HON. HARRY HINES TO MAKE ADDRESS TO STUDENTS HERE

Commencement Talk To Graduates Of High School

IS KNOWN HERE

Has Been Speaker In City on Several Occasions

The Hon. Harry Hines, chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, will preach the commencement sermon Sunday morning to the 1937 graduating class of Midland high school. The service will begin at 11 o'clock, at the high school auditorium.

"The Religion of Tomorrow" is the subject of the speaker's sermon, it was announced today by Superintendent W. W. Lackey of the city schools.

Mr. Hines is one of the outstanding laymen's leaders and speakers of Texas. He is a member of the Christian church and is in demand constantly to address laymen's meetings and religious gatherings.

He has appeared in Midland on several occasions, addressing both civic and religious meetings. Joint meetings of the Lions and Rotary clubs, with men and women guests from Midland and surrounding towns, have been held with Mr. Hines as guest speaker, on each occasion the audience having completely filled the Crystal ball room of Hotel Scharbauer. He also addressed a laymen's meeting here on one occasion, resulting in more active participation in church affairs by the lay members.

Known as one of the most inspirational speakers of southwest, with an outstanding personality and eloquent delivery, Mr. Hines was invited several months ago by school authorities to preach the sermon at Midland high school graduates. He accepted at that time and has held the date for the Midland engagement. He will arrive in Midland at about 4:30 p. m. Saturday, it was announced.

Impressive musical numbers will be on the Sunday morning program which marks the final graduation week. Several churches of the city will hold their Sunday morning services, cooperating in the union meeting at which Mr. Hines will speak. Sunday schools, in those churches, will be dismissed earlier in order for those attending to secure early seats at the high school auditorium.

Lazy Days Ahead of Justice

Amiable, smiling and chatty was Supreme Court Justice Willis Van Devanter as this picture was taken shortly after he had resigned his place on the nation's highest bench. No longer crochety and stern, Justice Van Devanter had a sparkle in his eyes and a quirky humor in his expression. He was looking ahead, he told interviewers, to June and his Maryland farm and to long, lazy, irresponsible, non-political days in the sun.

BERLIN, May 21. (U.P.)—German secret police today sought identification of German sources from which they believed American Cardinal Mundelein obtained information for his attack on the Nazi attitude toward the Catholic church. If the identity of those responsible is established, they may be tried under the German treason law providing the headsman's axe. Both protestant and Catholic clergy in the United States rallied to Mundelein's support.

RUNNING TUBING TODAY FOR TEST OF SHELL 1 MANN

Seminole Well Shows Oil and Porosity in Cores

By FRANK GARDNER
Tubing is being run today in Shell Petroleum Corporation No. 1 S. F. Mann for test of section covered to 5,060, the total depth, which showed porosity and saturation. In coring from 5,017 to 5,027, two feet of gray and brown lime, showing no porosity or saturation, were recovered. Recovery from 5,027-37 was of anhydrite, bearing fair porosity and 60 per cent oil saturation. Only two inches of section were recovered in coring from 5,037-47, and they were described as brown lime, with streaks of anhydrite, showing good porosity and saturation. Steel-line measurements at 5,047 corrected depth to 5,052. From 5,052-60, streaks of brown lime with streaks of anhydrite were recovered, also showing good porosity and saturation. Coring was halted at that depth.

Shell No. 1 Mann is the east offset to Walsh & Adams (formerly Amerada) No. 1-A Averitt, discovery oil well on the Seminole structure three miles north of the town of that name in Gaines county. The Averitt well flowed 200 barrels a day at 5,029 when completed last December following three acid treatments. Like the first two wells drilled in the area, the Shell test encountered high gas in the Yates and lower horizons and blew out at 4,091. Seven-inch casing had to be cemented at 4,912 when it struck at that depth and could not be freed. Squeeze job successfully cemented off 4,800,000 feet of gas revealed by drillstem test from 4,912 to 5,004. Location of No. 1 Mann is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 220, block G, W. T. R. R. survey.

Four miles to the southeast, close to Seminole township, Amerada No. 1-A H. Fasken, test in the center of the northwest of the northwest of section 1660, block G, is standing with 12 1/2 inch casing cemented at 296 feet with 300 sacks. Total depth is 310 feet in red rock and sand.

Progress Made On New Building For Cowboy Reunion

STAMFORD, May 21. — Rapid progress is being made on the construction of the new buildings and other betterments in the $10,000 improvement program at the Texas Cowboy Reunion grounds. The work will be completed well in advance of the eighth annual Reunion which will be held on July 1, 2 and 3.

Work is well advanced on the $5,000 pavilion and exhibit building, a two story structure 60 x 100 feet. First floor of this building will be used for ticket offices and commercial exhibits, while the second floor will be used for sponsors' dances and other gatherings. Two modern rest rooms are included in the building.

Another important improvement still to be completed is a new lighting system for the rodeo arena, designed to make it the best lighted outdoor arena in Texas and remove the handicap under which night rodeo contestants have labored in the past.

Two new horse barns have been finished with some 44 individual stalls which will be rented to cowgirl sponsors or to cowboys who want special quarters for their horses. New pens for the sponsor's horses also have been built.

In the vicinity of the new barns, a dam has been built to form a small lake, holding some 10 1/2 feet of water when filled. This is in addition to the beautiful lake near the center of the grounds.

To speed up the show at the arena, a tunnel has been constructed at the opposite end from the chutes, through which stock will be removed after being used in the rodeo. This will avoid herding the stock back through the arena between events. After passing through the tunnel, the stock will be driven through a lane back of the grandstands to the corral.

To assure seats for all comers at the Reunion this year, 1,000 additional bleacher seats are being provided. This gives a total seating capacity of 11,000, of which 8,000 are grandstand seats under roof.

Golden Gate's Great Span on Eve of Opening

Plunged across the entrance to San Francisco bay in the world's longest single span, the Golden Gate Bridge is pictured here as workmen added finishing touches before the elaborate formal opening during an international ceremony starting May 27. A single deck suspension, 6450 feet from end to end, the bridge is more than three times the length of Brooklyn Bridge. To complete the structure required four years and $33,000,000, and cost 10 lives. It crosses over "Chrysoceros"—the Golden Gate—at a height of 250 feet, and connects San Francisco by highway with northern California. The towers, visible in this picture which was taken looking from San Francisco, are 746 feet high, built for strength and a setback artistic motif.

'SAFETY LANE' CAMPAIGN TO BE CONDUCTED HERE

Cooperation of All Car Owners Asked By Officers

Coming to Midland for a one day safety lane campaign June 8 officers of the Texas Highway Patrol today asked all automobile owners to participate in the project in order to make it most effective as a means of reducing accidents.

The safety lane will be conducted in the block on the south side of the court house, that being the 200 block on West Wall Street. All automobile drivers going through that segment of the highway between the hours of 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. will be asked to stop and submit to tests of brakes, lights, steering mechanism and windshield wipers.

Automobiles meeting the tests will be given blue stickers showing they are satisfactory. Those found defective will be given pink stickers pointing out the adjustments needed and drivers will be asked to have the corrections made as quickly as possible.

Midland county is "in the red" in automobile fatalities, the announcement today of the campaign said, and all citizens are urged to cooperate by having their cars tested. The tests are free to all owners and drivers.

General Franco Gets $100 Monthly, Unpaid as Nationalist State Head

SALAMANCA, Spain (U.P.)—Gen. Francisco Franco, chief of State of Nationalist Spain and Commander-in-chief of the Spanish army, carries out his task on the comparatively meager pay of a general of division.

He enjoys no Civil List. His military establishment, his private home, his diplomatic offices, and his position of Chief of State have been carried on during six months by the exercise of a spirit of patriotic sacrifice.

Francisco's salary as general of division is little more than 20,000 pesetas yearly, or adding the special grants due to him in respect to his Moroccan decorations, some 2,000 pesetas a month—about half the amount paid to a newspaper correspondent on the Spanish front.

General Mola, head of the Army of the North which covers a front from Extremadura to the Pyrenees, draws a salary even less than that of his chief—the salary of a general of brigade. In like manner, General Varela, Quielvo de Liano, Orgaz, and Moscardó, draw the same pay as they received before July 18, sacrificing any increases which might be due to them following their subsequent promotions.

Wes-Tex Employes Will Be Guests at "Round-Up" In Wink

The Wes-Tex Food Market, one of the L. C. Rhodes Wes-Tex line of West Texas stores, will be 100 percent in Wink Sunday for the annual Wes-Tex "round-up" of all employes in the chain.

The Wink store, being the oldest in the organization, was chosen for the meeting place. Employes of all the stores of the chain will motor to the Wes-Tex ranch east of town for a barbecue prepared by the foreman, Johnnie Roberts, and his assistants, Hiram Harris, Ball games between various stores, swimming in the Wink pool and other sports will form the entertainment during the day.

The Wink store began the Rhoads line in 1929 in a 25-foot space. In 1934, business necessitated enlargement of the store to a 50x100 foot space.

The next store was planted in Monahans, followed by stores in Crane and Midland and Odessa. Last year a bakery was added to the Monahans store.

The Midland store is the largest one in the chain, and is managed by John Casselman, general manager of the chain. Other members of the Midland force include J. C. Brewer, Joe Norman, Sr., L. D. Sipes, Leonard Skaggs, Melvin Wimberley, David Holster, Joe Norman, Jr., Willie Shaw, G. W. Majors, Hiram Harris, J. D. Harris, J. R. Smith, David Wafford, Woodrow Adams, J. B. French, Dick Hamlin, J. D. Hamilton, John B. Mills, Royce McClure.

There is slightly more than 60 employes of the five stores, and with their families are expected to number approximately 300 at the "round up" Sunday.

FEDERAL AID IN CONSERVATION OF SOIL REQUESTED

'Dust Bowl' Study Is Made by Group Now In Amarillo

AMARILLO, May 21. — Dust Bowl farmers, business men and county officials meeting here yesterday decided to ask Congress for a special Federal conservation authority to direct soil and water saving in the wind erosion region, which includes part of five states.

The 400 delegates to the meeting called by the Panhandle Water Conservation Authority were unanimous in declaring they want the wind erosion district treated as a separate and distinct area because of its serious soil problems.

In the resolution it was asked that the drought area which includes parts of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado and Kansas, not be attached to other conservation districts, but set up in a separate authority. Practically every community of the five-State area was represented.

It would be responsibility of the Federal authority to co-ordinate work of the different Federal and State agencies.

Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo and other Congressmen from the drought states will be requested to help establish the authority.

During the day different speakers discussed every angle of the wind erosion and water conservation problems. Special emphasis was placed on a program of water conservation through ponds, lakes and reservoirs because of benefits to this region and to help control seasonal floods.

VEToes MEASURE PLACING ONE IN EAST TEXAS TOWN

Legislators Strive To Complete Work On Bills

Solons to Adjourn After Saturday Session

AUSTIN, May 21. (U.P.)— Governor Allred today vetoed a bill appropriating $817,000 for a new hospital for the insane in East Texas but approved one for the same purpose and amount in West Texas.

Legislators intensified efforts to pass four major appropriation bills conference committees on educational, departmental and rural school aid bills expressing confidence reports would be ready tonight or tomorrow.

Only tomorrow's theoretical half-day stood before adjournment. Allred warned he would eliminate a number of items in the major appropriation bills because the lawmakers had approved substantial increases in expenditures without providing any new revenue.

The house favored an appropriation of $2,000,000 for rural school aid as against $1,000,000 approved by the senate. Both branches voted to leave administration in the hands of State Superintendent L. A. Woods. The allotment for the biennium ending August 31 was $10,000,000.

The teachers retirement bill provided for the system to begin operating at the start of the next school year. The state would match teachers' contributions of five percent of their salaries up to $3,600 a year. Participation in the plan would be optional with teachers now in service but mandatory on those entering Texas teaching in 1938 and thereafter.

Sponsors estimated the cost to the state at the outset would be about $1,500,000 a year. Taxes would be raised at a special session before September 1, 1938, to start paying the state's part. Pensions to aged educators would depend on their salaries and length of service.

A RESPONSIBILITY

The Senate Civil Liberties committee, having dug up an appalling set of facts about oppression and the suspension of civil rights in the Harlan county coal fields, declares that it looks "to the governor and the public conscience of Kentucky" to end this 15-year reign of terror.

That, unquestionably, is the place to look. The things that have happened in Harlan county—things that most of us had innocently supposed could not possibly happen anywhere under the Stars and Stripes—are primarily a responsibility of the people and the officials of Kentucky.

Not until the Senate committee got busy was the true state of affairs revealed in all its ugliness. Now that the facts have been brought out, where they can neither be denied nor ignored, it is highly probable that Kentucky will institute a new deal. It is Kentucky's responsibility, and there is no reason to suppose that the people of Kentucky will try to dodge it.

drive is a flop." Taylor found that the top men in his organization generally were convinced that their workers were not interested in the union. But it appeared that their own subordinates had been giving them the kind of rosy reports they most wanted to hear. Taylor's own interviews led him to believe that the union had made large headway and would be able to put a severe crimp in production.

Taylor then reported to Morgan, who, with the late George F. Baker, had persuaded him, against his reluctance, to take over executive command of U. S. Steel. He is supposed to have told Morgan that the Lewis union was strong within the steel plant gates, that the corporation faced a big year of production and profits which could hardly be had if plants were closed, that the sympathy of the federal and Pennsylvania state governments would be with the strikers.

He also is supposed to have pointed out that U. S. Steel had been losing tonnage to independent companies in recent years, and that it would be of real advantage to U. S. Steel if industry-wide unionization were to force the independents to maintain as high a wage structure as the corporation, instead of being free to cut corners on wage classifications.

Nothing could be more obvious to Taylor and Morgan than the fact that the independents would flourish and produce full blast at U. S. Steel's expense in case the latter's plants were tied up by strike. What these two industrial-financial giants went through mentally and emotionally to reach an agreement can only be imagined. But when Taylor went back to sell a hostile board of directors on a new labor relations policy he was invincibly fortified by the backing of Morgan.

BITTER AT TAYLOR

Heads of the independent companies have been bitter at Taylor ever since, assuring each other they would never concede as much as U. S. Steel conceded. Rivalry has been increasingly intense. But plainly it would be relatively as disastrous for an independent company to be closed by strike as it would have been for U. S. Steel. Quick settlement of the Jones & Laughlin and Pittsburgh Steel strikes was taken here as evidence, pending plant elections, that those independents had encountered more C. I. O. strength than they anticipated. Bethlehem Steel, with 80,000 employees, is expected to be the last of the independents to hold out against signing a contract with the union. It has had the strongest of all company unions, claiming 60,000 members for it at one time. But Lewis long ago instructed his own men to join that company union and today no one can tell how strong it really is.

Interstate Truckers Facing Higher Costs Favor Exchange Plan

Maintenance economies provided by the Ford Motor Company's engine and parts exchange plan have taken on new importance for interstate operators using Ford equipment as a result of increased overhead due to the interstate commerce commission's new rules and regulations.

Truckers operating interstate must now defray the costs of filing tariffs, using uniform bills of lading, maintaining reciprocal tariff agreements between sections and otherwise conducting their business along certain specified lines.

On July 1, new safety rules go into effect, requiring the use of windshield defrosters and chains in the northern states, fire extinguishers, first aid kits, flares, fuses, lights, reflectors and directional signals of a prescribed standard. Savings made possible by the Ford Motor Company's engine and parts exchange plan are looked upon with greater favor than ever.

Now well along in its fourth year, the engine and parts exchange plan has won the commendation not only of interstate truckers but operators generally. A recent check of a number of leading concerns reveals an adherence to the plan so thorough that nothing short of a major accident can keep one of their Ford units out of service for more than a few hours.

"We consider the Ford Motor Company's engine and parts exchange plan one of the most advanced features in the history of the automobile industry and we take advantage of every economy which this unique plan provides," an official of one of these companies stated.

Small operators view the plan similarly, it is indicated. An eastern contractor summed up the known opinions of a large number of smaller operators with this statement:

"Due to the keen competition which exists today, it is necessary to cut corners wherever possible in order to make any profit at all. I find that the profit on many jobs is just about equal to the savings made possible by the engine and parts exchange plan. The plan, therefore, is of vital importance to me because it helps me to stay in business."

Down in Coryell county, where Bob Preston came from a long time ago, the weekly newspaper issued the following advice, under the caption: "How to Keep from Growing Old."

Always drive fast out of alleys. Also race with locomotives to crossings. Engineers like it. It breaks the monotony of their jobs. Always pass the car ahead on curves and turns. Don't use your horn, it may unnerve the other fellow and cause him to turn out too far. Demand half the road—the middle half. Insist

Progress Shown in Films Even Surprises Director

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 21—The background of the strikes and settlements among the independent steel corporations stretches behind the memorable negotiations which ended in a collective bargaining agreement between Chairman Myron Taylor of the U. S. Steel Corporation, and Chairman John L. Lewis of the C. I. O.

Snatches of the true story behind the Taylor-Lewis episode have been told, some of them in inaccurate version. The full story probably will never be revealed, because men like Taylor and J. P. Morgan—and men like Lewis—have a way of keeping their secrets. Ask any newspaperman.

Those here in the best position to know, however, insist that there were two essential factors hitherto hidden:

1. Taylor's insistence on going behind the assurances of his immediate subordinates to find out the extent to which the C. I. O. really could make a dent in his corporation's production.

2. A complete factual report by Taylor to J. P. Morgan which caused that mighty financier to give him virtual carte blanche in persuading the corporation's board that it was good business to reach an agreement with Lewis.

According to this authoritative version:

Taylor went to Europe last summer convinced that the C. I. O.'s organization drive in steel was nothing to worry about. After his return in the fall, for reasons which are not clear here, he decided to make his own investigation. He went to Pittsburgh and other cities and interviewed subordinates whose jobs brought them into closer contact with the rank and file than those with whom Taylor ordinarily consulted.

FOUND IT NO "FLOP"

At that time, and for quite a while thereafter, it was being said rather commonly that "the steel

Those present were Mrs. B. E. O'Neal, Mrs. J. E. Williams, Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, Mrs. W. B. Franklin, and the hostesses.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. B. Franklin, June 3.

At a meeting of the Valley View Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. J. D. Bartlett on May 18, at 2:30 p. m. the members made a study of the following rolls and cakes made from yeast cakes: Mrs. Earl Fain made Apricot Rolls from a sweet dough base; Mrs. W. S. Hudson, Spice Rolls, also from sweet dough; Mesdames L. M. Jones and J. D. Bartlett made the Devil's Food Cake with yeast cakes.

By studying the texture, color, flavor, and general appearance, you get a very good idea of the difference in the handling of the same breads, rolls and cakes by the different persons, each one making quite a different looking and tasting product.

Following the business and demonstration refreshments were served to Mesdames E. D. Sanders, M. Holder, H. L. Matteson, B. L. Mason, W. S. Hudson, G. C. Brunson, Earl Fain, L. M. Jones, Lois Lewis, and the hostess.

Clubs represented at the meeting were: Cotton Flat, Mesdames W. B. Franklin, G. C. Merritt, Henry Locklar, and Miss Elsie Campbell; North Midland, Mesdames C. C. Carden and S. D. IT'S HUSBANDS OF FAMILY RELATIONS GRADUATES WHO DISCOVER THAT Homemaking Is an Education Itself

By NEA Service

NEW LONDON, N. H. May 21.—Envy, not concealed commiseration, will gleam from the best man's eye as he glances for the last time at Bridegroom in state of single blessedness. The furtive tear he sheds will mean real jealousy, not despair for the fate of another good man doomed.

Same for the bridegroom himself. No longer will he be hiding those frigid agonies which are the customary emotions of bride-grooms behind a ghastly pretense of elation.

This good news to men is potential in the five year old course of study, called the Family Relations Course, at Colby Junior College for Women. Believe it or not, the girl who gets her degree also has a high degree of proficiency in homemaking.

The course devotes a minimum of time to fudge-making and other non-essentials. The teachers, all expert in home making from a practical viewpoint, there are lectures, of course, but lectures firmly supplemented with opportunity to put the information to everyday use.

Budgeting as Science

Gay young girls, in smart sports clothes, devote days to figuring out an ideal budget for a family of four with an income of $45 a week. They learn how to bathe a baby, how to take a person's temperature, what to do and what not to do until the doctor arrives.

While one small group practices the art of bed making (and Colby believes it really is an art) another goes down town to the class the town butcher conducts right in front of his own chopping block. When he has finished his series of lectures, not one of his pupils lacks the important-to-a-housewife information about planning meat for a menu and how to buy it.

They interview servants and are taught ways and means to keep servants happy by intelligent planning of daily household work. The girls are not trained with the idea they are going to have servants, but only how to manage with them as well as without.

When they get through, the girls also know:

- How to schedule the cooking so that each course comes on piping hot.
- How to fix electric fuses, plugs, cords.
- How to balance a checkbook.
- How to bathe a baby.
- How to take temperatures.
- What to do till the doctor comes.
- How to talk to the decorator, or, if necessary—how to be the decorator themselves.
- How to make slip covers and draperies.

Answer to Teachers' Dilemma. Educators at Colby took the advice of a former teacher about establishing this course. "When I taught here," she said, "I had no difficulty because I had prepared for teaching. When I got married, I was faced with the most important job I ever tackled—and I had no training for it at all. It took me a long and very strenuous time, working under unfamiliar conditions, to get the practical and theoretical knowledge of housekeeping, homemaking, which I needed, and which every girl needs. Why shouldn't Colby do something to save its graduates from the same dilemma?"

Next term, the course was given a trial. It was a success. It is now thoroughly established, a model for the similar courses introduced by other schools.

"The course gives me the feeling that the kitchen is my workshop," said a senior student, "and I really understand the equipment of the home for the first time. I've become acquainted with such things as air-conditioning systems, mechanical refrigeration, home sanitation—any quantity of things which modern mothers can't pass on to their daughters, because the mechanisms and the possibilities of labor-saving have developed so much and so fast.

"Last year," she continued, "we had special lectures by an insurance expert. I even know something about income tax from a woman's angle, and about mortgages, and other banking and financial matters which affect home-making."

Mrs. Stewart Is Hostess To Club

Mrs. W. J. Stewart, 404 W. Ohio, was hostess yesterday afternoon to the Thursday Sewing Club. The afternoon was spent in needlework. Next Thursday the club will meet with Mrs. W. G. Attaway.

Those attending were Mrs. C. O. Fredregill, Mrs. Herbert King, Mrs. C. E. Strawn, Mrs. Pearl Parrott, Mrs. J. B. Gazaway, Mrs. J. A. Mead, Mrs. C. A. Ponder, Mrs. W. G. Attaway, Mrs. D. E. Holster, Mrs. R. L. Stewart, Mrs. B. L. Crites, Mrs. I. J. Killingsworth, Mrs. Paul Jackson and the hostess Mrs. Stewart.

"feather comforts". Among other things of interest to those present she said, "For more warmth and lighter weight covering a feather comfort can not be excelled."

In addition to those attending the Council meeting the following attended the comfort demonstration: North Midland: Mesdames J. L. Hundle and A. L. Hallman; South Camp, Mrs. J. R. McCarter; Colton Flat, Mrs. Will Locklar; Valley View, Mrs. J. A. J. Robertson, Miss Ora Robertson, and Mrs. L. M. Jones; Midland, Mrs. M. R. Hill.

Mrs. J. D. Bartlett, Reporter.

THE BEER OF THE YEAR

CARDS CONTINUE WIN STREAK

SUNSHINERS ARE BURIED UNDER A BARRAGE OF HITS

The Roswell Sunshiners went into a total eclipse yesterday under a barrage of base hits by the Midland Cardinals, and when it was all over the Red Birds had won themselves another lopsided victory, 13-4.

But the Sunshiners have a lot of credit coming, although they lost by an overwhelming score. They left Roswell at 7 yesterday morning, had car trouble at various and frequent intervals, finally reaching here only 30 minutes ahead of game time. The boys were beaten out of their noon-day meal by their trouble and admittedly felt more like going to bed when they got here than they did playing ball. By the time the Cardinals got through with them they were more than ready to "hit the hay."

For three innings it was a real ball game, the score at the end of the third being 2-1 in favor of Midland. But late in the third inning manager Davis of the Birds was chased by umpire Hightower and had a $20 fine hung on him for protesting too vociferously a couple of flagrant blind calls by umpire Currie. Currie started the Davis outburst when he refused to give Nook a base after the big left fielder had been hit on the foot by one of Miller's heaves, and precipitated the final quarrel when he called Stein out on a long blow to center that practically everyone thought Smily trapped. The ball appeared to have hit the ground and been taken by Smily on the "pick-up" but Currie ruled that the outfielder caught the ball before it touched the ground. When Davis challenged the decision umpire Hightower took up the quarrel for Currie and finally ended it with the banishment of Davis.

The next time the Cards came to the bat they took out some of their ill-feelings for the umpires on hurler Miller, and before he finally retired them six runs had crossed the plate. But they didn't cool off and stop there. Just to make it more one-sided, they made three in the sixth and two in the seventh.

Miller went the whole route for Roswell simply because manager Rabe had no one to put in to replace him. All his other pitchers were delayed along the way and did not arrive until after the game was over. Maybe they were lucky at that.

"Lefty" Sick went the entire route for the Cardinals, and though giving up 10 hits kept them well scattered and turned the Sunshiners back scoreless in all but three innings. Had his support been better the losers would never have got but one of their four tallies. After seeing three Roswell men get on base in the final frame on two errors by Serafine at short and the only base on balls he issued all day, Sick caused Smily, who had previously nicked him for two hits, to bounce to him, he fired the ball to Potocar to force Smith and the husky catcher threw to Schriffner to finish a double play and end the game.

Paper Shirts Forecast For Nazi Wear Soon

LONDON, (U.P.) — A suggestion that Germans "will soon be wearing wooden suits and paper shirts that dissolve in the wash" is made in a confidential report received from Germany by Tom Shaw, Secretary of the International Federation of Textile Workers' Association.

Hastily made propaganda, it is added, seeks to hide the real position of artificial silk and fibers industries. One reported Nazi order is that sheep must be increased to between 35,000,000 and 44,000,000 head, "although pasture land does not exist in Germany for this number of sheep even were cultivable land used," the report states.

Urge Snake Bite Prevention Now

AUSTIN, Texas.—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges every one to be careful when in the country to prevent snake bites. In Texas, the chief offender is the rattlesnake; and, contrary to common belief, it does not always rattle before it strikes.

About seventy-five percent of all bites occur in the lower extremities and could be prevented, to a large extent, by wearing high top boots and leggings. About twenty per cent occur on the hands and arms. Care should be exercised in not putting the hands in invisible places when climbing rocks, and to look before picking up anything that may be obscured by vegetation, brush or rocks.

If one is bitten, prompt action is necessary and a physician should be obtained as soon as possible. No time should be lost in removing the poison by suction; this can be done by mouth or a suction cup. First, a tourniquet should be applied above the wound, so as to increase congestion and assist in washing out the poison. A cross cut incision with a sharp, clean knife or razor blade should be made over each fang mark, or preferably to connect the two fang punctures. These cuts should be at least a quarter of an inch deep and at least that long. Suction should be applied for at least half an hour. The tourniquet should be released every ten or fifteen minutes for a minute at a time. If bitten by a snake do not run or get overheated; do not take alcoholic stimulants; do not use potassium permanganate (which is now known to be of no value as an antidote) to cauterize the wound; and do not depend on home remedies.

Trailers to Be Curbed In Cleveland Suburb

CLEVELAND, (AP) — To discourage increasing use of automobile trailers as permanent residences, the city commission of populous suburban East Cleveland, has passed an ordinance prohibiting the parking of trailers within the city limits for more than five hours.

Property owners had protested that trailer-parking was becoming a nuisance and was having an adverse effect on property values. Enforcement of the ordinance is expected to give rise to a legal test of its constitutionality.

Cotton Quilts Are Used in Road Work

AUSTIN, May 21. (AP)—Old fashioned cotton quilts are used in building Texas' concrete roads.

The highway department has used about 20,000 cotton mats, which officials say are nothing more than quilts, in "curing" newly laid paving.

Cotton proved more efficient than burlap for this purpose. The idea originated several years ago with Gibb Gilchrist, chief engineer, as basic wage of 40 cents per hour in a bill soon to be introduced.

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP) — Senator Burke, Nebraska, declaring the administration was putting pressure on the doubtful, called on foes of the president's court bill today to "stand firm."

a means of using more of Texas' principal crop, but experimentation showed the cotton mats prevented cracking of concrete during "curing."

Cotton, highway officials say, maintains a constant temperature when wet. A variation in temperature, which burlap could not prevent, encourages minute cracks in the newly laid paving which become larger.

The mats can be used many times, says Henry Porter of the research division. One that has been wet 253 hours still is in good condition. Usually they are used from 75 to 100 times.

Virtually all of Texas' concrete thoroughfares built since 1934 have utilized cotton in this manner.

The department also has used cotton sheets for reinforcing asphalt topping but they say results are no different than when other reinforcing methods are used.
