Abilene Firm Gets Contract for New School Building

Romance Bared

Surprising even most of their intimates, Owen D. Young (above), 62-year-old international industrialist and financier, and Mrs. Louise Clark (below), 50, twice widowed beauty of modest means, were married at St. Augustine, Fla., and slipped away for a honeymoon, destination a secret.

Prevention of Accidents Get Rotary Study

Talks pertaining to public health, prevention of accidents and rendering first aid were given at the Rotary club today, the program being in charge of the community service committee, with Dr. K. F. Campbell chairman.

Pady Sue Whitcomb, high school senior, gave a brief address on the tuberculosis campaign to be conducted in Midland during the month of March, and made a plea for parents to have their children examined under the free clinic to be held.

Robert Payne, high school student, told how a Boy Scout may render first aid after an accident to make the victim more comfortable until a doctor can arrive.

Col. John Perkins made a powerful talk on the responsibility of the public for the highway and traffic accidents which last year took 36,000 lives and caused a million injuries. He declared that not until the public will go into the courts as jurors and assess penalties on those who cause accidents, regardless of influence or personal friendship, can the annual toll be decreased.

R. L. Miller made a talk on methods by which the general public may relieve suffering and give first aid to accident victims. He announced the annual Red Cross safety and first aid school which will open Monday, March 1, at 7:30 p. m., in the county court room, with D. J. H. Bargainer instructing, and invited the public to attend.

Col. Thomas H. Boles, superintendent of the Carlsbad Caverns, a rest of the club, made a talk on the improvements at the National Park and extended an invitation to people of this section to continue visiting the Caverns.

OATES & SON GET AWARD FOR NORTH ELEMENTARY JOB

Combined Bids Lower Than Firm Having Low 'Straight'

START MARCH 1
Occupancy Sept. 1
Called For In Contract

C. S. Oates & Son of Abilene received the general contract for the new North Elementary school building, it was announced this afternoon, after an analysis of bids and alternates showed their figures to be the lowest submitted by a group of eighteen contracting firms. The award was based on the fact that their combined bids for a straight contract, also with PWA provisions and with certain alternates, was below that of the Suggs Construction Co. which had placed the lowest basic bid.

A. P. Kasch of Big Spring received the contract for plumbing and heating and for electrical wiring.

Construction will be started March 1, the contract calling for delivery of the building to the school board by September 1, it was announced.

Combined low bids for general contract, plumbing and heating and electrical work of the new North Elementary school building totaled $78,900, subject to certain specified alterations as outlined in the architect's plans, it was found when the board of trustees of Midland public schools opened the bids this morning.

Suggs Construction Company of Abilene, with basic bid of $69,500 open of $74,500 under PWA provisions, was low for the general contract. His bid called for 195 working days, or 200 if the building is constructed with PWA labor.

A. P. Kasch, of Big Spring, with $7,500 for plumbing and heating and $2,017 for electrical wiring, or a total of $9,517 for the three projects, was low on those divisions.

Contract probably will be awarded this afternoon, after all bids are analyzed for deductions or additions under the various alternates outlined in the plans of Voelcker & Dixon, architects of Wichita Falls. Herbert Voelcker was here in person to superintend the letting of contracts.

The bids, eighteen for the general contract, six for plumbing and heating and six for electric wiring, were opened formally in the office of Dr. Jno. B. Thomas, president of the board, according to the official advertisement. However, they were read publicly in the private dining room of Hotel Scharbauer in order to accommodate the hundred or more contractors, material men and interested persons here to attend the letting.

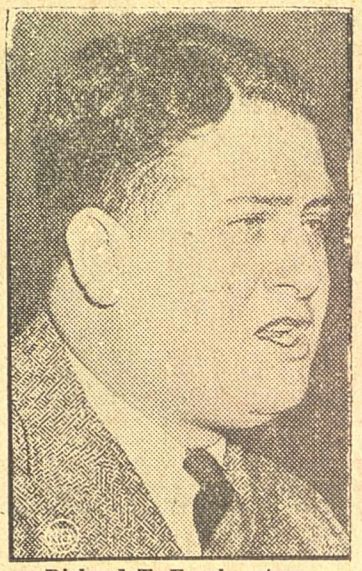

The architect and members of the school board were enthusiastic over the wide interest shown in the project by responsible contractors from over the country. The architect declared that the building was not "shorted" in any particular and will be on a par with the high school and junior high school buildings already in use, with many new features included. Bonds of $75,000 for construction of the building recently were voted by the school district.

School representatives said that as no PWA grant has yet been received, the construction probably will be started under the open contract. In the event the PWA grant should come through, the lowest PWA bid would prevail, necessitating a deal between the low bidder open and the low bidder PWA. C. S. Oates & Son of Abilene placed the lowest PWA bid, of $71,200.

Those placing bids for the general contract included Suggs Construction Co., Abilene; Abilene Construction Co., Abilene; C. S. Oates & Son, Abilene; Dunlop-Coughran, Abilene; Balfanz Construction Co., Abilene; Groesbeck Lumber Co., Ft. Worth; Templeton-Cannon, San Angelo; W. S. Moss, Lubbock; Robert Macey, Lubbock; T. S. Ross & Sons, Gorman; R. F. Ball Construction Co., Fort Worth; J. E. Morgan & Sons, El Paso; Will O'Connell, San Angelo; James T. Taylor, Fort Worth; Gurley Construction Co., Ft. Worth; M. M. Weaver, Center; J. L. Hair Construction Co., Wichita Falls; Eckert-Fair Construction Co., Dallas.

Bidders for the plumbing and heating contract were Wells Plumbing Co., Quanah; Davis, Vickers, Sweetwater, A. P. Kasch, Big Spring; Anthony Co., Lubbock; Roche-Newman, Dallas.

May Be Occupied By Sunday, Tolbert Anticipates

Final inspection and acceptance of the Midland postoffice building by the treasury department was held late Wednesday, it was announced today, and Postmaster Allen Tolbert was expecting to move to the new federal edifice Sunday.

I. D. Porter, district engineer of the treasury department, and William S. Johnson, construction engineer for the postoffice department, with their staffs, inspected the building, accepting it from J. K. Cross, construction superintendent for A. Farnell Blair, the contractors.

Postmaster Tolbert said the building would be occupied as quickly as possible, and that no plans have been announced for an open house or public inspection.

Most Representative and Most Popular Boys, Girls Chosen in School Election

Two members of the Midland high school football and basketball teams, David Wafford and Woodrow Adams, were chosen the most representative and most popular boys in the elections just completed. Dorothy Lou Speed was elected the most representative girl and Wanda Ticknor was elected the most popular one.

Elections in all divisions were hotly contested except in the most representative boy race where Wafford won on the first ballot, polling more votes than the combined total of his two opponents, Robert Payne and Thurman Bryant.

In the most popular boy race Adams failed to roll up a majority over his opponents for the honor, Newell Ellis, Jr., and Lige Midkiff, but finished ahead of Ellis in the run-off.

In the most representative girl contest, Miss Speed defeated Adelaide Reiger in the run-off election after she had failed to gain a majority over Miss Reiger and Christine Pate in the primary election.

DR. TOWNSEND IS FOUND GUILTY OF SENATE CONTEMPT

Jury Deliberates Less Than Hour On Decision

TO APPEAL CASE
Maximum Sentence Is One Year, Fine Of $1,000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (P)—A jury convicted Dr. Francis E. Townsend yesterday on contempt of the House of Representatives for walking out of a committee's hearing last May.

The verdict was returned exactly one hour after the jury received the case.

The United States District Court jury deliberated only 50 minutes however, before reaching its decision as it had sent word 10 minutes earlier that it was ready to report.

The old age pension leader told the jury as the last defense, he had not planned his sensational walkout on a House committee last May before the committee, summoned him. A former air, John B. Kiefer, had accused him of that.

Justice Peyton Gordon instructed the jury that if it found Dr. Townsend had "willfully absented himself from the committee's hearing without its permission or acquiescence" it should find him guilty.

The arguments of attorneys for both sides required only 22 minutes. Leslie Garnett, district attorney, said from the Government's evidence "there is no escaping the conclusion he (Dr. Townsend) wished to flout the processes of law."

Elisha Hanson, attorney for Dr. Townsend, said there was only one important question for the jury: "Whether Dr. Townsend willfully disobeyed the subpoena served upon him."

Denying this was true, Hanson said there was no record that any effort was made to detain Townsend when the old age pension advocate left the committee hearing and that it should be assumed the committee acquiesced his departure.

Justice Peyton Gordon allowed three days for the defense to file a motion for a new trial. He continued Townsend's $1,000 bond.

The statute under which Townsend was convicted provides for a maximum penalty of a $1,000 fine and a year's imprisonment.

DUST BOWL SAID TO BE GAINING 30 MILES EACH YEAR

Methods to Combat 'Blizzards' Are Studied

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 25 (P)—Agriculturists marshalled here for a war against crop-killing wind erosion, were told Wednesday that the "dust bowl" is spreading swiftly across the southwest and creeping eastward in Oklahoma at the rate of 30 miles a year.

Before the conference was a variety of methods of combatting dread "black blizzards." Conference were prepared to ask the federal government for aid because "the dust problem is too big for any one state to handle."

C. H. Hyde, Alva, Okla., farm leader, said he had made observations that showed the area of loose, shifting top soil was marching eastward 30 or more miles annually.

Declaring the dust area is spreading swiftly over the southwest, Giles Miller, Guymon, Okla., publisher, said "one community, one county, even one state cannot handle it—it's a federal proposition."

"We will have to follow a uniform program in a 200-mile wide strip stretching from North Dakota to the southern edge of the Texas Panhandle," Miller declared.

Dr. Paul Sears, Oklahoma university botany professor, said cover crops were the only solution to the dust problem. In his opinion, but added "we must use nature's method."

She claimed their 1932 Reno verdict was not legal, and named Booth's present wife as corespondent. The romance of Granddaughter Lois, upper left, young Booth's princess sister, crumbled when her marriage to Prince Erik of Denmark, lower left, was annulled by Erik's cousin, King Christian.

Homer Wade, representing the Texas cooperative council, opposed the bill and suggested the duties of attorney general's department be transferred to the University of Texas, the department of education's to the teachers' colleges and the highway department's to Texas Technological college as economy moves.

L. T. Mayhew of Plainview said all farmers he had queried were against abolition of the department.

Ralph Moore of Williamson county, master of the Texas state grange, said his organization was unanimously against the bill. He declared the department aided agriculture immeasurably on boll worm and hoof and mouth disease extermination, seed and nursery inspection and other matters.

SUBSIDIARY OF DOUGLAS PLANT IS CLOSED DOWN

Unestimated Number Walk Out On Jobs

CLIMAX IS NEAR
Company Offices Are Invaded, Doors Barricaded

SANTA MONICA, Calif. Feb. 25 (P)—The sit-down strike of aviation workers spread today from the Douglas plant to the factory of the Northrup Corp., a subsidiary employing 1,000 men, with an unestimated number of them striking.

The Douglas situation approached a climax, strikers invading some of the offices. They also entered a room of the government radio station and barricaded the door.

Strikers started toward the engineering department where 200 were working but turned back as guards were dispatched.

The strikers have consistently refused to accede to the management's request to leave the company's plant.

The concern's $25,000,000 construction program—including $19,000,000 in federal contracts—is at a standstill and 5,600 workers are jobless.

Demands for higher pay and union recognition sent hundreds of recruits into the ranks of the nation's strikers Wednesday.

Approximately 27,000 persons were idle in labor disputes at more than 50 industrial and business firms scattered from New England to the Pacific coast.

Production was curtailed or halted in textile and paper mills; cigar and auto parts factories, laundries, ship yards, steel and iron foundries, and a huge airplane plant.

In a dozen centers the employees participated in "sit down" demonstrations. Commenting on this strategy, Secretary of Commerce Roper declared:

"Any sit down strike that undertakes to take over private property is a serious and fundamental thing and in my opinion would not be long endured by the courts."

He spoke after Connecticut state police removed 10 of these squatters from the property of the Electric Boat company, builders of submarines for the government at Groton. Union leaders, protesting the use of officers as "illegal and unwarranted," formed a picket line.

The first actual eviction of secondary strikers had a peaceful sequel at Decatur, Ill. There Sheriff Emory Thornhill led 25 deputies and policemen to the Century Wallpaper mills to oust 45 men who had held the plant for two days in defiance of a court order. But the strikers surrendered the plant and appeared in circuit court in answer to contempt citations. They were released on their own recognizance pending a hearing March 16.

How Great Britain Manages Its Own Highest Courts of Justice

British History Has Only One Parallel To Roosevelt's Proposal

By MILTON BRONNER, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 24—In his advocacy of old age pensions, child labor amendment, and in his proposal for a widely extended civil service, President Roosevelt can find precedent and parallels in Great Britain. But when it comes to his latest proposal—that regarding a complete overhaul of the federal judiciary—there is no precedent in England.

BIG SALARY AND PENSION

In America, federal judges hold their jobs for life. In Britain, judges hold their jobs for life—except the highest of all the judiciary—the Lord High Chancellor.

He is named by the king upon the advice of the prime minister. He is a member of the premier's cabinet. He sits as member of some of the highest courts. He acts as speaker of the House of Lords, the supreme judicial authority of Great Britain.

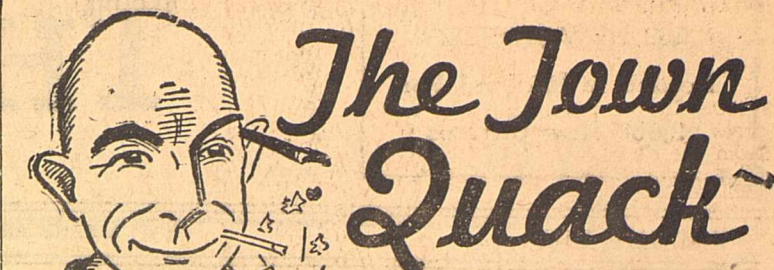

An aide carrying the train of his judicial robes, Lord High Chancellor Hailsham approaches the House of Lords for the opening of law sittings. Lord Hailsham, 65, presides over the chancery division of England's High Court of Justice. His job ends when the cabinet falls.

53; Sir Mark Romer, 70; Sir Wilfred Greene, 53; and Sir Leslie Scott, 67.

From this court the final appeal is to the House of Lords, the supreme judicial authority of Great Britain. Actually, appeals to the House of Lords are not heard by its hundreds of peers, but by the so-called Law Lords.

The Lord High Chancellor presides. Sitting with him are Lord Blanesburgh, 75; Lord Atkin, 69; Lord Thankerton, 63; Lord Russell, 69; Lord Macmillan, 63; Lord Maugham, 70; and Lord Roche, 66. These ple says the boys might as well play keeps, while others say the game leads to gambling. What is your opinion? I'll be glad to hear from you.

Maybe if girls would play "keeps" at an early age they would be sharper bridge players in later years when they put so much on a corner.

The Dalhart Texan points out that it is a grand and glorious feeling when you are expecting a sandstorm and get a snow. I'll bet it is.

At least we get half of it. We awake every morning expecting a sandstorm.

We had a stranger in a big rush at the office this morning at 8:30. He wanted to cash a check and didn't have time to wait for the banks to open. But we didn't have time to wait on him before 9 o'clock anyway.

ation of Canada violated its constitution. One point more to complete the picture:

In the United States, the U. S. Supreme Court can hold that an act passed by congress and approved by the president, is unconstitutional and that kills it.

In Great Britain there is no court which can declare illegal any act passed by Parliament and signed by the king. Parliament is the supreme boss.

People don't stop to think, but a lot of organizations will bring their free publicity and propaganda to the newspapers, day in and day out, and then when they have a little printing to do, they forget the newspaper is in town. I wonder what they think newspaper employes live on.

This is the season of the year when "keeps" are played. Some people

Privy Council as have held very high judicial office.

Among these are Lord Sankey, 71; Lord Merrivale, 82; and Lord Alness, 69. Just the U. S. Supreme Court knocked out much of the Roosevelt New Deal by its decisions, so the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council recently knocked out much the new deal inaugurated in Canada by former Premier Bennett. Canada, like the United States, has a written constitution. The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council found that the new deal leg-

Viewing the Supreme Court From Every Angle

In the magnificent new $11,000,000 building where these unusual pictures were made sits the U. S. Supreme Court, whose reorganization is now being hotly debated throughout the country. At upper left is the impressive pediment of the main entrance to the building. Entering, the visitor is escorted by uniformed guards into the central lobby, whose ceiling is a dream of architectural decoration. Then perhaps he will see the justices themselves behind the polished and carved wooden benches in the courtroom, lower left. The justices have entered the building through the subterranean auto entrance shown at lower right. Many visitors do not see one of the architectural marvels of the building, the staircase shown in the center, which spirals upward without any underpinning whatever, for each step is a marble slab set in the wall and overlapping the one beneath. Visitors, always eager to see the architectural marvels of the building, have multiplied in number since the court became a center of attention.

1500 Vacancies In Eighth Corps Area

FORT SAM HOUSTON, Texas, Feb. 25.—An additional increase of 500 men for the authorized strength of the Army in the Eighth Corps Area allotted by the War Department has made vacancies for approximately 1500 men who wish to enlist during February and March it was announced at Corps Area Headquarters here today.

Moving toward the attainment of a Regular Army enlisted strength of 165,000 in the United States by June 30, the Eighth Corps Area has been granted an authorized strength of 29,137 men.

Due to the remaining vacancies in the original quota, normal losses and an increased quota, the Eighth Corps Area will be able to offer enlistments to 1500. During the month of January nearly 1600 men were enlisted, either for the first time or as re-enlistments.

Under the increased quota, Fort Sam Houston will be permitted to enlist approximately 500 men; Fort Francis E. Warren about 125; Fort D. A. Russell, 50; and Fort Bliss 50, and vacancies in lesser numbers exist at all other posts and stations in the Corps Area.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHEE
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Tangled threads of human frailty and error are snarled over the reverse side of the New Deal historical tapestry, now woven to the point where ye foolhardy knight, Sir Franklin, doth challenge to mortal combatte ye Nine Supreme Knights of ye Marble Palace.

Thanks to the fact that supreme court justices, presidents and other characters involved do not always confine their feelings within their bosoms, it is possible to reveal these items of background to the current cannonade.

The issue between Roosevelt and the court probably would never have reached a crisis had the court's conservative justices not been encouraged by NRA's maladministration and unpopularity to kill the blue eagle and had their attitude subsequently not been stiffened by unfavorable public reaction to Roosevelt's "horse and buggy" remarks.

The bitter parts of Roosevelt's message to Congress asking power to pack the court were inserted by Donald Richberg. They were traceable to bitterness engendered by the Schechter decision in both Roosevelt and Richberg. The latter had offered to stake his legal reputation on victory in that case.

The four most conservative justices believed they could kill, or at least turn back, the New Deal by killing NRA.

If the AAA test case had come to the supreme court before the NRA case, more than one observer believes, the New Deal would have been upheld in its farm program.

Errors Came in Series

One mistake followed another. The president gambled on NRA as his big recovery ace, rather than the public works program. NRA was administered so badly that nearly everyone either hated it or was frightened by it—including nine justices of the supreme court.

Richberg pulled a boner in, pushing the Schechter "sick chicken" case before the supreme court.

Those who counted strongly on the liberalism of Justices Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo feel that the three justices made a mistake by joining in the sweeping condemnation of NRA, which was widely taken as a rebuke to the whole New Deal. Roosevelt made a mistake when, egged on by General Johnson, he made his famous "horse and buggy" statement.

Had Been "Struggling" Along

No important case involving New Deal reform had come before the court prior to the NRA case. Up to that time, according to the inside information, the conservative justices had been somewhat in the same frame of mind as Republican members of Congress. They felt it would be wise and expedient to string along with Roosevelt in the emergency because the country was behind him.

There was great dissension, within the New Deal at the time, one large faction favoring a new, modified NRA with unpopular and unworkable features removed. This faction was successful to the point that it persuaded Roosevelt and Richberg to drop the Belcher lumber case, first scheduled as the NRA test case. But Richberg insisted on pulling it through, and picked the Schechter case as his Armageddon.

The court wrote about as savage an opinion as it could write, without including a single kind word, a single suggestion as to what Congress might do to meet the emergency or a single word in recognition of the problem.

That was what sent Roosevelt, as his intimates know, into a rage. He never forgave the justices—at least, not the elderly conservatives. Richberg was humiliated. Roosevelt himself developed something of a sense of humiliation when the public showed antagonism at his "horse and buggy" statement. But if this lasted long, the election completely obliterated it. The memory of the joint licking they had taken at the court's hands, however, probably led Roosevelt to confer chiefly with Richberg when the recent message was written.

Decision Up to Hughes

Meanwhile, Chief Justice Hughes, intellectually receptive to the New Deal philosophy, had to decide whether to stand against the conservative majority and thus undermine court prestige by the unpleasant appearance of 5 to 4 decisions, or to join with the majority in its votes to preserve a "front." Since he went with the majority in the 6-0-3 decision against AAA, the liberal minority has been increasingly savage in accusing the majority of following its personal "economic predilections" instead of the Constitution.

The court's prestige has been undermined and perhaps Hughes wishes he hadn't said in 1928: "We live under a Constitution, but the Constitution is what the justices say it is."

"Luckies have been my cigarette for five years now. I rate them a 4 star cigarette. They're always good to the throat, and taste so much better than other cigarettes that it seems to me this 'Toasting' process is a swell idea. Yes, a light smoke like Luckies rates aces high with both my throat and taste."

APPEARING IN THE NEW COLUMBIA PICTURE, "WHEN YOU'RE IN LOVE"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Grant verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

Mrs. Hills Reviews Trip At Evangels Class Tea

Velvet Nightgown to Queen's Taste

What English fashionists hope will be a new vogue was at least given impetus by Queen Elizabeth of England (below) with purchase of a British-made nightgown of peach colored silk velvet—a vogue that has not been popular, according to style historians, for several hundred years. The Queen's nightgown is high waisted and belted in the Empire tradition, trimmed at the bodice and hem with fine lace. It has quarter length sleeves.

Mrs. Borum and Ruth Class Honor Guests

The Evangels class of the Baptist church gave a tea Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leonard Proctor, 103 N. G street, to honor their teacher, Mrs. Winston F. Borum on her birthday, and the Ruth Sunday school class. The class groups of Mrs. Proctor and Mrs. W. W. Willis were hostesses.

A white lace cloth over a red cloth covered the table. Red rose buds and red tapers formed the centerpieces for the table and buffet. Mrs. R. D. Scruggs presided at the tea service, and Mrs. W. D. Anderson presided at the coffee service.

Mrs. L. W. Leggett presented Mrs. J. M. Hills who gave a very interesting review of her trip to the Holy Land. Mrs. L. T. Harris gave a humorous reading, and Norma Jean Hubbard presented a gift to Mrs. Borum from the Evangels class.

Sixty guests called during the afternoon.

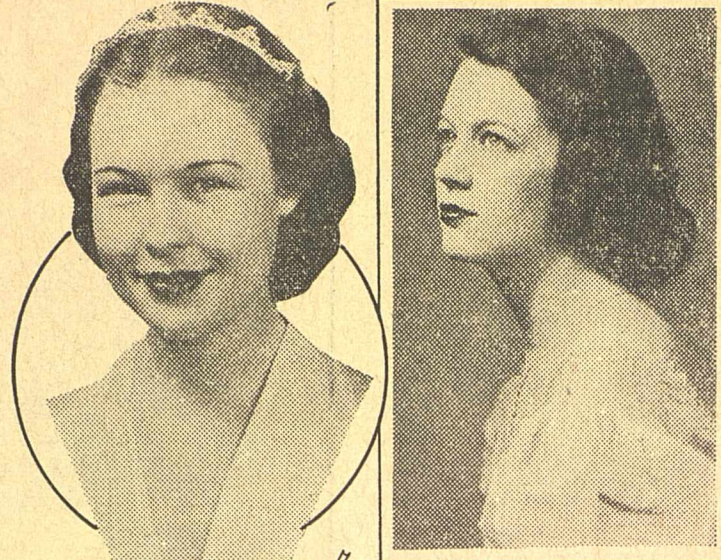

Lucky 13 Club Has Night Party

Mrs. B. M. Hays, 207 North Weatherford, was hostess Tuesday night when members of the Lucky Thirteen Club and their husbands were entertained at bridge.

GATEWAY TO A DEAD CITY.

GOATS browse today where once thrived the merchants of Morocco. Now and then a pilgrim, often a tourist, arrives at the filigreed gateway of the wall that is the remains of the ancient city of Chella, in French Morocco.

The city became the burial place of sultans, and there, in the loneliness of decay, a few old, bearded Moors still tend the sacred tomb of Abou el Hassan Ali, who ruled about 1331, and who had a white wife, called "Sun of the Morning." Gentiles, those who are not of the faith, are scarcely tolerated as visitors to this burial ground.

A picture of Chella's gateway appears on a stamp issued for French Morocco in 1917. The stamp appears here.

PACED TO BE OUT IN FRONT but priced with the sixes!

You drive a big bargain when you pilot this stunning Buick SPECIAL down the road! It's a valve-in-head straight-eight—priced only slightly higher than the average six outside the lowest price field.

*LOWEST PRICE EVER ON A BUICK 4-DOOR SEDAN!

Today's price for a Buick 4-door sedan is the lowest in all Buick history—and you get longer wheel-base—greater power—valve-in-head thrift—straight-eight smoothness—roomier body—safety glass all over—bigger luggage compartment—and immeasurably greater performance, comfort and style! See your dealer for low delivered prices, and see what a buy Buick really is, compared to the average six outside the lowest price field.

GENERAL MOTORS TERMS TO SUIT YOUR LIKING

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

CARWISE you're out in front when you take your comfortable place behind this Buick SPECIAL's wheel—under its bonnet is not merely an eight, but an oil-cushioned valve-in-head straight-eight, which means the ablest of them all!

It will show fleet heels to any high-way challenger except another Buick—yet the unbelievable thing is not this gorgeous car's performance, but its price. Big, handsome, smartly styled as it is, it costs close to the sixes that it so easily out-performs.

This four-door sedan pictured here actually costs less delivered, than some cars with two fewer cylinders and less efficient engine design.

Even when you average all the sixes outside of the lowest price field, you find little more than a dollar-a-week difference the first year and after that it's velvet.

Count just the mechanical differences—torque-tube drive, valve-in-head engine design, double-end stabilization, Aerobat carburetion, a whole carful of such features—and that dollar-plus added each week to the easy payments begins to pale into no burden at all.

Just get in a Buick—give yourself over to a real thrill for ten or fifteen minutes—you'll forget about price entirely! You can afford it—because it's priced down with the sixes, so why be content with any lesser car?

WINTER RACING SUFFERING FROM LACK OF TALENT

Hialeah Park, Coast Rivalry Raises The Purses

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

Competition between California and Florida, bitter since racing returned to the Golden State in 1934, has bogged down just as did the Gran Chaco affair in South America.

Lack of talent is the reason. Shortage of first-rate runners brings wails of grief from the publicity bureaus. How can they continue to feed the well poked up fires of their rivalry with nags the great majority of which are not fit to appear in a trial for a $50,000 special?

Winter racing now finds itself in the position of summer racing, insofar as the dearth of material is concerned.

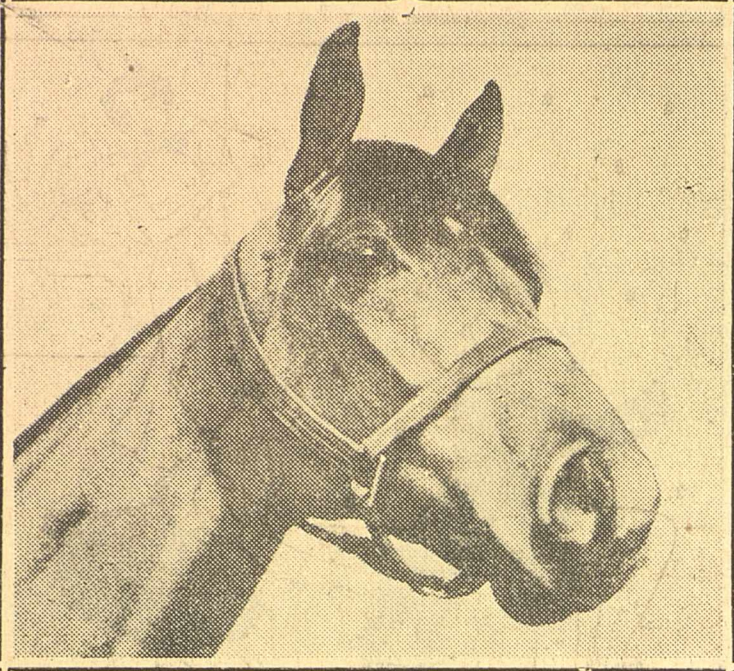

Summer racing has suffered from class doldrums practically since the bumper crop which included Twenty Grand, Equipoise, and Mate. The scarcity of first class thoroughbreds has been felt even more since the depression resulted in the legalization of the pari-mutuels in so many states and tracks began springing up like pinball machines.

The winter situation is the more acute because the summer traditionally is racing time.

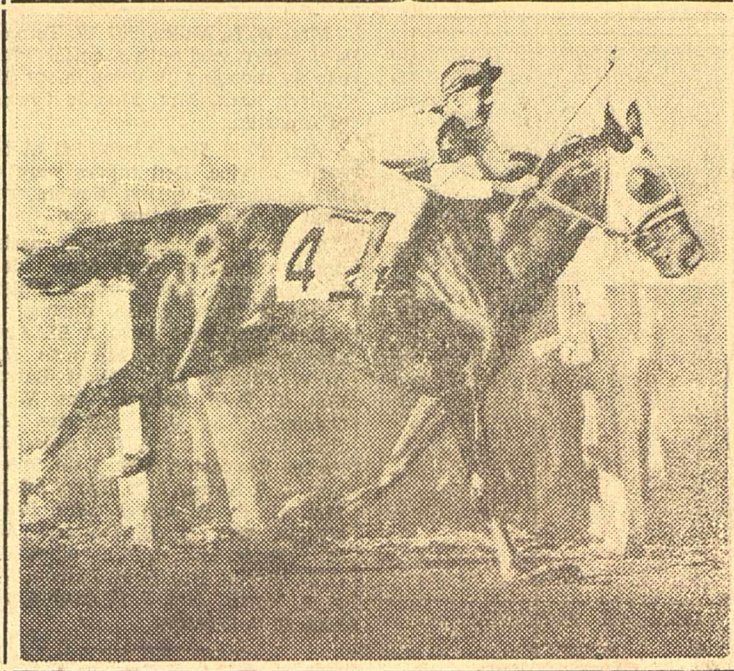

Racing is indeed fortunate in that the class of horses didn't matter so much as long as the steeds are fairly well matched. The sport is entertaining enough without outstanding performers if fields are balanced.

It's The Race, Not The Horses
Patrons of lucky roof circuits for years were thrilled by the races of Sweepstakes, One Hour Rain or Shine, and a half dozen others. Sweepstakes was known as the perpetual motion horse. He had been cut out to be a champion, but something had gone wrong. Eventually he wound up with the platers. Once at his level he was a Battling Nelson to crack, and when he retired he had rung the bell no less than 76 times. One Hour wasn't far behind.

For the past four years the trouble has rested in the want of pretenders to the throne. Equipoise, Discovery, and Granville ruled practically unchallenged. Their class was not doubted for a moment, but there were mighty few to test them. Only the handicappers could beat them. When winter racing started in earnest with the inauguration of Santa Anita Park, there were plenty of famous cripples which, if worst came to worst, could be drafted. It was an attractive proposition for the trainers of the cripples.

A Twenty Grand might, with a little luck, get ready for one more big effort. He might have just that one race left in his system, and if he did there was plenty of sugar to reward him. So the boat-named The Flamingo, Santa Anita repudied with a $50,000 Santa Anita Derby.

Today the Santa Anita Handicap of Feb. 27, looks like an open affair which might be won by any one of three or four sprinters of doubtful class.

Right now I'd pick Seabiscuit, Rosemont, and Time Supply, in the order named. Firethorn is great when at his best, but where has that flown to? Rosemont never has returned to the form of his younger days. Special Agent and Indian Broom

Income Tax In A Nutshell

YOUR INCOME TAX NO. 12

GROSS INCOME, NET INCOME AND SURTAX NET INCOME

Three of the terms used in the income-tax law, namely, gross income, net income, and surtax net income, should be noted particularly inasmuch as they are vitally important to the whole subject of the income tax.

Gross income includes in general all income from any source whatever, unless exempt from tax by law. The gross income of the usual business consists of the gross profits on sales, plus any income from investments and incidental or outside operations or sources. The return must show the gross sales, purchases, and cost of goods sold. To reflect income correctly, inventories are necessary at the beginning and end of each taxable year.

A lawyer, doctor, architect, physician, dentist, clergyman, author, or other professional man must include in gross income all fees, salaries, and compensation of any kind for professional services.

Net income upon which the tax is assessed is gross income less the deductions allowed by law. Such deductions include business and professional expenses, such as salaries, pensions, and bonuses to employees, taxes, losses, interest paid, bad debts, depreciation, depletion, contributions, etc. Failure to understand deductions against gross income and credits against net income has resulted in numerous errors on the part of taxpayers.

An earned income credit is provided in addition to the personal exemption and credit for dependents, etc., for the purpose of computing the normal tax. Having arrived at the net income, the next step is to deduct the personal exemption and credit for dependents. The balance represents the surtax net income.

The next step is to deduct from such balance the earned income credit and other credits to which the taxpayer is entitled. The remainder represents the amount net income subject to the normal tax of 4 percent. Any amount of surtax net income which is in excess of $4,000 is subject to the surtax. The surtax is to be computed in accordance with the rates provided for in the various so-called surtax brackets.

Major Rookie Crop Promising, but It's Best Not to Expect Too Much

Feller, Owen Head Annual Peagreen Parade

BY RICHARD McCANN
NEA Service Sports Writer

At about this time of the year a young man's fancy turns to gloves, and a couple hundred of the flower of our youth stuff that other shirt into grandpa's carpetbag and hustle off happily to major league training camps.

And, thereafter, from time to time, the dispatches from the front tell you of this and that sensational youngster who can hit anything including the number; cover more ground than Shanty Hogan's shadow; and run like Pastor.

Most of them catch an early freight home. All too soon, you see, and all too often, the blossoms that bloom in the springtime fade and die on some stoney bush league field. The buds become dud.

Now and then, however, there comes along a Joe DiMaggio, or a Buddy Lewis, to make the grade right off the bat. But only now and then. These so-called overnight successes are as rare as Republicans.

Nevertheless, it seems that the major league owners and managers, this year, more than ever, are banking on their recruits being able to step into the breach and deliver with no further delay.

Of course, there appears to be enough reason for these high hopes. This year's crop of rookies is, indeed, a most promising one with practically every major league club being a share-cropper.

Feller Is Tops
The Cleveland Indians, no doubt, appear to have the cream of the crop in young Mr. Bob Feller, the Iowa school boy.

Nearly all the experts agree that Feller can step right in and win 20 games this coming season, although

BULLDOGS DEFEAT WINK 27-25, PLAY BRONCHS TONIGHT

WINK, Feb. 25 — The Midland Bulldogs won their second game in two nights on foreign courts here last night by the same two-point margin as they nosed out the Wink Wildcats 27-25 in the district 31 basket ball play-off. The Bulldogs beat Rankin Tuesday night in Rankin in the first play-off game after the McCamey Badgers were disqualified on the ineligibility of Wayne Reeves, McCamey forward, on the one year transfer rule of the Interscholastic League.

The Bulldogs will meet Odessa Maggio of the National League because he hit .358. Marty is a great prospect but he may not have that DiMaggio coldness and printer's ink may not run off his back like water off a duck's. Preseason ballyhoo is a heavy burden.

The Boston Red Sox have finally come up with a player they didn't buy from Connie Mack. He's 19-year-old Bobby Doerr, who batted .342 with San Diego in the Coast League. Joe Cronin thinks so much of Mr. Doerr that he has already allotted him second base.

Then there is Johnny Dickschot of Pittsburgh who hit .359 with Buffalo and drove him 112 runs. He's expected to step right in and play one of the outfield positions.

And Cincinnati is saying that it has a left-handed National League Bob Feller in John Vander Meer, who won 19 games and famed 295 with Durham.

Two rookies are going to fight it out for the right field job on the Boston Bees. They are Vance DiMaggio, Joe's older and lighter-hitting brother, and the venerable peagreen, Frank McGowan, powerful Buffalo Bison who batted .356.

The American League is not so well stocked with recruits, as things look now. Most of the youngsters are fellows named Joe. But Mickey Cochrane at Detroit thinks highly of Rudy York and is going to try to place him in the outfield to get the benefit of his long hitting. And Mickey may give his own catching job to George Tebbetts.

Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox thinks that Henry Steinbacher, up from St. Paul with a .356 batting average, might crash the White Sox outfield. Yes, a lot of them will crash. But not lineups.

play-off game at Odessa. The win-tonight at 8 o'clock in the final ner will represent the district at Alpine Friday and Saturday.

The game here last night was nip and tuck all the way with Wafford again playing a good floor game but scoring honors went to the lanky forward Norman with nine points. Mitchell led the Wild-cats with eight points. Reese of Wink at guard slot played on outstanding defense game for the locals.

Wink led at the half 12-11. The Cats played good basket ball but were unable to hit the basket.

'The Plainsman' To Show at The Yucca

"Calamity Jane", famous frontier-woman of the early '70's, joins the glamorous array of gorgeous women who made history, and whose lives were glorified by the genius of Cecil B. DeMille, in "The Plainsman," a saga of the west, which shows at the Yucca Theater Preview Saturday night, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Thus "Calamity", who packed a pair of six-guns like the best of 'em, handled a six-horse stage-coach over what then passed for roads in the west, and operated a saloon, joins such elegant company as Cleopatra, Queen Benengaria, Nero's wife, Poppae, and a host of others whose smiles sent thousands to their deaths and whose charms were so largely responsible for the course of history.

"Calamity Jane" is played by beautiful Jean Arthur, and it is her romance with "Wild Bill" Hickok, famous peace officer in the lawless west, portrayed by Gary Cooper, which forms the basis of the broad and sweeping film of America in the making.

It has been ascertained that "Calamity Jane" received her name from a troop of soldiers who found her as a babe, beside her dead parents after an Indian massacre—a true child of calamity. A real product of the west, she was "tough and hard-boiled" only in the sense that all women of the west were hardened to suffering and toil. In this she was the typical woman of the west and is thus glorified by DeMille.

Other famed frontier characters who come back to life in the DeMille saga are "Buffalo Bill," played by James Ellison; his wife, Louisa by Helen Burgess; General George A. Custer, by John Miljan, and a host of other noted soldiers, gamblers, pioneers, Indian chiefs and frontiersmen.

Car "Production" Is To Be Demonstrated In Midland Tomorrow

Automobile "production" begins on a small scale here tomorrow with the arrival of the $20,000 miniature model of the world's most modern auto factory, in operation in Detroit.

The model is an exact scale reproduction of the giant Plymouth plant, where completed cars roll off the assembly lines at the rate of three per minute. Elaborate mechanical equipment shows the miniature factory running at full blast, with doll-size workmen at their regular posts in assembling the mid-gate cars.

Arrangements to bring the educational exhibit to Midland were made by Seruggs Motor Co. and the Mackey Motor Co., local Plymouth dealers. The miniature plant will arrive tomorrow at 2:30 and will be set up for operation near the court house, where public inspection is invited during the afternoon.

The mobile factory is housed in a specially-constructed trailer, drawn by a Plymouth coupe. Factory experts accompany the exhibit, and will deliver educational lectures on modern production methods with each demonstration of the working model. The trailer is equipped with a public address system for the lectures, and also with special motion picture apparatus for nightly screen entertainment during the demonstration.
