OPPOSE NEW ACT Proposals of 2 New Cabinet Posts Attacked

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (P)—The Brookings Institution, a private organization for economic research, told the senate reorganization committee today that over $30,000,000 annually could be saved through consolidation of the federal money lending agencies.

The report attracted attention at the capital in view of President Roosevelt's estimate that saving under his entire re-grouping program would approximate only $20,000,000 unless congress abandoned many functions.

Chairman Byrd of the committee said that in his opinion the saving could be made even greater and criticized some of the president's recommendations; opposing new cabinet posts, an increase in cabinet salaries and abolition of the comptroller general's office.

Chairman Buchanan of the appropriations committee favored a permanent unit to investigate government expenditures and a possibility of consolidating federal activities.

NEGRO CONFESSES MURDER OF WOMAN TO NEW YORK COPS

Apartment Building
Porter Accepts
Death Blame

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (P)—District Attorney Charles Sullivan said today that Major Greene, negro porter, had confessed slaying Mrs. Mary Robinson Case in an apartment Monday.

Sullivan said that theft was the motive for the beating and strangling of the 25-year-old housewife and the dumping of her body into a bathtub.

The negro was arrested Tuesday night, within 36 hours of the discovery of the woman. For 24 hours he denied any complicity in the crime despite his fingerprints being found in the room, bloody trousers recovered from the incinerator in the apartment house having been identified as his and the shirt he was wearing being identified as one that belonged to the husband of the slain woman.

Both the Mexican men were injured, receiving severe bruises and abrasions. However, none of the trio was reported to be seriously injured. The Mexican men were dismissed from a hospital following medical treatment.

Then movie scouts heard of her, and she was called to Hollywood.

CONSERVATION OF RANGES IS RAPPED BY LIVESTOCK MEN

Federal Program Is Assailed by The Association

EL PASO, Jan. 14 (P)—Federal range conservation policies underwent new attacks Wednesday in the fortieth annual convention of the National Livestock association.

The program, target of criticism along with other national measures, was brought up for further discussion today in a series of dissertations highlighted by the remark of James Smith, Safford, Ariz., member of a county board administering the conservation act, who said: "If we don't watch out we'll be conserved off our ranges."

Soil conservation servicemen have been introducing "controlled grazing" as a means of restoring range vegetation. It consists of fencing off areas to prevent cattle and sheep from feeding there until the grass has returned, and moving herds to other ranges.

The convention also heard warm discussions on the grading of beef as a protection to consumers. Harry L. Heffner, Ocean Side, Calif., said "a universal lack of confidence existed in beef as it is now marketed because it is distributed without regard to grade or quality."

From Charles E. Collins, Kit Carson, Colo., former association president, came the assertion that the grading is such a difficult process that "cattle salesmen would have to go to school."

Roy Parks, Midland rancher, is a member of the board of directors of the National Livestock association. He is in El Paso at the convention.

The tickets were available this morning at the chamber of commerce office and W. B. Simpson, chairman of the ticket sales committee, requested that citizens make the reservations early for the event. Committees later may have to canvass the citizens if sales are not speedy.

Col. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the railroad commission of Texas, will be the principal speaker for the occasion. Women are especially invited, chamber of commerce officers advised.

NEWEST YOAKUM COUNTY WELL FLOWING BY HEADS WHILE DRILLING TO 5,200

Texas Pacific 1 Bennett Expected to Far
Exceed Discovery Well in Size

BY FRANK GARDNER
Reports today from the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 1 Bennett in Yoakum county indicated that it would be a far larger producer than the discovery well a quarter-mile to the southeast. The T. P. test, which resumed drilling at 5,183 with a hole full of oil after a two-day shut-down, made an estimated 30 barrel oil head while drilling to 5,198, later made another head, unestimated in amount, and at 5,200 cleaned itself, flowing a steady stream of oil through 4-inch flow line. Operators intended to carry the well deeper in search of possible pay gains; some were of the opinion that it had encountered an increase in oil at 5,200.

Although it had logged slight oil showings at shallower depths, the T. P. Well found its first actual pay at 5,155-70, filling up 2,600 feet in eight hours, or at the rate of 12 barrels an hour. It is located in the center of the northeast of the northwest of section 678, block D, John H. Gibson survey, about 11 miles southeast of Plains.

The new well, second drilled in the Bennett pool, will probably far exceed the Honolulu & Cascade No. 1 Bennett, the pool opener. The discovery was shot April 6 of last year with 370 quarts of nitro from 5,078 to 5,260, cleaning itself in the first 30 minutes after the shot and flowing by heads thereafter for a 24-hour potential of 235 barrels. Before shooting, it had been swabbing about 70 barrels of oil daily from pay zones in the lime from 5,094-96, 5,215-30, and 5,234-60. It was plugged back to 5,266 to shut off a third of a bailer of sulphur water per hour developed in drilling to a total depth of 5,282.

Ector Well Drilling
Latest of the wells in the Cummins-Goldsmith gap to strike oil, the American Maracalbo Oil Company No. 1-A Scharbauer in north-west Ector county this morning was drilling at 4,219 feet in lime. The last 14 hours, it had put 430 barrels of oil into tanks, or nearly at the rate of 30 barrels an hour. The previous 25 hours the well had tanked 672 barrels. It's pay zones thus far are from 4,180-95 and from 4,204-10, with drilling scheduled to continue to 4,250 feet, at which depth the well will be shot with nitro and later treated with acid. It is located 440 feet from the south and west lines of section 19, block 44, township 1 north, T. & P. survey, a mile east of the Cummins pool proper.

Farther northwest, Manson Oil Company No. 1 Cummins, semi-wildcat between the Cummins pool and the Empire northwest extension is shut in pending potential test after flowing 244.3 barrels of oil following 5,000-gallon acid treatment. It is 440 feet from the north and west lines of section 24, block 45, township 1 north, T. & P. survey. Total depth is 4,254 feet in lime.

Empire Oil & Refinery Company No. 1-D Cummins, east offset to the 1-C well, which extended the Cummins pool two miles to the northwest, flowed 872 barrels in 24 hours through 2 1/2-inch tubing. Total depth is 4,255 in lime, and the well was given acid shots of 1,000, 2,000 and 4,000 gallons. Location is 2,200 feet from the south and 440 feet from the west line of section 34, block 45, township 1 north, T. & P. survey.

Andrews Well Tested
In Andrews county southwest of the Means pool, Getty No. 1 Moxley showed three feet of drilling mud, and no oil, gas or water when drillstem tested from 4,585 to 4,635. The formation tester was open for 15 minutes. The test is now drilling ahead at 4,638 feet in hard lime.

Hannigan No. 1 Logsdon, northwest Andrews test, is drilling at 4,888 feet in lime, while American Liberty No. 1 Mayhew is drilling at 2,870 feet, formation unreported.

A new wildcat location for Andrews is the William Hannigan No. 1 Letus Oil Company, in the west central part of the county about nine miles west of the Deep Rock pool. It will be drilled 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 18, block A-48, public school land.

Allege Thousands Of Needy Not Able To Gain Relief

AUSTIN, Jan. 14 (P)—The first floor contest in the House on the old age pension issue brought defeat for forces advocating larger rolls today, a majority refusing any immediate consideration of a resolution to invoke aid from county commissioners courts in putting all deserving applicants on the list. B. F. Cathey of Quitman said that "tens of thousands" of needy have been unable to obtain pensions.

Governor Allred told the legislature yesterday that an additional $1,300,000 in revenue would be needed to support the pension program until September 1 under the present law.

Governor Allred reported that $1,300,000 was needed immediately for old age assistance and an additional $1,600,000 annually thereafter for that purpose. Authorities estimated he said present revenue for pensions would amount to only $8,400,000 a year, while a minimum of $10,000,000 would be required.

Additional annual requirements he listed as follows: $2,500,000 to offset the present excess of expenditures from an income to the general fund, $2,500,000 to apply on and reduce the existing deficit, $4,324,000 to make effective remaining sections of the social security program and $1,375,000 for eleemosynary institutions.

Representative Graves of Georgetown introduced a resolution asking investigation of the expenditures of the Texas Gulf sulphur company, its officers, attorneys and employes for public relations purposes.

Graves said the investigation was necessary to determine in anti-laboring or other laws had been violated.

FEDERAL AGENTS STUDY NEW CLUES IN MATTSON CASE

Stolen Automobile
Yields up Two
'Leads'

TACOMA, Jan. 14 (P)—Federal agents today studied a blood-stained tire chain taken from a stolen automobile recovered at Everett, Washington, near where the body of kidnapped Charles Mattson was found, as the latest clue.

Finding of a lipstick also led to the possibility that the killer had a feminine accomplice.

The name of a former California convict was flashed last night in the widening hunt for the murderer of the youth.

Officials at Folsom prison disclosed federal manhunters were seeking Fred Orrin Haynes "repeater" convict, but warden Clarence A. Larkin said later he had given out the information before realizing it was connected with the hunt.

The car was impounded when a north-end resident reported it had been parked in front of his home since last Sunday night, possibly about the time the nude, frozen body of the kidnap victim was dumped into the snow six miles away.

Buck Bagged By Mrs. Hal Peck Wins Prize

Add to the list of deer hunters that gained free mounting of the heads to repay their efforts.

Mrs. Hal Peck, Mrs. Peck bagged a 12-point buck in the Davis mountains and the head was mounted free by Bill (Slim) Brown here because it was the largest one brought to him. Brown said it was one of the largest deer heads he had ever mounted.

Mrs. Hal Peck is a member of the State Game Commission, and is believed to be the only Midland county woman that bagged a deer during the season.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The General Motors strike is being considered in Washington from the following angles, among others:

1.—The future of John L. Lewis, chief of the Committee for Industrial Organization, whose willingness to meet owners of the mass production industries in battle at this time is a gamble of his own position in the labor movement and the future success of the C. I. O.

2.—Possibility that showdowns in the steel and coal industries will appear along with the one in automobiles and perhaps bring about a situation of general strike proportions in which Roosevelt will feel forced to act in a way which would bring a break between him and Lewis.

3.—Question whether the U. S. Supreme Court (meaning one or two of its members) will be so impressed by the dangers of extensive labor warfare that it will hold the Wagner labor disputes act constitutional. This would force the automobile, steel, and other industries to concede a major point by bargaining collectively with labor unions and abolishing their company unions.

4.—Possible effect of labor warfare in speeding labor legislation by Congress.

5.—Likelihood that the LaFollette labor spy committee will turn loose its evidence by resuming hearings with General Motors witnesses on the stand. (Alleged evidence exists that spies searched clothing of workers for union cards or other "incriminating" documents which, when found, were considered cause for dismissal.)

C. I. O. Has F. D. R.'s Favor Meanwhile, it is important to bear in mind that the automobile industry employs 1,600,000 workers, directly or indirectly; that Roosevelt is sympathetic with the C. I. O. and would prefer a strong labor movement; and that the anticipated General Motors strike and the series of previous automobile supply strikes are not a well-planned, carefully organized movement.

If Lewis and the C. I. O. consciously planned a big auto strike at this time, no outsider in Washington has been able to discover it. Labor leaders say the C. I. O. movement received heavy impetus from the election, in which labor voted almost solidly for Roosevelt and workers felt a new sense of power. Memory of Roosevelt's strong campaign stand for collective bargaining stiffened labor demand for it. According to union men, strikes in the industries supplying automobile companies broke out in Atlanta, Kansas City, Cleveland, and Flint only after men had been fired or discriminated against for union activity or membership.

Take Bit In Teeth Sidown strikes in the supply industries usually began without investigation from union leaders. Workmen in the flat glass industry, for instance, practically ran away with their union chiefs.

But the sidown strikes enormously accelerated union organization, according to reports in Washington. As if impressed by a new sense of solidarity and power, sidown strikers proceeded to sign cards in large batches, sometimes unannounced.

Lewis insisted on having evidence of this before he announced his collective bargaining ultimatum to General Motors a week before Christmas, soon after he and other C. I. O. leaders realized for the first time how fast the U. A. W. was organizing.

It was then that Lewis decided that opportunity was unexpectedly at hand and should be grabbed at the automobile industry's normal peak of production.

Helps Chrysler, Ford The C. I. O. hopes to take advantage of the competitive situation and let the Chrysler Motor Corporation, with which its relations are less strained, sell all the cars it can while the U. A. W. ties up General Motors.

Regrettably, they admit that Henry Ford may also benefit since organization in Ford plants has been a slow, painful and extremely secretive process. Ford's chief worry, it is reported in Washington, will be getting glass. No one seems to know how much he has on hand.

The Wagner Labor act, with its guarantee of collective bargaining, will not be argued before the supreme court until Feb. 8 and argument is expected to be postponed even beyond that if Justice Harlan F. Stone has not then recovered sufficiently from illness to return to the bench.

BULLDOGS LOSER OF ANOTHER BUT PLAYING BETTER

The Midland Bulldogs still have not won a basketball game but they have been getting some swell practice. For the second night in a row they lost a couple of games when they journeyed over to Big Spring last night but they did put up a good game in one of them and showed a lot better than in their first game.

The Pups proved easy victims of the Big Spring Red Devils, dropping their game by a 8-25 tally, but the first team went at the Steers hammer and tong and only lost in the last few minutes of the game. The final score was 20-28. The local boys made the game a ding-dong affair all the way with first one club ahead and then the other until late in the final quarter when Adams, stellar guard, was banished for too many personal fouls.

Big Dave Wafford finally got his eye on the basket last night and rang up 13 points of the 20 collected by his team. The big one was ringing them in from all angles despite having a couple of men on him at all times.

Despite their improved showing, the team still showed an efficient lack of team work. They weren't passing the ball as they should have, the forwards regularly being left out of the play. Of the three men used at the frontal positions only one of them was able to register a tally. This was Lawson who managed to loop one for two points.

Launch War on Venereal Disease

A vigorous, outspoken attack on venereal diseases in the United States, and against the prejudice, fear, and hypocrisy which have impeded the fight, was launched under the banner shown above, as 300 experts on control measures, including physicians from 32 states, held a "council of war" in Washington. Speakers, including Thomas Parran, right, surgeon general of the U. S., and R. A. Vonderlehr, left, assistant surgeon general, shown at the parley, outlined education, discovery of infectious cases, and treatment as the three points of attack. President Roosevelt said attainment of objectives "would do much to conserve our human resources."

RANGE, LIVESTOCK CONDITIONS OVER STATE IN GOOD SHAPE, DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE FINDS IN SURVEYS

Ranges and livestock were in good shape generally on January 1, 1937. Due to favorable weather conditions, ranges and small grain fields provided better grazing than usual and all livestock have done well.

Ranges: The condition of cattle ranges on January 1, 1937, was 81 percent of normal, compared with 82 percent a month ago, 82 percent a year ago, and 78 percent the 10-year (1927-1936) average on January 1. Ranges carry an ample supply of matured grass and in most sections some green grass and weeds have made fair progress prior to January 1. The Texas Panhandle and other sections in north Texas have short ranges, but small grain

Young man, young woman, be kind to your friends, and keep them, for the very good reason that the older you become the greater the decline in your ability to make friends. This reporter hasn't half as many friends as he had 20 years ago. There is no use of denying that sad fact.

To keep your friends, don't be eternally arguing with them against their opinions. Let them have some fool notions—those notions aren't going to hurt them a great deal.

plemental feeding is anticipated. Livestock: The condition of cattle on January 1, 1937, was 84 percent of normal, compared with 84 percent a month ago, 83 percent a year ago, and 81 percent the 10-year (1927-1936) average on January 1. Indications were that cattle will come through the winter in very good shape. Thus far, cattle were maintained in good flesh without any supplemental feeding. Losses were light during the year and are expected to be very light this winter.

The condition of sheep on January 1, 1937, was 86 percent of normal, compared with 86 percent a month ago, 88 percent a year ago, and 82 percent the 10-year average on January 1. Sheep and fall lambs were in good shape and doing exceptionally well. Fall and winter lambing is well under way and ewes are in good shape. An average fall lamb crop is expected. Sheep and lamb losses were light during the year, except in localities where excessive rains fell immediately after shearing. Losses are expected to be light this winter.

Goats were in good condition also. The condition on January 1, 1937, was 86 percent of normal compared with 87 percent a month ago, 88 percent a year ago, and 82 percent the 10-year average on January 1. Livestock on ranges in the 17 Western States are generally in good condition, but suffered from severe weather early in January. Ranges are fairly good and feed supplies generally ample except in the 1936 drought areas. Favorable weather conditions and lack of snow during December made it possible to utilize range, pasture and field feeds. Show up the close of the year and early in January covered many ranges in higher and northern areas. Rangers generally have a fair to good supply of well matured feed, except in the Great Plains areas that were dry and in eastern Oregon, Washington, and California feed supplies are very short in eastern Montana, the western Dakotas, and northeastern Wyoming. Some feed has been shipped into these areas and recent storms will require heavy use of shipped-in feeds as local supplies are far below actual needs. Western Nebraska has short ranges, but ample hay, and some concentrates have been imported. In Kansas and Oklahoma, ranges and pastures are very short, with light supplies of hay and other feeds. Wheat pastures provided considerable feed during December in the two states, but feed supplies are far below the need, if weather is severe. Range feed is short in parts of north Texas and northeast and southwest New Mexico. Texas ranges and pastures are good, except in the north, with ample to surplus feed except in northern areas. Ranges and other feeds are ample in Colorado and the mountain and irrigated section along the main range in Montana, Wyoming, and New Mexico. Ranges are good in Utah, Idaho, and Nevada, with some late snow covering. These states have ample hay and other feeds. Ranges are dry and short in Oregon and Washington, requiring some feeding, but hay and feed supplies are plentiful. The feed situation in California is bad, some feed has started in the south but lack of seasonal rains and new feed is necessitating much feeding in the northern half of the state. The main problem in short feed areas is the cost of imported feeds. The condition of ranges is 72 percent of normal, compared with 71 percent last month, 79 percent a year ago, 60 percent two years ago, and the 10-year (1927-1935) average of 78.6 percent.

ROADS

By Helen Welshimer

NOBODY knows if years will run Through frightened valleys or to the sun.

FEW roads there are that wind smooth and sweet,
Set for the comfort of pilgrim feet.
That is a thing I know.
Two can bear bramble and briar and stone,
But, oh, awful for one alone,
With frightening roads to go!

CANAAN where all the people were fed
On milk and honey and wheat bread
Is host to the very few.
If we are part of the chosen band,
Destined to enter the Promised Land,
Let me march in with you!

GETHESEMENE is a weary place
For anybody alone to face,
And Calvary's a wounded hill.
Stay by my side, my dear, my dear,
I'll never mind them if you are near,
Though the sky grow dark and still.

WHAT shall they matter, high hills and weather,
New roads or old, if we go together?

Boys' School Offers Cooking Course As "Home Making" Aid to Students

STEPHENVILLE—Built on the theory that men of this modern era carry increasing responsibilities in homemaking a course to deal directly with man's part in building successful homes will be offered John Tarleton College cadets next semester.

Teachers of the course, which has shown marked box office appeal, are Mattie Walker, director of the department of home economics, and Ida Lou Nelson, professor in the department. Tarleton boys who took it last year say: "It's no sissy course and it's far from being a snap. It's interesting and instructive, and it's nearly imperative. Every boy ought to take it."

Men enrolling study the social relationship of the home to society, and of its members to one another. They discuss desirable qualities in a home partner, consider whether they themselves are desirable personalities for such partnerships, if not, why not, and what can they do about it.

One thing first they can do. "Seek health," they are told, "and all these things will be added unto you." They learn the relation of nutrition to health, are shown how to combine food classes properly for adequate diet. Among class projects are the selection of food for protection against colds; diets for the overweight, the underweight, and the athlete; the calculation of energy requirements for college men. A study that engages particular interest is how to use diet to ward off old age, prolong youth.

The learn to order a wise, yet titillating, restaurant meal, and they get some tips on cultivating good food habits. If man's food fancies must rule the home, as they often do, then a man should acquire pleasing diet preferences by the time he has a home and a wife, who will probably cook what he likes for dinner.

Impressed upon the students is the idea that gracious manners are the oil which smooths out the roughness in the machinery of family life. Over and over they are given chances to practice duties that will be theirs as heads of families. They learn to entertain guests, showing impartial attention to each one. They indulge in the fine and neglected art of conversation. They preside as hosts. They even carve the roast pig, or the baked turkey, as necessity arises, and the long thin slices these Tarleton students achieve would draw admiring stares from many a family man.

"Clothes," that so important topic of conversation when women get together, becomes for a time the center of interest for a group of men. By discussion and experimentation, students learn to distinguish quality in materials and to know the appropriate use of different types of cloth. They study colors and styles, and which ones are right for individual types, for various occasions. When the clothes unit is done, they know how to choose correct wardrobes economically.

For understanding of the social relationships of the home and of modern family problems, the boys turn to sociology, psychology, and the law. They study Texas law pertaining to marriage, divorce and the home. They get a nodding acquaintance with taxes, insurance, individual and family budgets, factors to consider in apportioning the income. They discuss, pro and con, advantages of owning a home.

They discuss, also, ideals involved in their choice of the right mate for the home. They differ! But they agree, too, on certain general qualities necessary. Unanimously they demand "a girl who will bring out the best" in them. They want her to be healthy, to know rather much about how to run a home. They demand some common interests, and harmony of tastes and standards, and confidence. They insist on "character." General opinion is that no fellow is going to find his ideal girl, but that he can be sure to find the one who comes nearest to his ideal.

For creating the much-needed love for home in an age when machinery, high industrialization, extreme mobility of population, and concentration in cities is threatening family stability, they get both general and specific suggestions. Generally, they learn something of the psychology of family adjustments and personality development. Specifically, the value of art, music, recreation, books is urged. Art in every day living is proposed for enhancing the charm of the home and the happiness of those who live there. For drawing the fam-

Mrs. Jack Brown Alpha Club Hostess

The Alpha Bridge Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Jack Brown Tuesday afternoon with high score prize presented to Mrs. M. B. Arick, second high, Mrs. Robert Dewey and high cut going to Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. Robert Dewey was guest for the afternoon.

An attractive salad plate was served by the hostess to the guest and the following members: Meses. M. B. Arick, George Bennett, J. R. Crump, Roy Downey, S. M. Laughlin, W. B. Worden.

ily together and creating memory bonds, recreation is recommended—a game room, a home reading circle, music, hearty hospitality, hobbies that can be shared. A home library, a book shelf for each individual member of the family, magazines selected according to income and needs of various members, are suggested.

So goes the class for future heads of homes, at John Tarleton College in this land of "Home, Sweet Home."

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

"OLD HICKORY"

ANDREW JACKSON made his men fear and worship him. So tough was he that they called him "Old Hickory." Swiftly and mercilessly he had conquered the Creek Indians in Georgia and Alabama. Then, in 1814, he became commander of the defending American army at New Orleans. Jackson had fewer than 8000 men. Attacking him were 20,000 trained British soldiers and a large naval squadron. Jackson entrenched himself behind strong fortification in the swamp land outside New Orleans. The British were routed, their general killed, 2000 of their forces were slain. Jackson lost only 71 men.

That victory at New Orleans, and Jackson's later campaigns in Florida against the Seminole Indians, won him such popularity that he was elected president in 1828. He retired in 1837, and died in 1845, at the age of 78.

The new two-cent army stamp portrays the general, alongside Gen. Winfield Scott.

Mrs. Allan Hargrave Midweek Club Hostess

Mrs. Allan Hargrave was hostess to the Midweek Club Wednesday afternoon at three tables of bridge.

A color motif of yellow and white was carried out in the table appointments, menu, and the prize wrappings.

High score went to Mrs. Joe L. Crump, high cut to Mrs. J. B. Leonard, and the floating prize was won by Mrs. George Farley.

A party plate was served during the afternoon to Meses. J. M. Armstrong, W. L. Brown, Hugh Corrigan, J. R. Ashley, J. L. Crump, I. E. Daniel, George Farley, J. L. Greene,

FIRE ENGINE BUT NO WATER

JERUSALEM (UP)—Jerusalem's city councilors bought a magnificent new fire engine and then discovered that the city had no high pressure water hydrants. The fire engine is useless, but is greatly admired as it passes through the streets.

FIRST TRANSFUSION TRACED LONDON (UP)—The first blood transfusion in the world was given in 1492 and was unsuccessful, medical records reveal. Three small boys were given a ducat each for giving their blood to Pope Innocent VIII. The pope and the boys died.

Unemployment Compensation In Texas

How To Become Eligible For Benefits

Question 8: "How do I establish my eligibility for benefits under the Unemployment Compensation Act?" Answer: You must comply with a number of rules:

- (1) You must register for work at a public employment office. Subsequently, we will discuss the establishment of these offices.
- (2) You must make a claim for compensation or benefits according to the rules of the Commission. The law requires every employer to post these rules and regulations at a conspicuous place where you can easily see and study them.
- (3) You must be able to work and you must be ready to take work. In other words, you must be ready and willing—in case a call comes to you from the public employment office at which you have signed up.
- (4) Between the time you lose your job and the time you get your first benefit check, there must be a "waiting period" of two weeks, you will receive no pay during those two weeks, but the public employ-

Feller Signs for $10,000

Signing a contract for what is reported to be $10,000, Bob Feller, phenomenal recruit of 1936, is believed to have become the highest salaried first-year pitcher in history. Feller, whose strikeout feats in a three-month whirl with the Indians last season made him the talk of baseball, took time off from high school work at Van Meter, Ia., to travel to Cleveland, sign, and attend a father-and-son dinner. Cyril C. Slapnicka, left, assistant to President Alva Bradley of the Tribe, and the 18-year-old wonder's father, William Feller, are with him as he affixes his signature.

WTCC Films Will Be Shown to Children

STAMFORD, Jan. 14.—Through an arrangement with the Visual Instruction Bureau, a division of extension for the University of Texas, school children throughout the entire state will have an opportunity to see the forty films used by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce last season in the All West Texas Community and Resource Exhibit at the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial.

The films showing the industries, resources, educational and recreational activities of the forty West Texas towns were provided by the towns for the Centennial exhibit and were shown every day during the big Frontier show. They attracted a great deal of attention and numerous requests for their loan have come to the offices of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from other sections of the state. General interest in them was so great that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce tendered the films to Mrs. Charles Joe Moore, chief of the Visual Instruction Bureau, who will route them through the bureau's regular school channels. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce exhibit, which attracted many visitors at the Centennial last summer, has been held intact in anticipation of the reopening of the Centennial again this year.

Many Students At T-U Earn Own Way

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 14.—Four thousand, six hundred and four University of Texas students earned all or part of their expenses for the 1935-36 session, according to the Registrar's report for last year. Just exactly 55 per cent of the student body either worked while going to school or earned before entering the university at least a portion of the funds necessary for their year's schooling. The largest percentage of working students were men, 69.1 per cent of them, or 3,913, earning all of part of their expenses. A total of 691 women, or 25.6 per cent, likewise worked their way through school. Of both men and women students, nearly half the working group supported themselves entirely. A total of 1,926 men and 312 women earned all of their 1935-36 school expenses. Students in the medical branch of the university, located at Galveston, also contributed to their own support, 47 of them, or 13.1 per cent, earning all their expenses, and 113, or 31.6 percent, contributing a portion of their school expenses by their own effort.

Texas Mines Boasts Enrollment Gains

EL PASO, Jan. 14.—College of Mines and Metallurgy, a branch of the University of Texas, had the largest per cent of increase in enrollment, with one exception, of any Texas institution for the first semester of 1936-37, figures recently released by the State Department of Education reveal. The increase totaled nearly 19 per cent over the enrollment for the same period of the previous year, Forrest J. Agee, registrar, said. Comparison of enrollment data for classes of the first semester of 1936-37 and 1935-36 indicates the rapid growth of the college. Freshmen enrollment increased from 295 to 354, a gain of 20 per cent; sophomore, from 129 to 155, a gain of 20.1 per cent; junior, from 40 to 98, a gain of 145 per cent; senior, from 23 to 70, a gain of 204 per cent; and post-graduate and irregular students, from 2 to 49.

Students who are paid strictly on a commission basis are exempted.

If you have any questions concerning the operation of this law as it affects employers or workers, you can have your questions answered by writing to R. B. Anderson, chairman, Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, Austin.

Business Too Good—School is Called Off

EL PASO, Jan. 14.—The mining business in the Southwest is too good at the present time to try to have a prospectors' and miners' institute, Prof. John P. Graham of the College of Mines and Metallurgy, a branch of the University of Texas, asserted. Only thirteen registered for the five-day institute for miners and prospectors being held at the College of Mines last week. "I attribute the small number of registrants to the fact that most of the miners and prospectors in this section of the United States are employed at this time. They just don't have time to attend an institute."

The re-opening of mines and smelters throughout this section of Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona, has put hundreds of men to work, Professor Graham said.

ment office will make every effort to find a job for you. However, it is not necessary that those two weeks of waiting be one right after the other. If you have been unemployed any two weeks out of the thirteen weeks before you make application for compensation, then you can draw your compensation right away.

(5) You must have had a job for at least 13 weeks during the year prior to the time when you lose your job. The next article will discuss the exceptions to this rule, such as sickness, etc.

A Special Case Of Eligibility Question 9: "After I had been working for a considerable time and had built up my compensation credits, I lost my job. Right away I started a small business of my own. I kept this business going for a number of months, but finally I had to apply for unemployment compensation. But the law says that I must have been employed for at least 13 weeks during the last 52 before I become unemployed. My only job in the past 52 weeks has been in my own little business. Does this make me ineligible for benefits?"

Answer: No. In such cases as yours, you will be allowed to skip the time that you were working for yourself. You can start counting your 13 out of 52 weeks in the time before you started your own business. Let's see an example:

First, you worked for wages during 1937. Thus you built up 13 weeks of possible benefits.

Second, you lost your job on Jan. 1, 1938, and started in a small business of your own which kept going for a year.

Third, your own business goes on the rocks and you apply for benefits in January 1939. In your application you go back to the time when you were working for wages, or in other words, to your 1937 record of employment.

This same treatment will be used for people who were physically or mentally disabled and therefore unable to work. This procedure will be used for people who have been working in businesses or trades, such as farming, which are not covered by the law. These occupations will be detailed in the next article.

What Occupations Does the Law Cover

Question 10: "What occupations are covered by the law?" Answer: The easiest way to answer that question is to list the occupations that are not covered. The unemployment compensation act includes all workers for any one employer who employs as many as 8 persons, except in certain specified fields.

- The Act covers all occupations with these exceptions:
- (1) State, Federal, county and city workers of all political subdivisions of any of the governing units named are exempt.
 - (2) If Congress has written a special unemployment insurance law covering your industry, you are exempt from the state law.
 - (3) Farm labor is exempted, and all domestic service in a private home.
 - (4) If a father works for his son, his daughter, or his wife, he is exempted. Likewise, children working for their parents are exempted.
 - (5) The officers and crews of vessels on navigable waters are exempted.
 - (6) Workers in a non-profit sharing organization, such a community chest, are exempted.
 - (7) Agents of insurance companies who are paid strictly on a commission basis are exempted.
