SON OF A GUN - Sutton County Game Dinner master of ceremonies L.P. Bloodworth and prizes.

Annual game dinner attracts record crowd

The 21st Annual Sutton County Game Dinner and Hunter's Party attracted record numbers of participants Monday evening.

An hour before the dinner began, the Sutton County 4-H Center was swarming with activity.

The air was filled with mesquite smoke and the fragrance of fresh wild game being roasted and fried. Caldrons of beans and stew bubbled over open flames. Chefs labored over their grills, and assistants were kept busy stocking coolers with hot meat.

More than 800 people attended the festive event.

"Hey, have you tried the goat fries?" asked one chef, indicating a steaming platter of what made Del Rio's Doc Brinkley famous.

The newcomer eyed the fries suspiciously, but it was love at first bite.

"They're... good," he said reaching for more.

"Try the fried venison," offered another chef.

That proved to be delicious as well - as was the roast wild boar, fried antelope, sausage, buffalo - and the dinner hadn't even started!

Hundreds of hungry diners queued up for more than an hour as the 4-H Center became packed. A wall display of more than two dozen hunting rifles kept the participants eagerly awaiting the calling of door prize numbers.

Beside the rifles and shotguns the door prizes included color televisions, binoculars, camping equipment, liquor, fishing gear, auto accessories, silver dollars, and a traditional Sonora item - a mohair blanket.

The master of ceremonies, L.P. (Lonly Ponly) Bloodworth, presented the annual Hunter of the Year award to Tom Dickerson.

After scores of prizes were passed out, the dinner was over. Families congregated outside in the cooking area where the aroma of barbecue lingered. After such an enjoyable evening with friends and neighbors, it was difficult to call it a night.

Are our elected officials 'absent' minded?

Only five members of the present Sonora Independent School District Board of Trustees were in office and have served on the board since the first meeting of the year was held Jan. 10, 1989.

Since that time two members, Julio Samaniego Jr. and Scott Shurley, have left. Michael Smith became a board member in May, and Shurley's seat remains vacant. The attendance of the five board members Jim Garrett, Gary Hardgrave, Donald D. Patton, Becky Johnson and Joe Garcia, at 17 regular, special and emergency meetings of the board is as follows:

	60%	70%	80%	90%

EMS member completes special course

Sutton County EMS member Adolfo Elguezabal recently completed an Emergency Medical Technician-Special Skills course held in San Angelo. The course was given by Angelo Community Hospital from March 6, 1989 to May 17.

He was certified as an EMT-SS on July 17.

There are a total of 160 hours in a Special Skills course, 30 hours dedicated to lecture time and 30 hours spent in practical skills practice. Elguezabal worked 30 hours in the emergency room at Angelo Community Hospital and an additional 20 hours were spent observing in surgery. He had to do three live intubation and five IV insertions. He was also required to spend 50 hours working with the EMS in San Angelo and to make three Advanced Life Support runs. All of these hours and the three ambulance runs had to be done prior to his May 17 test date.

Elguezabal said, "I wanted to further my education in Emergency Medicine, with the hope of some day become a Paramedic."

Elguezabal became interested in Emergency Medicine in 1987, and took Emergency Care Attendant course given that year in Sonora.

ADOLFO ELGUEZABAL

He was certified in May 1987. Then from January 1988 to March 1988 he took and Emergency Medical Technician course given by Angelo Community Hospital. He was certified in March 1988.

Elguezabal has lived in Sonora for 10 years and graduated from Sonora High School in 1984. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Elguezabal.

Brown completes equipment course

Layton Brown, Jr. of Sonora, an employee of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, recently graduated from a month-long course offered by the Texas Engineering Extension Service, a part of the Texas A&M University System.

The Heavy Equipment Operator Course is conducted by the Construction Equipment Training Division of TEEX to familiarize workers with the five types of equipment most commonly used by State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Workers from Borger to Victoria attended the course held at the Texas A&M Riverside Campus in Bryan. The 22 participants graduated Nov. 3.

TEEX conducts 10 Heavy Equipment Operator Courses each year for State Department of Highway and Public Transportation. Students learn fundamental skills in the operation of front-end loaders, backhoes, gradalls, motor graders and crawler tractors.

Sonora Ford names new GM

Leslie Gray has been named general manager of Sonora Ford Sales.

Gray, a native of San Angelo, has 10 years experience in automobile sales. He was formerly associated with Jim Bass Ford in San Angelo.

Gray and his wife, Teresa, a licensed vocational nurse at Hudspeth Memorial Hospital, moved to Sonora in October.

Gray said Sonora Ford Sales carries the complete Ford line and keeps 20 to 25 vehicles in stock most of the time.

"We specialize in pickups, but with our dealer locator computer, we can find any car you want overnight," he said.

"The '90 models are in and we have some '89s remaining," said Gray, "and we'll do anything we have to, sell them."

He said Ford offers rebates from $500 to $1500.

Gray said Sonora Ford's service manager and three mechanics comprise a service department that ranks among the best.

"The parts department has a full line of new parts and you will find them helpful in getting anything you need," Gray said.

The new general manager said among the popular changes this year is the '90 model Probe LX with standard transmission. The Probe LX now has a 3 Litre V6 engine, rather than the 4 cylinder of earlier models.

"Our 1990 half-ton pickup comes with a 351 engine and a four speed - heavy duty transmission with electronic overdrive," he said.

Sonora Ford Sales is open 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Gray said he plans to start opening Saturdays from 8:30 until noon in the future.

Walkers to aid heart association

Anyone who is not chicken, and thinks heart disease is for the birds, will undoubtedly participate in the American Heart Association's Turkeywalk Nov. 18.

The heart association's Sonora chapter hopes at least 50 people will participate in the event, and that their pledges will help meet this year's district goal of $2,000.

Although the Turkeywalk leaders, Don Jones and Jerry Landers, are not ones to crow about their group's contribution to to AHA's national treasury, but this is the tenth year Sonora has participated in the national event.

Funds raised for the American Heart Association help pay for research and educational programs.

This year's Turkeywalk will begin Saturday, Nov. 18, at 8:30 a.m. The walkers will meet at the 200 block of East Main Street.

Walkers will be rewarded with prizes relative to the size of the pledges they obtain.

According to Turkeywalk organizers, this year's fundraiser will be led by local heart transplant recipient Milton Cavaness.

For further information on how you can either walk or sponsor a walker, call Linda Johnson at 387-5253 or 3873613.

Don't be a turkey. Have a heart.

Nutrition is going to the dogs

I don't know if anyone is accepting nominations for the most dubious achievement of the year award, but Dr. William Tyznik has my vote.

Tyznik is an animal nutritionist, according to a slick promotional press packet recently received here, and he's also an inventor - of sorts. But rather than invent something of value that might contribute to the general health and welfare of animals, of Doc Tyznik has apparently decided to exploit the general ignorance about dog nutrition.

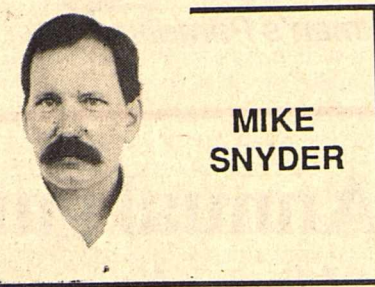

He has come up with something called "Frosty Paws," which he claims is a nutritious frozen treat for canines.

Probably anticipating the criticism his invention would stir in some quarters, Tyznik explains that he knows dogs love ice cream because it's delicious, cool and refreshing, and that dog owners love feeding ice cream to their dogs. He says research shows nearly two thirds of dog owners currently feed ice cream to their dogs, but, he points out, he knows something most dog owners don't know.

Ice cream isn't good for dogs. I shake my head wondering if the Doc didn't suffer from cerebral frostbite while he labored away finding a way to delude pets and their owners. Maybe he was locked in a freezer while stocking pints of Peppermint Poodle or German Shepherd Sherbert.

Or maybe, realizing that after teaching at Ohio State University for 38 years, he needed a way to make his retirement more comfortable, and knew educating the public about their pets just wasn't the way to become wealthy.

Tyznik, I'm sure, knows there are about 50 million dogs in the United States, and annual pet food sales are rapidly approaching the $6 billion mark. More than 90 percent of dog owners give their dogs treats, and the Doc would like to have them include "Frosty Paws" as one of the rewards.

MIKE SNYDER

What he glosses over, or fails to mention, is how poorly nourished the average American dog is, and how little pet owners know about basic animal care.

I've seen "animal lovers" provide diets for their dogs consisting of nothing but fresh beef; others have included raw eggs and milk in their dogs' food, while some people believe that table scraps or nothing but dry kibble is adequate.

One woman gave special instructions for the Shih Tzu left for us to care for: her "baby", actually an adult, had to be spoon fed, and provided with a freshly sliced apple every day.

I love dogs, and that's why we don't have one. Back in Mexico, I bred, boarded, showed and trained dogs. At one point I had 10 of my own Doberman Pinchers (I also had a full-time employee to help care for them). I've worked with everything from Anatolian Shepherds to Xoloitzcuintles, and I think I'll always be amazed at how little dog owners know about their pets.

Some people believe training is beneath their dogs' dignity, and are not offended when a playful pooch jumps up on visitors.

"Oh, it's okay," I've been told. "He's only being affectionate."

It's hardly okay, I've been tempted to growl, while trying to brush dirt off my freshly laundered trousers.

There are several reasons we don't have a dog at this time. First, I don't have the time to take care of one. Dogs are family members, to my way of thinking, and they need loving care and attention which includes training and exercise. If I can't spend an hour a day with my dog, I'll find someone who can give it a proper home.

A dog also needs space, especially if it's one of my favorite breeds (German Shepherd Dogs, Doberman Pinchers and Golden Retrievers). It's cruel to keep a big dog chained or locked indoors, so if I can't keep one properly, I'll just forego the pleasure - and responsibility - of having one.

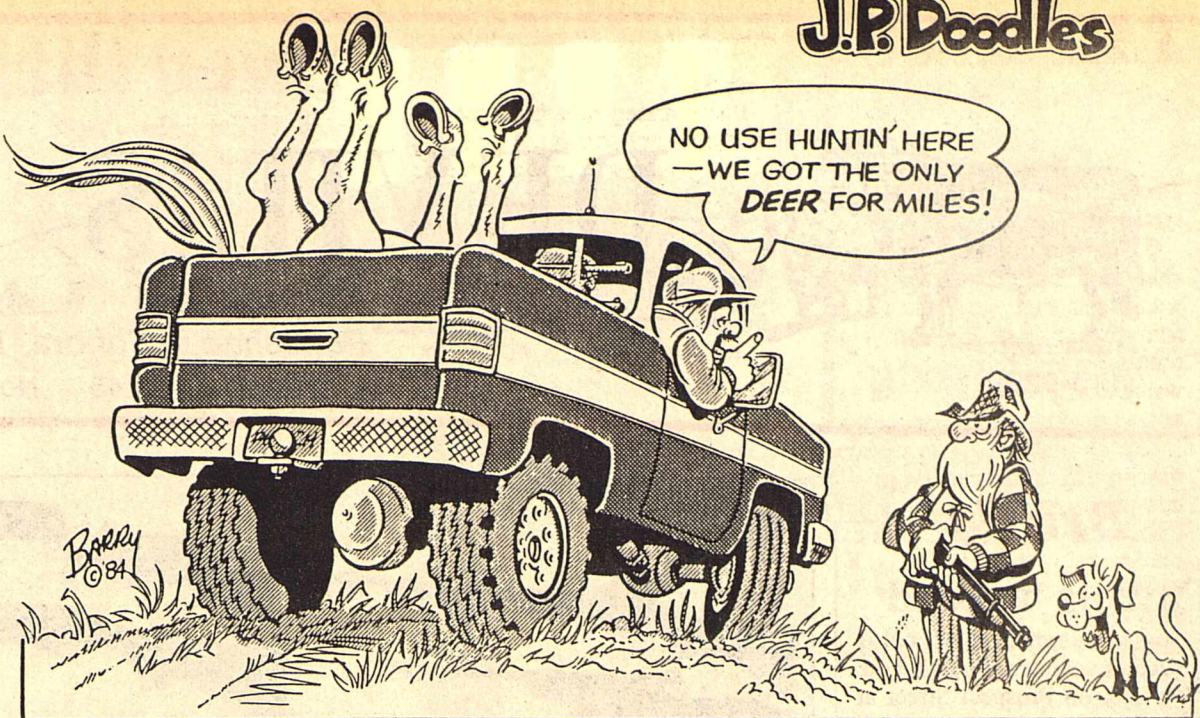

Dogs are also expensive to maintain, and there is really no responsible way to cut corners. They must be groomed regularly, fed properly, and kept current with vaccinations and immunizations.

The last thing, but hardly the least important in our case, is a dog's compatibility in our present family structure. Having a large dog around a toddler is not a great idea, even if the dog is mature, friendly and stable. Kids pull ears and tails, poke fingers into eyes and can otherwise annoy or frighten a dog.

As soon as our son is old enough, however, I'm looking forward to acquiring a good dog, even though I'll probably have to diplomatically agree with my boy's choice of a name for it. I think it will be rewarding to teach my son about our prospective pooch's diet, so he won't be fooled into relying upon pretty packaging instead of actual ingredients.

And although I intend to warn him about things like canned dogfood and dairy products, while telling him about the value of vitamin c, calcium and brewer's yeast for our pup, I expect he'll share some forbidden fruits with his furry friend.

Yeah, I know dogs shouldn't eat ice cream because they have an intolerance for lactose. But I'd rather see my boy give our dog some of his Butternut Crunch than buy any of Tyznik's "Frosty Paws."

Our flag burners really burn me

No sooner had I settled into my chair and turned on the evening news when I saw some long-haired protester burning Old Glory.

"How could anyone set fire our symbol of freedom and justice?" I thought. Memories of the days when I was going war returned as the incident unfolded.

My reaction wasn't to switch channels. I just wanted to kick his a--.

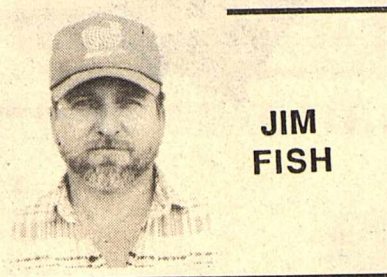

After taking a deep breath and a swallow of brew, I started thinking a little more deeply. I decided that we are mighty fortunate to be living in a nation that will tolerate immature morons who "bite the hand that feeds them."

Not that I still wouldn't like to kick the creep's backside into next year.

Looking back over the whole affair, I think the incident in Dallas might have been good for us. The good coming from any issue comes about by the responses it causes. It doesn't matter whether they are good or bad.

The "good" of this issue is the rekindling of emotions regarding the flag, the USA and that for which they stand. I was surprised by the lack of outrage in the 60s and 70s when flag-burning was widespread. From the recent response, it is evident that the flag is still near and dear to all Americans.

It wasn't until I went to war before names like Washington, Patton, Lee, Lincoln, Austin and Houston became more than names, dates and places in the history books at high school the year before. It wasn't until I was forced to take five lives before I realized the price of the freedoms we enjoy and take for granted.

My flag came to mean Sonora, mom, cornbread and beans, fried chicken, drive-in movies, roller skating, and the Saturday night drag up and down "main street". It stood for "freedom and justice for all".

I was proud to be an American.

I believed we were wrong for being in Vietnam but it was important to me that I stand by my country, right or wrong.

The psychological turmoil that followed has helped me become a better person. I know now that I can be anything I want to be. I can use those talents that God has given me to make the changes I want.

Those who burn the flag as a protest against conditions in the administration don't realize those conditions are a result of character flaws of the people involved, not the system itself. The same kind of flaws that caused them to burn the flag in the first place. Ironically, it is a flag that represents a nation that let's them get away with childish behavior. This is not to say that we have a perfect system only the best.

Do you think they could do such things in East Germany or China?

Now, our legislative bodies are enacting laws to make such actions punishable, and I wonder. I wonder if these laws are going to come back to haunt us in the future. I wonder if they will erode the freedoms we have now. I also wonder if we are going to allow these isolated flag-burnings reduce the very things for which our flag stands.

I'd like to believe I could be understanding enough to stand by a man who set fire to our colors, even though I disagreed. I'd like to be compassionate and courageous enough to pledge my allegiance and mourn the passing of the flag in front of a crowd of dissenters, and still thank God for being able to live in the "land of the free." But I wonder...

Most important is the freedom to be and believe anything we wish, when it does not infringe on the rights of others. Something that can most certainly withstand the childish "tantrums" and actions of a few.

In light of the events in Russia, Poland, China and most recently in East Germany, whose peoples crave what we have enjoyed some two hundred years; how can we not realize the significance of human rights and freedom, regardless of how we may define them?

My flag represents freedom and justice for all, in all its definitions.

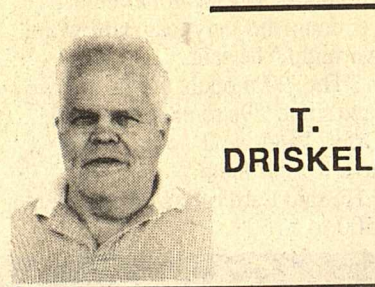

I may not agree with the protesters, but I'll defend their right to disagree with me; even that long-haired flag burner up in Dallas who calls himself a Communist Revolutionary.

Still, I'd like to kick his commie butt...

Minimum wage worries

The effect of the minimum wage increase largely depends on the point of view and the time span that you wish to consider. If you are only interested in today and you are employed at a minimum wage it is wonderful. If you choose to expand the time span to several years, it slowly fades from wonderful to slightly distasteful, and thence to something bordering on disaster. If you superimpose the induced inflationary effect, it is a loss of net buying power which will confront you down the road.

The marginal small business operator under heavy loan pressure is going to be forced into some soul-searching. The options are few; a reduction of production costs, but how? The price of the items produced can be increased at the risk of market loss. Production volume can be increased if worker production can be increased. The most logical and the easiest approach is to reduce the work force. It has been estimated that the raise of the minimum wage to five plus dollars per hour would cost Texas about 25,000 jobs.

The standpoint of the export manufacturer gives another negative view. The political rather than economic decree which forced the raise will be reflected throughout all wage levels, and it cannot be absorbed, but must be added to our export prices, further eroding our competitive position.

The real negative viewpoint is being forced upon the fixed income elderly, especially those almost entirely dependent on social security. It will ultimately increase the cost of everything they buy and necessitate some sort of changes in the approaches to national health, or a complete revision of our approach.

This thing is on paper now, in a creeping sense, by an agreement between President Bush and Congress. We can look at what we must live with and figure out how to best cope in our individual cases. If it causes a nearer approach to health care for all Americans we are ahead of the game and it will be worth all the pain that must be endured.

Eye to eye

Dear Editor,
WHO NEEDS TO BE SET STRAIGHT!!

Mr. Snyder since you were not man enough to come and ask me the true facts, then I have to set you straight. If you know what straight is. I think anyone who hides behind a newspaper to say something about someone is not much of a man to me. (First) We had to put up with a deserter, now we have to turn-coat, well they go hand-in-hand. (Second) I have never and never will be in favor of drugs. What I'm fighting is injustice, not only drugs destroys our nation, state and community, but also injustice, in your article "We need to set a record straight" you admit that you were surprised to learn that undercover agent Hood lied under oath after he swore to "Tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help me God." Mr. Snyder that's not all you're going to be surprised about. Mr. J.W. Johnson also admits its human nature to screw up and we all have skeletons in our closets, I wonder what kind of skeletons Mr. Johnson has hiding in his closet, maybe he's trying to tell us something.

Mr. Johnson said he struck out Hispanics from the jury because they were the accused friends, I can see that, what I can't see is why Mr. Johnson left his friends on the jury, and struck out Mr. Galindo's friends off the jury. He himself admitted in your article friends can be partial, so after all I was right Mr. Johnson's friends could not give Mr. Galindo a fair trial.

Next time you need to know something about me that is the truth you know where you can find me, you've been to my place before. If you have any questions drop by and if you want to bring your neighbor that's fine with me cause I want to look you straight in the eye when you ask me something or when I answer you. Ask Mr. Johnson he ought to know.

Anger voiced

Dear Editor,
I am angry! I finally get to write my letter and let out all the anger and frustration that has been building up ever since my husband's arrest. I am very disgusted with our Judicial System when it is unfair. There is no way to compensate for the injustice that has occurred to my family. Because deep down when you know in your heart that you are an innocent man and also that you are being punished for a crime you did not commit, then is when I call it a very poor Judicial System.

My entire family was born in Sonora and never in our lives have we been involved with drugs. We make a living the decent way and we work at decent jobs. Not like Webster told me "an easy way to make a buck". May be that is how he and J.W. got what they have...because when you all got to Sonora you both didn't have anything. As for our clothes we just make it look nice, clean and presentable because you don't have to have expensive clothes to look neat. And that doesn't make you a Drug Dealer just because you try to look your best.

We are part of the minority (the Hispanic Community) and Real Proud to be. We are honest and decent, which is more than what I can say for some people. J.W. you forgot to mention that the Drug Dealers and users are also persons with status in society...lawyers, politicians, sports figures and even our Police Force. They too are a menace to society, and that is where we get our corrupt officials here and abroad.

My parents have always preached to us, "You plant roots to know where you stand and come from, be honest and always tell the truth, you know if your subconscious mind is honest and if you are telling the truth you do not have anything to worry or fear about. You are able to hold a straight face, because the subconscious mind is not part of the reasoning brain, it is the seat of the emotions." So I hope that those who know that they did wrong and have accused my husband who is behind bars for a crime he did not commit, let the accusers feel imprisoned by their own consciences, if they have any left. I know that we all make mistakes, because that is part of human nature nobody is perfect, except when you are honest and telling the truth.

The Judge even accused my husband of hiding behind anything and everybody, even the church...let me tell you he hides from nobody. What you do not know is our religious background is where we get our self-confidence, and our culture has a lot of religious teachings with the impulse to educate and be closer to God. Our homes are spiritually rich uniting the poor, the sophisticated rich, the young and even the old. The Judge forgot to mention the people that enforce the law. They lead people into believing and thinking something that they aren't. They hide and take advantage of their advantage of their position which makes them "Big and Powerful". Without that position, the uniform and the badge they are just civilians like everybody else.

I think it was a disgrace to our Community and to our Country when Webster hired Lonnie Hood, the narc, the army deserter, to come and point the finger at anybody. Even under oath in the witness stand he said lies, and what about the medication he is on? I would question his ability to be trustworthy yet his lies are believed rather than citizens of Sonora. Even Fraizer, I wouldn't trust him around my children, teaching them about Drug Awareness when he could turn around and plant something or accuse them of being Drug Dealers, when they are innocent.

All I can say is it is time to rectify the error by knowing that the community is not benefitted and that the innocent are not being protected, when they exclude controversial evidence.

Mrs. Jose Alfredo Galindo

Answers wanted

Dear Editor,
WILL THE REAL MIKE SNYDER PLEASE STAND UP!

After reading the two opinions and one testimonial to Alfredo Galindo's past in last week's paper, I feel that there are certain points that need to be clarified or expanded upon.

Mr. Joe Garcia's mistake was that he was still arguing the defendant's innocence. (sic) The man gets on the stand and says what in his heart he knows to be the truth and he is labeled as an irresponsible school board member who wants a drug dealer on the street.

What does Mr. Snyder call a few vocal supporters (and shallow to top it off)? Just because the majority of the Hispanic community doesn't march on the courthouse it doesn't mean they don't feel like doing just that. That may be our last resort.

"Galindo was unable to produce any credible defense or character witnesses." Read it, its in black print on page two of last week's paper! What does it take to get credibility around here? During the last two trials we have had our local Catholic Priest ("Padre" to J.W.), school board member, county commissioner, church leaders, businessmen, school teacher and various responsible persons as witnesses for the Defense. Yet we are being asked to forget (forgive?) about Mr. Hood's credibility while ours takes a beating!

Mr. Snyder was not present during the last day of testimony, if he had been maybe he would have seen things differently.

LETTERS

1. Webster's testimony contradicted (sic) Hood's testimony.

2. Hood testified earlier that he could not recall what Galindo was wearing at the time of the alleged transaction. On final day he remembers exactly what Galindo was wearing and changes the time of transaction.

3. The District Attorney has thrown ethics out the window by not disclosing he has ties with potential jurors...clients, secretary's husband, maid's husband, etc. By the way, of the two counts Mr. Favela was charged with, one was actually a misdemeanor (one marijuana cigarette) that he tried to pass as a Felony in District Court. I can't believe the District Attorney doesn't know the difference between a felony and a misdemeanor.

4. Hood's medical condition. The man has to take Dilantin and Phenobarbital for epilepsy. He cannot drink alcohol, yet he has managed to fool drug dealers in beer joints for 17 years? He is supposedly 35 years old and has 17 years experience as an "undercover agent", that would mean he started when he was 18 yrs. old. What were you doing or thinking of when you were 18 years old?

On October 19th, I personally delivered two subpoenas (sic) to Eastland County, one was for the Eastland County District Attorney. He was to testify that of 29 cases Mr. Hood had made in Eastland County, 27 of them had already been dismissed for one reason or another. He agreed to be picked up on October 24th at 9:00 a.m. at the Eastland County Courthouse to come to Sonora to testify. Monday, night, October 23rd, the District Attorney told us that the only way he would come down to testify would be under arrest. Why?

Mr. Domingo Garcia and everybody involved figured we didn't need his testimony. We actually thought we had the case won! Even I felt so confident with the facts were presented and I overlooked the one thing I had been stressing to Mr. Domingo Garcia and his Assistants all along---DON'T FORGET YOU'RE IN SONORA!!!

If I come across as making accusations, I really don't intend it that way...I'll settle for a few answers.
Ernest C. Barrera

Dear Sir,

I am writing this short note to set the record straight. You see, I am the witness for the defense which allegedly "could not recall who else, besides Galindo, attended the January the 21st Saturday evening mass".

What I stated, under oath, was that I, since I usually sit toward the front of the church, and as a matter of principle do no rubber neck to see who attends mass and who does not, I was really in no position to say who had attended said mass and who had not: Sure, I could have named a few of the parishoners who were present, but out of common decency, I refused to drag any innocent persons into this sordid mess.

I did, however, state that I could not recall the subject of the homily (sermon), because in a Catholic Mass the homily is not the main part of the mass, but the Eucharist, the consecration of the Bread and Wine, is.

Furthermore, you listen to a series of ordinary, uninspired homilies, it is really difficult, if not impossible, to recall any particular sermon.

I resent being, at best, made to be a fool who did not really know what was going on, or at the worst, a person who would deliberately lie while under oath: I hope this clarifies my position.
Signed,
Lazaro Dominguez

Praise our band

Dear Editor,

I'm writing this letter to let the people of Sonora know what a great bunch of kids we have in the Mighty Bronco Band. The kids have practiced everyday, came to extra sectionals early in the morning and after school. They have had Monday night rehearsals and clinics to make a dream come true. Dreams don't just happen! These kids have worked hard and deserved the Division I they received Saturday, Oct. 28 at Brady.

Thank-you also to a bunch of supporting parents, who not only have endured time schedules, but also have decorated, made spirit sticks and came to Brady to cheer the kids on to victory.

Thank-you to the school administration for your support in being there and allowing this organization to represent Sonora first class and to the school board for letting us look first class with new uniforms.

Thank you, band directors for giving of your time and expertise in guiding and training these kids to a victory. I am so proud to be a part of this great bunch of kids and I can only say we've only just begun. Keep that burning desire to be #1. No one else can do it for you, it has to come from within. As far as I'm concerned ya'll are UP TIGHT and OUT OF SIGHT!

Over the Hill Gang

Hudspeth Nursing Home News by Doris Cahill

The editor has told me you have made inquiries about this column, and I appreciate your interest. Thank you, everyone.

Since it is so appropriate to the season, I want to share with you the following poem, copied by Hilda Luckie Smith:

"Come Little Leaves"

Come little leaves
said the wind one day
come over the meadows
with me to play
Put on your dresses
of red and gold
for summer is gone
and the days grow cold
Laughing and playing the little leaves went winter had called them
and they were content
Soon fast asleep
in their earthly beds
the snow lay a coverlet
over their heads

We have two new L.V.N.'s - Shirley Coppedge and Frances Pruitt, and a nursing assistant - Lee Coppedge, who some residents refer to as "Nurse Boy".

New residents are Angelica Samaniego, Maria Paredes, Feliciano Castillo and Ruth Richardson. Ruth is presently in Hudspeth Hospital.

Lilia's Halloween Carnival was neat, with booths and even girls to paint funny faces on some of the residents. Refreshments of cup cakes, punch and rice krispie candy were served, we welcomed little trick or treaters that night.

On Sunday afternoon, Nov. 5th. Reverend Jim Stephen brought the message, Mrs. Stephen played the piano, and Sheila Harris led singing, also present were: Tony Cook, Wilma Jones and Vivian Crites.

Bueno bye, until next time.

EMS praised

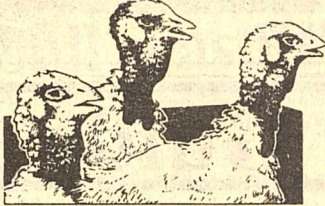

Letter to the Editor,

I'm a little slow in writing this note but I must let you know how luck you City-County are in having a Paramedic Group like the Sutton County's Emergency Service (EMS).

On Sept. 30, 1989 I had driven from Dallas to Harley and Clara Brooks home in Sonora to be with old class mates from the Mazeland school (Runnels County). For some reason I became faint and passed out. Of course, this scared everyone and Clara called your paramedics. It seems you all were there by the time she hung up the phone. I have never seen such care and concern as was show in the faces of these people along with their expertise. As it turned out, I was all right and you don't have to carry me in and I would like for you to know how much I appreciate the professional help and kindness you showed me and what a great group of people you are and had I been in serious condition I would have been in the best of hands. Clara said you were accepting donations for a heart monitor so please accept the enclosed donation for it. You City-County should be proud of you and feel secure in a time of emergency. Thank you again and may God bless you all.

Students visit ancient sites during archeology field trip

Sonora's 7th and 8th grade gifted and talented classes went on a field trip to the Rousselot Ranch Thursday, Nov. 2 to study archeological techniques and investigate findings. Archeology is addressed in the students' history, literature, and science classes. In a cooperative effort to correlate this archeological theme, these teachers, Mrs. Valkonen, Mrs. Love, Mrs. Polocek, and Ms. Samaniego, created this learning experiences. The students participated in activities which included creating a pictograph that tells a story; learning the archeological technique of a one-meter dig; actual digging on an Indian mound, and listening to legends about Indians and the artifacts they left behind.

MODELS - Third grade students researched county buildings.

Gifted and talented students researching Sonora buildings

Sonora's 3rd grade gifted and talented students have been researching historical buildings through a community history project. As part of their project, the students chose a specific building to research. Patricia Johnson, Sutton County Historical Society president, visited with the students and led them on a tour of the Miers Home, the old jail and the depot. Mrs. Johnson also spoke to the students about the Old Rock School House and related many historical facts about the school and Sonora. After the research was completed, the students constructed models of the buildings they chose to research. Courthouse models were submitted by Kristen Hargrave and Misty Castilleja; Depot models were created by Clint Bowers and Jesse Crawford; models of the old jail were submitted by Crystal

Halloween Queen named

Bronco Tails by Christi Spain

Congratulations to Amy Reston! On Oct. 31, at 4 p.m., Keith Wallace, Student Council President, crowned Amy Reston 1989-90 Halloween Queen. Amy was the representative from the junior class and her escort was David Mirike. For her enjoyment, the spook parade immediately followed. The student council would like to thank Charlene Terry, Gloria Lopez, and Kathy Davis for doing a great job of judging the parade. After the spook parade, the Halloween Carnival began when Amy officially opened it around 5 p.m. The carnival was a success thanks to the support it received from the community and on behalf of Sonora High School, thanks!

Last Friday, Sonora High School was visited by some very unique individuals from the Future Farmers of America organization. The State FFA president, Jeff Rosh, was here and spoke to our newly organized FFA association. He was accompanied by one of the state FFA vice-presidents, James Henderson. Also, the FFA president from Eldorado, Vicki Hooton, came to share experiences and offer advice. They arrived after lunch and left after the pep rally.

Speaking of the pep rally, it was a great success and the crowd was very enthusiastic. This Friday will be the last pep rally of the season. At this time, the football players will announce the 1989-90 Bronco Football Sweetheart, and I urge you to attend!

Last week's pep rally must have really encouraged the guys because that night they played a wonderful game against the Hondo Owls. They ended up winning 28-12 and touchdowns were made by David Mirike and Tracy Love. This week we will play Brady, there, at 8 p.m. Although we now cannot go on past district, lets still go out and show our Broncos that we are behind them and think that they are the greatest!

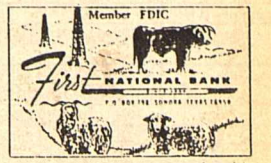

Way to go Junior Varsity Broncos. Last weeks the J.V. played their last game of the season and, of course, won again. Their four touchdowns were made by Adam Youngblood, Blake Adkins and Joe Buitron and they finished the season undefeated!

Now, with football about to end, basketball is already beginning. This Saturday the Lady Broncos (Varsity, J.V. and Freshmen) will scrimmage the Ozona Lions in Sonora. Hopefully they can have an even better season than last year. Good Luck!

School is running by and Thanksgiving Holidays are not far away. With all of the activities going on at Sonora High School, it's asy to let your grades slip. Hang in there! It's almost halfway over!

Colts end football season

The pinnacle of the eighth grade Colt season came Thursday, Oct. 19 at Bronco Stadium during the second half of the game with the Del Rio eighth graders. The Colts clearly exhibited one of the best offensive drives of the season. The Colt defense prevented Del Rio from scoring extra points three out of four times at the goal line. Del Rio made seven first downs with the Colts close behind with five.

Colt first quarter highlights included Jamie Espinosa carrying the ball several times for gains in yardage and Wade Spain recovering a fumble giving the Colts a turnover advantage.

During the second quarter Jose Salinas recovered a fumble and made an eleven yard run on a hand off from John Lopez. Powerhouse Jamie Espinosa continued to press for yardage gains for the Colts.

The first half ended with the score 0-20, Del Rio's favor.

The third quarter brought excitement for the fans when the Colts returned with new determination. The Colt offense, including Brandon Gryder, Jose Salinas, Jose Morales and Panny Gomez began a campaign which had a fourth quarter pay off. An excellent tackle by Joel Cox prevented Del Rio from making a crucial first down.

The Fourth quarter opened with two first downs by the Colts and a spectacular twenty yard pass by

SUPPORT THE BRONCOS

Start using words that help.

Teachers are studying

CHANGE is the only constant in education these days. The change we see today is Sonora teachers and clerical staff filling classrooms in the evenings to learn about computers.

The teacher's task of preparing a child with the skills to be successful in society is becoming an increasingly difficult job. Trying to equip the child with the skills to compete in the unknown job market of tomorrow is nearly impossible. Therefore, teachers must continue their education in order to keep up with technological changes that creates such great demands on the educational system.

Learning is a lifelong process. Sonora teachers reinforce this belief by committing their time to learn techniques to better prepare our children for tomorrow.

STUDYING COMPUTERS - School board member Gary Hardgrave watches teachers Linda Wallace, June Williams and Brenda Kearney.

Cub Scout's food drive

On Saturday, Nov. 11, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, the Sonora Cub Scouts of Pack 19 will be participating in a food drive. All Foods collected will remain in Sonora, to help the needy in our community. Please be generous in your donations of non-perishable food items (dry beans, dry milk, rice, peanut butter, canned goods, etc.)

The Scouts will come to your home with a bag. If you cannot be at home on Saturday, but would like someone to pick up your donation from your porch, please call Claudia Dempsey at 387-2048 or Kathy Hardgrave at (387-2227) before Saturday.

Cub Scouts will meet at the Scout Hut at 8 a.m. on Saturday. Please bring a sack lunch. Interested parents, adults and high-school students who would like to volunteer their help in this worthwhile project are invited to join us at 8 a.m. on Saturday.

Food show Saturday

The public is invited to the awards program and tea tasting that climaxes this year's 4-H Foods and Nutrition Projects.

The Foods Show awards will be Saturday, Nov. 11 at 11:30 a.m. followed by Tea Tasting at 12:00 in the Junior High Snack Bar.

The contestants will arrive with their exhibits prepared ready for judging at 9:30 a.m. The are judged on the dishes prepared, their knowledge of nutrition (an interview with judges), and 4-H project record and a day's menu.

There are three age groups and four different categories. The winners in each age group and category will advance to district Dec. 3 in Boerne.

Wade Spain to Jose Morales. The Colt defense, composed of Elba Schwiening, Cole Crenwelge, Trini Guerra, Joel Cox, Jamie Espinosa, Rhett Johnson, Will Matthews, Wade Spain, Jose Morales, John Lopez, and Jose Salinas continued to play an outstanding game. Del Rio managed only one touchdown in the second half. The Colt offense pressed on for additional yardage.

Recovering a Del Rio fumble on the fifteen yardline was a perfect set-up for the Colts. Extra effort on the part of the offensive line aided the Colt drive. With one minute fourteen seconds left in the game the Colts made their final first down for the game. Then with thirty second left on the clock, Wade Spain dived over the Del Rio defense for a touchdown.

The final score was 26-0, Del Rio.

We send all of our support and wishes for continued success with the eighth grade Colts and their coaches, Richard Lopez and Ted Myrick.

It's a switch for these 7th and 8th grade gridiron boys to skirt the cheerleading issue.

Smith named master appraiser

The designation Master Farm and Land Appraiser was conferred after successful completion of all the qualifying procedures of the organization. Requirements include educational courses in farm and land appraisal and the preparation of appropriate demonstration appraisals.

4-Hers to meet

by Justin Morley, 4-H Reporter
The next 4-H meeting will be Monday, Nov. 13, 1989 at 7 p.m. The Junior 4-Hers will meet at the 4-H Barn.

Pledge will be given by Randy Newbury and Erin Payton. The 4-H pledge and motto will be given by Becca Fields and Heather Floyd.

The program will be a book review given by Marti McLain. The recreation will be lead by Davis Hale.

Refreshments will be provided by Casey Fitzgerald, Erica Kerbow, Jamie and Jesse Lankford, and T.J. Thorp.

"Each member of the National Association of Master Appraisers has agreed to subscribe to the highest professional standards of conduct as required by the organization code of ethics," said Deane. "Advanced professional training with adherence to the code of ethics by each member, assures the public of outstanding professional appraisal services."

According to Deane, the National Association of Master Appraisers designates only those members of the real estate profession who have attained a high degree of excellence in the art and science of real estate appraisal. It also encourages specialized education in real estate appraisal through cooperating schools, to provide the industry with fundamental courses, educational seminars and workshops. Such educational courses are designed to insure the public will have qualified professional real estate appraisal services when buying or selling farm and land property, Deane said.

Smith is president of the Federal Land Bank Association of Sonora, which serves Sutton, Edwards, Crockett, and Schleicher Counties.

To all customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company:

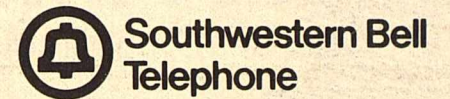

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company hereby gives notice that on August 29, 1989 the Company filed an application with the Public Utility Commission (PUC) of Texas to revise its Texas intrastate Digital Link Service Tariff. This application proposes to restructure the rates for MICROLINK IISM - Packet Switching Digital Service to establish uniform rates for the service in each of the market areas where it is offered within the State and to expand the service to an additional nineteen (19) Primary Market Areas (PMAs).

MICROLINK IISM - Packet Switching Digital Service is for business customers with interactive data transport requirements who are located within the Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Longview, Lubbock, Midland, San Antonio, Waco, or Wichita Falls Local Access and Transport Areas (LATAs). This service utilizes several existing network services in combination with packet switching capabilities. A MICROLINK II Primary Market Area is the service area from which subscribers may reach public dial access to the service by dialing a local seven digit number. The twenty-four (24) PMAs that will be affected by this filing are: Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Brownsville, McAllen, Harlingen, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, Houston, Galveston, Laredo, Longview, Tyler, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, San Antonio, Waco, Temple, and Wichita Falls.

The PUC has assigned this matter to Docket No. 9034. It is estimated that the proposed rate changes and the addition of the nineteen (19) Primary Market Areas will increase the Company's annual revenues during the first year the proposed changes are in effect approximately $222,000. For additional information regarding MicroLink II Service or this filing, please contact Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's Marketing Organization on 512-222-5808.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. The Commission has established an intervention date of November 27, 1989. Exit-level TEAMS test

by Charles Russell

The junior class of Sonora High School has just recently (Oct. 25-26), taken the Exit-Level TEAMS (Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills), test. The student must pass the test in order to be eligible for graduation in 1991.

The test is composed of a math as well as a language arts section, and can be retaken in May, 1990, if the first attempt is unsuccessful.

High school math teachers Claudia Dempsey, Rita Hale, Ann Criswell, and Bob Snodgrass provided morning tutorials from 7:30 to 8:10 for three weeks prior to the test. The students receive language arts remediation in their regular English classes.

The exit-level test does create a great deal of anxiety among students as well as teachers in spite of the fact that our students have done exceptionally well the past several years. This past year our high school students achieved a 90.9% mastery rate for all sections of the test as compared to the state average of 74%. Test scores will vary somewhat from year to year as a result of the testing material and the ability of the students who make up this class.

The TEAMS test results provide a method of comparing basic skills efficiency of the schools throughout the state, and if viewed in a proper context, are useful in identifying areas in which emphasis is needed to improve performance.
