Four Persons Slain, One Wounded In Shooting at Knippa

War Dogs Flanking 'Old Ironsides'

Every kind of ship, from the ancient and historic frigate Constitution to light cruisers, dock in the Boston navy yard at Charlestown, Mass., as this interesting aerial view shows. "Old Ironsides" is indicated by arrow. A cruiser is moored alone at the second pier. The other vessels docked are destroyers, a submarine chaser, coast guard cutters and ice-berg patrol ships.

3 WOMEN AND MAN, ALL RELATIVES, DIE OF WOUNDS

Coroner Says Dead Man Slayer Of Women

ONE MAN HELD Bond Made After His Brother-in-Law Is Slain

KNIPPA, (Uvalde county), Tex., May 22 (AP)—Four persons were slain and one wounded in a shooting three miles north of here last night. Mrs. William Helbig, Sr., and Mrs. Jarrett Sampier were shot to death in a bed in the residence and Mrs. Louis Helbig was found dead on the porch. The scene shifted to the home of William Helbig, Jr., a half-mile from his mother's home, where his wife was shot through the arm and Jarrett Sampier, Uvalde automobile mechanic, was shot to death with a .38 calibre automatic. Sheriff W. H. Smyth and Knippa precinct officers are conducting an investigation. A complaint, signed by Sheriff Smyth, charging murder, was filed here later against William Helbig, Jr., farmer, in connection with the slaying of Jarrett Sampier, his brother-in-law. Helbig was released on his own recognizance. At the same time, justice of peace David White, who conducted an inquest, entered a verdict that Mrs. Jarrett Sampier, Mrs. William Helbig, Sr., her mother, and Louis Helbig, her brother, died of gunshot wounds inflicted by Sampier.

Lands at Sloan Field

Amelia Earhart Putnam, famed woman aviatix, who landed at Sloan field Saturday. She is enroute east, checking the motor of her plane, recently damaged when it "cracked up" as she attempted to take off the ground in Honolulu.

Amelia Earhart Lands $90,000 Plane Here

Amelia Earhart, premier woman flier of the world, landed at Sloan field Saturday morning. She was flying her $90,000 "flying laboratory," the ship in which she recently attempted a flight around the world, only to crack it up in an attempted take-off at Honolulu, second leg of the flight.

The noted aviatrix was headed for New Orleans, thence to the eastern part of the United States in a series of hops designed to test the stability of the ship, remodeled since its near fatal crash to her. She is accompanied by Captain Noman, navigator who was with her on the flight when the plane piled up, "Bo" McKneeley, radio operator, and her husband, George Palmer Putnam, publisher.

The party took off from Burbank, California, Friday and spent the night in Phoenix, flying to Midland without a stop. While at the local airport they had lunch and the ship was serviced. She planned to reach New Orleans last night. Miss Earhart explained the testing of the ship was now much easier than before her first hop for the round the world trip. She is not now bothered with testing the cruising range, speed and many other details that she was forced to undergo in preparations for the hop. She said that it was her present intention to take off from Oakland about June 1 on her second attempt at making the hop and that this time she was determined to make it successful. She was quoted in Burbank a couple of days ago as saying: "Most of all things I want to fly around the world and I won't be satisfied until I do."

When she classed her Honolulu accident, when a tire blew out and caused the ship to plunge forward on one wing tip and nose as being "just one of those things." She made no reference to the praise she received for averting an almost sure fatality by the way she handled the ship. Miss Earhart "was affable and cheerful, readily answering all questions propounded by a reporter. She made herself one real friend when, at the request of a youngster about 10 years old, she shook hands with him. The boy, visibly embarrassed, stuck out his left hand and was told by her to "come across" with the other one. The boy said: "I am going to tell my teacher that I shook hands with you."

The ship was classed as one of the most complete ever to land at the local port by attendants. Most of the space inside it that is usually used for passengers has been blocked out and tanks installed. The ship has a cruising range of 4,000 miles.

NORTHWEST ROAD MAKES PROGRESS DURING THE WEEK

Contract for Top On 12.3 Mile Strip To Be Let

Approximately a mile and a half of caliche had been laid on the eight mile strip of highway No. 158 late in the week, indicating that this section of the project providing a cut-off from Midland to oil fields northwest would be well under way in another week. The caliche work is an NWRW project of the State Highway Commission, using WPA labor, and extends from the Midland county line westward to intersect the Odessa-Andrews pavement.

Along with this phase of the road building, announcement has been made by the highway commission that a contract will be let tomorrow for "hot topping" the Midland county segment of highway No. 158, a distance of 12.3 miles. The caliche surface was laid several months ago on it, and the new topping, coupled with the caliche surface on the eight miles in Ector county, will greatly speed up traffic on the artery which serves oil areas in north Ector, Andrews and other points northwest.

Connecting with the Ector county road leading from the pavement intersection directly into the north Ector fields, the cut-off will serve the new Ector City townsite where from 25 to 50 houses are reported to be under construction. A Midland man estimated yesterday that 2,000 people will be living at Ector City within the next sixty days.

BULLETIN

ODESSA, May 22. (SPL)—Ector county voters, by an overwhelming margin of approximately 10 to 1 Saturday voted for the sale of bonds totaling $135,000 for a new road to the Winkler county line, connecting with a road to be built from Kermit, and $150,000 for the erection of a new court house. Interest in the election was at a minimum, fewer than 300 voters casting ballots. Although an accurate count was not available, it was known that both carried by a large margin. Reports issued shortly after the polls closed indicated a margin of approximately 10-1.

The entire program will be discussed at the Tuesday night meeting by Darold Wilson, field executive of the Buffalo Trail Council, and steps will be taken for the immediate organization of dens and packs. The endorsement of the parent must be given before a member will be accepted into a den. Boys interested in becoming cubs are requested to have their parents in attendance at the meeting.

Hedrick Buys Foster Yearlings

J. R. Hedrick of Sweetwater, here last week on a cattle buying trip, purchased from Sherwood Foster of Odessa a string of steer and heifer yearlings, also a load of cows. Later in the week, he bought from the Foster Bros. ranch near Kent 200 head of steer and heifer yearlings.

SOLONS ARE TOLD REPORT BACK TO WORK THURSDAY

Repeal of Wagering On Horse Races Demanded

GOV. ADAMANT

No Other Subjects To Be Broached By Him

AUSTIN, May 22. (AP)—Governor Alfred today formally called the legislature into extraordinary session next Thursday to consider the subject of repealing the law legalizing wagering on horse racing. The governor, in his proclamation, omitted the usual clause saying other subjects might be submitted as he saw fit. In an interview he said "if racing repeal is disposed of quickly we might be inclined to submit outlawing bookies and dog racing." Twelve noon on all but legislative clocks found lawmakers for from completion of their work, indicating the end of the long session might not come until after midnight. The house sent the governor a bill designed to strengthen liquor law enforcement September 1. An effort to override the governor's veto for the appropriation of money for a new East Texas insane hospital failed in the house.

ROOSEVELT WILL RECOMMEND NEW WAGE, HOUR LAWS

Will Send Message To Congress Monday, Connery Says

WASHINGTON, May 22. (AP)—Chairman Connery, house labor committee, after a conference with the president, said today that the latter would send a message to congress Monday recommending legislation (overriding minimum wages, maximum hours and limitations on child labor. He said that the bill would provide a board of three to establish a work week of from 35 to 40 hours and a basic minimum wage of $16 weekly.

INTEREST HIGH IN CUBBING PROGRAM

Several Units Are To Be Organized Here By Boy Scouts

With Midland boys of pre-Scout age showing much interest in the Boy Scouting cubbing program which is being instituted here under the sponsorship of the Midland Lions Club, plans are underway to organize several cub units or dens over the city as soon as possible, according to Dr. W. L. Sutton, chairman of the supervising committee, who predicts a large cub membership here within a few short time. Other members of the pack committee are Claude Crane, R. C. Conkling and Boyd Scott.

Since the program must have the endorsement, support and cooperation of all parents of the cub members in that Cubbing is a home centered program supervised largely by the parents, a meeting of all parents of boys between the ages of 9 and 12 years has been called for Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the county court room of the Midland county courthouse, all parents interested in the program being urged to attend.

The entire program will be discussed at the Tuesday night meeting by Darold Wilson, field executive of the Buffalo Trail Council, and steps will be taken for the immediate organization of dens and packs. The endorsement of the parent must be given before a member will be accepted into a den. Boys interested in becoming cubs are requested to have their parents in attendance at the meeting. A recent survey disclosed the fact that there are 167 boys living in Midland who are of Cub age and efforts will be made to interest all of them in the movement. Dens will be started in various neighborhoods, a number of dens comprising a pack. Each den is headed by a cub master. Cubbing prepares boys of pre-Scout age for Scouting, into which they graduate at the age of 12.

MEMBERS OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH ATTEND SERVICES FOR FIRST TIME IN REMODELED BUILDING TONIGHT

Members of the First Baptist church will have an opportunity, this evening, to attend services for the first time in the newly remodeled, renovated and equipped auditorium, work on which was practically completed late in the week. Adult departments of the Sunday school will assemble there this morning, but no morning service will be held, due to the union commencement service at the high school auditorium. The Baptist church, during a building program of several weeks, has undergone remodeling and equipping at a cost of approximately $20,000, most of the project being paid for in special donations and in contributions to the building fund.

The auditorium was enlarged, through removal of obsolete architectural details and through the construction of a balcony. Opera seats have been installed throughout, creating a seating capacity much larger than was available with the old style benches. The opera seats, specially constructed for the slope of the floor, are finished in light walnut and leather, and were donated by W. F. Scarborough and wife.

A new Hammond Electric Organ, of volume suitable to the size and shape of the auditorium, was donated by J. O. Nobles and wife. The organ also is finished in light walnut to blend with other fixtures of the church.

Offsetting the organ, at the other side of the choir and orchestra platform, is a new Knabe Grand Piano, donated by R. B. Cowden.

SEVERE SHELLING OF MADRID TAKES LIVES OF THIRTY

More Than Hundred Wounded in New Attack

MADRID, May 22. (AP)—Three hours of intense insurgent cannonade killed 30 and wounded more than 100 and razed dwellings in Madrid today. At least 200 shells caused wide destruction, indicating the intention of insurgents to demoralize life of the whole capital. Some of the shells crashed into the so-called neutral zone, explosions shaking the officially-closed American embassy in which some persons are living. Three shells hit a hotel where most of the foreign correspondents are staying.

PERMITS FOR NEW BUILDINGS TOTAL $341,000 FOR YEAR $70,000 Ahead of The Total Amount Of 1936 Permits

Midland building permits issued during the past week continued to indicate that 1937 will be one of the largest years in history for the city as far as building is concerned when City Building Inspector Prothro issued permits for $32,350 in new buildings, all but $150 of the total going for new residence buildings.

The heaviest single permit issued was to Geo. Phillips for a new $13,000 residence on West Missouri street. One $7,000 residence permit was issued and a half-dozen smaller ones.

March, due to the permit for the new $85,000 school building, is at present the heaviest month of the year with a total of $152,505. But indications are that the month of May will crowd it, total permits to date amounting to $63,124. Three new residences, each to cost approximately $20,000, are to be issued permits this week, excavation work for foundations already being in progress at two sites.

The May permits issued brings the total for the year to $341,000, one of the largest amounts ever recorded in any previous 5-months period. Total permits in 1936 totaled $270,262. Lumber dealers and contractors report this one of the most prosperous years ever recorded here. Brick masons, carpenters and painters are having no difficulties in staying busy and on full time, but very few, if any jobs are being delayed because of lack of workmen.

Trappers Catch 12 Coyotes in County

A total of 56 coyotes were trapped in the district composed of Crane, Glasscock, Martin, Midland and Upton counties during the past month, according to information from the state bureau of predatory animal control. Guy West is chief trapper in Midland county, and with the aid of one assistant, last month caught 12 coyotes in the county. In Crane, six were captured, 15 in Martin, 19 in Glasscock and four in Upton.

STANOLIND ANNOUNCES HOCKLEY TEST SOUTHEAST OF TEXAS SLAUGHTER WELL

Headlining oil news at the close of the week was the announcement by Stanolind Oil & Gas Company of a new wildcat location in southwest Hockley county two and a half miles southeast of the Texas Company No. 1 Bob Slaughter, first producer drilled in the county. Maps show the location to be on A. Slaughter estate of Mrs. Dorothy L. Slaughter land. It will be staked in the center of the southwest quarter of labour 76, league 37, Zavalla county school land.

The Stanolind location is at the southwest corner of a block of six labours—47, 48, 53, 54, 75 and 76—recently leased for the company by McElreath & Suggett, Fort Worth operators. Substantial price was paid for the tract in addition to a drilling obligation and provisions for oil payment should production be secured. ### When Is a Drunk Not Really Drunk?

AUSTIN, (AP)—Some "drunk drivers" are not intoxicated with alcohol.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, says carbon monoxide gas in the exhaust of automobiles causes innoxiation which results in the driver becoming confused and losing control.

"Many automobile accidents each year are due to a mild form of poisoning by this gas," he says. "With a perfectly adjusted motor, carbon monoxide composes, as a normal component of all exhaust of autos, 4 per cent of this gas, but when the motor is imperfectly adjusted because of poor combustion, defective spark plugs, faulty condenser, or timer, carbon monoxide may exceed 15 per cent.

The official said examinations of thousands of motor cars by various agencies showed at least 40 per cent of all automobiles have defective exhausts and in many the poisonous gas gets into the interior through floor boards, around foot pedals or steering posts, and accumulates in sufficient quantities to cause headache, nausea, poor judgment, visual disturbances, lack of memory, and even unconsciousness.

"Frequently drivers are wrongly accused of being 'drunk drivers,'" he says. "They are intoxicated with carbon monoxide—not alcohol."

He recommended these precautions:

Never operate a motor in a closed or poorly ventilated garage.

Have automobiles periodically examined for motor efficiency and for exhaust leaks.

Make it a practice to take short intervals off during a long drive for an "airing."

Drive with one window at least partly open to insure adequate circulation through the vehicle at all times.

HOBBS TO REMAIN IN WTNM LEAGUE: LUBBOCK MAN IS NOW CHIEF OFFICER

HOBBS, N. M., May 22—Reorganization of the Hobbs team in the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball League has been affected, and ambitious plans made for the remainder of the season.

James Murray Jr., prominent Hobbs business man, is the new president and F. E. Withers, who had a part in the organization of the Rio Grande Valley League in 1931, has been appointed business manager.

Ned Pettigrew, who was sole operator and manager of Hobbs, has disposed of all his interests. Withers will manage the club until he can sign and playing manager. Several new players will be brought here in an effort to make a contending team.

Immediate installation of lights and other improvements on the park will be started. Wink has already installed lights and Monahans is doing the same. Before leaving Hobbs, Pettigrew sold Parks, a pitcher, and Brown, an outfielder to the Wink team.

Snake Swallows Its Young To Save Them From Danger
ALBANY, Tex. (P)—B. O. Grant, superintendent of schools at Ixey in East Shackelford County, says after studying the habits of snakes 12 years, he has verified that rattlesnakes swallow their young to shield them from danger.

Passing a hillside crevice in his pasture recently, Grant says, he heard a hissing and observed a large rattlesnake lying between two rocks about 18 inches below the surface. The reptile's mouth was open, he says, and its young were crawling into it.

Grant killed the snake and from its inside removed 18 young measuring five to six inches each.

BOOK REVIEW

By A. W.

Queen's Folly—Elsyth Thane; Harcourt Brace and Company, N. Y. When Edward VI was dying an unnamed man brought a secret message to his sister, Elizabeth, which probably saved her life. From this incident Miss Thane got the starting point of her story. The plot is imaginary but not at all incredible.

When Queen Elizabeth came into her own she remembered the man who had saved her life. Desiring to show her gratitude, she gave him a small sum of money, the ruins of a small priory on a few acres of ground, and what he cherished most of all, portrait of herself, Anthony Brand fell in love with his property and resolved to restore it.

Anthony lived on his place for several years, mending his house and tending his land. He made friends with the people and became a squire. He made his land productive and the yield grew and grew with it.

When the World War broke out, the Brands were wealthy, but after the depression of the early 1930's Peregrine Brand found himself unable to keep up the estate. He decided to rent the place during the summer to help make both ends meet.

Other brands succeeded Anthony. Changes were made in the house; new types of furniture were added; and the Brands became solid, settled English gentry, handing down their property from eldest son to eldest son.

When the World War broke out, the Brands were wealthy, but after the depression of the early 1930's Peregrine Brand found himself unable to keep up the estate. He decided to rent the place during the summer to help make both ends meet.

Lyman P. Powell, lecturer and educator, and author of Mary Baker Eddy has written "The Second Seventy." He contends that people should find life happy as long as life is given them. Is there a measure by which one may gauge a person's ability to be useful to society?

Federal Justice by Homer Cummings and Carl McFarland is a history of the Department of Justice.

Wild Bees Trapped
GONZALES, Texas. (U.P.)—Alvin Stewart, Gonzales County farmer, has a profitable but dangerous hobby. He captures swarms of wild bees from woods on his farm. He has filled 20 hives already.

It is, of course, an excellent idea to decide as early as possible whether to acquire a coat of suntan or stay lily white, then to buy your summer clothes accordingly. Plain white and very bright colors are perfect for the suntanned, but black, beige and gray are not!

Deep Tan Is Passe For 1937

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer
THE latest news about hot weather makeup indicates that it will not be smart to let your skin become a dark mahogany shade this summer. Several experts are urging women to strive for a lovely golden suntan, then to wear dark but creamy powder over it.

It is a mistake indeed for any girl to expose her face, arms, back and throat to hours and hours of long, hot sun after day all summer long. At the beginning of the season, one should take sunshine in small doses until the complexion is slightly brown and, from then on, wear beach hat and robe except when actually in the water. Otherwise, long before September, sensitive skin is likely to be dry and leathery looking.

Along with the new sun beige types of powder, there are brilliant yet dark rouge and lipstick to when when your skin is a little darker. Inspired by the interest in our relations with Latin American countries, these are appropriately labeled with a Mexican name. In a season of gaucho sombreros, matador toques, bright embroidery and flamboyant colors, the new rich red lipstick is perfect. Anyway, for suntanned skins, vivid dark red lipsticks probably will be smarter than orange shades.

Once your complexion is darker, look for a creamy powder which matches it exactly and for rouge and lipstick that point up the healthy, out-of-doors tones of the skin. The pale red lipstick and pinkish rouge you liked last winter will look like nothing at all after the third

PHOTOGRAPHY AS ART

By CHARLES FABENS KELLY, Assistant Director, The Art Institute of Chicago. Written for The Christian Science Monitor

This is the day of the amateur photographer. As never before, cameras are popping in all directions and millions of prints are made every year of which only a tiny percentage is worth looking at except for matters of record. Exhibitions of photographic work are held in the world's largest cities and even in some of the great art museums.

This surely must indicate that the photograph has some claim to art, and indeed in a way it has the same claim as a painting, if we forget the color.

A painting may be so bad that it has no claim to art whatever, any more than a poor book can have any literary pretensions. A photograph may be so bad that it can have no claims for consideration from the artistic standpoint, and among the worst of the photographs, from the point of beauty, are most of the so-called "art photographs," whose subjects are generally pretty girls in ungainly, unnatural and affected poses with silly simperings on their faces and sentimental captions underneath the pictures.

Art can never be taken by direct assault any more than can happiness. It is extremely doubtful if a great picture were ever painted just because an artist decided that he would now paint a great picture, and the world's great poems were never written by poets who were solely anxious to be known as great poets. It is the same way with photographers, amateur or professional.

The worth-while work of art, the true work of art, in any medium, requires an idea.

Beauty of Humble Things In trying to express this idea to the best possible advantage the artist may achieve real qualities of excellent which make his achievement a true work of art. In a sense then, art is a by-product, the result of doing something in the best possible way. If we looked to music for an analogy we might say that a great musical composition, played perfectly by a great performer, was a splendid example of a work of art; the subject matter and its means of expression were so closely knit together that we could not imagine one existing without the other.

Thus each is of great importance. But, thinking still in terms of music, a great virtuoso can take a very simple thing and play it in so inspiring a manner that it reveals beauty that we had never dreamed of before. This, I believe is the province of the artist with brushes or camera—the painter or the photographer—to show the world how intensely interesting and beautiful even the humbles things may be. He should know how to stress the important and eliminate the trivial.

As with all works of art, a photograph should be a design. That is, it should have an interesting arrangement of all its parts, lights and darks, large and small, simple and complex forms. They should have such relationship to each other that they would be pleasant to look at even if we did not understand their meaning. This is what we call composition, or, in a narrower sense, pattern, and the photographer at present works mostly in patterns of one color (monochromes, we call them, because color photography is still in the experimental state and is as yet available to few amateurs. A subject, then, cannot be chosen for its interesting color because the color will not appear in the print. The forms themselves must be of interest, and the contrasts and gradations of tone are of the greatest importance, regardless of their meaning.

Shapes of Shadows Photographs depend largely on shadows, and the shapes of the shadows not only should be beautiful in themselves; but they need not be black or opaque, unless there is something to be gained in print design from making them so. It is not necessary to have a fantastic pattern. Nowadays people seem to think that if a subject is "shot" from an unusual angle the resulting distortions must be "art". At other times in photographic history it was thought that no artistic print could have much contrast, or that it was necessary for all its outlines to be fuzzy, or that it should be mounted off-center on its background.

Here the end justifies the means. You may need sharply tilted angles, or fuzzy soft outlines, or faint gray prints to express your idea and in that case such means are not only justified but essential.

The two photographs which illustrate this article will make the point clear. The first is among the earliest photographs ever made, the work of David Octavius Hill, a Scotch painter who experimented intensively with the newly discovered photography between 1843 and 1848 when he made a number of photographic portraits that have never been surpassed. His apparatus was as crude as were his materials. His sitters had to sit in bright sunlight from three to six minutes so slow was the lens and so insensitive the recording paper plate.

Nothing that an amateur of the present day would consider indispensable was available to Hill, but he possessed the only two necessities, intelligence and taste.

Over 1000 of his prints still survive with an astonishingly high artistic standard. He made many preliminary studies for his portraits which doubtless somewhat explains his success. His work as a painter was mostly in landscape and his paintings no longer interest us. Perhaps they were too much in the fashionable mannerisms of his day. His portraits, however, seem to bring out his sitter's best characteristics in a sympathetic way.

Modern Amateur The greater speed of the modern photographic process enables man to seize the effect of an instant which could not have been done by Hill, but, in the minds of some people, no subject matter can be as interesting as a human being. Mr. West was mostly in landscape and his paintings no longer interest us. Perhaps they were too much in the fashionable mannerisms of his day. His portraits, however, seem to bring out his sitter's best characteristics in a sympathetic way.

Photographers are true artists who work with the same objectives as do the painters who are true artists. There are principles, but not rules and no short cuts.

New Books: A Woman Surgeon, the life and work of Rosalie Slaughter Morton; A conventional Southern girlhood, and a break with tradition when a girl decided to follow the men of her family in medicine, preceded by Dr. Morton's training here and abroad, and her success as a surgeon. War service, the organization of the American Women's hospitals, the education of Serbian students in America, and other humanitarian causes have been part of her ever active career, and she is now devoting her efforts to arthritis research.

The Great Gold Reef, by Adele Lezard; The romantic history of the Rand goldfields in South Africa. Sins Go Down, by Flannery Lewis; Is the story, half portrait, half memoir of Mrs. Lewis' grandmother, a remarkable old lady of ninety who still clings stubbornly to her home on the Divide that overlooks Virginia City and Gold Hill beyond.

As a bride of sixteen, Mrs. Flannery of Virginia City in the rip-roaring days of 1862—one of the first respectable women to reach the Comstock Lode. She was on hand for the giddy era of its largest prosperity in the '70s and '80s, when justice was largely a matter of personal revenge, and a speculator could make a million dollars in a fortnight. She is still there now when Virginia City is virtually abandoned, and its deserted houses are sinking sadly into the earth. Grandmother emerges as an irresistible character, skeptical and independent of mind, shrewdly practical, tolerant in the larger matters; still electrically vital at ninety.

Golden Fleece, by Bertha Harding; The story of Franz Joseph and Elizabeth of Austria. The Romans of Lloyd's, Underwriters to the World, by Commander Frank Worsley and Captain Glyn Griffith; Here for the first time is the dramatic and colorful account of an organization which made chance its business and thereby created an institution which played a big part in the development of the British Empire and the maintenance of England's maritime supremacy. It is an amazing story of shipwrecks and deluge, of war and catastrophe, and of amusing acts of God. The story of the strangest business in the world and of the personalities who made that business possible.

Wagons Westward, by Armstrong Sperry; A story of the old trail to Santa Fe. Mary Thomas's Embroidery Book; A practical guide to the manifold uses of embroidery's many stitches. It shows clearly and concisely how to combine stitches into patterns and designs for all types of embroidery—from initials and monograms, patchwork, samplers, quilting and smocking through petit point, tapestry, applique, etc.

Excuse it, please! by Cornelia Otis Skinner; Nineteen hilarious and often absurd sketches which have appeared in various magazines, written by a successful monologist. Some of the titles are: On Skating, Alma Martyr; the Captain's Table; and Seeing Stars. 7 day book.

White Elephants of the Caribbean, by Henry Albert Phillips; A magic journey through all the West Indies. The Country Kitchen, by Della T. Lutes; For the small daughter on a Michigan farm in the 1870's life was centered in the kitchen, where her mother prepared lavish, delicious food, subject to a domineering husband who held his own stubborn theories of cookery. She writes delightfully of the round of seasons on the farm, and gives many of her mother's recipes.

Khyber Caravan; through Kashmir, Waziristan, Afghanistan, Baluchistan, and Northern India, by Gordon Sinclair; First hand reporting of life and customs in India by a Toronto newspaper man who traveled by auto to out-of-the-way spots. Illustrated with photographs. Has map.

Garden Flowers in Color, a picture cyclopedia of flowers, by G. A. Stevens. Contains 320 pages, with more than 450 colored illustrations.

Great Symphonies, How to Recognize and Remember Them, by Sigmund Spaeth; A popular introduction to the immortal symphonic music of the world. Simple and entertaining suggestions toward permanent familiarity with, and increased enjoyment of, the important themes of every outstanding symphony.

Barbados, the Enchanting Isle, by Raymond Savage; Barbados, the most easterly of the Windward Islands in the West Indies, is only about half the size of New York City, but it possesses a variety of beauty, and history almost unsurpassed. Although it is situated in the tropics, being in fact only some thirteen degrees north of the Equator, it is sub-tropical in vegetation only, and never too hot, for throughout the year the fresh trade winds blow across the island, keeping it cool and free from malaria and other unpleasant diseases. Illustrated with photographs taken by the author.

502.40 barrels on official 24-hour gauge ended April 29. It was plugged back to 5,023 feet to shut off water developed in drilling to 5,030 and later acidized with 2,000, then 5,000 gallons.

In eastern Cochran, Bond & Harrison et al No. 1 Cameron, wildcat in labour 1, league 85, Greer county school land, is drilling below 4,612 feet in lime.

Seminole Area
The Seminole area of Gaines county held interest as Shell Petroleum Corporation No. 1 S. F. Mann, east offset to the 1-A Averitt discovery oil well, prepared to swab in through 2 1/2-inch tubing. It showed varying degrees of saturation and porosity in cores from 5,017 to 5,060, the total depth. Location is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 220, block G, W. T. R. R. survey.

Farther northwest in Gaines, Amon G. Carter and Continental Oil Company No. 1 A. L. Wasson, most closely watched wildcat in West Texas, is drilling below 4,500 feet in hard gray lime, unchanged. On lime markers it is reported running between 400 and 500 feet higher than the Wahnenmaier, York & Harper No. 1 Jones, a dry hole five miles to the southwest. It is located 2,310 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west line of section 48, block AX, public school land. The same operators' No. 1 Langdon, three miles to the northeast in section 44, block AX, is drilling red rock below 1,092 feet.

Two other Gaines wildcats were at shallow depths. In the northwest part of the county, Continental No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, section 22, block A-7, public school land, is standing bottomed at 325 in red rock, with 13-inch casing cemented at 310 with 250 sacks. South of Seminole town-site, Amerada No. 1 A. H. Fasken, section 160, block G, W. T. R. R. survey, is drilling red rock at 600 feet.

Means Extension
Sun Oil Company No. 1-C Means, quarter-mile west extension of production in the Means pool in Andrews county, flowed 184 barrels the first 24-hour period after shot. It was shot with 530 quarts of nitro from 4,325 to 4,507 and is bottomed at 4,537. The well made 46 barrels the first 30 minutes following shot, but flow fell off rapidly, indicating that it might have bridged. Operators were going in to clean out. The well is located in the center of the northwest of the northeast of section 13, block A-35, public school land.

The large potential rating of 1-100 barrels daily was registered by Humble No. 22 J. S. Means on 24-hour gauge through 2 1/2-inch tubing. Total depth is 4,528 feet in lime, and it was acidized with two injections of 1,000 and 3,000 gallons, respectively. Location is 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 19, block A-35, public school land.

In the Goldsmith pool of Ector, Devonian No. 3-A Scharbauer flowed 49.68 barrels the first six hours of proration test and the same amount the second six hours, to rate daily potential of 198.72 barrels. Pay between 4,149 and 4,222, the total depth, was acidized with 3,000 gallons.

Dawson Wildcat

son wildcat a mile and a half southeast of the Ray Albaugh discovery, is drilling at 4,617 feet in lime, with no change reported. It is 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 45, block M, E. L. R. R. survey. About 11 miles to the northwest, in southeast Terry, Corrigan et al No. 1 Lewright is preparing to run 5 3/16-inch pipe to shut off upper sulphur water. It will be bridged back to around 5,000 feet, and pipe will be cemented at that depth. The well is bottomed at 5,134 feet in lime and showed oil and gas in the last 50 to 100 feet. It is in section 1, block C-37, public school land.

In the Garza pool, Gar-Tex No. 3 Post estate, which has been shut in since last February because of lack of pipe-line outlet, pumped 121 barrels of oil on 24-hour test, bottomed at 2,915. It topped pay at 2,832 and was treated with 3,000 gallons of acid.

Hits Sulphur Water
Humble No. 1 Gray, Delaware test in extreme western Pecos county, had 2,500 feet of sulphur water in the hole encountered in drilling to 4,362 feet in brown sand and is preparing to run 7-inch casing. The Delaware has not yet been entered. Location of the well is in section 34, block 11, G. H. & S. A. survey. Standin No. 1 Kyle, south offset to the discovery in the Mason Delaware pool of northwest Loving, is coring sand below 3,960, with a possible increase in salt water logged from 3,956-60. When bottomed at 3,930, it was shot with 200 quarts from 3,845 to 3,917, but showed little oil and 650 feet of water as a result.

Books For Sale at TThe Chamber Commerce Office Now

Accumulation of oil in natural limestone reservoirs in West Texas and southeastern New Mexico continues to attract the attention of a large and interested group in the petroleum industry, observes the United States Bureau of Mines, Department of the Interior.

In November, 1936, the Bureau of Mines published an engineering report on eight typical fields ranking among the highest in total production in the Permian Basin. This Basin comprises the area south of the Panhandle and west of the Bend Arch or Central Basin region and contains approximately 70 oil fields with 4,200 producing oil wells. The report gives the results of a detailed study of the Big Spring field, Texas, and contains pertinent data on Yates, Hendrick, Church-Fields, McElroy, Big Lake, Penn and Westbrook in Texas, and Hobbs in southeastern New Mexico.

The first edition of the Bureau of Mines Report of Investigations 3316, Petroleum Engineering Study of the Big Spring Field and other fields in West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico, by Charles B. Carpenter and H. B. Hill, published in co-operation with the Midland, Texas chamber of commerce was soon exhausted. Requests for this report containing 223 pages of text and 40 illustrations have continued in such numbers that the Midland chamber of commerce again has given co-

Norge Dealer Here Makes Good Record

W. H. "Doug" Douglas, owner of Universal Norge Company of this city, has received information that his company led the entire district in sales during the month of April. His district embraces the northern and northeastern parts of Texas, West Texas, part of the Panhandle and Southeastern New Mexico.

The local company was approximately $2,500.00 ahead of any other dealer listed in a recent bulletin. Some of the other cities in this district are: Abilene, Big Spring, Brownwood, Corsicana, Greenville, Kilgore, Longview, Lubbock, McKinney, Marshall, Mexia, Mineral Wells, Palestine, Paris, Pecos, Plainview, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Temple, Tyler, Vernon, Waxahachie, Weatherford, Wichita Falls, and others.

In view of the large number of bigger cities in this district, the Midland sales record for April was singularly outstanding, according to Norge officials.

Miss Wolf enrolled in Texas Tech in 1929 and received a bachelor's degree in 1932. She taught science in Eagle High School two years, and she will receive a master of science degree late this month.

This summer she will be an instructor in foods and nutrition in Tech, and she will assume her New York duties September 15. She will receive a stipend of $1,000 for the year's work.

RACE UP RIVER STARTS MAY 23

ST. LOUIS (UP).—Modern power boats are being timed up to race against old stern-wheelers and other river craft in an attempt to set a new record for the 2,300 miles water-course from St. Louis to Fort Benton, Mont.

The boats will leave St. Louis May 23. Near St. Charles, Mo., they will enter the Missouri River to retrace the route used by fur traders and trappers of the 1860's in opening the Northwest. The route is the longest inland water-way course in America.

According to officials of the St. Louis-Fort Benton Regatta Association, boats have been entered from St. Louis, Fort Benton, Glasgow, Great Falls and Malta, Mont., and Pierre, S. D. Under the rules of the association there are no restrictions as to beam, length, or horsepower, but boats should be of slight draft.

The race is expected to require several weeks to complete. Although a power boat is favored to win, old-time rivermen say it will not win easily. They point to the record set by the Robert E. Lee in its epochal race with the Natchez from New Orleans to St. Louis which stood for nearly 60 years.

The Robert E. Lee made the 1,200 mile run in 3 days, 18 hours and 21 minutes, several hours ahead of the Natchez. The record stood until Dr. Louis Le Roy, Memphis, in a big inboard runabout, Bogie, ran the distance 11 hours under the Lee's time.

The course to be followed by the racing boats was first run by Capt. John P. Arnold in 1868. He backed away from the St. Louis wharf in April and arrived at Fort Benton 60 days later.

The race will be the last to run the full distance with the Natchez from St. Louis to Benton. With the completion of

Catoico for 1937 Dedicated to Champion Bulldogs, Is Received By Seniors on Eve of Graduation

Foreword of the Catoico for 1937: "We, the youth of today, have but few memories. Yet, some day in the near future, nearly all will be memories. Therefore, in this, the 'Catoico' of 1937, we, the Seniors, have sought to store a treasure of scenes and incidents of our school days during the year of 1936-37, to perpetuate memories of what was once vivid reality and to help keep alive in us the spirit of youth."

Copies of the Midland high school year book were received from the engravers Friday afternoon. La Moine Sindorf is editor, Velma Johnson is associate editor and Anna Beth Bedford is business manager.

The book, this year, is dedicated as follows: "To the Bulldogs of Midland High School, to those boys who fought hard and with clean sportsmanship, who never gave up even when defeat stared them in the face, to those mighty men of the gridiron who brought home the highest victory—to Our REGIONAL CHAMPIONS—we, the Senior Class of 1936-37, do proudly dedicate this annual."

The order of books is (1) Administration, (2) Activities, including football, basketball, tennis, track and scenes and events of the school year. (3) Personnel, including favorites, seniors, juniors, sophomores, freshmen, organization, humor and ads.

Members of the school board and of the faculty, as well as the various buildings of the school system, are pictured prominently in the fore part of the attractive book. Carrying out the school colors, the cover is of gold leather, with purple lettering and trim.

Band to Give Annual Outdoor Concert

The public is invited to attend a free concert by the Midland high school band and junior band Monday at 6:45 p. m., on the lawn in front of Midland high school. It was announced by M. A. Armstrong, director, who will be in charge of the program.

played by both the junior band and the high school organization. The two groups have reflected credit on the schools this year in both mass and individual competition with other bands.

Numbers to be played by the junior band Monday evening include "Prince Arthur," "Barcarollo," "One Fleeting Hour," "Red Rover" and "Onward Christian Soldiers." One of the numbers is a brass quintet, composed of Duffy Stanley, Earnest Sessums, Billy McGrew, Johnny Pickering and Jack Noyes.

The high school band will play "Bay State Commandery," "Out of the Dusk to You," "His Honor," "Panora," "Memories of Stephen Foster," "Gypsy Festival," "A Perfect Day," "La Paloma" and "Daphnis." The last number was the official required overture for class B bands in 1937.

The director announced that if weather is unfavorable for the outdoor concert, it will be held in the auditorium of the high school.

Midland School Head

W. W. Lackey, superintendent of Midland schools for more than 30 years, who will be signally honored June 1 when he is to be presented an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene. University officials announced they were conferring the degree as recognition of the many years in which he has been known as one of the outstanding educators of the state.

FENCING OF STOCK DRIVEYARDS BY CCC OF LARGE BENEFIT TO RANCHERS

FORT SAM HOUSTON, Tex., May 22.—Of great benefit to stockmen of the southwest is one of the important work projects of the Civilian Conservation Corps in New Mexico—that of fencing of one of the nation's principal stock driveyards, located in the vicinity of Magdalena, New Mexico.

Magdalena stock driveway and others in the area are similar to the old cattle trails used in the southwest before the advent of railroads over which cattle were driven to shipping points or to fresher grazing lands when seasonal changes limited the area on which cattle could feed. Fencing is a relatively new development which restricts the trails to general grazing and preserves the grass for use of stock being moved from place to place.

The project is being worked by CCC enrollees of Company 3834, located at Augustine, 21 miles from Magdalena.

The project is supervised by the Division of Grazing of the Department of the Interior.

The Magdalena driveway is one of the most traveled stock driveyards in the United States. Over it annually pass to market some 25,000 head of cattle and between 50,000 and 60,000 head of sheep. It is used in the spring by large herds of sheep going down to the Rio Grande for the lambing season and on the return to summer ranges.

Since its establishment in 1918 it has been considered by many ranchers as an adjunct to their ranges. As a result it was over-grazed to such an extent that stockmen from the west were forced to carry feed to supply their herds enroute to shipping points. No water was available except that which belonged to private individuals along the driveway.

The general improvement program now being out into effect will benefit ranchers as far south as Beaverhead and Reserve, and as far west as Springerville who drive to Magdalena to ship their stock.

There are several smaller driveyards converging on the main drive. The Magdalena main drive and the Datil New Mexico branch driveway to the north are being fenced by CCC workers. The main driveway is about 70 miles long and together the Magdalena and Datil driveways contain about 80,000 acres. They connect with forest driveyards of the Apache National Forest to the west and with the Cibola National Forest to the north and west.

Four of eight wells to be drilled on the driveyards to supply stock with water already have been completed. Three large stock tanks have been built in the widest portion of the main drive.

Chevrolet Safety Program a Success

Chevrolet's own Traffic Safety Program has reduced the severity of accidents during the past three years, according to figures released this week by C. A. Kleist, Chevrolet budget director.

The reduction is reflected in a sharp decrease in the amount paid in claims in the last two years as compared with 1934. Mr. Kleist declared.

Using the amounts paid in 1934 as 100 per cent, the year 1935 showed a reduction of 61.8 per cent; and the year 1936 showed an additional reduction of 22.1 per cent under 1935—or a total per cent reduction of 70.07 per cent under 1934.

Through the continued application of the principles of the safety program, the accident liability rate was reduced 17.5 per cent, Mrs. Kleist said, and this has meant a saving of many thousands of dollars to Chevrolet. In time saved, and in increased efficiency, Chevrolet's safety program has also gained noteworthy results.

The program was organized two years ago by W. E. Holler, Chevrolet general sales manager. All drivers of company-owned cars were enlisted in the campaign. Posters and stickers are sent out periodically to the entire Chevrolet personnel, continually calling upon drivers to "Make This Month a No-Accident Month." The posters are displayed prominently on company property, and the stickers are posted on the dash of every company car.

Courtesy and care are stressed as the two most important safety factors in driving, based on the proven fact that most highway accidents are preventable, Mr. Kleist explained. "Chevrolet has always been in the forefront as a promoter of highway safety," Mr. Holler commented. "It is a tribute to the Chevrolet personnel that these remarkable safety records have been established."

Under the program, all drivers who maintain a perfect safety record for a full year receive gold medallions; drivers who go six months without an accident receive silver medallions; three months, bronze medallions.

Drivers of truckway trucks receive certificates in inscribed leather pockets, so that when they change trucks they carry their awards with them.

The Chevrolet safety drive has been carried on with similar safety efforts that have been launched on a nation-wide scale, and General Motors has lent impetus to the campaign in some of its national advertising.

No Oil—So He Sells His Land by Yards

HOUSTON (AP)—The Mykawa oil field apparently played out at the edge of M. L. Corson's farm in East Harris County and the 50-year-old dairy farmer started selling his land by the cubic yard.

The alluvial loam, suitable for gardens and flower beds, found a ready market and Corson figures he's getting around $2,000 an "acre" for the land. He is limiting the "diggings" to a restricted area and letting the buyers dig him a large fish pond.

Dirt and fill-in contractors and individuals needing soil for gardens and flower beds are the chief buyers. Corson isn't worrying about the oil business. Some days he sells around 50 tons of dirt.

Barber Says There Is Million Hairs on Head

TYLER (AP)—Al Minor of Dallas, president of the Master Barbers' Association of Texas, answers the age-old question—"how many hairs in a man's head?"

"Exactly one million." Minor, here for convention of Texas journeyman barbers, says he once put the question to a group of beauty operators.

"When none answered," he said,

"I asked the beauty parlor operators about a famous race horse then in Texas. The girls could describe the animal's color, sports, and other characteristics, but none knew the number of hairs on a man's head—some thought nobody knew. If they had had our training in the science of barbering they would have known there are exactly one million."

Minor did not reveal whether low-brow, high-ears, or hair-on-the-neck types affect the count, but he demonstrated a scientific shampoo characterized by a 40-minute, semi-circular waltz around the customer, which, he said, is one of the most important of his ten steps in "how to give a shampoo."

International Fete Opens Golden Gate Span May 27; Greatest One-Unit Bridge

BY ROGER JOHNSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22. (U.P.)—The suspension bridge across the Golden Gate, called the greatest engineering achievement in history, will be opened to traffic May 27 with a huge international festival memorializing completion of San Francisco's dream of 50 years.

For a full week official delegations of foreign nations, the massed U. S. battle fleet, representatives of western state and cities and a host of entertainers will participate in a mighty display of pageantry celebrating opening of the gigantic span which took $35,000,000, four years, and 10 lives to build.

The Golden Gate bridge is a single-deck suspension bridge, the longest single clear span in the world. It is 6,450 feet in length from end to end, and 4,200 feet center to center of piers. The span is three times the length of Brooklyn Bridge in New York, and 700 feet longer than the greatest single span ever built to date, the George Washington Memorial bridge across the Hudson River at New York.

Stands 250 Feet Above Bay
The Golden Gate bridge, surpassed only by the San Francisco Oakland Bay bridge—a scant two miles distant—crosses over San Francisco Bay waters at a height of 250 feet and connects San Francisco by highway directly with the Redwood Empire of Northern California. It offers a shorter route to all points of the Pacific Northwest.

It is the first span across the world-famed channel whose beauty enchanted Gen. John C. Fremont, western pathfinder, and caused him to call it "Chrysoceros," the Golden Gate. The "gate" is the outermost portal to San Francisco Bay, second largest port in the United States. Henceforward the ships of the world which call at San Francisco harbor will sail underneath the bridge.

The Golden Gate bridge fiesta will start with the mobilization in San Francisco of numerous spectacular "pilgrimages" from Canada, Mexico and western states.

Old West to Live for Day
Arriving by airplane, automobile caravan, covered wagon, motorcycle and horseback, the pilgrimages will depict dramatic phases of the development of the "wild west"—its conquest, the discovery of gold in San Francisco, the war with Mexico and the interesting development of Spanish California into stateshood.

Gigantic lighting effects never before attempted on a citywide scale will add a blaze of color to the spotlights of 150 United States battle ships anchored in San Francisco Bay, and the lights of both bridges.

Ships representing almost every naval power in the world will augment the U. S. fleet in an impressive maritime display. U. S. army and navy air forces will participate in service maneuvers.

The 16th Canadian Scottish Regimental band and the Vancouver Kilted Boys Band will lead the Canadian delegation. Washington's cavalcade will be headed by Gov. Clarence D. Martin and Mayor John F. Dore of Seattle.

States to Send Cavalcades
Seven hundred and fifty automobiles will form Oregon's caravan headed by Gov. Charles H. Martin. The Utah Overland Cavalcade will arrive from Salt Lake City with a Mormon choir, the Provo high school band of 90 pieces and 100 automobiles. Wyoming will send a parade of cowboys from the Cheyenne roundup. Nevada will present a 200-car pilgrimage of costumed rodeo and "days of '49" characters.

The Redwood Empire country of California, the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, and Southern California will be represented by thousands of active participants.

Los Angeles will send a parade of 5,000 cars, headed by Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz mounted posse. A Rose Tournament until will represent Pasadena. The Santa Monica municipal band will participate. Other California cities will send official delegations, floats and fiesta units.

A cast of 3,000, headed by John Charles Thomas, famed American baritone, will present a huge historical pageant depicting history of California and the west in a specially constructed amphitheater at Crissy Field. A full, week-long program of sports events will be offered.

Coaching School Dates Are Changed

COLLEGE STATION.—The eighth annual Texas Aggie free coaching school will be held Aug. 22-28, inclusive. Coach Homer Norton, Aggie athletic director, has announced. The school originally was slated for Aug. 16-21 but was changed to its present dates in order to avoid conflict with the annual farmers' short course at the college.

The Aggies' free coaching school, offering instruction in virtually every phase of high school and college athletics popular in this section, annually attracts approximately 125 high school and college coaches and athletes.

Coach Norton will be assisted in football work by Blair Cherry, former coach of the Amarillo Sandies. 1936 state interscholastic grid champs, and now assistant coach at the University of Texas; and Jack Sisco, coach of the North Texas SFC Eagles, 1936 Lone Star Conference champions.

Other classes during the school will be conducted daily by Aggie

Plan Events for Summer Recreation

LUBBOCK.—Recreational feature for summer terms at Texas Technological College will center around campus activities, with less emphasis on professional and semi-professional entertainers, said Dean James M. Gordon, chairman of the summer school recreation committee.

Among the localized recreation features are: a college mixer in the first week of summer school, band concerts on the campus each Tuesday evening, an all-college dance in Tech gym, trips to Carlsbad Caverns, Grand Canyon, Palo Duro Canyon, and the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition in Dallas.

athletic staff members as follows: J. W. Rollins, track; H. R. McQuillan, basketball; J. V. (Siki) Sikes, baseball; Lil Dimmitt, prevention and treatment of injuries; and W. L. Penberthy, physical education and intramural sports.

A feature of the school will be motion pictures showing football fundamentals and "spots" of a number of Aggie games. A member of the Southwest Conference Football Officials' Association also will be invited to lead a grid rules' interpretation meeting.

las. The college also will sponsor intramural contests in tennis, softball, golf, and other sports. A study of Esperanto, the international language, will be offered as an extracurricular activity, and students will attend an annual watermelon cutting, which was omitted last summer for the first time since the college was founded. The summer term school will close with a formal mass concert, and the Texas Tech speech department will present a play in late summer. Only one professional artist will appear in each term.

First summer term opens June 7, closes July 16. The second term runs from July 19 to August 25.

Goat Hero of Fires, Saves 2 Mules' Lives

LADONIA, TEXA. (U.P.)—Goats, according to A. A. West, are not so dumb.

When West's barn caught fire, his two valuable mules became panicky and tried to dash into the flames.

But a stubborn goat prevented them from committing suicide. The goat parked in front of the barn door and butted the mules away every time they tried to get in. The game kept up until the barn burned down.

"Best Sellers" Provide Background for Casa Manana Plans Outlined by Billy Rose

FORT WORTH, May 22—Billy Rose has swung back the curtain at last to reveal the carefully-guarded secrets of the Casa Manana Revue of 1937, outstanding attraction of the great array of amusement which will form the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta, opening June 26.

The spectacular scope and magnificent sweep of the little idealist's plans actually had an audience of 400 leading citizens from all parts of Texas enthralled at the conclusion of the graphic description, Broadway's Barnum was cheered for two minutes.

Last year, the Casa Manana Revue was a Cavalcade of World's Fairs. This year, the scenes will have as a background four "best sellers"—"Gone With the Wind," "Wake Up and Live," "Lost Horizon," and "It Can't Happen Here." In the finale ("It Can't Happen Here"), 300 persons will swarm about the biggest stage-set ever built. The scene, a stirring onslaught against "isms," is thus depicted by Rose:

Huge Chromium Stairs
"First you will see the Black Shirts, then the Brown Shirts and then the Reds. These will go into a modern bacchanal, which will be interrupted by a fanfare of trumpets, Everett Marshall, the former Metropolitan Opera singer, will appear at the top of the chromium stairway that goes over the top of the permanent set on the world's biggest revolving stage, and will sing a song representing the spirit of America.

"Women dressed in white patent leather costumes will appear; West Point cadets will march down the long flight of stairs; forces of the sea, forces of the air and finally the Texas Sweetheart No. 1 will sweep down the magnificent stairway. The Texas Sweetheart will be wearing the largest gown ever created, consisting of 1,200 yards of spangled, satin and 24 boys will carry the train. She will represent liberty.

Musical Dramatization
"Then on a flagstaff 50 feet above the scene, the Stars and Stripes and the Lone Star banner will be raised while miniature battleships fire cannon in the lagoon in front of the receding stage and the heavens will be lighted with a shower of gold and silver stars."

The books will be dramatized with a musical background; there will be no dialog, the appeal being visual and melodic. Describing the "Gone With the Wind" scene, the Frontier Fiesta director-general said:

"You will see a plantation in the Old South. Ladies and gentlemen will appear at a garden party and Harriet Hector, famous ballerina, will arrive in a carriage drawn by four horses. She will portray Scarlett O'Hara, characterizing the romance of the book in dance. Everett Marshall will portray Rhett Butler and will sing, "Gone With the Wind" composed by Dana Suesse, who wrote "The Night is Young and You're So Beautiful," hit of the 1936 show.

Mansion Burns
"Pickaninies will dance and there will be ensemble dance. The distant booming of cannon is heard and Marshall gallops in on a horse to shout that the end of a civilization is at hand. As the huge stage begins to turn, the mansion bursts into flames. Thus we will start the show by burning up the scene."

"Then will come the "Lost Horizon" episode. If you thought the show girls' costumes in the Paris number last year were beautiful, wait until you see what Raoul Pene de Bois has designed for this year. The Stuart Morgan dancers, greatest adagio dancers in the world, will perform. As the stage moves back eyes the water, a water curtain will shoot 40 feet into the air, colored with beautiful lights."

Minature Hollywoods Circle London Amateur Films Made For Art's Sake

LONDON. (AP)—Typists, secretaries, shop assistants, manicurists and girls of independent means have ringed London with miniature Hollywoods.

In private homes, hired halls and disused garages they spend their week-ends through the year being amateur Garbos, directors, camera-men, lighting experts, and make-up artists. The films they turn out are brisk, workmanlike and often cleverly directed.

There is scarcely a district in any of the large residential areas without its amateur film society; but among all the enthusiasts who spend their pockets money on film, lights and "props", there is hardly one that would even look at a Hollywood contract.

They are in films for art's sake and their conversation is about "The Cinema with two capitals and not about the much publicized stars who enrapture their "lower-browed" sisters.

Some of the films take anything up to a year to make because if the leading lady has the flu or if it rains for three week-ends just when they are ready for location shots in the park or somebody's garden, the sequences begin to get a bit behind schedule.

Then there's the matter of finance. Annual subscriptions of $5 or $10 have a way of being exhausted at awkward moments. There is a whip-round for more film and a spot of scenery or a few more lights and by that time the director may have lost his or her job at the office.

Nothing, however, ever stops these amateur film players. They set to work and make the necessary costumes, rig up the scenery from odd pieces and start shooting again. When the masterpiece is at last ready it is sent around to all the other film societies for encouragement and criticism.

Although London has the greatest collection of amateur societies, the same thing is happening all over England. The typist film fan is becoming the typist film artist, craftsman and director.

Established Fund For Worthy TU Students

AUSTIN, Texas.—Ever alert to aid needy and worthy students, particularly engineers, Thomas Ulvan Taylor, "Grand Old Man" of the University of Texas and for 46 years dean of the College of Engineering, has established a Foundation to make financial awards to a few senior engineers each February for the purpose of helping to pay their second semester fees. A number of grantees for this fund have come from former students of Dean Taylor's who have sought to repay in this some of the kindness he has rendered them.

A sufficient sum is already set aside for the fund to permit the awarding of these gifts for the next five years. It is expected that other ex-students and friends will contribute from time to time, enlarging the fund so that additional awards can be made.

For the next five years the awards will be limited to five in number. Recipients must be students who have "earned their way by the sweat of their brows in some such capacity as waiting on the table, washing dishes, janitor work, filling station service, or similar occupations," Dean Taylor asserted. In addition they must be students who have completed 85 per cent of the prescribed work for their undergraduate degree in engineering with a "C" average.

"This Foundation is intended to help needy students who frequently have difficulty in raising funds to pay their second-semester fees," Dean Taylor pointed out. "No student who has worked his way through school at a 'white-collar' job need apply. The awards are definitely for those students who have earned their university education by hard physical labor."

The funds have already been invested in United States Government securities, and the Foundation will be administered by three life trusts.

Traffic Safety Course at Tech

LUBBOCK.—Texas Technological College this summer will offer its first course in traffic safety and property control of an automobile.

The course, with two hours' college credit, is designed primarily for the training of teachers who plan to teach similar courses, said Dr. Bradford Knapp, Texas Tech president and chairman of the subcommittee on education of Governor Allred's Traffic Safety committee.

Associate Professor R. L. McRee of the Texas Tech civil engineering department will have charge of the six-weeks course. He will be assisted by representatives of the Texas State Highway patrol and of the American Automobile Association. The department now offers a course in highway safety to regular engineering students. Enrollees in the special course will pay regular summer school fees. Officials said they expect students to be experienced drivers and holders of state driver's license.

Subjects to be treated are: Analysis of accidents and their causes, study of methods of accident prevention, study of "rules of the road," including statutory laws and regulations and courses of the road given and expected by experienced drivers. Laboratory periods will be devoted to the driving mechanism of cars, inspection of cars for safety, and correct driving demonstrations.

The course is a part of President Knapp's effort to start the process of traffic education in Texas institutions. Texas A. & M. will offer a similar course at the same time. The Texas Tech term opens June 7, closes July 16.

Gold Deposits Are Found at Big Spring

AUSTIN (AP).—New gold deposits have been found in Texas.

Charles W. Walker, mineralogist, and Richard L. Lewis, technical supervisor, of the Texas Planning Board's WPA staff project reported "encouraging placer deposits" near Big Spring.

A mining company of Llano took an option on the property and is preparing to drill core tests to prove values.

During an inspection of 40 locations in 31 counties Walker and Lewis checked mineral deposits reported by land owners.

West of Dallas they inspected a dolomitic lime deposit to determine the feasibility of using the material in the manufacture of mineral wool. Near Sweetwater they examined glass sand stratas.

tees: John A. Foelt, professor of highway engineering, chairman and treasurer; C. E. Rowe, professor of drawing, secretary; and John D. Miller of Austin.

The awards will be made the first week in February each year, just in time to aid the recipients to use the money to pay their spring semester fees.
