

Bull Town Bulletins By Bill Ellis

SOMETIMES, THE TRUTH is stranger than fiction.

The following is a collection of actual letters which were received by a county welfare department:

I am forwarding my marriage certificate and my six children. I had seven but one died which was baptized on a half sheet of paper.

I am writing to say that my baby was born two years old, when do I get my money?

I am glad to report that my husband who was reported missing, is dead.

Mrs. Jones has not had any clothing for a year and has been visited by the clergy.

I cannot get sick pay. I have six children. Can you tell me why?

This is my eighth child. What are you going to do about it?

Please find for certain if my husband is dead. The man I live with now can't eat or do nothing til he knows.

I am very much annoyed to find that you have branded my boy as illiterate as this is a dirty lie. I was married to his father one week before he was born.

I am forwarding my marriage certificate and my three children, one of which was a mistake, as you can see.

In answer to your letter, I have given birth to a boy weighing ten pounds. I hope this is satisfactory. My husband got his project cut off two weeks ago and I haven't had any relief since.

You have changed my little boy to a little girl. Will this make any difference?

Please send money soon as I have fallen in error with my landlord.

I have no children as yet, as my husband is a bus driver and works day and night.

In accordance with instructions I have given birth to twins in the enclosed envelope.

I want money as quick as I can get it I have been in bed with the doctor for two weeks and he doesn't do me no good. If things don't improve, I will have to send for another doctor.

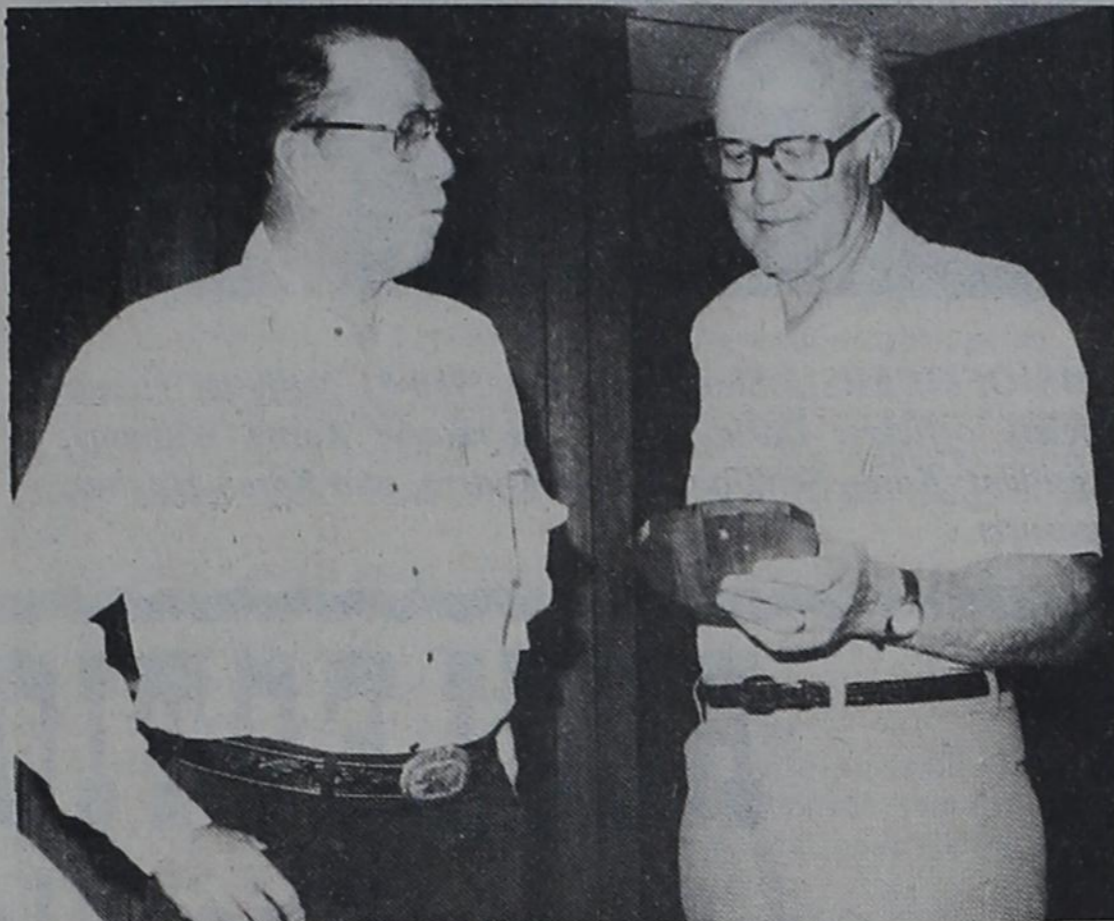

IF THE LORD be with us, who can stand against us?

Scientist and theologian, William Pollard, argues that God created the first nuclear power plant and has filled the sky with millions of them. Someone has said that for every star you can see in the heavens on a clear night, there are 40 million you cannot see and each of these are nuclear reactors in operation. Pollard, in his book, "Let's Talk About Theology And Nuclear Power," says a large portion of the fears about nuclear energy are grossly exaggerated and unnecessarily paralyzing. He urges that we proceed with the development of nuclear energy and the breeder reactor.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS

1. During the 1973-1974 oil embargo that shook the very foundation of our economic system and caused long lines at the gasoline stations, the embargo only affected one and one-half per cent of the energy requirements of this country. We now import almost 25 per cent.

2. The time required to obtain the permits and construct electric generating plants in this country is between two and three times as great as it took the U.S. to mobilize and fight World War II.

City Approves Plan For Tax Building

The Bovina City Council met in a regular session on Monday, June 9.

Present were Mayor Lusk, Aldermen Gober, O'Hair, Barron, Hastings and Charles. Also present were City Manager Tom Bonds, Bedford Caldwell, Lawrence Jamerson, Lawrence Kriegel and Julia Moody.

Mayor Lusk presented Bedford Caldwell a plaque for the many years of service to the City of Bovina as Mayor and City Alderman.

The board voted unanimously to build a building for the Parmer County Tax Authority on a 15 year amortization at six per cent interest plus insurance and maintenance, and the Parmer County Tax Authority would lease the building from year to year or longer if the Tax Board sees fit.

The building would be 1200 sq. ft. at the Parmer County Tax Authority specifications with a paved parking lot. The building would revert back to the Parmer County Tax Authority at the end of the 15-year amortization period.

The City Manager is to present an ordinance at the next regular or special meeting, to construct the building for the Parmer County Tax Authority.

The Board voted unanimously to adopt the ordinance to establish a police reserve force for the city of Bovina, providing for the appointment, power and duties of reserve policemen.

They also voted to extend for two years the ordinance granted to Friona Cablevision the right to locate,

Archie Tarter Wins Race

The Democratic runoff election held Saturday, June 7, had a light turn-out on the county and state level, with 326 votes cast in Parmer County.

In the county election, Archie Tarter won the race for county commissioner, Precinct 3, over Max Crim, 180 votes cast for Tarter and 146 votes cast for Crim.

In the state elections, James P. Wallace won the Democratic nomination for the Supreme Court Place 1, defeating John C. Phillips. Wallace will face Republican Jim Brady in the November general election.

Michael J. McCormick defeated Tomkins Phillips in the race for place 2 on the Court of Criminal Appeals. McCormick is the youngest person to ever win a spot on the court.

Tom G. Davis won place 3 on the Court of Criminal Appeals, defeating Edith Roberts.

McCormick and Davis will both run unopposed in the November general election.

construct, maintain and operate a television antenna service and distribution system in the city of Bovina.

In other business they voted to hire John Detten under title II-D of the Ceta Program for one year beginning May 18, 1980, with Detten to attend the next certification school to be held in Amarillo.

The council accepted the budget for the fiscal year 1980-81; also voted to increase the tax rate six per cent on the tax levy of 1980, and voted to give the city manager a car allowance of $100 per month plus out of town mileage.

Sales Tax Rebates Are Above Trend

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Wednesday said a small decrease in the June city sales tax rebates may indicate consumer caution about the economy and spending patterns.

Bullock said 936 Texas cities should share $65.3 million this month, compared to payments of $67.7 million during the same period last year. However, the report indicated that collections both at Bovina and Friona in Parmer County showed increases from the previous year.

Bovina showed tax payments of $10,390.62 for the calendar year, compared to $9,087.03 the same time a year ago, a 14 per cent gain. Friona's rebates have amounted to $40,112.85, compared to $33,894.71 an 18 per cent increase.

Manager Is Named For Apartments

Steve Sherrill has been employed as manager for the new apartment complex which is being built by the Bovina Housing Authority.

Anyone interested in getting on the list as a prospective renter is asked to contact Sherrill.

Construction on the complex has made good progress. The new target date for completion of the 12 rental units, made up of three quadruples, is August 15.

There will be four one-bedroom units and eight two-bedroom units.

The apartments will not be furnished, but will have built-in ranges. The bedrooms and living areas will be carpeted.

Voters Give Nod To Resume Cloud Seeding

Voters in parts of four area counties gave the green light for resumption of weather modification activities halted in 1977 in response to a vote of the people.

The total vote, as reported Wednesday night from Hale, Floyd, Castro and Lamb counties was 2,260 in favor of the proposal to 1,873 against, with the issue losing by a narrow margin in Hale County and by a heavier margin in Floyd County.

The proposal to resume seeding of clouds with silver iodide for the dual purpose of hail suppression and rain enhancement was defeated 1,264 to 1,154 in Hale County, where the total

The Bovina Board of Education met on June 10, for a regular meeting. The board approved payment of all bills.

James Clayton, Tommy Williams, and Earl Whitten were appointed to be on the Equalization Board with Billy Whitecotton as alternate.

vote represented more than half of the ballots cast in the election.

The vote in the other counties included 245 for to 69 opposed in Castro County; 733 for, 209 against in Lamb and 128 for and 331 against in Floyd.

Areas covered by the election included the northern portion of Lamb County, most of Hale, the western part of Floyd and southern part of Castro.

The margin of approval in the election was somewhat higher than the margin of rejection in November 1977 when voters in some of the same areas voted to refuse a permit to Plains Weather Improvement Association to engage in cloud seeding.

Wednesday's elections were called by commissioners courts of the four counties after being presented with petitions requesting the vote. Backers of weather modification determined the timing would be favorable because of heavy hail losses in much of the target area within the past year.

The weather modification program is financed by voluntary contributions by landowners within the area targeted for cloud seeding, and the cost is expected to run about $300,000 a year, according to Royce Carthel of Plainview, president of PWIA.

Weather modification, originally tried in this area as early as the late 1940s, has met with varying amounts of opposition over the years. In 1977 and again this year, it was opposed by a group organized as Citizens for Natural Weather.

Proponents of the program say that seeding clouds with silver iodide is proved effective in reducing the severity of hail storms and increasing the rainfall in the area chosen for seeding.

Opponents argue that weather modification remains an imprecise process, which has failed to break up hail storms and actually tends to reduce rainfall, particularly in areas downwind from the clouds which are seeded.

They also argue that silver iodide used in the cloud seeding is harmful to plant and animal life.

In Hale County, the proposal to resume weather modification carried in voting boxes at Hale Center, Cotton Center, Halfway and Edmonson and in two of eight voting boxes in Plainview as well as in the absentee vote. It was defeated in the Happy Union box and six Plainview boxes.

Letter To The Editor

The Parmer County Historical Commission has mailed out over 4,000 copies of the following letter to persons who have been or are now residents of the county. If someone did not receive a letter but would like one, please contact Otho Whitefield, 265-3542, or any of the area representatives which were listed in an earlier paper. The Historical Commission would very much appreciate knowing names and addresses of friends and relatives who might enjoy hearing about the book.

Dear Friend:

Are you leaving your children and future generations a written record of their family? Will they appreciate their roots?

If you don't leave this legacy to your children and grandchildren, who will?

Would you welcome the opportunity to include a story of your family as well as photos in a history book for no charge.

If you don't take action now to preserve your family's story, chances are very great that no one else ever will, either. As a present or former resident of Parmer County you are eligible for 500 words of free space to tell your story in the family history section of the Parmer County History Book being compiled as a non-profit endeavor by the Parmer County Historical Commission.

Along with your story, you also may submit up to 2 photos (preferably black and white) for no charge. We will try to use at least one picture (your first choice) per family and will use both if space allows. On the back of each photo submitted, please write the following: 1) Caption-can include date taken, people in picture, special occasion, and location; 2) Order of preference in case both cannot be used. Since the photos will be handled many times before being returned to you upon completion of the book, we recommend your sending black and white photo-copies of any old or irreplaceable photos. These can be easily obtained from a photographer or photography studio.

Family stories are just one of the many items to be featured in this forthcoming collector's item. The planned general history section will narrate the county's growth and development from its beginning to the present through written copy and photos, accurately describing the changes in agriculture, industry, education, and other subjects of historical significance. The addition of histories of individual businesses, churches, organizations, and communities makes the book even more comprehensive.

To produce such a book for the education and enjoyment of future generations, materials are needed for the family story section from newcomers as well as oldtimers and from present residents as well as those who formerly lived in the county. Each eligible living family unit is entitled to the free space whether they have lived in Parmer County 1 day or 80 years. Remember—a newcomer today is history tomorrow! So, if you have living sisters or brothers, aunts or uncles, cousins, grandparents, parents or other relatives who have lived in Parmer County at one time or presently live here, be sure they write their family story and submit photos, too!

By encouraging your living family members to write their own family stories and use their 500 free words, you help insure your family will be well represented in the book. Each family unit can tell something different about their ancestors in addition to their immediate family.

Thank you,
Coach Mike and Kathy Lebby

If you or other family members need more than 500 words, additional space may be purchased at the rate of $10.00 per hundred words. In addition, space will be available for you to say "I love you" in a special way with words and photos to a parent or other loved ones—deceased or living—in the form of a memorial or tribute.

Your family story and pictures should be sent in as soon as possible but not later than July 20, 1980.

It would be of great help in notifying others about our book if you would include the names and addresses of living people mentioned in your story and tell us if those people have ever lived in the county.

Send your materials to: Parmer County Historical Commission, P.O. Box 577, Friona, Texas, 79035.

In order for us to make copies of this book available, it will be necessary for us to collect in advance to printing. The books will be sold for a limited time only during the pre-sale for $35.00 including sales tax. Add $2.50 for postage and handling per book ordered if you wish your copies mailed. Gift certificates are available. Submitting your family story does not obligate you in any way to buy copies of the book, but we encourage you to do so for several reasons: 1) Only the number of books ordered will be printed—there will be no more available; 2) Each of your children will treasure owning a copy to share with their future families; 3) It is a unique gift that cannot be outgrown; in fact, it grows in value as it passes from generation to generation.

Parmer County History

Around The House

By LAURA JACOBS

Spring-summer 1980 will be a fashion season of colorful casual simplicity. Everything is keyed to today's dual lifestyle: the dressed-up lifestyle and the fun-action lifestyle which is becoming more and more important to our good health and well-being.

In both lifestyles, a wonderful spectrum of color is the common denominator. Newest are the fresh pastels, soft, pretty and feminine. These "soda fountain" or "candy store" colors are perfect for blouses and dresses.

Super brights—the high voltage colors—are a second group. They are often mixed in bi-color and tri-color combinations for active sportswear.

Finally, there are the classic spectator neutrals. Chiefly black or navy plus white. These go anywhere, anytime to form the backbone of a super summer wardrobe.

The basic suit is back, better than ever. The newest suit look is the mismatched jacket and skirt. Jackets are more shapely, while skirts are slim, slit or pleated.

The ever-popular dilemma over skirt lengths is still around. While skirt lengths are noticeably shorter than last year, they are still very definitely knee covering.

In the fun-and-action line, sweatshirt fever has become epidemic! The lowly sweatshirt has come out of the gym and is now an international fashion look with long pants or shorts. Dresses are even taking on the sweatshirt look.

To sum it all up, the first spring-summer fashion season of the 1980's is one of wearable, understandable clothes, with just enough change and color to make it something new and different for you!

and centered with a prayer bench flanked on either side by a seven-branch candelabrum holding blue tapers entwined with garlands of greenery. Two gold stands holding green fern plants were placed on each side of the altar. Blue bows marked the aisles of the church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Barrett of Bovina and Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Headrick of Lubbock.

Mrs. Cindy Barrett, organist, played traditional wedding music. Mr. and Mrs. Craig of Amarillo sang "Fairest Lord Jesus" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Presented in marriage by her father the bride chose a formal gown of sheer over satin lace bordered with re-embroidered lace at the fitted empire bodice. The gown featured a Queen Anne neckline accentuated with lace and pearls. The long, sheer sleeves had cuffs of crystal pleated sheer ruffles below the lace. The sheer pleated ruffle at the lower edge of the skirt came up to a point in the front, forming a cathedral length train in the back. Her elbow length veil was fastened with a bandeau of the same lace and bordered with matching narrow lace.

She carried a heart shaped bouquet of white silk rose buds, carnations, stephanotis and baby's breath enhanced with white ribbon streamers.

The bridegroom wore a light beige tuxedo with a blue carnation and rose bud boutonniere.

Carrying out bridal tradition she carried pennies minted in the couples birth years in her slippers for something old. Something new was her wedding ensemble. She borrowed the pennies she carried in her slippers from her grandmother George and wore the traditional blue garter.

Miss Cindy Childers of Lubbock was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Arlene Joice of Clovis and Mrs. Jana Barrett, sisters-in-law of the bride.

They wore formal length gowns of blue chiffon overlaid blue whipped cream dresses and carried blue long stemmed silk roses with baby's breath and greenery.

Alan Barbee of Lubbock was best man. Groomsmen were Keith Taylor of Pecos and Jay B. Barrett, brother of the bride.

They wore baby blue tuxedos with white carnation boutonnieres.

The candle lighters were Keith and Mike Headrick of Lubbock, nephews of the groom. They also served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Barrett chose a formal gown of sand gold designed with long sleeves of chiffon, v-neckline with small stand-up collar, and tied at the waistline with a self belt. She wore a white silk gardenia corsage accented with small rose buds.

The groom's mother wore a blue brocaded formal gown featuring a draped neckline with long sleeves and tie belt. She also wore a corsage of white rose buds with a gardenia.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a blue lace cloth with a scalloped white satin overlay, centered with an arrangement of blue and white flowers and three blue tapers. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue rose buds and topped with a bride and groom under a heart shaped archway. The cake and fruit punch were served by Denise Headrick and Mrs. Keith Headrick.

For a wedding trip to Durango, Colorado, the bride wore a light brown pants suit.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Bovina High School, graduated from Texas Tech University, Lubbock and is currently working for an accounting firm.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Lubbock High School and is working as a framing contractor and real estate agent.

The couple resides at 2713 66th Street in Lubbock, Texas.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and

Believing

A popular ad reads: "Something you can believe in." It refers to a car. But you and I know we can't base our lives on a car! We must believe in something more.

What we really need is a reliable foundation for our lives, something significant to believe in. And just as a foundation gives shape to a physical house, what you believe gives shape to your life. Some people build their lives on the thousands of little time-and-possession particles of their everyday existence. What we do. What we have. What we want.

But isn't building on such things like building on the sand? Don't all of those little particles have a way of changing rapidly--like the child's castle built in the sand? Jesus said: "A man's life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions." (Luke 12:15)

Others build on whatever their culture hands them: television values; movie morals; pressure ethics. But look at the lives built on these culture values. Are they solid? Do they have depth and quality? Isn't there some other foundation of faith on which we can build?

Listen to what Jesus says: "Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep, and laid the foundation upon rock (Luke 6:47, 48). Jesus says human beings can build their lives on Him and His words. To find this foundation, He says we must dig deep. If we haven't dug deep enough to find the rock (Christ) then we build upon the sand and the storms of time will wreck."

FFA NEWS

By BRET WHITTEN Reporter

The Ag Mechanics Class has just completed building a new trailer for the Bovina FFA Chapter. It is a gray color and will be used to haul pigs and lambs to stock shows.

The trailer took approximately two months to build. Those members of the class who helped build it were: Jim Rhodes, Scott Johnson, Eddie Don Lide, Jody Watts, Ricky Mayfield, Ricky Jamerson, Richard Lowe, Doug Roming, Boyd Pipes, Ronny Ward, Michael DeLeon and Blake Sudderth.

Jerry and Wayne McClaran donated the trailer frame to the FFA. The class then built the trailer on the frame. It is made of metal with a wooden floor and has four compartments so the animals can be separated. The cost of the materials for the trailer was approximately $700. This trailer if purchased outright would have cost about $2,600. This means a real savings to the Chapter.

The Chapter will enter this trailer in the Panhandle-South Plains Fair in Lubbock this fall. Congratulations on a fine job boys!

FLBA Gives New Rates

William C. Liles, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Muleshoe, announced that effective June 1, 1980 new loans will be closed at the variable interest rate of 9 3/4 per cent on farm loans and 10 1/4 per cent on rural residence loans, the same rate now being charged existing borrowers on the variable rate. This is a reduction from a 12 per cent fixed rate on farm loans and 14 per cent on rural residence loans which was put into effect earlier this year.

The Federal Land Bank of Texas introduced the variable rate loan in 1969, which allows the billing rate to increase and decrease with variables in the money market. Earlier this year, faced with unprecedented high money cost, a fixed rate loan was offered on a temporary basis. Improvement in the money market in recent weeks makes it possible to return to the variable rate on new loans.

The Federal Land Bank Association of Muleshoe makes long-term real estate loans on farm and rural residence property in the counties of Bailey and Parmer.
