2 CIO LEADERS IN LEWISTON AREA ARRESTED TODAY

'Riotous Assault' Charges Filed By Police

6400 NOW IDLE

Nineteen Factories Are Shut Down In State of Maine

LEWISTON, Me. April 22. (P)—Police captain Joseph Picard today arrested Powers Hapgood, New England secretary of the CIO, and William Macksey, CIO director of the shoe strike involving 6,400 workers and 19 factories here and in this area.

The warrants charged them with "riotous assault" in connection with the stoning of a police lieutenant yesterday.

Eight companies of national guardsmen were ordered to duty in the Lewiston-Auburn strike area in Maine Wednesday after fresh outbreaks of violence.

Fists and clubs were flailed and stones and tear gas were hurled in clashes between police and demonstrators in the district where a committee for industrial organization called a strike against 19 shoe factories four weeks ago.

A squadron of state officers, stationed on a bridge linking the two cities, beat back approximately 1,000 marchers who tried to cross the span. Shortly afterward, the police dispersed about the same number of persons milling around two shoe plants after they had tossed tear gas bombs into the crowd.

At August, Gov. L. O. Barrows directed the mobilization of the troops and declared he was ready to marshal the "entire military forces of Maine to preserve constitutional authority."

The state supreme court issued a temporary injunction against the strike Tuesday on the grounds the methods employed by C. I. O. leaders violated the Wagner labor relations act.

Chicago Twins 'Delivered' by Telephone

When Mrs. Emma Nelson's healthy twin boys, shown above with their mother, grow up she won't need to quote the stork myth. She can tell them truthfully that they were "delivered" by telephone. Unable to reach a hospital in time, Mrs. Nelson phoned the Chicago Maternity Center and as a doctor gave instructions, a baby was born. Before a nurse could reach the home, Mrs. Nelson had the doctor on the phone again and the second boy arrived.

FASCIST BARRAGE OF MADRID SLOWED BY RED OFFENSIVE

Mightiest Guns Are Turned on Rebels In Suburbs

(By Associated Press)

The Spanish government turned its mightiest guns upon rebel encampments in suburban Madrid today, checking a rain of shells which have poured into the capital for 11 days.

The shelling brought to more than 200 the number dead and 400 the number injured.

Insurgent shells, pounding for hours Wednesday in the fiercest bombardment in the half year siege of Madrid, caused the havoc that the world's capitals dread in modern war.

The heart of this metropolis of 1,000,000 it seemed, was being hammered into dust by the rain of explosives. The barrage started before dawn and lasted throughout the daylight hours. Fully 250 shells found targets.

It was the tenth successive day, and the heaviest, of the insurgent shelling. It raised the total of known fatalities for ten days to 200 and added at least 400 injured, many critically, to the list of casualties.

The Gran Via, the Broadway of Madrid, has become a major war front. Deafening explosions, followed by the sickening crash of falling debris, came steadily.

Insurgent batteries raked the city with a machine gun type of fire from anti-aircraft guns, interspersed with the heavy explosives of large cannon. Widespread sections were punished.

20 FILM EXTRAS INJURED WHEN 2 WAGONS COLLIDE

Three Are Seriously Hurt, Recovery Expected

CORONA, Calif., Apr. 22. (P)—Twenty film extras were injured, four seriously, when three circus wagons crashed Wednesday as they rumbled down a mountain road during the shooting of a movie scene.

John Slater of Glendale, whose quick thinking averted what might have been a more serious accident, suffered broken ribs and possible internal injuries. Bernie Griggs sustained broken ribs and a crushed chest. George Wilson leg and body injuries and Harry Templeton a possible broken neck.

The accident occurred during the filming of Paramount's "High, Wide and Handsome." The lead wagon dashing down the road swerved and overturned.

Slater, driver of the second wagon, pulled his four horse team to the side to avoid hitting the first vehicle. The wagons grazed each other and Slater's, too, overturned. A third wagon struck a pole and was split in two.

The principals of the picture, Irene Dunne, Randolph Scott and Charles Bickford, were on the location scene, but were not involved in the accident.

CROP OUTLOOK IN OKLAHOMA GIVEN BOOST BY RAINS

Harvest of Heaviest Crop Since 1931 Is Expected

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Apr. 22. (P)—The heaviest rainfall in eleven months soaked into thirsty southwestern soil Wednesday night, giving thousands of drought-harassed farmers high hopes of harvesting the biggest crops since 1931.

The rain, varying up to four inches, was heaviest in Oklahoma but reports of adequate moisture in many other sections aroused agricultural experts to forecast a normal crop year.

K. D. Blood, federal crop statistician, predicted Oklahoma farmers would harvest a normal wheat crop in every section except the Panhandle.

"The wheat crop planted last December has enough rain now to swing it through to harvest," he said. "The government forecast of April 1 indicated a wheat crop of 46,000,000 bushels, 20,000,000 over last year. This rain would indicate a better crop than expected."

A normal agricultural year in Oklahoma means $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 from the twenty four principal crops, compared with $94,009,000 last year and $124,927,000 in 1935.

Only bereft Cimarron county, on the tip of the Panhandle, was missed by the rains, but Blood said the wheat crop there already was ruined by drought and wind.

In Northeast Texas new moisture availed hopes for one of the biggest wheat and oat crops in recent years. Amarillo reported wheat prospects in the Texas Panhandle were the best since 1931, with farmers expecting an average yield of ten bushels to the acre.

Slaying Victim

Employment And Payrolls Increase

AUSTIN, Texas.—Employment and payrolls in Texas during March were substantially above those in the corresponding month last year, and there was a moderate increase over the preceding month, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Reports to the Bureau from 1,753 Texas establishments show an aggregate of 89,996 workers, an increase of 1.7 per cent over a month earlier and 10 per cent over March, 1936. Weekly pay rolls of these establishments totaled $2,173,072, an increase of 4.8 per cent over the preceding month and a gain of 16.7 per cent over the like month last year.

Cities in which the gain over last year in both employment and pay rolls exceeded the average increase for the State were: Amarillo, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, and Waco.

Industrial groups in which there was an increase greater than the average increase for all industries combined were: Cement, foundries, machine shops, millwork, cotton textile mills, clothing manufacturing, bakeries, confectioneries, meat packing, furniture manufacturing, commercial printing, power and light, and business and personal service.

Since January 1, 1937, a total of 66 establishments employing 13,219 workers have reported wage-rate increases averaging 6.6 per cent and affecting 12,882 employees. Most of the increase in rates of pay occurred in petroleum, meat packing, and sulphur industries.

Only one wage-rate decrease was reported and that affected only six employees.

TED DOZIER, WIFE EXPECTED TO DIE

Ted Dozier, former Midland youth, at present reported to have been living in Wink, and his wife were both near death in a local hospital this afternoon suffering from gunshot wounds.

Officers, in reconstructing the double shooting, expressed the opinion Dozier shot his wife, one bullet taking effect in the heart, and then turned the gun on himself, one bullet piercing the right temple. The shooting occurred about 2:30.

Dozier and his wife were reported visiting John M. King, Jr., and wife at their apartment over the Burton-Lingo lumber yard here at the time of the shooting. King told officers that he had gone upstairs to the apartment and told Dozier that his (Dozier's) uncle was ready to return to Wink. Dozier told him "alright" and then he (King) went back downstairs. As he reached the bottom of the stairway he heard two reports in rapid succession. He rushed back upstairs to find Dozier and his wife both on the floor of the apartment. A .25 calibre automatic was found near Dozier.

Mrs. King, a former school mate of Mrs. Dozier, was in another room of the apartment at the time, it was reported.

An ambulance was called as soon as the bodies were discovered, but the attending physician said that neither had a chance for recovery.

Dozier and his wife had been married only a few months, and friends were unable to account for anything that might have caused the tragedy.

Mrs. Dozier, formerly Kathleen Stewart, was employed at Our Beauty Shop here before her marriage.

Mrs. Hamilton has continued to reside in Topeka since her husband became chairman of the republican national committee last summer with headquarters in Washington.

SINCLAIR-PRAIRIE CRANE DISCOVERY IS FLOWING OIL

Makes 72 Barrels In Past 24-Hour Period

BY FRANK GARDNER

Opening a new pool in northern Crane county, Sinclair-Prairie No. 1 University, Lease No. 24, today is drilling lime at 3,566 feet after swabbing and flowing 72 barrels of oil the past 24 hours. It logged an increase in gas at 3,554. The new Sinclair-Prairie discovery has not yet penetrated the pay zone of Clark & Cooper and Smith No. 1 Jordan, lone producer a mile and a half west, which pumped 90 barrels a day at 3,683, plugged back from 3,750, following nitro shot and acidization.

After it encountered a slight oil showing at 3,248, the No. 1-24 University found the main pay from 3,512-24 and substantial increases from 3,524-28 and from 3,533-38. Location is 2,310 feet from the south and west lines of section 13, block 35, University survey. Last week, the No. 1-27 University, a mile to the east, was abandoned at 3,626 after encountering sulphur water at 3,605. The No. 1-24 is said to be running 60 to 70 feet higher on structure than the No. 1-27.

Casing Parted

It was reported today that Carter-Conoco No. 1 Wasson, northern Gaines wildcat in section 43, block AX, public school land, 16 miles west of Seagraves, had parted 7-inch casing. Operators had been rotating the pipe in an attempt to get it to bottom. Considerable delay and difficulty had been experienced due to the well's blowing out from air pocket encountered at 2,944-50 and gas at 2,979 to 3,002. Present depth is 3,093.

Location of the second Carter-Conoco test in the area probably to be known as No. 1-B Wasson or No. 1 McCarty-Moore, is 2,310 feet from the north and west lines of section 44, block AX, two and a half miles northeast of the first well. At least one more well will be started soon on the east six-sections of the 12-section Conoco block.

Hoe-hum! Here's a Scrap You'll Eat Up Even if You Carrot All for Boxing

Red-Headed Spectators Watch Blows Planted by Two Green Mixers in the Garden

The Garden's packed for tonight's fight, folks! There's row after row of rooters, but the hottest of 'em all are the radishes, down by the ringside. Just listen to them cheer as Aspara Gus and Holland Aise shake hands in the center of the ring! You'd never think that they're regarded as a delicate pair.

Look at those fellows mix it! Right! Left! Right! Every blow's a haymaker. They sure can take it. Both of 'em are as tough as a bunch of asparagus in September. They sure are in tip-top condition. Aise takes a hard one on the chin, but Gus had better watchout. Aise is winding up that haymaker.

Aise landed. Gus goes down. One! Gus struggles to get up. Two! Aise rushes over to stalk the fallen foe. The count's Six! Seven! Eight! It looks like Gus is knocked out. And the Garden's in uproar. Listen to those radishes root! Ten! Gus is out. And Holland Aise is a saucy new champion.

WILL MIDLAND LEGALIZE LIQUOR?

Midland county voters Saturday are going to have an opportunity to decide a momentous question.

However, if the preliminary discussion pro and con is an indication of the manner in which voters will go to the polls, the election to decide upon legalization of the sale of liquor may go either way without a representative expression from the majority of the people.

If only a small vote is polled Saturday, supporters on the losing side are going to be sorry they didn't get out and work up some interest. However, if a total vote of from 1,500 to 2,000 is polled, everyone should feel satisfied that the will of the people has been expressed.

The proposition is to decide if liquor may be sold legally in Precinct No. 1. However, to legalize it, the entire county must vote wet. Voters in Precinct No. 1 will be voting on two ballots, one for county-wide legalization, and the other for legalization in Precinct No. 1. Voters in the other precincts, not having called for an election in their own boundaries, will vote only on the county-wide issue.

Here are some points to consider. Advocates of the wet side point out principally that if liquor sale is legalized, the tax on its sale will defray some of the expenses of county and state. Liquor store dealers will rent buildings, advertise and otherwise conduct the sale of intoxicants as a legitimate business.

Dry advocates point out that liquor will be brought more forcibly before the young people, as well as addicts, through its display in store windows, its advertising and possibly its more flagrant use. At least, through its legalization, its use may be more excusable in the eyes of the youth.

The Reporter-Telegram is not trying to make up your mind for you. It is, however, advising you that such a question should not be decided without a representative vote.

Go to the polls Saturday and express yourself. Say whether liquor should be sold legally in Midland. But don't let the issue go pro or con because of lack of interest on the part of people who will be vitally affected.

COMEBACK TACTICS

In his 73-year-old aunt, whom he once banished from Spain, ex-King Alfonso apparently has a sturdy protagonist.

At least she has demanded that he be restored to the Spanish throne. The king has given nearly $10,000,000 to aid the insurgent cause, she points out, and should be returned to his throne "as a reward for what he has done."

If the insurgents finally win, Alfonso may recover his crown. But if he does, it is doubtful if he will find the fruits of his victory to be sweet. A monarch who has helped one side or another to continue a war that drenches his country in blood certainly is not one who merits, or will get, the undivided loyalty and affection of his subjects.

An unselfish leader, one who loved the land of his fathers, would have tried without stint to end the dreadful conflict.

CARRY ON

Until recently, most well-informed Americans supposed that medical science had finally "conquered" yellow fever. Beginning with Gorgas, Reed, and their confederates in Havana, science had shown that the disease was transmitted solely by one particular species of mosquito, called aedes aegypti; as this obnoxious pest was brought under control, yellow fever was sure to vanish.

The annual report of the Rockefeller Foundation, however, reveals that the picture is not so rosy. For it has been discovered that yellow fever can and does occur in regions where aedes aegypti has never appeared. Vast areas of South American jungle are centers of the disease, and some entirely new villain must be sought.

There are no brighter chapters in all medical history than those which tell of its fight with yellow fever. It may be discouraging to learn that the fight has not yet been won, but has merely entered a new phase. And yet, in view of past performances, who can doubt that medical science will find the brains, the courage, and the stick-to-itiveness to carry on until the victory is final?

"The medical name for cross-eyes is strabismus," suggesting a new yell for the fans: "Hey, ump, you got no business out there with strabismus."

And Who'll Be The First One In?

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22. — Association for the Advancement of Colored People say 64 Senators have promised to vote for the Wagner-Van Nuys measure, and that sentiment is supported by obstruction from the Senate leadership and apathy among the measure's friends.

Assuming passage, there will be one deficiency in the law if it follows the model of the Gavanon bill passed by the House. For the Gavanon bill applies its penalties only in cases where a prisoner has been taken into custody before being seized by a mob.

It carries an obvious incentive for local officers, discovering the possibility of mob action and fearing federal prosecution, to refrain from arresting suspects and then leave them to the mob.

The Wagner-Van Nuys bill, now with the Senate Judiciary Committee, extends to cover all cases of persons accused, suspected or convicted of crime, who are lynched or injured by mobs in denial of trial by the regular process of law.

The Gavanon bill, on the other hand, provides as the Senate bill does not—for federal prosecution of members of lynching mobs in cases where local or state authorities have not acted within 30 days.

Supporters of the Wagner-Van Nuys bill think they can bring enough pressure on the majority leaders, Senators Joe Robinson of Arkansas, and Pat Harrison of Mississippi, to give the measure a place on the calendar sooner or later. They will then be faced by a filibuster which will be led by "Cotton Ed" Smith of South Carolina, Josiah Tom Connally of Texas, and Josiah Bailey of North Carolina, headed the filibuster which two years ago was used to sidetrack the Costigan anti-lynching bill. Smith is given to repeating that such legislation is a crime against southern womanhood. His vehemence is counted as an asset by supporters of the bill.

Wanted Colored Vote
In the background will be the desire of northern Democratic leaders to hold the colored vote, which deserted the Republican party almost en masse in the last election. Most opposition speeches in the House were based on the Gavanon bill's alleged unconstitutionality, violation of state rights and interference with a purely southern problem.

Aside from the difference previously noted, the House and Senate bills provide that officers who fail to make diligent efforts to prevent prisoners from being lynched shall be subject to a $5000 fine and five years in prison; that officers who conspire with mobs may be imprisoned from five to 20 years; and that any county in which a prisoner is injured or killed by a mob may be sued by the victim's family for from $2000 to $10,000.

A who's who of the House leadership can be found in the list of those who voted against the Gavanon bill, which passed by 277 to 119. Among those voting nay were Speaker Bankhead, Majority Leader Sam Rayburn, Chairman Bob Doughton of the Ways and Means Committee, Chairman Marvin Jones of the House Agriculture Committee, Chairman Sam McReynolds of the Foreign Affairs Committee, Chairman Hutton Summers of the Judiciary Committee and other southern leaders.

Theater, Jerry W. Debenport of Childrens will call the conference to order. Charley Lovett, president of the host club will give the address of welcome and Ruel C. Walker of Cleburne will respond.

Addresses by Wemple and Barfield will feature the morning session and a new district governor will be elected at the close of the session.

At noon Monday, group meetings will be held. The club service group will meet at the Central Christian Church with Bernard Bryant of Stamford as chairman; the vocational service group will gather at the Presbyterian Church and Ellis Boyd of Fort Worth will be in charge; the group on community service will meet at the Methodist church with Rue Purcell of Amarillo as chairman; and the international service group will meet at Hotel Childress with Ray Nichols of Vernon as chairman.

Among congressmen voting against the Gavanon bill were the three wealthy land owners who, as members of the House Agriculture Committee, were instrumental in burying the administration program to aid tenant farmers and share croppers—Kleberg of Texas, Coffee of Nebraska, and Fulmer of South Carolina.

This coincidence is noteworthy because the N. A. A. C. P. recently showed that eight of the lynching victims of 1935 and 1936 had been accused solely of union activity in the organization of sharecroppers and tenants. Others were lynched for fighting with white men, drunkenness or disrespect.

Relics Turn Up At Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (U.P.)—Mute records of another generation—a stem-winding watch, a cache of marbles and nuts, and two dime novels—were uncovered by workmen tearing down the 50-year-old wing at St. Edward's Hall on the campus of Notre Dame University.

The wing is being demolished to provide a site for a new dormitory. For 42 years it served as living and recreation quarters for Notre Dame "minims," boys of grammar school age.

The wing boasts no cornerstone. Yet, sealed under its walls and hidden under flowers and eaves, amusing records of a generation of "minims" now grown to manhood are being brought to light.

Marble Cache Found
While a section of the old shingled room was being ripped off, the first of the strange findings, a cache of some 300 marbles inter-mixed with dozens of nuts, was revealed.

In an obscure corner of the attic the wreckers found a pile of youngsters' playthings, among them two sleds, one bearing the name "John Shannon," the other initialed "B. C." A toy wagon, six sets of clubs, a Japanese lantern, three pairs of skis, a set of toy carpenter's tools and part of an old phonograph were in the heap.

Between the walls of two of the rooms, which had been plastered up some time around the turn of the century, were discovered the tattered and yellowed remains of two dime novels—taboo on the campus.

Watch 70 Years Old
The 70-year-old stem-winding, silver, pocket watch with a hunter case was found beneath the floor. It is of the key-winding and key-setting variety and bore the name of the maker, Eugene Perret.

After accumulated dirt and green mold of ages had been rubbed off, workmen found the initials "F. R." engraved on the outside of the case.

According to the university watchmaker, the timepiece was made at least 70 years ago, probably in Europe, by a French or Swiss master watchmaker. The heavy waistcoat chain attached to it is characteristic of that same period.

Big Spring Station Would Get $12,599

WASHINGTON, April 22. (U.P.)—The agriculture department appropriations bill submitted to the house today included authorization of the purchase of a 15 acre tract at Greenville, Texas, for the governmental cotton experimental station.

The bill recommended that the station be made permanent out of $406,436 appropriation for experimenting in cotton and other fibre crops.

The bill authorized $12,599 for livestock experiments and demonstration at Big Spring or elsewhere in Texas to be available when the state appropriates an equal amount.

Five million dollars for dust control work in the Texas Panhandle and parts of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado was included.

When you run from a tornado, the weather observer observed, be sure you run away from it and not toward it. A pretty good rule is to shag south or southeast, or north or northeast.

"That is because the usual path of a tornado is from the southwest to northeast," Dr. Cline said. Qualifying this statement, he added cautiously that tornadoes are noted for their vagaries and they can not be counted upon always to stick by the rules.

"Sometimes they follow a valley that does not run from southwest to northeast or skip around, dipping and rising, and so you can never tell. It might help, if you are in a house, to get under a feather bed to keep rafters from falling on your head. Stay out of culverts—a heavy rain may drown you. Storm cellars are generally safe enough."

Miss Lanhan Is Hostess to Club

Miss Stella Maye Lanham, 423 W. Wall, was hostess yesterday to the Play Readers Club. Mrs. W. Bryant read the play "Jane Eyre" by Helen Jepson.

Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times said that Jane Eyre is steeped in moods and subtle sensation of the English countryside, and that when it is brought indoors to inhabit the theatre a good deal of the Brontë pungency has to be tossed aside. Miss Jerome's success of last year, "Pride and Prejudice" and her current play, "Jane Eyre", have little in common, says Mr. Atkinson.

Guests of the club were Miss Pearl Metcalf, Mrs. E. P. Lamar, and Mrs. F. H. Lanham. Club members present were Mrs. E. W. Anguish, Mrs. Elliott H. Barron, Mrs. De Lo Douglas, Mrs. W. Bryant, Mrs. Fred Wilcox, Mrs. W. T. Schneider, Mrs. Wallace Irwin, and the hostess, Miss Lanham.

Chocolate First in America's Taste. With Raspberry Flavor Close Second

CHICAGO. (U.P.)—Americans prefer chocolate and raspberry.

"Considered purely as pleasant taste, raspberry and cocoa are the choice of flavors of the largest percentage of individuals," according to a report in the American Medical Association journal.

"With a view to extending information available regarding relative efficiency of flavoring agents," 600 medical students of the University of Minnesota tasted this and that for four years.

Flowers to Match Accessories Is Latest Mode

This Trim Outfit Sports a Shoulder Bouquet Matching Gloves and Purse

The simplicity of color and design in the new spring coats demand colored accessories to brighten the ensemble. "Beige is the outstanding color for the new outfits on Fashion Avenue and it is greatly enhanced with a cluster of gay fresh spring flowers. If you would be especially smart, match the color of your gloves and purse. This is very easy to do when there are so many colorful spring flowers from which to choose.

Anemones and ranunculuses of royal blue, rich reds, and brilliant yellows are being worn a great deal.

Scarlet carnations and the enticing new tones of yellow and mottled colors are smart for street wear. Sweetheart roses nestled among maroon carnations are a fine combination, and for one who prefers an intense blue there are the cornflowers or old-fashioned "bachelor's buttons," which remain fresh even after hours of hard wear.

The newest idea for street coats with broad lapels is to wear a pair of tiny matched clusters of flowers, or two larger specimen blooms, one on each lapel.

New Orleans $4,000,000 Safety Valve Makes Good In First Test Against Flood

NEW ORLEANS. (U.P.)—Bonnet Carré, the city's $4,000,000 safety flood valve on the Mississippi River, 22 miles above New Orleans, made good in its first test since it was completed a year ago.

Spring floods which wrought millions of dollars damage to cities of the upper Ohio and Mississippi Rivers were turned harmlessly to the Gulf of Mexico through Lake Ponchartrain before danger levels were reached in New Orleans. Although some engineers believe the levee system through the city could have carried the crest without diversion through the spillway, residents here feel more secure now below the Bonnet Carré spillway which took 214,000 cubic feet a second through the lake while the Mississippi was at its highest stage during the early spring flood.

The spillway first was used on January 30, when 176 bays, or sections of "needles," were opened. All 18-foot sections of the spillway were opened then. The water still lapped six inches below the spill, but the following day it began pouring over into the "baffles" on the lake side of the spillway.

City Not Endangered
The second day of operation the engineers opened 44 bays of the 16-foot type and the river started pouring through. There was no danger to New Orleans or surrounding territory at this time—the stage at New Orleans was only 14.7 feet.

The water rushed through the spillway wier, which resembles a giant comb, with the interstices between the teeth filled with hanging timbers. The timbers, or "needles," were hoisted to turn the muddy flood waters harmlessly from New Orleans toward the lake and the gulf.

The bays were opened early, according to engineers, to allow the water to clean out underbrush and rotten timber which might possibly impede the rush of water when the real flood hit.

More bays were opened from day to day until all but 60 of the 16-foot bays were pulled.

These 65 never were opened and the spillway took its greatest load of 214,000 cubic second feet on Feb. 28. On March 1 the river began to crest, and on the following day the crest passed New Orleans.

Operation of the spillway left more than 6-feet of freeboard to protect the Crescent City.

Army, Navy Profit Hawaii 21 Million

HONOLULU. (U.P.)—The army and the navy have become "big business" for the Hawaiian Islands, according to the latest reports of Major Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commanding the Hawaiian Department, U. S. A., and Rear Admiral Orin G. Murfin, commanding the 14th Naval District, U. S. N.

Their latest reports show that the annual payrolls of the army and navy here are in excess of $21,000,000. Virtually all of the money is spent in the islands.

The total military payroll, including commission and warrant officers, 17,195 enlisted men as well as civilian employes, was $11,717,451.11. The naval payroll for 459 officers, 4,734 enlisted men and civilian employes totaled $9,418,367.75.

Two projects constitute the basis for the bulk of these expenditures. On the single island of Oahu, on which Honolulu is located, and embracing only 698 square miles, the army has developed at Schofield Barracks the largest military post in America.

The navy, at Pearl Harbor, has established the largest naval base in the nation. The two, together with coastal defense, constitute America's first line of resistance in the Pacific.

In addition, there is now being constructed at Hickman Field, at an estimated cost of $17,000,000, the largest aviation field in the world.

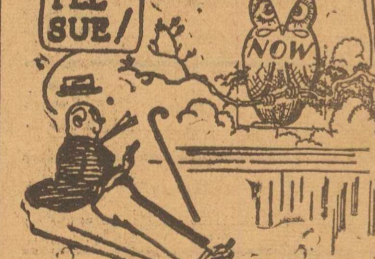

TO PLANT GLORY TREES

ROME. (U.P.)—A plan to plant 10,000,000 trees on Italy's denuded hills has been launched by Premier Mussolini as one way of celebrating the conquest of Ethiopia. Nearly 6,000 acres of Italian hills are estimated to need reforestation.

PASTOR USES SIGN LANGUAGE

PORT WAYNE, Ind. (U.P.)—On the second Sunday of each month the Rev. William Gielow of Detroit, Mich., comes to Port Wayne for services at St. John's Lutheran church. What makes his service unique is the congregation—not one of the 25 can hear. The pastor is adept at sign language.

Tommy Atkins Soon to Have More Shillings

LONDON. (U.P.)—New inducements, including a substantial increase in pay, are to be offered by the British government to recruits in the Regular Army and Territorials.

The increase in pay in the Regular Army probably will reach a minimum of $5 monthly.

Great improvements in the conditions of service in the Regular Army were decided on at recent conferences at the War Office. These include freer traveling facilities, increased marriage allowances, better opportunities for marrying, better food, more liberty from barracks, improved uniforms, and improvement in prospects after leaving the Army.

Territorial service also will be made attractive to young men. Military authorities believe there is a vital need for a large increase in the Territorial Army if national safety is to be preserved.

Martin also contended that additional floodways, spillways and other flood control projects were urgently needed to prevent disastrous floods in the lower Mississippi valley, in event major streams poured flood waters into the Mississippi while the Mississippi was at flood stage.

In the cheerful, friendly atmosphere of this hospital room, and in others like it, new lives are being molded—new hopes fostered. Life may seem to move along at a tragically slow pace to many of these boys and girls—brought up short in their childhood by the crippling effects of disease and accidents. But slowly and surely, tender care, watchful guidance and new methods of treatment are building a new life, a new outlook for them. This is a room in a modern hospital for crippled children.

Children brought forth its Easter Seal idea four years ago. Scenes such as the one illustrated here are more common today. Funds obtained from the sale of Easter Seals go largely into state and local societies for crippled children where they may be used with an eye to the local needs. Where the proper facilities are available, the problem is to bring the children into contact with them. When they are not available, the job is to develop public interest in providing them. This year's Seals, bordered with the lilies of Easter Time, show a little girl raising her right arm to the sun while her left is busy with a crutch. They carry the inscription: "Joyous Life for Crippled Children." The Seals will go on sale here Monday the 26th.

It was to draw attention to this need for modernity in treatment and for thoughtful action that the International Society for Crippled Children...

It's Getting to Be a Habit

The PAYOFF

BY RICHARD McCANN NEA Service Sports Writer Connie Mack, fatherly, kindly, apologetic in his orders; Rogers Hornsby, stern, biting, arbitrary. Bill Terry, cool, insolent; Mickey Cochrane, excitable—as jittery as the morning after.

It takes all types, this business of managing a ball club. One will curse and drive, another will cajole, another will sis-boom-bah, fight-team-fight to a championship, and still another will laugh his club down the home stretch.

Take the 16 major league pilots who have led their teams into the newborn 1937 season. Connie Mack is the most distinctive of them all, if for no other reason than that he has been managing baseball teams for 43 years. The years have mellowed Mr. Mack. Scholarly, gentle, soft-voiced, the old gentleman never barks out a command. He never tells a player to do something. He always asks him.

"Oh, say, there, Kelly," Mr. Mack will say on the bench of an afternoon, "would you please go out to the bull pen and warm up? Caster may be needing some help out there soon."

Mack Inspires Respect Mr. Mack, (that's how all of them address him) gets results from his players through respect, not fear. His players love him as a father. And he doesn't like to quarrel with them, or quibble over pay.

For instance, when Waite Hoyt was released by the New York Yankees and picked up by the Athletics he rejected the Philadelphia pal, and Cronin last fall consented to the release of Al Schacht, Heinie Manush, and Jack Russell, three comrades of his Washington days.

Frankie Frisch is hot with worry inside, but calm and rather cold outside. Jimmy Wilson is one of the most regular fellows. He can take a joke. Maybe that's why he took the Phillies job.

Have we got 'em all? .. Oh, yes, we clean forgot Steve O'Neill. But, then knowing how Cleveland is with managers, likable old Steve's liable not to be there by the time this ink is dry.

Power Now Greater At The Boulder Dam WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Boulder Dam's great power plant has been increased in value by $1,500,000 because waters from the dam are carrying away from the stream bed below it each day enough silt to fill three freight trains of 80 cars each.

The scouring of the bed was cited by John C. Page, reclamation commissioner, as an interesting illustration of the changes wrought in the character of the Colorado River by construction of Boulder Dam on the Nevada-Arizona line.

The regulated flow has carried away in the last two years 9,100,000 tons of silt deposited in past ages by the overburdened stream, with the result that the stream is clear to a point 43 miles below the dam. It no longer looks like the Colorado River. New rapids have been formed where the removal of silt has exposed ancient and long-buried boulders.

The scouring, Page reported to Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, has added about 4 feet to the effective head of the turbines in the dam. Each foot thus added increases the annual earning power from current, when the power plant is fully equipped, approximately $50,000.

When the turbines were installed, allowance was made for use of an additional 20 feet of head from scouring in the river bed.

Muddy water still pours from the Grand Canyon into Lake Mead above the dam, but the silt settles in the bottom of the lake for 115 miles. Clear water thus rushes through the dam's outlets and, because of its regular flow, scours the stream bed below.

The flow is now regular the year around, whereas before construction of the dam the Colorado River fluctuated between floods as great as 300,000 cubic feet per second to 300 feet in the dry season.

Flood and drought thus have been eliminated as threats to farmers in the lower valley of the Colorado.

'Mob' Extras for Films Congregate in Pasadena PASADENA, Cal. (U.P.)—This city is rapidly becoming one of the greatest "mob" centers in the United States.

Within the past few months motion picture studios have paid out $30,000 in wages here for "mob" extras, while approximately $100,000 will be paid out during the summer months for "mob" specialists. Mobs of 500 persons are most in demand.

Every player differently to suit the temperament. Joe McCarthy is quiet, aloof; Charlie Grimm is gay, palsy-walsy with his players.

Burleigh Grimes is an umpire-batter. He's been thrown out of more parks than One-Eye Connolly. Bill McClellan, on the other hand, is almost priestly in his dignity and reserve.

Pie Traynor is fidgety, flustered; Joe Cronin and Mickey Cochrane are fidgety but always have their wits about them. Both are furious fighters who hate defeat. Both, however, have one bad fault—they play favorites. Or maybe both have changed now—Cochrane has sold Al Simmons, his Philadelphia pal, and Cronin last fall consented to the release of Al Schacht, Heinie Manush, and Jack Russell, three comrades of his Washington days.

Frankie Frisch is hot with worry inside, but calm and rather cold outside. Jimmy Wilson is one of the most regular fellows. He can take a joke. Maybe that's why he took the Phillies job.

Have we got 'em all? .. Oh, yes, we clean forgot Steve O'Neill. But, then knowing how Cleveland is with managers, likable old Steve's liable not to be there by the time this ink is dry.

Power Now Greater At The Boulder Dam WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Boulder Dam's great power plant has been increased in value by $1,500,000 because waters from the dam are carrying away from the stream bed below it each day enough silt to fill three freight trains of 80 cars each.

The scouring of the bed was cited by John C. Page, reclamation commissioner, as an interesting illustration of the changes wrought in the character of the Colorado River by construction of Boulder Dam on the Nevada-Arizona line.

The regulated flow has carried away in the last two years 9,100,000 tons of silt deposited in past ages by the overburdened stream, with the result that the stream is clear to a point 43 miles below the dam. It no longer looks like the Colorado River. New rapids have been formed where the removal of silt has exposed ancient and long-buried boulders.

BALDNESS CAN BE CORRECTED WITH OUR NEW CROSLY XERVAC VACUUM MACHINE In laboratory tests, a series of over 200 individuals were treated. Most patients received treatments twice a week, 30 minutes each. Definite, beneficial results were obtained in substantially all cases. Clinical work has indicated the following results: 1. Abnormal falling of hair was arrested in nearly every instance after 5 hours treatment. 2. After 7 to 10 hours of treatment, "previous fuzz" usually begins to grow and to develop color. 3. From this point persons treated progress towards a full growth of hair, dependent upon the follicles that are present, and living at the beginning of treatment. Growth usually occurs in the following manner: Up temporal regions, closure of bald pate, elimination of widow's peaks. 4. The time required for recovery of hair varies according to age, duration of baldness, amount of baldness, blood pressure, physical types (blondes respond slower than brunettes) and a multitude of other factors. 5. Hair already present apparently grows at a faster rate. 6. The hair present tends to become more naturally oily, as the sebaceous glands are also stimulated. Demonstrations LLANO BARBER SHOP

Ruling on Wagner Act May Help to Settle Increasingly Acrid A.F. of L.-C.I.O. Rivalry

Period of Strife Is Possibility Ere Inter-Union Feud is Finally Settled For Keeps

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, April 18.—Validation of the Wagner Labor Relations Act by the U. S. Supreme Court opens the way to peaceful adjustment of bitter disputes, growing more frequent, between John Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization and William Green's American Federation of Labor.

The Wagner machinery provides peaceful elections to decide which organization has a majority of employees in a unit, and gives exclusive collective bargaining powers to that majority.

The rush to sign up a majority may tend for a time even to heighten this rivalry between the two unions. For the majority is now even more vital than before, for a minority no matter how large, has no bargaining right whatever. It means death to the union coming out at the short end of the vote.

Cleveland recently saw a pitched street battle between these rivals. The Electric Vacuum Cleaner Co. signed a contract with the A. F. of L. unions. C. I. O. union members claimed they really had the majority in the plant. When A. F. of

L. members tried to go to work to fulfill their contract, C. I. O. pickets tried to prevent them.

Pickets from other A. F. of L. unions rallied to protect their allies' entrance to the plant. Pickets from other C. I. O. unions rallied to help their allies to prevent it. A thousand men scrambled and fought before the plant gate. Mounted police had to ride in and stop the fight.

Widespread Feud
Elections under the newly upheld Wagner Act are aimed at peaceful settlement of conflicts like this. And the prospect of such friction mounts daily as the C. I. O. organization drive spreads into new fields. Increasing conflicts are inevitable with A. F. of L. unions which have either memberships, contracts, or a claim to jurisdiction in the industries and plants involved.

Every such battle increases the bitterness between the two labor organizations, and unless more definite lines are drawn to mark out the field of each, inter-union fights may become more common than employer-employee disputes in the months to come.

The controversy extends down from William Green, A. F. of L. leader, and John Lewis, C. I. O. leader, through central labor bodies in most of the large cities, down through union ranks to picket lines and strike negotiations, even on down to personal relationships between union men.

Green and Lewis publicly snap at each other on all occasions, and the organizers under the control of each are carrying the feud into every corner of the labor movement.

Lines Tightening
In the early stages of the Lewis drive, the conflict was little felt. The A. F. of L. union in steel had been bodily taken over by the C. I. O., leaving only scattered A. F. of L. members in the field. In autos and rubber the same thing happened. But as Lewis began to go beyond these industries, the conflict became more definitely marked.

As Lewis goes out to organize 1,000,000 oil industry workers, for instance, the A. F. of L. has announced definitely that it will fight back, and match Lewis dollar for dollar and epithet for epithet.

Lewis' Textile Workers' Organizing Committee, inheriting the former A. F. of L. United Textile Workers, and backed by other C. I. O. unions in allied trades, goes out for several million textile workers. But it meets increasing opposition in the South from A. F. of L. unions determined to keep a foothold in the industry despite the loss of their basic U. T. W. union to the C. I. O.

Freely charging that radicals are in control of the C. I. O. movement, A. F. of L. organizers are getting a better reception in some southern communities than their rivals.

For instance, in Crystal Springs, Mass., the C. I. O. organizer was run out of town by vigilantes, but the A. F. of L. organizer continues to sign up members without interruption.

Organized Confusion
On the other hand, the C. I. O. organizers have already met considerable success in New England, where the chief A. F. of L. effort is an attempt to draw to it the influential Machine Printers' Beneficial Association, an independent union of skilled textile printers in Rhode Island.

Typical conflicts appear in the electrical industries. Here two unions are competing for members, and both are doing it more or less on the industrial basis. The A. F. of L. Brotherhood of Electrical Workers is trying to take over the "company chain" at Westinghouse, and the C. I. O. Electrical and Radio Workers' Union is demanding exclusive bargaining rights for the whole West-

Rival labor unions turn to fists instead of facts, rough-house in steel of reason. The men wearing white buttons are A. F. of L. pickets, trying to clear an entrance to Cleveland's Electric Vacuum Cleaner Co., where they held a contract. C. I. O. members, claiming they had a majority of the plant's employees, disputed the plant opening. A thousand men scrambled and fought, and a score were injured.

inghouse organization. In either case, what becomes of carpenters, teamsters, machinists, truck drivers and other organized A. F. of L. craft union members in electrical and radio plants?

Thirty-seven A. F. of L. craft unions would be affected by any such single industrial organization in the electrical industry.

Meanwhile the C. I. O. electrical union launches a drive on the 270,000 employees of the great American Telephone and Telegraph Co., hitherto untouched by union organization.

In Philadelphia 800 members of the A. F. of L. union at the Philadelphia Storage Battery Co. transferred over bodily to the C. I. O. union, in the face of an A. F. of L. contract. But in Chicago the A. F. of L. Machinists' Union signed an exclusive contract with Grunow Radio. Confusion could scarcely be more complete.

Disputes in Court
Many A. F. of L. unions have followed successful C. I. O. policies. For instance, the Brotherhood of Carpenters, traditionally a craft union, and now the A. F. of L.'s strongest single body, is now extending its membership back into the lumber camps and forward into the furniture factories, seeming to include everyone who handles lumber, from tree to finished product.

It faces internal dissension, especially in the Northwest, where many of its members are sympathetic to the C. I. O., and might desert in a body.

When an A. F. of L. union goes over bodily to Lewis' C. I. O., there is always a row, usually over the union's funds. "You can't just walk out of the A. F. of L. like that," one organizer protested.

So into the courts go the disputes which follow. In Pittsburgh federal court, the A. F. of L. is suing to prevent the New Kensington local, which went over to the C. I. O., from taking with it $27,000 in union funds.

There are dozens of such disputes over funds. In New York, the Operating Engineers, an A. F.

of L. affiliate, went to court to restrain the C. I. O. Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers from recruiting building engineers by claiming A. F. of L. sanction.

With the C. I. O. drive well under way in steel, Lewis now branches out to enter the field of steel. And there he runs smack up against the A. F. of L.'s strong Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers' Union, which proclaims itself ready to fight every effort to enter the field. Should Lewis' oil industry drive extend to include filling-station operators, a field now claimed by the A. F. of L., more conflicts would be possible there.

Rejected Both
The C. I. O. today is in everything but name a rival labor federation to the A. F. of L. It issues certificates of affiliation to its member unions that amount to the same thing as A. F. of L. charters, and formal C. I. O. charters are expected to follow soon.

Such charters must, of course, define the field claimed by the particular union, and then there must necessarily be more conflicts.

Such inter-union bickering has no doubt influenced some workers to take a "plague o' both your houses" attitude, as in the case of the Sun Shipbuilding workers in Chester, Pa., who took a vote and rejected both A. F. of L. and C. I. O. unions.

What will come of the American Union of Steelworkers, organized as an allegedly independent union from the shreds of the company unions decimated by the

C. I. O. drive is problematical. But it is possible that this, too, may become an independent union which will reject the claims of both C. I. O. and A. F. of L.

Central labor bodies in towns like Cleveland, St. Louis, Birmingham, Worcester and many others, have been split by the conflict between the two national federations. In several cases, the C. I. O. unions in the city, resigning or being kicked out of the central body, has formed a council of C. I. O. unions which amounts to the same thing as a rival central labor union.

Thus there are in such towns two central bodies ready and willing to furnish picket lines to any affiliates which need them, and affording fresh chances for widespread conflict.

"Labor trouble" in the coming months, which promised to be sharp enough between employers and employes, may be still further accentuated by a rising tide of disputes between two labor organizations, which would leave the employer helpless on the sidelines while the two factions fought it out.

The University of Edinburgh was founded in 1582 through a charter granted by King James VI of Scotland.

Senator Robert F. Wagner (Dem., N. Y.) has reason to be happy when this photo was made. The Supreme Court had just ruled, in five test cases, that the labor relations law sponsored by the senator was constitutional.

King George's Coronation Will Shatter Precedents; Queen Mary to Have Place of Honor in Procession

LONDON (U.P.)—Queen Mary will occupy the place of honor in the Coronation procession to Westminster Abbey, May 12, immediately in front of the King and Queen.

The arrangement is without precedent, but this coronation will be unique in several respects. For one, the procession will be the most splendid and impressive of any of Britain's royal "shows" to date. For another, it will be the first time that a female heir to the throne will see her parents crowned. Another shattering of precedent will be elimination of the Abbey sermon following the crowning, to shorten the ceremony and lessen the fatigue of Their Majesties.

The procession will be 3,500 yards long, about two miles. Ramsay Mac-

Donald announced. Moving at a foot pace, the glittering pageant of empire will take 40 minutes to pass a given point—barring unforeseen delays.

Lord Mayor to Carry Mace
In the procession to the Abbey the first to arrive will be the Lord Mayor of London in his state coach. On arrival he will wait in the annex to greet the King and Queen. He will wear his robe, collar and jewel of office and will carry the big city mace.

The next to arrive will be the speaker of the House of Commons in his state coach. He will be ushered to his seat in the abbey.

Then, in state landaus, will come the representatives of foreign governments, with their attendants. When all have arrived, they will form into procession in the annex and be escorted to their seats by two officers of arms.

Following these will come all the prime ministers of the dominions, giving these outposts of the empire a prominent place in the procession.

Princes and Princesses Next
After the dominion prime ministers will come the princes and princesses of royal blood. In the annex they will be joined by their attendants and led to their seats.

Next will come Queen Mary, with an escort of Household Cavalry, then King George VI and Queen Elizabeth will arrive with their attendants. Those of the latter who do not walk in the procession into the church will be conducted to their seats immediately.

It is expected that Queen Mary will sit in a special chair on the right of the royal box, on the south side of the high altar. Next to her will be Princess Elizabeth, dressed like a grown-up in a miniature peeress' robe with a short train and tiny coronet, and Princess Margaret Rose.

The king's brothers, the Duke of Gloucester and the Duke of Kent, probably will sit in special chairs placed in front of the peers, in the north transept. It is the Duke of Gloucester who will do homage to the king for the princes of the blood.

Peers Remove Coronets
The senior peer in each rank does homage for the rest, the ceremony taking place at the end of the Coronation of the King, and before the Queen is crowned. Prior to the coronation, the Archbishop of Canterbury as head of the Lords Spiritual, remove their coronets and kneel in their places.

The military will have a large part in the Coronation processions, more than 32,500 soldiers, sailors and air force men participating, including representatives of the Indian army and navy.

Composite guards of honor representing the army, navy and air force will be mounted at Buckingham Palace and at the west (main) door of Westminster Abbey. Officers and men will line the coronation route of more than six miles, and other thousands, representing all organizations, will march in the procession.

FALSE ALARM PRICED AT $100
ROCHESTER, N. Y. (U.P.)—City Judge Jacob Gitelman believes that pranksters who turn in false alarms should stand the expenses of calling out the fire fighting equipment. When the judge fined a man for turning in a false alarm the expenses were estimated at $100.

Trout Like All Colors
OAKLAND, Cal. (U.P.)—Oakland physicians at the annual "Doctors' Hobby Show" installed exhibits to show that fish are not color blind. Instead the exhibits tended to establish just what colors different kinds of fish prefer. Mountain trout were deemed the most modest in the choice of colors for nibbling.

Maharaja Likes Luxury
GLOUCESTER, Eng. (U.P.)—What is believed to be the most elaborately equipped railway coach ever built in Great Britain is being completed here. Virtually a complete modern flat on wheels, it is being constructed for the Maharaja of India. The cost will be between $75,000 and $80,000.

Job as Welder Inspired Woman

CLEVELAND (U.P.)—There is more of a future in repairing steel machinery than meddling with pots and pans, believes Mrs. Anne McEnally.

She finds that her interests in welding at the Metal Fusion Company dominate the more feminine instincts toward cooking, sewing and housekeeping.

Mrs. McEnally is her husband's co-partner in his steel-welding business as in life. She learned the business from him. He has been at it for 15 years.

The repair job on a broken fly wheel of a machine has become more thrilling to Mrs. McEnally than the finished satisfaction of a well-cooked dinner.

The profits of a good welding job are exceedingly attractive if it happens to be of the type handled by the McEnallys. The repair if a $25,000 machine may mean a bill of $1,350.

The demand for skilled welders increased recently, so young men came to the McEnally shop with a view to learning the trade. Mrs. McEnally started a school and now has several instructors teaching 50 students the art of welding.

Mrs. McEnally's mother takes care of the domestic duties in the family. There are four children ranging in age from 7 months to 7 years.

Women can have a definite niche in industry and she has stepped into hers, Mrs. McEnally says. According to her, the weaker sex may enter a manual business and "learn from ground up" as well as any man.

Proficient as Mrs. McEnally is in a business dealing with machines, her heart finds joy in the instilled feminine instincts of a mother. She enjoys an evening spent playing with her children.

There were 15,865 pilots licensed in the United States as of April 1, 1937.

Racing Horses
And Bluegrass

BERKELEY, Calif. (U.P.)—Professors of paleontology at the University of California are confident they can tell why Kentucky bred horses win so many steeplechases and races. The answer is simply that grass and horse development go together and Kentucky is as well known as the Bluegrass State as it is for its horses.

be 8,000,000 years old and represent among other geologic animals the forerunners of the modern horse. The remains found represent that type of evolution in the horse where it began to develop long teeth for the cropping of grass rather than the foliage of shrubs or trees. They existed at about the time that what is now South Dakota began to be covered with grasses. The result of changing diet from the eating of shrubs and barks of trees was the development of a longer limbed, faster type plains animal with the elongate or high crowned teeth to resist the chewing wear of abrasive grasses. The professors are convinced the blue grass of Kentucky has had much to do with the development of the finer type of horse.

Writers' Project Finishes
Book on Washington

WASHINGTON, (U.P.)—A 400,000-word volume running to 1,100 pages on "Washington: City and Capital" has been completed by the Federal Writers' Project and printed by the government printing office.

The book reviews the capital's historic background, presents an interpretation of its cultural and social aspects and outlines various tours. A separate section lists all government agencies and departments. In an attached pocket there are three large color maps of the city.

The District of Columbia unit of the writers' project edited this book, which is only one of many that are being prepared for each of the states and many localities.

Invalids "Perk up" with PURSANG

It is remarkable how much better Pursang makes invalids feel. And not only invalids but those who always feel "half sick" because illness, overwork, wrong food or lack of exercise have reduced the iron content of their blood.

Physicians and hospitals now often prescribe Pursang as an aid to convalescence. It is a scientifically developed hematinic, containing copper and iron compounds which help to correct iron deficiency in the blood. Pursang aids in building red blood corpuscles, so necessary to all-around physical well-being.

If you are tired, run down and nervous, can't sleep or eat well, or find it hard to recover from simple illnesses, try Pursang. See how much better you feel after two or three days. In a week or more you'll hardly recognize yourself for the same person!
