Bovina, Texas

VOL XI, NO. 33

WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

The third time proved to be the charm for the school building proposition on the school district's three-part bond election last week.

Voters favored, by a scant majority, building the new six-classroom elementary building while they again turned thumbs down on improvements and additions to athletic facilities.

Providing funds for the new classrooms will be a boost to the crowded school system. The "for" voters were glad to see this part of the ballot carry. Disappointing, of course, was the failure of the voters to go for improvements to the present football field and a new field house in connection with it.

Frankly, we were of the opinion that the once-popular idea of being too intellectual for sports was dead here and we thought the athletic portions of the bond election might also carry. The money voters were deciding on for these two propositions was only $56,000, which is a pretty small total considering the overall investment the school district has. The savings in taxes on this amount couldn't amount to more than two of the proposed 10 per cent tax increase. If our understanding is correct, taxes will now need to be raised eight per cent instead of the pre-election proposed 10 per cent.

The athletic improvements were voted down even though there is almost unanimous agreement among the citizenry here that our facilities are by far the poorest in our district, 3-A. Other district members include Farwell, Sudan, Springlake-Earth and Kress. Why, we continue to wonder, can't we afford facilities which are as good or better than those places?

The answer is that we can't afford facilities as good or better than those school districts. It's just that a majority of our school district voters isn't yet ready to pay the minute increased price for them.

Continuing Bovina High School's football program with the present facilities will be like a Parmer County farmer using a two-row tractor. It can be done, but it's not the best way.

An analysis of the school bond election is hard to make. At least, that's true in our case.

Our first impression was that the voters in favor of the expansion plan turned out in greater numbers. And they did. That, however, is not the complete answer because those voting against were also greater in number than when the same election was held in December. Maybe the election of last week indicated that a majority of voters didn't want to increase taxes, not even a little bit, to pay for athletic facilities.

That doesn't mean they're against athletics or better facilities for them. So, if that is the case, and it's just as good a guess as any, it's possible the facilities to which the community, and its young people, are entitled, could be provided via an alternate route

Certainly alternate routes are worthy of exploration, it says here.

There's some talk circulating about a new cattle feedlot business for the Bovina area. Such an undertaking would have to be backed by local people. There's little chance of an outside group providing the leadership for the endeavor which could be of untold benefit for the area as well as a sound investment for those directly associated with it.

This is an idea which we feel should and could be developed into a reality. Hold up your hand and be counted if you agree.

Money . . . and work . . . can make it possible.

Up to now, our area has escaped a blizzard or severe snow storm for this winter. Observers tell us that it could happen yet, though, and advise against planting garden crops which don't need snow to aid them in their growth and development.

MARK BALLOT -- Mrs. Bob Estes, corresponding secretary of Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, explains the ballot for selecting five directors to Edward Isaac, Bovina businessman and out-going director. On desk in left foreground is a gold plaque similar to one which will be distributed to business members this year. The plaque will state, "Member Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, 1967." Mail balloting for new directors is presently being conducted.

Ballots In Mail For Board Choices

About 175 ballots were mailed last week to members of Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture and prospective members for selection of five to serve three year terms on the board of directors.

Deadline for returning the marked ballots is Saturday, Feb. 25.

However, board members stated that unless the 1967 dues accompany the returned ballots, they will not be counted in the election of directors.

They also stated that anyone wishing to become a member of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture may pick up a ballot and pay his or her dues at the office of Mrs. Bob Estes, corresponding secretary. They state that some prospective members may have been misled as it is "extremely difficult to think of those individuals or businesses who are not already members."

This year membership plaques will be sent to all business institutions who pay their 1967 dues. The plaque will show that the recipient is a member of Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, 1967. Each year a new date plate will be sent to replace the old date.

In addition, according to Mrs. Estes, individual members may receive a plaque at the cost of same.

The new directors chosen by mail ballot will meet with the board on March 2, when new officers will be elected.

Again this year, a man and woman of the year will be named by presidents of civic organizations in Bovina and Chamber secretary Jim Ware. Recipients of the honor will be announced at the Chamber of Commerce banquet March 16 in the school cafeteria. Rev. Kenneth Wyatt of Morton will be the featured speaker.

Nine names appear on the ballot for five places on the board of directors, Jamie Clearman, Earl Whitten, Tom Bonds, Bedford Caldwell, Roy Allen, Owen Patton, Nick Trienen, Charles Corn and S. A. Barbee.

Terms expiring this year are Edward Isaac, Tom Caldwell, A. M. Wilson, Jamie Clearman, who has served since August, and Jim Ware, the new Chamber manager-secretary.

Holdover directors include James Roach, Tom Beauchamp, Mrs. G. D. Anderson, Jr., Mrs. Bob Wilson, C. E. Trimble, Wayne Spears, Leon Grissom, Otis Spears, Mrs. Bob Estes and Kenneth Cary.

Officers who have served for 1966 are Leon Grissom, president; C. E. Trimble, vice president; Jim Ware, treasurer; and Mrs. Estes, corresponding secretary.

Funeral Saturday --

Jimmy Wright Dies In Wreck Thursday

The Bovina area was saddened last week when Jimmy Ray Wright, 22-year-old native of this community, was killed in a two-vehicle accident four miles east of Lubbock at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Funeral services were held at 4 p.m. Saturday in Bovina Methodist Church with Rev. Bruce Parks, pastor of the Lorenzo Methodist Church, and Rev. J. B. Fowler, Jr., pastor of the Bovina church, officiating.

Burial was in Bovina Cemetery under direction of Claborn Funeral Home of Friona.

Wright, who had lived in Bovina about 10 years until graduating from high school in 1963, had been branch manager of CIG

Finance Co. in Lubbock since August, 1965. He and his wife, the former Patsy Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richards of Bovina, and daughter, Dana Jan, had lived in Lubbock two years until moving to Friona in August, where Mrs. Wright is employed in the school system as a teacher.

The accident occurred when the automobile driven by Wright, which was traveling north on FM Road 1729, collided with a pickup truck, driven by Robert Pryor, 32, of Lubbock, travelling west on Acuff Road.

Wright was returning to his home in Friona from his work in Lubbock when the collision occurred.

Jimmy Ray Wright was born Oct. 18, 1944 in Wichita Falls when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wright, lived in Burk Burnett. The family began farming near Bovina in 1952 and the following year, 1953, Jimmy entered the third grade here. He was an outstanding student and leader in the schools. During his high school career he lettered in nearly all athletic

Construction Project Considered By Board

More planning steps toward a new, six-unit grade school classroom building were taken Monday night by members of board of trustees of Bovina Independent School District.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board, Arnold Maeker of Lubbock, school architect, was instructed to "get estimates together" on two or more different types of buildings. To be considered are a hexagon-shaped, six classroom unit with a kitchen, library and offices as a separate part of the building, a conventional-type building and possibly other designs.

The board will meet with Maeker again when he has the estimates prepared.

Maeker commented that all possible floor plans should be considered which might "better meet the need at a more economical price."

Superintendent Otis Spears reported that the school district, according to the board's authorization, had purchased parts of four lots, described as a sliver of land, of Lou Marot-owned land at a sheriff's sale last week in Farwell. The property cost $1631. It faces Highway 86 and joins school-owned land on the north.

Purchase of the property will give access to Highway 86 for the site on which the new grade school building is planned to be built.

Concern about inequities of the tax structure of the school district was expressed by Bill Brown of Amarillo, representative of Santa Fe Railway.

Brown suggested that the school district re-evaluate its property for taxing purposes. He said that he felt sure a qualified appraiser would evaluate Santa Fe's property at less than it is now. He pointed out that the railroad pays Friona School District $360 per mile of track per year while the figure in Bovina is $445.

The Bovina district has 13.6 miles of track, according to Brown.

He said Farwell's tax per mile was more than Bovina's but that the Farwell district was presently having its property re-evaluated which he expected to lower Santa Fe's property valuation there.

"I know you people want to do what's right and so do we," Brown commented. He indicated that Santa Fe representatives will meet with the school district tax equalization board.

Board members canvassed the returns of last week's school bond election in which voters approved the grade school building, but voted against improvements to the football field and construction of a new athletic field house.

Bob Estes, school fiscal agent, discussed issuance of the bonds with the board.

A petition was submitted to the board requesting that Dean McCallum and Eddie Gayle

Names Filed For Board

Two names have been filed at Bovina Independent School District tax assessor-collector's office after a petition was signed by 20 patrons for submission of the men for candidates in the school board trustee election set for April.

The two candidates are Dean McCallum and Eddie Gayle Steelman.

The terms of two members of the school board expire this year, Durward Bell and J. E. Sherrill, who was appointed to fill the term of Robert Read.

Holdover members include Grady Sorley, president, and Don Murphy, vice president, who have two years to serve; Billy Marshall, Leslie McCain and Leon Grissom, who have one more year to serve on the board.

The petition submitted reads as follows:

"Board of Trustees
"Bovina Independent School District
"Gentlemen:

"The undersigned submit the names of Dean McCallum and Eddie Gayle Steelman as candidates in the school trustee election April 1, 1967.

"Signed:
"A. G. White, Ed Isaac, Elmo Dean, Wilbur Charles, H. K. Johnson, I. W. Quickel, Emmett Tabor, Lula White, A. B. Wilkinson, C. P. Warren, D. D. Hastings, Odie White, Pat Kunselman, Lady Armstrong, S. A. Barbee, Jr., Mrs. Jack Kesler, Genevieve Estes, N. W. Bonds, George Patton, O. M. Hammonds."

Accident Damages Two Cars

A two-car accident at 4:30 p.m. Monday of last week in Bovina resulted in damages to both vehicles, although neither driver was injured, according to Police Chief Bill Denney.

Teresa Page, driver of a 1959 Pontiac, collided with a 1962 Oldsmobile driven by Estrado Vega when Miss Page attempted a U-turn at the intersection of North and Fourth Streets.

Vega was travelling east on North Street and Miss Page, who had been parked at Bovina Service Station and Grocery, attempted to make the U-turn to go south.

Denney said damages to the Pontiac was estimated at $400 and the Oldsmobile damages were estimated at $300.

Boosters Planning Banquet

About 12 members of the Mustang Booster Club attended a meeting in the school library room Thursday night to begin plans for this year's athletic banquet.

Several dates are available for the event, but the exact date will not be set until a speaker is named.

Various speakers were discussed and several preferences named. The ones preferred will be given a choice of dates in hopes of securing a good speaker, members of the Booster Club said.

The Booster Club decided that this year's banquet would be an all-school athletic event to include all sport activities.

Ridgelea Sewer Expanded --

Cemetery Control Requested Of City

Four residents appeared before the City Council at its regular meeting here Thursday night requesting the city to "take over" and maintain Bovina Cemetery.

Attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Buck Ellison, Mrs. J. R. Caldwell and Mrs. W. E. Williams.

The Cemetery Association feels there is a need for someone to administer the program here and take care of the grounds.

The proposal is still in the "talking stage," however and the City doesn't know at this time exactly what it can do, according to reports.

On Monday night in a special meeting action was taken to expand the sewer system in the Ridgelea Addition. Bill Moore of Plains Utility Co. was employed to install the additional system because of present construction in that area.

Attending the special meeting were Mayor Bedford Caldwell, Councilmen Charles Corn, Owen Patton, Billie Sudderth and City Secretary Mary Ruth Martin.

During the regular meeting Thursday, the Council voted to pay the City bills and ordered the City election for April 4. A. B. Wilkinson was appointed as judge.

The group also voted to send Andy Garza, city employee, and Water Superintendent John Wilson to the water and sewer school at Texas A&M March 5-15 if arrangements can be made for both to be out of town at that time.

Attending the regular meeting were Mayor Caldwell, Councilmen Billie Sudderth, Edward Trimble and Secretary Mary Ruth Martin.

"I'VE BEEN WORKING ON THE RAILROAD" -- This may have been the song being sung in Bovina last week as Santa Fe workers improved the tracks here. Heavy machinery caused necessity of flagging the crossings, Agent Dean Hastings said. Machines were used to do different jobs. One removed old ties which needed replacing. Another put new ties in place. Then the ties were fitted snugly up against the rail, new spikes driven into place, and finally another machine packed ballast rock under the ties to give necessary support. Still other machinery realigned and levelled the track. The procedure is almost opposite of that of the first railroads, when the bed was laid first, then the ties and finally the rails attached by the spikes. In present times, crews work on the tracks from the top down, according to Hastings.

Dear Dolph,
How are things going nowadays? I hope well.
I wish I could say the same, but if you have ever been in the Army you know what I mean. More so, if you are in the 82nd Airborne Division.
Dolph, a few of the boys and I were talking and decided to write our hometown papers and thank them for printing the news, so we, the men in the Armed Services could find out what is happening back home.
You don't know how good it makes a man feel when he gets his hometown paper. Mom hasn't missed a week yet. And, it is a nice feeling to read about the folks back home.
Dolph, you are doing a bang

Bovina Woman's Study Club, which instigated the community improvement project, received word last week that Bovina "passed the medical survey."

In other words, a certain amount of need was required to be shown for a Sears-Roebuck Foundation, which would provide an AMA approved doctor and equip a clinic. Bovina's recent medical survey showed that there are sufficient prospective patients here to require a doctor.

Davis will come here to discuss with citizens its needs, the problems of securing a doctor, medical facilities, and other related topics.

For that reason, all civic organizations are asked to be represented at the meeting as well as all citizens, Mrs. Walling said.

Natural quicksand is a rare occurrence, he says, and that which seems to appear as foundations are being dug is actually the result of poor excavation procedures. Scoopin' Around

By Pat Jacobs

Whether we like it or not, cheating on examinations in the schools over the nation is on the rise, according to an article this month in Texas Outlook, magazine of Texas State Teachers Association.

According to the author, cheating particularly exists among the "better" classes. And according to experience, it also occurs among the "best" students.

What triggers this action? Mainly, too much emphasis on grades.

"When parents stress grades above character, integrity and other values, they seem to be literally telling their child to get these grades any way he can. Sometimes teachers are also guilty of putting grades above achievement," says the author.

Then, quoting from college professor Jerome Ellison, who wrote the following for the Saturday Evening Post, "The reason for cheating most commonly given is that the pressure to succeed, reinforced by the fear of failure, overwhelms considerations of honor."

Students should be made to feel it is more honorable to pass with a lower grade he earned himself than to be at the top of his class "any way he can."

Teachers, the article continues, should make it so difficult for a student to cheat that he will quit trying after a time or two -- and should be consistently punished when caught.

You don't believe your child would cheat? What some of the teachers could tell might "curl your hair."

True, there are some students with enough integrity in every class that would turn down the opportunity if handed to him on a silver platter. But a large number will take advantage of every opportunity available -- at all age levels and in all grades.

Another tragedy is that so many parents are concerned with the grades of others outside their own family.

What difference does it make, as long as their own is doing his or her best?

It seems to be a rat race to some kind of social status for our children to be in the top grade bracket.

I'm not knocking good grades -- they are fine when earned. But instead of asking "What grade did you make?" we should be asking "What did you learn?"

It's the answer to the last question that will get them to the top of the ladder when they are adults.

The woman tourist, posing for a snapshot in front of fallen pillars of an ancient Grecian temple, cautioned her friend not to get their automobile in the picture.

"Why not?" the photographer. "My husband will think I ran into it," she explained. ---also from Texas Outlook

Know The Truth By Lavern Stewart

There were no denominations in the beginning, that is when the church first started in the city of Jerusalem and for a long time afterward -- why should there be any now? Then all of the disciples were of the "one" body and were called by the same name, Acts 11:26. The Bible says there is one body, Ephesians 4:4, I Corinthians 12:13.

To learn how to be just a plain Christian like Peter, John, Silas, Timothy, Paul, or Barnabas one must read, believe, and obey the New Testament because it is the Word of Christ and the Will of God, John 12:48; Matthew 7:21. It is by the Gospel and not the Law of Moses that Christians are made, Romans 1:16. We must hear Jesus, Matthew 17:5. Christ said one cannot be saved by the doctrines of men, Mark 7:7.

Why should people who claim to be the disciples of the Lord be divided into different religious bodies; believing and practicing something different? Is this what Jesus prayed for in John 17:20, 21? No, it was not! The Christians of the first century knew no different creeds, but all were governed by the faith once for all delivered to the saints, Jude 3. They were taught that the inspired word of God could make them perfect, II Timothy 3:16, 17.

The Word of God is the seed of the kingdom, Luke 8:11, and being planted in the hearts of men today will produce the same kind of plant as in the first century -- Christians. Meet with us at the Church of Christ in Bovina; we have no denominational connections, we are Christians only.

Church Chuckles by CARTWRIGHT

"Just tell the preacher whether or not you believe in God—quit pleading the Fifth Amendment!"

But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night in which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. Scripture uniformly commands us to look forward with eager expectation to the coming of Christ and defers the crown of glory which awaits us till that period. I hope the last day of judgment is not far. I persuade myself verily it will not be absent full three hundred years longer, for God's word will cease and be darkened for want of true shepherds and servants of God. The voice will sound and be heard ere long. Behold the bridegroom cometh, God neither will nor can suffer the wicked world much longer, but must strike in with the dreadful day and punish the condemning of his word. And so will quite beat out the barrel head. The moment a man takes hold of the truth that Jesus Christ is coming back again to receive his followers to Himself. His coming is not death, He is the resurrection and the life. When He sets up His kingdom there is to be no death, but life for evermore. This is the Day that I love, that I wait for. It will not be long before that day shall come. These are the last days and the winding up of the time that we live in. Here is the patience of the saints: Here are they that keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus. May these words be a blessing to your life every day.

County Show Begins Friday --

Annual Livestock Show Here Today

Today one of Bovina's highlights of the year is being staged as Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members are showing project animals in the annual Bovina Livestock Show at the school barn. Beginning Friday and continuing through Saturday is the Farmer County Livestock Show in Friona.

In the county show at Friona lambs and barrows will be judged Friday. The steers will be judged Saturday, followed by the sale.

Bobby Lee, vocational agriculture instructor at Wilson High School, will judge the swine and sheep while H. M. (Flip) Breedlove, vice president and agricultural representative of the Farmers State Bank in Clarendon, will judge the steers. Friona Lions Club is sponsoring the county show and will be assisted by Friona Young Farmers. The Young Homemakers will serve refreshments.

Expected in the county-wide event are about 225 animals, including 120 barrows, 60 sheep and 45 steers.

Trophies will be awarded winners in the show.

10 Accidents--

Five Injured In January

About 70 steers, barrows, gilts and lambs will be judged today in the Bovina show. Judging the steers and barrows will be Ronny Dennis, vocational agriculture teacher of Kress. Darryl Dennis of Olton, Southdown breeder, will judge the sheep.

Sponsored by the Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture and the Bovina Lions Club, the show will see cash prizes, trophies, and ribbons awarded the Bovina boys. Nearly $400 was given away here last year in prize money.

Six classes of barrows, totaling about 38, will be entered in the show as well as one class of about 10 gilts, two classes of steers totaling eight, and two classes of lambs containing about 13 to 15. Barrows will include Berkshires, Chester Whites, Durocs, Hampshires, Poland Chinas and crosses, according to John Paul Jones, vocational agriculture teacher here.

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 10 accidents on rural highways in Parmer County during the month of January, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in five persons injured and an estimated property damage of $6,100.00.

April 15 is the deadline to have your motor vehicle inspected. During the past five and one-half months 230,000 or 33% of the approximately 700,000 registered vehicles in this region have been inspected. This leaves 470,000 vehicles to be inspected between now and the April 15 deadline. If this number of uninspected vehicles were divided evenly among the 700 official inspection stations in this region, each would have approximately 672 vehicles to inspect in about 40 working days, or about 17 vehicles per day. The inspection stations in heavily populated areas will have more than this average to inspect. In areas where there are only a few inspection stations you may have many miles to travel to get your vehicle inspected.

The Sergeant urges motorists to have their vehicles inspected without delay to avoid the inconvenience of waiting lines. Remember -- no extension of the safety inspection deadline, April 15, 1967.

BE EFFICIENT -- Here is an interesting idea for easy disposing of dishes when you have dinner guests. Early in the day, clear all your work counters as much as possible, tucking away any appliances that won't be needed, or knick-knacks that might be in the way. Then, as you remove plates between courses, scrape leftovers right into a handy paper bag and pile the dishes neatly by your sink. Rinse glasses quickly with warm water. Store flatware temporarily in a cardboard box, which is discarded later. The few extra seconds this takes aren't even noticed by your guests. But, you'll notice the difference when it comes time to do the dishes, because you'll have everything neatly organized.

According to the Texas Forestry Association, the average per capita consumption of lumber is 224 board feet annually.

A total of 42 girls are working in 4-H Food and Nutrition projects under the direction of trained adult leaders. Three Junior leaders, Cheryl Kaltwasser, Ann Blackstone and Jan Jameson are the Junior leaders, working with new first year 4-H girls. Some of the lead-ers report that working with these girls is a very rewarding experience. Boys are eligible too, but this year we do not have even one. With the many wives working outside of the home there is a possibility that these young boys will have to help out in food preparation and managing the family food dollar someday. Learning through planned systematic training (cost less in dollars and cents) is better than learning through the "trial and error" method. We hope next year to have boys in classes too.

DATE FOR COUNTY CONTESTS have been changed to April 1, due to previous date conflicting with the Easter holidays. March 18th still remains for Food Show.

MANAGEMENT SCHOOL will be over this week, the last meeting will be on "Credit", which should be of great interest to many.

Last week a total of 30 attended the meeting on Insurance and Investments, which proved to be most interesting. Mr. Jacob Lauer from Brokers firm in Amarillo explained how Stock Market operates and investments in Stocks.

Mrs. Bob Estes of Bovina Inman Insurance Co. brought a representative from her company who very capably handled the subject of Fire-Casualty-Liability Insurance. Dan Ethridge and Jim Ware did a fine job on their subjects assigned. Don't anyone believe them if they say they are not public speakers. To be a good speaker, one must have thorough knowledge on their subject - they did and presented it well. Thanks to all of these people who assisted with the workshop.

To chop raisins very fine, without fat. Freeze them first. PLUMPING RAISINS -- When recipes call for plumped raisins, cover raisins with cold water and bring to boil. Remove from heat and let stand 5 minutes or longer. Also - cover raisins with fruit juice or drained sirup from canned fruit. Cover and place in the refrigerator. Can also be used as sauce for desserts.

Control Demonstration Set --

Rat Infestation Heavy In Area

In recent months, heavy infestations of rats have been noticed throughout Parmer County, according to Ronny McNutt, Parmer County Agricultural Agent. The rats, if left alone, will continue to spread and create a menace to the health of area citizens since the rodents are a known carrier of some 15 different types of disease and parasites which are transmissible to man.

A disease that at one time killed one-fourth of the world's population still smoulders in some areas of Texas, and is transmissible by rats. This disease is bubonic plague, "The Black Death."

McNutt states that "if you have a rat problem on your farm or at your home, you are invited to attend a Rat Control Demonstration to be held at the M. C. Muse farm, formerly the G. A. Bandy farm, Monday, Feb. 20. The demonstration will begin at 2 p.m.

The Muse farm is located three miles west of Bovina on FM Road 2290 and two and three-quarters miles north of the road.

Expert assistance will be available to conduct this rat control demonstration, according to McNutt. The demonstration will be conducted by Ross Smith, of the Fish and Wildlife Department. He will demonstrate how to control the pests with baits, gas and various methods. Smith will also demonstrate how to properly use the baits.

McNutt warns that it is quite useless for one farmer to try to eliminate the problem unless his neighbors are also willing to destroy rats on their farms. "To control these infestations, a program must be widespread. A successful rat control program requires a wholehearted cooperation of an entire community and county," stresses McNutt.

Everyone, especially those with a rat problem, is invited and urged to attend this demonstration and help get rid of a human health hazard, says the agricultural agent.

ODESSA TO HOST 1967 STATE 4-H HORSE SHOW -- The 1967 State 4-H Horse Show will be held in the Ector County Coliseum at Odessa, August 10-12. B. F. Yeates, Extension Service animal husbandman, says more than 10,000 Texas 4-H Club members are now enrolled in the horse program and that about 240 will participate in the state show. County and district shows are held earlier in the year to determine the participants in the state show. It is sponsored this year by the Odessa Chamber of Commerce, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation.

INSPECTION -- Ronny McNutt, county agricultural agent, inspects one of the various rat holes on the Muse farm. Just minutes before the picture was made, approximately 15 rats were driven from the hole by water which was poured into it by Muse.

New Method Demonstrated --

Stockmen To Try Freeze Branding

Pete Jesko of Lazbuddie and Gilbert Kaltwasser of Farwell recently visited the Yellow-house Ranch at Littlefield to watch freeze branding of calves. George White, owner of the ranch, has tried freeze branding on two crops of calves.

Jesko and Kaltwasser were impressed with the freeze branding and feel that it has a place in the cattle operation. Jesko branded 30 head of mother cows this past Saturday.

Kaltwasser plans to freeze brand some 35 to 40 head Tuesday, February 21. The branding will start at about 10 a.m. Anyone interested in freeze branding is invited to come out and watch, Kaltwasser said. Kaltwasser's farm is located two miles west of Oklahoma Lane on farm road 145 and one mile south of farm road 145. From Farwell it is 4 1/2 miles east on farm road 145 and one mile south of farm road 145. Both men will carry out a result demonstration with the County Agent.

Freeze branding was developed by Dr. Keith Farrell at Washington State University. The ideal goal of freeze branding is to destroy the melanocyte or pigment producing cells destroying the hair follicle, thereby leaving the hair over the branded area white. One of the obvious advantages, of course, is greater visibility and legibility of the brand.

A heavy copper iron is recommended. The refrigerant used is an alcohol and dry ice mixture. Electric animal clippers are needed to clip hair over the brand sight.

To get a proper brand, there are four variables that need to be checked. The variables are time, temperature, hide texture and season of the year or stage of hair growth.

The cost of freeze branding will be around 5 cents per brand using the dry ice-alcohol method.

What is money? In our case, metal coins and paper currency. To others, it might be trade tokens, furs, pearl buttons, caribou teeth, blankets, sea shells or copper shields.

That was the situation in our 49th state — Alaska — until shortly before World War II, and years before it joined the Union.

"Alaska had no conventional coinage for most of its history," notes Ken Bressett, numismatic editor at Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wis. "During early years, there was no legal currency as such, and commerce was conducted on a barter or exchange basis. Trade tokens were issued later, but money as we know it is a fairly recent development in Alaska."

Alaskan Indians and Eskimos prized animal skins, beads, animal teeth and sea shells as mediums of exchange. Large copper shields were symbols of tribal wealth. After the coming of the white man, blankets, beads and pearl buttons became favored as money.

Later on, various trading companies issued trade tokens. These were designed for use as small change, to stimulate commerce. Tokens, or "bingles" as they were commonly known, became the standard currency of Alaska for many years.

EXHIBIT A -- M. C. Muse, who recently bought a farm in Parmer County, near Bovina, was amazed to find the farm heavily infested with rats. Muse is holding one of the live rats, pulled from one of the many holes on the place. Muse invites all area farmers with a similar problem to attend a demonstration at his farm on Monday, Feb. 20, in which they will be shown how to rid their premises of the rodents which carry many diseases to humans.

Electric Co-Op Sponsored --

Washington Trips Prizes In Contest

Expense-paid trips to the nation's capitol city will be awarded to winners of an oratorical contest announced by Leo Forrest, manager of Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative, Inc.

The contest is open to any boy or girl at least 16 years of age but not 18 years of age prior to September 1, 1967, Forrest said. Winners will join winners of similar contest sponsored by other electric cooperatives across Texas on the third annual Texas Electric Cooperatives Government-In-Action Youth Tour to Washington, D.C. All expenses of the 13 day trip beginning June 8, will be paid by Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative, Forrest said.

Each entrant will be required to give a five to eight minute talk on the subject "My Future in Rural Texas" and answer one or more of 50 questions asked by the judges.

The oratorical contest will be judged on the basis of (1) knowledge of subject - 40%; (2) speaking ability - 30%; (3) poise - 10%; (4) personality - 10%; (5) appearance - 10%.

Interested young people may obtain an official entry blank from their school or the offices of Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative. The deadline for submitting entries will be Friday, February 17, 1967.

As participants in the Texas Electric Cooperatives Youth Tour, local contest winners will travel by chartered bus to Washington, D.C., where they will spend four days visiting places of historical interest and seeing the nation's government in action.

On June 13, the Texas group will meet more than 800 students from other states for a program sponsored by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association and the Rural Electrification Administration. The program will feature presentations by officials of these organizations and other Washington personalities and possibly the Presidential staff. The day will end with a charter cruise down the Potomac which will include entertainment and refreshments.

Also included on the 13-day agenda will be visits to George Washington's Mount Vernon home, Arlington National Cemetery, the U. S. House and Senate, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Smithsonian Institute, the Lincoln Memorial and other places of interest.

DON'T HAND DOWN CHILDREN'S SHOES -- Don't be tempted to hand children's shoes down to the next child. Each child's foot is different. A good leather shoe, when new, will conform to a child's foot. Once the shoe is molded to the foot, it will not change shape. If the shoe is worn by another child, the foot will have to fit into the shoe shape. The second child's foot could be permanently damaged.

PEWTER HAS CHANGED -- Pewter is being shown again this year in accessories for the home. Pewter has changed. Antique pewter darkened because it contained lead, but modern pewter is made without lead. Therefore, it is tarnish-resistant and never needs to be polished. Whether its finish is bright, a soft satin sheen, or somewhere between these extremes, pewter requires only washing with hot soap suds and hot rinse water, followed by drying with a soft cloth.
