Sonora Broncos are for real!!

By Tom Clifton

How 'Bout Them Broncos!
Well, I am going to tell you about those Broncos. They are fantastic! They are exciting! They are just plain awesome!

Before a packed house (CHUTE) the Broncos routed the Colorado City Wolves, 81-50.

Prior to the game, senior players were introduced to the crowd along with their parents. During the game, senior players introduced themselves to the Colorado City Wolves in awesome fashion. Oh Sonora, your Broncos are for real!

The first quarter opened with both teams trading baskets. At the 3:48 mark of the first quarter, Anthony Luna made a driving layup off a Ty Harrelson assist. It was followed with a 3 pointer by Harrelson. Then, Mayer Anderson scored two consecutive baskets as Sonora took a 15-12 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter was all Broncos as they outscored Colorado City 23-3. Luna continued his strong defensive play, Anthony Renfro, Drew Dempsey, Brad Legan, and Ty Harrelson scored points. Anderson, Legan and Kasey Wood controlled the boards. It was another team effort as the Broncos took a 38-15 lead into halftime.

The second half was owned by the Broncos. In the third quarter, Harrelson, Dempsey, Legan and Wood contributed baskets. Coach Harrelson emptied the bench as Sonora took a 60-30 lead at the end of the third quarter.

The fourth quarter can be described by one word, "showtime". The Broncos put an exclamation point on a 10-0 district campaign. Gabriel Garcia stepped off the bench to sink two 3 point buckets. Luna and Renfro both made layups down the stretch.

With a capacity crowd roaring "Fernie, Fernie" the officials let Emiliano return to the game. Fernie then made a 3 pointer with 20 seconds left in the game. That basket brought the roof down as Sonora claimed its first district championship with an 81-50 victory over Colorado City.

After the game, the Broncos cut down the net in celebration of a district championship. The net was then placed around Coach Harrelson's neck as the team and their coach celebrated. Coach Harrelson was delighted with the win and commented,

"It was a great team effort. Everybody played. Gabriel did a great job. Everybody went in the game with enthusiasm. The defense was excellent.

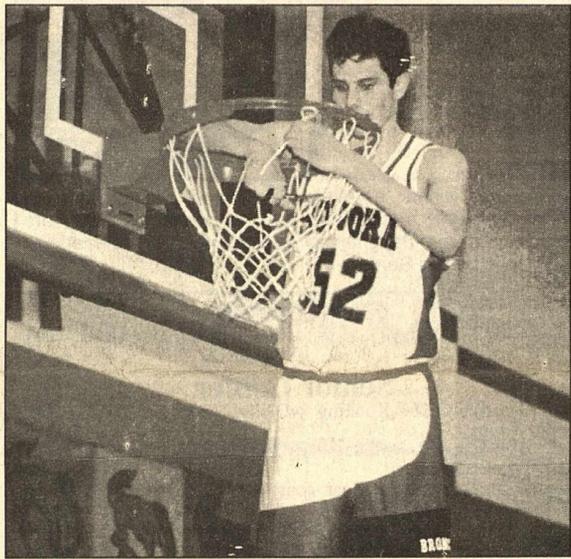

I just loved the way this team played. And as long as they play like that, we're a tough team to beat."

Sonora will play Clint at 6:45

If we can play like that, with that intensity like we finished the half, I'm not sure anybody can beat us.

Coach Scott Harrelson

Friday night in Odessa. The game will be played at Odessa College Gymnasium. This Bronco team thrives on fan support. I would encourage everyone to make the trip to support "our" Broncos. Go Broncos! Let the ride to state continue!

Drew Dempsey cuts his piece of the net in celebration of winning the District Championship.

Sonora Cub Scout popcorn sales totaled $19,158 this year. Roland Solis sold the most $1322 followed by Ty Love $913, Shane Love $766, Michael Luttrell $706 and Steven Barthelemy $600. These scouts were rewarded by shaving the heads of leaders, Jody Luttrell, Tim Talley and Calloway Hall. Ronda Hall requested when you see them in the coffee shops, ask them to remove their caps.

Economic Development Sales Tax gives Sonora edge in jobs race

SONORA - A new tax isn't usually met with much excitement, but in the case of the economic development sales tax, cities around the state are finding it cause to celebrate.

"In today's economic climate, cities need every weapon they can get to bring jobs to town," said A.W. Bishop, President of Sonora Economic Development Board. "And many communities are finding the economic development sales tax is the big gun they need to bring in industry."

Since 1989, voters in Texas cities with populations under 500,000 have been able to vote to raise their sales tax by one-half penny and create a fund for economic development.

Those funds, Bishop said, have been a boost to local economies across the state.

Texas cities have set up low-interest loan programs to help small businesses get started and expand, financed high-tech vocational training for high school graduates, provided funds for the costs involved in public facility improvements, commercial facilities, infrastructural improvements and retention and expansion of existing business and industry.

The flexibility of the economic development fund is one of its most important assets.

"Cities don't have a whole set of rules on how they can spend the money," Bishop said. "They can spend it on anything that brings jobs to town."

Sonora voters will have a chance to decide on the future of economic development May 2nd, when a proposal to create an economic development fund with a one-half percent raise in the sales tax goes before Sonora voters.

"If Sonora is going to thrive and grow, and if we are going to have the kind of jobs that will keep our young people here, we need an economic development fund," Bishop said. "Without it, we're just not on a level playing field."

"If voters decide to pass the referendum, we could be on the fast track to creating new jobs."

Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison talks tax and regulatory reform at Sutton County community meeting

Kelly Owen presents Sen. Hutchison with a mohair blanket.

SONORA - Tax reform and an overhaul of intrusive federal regulations should top the congressional agenda this year, Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison told a gathering of community leaders here Thursday.

Regarding tax reform, the Senator said, "The tax changes we passed last year were a good down payment. But we need significant simplification and tax relief for all Americans."

"We should eliminate the marriage penalty tax and let American families keep more of their hard-earned dollars," she said. "Under legislation I have introduced, families would have the choice of filing individually or jointly, depending on which method works best for them. "The average couple now pays $1,200 in additional tax simply because they're married. That is wrong."

"But we have made some progress toward reining in taxes. I'm sure everyone here was happy with the changes Congress made in the estate tax," she said. "Last year's Taxpayer Relief Act increased what people can leave their heirs without having the IRS take an oversized bite. This will make it easier to maintain family-run farms, ranches and businesses."

The bill increased from $600,000 to $1 million the amount of estates not subject to taxation. The changes will be phased in over a period of eight years for most estates. But for some sorely-pressed family farms, ranches and businesses, it will go into effect immediately.

On the issue of regulatory reform, Senator Hutchison said the federal government should take its cue from the states and encourage voluntary audits of environmental compliance efforts.

"As stewards of the land, farmers and ranchers particularly understand the importance of protecting the environment," she said. "Many people involved in agriculture have to deal with the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and are not happy with the current top-down, often arbitrary way our environmental laws are enforced."

Under current federal law, if a company or individual finds an environmental problem and fixes it, the EPA still can take administrative and civil action against them," she said. "That is ridiculous, and encourages people to hide problems that need to be addressed."

"I have introduced a bill, the Environmental Partnership Protection Act, to encourage an alternative: voluntary environmental audits to provide incentives for compliance with environmental law," she said.

"Under my bill, if someone finds a problem, fixes it and notifies the EPA, there will be no penalty. That's good for the environment and discourages federal regulatory excess. Of course, those who intentionally violate the law still will be held accountable."

Commissioners continue abatement talk with Union Pacific Resources

Sutton County Commissioners met Monday, Feb. 23 for a special meeting.

Belia Castaneda reported that a constituent was concerned about the flow of water from Highway 277. Judge Garner stated she would speak with Paul Chevalier but felt the situation would be addressed upon completion of the project.

Sheriff Webster requested authorization to advertise bids for a new vehicle for the Sheriff's Department. The new car will replace a car with 98,000 miles. Also stipulated in the motion was to take bids for two spare cars that were not previously traded in.

The agenda item regarding vehicle storage fee was tabled until the next meeting.

Commissioners agreed to hire GPC Services to repair the power plant at the jail for $4,037.

The auditor, Charles Graves, requested clarification of policy for workman's comp after 30 days. Commissioners agreed to pay employees their full salary until workman's comp, then supplement their salary.

John Valenta, tax agent for UPR, attended the meeting. David Wallace explained the UPR provide a description of existing improvements and new improvements so there is no question as to what is being abated. David stated there are three cryogenic gas processing plants in Sutton County. The two part question Wallace posed to the court is "do we do it" and "at what level?"

UPR proposed a three year abatement consisting of the following breakdown: 90% first year, 75% second year, 50% third year. The commissioners will make a decision at a later date.

Ask The Historical Society

Louise Sparks and Miers Savell about 1909 on the hill where the water works were then and they are still there.

By Jo-Ann E. Palmer

Q. I am looking for information on the wedding of Jimmie Porter De Ford and Maxine Ballard in February, March or April of 1954 at the First United Methodist Church of Sonora.

A. A check of the Sutton Co. Marriage Records of 1954 revealed no marriage license issued to the above in Sutton County. The First United Methodist Church has incomplete records for 1954 and could not help Mr. DeFord so they forwarded his letter to me. I started reading Devil's River News of February 1954 and finally found the following in the March 14, 1954 issue:

Miss Sarah Maxine Ballard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F.M. Ballard of Sonora, became the bride of Jimmie Porter DeFord at the First United Methodist Church here on March 6. The Rev. W.H. Marshall performed the double-ring ceremony. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude DeFord of McCamey.

For her wedding the bride chose a frock of cream linen with matching jacket. Her shoes and bag were of copper-colored leather trimmed in cream. Her hat was a cream straw trimmed with pearls and she wore a copper veil. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid.

Mrs. S.M. Loeffler played "Through The Years", "Leibestraume," and the "Indian Love Call" in addition to the traditional wedding marches. During the ceremony Mrs. Loeffler played "Meditation from Thais." She also accompanied Mrs. Maxine Ellingson, who sang "O Perfect Love," "At Dawning," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. E.E. Sawyer. Mrs. James W. Mann of Crane registered guests and Mrs. Maxine Ellingson served the punch. Mrs. S.M. Loeffler served the cake.

The bride is a graduate of Sonora High School where she was a member of the National Honor Society, and of San Angelo Business College. The bridegroom attended McCamey High School and served four years in the US Navy, including four months in Korea. He is employed by Dowell, Inc.

After a wedding trip to the Big Bend National Park, the couple will be at home in McCamey.

Mr. Ballard is looking for family information or Mr. DeFord, to help his nephew's son verify his Indian heritage on the DeFord side. Mr. Ballard's sister died in 1989, leaving no documentation and they are trying to find family tree records for her grandson. If anyone can help, please contact me. Thank you!

Q. Do you have any information on the death of an infant named Brady about 1900?

A. In the cemetery records compiled by Nelson's Diversified, the grave of Marcus Brady is listed under "Missing Burial Locations."

The Devil's River News of June 16, 1900 had the following article:

MARCUS WARLAND BRADY Died in Sonora on Wednesday, June 13, 1900, Marcus Warland, the 10 week old son and only child of Mr.

and Mrs. M.W. Brady of San Angelo. The interment took place from the Commercial Hotel to the Sonora Cemetery, Wednesday evening; the service of the Episcopal church being read by Mr. C.J. Nichols by request.

We do not know if the child is still somewhere in the cemetery or if his body was exhumed and taken to a family plot elsewhere at a later date.

Q. Was there ever any mention of the Pullen family in the early issues of The Devil's River News?

A. All we have on file at this time is the following taken from the 1891 issues:

January 3, 1891

Sam Pullen, from McKavett, was in town this week. J.E. Pullen, one of our McKavett subscribers was in Sonora Wednesday.

February 14, 1891

Big hearted John Pullen, of McKavett, was in Sonora Thursday. Another of those delightful hops was held in Mike's sanctum, Thursday night. John Pullen of McKavett was there.

September 26, 1891

John Pullen of McKavett, struck a vein of water for M.R. Braggan on Coperas at a depth of 125 feet. The water rose 90 feet in the well.

Q. I am trying to locate the marriage records of Herbert Smith and Clara Bruce, can you help me?

A. The Devil's River News of August 22, 1913 had the following article reprinted from the Del Rio Herald:

Miss Clara Bruce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bruce, of the Whitehead Ranch, was married to Mr. Herbert Smith, at the Presbyterian manse in Del Rio, Thursday, July 17. The beautiful words that bound the two hearts together forever and for aye, were spoken by Rev. J.W. Calstrom.

JV Broncos finish season with victory JV District Champs

Isaac Ramos (12) gracefully tips the ball to Bryce Williams (14).

By Tom Clifton

The Sonora JV Broncos finished their season last Tuesday night with an exciting 57-54 win over Colorado City. With the win the JV Broncos improved to 22-7 and 8-2 in district play. This victory allowed the Broncos to claim the JV District Championship.

The game started slowly for the Broncos. Riley Crain was dominant in the first quarter as he scored 7 points. Isaac Ramos made a 3 point bucket. Williams, Gonzales and Dempsey also scored as the game was tied 16-16 at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter was a see-saw affair as both teams exchanged the lead. Both Williams and Ramos made 3 point buckets in the second period. Dempsey and Nicholas contributed points, but Sonora was on the short end of the score at halftime 31-27.

Bryce Williams made two 3 point buckets in the third period and Russell Dempsey scored five points to help Sonora take the lead. The game remained close but Sonora was on top 42-39.

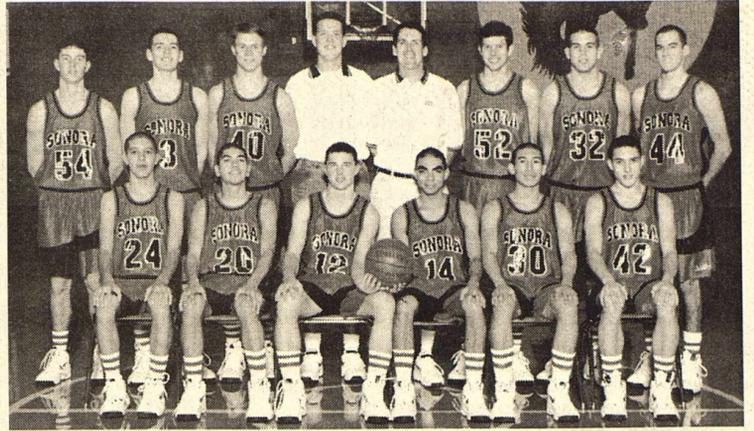

The fourth quarter was a complete team effort. Alan Nicholas scored 4 points after grabbing some big rebounds off the glass. Alan also made 3 of 5 free throws. Isaac Ramos made 5 free throws down the stretch. Crispin Lira made a big basket near the end of the game. The final score was 57-54 in favor of the Broncos.

After the game Coach Lowe had nothing but praise for his young Broncos. "They worked hard every minute of every day. They did everything that was asked of them. I am very proud of these young men."

We (Bronco Fans) are also proud of these young men. The future of Sonora basketball is bright. We look forward to next year. Let the tradition of great Bronco basketball continue.

Prime Target

Submitted
Some of the issues facing Sutton County youth are how they perceive themselves as a person, their ability to manage the anxieties associated with school, social, and family environments, their ability to develop healthy relationships, and the ability to communicate their wants, wishes and needs effectively.
All of the aforementioned items can have an impact on the young person's ability to resist advertising or negative peer pressure. This in turn affects the young person's ability to say no to nicotine, alcohol and other drugs, and stick by that decision. Should that impact be negative the youth can become a prime target for the use and abuse of, and possible addiction to nicotine, alcohol and other drugs. The founation and initial implementation of skills needed to address these and other life coping abilities should begin with the family unit.

If you or someone you know is having a problem with tobacco use or abuse or any chemical dependency issue, the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Council for the Concho Valley can be of assistance. A counselor is available in Sonora every Friday from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Please call 1-800-880-9641 to make an appointment. All calls, consultations and screening are confidential. All services are provided at no charge.

Sonora High School

Working for a Living

by Kim Geske

In this year's VAC Class taught by Bette Lee Drake, the students have a program where they have the privilege to go to school until 12:00 and then go to work for the rest of the day. How the program works is up to Mrs. Drake. She decides whether a student comes into the program. Students must qualify under certain circumstances set by Mrs. Drake. The people that are in the program receive three credits for their work experience for one year. In order for Mrs. Drake to know that the students are going to their work and receiving their credits, she makes them sign a contract saying they will go to work and fulfill their part of the agreement.
The students who are in the program are Scott Perez, Steven Gandar, Erik Talamantes, Enrique Lopez, Salvador Solis, Juan Alvarez, Jose De Luna, Tom Ramon, Amy Robertson, Timmy Bauldree, Cindy Duran, and Danny Ozuna. "The program gives me more time for my homework. I work at Evergreen Landscaping I to 5 and Pizza Hut from 5 to closing," Salvador Solis said. "This is a wonderful opportunity for some students who are serious about their future. If it wasn't for this program many students would have quit school a long time ago," Mrs. Drake said.

"Take the money and run!" Members of the UAC Class go to school and earn extra money.

Not Just Woman's Work

The C.H.E. and Apparel Classes have been busy getting ready to sew. There are three classes that are sewing, two C.H.E. Classes and one Apparel Class. The classes traveled to San Angelo to buy the fabric so they could get started on their projects right away. You might think that sewing is only for girls. However, this is the 90's. In both C.H.E. Classes, there are guys who are busy working on this project.

Adrian Reyes said he does not like to sew "because it is hard to thread a needle." Mrs. Keller said, "The girls and guys can both sew because the guys are used to working with their hands and also have a good visual perspective." The C.H.E. Classes are sewing a shirt because of the skills they will gain. The Apparel Class is doing a variety of things such as short suits, shirt, and dresses.

"Hey man, I wonder if this is how Tommy Hilfiger got started?" Jason Arredondo and Andy Castilleja pin patterns in Mrs. Keller's class.

From The Ground Up

Vocational Trades, taught by Reggie Williams, is a class designed to give each student some knowledge as to make repairs in the household which do not require a special permit. The class also gives a student basic knowledge to make personal decisions on various skilled jobs. Students do a variety of activities in Vocational Trades such as using the basic knowledge and safety in using hand tools, power tools, and equipment in various fields such as drywall, plumbing, electricity, floor covering, painting, concrete and building construction. Mr. Williams thinks Vocational Trades benefits S.H.S. and the SISD by the numerous projects the classes have performed for many instructors, principals, and the Administration Office. Mr. Williams said, "This is a win, win situation and the district is getting the benefit."

The Vocational Trades Class has many activities planned for the year, but the most unique activities are the construction of personal custom writing pens made of black walnut and a miniature single room doll house. There are also field trips planned for Fiesta Texas, a Spurs basketball game, and a Major League baseball game. Vocational Trades is taught not only in High School but also in Middle School. Mr. Williams has two middle school classes which are first and second periods. Mr. Williams has a total of 58 students in the vocational trades program with 22 of them being Jr. High students.

Sutton County youth wrap up successful show

4-H and FFA members from Sutton County had a very successful year at the San Antonio Livestock Show.

Completing the list of accomplishments were Lamb exhibitors: Anthony Renfro-4th Medium Finewool, Tom Jacoby-4th Light Heavy Finewool and Brad Mogford-14th in the very tough Heavy Finewool class.

Tom's lamb sold for $900, Anthony's for $800 and Brad's for $700. Bill Renfro narrowly missed the premium auction with his Light Heavy Finewool which stood 19th in a class where only sixteen qualified for the premium auction. Jason Jacoby also exhibited in the lamb division.

Other youth from Sutton County who exhibited at the show were Jeremiah McLaughlin and Beau Hughes in the Swine division and Breg & Brea Hughes in the Steer Division.

Next up is the Houston Livestock Show which will feature eight local exhibitors: Meat Goats-Colton Moore, Sarah Ball and Ashley Bible; Angora Goats-Landon Brockman and Ashley Brockman; and Lamb Exhibitors-Anthony Renfro, William Renfro and Brad Mogford.

Wish them luck as they compete in the toughest show in the world.

UPR provides area training

Tim Talley, Carl Teaff, Alan Prather, Charlie Alewine, Alta Alewine, T.J. Thorp, Ruben Samaniego, Tim Thorp, Sam Odom, Pat Campbell and Russell Green watch as UPR Consultant, David White, gives a demonstration on the use of foam to combat gas fires.

By Scott McKinzie, UPR

Union Pacific Resources (UPR), which recently purchased Highlands Gatherings & Processing, Co., conducted a four hour training seminar Wednesday, Feb. 18, for area firefighters at the Sonora Fire Hall. Over fifty firefighters from Sonora, Eldorado, Rock Springs, and Ozona attended the training and dinner. The Sonora and Eldorado Fire Departments received specialized foam concentrate and equipment to produce fire-fighting foam. The Ozona Fire Department received the same equipment and training previously. The foam concentrate and equipment will be available for use by area firefighters on any appropriate emergency incident in the area. The training focused on how to handle flammable liquid emergencies safely. This training was the first phase of a multi-phase program that UPR provides to volunteer and small municipal fire departments that are located near UPR's network of oil and gas production and processing facilities.

In most cases, fire protection for UPR's facilities is provided by local volunteer and small municipal fire departments. UPR realized that these fire departments may not have the equipment or the specialized training to handle flammable liquid emergencies. "We want the emergency responders to be able to recognize the unique hazards they may face when responding to an oil and gas related emergency and how to handle the emergency safely," said Alan Anthony, UPR's Operations Supervisor for the Sonora Area. "The personal safety of the emergency responders is our greatest concern. We hope to prevent any firefighters or citizens from being injured because the firefighters are unfamiliar or ill-equipped to handle flammable liquid emergencies," said Anthony.

"Over the last several years, UPR has trained over 2000 firefighters, law enforcement officials, and other emergency response personnel from communities near our operations. This training, and the special equipment we've provided, represents an investment in the local community, and a commitment to the safety and environmental protection of its citizens," said Anthony.

UPR operates two gas processing plants and over 600 miles of pipeline in the Sonora/Eldorado area. UPR is one of the nation's largest independent oil and gas exploration and production companies. Based in Ft. Worth, UPR has been the #1 domestic driller for the past six years.

U.N. Treaty targets American Agriculture, National Security

American politicians and bureaucrats should work in the interest of America. That sounds reasonable enough.

But that's not what happened in Japan last December. You may recall that at that time, the nations of the world met to negotiate the United Nations' Global Climate Change Treaty. This treaty attempts to address fears that the Earth's climate is being harmed beyond repair by "greenhouse" gas emissions.

The people who were supposed to look for us, instead accepted document that could devastate American agriculture- our leading export- as well as give the United Nations some control over our military. That's no exaggeration.

No one likes pollution or wants to hurt our planet's climate. Scientists, however don't agree on how much human beings affect weather patterns. Nor do they agree on what needs to be done.

Even though the developing nations of the world are the biggest producers of greenhouse gases, they are essentially exempt from the treaty's restrictions. No such luck for U.S. agriculture.

Our own Department of Commerce says that meeting the requirements of the treaty will be like imposing a 25 cents per gallon gas tax on Americans. That translates into a 24 percent loss in net farm income, according to American Farm Bureau economists. And that's a conservative estimate. Some of those economists think a 50 cent tax is more likely and that means that American agricultural income would be cut in half. That's a $10 to $20 billion bill that American farmers and ranchers will have to pay in higher fuel, fertilizer, and chemical costs.

Even our own armed forces are controlled by the treaty. All domestic operations and training are included in the emission limits. That means that we may have to cut vital training for our service personnel. Now, considering that our military is already underfunded and overstretched, this is a direct threat to our national security.

If military operation isn't approved by the United Nations then it is not exempt from the emissions limits of the treaty. So, if we needed to act in our own interest-like the 1986 bombing of Libya- we would have to get United Nations Security Council approval first. This is just ridiculous. It would be plain funny if it wasn't true.

The White House says that they won't put the Global Climate Change Treaty before the Senate for consideration, as required by our Constitution, until 1999. The treaty isn't a good idea now, and it won't be a good idea then.

It's astonishing that those who are supposed to represent us could, instead, endanger our economic security, as well as our national security. But, unfortunately, it happened.

Senior Elks Update.....

By Tyler Talley

The Senior Elks class recently went on a field trip to the E.M.S building.

Donna Keese was our instructor. She showed us how to take care of the people who are choking and having seizures. She showed and also explained to us about the ambulances, how they would hold two or three people at once. We all had a great time and enjoyed the presentation. All students that attended were Tyler Talley, Embre Smith, Tristan Ramsey, Sasha Booth, Steven Lozano, Victoria Tovar, Mrs. Lumbreras and Mrs. Talley.

4-Hers stepped back in time with a Medieval Renaissance. It was their last meeting in the Clint Langford 4-H Building.

Dental hygienist, Linda Burge visits with the Elks Class.

Chief Chris Croy visited the Elks class to discuss bike safety, 911, strangers and being home alone.

Severe Weather Awareness

Submitted

Governor George W. Bush and the Texas Division of Emergency Management are urging all Texans to stay alert for severe weather and possible tornadoes. The Governor has proclaimed the week of March 1-7 as Severe Weather Awareness Week.

Several significant weather systems affected Texas in 1997, demonstrating the need for citizens to be prepared. In May, several tornadoes swept through communities north of Austin and one month later heavy rains hit the central portion of the state causing severe flooding. Both incidents demonstrate the importance of being prepared.

"The observance of Severe Weather Awareness Week increases the interest among Texans about the related hazards of severe weather," said Tom Millwee, State Coordinator for the Division of Emergency Management. "Everyone needs to know what to do and where to go when severe weather conditions occur in their communities."

The Texas Division of Emergency Management recommends that individuals and families decide where the best location in their home and office is to seek shelter when threatened by a tornado or any other type of severe weather. In addition, citizens need to know more about the impacts severe weather can have in their communities. When severe weather hits, Texans are encouraged to listen to the National Weather Service broadcasts and their local television and radio stations to obtain information. This includes watches, warnings and advisories broadcasted when needed, 24 hours a day.

NEWS OF EDUCATION

Tips To Avoid Computer Viruses

(NAPS)—There are six to nine new computer viruses created every day, a couple of hundred every month, says Alex Haddox, director of the Symantec AntiVirus Center in Santa Monica, California.

Researchers at the Center have documented 515 macro viruses as of late March 1997, a significant increase since August, 1996, when there were only 42.

Haddox explains that a computer virus is a program that sneaks into a computer, usually on a floppy disk or through a modem or network, and then duplicates itself so it can spread to yet another computer. Some viruses intentionally cause damage, such as corrupting documents or erasing files from hard disks. Others simply display a message on the monitor, but do no real harm.

Other hotbeds of virus infection are school and university computer labs. Disks and files that you bring home from school can infect your home computer. Then, someone else in your household may take that disk to the office and that computer gets infected.

- Be suspicious.
- Watch your kids while they're on the Internet.
- Back up your files often.
- Run anti-virus software at all times.

Scroggins' participates in multinational exercise

submitted

Marine Cpl. Thad M. Scroggins, son of Robert L. Scroggins of Sonora, Texas, recently participated in a training exercise while serving with the 13th Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU), currently on a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific Ocean and Arabian Gulf.

Scroggins' unit participated in Exercise Eager Mace, a multinational exercise held in the Kuwait desert 20 miles from the Iraqi border. The exercise was designed to increase the interoperability of participating nations and enhance the special operations capability of the MEU.

Scroggins' unit is an expeditionary intervention force with the ability to rapidly organize for combat operations in virtually any environment. MEUs are composed of more than 2,000 personnel and are divided into an infantry battalion, an aircraft squadron, a support group and a command element. With the combination of these teams, Scroggins' unit supplies and sustains itself for either quick mission accomplishment or clearing the way for follow-on forces.

The 1989 graduate of Central High School of San Angelo, Texas, joined the Marine Corps in August 1994. Scroggins is a 1993 graduate of Angelo State University, San Angelo, Texas, with a BA degree.

I am a pregnant woman who is suffering with severe lower back pain. Would I be able to have chiropractic care without danger to my unborn child?

The added weight of pregnancy frequently causes lower back pain in women, particularly later in their pregnancy. Having the extra weight in the front of the body puts enormous stress on the spine and can create painful misalignments. Almost any chiropractor is familiar with manipulation techniques for correcting your spinal misalignment that will in no way affect your unborn child. You might call one or two chiropractors in your area to ask if they know a D.C. who has treated pregnant women before. Do not be anxious about your baby. Your health and the well-being of your baby will be the uppermost concern in your chiropractor's thoughts.

My knees pop when I get up in the morning and they are sore at night. Why is this and what can be done?

Not having the opportunity to examine and gather data such as your age, weight, occupation, sex and other factors that can directly affect this condition it is hard to make any clear judgment about the condition or its treatment. Let me say, however, that knee joints are among those in the body that are under the most stress and for them to be stiffening and sore with age may be related to a loss of flexibility or a sedentary lifestyle. There are, at the same time, conditions in which pain is a sign that direct attention is needed to determine what can be done to alleviate condition. Any chiropractor should be able to help you identify and get treatment for whatever your knee problem turns out to be.

My friend said I don't need to continue seeing my chiropractor and that a visit to the massage therapist is just as good as what treatment I get from my chiropractor.

Chiropractors have long acknowledged the value of massage therapy but these health care professionals are neither educated or licensed to perform important procedures such as manipulation to correct problems caused by spinal misalignment. Your friend is sadly misinformed and could pay for this wrong idea in with diminished health.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Southwestern Bell) filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) to charge an additional 26 cents per month per line to recover costs for providing Expanded Local Calling service (ELC) to certain Texas Customers.

The 26 cents per month surcharge would not be billed to customers who receive ELC. However, customers who receive ELC and pay less than the maximum $3.50 a month residential ELC charge or less than the maximum $7 business ELC charge will have to pay the additional 26 cents per month charge.

Expanded Local Calling was created in 1993 by Texas legislation that requires telephone companies to provide toll-free calling between small towns that share a community of interest such as a school or hospital district. The legislation allows telephone companies to recover costs not paid through customer charges by applying a surcharge to all other customers in the state who do not receive the ELC service or who do not pay the maximum ELC rate. The maximum monthly ELC rate allowed under state law is $3.50 per line for residential customers and $7 per line for business customers.

Southwestern Bell estimates that the 26 cents per month per line charge will recover the $27 million annual cost of providing ELC service that is not recovered from ELC rates.

If approved by the PUC, the monthly statewide surcharge of 26 cents per line per month will begin with the April, 1998 billing cycles, with an agreement to refund all or part of the charge if the PUC does not approve it.

For questions about the reasons for the charge, please call the Southwestern Bell Business Office listed in your directory.

The PUC assigned Docket Number 18513 to this proceeding. The deadline for intervention in this matter is March 31, 1998. Persons who wish to intervene or comment in these proceedings should notify the PUC by March 31, 1998. All requests to intervene should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, P.O. Box 13326, Austin, TX, 78711-3326. For information intervening, please call the PUC at 1-888-782-8477 or at 512-936-7120.

AVISO PUBLICO

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Southwestern Bell) presentó una solicitud ante la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas (PUC) para cobrar 26 centavos más al mes por línea para recuperar los costos por el servicio de Llamadas Locales Ampliadas (ELC) a ciertos clientes en Texas.

El cargo de 26 centavos al mes no se cobrará a los clientes que reciben ELC. Sin embargo, los clientes que reciben ELC y pagan menos del máximo de $3.50 al mes por el servicio ELC residencial o menos del máximo de $7 por el servicio ELC comercial, tendrán que pagar 26 centavos adicionales a su pago mensual.

El servicio de Llamadas Locales Ampliadas (ELC) fue establecido en 1993 por la legislación del estado de Texas y requiere que las compañías prestadoras de servicios telefónicos ofrezcan llamadas de larga distancia gratuitas entre pequeñas poblaciones que comparten un interés común tales como distritos escolares y de hospitales. Esta ley permite que las compañías telefónicas recuperen los costos no pagados mediante cargos a clientes, a través de un cargo a todos los demás clientes en el estado que no reciben el servicio ELC o que no pagan la tarifa máxima del servicio ELC. La tarifa máxima mensual permitida por la ley estatal es $3.50 por línea para clientes con servicio residencial y $7 por línea para clientes con servicio comercial.

Southwestern Bell calcula que los 26 centavos al mes por línea cubrirán los $27 millones del costo anual del servicio ELC que no está cubierto por las tarifas de ELC.

Si la PUC autoriza el cargo mensual estatal de 26 centavos al mes por línea éste comenzará a partir de los ciclos de facturación de abril 1998, con el acuerdo de reembolsar todo o parte del cargo si la PUC no lo autoriza.

Para preguntas relacionadas con este cargo, por favor llame a la Oficina Local de Southwestern Bell listada en su directorio telefónico.

La PUC asignó el número de registro de 18513 a este procedimiento. El plazo de intervención sobre este asunto terminará el 31 de marzo de 1998. Las personas que deseen intervenir o hacer comentarios sobre este procedimiento deberán notificar a la PUC antes del 31 de marzo de 1998. Todas las solicitudes de intervención deberán enviarse por correo a Public Utility Commission of Texas, P.O. Box 13326, Austin, TX 78711-3326. Para mayor información sobre la intervención, por favor comuníquese con la PUC al 1-888-782-8477 o al 512-936-7120.
