Adopt-A-Neighborhood Program Honored

Texas Attorney General Dan Morales has awarded Criminal Justice Awards to community groups from across the state for their efforts in crime prevention or providing opportunities to at-risk youth. The City of Sonora's Adopt-A-Neighborhood Program was among the programs to be honored. The awards were given at the "Criminal Justice System and the Minority Community Conference" in Austin.

The award winners were chosen from 150 programs reviewed from across the state. Sonora's program was judged in the Neighborhood Action category.

In a congratulatory letter to Sonora City Manager John L.

Pape the architect of the program, Attorney General

Morales stated that "Sonora Adopt-A-Neighborhood's successful effort to make a difference by working cooperatively with community groups to solve neighborhood problems is an inspiration to us all."

Mayor Lemuel Lopez echoed the Attorney General's remarks, and stated that "this recognition continues to prove what we can do in Sonora if we all work together. We are building a model small community with a high quality of life for everyone. This just shows that we have taken another step in that direction."

The Adopt-A-Neighborhood Program was developed by Pape to help local citizens take a part in improving their respective neighborhoods. Working under the slogan "Strong Neighborhoods make Strong Communities, problems such as juvenile crime, littering, vandalism, health hazards, and code violations have been resolved through the program.

Adopt-A-Neighborhood was also recently featured in Texas Town & City magazine, the official publication of the Texas Municipal League. Several cities have adopted similar programs based on the Sonora model, and other cities have been in contact with Sonora officials for assistance in developing programs in their communities.

CAROLE'S CORNER

March is a time of renewal. The earth begins to fight off the last stages of dreary winter with the first blossoms of Spring. So why not renew yourself?

It is not surprising to find out that if senior citizens exercise their minds and their bodies they will live longer, more productive lives. I even heard a news report that said "...play bridge instead of bingo..." if you want to keep alert. Now, I won't go as far as to say not to play Bingo because I'm sure some of you would be very unhappy with me!

I will say that the more involved you are in making decisions for yourself and your community, the more rewards you will reap - both physically and mentally! Find out who's running for office and already in office. Let them know you are a senior citizen who is politically astute and ready to make a difference! Senior citizens are in the majority in this country, your vote counts!

Take better care of yourself. Join our free exercise group led by Carolyn Earwood; go walking, paint, work on crafts, or play Bridge! We offer all of the above, but we need you to join us! Let's renew ourselves together! Come to the Senior Center for lunch and stay for one of our activities! Bring a friend or make new ones when you get here!! See you soon!

Ceramics Class with Katherine Cooper on the 24th (1st robin of spring) Hat Day on the 31st Exercise/Dance with Carolyn Earwood every Wednesday at 2:15 p.m.

Aye & Begorrah, Y'all! Our great state celebrated its Independence on March 2nd. We'll have an Irish Birthday party on the 17th - wear green or suffer the consequences!! Hat day is on the 31st - so break out your Beanies and join in!!

West Texas Coalition for Cancer Control
The WTCCC will be here from the Texas Tech Health Science Center at noon on Thursday, March 10th to discuss their findings in developing a rural network for cancer control. The meeting is open to the public.

Travels & Travails
Your center director will travel to Fort Worth on the 4th to attend a board of directors meeting at the Texas Association of Senior Centers. She is the regional representative for Region III.

The 7th of March, Carole will attend a statewide meeting of TEFAP contractors in Austin and return to the center on the afternoon of the 9th.

Juanita Mesa will be driving the Thunderbird to San Angelo on the 4th and again on the 16th. Sign up soon. Call the center for your ride today!!

Freelance Philosophy

Certain recent events have caused me to have a much greater appreciation for life, not the trappings of life, but life itself. I have been giving a lot of thought to the meaning of life. I have considered life and death. Here are the thoughts of a few other folks on the subject.

A baby is God's opinion that life should go on.

— Carl Sandburg

Life is a series of little deaths out of which life always returns.

— Charles Feidelson, Jr.

The best use of life is to spend it for something that outlasts life.

— William James

Life is a tragedy for those who feel, and a comedy for those who think.

— Jean de La Bruyère

Life is not lost by dying; life is lost minute by minute, day by dragging day, in all the thousand small uncaring ways.

— Stephen Vincent Benét

We are here to add what we can to life, not to get what we can from it.

— William Osler

Do not take life too seriously; you will never get out of it alive.

— Elbert Hubbard

Until the next time,

May God Bless

Kelly's Column

The National Nutrition Month EAT RIGHT AMERICA™ campaign is set for March. National Nutrition Month (NNM) is a nutrition education and information campaign sponsored annually by the National Center for Nutrition and Dietetics (NCND) of The American Dietetic Association (ADA) and its Foundation.

The campaign is designed to provide the public with basic nutrition knowledge needed to make informed food choices and develop sound eating habits. Also, in support of making informed food choices and developing sound eating habits is your local county Extension agent.

The 1994 theme is "Nutrition Fuels Fitness." Diet is one of several risk factors for developing chronic conditions such as heart disease, obesity, osteoporosis or some cancers. Because it is unknown precisely which people will benefit most from specific dietary changes, the Dietary Guidelines are today's best general advice to help you and your family choose a healthy diet.

To reduce your health risks, check your weight and shape. If you are too fat or too thin, you are more likely to develop health problems. Either refer to a weight chart to check with your physician or dietitian to see if you are at a healthy weight. Another check is to compare your waist measurement to your hip measurement. A waist measuring more than the hips is believed to be a greater health risk than hips measuring more than the waist.

Check your blood pressure. In the United States, one in three adults has high blood pressure. Normal blood pressure for adults; systolic less than 140 mmHg (millimeters of mercury) and diastolic less than 85 mmHg. No way exists to predict who might develop high blood pressure. Diets high in salt can increase blood pressure, as can obesity, heredity, and excessive drinking of alcoholic beverages.

Another wise move is to check your blood cholesterol as it indicates the amount of cholesterol in the blood. A desirable blood cholesterol level is below 200 mg/dl (milligrams per deciliter). Risk of heart disease is increased by a high blood cholesterol level associated with a diet that is high in saturated fatty acids, total fat, and cholesterol. Heart disease risk is also increased by high blood pressure, cigarette smoking, obesity, physical inactivity, diabetes, age, being a male, and family history of heart disease.

Think before you drink alcohol. Some people should not drink alcohol at all: Pregnant women, children, adolescents, people taking certain medications or people whose activities require attention or skill, and individuals who cannot keep their drinking moderate.

Another lifestyle change is to use the Food Guide Pyramid as your dietary guide. Get the nutrients your body needs by eating a variety of foods from the five major food groups each day and not too much fats, oils and sweets. Many Americans consume too much fat, saturated fatty acids, and cholesterol and not enough complex carbohydrates and fiber. Recent surveys show that over periods of several days many Americans eat no fruit, fruit juice, or vegetables.

So, it is good to control those risk factors that you can -- maintain healthy weight, don't smoke, exercise regularly, use alcohol moderately or not at all, and choose a healthy diet. Some risk factors such as age, sex, and heredity cannot be controlled.

Celebrate this month by changing your eating habits to better informed choices. Let "Nutrition Fuel Your Fitness."

Card Of Thanks

It's very hard to express my thanks in words to my family and friends for all their help during my lengthy stay in the hospital and convalescence at home. The phone calls, cards, flowers, meals and mainly your prayers have made it easier.

Maria Carrasco.

Wind - A Valuable Resource

by Travis Williams
Ranchers and farmers in the western half of Texas own a valuable wind resource that is becoming of interest to electric utilities and wind power developers. In California where the wind energy industry had its birth in the early 80's, unwary ranchers lost control of their "wind rights" by making mistakes.

A co-operative study by ranchers of the region's wind resource would document the quality of potentially promising sites for commercial wind power plants. A broad regional cost-shared approach towards wind resource evaluation would make participation in the study affordable and produce a good understanding of what the winds are doing 50 meters up in the air and where the most promising sites for commercialization are located.

Once the rancher or farmer has a good understanding about the quality and quantity of his wind resource, superior production royalty agreements can be negotiated from an informed position. A good wind site averaging 16-18 miles per hour annually should command a production royalty arrangement for the landowner similar to a good oil or gas lease with proven reserves.

Most of the traditional landowners in California's wind parks didn't get advice in time about how to protect themselves and their long-term interests. Today in Texas, few attorneys, C.P.A.s and real estate advisors have any wind industry experience to begin assisting ranchers with windy land to develop their interests safely in a very complicated power industry dominated by giant utilities.

Texas Turbine Corporation has assembled a team of highly experienced wind energy professionals to educate, guide and protect landowners wishing to study their wind resource for commercial sites which can reward them with excellent production royalty streams of income for decades.

The wind energy market is developing in Texas faster than other states because of pro-renewable energy support at the Public Utility Commission which regulates utilities. Texas has a large potential wind resource ten times that of California. West Texas, part of the Gulf coast, the Panhandle, and parts of central Texas have substantial wind resources of varying qualities and quantities that require documentation for commercialization to proceed. The mountain ranges in West Texas, mesas, ridgelines, high country, escarpments, and the regions surrounding them are especially attractive because the mountains, mesas, and escarpments can serve as platforms to position wind turbines higher up into good wind currents.

Ranchers in West Texas have a wonderful opportunity to develop a new energy resource but they must be extremely careful about compromising their wind rights in any way if they want to realize significant streams of income over the long-term.

Note: Travis is a ranching family native of Fort Davis and Sanderson. Texas Turbine Corporation, a wind energy industry consulting firm, is working with property owners to protect their economic interests and is developing advanced wind turbine technology climate-optimized for the Southern Great Plains.

Christmas In April

Christmas in April is dedicated to keeping low-income, elderly and disabled homeowners living in warmth, safety, independence, dignity and decency through home repair and rehabilitation volunteer services.

WHAT WE DO: One day each year, we gather volunteers from all walks of life, and donated materials, to repair and rehabilitate homes and non-profit facilities.

WHO WE HELP: Low-income, elderly or disabled people who cannot maintain their homes, as well as non-profit facilities are eligible for our services. All work is done free of charge. Individual families are referred to us through churches, synagogues, community organizations and service groups, or by self-referral.

WHEN WE WORK: The majority of the cities and towns do their repair blitz the last Saturday in April, designated as our National Rebuilding Day. Volunteers report at 8:00 a.m. and work until 4:00, or until the work is accomplished. The day ends in a celebration picnic for all volunteers, beneficiaries, and sponsors.

WHO VOLUNTEERS: Anyone can volunteer! Business executives, students, secretaries, doctors, lawyers, bus drivers, policemen, housewives and Congressmen, bankers and real estate personnel, all pitch in to help build a better community! Skilled tradespeople are always in demand...thousands of carpenters, plumbers, electricians, roofers and people with other skills donate their time each year!

The 1994 Board of Directors for the Christmas in April program in Sonora are: Paul Chevalier, President; Tim Talley, Vice President; Tonya Brown, Secretary/Treasurer; Michelle Anderson, Al Elliott, Travis Osborne, Virgil Polocsek, David Sanchez, Melissa Teaff, Carole Thorp.

Volunteers and donations are greatly needed. Please call 387-2950, or 387-3881 to donate or serve on a team. Call Carole Thorp at 387-5657 or 387-3941 or 387-2322 for more information. The 1994 workday is Saturday, April 30th. House Captains meet on March 10th.

Ask The Historical Society

by the Sutton County Historical Society

Q. Do you have anything on the legend of red-headed buzzards meaning Spring?

A. Devil's River News, March 6, 1936 - Four Buzzards With Red Heads Spring Harbinger?

One Sutton County ranchman, and his neighbor, are sure that Spring is not far away.

The father of each man was an early day resident in the country. As their sons grew up they were told that if they saw a red-headed buzzard on the ranch place Spring was at hand.

Sunday in a pasture on the ranch of one of the men, the ranchmen saw four, not just one, red-headed buzzards. He remembered what his father told him. The red-headed buzzard is supposed to be a migratory bird and other types remain here throughout the winter.

The following articles of interest appeared in the same issue:

Mrs. P.J. Taylor, Mrs. R.A. Halbert, Mrs. A.W. Awalt, Mrs. E.B. Heinze, Mrs. Collier Shurley and Mrs. Edgar Shurley were working on a Sonora Beautification Project. Flower cutting and seeds of all kinds may be exchanged by Sonorans at a "Flower Exchange" to be conducted at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the basement of the Methodist Church.

Can a man be dead and not be aware of that fact?

B.W. Hutcherson tells a story of seeing a man's car turn over several times on the road between Ozona and Barnhart several years ago.

When Mr. Hutcherson got alongside the car, on its wheels again, the driver was still grasping the wheel. But let the Sutton sheriff tell it:

"I told him -- 'You're dead even though you may not know it. I'll see that your folks are told and that you're given a decent burial. That's the way those things happen. You'll realize in a minute that you're no longer a living breathing citizen but are just a corpse, ready for old Mother Earth'."

The driver hardly knew how to take such words from the stranger for he was uninjured. There hadn't been a sign of a smile on the face of the stranger. Finally he became angry and broke out with:

"I'm not hurt and I'll show you I'm not dead, either."

He crawled out from under the wheel and ran about fifty yards out in the pasture, "just to show he wasn't dead," as Mr. Hutcherson tells it.

At a recent track meet Kenneth Babcock ran an exhibition half mile in two minutes and nineteen seconds.

The Sonora Post Office receipts for the month of February 1936 were $441.78

Cecilio Cardona, Ysidro Virgen, Alberto Tyarena and

Theo Virgen, Jr., were inducted into the Boy Scouts of American Troop #25.

The following Sonora students participated in a typing contest with Eldorado Friday: Lillie Marie Smith, Lunetta Marion, Marion Elliott, Louis Davis, Wilma Hutcherson, Nora B. Hill and Kenneth Babcock. Kenneth won first place with a score of 136.1, Eloise Whitten of Eldorado won second and Nora B. Hill took third place.
