Lady Broncos win Bi-District play

by Cynthia Kepler

There's no place like Sonora High! Well, there's no place with the possible exception of San Angelo on Friday and Saturday. Our very own Lady Broncos are still rumbling down the road and the Band is close behind!

Last week I bragged because the Lady Broncos were District Champs. This week they went one better to become Bi-District champs. A whole crowd from Sonora was in the Central High gym Friday night to cheer the Lady Broncos on to a 66-52 victory over Coahoma. Scorers for the night were: Christie Adkins, twenty-one; Anna Balch, thirteen; Mitzi Joy, nine; Debra Harris, eight; Wheelless Baker, six; Kay Williams, six; and Donna Pierson, three. These girls have gone undefeated in their last seven outings, and all of them have done an excellent job. I'm also proud of our Sonora fans at the game, two more seating sections had to be pulled out for us. I hope that as many of you joined us at Lakeview Tuesday night for the Area playoff. Congrats Lady Broncos. We're proud of our #1 girls!

Third graders tell of TEAMS test

"I felt sord of scared," "I felaed sad"

The students in SISD recently completed the TEAMS test. Mrs. Lynch asked her third grade writing class to express their feelings regarding the test. Here's what the youngsters had to say:

The TEAMS test is a test that students take every year. It has three parts: math, reading and writing. This test is for helping them go to one grade to another. When the tests have been graded and the results have come back, the homeroom teacher will usually call out the grades.

I had to take the test because I am in school and evry kid in school has to take it.

When I was taking the test I felt nerous and exsited. I didn't want to take the test. When I got used to the test I could wait to get it over.

Erin Payton

The TEAMS test is a test that you take every year except when you are in 2nd, 4th, 6th, 8th, 10th and 12th grade. The TEAMS test is not very hard if you studied and listened in class.

You have to take the TEAMS test because they want to see if you are ready for the next grade level.

When I was taking the test I got nervous. I didn't want to take it, but I did. After I took the test I was hoping I made a hundred.

Katrina Michelle Cooke
The TEAMS test is a test that you take every year except when you are in the 2nd, 4th, 6th, 8th, 10th and 12th grade. It is not very hard if you listen.

You have to take the TEAMS test because they want to know if you were listening when they were teaching you before the TEAMS and want to know what you have learned and want to know if you are going to the next grade.

When I first started the TEAMS I was nervous and a little scared. But now the second and third day it was easy. Then I liked to do the TEAMS. But I hated to go to sleep early!!

Amy Elizabeth Torres

I think the TEAMS test is a test that everybody in Texas takes to review what they learned in all of the subjects. And if one child keeps on missing the same thing that child will be retaught.

We take the TEAMS test to make sure we don't forget anything that we've learned.

Alot of children feel nervous about taking the TEAMS. But not me. I was just glad it was over when it was over.

Ashley Browning

A TEAMS test to me is something that is for you to learn.

If you listen alot and study hard for TEAMS you might get a "4." If you study hard but you didn't study hard enough you might get a "3" or a "3t." If you hardly don't study you might get a "2" or "2t." If you don't study you might get a "1" or a "1t" which is not very good as a grade.

I had to take the TEAMS test

Band to get new uniforms

Meeting in regular session on February 14, the Board of Trustees of the Sonora Independent School District voted unanimously to purchase new uniforms for the band.

Bids were received from Sol Frank Uniforms, Inc. for $31,943.71 and from Fruhauf for $36,031.50. Bryant Harris, band director, explained to the Board that the more expensive uniform would prove to be the best buy due to its lasting quality, better construction and better materials used in construction.

Rex Ann Friess, chief appraiser for the Sutton County Appraisal District reported on the results of a recent audit by the State Property Tax Board saying their appraised value figure of $452 million is $21 million more than local figures show. As a result of the alleged difference in the value of local property, state funds for the 1989-90 school year may be reduced approximately $164,000, according to the formula now in use to assign funding to local school districts.

Joe David Ross, a member of the local Appraisal Review Board, said that in his opinion, the figure established by the local office was the more accurate of the two, and that a protest of the state higher figure was in order. He concluded his remarks with words of praise for the staff of the local appraisal office, commenting on their fairness and accuracy in establishing the tax base for taxing entities.

The Board agreed with Superintendent James Bible's suggestion that no action on installing lights on the high school parking lot be taken until the state completes installation of the street lights abutting the lot.

High School Principal Charles Russell presented a plan to the Board for expansion of the vocational program in the district. He said the two basic programs, either of which would satisfy state requirements and enhance the basic curriculum, were Industrial Technology or Vocational Agriculture.

The ensuing discussion touched on several topics, among them the possible conflict between a Vo. Ag. program and the local 4-H program and full utilization of the existing shop area and equipment in the high school.

An informal poll of Board members revealed six preferred the Vo. Ag. program, while Becky Johnson favored the Industrial Technology program. Mr. Russell was asked to proceed with plans for having a Vocational Agriculture program in place for the 1989-90 school year.

In closing, the Board unanimously approved offering contracts for 1989-90 school year to the following administrators: Charles Russell, High School Principal; Smith Neal, Junior High School Principal; Miguel Ramos, Intermediate Principal; Clay Cade, Primary School Principal; Warren McCarron, Director of Business; and Jerry Hopkins, Athletic Director.

Local residents do well at stockshow

News from the San Antonio Livestock Show and Rodeo places Sutton County residents in some favorable positions.

Matthew Smith led Sutton County 4-Hers in placing a cross-bred lamb tenth in a class of 118 lambs. Shawna Faris was eleventh with a heavy finewool.

Other 4-Hers placing in the top twenty were Tracy Crites, Justin Morley, Keith Wallace, Decky Spiller, and Brian Faris with two lambs. Sutton County did well in comparison to other neighboring counties in what was the toughest Producers may choose a three to five year contract and draw up to $3,500 per contract year. All practices under the annual program are included in the LTA Program. SCS has technical authority for the program. For more information, stop by the office or call 387-3111.

Official Quarter Horse Show results placed Allison Powers first on "Maydeck Winsalot" and third on "Chicks Mr. Maydeck" in Amateur Barrel Racing. Both horses are owned and exhibited by Mrs. Powers.

Publishers Comment

Well, your generosity has done it again! Several weeks ago, I ran an appeal in this column for $400 to be used to pay for orthodontics for a young man in Sonora. The entire $400 had been pledged by the day after the paper came out. Since all involved prefer to remain anonymous, a simple thank you will have to suffice.

To coin Paul Harvey . . . "and now the rest of the story."

In December, we you told of Jaime Arturo Lozoya Cano of Chihuahua who had attached a Letter to Santa to a balloon and sent it aloft. The balloon's trip was stopped by branches of an oak tree on the property of a local rancher.

We also told you that Jaime would know there was a Santa. The rancher made arrangements to purchase and send almost all of the items Jaime had included on his list.

This rancher received a phone call recently from Jaime's uncle which acknowledged receipt of the package and an extremely excited Jaime was put on the phone to thank the rancher.

It seems that on November 20, Jaime's grandmother held a joint birthday party for Jaime and eleven of his brothers, sisters and cousins. She gave each of the children one of the flimsy cellophane balloons as a favor and the children decided it would be an excellent way to make contact with Santa, each expressing their wishes for Christmas.

Evidently Jaime's balloon was the only one fortunate enough to fall into the right hands as his was the only one which received a response.

I feel quite sure though, that there are twelve children in Chihuahua, Mexico who definitely believe in Santa Claus now thanks to a very special local person and the efforts of those who helped him accomplish this merry Christmas story.

Another story of local color which has come to light on the eve of it's sixty-third anniversary is that of Kidie Halbert (grandmother of L.P. Bloodworth) and her granddaughter, Betty Jo (Bloodworth) Reinhardt (mother of Dan Reinhardt).

Think if you will of a grandmother's love for a granddaughter who is ill with diptheria and in her delirium was calling for her grandmother. Naturally, the grandmother is going to go to the side of this granddaughter, right? The only problem is that the granddaughter is in Decatur, Illinois and the grandmother is in San Angelo.

This wily grandmother took a train out of San Angelo to Fort Worth where she chartered an open-cock airplane, crawled aboard to fly to Decatur. Blizzard conditions blew the plane two hundred miles off-course and the plane wound up landing in a farmers field outside Butler, Missouri. The grandmother took a train on into Decatur.

West Texans, and especially if they come from Sutton County, are a rare breed for whom we can each thank God!

Why can't these unpleasant confrontations be stopped?

DEAR COMMISSIONER NABERS: I have a complaint about the TEC hearing process. I recently attended a hearing and brought a current employee with me as a witness. My employee testified that the claimant had boasted on several occasions about not following orders. After my witness testified, the claimant turned on her, firing questions such as, "How do you know the comments were not said in jest?" and "Do you mean to say that YOU have always followed orders?" The claimant, through these questions, was clearly signaling to my witness that if she did not shut up the claimant might stir up enough trouble to cause her major problems as well. My point is, it was very unpleasant! Why should all witnesses be present in the hearing

Mary Scott Nabers

Texas Business Today throughout the entire process? I believe it is unnecessary and intimidating. Can something be done about this?

D.A.
Houston, Texas

DEAR D.A.: The problem here is that you are failing to distinguish between a witness and a party. The claimant is a party and has the right to hear, respond to, and cross examine all evidence which is presented at the hearing. You as the employer representative, are also a party and have the same rights. If a party has more than one witness, the TEC hearing officer may require that the witnesses wait outside the hearing room until it is their turn to testify and may then bring them in one at a time. This is not to prevent their being intimidated or uncomfortable but to ensure that their testimony is not tainted by having heard the testimony of the other witnesses.

Once you are finished having your witness testify and the claimant has had an opportunity to cross-examine that testimony, there is nothing to prevent you from requesting that your witness be excused from the hearing room. You do have the right to recall witnesses later in the hearing should that prove necessary.

You also have the right to object to questions posed on cross-examination that you feel may not be relevant. In your recent case, for example, it might be reasonable for the claimant to try to establish that a remark he made in jest was misconstrued. It is, however, questionable whether your witness' own work performance is relevant to the issue of the claimant's misconduct. The hearing officer is responsible for directing the course of the hearing and keeping the parties focused on the issues at hand. If this is not happening, do not hesitate to voice your concerns on the record.

Ms. Nabers represents 336,000 employers throughout Texas. If you have any questions you want answered, please write Commissioner Nabers at: TEXAS BUSINESS TODAY, 614 Texas Employment Commission Building, 15th and Congress, Austin, Texas 78778.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

by T. Driskell

We are witnessing some shameful human characteristics within our comprehension sphere. We are seeing the grisly specter of mass ignorance and bare-knuckled human emotionalism raise its head. It seems modern man shoves aside toleration and solves slight, insignificant differences with bursts of emotionalism. One must wonder if the recent demonstration was follow up on all of the demonstrations we had related to the "Last Temptation of Christ"? It must be noted, however, the demonstrations did not begin to confront the Last Temptation until the movie came out, and with a chagrined chuckle we must wonder if it has something to do with literacy. It is unfortunate that our protestants set a precedent that has given our benevolent friend the Ayatollah Khomeini a powerful weapon. Salman Rushdie wrote a book Satanic Verses. I have held conversations with two friends who have read it, both articulate authors themselves and both express similar opinions, that the book is a complex combination of Islamic history and verse, hard to read and very boring. The Christian friend thought it might be a tirade against all religion. The muslim professor thought that it might have been written to deter erosion of another religion into Islam. Asked if he felt it attacked his beliefs, he said it was not of significance, and had the self appointed spokesman for Allah, Khomeini, kept his mouth shut, it would have gone unnoticed. The Shiite reaction to Khomeini's placing a reward on Rushdie's head was certainly not lost on Khomeini and it should not be lost on us. Any personnel identifiable as foreigners operating in an area with a large Shiite population can be placed in jeopardy by a single utterance. The Ayatollah has reduced a once wealthy nation to shambles, and his execution of thousands of his educated has gone far to reduce his nation to Shiite levels. He needs diversion factors and we can supply them by sending aid and missionaries into critical areas, after all, they are heretics to the fundamentalist Muslims.

Electric rates expected to increase 20-87% over next few years

by Tom Smith
Director of Public Citizen's Texas Office

Electric rates will increase from 20-87% over the next seven years for most Texans. Why? The Public Utility Commission--which is supposed to keep utilities from building unneeded electric plants and passing the cost on to us--has failed to do its job.

What difference does it make? Try the following simple test:

Multiply your current electric bill by 41% and add it to this month's bill, or worse try multiplying your current bill by 87% and add it on to your current bill. If you live in the H.L.&P. or C.P.&L. service areas rate increases of this size are in your future over the next 4-7 years, and rate increases of similar magnitude may loom for the consumers in Texas Utilities service area. Look at their past performance. They are promising no more than a 20% increase, but remember, they also promised that their $9.1 billion Comanche Peak plant would only cost $700 million.

Why are rates going up? The culprits are a series of unneeded and overbudget power plants that have been completed or which are being built even though alternative ways to produce or save electricity like cogeneration and conservation are abundant in Texas and cost 1/3 to 1/2 as much as completing and operating these big new plants.

We don't need these plants--a recent study has indicated that we would have 23% more power than we need if none of these plants were completed, and plenty of power into the next century. Some utilities have as much as 67% more power than they need.

It's not just your electric bill that will be affected. Think about what an increase of that magnitude will mean to your grocer, or to your local taxing bodies. The price of everything will increase to cover these dramatic electric rate shocks. Such increases in the cost of electricity mean that business and industry have to cut back on labor costs and will have less to invest in new processes. High electric rates will make Texas much less attractive to new industries. According to Public Citizen's 1985 study, entitled Risky Business, 850,000 to 1,250,000 jobs will be lost in Texas over the next 30 years due to the high cost of electricity.

Why has the PUC allowed this to happen? Consumers are simply overwhelmed by the utilities resources. Utilities have the right to hire as many witnesses, experts and lawyers as they want and pass on the bill to you and me. As an example, H.L.&P. has spent over thirty million dollars so far trying to prove that just one plant is needed. Compare that to the PUC's $8 million budget for regulating all electric and telephone utilities, or to the paltry $700,000 the state allocates to its consumer counsel to protect us from all the big utilities.

A coalition of consumer and business groups have been studying this problem for several years. We believe there are four simple steps that can be taken to prevent rate shock from damaging our already fragile economy in Texas.

What can you do?

Contact your legislator and ask
Con't. on pg. 4

HOME EC BRIEFS

by Micki Miller, CEA-HE

The National Cholesterol Education Program recommends that cholesterol tests become a routine part of all physical examinations, and all adults should know their cholesterol count. If the results show a cholesterol level:

*Under 200 mg/dl: The person is probably in a low-risk group. He or she should be retested at each complete physical and certainly every five years.

*Over 200 mg/dl: A second blood test should be done to confirm the findings of the first one.

*Over 200 but less than 240 on the second test: The person should be advised to go on a low-fat cholesterol-lowering diet.

*Over 240 on the second test: The testing laboratory will be asked to provide a breakdown of HDLs, LDLs and other blood lipids. People with existing heart disease or major risk factors such as high blood pressure, diabetes, obesity and cigarette smoking should have HDL and LDL levels tested regardless of the total cholesterol count.

Depending on results, a strict diet and lifestyle change may be prescribed. If not totally successful, drugs may be necessary along with the diet.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

How can I estimate my social security benefits when I retire?

My wife and I are in our mid-30's and are considering different retirement plans. How can we estimate what our social security benefits will be when we retire?

The Social Security Administration will now project what your benefits will be when you retire, based on your latest earnings level. In the past, the only figure available was the amount you paid into Social security in the past.

To get an estimate, you will need Form SSA 7004 from your local Social Security Administration office.

You will get a report telling you how much you have earned in social security benefits so far, how much you have paid in past social security taxes, and an estimate of your future social security benefits. The report also details the disability and survivor's benefits to which you may be entitled.

to list the CD's.

The possible "catch" for consumers is the broker's list only contains those institutions which deal with that brokerage firm. However, the list at a major firm could contain nearly 1,000 institutions' names-many more than an individual investor could call.

I recently read an ad from an investment firm offering to conduct what they called a "CD search." From what I can determine, this firm will search the country for the best CD rates. How does this search work? What's the catch?

For people interested in investing in Certificates of Deposit who do not want to spend time shopping around for the best interest rates, these CD searches can be helpful. Many major brokerage firms offer this feature through their investor services departments.

Brokers at these firms search their computer data banks for an institution offering the best rates for the amount of money invested.

There is no cost to the customer for this service because the institution pays the brokerage firm

A new push to bring more child abusers to trial

by Congressman Martin Frost
Over the past two years, the tragic problem of child abuse has received attention by the media, and many of us are shocked to learn that, according to the National Institute of Justice, approximately 90 percent of all child abuse cases never get brought to trial. Other statistics verify that the 90 percent figure is a conservative estimate.

These disturbing statistics translate into the sad reality that most child abusers go free and, in all too many instances, continue to do harm to children. There are many legal and practical problems associated with successfully prosecuting a child abuse case.

In most instances of child abuse, the only witness is the child. If the child was abused, the trauma of that experience could render that child unable to testify in the presence of the person who committed the crime. Evidence shows that children who have been abused and are then forced to testify in open court can suffer further trauma.

The use of live, closed-circuit testimony is one way to minimize the trauma to abused children without compromising the rights of the accused. Texas was one of the first to adopt such a law--now joined by 26 others--allowing closed-circuit testimony to be used in child abuse cases. Two main obstacles prevent the widespread use of closed-circuit testimony: cost and constitutionality.

Legislation was introduced to authorize up to $20 million in federal funds for states that have laws permitting the use of closed-circuit testimony in child abuse cases. Under this bill, states with such laws would be allocated a minimum of $50,000, with funding apportioned by population. These funds could only be used to initiate or expand facilities and training of personnel for the implementation of closed-circuit testimony in child abuse cases.

Many district attorneys favor the expanded use of closed-circuit testimony; however, most local governments cannot afford to buy or rent the necessary equipment. The bottom line is that cost is, and will remain, a key factor in the future expansion of closed-circuit testimony, unless state and local governments receive financial assistance and guidance from the federal government.

The other main obstacle: constitutionality. Last year in the Supreme Court, an Iowa law allowing children to testify behind screens was held unconstitutional. But, the Court did clarify that closed-circuit testimony and other methods to minimize trauma to child victims of sexual abuse would be permitted on a case-by-case basis, under an individualized finding that witnesses need special protection.

States must be encouraged to adopt reasonable closed-circuit testimony laws that pass constitutional muster, if such laws are to receive the approval of the Supreme Court.

The end objective of these efforts is to bring more child abuse cases to trial, which in turn will result in more child abusers being convicted and sent to jail-where they belong.

SELF CONTROL

by J. Michael Fish

Days of our lives

The life expectancy of the average human being spans some 26,280 days, 72 years. It seems that each of us has an abundance of a common commodity--days. These are units of time with which to create, build and immortalize your space and existence.

These units or pieces of time can be formed, refined and used as building blocks in the art of living. Like bricks to a mason or items to their corresponding collectors, each day can be considered the raw material used to 'fulfill individual purposes.'

If you are business oriented, each day provides an arena in which to vie for profit and professional success using your own standard of ethics. A spiritually minded person might accomplish those things that contribute to the glory of God while someone else might be drawn toward home and family where everything centers around a tight central location and loved ones.

Whatever the inclination, the situation can be created to support and guide you in the proper direction.

Through your skills and abilities in formulating a day, you mold and shape them to fit the grand objective of your own "purpose," your way. You can simply react to situations or you can take control and guide the days in your own behalf.

You smooth the rough edges of each day by the manner and attitude with which you confront your day's minus factors. You strengthen it with knowledge and insight; wisdom gained from mistakes and failures; and successes and accomplishments. You fashion it to fit the general outline of those passed and your desires for those to come.

Take the time to examine each day, making sure of those certain details important only to you. Allow it to fall into its place rather than forcing it to fit some temporary or superficial goal. Groom and shape it with the beliefs and opinions you've cultivated through the years. Allow it to reflect the craftsmanship you have acquired with experiences from your past. Color and decorate it with the collection of ethics and attitudes that only you possess.

Put You into your day!
A day is just a day until you get there and do something with it. You decide what will have good and bad or right and wrong qualities for they come from within you.

I have long disliked the saying "Live only from day to day" because it infers that no thought should be given the future. You stand no chance of properly fitting a day into your life without having some idea of the "big picture." Have a realistic set of goals and objectives in which to guide the direction of your days.

Surround yourself with those things that seem to make living worthwhile--occupation, area, loved ones, and spiritual affiliations. Interact with all areas of your life separately to maintain proficiency of control and simultaneously to meld them into a fulfilling lifestyle.

Whatever their importance, all of our yesterdays and today's are the foundation on which our tomorrows rest--they are the "Days of our Lives."

The hard facts on soft aerobics

Low impact or "soft" aerobics--energetic dance exercise without the "jump" may help to lower blood pressure, improve cholesterol levels, reduce the risk of heart attack and stroke, and maintain a desirable weight.

Everyone, from beginners to trained athletes, can benefit from this type of exercise. The trick is to work hard enough to raise the heart rate to its aerobic target range and keep it there for at least 20 minutes, repeating the workout at least three times a week, on nonconsecutive days.

Low-impact dance aerobics has been described as intense arm work done above heart level in coordination with high-powered stepping. It requires energy expenditure and builds higher levels of muscular and cardiovascular fitness. And, best of all, it sidesteps the risk of shin splints and the foot, knee, and lower back injuries that plague many devotees of high-impact aerobics.

In low-impact dance aerobics, one foot is always touching the ground, and the knees are usually bent. Using light hand weights can increase the intensity of the workout for experienced exercisers.

As with high-impact aerobics, a warm-up period of 3 to 5 minutes, a cooling off period of gentle stretches for 3 to 5 minutes, and attention to control and good posture throughout add to the safety and effectiveness of the workout.

TEAMS . . .

because this test was very important for me to take. I'm trying to make a "4" in every thing. I'm trying to make a "4" and a "3" in writing. If I make a "3" in writing I get a pizza. If I make a "4" in writing I get a coke. In my class if I make "4's" in everything I get a candy bar.

I felt happy about it but I was not nervous. Maybe some other kids were nervous. Maybe some kids were nervous because they wanted to get things that the teacher would give away.

Nina Martinez

I think the TEAMS test is a test that we have to take to learn more things. And to get even more and more smarter. The subjects we have on the test are math, reading and writing.

I had to take the TEAMS test to review what I had learned. I also had to so I could get ready for the 4th grade.

When I took the TEAMS test I felt a little nervous. I also felt a little scared.

The TEAMS test is a hard job for little people!

Charlotte Alewine

The TEAMS test is all about the things students learned such as writing, reading and math. When the results come back, the teachers know how they are doing. Everyone does the teams. This testing helps everyone go from one grade to another. The teams test is almost the same thing as a cat test. Sometimes if you do very good on the test you might even get an award.

We have to take the test for several reasons. First, so the teacher knows if we have paid attention in class. Next Mr. Romas gave the teams test to the teacher and the teacher gave it to use to do.

When I first heard about the teams test I felt nervous. When the test came and gone, I said to myself now that's not so bad.

Raven Rainer

The TEAMS test is a test that will be taken in the middle of the school year. The TEAMS test is just taken by first, third, fifth, seventh, and so on. If you get a 4 on the writing part you will get a personal pan pizza from Pizza Hut.

You have to take the TEAMS test because if you don't you wouldn't know when the of the year and also it is a good review.

I felt happy after the TEAMS test. Now I can go to bed later and watch more TV.

Drew Dempsey

In this paragraph I will tell about TEAMS Test.

1. What is the TEAMS Test? TEAMS Test is a test that contains Writing, Reading, and Math.

2. Why did you have to take the TEAMS Test? I have to take the TEAMS Test because the school have to see how smart I am.

3. How did you feel about taking the TEAMS Test. I felt kind of nervous because I thought I would not make a four.

Mando Palas

The TEAMS test is a test of three subjects, Math, Reading, and Writing. This year we started with Writing then Reading then Math. TEAMS takes up two class periods in the morning. TEAMS is a test a like.

Students take TEAMS to see if they pass. Certain tests do that. TEAMS is most poperlyar, I think. It is also good to take the TEAMS test.

When TEAMS first appeared in front of my face, I thought it was easy looking and easy. I still do, and I'm through. TEAMS is easy. I want a little more challenge. But it is still fun taking it, at least it cut classes short.

Kellie Downing

The TEAMS test is hard, long and most of all boring. When you take the TEAMS you have samples to help you out on what you are going to be working on during the test. TEAMS is also the three r's Writing, Reading, Arithmetic. First when you take TEAMS you first have Writing, then Reading, then Arithmetic.

You have to take the TEAMS so you can get treats like candy bars and pizza. Most of all you have to take the TEAMS to get smart.

When I took the TEAMS at first I was scared but I got over it. Then I found out it was pain. Now I am glad its over and I can stay up late and watch more T.V.

Justin Morley

The TEAMS test is an important test that all of the odd grades has to take. It has the three R's in it for the questions.

I had to take the TEAMS test because our teacher and principal told us to and if we don't do what they they want us to we go to the office and get a whipping.

I wasn't nervous or anything when it was time to take the TEAMS test. It was really easy.

Cara Jackson
The TEAMS test is a test we take. It is stuff we have learned through the year. It is trying to see if you have all the stuff in your noodles. The test is a long test but it is a good test.

We have to take the test to see if we have all the stuff that we have learned through the school year in our noodles, just like I said.

When I start the test I am nervous. When we are almost finished I kind of like it. When we are finished with the whole test I am real happy.

Jason Jacoby

The TEAMS test is when children are reviewing skill. That they have learned.

Children have to take the TEAMS test because it will see if you are going to go to the next grade. And because they want to know if you are ready for the harder work.

At first I felt scared dut when we began starting to test I felt better. And now that we done with the test, I am happy.

Yolanda Campos

The TEAMS test is to test see if we are ready for 4th grade. And to see about how well we might do in 4th grade.

You have to take the TEAMS test because if you don't you won't be able to go to 4th grade.

I felt sord of scared but I liked it the 2nd day. And I couldn't wait until the next day.

Fernie Emiliano

The TEAMS test is a test given to children all over Texas.

You have to take the TEAMS test so that your teachers will know how smart you are.

I felt good about taking the TEAMS test.

Tavia Valliant

A TEAMS test is a test that you have to do what you have lerned during the first of the year.

We have to take the TEAMS so the teachers can see if were gowing to go to the fourth grade.

I felt scard at first but I got over it. Knowing that it is over I fell sadd beacous it was very fun.

Stephanie Daniels

The TEAMS test is a test to see what you can do by yourself. I had to take the TEAMS to see if I cloud go to the fourth grade and to see if I can remeber anything we have studied or talk about. I feel great about the Teams Test it was not hard at all!

Joni Thorp

One day I was playing with my friends. Then when it was twelve oclock I tolled my mom that I had homework. She made me do it till it was four oclock in the morning, mom I'm tired. Well go to bed and the next time you have homework do it, okay okay mom.

Mom tomorrow is the teams test, I said. After the teams test Mrs. Lynch my teacher put sentences on the board. The first one was What is the teams test? The second one was Why did you have to take the teams test? The third one was How did you feel about taking the teams test?

I answerd the questons and the answers were. The first one was a teams test is to tell how much you know during the year. The second one was to see if we are rady to go to the next year. The last one was I felt sacred about taking the teams test. But I am glad we took it because it really helps us.

Jason Arredondo

TEAMS test is a test that kids take all over Texas.
I had to take the TEAMS test to see if I was ready to go to the 4th grade.
I felt nervous at first but then I got use to it.

Tracy McKnight

The Teams is a test to see if you are smart and to see if you need help with school work. We had to take the Teams test because t make you smart. I felt nervas and tard.

Lindsey Whitworth

The TEAMS test is a book that we have to do with Writing, Reading, and Math.
We had to take the TEAMS test because we have to make sure we have passed or flunked.
I fealed sad because I had to go to sleep early in the night.

Scott Perez

The TEAMS is a test to see if you are going to pass Third Grade or not.

We had to take the TEAMS test because it is something you have to do in the Third Grade.

I did not feel nervous because Mrs. Patton said when we were going to start the TEAMS test to not be nervous. So I did not get nervous on the TEAMS test.

Adela Castaneda

The TEAMS test is a test you have to take. You also have to be very smart to do this test. You even have to get lots of rest to.

We have to take the TEAMS test to be able to pass 3rd grade. If we do not pass all for test we do not pass 3rd grade.

I felt proud of my self about the TEAMS test. I was not nervest.

Michelle Ramirez

A TEAMS test is a booklet that has a circle, and some people marked in the circle. We had to take the TEAMS test because our teacher told us that we had too. When I was taking the TEAM test I was lazy and awful.

Omitting may cut nutrients

Leaving out entire food categories to try to avoid cancer and heart disease may cause many Americans to consume inadequate nutrients, according to a nutrition expert at Texas A&M University.

Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten, a registered dietician and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said diet modification is not a solution for every person trying to lower the risk of chronic and degenerative illnesses.

People have come to hope that by altering their diet, or by supplementing food with vitamins and minerals, they can avoid cancer, heart disease and osteoporosis, even though not one of these illnesses is directly attributable to nutrition.

"Those thinking along this line typically speak out against consumption of fat, sugar and salt. However, high-fat, high caloric foods are rich in nutrients needed by children and adults," Sweeten said.

While many health professionals recommend that Americans consume more fiber, all we know is that fiber, like cholesterol, does not affect everyone the same ways, she said.

Sweeten said although physicians should provide dietary guidance for some patients, it is inappropriate for public health officials to assume that everyone is equally susceptible to chronic and degenerative diseases, thus creating fear about eating certain foods.

"Leaving out specific food from diets may give some people confidence that they are doing what they can to stay healthy," Sweeten said.

She said problems exist, however, when public officials suggest that by eliminating categories of food, the risks are covered.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Social security's name protected

It is illegal now for advertisers or solicitors to use the name "Social Security" to mislead the public, Franklin H. Upp, Social Security Manager in San Angelo, said recently. Also banned is the use of copies of Social Security cards or emblems to give a false impression that the government is endorsing a particular product, service, or organization.

Restricting use of Social Security's name was one of the provisions of the "Medicare Catastrophic Coverage Act of 1988" signed into law last July, Upp said. The law covers books, advertisements, circulars, pamphlets, radio and television broadcasts, and other communications. Civil money fines can be imposed for violations. Upp stated that the new law will help protect the public from unscrupulous persons who try to prey upon fears or ignorance. The best place to get correct information is directly from the Social Security Office. Name changes, earning history reports, and other services are always free from the Social Security Administration. Many services can be handled with just a phone call.

The San Angelo Social Security Office is located at 2214 Sherwood Way, and its telephone number is 949-4608. Upp said suspected Social Security-related misleading advertising should be referred to the Social Security Office.

Original minutes of organizational meeting

Members of the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department have been compiling history of the department for some time. Among the things gathered include the original minutes of the organizational meeting held March 2, 1896. It's believed that Robert Mayer is the only current member who is a direct descendent of the original founders.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORGANIZED

The citizens of Sonora met at the court house Monday night March 2, 1896, for the purpose of organizing a fire department.

T. D. Newell called the meeting to order and John W. Hagerlund was elected chairman after which Mike Murphy was elected secretary. The chairman stated the object of the meeting and requested E. A. McCarthy of San Angelo, to give his views on organization which he did in a very satisfactory and comprehensive manner.

Moved, seconded and carried, that the Sonora Fire Department consist of two companies, each of 15 men, a chief and a fire policeman.

The following 32 men offered to join the department: Lewis Mayfield, Henry Moon, W. A. Stewart, W. R. Rudicil, D. H. Burroughs, Felix Vander Stucken, W. D. Thomason, J. P. McConnell, George Traweck, Max Mayer, E. S. Briant, F. M. Wyatt, Steve Murphy, T. D. Newell, G. S. Allison, Carl Atkinson, J. B. Hill, Ed Trimble, J. M. Bell, Bob English, Henry Cusenbary, C. F. Adams, Henry Decker, E. R. Silliman, Fred Kessler, John Fulcher, R. C. Dawson, John McGleary, G. B. Duke, S. H. Stokes, R. E. Covington, and Herbert Falmer.

Moved, seconded and carried, that the members of the fire department present elect their chief and fire policeman and that the election be by ballot.

The chairman declared D. H. Burroughs elected chief and J. P. McConnell elected fire policeman.

Moved, seconded and carried, that the names of the thirty firemen be put in a hat and the first 15 withdrawn compose hose company No. 1, and the other 15 compose hose company No. 2.

This was done with the following result:

Hose Company No. 1: S. H. Stokes, T. D. Newell, H. Cusenbary, G. S. Allison, Henry Decker, F. M. Wyatt, Max Mayer, Herbert Falmer, Bob English, Felix Vander Stucken, R. C. Dawson, Lewis Mayfield, G. B. Duke, W. A. Stewart and John McGleary.

Hose Company No. 2: George Traweck, Fred Kessler, John Fulcher, W. R. Rudicil, H. Moon, Ed Trimble, C. F. Adams, E. R. Silliman, J. B. Hill, E. S. Briant, W. D. Thomason, J. M. Bell, R. E. Covington, Steve Murphy and Carl Atkinson.

There being no further business before the house the meeting adjourned.

Thirty women tested

The women in Sonora were fortunate to have the convenience of the portable Breast Cancer Detection Unit at the Hudspeth Hospital on Saturday, January 28, 1989. The Unit will make another visit to Sonora in the fall. A mammogram can detect a tumor in a breast long before it can be felt. The Sutton County Unit of the American Cancer Society is very proud of the small part we have in this service to the local women. According to the American Cancer Society statistics, one out of every ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

The best weapon against breast cancer is early detection. That is why a mammogram is so important. It "sees" breast cancer before there's a lump, when the cure rates are near 100%. That could save your life; it might even save your breast. A mammogram is still the most effective weapon against breast cancer. If you're over 35, it's essential you have one. Because all breast cancer needs is a place to hide.

Ms. Darla Pollard was the technician in charge of the unit, a very special young lady interested in each person, caring-kind-gentle but thorough.

We do not have the result of the six tests that were sent to doctors in San Angelo but a total of thirty mammograms were made. Dr. Pajestka's office reported out of nine tests two required immediate follow-up. Dr. Lind's office reported fifteen tests three required immediate follow-up.

Families sought

Host Families are being sought for twenty-five high school students from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Spain, France, Italy, Brazil, Ecuador, New Zealand, Australia and Japan for the SCHOOL YEAR 1989-90 in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

The students, age 15 through 17, will arrive in the United States in August, 1989, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in June 1990. The students, all fluent in English, have been screened by their school representatives in their home countries and have spending money and medical insurance.

Families interested in this program should telephone toll free: 1-800-SIBLING.

Funding for long term care will become concern

"Long Term Care" refers to a broad range of medical, social, and supportive services for persons who need help with daily self-care tasks and who are likely to need this assistance for an extended period of time. Long term care may be delivered in institutions such as nursing homes or facilities for the mentally retarded in the impaired individual's home. Other settings for long-term care might include personal care homes, foster homes, or adult day care centers. "Meals on Wheels," congregate meals, and respite care are other examples of long term care services.

Already a sensitive issue, funding for long term care will become an even greater concern as the nation attempts to cope with the aging of the baby boom. Texas services are not meeting the current demand, much less projected needs in the future. Supportive legislative action is necessary.

For example, federal regulations allow persons with incomes at or below $1062 a month to be eligible for Medicaid Assistance Only (MAO) so that Medicaid will pay for their nursing home care. Medicaid regulations allow for states to apply limitations, however and the Texas eligibility cap is far below the federal maximum. Texans with incomes over $707.15 a month are not eligible for MAO in nursing homes.

Eligibility for other long term care services, such as Community Care for the Aged and Disabled, or CCAD, is tied for the Medicaid nursing home cap. CCAD services are designed to prevent or delay institutionalization and financial and functional eligibility requirements are set by the Texas Department of Human Services (TDHS) according to the availability of funds, which in turn depends on state and federal appropriations. Many more community based services could be provided if Texas would designate sufficient matching funds to draw down the necessary federal dollars to the appropriate state agencies.

There is widespread consensus that the eligibility cap for Medicaid in nursing homes should be raised.

Senator Chet Edwards has introduced a bill to this effect. However, if the MAO cap is increased without a corresponding change in CCAD eligibility, persons who might otherwise be maintained at home will be more likely to enter nursing homes. Raising the MAO cap unilaterally will reduce the effectiveness of CCAD as an alternative to institutionalization. It will prevent people from exercising their preference to "age in place," which decreases costs while increasing life satisfaction.

Other action pending on the long term care front is the repeal of prior legislation that would have placed liens on the estates of certain Medicaid recipients. This measure has proved so unpopular that numerous bills, S.B. 1, H.B. 201, and H.B. 21 have been filed to revoke it.

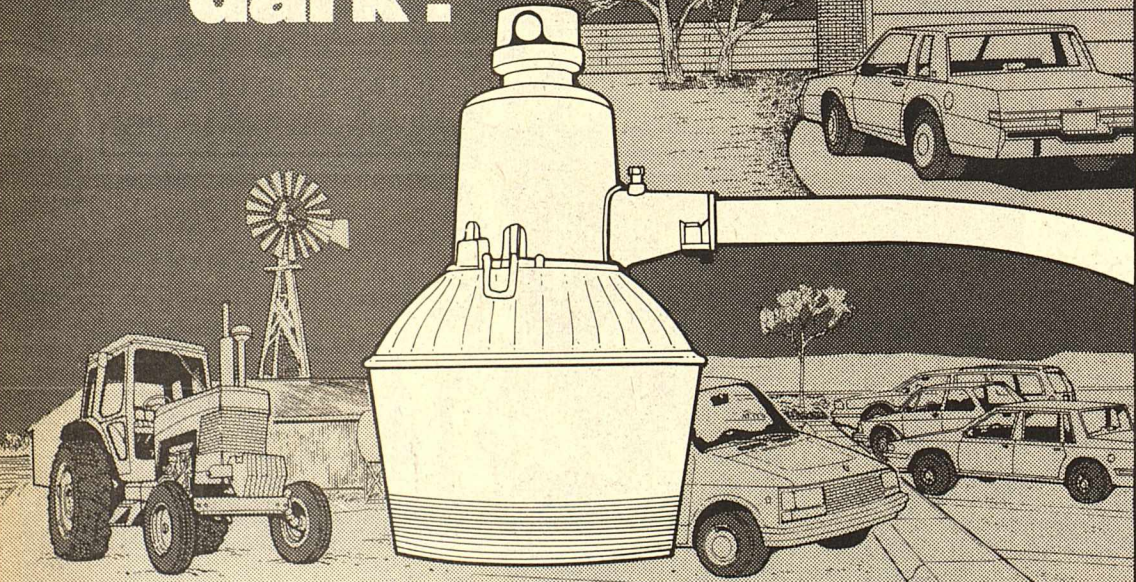

Gray Panthers is concerned about quality long-term care and asks your support for legislation that will meet changing needs in Texas. AT&T announces April 1, 1989, price changes for Long Distance Service (MTS) within Texas. AT&T's prices for long distance calling within Texas will be increased by two cents per minute for calls under 82 miles in distance and one cent per minute for calls that are 82 miles or greater in distance. AT&T's current discounts of 25% for evening calls and 40% for night and weekend calls will remain in effect. The price increases are expected to produce approximately $22.8 million, which is nearly 2.9% of AT&T's annual revenues for Texas Long Distance Service.

This represents the first AT&T price increase for long distance calls within Texas. AT&T's long distance prices for calls within Texas have been reduced overall by about 12% since 1986.

The Long Distance Service price changes will also impact AT&T's PRO<sup>SM</sup> WATS Texas offering, which offers subscribers a 10% discount on all long distance calls within Texas. These price changes are expected to produce approximately $661,000, or about 3.5% of the annual revenues for AT&T's PRO<sup>SM</sup> WATS Texas offering.

Prices for AT&T's REACH OUT<sup>SM</sup> Texas offering will also change. The price for initial hour usage will increase from $12.55 to $12.95; the additional hour price will increase from $11.40 to $12.00. These price increases are expected to produce approximately $364,000, or about 2.1% of the annual revenues for AT&T's REACH OUT<sup>SM</sup> Texas offering.

AT&T's tariffs implementing these changes will be filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas on March 1, 1989, with an effective date of April 1, 1989. The combined price increases are expected to produce approximately $23.9 million, which is approximately 2.4% of AT&T's annual revenues for all Texas intrastate services.

If you have questions regarding these price changes please call AT&T's service consultants at 1-800-222-0300 for residential customers or 1-800-222-0400 for business customers. ## Smokeout Results

The results of the Gallup Survey conducted after the Great American Smokeout are as follows:

*36.9% of the nation's 50 million smokers participated. This means 18.4 million smokers quit or cut down for the day.

*10.7% of the nation's smokers successfully abstained from smoking for 24 hours. This is a total of 5.4 million smokers.

*3.4 million smokers were still abstaining from tobacco use 1-3 days after the Smokeout.

*86% of those surveyed (1,203 men and women 18 or over, by telephone) had heard of the Great American Smokeout.

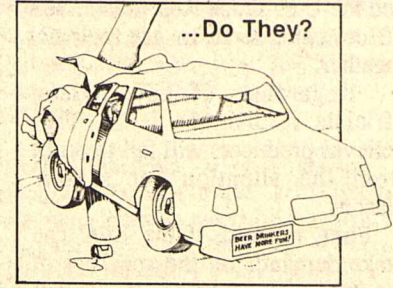

It is not surprising that participation figures are down from last year. As the country's smoking population continues to decrease, we are left with a "hard core" of smokers who are more difficult to reach.

We can expect decreases in participation because they reflect increases in the number of ex-smokers and nonsmokers in the population. The number who are successful for 24 hours and the number who are quitting for longer periods are very consistent from year to year.

We are seeing lots of examples of your Smokeout coverage in the clipping service. You are all to be congratulated for another high-profile American Cancer Society Smokeout.

Scouting News

January was a busy month for the boys in Troop 19. On the 8th they held their Court of Honor. The boys receiving advancements in rank were Daniel Lind and Gilbert Vara to Tenderfoot; James Jones to Second Class; and Casey Thorp and Robert Zook to First Class. The following boys received skill awards and/or merit badges since our last Court of Honor: Rodney Conger, first aid skill award; Joel Cox, insect study merit badge; James Jones, first aid, hiking and physical fitness skill award; Daniel Lind, citizenship and first aid skill awards; Bruce Morgan, citizenship in the community merit badge; Casey Thorp, first aid and citizenship in the Community merit badges; Jericho Thorp, citizenship in the community merit badge; Gilbert Vara, citizenship and first aid skill awards; Robert Zook, physical fitness skill award, citizenship in the community and swimming merit badges; and Blake Adkins, citizenship in the community merit badge.

Then on the fourteenth there was a Junior Leader Training session in San Angelo. Attending this training session were Joel Cox, James Jones, Bruce Morgan, Jericho Thorp, Robert Zook and Evelyn Zook. Upon completion they received certificates and patches.

There was a historical hike along Concho Ave. and ending at Fort Concho on the 15th. This was a joint hike with Webelos Wolf Patrol. Boys attending this hike earned their Ft. Concho historical patch. They were Gilbert Vara, James Jones, Robert Zook, Keith and David Varner, Jon Jon Zook, Jeffery Surber and Jr. Odum.

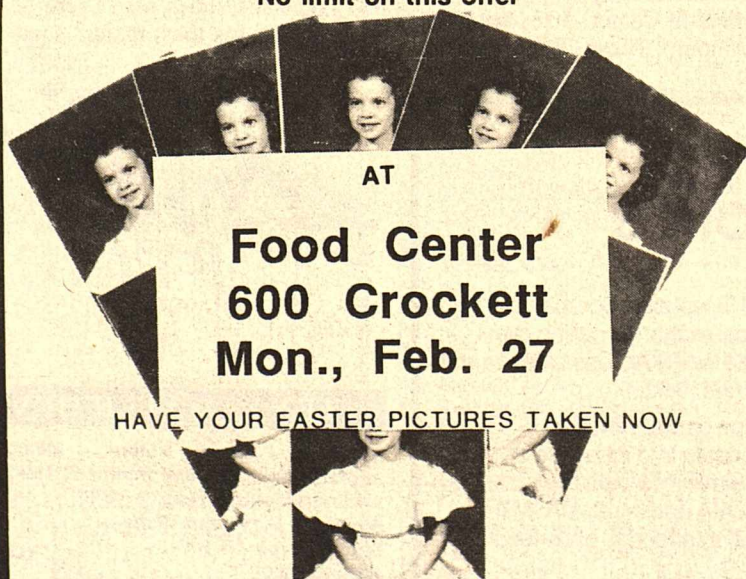

Winter Camping? Sure, Why not! That's what they did. The boys got their gear together and headed to Camp Fawcett after school on Friday the 20th. It was cold but in spite of it they all had fun. Attending the camp out were Scoutmaster John Zook, James Jones Sr., Rodney Conger, Toney Duren, James Jones, Daniel Lind, Gilbert Vara, Robert and Jon Jon Zook. A special thank you goes to Mr. Jones for being able to come along.

Anytime the boys go hiking or camping there has to be at least two adults accompanying them for safety reasons. A second adult is hard to find. When one volunteer is it greatly appreciated by the boys, because without the adults the boys can't go.

Also in January, three new boys joined the troop. A special welcome goes out to David, Keith and James Varner.

Designed for Texans

How did we design a VISA/MasterCard for Texans? It's easy. We just designed a credit card to appeal to a very tough customer. First, we kept the interest low. Next we forgot about annual fees. And finally, we decided to give our customers 25 days interest free on every purchase. 14% APR. Absolutely no annual fee. Automatic 25 day grace period.

Now that's a credit card tough Texas customers can appreciate.

14% APR. No Annual Fee. 25-day grace period on every purchase. The Texas Card. It was worth the wait.

*The Annual Percentage Rate is subject to adjustment each quarter to equal the "Quarterly Ceiling" computed by the Texas Consumer Credit Commission for such quarter.

True says farmers, ranchers will fail to profit from situation

With the U.S. Department of Agriculture waffling on rejection or acceptance of Texas Agriculture Commission Jim Hightower's plan to sell "hormone-free" beef to the European Community, Texas farmers and ranchers still lose in the end, according to the president of the Texas Farm Bureau.

"The situation has become extremely confused," said S.M. True, a cotton, grain and cattle producer from Plainview, and president of the state's largest farm organization. "It appears the folks from Washington, D.C., both at the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the U.S. Trade Representative's office, can't seem to get their act together."

Regardless of how federal officials resolve the issue, True believes producers will fail to profit from the situation for several reasons.

First, he said, if the EEC can make demands on the specifics of the types of commodities it will accept, then that raises the opportunity for any country to do the same.

"To start erecting certain types of trade barriers that either we will or will not be able to comply with, that means the whole format on our trading posture has changed, True said. "And that's a very significant problem as we seek to increase our export markets for farm commodities."

Second, even if an agreement is worked out with the EEC, it's unlikely farmers and ranchers will have a true market, he said.

"If we lose the opportunity to use these natural growth promotants, then we'll lose from $20 to $80 a head in lost efficiency," he said. "Again, another tool is being challenged here in agriculture."

True said producers are worried that consumer activists in this country will follow the EEC's lead and make the same type of demands for American beef even though research does not support their claims. The result could spill the issue over into the general population, when based on scientific evidence, there is really no issue at all.

"Thanks to deliberate misinformation and confusion consumers are obviously concerned, and they should not be," True said. "They should not be afraid because our food and food supply are safe."

"Commissioner Hightower has sworn to serve as an advocate for Texas farmers and ranchers. If what he's doing is serving as an advocate for farmers and ranchers, I'd certainly hate to see what he would do if he were opposing us."

Fire is useful tool

Fire can be used as a tool on rangelands as efficiently today as our forefathers 100-150 years ago and the Indians before them used it. Whereas the use of fire to accomplish certain objectives is not new, there is a re-newed interest in the use of it as a tool.

Numerous objectives can be met by using prescribed burns depending on the needs of the rancher. Some of the things which burning will help to accomplish include cleaning up pastures so that livestock can be more readily seen and worked, and increased production and utilization of coarser grasses. Fire will also help remove chained or dozed woody material and help to control regrowth of certain species. Fire, followed by herbicide, has been used quite frequently the last few years to assist with prickly pear control; the burning reduces the amount of chemical required to get good control of pear.

Smokey the Bear has given fire a bad name over the last couple of decades. If we understand that fire is an important component of range development and the wild fires they played a role in the way that our rangelands did develop, then we get a proper perspective on the use of fire.

The Soil Conservation Service, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will have personnel trained in prescribed burn plan development and in assistance to ranchers who are considering burns on their grasslands.

Although fire can be beneficial, unless carefully planned and conducted, they can be extremely detrimental or even hazardous to people and livestock. Pre-burn plans must include enough rest in pastures to insure that a fine fuel load of grass is grown to insure good success of the burn. About 2000 pounds of grass is generally needed for a burn to accomplish objectives.

Firelines must be cut around the area to be burned prior to the time of the fire. Most ranchers are using road graders or maintainers to accomplish this although some are using disc plows to do the same thing. The critical point is that the fire line must be free of vegetation to insure that the fire does not escape.

The weather conditions for conducting the burn are critical and must be adhered to in order for the burn to be safe. Generally the prescription for most range fires is a temperature of 40 to 70 degrees F, a relative humidity of 35-60%, and a wind speed of 5-12 miles per hour. Use of this prescription minimizes the risk of the fire escaping or burning areas which were not supposed to be burned.

There are certain conditions under which a prescribed burn should never be conducted. These are called "red flag conditions" and fires should never be started when one or more of these conditions exist. The "red flag conditions" include wind gusts greater than 20 miles per hour, relative humidity below 20%, air temperature above 80 degrees F, and cold front to pass through within 12 hours.

If you are planning a burn or if you think that a prescribed fire might help you to accomplish certain objectives, contact the Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service or certain Parks and Wildlife Biologists to assist you with planning and conducting the burn.

Directory of foundations

Texas foundations with assets of over eight billion dollars, gave away more than 430 million dollars in 1987, according to information recently published in the Tenth Edition of the Directory of Texas Foundations. The Directory is published by the Funding Information Center in San Antonio, Texas and is the primary resource tool used by non-profit organizations seeking information about Texas foundations.

The Tenth Edition, published in December 1988, contains information on 1817 foundations extracted from 1987 and early 1988 tax returns. The Directory, published on a two-year cycle, is the only statewide directory of foundations in Texas and contains the most complete and up-to-date information available on all Texas foundations. Detailed descriptions have been provided on 1509 foundations, 50% more information than in the Ninth Edition.

The Tenth Edition of the Directory of Texas Foundations is available from the Funding Information Center for $100. The price includes the Tenth Edition Supplement, the companion reference to be published in late 1989. ## COWBOY ASTROLOGY

By Mary Ellen Doty

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Now the old Ram can usually be found struttin' round the barnyard, looking for a little action. But this week he better plant his hooves in one spot long enough to figure out where he'll get next year's hay. Budget ain't a dirty word!

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Lady Luck shore sits on your shirt-tail this week. You take home a big chunk o' change in whatever game you're sweatin'! If you decide not t' play, ya better start wonderin' about the health of your spirit. P.S. - Stck close to home this week.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You old Genini's are tough Hombres - lean n' mean - can spit tacks a mile. But maybe, just maybe you could use a little cuddlin' at home this week. But there's a catch - you got to ask.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) High-town astrologers might call you an old crab, but yer friends would say you're a hell-ova soft-touch. dreamin' more than a dusty cowpoke ridin' in close on a beer joint. This week don't let none o' those old cowpokes rib ya out of your day-dreamin'. 'cause you're gonna dream up a scheme t' make you cold coin by next summer.

LEO (July 23-August 22) Think you'd like to hit the ropin' arena this week-end - show them dollies what a real man can do with a rope and a wink? Not so fast, pardner. Gut-grindin' labor makes you happy as a lost soul with Hades in a flood - in 3 more weeks!

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept 22) You are ready for a double harness. I'm just not so sure about that filly o' yourin. Can't blame her considerin' the treatment she's gotten from you lately. She ain't a show horse up for judgin' points on and points off. You got work t' do, boy, or all you'll see o' her is the trail she left.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 22) You've been lonely as a preacher on pay night when yure at home. And what's got your eye ain't legal. Men have been shot for thinkin' what you are thinkin'. Stick to yer own range.

SCORPIO (Oct 23-Nov 21) You been just solemn as a tenderfoot trapper skinnin' a skunk. Come on. Life ain't so heavy! You see a way outta all that soberness for next summer. It ain't too early t' pack your saddle bags.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22-Dec 21) You lucky Sag's always come away from the game with a roll that'd choke a cow - n' 2 weeks later that same roll wouldn't choke a chickadee. This week some old boy (prob'ly a Capricorn) teaches you 'bout holdin' on t' that coin! If ya listen, you'll have a mighty fine '89.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 19) Now your sights may be doublin' up on you, but it ain't because o' too much tonsil varnish. It's jst the stars! With your head, don't decide to sell the ranch this week!

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb 18) You been scared as a rabbit in a wolf's mouth 'bout...well, who the___knows? You got all ya need 'n' then some. Stop yer stewin'!

PISCES (Feb 19-March 20) Some tenderfoot comes to the wise old Pisces (Pisces are old 'n' wise even when they're young) this week for some o' your tongue oil. Give him your best talkin' talents as he's in trouble!

Public Notice

On November 9, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed a tariff which proposes to prevent local exchange calling over interstate, unrestricted, multi-jurisdictional, WATS Access Lines (UWALS) and intrastate WATS Access Lines (WALS).

UWALS are provided to interexchange carriers for their use in the provision of interexchange interstate and intrastate long-distance and WATS-type services. Similarly, WALS are designed for use in the provision of interLATA and intraLATA WATS services. The UWALS and WALS were not intended to allow local exchange calling.

If these proposed tariff changes are approved, the blocking of local exchange calls over intrastate WATS access lines and UWALS will take place within 30 days. This proposed tariff change will not result in the blocking of local calls placed to an 800 Service number.

The Public Utility Commission (PUC) of Texas has assigned this matter to Docket 8421. A hearing on the merits of these proposed tariff changes is scheduled for March 13, 1989.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should mail a request to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757 by February 27, 1989. Further information may also be obtained by calling the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

WATCHIN' and WONDERIN'

with Zeke Smith

Howdy! Glad to be home after travlelin' a bit. Travelin's okay if you're not rushed too much. If you're in a hurry, all airports and towns look the same.

I was flyin' on an airplane a while back, bein' bored to tears by this nice fellow next to me who kept explainin' this computer he had in his lap, when mercy me, you'd a thought we'd crashed into a pig pen. I mean, the whole plane was suddenly full of serious stink.

I tried not to notice. I sat there wigglin' my nose, holdin' my breath, turning blue, and watched my computer buddy doin' the same thing. Finally, I had to breathe. That was a mistake, but unavoidable.

I turned to look around and quickly spotted the problem at hand. The fellow across the aisle, who was dressed in some fashion that must be acceptable in California or New York, I suppose, had taken his shoes off. There he sat, wigglin' his toes, readin' some gentleman's fashion magazine, and dang near killin' me.

Well, I squirmed a little more, and got up to go to the bathroom. I thought maybe I could wait in there until I could breathe again.

I came out and mentioned to the pretty little lady who was servin' us that I thought we had a problem and that if it was all right with her, I was gonna handle it myself.

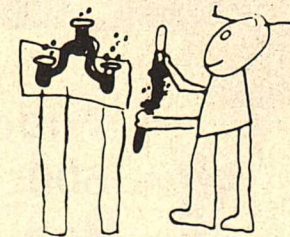

She said she'd smelled it, but couldn't locate the source. I told her we country boys had good noses and where she could find the outlow.

Well, I'll be skunked if when she went and talked to this boy, he had the nerve to deny it and stick his expensive shoe in her face to smell. At that point, I considered puttin' my boot in his teeth to smell, but I refrained.

Anyway, I have a solution to this. The whole country ought to wear boots, 'cause you can't get out of 'em in public places. I think I'll write my congressman.
