Crisis continues to have impact on Sonora

Time in service: Faz family just waits

By Griffin B. Cole
DRN Editor

Time has become an important factor in the lives of the Santiago Faz family of Sonora. They are facing a test, an endurance test, which has no end in sight.

22-year-old Santiago Faz Jr, the son of Santiago Sr. and Emelina Faz, is currently somewhere in the Middle East as part of the United Nations force squaring down against Saddam Hussein.

How important is time to the Faz family? When asked when Santiago's time will be up with the Air Force, Emelina Faz had it down to the date, September 28, 1991.

Less than three weeks after Hussein invaded Kuwait, Santiago Faz left Nellis Air Force Base in Las Vegas for the Middle East. It was on Aug. 22 that the Santiago family started their endurance test.

There is quite a bit of contact between Santiago and his family. Letters are received often and a telephone call once a week or so. But there is anxiety, "He can't acutely tell us specifically where he's at," said his sister Mirta.

Just last month Emelina was able to talk to her son for the first time since early August. Prior to that, Mirta said Santiago had to pick just one person in the family to talk with.

That person was Mirta. She is not sure why, perhaps there was no choice. It could be she answered the phone on the first call and the choice was made. Mirta said if she did not answer the phone the operator would not put the call through.

Whatever the case, Emelina was saddened and very anxious.

"That was the only good thing, he called," said Emelina speaking in Spanish.

Calls from Santiago had generally been very positive, but things changed Saturday night.

"When he first called he sounded

SANTIAGO FAZ JR.

happy," said Emelina, "This last time he called he felt homesick and uptight about something."

Emelina is not sure what may have caused the change in attitude for Santiago, "He's a very close person about how he feels. If he has any problems he won't tell you about them."

"When (Santiago) was here he was calm," added Mirta. "We got used to the idea of him being happy...the telephone call is out of character."

There may be an answer. On Thursday the United Nations voted 12-2 to authorize military force to free Kuwait if Iraq does not withdraw by Jan. 15.

While Santiago knows about what is happening each step of the crisis, he would prefer his family did not.

"He is always telling us not to look at the news," said Mirta. "We always do."

Even from thousands of miles away Santiago is looking at his family's best interests.

"He's been a very good son and I've never had any trouble with him," said Emelina.

"And I appreciate that."

SHARING AND CARING - Kindergarten teacher Sharon Creek helps her students pack a box which will be sent to soldiers serving in the Middle East. The students provided shaving cream, toothpaste and candy among many other items.

Kindergartners helping out

For a Sonora kindergarten class Monday morning was a matter of giving rather than receiving during this Christmas season.

Being so young, "They are accepting things, but they don't know about giving," said kindergarten teacher Sharon Creek.

Ms. Creek's class put together a box of gifts Monday to send off to soldiers stationed in Saudi Arabia. The box included toilet paper, toothpaste, books, candy, pens, kleenex, aspirin, shampoo, cotton balls, suntan lotion, band-aids and other items.

The idea for the box just kind of evolved after letters from soldiers in the Middle East were read to the kids.

"We talked a lot about giving gifts," said Creek.

While putting the box together the kids answered questions about where the soldiers are and why they are there.

"My kids didn't talk much about (the crisis)," said Creek. But when the kids heard her talk about it they picked up on it. Some of the kids knowledge has been gained from television.

"We looked on the globe and found where (the soldiers) are and they thought that was interesting," said Creek.

Creek said she doesn't think the students know about how the nation is torn over whether the armed forces should be in the Middle East or not.

"To them (sending a package) is just helping somebody. If something was happening to us we would want help."

Bronco season full of highlights

By Griffin B. Cole
DRN Editor

It was strange walking into a quiet lockerroom at Bronco Stadium. The football helmets, pads and uniforms were neatly hung up and the coaches were getting ready to inventory and wash everything.

After 13 games, eight of them victories, the Broncos football season came to a close after a 45-7 loss to Childress in Regionals. First year head coach Bob Bellard was talking with his assistants about final things to do for the 1990 football season.

After a few moments Bellard started to talk about the season which produced the first playoff team Sonora has had in 10 years.

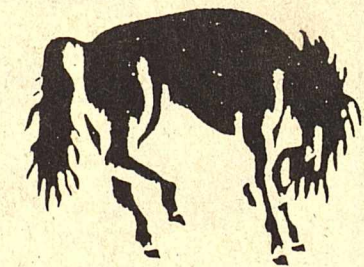

"The kids were fantastic at taking each game one game at a time," said Bellard.

Asked about the highlights of the season, Bellard did not even hesitate, "There were four ballgames that were just great, great wins.

The first one was no doubt the Mason game. Sonora falls behind 14-0 in the first half and rallies to win 15-14 when quarterback David Mirike hit tight end Tate Fincher in the corner of the end zone for a 2-point conversion.

Bellard said the game proved to the kids that they could win, they beat a good football team.

Next on Bellard's list was the Kermit game. "It was a good start in district," said Bellard.

Actually it was exceptional. Sonora scored 28 first half points and routed the Yellowjackets 50-14 on their home field.

The third big game was "a pivotal type" game, said Bellard. The 25-21 victory over Greenwood.

by Colorado City.

Bellard said the Bronco's 28-21 victory over Ballinger in the Area playoff game, "capped it all off."

One game to remember. Ballinger had defeated the Broncos 40-20 in the regular season.

Looking back, Bellard said "When we were successful we got the big play offensively." Defensively the team continued to improve as the season went along.

"They were an intense, scrappy bunch," said Bellard.

Bellard gave plenty of praise to his assistant coaches, Primo Gonzalez, Roy Evans and Don SWEETWATER - The Childress Bobcats scored 25 second quarter points to open up a close game and defeat the Sonora Broncos 45-7 Saturday night at the Mustang Bowl in Sweetwater.

There was such a change of momentum in the game, that Sonora was waved under before they could do anything about it.

DEFENSE, DEFENSE - Oscar Perez (42) moves in on Childress quarterback Ryan Gerber after Tate Fincher (86) forced him wide. Sonora fell to Childress in regional action 45-7.

Basketball season rolling

Both Sonora High School basketball teams head into games this week following third place finishes in the Sonora Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The Lady Broncos (5-2) won two of three games including a 34-30 win in the consolation game against Iraan.

Sonora head coach Clyde Dukes found plenty of aspects for the Lady Broncos to work on in the remaining predistrict schedule. Among the areas to be worked on will be blocking out, conditioning and more consistent shooting.

Dukes said the Ballinger game, a 63-54 loss, showed the Lady Broncos weakness in rebounding. "Ballinger grabbed more offensive rebounds than we did defensive rebounds," said Dukes.

Sonora also had trouble hitting shots from the perimeter as they hit on just three of 19 3-point tries. For the first seven games of the year Sonora is shooting just 34 percent from the field, a percentage Dukes would like to see improved.

Turnovers have also been a problem. Dukes said as young as this club is that can be expected in the early going.

"We're trying to develop a person to handle the ball," said Dukes. "We should see continued improvement."

Looking at the other side of the coin, Dukes said the team's pressure defense and outside shooting have been pleasant surprises.

While hitting just 32 percent from the field overall, the Lady Broncos are nailing 28 percent of their 3-point shots. Leading the way there are Susen McCleery, 34 percent, and Tana Churchill, 29

Share the Pride

A reminder that the first drawings for the annual Business Association's Share the Pride campaign will be held Saturday at the Perry's parking lot. The drawing will begin at 2 p.m.

The next drawing will be Dec. 15, downtown.

Concert canceled

Due to the extended football season and insufficient rehearsal time remaining, the Sonora High School Band Christmas Concert scheduled for December 13 has been canceled.

Band concert

The 6th, 7th and 8th grade bands will perform their annual Christmas concerts on Thursday, December 6 at 7:00 p. m. in the Intermediate Auditorium.

Band boosters

The Band Boosters will hold their monthly meeting on December 10 at 7 p. m. at the High School Band Hall.

4-H meeting

The Sutton County 4-H Club will meet Monday, December 10, at 7 p. m. The Junior Club will meet at the 4-H Center, and the Senior Club will meet at the basement of the First United Methodist Church. 4-Hers are encouraged to bring a canned good for the community food bank.

Commodities

Distribution of commodities will take place on December 12 from 1 until 3 p. m. The Senior Center does not discriminate due to sex, creed, race, color, ethnic origin or handicap. Only senior citizens will be served before 1 p. m. This month's distribution will include flour, cornmeal, honey, peanut butter and butter.

Christmas baskets

Once again this year the Ministerial Alliance will coordinate the giving of 1000 baskets to needy families here in Sonora. We are asking that you turn in names of persons needing a basket to the Justice of the Peace office in the courthouse.

If you care to help fund these baskets, you may give your contribution to the Community Fund to Roberta James at First National Bank, or to any of the pastors in town, naming the Ministerial Alliance as the recipient.

Social Security

Garland Gregg, representative for the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his December visit to Sonora. He will be at the County Courthouse on Thursday, December 20, between 9:30 and 10:30 a. m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time.

AI Anon meetings

AI Anon meetings are held Thursday night at 8 p. m. Newcomers meet at 7:30 p.m.

Please call 387-5775 for further information.

DRN Deadline

The deadline for information to be included in the Devil's River News is 5 p. m. Friday for the following week's paper.

Information can be brought to the office located at 220 N. E. Main St. or mailed to the same address.

For pictures taken on Monday or Tuesday a two day notice should be given to our office.

Aggies are a little different

Going to see Texas A&M play a football game is very different from anything previously experienced.

The school doesn't have cheerleaders at the games (they have yell leaders), they'll stop in the middle of the street and start doing cheers or sing the school song, they'll congregate at a building at midnight and do yells and they'll hold a parade at 8 a.m.

All this in the opposing team's home city. I love it.

Only Texas Aggies could get away with that.

I learned all this last weekend attending the Aggies-Longhorns game in Austin. All these things happened in less than 24 hours.

I hung around a guy who is not an A&M graduate but has a couple of kids who went there. (He says he doesn't really care that much, how the football team does only he enjoys all the festivities tremendously. Still, I'm not convinced. He couldn't stop talking about what a dumb move Slocum made by going for the 2-point conversion.)

Walking around 6th Street I was amazed when these yells, kind of a whooop!, went up. At the same time some of the students stopped walking and bent over grabbing their knees and started a yell.

This was all along 6th Street. It was loud. What is really amazing is that at my college I think only the cheerleaders knew the school song or the cheers. Here was the student body having a good time and all of a sudden here come the yells.

I was just to start learning that was the good time.

Then came the midnight yell practice. Which for all you Aggies was at midnight. (Sorry, couldn't resist one Aggie joke. Clayton Williams got away with them. At least for awhile.)

From four of five blocks away the whooop! could be heard coming from around the state capitol. I had never seen so many Aggies in one place. There were thousands of them.

The next morning Aggies lined Congress Street to watch the ROTC Aggies march to the capitol. What a sight it was.

No doubt it was the highlight of the trip for this kid. The Aggie Band was absolutely terrific. The school fight song is the best one I have ever heard.

I'm not even close to being an Aggie and I could feel my chest swell with pride.

The game was lost by the Aggies 28-27, but that didn't matter. The fans had a great time doing yells.

These yells are in place of cheers. The student body (and former students) know what yell is coming by hand signals. It is unique which is the best.

(Cheerleaders are definitely looked down upon. When the Longhorn cheerleaders came on the field an Aggie fan was heard to say, "Cheerleaders, yech. I think I'm going to throw up.")

All in all it was something fabulous to attend and I know I won't miss the A&M-Texas match up next year at Kyle Field in College Station.

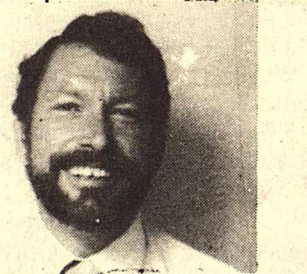

It was a weekend of travelling and football for me. Drove to Austin Friday night and attended the Aggies-Longhorns game then drove five hours to see the Broncos take on Childress in the high school playoffs.

All in all, it was 580 miles covered in a little more than 24 hours. Other than both of the teams I was for losing it was a great trip.

Why cheer for the Aggies? Well, who wants to cheer for Teasippers?

Healthcare

By M. Scott Gilmore
Hospital Administrator

The healthcare paradox - part III

Systematically, our society has exhausted available resources and even blunted the will to resist further health care cost increases as it has struggled to make good on this promise. The delivery of health care has become so fragmented and individualized that it almost defies any attempt at organization. Health care has become a national crisis - just as important as the national deficit. Inequities in health care delivery seem to increase with the current method of fragmented and individualized administration. Let us examine some of the causes fueling the increase in health care costs and how the problem affects almost every aspect of modern society.

*There is growing inequity between what is "possible" medically and what is "reasonable" care. Sophisticated technological advances in treatment and equipment make heretofore medical miracles a common experience and increase individual's expectations for the quality of care they should receive. Organ transplants are becoming common, 13,000 in 1988 with an estimated cost of $35,000 to $200,000 each. Consider the costs of keeping thousands of patients alive who are in irreversible comas, although there is no hope they will return to meaningful lives. Could it be that technology is driving the system rather than that medical needs are driving the technology?

*The malpractice vortex has created an ever-increasing black hole of frustration and abuse. It involves patients, lawyers, doctors, hospitals, insurance companies, courts, and juries, with all the legitimate expense, the abuse, the fraud, and defensive medical practices associated with the system. It creates a cycle of to go to the Rangers they were on their home field and had won seven of their first eight games.

Things started shaky for Sonora as the Rangers broke two long runs and jumped to a 14-0 lead. Slowly the Broncos closed the gap before finally overtaking the Rangers late in the game.

It turned out to clinch a playoff spot as Reagan County was upset

Bellard said, "It was the greatest character-building game I have ever been a part of."

Sonora and Greenwood entered the game at 2-1 in district creating a must-win situation to stay alive for the playoffs. The advantage had Sessom for the success of the team.

It seems the football season never really ends. As I was leaving I looked at a computer and Lellard had already started typing in the names of players for next years team...Larry Chalk, Shannon Escalera....

The holiday season is suddenly here, so let's share holiday recipes. I'll include several of my personal favorites from now until Christmas. If you'd like to share one with our readers, just let me know. Call our office at 387-3604.

Spinach Dip Yield: 4 cups

- 1 (10 oz) pkg. frozen, chopped spinach
- 1 c. mayonnaise
- 2 c. sour cream
- 1 T. dried minced onion
- 1 1/2 tsp. seasoned salt (to taste)
- 1/4 tsp. garlic powder (to taste - put plenty)
- 1 T. dried parsley

Thaw spinach. Press out all moisture. Combine all ingredients. Serve cold.

Dill Dip (for vegetables)

- 1 pint Hellman's mayonnaise
- 1 pint commercial sour cream
- 3 Tbsp. fresh minced parsley or 2 Tbsp. dried
- 3 Tbsp. grated onion
- 3 Tbsp. dill
- 1 1/2 Tbsp. season salt

Blend and refrigerate. Better if made at least a day ahead, preferably several.

Zippy Pecan Cheese Roll

- 1 pound processed American cheese
 - 4 cloves garlic
 - 1 1/2 cups pecans
 - 3 tablespoons chili powder
- Put cheese, garlic and pecans through food chopper using fine blade. Mix well. Shape into roll about 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Sprinkle chili powder over waxed paper. Roll cheese log in chili powder until well-coated. Wrap in waxed paper, plastic film or aluminum foil and chill several hours or over-night. Slice to serve. Yields 2 rolls 1 1/2 inches in diameter and 10 inches long. Will keep in refrigerator several weeks.

Anna's Toasted Pecans

- Melt in jelly roll pan: 1/4 c. margine
- Add: 1 tsp. seasoned salt, 1/2 tsp. salt and 5 shakes Tabasco sauce.
- Stir above.
- Add: 1 qt. pecan halves.
- Toast at 300 F for 15 minutes. Add 2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce.
- Toast and toast 5-10 more minutes.

Cheese Straws

- 3 c. sifted flour
 - 1 lb. Cheddar cheese
 - 2 sticks butter
 - 1 T. paprika
 - 1/2 t. celery sal.
 - 1/2 t. garlic salt
 - 3 dashes Worcestershire
 - 10 dashes Tabasco
- Sift flour, Grate cheese. Set out butter and cheese to soften. Mix all ingredients. Using half of dough at a time, roll out 1/4 inch thick between sheets of waxed paper. Cut into 1x3-inch strips, or put dough through a cookie press. Bake in 400 oven for 10 minutes on ungreased cookie sheet. Freezes well. Makes about 80.

Salmon Party Log

- 1 lb. can salmon (red)
 - 1 8 oz. package cream cheese (soft)
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 - 2 teaspoons grated onion
 - 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon liquid smoke
 - 1/2 cup chopped pecans
 - 3 tablespoons snipped parsley
- Drain and flake salmon - removing skin and bones. Combine salmon and next 6 ingredients; mix thoroughly. Chill an hour. Combine pecans and parsley. Shape salmon mixture into logs. Roll in nuts and parsley. Chill well. Serve with crackers.

How to get the most out of ridin' fence

Following a thunderstorm on the ranch, our first day or so was filled with the tedium of riding fence and replacing water gaps. It was on one such Saturday when Pancho assigned me the task of riding the fence line around three of our out-of-the-way pastures. Usually, it would have been a source of dread but I decided to make this particular day somewhat more enjoyable by means of certain elements at my disposal.

Awakened by the alarm clock at five, I fed the stock in the pens and fixed myself a healthy cowboy's breakfast of bacon and eggs, biscuits and gravy, and coffee boiled up in a sauce pan. For lunch, I packed some tortillas, venison and jalapenos, leftover from supper the night before. I'd get water from windmills passed during the day.

Various selections were made from my cassette collection. Each one was carefully chosen for entertainment and potential to stimulate the faculty of imagination. Insuring my player had a good set of batteries and some spares, I finished filling my saddlebags.

My .357 magnum revolvers were a must. A good portion of my ride ran along the Juno Highway where test car drivers and tourists passed regularly throughout the day. I loved to show-off; besides, rattlesnakes were a problem. After putting a ration of oats and a substantial supply of baling wire into a burlap sack, I saddled up and rode into the growing light of day.

Al Stewart's, "Time Passages" album was producing some pleasant thoughts as Chief, my paint horse, and I topped our first hill and was greeted by the dawning sun.

I must have rode the same trail a thousand times over the years but this morning was like never before.

A WEATHERED MORN

While purple shines on distant hills,
The Devil's River runs 'n fills,
The thunderstorm that blew all night
Left dawn o' day right calm 'n bright.

I rose to find the peaceful morn
'N countryside still weather-torn.
The draws are full o' wet debris
'N fallen leaves from Live Oak trees.

But pastures sing and water gleams
With chirpin' birds 'n runnin' streams,
With mornin' doves that call ta me,
'N way-far-off, an eagle's scree.

Some horses neigh from far away
'N cattle graze on brand new hay,
While two kit foxes play near-by,
Who pay no mind ta stayin' dry.

A fog rolls in but stays real low
While vapor columns give a show.
They twist 'n swirl in breezy air
Like fairies dancin' ever where.

No day can match the likes o' this,
There ain't no words ta tell such bliss,
But boys, there ain't no better way
Ta rise 'n greet a dawning' day.
April 7, 1979

It was one of those rare instances where everything was just right. The music, seasonal phenomena and my state of mind were such that it was as if I had ventured into some sort of fantasy land. I was overwhelmed and offered a prayer of thanks to the Good Lord.

By dinner time, I'd killed a couple of rattlers which were warming themselves in the sun and freed two or three goats that got their heads caught in the net wire. Only ten or twelve bad places could be found in the fence all morning, no gaps were down, and we were already halfway around. Chief and I ate our victuals and rested a bit near a windmill.

The afternoon went a little slower. In an area one might conclude as seen by very few civilized persons, the storm had washed out about a hundred yards of fence line. Loss of livestock was doubtful with the absence of tracks, but the repairs took three hours to complete.

About seven o'clock the sun was getting low in the sky. I could almost see El Paso from atop a hill overlooking the gorge made by the Devil's River. The song, by Marty Robbins, was playing loudly in my ears as Chief and I descended the rocky slope toward, "Rosa's cantina, below." Surely, Felina would be waiting with an ice cold brew.

Unfortunately, the "cantina" was actually a vacant hunting cabin across the draw, on the neighbor's ranch. It was, nevertheless, a pleasant nostalgic illusion.

The sun bid adieu as it sank within its crimson glow over the western horizon, yielding to the full moon rising in the East. I was at the house by nine and feeling very good about myself. Having seen no other human being during the day, it was as though the Good Lord had fashioned it as a gift for me alone. Thank ya', Lord. Ride'em, Pancho!

percent. It was hot outside shooting which the Lady Broncos used in the opening game to defeat Brady 57-35. Churchill and Amy Reston led the way with 13 points. McCleery added nine points on three 3-pointers.

Tana Churchill averaged over 11 points a game during the three game tournament and was named to the All-Tournament team.

The Lady Broncos were in action Tuesday on the road to Junction and will play in the Iraan Tournament this weekend.

Having just six players most of the tournament, the Broncos picked up two victories in three games.

Coach Doyle Carter has had to make due with the depleted team due to the extended football season for the Broncos. As a result, the Broncos relied heavily upon senior Ramiro Luna to lead the way.

Luna responded by averaging 17 points in the three games and making the All-Tournament team. Playing a deliberate style offense due to the lack of reserves, Sonora edged Brady in the opener 42-37.

Brady held a 21-20 edge at half time, but Sonora scored the first six points of the second half and never trailed from that point on. Luna had 18 points to lead all scorers and Cody Black contributed 13.

Sonora fell in the second game 58-55 to Eldorado. Luna again led the Broncos with 16 points. Blake Adkins contributed 13 and Adam Richter 12.

The Broncos came back to edge Mason 45-43 in the consolation game behind Luna's 17 points. Black added 11 and Adam Mirirke scored 10.

With the football season now at an end, Carter said David Mirirke, Blayne Sykes and Oscar Perez will all start from now on. Carter said he didn't see any problems with starting so soon as each player already knows the system.

Sonora played Tuesday against Junction and will be at the Ozona Tournament this weekend.

Sonora Senior Center news

by Carole Thorp

'Tis the season! As we await the blessed birth we have the opportunity to think of what we can give to others. So much emphasis is placed on what we receive for Christmas that we sometimes forget about those less fortunate than ourselves. We will be collecting coats to distribute for the month of December. Thorp's Laun-dry will clean the coats, then bring them to the center.

Also, if you would like to bring a canned food item or even peppermint sticks to augment our distribution of commodities, please do so between December 1-11. We pass out commodities on the 12th and usually serve between 100 and 120 families.

Now we have two opportunities to make the season bright!

Riverwalk or bust! Those lucky ones who signed up for our San Antonio Shopping (window or otherwise) will depart Friday, December 7 at 12:30. Be sure to arrange for Carole or Sue to load up your luggage before noon that day. This will allow us to leave immediately after the noon meal. Remember "Pancho Claus" is watching you!

Turkeywalkers tie for 1st - The flock from the Senior Center tied with the Church of the Good Shepherd for the largest flock. Each group had 16 walkers. The Presbyterians outdistanced us in fundraising and won the prize for highest contributions. We held our own though, by having the oldest and youngest walkers. Mrs. Eulojia Flores, 88 and Claire Thorp, 3.

Walkers for the center included: Mandy Turk, Eulojia Flores, Elois Gamcz, Maria Dominguez, Carole Thorp, Claire Thorp, Pablo Favela, Raquel Ramos, Amelia Ramos, Jessie Crain, Riley Crain, Blaire Crain, Melinda Crain, Jenny Sue Trainer, Jake Trainer and Rosario Ibarra.

New Memorial Plaque - Eagle Scout Candidate Jericho Thorp, presented his community project to the committee on aging at the November meeting. He plans to arrange for a new Memorial Plaque to be constructed including all the names of previous memorials and any new memorials to be engraved on individual brass plates. The committee agreed to support his project and allotted a small amount of funding to go towards its construction. If you would like to add to the Senior Center's Memorial Fund and have a name inscribed on the new plaque, contact the Center.

December events at the center - The regularly scheduled events that occur at the Center are still on Decembers calendar. The committee on aging will meet on the 11th; bingo will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays unless they have been preempted by holiday programs; blood pressure will be checked by Maria Carrasco on the 19th, and exercises will be conducted on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The December birthday party will be held on the 18th. Celebrating birthdays this month are: Sam Perez, Maria H. Dominguez, Luis Vallejo, Maria A. Sanchez, Tomasa Badillo, Rosa Elena Sanchez, Concepcion Valadez, Gus Redman and James Robbins.

Nativity play - We are fortunate to have the chance to see a re-enactment of the birth of Jesus on Wednesday, December 19 following lunch. Children from the Methodist, Episcopal and Presbyterian churches will repeat their performance of the Nativity. Don't miss this opportunity to see some real angels!

Celebrate Christmas! Our senior center official Christmas party and dance had been set for December 20 at 6:30 p. m. featuring barbecued goat donated from the Lions auction. Please bring something to go along with the meal. Vegetables, and a side dish or dessert or dip & chips will make a splendid feast for us all.

At 7:30 or 8 p. m. we'll kick up our heels to the tunes of "The Old Tyme Country Band" featuring Johnny Ringgold, J. C. Surber, Mo Salinas, Patsy Dobbs and other local musicians. We'll also have a visit from a special bearded guest!

Come let us wish you a Merry Christmas.

2 Zateo - This outstanding group of young people will provide entertainment following our Christmas dinner on the 21st. If you haven't heard this group perform, now's your chance!

The center will be closed on the 24th and the 25th. We will be open on the 31st, but we will NOT SERVE A MEAL that day. We will close again on January 1, 1991. Happy New Year!

Senior Center menu

Monday, December 10 - Hamburger pattie w/cheese, french fried potatoes, sliced tomatoes and lettuce, hamburger bun, dill pickles, onions, mayo and chocolate pudding w/topping.

The Broncos hit Childress (13-0) with an early touchdown.

After Eric Espinosa intercepted a Ryan Gerber pass on the first play from scrimmage, the Broncos marched 53 yards to score.

Espinosa had the honors scoring on a four-yard burst up the middle. Oscar Perez added the point after and Sonora led 7-0 with just under five minutes remaining.

From there it was all Childress.

The Bobcats came back with a nice drive of their own, tying the game on a Monte McNeely 10-yard run. McNeely would prove to be a pain all evening for the Broncos as he rushed for 137 yards and four touchdowns.

McNeely's partner, Teddy Hopkins, also had a good evening gaining 89 yards and scoring one touchdown.

Sonora was still in the game trailing 19-7 with just over one minute remaining in the half, but Childress scored a pair of touchdowns in that span to build a 32-7 lead.

The Broncos offense had trouble all evening as they totaled 187 yards.

Espinosa led Bronco rushers with 73 yards while David Mirike hit on 3 of 15 passes for 63 yards.

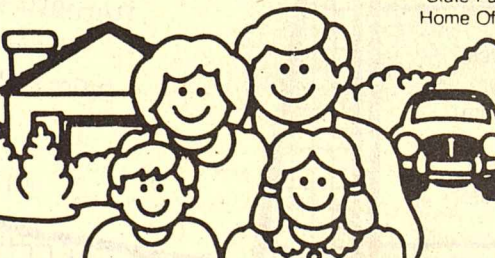

Sonora closed out the season at 8-5 while Childress will meet Vernon in the quarterfinals.

Are you R-E-A-D-Y?

Watch, then, because you do not know which day your Lord is coming! Matthew 24:42

'Are you r-e-a-d-y'? Not for 'Monday Nite Football', or one of those wild parties for advertising the King of Beers on TV; but Are you ready for the coming of God's Son, the Lord Jesus Christ? That's an important question, and pertinent for everyone living on this planet. It's also a timely question, as we prepare to celebrate His 1st coming during this Christmas season. Holy Scripture not only tells us of His miraculous birth nearly 2,000 years ago, but also speaks of His coming again (over 250 times). His 1st coming was in humility and lowliness, as He took upon Himself our flesh and blood. The purpose of that coming was to save mankind from the consequences of rebellion against our Creator, which he accomplished when He offered himself as a sin-sacrifice on the Cross for all people. But as the Scriptures had prophesied (Psalm 16), Jesus Christ arose from the grave on the third day as Victor over real enemies of sin and death - and after 40 days Ascended back to the right hand of the Father, to receive the glory He had before the world was made. From there, as the 2nd Article of the Apostles' Creed concludes: 'He will come to judge the living and the dead' (cf 1 Peter 4:5). Are you ready?

Unfortunately, there are many people today - even within the Church, who are not ready for His 2nd coming, just as many were not prepared for His 1st Advent. One reason is the vice from which none of us are free, called pride. Dr. Martin Luther, called the father of the 16th century Reformation, once said that sinful pride is the root of all sin - and the closer we examine the motivation behind sin, the more we find that to be true. God made man "in His image" (holy & righteous), but the temptation that led to the Fall into Sin (eating of forbidden fruit of the tree of the knowledge of good & evil) was motivated by the desire to "be like God". We can readily see the problem that creates in our world, with over 5 billion 'gods' running around wanting to be the center of attraction in their families, among their friends, and in their communities. While He walked the dusty roads of this earth, Jesus Christ more than once declared: "If you honor yourself, you will be humbled; but if you humble yourself, you will be honored" (Luke 14:11, etc.). I believe He repeated this so often because He knew that in their fallen state, people wear pride like a 'second skin'. And it shows up in so many aspects of the worldly life - such as wealth, prestige, ethnical heritage, education, knowledge, etc. People use any differences, in these and other areas of life, between themselves and others to 'play the game'; ie, to lift themselves up by putting others down.

Of course, we can't explore all these aspects in this short space - but we can say a few words about 'knowledge', for example. The Apostle Paul hits the nail on the head when he says in 1 Corinthians 8, verse 1: "Knowledge puffs up, but love builds up". While gaining knowledge about many things can be useful, it tends to be harmful if it is cut-away from the knowledge of God's love in Jesus Christ.

Today many people suffer from an incorrect knowledge about God's only-begotten Son. Some see Him as a mere historical figure, professing no faith whatsoever in Him. Others regard Him as He was presented in their past experience - a sort of meek and mild, problem-solving Christ to whom they can turn when the road gets rough. Still others see Him as a radical revolutionary who hacked-away at the Establishment of His day, to elevate the sinner and the slave, the poor and the outcast of Society. Many in our generation try to find in Him a refuge or escape from all that afflicts our world today, while others use Him strictly as a means for personal gain or pleasure. Then, of course, there are those who find in Him and His teachings the meaning and purpose of life itself.

God's Word clearly defines Him as the Son of God and Son of man, both human and divine, the Savior and the Lord. He's more than just a picture on a wall, a lovely memory from the past, a symbol or name to pray to when we're desperate enough to pray! He is the "King of kings and Lord of lords" (Rev. 19"16), who is coming again as Judge! Are you ready? It's only when we accept Him as He is, our Savior and Lord - and all that He wants and intends to be, in us and through us, that our lives are total and complete. For He alone is "the Way, the Truth, and the Life" - in whom we find forgiveness, salvation, and eternal life - through repentance and faith! And just as He came 2,000 years ago in humility and lowliness, He will come again in His full glory - with ALL His angels (Matt. 25:31-33). The Good News is that He also comes today, into people's hearts and lives, by His Spirit through His Word.

We all remember playing 'hide-and-peek' as children: '98,99,100 - here I come, ready or not!' In the closing verses of Revelation 22, our crucified and risen Lord says: "Yes, I am coming quickly!" As we prepare the next few weeks to celebrate His 1st Advent, may we - by the grace of Almighty God, and through faith in His promises - respond to His words as he does St. John: "Certainly! Come, Lord Jesus!" - "The grace of the Lord Jesus be with all the holy people. Amen" (Rev. 22:20-21). Are you ready?

Bronco Bob

Sonora ended its first season of the decade last Saturday in Sweetwater. It certainly brought back memories of 3 decades ago when a young coach took some no talent young men to bi-district.

This year as well as that year we were picked in the bottom of our district.

Through the inspired leadership of seniors (who were inspired by a great coaching staff) the clubs rose above their expected levels.

Sonora played well Saturday night and "if" and "if" had prevailed the Broncos could well have won-they certainly tried at all levels for four full quarters. We as a community are very proud of you men. You never did accept defeat; and just maybe we should have asked for 4 more quarters since we were already suited up.

The 1990 season will always be remembered for the Ballinger game. Every individual performed at "maxed out" levels the entire game.

That game will truly be a landmark game every player, fan and especially coach will be able to place on their major achievement list.

You did more than you should have been capable of accomplishing.

Congratulations Broncos!

You Seniors are lucky to be known as the 1990 Seniors and you Juniors and Sophomores are able to see that we can excel and you have the opportunity to do as good or possibly better in 1991.

#10 David Mirike - True leader-whether throwing, running, handing off, tackling or blocking-especially blocking-QB that pushes back and then bowls over the offense.

#23 Eric Espinosa - Team leader and player, excellent running, catching and tackling. Sure was a pretty run against Ballinger.

#42 Oscar Perez - Real workhorse at fullback; running and blocking; great corner.

#51 John Russell - Team leader, great initial and secondary blocking-usually outweighed yet keeping those other groups out. Great ball handling.

#63 Mark Lowder - Inspired player-led excellent job at end.

#65 William Burch - Great job at tackler-but had lots of injuries--bad luck.

#72 Eric Galindo - Lots of top service from this guy. He was making tackles all over the field as well as holding down his spot; lots of great hustle from this big guy--It took it against Ballinger.

#73 Trini Sentena - Trini thought he was super man-He flew all over the offense from middle guard. He was supporting the defense on end sweeps all year long. Trini did a great job at guard offense-Trapping and helping John on the middle.

#74 Johnny Terry - Started off as a very aggressive tackler coming in from his hammer end position but a blown out knee turned a highly potential senior year into a street clothes sideline position.

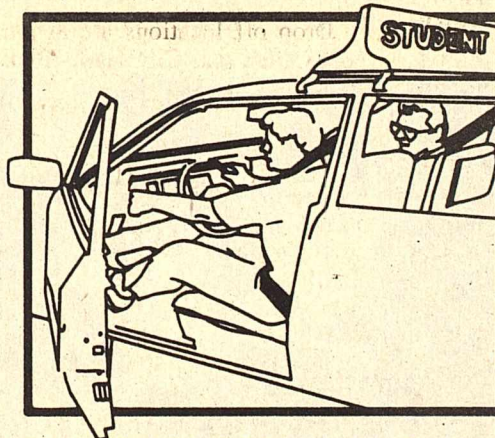

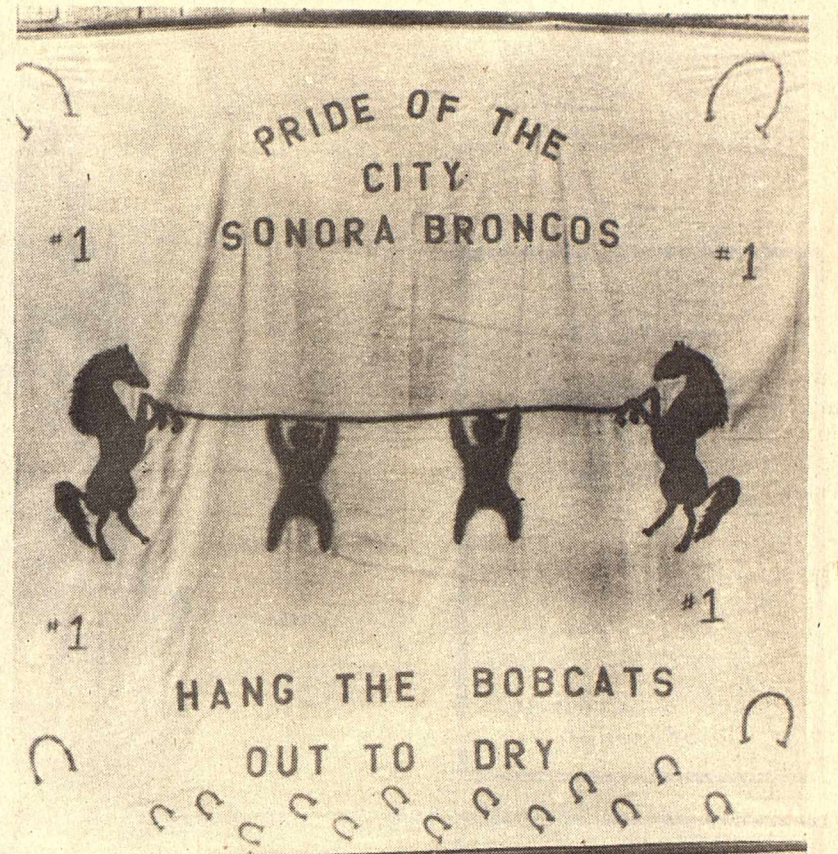

#80 Blayze Sykes - Helped make the season for us with his 2 long catches against Ballinger. Blayze did a fine job on wide containment coming in as defensive end-great year.

#82 Jody Castilleja - Helped shore up our receiver corp and cinch up our corner back position.

#85 Michael Smith - Rounded out our receiving group and filled in at corner this year.

#86 Tate Fincher - A real blue chip player. Bruised neck, leg, back, etc. but he kept helping each week making those hard hitting tackles all over the field from line backer as well as defensive end position and did a great job at tight end.

Feeling fit

Long-distance runners usually don't need extra iron. Blood specialist at the University of Texas Southwestern at Dallas found no more anemia in runners than in non-athletes.

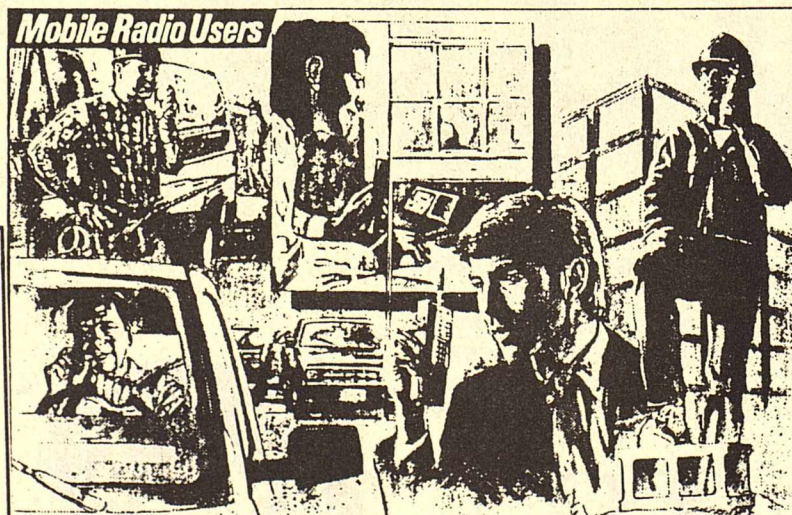

It's not so hard to get the calcium you need. Small, three-ounce can of sardines with bones has 372 mg., almost a third of the calcium recommended for pregnant and nursing women or those past menopause.

Hurdler's stretch helps keep Olympic stars in good shape. Sit on the floor with one leg straight out, toes up. Bend the other knee and bring that foot toward the groin. Lean forward with straight back, reaching toward toes until you feel a stretch. Repeat on other leg.

Three cheers for pink or red grapefruit! It has as much as 26 times the cancer-fighting carotenoids of the white variety.

Tennis is a running game, not a hitting game, say the pros. Running to get in position to hit the ball takes the most time -- and the most effort. Run even before you get the racquet ready.

Scout news

by Kathy Hardgrave

The 2nd-grade Cub Scouts of Sonora's Pack 19 were all presented with their Bobcat badges at the October pack meeting. Each boy had to fulfill seven requirements before qualifying for this award. The boys are Joe Galindo, Christopher Green, Jason Gutierrez, Ryan Hardgrave, Crispin Lira, Jeremiah McLaughlin, Pete Samaniego Jr., Anthony Sanchez, Corey Scheidemann, Chris Weingart, Bryce Williams, Bobby Wilson, and Austin Youngblood. These boys are now eligible to work towards their Wolf Badges.

Additionally, some of the boys earned their Baseball Belt Loop awards, which were presented recently at the November 26th pack meeting. They are Joe, Christopher, Jason, Ryan, Crispin, Anthony, Corey, Chris, Bryce, Bobby, and Austin. At this meeting, the 2nd-grade scouts presented a Thanksgiving skit, in which they dressed as Pilgrims and Indians. The boys worked hard on rehearsing the play, making scenery, and preparing costumes.

We would also like to welcome a new member, Shane Mathews, to our group. During the next weeks and months, he will join the others in many exciting activities, including Christmas carolling in December, the Pinewood Derby in January, and the Blue-and-Gold Banquet in February.

The Community Critic Home Alone

A 20th Century Fox John Hughes Chris Columbus film starring Macaulay Culkin, John Herd, Joe Pesci and Catherine O'Hara, with John Candy. Rated-PG, Lang/Viol (very mild) 1 Hr. 40 min. CC Rating: 7 on a scale of 1-10

10 year old Culkin (of Uncle Buck) stars as Kevin McAllister, the least respected and seemingly always in trouble member of a large and obviously wealthy suburban family. After a fiasco in which Kevin draws the wrath of the entire family he wishes he would never see his family again. He thinks his wish has come true the next morning when he is accidentally left behind in the chaos of the family's departure for their Paris vacation. Kevin prepares for life alone, but first binges on junk food, forbidden violent video, bed jumping and ravaging his big brother's "secret treasures".

Kevin proves his survival expertise when he is confronted by two determined but bumbling and inept burglars (Joe Pesci and Daniel Stern). They prove no match for the Roadrunner/Coyote type booby traps Kevin springs on them. The violence is slapstick so as to provide complete hilarity without being offensive.

Although backed by an impressive supporting cast, Culkin carries the entire show with his innocent charm and highly expressive facial expressions.

Home Alone is a well made, well acted movie with just the right combination of comedy of comedy and warmth to pick up your holiday spirits. After Planes, Train and Automobiles and National Lampoons's Christmas Vacation, writer/producer John Hughes comes through again with a definite Christmas must see for the entire family. It is a film that can be enjoyed by both adult and child equally.

Eldorado Primera Iglesia Bautista to present "El Buen Pastor"

Primera Iglesia Bautista of Eldorado, Texas will present "El Buen Pastor" (The Good Shepherd) as their Christmas program on December 23, 1990 at 7:00 p. m.

Chuckie Yorba of Sonora and Mrs. Nina Saldivar of Eldorado will perform the lead parts. More than 35 actors will perform. The public will see the little shepherd from birth to a young shepherd, as they are visited by the angel, Rosemary Adame, announcing the birth of Jesus.

The most outstanding scene will be the nativity with Joe Sanchez of Sonora as Joseph and Malinda Martinez of Big Lake as Mary. Stacy Saldivar of Eldorado will play the part of the angel. The entrance of the angels, shepherds and so bold, the three wisemen.

All live acting is something to see. Everyone is invited to join in the true spirit of Christmas, remembering the birth of the Lord Jesus, the real "Good Shepherd". Pastor of the church is Rev. Lorenzo Silvas.

Turkeywalkers raise $3,889.16

A total of $3,889.16 was collected for the American Heart Association during the Annual AHA Turkeywalk held in Sonora on November 3.

The 43 walkers who participated were treated to a Tired Turkey Party by the Sutton County Steakhouse last Monday, November 26.

Various awards were given out at the party, including $50 savings bonds to the oldest walker, Eulojia Flores, 88, and the youngest walker, Claire Thorp, 3.

The first male finishers were Scott Gilmore and Lewis Allen, who turkey-trotted the 5-mile course. Lu Ann Peaslee was the first female finisher.

There was another tie, for largest flock participation, between the Senior Center and Good Shepherd Presbyterian Church. Both groups had 16 walkers.

Don Jones topped all other individual collectors, turning in a total of $367 in contributions. Good Shepherd Church walkers turned in $1,626 for the largest flock contribution.

Patsy Lynch of San Angelo, area coordinator for American Heart Association activities, had high praise for the generosity of Sonora and Sutton County for its response during this year's Turkeywalk.

Spirit of Giving -- 1990

The Volunteer Firefighters and Ladies Auxiliary are sponsoring a gift and fund raising drive to benefit the children of low-income families. The schools are giving applications to the children who take them home to the parents.

The funds/gifts will be passed out a week before Christmas at the Fire Station to the parents, who will wrap them for the kids.

Here's how you can help: The majority of givers think of children under the age of nine because those gifts are fun and easy to purchase.

Suggestions for children 9 years -17 years: t-shirts (size isn't important because they wear them big), lego toys, color racers, models, small radios, cassette players, tapes, school supplies, socks, underwear, jewelry, handbags, backpacks, books, colored watches, boostore gift certificates, movie certificates, K-mart gift certificates, shampoo, hair styling products--gels, hair spray, dryers, hair jewelry, nail polish, perfume, deodorant, cologne, curling irons (something that will give the children high self-esteem.)

We get the families from the school and some of the local churches and ask the mothers to tell us five things the children would like to have and we will try to give each child at least two things they request.

We will accept clean and workable toys. No battery operated toys please. Cash donations will be spent locally.

yet higher costs as the parties position themselves for future years.

*A plethora of tests and treatments are now available to confirm, to protect, or to enrich the originator. A former editor of The Journal of the AMA suggests that more than half of the 40 million medical tests performed each day do not really contribute to a patient's diagnosis or therapy.

*In the view of studies, such as those by John Wennberg at Dartmouth Medical School, there is a growing consensus that many expensive and frequently performed procedures, such as coronary bypasses and Caesarean sections, may be unnecessary.

*There is a growing expectation of many patients who shop for doctors and technology at any cost that science has progressed to the point of being able to cure all diseases, particularly theirs.

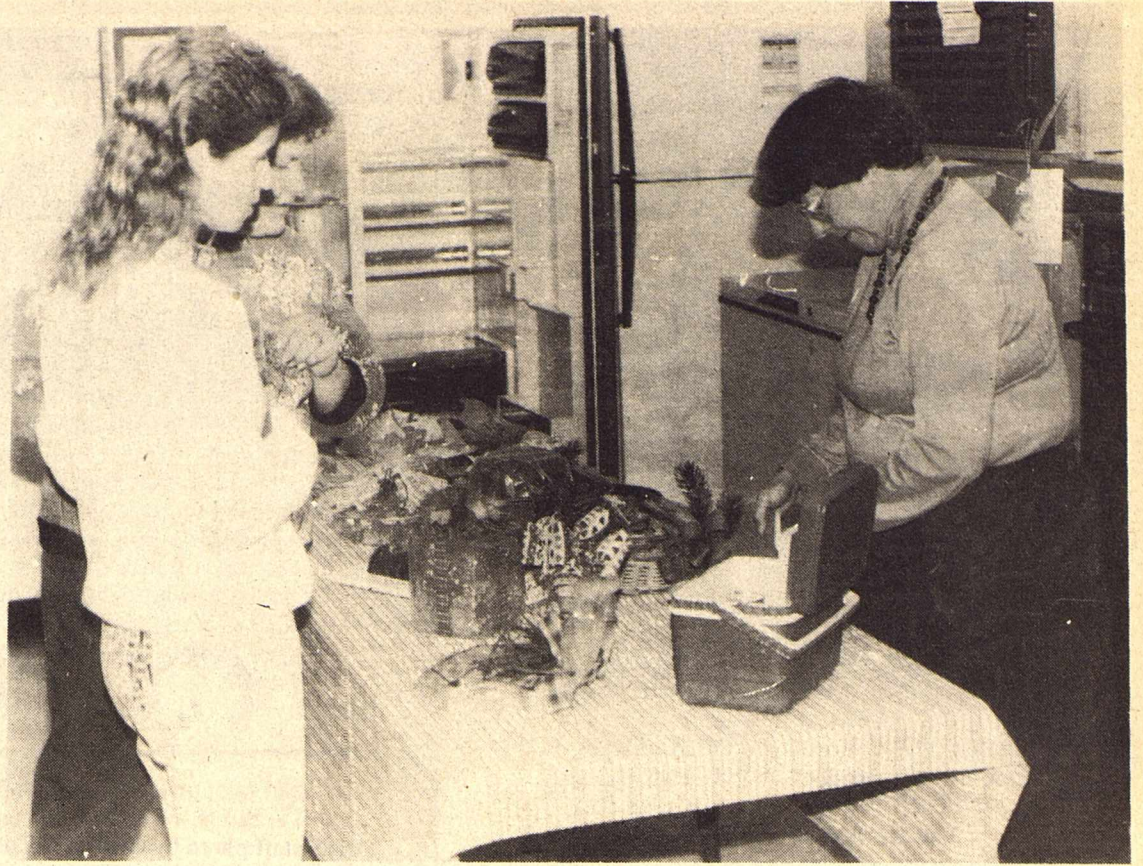

*There is a cost of doing business, even if it is health care. Health care is big business and has created its own complicated bureaucracy which, in addition to medical knowledge, requires sophisticated skills in management and administration as it interacts with diverse segments of a complex society. Administrative costs are estimated to be 10 percent of the national health bill in the U. S. as compared with 4 percent in Canada.

*Many beds are presently unoccupied and hospital overcapacity will result in the closing of marginally utilized hospitals. At the same time, beds are in short supply in certain communities and for the poor. As society has changed over the past century, it has become expensive and painful to reconfigure our hospital locations and services. Cook County Hospital in Chicago is a dramatic illustration of overcrowding, underserving of the indigent, and painfully inadequate health care planning in a large metropolitan area.

*Finally, health care's very successes have contributed to our problems. Many persons are receiving better prenatal care and better health maintenance than ever before. People are seeking health care sooner, are frequently following their doctor's advice, and in fact, are living longer. These successes have contributed to a demographic crisis that looms on the horizon -- the aging of our population. An increasingly aged population can be seen as one of medicine's great achievements but it will affect all aspects of our society in the 21st century, including housing, social security, pensions, and of course, the medical system.

NEXT WEEK: Health care in the U. S. has traditionally been delivered on an individual-focused basis... consistent with a deeply held political and philosophical view of democracy and freedom...

Seventh and eighth grade colts fall to Ozona

Trouble with Ozona's press defense hurt the seventh-grade boys basketball team as they lost 47-22 in Sonora Nov. 26.

Sonora coach Heryford said, "We made a lot of mistakes against their press and gave up some easy baskets."

Despite the trouble, coach Heryford said things will get better. "Our kids give great effort...and our mistakes will correct themselves with time and practice."

Sonora (0-2) fell behind 29-12 after the first half, but played better defense in the second half limiting Ozona to just 18 points.

Josh Burnham led Sonora scorers with 12 points. Other scorers included Levi Pool with four points, John Jones three, Curt Dempsey two and Davis Hale one.

EIGHTH GRADE RESULTS

The Sonora eighth-grade boys basketball team could not overcome a big first quarter by Ozona and lost 58-31 in Sonora Nov. 26.

Ozona outscored Sonora 21-6 in the first quarter and led 34-11 after two quarters.

Sonora closed to within 18 points in the third quarter but Ozona extended the lead in the fourth.

Cody Renfro led Sonora in scoring with 13 points. Robert Trevino added 10 points and Hadley Smith had four points.

The Colts hit on 11 of 19 free throws for 58 percent.

It was the night before Christmas and the house needed lights To make it look festive, cheery and bright, But cards must be checked with the greatest of care To look for frayed wiring and bulbs that aren't there! The tree must be fresh and to keep it that way, You should stand it in water and out of the way! Check safety to make the holidays bright, For a Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night!

LEARNING ABOUT CULTURES - First-grade students in the Sonora schools are learning about the different Native American cultures. On Friday the classes held a special presentation describing the cultures.

Labels for education

Students at Sonora Intermediate School are currently conducting a label collection drive that promises to deliver valuable educational equipment. As part of their Labels for Education program, Campbell Soup Company is offering free equipment to schools in exchange for labels from the company's products.

According to principal Donna Hill, schools may redeem the labels for free audio/visual equipment, athletic equipment, reference books and teaching aids.

"We hope to collect 6,000 labels before the drive ends on March 1, 1991," said Mrs. Hill. "That's how many we'll need for computer software."

Labels from all Campbell's soups, Campbell's beans, Campbell's fresh produce products, all Prego spaghetti sauces, Campbell's tomato juice, V-8 vegetable juice, V-8 low sodium vegetable juice, all Franco-American products, and Swanson canned food products. Safety seals from Marie's salad dressings. Jar lids from Vlasic pickle products. UPC symbols from Swanson frozen food products, Mrs. Paul's frozen foods, Pepperidge farm cookies, crackers, bakery & frozen foods, and Campbell's dry soups are redeemable.

"We know we have many friends in the community who want to help" said Mrs. Hill. "They can do so by saving the Campbell's labels, jar lids, safety seals, or UPC symbols (as listed above) and giving them to our students or simply drop them off at the school."

Focus on education

The ARD committee in special education

by Clay Cade

The Admission, Review and Dismissal Committee in Special Education might be called the governing body concerning handicapped pupil's educational program referred for consideration in special education.

One of the primary duties of the A. R. D. Committee is to review all pertinent information from the testing done by the diagnostician including parental information, school personnel, or other sources. The A. R. D. Committee must insure that pupils are not assigned to special education classes based on criteria which was developed solely on command of the English language. Other duties which the A. R. D. Committee must address include establishing eligibility for special education services, developing the individual educational plan, and providing for educational placement in the least restrictive environment. For any child, the committee will meet for the initial placement, conduct an annual review, and, if necessary, conduct a three year re-evaluation. Voting members of the committee may include the building principal, regular classroom teacher, parents, school counselor, special education teacher, and educational diagnostician.

Duties of the A. R. D. Committee are clearly defined by federal and state statutes and the committee is ever mindful of these regulations as well as seeing that the best possible educational environment is provided for each child that qualifies.
