Drouth of 10 Weeks Broken by Rains

Some Last Pictures of "John D"

Rockefeller recently pictured at his Pocantico Hills estate at a fountain featuring a classic marble group with a bronze swan in foreground. A vast estate, persons within its walls and fences could sustain themselves, if necessary, for the rest of their lives without contact with the outside world.

Gloved, sun-spectacled, wearing a cap with earflaps tied up, holding a big parasol, Rockefeller was unconscious of the camera as he inspected a green at Ormond Beach. Until very recent years, he played golf as intensely as in his youth he had entered into the game of big business.

GRANDSONS OF JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER LEAVE DALLAS FOR FUNERAL SERVICES

DALLAS, May 25 (P)—Winthrop and Nelson Rockefeller, grandsons of the late John D. Rockefeller, left Dallas early today flying east for their grandfather's funeral at Pocantico Hills Wednesday, and his burial in Cleveland Thursday. Winthrop flew here from the Canal Zone and was met by Nelson, his wife and sister-in-law, who came by plane from Christoval. Brief rites for the aged millionaire, who complained of feeling tired and then slipped peacefully into death Sunday at the age of 97, were held at the Casements, his Ormond Beach, Florida, home, before the body was placed aboard a private Pullman and started north.

STRIKE IN STEEL COMPANY PLANT SAID INEVITABLE

Regional Director Of Committee Adamant

AGREEMENT 'OUT' AF of L Continues Drive Against The CIO

(By Associated Press) Van Bittner regional director of the steel workers organizing committee, said today that a "strike is inevitable" at the Inland steel company after the company had refused to sign a collective bargaining contract. Workers voted in the Sharon steel company of Sharon, Pa., and Lowellville, Ohio, for CIO representation. American Federation of Labor heads continued a caucus against the CIO at Cincinnati. Hundreds of strikers picketed the Henz company plant at Pittsburgh, seeking recognition of a canning and pickle workers union. The steel workers organizing committee signed contracts with two more independent steel producers Monday. The agreements, recognizing the S. W. O. C. for its membership only, were with the Crucible Steel company of America, employing 18,000 and the American steel foundries, employing 7,000. Both firms have plants in four states.

SAY LINDBERGH'S BABY A CITIZEN OF U. S. AND BRITAIN

Allegiance Can Be Given Either After 21

WASHINGTON, May 25 (P)—Authorities on citizenship questions said today that as long as he lives the newly-born son of Colonel and Mrs. Chas. Lindbergh will be both a citizen of the United States and Great Britain because of his birth to American parents on British soil. They said both countries operate under laws recognizing dual citizenship in such cases which last unless at a majority the person swears allegiance to one nation.

Cubbing Program To Be Started Tonight

The Boy Scout Cubbing program, which is being started in Midland under the sponsorship of the Midland Lions club, will be outlined and discussed in detail by Darold Wilson, field executive of the Buffalo Trail Council, at a mass meeting of all parents of boys between the ages of 9 and 12 years in the county courtroom of the Midland county courthouse this evening at eight o'clock, a large attendance of interested parents being urged by Dr. W. L. Sutton, chairman of the Lions Club cubbing committee. Due to the fact that cubbing is a home centered program in which the parents of the Cubs supervise the greater part of the work, it is necessary that the parents have a thorough knowledge of the program, the main purpose of tonight's meeting being to acquaint them with the movement which is greatly in demand in Midland. The endorsement of the parent must be given before a boy will be accepted into a cub den as a member. The support and cooperation of the parents is necessary in carrying out the program.

It is planned to organize several cub dens in the city immediately if enough parents can be interested in the program. Scout Executive Wilson stated today that it is likely that one or more dens will be organized at tonight's meeting, since numerous boys have made known their desire to join up as soon as possible. 167 boys of Cub age are living in Midland, according to a recent survey, and efforts will be made to interest all of them in the movement. At the age of 12, the boys graduate into Scouting.

DANCING ON CURRICULUM

LOS ANGELES, May 25 (U.P.)—The University of California Los Angeles summer session this year will feature an expertly organized school of the dance to stress the increasing importance of dancing in the educational program. In northwestern Gaines, A. G. Carter-Conoco No. 1 A. L. Wasson, most closely watched test in the Basin, is drilling hard lime at 4,565 feet. It was delayed by twistoff at 4,543.

Soviets at North Pole After Epic Flight

When 11 Soviet aviators, pioneering a proposed Moscow-San Francisco airline, reached the North Pole, they joined the brief roll of explorer-heroes who have attained that goal. Map shows how Otto J. Schmidt, left picturesque veteran of many Arctic exploits, led the Russian party in the short dash from Rudolph Island after months of preparation. Also shown on the map are routes of others who reached the pole. The late Admiral Robert E. Peary traveled by ship and dogsled; Lincoln Ellsworth and Capt. Roald Amundsen cruised over the pole in the Italian dirigible, Norge; Admiral Richard E. Byrd accomplished the feat by plane. Dr. Schmidt's plans called for four men to remain on an ice floe near the pole, preparatory to setting up a permanent air base.

ASKS PROTECTION FOR INVESTORS IN BANKRUPT FIRMS

More Legislation Is Needed, FDR Reports

WASHINGTON, May 25 (P)—President Roosevelt today recommended increased protection for investors in corporations reorganized under the bankruptcy act. He wrote chairman Sumners, Texas, house judiciary committee, and Chairman Lea, California, house interstate commerce committee, that investigations have shown further legislation favoring stockholders is necessary.

SOUTHEAST WARD WILDCAT SHOWS

Hoss & Downey No. 1 Blair Strikes Oil In Lower Yates

BY FRANK GARDNER Another wildcat strike was seen today in southeast Ward at L. B. Hoss and Frank Downey No. 1 Blair, outcrop a mile southwest of production in the Grandfalls area encountered pay in gray sand at 2,119 and began filling with oil. The well filled 200 feet the first hour and a half, and at the end of 20 hours had 300 feet of oil in the hole. It was temporarily shut down for orders, bottomed at 2,121 feet. Producing horizon is believed to be a lower sand in the Yates zone. Operators will probably set a string of 7-inch casing at 2,115 before drilling deeper in search of the Shipley pay at around 2,400. Location of the prospect is in section 5, block 32, H. & T. C. survey, 330 feet north of the line between sections 4 and 5 and in the center of the middle 80 acres of the north-east 240 acres of the southwest 480 acres of section 5. Otto Schikade is contractor for the well, which is on a 240-acre farm owned by Stanolind Oil & Gas Company.

Flowing in Pits Flow from Shell No. 1 S. F. Mann, second producer northwest of Seminole in Gaines, has been turned into pits until basic sediment and water cut has cleared up. At last reports cuts have dropped to about 13 percent, a marked decrease from the 34 percent it had shown when gauged into tanks yesterday. The well had tested 20 barrels of fluid in seven hours. It is bottomed at 5,060 feet in lime, and 2 1/2-inch tubing has been set four feet off bottom. Gas volume between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 cubic feet. Location of the producer is 680 feet out of the north-west corner of section 220, block G. W. T. R. survey.

South of Seminole, over four miles southeast of the Shell well, Amerada No. 1 Fasken, section 160, block G, this morning was drilling red rock at 1,945 feet. Elevation is 3,283.

In northwestern Gaines, A. G. Carter-Conoco No. 1 A. L. Wasson, most closely watched test in the Basin, is drilling hard lime at 4,565 feet. It was delayed by twistoff at 4,543.

PLANTING OF CROPS TO BE STARTED SOON

Breaking a ten weeks drouth, hard rains fell last night and early today, making possible the planting of late crops throughout West Texas and relieving dry pastures over a territory several hundreds of miles square. From all directions today, reports of good rains continued to pour in. The precipitation was regarded as the most timely to have been received in this section within recent years, completely changing the agricultural outlook. Monday night's rain here came on the heels of a hard blowing sandstorm from the west, or slightly southwest. Although the wind threatened to do some damage, nothing of consequence was reported, although a few barn doors and loose objects were whipped about. Three separate rains fell in the town of Midland, the first shortly before 8 p. m., another before midnight and the third and hardest about 4 a. m. today. Precipitation up to 7 a. m. today at the Southern Ice gauge was 1.32 inches, and at the airport 1.08. However, reports said the rain was heavier at Odessa and fell in hard showers all the way to Monahans. Rains extended northward to the plains, one report saying that the town of Hereford had good precipitation. To the south, Rankin and San Angelo reported rains. Big Spring, Stanton and towns to the east were in the rain belt. To the northwest, Wink, Kermit and Hobbs reported rains. Midland's entire ranch and farming territory apparently had been soaked in some degree, much of it getting more than an inch. Planting, which had been held up for the most part, was expected to proceed as soon as fields dried sufficiently. Farmers expressed satisfaction at the timely rains, as many crops have been made in this section with late May or early June planting. Ranchmen, always reticent about expressing jubilation, radiated their optimism today. Cattle prices, which for the past two or three weeks had shown some decline, were expected to get back to the recently high levels, although trading probably will be slowed up for a brief period as prices become adjusted. Lawns and flower gardens in the city, which had been watered profusely as result of continued dry weather, were given impetus by the rains. Water consumption had begun to climb to mid-summer volume. Rain reports received today by the H. O. Bedford Company office follow:

MOB DRAGS BODY OF SLAIN NEGRO THROUGH STREETS

Killed By Officers After Admitting Murders

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., May 25 (P)—A mob estimated at more than 100 men entered a negro undertaking parlor here last night, took the body of a negro identified by Sheriff W. J. Catledge as Willie Reed, confessed slayer of two white women, and dragged it around the public square behind a procession of automobiles. The automobiles then moved into a negro baseball park at the edge of town and a pyre was made out of boards knocked off the fence. The body was burned. Sheriff Catledge a short time before announced that Reed had been shot and killed while deputies were taking him to an Albany jail. He had been arrested earlier in the day at Dothan, Ala., where the sheriff said he confessed to the slaying of two women identified as Venie Mae Richards, 16, and Mrs. Ruby Hurst, 30. One of the bodies was found Sunday by farmers searching for lost cattle, the other today. Reed was shot, Sheriff Catledge said, when he suddenly wrenched open the door of the deputies' car with his handcuffed hands, and fled toward the woods. The car was traveling about 35 miles an hour, Catledge said. He said the deputies in the car were H. G. Pollock, R. A. Stephens and H. J. Rhames. Informed that the mob had taken the body from the undertaking establishment Sheriff Catledge said: "I'm mighty sorry to see this happen." He said that the negro in his confession said he first felled the elder woman, knocking her unconscious, and then pursued the girl about 400 yards where he felled her and attacked her. He attempted to mutilate the bodies to prevent identification of them, the sheriff said.

SPAIN'S FASCIST TRIAL LEADS ONLY DOWNWARD

Someone once remarked that the true measure of a civilization is the way it treats the helpless—racial minorities, paupers, children, and others who are forever at society's mercy.

If that is true, then what we are seeing in Europe is the rise of a civilization which is down somewhere on the level of that of Attila the Hun.

Making all due allowances for propaganda and inaccurate reporting, it is impossible to read the dispatches from Spain without feeling that Fascism—as revealed by its method of making war—is nothing less than a throw-back to those dark ages in human history which we had hoped were forever behind us.

Read the accounts of the evacuation of helpless children from Bilbao—and try to remain unmoved.

"The rebel government had refused angrily to grant safe conduct to the children," says a United Press dispatch, "asserting that evacuation of non-combatants would make Bilbao harder to capture."

If you will reflect for a moment on the philosophy implied by that refusal you will get a glimpse of something too dark and horrible for a decent society to put up with. The obvious, unmistakable implication is that these Fascist commanders are intentionally striking at their enemies through the bodies of children—striking at them that way on the theory that, unable to endure the sight of murdered children, their enemies eventually will lose the will to fight.

This is borne out by past performances. The assault on Guernica, where military objectives went untouched while airplane squadrons bombed and machine-gunned helpless noncombatants penned up in a burning city; the repeated shelling and bombing of Madrid, where thousands of noncombatants have been slain for no military advantage whatsoever—these things prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that Fascism, when it fights, strikes down the weak and helpless willfully and by design.

What are we to make of this? What, except that Fascism simply represents an utter collapse of everything that we understand by the word civilization?

This does not mean that we must at once "take sides" in this foreign war. It does not mean that we must prepare to take up arms ourselves to destroy this lower form of civilization. We have had one experience in the matter of "making the world safe for democracy" by force, and it ought to be enough.

But it does mean that we must recognize facts. We must know this thing, Fascism, for what it is—for what it has convicted itself of—and understand, once and for all, that no matter how bad a fix civilization may get itself into, the road blazed by the Fascists in Spain can lead nowhere except downward to something worse.

BUILDING DICTATORSHIP

To most Americans, the formula for creating a dictator requires only an armed uprising, a march on Rome or a beer-cellar putsch. Actually, those things are merely the climax of a long preparatory period of secret plotting and chicanery, a covert siege of buying off and promising, of dodging and playing with loopholes in the constitutional law.

Japan right now is giving us a bare clinical example of that very thing. Rebuffed by the Japanese Diet, Premier Senjuro Hayashi called for a general election in support of his neo-imperialistic measures. But the people overwhelmingly outvoted Hayashi's program. Then, instead of resigning himself to the public will, Hayashi announced he would disregard the vote and rule with Parliament until the Diet manifested a "spirit of world co-operation that is fast withering."

Japan may never reach full dictatorship, but it certainly is on the way, in the best accepted tradition of Hitler, Mussolini, Metaxas and others. The situation provides America with a splendid object lesson and a chance to brush up on the new world politics.

—AND SO TO WORK

Speaking to his ministers, George VI declared he would follow their deliberations "in the confident hope that they may advance the happiness and prosperity of all my peoples."

That's a big confidence for a man so new on the job. In spite of coronation clatter, the new king undoubtedly had ear for discords involving his empire. There was Ireland's new independence move, India's home rule law quarrel, Italy's refusal to "be friends," loss of a British warship off Spain, England's own financial and labor stress and, in general, the world's disaffection with itself.

A gracious, likeable figure was George VI as he accepted his destined glory in the pomp of coronation. Now comes drab circumstances and the crowning test of a man born to rule.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 24—Only a tiny dribble of the mail now coming to Congress from its constituents mentions the Supreme Court.

Highest on the mail count, among the three main issues in the war-peace field, is the resolution of Congressman Louis Ludlow for a referendum on declarations of war and for the elimination of war profits.

Ludlow's proposed amendment would make the power of Congress to declare war contingent upon a popular referendum, except in the event of an invasion of the United States or its territorial possessions which involved attack on American citizens.

These Invading Canadians A military expert was explaining to a Senate military affairs subcommittee why the army needed many more new war planes. He had a map and pointed to Puget Sound and the state of Maine as the country's only points vulnerable to invasion, picturing enemy armies entering through both areas at once.

More Labor Cases Regional offices of the National Labor Relations Board are receiving about four times as many cases a week as they did before the Supreme Court decision upholding the Wagner Act.

That Court Story No one could ever add up all the Supreme Court mail and analyze it, but there seems no question that the great bulk of it was in opposition to the President's plan.

Versatility In Art Depicted in Exhibit

SAN ANGELO, May 24.—Versatility of the painter will be the first thing you'll notice, true depiction of the subject will be second, and excellent treatment of intricate detail the third when you visit the art exhibit of Ruth Blanks Matlock's works this week in the junior lobby of the St. Angelus Hotel.

A tea was given in connection with the opening of the exhibit, hostesses for Sunday afternoon's affair from 3:30 until 6 o'clock being Mrs. W. J. Tilton, Mrs. Vosburg Hall, Mrs. John M. Bates, Mrs. John B. Hemphill, Mrs. Jack Rankin, and Mrs. J. Riley Kendall.

Tea was served by Mary Lou Hall, Jane Greene, Lucile Luckett, and Ruth Ann Matlock.

The local artist's most important paintings—so she considers them as do many of her friends and patrons of art here—are the portraits of her father, the late W. C. Blanks, and the late J. M. Shannon.

Life-Like Portrait
That of her father will be shown to the public for the first time today. So truly has she caught the gleam in his eyes that no matter where you stand you will feel he is watching, just on the verge of making some remark you're bound to remember.

"A definite likeness," some friends of the late banker have said. "There is something about the mouth I'd like to change," others declared. "Truly he seems about to speak," vowed still others. But the wielder of the brushes and oils painted the portrait as she saw her father.

The painting was started before his death several years ago, Mrs. Matlock having done most of the head before he became ill. The portrait of Mr. Shannon hangs in the hospital that bears his name.

With oils and pastel as her media, Mrs. Matlock has for the most part done designs and landscapes, a few in the modern treatment. There are hillside flower landscapes that will catch the eyes and hold them indefinitely and draw them back again because of the skies, the cloud effects, and the colors.

Skies Particularly Good
"I love skies," the artist said. The on-looker doubts not, that statement after viewing the exhibit. He will see low, rolling clouds, fluffy bits of white clouds high in the firmament of a brilliant, sunny day, skies with wide and long sweeps of clouds with suggestions of haziness and mist, and once in a while a sullen, darkened spot in the vault of blue over the earth.

To reveal Bassett, well-known Texas artist who taught in an art colony here one season, Mrs. Matlock gives credit for her information on sky treatment and effects.

With the exception of the few portraits and a number of designs, Mrs. Matlock's paintings deal with

Lauryl Venning Is Versatile Artist

Lauryl Venning, Texas landscape artist who had a group of her oil paintings here for exhibit the past four days, has studied in London and at Columbia University in New York City. She is a talented painter of landscapes and floral copies. Much of her work is done from natural settings. Mrs. Venning has conducted student art colonies in Canada and England. She will receive her M. A. degree from Texas Christian University this spring and will study at Columbia University during the summer.

Mrs. Venning, although she paints portraits, is known as "The Sunrise Artist" because of her habit of rising early to portray in oils the beauty of the early morning. Among the canvases that were on display here were a scene from Lake Worth; one of a shady road at New Braunfels, Texas, called "Fall Scene"; The Goldminers of 1849; and paintings of vases of zinnias, pink roses, red roses, chrysanthemums and bluebonnets. There is a small but interesting study of a cactus plant in bloom.

the out-of-doors, her interest being encouraged in the years back by the late Mrs. Sam Crowther.

All scenes are those of West Texas, settings familiar to folk throughout this section. The artist executed several paintings last year on a trip to Mexico—Chihuahua. Particularly interesting in the Mexican scenes is an old church in Chihuahua City and a scene made from the continental divide near the town. Perspective is true.

West Texas Scenes
The Crockett County ranch country is depicted in a fairly large oil painting which Mrs. Matlock did while at the W. D. Jones ranch. One would know immediately in viewing the painting of the wild verbenas and two hillside scenes that Mrs. Matlock is a West Texan—she gives definite attention to mesquite trees.

"Wash Day" is a small painting that will find favor because it is typical of many back yard's appearances on Monday morning. Included in the show of 36 paintings is a scene of San Angelo made before last September's floods. Done from near Abe Street bridge the landscape shows the business district of the city to the east.

"Bridges and Trees," is another painting completed before the floods, and was done at the Abe Street Bridge also. It was selected by a jury to be displayed in Austin last summer during the University of Texas Centennial Exposition.

Student of Flowers
Four oil paintings of dahlias, three showing the large double blooms and the other the single flower, will be seen in the exhibit. Like her father, Mrs. Matlock has a profound interest in flowers and reveals her intimate knowledge and study of them through her designs.

Companion designs that are particularly attractive are those of a purple iris and a day lily. Among the others done by the artist are a large sunflower and a yellow morning glory. Seen in the exhibit also is a painting of the interior of the Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Two character studies are included in the display, one being "Old Chaney," a local negro, and another which the artist has called "Hombré," a Mexican shepherd. "Hombré" was in the 1934 traveling exhibit of the Texas Fine Arts Association.

There is also a pen and ink still life in the collection. Mrs. Matlock began painting when she was ten years old. The Blanks family was living in East Texas at that time, and her father sent her to Terrell once a week for lessons. Since then she has studied intermittently and has worked constantly at her avocation.

The artist's vocation is her family. She and her husband, W. T. Matlock, are parents of four children, two sons and two daughters. It is because of her family and her duties with them that Mrs. Matlock has painted so many designs. Sketching trips require much time, so much that she takes little away from her household. Her jaunts into Mexico and to points about have been brief ones.

Colorful as a Hungarian landscape is the attractive linen print, the design of which was inspired by the Middle European custom of exchanging elaborate Easter eggs. It is trimmed with contrasting collar, cuffs and belt in stitched linen and woven with a matching turban. An over-the-shoulder bag of navy linen, white doekin gloves and shoes are appropriate, cool accessories.

Lobster a la Mode for Mrs. Simpson

A gown the acquaintances of Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson will eye hungrily is a Schiaparelli creation of white mousseline on the skirt of which is emblazoned a huge, realistically brilliant lobster that extends from waistline almost to the hem. The crustacean is garnished with stray flowers. The bodice molds the figure, has a daring décolletage and is joined to the skirt by a wide band of lobster red satin.

Kibbee Names Requirements Of Comedian

"Comedy that's effective is a matter of fine shading, phrasing, and timing" explained Guy Kibbee, one of the screen's most popular comedians, while making "Jim Hanvey, Detective," Republic's great comedy starring Kibbee as a detective which now is convulsing audiences at the Ritz Theatre.

"You can say a single gag line, or an ordinary line of back talk," the comedian continued, "with a dozen different shades of phrasing or timing. Some of the shadings are fitted to one type of character so that they get over with a punch. For another type of comedy character those particular shadings might not be effective at all. It requires long experience, and a great amount of intense study of both human beings and of the character one is playing, to get the timing, phrasing and inflection which builds a perfect comedy characterization."

Tom Brown and vivacious little Lucile Kaye, fascinating screen newcomer, play the young romancing aides to Kibbee in his hunt for a stolen $100,000 emerald necklace. Ed Eppley and Ed Gargan are two great comedians in the exceptional supporting cast. Catharine Doucet, noted Southern beauty and character actress, plays the nervous and tittery "Mrs. Frost," owner of the missing necklace. Oscar Apfel, Wade Boteler and Charles Williams are three insurance officials involved by their efforts to save their insurance on the jewels.

MOTHERS ARE RESPONSIBLE

The family looks to you to aid your doctor in keeping them well. You can help prevent much illness and poor health by guarding them from common constipation.

Most constipation comes from faulty diet—meals low in "bulk." This condition can be corrected so easily and pleasantly.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides the safe way to prevent constipation by putting "bulk" back in the diet. Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forming a soft mass which gently sponges out the system.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron. It is so much better for your family than constant dosing with artificial pills and drugs.

Two tablespoonfuls daily as a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes, are enough for the average person. Three times daily in severe cases.

Sold at all grocers—and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

CARDS BEAT BACK OILERS' CHALLENGE FOR FIRST PLACE, 6-4

SICK HAS UPPER HAND ALL WAY IN DUEL WITH KELLER

The Midland Cardinals, after looking very little like league leaders for the past few days, came through in royal style yesterday out at City Park to hand the second place Odessa Oilers a 6-4 defeat and increase their lead to three games.

The game, besides being the fastest played here this season—1:30 was the time—was one of the two best games of the year. At the end of the fifth inning the score was 2-1 in favor of the Cards but they added two in the sixth and three in the eighth while the Oilers were getting one in the seventh and two in the ninth.

It was "Lefty" Sick, eccentric left-hander, who was on the mound for the Cardinals and he did a superb job all afternoon. Only one of the runs scored against him was earned and he had the necessary stuff to quell all threats.

Keller went all the way for the Oilers and if he had been able to retire Murphy, Randall and Nook he would probably never have been scored upon. Murphy got three singles and a walk out of four trips up. Randall got a double and single out of four trips while Nook came through with a double and three singles to get a perfect day.

Little "Rabbit" Stein, Card shortstop, went a long way toward getting victory for Sick through some of the best fielding he has done this year. He had eight chances, at least half of them hard ones, and made only one error. This came in the seventh when he became rattled and threw one away at first while trying to hold a runner on third. He came through with the fielding gem of the day when he raced way out into left center to catch a high fly ball hit by Pippen, then wheeled and made a perfect throw to Schiffrer to double Kecker.

Odessa got off to a one run lead in the first when Capps, first man up, walked, advanced to second on Decker's sacrifice and came home on Pippen's single. The Cards tied it up in their half when Murphy walked and came home on Nook's double.

The score remained 1-1 until the last of the sixth when Murphy singled, was sacrificed to second by Orr, scored on Randall's double, Randall then scored on Nook's single. The Oilers pulled up within one run of the Cards in the seventh when Mickey singled, went to second when Terry walked, advanced to third on Keller's sacrifice and scored when Stein made a wild throw to first. Orr then threw out Decker at first and Schiffrer made a perfect throw to Frost to catch Terry off third.

The Cardinals sewed up the game in the eighth when Murphy once again singled, went to third when Hoffman fumbled Orr's roller and scored on Randall's second hit. Orr and Randall came home when Nook hit one down the right field line that was fair by inches. Nook was thrown out at second when he attempted to stretch the hit. Sick hit one of the hardest balls of the day to lead off the inning, the pellet appearing sure to clear the center field fence but the strong south wind held it back long enough for Reist to get under it and take it near the fence.

The Oilers made their most serious threat in the ninth when Mickey reached first on Frost's error. Terry walked, Ray, pinch hitting for Keller popped out to Orr. Capps singled to send Mickey home, Decker forced Capps at second but Orr threw wild at first attempting to get a double play. Pippen then grounded out, Stein to Schiffrer to end the game.

The two teams will play again this afternoon unless more rain falls during the day. There was quite a bit of water standing around third base this morning but was drained off and the field will be ready for play at 4:30 unless further dampened.

U. S. Davis Cup Squad Is Youngest, Most Colorful in History of Event

Quartet Averages 22 Years of Age; Grant the Oldest

BY RICHARD McCANN
 NEA Service Sports Writer
 FOREST HILLS, N. Y., May 25.—Probably the youngest and certainly the most interesting team in history is trying to bring back the Davis Cup to America this year.

Named to represent the United States in the North American Zone finals against Australia May 29-30-31 here are a naive-born Hungarian, a fellow named Francois Andzej Pajkowski, a midget, and an awkward, red-haired, freckle-faced fellow who looks like he might very well be stepped off page 105 of Huckleberry Finn.

They are, reading from left to right, Gene Mako, born in Budapest; Frankie Parker, nee Pajkowski; Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, 5 feet 4 inches of fury; and Don Budge, he of the freckles.

Their average age is 22 with Bitsy Grant, it may surprise you to know being the oldest at 26. The other three are just 21.

Parker, playing on his first Davis Cup team, is one of the most interesting figures in American tennis history. Like France's Henri Cochet, Frankie got his start in tennis as a ball boy. Ten years ago he chased errant serves at the Milwaukee Country Club for $2 a week.

The money came in most handy to help Momma Pajkowski buy something besides just bread and potatoes for the four other Pajkowski children and Grandma Struzovana.

The Pajkowskis, you see, were deep in poverty even before Poppa Pajkowski, a dumpcart driver, was killed in a traffic accident when Frankie was only one year old.

Beasley's Adopted Son
 LITTLE Francois Pajkowski, the ball boy, was intrigued by the game of tennis and in his off-hours used to bat a rubber-ball against the side of his house. Somehow he got hold of an old racket and played on the public courts.

Merced Beasley, discoverer and developer of many tennis stars, saw him, liked him, and took him under his wing. Frankie is now Beasley's legally adopted son.

Built on accuracy, Frankie's game is one of the best balanced and most complete ever mastered by a player. He is said to have 26 different strokes including: Forehand—flat—drive; topspin, chop, slice, lob, half-volley, and loop; Backhand—the same; Service—twist, flat, reverse, and slice; lob and stop-volley.

There are some who criticize his forehand... they object to what they think is an insufficient swing. But neither Frankie nor Beasley are bothered.

Beasley thinks he is the smartest, cleverest tennis player of all time. "He doesn't have Vines' power," says the man who also coached Ellsworth, "but he is a strategist. He's the Willie Keeler of tennis—he puts 'em where they ain't."

One of Frankie's pet tricks is the "hidden racket." He holds the racket flat against his leg and doesn't snap it into position for a shot until the ball is almost upon him. "It keeps his opponent unaware of where he is going to hit the ball or what stroke he is going to use," Beasley explains.

Soft Game Annoys
 BITSY GRANT has been on the Davis Cup team before, but this is really the first time he is being considered seriously for the important matches.

Bitsy's soft, pat-a-cake game might upset the hard-hitting international stars just as it has wreaked havoc with the boys over here. He plays a most annoying defensive game, slapping back lobs and such until his opponent is quite daffy and dizzy.

Atlanta's idol bounced into national fame back in 1933 when he defeated Ellsworth Vines in a stunning upset in the National Championships.

Bitsy's chances were considered so slim that the match was staged on a back yard court across the alley from the championship stadium, and Bitsy himself had made Pullman reservations on a train that night.

Gene Mako, who will confine his cup efforts to the double with Budge, came to this country from Hungary when he was 8. He is quite an linguist, speaking fluently in Spanish, Hungarian, Russian and French, as well as English.

He is studying for the diplomatic corps, but he is far from diplomatic on the courts. He is cocky and talkative and grouchy with referees who err. Many's the time he has called a referee a robber—even as you and I. He also likes to serve sarcastic remarks across the net at his opponents.

Gene, during his development days refused to play anybody he could beat. Once he whipped you decisively he wanted no more to do with you. His forte is a terrific service.

Don Budge, the No. 1 man of the team, looks something like Maurice McLaughlin, the California Comet of yesteryear. Budge has a savage backhand drive, a good kick to his American twist serve, a mean top-spin to his Western forehand and a great yen for ice cream.

Australians are his dish, too. He has whipped Adrian Quist three straight times, which is one of the reasons the Americans are looking forward to victory.

Head Over Heels in Winter Sport

While most of us planned summer outings, Film Actress Claudette Colbert was applying herself to a vigorous round of winter sports in Idaho in preparation for her next picture, "I Met Him in Paris." Her ice skating lessons, top photo, went skimmingly with Aaron Phillips, Hollywood expert. Then Miss Colbert learned that skis, though bigger than skates, are not necessarily safer as she got a first-hand introduction, lower photo, to a snow bank.

HARD LUCK TRAILS DRIVER
 LYNN, Mass. (U.P.)—Three girls who thumbed a ride with James Krupp, 23, later took his car. The girls said it was only a joke and were released. But Krupp was arrested for using Texas plates on his automobile in Massachusetts.

"ONLY CHANCE OF A BITE IS FROM THE FISH"

SAYS JACK COLLINS ABOUT THIS MELLOW "MAKIN'S"

JACK COLLINS (left) says: "We fellows argue about fishing, but we all agree that Pringe Albert is the mildest, tastiest tobacco there is. When fishing and smoking P.A., there's only one chance of a bite—and that's from the fish!"

ENJOY those P.A. extras—easy drawing and rich body. And Pringe Albert is so mild! The special "no-bite" process roasts harshness. Pipe smokers, too, say there's no tobacco like Pringe Albert!

HERE'S a fair exchange—a good friend of Jim Allmon's hands down the bait in exchange for some Pringe Albert—the favorite tobacco for "makin's" cigarettes around these parts. Jim praises P.A. in these words: "There's nothing like that rich, full-bodied Pringe Albert taste. It puts cool, sweet joy in 'makin's' cigarettes."

So MILD PRINGE ALBERT THE BIG 2 OUNCE RED TIN 70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every 2-oz. tin of Pringe Albert

P. A. MUST MAKE GOOD OR ELSE: Roll yourself 30 swell cigarettes from Pringe Albert. If you don't find them the finest, tastiest roll-your-own cigarettes you ever smoked, return the packet tin with the rest of the tobacco in it to us at any time within a month from this date, and we will refund full purchase price, plus postage. ### Hall of History Is Built by Humble Co.

HOUSTON, May 24—Humble's Hall of Texas History, widely acclaimed as one of the most interesting and educational exhibits at the Central Centennial Exposition in Dallas last year, by popular request will be re-opened and enlarged for the 1937 showing of the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition.

Announcement was made recently after much favorable public comment and numerous requests for another showing had been received. At the same time it was agreed to expand the hall and include more informative material about oil—the major industry of Texas.

The entire exhibit of last year, historical dioramas and geologic maps and miniature models, will be retained intact, and a wing of some 1,500 square feet will be added to accommodate a series of new materials explaining the work of the geologist, paleontologist and

"WILD BILL" CUMMINGS ESTABLISHES TWO NEW RECORDS AT INDIANAPOLIS

PUSHING A HEAVY FOOT against the accelerator of his silver racing car, "Wild Bill" Cummings, spectacular idol of the speedways, required just twelve minutes and nine seconds to break two Indianapolis Speedway records during his twenty-five mile qualification run last Saturday. Using the same Gulf No-Nox Ethyl gasoline that can be bought in service stations all over the country, Cummings made one lap at an average of 125.13 miles-per-hour which cracked the all time Indianapolis record of 124 m.p.h. set nine years ago by Leon Duray. His average of 123.4 m.p.h. for the twenty-five miles was the fastest qualifying time ever made on this track.

The oval picture is a closeup of Cummings and the other photo shows him with his car immediately after the exciting run.

physicist in their combined search for petroleum deposits. This is being done in answer to a multitude of requests during the 1936 showing for facts about the instruments and methods in the relentless probing for oil.

A seismograph sound truck, torsion balance instrument and magnetometer—all delicate recording instruments used in exploration work—will be shown. Accompanying these will be translucent photographs and explanatory graphs and charts to make clear to the layman the somewhat puzzling story of how oil is found underground.

For several weeks the geologic and geophysics departments of the company have been engaged in special research, and at this time work is going ahead in Dallas with the construction and installation of materials for the addition to the exhibit.

Along with these improvements the entire exhibit hall will be redecorated in keeping with the spirit and flavor of the Pan-American exposition. Typical Texas scenes which the walls will be replaced by others reflecting the tone of Mexico and neighboring countries to the south.

Dress of Tomorrow for Casa Manana

First sample of what a 1937 Casa Manana costume will look like is this gorgeous gown worn by Miss Christine Harris, stunner of the showgirl. The skirt, one of the numerous unique costumes that will be seen in Billy Rose's great show at Fort Worth this summer, is made of many yards of sheer spun glass cloth in sunburst pleats. The ladies will be interested in further details that the fitted blouse, with puffed and puff sleeves, is silver lame, dotted with quarter-sized spangles. The headdress is sheet glass cloth, three feet high, with silver curls fitted to the head.

Increase in Shipments of Livestock From Texas Registered During April

AUSTIN, Texas, May 24.—A substantial increase in live stock shipments from Texas to interstate points and to Fort Worth market occurred during April compared with the like month last year. It has been pointed out by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Forwardings totaled 12,021 cars, against 9,369 cars during April last year, an increase of nearly 30 per cent.

During the first four months of 1937, shipments aggregated 25,596 cars, an increase of 18 per cent over the corresponding period a year ago. With the sharp increase in forwardings together with recent strengthening of live stock prices the economic situation of Texas cattlemen is rapidly improving.

The increase of sheep forwardings was especially marked. Shipments of these animals totaled 1,520 cars, an increase of 165 per cent over April last year. Almost 70 per cent of these shipments went to the Fort Worth market.
