Woman Killed When Car, Truck Crash

EMPLOYEE AT THE CACTUS CAFE IS INSTANTLY KILLED

Broken Leg Received By Brownwood Man in Car

2 OTHERS HURT
Minor Injuries Are Received by Man And Woman

Miss Mary Lou Ball, 20, waitress in the Cactus cafe here, was instantly killed, Hal Taylor, Brownwood, received a broken leg and minor injuries, Irene McBride, Cactus cafe waitress, and Clarence Gosch, Jr., San Sabo, received minor injuries when the car in which they were riding about 1:30 a. m. today sideswiped a truck about two miles west of Warfield.

Miss Ball was instantly killed, her head being crushed in by the impact of the collision. The driver of the truck, J. W. Flippin of Odessa, reported to officers here this morning that he was driving toward his home when he met the car, and that he could not account for the accident. One wheel of the truck was smashed and the car was practically demolished, although never turning over.

The dead woman had been working at the Cactus cafe for slightly more than a month, having come here from Anson, it was reported.

Immediately following the wreck Flippin said he called an ambulance from Odessa and someone called one from Midland. They arrived at the scene at approximately the same time. The body of the dead woman was taken to a local mortuary while the other three persons were taken to a hospital for treatment. Taylor is still in the hospital.

Taylor is sales manager for the Vent-O-Lite Venetian blind mfg. company of Brownwood.

The body of the dead woman was taken to Anson this morning, her parents claiming the body. Funeral arrangements are pending.

GERMANS PROTEST CARDINAL'S TALK AGAINST HITLER

Representations To Country Made By Ambassador

BERLIN, May 20. (P)—Doctor Hans Dieckhoff, German ambassador to Washington, today made "energetic representations" to the United States over an anti-Hitler speech made by George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago.

Tuesday, Cardinal Mundelein said that the German trials of priests and lay brothers on immorality charges constituted propaganda worse than any atrocity tales of the world war.

Odessa to Kermit Road to be Voted Upon in Ector Sat.

ODESSA, May 20.—Voters of Ector county will go to the polls here Saturday to vote on two bond issues. One of $135,000 would provide for the construction of a highway from Odessa west to the Ector-Winkler county line, to connect with a proposed Winkler county highway from Kermit east. The other issue, of $150,000, is for a new Ector county courthouse.

The new highway would not only give a direct connection from Odessa to Kermit, but also connect the big oil producing areas of Winkler and Ector counties, now the most active in West Texas.

The new courthouse would replace the old two-story stone structure erected in 1908.

Little opposition has been expressed to either issue.

Left for Dead, Boy Lives to Point Out Sister's Slayer

Spared by circumstances bordering on the miraculous, 5-year-old Jimmy Tierman recuperates above in a Patchogue, L. I., hospital from a gashed throat, disfiguring and burns. Similar injuries proved fatal to his sister, Helen, whose fire-seared body was found in the woods at Brookhaven, L. I. His story that his mother committed the crime caused her to confess.

While State troopers put bloodhounds (above) on the trail of the brutal slayer of Helen Tierman in the Long Island woods, her mother was located in New York, and after telling that she and her children had been attacked by a strange man while on a picnic finally confessed that she killed the girl and attempted to take the life of her son also. She is now in jail.

HOUSE PUSHING SCHOOL AID BILL AT LAST MINUTE

Attempting to Get Act to Committee This Afternoon

ACT IS AMENDED

Special Session To Start Monday, Indicated

AUSTIN, May 20. (P)—The house today pushed work on the $12,000,000 rural school aid appropriation, the last of five major money bills, and hopes to have the bill before the conference committee later today.

An amendment was adopted requiring school districts to impose a tax of at least 50 cents on each $100 valuation for maintenance in order to be eligible for state aid.

Governor Alfred signed a bill requiring applicants for drivers' licenses to take an examination.

A special session starting Monday to consider repeal of horse race wagering appeared probable after the senate had made known it would not vote on the measure, already passed in the house, at this session.

SENATE ADVISORS URGE ROOSEVELT DROP COURT PLAN

Ask Him to Withdraw His Demands For 6 New Judges

TO COMPROMISE?

Private Opinions In Capital Hint At Settlement

WASHINGTON, May 20. (P)—The President's closest senate advisors today urged him to withdraw his court bill or restrict it to two additional justices.

They argued that the original bill is no longer needed because the court is construing the constitution more broadly and Justice Van Devanter is retiring. Meanwhile, there were private indications that a compromise is looming. Insiders took it for granted that there will be a compromise—perhaps soon—on the hotly disputed Roosevelt court reorganization bill.

Speaking privately, men identified with each side of the battle said that such an ending to the conflict was in the making even before the retirement of Associate Justice Willis Van Devanter.

In fact, it was revealed, senate administration leaders had prepared a surprise coup on a compromise at the voting session of the senate judiciary committee—one however, which did not quite come off.

Meanwhile, Washington, excitedly living the momentous days that it loves, exchanged rumors that more members of the high court may follow Van Devanter into retirement.

SOLONS MAP PLAN OF FLOOD CONTROL FOR THE COUNTRY

Reservoirs Will Be Provided At 100 Sites

WASHINGTON, May 20. (P)—An $800,000,000 program to control and prevent floods was in the drafting stage today in the house of representatives.

The house flood control committee was seeking an agreement with President Roosevelt that would insure legislation this session.

The major feature of the proposal, informed persons indicated, is the recommendation of Major General Edward M. Markham, chief of army engineers, that a system of nearly 100 flood prevention reservoirs be constructed on the Mississippi and its tributaries at a cost of not more than $800,000,000.

Flood control advocates in the house are understood to favor authorization of the program. The total expenditure would be spread over a number of years, the annual spending being $60,000,000 to $70,000,000.

Representative Whittington (D. Miss), chairman of the house committee, said that although President Roosevelt had submitted the flood control report to the committee he had requested it to be held up until January.

Representative Rayburn (D-Tex) replied that it would be "sheer waste" to build flood control dams without providing for power projects to bear the cost.

Markham's report, consists of a review of previous recommendations in the light of the disastrous floods which swept down the Ohio this spring. It embraced a flood control plan for the rich Alluvial plain of the Mississippi (51 miles wide and 600 miles long), a chain of reservoirs for the Ohio basin, and protective works to insure against recurrence of the floods that have raged through Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville and a hundred or more similar towns in the past.

Another series of reservoirs is proposed for the Red River and its tributaries in Oklahoma and Texas to afford protection to its basin (66,000 square miles) and prevent the Red from adding to crest stages on the lower Mississippi.

WASHINGTON, May 20. (P)—A movement to postpone until next year action on the AAA program which farm organizations drafted developed among congressional leaders today.

It was pointed out the delay would aid the economy campaign, giving farmers time to study legislation.

Victim of 7-story Plunge Compares Notes With Man Who Fell 128 Feet

ROCHESTER, Minn. (U.P)—One man who fell seven stories and another who dropped 128 feet are comparing notes of their respective miraculous escapes while in Rochester to receive treatment at Mayo clinic.

Oddly, the men are registered at the same hotel and are treated at the same Mayo hospital.

The men are Arthur McIntosh, Gillette, Wyo., tailor, and Donald Evans, Calgary, Alberta, hardware man.

It was in 1925, at the age of 14, that Evans had his accident. Engaged in painting on the top floor of an apartment building, he lost balance and started earthward. One last desperate effort to save himself left his fingernails on the ledge—then the plunge down.

But death had not reckoned with a washwoman's clothesline. Seven feet from the ground, Evans said, he still was falling head first. At that moment he struck the clothesline with his shoulders and was spun around so that he landed on his feet.

A few bones were broken, but Evans has lived to tell about the experience.

And four years before Evans took his fall, McIntosh tumbled 128 feet from a derrick in the east Texas oil fields. While the distance he fell was slightly greater than Evans' plunge, his fall was broken occasionally by steel girths which braced the derrick.

McIntosh broke one vertebra. Both he and Evans are suffering after-effects, but both are happy to be alive.

In a serious aside, McIntosh said he irony of the way things happen was that he had a brother who fell over backward on a chair, broke his neck and died.

FIESTA SPEAKER INSPIRES GROUP AT ROTARY CLUB

Eighty Attend Civic Guest Day, Hear Johnson

Coordination of industry, science and agriculture in building a permanent prosperity was forecast in an address at the Rotary club today by Frank Preston Johnson, representative of the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta.

The meeting, attended by fifty Rotary members and thirty guests, was "civic guest day" for the club. The speaker, known throughout the nation for his forward views on industrial and educational events such as the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta and the Pan-American and Greater Texas Exposition.

Mr. Johnson declared that, the pioneering is not all over, but the new pioneering is being done in laboratories and work shops. The machine age has dignified man, and it is "our fault" if we are underlings" as result of new inventions, he pointed out.

He said that the farm market must be more than a food market, and that through chemical, or chemical, discoveries, industry will in the future use more and more raw materials which are produced from the soil.

The use of farm products in industry will revolutionize economics and will put Texas in the foreground he said.

Mr. Johnson also referred to the fact that the tourist industry in Texas became last year the greatest source of income in the state, bringing to Texas $446,000,000. He predicted that the figures again would be run into millions this year, due greatly to the entertainment and educational events such as the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta and the Pan-American and Greater Texas Exposition.

"These events are worthy of your cooperation," he said.

Referring to the Frontier Fiesta, Mr. Johnson said that last year's show will "pale into insignificance" when compared to the one which will open June 26. The 1937 Casa Manana will be the "greatest entertainment event ever produced" in America, he declared.

Casa Manana will be built around a literary theme this season, dramatizing the four "best sellers" of the year: (1) "Gone With The Wind," (2) "Wake Up And Live," (3) "The Lost Horizon" and (4) "It Can't Happen Here." Anyone having an ounce of patriotism will be given a thrill in the climax of the last scene, he said.

Humorously referring to dissatisfaction with the amount of cotton used in Sally Rand's costume last year, he pointed out that 1,200 yards of cotton material will go into the robe of the Sweetheart of Texas in the 1937 revue.

Souvenirs, in the form of Mexican hat ash trays, were given the visitors of the Rotary club today, in a brief speech by Secretary W. I. Pratt, W. R. Upham, president of the club, presided and introduced the guests and club members. T. Paul Barron made a brief speech of welcome on behalf of the club.

Former leader GOP kills self

Henry Roarback Takes Own Life While At Hunting Lodge

SOUTH HARVINGTON, Conn. May 20. (P)—J. Henry Roarback, 67, veteran republican national committeeman, shot and killed himself yesterday in his hunting lodge here. He was president of the Connecticut Light and Power company and had led the republican party in his state for more than 25 years.

Dr. H. B. Hanchett, Torrington medical examiner, who with Dr. Winchfield Wright, Thomaston medical examiner, concurred on suicide as a death verdict, said Roarback came to the lodge, Valley View farm Tuesday night.

He spent the forenoon smoking and reading, the medical examiner said, then told a son, Lewis, to telephone his mother that they would motor to Hartford starting almost at once.

While Lewis was telephoning, he told Dr. Manchet, there was a sharp crack outside the house.

A few minutes later, Joseph Maudeau, lodge employe, found Roarback lying in a driveway. Nearby was a 32 calibre revolver.

The scene of the shooting was the site of last year's republican state gathering, in June at which John D. Hamilton, national republican chairman was guest of honor.

The republican leader, one of his party's few remaining old guards, rose to his position in the electric power and political fields from humble beginnings.

LINDBERGH WON'T CELEBRATE TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF OCEAN HOP

LONDON, May 20. (P)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has no wish to commemorate today the tenth anniversary of his epochal solo flight from New York to Paris.

Now 35 and grown more solemn and reticent than ever in the elapsed decade, the American expatriate succinctly told a questioning friend: "I did it. Why should I celebrate it?"

He will spend the day quietly at his country home at Long Barn with Mrs. Lindbergh and their boy

Jon. There will be no telephoned anniversary congratulations; the phone has been disconnected.

One of his friends spent two days with the colonel recently and remarked on the approaching anniversary of the flight which never has been duplicated.

"How am I going to celebrate it?" Lindbergh asked, his friend related today. "I am not. If anybody else wants to all right. But I won't participate in any observance."

Residents of their little village seldom see the famed couple, although passersby occasionally get fleeting glimpses of the colonel or Mrs. Lindbergh working with Jon in the spacious garden.

Lindbergh makes frequent trips to Cambridge to conduct experiments furthering his biological studies, but secrecy surrounds these activities.

Rumors that the Lindberghs are contemplating applying for British citizenship were discounted by friends who added that "nobody really knows what he intends to do."

The couple has lived abroad since December, 1935, a few months before execution of Bruno Hauptmann for the kidnap-slaying of the first Lindbergh baby, Charles, Jr.

Simple Home Treatment For Varicose Veins

Swollen veins may become dangerous and sometimes break. Sufferers are advised to get an original bottle of Emerald Oil at the Palace Drug or any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once. A small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush or the finger tips as directed until the swelling is reduced.

So effective is Emerald Oil that it is highly useful in reducing troublesome simple swellings due to strain and hastens their disappearance. (Adv.)

Scientist Says Gandhi Likes Peanut 'Milk'

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Peanut "milk" has replaced goat milk on the diet of the M. K. Gandhi, according to Dr. G. W. Carver, noted negro scientist of Tuskegee, Institute. He prepared Gandhi's diet several years ago when the mahatma was ending one of his fasts against British rule in India.

Gandhi needed something easily digestible, Dr. Carver explained, and which at the same time would give him strength. The peanut "milk" has remained on the diet.

Dr. Carver told of experiments and use of the peanut among children in Africa who are growing strong on the extraction in regions where cow's milk is unavailable.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 20—A tentative version of the administration's long-awaited wage and hour bill has been drafted, but the measure is not yet in final form.

This far-reaching legislative proposal will be the subject of the president's next message to congress, in all probability. It may be sent to Capitol Hill within the next week or so, and it may be held up indefinitely. That depends on the time it takes for Roosevelt and his numerous advisers in this field to agree on details.

The bill, as previously forecast in these dispatches, will provide for general administration by a board, and for the establishment of wage and hour standards in individual industries considered to be operating in interstate commerce. Probably it will contain provisions for regulating child labor.

Attempts have been made to get trade practice provisions into the bill and make it provide a modified NRA. But that appears to be definitely out. Donald Richberg, who is now counsel for the U. S. Steel Corporation, has been the prime mover in such attempts.

Various vexing problems remain to be settled. One is the question whether a new agency or an existing agency should administer the law, which means an under-surface struggle between Secretary of Labor Perkins and the National Labor Relations Board. Another problem is presented by proposals for North-South wage differentials and this problem may or may not be sidestepped by farmers of the bill. There is also some dispute within the administration as to constitutional and other legal angles.

Relief in Two Faces

GEORGE L. BERRY, the millionaire labor leader just appointed senator from Tennessee to fill a vacancy, has had an unusual record for getting his name into the public prints. There is no reason, moreover, to suppose he will not be heard from now that he's a member of the legislative group known to itself as "the greatest deliberative body in the world."

Most Tennesseans claim to be sure that Berry had an agreement with Governor Gordon Browning, who appointed him, whereby Browning could run for the seat in 1938, while Berry retired. They also believe Browning figured that in case Berry's memory lapsed, the portly labor leader-banker-farmer-manufacturer-public official would be easy to defeat for nomination. But Berry denies such tales and it's known that Roosevelt favored his appointment, presumably being sure that he could depend on Berry for a Supreme Court vote and other support.

A certain amount of relief is noticeable both in the administration, which Berry had been serving as Federal Co-ordinator for Industrial Co-operation, and among labor leaders, with whom Berry has served as head of Labor's Non-Partisan League. The Co-ordinator's office, with a staff of 46 persons and a cost of nearly $150,000 a year—which has come out of work relief funds—will now be abolished. Created to receive the bones of NRA and preserve such co-operation between government industry and labor as might be possible, this organization staged meetings of labor leaders and business men which resulted in recommendations for "industrial self-government." Possibly its efforts were quite valuable but that is by no means a common impression here.

Meeting Flopped Badly

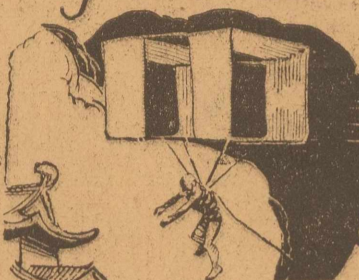

LABOR'S Non-Partisan League is expected to be headed by E. L. Oliver, an able, energetic executive who came up from the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. Berry was placed in command there by John Lewis and Sidney Hillman, who believed that since he was president of the A. F. of L. Pressmen's Union, his selection would save the league from being pictured as a C. I. O. subsidiary. On April 19 the league staged what were announced as mass meetings for the Roosevelt Court plan in many cities. This stunt, to the anguish of both the administration and C. I. O. leaders, was a flop.

Lately Berry and others have been threatening to sue for $1,600,000 which they claim would be proper compensation for some land inundated by the building of TVA's Norris Dam. Rich deposits of marble are said to have been covered by the water. The Berry appointment came as an almost complete surprise here because it had been understood that this claim against TVA had ruled the millionaire leader out of the picture.

STORIES IN STAMPS

BY I. S. KLEIN

CASTLE BUILT BY ENEMIES

A SHREWD feudal baron of Japan, it is said, forced his enemies to build a great castle for him at their own expense. The structure today is the chief pride of Nagoya, great modern metropolis of central Japan. So magnificent was the work that it impoverished the baron's enemies, and they had no money left to equip an army against him. Its royal apartments are decorated with rare woods, carvings, and painted panels. One painting of a tiger was considered so lifelike that its eyes were omitted, lest it seem to pounce upon those who view it.

Topping the castle are two giant dolphins shingled with ancient gold coins. One day, legend recalls, a daring Japanese suspended himself from a kite, sailed over the dolphins and tried to snatch some of the precious scales. He was discovered, disgraced, and forced to commit hara-kiri. Now the dolphins are shrouded in steel nets.

A view of this castle appears on a Japanese stamp issued in 1926. (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

Grandmothers Shocked By '37 Wedding Rites

"I'm sure, my dear, it wasn't done this way in my day." It's almost any girl's grandmother speaking to a bride-to-be. And, according to Virginia Courtenay, famous authority on wedding fads and fancies, grandmother is quite right . . . and so is granddaughter.

In this age of sit-down strikes, modern Misses do much as they please about marrying. Many of the old formalities are dispensed with, Miss Courtenay says, in her new book, "SO YOU ARE GOING TO BE MARRIED." But Miss Virginia makes it quite clear that for convenience and economy's sake, the 1937 bride DOES use wedding invitations, marriage announcements, and similar forms, to apprise her friends of the event. Only, Miss 1937 uses forms in step with her times.

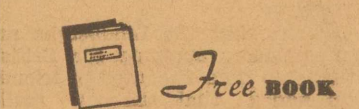

All in all, Miss Courtenay's chatty and whimsical little book is quite good reading, and each of the 1937 class of prospective brides may obtain a copy at this office without cost.

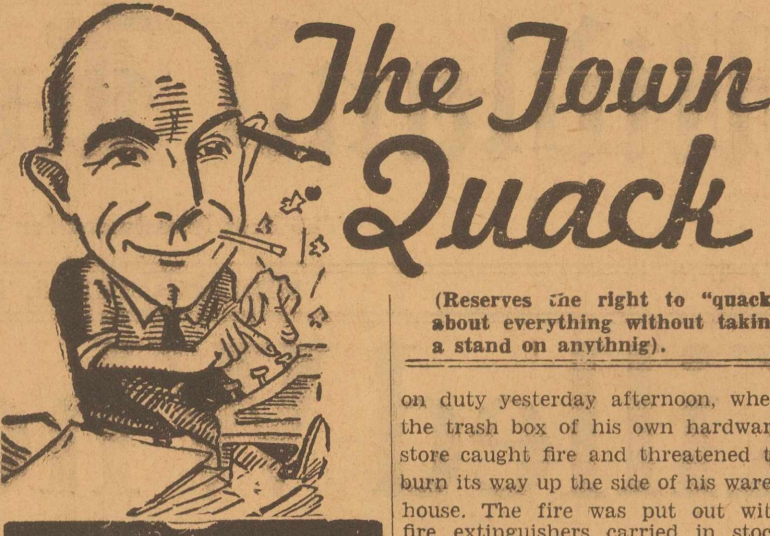

Even tho it is a Small Wedding

THERE ARE lots of folks you'll want to know you're married, and the smart, economical way of telling is to send a modern processed Marriage Announcement.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything).

There was a time when politicians used the utilities companies to make a racket about. Now, in Texas, the pari-mutuel business is the football.

"Chemurgic" is a new word to me, but, according to the principal speaker yesterday at the Texas Bankers' convention, it's about to take effect in Texas. It seems to have reference to the development of agriculture for industrial purposes.

"The chemical solution is at hand and the chemical industry is headed south," said Dr. Carl E. Fritsche of Dearborn, Mich., managing director of the farm chemurgic council.

Chief Luther Tidwell had the most convenient fire of his 25 years.

Speaking of advertising, they tell this one on Abe Johnson, who has concessions at the ball park. He got his license to sell canned beer out there and, desiring to get it before the fans, he gave away three cans. Two of the men went under the grandstand to drink it, so where did he get any advertising from that?

There's one thing I've learned from working around a newspaper. When someone approaches you and says, "I'm going to tell you something for your own good," you can put it down that it's for his own selfish interests, or he wouldn't be telling you.

The fourth annual guest day tea given by the Play Readers Club was Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. W. Anguish, 601 N. Big Spring. The house was very lovely with decorations of daisies, baskets of larkspur. Guests were received by Mrs. Anguish and Mrs. Fred Wilcox, club president. Others in the house party were Mrs. De Lo Douglas, Mrs. W. T. Schneider, Mrs. W. Bryant, Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, Mrs.

A. O. Thomas and Mrs. Wallace Irwin.

Mrs. Jack Hawkins very ably read the Pulitzer Prize winning play for 1936, "You Can't Take It With You," by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. It is the story of Grandpa Vanderhof and his family who live in an unusual fashion in that they do exactly as they want to. It is a harum scarum family, Ed with his printing press, Grandpa with his snakes, Elsie with her ballet dancing, Penny with her play writing, and each member of the family pursuing his hobby in the crowded living room. Alice, the only member of the family who is like the average human being falls in love with her employers son and her trials in entertaining his wealthy parents at the madhouse home are of utmost amusement.

Mrs. Hawkins was charming in her reading and very successfully portrayed the personality of each character. "You Can't Take It With You" has the same quixotic and naive material of the previous Hart-Kaufman success, "Once In A Lifetime," yet it does have a fleck of satire. It is a delightfully gay comedy which was produced at the Booth Theatre in New York City, December 14, 1936, and is one of the six first-ranking current hits on Broadway.

Mrs. Jowell Plays
The tea table was beautiful with the cloth of Mexican drawwork over rose damask and a centerpiece of snapdragons in a crystal bowl. Mrs. W. T. Schneider presided at the punch bowl, assisted by other members of the house party. Mrs. Holt Jowell played a group

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Mrs. Prickett Is P. T. A. President

The last North Ward P. T. A. meeting of the year was held Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. R. W. Hamilton presided at the business meeting, and announced that there will be a summer round-up for pre-school age children, and also gave a report on the bridge tournament. Mrs. John P. Butler presented Mrs. Hamilton out-going president, a gift from the P. T. A. and expressed the organization's appreciation for her faithfulness throughout the year. Mrs. Harry B. Prickett, new president, then took charge of the meeting and called on Mrs. Hamilton for a report of the district meeting held recently in San Angelo. Mrs. Duke Kimbrough gave a talk on Character Building and Mrs. Robert Tucker gave a paper on Friendliness. Mrs. Alma Thomas, principal of the school expressed the appreciation of those pupils who were furnished costumes for the operetta by the P. T. A.

Miss Anderson's room won the attendance prize.

a passenger in the ill-fated Hindenburg but for the vast success of Miss Gaynor, Mr. March and Mr. Selznick with "A Star Is Born."

As an executive of Radio City explains it, Jackson got a cable in Berlin a month ago offering him the headline spot in the new Music Hall stage show. The only condition imposed was that the comedian was to hurry over by the fastest trans-Atlantic vehicle . . . and with time short, Jackson chose the Hindenburg.

The Music Hall, however, didn't count on the prospects of "A Star Is Born" holding over a third week. When the box office receipts rolled in and the film remained on the Radio City screen, Jackson was informed that his booking had been postponed. The comic cancelled his dirigible passage and took a job in a Berlin revue.

Girl Scouts Are In Colorful Pageant

The Modern Study Club entertained at the Midland Country Club Wednesday afternoon with a Silver Tea, and as a grand finale for the year's study on International Relations presented the Girl Scouts in a very colorful pageant "The Summoning of the Nations," directed by the club president, Mrs. L. The theme of the performance was Better International Relations and a plea for peace, which was apropos of the year's study course for the club.

Special features of the pageant were a Mexican dance by Mary Dee Kendrick and Dorothy Young, accompanied at the piano by Miss Cleta Dee Tate and a Dutch dance by Elsa Schlosser, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. M. R. Hills. Mrs. Hills played the National airs of all the countries during the performance.

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT OF TEXAS UNIV. WANTS SALARY SCALE BOOSTED

AUSTIN, Texas.—Request for a minimum appropriation of $10,000 a year during the coming biennium for the Bureau of Engineering Research is being made by the Board of Regents of the University of Texas. Specifically, the Board is asking a legislative appropriation to restore the salary scale of the present staff to the 1931-33 level; the restoration of the position of research assistant, and electrical engineer; the addition of a second position of research assistant, a mechanical engineer; and a small increase in maintenance fund.

The functions of the Bureau of Engineering Research are: To carry on research in various branches of engineering; to aid members of the faculty of the College of Engineering to conduct research; to cooperate with engineers, architects, contractors, and industrial leaders in the solution of problems occurring in their work; to assist in other ways in the development of the natural resources of the State; to make available in a limited manner the services of a testing laboratory for various State boards and departments, for cities, counties, etc.

The Bureau of Engineering Research and its predecessors have issued bulletins and have collected a vast amount of unpublished data covering physical tests on a variety of materials from different sections of the State, on subgrade soils, and on the strength of concrete. These bulletins cover research work in civil engineering, electrical engineering, and mechanical engineering.

In civil engineering, work has been done on concrete and concrete aggregates, roads and road materials, soils, both highway subgrade and foundations, friction of water in pipes and elbows, sanitation, etc. In electrical engineering a bulletin has been issued on headlight studies and one on vacuum tube circuits. Other unpublished investigations have been made. An integrator has been designed to perform automatically a number of mathematical operations. Completion of this machine awaits the necessary funds.

In mechanical engineering much laboratory work has been done on heat exchangers, a bulletin has been issued and additional tests make it desirable to publish a new bulletin as soon as it can be financed.

Many problems of great importance should be studied, such as the use of lignite as a fuel for power plants, air conditioning apparatus, electric light source development, and others.

In many sections of the State solid rock is at such a depth beneath the ground that it is impossible to place directly on it the foundations of structures erected in these localities. Under conditions of this kind, a building may be placed with its foundations resting on a stratum of clay or loam. This material, due to the pressure from the building load or due to moisture variations, will change its volume, settling or, in some cases, expanding, thereby causing unsightly, and even dangerous cracks in the structure which it is supporting. Within the last two or three years, the Bureau has begun an investigation of some of the clays of the State on which it is probable that foundations will be placed.

The Bureau is equipped with some of the apparatus needed for laboratory tests of soils and is trying to assemble additional equipment for making more complete tests.

The Bureau has cooperated with a

WILL STAR AT FORT WORTH FIESTA

Angelic is the word for Miss Harriet Hector, world's greatest dancer, who will thrill the throngs with her grace and beauty at the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta as one of the stars of Billy Rose's Casa Manana Revue of 1937—all new and different, on the world's biggest revolving stage. Miss Hector was featured in the super-number of engineers and architects in the State by giving information on foundation soils which has enabled estimates to be made as to the possible settlement of certain structures. Some noteworthy illustrations of this service are shown by the tests made for the Centennial architects and engineers for some of the Centennial buildings; also, by the tests for the San Jacinto monument. At present, settlement studies are being made of this structure which will help make possible a better understanding of the relation between laboratory tests and actual settlements.

If the investigation of some of the clays on which foundations will probably be placed can be continued and made exhaustive enough, much assistance will be rendered architects and engineers, and excessive cracking of man future buildings may be prevented, Director Finch pointed out.

The Bureau of Economic Geology and this Bureau have cooperated in an investigation of building and monumental stones. Two hundred and seventeen samples of stone have been collected from the central and general region of Texas. This collection has elicited expressions of surprise and delight from many stone men. C. L. Baker, the geologist, made the following statement:

"Sufficient data are now assembled to warrant the prediction that this part of Texas will become ultimately one of the centers of the stone industry on the continent. Indeed, it is not known that any other area of comparable size contains so great a variety of commercial stone."

Display specimens have been prepared and physical tests will be made on these stones. Portions of the counties listed have been included in this survey: Blanco, Burnet, Gillespie, Llano, Mason, San Saba, Travis. This survey should be extended to include other areas of the State. Finally, the information assembled should be published in a bulletin illustrated with colored photographs. This is necessary to bring the excellent stones in Texas to the attention of those who will develop this industry.

By law the Bureau of Engineering Research has been designated as the agency for making approval tests on various head light devices. This work, at one time carried on by the Bureau, was left unprovided for in the 1933-35 and 1935-37 legislative appropriations.

The Bureau maintains a laboratory for the testing of materials ordinarily used in engineering construction. In the period of September 1, 1928, to September 1, 1936, material tests have been made for nine State departments, five Federal departments, 34 cities, 27 counties and three water improvement districts.

A total of approximately 2,700 tests have been made on materials used in the construction of university buildings. It has been estimated that this work done by a commercial laboratory would have cost more than $12,000. In addition, the Bureau staff has acted in an advisory capacity on certain university projects. More than five hundred tests on materials from new and improved sources have been made for individuals without charge.

cast includes such favorites as Colin Clive, Mady Christians, Paul Gullfoyle, Wally Albright, Elizabeth Risdon and Adrian Morris. Albert Lewin produced the offering, with Ethel Borden and Anthony Veiller writing the screen play from the European best-seller, "L'Equipage", by Joseph Kessel.

CARDS ANNIHILATE TROJANS 18-7; PLAY ROSWELL HERE TODAY

POTOCAR, FROST HIT HOMERS FOR THOMAS TO WIN

The Midland Cardinals further strengthened their first place hold yesterday as they hit three Monahans pitchers all over the lot for 15 hits and 18 runs while the runner-up Odessa club was taking a beating from Roswell.

The final score yesterday was 18-7 and players were no gladder to see the game end than the spectators. Sand whipping across the diamond all during the game made sight difficult for both players and customers. Outfielders found it almost impossible to get under a fly ball, the strong south wind making the horsehide perform all kinds of peculiar drops, curves and other fancy tricks before finally letting it down.

Little Bobby Frost, substituting for the ailing Mel Serafine at third base, welded the heaviest war club of any of the Red Birds yesterday. In the first inning he hit one far over the left field fence, only to have it go foul by inches and then walked. In the second inning he hit one on a line directly into the teeth of the wind and when last seen the ball was going over center field fence. He got a double, single and another walk in his final three trips up.

Potocar hit just as hard as did Frost, getting a homer, double and single, but didn't get a walk. Orr came through with a double and two singles and Randell had a near perfect day at the plate with three singles in four trips.

The Cards made six in the first, and with four in and one out in the second Rockman called it a day. Shigoda lasted until he had one out in the third, having given up 2 hits, 2 walks and seen three runs cross the plate. Thomas coasted all the way for the Birds and with better support might have kept the Monahans score considerably lower.

The Cardinals will play the strong Roswell Sunshiners today and tomorrow at City Park, and if they can take the series from them they will be so firmly entrenched at the top that it will be more than a little trouble to any club to dislodge them.

Over the Wires For Two-Bass Hit

Long distance rhythm went over the wire from New York to Dallas for final ok on a theme tune for the Casino at the Pan American Exposition. Composer Sammy Fain (at piano) and lyricist Irving Kahal, from a Broadway studio, ran over the number for George Marshall, the international fair's $100,000 entertainment director, and his wife, Corinne Griffith, at Dallas, so it could be put immediately into rehearsal in New York by Chester Hale, producer. Rehearsals move to Dallas two weeks ahead of the opening June 12.

Whittling as Life Work Holds Fancy of Youth

DULUTH, Minn., May 20 (AP)—Time hung heavily on Harris V. Johnson's hands during the depression, so like many another young man he took to whittling. His whittling, however, was not the stove-side variety. He sharpened his jackknife pickled up some pieces of wood and started to carve models of fishermen he knew, miniature axes and two-man saws, and plaques. Johnson says he learned something during those "idle" moments. "I started out just for fun," he said. "Now I have become so interested that I'm planning to try some more pretentious things." His hobby has led him to the more serious side of the arts, and now he plans to carve wooden figures from life.

Clock Turned Back Five Centuries In Recreating Renaissance Backgrounds

JULIET and her Romeo could have returned to Hollywood's Verona and found no detail missing as they strolled down the winding, medieval thoroughfares constructed at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for "Romeo and Juliet" starring Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard as the famous lovers and opening at the Yucca Theatre preview Saturday night, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Authenticity was the keynote in turning back the clock five centuries for the cameras to record the brilliantly colored pageant of fifteenth century Italian life as a background against which the Shakespearean classic was filmed. It was as though one of Benozzo Gozzoli's magnificent frescoes had come to life.

It was an amazingly interesting sight to see 2000 extras transform the cobbled Cathedral square and radiating streets into bustling, bustling city out of the past—knights on horseback in shining armor, grim-faced, armed retainers of the great houses of Montague and Capulet, heralds in tabards, public messengers in red jackets, prelates' vestments, friars in order smocks, monks, nuns, pilgrims and sisters, wandering carefree scholars, players, singers, ballad-mongers, jugglers, merchants in robes, shopkeepers in section. The "queen" of each city will be introduced from the stage of Casa Manana by Paul White-man. Besides the days already set forth, those named thus far are: Laredo, Corpus Christi, June 27; Weatherford, June 28; Glen Rose, Junior Woman's Club of Fort Worth, June 29; Cleburne, June 30; Fort Smith, Ark., July 4; Graham, July 5; Longview, July 10; Lawton, Oklahoma, July 11; Ruston, La., San Angelo, July 13; Denton, July 14; Round Table Club, Fort Worth, July 15; Haskell county, July 16; Zonta Club Day, July 17; Midland, July 19; Kerrville, Cisco, July 22; Menard July 24; Jacksonville, July 27; Vernon, July 29; Ford Day, Aug. 5; Wichita Falls, Aug. 6; Bartlettville, Okla., Aug. 8; Throckmorton, Aug. 18; Nacogdoches, Aug. 25; Del Rio, Aug. 29; De Leon, Aug. 31; McAlester, Okla., Sept. 2; Electra, Sept. 5; Houston, Sept. 6; Rio Grande Valley, Oct. 16 and Dalhart, Oct. 17.

Chamber of Commerce secretaries of the Southwest who wish a day named for their city are urged to communicate with Miss Hall, who will extend the fullest co-operation. Organized delegates will be met at the city limits and given a motorcycle escort through the business
