Guild to display artwork at Theater

West Texas Art Guild members are displaying their artwork at the Covered Wagon Dinner Theatre each Saturday night from June 12 through August 14.

The artwork can be viewed from 6:15 p. m. and throughout the performances at the Caverns of Sonora.

Artists who are participating are David Carraway, Jeanne Davenport, Barbara Earwood, Mary L. Gilly, Charlotte Higdon, Ron Nicholas, Jo Ann Pape, Pauline Ringgold, Susie Schneider, Elvie Turney and Lucy Ward.

The first artist to display works on June 12 are Barbara Earwood and Elvie Turney.

Life on the Texas ranch where the Earwoods raise some of the finest wool and mohair in the world is depicted in watercolors and drawings by Barbara Earwood. "The antics of the lambs and kids are always exciting to me," she says.

Born in New England, and a graduate of Woodward School of Quincy, Massachusetts and the Washington School of Art, Port Washington, NY, she has continued studies at Angelo State and with many notable artists.

Her 12x5-1/2 foot montage, portraying the simultaneous growth of Sonora and the bank, hangs permanently in the Founder's Room of the First National Bank of Sonora. She designed the Sutton County Logo that was used extensively for the sesquicentennial state celebration.

Earwood's favorite medium is watercolor with its "tremendous challenge." She is included in the 1981-82 American Artist of Renown, the 1984-85 edition of Notable Women of Texas and the New Historical Encyclopedia of Texas. Her work has been selected for numerous juried shows and been awarded top honors. These include: Texas Fine Arts Association, Texas Watercolor Society, Museum of the Southwest, Abilene Fine Arts Association, Southwestern Watercolor Society, and Laguna Gloria Museum in Austin.

Earwood is a charter member of the West Texas Art Guild and serves on the Board of Directors.

Elvie Turney was raised on her family's ranch near Loma Alta, Texas. She graduated from Del Rio High School and furthered her education at the University of Texas at Fairmount Junior College in Washington, D. C. She married Jack Turney, a rancher from Sonora, Texas, and was an accomplished cook, seamstress, and private pilot before taking on the job of mother to their two children. While living near Quemado, Texas Elvie served as a school trustee for the Eagle Pass Independent School District and was involved in many other civic organizations that included being an officer of the PTA and a leader for 4-H activities.

Through the years she dabbled in art when she could, taking from various artists that included: Lou McNealy, Rocksprings, Texas; Paul Kim, Rusty Horseshoe Gallery, Alpine, Texas; Jim Shafer, formerly of Cuero, now of Lamesa, Texas; Billie Barnes, Houston, Texas; Janice Porter Walden formerly of Uvalde, Texas; and Robert Abbett, wildlife artist from Connecticut and Arizona. Most recently she traveled from Colorado to Kentucky and all over Texas to learn the art of portraiture from Frank Covino, who graduated from the Pratt Institute of Art in New York City with a Masters degree in teaching art. Frank had a studio in Fairfield, Connecticut for many years, but now makes his home in Waitsfield, Vermont. Elvie is the coordinator for Frank Covino workshops in Sonora, and his religious workshops in Hunt, Texas.

Sonora to continue solid waste management

At a special meeting held last week, the Sonora City Council voted to keep the city's landfill open, as well as continuing to provide solid waste collection. The city had been considering closing the landfill, as well as a proposal from Browning-Ferris Industries (BFI) to take over city garbage collection.

Stringent new state and federal regulations, scheduled to take effect in October, will significantly increase operating costs for the landfill. However, after evaluating the cost of implementing the new regulations, as well as the BFI proposal, the city opted to retain solid waste services as a city function.

The solid waste issue has been a topic at numerous city council meetings over the past few months, as well as a recent town meeting. During the lengthy discussions, it was noted that the city has evaluated numerous alternatives, including incineration, compaction, and shredding to reduce the waste stream and extend the life of the landfill.

"The cost of solid waste collection is going to increase whether the city continues to provide the service, or whether we contract with a private vendor," explained Sonora City Manager John Pape. "The city has worked hard to keep our rates low. Unfortunately, meeting these new state and federal mandates is going to be extremely expensive."

Pape explained that part of the reasoning to retain solid waste disposal as a city function was a concern by the Council over the ability of low-income and elderly residents to pay higher bills. The city hopes to be able to "phase in" cost increases over a period of time, allowing local residents to adjust to the additional costs.

It was stressed that city garbage fees will not be immediately affected. Any increase will be considered by the city council as a part of the city's budget preparation process for the 1994 fiscal year.

First HARP students graduate from SISD

In keeping with the President's goals for education in the year 2000, the Sonora Independent School District successfully completed its first year of the home based Helping At Risk Parents (HARP) Program. The focus of HARP is to provide developmentally appropriate educational instruction to eligible three year olds in the areas of cognition, communication, social/emotional, self-help, gross and fine motor skills.

Plans are already being made to continue this program next year.

The Sonora I. S. D. would like to take this opportunity to thank all those parents who have taken an active role, as equal partners in their children's education.

Final donations and prize winners from Project Graduation

What do Annette Gamez and Vickie Downing have in common? They both graduated from High School Friday night and they both won $100 bills at Project Graduation! About 100 juniors and seniors from Sonora showed up at the all-night, chemical-free celebration held at the High School. Community members played cards, rolled dice, called out Bingo numbers, played putt-putt, basketball volleyball, darts, held tricycle races, and blew up balloons in order to distribute prizes and play money to the students. Music was played, and food was served, and money, real money, was given away by the boatloads! At the auction, The Sutton County Days Association was recognized for being a $1,000 contributor and the Newkirk twins "purchased" a computer which was donated by

Enron Oil & Gas, Anna Teaff "purchased" a color TV, Cenisa Cauthorn an electronic typewriter, Kathy Cooke a VCR, Jesse Burnham a dorm-sized refrigerator, and on and on until finally at 5 a. m., the tired and sleepy (but safe and alive) students left.

An enormous thank you goes out to all the people who cont'd pg. 2

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

In March of this year, we conducted our annual monitor well testing program. Our monitor well program consists of approximately sixty (60) wells. We test approximately one-third of these on a rotational basis every three years. This year we tested 21 wells of which 2 were private tests.

As a cost-savings measure to the District, the manager collected and prepared all the samples to be sent to a commercial laboratory in College Station, Texas. These samples were analyzed for over thirty (30) constituents each.

In the monitor wells tested, it appears that no significant changes in water quality have occurred since the last analysis. Reports on these individual wells have been forwarded to the individual well owners.

If you have any questions of this District, please contact me at 387-2369 or come by our office in Suite 101 of the Mercantile Building on Main Street in Sonora.

Sincerely,
Mike Smith
Manager
Sutton County Underground Water Conservation District

Freelance Philosophy
by
G.C. "Country" Smith

According to the Washington, D.C.'s Center for Media and Public Affairs, the average 6th grader has seen more than 8000 murders on T.V. Now I decided that I would like for my boy to learn some different things. His name is Clayton. Clayton is four years old. So far, Clayton has seen very few murders.

So, trying to be a good dad, I bought a book for me and Clayton...WHAT YOUR 1ST GRADER NEEDS TO KNOW. Clayton is not in the first grade yet, but I figure he will be someday and I thought that a little head start would not hurt.

I opened the book, ready to teach my boy and started reading about Pteranodons. Now, I am certain that I must have known about Pteranodons in the first grade. I did really good work back in those days. I made satisfactory grades and my teacher said that I had great potential. Teachers don't lie. So, I must have done pretty good. But, for the life of me, I can't remember anything about Pteranodons.

I thought to myself, "Self, something is wrong here." Either I never learned about Pteranodons in the first grade (ineffective teaching) or I forgot (onset of senility.) Neither prospect thrills me.

It is rather depressing. I'm too depressed to write anymore.

Clayton and I are going to turn on the T.V. and watch Popeye.

*Until the next time,
May God Bless,
GCS*

When the Lights Go Out, We Won't Leave You in the Dark

Power outages sometimes happen during this time of year due to problems caused by thunderstorms, lightning, high winds or tornados. When the lights go out, WTU will do whatever it takes to get your power restored as quickly as possible.

If your lights do go out, we need your help!

Here's what you can do:

- First, check with your neighbors to see how widespread the outage is.
- If you're the only house in your area with the light out or if you don't have any close neighbors, check your breaker or fuse box to see if the trouble is there.
- If the trouble isn't on your side of the meter (such as a tripped circuit breaker or a blown fuse), call your area WTU office. Keep trying if the lines are busy. It's important that we hear from you — and we appreciate your patience.
- As soon as we learn of an outage, we call out as many crews as needed and work as long as necessary to make sure your power is restored.

Competition tough at scramble

Competition is tough at the Thursday golf scrambles at the Sonora Golf Course.

Again, there was a putt-off held for first place on Thursday, June 3, 1993. The team of Joe Ramirez, Steve Smart, Joe Turner, Harvey DuRussell, Jane Archer, and Jady Webster won first with the team of Primo Gonzales, Oliver Wuest, Clyde Dukes, Chad Plant, and Becky York finishing second.

Third place was won by the team of Albert Bosmans, Ashley Niblett, John Casparis, Sr., Quade Sutton, Pam Browning, and Jimmy Crowder.

The team of Devoe Smith, Savell Shannon, Ed Farr, Bill Strait, and Darla Lipham won the skins and Jane Archer was closest to the hole on No. 9 for the dinner-for-two at Rosie's Cafe.

Fifty-two members participated in the scramble this week with several new faces there. We want to encourage everyone to come out and join us beginning at 5:30 each Thursday. ## Red Hot Movie Reviews

by Roy Ivy
Cliffhanger
Rated R for violence and language
FOUR stars

Sometimes I judge a movie on how long I hold off going to the bathroom. If the movie is dull, I can go to the john and not miss anything. With Cliffhanger, I held it until I nearly exploded.

The plot isn't exactly deep (Stallone as a heroic mountain climber versus a group of bad guys looking for lost money in the Colorado Rockies), and it's not entirely unpredictable, but it's the best slam-bang action entertainment worthy of your hard-earned buck to come around in a long time.

Visually, Cliffhanger will blow your socks off. This is a film that needs to be experienced in a theater. On television, it will have the equivalent of looking at a Yellowstone pamphlet, but on the big screen, it will make you dizzy.

Actingwise, Stallone does a fine job. You can actually understand every syllable of what he is saying. Janine Turner from Northern Exposure gets what I call the "Oh-no! Girl" role. An "Oh-no! Girl" is one who sits in a corner and cringes while her man gets the crap beat out of him. Maybe she gets brave and hits him with a rock, but the bad guy just smacks her aside, goes after the good guy, and the girls sits in a corner cringing, saying "Oh-no!" Michael Rooker, as Stallone's buddy, has the best lines of the film and John Lithgow, doing an Anthony Hopkins impersonation, does a swell job as the British bad guy (why are bad guys in action films always British? Is the world just overrun with little British terrorists who want to steal our coffee?). The rest of the cast is P. D. P. s (Potential Dead People - characters that you know will get killed, the question is, how creatively will they die?) that get bumped off in various fun ways.

All in all, Cliffhanger is a great roller coaster ride that will make you cheer. For those who fear heights, you will puke. Just try to aim at the guy two rows in front, okay?

Life with Mikey
Rated PG
Three Stars

Normally anything with cute little kids makes me sick (I watched Full House once and I couldn't eat for weeks), but the kids in Life With Mikey wound up charming me, much to my surprise. Michael J. Fox plays a former child star who now runs an agency for child actors. While looking for the perfect kid for a cookie commercial, 10 year old Christina Vida tries to pick his pocket. She winds up being just the girl he is looking for.

Of course there are little problems such as: the girls isn't in school, her mother's dead, her father's in a rehab center and she hates him, she has trouble communicating nicely with other people, etc. Of course she moves in with Fox, and for a while, the movie turns into Curley Sue. Luckily, Fox is a lot better than that. He saves what could have been a very dull film.

For adults, this film will run a little slow, but it functions as a perfect family comedy. The language is limited to two, count'em, two curse words, and the movie also delivers a nice anti-smoking message. It's very enjoyable for everyone.

Happyly Ever After
Rated G
No Stars

This film will be playing on every theater in hell. If they really wanna torture you, they'll make you learn the songs too. I've seen better animation on bathroom walls, and the story - a pale imitation of Disney's classic - couldn't keep the attention of any kid with half a brain.

Irene Cara, as in "Flashdance - What a Feeling!" does the voice of Snow White. Now her singing voice doesn't make my ears bleed like Mariah Carey, but it does cause severe indigestion. The rest of the dwarfellas (Disney wouldn't let them use the name Dwarfs) are so irritating that you'd like to hang them in the streets and watch their little dwarfella feet dangle as they lose breath and die.

Thank heavens I snuck into this one and didn't pay money for it.

Next Week: Jurassic Park.

PUBLIC NOTICE
NOTICE TO BIDDERS

The Williamson County Commissioner's Court invites the submission of sealed bids for the lease of the surface estate (including grazing and hunting rights) to the following described tracts of land in Sutton County, Texas, which form a part of the Williamson County School Lands. Bids must be received by the undersigned prior to 10:00 a. m., July 12, 1993, at which time the bids will be opened in open court on the 2nd floor of the County Courthouse in Georgetown, Texas. Any bids received after that time will be returned unopened. As to each tract listed in this notice, the Court may either reject all bids or award a lease to the highest and best bidder.

All bids submitted must comply with the following restrictions, conditions, and limitations which the Commissioner's Court has determined to be necessary and proper.

The proposed lease shall be for a term of (5) five years, with a (5) year renewal option, commencing with the expiration of the current leases. The current lease on survey 1 will expire on December 19, 1993. The current lease on surveys 19, 20, 21 and 22 will expire on September 15, 1993. The Commissioner's Court retains the option to cancel said lease or leases in the event of sale or exchange of said property, with a pro-rata refund of any lease payments previously tendered.

The lessee shall be obligated to manage the land in a prudent, ranch-like manner, and shall employ the highest degree of care in conserving the land and its produce.

It is the intent of the Commissioner's Court to award leases separately for each tract. However, any bidder who wishes to submit a bid on more than one tract may do so. Unless the bid received expressly states that the bidder will accept only the award of all items bid, each item in the bid will be considered separately and will be rejected or awarded on a high item basis. No more than one bid will be awarded for any tract. Bids may be rejected for some tracts, even though awards are made for others. The convenience of having single a lessee for several adjacent or close tracts will be taken into considerations together with the experience of the bidder in determining the best bid. The Commissioner's Court of Williamson County reserves the right to reject any or all bids received.

For further information please contact Commissioner Jerry Mehevec at P. O. Box 1104, Taylor, Texas 76574 (512-352-2311). Please submit bids to: John Doerfler, County Judge, Williamson County Courthouse 2nd Floor SW, Georgetown, Texas 78626.
