COUNTIES HEAR THEY MUST PAY A PART OF WPA CASH

Officials Reply To Delegation From Texas

SLASH PAYROLLS

Number of Workers
To Be Reduced,
Chief Says

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Works progress administration officials told a group of Texans Tuesday they could do nothing to assist cities and counties which no longer can contribute some part of the cost of WPA projects.

The county judges and commissioners association of Texas and a number of house members laid before Corrington Gill, assistant WPA administrator, and Malcolm Miller, regional WPA director, complaints that many counties have even "gone into the red" to obtain funds to purchase materials and equipment for projects.

Miller said that with fixed congressional appropriations the WPA would have to reduce considerably the number of men employed if it were to devote a larger share of a state's allotment to "non-labor" uses.

Gill asserted that if relief officials suddenly started to provide funds for material in all states they would need about $10,000,000 a month more than the present expenditure of $20,000,000.

W. R. Nelson of Carthage, president of the association; Henry Cook of Fort Worth, WPA projects engineer, and Hale County Judge Harold LaPoint of Plainview, of the group of 16 from the association, cited figures showing that Texas' per-man-year allotment—$486—was considerably below many other states. They asked that the WPA increase this basic figure.

Gill and Miller explained the rate was computed from a wage scale which business men, as well as labor interests, drew up in Texas cities and towns. They asserted they could do nothing unless this figure was increased.

Rep. Clyde Garrett of Eastland and W. D. McFarlane of Graham contended the county commissioners and judges of the state were not consulted and would have insisted on a higher wage.

Committees from both the association and congressmen decided to meet tomorrow morning to consider further action.

Sale of 113 lots at comparatively favorable prices marked the opening Tuesday of the auction sale of lots in West End, College Heights and Garret Place additions by the Imperial Acre Co. C. H. He announced that beginning of the sale the restrictions governing the various tracts and declared that no property between Los Angeles and Houston could be bought at auction where the location was as fine and the type of residences as handsome.

NEW WILDCAT TEST FOR PECOS COUNTY

Adams & Black Moving In Material To No. 1
Masterson

BY FRANK GARDNER
Material is being moved to a new wildcat location in Pecos county, Adams & Black No. 1 Masterson, 1,650 feet from the southeast and 2,310 feet from the southwest line of section 71, block 10, H. & G. N. survey. The new test is about five miles west of the Masterson pool and a mile west of Culbertson & Irwin No. 1. Iowa Realty Trust, a small producer recently plugged at 1,829 when its yield fell short of commercial quantity.

In extreme western Pecos county, Humble No. 1 Gray, Delaware test in section 94, block 1, G. H. & S. A. survey, is fishing for bottom part of sand pump at total depth of 1,242 feet in lime.

A. H. Flaherty & Son No. 1 Cunningham, Pecos wildcat southeast of Girvin in the Rowan-Tong area, is drilling at 1,630 feet in lime. It logged a slight show of gas at 1,395. Location is in section 25, block 1, H. & G. N. survey.

Ohio No. 1 Goode, Terrell county Ordovician wildcat, had drilled to 8,993 feet in black sand and shale. New Producer.

Another producer has been completed in the Goldsmith pool of Ector county, Humble No. 2 Cowden, which rated 1,800 barrels a day potential, based on its flow of 450 barrels the last six hours of a 12-hour test. It made 702 barrels the first six hours. The well is bottomed at 4,275 plugged back from 4,290, and was given 4,000 gallons of acid. Location is 440 feet from the south and 2,200 feet from the west line of section 10, block 44, township 1 north T. & P. survey.

In the north part of the pool, Atlantic No. 1-C Cummins was shot with 90 quarts from 4,215 to 4,250, the total depth, cleaning itself and making a large head two hours after the shot went off. It will probably be re-shot.

McCamey Extension
T. B. Knox et al No. 1 Johns & Burleson, a half-mile south of McCamey production in Upton county, pumped a barrel of oil hourly through 2-inch tubing and is preparing to acidize. It had a slight show of gas at 2,195-2,200, oil at 2,210-25, 2,244-55, increase in oil from 2,270-83, increase in gas at 2,325, and the main pay from 2,337-52, total depth. Operators reported 300 feet of oil in the hole. Steel line measurement had previously corrected 2,117 to equal 2,171. The prospect is in the north quarter of section 12, block R, T. C. R. survey.

Over a mile southeast of McCamey field wells, Roy Brown et al No. 1 Mayhew, 6,000 feet from the north and 1,000 feet from the east line of section 10, G. C. & S. F. survey, is running 7-inch casing, bottomed at 1,822 feet in lime.

In southeastern Crane, between McCamey and Crane-Cowden production, John Hertz et al No. 1-A Hughes is drilling at 2,405 feet in lime, while the same operators' No. 1-B Hughes, a mile and a half to the southeast, has treated with 2,000 gallons of acid and is preparing to test. It found sulphur water in drilling to 2,129 and was plugged. See (OIL NEWS) Page 6

FIVE STATES FEEL EARTH MOVEMENT; DAMAGE IS SLIGHT

Tremors Recorded
From Canada To Kentucky

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Mar. 3 (AP)—An upthrusting rock crust in the old glacial region of Northwest Ohio caused earth tremors Tuesday from the Canadian border south into Kentucky.

Five states recorded the movement which brought slight property damage around Wapakoneta and other Auglaize county, Ohio, villages, all near the epicenter.

No injuries were reported. Some plate glass windows were broken, chimneys toppled and plaster knocked from walls in Wapakoneta, eight miles northwest of Columbus.

Schools in Zanesfield, Ohio, and in the hamlet of Anna were dismissed.

Pather Victor Stechschulte, seismologist at Xavier University, Cincinnati, where buildings swayed and dishes rattled, said the tremor came as two shocks, over a period of ten minutes, beginning at 9:47:58 a. m. He estimated the epicenter as located in the vicinity of Lima and Bellefontaine, Ohio.

From as far north as Windsor, Ont., across the border from Detroit to Louisville, Ky., on the south, residents reported quivering walls and other phenomena. Indiana, Michigan and West Virginia were included in the area.

Wilbur Stout, Ohio State geologist, described the shocks as a natural reaction caused by relief of tension in upper strata of rock. The entire region, he said, was composed of old rock deposited by glaciers.

"These things are common; there is nothing serious about it," Stout said.

He said such shocks could be expected at intervals, although he described the Middle West as the most quakeproof district in the world. The last earth movement in this section was Oct. 31, 1935, when sixteen states reported its manifestations.

Stout and other geologists said it was unlikely that the Ohio river flood of January had anything to do with the shocks.

Fascinated onlookers watched a corded noose go around the neck of smiling Hurt Hardy, 31, a few seconds after the above picture was taken of the public hanging in Ste. Genevieve, Mo. Then they saw the swift movement of a sheriff's arm, the springing trap, the plunging body. There was an uneasy stir in the crowd of 200. A man fainted. Outside the pine board walls, 500 persons barred from witnessing Missouri's first public execution in a century, milled noisily. The farmhand who had killed blond, 19-year-old Ethel Fahnestock "so no one else could have her," was pronounced dead 20 minutes after his body dropped through the trap.

ATTORNEY MAKES ADDRESS TO CLUB

Independence Day of The State is Subject
Of Talk

Commemorating the observance of Texas Independence Day, Joe Mims, Midland attorney, delivered a very interesting address on the subject at the regular weekly luncheon of the Midland Lions Club today noon, the speaker relating facts leading up to the signing of the Declaration of Independence, and citing the various reasons why such a step was taken.

Lion Mims stated that a general consultation of all Texas colonists was called in November, 1835 by Stephen F. Austin, and that on March 1, 1836, 59 delegates met at Washington on the Brazos for a second meeting. The group unanimously voted to declare the independence of Texas on March 2, 1836 and that the Declaration of Independence was signed on March 3.

He briefly cited the development that has taken place in Texas during the past 101 years.

A committee was appointed by President John P. Butler to assist the chamber of commerce in securing rooms for delegates who will attend the annual state convention of the Christian Church here the first week in May. The committee is composed of Dr. J. B. Thomas, Clint Myrick, Dr. L. W. Leggett, J. Howard Hodge and Butler.

Lester Short, local druggist, was voted into the club as a new member, and the transfer of Boyd Scott from the Iraan Lions Club was accepted.

The club went on record as favoring improved mail service to and from the east, each club member indicating a willingness to sign a petition, requesting additional mail service, which is now being circulated.

Guests present included Charles Woodward of Fort Worth and Boyd Laughlin of Midland.

The luncheon was served by the Busy Bee Club.

Paris Chef, Weighing 437, Eats Lightly as Fattest Frenchman;

PARIS, Mar. 3 (U.P).—Only a few days after the death of France's fattest man, a successor was found to take his laurels. He is Jean Bonna who is reputed to have weighed only 900 grams (1.98 lbs.) at his birth and began to grow fat, like his predecessor, after the war.

Bonna, who is one of Paris' champion chefs, was a strange case at his birth in 1892. The doctors feared he would never live, and his first 28 days in this world were spent inside an incubator.

From 1907 to 1914 Bonna lived and traveled in French Indo-China and was known as one of the skinniest men in the French colony there. By the time the war came he was just about normal weight, 171, and about 5 feet 10 inches tall. He was accepted as a pilot and received the War Cross and several citations for his bravery and skill in combat.

"It was so thin," he reminisces now. "I just passed between the bullets."

Predecessor Weighed 539
Johannes Bethiner, France's former fattest man, went through almost the same experience. He lost an arm in the war and the loss seemed to upset his metabolic rate. He grew fatter and fatter until the day of his death on Feb. 6, when he weighed 539 pounds. Bonna seems to be on the same road to fame.

Demobilized and put back on normal rations as a cook in a restaurant, he suddenly saw the arrow on the scales mounting swiftly. In 1923 he began to worry, having risen to the new weight of 253. By 1931 he had risen to 341 pounds.

"Then Bonna reasoned he had better do something about it. 'I decided to go on a diet,' he told reporters, 'and decided not to eat any bread, drink my wine, use saucers. It was a trying experience. I stood it for several weeks and then went to a weighing machine. What a joke! While I had been on a diet I had gained almost 30 pounds. I assure you it wasn't funny after all that suffering.'

After his experiences on a diet, Bonna ate more liberally. "I gave up the hopeless game," he said, "and decided to be happy at any rate. I still eat sparingly however."

Not a Big Eater?
Asked what a sample menu of today was for him, he confided, "Not much! An omelet of a dozen eggs to start with, an entree of three pounds of meat, an entire cheese-camembert, is my favorite—and two liters of wine. I'm not what you call a big eater. Old Marius of the markets, there was a pig for you! He used to devour food!"

Having dismissed his two predecessors in this casual manner, Bonna showed that he was finally out for the world's record. "I'm still far from the world's record," he said sadly. "They tell me that there is an Indian Maharajah who weighs 704 pounds. But I won't take long to catch up and take the record for France. I don't think I'll try for the world's record after all. I think I'll let the Maharajah take the prize for he can sit around all day with servants fanning him and carrying him around. I've got to earn my living, and that means standing in a hot kitchen for eight hours a day. It would be unfair to try and beat him with such odds."

And with that Bonna picked up a big salami that looked smaller than his wrist, and began slicing away at it. Today he holds the prize for Paris with a gross tonnage of 437 pounds. His fellow chefs say that he is a real boss in the kitchens. "His decisions go," they said, "for he weighs them well!"

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHEE
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—Oyez! Oyez! Oyez! (To use the language of the supreme court's official announcer as he ushers the nine justices to their seats.)

Three dates demand the attention of those who want to follow each new move in the battle of the century over Mr. Roosevelt's plan to pack, repack or unpack (the choice of words is yours) the supreme court.

March 9. This is the date set by President Roosevelt for the next of his "fireside talks" to the nation. While his subject has not been officially announced, the talk is pretty certain to be an appeal for his court reorganization plan, designed to "loose a deluge of pressure on congressmen from constituents' back home." There has scarcely been a comparable political move since Woodrow Wilson "took the League of Nations to the people." The events of this date may well affect those of the two dates immediately following.

March 10. This is the day the Senate Judiciary Committee begins its hearings on the administration bill. The lineup of witnesses isn't available yet, but it is practically certain Attorney General Homer S. Cummings will appear in support of the measure. Partisans in each camp are wondering how Cummings will try to defend his previous premises that the rich are favored over the poor, because of court congestion; that the congestion is due to the advanced ages of justices; that the supreme court's refusal to review most cases appealed to it represents a miscarriage of justice. The Judiciary Committee includes some bitter enemies of the Roosevelt scheme.

3—April 11. On this day, Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes becomes 75 years old. Hughes has written that "the risk of having judges who are unable properly to do their work, and yet insist on remaining on the bench is too great to permit chances to be taken." He added that "a compulsory retirement at 75 could be more easily defended" than a retirement age of 70. Hughes might decide he should live up to this theory, or he might decide he has no right to quit at this time, while the court is under fire. Public attention probably will be called to those old statements of Hughes.

COUNTRY HAS CHOICE
In case you don't care to listen—or in case you want to get your answers ready, the high spots of Roosevelt's March 9 address can be synopsisized right now. The president will declare the

New Deal program calls for maximum hour and minimum wage legislation, collective bargaining, social security, unemployment relief, crop control and crop insurance, a federal housing program, flood prevention with co-ordinated river basin control similar to TVA, and a broad program for conservation of natural resources.

The country can take its choice, Roosevelt may be expected to say, between having those things this year or taking a chance on getting them some time in the next 10 years. The president will declare that those measures cannot be had without a change in the Supreme Court. He will say that he has asked the members of congress to think up some other method of attaining them constitutionally in the near future and that members of congress have been unable to produce.

THE REAL PRESSURE
That talk, as the land laws now, will be the trump card in the administration offensive. But the probable deciding factor in congress will be a matter concerning which the president will give no hint in his speech. This matter is a question of the "price" the president will have to pay in order to get a sufficient number of the large group of senators who are now "reserving judgment" to support his plan. The country will not be advised as to how many senators are promised federal judgeships, the extent to which Roosevelt will agree to compromise on his civil service reform proposals in return for help from patronage-hungry legislators, or the bills which the president will agree to support in return for votes to allow him to enlarge the court.

This is March 3, just ten days before most of the income tax payers wire for extensions.

According to Sam Ashburn's recent outburst in the Angelo Times, the income taxes paid at Midland are going to offset the failure of European countries to pay their war debts.

Sam wrote up the local boys in a way that would have had us run out of town if we had attempted it. But Sam was already out of town.

If everybody "steals" a lot at the auction sale who has planned to, the west end of this place is going to be densely populated in a short time. And I believe it will be. Meanwhile, there are houses being built in all directions on the closer property. There's one good thing about Midland's topography. We can grow in all directions without having any mountains or creeks to stop us. We are bounded on the east by the stock yards and fair grounds, on the north by the cemetery, northwest by the golf course, but positively nothing to voters in the county calls for a new election.

Similarly, any county which votes dry must wait three years before another election can be called.

Rigid restrictions governing sale of liquor and transportation from a wet county to a dry county are laid down by the new county-option act. No person convicted of public drunkenness or driving while intoxicated or of a crime which the court finds was committed under influence of liquor will be permitted to make purchases at the county stores. Sale to minors is forbidden.

Stores Open 12 Hours

The stores will remain open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily, but will be closed on Sundays, election days and holidays.

Liquor cannot be consumed at the stores, and no advertising of liquor for sale by the county stores will be permitted.

A purchaser from a county liquor store may carry one gallon or less into a dry county, provided it is for his own consumption, and the seal is not broken when it crosses the line into dry territory.

To assure proper management for the liquor stores, the legislature provided in the act that the county liquor boards should be composed of three men who are "well-known for their good character and business success." No member may have an interest in distilleries or any other phase of the liquor business. The act also provided that salaries of county board members should be "large enough to secure the best men available for the work."

Polo is said to be the most expensive of all sports, due to the necessity of maintaining a string of valuable polo ponies.

Non-Zero This Winter Means $1,380 to Better

TORONTO, Ont. (U.P.)—There is one man here who is pulling hard for the winter season to pass without the temperature going below zero. It means $1,380 to him if it does not.

About Christmas time he started betting with friends that the temperature during the winter would not go below zero. He got 10-1 odds for a while, but now the odds are down to 2-1 with few takers. He has bet $218 so far, at average odds of 6-1.

Flowers for the Centerpiece How to Arrange Them

Tulips, Calendulas, White and Yellow Narcissus Good Selections for Early Spring Season. A Few Hints.

Seasonable Flowers Make up This Handsome Centerpiece

Pink tulips, yellow calendulas and golden yellow jonquils make up the centerpiece shown in this illustration. They are contained in a white bowl, which provides a setting for the flowers and attracts no attention to itself.

The open tulips near the base of the arrangement make an interesting focal center. The calendulas are comparatively large and heavy so they are likewise placed low to give a feeling of stability. The narcissus and jonquils being lighter in character are placed at higher levels in an irregular manner. Thus this simple mass arrangement made; it illustrates many of the principles of the art, yet is simple in the extreme and easily constructed by anyone. Notice that the silvery green foliage of the jonquils is much more appropriate in this bouquet than fern leaves ever could be; that every flower is placed to display itself in a pleasing design.

Any special luncheon or formal dinner deserves a centerpiece. For a long table a long narrow arrangement of fresh flowers like the one illustrated is appropriate, or several smaller bouquets may be placed at intervals along the table. The round table which seats four to eight persons is best decorated with a round arrangement. It is important to consider the size and shape of the table when making up a centerpiece, as too large or too small a size, or a shape which will contrast too sharply will not provide the beauty expected.

A low container, either of glass or pottery, should be simple in decoration and of a neutral color so that it does not detract from the flowers. A substantial flower holder to keep the stems in position is desirable. Deeper containers may be filled with a mass of short pieces of evergreen twigs into which the stems may be inserted for a firm support.

During the month of March florists are showing a great many kinds of gay spring flowers which are especially liked by the hostess who prefers color on her table. With a few yellow flowers and plenty of soft tones of pink, cream and lavender such as are furnished by sweet peas, freesias, snapdragons and stocks, one can easily make a colorful arrangement to enhance the dining table, and charm the guests.

Test your knowledge of correct social usages by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. How would you address a business letter to a lawyer?
2. Is "Rev. John James" the way to address a letter to a protestant clergyman?
3. Is it correct to address an envelope "John Smith"?
4. Is "Thanking you in advance" correct usage?
5. Is "Sincerely yours" too informal a close for a business letter? What would you do if—
You must answer a business letter which has been signed only "Louise Wright Goodman". You are not certain whether she is married or single.

- (a) Address her as "Mrs. Louise Wright Goodman."
 - (b) Address her as "Miss—"

- Answers
1. Mr. John Henry Brown, attorney-at-law.
 2. No, "The Rev. John James."
 3. No, a title should always be used.
 4. No.
 5. No, it is fast replacing "Yours very truly" and other more formal closes.
- Best "What Would You Do" solution—(b), since there was no indication that she was married.

French Bird Lovers Pay Tribute to King Louis XI

PARIS, Mar. 3 (U.P.)—On the occasion of the bird show here, many ornithologists met and discussed the history of their winged friends. One of the best of these histories is the introduction of canaries into France.

Louis XI, a great bird lover, often heard of the tiny singers of the high Tyrol valleys who came in the summer to fill the place with song. In 1478 he ordered 14 dozen from his palace ground. They were not real canary birds but their singing in the palace started a big craze for better singing birds.

Rodeo Stars Flock To Angelo's Show

SAN ANGELO.—Professional rodeo performers, cowboys who look to the rodeo game for much of their livelihood, began arriving here during the past week and are awaiting the opening of the events here next Saturday. The entry list this year may run to more than 150 performers.

These first arrivals said most of the performers of the big time shows into which class the local rodeo is gradually working its way, would be here this year. Most of the performers here today were in San Angelo for last year's show. There was not a more representative group of professionals participating in any show last year than those at the local rodeo.

Some of the cowboys returned to their homes after the close of the Tucson and Phoenix shows and will come here this week. From San Angelo the performers will go on to Fort Worth for the events there.

Performers here last night included, George McIntosh, Ft. Worth; Bill McMacken, Trail City, S. D.; Steve Heacock, Phoenix, Ariz.; Joe Cunha, Salinas, Calif.; Daze Campbell, Bartlett, Neb.; Barton Carter and Ike Rude, Tawhuska, Okla.; Howard McCrorey, Deadwood, S. D.; Gene Ross, Deadwood, S. Two $100 Bills Offered To Secure $200 Loan

ROANOKE, Va. (U.P.)—Officials of a bank here encountered a new type request for a loan when a man entered the bank and presented two $100 bills.

"Will you lend me $100 or $125 if I put these up as collateral?" he asked.

Officials were puzzled until the man, whose name was withheld, explained that if he changed the $100 bills he couldn't trust himself not to spend all his money, but if the bank would make him a loan then he would be able to save part of his original funds.

The man departed after he arranged to pay 6 per cent on a loan while receiving 2 1/2 per cent interest on his $200.

WITH YOUR ENGINE OIL-PLATED

OIL-PLATING differs widely from other forms of lubrication in this plain, understandable way: It remains lastingly fastened to the pistons, bearings and other engine parts, even when they are not in motion. This is made possible by the Germ Process—patented—which gives Conoco Germ Processed oil its strong attraction for metals, so that every working part becomes durably Oil-Plated.

Oil-Plating is not like any lubrication that merely goes on-and-off. Once Germ Processed oil covers the parts it never leaves them bare of Oil-Plating. . . Never when the pistons are racing thousands of strokes a minute. . . Never on any hills, despite any load. . . Never while you park at a dozen different stores.

So it's nothing to you, when engineers blame more than half of all engine wear on so-called "dry starting." Nor need you worry over all the rest of the annual Spring oil scare. Whether your car is new or old, you can make your longer runs . . . hit your higher speeds . . . enjoy your hotter sunshine. Oil-Plating can take it like the longest-lasting part of your engine. For Oil-Plating really becomes a long-lasting part of your engine, as you change to long-lasting Conoco Germ Processed oil. Continental Oil Company

DiMaggio Admits He Has Faults With The Willow

BY RICHARD McCANN
NEA Service Sports Writer

It seems now that Signor Giuseppe DiMaggio satisfied everybody last year but Signor Giuseppe DiMaggio himself.

You, of course, know who Signor Giuseppe is? Perhaps you may know him better by the name of plain Joe DiMaggio, but to us he's Giuseppe because he's hardly just another guy named Joe after what he did in his first season in the big leagues.

Last year, you see, the young New York Yankee was one of the most sensational rookies the majors had seen since a 17-year-old kid named Al Spalding pitched the Rock Islanders to a brilliant 25 to 23 victory over the Eureka A. C. a few years back when Connie Mack was a mere strapping of 65, or so.

Despite the white hot spotlight of publicity which had withered many other blossoming stars before him, the young signor batted .323, pounded out 29 home runs, collected 206 hits, and hit for 346 in the world series.

Quite a litany of achievement, to be sure, and the experts, players and fans (except, of course, the Knockers of Knoxville) all nodded their heads satisfiedly and said, "Some hitter, eh? What a swing."

Swing Is Jerky
But the young signor doesn't agree. The other day he untangled himself from a few thousands miles of spaghetti, mopped his mouth with one of Col. Jacob Ruppert's contracts and belched forth the confession that he thinks his batting swing is a bit jerky.

"I've got a lot of awkward spots in my batting," said Giuseppe. "But I hope to iron 'em out this year—maybe before the season opens."

And then the young signor revealed that he has been working out practically all winter. "I'm in good shape," he said. "I weigh about 200 pounds, which is about five or six pounds more than I weighed last year, but it's not fat—I'm just growing bigger and stronger. That'll help, too. The added weight'll give me more power." This, no doubt, will be good

DIMAGGIO BATTING FOR DIMAGGIO

Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees teaches his younger brother, Dominic, the proper swing in Lefty O'Doul's annual baseball school in San Francisco. The bespectacled Dominic is intent upon being the third DiMaggio to crash the majors, either as a shortstop or outfielder. An elder outfielding brother, Vince, reports to the Boston Bees this spring.

news to the pitchers. If he gets his swing corrected, although please don't get the idea that we think his swing needs any correcting—this is Joe's idea all the way through—well, as we were saying, if he gets this swing corrected Joe says he'll hit .350 this year.

Feels More at Home
"I'm not meaning to be shooting off at the mouth or trying to be too optimistic, but I think I can do it—I really do," said Giuseppe. "After all, didn't I hit around .350 most of last year?"
"I'll feel more at home this season. I'll have more confidence at the plate, and I'll know more about the pitchers, and I'll be more used to that background of white shirts at the Yankee Stadium—it's plenty

He has been recuperating from an illness in a Detroit hospital, and may not be able to compete himself. If not, he will allow Bill Edwards of Miami to take the wheel in the regatta. The 32 professional golfers who will compete March 7-10 in the International Four Ball Tournament at the Miami Country Club have captured among them every open competition in the last year. This year's tournament will be the 14th, and is the only one of its kind in the world. A tennis star with promise is Miss Gladys Vallabona of Atlanta, queen of feminine racquetters in Alabama and Georgia, who is making her debut in Florida tournaments with the hope of placing among the first ten for 1937. Before competing the Miami Biltmore Championships she studied for a month under Joe Maguire, well known instructor at the Roney Plaza Cabana club courts. Jimmy Braddock, the heavyweight champ, is expected in Miami any day now. He may pick up a few pennies during his Florida sojourn by working as a referee. Miami will be a training camp for young amateur ball players from March 1 to April 2. They will gather from communities scattered all over the country to be trained at the U. S. Amateur Baseball School. Max Carey, former Brooklyn manager, has given up baseball to enter the lime growing business in Florida. A 130-pound Allison tuna hooked here the other day by Miss Helen A. Chalmers of New York City established a new world's record for women. The old record was set last year by Mrs. O. L. Shubert of Miami with a 123 1/2-pound Allison tuna. Miss Chalmers is trying for one of the prizes in the $7500 Second Annual Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament. Mrs. Emil Denmark, Chicago, who is the leading owner of money-winners at the 46-day winter meet now running here at Hialeah Park race track, believes her "Finance" will win the $50,000 added Widener Stake March 6. Pete Desjardins, former Olympic star who appears weekly at the Miami Biltmore pool, will go back to Great Britain next summer for a series of exhibitions. Jai Alai players who perform nightly here at the Biscayne Fronton with pari-mutuel betting on their performances under Florida State Racing Commission supervision, play for a salary, but the three leading winners each night split a side purse placed at stake by the management of the fronton. It only costs two-bits to go to the dog races at night in Miami and you can hear a high-salaried dance orchestra play, such as Paul Whiteman's, Wayne King's, or Ted Lewis.

CHARLES MABRY

"Slim" Mabry, 6 foot-6 inch center on the T. C. U. basketball team, is getting his sports all mixed up. In the early afternoon he tosses a few across the plate to round his arm into condition for mound duty with the Frog baseball team. Later in the afternoon, he works out at end with the football squad's spring practice. Then he winds up the day by spending an hour and a half on the basketball floor. The photographer caught "Slim" just as he went into a baseball wind-up for a pass in cage practice.

Pastor Spurned Salary Basis Of Living

3 col 36 ITALIC IT PAID
14—PASTOR SPURNED
BY NEA SERVICE

DES MOINES, Ia., March 3. — After living on "faith wages" since November, 1936, the Rev. Clifton E. Rash, Des Moines pastor, has announced he never will return to a salary basis of existence.

In November the Rev. Mr. Rash, pastor of the undenominational First Federated church, told his congregation he no longer would accept his $275 a month salary.

"Instead," he told them, "I will accept only what pay members of the congregation care to pledge and contribute in the Sunday offerings." His only stipulation was that contributions should not rise above $275 a month, his previous salary.

How It Adds Up
The Rev. Mr. Rash pronounced the experiment a decided success as he listed his income for the first three months under the new financial plan:

NOVEMBER	$226
DECEMBER (Xmas month)	$187
JANUARY	$252

"Mrs. Rash and I both feel that we have gained spiritual nourishment from the system," the pastor said. "We feel that we can better serve the Lord by adopting a thought from 'The Sermon on the Mount.'"
"The Rev. Mr. Rash then quoted

Rev. Clifton E. Rash

Now He Thrives On His Wage Of Faith

one of his guiding passages, Matthew 6:33-34:

"But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and all things shall be added unto you. Take therefore no thought for the morrow, for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

The pastor pointed out that he did not inaugurate his "faith salary" system because he is financially independent. "The church is my only source of income," he said.

Keeps Books Straight
He feels that the spiritual effect of the plan has been beneficial to the congregation. The group includes some 1400, possibly only 1000 active members.

"They appreciate the fact that we can wipe the books clean at the end of every month with not pastor's salary deficit," the Rev. Mr. Rash said.

"I have received friendly letters from many parts of the country. One woman in Alabama wrote to ask a loan of $3000 with which to set up her daughter in the grocery business.

"That surprised me. I rather expected someone to offer me a loan."

Central American Republics To Be At Dallas Pan American Exposition Show

DALLAS, Texas, Mar. 3. — Central American republics, closest neighbors to Texas, already have accepted almost unanimously invitations to take part in the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition, opening at Dallas June 12. Director General Frank L. McNeely received reports at the Exposition offices in Dallas this week from two flying emissaries as they completed their swing through Mexico and the six Central American Republics, without a refusal at any point.

Mexico's formal acceptance is expected momentarily from President Cardenas, who was out of the capital at the time of the visit of Dr. Roscoe R. Hill of Washington and Charles H. Abbot of the Exposition staff. His cabinet members already have signified acceptance.

Guatemala and Nicaragua have accepted. Unofficially participation in the Exposition has been planned by Honduras and, it is anticipated, by El Salvador, Costa Rica and Panama. This makes the record perfect up to the envoy's entry into the South American continent with first calls at the capitals of Ecuador, then Peru and Chile. Crossing to the Atlantic seaboard, they will return through Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil, Venezuela and Colombia, then across to Cuba to complete their trip about mid-April.

The participation already planned gives strong Latin American flavor to America's only international fair of 1937, which will run a 20 weeks season through October. The $25,000,000 exposition park already is redesigned to conform to distinctive architecture of the American civilization that flourished before colonization from Europe.

Highlighting the entertainment that will make the Exposition at Dallas America's fun center through the summer, George Marshall, internationally recognized sportsman, is arranging olympic games for competition of teams of the North and South American continents, with featured schedules for games in which the neighbor nations are outstanding. Jai-hai, for example, the game of the Spanish and the Latin American countries, will be staged on a court built especially for this fast and furious racquets contest that makes handball look as mild as tiddletwinks. An international polo tournament is expected to bring the high goal players of a score of countries.

The after-dark features of Marshall's entertainment program that is designed to make all America talk will feature the stage, screen and opera performers of all communities, from Hudson Bay to the Pampas.

Congregation Takes Hint
When Coal Bin is Low

CORWITH, Ia. (AP)—Dr. Karl W. G. Hiller, pastor of the First Methodist church here, has a novel plan to keep the church's coal bin filled.

When the fuel supply begins running low, a small replica of a coal hod replaces the usual collection box at Sunday morning services. The congregation has responded generously to the hint, Dr. Hiller says.

Homesickness Fatal In Gold Rush Days

SUNDANCE, Wyo. (U.P.)—"Homesickness" killed many a miner around this region in the 1870s and 1880s, a member of the federal writers' project discovered. The disease which affected the miners of the gold rush days was diagnosed by some as "mountain fever" and as "homesickness" by others. Doctors said the disease was peculiar to the mining camps and many of the most rugged passed over the last divide, according to the field writer. After a few months the disease disappeared and never returned.

'Ice-Bound' CCC Boys Get Mail on Isle Royale

Marooned by their own choice, on remote, almost arctic Isle Royale, these CCC members unloaded mail and supplies from a coast guard cutter in one of their frequent contacts with the outside world. Stationed on the island, 68 miles out in Lake Superior from Houghton, Mich., the CCC contingent will be ice-bound until May, working on forest preservation for the island, which was recently purchased by the government as a national park.

Jurors Having teamed successfully in the Astire-Rogers hit, "Swing Time," Helen Broderick and Victor Moore are now united as a co-starring team by RKO Radio in "We Are On the Jury," showing today and tomorrow at the Yucca. A laugh-punctuated comedy in which the two are presented as fellow jurors in a murder trial. Although their methods may be a bit upsetting to the dignity of the court, the two comedians manage to inject into the proceedings more fun than the law allows, with a happy effect!

ONE of the most apparent differences between the white and the black African rhinoceros is the formation of the mouth. The white rhino has a square mouth, for grazing, while the black rhino has a prehensile lip, for plucking leaves from trees.

Trading Post Manager Abdicates Over Debts MOOSE, Wyo., Mar. 3 (U.P.)—"Yankee Jack" Woodman, manager of the Flying V Trading Post here decided to "abdicate" and injected a new angle in the business of going out of business. In an advertisement in a local newspaper, he explained that his customers "never have paid yet." He posted a list of back accounts and offered them for sale at one cent on the dollar. In addition he offered for sale "a complete postoffice, except government equipment, with a fresh stock of stamps at New York prices." "Yankee Jack" rounded out his announcement in conclusive style by adding, "To the purchaser of the postoffice and these deadbeat accounts, we will donate one mayor's chair and one justice of peace gavel. We are abdicating."

Scandal Figures

Lee Saunders, above, resigned as secretary of the El Paso baseball club of the Arizona-Texas League along with President Barry Hagedorn after J. R. (Mule) Washburn, below, former manager, told Judge Keneaw Mountain Landis that Saunders had wagered on results of games in 1931. Washburn made the charge after his dismissal as manager in 1932, but the commissioner took no action until the team and the league were revived this spring.

STORIES IN STAMPS BY I. S. KLEIN He Stayed Home and Rocked the World

THROUGHOUT his 80 years, Immanuel Kant, great German metaphysician, never ventured farther than 60 miles from his native home, Koenigsberg. Yet his ideas had a profound influence on the people of the world. Born in 1724, Kant studied and then taught at the University of Koenigsberg. Mathematics, theology, and science were his subjects, and he became the world's leading exponent of a new philosophy, one which based its conception of knowledge on two important factors—the factual and the mental. He wrote many books, challenging upon this theory of a critical philosophy, and some today are classics in that science. He remained a bachelor, cloistered within his native city. During the American and French revolutions, he declared his sympathy for the cause of liberty, and all through his life he affirmed his belief in human progress. He remained a professor at Koenigsberg until his death in 1804. His portrait appears on one of a series of stamps issued in honor of famous Germans. (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed. How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds. Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

When Truck Killer Pleaded Guilty to Girl's Murder

"Murder has been committed. One of the most brutal, gruesome murders of all time. No justification can be offered, no excuse can be advanced." After his attorney, J. P. Macelree (right), had spoken thus, Alexander Meyer (second from right) muttered "I'm guilty." At the preliminary hearing in West Chester, Pa., before Justice of the Peace R. J. Patrick (behind desk), on charges of having deliberately run over Helen Moyer of Coatesville with a truck so he could attack her.

He's a Power With the Women!

Life these days is just one romance after another to Tyrone Power, shown above with Loretta Young in a love scene from a new picture. Recently reported engaged to skating champion Sonja Henie, young Power is now said to be romantically inclined toward Miss Young, Hollywood dopsters, who rate Tyrone a "Power-ful" threat to the Gable and Taylor "heart-hold" on the nation, scoff at the new rumor.

Lighthouse in Hawaii Wins Efficiency Prize

HONOLULU, Mar. 3 (U.P.)—Mantel Ferreira, keeper of the only lighthouse in the United States, equipped with a "hyper-radiant" lens has been awarded his 10th consecutive annual efficiency pennant by F. A. Edgecomb, superintendent of the lighthouse service in the Hawaiian islands. The lighthouse with its unique lens is situated on the extreme eastern point of Oahu island. Ferreira also is in charge of the radio beacon station there. The "hyper-radiant" lens is unique in the fact that although the light penetrating it is rated at only 150,000 candlepower, the beam is visible 35 to 40 miles at sea. The lens is composed of 1140 prisms of hand-cut, highly polished glass stands 13 feet high, and measures nearly 9 feet in internal diameter.

CONSTRUCTION OF TENNIS COURTS TO BE STARTED SOON

After considerable delay, construction of the new tennis courts will begin immediately at Brunson Avenue and O Street, three blocks south of the KRLH radio tower. Yesterday the tennis club committee purchased half a block, containing six full lots, described as Block 1, College Heights Addition. The other site by the ball park previously chosen proved to be too small when surveyed. Some memberships in the club are still available.
