the boon to delicate women.
Why go around "with one foot in the grave," suffering in silence-misunderstood-when there's a remedy at hand that isn't an experiment, but which is sold under guarantee that if you are disappointed in any way in it, you can get your money back by applying to its makers.
We can hardly imagine a woman's not trying it. Possibly it may be true of one or two-but we doubt it.
Women are ripe for it. They must have it. Think of a prescription and nine out of ten waiting for it. Carry the news to them!

The singing at the school house on Sunday evening was very good considering the little practice they had.

A small fire broke out in J.Q. Adams house on Sunday morning and caused considerable damage.

Planning ahead

There is no need to add worry to the stress of grief that a survivor feels upon the death of a loved one. Grief is a healthy expression in the event of death. Worry is not, and it can be alleviated far in advance with proper planning. By arranging in advance to pay for his own funeral, the conscientious person reduces the risk that survivors will have heavy funeral expenses. Pre-planning also invites the opportunity to chose the plans and terms which are most suitable to individual wishes and incomes. When such decisions are made in advance, buyers are not under severe emotional strain. Lastly, a person can feel secure that his wishes will be carried out because acutal arrangements have been made. This goes a long way in minimizing distress and inconveniences for survivors.
Often when one is faced with age and or illness, the reasons for being is questioned. This should not be so. At the Lillian M. Hudspeth Nursing Home, we provide the services, staffing, and above all, caring that show our residents how important they are and how much is still to be appreciated just by "being." We offer an intimate home-like atmosphere complimented by programs and services designed to meet the needs of each resident.

'SELF' CONTROL

by J. Michael Fish

On the morning of August 6, 1983, I woke from a dream that seemed to be a forecast of an event that would occur that very day.
My wife, son and I were on vacation visiting family in East Texas. We had stopped a couple of days at the home of my wife's sister and planned to continue on to her grandmothers that day.
The dream was a scene where our car was upside down beside the highway, my wife was laying about twenty-five yards from the car and our son was walking about aimlessly as though he were in a daze.
I told him to stay away from the highway but he didn't hear me. When I started in his direction, he noticed his mother and walked toward her. I walked to her, she seemed fine yet dazed and would not respond to any of my questions.
Returning to the car to get a blanket to cover her, I noticed someone still in the car. Surprised, I took a closer look and discovered the lifeless body of myself. It was at this point that I awoke.
Needless to say, I was shaken. I knew it was a precognitive dream and I had a strange feeling that wouldn't go away. I told no one but my wife knew something was bothering me. My excuse was that I had simply had a bad dream.
Deciding to confront it and continue with our plans rather than cancel and never know, I packed the car and we got ready for our trip. I did however, take time to write a poem stating my faith and conviction should the worst happen.
The feeling kept growing in intensity the more our trip progressed, so much so that I decided to make a change in the route. I thought it would take us out of danger and possibly calm my nervousness by a drive through the national forest as the route change would take us.
The feeling kept growing in intensity.
It was a pleasant drive, the forest was beautiful, it was a nice sunny day and the traffic was minimal.
Suddenly we found ourselves in a severe thunderstorm where I slowed the car and turned on the headlights. It was a narrow road with no shoulders and I thought it best to keep moving rather than pulling over to stop.
As we approached a hill I thought "This is it!" The feeling was overwhelming. At the top of the hill I began looking for something though I didn't know what.
There it was! Out of the pouring rain appeared a pickup coming toward us on our side of the road. His lights weren't on yet I had enough time to slow the car sufficiently to allow him to return to his side of the road.
The doomed feeling left me immediately as I watched the truck disappear in the rain through my rear view mirror. Within the next couple of miles, the thunderstorm passed, the road dried and the sun was shining.
We arrived at Grandmother's house safe and sound.
Almost everyone has these abilities of intuition. Though they are termed para-normal, beyond what is considered normal, I believe these skills are quite normal and natural. The problem is that they are feared, little understood, undeveloped and are often deceptive to our limited knowledge of them.
Psychic abilities can give us insight into the hidden parts of our selves, can enhance our ability to make decisions, and can enrich our lives in a great number of ways.
Whether you realize it or not, these talents are natural and a normal part of functioning as a fulfilled human being. They aren't magic, exotic or mysterious.
In the past many of those who have discovered and developed their psychic abilities have then allowed them to dominate their lives. Others have sought profit from them from anyone who would pay. As a result psychic aptitude has received a bad name.
A quote from Bernard Gittelson, author of Intangible Evidence says it best: "The purpose in developing psychic skills is not to be able to perform parlor tricks but to add a useful and natural skill, to develop an inherent though repressed potential. . . It can help us through life. Enjoy it, have fun with it, play with it and take it lightly. Have a sense of humor about it and use it in good faith."

EMS holds monthly meeting

The Sutton County Emergency Medical Service held their monthly business meeting on September 5.

The topic of diesel versus gasoline engine ambulances was on the agenda. At this time Ford Motor Company is only supplying diesel ambulances and for the past several years our local ambulance service has used the Ford product.

A committee was established to look into an award system for "years served with the organization." Committee members are Leslie Thorp, Wayland Dobbs, Jody Luttrell, Pat Campbell, and Jonnie Hodges.

Officers elections will be held in the October meeting. Everyone was encouraged to be thinking of good candidates for these elections.

After the meeting was adjourned, the members and their families had a pot luck hotdog supper and celebrated Labor Day.

HOME EC BRIEFS

Getting more fiber in your diet

For the sake of a healthier diet, Americans are being urged to eat more fiber.

The advantages of adding fiber are clear. Research indicates that certain types of fiber may help lower blood cholesterol levels and help regulate blood sugar levels. High fiber consumption may also help protect against cancer of the colon and rectum and even promote weight loss.

There's no specific recommended dietary allowance (RDA) for fiber, but health experts generally advise 15 grams of every 1000 calories. For most people that's about 20-35 grams a day.

Most Americans eat about half that amount—8 to 14 grams of fiber each day. Try these few changes in your eating habits to improve fiber intake:

*Eat more vegetables. Vegetables are the leading source of fiber in our diets. You don't have to stick with the obviously "high-fiber" vegetables like celery either. Peas, for example, are known for tenderness, yet they contain four times the fiber, ounce for ounce, than celery.

Eat more legumes. If you like chili and beans, baked beans or bean soup you're in luck. The humble dried bean has a high fiber content. Yet only 13 percent of the population eat beans on any given day.

*Switch from white bread to whole grain breads. The dark breads, like whole wheat, cracked wheat, rye and other are a richer source of fiber than white bread. But only 22 percent of the population eats whole grain breads daily.

*Eat more fruit, apples, pears, peaches, oranges and almost any other fruit you can think of make quick, inexpensive and nutritious snacks. However, only 58 percent of the population eat fruits on a daily basis.

These changes aren't difficult to make and can help you put more fiber—and health eating—in your diet.

Altizer-Coors invitational roping set for October

The eighth annual Jim Bob Altizer-Coors Invitational Roping will kick off this October 1 and 2 in the Altizer Arena on Qualia Drive in Del Rio.

The roping, hosted by Jim Bob Altizer, himself a two-time world champion roper, annually attracts the nation's best calf and steer ropers.

The event is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. on Saturday, October 1 with over thirty top calf ropers aiming at the jackpot prize as well as a trophy saddle and added monies.

On Sunday, the steer ropers will take to the arena for more than $40,000 in prizes in addition to a trophy saddle.

The ladies will compete in a WPRO approved Barrel Race at 10 a.m. on Sunday. They will run for a jackpot plus a trophy saddle.

Other special features include a raffle for a half beef to be given away on both days, plus an auction of donated items.

Tickets are $5 for adults and $2 for children and are available at the gate as well as Alley's Boot Hill and Sam's Boot Corral in Del Rio and at M.L. Leddy's and the West Texas Boys Ranch Development Office in San Angelo.

All proceeds from this event will go to benefit West Texas Boys Ranch in San Angelo.

Farmers/Rancher's prayer

The following prayer was offered at a meeting of the Independent Cattlemen's Association in Victoria.

"As farmers and ranchers, dear God, please give us wisdom and patience to understand why a pound of T-bone steak at $2.50 is high, but a three-ounce cocktail at $1.75 is not, and a 50¢ cup of soft drink at a ballgame is cheap, but a 15¢ glass of milk for breakfast is inflationary.

"And Lord, please help me to understand why $5 for a ticket to the local movie is a bargain, but $3.35 for a 60-pound bushel of wheat is unthinkable.

"Cotton is too high at 60¢ a pound, but a $20 cotton shirt is on sale at $18.50. Corn is too steep at two cents' worth in a box of flakes, but the flakes are just right at 50¢ a serving.

"And also Lord, help me to understand why I have to give an easement to the gas company so they can cross my property with their gas lines and then double my price for gas.

"And also, dear God, help me to understand the consumer, who drives by my field and scoffs at me for driving a $70,000 piece of equipment that he built so he could make money and drive down that right-of-way they took from me to build a road so that he could go hunting and fishing.

"Thank you, God, for all your past guidance and help, and please help me to make sense of it all."

Tool to improve rangelands

Planned grazing

Increasing production of beef, wool, or mohair with little extra expense is one benefit of a grazing technique being used throughout our area.

Tom Payton, Range Conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service, said the technique is what range scientists call a planned grazing system.

"A planned grazing system merely means you rest, or defer from grazing, pastures in a planned sequence," Payton said. "Several producers in our area are using the method and each system has its own advantages and disadvantages.

"But what is important is that they all work when carried out properly and they all improve profits while improving rangeland. The key is to graze and rest all pastures in a regular sequence, especially during the growing season.

A common system used locally is called a four-pasture, three-herd system; in which livestock are rotated between four pastures about every four months. This system is often called the Merrill four pasture, named after Dr. Leo Merrill, who developed it while working at the Sonora Research Station.

Other systems include a three-pasture, one herd system; a three-pasture, two herd system; a two-pasture, one-herd system; a short duration grazing system (eight or more pastures grazed in rotation with one herd); a cell grazing system; a high intensity, low frequency system; or whatever.

Resting rangeland during the growing season breaks the continuous pressure put on better plants when livestock are allowed to graze pastures yearlong. Since livestock prefer plants high in protein, they bite them off daily while leaving plants lower in protein untouched. This weakens the more desirable plants while interior plants are allowed to thrive and multiply.

Resting rangeland in a planned sequence gives the better plants a chance to compete and multiply, thus increasing the amount of high quality plants available per acre.

Nearly all rangeland pastures also have areas where livestock concentrate such as around water, bedding grounds, and feed grounds. Under continuous use, these areas are always overgrazed and never produce up to their potential due to low plant vigor of the better plants. By resting pastures, you allow those plants to rapidly increase vigor, thicken the stand, increase forage production, and reduce erosion.

Resting also breaks the selective grazing pressure that continuous use puts on the more productive range sites. In a pasture with both deep clay and shallow soils, livestock usually tend to overgraze deep sites under continuous grazing. Because of this overgrazing, they seldom produce to their capability."

SCS personnel who give technical assistance to landowners and operators through the local Edwards Plateau Soil and Water Conservation District, can help producers work out grazing systems. For more information, call 387-2730 or come by the Soil Conservation Service office located at 201 NE Main, above City Hall.

My name is Robert "Beto" Duran of 102 Wilson in Sonora, Texas. I have decided to run as a "write-in" candidate for Commissioner of Precinct 1. I was born in Sonora, Texas. I was raised here and attended the Sonora Public Schools. I am sixty years of age.

My family consists of my wife, Alda, and my two children, Sylvia Gamboa of Sonora and Robert Duran, Jr. of Houston. I have four grandchildren. My son and daughter both graduated from Sonora High School.

In the past I have worked for a number of ranchers in Sutton County and was employed by the Texas Highway Department for 18 1/2 years. For the past 5 years, I have been employed by First National Bank of Sonora.

I am very interested in the welfare of Sonora, Sutton County, Texas and if elected I will do my best to work for the betterment of our County, to see that our taxes are not increased and stand by the principles I believe in. I also believe that my life, and my reputation will speak for itself.

Your vote will be appreciated November 8, 1988

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

GENERAL ELECTION
NOVEMBER 8, 1988

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that when the federal government reimburses the state for expenditures of state funds dedicated to acquiring rights-of-way and for constructing, maintaining, and policing public roadways, such federal funds must also be used for those purposes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment and/or clarification providing that federal reimbursement of state highway dedicated funds are themselves dedicated for the purpose of acquiring rights-of-way and constructing, maintaining, and policing public roadways."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 2 proposes a constitutional amendment to establish an economic stabilization fund in the state treasury. The fund would consist of one half of the unencumbered balance of general revenues at the end of a biennium and three fourths of the difference between the net oil and gas production taxes received in a fiscal year and the net oil and gas production taxes received in the 1987 fiscal year. During any fiscal biennium, the amount in the economic stabilization fund could not exceed 10% of the total deposited in general revenue in the preceding biennium.

The state comptroller and the state treasurer could decide to transfer monies from the fund into the general revenue fund to alleviate a temporary cash shortage in general revenue. The legislature could make appropriations from the fund on approval by a three fifths vote of each house to make up the difference between anticipated general revenue and appropriations. On approval of two thirds of the members of each house of the legislature, the legislature could appropriate monies from the fund for any purpose.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment establishing an economic stabilization fund in the state treasury to be used to offset unforeseen shortfalls in revenue."

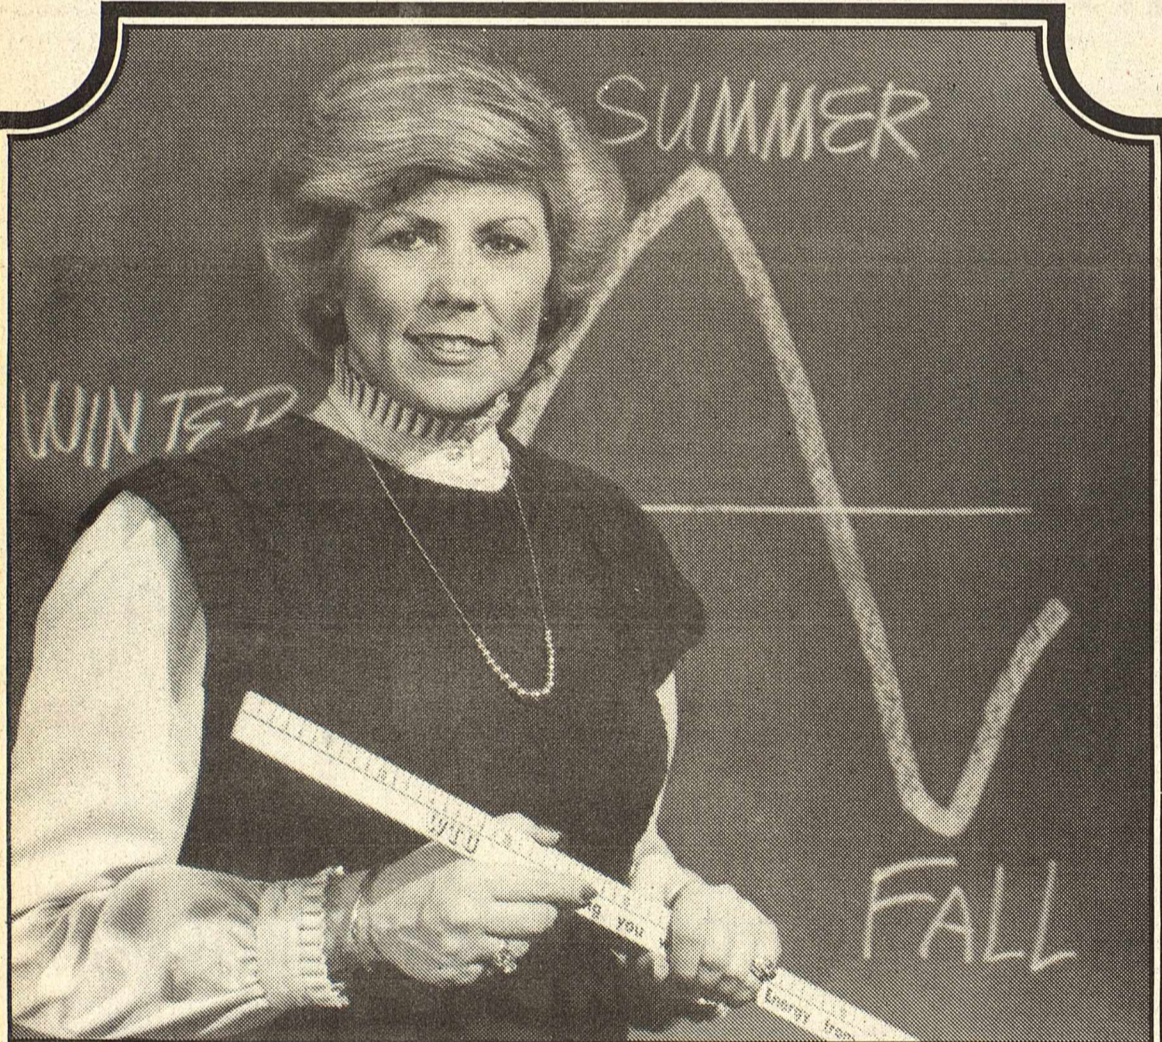

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment that establishes the Texas growth fund. All investments of the Texas growth fund must be directly related to furthering economic growth and employment opportunities in Texas. At least 50 percent of the fund must be invested in equity and/or debt security for the initial construction, expansion, or modernization of business or industrial facilities in Texas. Not more than ten percent of the fund may be invested in venture capital investments. Of the funds available for venture capital investments, not more than 25 percent may be invested unilaterally, and the remaining investments must be matched at least equally by funds from other sources. The Texas growth fund will be managed by a board of trustees consisting of four members appointed by the Governor and one member from and elected by the membership of each of the following: The Board of Regents of the University of Texas System; The Board of Regents of the Texas A&M System; The Board of Trustees of the Teacher's Retirement System of Texas; The Board of Trustees of the Employee's Retirement System of Texas; and the State Board of Education. The trustees may set the investment policy of the fund, enter into investment contracts, and take any action necessary for the creation, administration, and protection of the fund. The amendment authorizes the Board of Regents of the University of Texas System and the State Board of Education, in managing the permanent university fund and the permanent school fund, to acquire, exchange, sell, supervise, manage, or retain any kind of investment, including investments in the Texas growth fund. The fund will be phased out after the tenth anniversary of its creation, but the Legislature may create a second growth fund by a two thirds vote of each house.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide for the investment of the permanent university fund, the permanent school fund, and public employee retirement systems in the Texas growth fund created by the amendment, which will directly create, retain, and expand job opportunity and economic growth in Texas."

"Now you can pay the same amount every month of the year for your electric bill!"

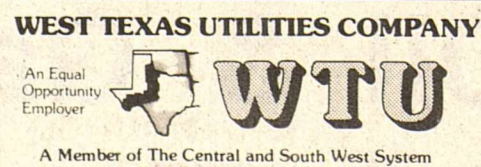

It's easy with WTU's Equal Payment Plan.

Electric bills peak in the Summer and Winter when demand is up and are lower in the Spring and Fall. With the Equal Payment Plan, you can level out your electric bill because the monthly payments are averaged and adjusted over a year.

Any WTU residential customer or church with approved credit and a monthly bill of $15.00 or more can qualify.

ICA fall cattle sale September 30

Plans are underway for the Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas Fall Cattle Sale, to be held at the Beeville Livestock Commission, Friday, September 30, 1988, in Beeville, Texas.

"The sale will be held in conjunction with our regular Friday sale, with the cattle donated to ICA being sold first, starting at noon," according to Buck Butler, co-owner and manager of the market.

ICA's newly elected President, Bob Nunley, Jr., stated that this cattle sale is one of the most important fundraising events of the year for ICA, because the money raised goes a long way toward supporting the ongoing work ICA does for the independent cattlemen and landowners in the rural communities of Texas.

"With the 71st Session of the Texas Legislature not far away, we'll need a lot of cattle to sell, along with cash contributions, to be fully prepared for what we may have to face in 1989," said Roy Wheeler, Chairman of the ICA Cattle Sale.

For more information on donating cattle, transportation or Cattle Sale Donations, contact one of these committee members: Roy Wheeler, Pleasanton, 512/569-2516; Wayne Dierlam, Victoria, 512/575-3224; Brewster Brown, Gonzales, 512/424-3445; Sedley Martin, Leesville, 512/424-3381; Carl Wendler, Schulenburg, 409/743-4030 progress in the program.

Through three wars, Frank and Zola carved out a home for their family and a place for friends to come and enjoy. They fashioned a piece of 'ideal America' which gave cause and a symbol for the members of their families that fought in those wars and a place to return where the tragedies and horrors of those wars could be left behind.

A mixture of feelings accompanied the writing of this article. For the most part, they are like those you feel when you finish a good novel where the main characters overcome all odds and gave of themselves to so many and then go forth to "live happily everafter." There is a bitter-sweet warmth that prevails over a peaceful, melancholy state of mind with the sadness it has ended and gladness for the experience.

Sims receives degree

Lee Ann Sims was among the 160 students to receive degrees during summer commencement at Angelo State University.

Graduating cum laude, Sims received a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in health and science.

In closing and speaking for:

That seven year old boy that lost his father, your brother, you were his 'father-figure' well into his manhood;

That boy you took in a few summers to escape an overbearing, alcoholic step-father, you showed him a real family;

Broncos kick Eagles

The Sonora Broncos won over the Junction Eagles last Friday in Junction with a score of 14-13.

With no score for either team in the first quarter, Junction put seven points on the scoreboard in the second quarter. With thirty-seven seconds remaining in the first half, Manuel Martinez ran in a two-yard touchdown for the Broncos.

Junction ran in a forty-two yard pass in the third quarter to boost their score another six points while the Broncos remained scoreless for the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Martinez again scored a touchdown after Michael Harris completed a pass to Todd Keller. A conversion after a fourth quarter touchdown gave the Broncos the one point lead over the Eagles.

The Varsity squad will meet the Eldorado Eagles this Friday in Eldorado while Junior Varsity will play the Ozona Lions in Ozona Thursday night.

The 7th and 8th grade team will also meet Ozona on Thursday night with their season opener. This game will be played in Sonora and will begin at 5 p.m.

BRONCO TAILS

News from Sonora High School

Extra-curricular activities are in full swing now at Sonora. Most people are rushing around from one thing to the next. The freshmen are finding out there's a lot to do besides classes at Sonora High.

One of the big stories this week is last weeks varsity football game with Junction. A couple of close calls and breathless moments made for a very exciting game as the Broncos stopped an Eagle drive in the last few minutes to hold on to a 14-13 lead. Congratulations to Decky Spiller and Jeff Lowder, last weeks captains. The September 16 game will be in Eldorado.

GAA's met last Thursday to organize people to do locker stickers and sell programs. Officers for 1988-89 are President-Brittany Kemp, Vice-President-Kanda Kropp, Secretary-Treasurer-Raina Newbury. Anyone wishing to join GAA's needs to see Mrs. Kordzik. Dues are $1.00.

The junior class received their class ring packets last Thursday.

Many of them are excited about this step-one closer to graduation.

Class meetings were held this week to elect officers. Results will be in the paper next week.

The band is busy, busy, busy with sectionals and Monday night rehearsals. The show is really starting to shape up. Right now we are looking toward a possible marching contest in San Angelo on October 8th. For all you band parents, your meetings for the Band Boosters are on Tuesdays now that the band is practicing on Monday.

The NHS met for the first time this year on Tuesday. This year's officers are President-Jesse Lynch, Vice-President-Wheless Baker, and Secretary-Treasurer-Cynthia Kepler. The NHS want to encourage students to keep their grades up because at the semester, grades will be checked for membership eligibility. In other words, we need some more people!

The FCA will be meeting at 7:00 next Tuesday night in the Library
