Last Honors Paid Ted Dozier and Wife in Services Here

HUNDREDS ATTEND LAST SERVICES FOR COUPLE SATURDAY

Mystery Continues To Surround The Deaths

WIFE DIES SAT. Had Clung to Life In Hospital for Over Day and Half

Hundreds of persons crowded the First Methodist church here yesterday afternoon for the double funeral services held for Ted Dozier, 23, and his wife, Kathleen Stewart Dozier, 19, victims of bullet wounds inflicted Thursday.

Dozier succumbed about three hours after he was found with a bullet wound in his head, but his wife, shot at approximately the same time as was Dozier, lived until approximately 1 a. m. Saturday. Direct cause of her death was a bullet wound in her heart.

Rev. Cliff M. Epps officiated at the service, assisted by Rev. Reed of Roby, former residence of the deceased woman. Interment services were held at Fairview cemetery.

Justice of Peace J. H. Knowles late Saturday had not yet announced the findings of an inquest called to place the blame for the shooting. An investigation was being continued in efforts to place ownership of the gun, a .25 caliber Colt, used in the slaying.

Dozier and his wife were found near death in the apartment of John M. King, Jr., shortly after King had told Dozier his uncle was ready to return to Wink, where Dozier had been working the past few months. As he neared the bottom of the stairway, King said, he heard two shots, raced back upstairs and found both Dozier and his wife lying on the floor. Dozier with a bullet wound in the temple and Mrs. Dozier shot in the breast.

Ted Dozier, former student of Midland high school, grew up in Midland. He was a musician and had been featured in broadcasts over radio stations in both vocal and stringed instrument music.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dozier, one sister, Mrs. Clint Coughran of Odessa; and one brother, Bob Dozier, a student in Midland high school.

Kathleen Stewart Dozier was born in Roby, Texas, May 28, 1917, and received her early education in the schools there. For approximately the past two years she had been living in Midland, having worked at a beauty parlor here, later keeping books at a filling station. She and Dozier were married in a double wedding ceremony with John M. King, Jr., and his wife about three months ago. She and Mrs. King were formerly schoolmates at Claremont, where he parents still reside. She is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Stewart, and two brothers, Malcolm and Roy Stewart, both of Claremont.

Pall bearers at the funeral services were former school mates of Ted Dozier. They were Frank Midkiff, Maurice King, John M. King, Jr., Paul Cole, Tommy Athanas, Leonard Skaggs, Hunter Midkiff, A. B. Cole, Olen Fryar, Ralph Parrott, Carl Reeves, Lige Midkiff.

EASTER SEAL SALE TO BE CONDUCTED IN CITY MONDAY

Crippled Children's Fund Will Benefit By Program

Sale of Easter Seals will be started here in the morning with members of the Junior Wednesday Club handling the sales for the Midland Rotary club. Members of the club will station themselves at various places in the city and will, as far as possible, contact all residents.

Rev. Edw. P. Harrison, O. M. I., chairman of the Rotary club committee in charge of the sales, today voiced an appeal to all persons to buy the seals when called upon, citing the fact that all money taken in by the seal went directly for the aid of crippled children.

Fifty percent of the money made, here will remain for the use of crippled children in the county and the other half will go to the state organization.

"Unknown Duchess"

So unobtrusively do the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester live that they are the least familiar figures of the British royal family. When she does appear in public, however, the Duchess is a glamorous figure, regally furred and jeweled as in this new picture, made in a London theater lobby. The admiration she evokes is attested by the wrapt gaze of the young woman in the background.

30 Lions Club Members From Here Will Attend Big Spring Convention

Not seeking the next district convention and not attempting to put a candidate in office, but merely interested in Lionsism, over 30 members of the Midland Lions Club are expected to attend the annual convention of District 2-T, Lions International, in Big Spring next week, May 2-3-4, a very interesting and inspirational program for the convalescing having been announced by the host club.

The "on to Big Spring" committee of the Midland Lions club is composed of Lions J. H. Goodman, Boyd Scott and John P. Butler, efforts being made to have a larger delegation from Midland than from any other city.

At the regular weekly luncheon of the local club last week, Judge Ed M. Whitaker, first vice president, was unanimously elected as the official delegate of the Midland club, Bill Collyns being named as alternate.

An entertainment period at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon will be filled by the Midland club, a male quartet and a tap dance number having been arranged for. Two members of the local club, President John P. Butler and Claude O. Crane, are also scheduled to appear on the program Monday.

The convention will open Sunday evening, May 2, with a union service at the First Baptist church, the address to be delivered by Hon. William McCraw, attorney general of Texas. Monday morning at 7:30 o'clock, breakfasts will be held for presidents, secretaries, master key and key members, with the convention session proper opening at the City Auditorium at 9:15 o'clock. The addresses of welcome will be offered by W. T. Strange, Jr., and Clyde E. Thomas, with Claude O. Crane of Midland responding. Entertainments by various Lions Clubs, appointment of committees, band parade, reports and an address by J. Earl Tanner

RICHMOND FORD PLANT VACATED BY 600 STRIKERS

Activity Halted In Shops for Only 11 Hours

PEACE FORESEEN Believe Settlement Of Differences To Be Made Soon

RICHMOND, Calif., April 24. (P)—The Ford motor company plant was vacated here by 600 sitdowners, 11 hours after workers took possession of all premises, halting all activity. Officials of the United Automobile Workers said that it had been assumed a high Ford official would arrive today and that a settlement was only a matter of a day or two. The strike was caused by a dispute over what strikers claimed was discrimination against 12 workers. Meanwhile, there has been no indication from Detroit Ford officials to indicate a changed attitude toward recognizing any union as a collective bargaining agency.

SENATE JUDICIARY COMM. REPORTED AGAINST REVISION

Survey Discloses 9 Members Oppose Suggestion

WASHINGTON, April 24. (P)—A new survey of the closely divided senate judiciary committee today disclosed that administration supporters must compromise to win preliminary approval of the court reorganization bill unless some members change their minds. Nine, or half the committee membership, said they would vote against the measure as it now stands. Another was non-committal. Ten votes are required for the committee to recommend its passage.

Dairy Cattle Are To Be Inspected Here

City health officer, A. J. Norwood yesterday issued notice to all dairymen of the county that Dr. Wolfe, Big Spring, state veterinarian, would be here Monday morning to conduct tuberculosis tests on all dairy cattle. The tests were not held last year, two tests being held in 1935 without any evidence of tuberculosis in any Midland county herds having been discovered. Dairy owners are requested to have their herds on hand for inspection by Dr. Wolfe.

SINCLAIR-PRairie DISCOVERY SWABS 62 1/2 BARRELS OF OIL IN THREE HOURS

Pool Opener in Northern Crane is Drilling Ahead Below 3,593 Feet in Lime

BY FRANK GARDNER Swabbing of 62 1/2 barrels of oil in three hours by Sinclair-Prairie No. 1-24 University, opener of a new pool in northern Crane county, featured oil developments as the week ended. The discovery drilled ahead below 3,593 feet in gray lime in search of further pay. Clark & Cooper & Smith No. 1 Jordan, 90-barrel pumper a mile and a half to the west, encountered its main pay at around 3,600 feet. First oil in No. 1-24 was from 3,512-24, oil rising 2,000 feet in three hours, and it found increases in oil from 3,524-29, 3,533-38, and more gas at 3,554. The Sinclair-Prairie strike is three miles and a half southeast of the Penn pool and two miles and a half west of the Waddell pool. Location is 2,310 feet from the south and west lines of section 13, block 35, University survey.

Tubing was being run under pressure in Gulf Oil Corporation No. 4 W. N. Waddell, recent flush well brought in in the Sand Hills area of western Crane county, producing from the Ordovician, near the Simpson-Ellenburger contact. On the last gauge, it flowed 282 barrels in three hours through casing. With elevation of 2,559, it topped the Simpson at 5,824 and Ellenburger at 6,004. Total depth is 6,014 in dolomite. In the Crane-Cowden pool of southeastern Crane, B. C. Mann No. 5 Durham flowed 102 barrels a day for completion at 2,514. Pay topped at 2,468 was shot with 210 gallons and treated with 4,000 gallons of acid. Gaines Wildcat Wentz Oil Company No. 1 P. W. Dalmont, Gaines wildcat, southwest of the Kirk area, was reported by driller to have topped anhydrite at 1,820. Elevation was not available. The test, located in section 5, block A-22, public school land, on a block assembled by Ralph Gill and Bay Robertson, is drilling ahead at 1,847 feet in anhydrite. Cleaning up a serious fishing job and a series of blowouts, crew succeeded in running 7-inch casing to bottom at 3,093 in Amon G. Carter and Continental Oil Company No. 1 A. L. Wasson, wildcat in northern Gaines, 16 miles west of Seagraves. The pipe was cemented with 500 sacks. Location of the No. 1 Wasson is 2,310 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west line of section 48, block AX, public school land. Courtroom Closeups as Gable Said 'No'

Clark Gable, in his oddest role, spoke decisively from the federal court witness stand in testifying he never had seen Mrs. Violet Wells Norton, right, who glared and muttered retort after retort that the actor was the father of her 14-year-old daughter, Gwendoline, center. Mrs. Norton was charged with using the mails in an attempt to defraud the film star. Said Mrs. Norton, who accused Gable of betraying her in England 15 years ago: "I'm surer than ever Gable's the man I loved back in Billerica." Said Gwendoline, craning her neck: "I want to see Mr. Gable." Said Gable: "I've never been in England." Mrs. Norton was convicted on a charge of misuse of the mails by a federal jury Friday night.

TWELVE MIDLAND PEOPLE TO ATTEND ROTARY MEETING

Convention to Open In Childress Today

A dozen Midland people will attend the annual conference of the forty-first district of Rotary International, opening today at Childress for three days. Officers of the Rotary club here said probably a half dozen others would be there for at least one day.

District Governor Fred Wemple, Mrs. Wemple and Percy J. Mims left Saturday for the conference city where the governor will be in touch with all details when the delegations arrive today.

Others leaving today included A. O. Thomas, Addison Wadley, Clinton Lackey, W. I. Pratt, Barney Rushing, the Rev. and Mrs. Winston F. Borum, L. H. Tiffin and T. Paul Barron. Father Edw. P. Harrison expected to attend Monday.

Childress was preparing to entertain approximately 500 Rotarians and Rotary Anns, laying extensive plans for social events along with the routine business of the organization.

Local 'Sweetheart' To Be Chosen May 12 At Yucca Theatre

Midland's representative in the Texas Sweetheart No. 1 contest to be held in Ft. Worth on Saturday, May 22, will be selected at a contest to be held at the Yucca Theatre on Wednesday evening, May 12, according to announcements issued yesterday from the Midland chamber of commerce and the Yucca Theatre, sponsors of the local contest. This is a real opportunity offered for some beautiful and ambitious young lady of Midland to become Texas Sweetheart No. 1 with the featured role in the internationally famous Casa Manana, and an opportunity in motion pictures.

The contest is open to every young lady of the community, it being hoped that at least 40 entrants will be registered for participation. Any young lady wishing to enter the local contest is requested to leave her name and address at either the chamber of commerce office in Hotel Scharbauer or at the Yucca Theatre. It is understood that several would be winners have already registered.

Every girl chosen to represent the city in the contest will be given an audition by Billy Rose, greatest showman in the country, and will have a chance at a part in the Casa Manana revue, even if she does not win the highest honor of being Texas Sweetheart No. 1. Her fare by rail or bus from Midland to Fort Worth and return will be paid by the Ft. Worth Frontier Fiesta, and if it is necessary for the entry to travel the night in Ft. Worth, the Frontier Fiesta will provide a hotel room.

Miss Faye Cotton of Borger, winner of last year's contest, was given a featured role at a lucrative salary in the Casa Manana Revue and received much publicity in metropolitan newspapers and the national magazines. She is now in Hollywood where she has a motion picture contract. Her first picture, "Top of the Town," was recently completed and was showing in Ft. Worth last week.

It is interesting to note that Miss Cotton was discovered at a Borger theatre which is affiliated with the Yucca Theatre in Midland, and it would be quite coincidental if Texas Sweetheart No. 1 for 1937 should be discovered at the local theatre. Publicity will be showered on each girl and each town taking part in the final contest.

The opportunity awaits the winner of the contest which is open to all girls of Midland. Contestants are urged to list their names as soon as possible. Other arrangements in regard to the contest will be announced later.

API MEETING IN MIDLAND CALLED A HUGE SUCCESS

Over 150 Oil Men At Session Held Here All Day Friday

By BILL COLLYNS A brief business session and the reading and discussion of technical papers in the afternoon, followed with the staging of a gala banquet in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer in the evening, featured the regular quarterly meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute here Friday afternoon, with over 150 oil men from over West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico being in attendance at the gathering.

The interesting and educational program for both the afternoon and evening sessions was arranged by G. A. Poole of Odessa, chairman of the program committee, K. L. Sappington of Midland, chairman of the Permian Chapter, presiding at both sessions. Mayor M. C. Ulmer gave the address of welcome at the opening session at Hotel Scharbauer Friday afternoon, visitors at the banquet session in the evening being welcomed by Bill Collyns, chamber of commerce manager.

Representatives from Hobbs, Wink, Eunice, Monahans, Houston, Odessa, Fort Worth, Tulsa, Big Spring, Colorado, Abilene, McCamey, Crane, Iraan, Dallas, and Texon were in attendance at the meeting which was the first since the organization of the chapter here several weeks ago.

"The Application of Gas Lift in West Texas and New Mexico," Robert E. Knyer of Dallas, sponsored by Harvey Haridon, Midland. "Plugging Back With Cement," C. B. Parsons, vice president Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Company.

Chapter members, at the business session, voted to meet once each quarter, the location of the meetings to be decided upon by the members of the advisory committee which is composed of W. T. Doherty, Harvey Haridon, Earl Griffin and J. W. Jordan, Midland; Glenn Elish, W. E. Cunningham and T. B. Sudderth, Hobbs; J. P. Hufendick and T. E. Keefer, Wink; H. B. Hurley, Big Spring; F. E. ANOTHER YEAR OF ARIDITY ASSURED BY THE BALLOTING

Only 662 Ballots Are Cast in Precinct ON Saturday

1 PRECINCT WET Warfield Votes 11-3 For The Sale Of Liquor

Midland county was assured of another year in the "dry" column Saturday when voters of the county, by a margin of 83 ballots, decided not to allow the legalized sale of liquor. The total number of ballots cast was only approximately one-third of eligible ones in the county. The total number was 662 cast, with 372 against the sale of liquor and 290 in favor of it.

Only one precinct, Warfield, voted for the sale of drinks, the wets rolling up almost a 4-1 majority on the fourteen votes. Eleven persons were in favor of the sale and the other three against it. The Hunt box, precinct three, showed a 5-5 count on the 10 ballots cast. Precinct 2 voted 20-5 against the sale.

In precinct 1 (Midland) the final count was 344 against and 269 for the sale. Voters of the precinct cast two ballots, one for the sale of liquor in the county and the other in the precinct, the final count was the same on both.

The results in Midland were almost the same as in the 1936 election. 75 ballots difference being recorded this year and 84 last year. However, there was only slightly more than half as many ballots cast this year as last. A total of 1114 ballots were cast last year, compared to the 662 this time.

HOUSE ACTIONS AT MEETING RAPPED BY REP. CALVERT

Failure to Attend Hearing Cause Of Action

AUSTIN, April 24. (P)—Failure of house members to attend a session to consider a new liquor regulatory bill was sharply criticized by speaker Calvert today.

When a vote on an amendment to eliminate bonds now required of package store dealers showed no quorum, the speaker said that some members were apparently deliberately avoiding the session, a "most despicable practice." Registration showed 91 members present. Representative Gibson of Longview offered a proposal to exempt retailers, charging the bond requirement had been developed into a racket.

Judge Bean Didn't Have Anything On Judge Knowles Here

The famed judge Roy Bean didn't have a thing on Justice of Peace J. H. Knowles here when it comes to meeting out swift sentences. Saturday, in less than 30 minutes, he sentenced four men for vagrancy, another for drunkenness, bound a negro over on bail on an assault case after the negro, whose name was given as "Black Rider," was charged by one May House, negro. But the judge almost made the mistake of assessing the perpetual $1 fine, $15.20 cost to the wrong man. As he watched one prisoner depart a local man walked in the door of the office and told county attorney Hines he wanted to see him. The judge, being hard of hearing and not hearing the statement by the man, startled all present by saying to the man: "Set down in that chair," TAKE OFF THAT HAT." A quick explanation was made and the judge ordered the next prisoner brought in for trial.

One prisoner said he was not guilty of vagrancy because he had money in his pocket and that he was merely looking for a job. After considering the case, the judge told him that he would set his trial date for May 3 and set his bond at $250. "H—", I could serve a guilty sentence by then," the prisoner said. The judge told him he could change his plea to guilty if he wanted to change his mind. And that's what he did.

TALES FROM THE HILLS

Several months ago the nation picked up its newspapers and learned to its horror that a husky young Tennessee mountaineer had taken unto himself a 9-year-old wife.

While legislators belatedly scurried about modernizing their primitive marriage laws, the agitation that resulted mirrored the nation's humiliation that such belated ignorance could exist even in its sparsely settled areas.

It was pleasant, therefore, to read of another wife, from the hills of West Virginia, who is taking in stride a trip to New York and Havana which she won for submitting the best pro-Roosevelt essay in a nation-wide pre-election contest. That a "hillbilly" woman should have the wide grasp on national affairs and economic issues displayed in her essay was considered miraculous by her interviewers.

And should help remove the taste left by the child-marriage episode.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Apr. 24—The Wagner-Steagall housing bill is one of the major legislative measures most seriously threatened by the administration's new emphasis on federal economy.

The cost of the bill and the size of the program which it contemplates will almost certainly be reduced. Supporters are hopeful, however, that the framework and policies of the bill will be preserved to end that the government will embark on a national housing program. In this program, housing for low income groups will be recognized as a national responsibility.

Roosevelt's frequent references to not one-third of the population which, he says, is "ill housed", have been accompanied by assurances that he really wanted a worthwhile federal housing program in which decent housing could be provided for families whose incomes are so low that private enterprise cannot afford to build for them.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau criticized the Wagner program from the beginning on the ground that it was too expensive. Now Roosevelt himself has become disturbed by failure of tax revenues to come up to anticipation, and over the size of next year's deficit. He

STERN IS WORD FOR LEWIS

John L. Lewis, the lionlike leader of labor, was chatting at a recent social gathering and his constant smile and good-humored remarks indicated he was enjoying himself.

"Mr. Lewis" said a young man who had just met him for the first time, "I am compelled to express my amazement. Here you are, merry and amiable, friendly and jovial. But I have seen hundreds of photographs of you and always you looked stern and ferocious."

"Sh-h-h!" replied Lewis with another grin, "that's my business."

also has declared a policy of selective spending in which there will be less emphasis on durable goods of the type which go into construction. Neither the White House nor the treasury, however, has yet suggested a substitute for the Wagner-Steagall bill. The best bet seems to be that congress will create a United States Housing Authority and give to it a certain amount of money with which to make a start.

The bill, as it is expected to be reported out on the senate floor, would lend a billion dollars to local housing authorities in the next four years. Subsidies amounting to about 3 1/2 per cent could be paid annually for 60 years and, if paid at the allowable maximum, would more than cover the carrying charges of the loan. Sponsors say this would provide adequate new housing for families in the $1000 income class and below. The sums provided in the bill would mean beginning of construction of 375,000 dwelling units in the next four years.

JUST FRIENDLY ENEMIES

Judge John Patrick Devaney of

Minneapolis, president of the National Lawyers Guild, which recently was organized in revolt against conservative policies of the American Bar Association, is a good friend, neighbor and golfing champion of Frederick H. Stinchfield of Minneapolis, president of the American Bar Association.

When Stinchfield returned to Minneapolis following his election as head of the A. B. A., Devaney was toastmaster at a banquet given for him by the lawyers of the state. And after Devaney's election as president of the N. L. G., Stinchfield wrote him a letter of congratulation.

Devaney, who was chief justice in Minnesota under the late Governor Floyd Olson, predicts he will have 6000 members in his new guild by June. Stinchfield has about 29,000 in his. There are about 175,000 lawyers in the country and Devaney estimates about 20 per cent are liberal.

"It ought to be understood," says Devaney, "that the National Lawyers Guild was not organized to help the president get over his supreme court bill. It was organized and underway long before anyone heard of the bill. We will have dinner meetings in 23 cities the night of April 30 in support of the president's plan and they will be partly designed to give the Guild an impetus."

"Later we as likely as not will be found opposing certain administration legislation. We hope to assume leadership when legislation comes up involving social problems, civil liberties and general welfare."

Will Face Contempt Trial Before Jury Monday In Lewiston

LEWISTON, Me., Apr. 24 (AP)—Seven leaders of the CIO were cited for contempt in the alleged violation of an injunction against strike activity in the Lewiston-Auburn shoe area today and held in $2,000 bond each for jury trial next Tuesday.

Dream of Glory Shattered

TOKYO (AP)—A 19-year-old former office boy with ambitions to become a champion ski performer took a short cut by having three gold cups made and engraved with the inscription, "Winner of the Japan Ski Championship." Police spoiled the lad's enjoyment, however, by arresting him and charging him with theft of the gold.

dependent oil operator, president of the West-Central Texas Oil and Gas Association, and vice president of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, western division, was the guest speaker at the Friday evening banquet, Judge Hunter citing the relationship of the government to the oil industry, and urging those present to oppose to the fullest extent any legislative bills which would increase taxes on oil in Texas. Texas oil is now taxed higher than in any other state in the union with the exception of Louisiana, he said. The speaker told his listeners that the oil industry is down to a merchandising basis and that the margin of profit does not justify an increase in taxes.

Judge Hunter said that oil represents 19 per cent of all industries in the state of Texas, and yet the oil industry is at present paying 42 per cent of all taxes in the state. In stating that taxes on oil have increased approximately 400 per cent in the last 15 years, he said that the price of oil is 33 per cent lower than it was in 1922, and that the oil industry has had to change its entire method of operation in order to cope with the situation. Cost of drilling, wages, compensation and materials have increased greatly during the past 15 years he said.

An educational campaign is needed to show the average citizen the close relationship existing between the oil industry and other industries, he said. In urging persons not connected with the oil industry to voice opposition to increased taxes on oil, Judge Hunter said there is such a thing as pushing the oil industry to where it will be detrimental to the other industries of a community. It is the duty of every oil man to oppose increased taxation and to win the public over to a sane and fair tax on part of oil companies, he said. He urged representation from the Permian Basin at the next tax hearing in Austin.

The speaker, who has spent considerable time in Austin on tax matters pertaining to the oil industry, said that he does not expect a large increase, if any, in oil taxes in the current session of the state legislature.

The meeting was attended by the sales forces of the Norge Stores of Big Spring and Pecos, as well as the entire organization of the Norge Co. Lectures and sales addresses were made by Mrs. Jack Tinney, Glen Turner, and Jerry Weeks and Lee Holland of the distributors office of Dallas and the Detroit factory. Turner and Weeks were favorably impressed with the business conditions which exist in West Texas.

Senior Play Chosen
 "Once in a Lifetime," a three-act romantic comedy by Charles Quimby Burdette, has been chosen for the senior class play.

 "Once in a Lifetime" is a roman- tic comedy which has all the ma- terials of being developed in the most claptrap and artificial style. The author has so woven these materials together as to maintain the poise and wholesome sanity of true comedy moving in the spirit of true roman- ce.
 The play utilizes such attractive materials and yet maintains such dignity that it is sure to meet with the approval of all.

This three-act comedy is entirely different from anything which has been given before, due to the fact that it has three distinct changes in scenery.
 Miss Agatha Bruner is coaching the play which will be ready for presentation around May 20!

FED CATTLE FOR MARKET DECREASE

Third Less in Corn Belt Than at This Time In 1936, Reported

AUSTIN, April 24.—The number of cattle on feed for market in the 11 Corn Belt States on April 1, this year, was about 33 percent smaller than the number on April 1, last year, it was estimated by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The actual number of feed April 1, this year, was probably about 400,000 head smaller than a year earlier somewhat smaller than 2 years earlier, and the smallest for the corresponding date in many years.

The reduction from last year was with E. B. What about Ralph, La Moine?

Mary Beth, you and Jeff haven't broken up, have you?

"Pug" went to the carnival with E. C. last Thursday. Pug, how about Franklin Stickey?

Billy Morrison, did you know that Louise is "crazy" about you?

Anna Beth and John seem to enjoy each others company. At least it looked that way Wednesday at the carnival.

Fredda and Pinkie seem to have made up. Eh, Pinkie?

Barbara Jean and Bob Reeves are still going together.

general over the whole area, only one State showing more than a year earlier. The largest reductions were in the Western Corn Belt States, where the effects of the 1936 drought were most serious. In some of these States, the number on feed this year is only a relatively small fraction of the number fed some years ago when feed production was fairly normal.

In the Eastern Corn Belt, the num- ber on feed April 1, this year, while smaller than last, is not greatly dif- ferent from the average of the last 5 years, and the proportion of the Corn Belt total in this area is the largest in many years.

Reports from some of the Western States, where the number of cattle on feed January 1 this year was larger than a year earlier, indicates that marketings during the first three months of 1937 were heavier than during these months in 1936, and that, as of April 1, the number re- maining on feed was probably but little different from a year earlier.

The sharp advance in prices of feed grains and other concentrate feeds in recent weeks has had the effect of speeding up the marketing of cattle on feed in all areas from what it would have been if prices had not advanced and supplies had been more readily available.

Reports from a large number of Corn Belt feeders giving the months in which they expected to market their cattle that were on feed April 1 show that the proportion they expected to market during the three months, April to June, this year, was larger than the proportion re- ported in any other recent year. If these intended marketings are car- ried out as reported, the supply of fed cattle for market after July 1

QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING
 "Are Banks essential to community welfare?"
 YES, we believe that banks are decidedly essential to community welfare. Our modern business structure is so complex that it could not function without banks. As a simple illustration, more than 90% of all the business in this country is carried on by payments with bank checks.
 Banks are the active hub of practically all business and financial transactions. Day in and day out they render useful, needed financial services. They furnish depositors with a safe, convenient place to keep money. They make loans to local borrowers of business ability and integrity. They furnish employment to local people and aid in making it possible for other activities to do so. They participate—directly and indirectly—in civic enterprises.
 Among the many elements essential to the success of a bank our officers and directors believe the most important is soundness built on the enduring foundation of community usefulness.

Mrs. Oldenburg of Denmark Is Visiting Her Son In Midland

Mrs. Yisula Oldenburg of Copenhagen, Denmark, is in Midland visiting her son, Preben Oldenburg, who is a petroleum engineer for the Standard Oil Company here. Mr. Oldenburg will be married May 3, to Miss Margaret Brewer in Berkeley, and he and his mother will leave Friday for California. Miss Brewer is a graduate of San Francisco State College with the class of 1935 and while there was active in Kappa Phi and Wesley Players.

Mr. Oldenburg graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston. He has been in the United States for eight years. The young couple will make their home in Midland.

This is Mrs. Oldenburg's first visit to America and one of the most interesting things to her is seeing a dust storm. She said: "We've heard of them, and read of them but this is my first time to see one. You dust after them the next day and that's not so amusing." The visitor is greatly impressed with the beauty and quantity of wild flowers that grow in Texas. "I love the large prairies," she said. "It is beautiful to drive over the green fields."

Mrs. Oldenburg's husband, Erik Oldenburg, recently resigned from the high court of Denmark because of the custom there to resign at the age of seventy. "You are not so afraid of the future here as we are in Europe. We look a little black in the future," she said in broken English. "We are afraid of war." When asked what the Danish people thought of America's minister to their country, Ruth Bryan Owen Rhode, Mrs. Oldenburg laughingly said, "we are sorry that she married. She might not come back to us." She expressed great respect and admiration for Mrs. Rhode and said that she had done much for Denmark and for the Danes. "She is very clever and we love her," Mrs. Oldenburg said.

Tomato juice is one of the novelties of America to the Danish women. "With a little ice, it is nice," she commented, and expressed hopes of being able to take some home with her. She told of the many advantages that the American housewife has. "We have to make our own salad dressing, but we call it mayonnaise," she said.

Mrs. Oldenburg is making a needlepoint chair cover that is very lovely and she expects to give it to her son. "I love to do needlepoint," she said. "I have had it for five years and said that she would be so happy to have an American daughter-in-law soon. She speaks a number of languages but used French and German most frequently. It was often difficult for her to use exactly the English words to express herself. "Anxious" and "afraid" were confusing to her.

When asked what she thought of New York, she exclaimed, "Oh, I was stunned by the large houses. They are so high. In Denmark we have not more than five stories to a house."

Mrs. Oldenburg confessed that after a trip to the oil fields she knew little more about the oil business than before the trip. "The derricks, they do not add to the beauty, but I liked the lights," she said.

The amusements in Denmark are very similar to those here, Contract bridge, the theater, and music are the most popular diversions. After her visit here, Mrs. Oldenburg will return to Denmark. Another son will marry a Danish girl in September. "My sons they grow up," the pleasant lady said.

BALDNESS

CAN BE CORRECTED WITH OUR NEW CROSLY XERVAC VACUUM MACHINE

In laboratory tests, a series of over 200 individuals were treated. Most patients received treatments twice a week, 30 minutes each. Definite, beneficial results were obtained in substantially all cases. Clinical work has indicated the following results:

1. Abnormal falling of hair was arrested in nearly every instance after 5 hours treatment.
2. After 7 to 10 hours of treatment, "previous fuzz" usually begins to grow and to develop color.
3. From this point persons treated progress towards a full growth of hair, dependent upon the follicles that are present, and living at the beginning of treatment. Growth usually occurs in the following manner: Up temporal regions, closure of bald pate, elimination of widow's peaks.
4. The time required for recovery of hair varies according to age, duration of baldness, amount of baldness, blood pressure, physical types (blondes respond slower than brunettes) and a multitude of other factors.
5. Hair already present apparently grows at a faster rate.
6. The hair present tends to become more naturally oily, as the sebaceous glands are also stimulated.

Washington Oarsmen Again Are Providing Selves

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

Ky Ebright says that California will do better at Poughkeepsie in June and Al Ulbricksen agrees that the Bears will be dangerous, but there is every indication that Washington will continue to rule the waves in 1937.

Eastern boatloads cannot help but gaze upon the big number on the Hudson darkly.

From Seattle to Berlin, Washington swept every river late, and estuary it could get to in paddling to the national and Olympic championships last year.

Ulbricksen's third and final season at the pace-setting oar, 1936, saw one of the truly great eights of all Washington history. They won easily from California, defeated Princeton in a dual regatta, and regained the national crown by re-pulsing Navy in a brilliant race.

Returning from Germany, last summer, Ulbricksen asserted that his 1936 array was the match of the last Husky crew he stroked. His current varsity is the same boat which won the Olympic title with the exception of the coxswain, which gives you some idea of its strength.

Sweep swingers grow in the Puget Sound country. In 17 attempts to acquire the national championship, the Purple and Gold has run out of the money only twice. Husky varsities have prevailed five times, finished second on a half dozen occasions, and rolled in third four times.

Washington Picks Up Where It Left Off

Washington picked up where it left off last summer when it tackled California on the Oakland Estuary the other afternoon.

The Berkeley boat made a great battle of it for two and a quarter miles in the three-mile varsity event, but at that point, Kirk Rocca, No. 7 caught a crab and the Bears lost their opportunity. Two other crabs later on lost distance for the Blue and Gold, and the Washington varsity won by three and a half lengths in 14:55 1/5.

Washington's junior varsity bettered the time of the first string in traversing the distance in 14:49 to turn back the California Jayvees by 10 lengths.

The Husky frosh hung up a new record for their two-mile race, 9:41 1/2, in pulling in two lengths in front of the Berkeley pea-greens.

The Washington varsity is like that rare race horse—the sprinter which can go the route. The 1936 edition was as much at home over the shorter Olympic qualifying test and event itself as it was over the tough four-mile course on the Hudson.

It shows no sign of post-Olympic fatigue, and reserves are so capable that Ulbricksen was in a position to demote two of his stars to the jayvees for a couple of weeks this spring.

Don Hume and Joe Rantz were the victims of Ulbricksen's shake-up, but were back on the front line when the lads started pulling for keeps.

Hume Finest Stroke Since Ulbricksen

One of the lightest stroke oars in Washington annals, Hume has proved himself the finest since Ulbricksen. He stands 6 feet 2 and weighs 173 pounds.

Bob Murray, ineligible last season, is fighting Rantz for the No. 7 spot.

George Hunt, No. 6, has all the drive that made him the powerhouse of the 1936 shell. Standing 6 feet 4 and scaling 191 pounds, Hunt is Washington's outstanding oarsman from point of form.

Hunt and John White, No. 4, and Capt. Jim McMillin, No. 5, are the sluggers in the waist of the boat. The tallest man on the squad at 6 feet 5 and weighing 191 pounds, McMillin has two years of Poughkeepsie experience behind him.

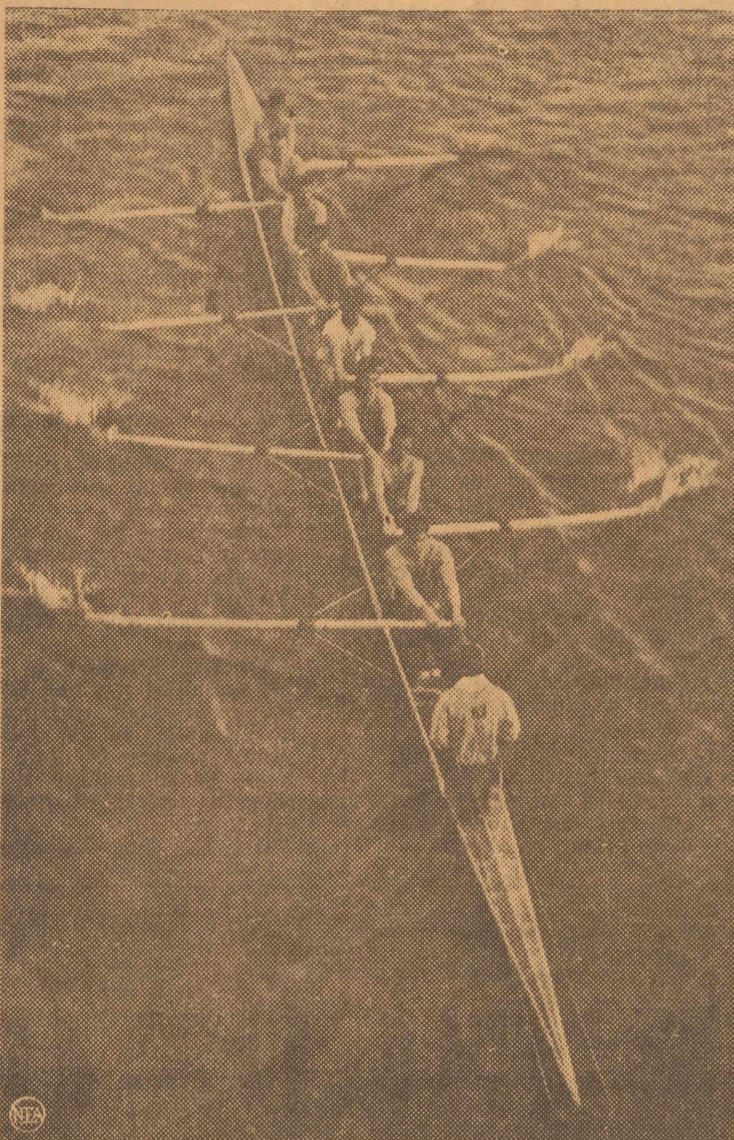

Gordon Adams, No. 3, probably is the most durable man in the lineup. He can slug along at three or four miles all day.

Charles Day, No. 2, has more punch in his long arms than any other man in the bow. He has no superior when it comes to smooth oarsmanship and co-ordinated effort.

Roger Morris, bow, is a stylist rather than a power performer. He picks up stroke well and has the snap and drive to give the boat the stability that Hume at stroke requires.

They Rule The Waves

Here is Washington's varsity crew photographed on the Oakland Estuary, where the three Husky boats easily repelled those of California to again serve notice that they intend to sweep the water. The varsity sweep swingers are Johnny Rosencranz, coxswain; Don Hume, stroke; Joe Rantz, No. 7; George Hunt, No. 6; Capt. Jim McMillin, No. 5; John White, No. 4; Gordon Adams, No. 3; Charles Day, No. 2; and Roger Morris, bow.

the truly great boatloads of collegiate galley boats and there is little doubt but that it will further demonstrate the fact between the railroad bridge and the finish on Mynheer Hudson's river.

will make it a lot easier for the head-writing department.

Had I omitted some of the names sent in there could have been little censure. Think of all the trouble it would be to repeat several times in a story some of the following: "Thoro-breds", "Red Stingers", "Jack Rabbits", "Blue-Beards", or "Yearlings."

The above wasn't much good news to anyone but Lotta, but here is some that all fans are going to like: The Midland Cardinals will arrive here tomorrow and will start daily workouts immediately. The public is going to be welcome at the workouts as well as at the games.

Either 15 or 16 boys will be in the group that arrives here directly from Albuquerque. The scheduled series with Roswell was called off by Manager Payne of Roswell when he decided his team was not ready to go.

And according to word received by Query, the boys are as anxious to get here as he is to have them. He has been in daily contact with Jay Flehner, in charge of the team, and he has told Wray each time that the boys are more than ready to get on the scene of their summer residence.

Ramblin' Johnny Smith, of Monahans, just in case you might know where Monahans is, says that Wink will draw more persons opening day than Midland and Roswell together. He may be in for a surprise. Wink is so enthusiastic over their team that the merchants have agreed to close up their stores at 8 o'clock each evening when night ball is started. Charley Bryan complains that the Monahans managers have been attempting to land some of his players. Put 'em under contract, Charley. Getting out on the limb early—Monahans won't be in the Staughnessy play-off this fall. Jelly Dawkins announces he won't be an umpire in the league this year, having withdrawn his application. Thanks, Jelly.

Stirs New Deal

Move to bring the social security program before the Supreme Court was speeded by the administration after the U. S. circuit court of appeals at Boston gave a 2-1 decision holding old age pension and unemployment features of the act invalid. The adverse ruling was written by Republican Judge Scott Wilson, 67, top photo, and concurred in by Republican Judge James M. Morton, Jr., 67, lower right. They held the act violates state rights. The dissenting opinion was that of Democratic Judge George H. Bingham, 72, lower left.

Texas U. Students Hear Attorney Cite Economic Phases of Govt. Control of Oil

AUSTIN, Apr. 23—In one of a series of three lectures on "Some Economic Phases of Government Control of Oil Production," delivered on three successive days this week before students and faculty of the departments of petroleum engineering, geology and economics and School of Law at the University of Texas, Robert E. Hardwick of Fort Worth, well-known attorney and an authority on oil production, economics and their legal aspects, pointed to the increase of crude oil exports and petroleum exports and the significance of the movement. Mr. Hardwick's address also covered a broad scope relating to various matters connected with the oil industry. He demonstrated his technical knowledge of petroleum engineering. His interest in the industry is shown by his book "Petroleum and Natural Gas Bibliography," which will soon come from the press of the University of Texas.

"It has often been pointed out that production costs, transportation rates, labor costs, land values, taxes, and other expense items are, on the whole, materially lower in Mexico, Venezuela, Columbia and the near-by islands of the West Indies, than in the United States," Mr. Hardwick said. "Everything considered, it may be advisable to encourage some imports, particularly of crude petroleum, especially if it be true that it will be refined in the United States and will supply a part of the export market instead of having that market supplied by shipments from refineries on foreign soil."

"Starting with 1933, exports have increased somewhat. The increase is rather sharp for 1935 over 1934. This increase may be explained in various ways, particularly by the world-wide improvement in economic welfare. It is also significant that exports of crude petroleum have increased since 1930, while exports of refined products have decreased materially or, having decreased to a low point in 1932, have remained fairly constant up to date. Of course, there may be many explanations for this trend. The sharp increase in exports of crude petroleum in 1935 over 1934 has been explained by the desire of European countries to build up storage stocks as a national defense measure. Some other cause must, however, be assigned for the upward trend since 1930 in the exportation of crude petroleum, while, at the same time, there was a decided downward trend in the exportation of refined products. The

Attention Lotta Williams:
For suggesting the name "Cardinals" as a fitting title for the Midland baseball team this year you have a season pass coming.
This department will be glad to give it to you if you will come down after it. Or, if you prefer, I'll mail it.
Miss Williams was not the only person sending in the winning name but she was the lucky one in the draw.
Each of the names suggested were written on separate pieces of paper with the name of the sender. The names were then placed in a box, shaken up and Manager Wray Query pulled out one that was to decide the name of the club. The contest was fair and above-board, and I'll sign affidavit to it.
The club is going to lose some money this year by letting Lotta have the pass because there is not a better fan in Midland than she is. But it is too late for the club to do anything about it.
I for one was well pleased with the name, whether or not anyone else is. It can be shortened to "Cards" or be substituted for with "Red Birds". Such a varied choice gradual increase in crude petroleum exports may be due to the fact that many refineries were being built in foreign countries and the raw material or a large part of it, had to be purchased abroad, and was purchased in the United States. If this explanation be the correct one, it is likely that, for a time at least, there will be a continuation of increasing exports of crude petroleum or refinable material from the United States, with a decrease in exports of refined products. Obviously, change in viewpoints as to imminence of war in Europe has a decided effect upon exports from the United States and elsewhere.

"Production control in the United States is also materially affected by the competition between petroleum and its products, on the one hand, and various fuels on the other. Petroleum and natural gas in many regions have almost completely destroyed the market for coal. Natural gas frequently replaces petroleum as fuel, and natural gasoline (made from natural gas) competes with gasoline manufactured from crude petroleum, thus bringing into competition two branches of the same industry. It is clear that electricity in many ways is competing with increasing success with coal, petroleum, and natural gas. The federal government, directly and indirectly, is encouraging the use of water power for the manufacture of electricity.

"In addition to competition between various fuels, there is a probability, it is argued, that increased efficiency in the manufacture and use of gasoline, as well as increased efficiency in the finding and production of petroleum, will shortly reduce, if not destroy almost entirely, the value of petroleum as compared to present values."

of section 44, block AX, derrick has been completed for Carter-Conoco No. 1-B Wasson.

Shell No. - S. F. Mann, Seminole area test, is rat-holing ahead below 4,830 feet after gas prevented running Schlumberger survey. A series of drill-stem tests will be taken at 50-foot intervals.

Bailing Water Using a 60-foot sectional bailer, crew started bailing down water yesterday in Hugh Corrigan et al (formerly W. L. Pickens et al) No. 1 Lewright, southeastern Terry wildcat. It will be deepened from 4,975 by Lem Peters, Midland contractor. The No. 1 Lewright was temporarily abandoned early in March after encountering sulphur water at 4,938, which increased nearly to total depth. Corrigan later obtained salvage of the well from C. J. Davidson Drig. Co., the contractors, as well as leases from Pickens et al. The test is located in the center of the northeast of the northeast of section 1, block C-37, public school land, ten miles northwest of Albaugh No. 1 Robinson, discovery well in Dawson county.

Tubing was being re-run yesterday in Texas Company No. 1 Slaughter. Hockley strike, after a shut-down late in the week enforced by sand-storm. The well flowed 175 barrels through casing in 12 hours several days after tubing was pulled to recover swab lodged near bottom. On its 24-hour potential gauge last Sunday, the No. 1 Slaughter flowed 333 barrels in 24 hours, despite the obstruction in tubing. It was treated with 2,000 gallons of acid and will probably be re-treated. Total depth is 5,023, plugged back from 5,030.

With rotary equipment supplanting cable tools, drilling was resumed yesterday in Allan Hargrave and C. Lem Peters No. 1 Jerold Riordan, wildcat two miles southeast of the town of Andrews in Andrews county. Twelve and a half-inch casing had been cemented at 216 feet in red rock. Rotary will be employed to the top of salt, where it will switch back to cable tools. The test is located 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west line of section 10, block A-44, public school land, on a block assembled by E. Russell Lloyd. It is eight miles south of production in the Means pool and about three miles north-east of the two Honolulu wells in the Parker area.

MIAJA DEPOSED AS DIRECTOR OF RED CIVIL RIGHTS

Told to Devote Time Toward Repulsing Insurgents

By Associated Press General Jose Miaja, military dictator, today (Saturday) was deprived of civil powers over Madrid and instructed to devote his energies to fighting Francisco Franco's insurgents.

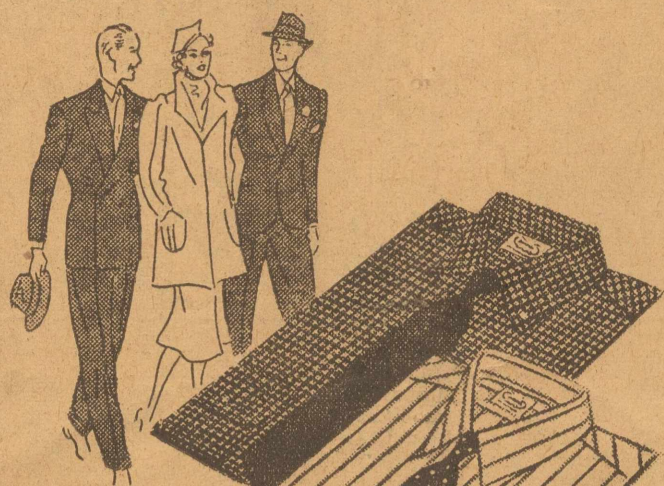

The heterogeneous anti-fascist council took command of the city's civil affairs after Miaja was relieved. Heavy clouds stopped the vicious 12-day insurgent bombardment which had killed more than 250. Insurgents, reputedly reinforced by 1,500 Italian artillerymen, pressed in upon Elorrio, one of the obstacles to their capture of Bilbao. New food ships left France for Bilbao.

SETTLEMENT OF WAR DEBTS URGED

State department officials said no offers of settlement had been received from any debtor nations.

TORONADO CAUSES DEATH OF 2 MEN

Arkansas Town Damaged Heavily by Storm Saturday

BENTON, Ark., Apr. (AP)—Tornado winds, lightning and hail caused the death of Herman Zinn and J. M. Howard, farmers, and injured a score of persons here along with causing damage to property estimated to be in the thousands of dollars today.

Freshman In Texas Colleges Conceded to Be "Dumbest" Anywhere In His Subjects

AUSTIN, Apr. 23—The average freshman in the colleges of Texas has a lower score in scholastic aptitude and in English than has the average college freshman in the country at large, it is brought out in the latest college testing survey of the Texas Commission on Coordination in Education. This survey was headed by Dr. H. T. Manuel, professor of education psychology at the University of Texas, director of research for the commission. The condition reflected by this lower average "needs to be brought home tactfully to every thoughtful citizen in the state," Dr. Manuel declared.

"Why is our standing relatively low? There is abundant evidence that test results are strongly influenced by environmental conditions. In explaining our unfavorable situation, therefore, we may reject any idea of inferiority in racial stock; the answer lies rather in the opportunities which our children have had. If we would raise the average, we must improve their opportunities. Nothing should stop us in our determination to place around our children the very best cultural and educational advantages which an enlightened citizenry can afford. The problem of developing human resources is far more important than any other which faces legislator, philanthropist, or citizen.

"It is becoming increasingly apparent that all adolescents must be the object of special supervision on the part of society until they can find their places in the work-a-day world. The time when this special supervision may safely cease is thus determined in part by occupational opportunities.

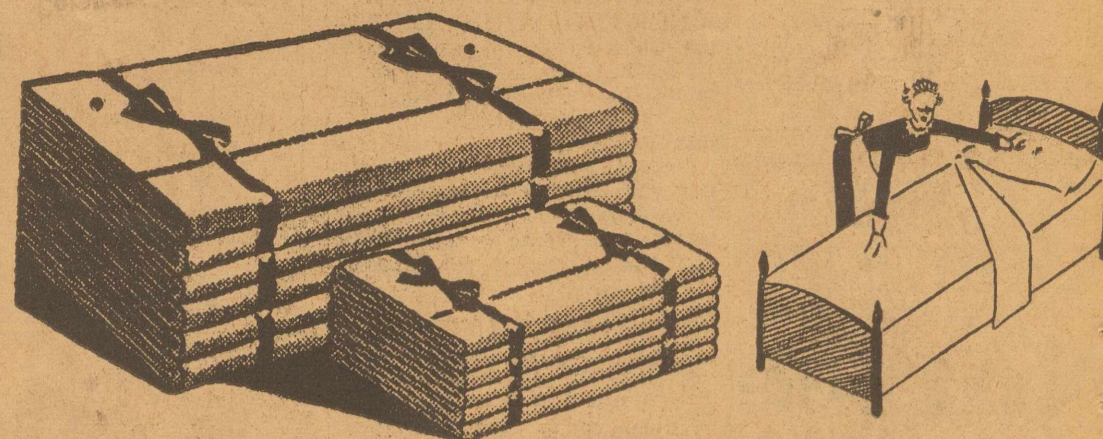

"Of what nature shall this supervision be? The philosophy of a democracy is that, so long as the individual can profit from the opportunities offered, the supervision should be educational. This conclusion is supported both by the desirability of developing to their fullest the human resources available and by the necessity of educating for living in the group.

"Colleges and universities should give earnest consideration to their part in this new conception of the responsibility of society for all adolescents, and to drive home the points that the solution of our problems of individual differences is not to be found in elimination of the less fit. Adolescents are coming to the end of the high school and knocking at the doors of the next administrative unit in larger and larger numbers. They will continue to do so.

"Is it not obvious that we must prepare to give a more varied treatment to those who come? Why continue to bewail the spread of ability and the lowering of standards? Why not adopt an organization and method which will approximate a type of opportunity adapted to each? Is it not stupid

Increased Business Reports Given By Express Agency Here

Proof of Midland's increased business is seen in reports of the Railway Express Agency, Inc., serving this territory since the Texas & Pacific railroad helped settle the country.

For twelve consecutive months Midland led all towns and cities in its division for percentage of increase in number of shipments and in business handled. Each month finds Midland high in the list, even though other towns in the territory also have shown heavier volume.

Included in the division are Lubbock, Fort Worth, Big Spring, Abilene, Shreveport, Texarkana, Wichita Falls, Dallas and some of the outstanding cities of the southwest. In March, 1934, the office handled 54 shipments. In March 1935, the number had jumped to 433 and this office led all others in the division for percentage of increase in business. A year later, Midland still stood at the top in increased business and handled 707 shipments. Last month, the total had climbed still higher, registering 979 shipments.

The Midland office is managed by B. J. Voliva, agent assisted by F. Lineberry and C. G. Stinchcomb. Voliva, who grew up in Midland, has been with the express agency since boyhood.

to attempt to teach on the level of a mythical average those who learn only slowly and concretely (but surely if they are given a suitable opportunity), and even more stupid to stifle genius by lowering our work for the most gifted to the same mythical average? "This problem of adjustment to individual needs, including guidance of students in making the most of their opportunities, is the real problem of the Commission on Coordination in Education."
