Small Business Development Center & FNB offer Internet seminar

San Angelo, Tx. "Using the Internet for Fun and Profit" is the topic of a seminar to be held on July 18, 1997, sponsored by the Angelo State University Small Business Development Center (SBDC) and the First National Bank of Sonora.

This seminar will be presented by Patti Warrington, director of the SBDC. The seminar will be held from noon until 2:00 p.m. in the First National Bank Annex Building and lunch will be provided by the First National Bank.

What is the Internet all about? Does it have any meaning for me personally or for my business? These are just a couple of the most frequently asked questions regarding the Internet. Cyberspace, a term that is synonymous with the Internet, need not be intimidating. In fact, once you have experienced "surfing the net," you will probably be hooked!

The program will provide an overview of the most common issues regarding both personal and business use of the Internet. Topics covered include:

* What is the Internet and why should I get on the Net now?

* What is the Web? E-mail? News groups?

* Do I need a Web site for my business?

* What do I need to get started?

* Internet Terminology
There is no charge for the seminar. To make a reservation, contact the bank at 915/387-3861 or the SBDC at 915/942-2098. To obtain more information, contact Paula Dowler at the SBDC.

Come join us for lunch and this educational program on the internet!

Gallery features western artists

By Stephanie Campbell

"Ministry - rodeo - artwork, when it works right, it's a lot of fun," says the talented Jeff Young.

Jeff is a partner and operator of Western Connection, located between OI' Sonora and Crazy Horse on Highway 277 in Sonora.

Young, born in Huntsville, Texas, grew up in North Houston and was exposed to football and baseball in his younger years. His dream to play college baseball faded with the onset of a siatic nerve challenge. But in '87 he attended a college rodeo and that was when he became interested in bronc riding.

Jeff, a graduate of Sam Houston State University, received his Bachelor of Arts in Fine Arts in '94. After receiving his teaching certificate from Stephen F. Austin State University, he taught art to 6th graders in Carthage, Texas, for two years. Last school year he taught in the Willis, Texas, school district.

Jeff has traveled from Oklahoma to Canada every summer since 1990 ministering to American Indians on reservations. "Most reservations are like the inner city. There's a breakdown in society; (they're) kind of hopeless people." He ministers on the reservations in a cowboy church type service giving them hope.

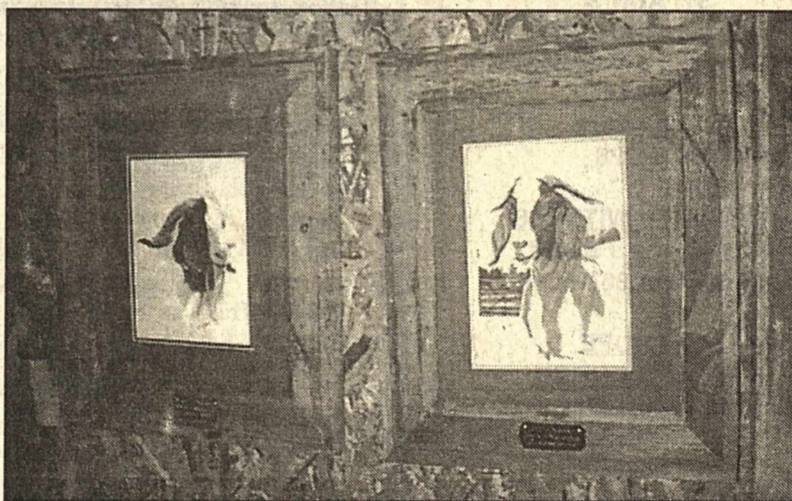

Jeff Young is the partner/operator of Western Connection in Sonora.

He met Terry and Lesa Wireman, owners of Crazy Horse, in March at Christian Cowboys and Friends in Tomball. "My original plan was to come up for the summer and use the studio to get my artwork done."

Now it has turned into a showroom for his work and partner, Pat O'Banion. "He will supply rustic furniture and frames." O'Banion is a PRCA bareback rider and owns Wooden West in Huntsville.

Jeff's art is of a Native American flavor, but he also specializes in portraits, "horses, cattle, sheep, goats, dogs, etc. and people too!"

Stop by, meet Jeff, and welcome him to Sonora.

Young's portraits, like the ones above, are displayed in the newly opened showroom, Western Connection.

Native Pasture Certification

Sutton County Farm Service Agency Committee Chairperson, Nancy Davis reminds ranchers that they can certify their pasture.

"Ranchers now have the opportunity to certify their pasture lands in much the same way farmers have been certifying their crops for years," says Davis.

"We encourage the ranchers to call the Sutton County FSA Office to set up an appointment between now and July 15th. It may not seem important right now, but if we remember how bad our land looked at this time last year, we are reminded that conditions can change very quickly," COC Chairperson Nancy Davis reminded us.

Davis went on to explain that certifying your native pasture at the Sutton County FSA Office will not take a lot of your time and may well be worth the time it takes if Sutton County should suffer another natural disaster.

Nancy explained, "Native pasture is a non-insurable crop, and that is what this certification is all about, the Non-Insured Assistance Program. It is a safety net for producers of non-insurable crops to protect them from catastrophic losses which may occur as a result of a natural disaster."

WTU Strategic Planning Workshop

Representatives from West Texas Utilities Company will be in Sonora on August 25th and 26th to present a workshop on Community Strategic Planning.

The program will be held at the 4-H Center and everyone in the community is invited to attend. The program begins at 6:30 p.m. each evening and will last until about 9:30 p.m.

This workshop is sponsored by the Community Development Committee which is part of the Sutton County Extension Program Council. The Committee supports and promotes economic and social development in Sutton County.

If you are interested in finding ways to make Sutton County more prosperous and prepared for the future then plan to attend this important workshop.

Bronco Booster Club to Host Golf Tournament

The Sonora Bronco Booster Club will be hosting the "Bronco Breaking Out" golf tournament on Saturday, August 2, at the Sonora Golf Club.

This will be a four person scramble with an entry fee of $25.00 per person. Registration will be from 6:45 a.m. until 7:30 a.m., and we will have a shotgun start at 8:00 a.m. Since we have several new coaches in our school system this year, we will try to place a coach on each team so that we may all get to know one another better.

All proceeds from the tournament will be used to purchase new training equipment. Our current equipment is antiquated and really needs to be updated so that our athletes may receive the best of care when they are injured.

Also, a good portion of the money we make this year will be used to ensure that our athletes are fed well on the road. Whereas the Bronco Booster Club has focused mainly on providing spirit and support, we now are challenged in supplementing the budget. We implore everyone to get involved, join the Booster Club, come to our meetings, and be a part of this very important mission.

If you do not have an athlete, please do not feel that you cannot be a member, and if you do have an athlete, we need your support, your ideas, your help, and your presence.

We will be having a membership drive in conjunction with the tournament. Memberships are $7.50 per person, and 100% of your money is used to support our athletes. So come on out to the golf course on the second of August, have a great time, get to know our coaches, and support our Broncos!!!

For more information on the golf tournament or memberships, please contact Tony Renfro at 387-3192, Scott Jacoby at 387-5258, Ernie Mayer at 387-3259, and Wayne Legan at 387-5032.

Just a reminder

There has recently been a number of out-of-town solicitors for Bronco promotional items such as clappers, stadium cushions, etc. calling local businesses and citizens in Sonora.

Before placing an order with one of these companies, check with the local Bronco Club. Our local organization conducts fundraisers to benefit Sonora's athletes. Proceeds to these other organizations may not necessarily benefit our athletes.

Q Why did Humpy Jackson get away with killing the Negro soldier?

A At the start of the Jackson story told you to remember the setting of the story. Jackson was from the deep south as were many of his neighbors. They hated most of the men in Yankee uniforms, especially the Negro soldier. The southern men had owned slaves at one time and did not talk kindly to having them in the military and over them during martial law. Mr. Jackson regarded a love note to his daughter from a Negro the deepest of insults.

Most of Mr. Jackson's neighbors had tried to help him elude the soldiers and many of them had spent time in custody of the troops for their actions. The Jackson name had been burned to the ground and they lost all their possessions in the fire. Mrs. Jackson and the children were locked in jail in the hope Humpy Jackson would surrender to get them free.

I think that when the jury sat in this case there were a great deal of hard feelings against the Yankee soldiers. During the hunt for Humpy Jackson many of their friends had been killed, wounded, and incarcerated. They seemed to feel that being away from his family for so long, hiding out for years, losing his home and out buildings and the cruelty to his family and friends justified their verdict.

Q What would have happened if this incident had happened in current times?

A The Civil War has been over for a long time but it still seems to linger on in the minds and hearts of some men and women.

With current gun laws we could hope that Mr. Jackson would not go off with gun in hand after Lanky Jim. If he stayed calm he could very easily go to court and obtain an order keeping the soldier from talking to, writing to, or going anywhere near his daughter.

In current times, with modern vehicles, cars, trucks, aerial surveillance, tracking dogs, etc. Mr. Jackson would have been apprehended pretty quickly. There would have been none of the deaths of locals that had tried to hide him. Our laws now would have forbidden the soldiers from burning his home down and locking up his family. I am afraid that unless Mr. Jackson had a very, very good attorney who could prove he was temporarily insane or some mitigating circumstances, Mr. Jackson would have spent some time in jail for his crime.

I realize an adult should not be writing love letters to a 14 year old; that alone would make a man upset. But I still think that cooler heads could have prevailed.

You have to remember that Mr. Jackson did not shoot Lanky Jim, the man who wrote the letter but another Negro soldier, Pvt. Boston Henry, who had nothing to do with the incident.

We have courts of law to handle disputes and administer justice. When you circumvent the legal system to correct a problem, you are no better than the person who caused the problem.

To the people who have called me wanting to know if they are related to Humpy Jackson, I suggest you get your parents' birth certificates, their parents' birth certificates, and their parents' birth certificates. Also check census records for Menard County, death certificates, obituaries, death certificates and other papers you will find on file in local courthouses and records in Arkansas. See if Humpy Jackson left a will and you might obtain information from it.

In the stories in the Free State of Menard and Frontier Times Magazine we found that Mr. Jackson had been married several times and had children from both marriages. There was quite an age difference between the children in both families. Mr. Jackson died around 1887 according to page 120 in the Free

State of Menard. "Somebody brought him into the saloon and left him on the floor behind the stove. When they went to pick him up and carry him to a bed in a back room they found him dead. He had died from heart failure."

Pioneer Adventures states that Humpy Jackson had several children: Henrietta who married Joe Harkey; Narcissus; a grown son James; Rose Ann who married Gilford Chapman; Sarah who married Henry Merrell; Susan who married Tom Murray; Josie who married a man named Nichols; Dave who married an Estep girl, and Jon Jr.

I am unable to do research out of the county anymore. Even in Sutton County I have difficulty because of the lack of handicap accessibility.

If you have any questions concerning Sutton County history, send them to Ask the Historical Society, P.O. Box 885, Sonora, Tx 76950-0885 or give me a call at home afternoons or evenings at 387-2855.

Water safety measures from the Baylor College of Medicine

Children and water can be a deadly summer combination.

"It's a sad fact that thousands of children drown annually, and 80-95 percent of these deaths occur between Memorial Day and Labor Day," said Dr. Joan Shook, a pediatric emergency-room physician at Houston's Baylor College of Medicine and Texas Children's Hospital.

"That means that during the summer months it is imperative that mixing children and water not become a tragedy."

Almost 100 percent of child drownings are preventable.

The single most important preventive measure, Shook said, is having an adult designated to watch children who are in the water. Especially in social settings.

"At least one adult must be given the specific duty of actively watching the kids. That means," she said, "that the designated adult will have to forego social chit-chat or anything else that is a distraction."

Also important: making sure all children in the water can swim. But do not assume that the ability to swim is enough she said.

"A toddler simply does not have the judgment needed to react properly if he or she gets into trouble in the water."

* A child who becomes tired or chilled should be removed from the water immediately.

* Never rely on blow-up toys or other inflatable devices to prevent a drowning.

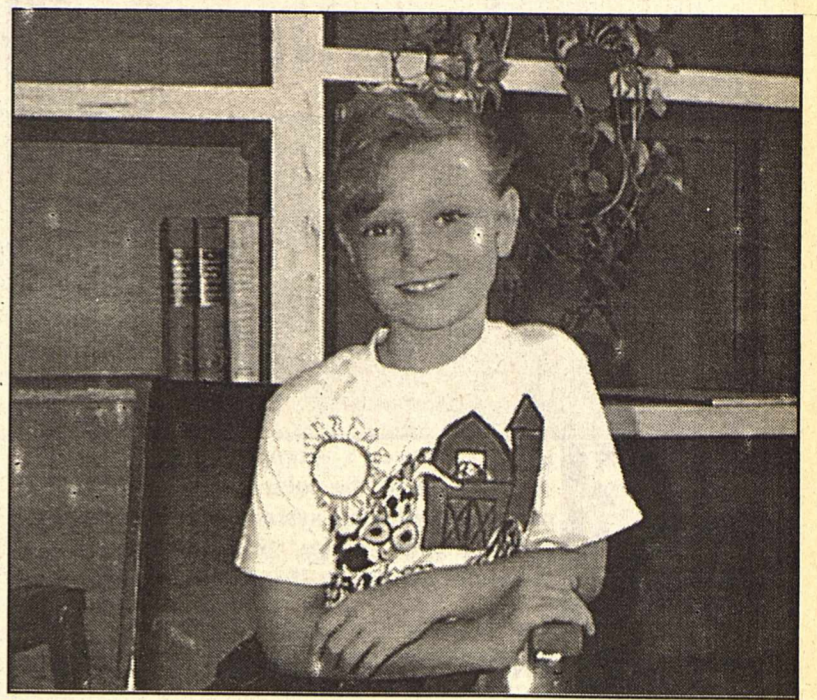

* Keep toys such as tricycles away from the pool. They can distract a child or cause a child to fall into the water.

* Never leave a child alone around any sort of standing water. This includes buckets, tubs, and toilets. Under no circumstances should a child be left alone, even briefly, in a bathtub.

* Learn cardiopulmonary resuscitation. Survival rates for submersion victims rise significantly when CPR is started immediately.

* Be sure pools have fences at least five feet high and have self-closing, self-latching gates.

"It's always tragic when a child dies," Shook says, "but it is even more tragic when that death was entirely preventable."

All-Girl Rodeo Princess Contest

Jena Rae Teasley, age 8, is competing for the All-Girl Rodeo Princess Contest on August 8 and 9 in San Angelo. The judging criteria is horsemanship, personality, and All-Girl Rodeo Promotion. Jena will also compete in the 8th Annual All-Girl Rodeo Events including Barrels, Poles, Flags, Goat Ribbon Pull, and Breakaway.

When asked by her mother if she wanted to win the princess contest or the rodeo competitions, she beamed, "The princess contest." When her mother informed her what the princess wins and that the winner of the rodeo events gets a saddle, she posed the question again. Jena's answer with a smile and confidence, "The princess contest."

Nursing home lifestyle affected by aging process

Submitted by Dr. Fred Cullens

The resident who is totally blind requires special care and understanding. The training of the nursing home staff is critical to these residents.

When the resident has the support of a carefully trained nursing home staff, living in a nursing home can be a positive and quality experience.

It is common knowledge to anyone working with the elderly that aging has a definite impact on the eyesight. There are normal changes that affect the muscles and reactions of the eyes. The nursing home can greatly enrich the lifestyle of the resident by being aware of some simple "facts" concerning these changes. They may include, but not be limited to:

1. The older person may require a brighter light for reading or handwork. Normally, the size of the pupil decreases, letting in less light as one ages. Nursing homes should be bright with excellent lighting. state law has now mandated a minimum level of lighting.

2. The older person may require that shades be drawn and reflective surfaces like polished floors and counter tops be dulled. It is a fact that the lens of the eye become more opaque and GLARE causes discomfort. This is perhaps the most violated principle as we somehow believe that clean floors must be highly polished with a pronounced shine like glass. Many nursing home floors shine like polished glass. This is attractive but can be dangerous and add to the incidents of falls as the resident is affected by the discomforting glare..add to this the practice of using the color white and you have a glaring environment.

3. The older person may miss things going on to either side. For instance, he or she may see a friend, or staff member, standing straight ahead, but miss one standing to the side because the peripheral or side vision decreases. It helps to approach the resident directly and not from the side. They will see you easier and not be startled.

4. The older person may miss things you see because color discrimination decreases. Color allows one to see the delineating edges of objects. For instance, a white soup bowl on a white floor may be difficult to see. Blues tend to become grey. The understanding of the reaction of the aging eye to colors is vital to a quality lifestyle in a nursing facility.

5. The older person will have difficulty seeing at night long before noticing difficulty during the day. The eye adapts more slowly to the dark and night vision is decreased. Depth perception also may diminish. Special attention must be given to the use of proper lighting during the evening and night hours.

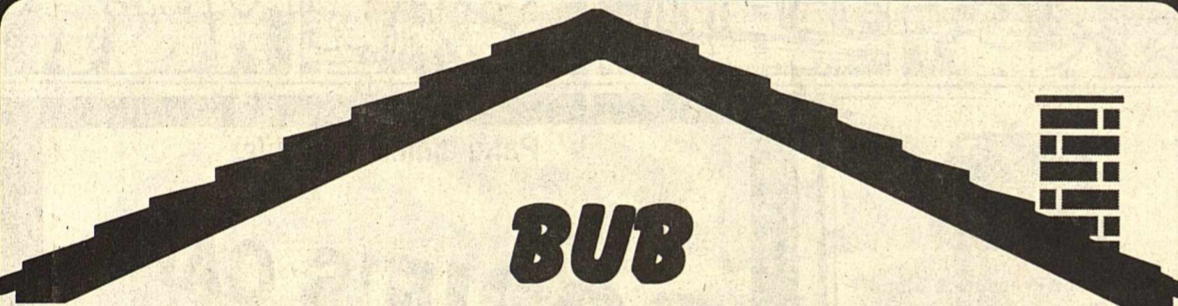

Residents living in nursing homes have a greater opportunity of enriching their lifestyle in spite of the effects of aging. The nursing home of the 90's is more attuned to the needs of the elderly. State laws have been updated to reflect a modern approach to the needs of the nursing home resident. The person facing the decision of nursing home placement can freely ask questions and determine that his/her special needs will be met.

The aging process cannot be stopped...but the damage it can produce to lifestyle can be controlled.

Robert Mayer, Arroyo Grande Ranch, stands next to the solar panels of his solar powered watering system. The panels harness the sun's energy, producing electricity to run an off the shelf submersible pump.

Will sun power replace wind power?

When high winds destroyed a windmill at a remote location on the Arroyo Grande Ranch (AG), the Mayers first considered abandoning the well, yet they needed water at this particular location of the ranch. They decided to check out different alternatives to provide water for livestock including solar power. Robert and Ralph contacted Ronnie Sauer, Southwest Texas Electric Co-op in Eldorado. Sauer installed the solar panel energy system on the Arroyo Grande ranch during the month of June '97. The Arroyo Grande Ranch became the second place in the U.S. to install a special type of solar panel power system to run a submersible water pump.

Robert Mayer said, "We considered replacing the tower and airmotor, but the cost ranged between $12-20,000. Another solution to be considered was the submersible pump, however the installation of an electric line would cost about the same as the windmill replacement."

The first of these unique solar panel systems was installed one month previous of Arroyo Grande, at the old Juno Ranch Company, South of Sonora, currently operated by Archie Crenwelge. Crenwelge's solar power system replaced a #16 airmotor with the submersible pump set at 265 ft. The destroyed windmill that Mayer replaced was over an existing well drilled in 1925 to 210 (ft) and the submersible pump was set at 115 (ft).

Ronnie Sauer stated several unique aspects of the solar panel system installed on these ranches. One, its ability to use off the shelf 220 volt AC submersible pumps, not a special DC voltage pump; and two, the system is equipped with a universal solar pump controller which by varying the frequency of the 220 volts, varies the speed of the pump. This frequency variation enables the pump to run slow during startup and morning and evening hours of the day. The system is capable of pumping a maximum of 2 gallons a minute or 2500 gallons a day during the sunny days of August. "There are also versions of this solar panel system that will provide enough power to run a 3/4 hp or 1.5 hp pump," said Sauer.

Both ranchers seemed pleased with the water production provided by this system and hope their innovative choice will pay off in the long haul.

Native Pasture Certification

Sutton County Farm Service Agency Committee Chairperson, Nancy Davis reminds ranchers that they can certify their pasture. "Ranchers now have the opportunity to certify their pasture lands in much the same way farmers have been certifying their crops for years" says Davis. "We encourage the ranchers to call the Sutton County FSA Office to set up an appointment between now and July 15th," Davis continued. "It may not seem important right now, but if we remember how bad our land looked at this time last year, we are reminded that conditions can change very quickly," COC Chairperson Nancy Davis reminded us. Davis went on to explain that certifying your native pasture at the Sutton County FSA Office will not take a lot of your time and may well be worth the time it takes if Sutton County should suffer another natural disaster.

Nancy explained, "Native pasture is a non-insurable crop, and that is what this certification is all about, the Non-Insured Assistance Program. It is a safety net for producers of non-insurable crops to protect them from catastrophic losses which may occur as a result of a natural disaster."

Private Applicator Licensing School

by: Preston R. Faris, CEA-Ag

Mr. Sonny Dickerson, CEA-Ag, for Edwards County in Rocksprings has notified me that he will be conducting a private applicator training session on Friday, July 11, 1997 at the Ag. Barn located at the Rocksprings High School. The session will begin promptly at 9:00 a.m. and TDA personnel will be on hand to administer the required test immediately after lunch. This is not a class to receive continuing education units. It will be useful only to those who have no license at all or those who wish to update from the old private applicator certificate to a license. The license will allow holders to supervise the application and use of restricted use chemicals and not be required to actually apply the product themselves. If anyone has questions you may call Mr. Dickerson at (210) 683-4310 or contact the local county extension office.

Homeowners are reminded to contact the county extension office if they suspect that they might have any imported fire ants. It will be very helpful to our efforts to control this pest. The number is 387-3101.

Clay Cade won his 15th saddle at the Stamford Rodeo.

Cade wins saddle at Stamford Rodeo

Well the hoopla and the excitement of the 4th of July may be over for some, but not for Clay Cade who won a magnificent saddle.

Clay roped at the famous Stamford Rodeo in Stamford, Texas, over the 4th and successfully roped two breakaway calves in a swift 7.0 total time.

Clay belongs to the Senior Pro Rodeo Association. The most exciting year was 1981 when he won 14 saddles, but this 15th saddle had a special sentimental attachment to it. When asked about that sentiment, Clay responds that he has fond memories of his childhood when his dad would take him to that rodeo. Clay began roping at the age of 10.

Yes, the 4th may be gone for this year, but not the saddle or the excitement of winning it for Clay.

Ranch Estate Planning Seminar Set

"A properly drawn estate plan may save many ranch families over $200,000 in estate taxes." This statement made by Wayne A. Hayenga, Texas Extension Economist and Attorney, assumes a lot of information: a married couple who "like each other" and want to care for each other, who have a ranch worth $1 million or more, and want to pass it on to their children.

This is an eye opening fact for many ranchers. In fact, many people only worry about estate planning if they hear of a friend's "problem" in selling a ranch to pay estate taxes. "But," Hayenga continued, "for many families the estate tax savings are not as large as income tax savings if they have a properly prepared estate plan."

A two-day seminar talking about these complicated tax topics will be held at College Station on August 10 and 11 at Texas A&M University in conjunction with the Annual Beef Cattle Shortcourse.

The seminar is structured to help ranchers learn how to lower their tax burden and ease administrative burdens that affect passing their estates to their loved ones. In addition to discussing estate planning systems, tax savings possibilities will be discussed using corporations, partnerships, and trusts when family members are involved in the business.

Making gifts to avoid estate taxes will be discussed also. "There are three problems with making gifts—the first is dying poor; the second is the adverse income tax consequences the gift can cause the recipient; the third is when somebody other than your intended beneficiary ultimately gets the gifted property.

Two problems that affect family operations—planning for inflation and growth needs of the business will be discussed. Another topic, how to be fair among all children when one child is interested in the ranch and others are not, will be addressed.

The speaker, Wayne A. Hayenga, is a Professor and Extension Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. An agricultural economist and attorney, Dr. Hayenga works extensively with farmers, ranchers, and family-owned firms in financial, business, and estate tax planning. He is a member of the Texas and American Bar Associations and the American Agricultural Law Association. He is active in the Agricultural Law Committee of the State Bar of Texas.

Dr. Hayenga is an excellent communicator. He delivers a top-notch educational program, emphasizing key points with an entertaining style, illustrating estate and income tax law provisions with practical examples that make learning a pleasure. His teaching makes full use of his broad background and practical experience as a farmer, lender, and lawyer.

The registration fee is $60.00 and registration information is available from Wayne A. Hayenga or Christine Eubank, Agricultural Economics Department, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas. Phone: (409)845-2226.

Local Turf Student Attends Seminar

A group of more than 30 top graduating turf students from colleges and universities throughout the U.S., Canada, Australia, and New Zealand attended Jacobsen's Future Tuft Managers Seminar, May 18-22. Among them was Sam Taylor, a senior from Texas A&M University. More than 900 students have attended the seminar since it began in 1968.

"This is our way of giving something back to the industry," said Jacobsen president Phil Trailies. "We call on our many friends who are experts in the field to help make it possible."

The three-day event included presentations and panel discussions dealing with current and future issues of importance to golf course superintendents. Attendees toured Racine's Meadowbrook Country Club with superintendent Ric Lange, CGCS, and Racine Country Club with superintendent Mike Handrich, CGCS. Scott Bartosh of Kenosha Country Club joined the group, and all three superintendents answered questioning about their respective courses. The students also toured Jacobsen's manufacturing facility in Racine and had the opportunity to operate Jacobsen equipment.

GCSAA president Paul

McGinnis, CGCS, and superintendent at Moon Valley Country Club in Phoenix, Arizona, delivered the keynote address on the final evening. McGinnis was himself a student at the Jacobsen seminar some 26 years earlier.

The seminar was more, though, than all work and no play. Attendees enjoyed a trolley tour of Racine, improv comedy with Comedy Sportz, and Superintendents Bowl '97, a quiz show designed to test what everyone had learned.

For more information, please contact David Kronwill at Jacobsen Division of Textron Inc. telephone 414/635-1249.

Louis Armstrong

What a wonderful world. Louis Armstrong certainly thought the world was a wonderful place, and he said so in a very famous song.

Louis Armstrong was born in New Orleans on July 4, 1900. He is famous for his skill playing the trumpet and the cornet (a horn similar to the trumpet). Armstrong began playing music at the age of 13. When he was 22, he moved to Chicago, where he began to play a kind of music called jazz. Armstrong played on several records. He was one of the first black recording artists ever, and his records were very popular.

In 1925, Armstrong began his own band and recorded more jazz music. Jazz was popular all over the country, and in Chicago, where Armstrong lived, there were many jazz musicians. Armstrong traveled to Europe, and he appeared on radio, in films and on television. Eventually, he became very famous. Armstrong performed jazz until his death in 1971.

Little-known 'vitamin' makes love grand

McKinney, TX—Little did Dr. Philip Handler know, back in 1941, that his newly discovered nutrient "Vitamin 15" would one day have men and women all over the country smiling quietly to themselves.

Today, N,N-Dimethylglycine (DMG) is no longer classified as a vitamin. But it has changed the lives of thousands of men and their mates.

A naturally occurring nutrient sold under the brand name NutriSurge (but more often called simply "The Love Pill"), DMG works by increasing energy, improving metabolism, enhancing oxygen utilization and increasing the flow of blood to key areas of the anatomy.

NutriSurge has a cumulative effect: the more you take it, the better it works. Most users take two, but up to six tablets may be taken daily. Satisfaction is guaranteed.

See for yourself why thousands swear by NutriSurge. Send $29.95 plus $4.95 postage & handling for a 60-tablet supply to TDM Research, Dept. NSC31, 123 South St, Oyster Bay NY 11771. Or call toll free 1-800-645-9199 and ask for Operator C31. Use the whole supply; then, if you are not completely satisfied, return the box for a full refund.

HOROSCOPES

For The Week Of July 13-19

ARIES

March 21-April 20

You have a tough job to do, but you are up to the task. You may be feeling down, but time spent with a friend will perk up your spirits. Pay attention to minor details for the best results. Other people may demand attention—know how much you can give.

TAURUS

April 21-May 21

You may need to compromise in order to achieve your goal. Giving in a little could spare you a lot of problems in the future. You're on the right road for success, just stick with it and remember to play by the rules. Take time for romance or friendship.

GEMINI

May 22-June 21

You'll get farther and accomplish more working as part of a team. Start setting goals and set them high—you'll be able to accomplish them. Others want something from you, but you are forced to figure out what. A friend rallies to your side when it's needed most.

CANCER

June 22-July 22

You may feel rushed, but don't take on problems that aren't yours. Let the guilty party clean up their own mess for once. Don't go beyond what you know can be done. Long-range plans could be unclear, but things will improve. Take time to visit a friend.

LEO

July 23-August 23

Let people know where you stand concerning a delicate situation, but don't be overbearing or pushy. Telling the whole truth will put you in a positive light. Afterwards, go out with a group of friends or a special someone. You also could be traveling soon for pleasure and profit.

VIRGO

August 24-September 22

Now is the time to step back and plan things out. Doing the groundwork now makes things easier later. You will be tempted, so self-discipline is important. Delegate tasks and target what's really important to you. Hold back and let others make the first move.

LIBRA

September 23-October 23

You're in a mood for action and results. Refuse to get sidetracked by people who don't share your enthusiasm. It would be easy to put on blinders, so strive to see the larger picture. Those on the sidelines are waiting for you to inspire them.

SCORPIO

October 24-November 22

Pieces are beginning to come together. Long-term projects are nearing an end, and you're in line for praise honors. The details and fine print are also necessary for success. Keep an eye on plans and budgets. You don't want to get sidetracked this close to the end.

SAGITTARIUS

November 23-December 21

Work may be stifling you, but it has to be done. If you stay cheerful and keep on top of things, people in power will notice. Refuse to cut corners and take the easy way out. Compromise with friends or family members on a question that's been nagging at you.

CAPRICORN

December 22-January 20

An idea that seems radical or unrealistic may be just what you need to spark your imagination. Say what's on your mind. Others will listen and you'll get genuine support from an unexpected source. Friend or loved one wants to help you reach for the stars.

AQUARIUS

January 21-February 18

New situations may be challenging, but you're a quick study and will come out on top. Study rules and regulations in order to sidestep roadblocks. Find out all the facts before making decisions. Someone may not be telling you everything.

PISCES

February 19-March 20

Don't try to buy happiness or respect. People are working behind the scenes on your behalf. Hold true to your beliefs, even if it means taking an unpopular stand. You'll have more support than you think. Relax your budget and treat yourself to a small luxury or gift—but don't go overboard.
