Mohair - an industry world-wide

by Jimmy Cahill

South Africa and Texas together have historically produced 80% of the world's mohair. Two years ago South Africa produced seventeen million pounds of the diamond fiber. Last year South Africa's production dropped to eleven pioneered a Chinese rug project that million pounds and predictions state that it could drop as much as 50% more by next year's sales. For the past several years Texas has consistently produced about fifteen million pounds of mohair per year. If the current trends continue, Texas could be producing 70% to 80% of a world commodity within a 200 mile radius of your home. is designing and selling mohair However, the federal government is making gestures that suggest the elimination of 1/2 of our Texas production at a time that we might I am sure that there are others actually benefit from the undertaking involving mohair that I concentration of exotic natural

As any businessman does, agriculturists try to control their budgets by minimizing costs. A few daring souls have put together large flocks of angora goats on vast, arid ranches, in order to create a low labor cost per animal. Now the federal government wants to limit the incentive payment on mohair to no more than $50,000 per person. This will undoubtedly trigger a decision of the large goat ranchers (representing 1/3 of mohair production) to sell their goats into a market with no willing buyers.

We need to act now if we are going to try to capture profits from the natural concentration of mohair in West Texas. A few people in our area have already realized this. Ford Oglesby from Eldorado has can use as much as one million pounds of adult mohair annually. Oglesby is currently seeking funding for his project. Al Dishman from Uvalde is making and successfully marketing Texas mohair sweaters and socks. Delores Vernor is making mohair coats at Camp Wood. Brenda Seidensticker garments from her shop in Comfort as well as at the Dallas Apparel Mart. In addition to these projects, am not aware of right now.

Ol' Sonora Trading Co. is currently producing coat fabric, women's suiting fabric, mohair throws, and men's and women's coats and vests. We are also working on developing other fabric and different weights of mohair upholstery fabric. We are investigating the designing of a line of women's clothing in mohair to be marketed under our label. We are also currently serving as a marketing outlet for Ford Oglesby's mohair rugs. It is our hope that mohair's success will be Texas'

Make the food guide pyramid work for you

In 1992, the United States Department of Agriculture released a new representation of the healthy American diet. The Food Guide Pyramid is an outline of what foods to eat each day. But it goes further in that it visually represents what amounts of different foods should comprise the diet. It also emphasizes the fact that, while fats, oils and sweets may be included in the diet, they should be used sparingly.

The Pyramid tells us that starchy foods such as breads, cereals, rice and pasta represented as the base of the Pyramid, should make up the bulk of the diet. The next level of the Pyramid shows plant foods, vegetables and fruits. As the Pyramid narrows, dairy products and meat, poultry, fish and other protein foods are represented. At the tip of the Pyramid and in the smallest section are the fats, oils and sweets.

But how can the Pyramid be interpreted in making everyday food choices? The Pyramid is different from previous food group recommendations in that it shows a range of servings for each food group: 6 to 11 servings for grains; three to five servings for vegetables; two to four servings for fruit; two or three servings for meats and two to three servings for milk products. At first this may seem confusing, but the range takes into consideration that different individuals need different amounts of food and calories depending on various factors such as age, sex, physical size and activity level. Almost everyone should have the lowest number of servings in each range. The minimum number of servings will provide about 1600 calories, that is when low-to moderate-fat foods are selected and the level of added fats in the diet is low. This number of calories is about right for many sedentary women and some older adults. Eating the highest numbers of servings in each group will provide about 2800 calories, too many for most individuals except teenage boys and very active men or athletes.

Agricultural Extension Service

NATIONAL CENTER FOR NUTRITION AND DIETETICS OF THE AMERICAN DIETETIC ASSOCIATION AND ITS FOUNDATION

Another crucial concept to understand when using the Pyramid recommendations is serving or portion size. A serving is not the number of times a food is eaten per day, but rather a specific amount of a food. For example: one serving of grain is one-half cup of pasta or one slice of bread; a vegetable serving is one-half cup cooked vegetable or 1 cup raw greens; a fruit serving is one (smallish) piece or three-fourths cup juice; a milk serving is one cup (eight ounces) of milk; a meat serving is only three ounces (a piece about the size of a deck of cards).

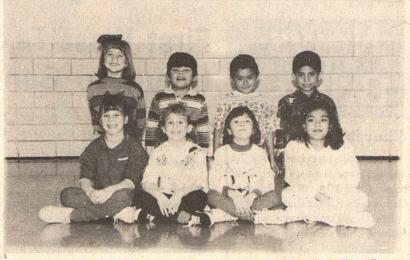

Each of the food groups provides some but not all the nutrients needed. That's why it's important to eat foods from each of the groups. The Pyramid goes beyond the food groups to help put the Dietary Guidelines into action. For more information on using the Pyramid and on controlling the level of fat in your diet, contact Kelly Lewis, your local County Extension Agent in Home Economics at 387-3604.

The John "Humpy" Jackson story report to Colonel Mackenzie.

Humpy kept on the move and in Bullis was sent out at once after Colonel Ranald S. Mackenzie, then in charge of Fort McKavett, was Jackson, who once again eluded his pursuers. body in the field. Mackenzie turned Mrs. Jackson and her daughter over to the district judge at Mason in response to a civil summons, April 13, 1870. Meanwhile Humpy was living a nomadic life in the SanSaba hills. He had the sympathy of the locals, they would hang a slab of bacon and a sack of fresh biscuits from a mesquite near their cabin for him. The men who had aided him took off for greener pastures. On June 14, 1871, after turning himself into civilian authorities, Humpy made bond for $2000 and stood trial in a court of Texans. Needless to say Humpy was exonerated of all charges.

So ends the saga of Humpy Jackson. We hope you have enjoyed the story. If you have any questions concerning Sutton County History send them to "Ask the Historical Society", P. O. Box 885, Sonora, Texas 76950-0885.

March is Great American Food Fight month

Like the Great American Smokeout, the Great American Food Fight Against Cancer is a lighthearted event with a serious message. Rather than encouraging people not to smoke, the Food Fight is meant to urge people to choose an arsenal of healthy foods.

Why? A growing body of research suggests that eating healthier foods--those higher in vitamins A and C, low in fat and high in fiber--may lower the risk for certain cancers.

Here's How:

- · Watch your weight
- Cut down on total fat intake • Eat more high-fiber foods

• Eat fruits and vegetables rich in vitamins A and C, and choose more cabbage-family vegetables (some are also high in vitamin A and C)

· Limit alcohol intake, if you · Eat less salt-cured, smoked, and nitrite-cured foods Diet is suspected as an important cause of as much as 35% of all cancer deaths. And research continues to uncover more information on which foods may help reduce cancer risks.

Best of all, the foods that are good for you are good to eat.

Keep this shopping list with you when you go to your market, or post it on your refrigerator.

Vitamin A: Apricots, Broccoli, Cantaloupe, Carrots, Peaches, Spinach, Sweet potatoes, Tomatoes, Winter squash.

Vitamin C: Broccoli, Cabbage, Grapefruit, Oranges, Potatoes, Red and Green Peppers, Strawberries.

Low Fat: Cheese (made from skim milk), Chicken (skin it don't bread or fry), Fish, Lean Meats, Milk (or skim), Yogurt (or non-

Fiber: Apples, Bok choy, Broccoli, brussels sprouts, Cauliflower, Chick peas, Corn tortillas, Dried beans, Kale, Oranges, Pasta, Pears, Potatoes, Prunes, Raisins, Raspberries, Spinach, Whole grain cereals, Bread (check labels for oil/fat/sugar).

BERRY YOUR CANCER RISK: Strawberries, Blueberries, raspberries. All are good sources of fiber, and fiber may help you reduce your risk of cancer. There's much you can do to fight cancer. Call us and we'll tell you about it. 1-800-ACS-2345.

generate enough funds through donations and fundraisers to help defray some of the initial expenses needed to get the Youth Center open and to help reduce some of the line items in the proposed budget.

The Committee is also inquiring into all grant and foundation possibilities on a yearly basis.

The main objective at this point is to receive support from the community in the way of monetary donations or donations of equipment or furniture needed, not only to show the City and County Officials that there is interest and backing for the Youth Center, but to also help keep any tax increase that might be necessary to a minimum should the funding come from our local government entities.

Any donations may be made to the "Sutton County Community Trust Fund" at First National Bank in Sonora. All donations will be returned to the donor if, for some reason, the Sonora Youth Center does not become reality. It is very important, however, that either a donation be made or a written commitment for a donation be received before the City Council and County Commissioners begin their budget meetings in May. The Committee will also be having various fundraisers and benefits this spring for the Sonora Youth Center and we encourage the public's participation.

The Youth Center can be a major contribution to this community and the growth of our youth and community support is vital.

During the day there were celebration ceremonies, area games, and a city-wide scavenger hunt. The evening activities included Mass, campfire, tailgate dinner, and a dance.

The Concho Valley recognized the Scout Association in Monterrey with a wreath and a plaque. The Asociacion De Scouts of Mexico, Provincia Nuevo Leon had Scouts participating from Monterrey, Saltillo, Sabinas Hidalgo, Nuevo Laredo, and Montemorelus.

The participation of the Scouts from the Concho Valley Council provided them with an opportunity to understand the culture and Scouting program of Mexico and build a better relationship and

Frontier History to come alive at Ft. McKavett March 20

Fort McKavett State Historical Park near Sonora will bring history to life March 20, 1993 with sounds of rifles, cannons and the jingling of riding gear as the park hosts its 10th annual Frontier Fire Reenactment.

The event will transform the site into a working Texas frontier fort of the 1870s. Dozens of living history reenactors from across Texas will authentically portray U. S. calvary, infantry and artillery soldiers, laundresses, officer's wives, Texas Rangers, frontier families, wagon and mule teams and more.

"Both adults and children always seem to have a great time at this event," said David Bischofhausen, park manager. "The reenactors are a friendly yet professional bunch who strive for authenticity while trying to make sure the public is entertained."

Visitors will be able to step back into the past as history unfolds around them. Activities will include booming artillery demonstrations, horseback drills by the cavalry, infantry weapons demonstrations, authentic clothing and equipment displays and other scheduled and continuous events interpreting life at a bustling, frontier Army post in the 1870s.

Major living history organizations at the event will

Overlooking the headwaters of the San Saba River valley, Fort McKavett was established in 1852 to protect settlers from Indian raids and to provide protection for travelers on the upper El Paso Road, an important artery to the California gold fields. At its peak around 1875, the post housed more than 400 troops, who stayed busy with routine patrols, escort duties and the occasional "hot pursuit" of marauding Indians.

Today's historical park features 20 restored buildings, including officer's quarters, barracks, hospital, school house, bakery and headquarters, along with the ruins of several older structures. Visitors can follow a self-guided trail to the military lime kiln and "Government" Springs."

The event will be a great, lowcost, weekend getaway for everyone. The cost is $2 for adults, $1 for children 6-12 and free for children under 6 and individual holders of the Texas Conservation Passport. The event will run from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.
