Galindo hits county with demand letter Sutton County receives demand for $10 million in damages

Sutton County officials have received a letter of demand from Domingo Garcia, attorney for Jose Alfredo "Primo" Galindo.

Galindo was one of twenty arrested in a March 1989 drug sting. Undercover agent William Lonnie Hood assisted Sutton County officials in the operation.

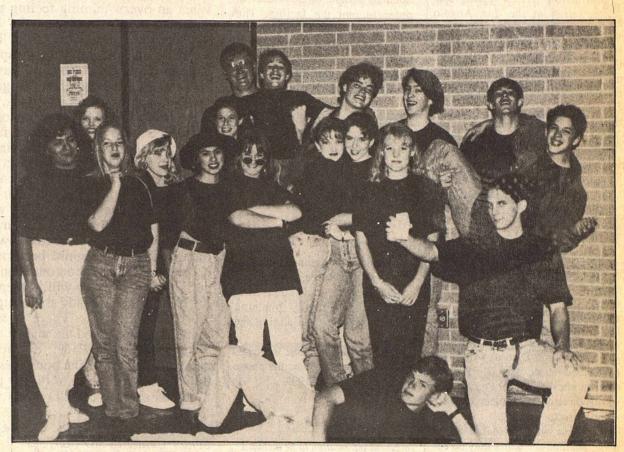

Galindo was sentenced to life in prison (maximum allowed under the Texas penal code) and fined $20,000 in November 1989 by 112th District Judge Brock Jones. Galindo was granted an appeal and the case was remanded for new trial by the 3rd Court of Criminal Appeals in San Antonio last May.

Hood, the undercover agent who assisted in the initial arrest, was indicted last August for two counts of tampering with government records and one count of perjury. Due to these circumstances, Sutton County officials resubmitted narcotics samples to the DPS crime lab. Results of the tests determined that of the twenty-one submitted cases, twelve contained aspirin.

Due to these developments, it was the decision of the District Attorney's office and the Sutton County Sheriff's Department to dismiss all pending cases stemming from the March '89 arrests. The Sutton County officials stated that it was better to let ten guilty persons free rather than possibly convict one innocent person.

Subsequently Garcia on behalf of Galindo is requesting $10 million in damages for lost wages, emotional harm, mental anguish, legal fees for his criminal defense, punitive damages and attorney's fees. In the letter Garcia states that Sutton County should contact his office if they wish to settle this matter. Garcia told the Devil's River News in a telephone interview Tuesday afternoon that if he receives no response from Sutton County in ten days, he will file a Federal suit in Midland.

Garcia states in his letter that, "as a result of an alleged undercover investigation by an untrained civilian, William Lonnie Hood, Galindo was indicted, tried and sentenced to life imprisonment." Those named in the letter as being responsible are J. W. Johnson, Bill Webster, William Lonnie Hood, Russell Frasier and Sutton County.

When human blood transfusions were first performed in the 1800s, the donor and the recipient were side by side. There was no typing, no testing, no interim procedure. Modern innovations in blood transfusion therapy have changed all that, according to Paula Kennemer, Community Relations Director of United Blood Services.

Today, blood plays a vital role in the total health care picture of this community. Blood for human transfusions can come from only one source: healthy volunteer donors who give of themselves. No manufactured product can accomplish the many wonderful tasks that blood carries out. "Blood is essential to life - it is life itself to a patient in needs," Kennemer related.

Currently, less than five percent of the U. S. population donates blood to supply the 12 million units needed each year. Meanwhile, the demand is rapidly increasing due to modern surgical techniques and new therapeutic uses for blood.

WHERE'S SONORA?- The members of the American Boys Choir were in Sonora last week and the members of the Wild Bunch along with Biscuits O'Bryan and his camp bread will keep Sonora burned in these youngsters memories for a lifetime.

"Additional volunteer donors are from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. Wednesday, needed," Kennemer said.

Time: The divine gift

by M. Zimmerman

"I would love to, but I just don't have the time." How many of us have said this when asked to volunteer our time?

I know I'm guilty.

Christmas in April is the one time you can't afford to say no. Everyone in Sonora certainly could donate one day of the year to paint, clean, and do odd jobs for someone who is unable to perform the tasks themselves.

Christmas, defined in the dictionary as, "December 25th, the anniversary of the birthday of Jesus Christ observed as a holiday or holy day.'

A holy day. What better way to describe what happens each year in April when townspeople give all they can to their brothers and sisters of the community. It may not be December with all of the tinsel and brightly wrapped packages, but it takes on a glow all its own. Even those with empty pockets can give a priceless gift to someone in need. To many, this is the TRUE meaning of Christmas.

Christmas in April, in its second year in Sonora, has kicked into gear and is ready to roll. Teams of dedicated workers, all with their own respective talents and abilities, have been matched to houses whose repair needs can be met accordingly. What an overwhelming feeling to see so many ready to give their time to help those in need.

When I set out with Carole Thorp, director of the senior center, to take photos of the prospective homes to be repaired, I quickly realized how much I have to be grateful for. It isn't hard to feel this way when you go into homes that desperately need repairs to bathrooms, roofs, walls, and doors.

Repairs such as these seem somewhat minor to those of us who are able to do our own home repairs, however, for those who are physically or financially unable, the inability to maintain their family homes must be a tremendous burden.

Time. It means nothing when you look in the faces of the individuals as they are told their homes have been chosen for the project. These faces, filled with relief and gratitude, take away all sense of worry about time.

How fortunate we are to know that if, during the course of our lifetime, we should become unable to do these simple chores, we can count on our friends in the community. What a comfort to know they will be there for us in our time of need.

If you haven't already signed up to work during Christmas in April, do so now. There is a place for everyone in the workday, even if you are unable to do physical work.

A holy day. Holy, defined as, "Regarded with or characterized by divine power; sacred." April 25 will certainly be a holy day.....one of divine power.... for many Sonorans, those who receive AND those who give. Hope to see you there.

To find out more call Carole Thorp at the Sutton County Senior Center at 387-5657.

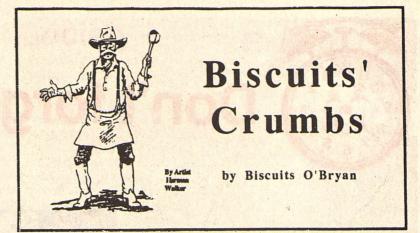

Sutton Co. EMS from a rancher's viewpoint

by Pascal Allison

miles out of Sonora, I, from time to time, have wondered what I would or could do if one of my member suddenly had a heart attack or an accident. From time to time I have day workers assisting me.

As a rancher living some 18 groups I've ever been involved in I've yet to find a more dedicated team effort. I've been amazed at the tremendous amount of advice, hunters, a guest, or a family enthusiasm, encouragement, and help all the personnel have given the class.

Over the course of the nine weeks about a month ago when I ran an ad in a stockman's weekly looking for a chuckwagon. I got several phone calls, but finally a feller from Happy, Texas called and told me about a wagon that almost fell within my price range (naturally it was at the high end rather than the other). So Sunday before last, about 6 o'clock in the evenin', I headed north. I finally called it quits when I got to Plainview round midnight. I spotted what looked like a nice enough place to sleep a few hours, but when I walked in the office, it smelled like a foreign spice factory and things went downhill from there. The room. was less-than-clean, the sink was cracked, the wiring was all extension cords, and the bed would have made a great ironing board, but the sheets weren't dirty (they weren't something that could have been used in a soap commercial, either) and it was late, so I turned in. The taxicab parked in front of the next room had a radio going, but I finally got to sleep.

I woke up and figgered it must be near 6:00, so I got up and looked at my watch. It was 3:00. I tried again at 4, 4:45 and 5:20 before giving up and heading on toward Happy after a quick breakfast. Them fast food places may not be able to fix a decent burger, but they

To tell the truth, it really began still haven't figgered out how to ruin eggs yet, so at least I set out with somethin' in my stomach.

I got to the other side of Happy and out to the ranch where the wagon was about 8:00 o'clock. I'd only thrown a sweater in the pick up, because it was plumb summertime when I left Sonora. Well, it was 27 degrees with a right brisk East wind there. I sure was glad to see that wood stove goin' inside the ranch house. The wagon seller's wife had fixed up bunch of sour dough fruit muffins, so we sat around and visited for quite a spell. He told me some great stories about roundin' up wild cattle in the Palo Duro Canyon. It was near 10:30 before we finally got around to loadin' the chuckwagon.

With a stop at the Ranching Heritage Center in Lubbock, I finally pulled into Sonora about 7:15 Monday evening, and I was plumb tuckered. Tuesday mornin', I unloaded the wagon out at Ol' Sonora Town. I didn't get around to usin' it 'til Thursday, when I went out and cooked cobbler for the boys choir that stopped over in Sonora. I showed'em how biscuits are made in a dutch oven, and they was plumb amazed for some reason. What amazed me was how good that apple/blueberry cobbler turned out, 'cause I used canned fruit. Here's all I done:

BISCUITS MADE-FROM-SCRATCH (AND CANS) COBBLER

Blend 2 sticks of unsalted butter into one pound of flour Add enough cold water just to hold it together Roll out a little thicker than a pie crust Line the bottom and sides of dutch oven, keepin' back the extra dough (This is usin' a #16 oven) In a bowl, mix together 4 cans apple pie fillin' and 2 cans blueberry pie fillin' with a cup and a half of sugar Add a dash of almond extract, rum flavorin, and real vanilla extract Pour this into the crust and fill in the top with strips of the left-over crust. Put a few coals on the ground and set the oven over'em. Pile a good bunch of coals on the top (not quite as many as you would use for bread, 'cause you want this to cook a bit slower). When the top crust is good and brown and the fillin's bubblin' real good, it's done

What if a horse falls with him and breaks a leg or back? What is someone went into cardiac arrest due to electrical shock, or a drowning? What would I do?

After seeing an announcement in the Devil's River News of an upcoming CPR and ECA class at the Sutton Co. E. M. S. building I thought to myself "I'm crazy if I don't at least learn CPR and some basic first aid." I picked a few brians among some of my friends who are members of our E. M. S. I was convinced that not only did I need this, but I wanted to get involved and join the Sutton Co. E. M. S. to do my part in helping the community in some small way. I also realized that somewhere down inside most of us enjoy helping those in need of assistance.

Little did I realize what I was in for until after the first two or three sessions. At that point, and after thumbing through our class manual I thought "Wow, how involved this can get"! In a way it was scary. I wondered how in the world I could ever absorb all of this. To me it became a challenge to do just that. During the course a certain "bond" was formed among the class members. We all came to realize that all the E. M. S. personnel had a similar "bond". Of all the persons from the Coordinator on down I've yet to meet anyone who was not totally devoted and dedicated to this volunteer service. Of all civic and/or business trade ten years ago.

Sutton Co. 4-H to hold playdays

The Sutton County 4-H wants all youth interested to participate in the horse project. There will be monthly playdays through the summer with points and ribbons awarded at each playday. At the end of the summer there will be a barbecue with the last playday, and prizes will be awarded according to the total points each child has accumulated.

The playdays will be held in the evenings on June 5, July 10, and August 6. A date for the last playday and barbecue has not been required to complete the course through the skills testing and finally the state written exam I've come to realize that I'm more observant, not only of my own personal health and safety, but that of others in their work place, their travels, homes, and at recreation. I feel confident I can help a child with a broken arm as a result of a bicycle fall, an elderly person in an emergency sickness or fall, or people in an automobile accident. I now wear my seatbelt at all times on public highways and roadways. I feel I am now better prepared to deal with any emergencies that may arise at my ranch.

I now realize that I, like many people, used to take the "ambulance service" for granted. I used to think they, "the ambulance people", were paid people that just drove ambulances. It's a shame more people are not aware that these people are highly trained, professional, licensed by the state, and have given an enormous amount of time to study and continuing education; and these people are volunteers!

Some "runs", or ambulance calls are very traumatic involving multiple casualties and sometimes even death. However, a lot of "runs" are very rewarding such as transporting an expectant mother, a fevered child, or transferring recuperating patients back to their homes. I am personally very proud to become a part of the Sutton Co. E. M. S. I only regret I didn't do it set. Classes at each playday will include show and timed events. The show events will be showmanship at halter, western pleasure, and western horsemanship. The timed events will include barrels, poles and flags.

Practice sessions will start on April 3rd at 5:30 at Bob Carruther's arena to familiarize everyone with their horses, the arena and the events for the playdays.

Anyone interested in joining the fun should call the Extension office for more information at 387-3101.

Now we didn't have no ice cream or milk or nothin' to serve with this, but that didn't seem to slow them choirboys down one little bit. There was some who come back for seconds 'fore I'd got everybody served the first time, so I reckon it was a hit. They also ate up all my biscuits I fixed for'em, so I reckon I plum ruint their appetites for the supper they headed out for when they left Ol' Sonora Town. The next day, Friday, was the day it rained, but the Wild Bunch was out and hungry, so I fixed them a mess of biscuits and sausage gravy with a big ol' peach cobbler to top it off. They didn't even offer to stick around and help with the dishes, 'cause they heard about some pretty girls comin' to town.

I reckon they ain't near dumb as they are ugly!

So my wagon's here and it looks like it'll get used a right smart bit. If you need some chuckwagon cookin' done, let me know. I aint' cheep, but the end result's worth whatever it may end up costin', right? Ya'll keep on cookin'.

American Cancer Society to have community crusade

"Contributions to the American promising research is taking place Cancer Society in Texas represent one of the best returns on the dollar that we know of," said Charles Graves and Juanita Mesa, chairpersons of the American Cancer Society's 1992 educational and fund-raising Community Crusade in Sonora.

In preparing for the April Community Crusade, Mr. Graves feels it is important for Sonora residents to know how the Society invests their contributions. "We are proud of our fiscal record and I know our friends and neighbors will be even more willing to give to the American Cancer Society when they learn how well their money is being spent," they said.

"These expenditures are in line with what contributors are interested in supporting," Ms. Mesa said. "And, as these figures show, we are concentrating our efforts on fulfilling our mission to support research, education and services to patients."

"The American Cancer Society last year sponsored research investigations in 10 major Texas hospitals, medical schools and universities totaling more than $10.4 million," said Graves. "We are fortunate that so much here in Texas," he said.

"Programs that help people are our priority," Ms. Mesa added. "We control our administrative costs and keep them within acceptable limits, as this breakdown indicates," she said.

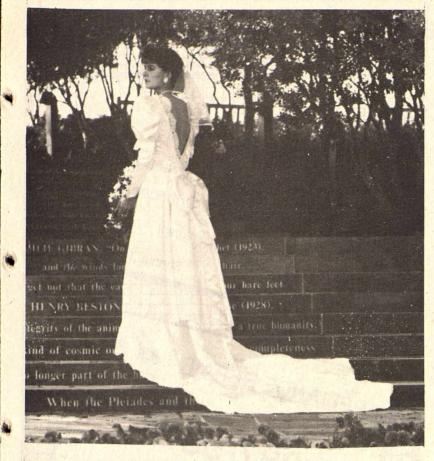

American Cancer Society programs like those that benefit cancer patients (Reach to Recovery, volunteer transportation, medical equipment loans, etc.), help educate the public about cancer prevention and detection (films, pamphlets, exhibits, the Creat American Smokeout and this spring's Great American Food Fight Against Cancer), and inform the medical community about advances in cancer treatment and diagnosis are delivered and administered primarily through volunteers. Anyone wishing to help in any way call Charles Graves at 387-5380 office or 387-3075 home or Ms. Mesa 387-3410.

"Volunteers help maintain these impressive figures, and volunteers are responsible for the success we've had here in Sutton County," Graves said.

Anyone wishing to volunteer can also call Dorothy Baker at 387-3238 or Lou Faulks 387-3269.

Mrs. Michael Craig Polocek

Monks-Polocek wed Feb. 29

April Katherine Monks became ribbon and bows. The lace-trimmed the bride of Michael Craig Polocek in a double ring ceremony on Saturday, February 29, 1992, at Perkins Chapel on the Southern Methodist University campus in Dallas. The Rev. Jim K. Brown of Lake Highlands United Methodist Church of Dallas officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry A. Briers of Lewisville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil A. Polocek.

The bride's processional music was "Trumpet Voluntary," performed by Todd Bash of Dallas. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and lace that she designed. The sculptured bodice featured a sweetheart neckline trimmed in lace. The leg-of-mutton sleeves were accented by satin bows above the elbows. The plunging lacetrimmed back lead to a large double bow at the waistline. The threetiered traditional length train was also trimmed in lace. The simple short veil of illusion was held by a single bow and trimmed in satin ribbon. The bride wore her grandmother's pearls. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of champagne and white roses accented with gardenias.

Maid of Honor was Miss Dawn Monks, sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Pam Ostercamp and Susan Hernandez of Dallas, and open back lead to a large bow at the waistline. The pleated front featured a sweetheart neckline covered in lace. The bridesmaids' bouquets matched the bride's with astromerias added.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with tails and a pleated white shirt. His boutonniere was a white rose.

Ronnie Pollard of Galveston was best man. The groomsmen were Joe Ellison and Blair Nevins of Houston, and Doug Martin of Dallas. The ushers for the ceremony were Russell Elsenbrock and Clark Brittin of Lubbock and Todd Bash of Dallas.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the R. L. Thornton Alumni Center on SMU campus. The decorations included arrangements of champagne and white roses accented with astromerias. The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with white icing, English ivy, and fresh flowers that matched the bouquets.

During the reception, the bride and groom were visited by characters Jeff Fuller of Presidio and Biscuits O'Bryan, cowboy cook. Following some friendly advice about how to have a happy marriage, Biscuits presented the bride with all the ingredients necessary for her first batch of biscuits.

ASCS programs

Wool and Mohair Program There have been some rule changes concerning sales documents that are filed for Wool and Mohair Incentive purposes. Since Texas is a community property state, all sales documents for wool, mohair and unshorn lambs will have to be issued in the name of both husband and wife. The signatures of both persons will be required on the incentive application. Operations such as Partnerships, Corporations, Estates and Trusts that have designated "agents" to sign are only required to have that authorized person sign for the operation. All sales documents must be presented to the ASCS office within 60 days after the end of the marketing year. The marketing year ends on December 31. The deadline for submitting 1992 documents is March 1, 1993. (Sales receipts from 1991 and prior years can no longer be submitted to the county ASCS Office.)

Effective for 1992, all spouses will be required to sign all program documents on which payments are being requested. This is a result of Texas being a community property state. Even if a spouse is not receiving any of the payments, they will be required to sign the documents indicating a "zero" share. Power-of-attorney forms are available in the ASCS office so that married persons may sign for each other. The only exception to this rule are those cases where it can be proved that property and proceeds are kept separate.

1992 Wheat Program -Signup for reporting/certifying in the 1992 wheat program ends April 17, 1992. There will be a required 5% set aside for the 1992 wheat program (This is 5% of the established crop acreage base).

Target price for wheat will remain at $4 per bushel. The 0/92 option will again be offered on wheat. Status Date and Program Eligibility - The 1992 marketing year status date for creation of entities and general partnerships for Wool and Mohair producer's person determination is December 1, 1992.

For producers participating in programs other than Wool and Mohair, the "status date" becomes the date established for that program: Production Adjustment (farm crop programs) has the status date as the end of signup period, for 1992, this is April 17. The ACP (conservation practices) status date is the date an application is submitted. NOTE: If a producer is participating in more than one program, the first applicable status date applies for all programs for that year.

Farm Bill Provision require that Person Determination forms (CCC-502) or annual update, Highly erodible and Wetland determination (AD-1026), and related forms be completed at the time a program application is made. AD-1026(s), and CCC-502 updates for 1992 programs may be completed as soon as possible so that required determinations can be made. PROGRAM PAYMENTS CANNOT BE MADE UNTIL REQUIRED FORMS AND DETERMINATIONS ARE COMPLETE.

"ELIGIBILITY FOR PARTICIPATION IN ALL PROGRAMS ADMINISTERED BY ASCS IS ESTABLISHED UNDER LAW WITHOUT REGARD TO RACE, COLOR, RELIGION, AGE, SEX, MARITAL STATUS, PERSONAL SPONSORSHIP, DISABILITY, NATIONAL ORIGIN OR POLITICAL AFFILIATION.'

Perry launches "Naturally TEXAS"

DALLAS - Promoting the state's textile manufacturing and natural fibers industries, Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry launched "Naturally TEXAS"-- a comprehensive marketing campaign designed to create consumer awareness and demand for manufactured items made from Texas cotton, wool, mohair and leather.

"New York City may have Seventh Avenue, but the entire state of Texas can be considered a garment district," Perry said. Dresses designed in Dallas. Blouses manufactured in Bowie. Sport coats stitched up in Bonham. Denim jeans made in El Paso. The list goes on and on. 'Naturally TEXAS" is an aggressive campaign--featuring the use of special hang tags and labels-that Perry said will allow the Texas Department of Agriculture to "let the rest of the planet in on what we already know: Texas produces the highest quality natural fibers the world over. Texas produces 17 million pounds of wool, harvests five million bales of cotton--a third of America's production--and 14 million pounds of mohair, amounting to 90 percent of the nation's total. The state also produces nearly six million cattle year, which are processed into boots, western wear and other items popular not only with Texans, but with consumers worldwide, Perry said.

hides for leather production each ) P"You might say that Texas is the 'World Capital of Natural Fiber!' Or, the 'Fashion Capital of Natural," Perry said. "From raw material to the finished product, we have it all!

"We have the production capacity and the expertise to rival the finished fiber industries in any other state," he said. "We cater to the demands of a global economy in search of superior goods. The Japanese prize our raw cotton, mohair and hides. Latin Americans want our western wear and leather tack. The Europeans snap up Texas wool and mohair for their coveted knits. Buyers from around the world demand denim jeans, many of which are manufactured in Texas.

"If it's from Texas, it's naturally a must-have product," Perry said.

With nearly 18 million consumers, Texas is the third largest market in America -- and the only state in the union with 28 metropolitan markets. In 1991, Texas consumers spent $6.7 billion on apparel at the retail level--about 7 percent of all U.S. consumption.

Choirs receive division II Local land bank

The Sonora Junior High and High School choirs traveled to Stephenville for UIL competition Wednesday, March 25. The combined group received a Division II for their efforts in concert.

"Each year we have improved on our performances," said John Zimmerman, Director, "And I couldn't be more proud of this group."

The Junior High and High School had been working for approximately six weeks in preparation for this competition. The two choirs, though meeting on different campuses, met only once a week to combine their efforts for the last month.

"It's a real pleasure to work with these students and now we are preparing for competition at Fiesta Texas," said Zimmerman. The choirs are now working on a pop competition featuring a compilation of songs from the 50's to the 80's. They will be competing in San Antonio on May 9 in the "Bluebonnet Classic" competition (time to be announced later).
