Ecological tour information source for students

The annual Sixth grade ecological field trip was held at the Edwin Sawyer ranch on Tuesday, April 17. The Edwards Plateau Soil & Water Conservation District and the Sawyers have sponsored this educational experience for nine consecutive years.

All sixth graders from the Sonora I. S. D. were taken by buses to the Sawyer's ranch for a day of instruction in range management, soils and wildlife.

Dr. Charles Taylor and Nick Garza of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station near Sonora taught range and watershed management; brush control was taught by Dr. Jake Landers of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in San Angelo.

Wildlife management instructors were Steve Nelle, SCS Wildlife Biologist from San Angelo, J. R. Jacobson, graduate student from the Texas A & M Dept. who is presently conducting a research project at the Sonora Experiment Station, and Dr. Dale Rollins, Wildlife Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in San Angelo.

Soil and water conservation instructors were Tom Payton and Virgil Polocek of the Soil Conservation Service in Sonora and Fred Colburn, Soil Scientist with the SCS in Fredericksburg.

Herb Scwertner, CED with the ASCS office in Sonora was also present and provided a display of aerial photos and information.

Students were provided with a noon meal which was prepared at the site by Jim Stephen, Monte Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Caldwell.

Following the meal, the students were taken to Sonora Wool and Mohair where Preston Faris, Sutton County Extension Agent, gave a sheep shearing demonstration, and Glen Fisher, warehouse manager, gave them a tour. Wool and mohair from local producers was displayed and students were told about grading methods and uses of these natural fibers.

The directors of the Edwards Plateau Soil and Water Conservation District wish to express their appreciation to all who helped make this another successful field tour. This is an extremely worthwhile educational and fun-filled activity for our youth; however, it requires the cooperation of many individuals and agencies. And a very special thanks to Mrs. Edwin Sawyer and Eddie Sawyer for their generosity which enables this kind of activity to continue.

Wardlaw in high school rodeo finals

Chase Wardlaw has advanced to the state finals of the Texas High School Rodeo Association after placing in the top four in two events. Wardlaw will be able to participate in three events because he also garnered a top 10 finish in another event.

Wardlaw finished third in both tie-down calf roping and steer wrestling at the THSRA Region II finals in Sonora the weekend of April 7. Wardlaw will be joined by Mack Wardlaw in team roping for the state finals in Abilene June 8-17.

Several contestants from Eldorado will be advancing to the state finals. Chrissi McCormick will advance in pole bending and goat tying. Cy Griffin will head to state in tie-down calf roping and team roping with Jamey Belk, Brent Moore in team roping with Kirby Jones of San Angelo, Shane Criswell in saddle bronc riding and Mondee Nelso in girls' cutting horse contest.

The weekend of competition wrapped up with a BBQ and dance at the 4-H Center.

Jessie Wardlaw said the rodeo was a terrific happening for Sonora. Contestants and their families stayed the weekend, giving a boost to the local economy through the motels and restaurants.

Wardlaw said the contention was that the facilities in Sonora were more than adequate and plans are being made for next year's regional finals to be held here as well.

ROUGH RIDE - Cody Wardlaw attempts to wrestle down a steer during the Texas High School Rodeo Association Region II finals in Sonora earlier this month. Wardlaw advanced to the state finals in three events, tie-down calf roping, steer wrestling and team roping with Mack Wardlaw. The state finals will be held in Abilene June 8-17.

City worker retires after 33 years

In these days it is not uncommon for a person to hold 10 or 15 jobs prior to retiring. People continue to change jobs and cities to increase their pay and live comfortably. That is exactly the reason the story of Alvaro DeHoyos is special.

After working for the city of Sonora for 33 years, DeHoyos retired on March 30. DeHoyos was helped into retirement by a stroke suffered on Feb. 16 while working on a sewer line.

Yet, this is not a sad story. Sitting around the dining room table with Alvaro, his wife Rosa and one of their five children, Rosemary, the talk was peppered with pride. Most of the talk was from Rosa and Rosemary. Alvaro answered questions in short bursts.

Rosemary described her father as a quiet man.

At times he would smile and burst forth with laughter.

Alvaro smiled often when Rosa would mention the old sewer system. Rosa said there were many times when Alvaro would have to work in the sledge to fix something.

"I was scared all the time," said

Rosa.

She may have been more scared of what could happen to her rather than Alvaro. Rosa would hold on to a rope tied around Alvaro as he would climb into the sledge and work out the problem.

While Alvaro was not scared, Rosa would be thinking if she lost the rope she might have to go in after him.

Starting in September of 1956, Alvaro worked for the city on more than just sewers. Just about anything the city was involved in, Alvaro was involved in.

Rosa said that at the time Alvaro was hired working for the city was an excellent job.

"They cared," said Rosa. "They took care of their people."

Alvaro entered his new job with a second grade education, but learned the job quickly by watching how others did things.

During 33 years on the job, he may have missed a week due to illness. Alvaro was continually on call and worked many nights. Rosa said he always seemed to be one of the first people called when something went wrong.

Despite that, "He never complained a day in his life," said Rosemary. "Daddy worked for Sonora for 33 years and there is parts of Sonora underground that probably nobody else knows."

James McLaughlin, a supervisor for the city, agreed, "He knew just about everything about the city there was to know."

During his 33 years of service, DeHoyos saw a lot of changes in technology which appeared to make his job easier. Garbage collection no longer has to be done by lifting the trash cans by hand, a new digger has practically wiped out the jackhammer, a new sewer system which requires less supervision and the city is no longer providing electricity for the population.

Alvaro and his wife Rosa have five children, Irma, Alvaro Jr., Rosemary, Phillip and Thomas. Those children have provided seven grandchildren.

For Alvarado DeHoyos, 33 years of working with pride may have not been enough, but it was complete.

Trainer runs alone for city council spot

James Trainer, city council member, will run for another two-year term. Trainers runs for the position unopposed. Trainer has been on the city council since 1976.

"I had told myself I would not run again," said Trainer.

Trainer decided to run for the council again when no other candidates stepped forward. On the final day Trainer filed for the position.

As for serving again, Trainer said, "I think that what the councilman gets out of it (the job), outweighs the negative aspects.

"I look at myself as being conservative," said Trainer.

In this year's mayoral election, Trainer backs incumbent Bill Gosney. Trainer said Gosney has done a good job as mayor and has not hurt Sonora's economic growth.

Going back in time

Many people have fond memories of their childhood. How many, though, take the opportunity to relive those days? I do, many nights.

I live by the tennis courts across from the high school. It's a popular gathering point for kids.

Many nights I hear them yelling and screaming, talking about school and other things kids at that age do.

I'll sit on my porch and swear I hear my friends, Steve, Ryan, Andy, Ken, Dave, Dan, Miles, Kurt, Brad and others, calling my name.

It seems like so long ago, but it couldn't have been. I haven't even been out of high school 10 years.

If you ever feel the pressures from your job or anything else that might be bogging you down, try taking a minute to go by the tennis courts or other popular gathering points for kids. Just stay in the background and enjoy them.

You'll feel better instantly.

THOMPSON'S WIN AGAIN - Thompson Brother's Cookin' Team, represented by Gene, Jeannette, Colely and Walker Thompson and Bobby Thompson of Sonora, Texas, won trophies once again at this past weekend's "1st Sometimes 5th Annual" Mayfield Country Store Cook-off. Bringing home a 1st place in the Goat meat and a 3rd in Calf Fries. Teaming up with M. D. Shurley, also of Sonora, Gene also brought home a 1st in Horse-shoe pitching. A Special Trophy was given to the Thompson Family "In Memory of Bill Thompson."

Making living more effective

"We are not human beings having a spiritual experience we are spiritual beings having a human experience." -Teilhard De Chardin.

All the world's religions seem to agree with this conclusion, and the prospect of doubting its validity seems preposterous.

In light of this, all should be committed to extracting the full worth from not only the experience of life, but from the organism-our body- which conveys us throughout life's duration. We should ceaselessly strive to fulfill our mortal purpose.

What is our purpose?

"Ultimately, man should not ask what the meaning of his life is, but rather must recognize that it is he who is asked. In a word, each man is questioned by life; and he can only answer to life by answering for his own life; to life he can only respond by being responsible." -Victor Frankl, a Jewish psychiatrist imprisoned in the death camps of Nazi Germany.

The answers to each of life's questions lies in the realm of our mind and in the organ that holds it-the brain. Ironically, it was in the death camps during World War II where our understanding and brain surgery itself was advanced some fifty years. While the brain processes and controls information concerning our body's limbs, organs and tissues, we control the brain with thought and perceptions. We have the choice of merely reacting to situations or using our mind to respond in a manner that will extract gain from the experience.

analysis, which means to break apart; the right with synthesis, which means to put together. The left deals with sequential thinking; the right with simultaneous and holistic thinking. The left is time bound; the right is time free.

"We live in a primarily left brain-dominant world, where words and measurement and logic are enthroned, and the more creative, intuitive, sensing, artistic aspect of our nature is often subordinated (made less important). Many of us find it more difficult to tap into our right brain capacity.

"... The more we are able to draw upon our right brain capacity, the more fully we will be able to visualize, to synthesize, to transcend time and present circumstances, to project a holistic picture of what we want to do and to be in life."

Unfortunately, many do not tap into their right hemisphere until an extremely adverse setback or the death of someone close causes them to take a good look at life and mortality. They discover their spiritual self and are suddenly able to put the human experience into a more realistic perspective.

Though I have oversimplified the substance of the issue, the point is that we are able to perform and fulfill individual purposes by using the right side of the brain to compliment the left. At present, we barely use its full capacity. When we learn its potential, we can consciously use our minds effectively, we can fulfill our lives, and thus make the human experience rewarding to our spiritual selves. We get the most out of life by demanding the best of ourselves.

Take time for fun NOW

by Scott Gilmore

A women recently wrote syndicated columnist Ann Landers in an effort to warn readers not to make the mistake she and her husband, Larry, made.

Upon retiring, the couple planned some wonderful trips they had never found the time for when they were younger.

Three weeks after they saw a travel agent, Larry's 90-year-old mother suffered a stroke and had to be taken to a nursing home. The couple decided that their long-dreamed-of trips should be "postponed until after Mother was gone."

Seven years later, Larry died of a heart attack at age 67. Mother, at 97, is still in the nursing home.

The message the woman would like to share: Life is uncertain, so enjoy every day and don't unnecessarily postpone the pleasure of life.

"The time to relax is when you don't have the time for it."

Pecan trees require care in spring

by Preston Faris, CEA-Ag.

With spring already in full bloom, the time is ripe to spray newly budded pecan trees.

Spraying will combat scab, the most prevalent disease among pecan trees. The disease is hard to see, but if growers have had the problem in the past, they probably can expect it in the future. Pecan scab usually produces lesions on the leaf and black or dead shucks.

Some varieties such as burkett, Wichita, Belmas, and Western are susceptible to pecan scab and should be treated with a fungicide. Varieties resistant to pecan scab are Choctaw, Desirable, Cheyenne, Pawnee, and Sioux, but growers should still be alert for problems with fungus.

Spray immediately after the buds break and then two or three more times until June.

While spraying a fungicide, also spray the pecan trees with zinc. Zinc sprayed on foliage helps produce larger leaves and promotes overall tree growth and nut production.

The prime time to fertilize pecan trees is immediately after the buds break. The old rule of thumb is to apply one pound of ammonium sulfate, 21-0-0, per inch of trunk diameter.

Fertilizer should be broadcast on the surface under the pecan tree and should extend out to the canopy. A common misconception for fertilizing is to dig a hole near the trunk and pour liquid fertilizer into the hole. Since most feeder roots are in the top 18 inches, there is no need for fertilizer to be placed beneath the depth of the soil.

Newly planted pecan trees should be cut back to one-half their height. When pecan trees are dug at nurseries, the roots are damaged. Cutting the tree back gives it a better chance of regenerating a new root system.

Mulching is also important in helping young trees get established. Some of the best mulch is leaves, hay, pine needles and straw.

Unlike most trees, young pecan trees can withstand Roundup applications that are used to kill surrounding grasses. Young trees need plenty of water and should be kept relatively free of competition with grasses, especially bermuda grass.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

What's the hold-up with the Drug Trials? Its been over a year since the "bust", 17 months since Webster hired "highly recommended" undercover agent Lonnie Hood off the streets (Hood is a fitting name). Fifteen people were indicted on Hood's word alone. Favela and Galindo were found guilty in spite of the circumstances. Barbee and Pendleton pleaded guilty but are allowed to roam free. Junior or somebody keeps postponing their sentencing while Galindo's was moved up.

For a while, Junior tried his best to scare the rest of the defendants into pleading guilty but so far it hasn't worked. He told one (Contreras) that if he joined the Army everything would be forgiven (I wonder if the U. S. Army knows that Junior is recruiting alleged drug dealers for them?)

Junior went on record as saying that he would accept no plea bargains. He then offered Barbee and Pendleton (according to Pendleton) 2 months in prison and 10 years probation, compared to 90 years for Favela and life plus $20,000 for Galindo---wouldn't you call that a plea bargain?

So what's the hold up? Could it be that Junior and Hood have lost their credibility? The only way the truth will come out is to get on with the trials. So lets get it on Junior! Or are you afraid that your true colors are starting to show.

Prove me wrong and shut me up or give it up and lets get Favela and Galindo back with their families where they belong.

A lot of Chicanos are getting impatient and wish as you may, this time we will not forget.

Ernest C. Barrera

Dear Editor,

Sutton County and the City of Sonora participated in a full scale exercise held April 10, at 5:30 p. m.

The purpose of this type exercise is to evaluate and upgrade emergency responding personnel in their roles and responsibilities in a large scale emergency situation. The responding departments participating were the Sutton County Sheriff's Department, Sonora Police Department, Sutton County Emergency Medical Service, Sonora Volunteer Fire Department, and Hudspeth Hospital.

Just some of the people who helped with the success of this exercise were the victims, consisting of 25 high school students, Terry Marrs, Joe Weingart, Joe Brown with Halliburton, Charles Russell, Charlotte Gilmore, Texas Highway Department, Phil Browning, Thomas Adkins, Jeremy Gibson, Melissa Teaff, and the responding departments.

We would like to thank each of these people for their contribution and their community minded support.

Many Thanks,
Sutton County/Sonora Emergency Management Agency Planning Committee: Bill Webster, Brent Gesch, Matt Davis, Scott Gilmore, Treva McReynolds, Leslie Thorp, and Lenora Pool

Plan now for severe weather

Although tornadoes, severe thunderstorms and floods can strike virtually any part of Texas at any time, spring seems to bring an increase in violent weather.

You can take precautions to assist yourself and your family in the event of a tornado.

Periodically hold a tornado drill so that family members know what to do and where to go if the National Weather Service issues a tornado warning. The safest part of a house during a tornado traditionally is the basement, but be aware of the potential for flooding if there is heavy rain in the area. Interior bathrooms, hallways and closets on the ground floor also offer protection from winds. Avoid windows and outside walls. Take along blankets or sleeping bags to protect yourself from falling debris and shattering glass, which are frequently the cause of death and injury during a tornado.

Make certain you have a portable radio and several flashlights as well as bottled water, extra prescription medications and a first aid kit in your shelter area.

Remember, if a tornado strikes, electricity, gas, water and sewer service may be disrupted for several days.

Your local Sutton County emergency management office can provide additional information on severe weather precautions. The Governor's Division of Emergency Management, the National Weather Service, the Texas Insurance Advisory Association and the Federal Emergency Management Agency are sources of information and publications on various weather phenomena for local governments.

Like Boston, New Jersey had a "tea party" during the mounting friction between the colonies and Great Britain. At Greenwich, near Delaware Bay, young men in Indian costume burned a shipload of tea from England in 1774.

PLAY BALL - It was around 1910 that these gentlemen from Sonora were playing the baseball circuit. Pictured sitting are; L.E. Johnson, Luther Thorp and Benny Wyatt. Standing are; Lea Aldwell, Gustaf Meckel, Bart Dewitt, Murdock McDonald and Roy Aldwell. At that time uniforms were generally made from wool and would be very hot. A close look at the baseball glove reveals that it is not much bigger than the hand itself and offered little padding.

A NEW FRIEND - Nikki Casillas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jaime Casillas, won this bunny during an Easter give-away at Perry's.

Centennial Celebration plans underway

How does a community adequately celebrate 100 years of history? The Centennial Planning Committee decided to take its cue from the planners of the 75th Anniversary and it now appears a grand celebration is in store for Sonora and Sutton County.

The logo for the Centennial appears on the calendar of events included in this paper. This logo was also used for the 1965 celebration (artist unknown).

The calendar will run weekly and groups are urged to call the Chamber of Commerce to add any event or activity being planned.

At its meeting on April 19, the Planning Committee chose officers to head the celebration as follows: Co-chairpersons, Carl Teaff and Joyce Chalk; Secretary, Scott Gilmore; Treasurer, Butch Campbell.

Other persons appointed to duties and committees were: Publicity, Charlotte Gilmore; Wagon Train & Trail Ride, L. P.

For many of the 220,000 people who are admitted to hospital emergency departments each day, wearing a Medic Alert bracelet or necklace can be a real lifesaver.

Bloodworth; Displays, Lola Beth Jones; Fund Raising & Concessions, Melissa Teaff; Contests, Kyle Donaldson. (Others will be added as planning progresses.)

Advisor for the entire celebration is Robbie Teaff who was Co Chairperson of the 1965 celebration and has been keeper of its memorabilia for these 25 years. The Planning Committee has plenty of fun in store for everyone and will begin announcing new activities weekly.

For right now you men need to start growing beards and mustaches and you ladies had better get your frocks and bonnets starched and ironed.

Hat Day at the Senior Center

Thursday, April 12th was "Hat Day" at the Sutton County Senior Center. Over 35 senior citizens from Sonora participated in this annual event. These innovative seniors proved once again that creativity is ageless. Hats, bonnets, sombreros, and stetsons were the order of the day--each bearing its wearer's own personal touch.

Contest prizes were generously provided by Sonora Pizza Hut, the Sutton County Steakhouse, The Commercial Restaurant, and Tedford Jewelry. Prizes were awarded for first, second, and third place in four categories.

The following is a list of prize winners: Most beautiful--Eufemia Virgen, first; Mary Low Gilly, second; Gretta Smith, third. Funniest--Mandy Turk, first; Jim Luckie, second; Guggle Thorp, third. Most Unusual--Melvin Glascock, first; Lincoln Wall, second; Cesario M. Martinez, third. Most Original--Eloisa Gamez, first; Maria Leija, second; Eulojia Flores, third.

Kent Kepler, Carla Fields, and Adelita Smalling had the dubious honor of judging all the entries. They did an excellent job and are to be commended for giving so freely and selflessly of their time. Our hats are off to all three!

Jeanne Davenport provided delightful background music for the entire event. Her rendition of "Easter Parade" was incomparable to any other ever played on the Senior Center piano.

Be on the look out for all the special events taking place at the center in May, which is OLDER TEXAN MONTH. A super, intergenerational style show will be held after lunch Friday, May 4th. The Sutton County Senior Center is making a video for presentation at the Senior Spring Fling at the coliseum San Angelo May 9th. We hope to be joined by a large group from our area at this region-wide affair.

Cahill honored at Texas Tech

Kelly Dearing Cahill, daughter of Jimmy Ruthie Cahill of Sonora, was selected a 1990-91 Undergraduate Scholarship Award Recipient at Texas Tech University.

Cahill received the award during the Achievement Reward for College Students annual scholarship awards dinner April 16 in Lubbock.

The undergraduate scholarship award is for juniors majoring in the sciences or engineering and have a grade point average of 3.5 or better. The minimum amount for a scholarship is $1,000.

Thinking of buying a new air conditioner or furnace?

Today many home owners are buying neither one because the smartest unit to buy is an all season heat pump.

A heat pump cools your home in the summer and heats it in the winter. And not only that, it'll pump savings back into your pocket because it's one of the most energy efficient cooling and heating systems you can buy.

As a WTU customer, you can qualify for $500 cash when you install an electric heat pump and your home meets WTU's Energy Saving Plan requirements.

For more information on an all season heat pump, call your cooling and heating dealer or WTU.

You Can Change Your Cholesterol Level, By Changing One Of These Three Things.

Lower the amount of cholesterol and saturated fat in your diet, and you can reduce a major risk factor for heart disease. And that's true even if heart disease runs in your family. To find out how easy it is to change your diet, call or write your local American Heart Association for a free booklet. It's the adult thing to do. Your Life Is In Your Hands.

QUICK QUIZ

Here's a story that's really worth the paper it's printed on—but do you know a lot about that paper? Taking this little test can help you tell.

1. What fraction of newspapers in the U.S. get recycled? (a) under a tenth (b) about a quarter (c) over a third?

2. Newspapers constitute about (a) eight (b) 48 (c) 88 percent of landfill space?
3. Recycling of newspapers is (a) growing (b) beginning to fall off.

ANSWERS
1. (c) In 1989, about 1.5 million tons were turned into newsprint again, 1.4 million tons into cardboard boxes and over a million tons exported for recycling elsewhere. 2. (a) A lot of newspapers are recycled already. Some are turned into energy in incinerator plants. Less than two-thirds are left for landfill disposal and that number is shrinking. Newspapers are leading a trend toward more recycling. 3. (a) Falling prices for used newspapers last year were caused by a sudden upswing in recycling by newspaper readers. But experts at the American Newspaper Publishers Association say that publishers are ordering more recycled newsprint and paper-makers are gearing up to increase recycling. So, if your community paper drive recently met with problems in finding a buyer, stay tuned.

Ask Your DOCTOR

Heart Failure Drugs: What You Should Know
Here's important news for the three million Americans who will suffer from congestive heart failure this year.

The American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP) has adopted a policy identifying critical drugs, diseases and patients where generic drugs should not be substituted for brand-name medications. Congestive heart failure is one of the diseases cited in the new policy. Among the critical drugs identified for nonsubstitution are loop diuretics, used to treat the buildup of fluids associated with congestive heart failure. The most frequently prescribed loop diuretic is furosemide.

Dr. R. Jerry Mann, chairman of the AAFP committee that drafted the new policy, told a press conference that loop diuretics were cited because they have "a narrow therapeutic range" that makes precise dosing essential for safe and effective treatment. Present standards allow generic drugs to vary from the brand-name standard by as much as plus or minus 20 percent. The brand-name standard for furosemide is Lasix®.

"The AAFP believes that physicians must be advocates of their patients and retain control of their patients' medication," says Dr. James Jones, president of the AAFP. "They must know when a generic is being substituted, and they must be especially cautious when managing critical patients, treating critical diseases, or using critical drugs."

The world's first commercial jet airliner was the Comet I. It was introduced in 1952.

Protecting Our Environment

Recycling
Many Americans are pitching in to help their communities deal with the mountains of trash created by our throwaway society.

A new storage center for outside your home or inside the garage lets you organize and store empty bottles, cans and more, before recycling.

Collecting newspapers, glass and aluminum for recycling is fast becoming an every day chore for homeowners. Along with the need to recycle comes the need for a place for homeowners to store recyclables neatly and conveniently. Many environmentally-conscious homeowners may find the new Collector's Edition Recycling Storage Center from Arrow Group Industries—the nation's leading manufacturer of outdoor storage buildings—can be a big help. It's equipped with a utility shelf for newspapers and other recyclable paper products and a space for up to three, 30-gallon trash cans. Three swing doors and an overhead lid, which are all lockable, allow easy, convenient access and prevent small animals from entering.

The company also offers recycling accessories, such as a patent pending "bag sorter," which holds up to six large trash bags in an open position, keeping sorted materials separated and ready to carry out on recycling day.

MAKE $25,000 SITTING AT HOME!

DON'T LET THIS OPPORTUNITY PASS YOU BY.

Can you picture yourself making at least $5000 dollars a week, every week? If you can, I urge you to read this article, it could be worth thousands of dollars to you!

My name is Mark Preston. I am 32 years old and a self made millionaire. A few years ago I discovered a money making method that changed my life forever. This is not just another "get rich quick scheme." This is a unique new system that is in demand everywhere, yet few people even know it exists.

Anyone can do it. Trust me. If you want to make money, this system is for you. When I first started this money making program, I was flat broke and at least $10,000 dollars in debt. My family thought I was crazy and said I should be out looking for a "real job." That did not stop me. I was determined to make it with this fantastic money making plan I had discovered.

I started at home on the kitchen table with no capital. Within a year I was taking in over $20,000 A WEEK... MORE THAN A MILLION DOLLARS A YEAR. You heard me right, OVER A MILLION DOLLARS A YEAR! I went from driving an old beat up Pick-Up to a Brand New Lincoln Continental. I paid for it in cash. I bought a new home in a prestigious neighborhood, a waterfront summer cottage, and a Townhouse in Florida. I do not mean to brag, but these are my results using this amazing money making system. Do not envy me, join me!

THE SECRET REVEALED

I knew then I had discovered a revolutionary new money making program that would continue to make me thousands of dollars a day. It seemed so easy. I asked myself why everybody wasn't rich? Then it dawned on me that not everyone knew about this secret method of making money. You do not need special training or even a college education for this money making system to work for you.

Once you have learned how to use it, your money worries will be over for life. You will have financial security and peace of mind. This money making system is perfectly legal and amazingly simple. It has nothing to do with real estate, the stock market, or gambling of any kind.

It does not matter what your financial situation is now. You can start this money making program at home in your spare time with less than $15.00. In a few short weeks you will see the cash start to roll in. Once you put this money making system to work for you, the sky's the limit! You will have cash to spend on whatever you want, whenever you want it. Think of it! Enough cash to finally put an end to economic nightmares forever!

HERE'S PROOF

I am sure you are somewhat skeptical at this point. That just shows you have good business sense. Read what a few people had to say about my money making program.

Dear Mark,
I ordered your program 3 months ago and started using it the day I got it. To say the least I was shocked at the results. Last month I deposited over $11,000 in my bank account. Thank you so much.
N.C., Stuart, Florida

Dear Mark,
When I first saw your article I had my doubts. I said to myself I might as well try it, at least I'll be $25.00 ahead with your guarantee. Well, your material changed my life from being flat broke in July to practically a millionaire in December! If I can do it, anyone can.
J.S., San Diego, CA

Dear Mark,
Before I ordered your money making method, I was slaving away cutting lawns for $4.00 an hour. At 19 years old my future looked bleak. Last week I made over $14,000 in less than 20 hours of work. I am the envy of all my friends. Thanks for a new life!
J.B., Loudonville, NY

When Relieving Cold Symptoms, Watch Out For Drug Interaction

"When you stop at the store, can you pick up some cold medicine for me? I don't care which one, as long as it works!"

We all hope that one day there will be a cure for the common cold, but in the meantime, most of us are willing to try almost anything to relieve the symptoms. Many people don't realize that even over-the-counter medicines contain powerful drugs.

When mixed with other medicines—prescription or over-the-counter—these drugs put many adults at risk of adverse drug interaction. Dr. William Simonson, associate professor at Oregon State University's College of Pharmacy and author of the book Medications and the Elderly, explains that a drug interaction, defined as the modification of the effect of one drug by another, can result from taking as few as two different medications. Although some drug interactions can be used positively by the physician, some diminish or negate the effectiveness and safety of both drugs.

Oral over-the-counter medications can be just as powerful as prescriptions, and some may interact negatively with medicines prescribed by a doctor. "Even medications such as oral decongestants—used frequently for self-medication of common colds—can react negatively with prescriptions for heart disease, high blood pressure, diabetes, or thyroid conditions," explained Simonson. Oral decongestants can increase heart rate, which may cause more serious problems for people with heart disease or high blood pressure. However, many of the reactions can be minor, such as dizziness, insomnia, or nervousness. Suggests Simonson, "Those people who suffer from these conditions can more safely treat their colds by resting, drinking plenty of liquids, and using a vaporizer or a topical decongestant like Vicks VapoRub."

There are a variety of factors that suggest drug interaction is becoming more and more of a hazard to Americans. One factor is an increase in the number of prescription medicines that are being transferred to non-prescription status. In addition, during the cold and flu season, many of us self-medicate—we visit the pharmacy instead of the physician. According to Dr. Simonson, "The overwhelming majority of adults take over-the-counter medications at least occasionally; some use six, ten or even more of these medicines, often in conjunction with prescription drugs."

Older Adults at Special Risk
Older adults are at special risk for drug interaction, due to an increased rate of medication and physical changes during the later years that affect the body's ability to metabolize medicines. This poses a problem: by the year 2000, more than 35 million Americans will be over the age of 65. As the U.S. population ages, experts predict a rise in the number of adverse drug interactions. According to Simonson, "More medications are prescribed per capita for adults over fifty than for any other age group."

There are simple ways to reduce the risk of drug interaction. Simonson and the makers of Vicks VapoRub offer several suggestions for effective medication management:

- * Talk with your doctor or pharmacist. An FDA study found that 96% of patients surveyed never ask their doctor or pharmacist about medications. Learn about your medications and why you are taking them. Ask about potential drug interactions.

- * Be extra cautious during the cold and flu season. Remember that non-prescription oral medicines are drugs, too. Opt for the safest remedy to treat your symptoms.

- * Never share your medications with others. What may work for you can cause a potentially adverse reaction in someone else.

- * When travelling, take along a "travelling medicine chest." Remember to pack your prescriptions. If you need over-the-counter remedies while on the road, check with a local pharmacist to make sure the medication you have selected won't interfere with your prescriptions.

For more information on the problems of drug interaction, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to "Healthy Medications," P.O. Box 15329, Stamford, CT 06901.

Local citizens to be involved in program planning

As many as sixty leading citizens of Sutton County will gather April 30 to help identify critical issues facing the county over the next four years.

The purpose of the meeting, one of many being conducted in counties around the state this spring, is to assist in the development of educational programs by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service that are responsive to local needs.

"Local people usually have the best ideas on how to solve local problems," said Preston Faris, Sutton County Extension Agent. "The Extension Service wants to tap into that collective wisdom, and structure its programs in ways that make them relevant and effective."

More than 10,000 people are expected to participate in this grassroots planning effort in Extension Service-sponsored county meetings throughout Texas.

In Sutton County, the meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. on Monday, April 30, at the First National Bank. This citizens' study group, chaired by County Judge Carla Fields, was organized earlier in the year by the executive board of the county's Extension Program Council.

To begin the meeting, the study group will hear status reports on the economic, environmental and social conditions in the county. The group will then divide into task forces to identify the most critical issues facing the county in the broad fields of agriculture and natural resources, community development, youth, and home economics.

Afterwards, the study group will reconvene, hear task force reports, and discuss how these issues impact the county's economy, environment, and social welfare.

The work of the study group is one of the first major steps in an intensive effort for determining Extension Service programs of 1991-94. Each county long-range Extension program, developed by October, will be considered in the development of the Extension Service's statewide program plan.

For more information contact the local county Extension office.

Emergency Medical Service news

Sutton County EMS has received delivery of two new chair stretchers, made possible by the generous gift from the Caverns of Sonora, Inc., of their "Wishing Well" monies for the past year. These two stretchers are especially made for extricating injured or ill patients from hard-to-reach places, and will facilitate both faster and easier rescue times in certain situations.

The chair stretchers received their first use during the full scale emergency drill performed on April 10, and their advantages were clearly demonstrated to all participating personnel. In addition to their extrication uses, they can also function as temporary wheel chairs for moving patients from one place to another.

Sutton County EMS wishes to thank the Caverns of Sonora, Inc., for their generous donation making these purchases possible, and to salute the Caverns of Sonora for their promotion of Sonora and Sutton County. The owners and employees are indeed a valuable asset to this community.

The Sutton County EMS has received the following donations since the month of January: In memory of Duwane Genini, by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mooney; In memory of Polly Lewis, by Carla Fields; In memory of Granville Barker, by Mr. and Mrs. John David Fields, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pool, and Mr. Jim Luckie. In memory of Laura Humphreys, by Mr. and Mrs. George Keese; In memory of Roman Sanchez, by Mr. and Mrs. Tim Thorp and Mr. and Mrs. John David Fields; In memory of Vernon Gilchrist, by Mr. and Mrs. Tim Thorp, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pool, and Mr. and Mrs. George Keese; In memory of Ruth Ashburn, by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pool, Mrs. Jonnie Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Thorp, Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. John David Fields, Mr. and Mrs. Voy Julius, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Louis M. Rancatti, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, and Mrs. JoAnn Thorp.

Private donations have been received from Caverns of Sonora, Larry Finklea, Lura Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Ashburn, and the Sonora Independent School District.

Sutton County EMS wishes to thank these donors for their generous gifts, all of which make possible the purchase of extra equipment to add to patient care. Anyone wishing to make a private or memorial donation to the Sutton County EMS can do so by going by the EMS Building, or by mailing the donation to P. O. Box 1067, Sonora, Texas 76950.

For Recycling "Millionaires," Saving The Environment Is Second Nature

Jake and Judy Finley recently became millionaires.

No, they didn't win the lottery. Instead, the Santa Rosa, Calif., family won recognition as the 1 millionth household to wage a war on waste by joining Waste Management, Inc.'s Recycle America* program, provider of the nation's leading residential curbside recycling service.

While the event marked a major national milestone for Waste Management, Jake Finley called it a family high point as well.

"We've always hoped to set an example for other families to join the recycling movement—now we've done that on a national scale," he says. "People are concerned about the environment and they want to recycle. It doesn't get easier than a curbside pick-up program."

Finley adds, "When we first started recycling, we'd take our cans and bottles to the recycling depots periodically—probably more often in the summer than in winter. Then curbside pick-up came along, and it's just super. We just put everything right into the bins."

Through Recycle America*, residents receive special collection bins for paper, cans, glass and plastic.

According to Finley, "Once you get started, curbside recycling becomes second nature. When you throw out your garbage, you just throw the recyclables in one place and the rest in the trash."

It certainly seems a hard habit to break: The Finleys' sons grew up recycling and now do it in their own homes.

Waste Management, Inc., through its Recycle America service, currently operates curbside collection programs in more than 130 cities nationwide. According to Bill Moore, director of waste reduction at Waste Management, "Recycling is not a short-term trend. It's going to be a permanent part of our lives one day soon."

He attributes the program's rapid growth to its ability to combine scope and sophistication with simplicity.

Recycling their trash at home has made the Finleys more aware of recycling efforts elsewhere. They read magazine and newspaper articles on solid waste and recycling and have become more conscious of what should and should not be disposed.

Jake Finley believes the future of recycling depends a great deal on industry. "Manufacturers have to step back and take another look at their products. How can they be made better for the environment?"

Waste Management's Moore adds, "Our real challenge now is strengthening the markets for recycled materials and encouraging consumers to demand products with recycled content. That's what will truly drive recycling in the end."

SSI - More People are Eligible. The Social Security Administration has had its share of controversy recently. But, its programs do provide help to people who really need it. Supplementary Security Income, or SSI, is one such program. Benefits include cash payments and may include food stamps and Medicaid.

The program is intended for people with severely limited income and resources. To receive benefits, an applicant must have annual income from the Social Security of no more than $4,656 for an individual or $6,876 for a couple. Those whose income comes from work may earn as much as $9,852 for an individual or $14,292 for a couple. Not all income is counted; food stamps, for instance, do not count as income.

Permissible resources are limited to $2,000 for an individual and $3,000 for couples, but the person's home, a car used for essential transportation, burial plots, and certain other resources are exempt.

For further information about SSI, call the Social Security Administration at 1-800-234-5772.

ELECTRIC METERS — SEALED FOR SAFETY

Electrical meters measure the amount of service delivered by measuring the flow. Every meter in operation has some current flowing through it, and residential meters usually carry the full load. The typical residential load can be up to 200 amps of current.

Removing the meter while it is under load, that is when current is flowing through it, can lead to disaster. The metal housing is at a different electrical potential from the meter. Any contact between the metal housing and the meter will result in a violent discharge or "arc" of electricity between them.

The resulting electrical explosion can severely damage the meter and the electrical system, and can cause electrical fires. The person working with the meter could be injured, blinded or killed by flying glass and metal, or by the radiant flash caused by the explosion.

Your meter should be removed or serviced only by representatives of your utility company, or by electricians or emergency personnel authorized by your utility.

Remember — the seal on your meter is a seal of safety!

Youth study production of finewool

In an effort to teach both producers and youth more about the production of finewool sheep in Sutton County a new class was added to the local junior livestock show. The class offered all interested an opportunity to evaluate finewool ewe lambs and learn about differences in fleece and body characteristics. Producers were asked to cooperate by providing ewe lambs at a reasonable cost to the youth from their flock.

An index was developed to evaluate the lambs using the measured traits and the visual appraisal.

The index was based on wool fiber diameter, staple length, final micron range of 19.0 to 25.0 with the finer fiber receiving a larger point total. Staple lengths were also credited from 1 to 25 points in a range from .7 inches to 6.0 inches expressed on a conversion to a 12 month basis.

Final weights were awarded from one to 10 points based on a weight range of 100 to 145 plus pounds. Live rank received from 1 to 40 points.

The table below lists the top 20 of the demonstration.

Fertilizing The Home Orchard

When properly used, fertilizers promote better plant growth and increase yields. Improperly used, they may be wasted or do more damage than good.

Remember, fertilizers cannot correct poor soil structure, adjust an unsuitable soil pH, or compensate for poor plants or unadapted varieties.

Organic or inorganic fertilizers yield good results if used at recommended rates. Organic fertilizers are products of living things, such as manure and fish meal. However, use no more than 10 to 20 pounds of poultry and rabbit manure per 100 square feet of soil around trees or small fruits. These types of manure contain high nitrogen concentrations.

Even though nitrogen is the limiting element in most Texas soils, it must not be used in excessive amounts. Nitrogen is required for plants' dark green color, good vegetative growth, thus promoting winter injury.

The accompanying table outlines a fertilizer program suitable for peach, plum, apricot and nectarine trees. For apples, persimmons and pomegranates use one-half the amounts suggested for peaches. Do not fertilize pear trees unless new growth is poor.

Fertilizer needs for peach, plum, apricot and nectarine trees.

	lbs (18-0-0)	Time per tree*
First year	1/2	May
Second year	1 lb	February-March
Third year	2 lbs	February-March
Fourth year (or more)	1 lb/inch trunk diameter	February-March

*Applied at least 18 inches away from the tree trunk

High pH soils need annual applications of iron chelates to prevent iron chlorosis. Trees suffering from iron chlorosis have yellow leaves (like nitrogen deficiency) with green veins. Make a soil application of one tablespoon of iron chelate such as Sequestrene Fe-138 per inch of trunk diameter when symptoms develop.

Gauge fertilizer requirements for fig trees by the amount of growth made the previous year. The shoot should grow 12 to 18 inches each year. In general, apply one pound of ammonium sulfate per inch of diameter of tree trunk on established trees. Fertilizers containing zinc are of little benefit in alkaline soils' add zinc to tree foliage by spraying zinc sulfate or NZN solutions.

When applying fertilizer to large fruit trees, normally it's not necessary to dig holes in which to place fertilizer. A surface application of fertilizer applied in bands at the tree dripline is sufficient. It's advisable to lightly cultivate and break the soil surface and then to water in fertilizer if rainfall is insufficient. When applying a fertilizer around trees in which lawn grass is growing, apply a little extra to take care of the grass.

Plan your landscape for quick and easy care

by Preston Faris, CEA-Ag.

The downfall of most home landscapes is the lack of maintenance. It is practically impossible to maintain an attractive landscape without a few hours of care each week. Yet, too often the homeowner will tend to plant and forget, thinking that everything will turn out looking OK.

Good landscapes don't just happen. Leaving our landscape to Mother Nature's care doesn't usually work out, particularly in Texas where summer alone can take a scorching toll. Plants basically are like pets -- they must be fed, watered, groomed and occasionally treated for insects or diseases -- otherwise, they die or at best, live an unhealthy life.

Don't fight a losing battle. Use groundcover plants on these areas; there are several excellent ones to select from.

Becoming a "Saturday Slave" to your landscape is not necessary. The trick is in the planning. If possible, plan your landscape in advance -- mentally or on paper -- and be sure to have definite purpose and place for every plant, tree, shrub or other feature you use. Plant with minimum maintenance in mind.

And last but not least, don't confuse low maintenance with no maintenance.

Here are some do's and don'ts to consider in establishing a minimum-maintenance landscape:

-- Do eliminate as many "frills" as possible. A good landscape design is based on simplicity, so use only those things that do a definite job in the landscape. Don't just plant for the sake of variety.

-- Do avoid a scattered arrangement of flower beds and shrubs. A cluttered yard with many beds and shrubs will require a lot of hand edging and clipping. That in itself can become a maintenance nightmare.

-- Don't try to grow grass in areas too shady, too dry, too wet or too steep to be mowed safely. Even St. Augustine must have 40 percent sunlight to do well.

-- Don't fight a losing battle. Use groundcover plants on these areas; there are several excellent ones to select from.

-- Don't line walks and driveways with unnecessary plantings or place foundation plants so close to the house that they can't be maintained.

-- Do select your plants carefully, considering their ultimate size (height and width), and plant accordingly.

-- Don't use large, fast-growing shrubs which will require constant pruning. Consider, instead, some of the easy-care, dwarf-type plants to fill your basic landscape needs.

Becoming a "Saturday Slave" to your landscape is not necessary.

-- Do consider the use of native plants since they are obviously adapted to our climate and soil and usually have few insect and disease problems.

-- Do use mowing strips or edges along walks, flower beds and around trees and shrubs. These will reduce mowing and edging problems and create a much neater landscape.

-- Do use mulches to minimize watering and reduce weeds in flower and shrub beds.

-- Don't overfertilize. Keep plants at minimum fertilization levels and mowing, pruning and trimming will be minimized.

And last but not least, don't confuse low maintenance with no maintenance. Plants will sooner or later need water, fertilizer and care, and the grass must be moved. The idea is to find the easiest way to do the maintenance jobs which must be done.

One good way to keep from becoming that "Saturday Slave" to your landscape is by setting aside an evening or two during the week for doing your landscape chores. Allow gardening to be a joy, a time for relaxed work of being out-of-doors.

Test evaluates black-faced rams

by Preston Faris, CEA-Ag.

Producers in this area need a tool to effectively evaluate their product similar to the very successful Rambouillet ram test conducted annually at the Sonora Experiment Station. Therefore a performance test for hampshire, suffolk and/or hampshire x suffolk rams was initiated in 1988. The test was duplicated in 1989.

Seventeen rams completed the test and were indexed according to the following formula: Index = 86 x (average daily gain) + .30 x (scrotal circumference) + 4 x (loin eye area) - 20 x (backfat thickness) +

3x (visual score). The rams were all scanned by ultra sound on April 12 to measure loin eye area and backfat thickness.

The high indexing ram in the test was consigned by Ron Rathbone of Knickerbocker. The second high indexing ram was a consignment from Steve Sykes of Eldorado. Charles Shannon, Jack Johnson and Tryon Fields consigned the third, fourth, and fifth rams respectively.

Some of these rams and several others from these producers will be offered for sale at auction on Thursday, April 26 at the Sonora Stock Pens at 2:00 p.m.

Faris selected

Preston Faris has been appointed county coordinator by the West Texas Rehabilitation Center to assist with a Club Lamb Auction to be conducted on July 14 in Abilene. The proceeds from the auction will go to this very beneficial organization. Local producers wishing to donate lambs to this activity may contact Faris at 387-3101 or 387-5035.

Cattle prices continue trend

Beef cattle prices to the producer during the next two years are predicted to continue near current levels, the highest in about a decade.

Dr. Ernest E. Davis, economist in livestock marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said producer prices generally will remain at today's levels, although some seasonal fluctuations will occur.

"We have fewer cattle available this year, and this has tended to keep prices up," Davis said. He expects it to take about two years to build the numbers high enough to send prices back down.

Meanwhile, consumer prices for beef are expected to hold steady through the spring and summer.

Davis said a variety of factors are influencing the price situation, including the drought in Texas and other cattle-producing states, the relatively lower amount of beef held in cold storage in U.S. warehouses and the slaughter schedule of feedlots earlier than usual, even earlier than last year.

"As a result, more animals were placed in feedlots for fattening and were slaughtered and placed in the food chain earlier than normal," Davis said. "This has decreased the number of animals available for spring marketings as well as the total number of Texas beef cattle."

Davis said the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Cattle Report shows current 1990 inventory for all cattle in Texas totals 13.4 million head, but about 200,000 less than last year and the year before.

Current producer prices are about on par with those of 1979. Depending on the auction market location and the class and quality of cattle, producer prices in Texas markets for the past several weeks fall within these ranges:

Lightweight steer calves, 300-400 pounds, 95 cents to $1.10 a pound; lightweight heifer calves, 300-400 pounds, 82-86 cents; yearling steers, 500-600 pounds, 92-96 cents; yearling heifers, 500-600 pounds, 86-92 cents; fed yearlings, 1,000-1,300 pounds, 77-79 cents; good to medium cow-and-calf pairs with calves weighing about 200 pounds, around $800.

Davis said Texas feedlots placed 290,000 cattle and calves on feed during February, 16 percent below placements in February 1989. Marketings of fed cattle from Texas feedlots during February totaled 345,000 head, down 5 percent from a year ago.

"This represents fewer animals going on feed and fewer being slaughtered during that month," Davis said.

He said cattle and calves on feed March 1 in seven major cattle production states--Nebraska, Iowa, California, Colorado, Kansas, Arizona and Texas--totaled 8.32 million head, 5 percent more than in the two previous years and the largest number on feed since 1974.

But cattle feeders, facing large numbers of fed cattle marketings this summer, reduced the number of cattle and calves placed on feed from January to February by 26 percent.

"Across the seven states, even with feeder cattle supplies down for the eighth consecutive year because of the downslope of the cattle cycle, it looks like we may still feed more cattle than a year ago," Davis said.

Davis said cold storage beef supplies in U.S. warehouses at the beginning of February totaled 265.2 million pounds, down 16 percent from a year ago and 16 percent less than in 1988.

A Texas livestock marketing industry leader and board chairman of Port City Stockyards at Brenham and Sealy, James D. Sartwelle, expects producer cattle prices to continue near today's level for about two years.

"Unless the basic economy crumbles, the cow-calf producer should get prices comparable to today's levels," he said.

Many ranchers in drought counties, Sartwelle said, have had some rain which boosted grass growth and improved ranges.

"Quite a few of these producers now want to purchase cattle and restock their ranges," Sartwelle said. "The demand for good young cow-calf pairs is brisk and quite competitive."

What do these producer prices mean to the consumer?

Dr. Dick Edwards, an Extension Service food marketing specialist, said the upbeat cattle market is now yet raising prices at the supermarket.

"For the consumer, beef prices have been steady, and they are now expected to change in the near future," he said.

He said demand for beef traditionally increases in the spring and summer, which should reduce any extra supplies from increased beef marketings and keep prices at about the current level.

Edwards said consumers will continue to find some beef cuts on sale each week at the supermarket as managers promote beef. Some of these best buys will include family packs while others will focus on holidays, such as Easter and Memorial Day.
