BOY SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL UNDER TRUCK HERE

Doyle DeArman Is In Hospital After Accident

DRIVER FREED

Didn't Know Youth Was Hanging On To Car

Doyle DeArman, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. DeArman, suffered a possible skull fracture late yesterday afternoon when he accidentally fell against or under the T. J. Tidwell sound truck near his home on South Weatherford.

With several other boys, the youngster was racing alongside the truck as it drove slowly down the street. Others with him at the time were unable to account for the accident, reporting the boy evidently caught hold of the side of the truck and was swung off his feet, causing him to fall against a fender or hub, or stumbled while at the side of the truck and fell against it, his father said.

An attending physician said today that the boy evidently had concussion or fracture, his condition at present not allowing a more thorough examination than has been given him. He rouses to consciousness occasionally, but most of time has remained in a coma. A large bump on his head is the only outward sign of an injury.

The driver of the sound truck was exonerated by officers who questioned him upon his explanation that he didn't know the boy was hanging on to, or attempting to get on to the truck.

An ambulance, called soon after the accident, was delayed when the driver, N. W. Ellis, collided at the Main and Wall streets intersection with a car being driven by R. W. Flowers. Neither driver was injured, although Flowers' car was slightly damaged.

LIQUIDATION OF COTTON LOANS IS URGED BY OFFICIAL

Cobb Says Chance To Make $1.25 Per Bale Sale

STOCKS ARE CUT Less Than 2 Million Shares Listed On Program

WASHINGTON, Apr. 15 (P)—A federal farm official urged cotton farmers Wednesday to liquidate outstanding government cotton loans under the marketing program operative since February.

Cully A. Cobb, director of the southern division for the agricultural adjustment administration, said farmers "who have borrowed 12 cents a pound on their cotton from the commodity credit corporation now have an opportunity to liquidate their loans and at the same time to realize a small sum, about $1.25 a bale on the average on the transaction."

Cobb said government cotton loan stocks had been reduced to 1,850,000 bales under the release program of recent weeks.

The release program, Cobb added, was simple in operation. He said "any farmer in the belt who wants to settle his AAA loan and have his cotton released for sale can do so."

Cobb said cotton growers with loans outstanding should first "find a buyer and get a price on the cotton under loan."

He said samples could be obtained from warehouses where the cotton was stored, and added that reconstruction finance corporation loan agencies could furnish this information.

Cobb said farmers should then calculate what it would cost to settle outstanding loans and get the cotton released.

"I think it is a good time for farmers generally to take advantage of the marketing program," Cobb said.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS PATRICK IN PROGRAM HERE

Noted Bass Is Well Received In A Visit Here

John H. Patrick, eminent American basso, was received very enthusiastically last night by a large crowd of music lovers who attended the concert at the high school auditorium. Patrick, who was presented by the Midland high school, is a widely known concert, opera, and radio artist and is a member of the Chicago City Opera Company.

The basso has a voice of phenomenal richness, sonority, and depth. The varied program gave Mr. Patrick a chance to show his talents from a number of different angles. His voice has been described as being quite consistent with his stature. Patrick's form looms well over 6 feet and his voice booms proportionately. In quality it is reminiscent of an organ, very big.

The program was as follows:

Problem-Solving Forum Of Education Urged

PITTSBURGH, (U.P.)—"Social insanity" in the United States may be the result of teaching children geometry, Latin, physics and ancient history, instead of "home membership, community life, leisure time and the rearing of children," according to Dr. J. Stanley Gray, University of Pittsburgh psychologist.

Elementary education should be "problem-solving" not a "batch of facts," Dr. Gray said.

BY FRANK GARDNER

Flowing 75 barrels of high-gravity oil an hour with 3,000,000 cubic feet of gas, Gulf Oil Corporation No. 4 W. N. Waddell today definitely established the western Crane county Sand Hills pool as a source of Ordovician deep production comparable to and perhaps exceeding that of the Big Lake field in Reagan county. The big flow is coming through casing with drill-pipe in the hole. A four-inch flow line connects the well to storage tanks.

Oil flow started while the well was coring from 5,994 to 6,014, with output gauge at 393 barrels in four hours and 45 minutes. It is now bottomed at that depth and will probably have to be killed before drill-pipe can be pulled. At 5,989, the No. 4 had flowed 82 barrels of 43.5-gravity oil in 19 hours and 15 minutes. Coming ahead, it recovered five feet of dolomite and sand bearing no porosity from 5,999 to 5,994.

Main pay is believed coming from sand and dolomite in the Simpson, middle Ordovician, topped at 5,824, 3,265 feet below sea level. It topped that member approximately 50 feet higher than the original deep discovery of the area, Gulf No. 1 Waddell, small pumper a half-mile to the west and slightly north of No. 4.

Gulf Oil Corporation holds most of the acreage in the vicinity of the deep strike, with a solid block extending north, south and west of it. However, in section 3, block B-27, public school land, immediately east of section 4, in which the No. 4 Waddell is located, the acreage holdings are more diversified, with Tide Water, having the north half of the northwest, Southwest Development and Penn the south half of the northwest, Shell the southwest quarter, Sinclair-Prairie the northeast quarter, Skelly the north half of the southeast and Sinclair-Prairie Unit the south half of the southeast.

New Ward Wildcat

L. B. Hoss and Frank Downey et al of Midland has spudded a new wildcat test a mile southwest of Bentley & Massie No. 1 Boogher, outpost producer at the south end of the South Ward field. It is their No. 1 Blair and is located in section 5, block 32, H. & T. C. survey, 330 feet north of the common line between sections 4 and 5 and in the center of the middle 80 acres of the northeast 240 acres of the southwest 480 acres of section 5. Contract depth is 2,500 feet, and the well is being drilled with a Wichita 55 spudder by Otto Schkade, contractor. It is on a 240-acre farm-out from the Stanolind Oil & Gas Company.

One million trucks in service in the United States, it is estimated, haul 1,430,000,000 tons of freight annually; 134,400 tons of this represents farm produce.

PEACE IS WORTH LITTLE IF WAR CAUSES REMAIN

Terrible as war is, it is a symptom of the world's troubles rather than the cause of them. To work for a warless world without realizing that the maintenance of peace is only half of the job is to surrender to one of the greatest of delusions.

An illustration is provided by the tragic case of the fierce Touareg tribesmen of the Sahara desert.

For many years the Touaregs were among the most dreadful fighters of Africa. They fought with other tribes, they fought with each other, and they fought most of all with the French, providing the long-suffering Foreign Legion with some of its most desperate engagements.

But at last the power of France grew to be too much for them. The Touaregs knuckled under before the white men's troops, just as the Sioux of our own west had knuckled under; and some three years ago the tribesmen stopped fighting and embraced the ways of peace.

And then their troubles began.

The Touaregs had always been nomadic tribes, roaming up and down and across the limitless Sahara. When peace came they stopped roaming and settled down, swarming to the oases and the villages, and multiplying in numbers faster than they ever had in the age-old era of unceasing warfare.

Now the Sahara is not exactly a garden spot. The number of people it can support is strictly limited. When villages and oases increase in population, the Sahara's productivity is tested to the very limit. A brief run of bad luck can cause disaster.

The run of bad luck promptly came. A long dry spell set in. The Sahara's power to produce was abruptly reduced. The Touaregs, centered in villages and around the waterholes, fell easy victims to famine.

A United Press correspondent recently finished a tour of the desert and reported that never in his life had he seen such frightful scenes of starvation and suffering as are on view among the Touaregs. Thousands upon thousands of the tribesmen have died. Other thousands are reduced to the most pitiful beggary in the towns. Altogether the Touaregs are suffering far more than they ever suffered from desert warfare.

Now the point of this case is that the job of making the desert orderly and peaceful was only half done. Peace was established—but nothing was done to make peace workable. The age-old forces that drive the desert men to unceasing warfare were left untouched. And so peace spelled disaster.

You can carry out the analogy elsewhere. Peace came to Europe in 1918. But the job of making peace workable was left undone. The causes of war remained as they had been; indeed, through human folly and neglect, they were permitted to grow stronger and sharper than ever. So Europe's peace became a painful sham, an uneasy lull between battles.

Averting war is not enough. If the things that cause war are not attended to, our work for peace is a delusion.

The Difficulty With Pushing It Through

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Herbert Hoover, Andrew Mellon and other leaders of our Republican past planned and built many handsome, gaudy government buildings which began to be completed about the time Roosevelt and the New Dealers were ready to move in. Some of these structures seem to have been designed to provide homes for great open spaces.

The first big federal building here to be initiated, erected and now completed under the Roosevelt regime is the new Department of Interior Building, into which various scattered bureaus under Secretary Harold Ickes are now beginning to move after much vexation and delay.

Plan rather than stylization, utility in preference to classily frillies, an efficient place for work rather than an imitation Parthenon—that was the idea Ickes had for his building after he found his department and his PWA scattered around Washington at 20 different addresses.

Nevertheless, there has been much beefing about this new edifice. There usually is some grumbling among government employes whenever they have to move out of a dingy, ancient cockroach-ridden office building into a swell, white, shiny, large and well-ventilated palace. But most of the squawking about the new Interior building is based on the allegation that most of its offices are too small for anyone except White House Secretary Marvin McIntyre, who won't have any use for them anyway. Ickes, who watched the planning and construction of the building like a hawk, and kept giving the architect his ideas as to efficient design, found at the end that his own offices were much too small, and ordered them re-designed so that walls had to be moved and repanelled, and the plumbing rejiggered.

No Buffalo In Bas-Relief
But you will not find any Indians or buffalo cavorting in bas-relief on the facade of any kind, or even any grassy court-yards with or without fountains and goldfish. That is an outstanding difference between this place and other federal buildings completed in the last few years—such as those for the Post Office, Labor, Justice and Commerce departments and the Supreme Court.

Perhaps the official chiselers soon will have to chisel out the words "Department of Interior" now cut into the stone above the entrance to the Constitution avenue, and chisel in "Department of Conservation." There would be a fine chance for a typographical error there which would make it read "Department of Conversation." Any way, one of the least controversial phases of the president's reorganization program calls for a change in the department's name. The present interior building across Rawlings Square, (a connecting tunnel runs under this square) will be known as the North Interior Building, but might later become headquarters for a new Department of Public Works.

The exterior of the building is both simple and handsome, and there's no question that Ickes and the architect achieved economy on space. About 3000 employes will move in during the next two months. The building consists of a wide center wing two blocks long, with six wings on each side. It is so constructed that no one will have to turn more than one corner to reach his office if he takes the right elevator. Cost was about $13,000,000.

Has First Escalators
Escalators operating between the first two floor levels and the basement are the first yet established in a government building. Other facts and features include 1000 electric clocks, automatic air-conditioning, a library with a capacity for 400,000 volumes, auditorium with 100 seats, a cafeteria to seat 1000, art gallery, conference rooms, special luncheon and kitchen for executives, basement garage for hundreds of cars and a broadcasting studio. Annual saving due to moving of Interior offices from leased space is estimated at $181,350. Also, a 10 or 15 per cent reduction in average operating costs for government buildings is expected to result from simplified methods of maintenance.

The new building will help solve a cockeyed housing problem which has become common among federal departments and New Deal agencies and has forced the government to rent more than 2,500,000 square feet of privately owned office space here, in addition to buying up some hotels, apartment houses and other structures.

RANDOM THOUGHTS

By W. I. PRATT

No improvement that has been made in Midland during the past years is deserving of more commendation than that made in our "City of the Dead." It is reflective of a respect for those that have passed on that is eminently praiseworthy. Those responsible for making this a more "restful" place to the eye have done something that we are all proud of.

The Town Quack has had quite a bit to say about "signs of spring" and I believe he has finally decided that Spring is here. Evidently he has converts as I saw a couple of straw hats yesterday. But that is not always a sure sign. Especially up in the Plainview country.

A word of defense for those called "they" who get quite a lot of criticism here and there for living costs in Midland. The results of some little survey that I have made along these lines is favorable to Midland, with the one exception of house rents. Prices of foods compare favorably with towns east or west of us. Utility rates, every one of them are as reasonable as a majority of towns in West Texas, and that means from Ft. Worth this way. Of course, you will find a few exceptions but all in all the picture compares favorably. If you are skeptical make your own investigation and I believe you will agree. And, to offset this rent proposition, which can't be solved in a day, take into consideration the differences in opportunities to make money. You will find not only advantages for the investor but the scale of wages and salaries is much higher. I'm not inviting arguments, just inviting investigation before 'too much' criticism.

HUNTINGTON, Ind. (U.P.)—Leroy Shockley struck a match to light a cigarette. The flame ignited gasoline fumes and blew him out of his truck cab. He was bruised and the truck was rescued by the city fire department.

causing him to become fractious. However, many of the half thoroughbreds are so gentle natured that they are easily handled by men, women or children.

There has been some comment for the past few days on the construction of a polo field at Midland Fair's plant, with plans for organizing a polo club. Midland sportsmen and sportswomen may enjoy this organization from two angles. They may take to it with the idea of making the polo team which probably will take on experienced teams all over the country. Or, they may just want to take up the sport of riding or "knocking the ball around." Probably more people will be interested from the latter angle. Provision will be made for stabling horses at the fair grounds, and those who like to ride may be able to drive out and climb aboard their nags at any time of day. Midland long has needed just such a medium for filling the horseback riding demand. The proposed polo club should do the job. And who knows but what he will take to the game so naturally that he will be on the first string after a little practice?

There is a long supply of good horses around Midland. Many of them are bred for polo, being of thoroughbred or part thoroughbred stock. Inexperienced riders should not buy horses too young or too highly bred. A good, steady old nag who has settled down and will perform easily at the urge of his rider is a better animal to start playing polo on than one which has everything to learn. An inexperienced rider sometimes puts too much pressure on the mouth of a young horse.

West Texas Seniors Accept Invitations To April 24 Program

ABILENE, April 15.—Fifty senior classes in the central and west Texas area have already accepted Hardin-Simmons' invitation to attend its annual Senior Day program April 24, university committee reported today.

Invitations were issued to more than 7,000 seniors in 400 high schools. Not less than 3,500 or 4,000 will converge on Abilene for the all-day entertainment. Baptist churches and other groups are co-operating to help furnish transportation.

The "three-ring circus" of campus frolic will start at 10 o'clock when visitors seat themselves in the Cowboy stadium to hear the famous Cowboy Band and watch university tumblers, Cowgirls and other campus groups.

Free barbecue during the noon hour and "sideshows" in the Science, home economics, pre-med, fine arts, radio speech, and journalism departments will fill the early afternoon hours. A football game from 3:30 until 5 o'clock will climax the program.

Festivities will be ended in time to permit the young people to return home in the early evening, the program chairman promises.

NEW NAME FOR FILMS
MODESTO, Cal. (U.P.)—On the grounds that Smith is not a good name for the movies, Ernest Leonard Smith, 33, has petitioned the superior court to endow him with the moniker, "Ernest Leonard Clauson."

Committees for the 1937 activities of Midland Fair, Inc. will be announced in a few days by the president, Clarence Scharbauer. With polo, a rodeo, a fall cattle show and sale and a fall race meet, it looks like a busy year even if there are no spring races.

The baseball season promises a lot more excitement, but I won't try to crib the copy of Rodgers' "Pay-off."

Collins, Query and Rodgers went to a luncheon at Hobbs yesterday. They got there too late for the luncheon but just in time for the meeting. My idea of "splitting" a luncheon hour is to be an time for the meal but out of pocket for the meeting.

Tidwell's Shows brought the annual April shower Tuesday night, I have been reminded. In a stretch of about ten years, this show gets a rain, hail or storm of some sort each season, upon arrival at Midland. Next year, I hope they arrive just in time for a week's rain but without the hail. We could afford to make them up a purse to get the rain.

Have you noticed how the building boom has taken on another spurt? The area where the recent auction sale was held has a whole flock of substantial houses under construction or contemplation. I have had a new house under contemplation for twenty years.

School Children To See Exposition At Dallas Free Apr. 21

DALLAS, Apr. 15 (Special)—Dream of expense paid vacation trips to the Pan American Exposition, where visitors will "go abroad at home" among the wonders of the Latin American nations' exhibits, spurred thousands of Texas school children competing in the Greater Texas Essay Contest this week.

The contest closes April 21. In each of the 24 supervisory districts of the state department of education, one sixth or seventh grade pupil and one high school pupil will be awarded a free trip to the Pan American Exposition in June. Thus, 48 boys and girls from all sections of Texas will get free vacation trips to Dallas during the exciting days of the exposition's first few weeks. In addition, seven cash prizes, ranging from $10 to $25, will be awarded for the best essays in each division—elementary and high school—in each of the 24 districts.

E. P. Simmons, chairman of the Greater Texas Committee which is sponsoring the contest, announced today that 242,000 copies of the contest book, "The Tale of a City and Two Expositions," have been sent without cost to students in every county of Texas. Despite the wide distribution of the books, the individual pupil has relatively higher chances of winning one of the prizes since he will be competing only against other students in his district and not against the entire state.

Typical of the splendid cooperation being given by school officials throughout Texas, Mr. Simmons said is the response from Hulon A. Anderson, superintendent of the Conroe, Tex., independent school district. Mr. Anderson wrote to the committee:

"Let your contest books come by return mail and I will distribute them at once, and we will get in after this program."
Mrs. Ross Tompkins of the history department of the Chandler high school wrote: "I think the contest a very profitable one. The children have become very enthusiastic about the visit, and they enjoyed entering the contest."
Each school has been asked to designate the eight best essays submitted by its pupils in each division—elementary and high school. All essays must be postmarked not later than midnight, April 21.

Dallas county pupils are competing in a separate contest, so that the students in more distant sections of the state will not have to compete against boys and girls who are more familiar with Dallas and the exposition.

Five Club NL Race Seen, With Reds Dark Horses, Cards in Second Division

By HARRY GRAYSON Sports Editor, NEA Service

New is the time for all good experts to climb out on that limb and tell the constituents just how the baseball clubs will finish. Respecting the seniority rights of the National League, we'll deal with it first.

It strikes me that schooled observers are overlooking the Chicago Cubs in what scarcely can miss being another typical National League race, with five clubs in the thick of a scramble as wide open as this spring's Kentucky Derby.

Because the Bruins are the best balanced outfit in the elder circuit and haven't a great deal to beat, because the Giants are with-

Charley Grimm, Bill Terry, Ed Brandt, Dessen. "The Cubs are going to play do ball for me or get out." "McCarthy will play do at first base us the good left hander we need." "Ed Brandt gives us the good left hander we need." "Our pitching is improved, I hope. We'll keep trying."

out William Harold Terry's services as an active combatant and are older, and for numerous other reasons, it is my offside prediction that the final 1937 standings of the National League will look something like what is printed below. How they wound up in 1936 is shown on the right.

Table with 2 columns: 1937 and 1936. Lists teams and their positions for both years.

CUBS COULD AFFORD TO SACRIFICE WARNEKE

Chicago has enjoyed exceptionally fine pitching for more than a decade. Last season the Cubs failed to repeat their pennant-winning performance of 1935 due to their inability to score runs. They have been reinforced in this important department by Jimmy Collins, an accomplished first baseman who in addition to rounding out the slickest defensive infield in the majors, is a run-batter-inner from way back. In 777 games with the Cardinals over a six-year stretch, Ripper Collins swatted in 516 runs and hit 106 home runs.

To get Collins, the Cubs sacrificed the renowned right-hand pitcher, Lon Warneke, but his loss should be at least partially offset by Leroy Parmelee, who came with Collins and who has as much or more than any slinger in the business. Who knows? This may be Parmelee's big year. He has been threatening to enjoy one since 1933.

JOB IN JEOPARDY, GRIMM BECOMES A DRIVER

Chicago has superlative catchers in Gabby Hartnett and Ken O'Dea, the best second basing combination in the business, and Phil Cavaretta stepped out to win the center fielding job when it was revealed that the $50,000 Joe Marty flinched at curve balls.

The Cubs are aroused. With his position in jeopardy, Charley Grimm finally has become a driver, and this spring had his athletes scrapping for exhibition games for the first time since he succeeded Rogers Hornsby. Grimm has ordered his scouts to acquire two more pitchers from the minors before the opening gun is fired on April 20. He expresses dissatisfaction with his foragers, and threatens to engage new ones.

Frank Frisch, Mickey Vernon, Grimes, Jimmy Wilson. "I'm still being suited of clothes and haberdashery." "A big league pay for the privilege." "I've plenty of reason to be a worrier this trip." "All I have to do is get the Phils turned around."

Philip K. Wrigley has plenty of money and wants pennants and not clubs that tie for second place. The Cubs are likely to be bolstered at the first sign of weakness.

The Giants will be difficult to head off as long as Carl Hubbell can propel a baseball with his amazing left arm, but Johnny McCarthy is no Terry at first base, and while Lou Chiozza will hit more than Stoney Jackson, the latter's steadiness may be missed at third base.

TERRY GAVE UP ON GIANTS LAST SUMMER

Last July 27, when the club was in third place, only two games ahead of the fifth-place Reds, young Horace Stoneham and Terry were convinced that the Giants had to be rebuilt. Then they won 26 of 28 games in 33 calendar days. Meanwhile, neither the Cubs nor Cardinals could play better than .500 ball. The Giants don't figure to get such a break two years hand running, particularly with Terry's big stick out of the batting order.

Lefty Brandt has joined a veteran staff of Pittsburgh pitchers which has a habit of collapsing in a body in midsummer. There isn't too much power in the tail-end of the Pittsburgh batting order, but the Pirates have it in them to finish in front of the Reds and Cardinals provided Cy Blanton return to his 1935 form and Catcher Al Todd escapes injury.

The Reds are dark horses. Charley Dessen took an eighth-place aggregation to sixth in 1935, brought it up another notch last season, and intends to crash the first division this trip. Cincinnati has a brilliant right-hander in Paul Derringer, two or three other pitchers about ready to scale the heights, and as many more exceptionally fine hurling prospects. Experienced catching will help.

The Reds hustle, but there are too many established Double A players on the roster.

CARDINALS SHORT IN ALL DEPARTMENTS

The Cardinals are overrated. They have wonderful pitchers in Dizzy Dean and Warneke and a third good one in Jim Winford. But that isn't enough, and both Mickey Owen and Brusie Ogrodowski have yet to establish themselves as first-rate big league catchers.

Frank Frisch having to play is a tipoff on the infield, and Joe Medwick and Pepper Martin are the only outfielders who can biff the ball.

Only able help from the farms will keep the Red Birds out of the second division, and there is every evidence that the St. Louis subsidiaries are in no position to supply it.

The last three clubs seem cemented in the positions where they finished last trip. The Bees introduced a skillful young first baseman in Elburn Fletcher, but generally speaking, turned to minor league veterans in reconstructing. Burleigh Grimes announces that he will hustle the Dodgers into many victories. That is about the only way the Brooklyn club will get them. Philadelphia is hopeless, with or without Dolph Camilli.

WEED TAKES HIGH TOLL. BROOKINGS, S. D. (U.P.) — Loss to South Dakota farmers in 1935 from infestation by field bindweed, commonly known as "creeping jenny," was placed at $6,115,000 in a state planning board report on noxious weeds. The loss estimate was based upon calculations for 12,230,000 acres throughout the state. TURTLE DISRUPTS SORORITY. BEKELEY, Cal. (U.P.) — Greek letter fraternities are hard on turtles. One fraternity here required its pledges to produce a turtle. They imported one from Florida 18 inches in diameter. Then they gave it to a sorority. The turtle ate all based upon calculations for 12,230,000 acres throughout the state. Finally it was sold to a restaurant.

42 Floats Entered In Texas-Ex Parade

AUSTIN, April 15. — With 42 floats officially entered, the corral gate closed Monday night on entry lists for Texas University's annual Round-Up Parade, first of the three largest features in the school's annual homecoming celebration beginning here Friday.

A record crowd of alumni, parents and visitors is expected to see the annual revue and ball follow that night in Gregory Gym on the campus and the all-university pageant, a new feature this year in the three-day ceremonies, the following night in Memorial Stadium.

To date, 21 fraternities, 13 sororities and 3 campus organizations have filed with Dean Arno Nowotny parade chairman, intention of entering floats in what committee heads say promises to be the largest parade in Round-Up history. A section of the procession has been reserved this year for the "Parade of Cities," floats and entries by various hometown clubs on the campus.

Invitations have been mailed to six bands, six official cars provided for the visiting sweethearts of colleges of the Southwest Conference, and decoration committees are working at present on a large float to present the five university co-eds vying for the title of Sweetheart of Texas.

An incomplete list of visiting dignitaries who have tentatively expressed intention of taking part in the Round-Up curtain-raiser includes Lieut.-Governor Walter Woodul, President Benedict, Tom Miller, mayor of Austin, and members of the University Board of Regents and deans of the university. Nowotny said yesterday that more officials would probably swell the list as the deadline for Friday's parade approached.

Names of a trio of official judges for the competitive judging were released over the week-end by the campus committee and will include one architectural designer, one dormitory director and the owner of an Austin extract company, Samuel Gideon, university professor of architecture, Catherine Neal, director of a girls' dormitory, and Fred Adams, Austin ex-student, will pool their float judgment and pick the entries eligible for the five cups and plaques awarded the most distinctive entries in the parade.

This year's procession, release of the line of march reveals, will be headed by official cars for visiting dignitaries and the sweetheart floats. Following will be the sorority, club and fraternity division entries, the bands and a company of Cowboys and Orange-Jackets, honorary service societies, will bring up the rear.

The parade will begin at 4 o'clock on the north section of the university campus, proceed from there downtown by way of Guadalupe street, and return past the Capitol. Announcement of final float winners, Nowotny said, will be reserved until Saturday night at the flood-lighted pageant, when they will be presented along with almost 1,000 students representing nearly every extra-curricular department of the University.

Reduces Varicose or Swollen Veins

Simple Home Treatment Prove It at Small Cost

The world progresses. Today many minor ailments that took weeks to overcome can now be helped much more quickly. If you have varicose veins or bunions start today to bring them back to normal size and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at Palace Drugs or any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating, and only a little is required.

In a short time the veins should begin to grow smaller and by regular use soon approach normal. People who want to reduce varicose veins or simple swellings should not hesitate to try a bottle at once. It is so penetrating and powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. (Adv.)

H-S U Students Pick Miriam Hopkins For 'Gone With the Wind'

ABILENE, April 15. — Miriam Hopkins, blonde screen star, is the choice of Hardin-Simmons university students for the role of Scarlett in Margaret Mitchell's "Gone With the Wind." Poll of university students who read the best seller gave the male lead of Rhett to Clark Gable.

The journalism class that conducted the poll reported wide difference of opinion as to choice of a screen star to play the role of "Mely," Helen Hays, Janet Gaynor and Jean Parker were three leading contestants. Leslie Howard was almost the unanimous choice for Ashley.

Pressing Miss Hopkins and Gable for the two leads were votes for Katherine Hepburn and Fredric March.

University copies of the best seller since "Gulliver's Travels" averaged 8 1/2 days per student who checked out the book.

Mmes. Henderson, Maxwell, Nelson and Hazlip Entertain At Midland Country Club Wednesday

Spring Flower Motif Is Carried Out In All Appointments of Lovely Party

A profusion of spring flowers made the party given Wednesday at the Midland Country Club by Mrs. S. P. Hazlip, Mrs. Paul A. Nelson, Mrs. James S. Maxwell and Mrs. Walter Henderson one of the most beautiful of the season.

The club was decorated with tulips, snapdragons, double petunias, sweet peas, pansies, and the mantel was covered with ivy. Each of the twenty-seven bridge tables had a cover of green or yellow, with score pads and tallies made up of tulips. Centerpieces were bowls of sweet peas and bridal wreath. Yellow and green were used in the party plate. Favors were small corsages of pansies.

Mrs. J. H. Goodman Hostess to Woman's Wednesday Club

Mrs. James H. Goodman was hostess to the Woman's Wednesday club yesterday at the home of Mrs. R. L. Miller, 202 S. Big Spring. Mrs. John Butler presided at the business meeting. It was voted to invite the other clubs of the Federated clubs of Midland to attend the Texas Day program in May, at which time Mrs. W. P. Avriett of Lamesa, first vice-president of the state federation will be guest speaker.

Mrs. W. G. Whitehouse was leader of the program on "Neutrality and Common Sense" by Bernard M. Branch, taken from the Atlantic Monthly Magazine. In Mrs. Whitehouse's discussion, she defined neutrality as that instrument by which one people would cease no part, directly or indirectly, in wars between other nations. She further stated that it seemed almost impossible to write a law that would keep us out of war.

Mrs. R. L. Miller was the first panel speaker, and her subject was one phase of the new neutrality bill that has just passed the House of Representatives. The Discretionary Powers Given to the President by the Passage of This New Bill. "It is never wise to take sides in the conflicts of other nations except in cases of invasion," she said.

The second panel speaker, Mrs. H. C. Barnes, discussed the new 1937 Neutrality Bill as it was recently passed, the Pittman-McReynolds Bill. The bill was read from the Congressional Records, and was interpreted to carry the "Cash

'House is Chilly', She Said—So Tommy, Fun-Loving Manville Boy, Gave Her Mink

BY GEORGE ROSS

NEW YORK April 15. — Although there are numerous claimants to the title, "New York's Playboy No. 1," Tommy Manville's zany antics and lavish spending entitle him to sole possession of that dubious distinction.

Each year, Manhattan witnesses the arrival of cash-laden cavaliers who fling hundred dollar tips around like so much ticker tape, order cases of champagne sent around nightly to their favorite chorines, and gladden the hearts of night club entrepreneurs, florists, jewelry salesmen and gossip columnists. But Manville has survived them all. He's the tops.

His marital trail has left a succession of revolving door romances which, for sheer extravagance, is unrivaled by any living Lothario. Tommy was only 17—and the heir to the $40,000,000 Manville asbestos fortune—when he married the first time. He had gone to a performance of "The Ziegfeld Follies" and one of the Great Glorifier's feminine exhibits caught the Manville eye.

Even in those days, Tommy revealed his playboy penchant for extravagance. After sumptuously dining and winning the young lady, he presented her with a check for $250,000—then married her. As one chronicler of the day put it: "Marriage is punishment enough without Manville fining himself, too."

The marriage lasted exactly 24 days at an approximate cost to the Manville fortune of $850,000.

Three Boxes for One
After that Tommy went on a dizzy whirl which lasted for nearly half a year. When accused of lowering his social status, Tommy flung a challenge at the feet of New York's socially elect. He went to the Metropolitan Opera House one night reserved three boxes for himself in the Golden Horseshoe, and sat in a different box for each act.

Once, in a fit of ennui, Tommy reserved an entire mid-town night club for his own personal use, hired a fleet of Rolls-Royces to transport a bevy of chorines to the party—and then presented each one with a check for $100. The party lasted nearly two days.

Tommy's second wife was a stenographer—his father's private secretary. Manville, Sr., sternly disapproved of the marriage and threatened to have it annulled. Tommy refused to be intimidated. And he found himself disinherited and penniless.

But he went his father one better. He secured a job as a chauffeur, and announced to the press that he would secure a wife in each state of the union, marrying one young lady as fast as the previous nuptial had been declared null and void. Manville, Sr., called the whole thing off. He had learned that it might be even more expensive if his son never darkened his threshold again.

To date, Tommy's marital mistakes are said to have depleted the Manville fortune to the extent of $3,500,000. His gifts in the form of jewelry for the alleged weaker sex, alone have amounted to $2,500,000.

Pretty Well Guarded
Lately, reports of Tommy's pranks have been emanating from his country home in New Rochelle, a patrician mansion which he calls "Bon Repos." In order to guard against loneliness in his twenty-eight room bachelor quarters, he has installed a crew of seven armed bodyguards and a collection of "chaperones," most recruited from New York clubs. Tommy pays good wages. The bodyguards are reputed to get $150 a week, although no one knows exactly what they are protecting Mr. Manville from.

The "chaperones" are on hand to prevent and future Manville marriages, or so Tommy claims. He has paid these publicistulous protectors as high as $1000 per week—with no fewer than eight on duty at one time. Recently, one of the young ladies complained that the house was chilly. Tommy quickly raised the Fahrenheit for her sake. He bought her a $12,000 mink wrap.

He still goes on sporadic sprees among the Manhattan hot spots, often taking a huge crowd of newly-found friends up to his castle in Westchester county. Occasionally the guests become linked at Tommy's pranks. He has had expensive radios installed in every room of the house with the main switch known only to himself. And he frequently wakes his guests up at six in the morning by switching on twenty-eight radios at once—crescendo.

Youngest British Soldier Wins Military Medal
LONDON, Apr. 14 (U.P.)—The youngest soldier in the British army to wear the Military Medal has

He is Rifleman T. F. McBride, 19, of the 2nd Battalion Cameronians, and the heroic act for which he was awarded the M. M. was the rescue of a wounded British policeman from a lorry carrying ammunition into which an incendiary bomb had been thrown.

McBride dragged the policeman into a ditch and went back to the vehicle and threw the crates of ammunition into the road. He was seen

The RAYOFF

BY JESS RODGERS

Construction of a clubhouse for the Midland baseball team started this morning and work on the fence is to be started as soon as lumber is available for laborers. The clubhouse is to be 100 feet long, 16 feet wide, along one side of the park fence, and will be used to house players of both the local and visiting clubs of the West Texas-New Mexico League during the season.

If any of you heard a terrific clatter yesterday morning it wasn't a cyclone, it was merely that story I wrote about the league being ready to go bouncing back and off my practically bald pate.

At 3:30 yesterday morning Bill Collyns was awakened from what he called sound slumber by the jingle of the telephone bell. When he finally answered he was informed that J. E. Payne, major domo of the Roswell club, was on the other end of the line, and what Payne had to say was poor solace for waking anyone up at that hour.

The gist of his conversation was that darn few persons at Hobbs even knew the town was being considered as a member of the West Texas-New Mexico League and that nothing at all had been done to let the citizens there know about it. He requested that Bill, Wray Query and Jess attend a Lions club luncheon there yesterday and tell the oil town folks what was expected of them.

"Long about 10:30 we took off, stepping in Odessa long enough to pick up Charley Bryan, skipper of the Ector entry. We got there too late for the eats but not too late for Collyns to make the boys a short speech.

In true chamber of commerce manager style, Bill passed out some pretty compliments on the New Mexico town, then informed them they had to get into the league in order to maintain their reputation as a town that was rapidly going forward. And no sooner said than done.

The master of ceremonies, toastmaster or whatever title he had, immediately appointed a committee, with himself at the head of it, to raise $1,000 by tonight. One member of the committee immediately made a suggestion that would have branded him as "traitor" in a lot of places. He said that as long as they were going to have to solicit the money the committee might just as well start with the Lions club members. And faster than the names of would-be donors could be written down the members started offering cash. When the meeting was finally adjourned more than half the $1,000 asked was assured.

So, unless something else comes up pretty darn quick it looks like everything is all set.

Odds and ends: Charley Bryan used to play under Wray Query "down in Arkansas". Bryan says that Odessa will outdraw Midland by 400 admissions opening day. D. E. Perry, Wink manager, says Wink will lead Odessa by 900. The Anderson. Music company of Big Spring has offered one of the swellst trophies we have seen in a long time to the club having the largest opening day attendance. We refuse to apologize for the statement made a couple of days ago in which we said that J. E. Payne was boss of both the Hobbs and Roswell clubs—if it weren't for his efforts probably neither would be in the

TO ALL CLUBS
Organization plans have been completed and in order to make the necessary preparations for opening a championship schedule of games I am calling for a meeting of club representatives to be held at the Hardin Hotel, Hobbs, New Mexico, Sunday, April 18, 1937, to convene at 1:30 p. m. Mountain Standard Time.

A playing schedule has been completed calling for the season's opening on Tuesday May 4, 1937, ending September 6 (Labor Day), 1937. This will be presented at the meeting for consideration and adoption.

A proper Constitution and By-Laws controlling the championship play of the clubs, setting up safe-guards for the game, etc., is being prepared for your adoption at this meeting.

You will recall from information given out during organization and at the Midland meeting that the player limit is fourteen players including the Manager; salary limit, $1,000 per club, exclusive of the manager. Many other matters will be written into the final draft of your Constitution and Rules in order to put together as good a Class D league as can possibly be constructed, with the view of leaning heavily toward the young player and complying, of course, with all National Association rules, etc.

It is hoped that you will have several club representatives present at this meeting, which will be the final meeting before opening of play and the most important by far of any due to the nature of the business at hand. By all means have present those persons charged with the operation of the "business end" of your club.

Australia Organizing Own Diplomatic Corps

CANBERRA, (U.P.)—The appointment of Keith Officer as Australian representative in the British Embassy at Washington is Australia's first step toward building up a diplomatic service of its own, official authorities have made known.

For the present no attempt will be made to establish separate embassies and legations as have Canada, the Irish Free State and South Africa, all members of the British Commonwealth, but a definite program of training men for the diplomatic service has been adopted.

A group of young university men has been appointed by the Australian External Affairs, Department for special training in the diplomatic service and these will serve as a nucleus for Australia's future diplomatic corps. The question of establishing legations and embassies separate from that of the British will be the next step.

town) into the league his work has been invaluable at Odessa, and Hobbs in getting them lined up. How about names for the baseball club? Seems like no one wants a season pass badly enough to think up a name for the club. The latest entries are "Knights," "Wizards," "Cardinals." Remember, you have only two more days in which to submit a name!

Consumption of Oil In Nation 10 Percent Higher Than In 1936

HOUSTON, Texas, April 15.—Consumption of petroleum in the United States in the second quarter of this year apparently will run over 10 percent higher than in the similar period last year, according to The Oil Weekly.

Such an increase would represent a continuation of the exceptionally heavy use of oils that prevailed in the first three months of the year. In this year's initial quarter, as previous records of petroleum consumption were broken, when the total demand was about 13 percent greater than in the similar period last year.

In response to the heavy demand, United States crude oil production also was expanded to all-time record proportions. The 295,393,400 barrels of crude produced within three months was 15.7 percent more than the output of the wells in the corresponding period last year.

The crude oil production was, in fact, somewhat in excess of the market demand, and about 5,500,000 barrels of crude went into storage in the three months.

Although this excess of crude production has caused some concern within the industry, in the fear the markets would be adversely affected, it is indicated that a better balancing of production with demand now prevails. The leading producing states, effective April 1, prescribed crude production allowable that apparently will bring the output of the wells back in line with the market requirements.

Consequently, markets and prices in the oil industry at present are steady, at comparatively favorable levels. The satisfactory prices and the large volumes of business available for the oil companies naturally are promoting favorable earnings. Financial results for the second quarter therefore promise to compare favorably with the encouraging showings generally made in the initial quarter.

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 Miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the beginning of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, hiccups, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 Miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Massachusetts Recalls London Tower Beheading

BOSTON, (U.P.)— Few people know it, but a former governor of Massachusetts was beheaded. Sir Henry Vane came here from England in early Colonial times with John Winthrop, Jr., and others. A few months later, Sir Henry was elected governor. Tacitful and diplomatic, Sir Henry soon endeared himself to the Colonists. But as time went on, Puritans condemned his tolerance and finally he returned to England. It seems that Sir Henry had been active during England's civil war, and after the Restoration, the King committed him to the Tower for alleged high treason. Sir Henry was convicted and executed.

Love Missive Lost In Battle 19 Years Late

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (U.P.)— Nineteen years ago, just before he went into battle in Belleau Wood, Corp. Joseph Rendinell of the 6th Marines mailed a letter to his sweetheart, Mae Delaney. Miss Delaney, who has been Mrs. Rendinell for 18 years, has just received the letter. It had been lost when the censor, called into the line, had stuffed a packet of letters into his bed roll. The censor, Lieut. Edward A. Kennedy, was wounded in battle and the letters were lost. Three years ago they were found in the roll of bedding at Brooklyn Navy Yard and forwarded to Kennedy, who lives in Cloquet, Minn. Again they were lost. But recently Kennedy found them and sent them back to the writers.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (U.P.)— Miss Abby Putnam, descendant of one of Provincetown's oldest families, believes one is never too old to learn. At 67, she has mastered the trumpet. A retired librarian, she received a congratulatory letter from Walter B. Pitkin, author of "Life Begins at 40." "Your achievement is so striking that I frequently hold you up (in complete anonymity, so far) as one of my prize cases of the art of learning! You have my heartiest congratulations. Next year I shall expect to hear that you are a member of a full-fledged band," Pitkin wrote.

Rumble Seat Ride
Too Much for Star

An unforeseen auto accident during the filming of a scene resulted in Ann Sothorn's suffering body bruises which temporarily held up production on "Fifty Roads to Town," the Twentieth Century-Fox picture in which she is starred with Don Ameche, opening Sunday at the

RITZ

Ritz Theatre.
The scene called for Ann to be hiding in the closed rumble seat of a roadster in which Don Ameche was to drive off before she made her presence known. Following the script, Ameche jolted over rocks which shook her up badly enough. But when the motor stalled on a muddy incline, the car slid backwards and the rear end crashed into a tree.
Ann was rescued from the rumble seat and rushed to the studio's first-aid station, where Dr. C. A. Seyfarth treated her for several black-and-blue bruises about the body. Luckily, she managed to protect her face and head, taking many of the jolts on her arms.

When 'Big Benny' Is Through Tinkering, Your Old Car Is in No Shape to Take a Ride in

Once motorist's joy, now headed to car crusher.

"Big Benny" clamps down on his ration of iron.

After a few bites, the car looks like it has been in an awful wreck.

Wonder what they do with that old wreck of a car you traded in for the sleek, new streamlined model? Then come along to the junkyard in Buffalo, N. Y., where the most powerful car crusher in the country has just been put into operation. Talk about folks having their daily ration of iron! "Big Benny" eats 30 old automobile bodies an hour. The upholstery, glass, wood and heavy metal parts are removed. A huge magnetic crane lowers the shell into "Big Benny's" maw. The sides of the pit come together, crush the once sleek auto body. A powerful ram completes the job of compressing the metal into a block about the size of an orange crate, and the late car is ready for the trip to the smelting furnaces. Unless the metal is squeezed into a compact mass, about 90 per cent is lost in melting it down.

When he's done, the car is just a block of scrap metal.

cloud animal, when he gets started and it doesn't take much to start him and as a result he had to be substituted with a more docile and reasonable porker. So an ordinary farmyard piglet was brought to the studio and since the script called for a "Wafford," he was christened "Wafford."

Pig Gets Tough; Loses Big Chance For Movie Fame

"Wafford," Bob Burns' pig in "Waikiki Wedding," the comedy with music which comes to the Yucca Theatre on Prevue isn't "Wafford" at all. He's somebody else again.
It seems that Burns insisted upon an Arkansas razorback for the role, either to do honor to his native state or to help a local boy make good. A razorback named "Wafford" was sent him by no less a dignitary than Governor James M. Futrell, of Arkansas, and put through his paces.
But a razorback is a pretty ferocious animal.
