Broncos' Discipline too much for Punchers and Wildcats

by Tryon Fields

This past week found the boys on the road. Monday, the Broncos went to Mason and out-manned and out-hustled the Punchers. All ten of the Bronco hoopsters contributed with points in their 67 to 30 win. Four Broncos were in double figures with Ty Harrelson leading the Broncos with 16 points. Justin House had 13, Josh Burnham added 12, and Caleb Barker put in 10. The Broncos' height and quickness kept the Punchers on their heels all night as John Jones and John Paul Hudman controlled the boards. Justin House and Shiloh Sykes combined on defense for 11 steals.

The new Bronco discipline proved to be too much for the Wildcats as the Broncos notched their third win with a score of 51 to 29. Coach Harrelson gave each member of his squad a chance to play, and each one contributed with points. John Paul Hudman lead the team with his first double-double, 17 points and 10 rebounds. Curt Dempsey added 9 points, good defense with 3 blocked shots, 2 steals and 2 rebounds. Josh Burnham had 8 points, 2 steals, and 3 rebounds. This was a team win in every sense of the word as each player contributed in every aspect of the game.

On Tuesday night, the Broncos traveled to Water Valley to take on the Wildcats.

The Broncos played their first game at home on Tuesday and will travel to Ft. Stockton this weekend to play in their first tournament of the season.

The awards are based on schools' spring 1995 performance on the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills (TAAS) Test, which measures performance in reading, writing, and mathematics. Schools also had to meet performance standards for dropout and attendance rates.

Sonora Law Enforcement Apprehends Armed Robbery Suspects

Thanks to a concerned Sonora, Texas citizen who wishes to remain anonymous a stolen car was recovered Monday November 27, 1995, and four armed criminals were taken into custody.

seen one of the occupants reaching just before calling for assistance.

At approximately 10 a.m. Sonora Police Officer Bryn Humphery was dispatched to the IH 10 EXXON to check out some strange acting people that were bothering the customers by asking for money.

A stolen check on the serial number of the Jeep indicated that it was stolen two days earlier from Colorado Springs, Colorado, on November 25, 1995.

As Officer Humphery arrived, he noticed four young people in a white Jeep Cherokee Humphery submitted a registration check on the Colorado license plate which indicated that the plate belonged on a GMC instead of the Jeep.

Further investigation revealed that all occupants are suspected in an armed robbery that occurred in Brush, Colorado which is about 150 miles west of Colorado Springs.

The four people in the Jeep, which was black and silver, were wearing similar clothing, and two of them wore blue bandannas on their heads.

Frankie Lane Lopez, an 18 year old male, driver of the Jeep, and Malkia Maleka Aguilar, a 17 year old female, are in the Sutton County jail awaiting Colorado authorities. The other two occupants were both 15 year old juvenile males, and they have been transported to the Kerrville Juvenile Detention facility where they are awaiting Colorado authorities as well.

Officer Humphery called for assistance to watch these people while he checked out the serial number on the Jeep. Sutton County Sheriff Bill Webster and Deputy Ed Duncan responded along with Texas State Trooper Donald Van Zandt.

Sonora Chief of Police Brent Gesch wishes to express the deepest gratitude to the anonymous citizen for making the call. Gesch also wishes to thank Sheriff Webster, Deputy Duncan, and State Trooper Van Zandt for their help. "It really takes everyone working together and all Law Enforcement Agencies and officers need to work with the citizens more closely," Chief Gesch said.

City Council Held Meeting Tuesday

The City Council met Tuesday, November 21 in regular session. The Sutton County Appraisal District reported tax payments collected for October in the amount of $17,807.71 or five percent. Sutton County National Bank was selected as the depository of operating funds for a two year period. Three planning and zoning cases were approved. Also approved were annexation procedures requested by Frank Wamble on land located at the end of Hillside Street.

between the sewer plant and the landfill. City Manager, Kelly Carta, advised the council that several issues are of concern. These being a 150' buffer zone around the sewer plant, private roadway between sewer plant and landfill, site security, flood plain, fecal runoff, and utilities. Carta stated that some of these concerns could be resolved locally and some by the state. Access was granted by the council.

Discussion was held regarding the FFA proposed site for a tract of land owned by Jimmy Powers, just east of the City's sewer treatment plant, to be used for animal projects. The school requested permission to access the site through the City property and place a gate to the property

A lengthy discussion was held regarding the fee schedule for the Sinaloa and Loma Alta additions. Carla Garner, County Judge, and citizens from these additions expressed their concern over the differential garbage rates for customers in the two additions as compared to inside the city. According to the minutes from the meeting, Judge Garner requested that an additional rate increase not be given to those customers, due to the fact that they had received a $5.00 increase in October and she felt that any additional charges would be a tremendous hardship. Garner also asked that those customers be given a free Friday trash pickup or a free landfill gate admission once a month, as customers do within the corporate limits. The council set all residential garbage rates, inside and outside the city, at $15.00 per month and add $5.00 to all commercial rates per dumpster, inside and outside the city. These rates are effective December 1, 1995. Also included in the motion was to allow all garbage utility customers one free Friday pickup or one free gate entry at the landfill per month. The vote carried three to two.

The Council also made revisions to the fee schedule as follows: landfill gate fee, all allowable wastes: $1.00 per linear foot; no fee for building security checks and house watching done by the Police Department; classification for sewer rates for professional laundries and dry cleaners, per month, each fixture set $13.00; utility late payment fee after 10 days of the due date, 1.5% of bill; and new sewer tap and connection - 4" tap or less - $200.00, 6" to 8" tap 10" or greater tap both set at cost + 10%.

After an executive session, the council reconvened. Mayor Cascadden opened the meeting to the public. The council voted three to one to accept the resignation of City Manager, Kelly Carta. His duties will cease on December 22, 1995.

Ask The Historical Society

by Jo-Ann E. Palmer, Secretary Sutton County Historical Society

Q. Can you give me any information on an E.R. Hill, who lived in Sonora when the town was first founded?

A. Elbert Regan Hill was born on October 5, 1860. His parents were Pharoah Hill (1825-1901) and Susan Rebecca Middleton Hill who were married on October 9, 1851. E.R. Hill had nine brothers and sisters. We know the names of only six of these, John Reed Hill, George Washington Hill, Sally Hill, Mary Alice Hill, Arminta Hill, and Pharoah "Fad" Hill.

E.R. Hill's father, Pharoah H. Hill served in Company G, 4th Regiment, Arizona Brigade at Brownsville, Texas in the Civil War. We have a copy of a letter he wrote to his wife, Susan, from Camp Hood, Cameron County, Texas, on January 10, 1865, where he tells about the Yankees being about 20 miles from him at a place called Brazos Santiago. He tells how the Yankees "appear not to be very hostile and he don't think they have any notion of coming any closer than they are now." He also tells her "what a glorious thing it would be if we could only have peace again."

E.R. Hill married a woman named Emma and they did live in Sonora. In The Devil's River News of November 8, 1890, we find that Barfield & Hill's wagon yard, next to the Traweek House (note this was on South Main Street) is about ready for business. On December 20, 1890, E.R. Hill has purchased T. C. Barfield's interest in the Hill and Barfield wagon, feed and livery yard. There is an advertisement in the same issue for E.R. Hill, Feed, Wagon & Livery Yard, in connection with Traweek Hotel: Teams properly cared for. Satisfaction given. Sonora, Texas. In the January 3, 1891 issue we find the following: Born on Dec. 26th, 1890 to Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Hill, a 11 pound boy. In the April 11, 1891 issue, P. Hurst and M. Parker bought the wagon yard from E.R. Hill last week and in the April 15, 1891 issue we find mention of E.R. Hill, the ex-livery man returning last week from his trip east.

From deed records at the courthouse we know that E.R. Hill owned two pieces of property in Sonora. One of these properties was the livery stable and the other was residential lot 10, Block W34 which is over near Menard and First Street. E.R. and Emma had a total of nine children but only four of them survived infancy. Two of the infants are buried in Baird, Texas next to the grave of their uncle, John Hill. We know that E.R. Hill had a District Court Subpoena from Callahan County, issued in September 1890, requesting the Sheriff or Constable of Sutton County to locate him and deliver him to them to testify in the trial regarding the murder of his brother. After the 1891 article on his returning from the east, E.R. Hill disappears from the records of Sutton County.

After he left here according to family records, E.R. Hill ran a saloon in Sayre, Oklahoma and then was in Kiowa, Oklahoma.

If anyone has knowledge of the Hill family history, or would like to work with someone who has done extensive research on them, they should contact E.R. Hill at 45126 Vanderbilt Ct., Indio, CA 92201. Mr. Hill spent several days here in Sutton County going through our files and those at the Courthouse Annex. We traveled around town finding the lots his family had owned at one time and took him on a tour of the jail and depot. He asked me to extend his sincere appreciation to all the people in Sonora who were so kind and helpful to him in his search.

If you have any questions concerning Sutton County history send them to "Ask the Historical Society" P.O. Box 885, Sonora, TX 76950-0885 or give us a call at 915-387-5144 or 387-2855 after noon please.

Valliant Effort

by Martha Valliant McLain

Thanksgiving was wonderful with all of the turkey and dressing. We were with Lee Roy and family. It was a terrific Thanksgiving with everyone feeling well, and a giant wishbone for Travis. One of our favorite holidays with my brother's grandchildren was one when we served cornish game hens for Thanksgiving. It was a great success because each child had a wishbone. If your little ones don't like turkey or won't eat it, you might try cooking a little game hen for each child. They really seem to like it.

Christmas decorations are up everywhere except at my house and office. It may be next week before we get with it. We plan to drive to Boerne some evening. All reports indicate that they have spectacular lights that are worth seeing during the holidays.

Bridge last week was with Leona Bishop. Dinner was a chicken and broccoli casserole with a congealed salad, and pumpkin chiffon pie for dessert. Mae Ward was high and Marti McLean won the slam prize. Plans were made for the Christmas celebration in December at Doris Rousselot's home. The club exchanges names for the Christmas party.

Mark Rousselot and children were visiting his parents for part of the holiday. They returned to Houston to finish their Thanksgiving celebration.

Visiting Charlotte, John, and Karen Wilson for Thanksgiving were Jim and Cherrie Wilson with Russell, Shelagh, and Scott Wilson all of Midland and Joe Ray Wilson of San Angelo.

The Davis family, Carol Love's family, spent Thanksgiving with Carol and Tommy Love. They arrived Tuesday and all 24 stayed through Sunday. Carol appears to have survived the holiday. She says it was a great family reunion.

The Ronnie Cox home was the Thanksgiving celebration for their children Joel, Carrie, and David.

The next drawing for 'Ol Sonora Trading Company will be in January, based on shopping that is being done now. The trip plan will be announced later.

Happy birthday to Monte Dillard and Glen Richardson.

Jeannie Morriss

Delta Kappa Gamma met for their Christmas meeting and auction at the home of Pat Russell. The primary school teachers were hostesses. The food was wonderful with 5 kinds of dips and snacks served with spiced hot punch and coffee when the members arrived. Jeannie Morriss spoke to the group and showed how to cleverly wrap and decorate packages. The annual auction was held with all members contributing items for the auction. Proceeds go to the scholarship fund. A yearly scholarship is given to a woman who is planning to teach. Students who are eligible can be in any year of college. Secret pal gifts were exchanged and dinner followed. The feast included casseroles and salads. A decorated cake was presented to Melissa Carroll. The party was well attended with about 30 members present.

Trunk showings at the Image will include Tulishia Wardlaw from Bracketteville who will show jewelry, belts, tapestry coolers, picture frames, and other unique items for Christmas. Tulishia's show will be December 7. On December 14, True West products from Knippa will be shown. Gift items will include tapestry, luggage, wool and mohair products, and other items that will help you find unusual gifts that will be perfect for your Christmas choices.

Christmas fudge will be available in gift tins for the holidays at the Caverns of Sonora. The candy will be made on the premises with very fresh ingredients. It's delicious!

The National Cave Association held its annual convention in Sutton County with around 200 people attending. The visitors represented 12 countries such as China, South Africa, Italy, France, Austria, Sweden, England, Germany, and Barbados. It was a wonderful event that really promoted Sonora. There were not enough motel rooms in Sonora, so visitors stayed in San Angelo and were brought to Sonora by bus. Since Sonora has so many professional rodeo cowboys, a rodeo was held with many rodeo events demonstrated for the visitors. A style show was presented by 'Ol Sonora, and the Sutton County Steakhouse catered the meals. The group toured the cave and were entertained in the evening by Lee Roy Valliant, Patti Stroud, Milton Cavaness, J.C. Surber, Oscar Galindo, and other members of the "Better Than Nothing Band." And they really were much better than nothing; they were really "something." Bill Daken of Eldorado did a Chuck Wagon breakfast for the group. Jerry Diez from San Antonio, a world renowned Charro rider, did a wonderful program with his trained horses. If you have not seen a Charro rider perform his trick riding and roping, you have missed a treat. Boyd Polhamus did an educational activity and explained the events traditionally found in rodeos and their relationship to ranching. Workshops on caves were held during the days with teachers from all over the U.S. participating. Some of the classes concerned lighting for caves, how to prevent damage to caves, how to repair formations, and how to promote caves. Sheep dog demonstrations were presented by Eddie and Les Hale of Ozona, and Monte Jones did Biscuits O'Bryan for the group.

The Chevalier family was exhausted after the convention and collapsed for Thanksgiving. They finally had Thanksgiving dinner around 8 in the evening.

The Mayfield family met at Jerry Ingham's at the ranch for Thanksgiving. Carol and Seco were at their home entertaining out of town guests.

Debbie and Billy Tiffie entertained Debbie's family for Thanksgiving. Her mother and father, Tom and Darlene Leadbetter, from Donna in the South Texas valley were here. Debbie's sister, Deanne Cotton, from California and her grandmother, Leona Cotton, from Paul's Valley, Oklahoma were also here to celebrate.

The Tiffie family has stayed busy this year following Brooke Tiffie to various rodeo events. This is Brooke's first year in professional rodeo, but she still is participating in the high school competition. She recently placed 3rd in the 2nd go-round of the PRCA rodeo in Kansas City, MO, and 7th in the average. This gave her a win of around $1800. This and her other wins put her in contention for Rookie of the Year for the PRCA. In Region II of the Texas High School Rodeo Association, she is 2nd in barrels, first in cutting and 2nd in the girl's all-around competition. The next competition will be in March in Sonora. Brooke is a senior in Sonora High School. Sounds like she is off to a great career in rodeo.

Lura Sawyer has adopted a wonder dog from the pound in Sonora, and she is a marvelous pet. If you are thinking of giving a live animal for Christmas, please check with the places that handle homeless animals. You would find that many special pets have been "thrown away" and need good homes.

With this wonderful cold weather, it is beginning to feel like Christmas. Let me hear about your parties, visitors, and vacation plans.

Hospital District Applies for Credit

The regular meeting of the Sutton County Hospital District was held November 13. The 1995 tax roll was certified. No report was given from the Appraisal District due to the meeting being held the following day.

The board approved the establishment of a credit line of $75,000 with Sutton County National Bank. According to the minutes, it was the consensus of the board that these funds are not needed at this point but are in place if a need arises.

The Texas Department of Health Services team surveyed the nursing home for recertification during the period of October 24-26. Deficiencies were cited in the areas of health care and mostly in environmental areas. The plan of correction was due by November 16 with the deficiencies to be corrected no later than December 10, 1995.

The board approved the write-off of bad debts in the amount of $7,205.50. The hospital showed a loss of $10,036.77 and the nursing home showed a loss of $8,469.56. Mr. Goodrich advised that the office has done a good job on the collections and that for the month of October the collections had totalled $96,300. He applauded the staff for keeping expenditures down by approximately $10,000 for October.

Mrs. Brigitte Rogers advised that the Christmas/birthday party will be December 14 for the nursing home residents. A reception for Dr. and Mrs. Gutierrez and Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich will be December 4.

JV Broncos Beat Punchers

by Tryon Fields

The Junior Varsity Boys have done just as well as the Bronco Varsity; but they have done it a little more convincingly. In three games, the Junior Varsity has averaged 75 points per game and has only allowed 26 points.

On Monday, the JV traveled to Mason and came away a big winner by the score of 76 to 22. Five of the eight players gained double figures: Sesar Lomas lead all scorers with 18 points, 8 steals, and 5 assists; Mayer Anderson pumped in 15 points and helped control the boards with 8 rebounds; Kris Wood added 13 points and 7 rebounds; John Brown had 12 points; and Drew Dempsey had his first double-double with 10 points and 12 rebounds. Fernie Emiliano rounded out the scoring with 8 points and helped control the offense with 5 assists.

On Tuesday, the Bronco JV also traveled to Water Valley and their size and depth was just too much for the Wildcat JV to contend with as Sonora controlled the boards and the game with a score of 77 to 29. The JV scoring was spread among all ten players. Kris Wood led the Bronco JV with 17 points, 7 rebounds, 5 steals, and 2 blocked shots. Brad Legan led the defense with 9 rebounds, 5 steals, and 13 points of offense. Sesar Lomas added 11 points with 3 steals and 3 assists. The Broncos showed that it could not only hit from the 2 point range but if left unguarded, could hit from long range as well. Three pointers were drained by Tanner Fields, John Brown, Fernie Emiliano, Mayer Anderson, and Sesar Lomas. Of the 3 games played, this was probably one of the best rounded games since the JV was able to get it done at both ends of the court and apply pressure when needed.

The Junior Varsity played their first home game against Iraan Tuesday and will compete in the Ft. Stockton Tournament this weekend.

Cashmere Show and Sale

submitted
When is a meat goat more than a meat goat? When it also produces cashmere says the Texas Cashmere Association in announcing its Sixth Annual Show and Sale on December 8-9, 1995. An objective of the Association is to develop a dual purpose cashmere/meat goat breed. Cashmere results in added value if harvested and according to some outstanding Spanish goats producers, animals bearing cashmere performs better than those that do not.

The event will be held at the Brown County Association Barn, HWY 377 South, Brownwood, Texas. The judge will be Bronwyn Schuetz of Longmont, Colorado, who is one of the most renowned judges in the nation.

A Show for Sale involving animals to be considered for sale will begin at 1:00 p.m.

Friday, December 8. Only the superior goats selected by the judge based on 50% meat characteristics and 50% cashmere characteristics will be offered for sale. The sale will begin at 3:00 p.m. Saturday December 9. The sale will be preceded by a Show for Show beginning at 8:00 a.m. December 9.

The event's Co-Chairmen, A.J. Pepper of Brownwood and Joe B. Tipton of Menard expect more than a hundred entries from the top herds in Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming. They stated that this is the only Cashmere/Meat goat sale in the U.S. and it is a great opportunity for producers to obtain prime animals for genetic upgrading for meat and cashmere. For further information contact: Texas Cashmere Association PO Box 128, Menard, TX. 76859 Telephone (915) 396-2920.

Recipes for Chilly Nights

submitted
Half a million Texas consumers will discover how beef can warm their winter nights through a special beef promotion by the Texas Beef Council (TBC) that started Nov. 6 in 1,620 Texas supermarkets.

TBC's promotion, titled "Recipes for Chilly Nights," features recipe center displays that offer beef serving ideas to consumers who may not have come to the supermarket specifically for beef.

"TBC and Beef Industry Council research indicates beef recipe center displays increase impulse beef purchases by 20 percent among recipe takers," says Robin Murphy, TBC retail manager. In addition, almost 70 percent of shoppers taking beef recipes expect to cook one within two weeks, Murphy added.

Consumers are drawn to the recipe center in participating meat departments by a four-color photo that invites shoppers to take advantage of new and easy beef meal ideas. Within the recipe center are one-page printed pieces that feature recipes and color pictures of three beef-stuffed squashes, soup, stew, and chili. The recipes were created to appeal to consumers looking for one-dish meals during cold weather months. The 1,620 recipe centers in Texas supermarkets win hold 500,000 recipe pages.

The centers, which will be displayed until mid-December, will lead into a Christmas beef promotion that will take place until the end of the year. In this promotion, consumers may request a free Beef Holiday Recipe Kit by calling 1-800-284-BEEF. The kit includes roasting instructions and 25 festive beef recipes.

Proposed Rules Could Rein in Horse Infection

submitted
For supervising inspector John Bryan of the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC), this workday is emotionally draining. He's traveled to a nearby ranch, to explain the regulations and procedures for handling a horse infected with Equine Infectious Anemia (EIA). Afterward, John chills a branding iron in dry ice, then disinfects and shaves a small square area on the horse's left shoulder. He pushes the icy brand hard against its skin. Then pulls away, and an indelible "74A" appears. Another day ... another horse infected with EIA, known as "swamp fever" or "Coggins."

Last fiscal year, John Bryan and other TAHC animal health inspectors identified 442 EIA-infected horses to alert producers or potential buyers to the animals' condition. Most of the cases are in far northeast Texas and along the coast in southeast Texas. The horses that are positive on EIA blood tests aren't allowed to compete in shows or participate in trail rides and events.

EIA-infected horses are quarantined to their premise and branded with Texas' livestock code number "74A." Until the infected horses are removed, all other equine on the premise also are restricted. The list of approved options for handling infected animals is short: they can be put to sleep (euthanized), sold for slaughter, or sent to a research facility. After the infected animals are removed or euthanized, the remaining equine, which are considered to be exposed to the disease, must be held another 60 days and tested negative before being released.

EIA drops on a neighborhood like a web. The TAHC requires testing of equine exposed to infection because they share a premise or are in contact with an infected horse. Horses on neighboring pastures also must have blood samples drawn for laboratory testing. If the infected horse participated recently in shows or fairs, a TAHC epidemiologist may recommend locating and testing the other entrants.

No vaccine--and no cure exists for this cruel, contagious disease that strikes horses and other equine, such as mules, donkeys, and zebras. Some EIA-infected animals develop the obvious symptoms of fever, swelling around the legs and chest, depression, and weight loss. Acutely infected equine may die suddenly. More frustrating for owners are the "unapparent carriers," infected animals that look and act perfectly healthy, although they test positive on the "Coggins," and CELISA blood tests. These equine pose the greatest risk for spreading infection, because no one suspects a problem, unless they look at test results.

The EIA virus is spread through blood-to-blood contact between "clean" equine and infected horses that are "viremic," meaning the virus is circulating in their blood stream. Biting flies are a major culprit, since they can carry the blood and virus on their mouth parts from one horse to another. The virus can also be on blood contaminated needles, syringes, and other medical instruments. Spraying for flies, disinfecting or sterilizing equipment, and avoiding contact with infected equine are important management tools for preventing infection.

For years, regulations for controlling EIA have been controversial, because there are no national guidelines for states to measure against. Several new rules to enhance Texas' program are under consideration by commissioners of the TAHC, the state's livestock health agency. The commissioners welcome public comments prior to voting on the rules at their spring 1996 meeting.

Proposals include:
*establishing a definition for horse herds, and herds at "high risk" for infection even if they are not located on the same premise or adjacent to an infected equine.

*requiring equine to have had a negative EIA test within the past 12 months if they undergo a change-of-ownership, or enter a show, fair or exhibition. Events would include interstate (involving out-of-state entrants) as well as intrastate (in-state) shows. The EIA test record would be acceptable proof of testing. At public auctions, an accredited veterinarian could draw blood samples for the test, but until test results were available, animals would remain in Texas under quarantine.

*requiring equine dealers to keep records for two years on animals bought and sold. Records would assist TAHC inspectors when they trace exposed or infected equine. Cattle and swine dealers operate under similar rules.

TAHC regulations currently require an EIA test for equine going to an interstate show (involving out-of-state entries), only if any equine are to remain on the grounds longer than 48 hours. No change-of-ownership tests are required, and there are no rules for maintaining dealer records. Both current and proposed regulations require Texas horses entering a parimutuel race track to have had an EIA test within the past 12 months, and a certificate of veterinary inspection issued within the past 45 days. Unweaned foals from test-negative dams are exempt from testing requirements.

Other proposals involve:
*requiring infected equine to move directly to a slaughter plant, to a diagnostic or research facility, or to a market on a day when only slaughter animals are sold. (Before leaving their premise, infected equine must have a permit issued by the TAHC or USDA. This rule is intended to keep EIA-infected equine away from livestock markets, where they may pose a threat to healthy equine.)

*allowing exposed equine to be identified with the "74A" then to be sold to slaughter through a livestock market, provided they are isolated in quarantine from other horses.

Presently, both infected and exposed equine may move under permit to a livestock market to be sold for slaughter.

To submit comments, or to request an EIA brochure or agenda for the public meeting when proposals will be addressed, write "EIA Regulations," Texas Animal Health Commission, Box 12966, Austin, Texas 78711. Comments will be shared with the 12 governor-appointed commissioners.

Trey Russo of College Station, Texas, bagged this 13 pt. buck on Tony Renfro's ranch west of Sonora. This buck dressed 120 lbs. and according to Mary Humphery, scored 155 3/8 non-typical (Boone and Crockett) for the Texas Big Game Awards.
