STATE CHRISTIAN CONVENTION NOT TO BE HELD HERE

Suspected Inability To Handle Visitors Given as Reason

PASTOR TALKS

Appreciation For Cooperation Is Announced

It was announced from the pulpit of the First Christian Church yesterday by the church secretary, Rawlins Clark, that the state convention for 1937 would not meet in Midland this year. He gave the reasons to the congregation why it was so necessary for the convention to meet in some other city this year. Pointing out the embarrassment that the local church was sure to meet in declining to care for the convention, the church secretary gave the statement that this embarrassment would be nothing in comparison to the perplexity and confusion if some one thousand visitors came and no place to sleep or eat, and even if enough homes could be secured, this would be unsatisfactory as all the delegates pay for their rooms and would much rather be cared for in hotels. "Hotel accommodations or enough rooms in private homes were not available," he stated.

When the local church secured the convention the church and city could have easily and splendidly cared for the convention. Since then Midland has witnessed a great increase in her population and visitors are turned away from our local hotels practically every night. With these conditions it would not have been just for Midland or the local church to bring some 1,000 visitors and have them go back to every part of the state unsatisfied.

Rev. J. E. Pickering, pastor of the First Christian Church gave this statement to the press this morning: "Of course, we are all very disappointed. We worked very hard to secure the convention. But we all know that it would not be right nor just to bring a great gathering of church and state leaders with our accommodations already crowded and have them go away unsatisfied and perhaps criticizing our city. It just wouldn't be the same thing to do. We certainly will have the opportunity to be the host to the convention any year in the future that we feel that times are normal and we may care for them in a splendid and acceptable way. We have the word of our church leaders to that statement."

"May I personally express appreciation to our splendid church of commerce, her president and secretary and board of directors. They certainly did their part and cooperated in a fine way. Also, to Clarence Scharbauer who helped to secure the convention in the first place and his offer to give the convention a "West Texas Barbecue." I am speaking for the church in voicing appreciation for every cooperation. However, we feel it the right thing and certainly the safe thing to do to invite the convention to be with us at some future date, which I know, they will certainly accept."

BANK ROBBERY SUSPECT TAKEN

Man Sought at Coleman Since 1934 Captured in Kansas Raid

EMPORIA, Kan. Mar. 8. (AP)—A man booked as George Dewey Shipley, 37, charged with the $23,706 robbery of the First National Bank of Coleman, Texas, was arrested Sunday in a raid on a secluded ranch house in Northern Lyon county.

A dozen officers, including two Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and Texas officers, arrested Shipley and a couple who later were booked as Mr. and Mrs. James A. McVey.

George Robey, first deputy sheriff of Coleman County, Texas, said Shipley had been hunted since the robbery, Feb. 2, 1934, and had escaped several times.

He signed papers waiving extradition to Texas.

McVey, alias James Arthur Camp, officers said, would be held for questioning by Oklahoma officers. The woman was held for investigation.

The trio came here last December and purchased the 520-acre ranch. Tom Godwin, Emporia real estate man said, paid $12,000 cash and assumed a $8,000 mortgage.

The officers raided the ranch at daybreak, cent charges of tear gas through the windows and arrested the occupants as they ran into the yard.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID SUNDAY TO PIONEER CITIZEN

Funeral Services Are Held For B. N. Aycock

Hundreds of friends paid final tribute Sunday at 4 p. m. to B. N. Aycock, 73, pioneer citizen, whose death occurred Saturday night from a bronchial pneumonia attack. The funeral service was held at the First Methodist church, with the Rev. Winston F. Borum, Baptist pastor officiating. He was assisted by Rev. Walter S. Garnett, Stanton Baptist pastor, formerly of the Midland church. Interment was at Fairview cemetery.

The Rev. Borum related the life history of Mr. Aycock after which the Rev. Garnett paid a glowing tribute to his useful life, based on his acquaintance with Mr. Aycock who was chairman of the board of deacons while the speaker was pastor of the First Baptist church here. A choir of select voices, directed by W. W. Lackey, sang the funeral hymns. Pall bearers included Andrew Fasken, H. G. Bedford, W. H. Cowden, Clarence Scharbauer, J. E. Hill, W. H. Spaulding, W. F. Scarborough, Percy J. Mimms, J. A. Tuttle and A. C. Francis.

Burwell Newton Aycock, born July 3, 1864, in Limestone county, came to West Texas with a trail herd at the age of fifteen and lived in the cattle area continuously after. Besides early trail trips, he operated freight wagons between Abilene and Fort Concho, later engaging in the mercantile business at Van Horn, Pecos, Sweetwater and Midland. Married to Maude West of Sweetwater in 1886, he had been a resident of Midland and the nearby cattle territory since 1888. He had been a member of the Baptist church here since 1892.

In addition to his range cattle business, he had owned registered Herefords from as early as the late nineties. He and John Scharbauer were said to have been the first to introduce white faced cattle to this area. At his death he had a registered herd of more than 400 cows along with his range business.

He is survived by his wife of Midland; two sons, T. R. Aycock of California and R. W. Aycock of Midland; two daughters, Mrs. M. F. King of Stanton and Mrs. R. H. White of Midland; one sister, Mrs. J. H. Barron of Midland; one brother, Chas. S. Aycock of Midland and several grand children.

PERMIAN BASIN BASEBALL LEAGUE IS REORGANIZED

Six Clubs Signify Intentions Of Joining

Assurance of a six club semi-pro baseball league with a possibility of an eight club alignment was voiced at a reorganization meeting of the Permian Basin Baseball League at the Gulf Recreation Hall in Crane Sunday afternoon when baseball representatives from Crane, Iraan, McCreary, Ozona, Sonora and Texon met to elect new league officers and discuss plans for the 1937 season.

League dignitaries accepted the membership applications of the six above mentioned towns, Iraan, Crane and Texon already having their clubs ready to start training. McCreary, Ozona and Sonora will start assembling their players some time this week, league play being tentatively scheduled to get underway about the middle of April. Sonora was a member of the Concho Basin League last year.

George Lee of McCreary, superintendent of the Humble Pipe Line Co., was elected league president to succeed Bill Collins of Midland who had served as president for the past three years. Carl Chumey of Sonora was named vice-president and Fred Haddock of Texon was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Collins' asked not to be re-elected because of lack of time to devote to the non-paying position.

A home and home revolving schedule was adopted with the home club to keep the entire gate receipts. Admission prices were set at 35 cents for single games and 50 cents for double headers. Saturday and Sunday games are to be played and tabulated. 231 cities took part directly, drawing ballots from hundreds of smaller communities within the circulation area of the papers conducting the poll.

42 states took part, bringing ballots from every state in the country except six.

Nothing is claimed for this poll except that it was honestly conducted. It presents itself for what it is, the voluntary expression of views by those people who signed and returned ballots.

The significant thing about it is the manner in which the earliest returns established a relationship between the "for" and "against" ballots which never changed by so much as 2 per cent throughout the nine days' tabulations.

Though individual localities varied widely in their views, and though on one day or another, national returns varied widely between this group of cities or that, the national

Senate Enemies To Continue Attack On Proposal

WASHINGTON, Mar. 8. (AP)—President Roosevelt and one of his top cabinet members will fire virtually simultaneous counter barrages this week at opponents of the President's court proposals.

With Democratic senators hostile to the Roosevelt bill scheduled for a week of speech-making against it, Postmaster General Farley will join WASHINGTON, Mar. 8. (AP)—Senator LaFollette (Progressive-Wisconsin) urged labor's non-partisan league today to campaign aggressively on behalf of President Roosevelt's proposed court reorganization "in this coming legislative struggle."

"The strength of the popular democratic government is once more pitted against organized force of reaction," the senator said.

The meeting of the league opened its week and partisans of both sides predicted the statement would bring debate on the issue to a high peak.

The President Tuesday in national broadcasts urging judiciary reorganization.

The following day the Senate judiciary committee opens hearings on the court bill with another high cabinet officer, Attorney General Cummings, taking the witness stand in its behalf.

Mr. Roosevelt's address will be delivered from the White House Tuesday evening. Attaches said it was to be considered as "part two" in a series inaugurated with the President's victory dinner speech in which he urged action "now" to sustain the administration's general program.

Farley's address will be delivered during the afternoon from Chapel Hill, N. C., where he will speak before the University of North Carolina Political Union.

The President will leave much of the administration strategy in the hands of his lieutenants for the first two weeks of the committee hearings.

Senator King (D-Utah), among leaders of the opposition, to the court plan, said a number of witnesses, including agricultural and industrial leaders, had been invited to testify. Their names, however, have not been announced.

Chairman Ashurst (D-Ariz.) of the judiciary committee has indicated that no attempt would be made to curtail the hearings, asserting they would be conducted as long as any "coherent citizen" had anything to say.

From the opposition camp there came a new proposal for countering the President's recommendation that additional Supreme Court justice be named for each incumbent who does not retire at the age of 70.

Not all lots or tracts in the Garrett Place addition of the western part of Midland are sold, it was announced today by Miss Elizabeth Garrett, The Reporter-Telegram had erroneously reported all of that area sold in the auction last week of the Imperial Auction Company. Miss Garrett said that several of the most choice locations are left, and that sales may be arranged privately.

LAST HONORS PAID WESLEY HENRY AT SERVICES SUNDAY

Funeral Is Heavily Attended by Many Friends Here

Last rites were read Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Wesley Henry, 35, whose death occurred Saturday night at his south Midland residence. The Rev. Winston F. Borum, Baptist pastor, officiated at the funeral which was held at the Ellis funeral home, with burial at Fairview cemetery.

John Wesley Henry was born April 15, 1902, in Mason county, coming to Midland with his parents when he was eight years old. He was educated in the Midland public schools and while in high school was an outstanding athlete, being fullback and captain of the football team.

He worked for seven years in drug stores of Midland, being connected for most of that time with the City Drug Store. He loved the open air and outdoor life, however, and decided to engage in ranch work, having had much experience as a cowboy during his youth. He left Midland and spent about three years working on ranches in the northwest, returning here about nine years ago. He worked on several of the larger ranches of this section and until a few weeks ago had been on the O. B. Holt place. He had decided to do "day work" and was employed by J. E. Parker at the time of his death.

He joined the First Baptist church of Midland fifteen years ago and was a member of the local organization at his death.

PICKENS TEST AT CRITICAL DEPTH. SHOWING NOTHING

Terry Wildcat Drills To 4,905 Feet In Lime

BY FRANK GARDNER
Depth of 4,905 feet in hard lime had been reached this morning by W. L. Pickens et al No. 1 Lewright, wildcat in southeastern Terry county, with no oil or gas showings reported. Samples from 4,882 to 4,897 were said to have shown a slight stain of oil. Some were of the opinion that the No. 1 Lewright had already drilled below a point at which Ray Albaugh's discovery well ten miles to the southeast in Dawson county had logged some oil, while others doubted that the Pickens test had yet reached that point. It is located in the center of the northeast of the northeast of section 1, block C-37, public school land, in the southeast part of the county.

Shot yesterday with 300 quarts from 5,070 to 5,275, the plugged back total depth, Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 1 Bennett, Yoakum producer, flowed 440 barrels in 12 hours through casing after the explosion. Operators are cleaning out today, and later will run tubing and treat the well. Before shooting, it flowed an estimated 350 barrels in 12 hours. The No. 1 Bennett was recently deepened from 5,236 to 5,305, plugging back when salt water was encountered. It found porous, saturated lime section by deepening, but the exact points of increase were not clearly defined. At old depth of 5,236, the well gauged 570 barrels in 24 hours following a 5,000-gallon acid job. It is in the center of the northeast of the northwest of section 678, block D, J. H. Gibson survey, a quarter mile northwest of the Honolulu & Cascade discovery well.

In Hockley County, Texas No. 1 Slaughter is shut down for repairs to line at 4,560 in lime, anhydrite and shale.

Andrews County
Two miles northwest of the Fuhrman pool in Andrews county, Shell No. 1 E. F. King swabbed 48 barrels of 27.9 gravity oil in eight hours, with water cut of one percent. Swab was lost, and 2 1/2-inch tubing is being pulled to recover it, after which the well will be bailed. The previous 24-hour period, the No. 1 King was swabbed through tubing into pits for 11 hours, unloading the hole, then swabbed 96 barrels of oil, two and one-half percent water in 13 hours, making four runs hourly. Swabbing failed to bring the fluid level below 2,900 feet.

William Hannigan No. 1 Lotus Oil Company, Andrews wildcat in the center of the northeast quarter of section 18, block A-48, public school land, nine miles west of the Deep Rock pool, topped anhydrite at 1,700, salt at 1,750, and is now drilling at 2,140 feet in anhydrite and salt.

NEA-REPORTER-TELEGRAM COURT POLL ENDS 2-1 AGAINST PLAN

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)
Nearly 400,000 Americans have declared their attitude toward the crucial question of the day through the NEA Service-Reporter-Telegram supreme court poll.

Almost two to one, they declared against the proposal of President Roosevelt for reorganizing the U. S. supreme court.

Voting voluntarily through 231 newspapers scattered through 42 states, they made up the broadest unofficial expression of public opinion since before the 1936 elections, on a question on which there has not been and cannot be the official and direct expression of a formal vote at this time.

The final tabulation showed: 131,320 voted for the proposed court reorganization. 255,136 voted against the proposed court reorganization. 386,456 ballots were received total started with a majority of slightly better than two to one on first national returns (Feb. 17) and stayed that way, winding up only slightly less than two to one on the final count (Feb. 26).

The percentage of votes favorable ranged only from 33 to 35, and those unfavorable ranged between 65 and 67, with the daily changes almost indiscernible. The final national percentage was: For, not quite 34 per cent; against, just above 66 per cent.

Majority "For" in 14 States
Only 14 states, in the final tabulation, gave a majority in favor of the court reorganization plan, leaving 28 with majorities against the plan. Those favoring were: California, Connecticut, Idaho, Missouri, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and Washington. Of these, the vote in Oklahoma and Oregon was extremely close.

States with a majority against the plan where the margin was small were Alabama, Georgia and Utah. Even a switching of a bare majority in all these closely contested states would scarcely have altered the general trend of the whole poll.

Of the 231 cities conducting polls, 56 reported majorities in favor of the whole poll, with 175 opposed. Boston's huge majority against the plan of 46 to 1, (For, 234; Against, 10,810) was outstanding among cities reporting a large vote. The nearest approach to this on the other side was St. Louis, which rolled up a huge vote of 17,633, with a three-to-one majority for the plan.

Texas had the most papers polling, 38, and went for the plan, 7065 to 5372, but New York state had the largest total vote 49,924, and Washington. Of these, the vote in Oklahoma and Oregon was extremely close.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6—Most of the current argument over the president's supreme court plan proceeds on the premise that the proposed bill would establish a court of 15 members. Some of that argument evidences a belief that the court membership might temporarily be increased by as many as six justices, and that its size would gradually dwindle back to nine, as justices over 70 resigned.

Few seem to realize the actual effect of the bill. As now written, it might create a court of 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, or 15 members. Fifteen members would be the maximum under the president's proposal.

Whatever the figure, the size of the court would be frozen for some time at that point, could drop unless the president failed to make an appointment.

Further Increase Possible

The bill provides that the president shall appoint an additional justice for each justice over 70 years and six months old (there are now six of them) who fails to retire. If any such justice retires before the additional justice is appointed, there will be no such appointment of an additional man. The vacancy thus created would be filled in the normal procedure.

Then, the bill goes on to say the number of justices shall be permanently increased by the number appointed to the court under the provisions as outlined. If two justices were to quit before Roosevelt appointed new justices to supplement them, two new men would be appointed to succeed them and four more to supplement the remaining four justices over 70.

The net total would be 13 justices and the court would consist of at least 13 justices from that time on, unless the law were changed. Of course, if one or two more justices subsequently were to reach 70 years and six months without retiring, the number would have to be increased to 14 or 15.

Tie Votes Probable

Perhaps there is no quainter feature of the bill than the fact that it might result in an even number of justices. Thus, if three justices were to retire and three justices over 70 were to stay, the court would consist of 12 men. That might go on for years, and it is easy to imagine no-decision votes of six to six or seven to seven, which would be subject to at least as much questioning as the court's occasional five to four decisions. In the event of a tie vote, incidentally, the Circuit Court of Appeals or state court decision which had

Wartime Plant Now Idle, U. S. Ace In Stalemate Over Bids on Steel

(By NEA Service)
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Mar. 8—In its controversy with steelmakers who do not choose to furnish steel for the navy's new ships under Walsh-Healey law restrictions, the U. S. government has an ace in the hole.

No smoke comes from the chimneys of a great group of long, low buildings that lie unused on the outskirts of this city. Even a few local residents have forgotten that these are navy ordnance plants built by the government during the world war at a cost of $28,000,000. The plants are idle, but not deserted. A staff of 110, including around 50 marine guards, has been assigned to them ever since they closed their doors in 1922, to keep the government property from deteriorating. The plants have been costing the taxpayer more than $150,000 a year, even though not in use.

COMPETITION 'TOO KEEN'

Two cabinet members have hinted, labor leaders have demanded, and congressmen have proposed, that the government might as well dump in the four or five millions more needed to put the plants in shape, and make its own battleship steel. Naval armament races throughout the world, they argue, are getting too keen for the United States to let six destroyers and three submarines lie on the shipbuilders' ways for lack of steel ribs and armor plating.

The plants were built during the wartime emergency when the country rang with the cry that "ships will win the war!"

The site, including 210 acres on the Great Kanawha river above its junction with the Ohio, was donated to the government by patriotic business men.

A projectile plant was built adjoining the armor plate plant, and this actually turned out shells in early 1918. The armor plate plant was not finished until 1921, after the war, and both were shut down in 1922 when the new naval treaties put a world-wide stop to new construction.

Operation, personnel and production records were highly secret, and just what the plant could do at present is little known except to the Navy department, which has its records and maintains an inspector of ordnance, Commander D. K. Day, in charge of the plant.

Much of the machinery has been transferred to other naval plants, sold as junk, or otherwise dismantled. But it is believed that enough remains so that with new equipment added, production of some kinds of Silent and deserted except for navy caretakers and a marine guard, this government steel plant at Charleston, W. Va., is the government's "ace in the hole" in its argument with steelmakers for bids on navy steel.

Six new navy ships like this and three submarines, all under construction, wait for steel. This is the U. S. S. Craven, new destroyer, as she slid down the ways at the Quincy, Mass., plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company.

steel could be resumed fairly soon.

The silent plants with their marine guards are an object of great interest to people in the Kanawha valley, and on Navy day curious visitors are escorted through the plants under the eye of guards.

To the casual visitor, unversed in the intricate machinery of steel-making, the plants seem ready to produce tomorrow. Permanent buildings are more than 500 feet long, some resting on solid reinforced concrete foundations set 75 feet deep to bear the heavy machinery.

CHEMICAL PRODUCTS CENTER

There are giant open-hearth and electric steel furnaces for making armor plate, and other equipment for the casting of projectiles. There are huge cranes capable of handling heats of from 75 to 250 tons of molten metal. All the remaining machinery is kept greased and in good condition.

A thousand men worked in the plants once, and Charleston people have pricked up their ears at the sight of a possible new federal payroll. They point out that since the war when the government's Charleston plants were built, the Kanawha valley has also become a great center for the chemical industry, and that the two logically go together as related units in the national defense.

Several times it has been proposed to sell these plants to private interests, but the government has always drawn back from any such agreement, despite at least two recommendations by navy boards that the plants be disposed of.

been appealed would stand—as it stood in the New York unemployment compensation law case. Then the Supreme Court split four to four (Justice Stone being ill) on an appeal from a lower court's decision which upheld the act.

It is fairly certain that some kind friend of the administration will present an amendment providing that no new justices shall be appointed, except those to match the justices who stay on past 70. This would assure the Supreme Court of gradually falling back toward a membership of nine as inclination or death retired the septuagenarians. Those who seek such an amendment say it would insure at least a majority of the justices always being under 70.

BONAPARTISTS TO HOLD RALLY

PARIS, (U.P.)—The Arc de Triomphe, one of the most famous monuments of Paris and center of French national pride, will celebrate its 100th anniversary on the first Sunday in May in ceremonies that will evoke the memory of Napoleon Bonaparte, the man responsible for its construction.

The centenary will take place one year late, as the Arc was completed only in 1836, it was decided to postpone the event to coincide with the celebrations of the Paris World Exposition. The ceremonies will evoke historical events covering every stage of French politics in the last century and a half. Conceived and begun by Napoleon, the Arc was completed by the French monarchy and has since become the national shrine of the Third Republic, where the patriotic sentiment of 1914-18 is typified in the eternal flame that burns over the tomb of France's Unknown Soldier.

Arc Rich In History
This year's ceremonies will evoke many historic events which have centered about the Arc de Triomphe, including the funeral of Victor Hugo, The Victory Parade on July 14, 1919, the burial of the Unknown Soldier on No. 11, 1920, and the march of the American Legionnaires during their convention here in September, 1927.

the celebrations. The soldiers will be clothed in uniforms of bygone days, with the "Old Guard" of Napoleon leading the way. Soldiers of the Empire, the Monarchy and the Republic will join in a symbolic parade down the Champs Elysees affirming the cohesion of France through these periods. Each will wear the colorful uniforms of yesterday.

Another special celebration will be performed at the Palais Royal, where a costume performance entitled "La Nuit du Directoire" will evoke the stirring days between the French Revolution and the Empire. There "Napoleon" will appear in personification as the actors reproduce Napoleon's return from Egypt. The general's staff in the uniforms of the period will accompany him, and the "guests" of the reception, including the ladies will be attired in the distinctive garb of the Directory period.

Bonapartists to Meet
Although the Bonapartist movement—except for the island of Corsica where it still lives on—is almost dead in France, this year Parisians and visitors will be aware that Napoleon still has his heated patrians here. The annual ceremony of the Bonapartists of France will be staged at the Place Vendome before the statue of their hero.

Endeavor Has Program On 'Prayer' Sunday

The Junior Endeavor of the First Christian church met at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon to study the third lesson of a series on "Prayer". After the song service and the reading of the scripture lesson by Mrs. Zack Reader, sentence prayers were offered by several of the group.

Those taking part on the program were Betty Ruth Pickering, Charles Reader, Clarissa Mann, Dale Mickey, Leora Mann, Adah Belle Reader, Sharon Lee Cornelius, and Doris Mickey. Adah Belle Reader presented a special number in song, accompanied by her mother Mrs. Zack Reader on the violin.

Mrs. J. K. Graves conducted a Bible drill after which the meeting adjourned with the Mizpah benediction.

GIRL SCOUTS BIRTHDAY

There must be a good many American mothers who look back on happy girlhood days as Girl Scouts and who now have daughters of their own who are Scouts—or who are getting ready by being Brownies. For on March twelfth of this year the Girl Scouts celebrate their twenty-fifth anniversary. It was just a quarter-century ago that Juliette Gordon Low formed the first troop. That was at a tea party in Savannah, Georgia. And now the campfires of the Girl Scouts burn in more than fourteen thousand American places. There are nearly four hundred thousand members. There are 14,251 troops of girls between ten and eighteen years of age, and 1,734 Brownie packs of girls between seven and ten. In more than four hundred places there are "Little Homes", headquarters maintained by local and national Scout organizations. And there are three hundred and fifty regular camps where the girls and their leaders go in summer for weeks of hearty outdoor living. Of the fifty-two badges that a Girl Scout can earn, twenty-two are for outdoor doings, such as swimming, gardening, the observation of animals. There are eleven badges for household activities; nine for cultural interests such as dancing and art, and ten for miscellaneous achievements.

Good citizenship plays a great part in the ideas and practice of Scouting. Many a community will long remember the good work that the Girl Scouts did during the floods of last spring, and many a park and playground blooms with shrubs planted by the Scouts. Being a Scout gives a girl a running start toward being a good housewife, a good sportswoman and a good citizen.

We have come a long way from pantalettes to shorts and slacks, a long way from the day when Curly Locks sat on a cushion sewing fine seams, to this better day when a girl can spend the morning sewing and spend the afternoon climbing trees without being called either a softy on the one hand or a tomboy on the other.

MIND Your MANNERS

Test your knowledge or correct social usages by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it necessary for a young girl to rise when a woman comes near?
2. Is it better to say "I beg your pardon" or "Excuse me," when interrupting a busy person?
3. Is it discourteous to read a letter or message before another person without first asking "May I?"
4. Should a man ask permission to smoke when he is with a woman?
5. Should a man stop a woman on the street to talk with her?

What would you do if—
You bring a stranger into a large roomful of people—
(a) Take him around and introduce him to each one?
(b) Introduce him to the hostess, if there is one, and to a few persons close by, later moving on to a new group?
(c) Proclaim, "Everybody, this is

Senior Endeavor Met In Hall of Church

A splendid group of young people of the First Christian church had as their Senior Endeavor topic, "Looking Ahead With Jesus," at their regular meeting last night in the banquet hall of the church. Donald Griffin was the leader and presented the opening talk on "Jesus said, Follow Me." Those having part in the program were Nell Ruth Bedford, Billy Noble, Louclie McHargue, Billy Joe Hall, Marvin Park and Glenn Brunson. After the discussion of the special topics there was a general discussion of the task and mission of Jesus, which was entered into by the entire group.

After the program a short business session was held and the following plans were made. Next Sunday night the entire Senior Endeavor group will present a program at the evening hour at the First Christian church at Big Spring. The following Sunday they will present a Consecration Service at the local church. The consecration service is the same as the local group gave at the recent World's Fellowship meet. Then the following Sunday they will render a program at the evening hour at the First Christian church at Odessa.

AGGIES WIND UP SPRING FOOTBALL TRAINING WITH FULL MONTH OF WORK

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Mar. 8.—A few final coaching tricks coupled with a general review of their month's work is all that awaits sixty-odd Texas Aggie football candidates before they will pack away their grid tugs Wednesday, March 10, until Fall practice begins Sept. 5.

The Aggies' thirty-day Spring practice periods began Feb. 10. They didn't miss an hour of scheduled work until a rainy spell set in the middle of the past week.

At least partial solution to all problems that faced him at the start was seen by Head Coach Homer Norton as the practice neared its close. He will have nearly a full month of routine practice to work out the problems completely in the Fall before the Aggies open their season against Manhattan Oct. 2 at New York City.

Norton is counting upon Dick Todd or Bob Nesrta, letterman from Crowley and Platonis, respectively, to replace Bill Stases and "Doc" Pitner in handling the Cadets' punting. If they don't come through as expected, he will look for his kickers among Karl Steffens, Brady, Ken Mills, Groesbeck, Waleman Price, Newcastle; Bill Andish, Brenham; and Frank Woods, San Angelo. Steffens and Mills are sophomores.

Zed Coston, big Dallas boy who under-studied Senior Charlie DeWare at center the past season, respectively, to replace Bill Stases and "Doc" Pitner in handling the Cadets' punting. If they don't come through as expected, he will look for his kickers among Karl Steffens, Brady, Ken Mills, Groesbeck, Waleman Price, Newcastle; Bill Andish, Brenham; and Frank Woods, San Angelo. Steffens and Mills are sophomores.

Improvements made by Price, who is being counted upon the aid letterman Jim Shockey, of Gilmer, in doing most of the passing.

Trial of Bruno Schroeder, letterman fullback from Lockhart who was out the past year, at playing end.

General improvements in end play, especially by Rankin Britt of Ranger and Bill Seago of Gilmer, lettermen, and by Bailey Timmerman of Rockdale and Tuff Sikes of Leonard, squaddens.

Johnny Morrow, of Wortham, letterman the past two years, was on the basketball team and did not take part in the practice.

Work of George Branson, squaddens from Earleson who seems slated to fill a hole at tackle left when John Whitfield completed his eligibility.

If the Aggies were to play a game the coming week instead of ending practice, Coach Norton probably would pick the following as his starters: Seago and Britt, ends; Young and George Branson, tackles; Joe Routt, Chapel Hill, and Virgil Jones, Sweetwater, guards; Coston, center; Dick Vitek, Granger, quarterback; Todd and Uersita, halfbacks; and Shockey fullback. All are lettermen except Branson.

Other Spring practice candidates include the following: ENDS—Bill Duncan, Henrietta; Sam Dwyer, El Paso; Jack Kimbrough, Haskell; Dow Mimms, Houston; Tuff Sikes, Leonard; Herbert Smith, San Angelo; Joe Turner, Ft. Davis; and Bailey Timmerman, Rockdale.

TACKLES—Freeman Bokeneamp, Houston; Joe Boyd, Dallas; Wayne Crawford, Amarillo; Warren Church, Colorado; Harold Hart, Gilmer; Randow Reid, Dallas; Bill Routt, Chapel Hill; Durwood Steele Beaumont.

GUARDS—George Adams, Bryan; Gus Bates, Fort Worth; Bailey Drennan, Cleburne; Willis Dunahoe, Galena Park; Jerry Faubion, Preport; Bill Minnock, Gelela Park; Alvin Olbrich, Burlington; Lehman Rahm, Dayton; Onis Warden, Ranger; K. Woodward, Nacogdoches; John Doyal, Grand Prairie.

CENTERS—Bob Ramsey, Uvalde; Eli Rushing, Stephenville; Joe White, Amarillo; Gail Young, Shamrock; Key Ryan, Eagle Pass.

BACKS—Bill Audish, Brenham; Bob Adams, Jacksonville; Bill Boyd, Gilmer; Ed Brown, Beville; Walter Cecil, Preport; Jack Cooper, Dallas; Jean Dallas, Houston; Henry Dittman, Goose Creek; Floroy Fowler, Mt. Pleasant; Bob Livingston, Dallas; Ken Mills, Groesbeck; Waleman Price, Newcastle; Walter Reynolds, Sour Lake; Owens Rogers, Mart; J. B. Saltonstall, El Dorado, Ark.; Bruno Schroeder, Lockhart; Robert Shiller, Columbus; Karl Steffens, Brady; and Frank Wood, San Angelo.

Improvements made by Price, who is being counted upon the aid letterman Jim Shockey, of Gilmer, in doing most of the passing.

Trial of Bruno Schroeder, letterman fullback from Lockhart who was out the past year, at playing end.

Now, Is That a Nice Thing for a Lady to Do?

This may not be the accepted, ladylike way to treat a guest, but when these women met in Chattanooga, Tenn. it was for a wrestling match, not a tea party. The main refreshments—enjoyed mostly by the crowd—were served when "Tiger Woman" Dolly Dalton dished out this "kangaroo kick" to her opponent, Betty Blondell. The compliment literally swept Wrestler Blondell off her feet, while the third woman in the ring, the referee, diplomatically dodged flying arms and feet. Final honors went to Miss Dalton.

Half Students of WPA Adult Classes Getting Govt. Aid

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 8. — Approximately half of the more than 87,000 students attending Works Progress Administration adult classes in Texas are receiving assistance from the government in the form of work relief, a recently-completed survey of WPA classes discloses.

"This indicates to us that thousands of persons forced by circumstance to accept work relief assignments are attempting to better their earning capacity by taking advantage of WPA educational opportunities for adults," declared Works Progress Administration Director H. P. Drought. "It is interesting also to note that eighteen percent of the adult students come from the ranks of the unemployed."

One-fourth of the students have passed the age of 41. About forty per cent of these studying under WPA teachers are less than 25 years of age. Classes are open to any person above the age of 16 who is not a regular attendant of a public educational institution.

Thirty-five per cent of those now attending WPA classes were illiterate at the time of enrollment. The remainder are studying courses which range from grammar school level to early college work. WPA's educational curriculum includes literary classes, general adult education, vocational adjustment courses, parent education, and nursery schools, the latter for underprivileged children, 2 to 4 years of age.

Approximately half of the students are of Anglo-Saxon lineage, 29 per cent are Negroes, 19 per cent are Mexicans, and the remainder are classified in twenty different racial categories.

Now conducting WPA classes are 1400 formerly unemployed teachers. Cumulative records show that more than 110,000 Texans have been enrolled in the various WPA classes since this agency took over the operation of the Federal education program in 1935.

authorities admit this phase is "a problem." County hospitals invariably have more than they can care for as it is.

The expanded camp program, in addition to providing room for more families, will place greater emphasis on recreation and health supervision.

One Camp Offers Gardens At Arvin, where another camp is located, families will get inexpensive housing and a small plot of ground as an experiment in subsistence farming similar to the program already under way in Arizona.

Permanent housing is not a part of the resettlement program for farm labor, however. If present plans are carried through some of the more progressive families from the long list of share-croppers, dust-bowl refugees, dispossessed farmers who make up the camp personnel, perhaps will be given a chance at subsistence farming after they have demonstrated their capacity for self support.

Aubrey Williams New NYA Director

AUSTIN, Mar. 8. — J. C. Kellam has been named by Aubrey Williams, executive director of the National Youth Administration, as acting state director in Texas, since Lyndon B. Johnson, state youth director, resigned March 1. On receiving Johnson's resignation, Aubrey Williams said of him, "He is one of the ablest state directors we have had" and has done a "first class job."

Prior to his present appointment, Kellam served as assistant state director. He came to the National Youth Administration from the State Department of Education, where he served for a number of years as Deputy State Superintendent and later as State Director of the Rural Aid Division.

He is 36 years old and a graduate of Southwest Texas State Teachers College and the University of Texas. While attending school at San Marcos, Kellam took an active part in student affairs, serving as business manager of the college paper and captain of the football team. Upon his graduation he taught and coached football at Lufkin High School for a number of years. During a summer school session he also taught at the Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College at Nacogdoches.

"All Villain Card" Is Boast of Miami Rassel Promoters

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 8. —The "in the know" boys say that Mrs. Emil Denmark plans to place Jockey Bobbie Merritt under contract. They insist that Merritt will do the lightweight riding for the Chicago string, leaving the veteran Jackie Charlie Kurtzinger to take the heavy assignments. Promoters have a technique all their own in advertising wrestling in Miami. One typical ad which appeared in the newspapers stated that for the price of admission a spectator might expect to see: "A Bloody Jungle Riot—All Villain Card—Assault and Battery—Blood—Action—Mayhem." Breaking official A. A. U. records at 200 and 300 yards over the short course at the Miami Biltmore pool on consecutive weekends, Miami's Ralph Flanagan, Olympic swimmer, is making steady progress, and Coach Steve Forsyth predicts he will be in the greatest form of his life for the national indoor meet in the Yale pool at New Haven, April 9-10. Henry C. Collins, superintendent at Tropical Park, claims the track is the safest in winter racing. He says the mile oval has a cushion of selected topsoil 14 inches deep along the inner rail graduating to 10 inches at the outer fence. At the recent second annual winter Miami Society Dog Show, 52 Boston terriers were benched. This was the largest entry for the breed for any show ever held below Washington, D. C. One of those who watched the running of the Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah was Johnny Downs, who at 82 is America's oldest living jockey. He began in the fall of 1867 and for ten years after that was rated up among the top-notchers. His major triumph was in the International Steeplechase at Long Branch, N. J., in 1874 on Bullet. Lazing about in Miami the other day, Gordon "Mickey" Cochrane, manager of the Detroit Tigers made some tentative predictions as to probable outstanding pennant contenders in the American League this year. Without definitely committing himself on the outcome of the race, he nevertheless said the teams which should bear watching are his own, the champion New York Yankees, Cleveland, and the Chicago White Sox. ### FIVE AUTOS IN CRASH

RENO, Nev. (UP)—A. E. LeBourveau insists he holds the world's record for having the greatest number of automobiles involved in the same accident. He says he was stopped in the middle of the road with two other cars behind him when a fourth car carrying another car on top of it crashed into the entire string and five autos participated in the wreck.

"COOL GLASS" DISCOVERED
PRAGUE (UP)—"Summer glass," which absorbs the heat of the sun while letting through its light, has been discovered in Northern Bohemia, it is said. Technicians long have been interested in heat-absorbing glass, but had hitherto been baffled by the problem that the greatest part of the sun's energy lay in the visible spectrum.

Agile Artist Depicts a Diving Scene on Canvas- Doesn't Use Water Color--In Fact, He Doesn't Use Water at All

TODAY'S PICTURE STORY

This is a simple little thing . . . now, how about something harder . . . It looks like a swan dive, but where is the water? There isn't any, and that's the secret of Sam Howard's success as diving instructor at the Miami Biltmore Country Club. He teaches 'em on dry land—with the aid of the "trampoline," a device of canvas stretched over a wooden rack which gives spring to spare. Howard illustrates a swan. It certainly looks simple.

The "bounce" Perfect form going up Somersault starts Gets tighter Opens into beautiful back swan Always start on your feet, demonstrates Howard, ricocheting six feet off the canvas. It takes control, too, and keep your eye on the trampoline when you leap up and arch into a streamline dive. For then comes the intricate business. You pull up your knees to your chin and then clasp your hands around those knees. Tighter now, with plenty of spring, and you're all set to come out of it. Ah, that's it, the perfect somersault which ended just as perfectly in a fine back swan. But look out, you still have to land.

Back on feet again There you are, feet first and knee-deep in canvas, all ready to begin the second lesson—if you think you can take it.

'PENNIES FROM HEAVEN.' WITH BING CROSBY, IS TOPS FOR MUSICAL SHOWS

There is revelry and dancing in the streets in the vicinity of the Yucca Theatre, and for a very good reason. Columbia brings a picture called "Pennies From Heaven" there today through Tuesday and it's one of the happiest bits of entertainment that has come this way. Bing Crosby, he of the soothing voice, fits securely at the top of a splendid cast that includes the lovely Madge Evans, little Edith Fellows and meek Donald Meek.

"Skeleton in the Closet," are numbers that bear a lot of whistling and humming. Miss Evans, prettier than ever, does extremely well; a talented and refreshing young lady, she is a valuable adjunct to any picture. The story concerns Larry Poole, an ex-convict vagabond troubadour. He is asked by a condemned murderer in prison to look up the family of the murdered man. Larry finds a little girl and her grandfather, poverty-stricken. Then begins the highly entertaining tale of how Larry contrives to keep the child and the elderly man out of county institutions while falling in love with a welfare worker whose duty is to put them there. "Pennies from Heaven," "So Do I," "One Two Button Your Shoe" and sign his name, address, it to the paper, put a stamp on it, and mail it. No Sign of "Padding" Such a voluntary poll is, of course, open to the possibility of "stuffing" by those interested in showing a given result. There is no evidence that this happened in the present poll. While it is unlikely that many papers checked names and addresses on each ballot received, the ballot ran in most papers only from three to five or six days, leaving little time to organize any very widespread "stuffing."

Poll

Covers Wide Territory
The poll covered a far wider area, and reached hundreds more towns than indicated by the list of papers actually participating. For instance, the Elgin (Ill.) Courier-News reports returns from "40 cities in northern Illinois." The Cumberland (Md.) Times had returns from "50 towns in 4 states," while the Phoenix (Ariz.) Republic reported ballots from almost every county in the state. The Clarksburg (W. Va.) Independent, it notes, covered 222 towns. This was true, of course, to a greater or lesser extent of every paper participating.

How One Town Ran

Typical was Chambersburg, Pa., whose Public Opinion reported daily totals as follows:

Date	For	Against	Total
16	8	112	120
17	39	311	350
18	60	754	814
19	63	1094	1257
20	65	1162	1227
22	65	1206	1271
23	65	1232	1297
24	68	1252	1320
25	68	1283	1351

Oil News--

Humble No. 1-B Means, wildcat nearly three miles southeast of the Means pool, is drilling at 2,281 feet in salt and anhydrite. Location is in section 11, block A-45, public school land.

Deep Test To Plug

Operations at Ohio Oil Company No. 1 Goode, eastern Terrell wildcat on the Pandale structure and the deepest active test in West Texas, appeared to have reached an end today when it was reported that the well was shut down for orders to plug an abandon at 9,140 feet in black shale and sand. No shows were logged in deepening from old total depth of 6,120, where, several years ago, it had shown six million feet of gas. The No. 1 Goode is in section 26, block 161, G. C. & S. F. survey.

Cheate & Hogan No. 1 Baker, newest producer in the area west of the old McCamey pool in Upton, pumped 782 barrels in 21 hours and 55 minutes, filling all available storage. Operators asked for 24-hour rating of 853 barrels, based upon the incomplete gauge. Bottomed at 2,272 feet in lime, it was treated with 2,500 gallons of acid.

Cheate & Hogan and Wilbanks No. 1 Cordova Union, half mile southwest extension to the Crane side of the McCamey pool, stopped drilling at 4,315 to run 7-inch casing to round 1,950. Practically continuous saturation was logged in lime section from 1,990 to total depth. Operators will acidize the well with 5,000 gallons after drilling plug. It is located 2,310 feet from the northwest and southwest lines of section 7, block 35, H. & T. C. survey.

SAN FRANCISCO IS HIT BY QUAKE

Buildings Are Rocked By 5-Minute Tremors; Damage Unreported

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 8. (AP)—A light earthquake shook San Francisco at 2:30 a. m. today, lasting for five minutes as buildings rocked. The movement was more severe in Oakland and other east bay cities. No immediate reports of damage were made.

The last of three after shocks was at 6:57 a. m.

FINAL ACTION ON WAGNER ACT HELD UP BY COURT

Constitutionality Of Other Acts Will Be Acted on Mon.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 8. (AP)—The supreme court today deferred until at least next Monday final decisions on the constitutionality of the Wagner Labor Relations act and the Washington state law establishing minimum wages for women.

The court also postponed action for reconsideration of a four to four decision upholding the constitutionality of the New York unemployment insurance act.

Halstead L. Ritter lost in the court his attack on the validity of senate impeachment proceedings that produced his removal from a federal district judgeship in southern Florida.

CHECK RECLAIMED AT LAST

EIKHART, Ind. (U.P.)—When Joseph Levin sent $1,287 by government money order to his brother in Russia 18 years ago and it never was delivered, Joseph assumed the currency was lost in transit. But at last he learned his sender's check entitled him to reclaim the amount at the local postoffice. He did.

Parrots have been known to reach the age of 75 years.

GOODNIGHT TIME ARGUED

TORONTO, Ont. (U.P.)—The Rev. Douglas Davis' declaration that midnight "is quite late enough" for a sifter to stay when calling on his girl has aroused local damsels. Most of them argue any hour they decide is appropriate for their callers to leave is soon enough, but 12 o'clock is "too early," unless they add, they are bored.
