NO INDICTMENT Grand Jury Will Act On Evidence At Session

Murder charges had been filed against two men and investigation of the death of Raymond Webb, 32, Midland floor finisher, had been turned over the district court grand jury, officers revealed today after Webb died late Tuesday as result of stab wounds.

Scott Stringer and Winford Crow were held in the county jail, charged with murder, pending grand jury investigation. No formal indictment had been reported at noon today.

Webb died at a Midland hospital as result of stab wounds inflicted late Saturday night, allegedly in a dance hall fight at Walker's place, at the Lightfoot Camp on the highway east of Midland. Prior to his death, peace officers and District Attorney Cecil C. Collings questioned him regarding the alleged affray. Mrs. Raymond Webb, wife of the victim, was critically injured in an early morning automobile crash about three weeks ago and had just been taken to south Texas, it was reported. She is reported to be completely paralyzed from the shoulders down.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. at the Barrow funeral home, read by Rev. Epps, Methodist minister. The deceased is survived by his wife, and his mother and father, Leonard S. Webb of Midland.

Tightening Links That Unite The British Empire

The touch of the modern Midas, John D. Rockefeller, Sr., who turned to gold so many business ventures, in death provided a golden future for four of his most obscure kin—the Marquis de Cuevas, his wife and two children, to whom he bequeathed the bulk of his $25,000,000 estate in trust. The Marquise, pictured at left with her infant son, John, was the daughter of Mrs. Bessie Strong, Rockefeller's daughter. She married de Cuevas (who holds their daughter, Elizabeth) when he was an obscure Paris dress designer. Rockefeller altered his will to provide for them only three years ago.

SMALL TOWN NEAR MINERALL WELLS IS HIT BY TORNADO

Residents of Perrin Luckily Escape Death

MINERALL WELLS, June 9 (P)—Citizens of Perrin, small town 14 miles north of here, miraculously escaped death or injury in a tornado which swept a 5 mile strip Tuesday afternoon leveling buildings and bringing heavy crop damage. A windstorm of 30 minutes duration was followed by hail and a cloudburst but all the residents had escaped to safety in cellars and substantial buildings that bore up against the brunt of the tornado.

The Pate gin, Holiness church and the former Perrin ranch were completely destroyed, the top was torn off the high school gymnasium and the roof was taken from the Clayton-Mitchell hardware store and lumber yard, while the depot was left leaning at a 45-degree angle. Practically every building in the town was damaged. Few windows were left intact.

Heaviest damage was to crops. Wheat was blown from the shocks and scattered along the roads.

Piles of hail as deep as two feet were to be seen at the sides of the roads. Some of the stones were as large as hen eggs. The ranch building leveled was a landmark in that section. It was a two story structure about 50 years old. J. W. Kuhn and family were residing in the house at the time of the tornado. They escaped injury by going into the cellar.

Mineral Wells offered aid to the stricken town but the citizens declined, stating that they felt able to handle the situation.

Old Adage, "When in Rome", Remains Best Guide for Americans Abroad

NEW YORK, June 2 (U.P.)—The Italians have a superstition that bad luck is catching.

In Norway, a gentleman always walks and sits on the lady's left. And in Denmark, men raise their hats to the shop girl on entering a shop.

These are a few European customs which Americans are advised to observe when they go abroad. These tips are contained in a new guidebook just published called "1937 in Europe."

In London, says the book, be punctual if you are invited to dinner. If the date is for 8:30 it means 8:30 and not 8:29 or 8:31. If a woman is alone in London, "Universal Amts. Ltd." will provide chaperones just for company or for the purpose of introducing visiting American women to a circle of friends.

In Italy, the traveler should forget any bad luck. Even if the tourist's breaks a mirror and sees a black cat scot across his path, he should forget it. For the Italians have a superstition that bad luck is catching and that by associating

1,336 CARS PASS SAFETY ZONE IN CITY YESTERDAY

One-Fourth Found To Be Defective, Reported

Members of the state highway patrol who conducted the "safety zone" here yesterday announced today that a total of 1,336 cars passed through the zone with 1,004 of them receiving an official okay on their condition.

A total of 332 cars were designated as having some defect when officers pasted a pink sticker on the windshield. All cars successfully passing the tests were tagged with a blue sticker.

Of the 332 drivers given a pink sticker, 103 had the defects corrected, returned and were given blue stickers. Officials in charge of the tests here warned motorists who received the pink stickers to immediately have the defects corrected, pointing out that any accident in which they might happen to become involved would go hard with them if they had not had corrections made that had been pointed out.

City patrolman Coons added a warning to that of the state officials, saying that a man involved in a minor accident yesterday afternoon in which two cars were slightly damaged had been fined, not only because of the wreck but also because he failed to have his defective brakes corrected after being given a pink sticker.

Of the 332 found with some defective part, 136 were refused an okay because of bad brakes, 13 on their mufflers, 168 on their lights, 50 on their horns and 111 on their windshield wipers.

Members of the highway patrol taking part in the tests here were St. R. Dickey, H. Vance, Tom Tidmore of Austin; W. E. Renfrow and Weldon Lawson of Lubbock; M. R. Reed and Elton White of San Angelo; J. C. Furguson and L. P. McCasland of Big Spring; Sam Hillburn and Royce Blackmon of Pecos. Sgt. ### Belgian New Dealer's Visit With Roosevelt To Be A Dutch Treat

PAUL VAN ZEELAND

Names Link Both To Same Region Of Netherlands

LONDON, June 9. — Two gentlemen of old Netherlands stock will meet at the end of June and should have a lot to talk about. Apart from their common blood heritage, one of them is the daddy of the American New Deal, while the other new-deals for little Belgium.

The fact that Paul Van Zeeland is Premier of Belgium while Franklin Roosevelt's family came from Holland is really no distinction as far as their racial origin is concerned, since Belgium and Holland only separated in 1830. Indeed, the Belgian Premier's very name means "from Zeeland," and Zeeland happens to be the province in the Netherlands which contains that "Rose Field" which gave its name to F. D. R.

Only one obstacle might stand in the way of thorough understanding between these two sharers of a common heritage. One of them is a Harvard man and the other went to Princeton. Once the natural antagonism growing out of this is cleared away, Roosevelt, Harvard '04, and Van Zeeland, Princeton, '21, should get along fine. (Van Zeeland's graduation year would indicate that he was pretty young to be top-man in anybody's country. It is true. He is only 43. But the war interfered with the normal course of his college training.)

Banker-Premier VAN ZEELAND is the most Americanized first-rate statesman Europe has ever had. His prime purpose in coming to America is to receive an honorary degree from his alma mater.

ACC School Year Is Called Best Ever

J. C. Reynolds of Midland, Texas, returned home from Abilene Christian college the last week of May at the close of the thirty-first session of the college having completed the sophomore class course.

"The best year in the history of the college was marked by highest total student attendance, important improvements in facilities, and the finest student-teacher cooperation for many years," said president James P. Cox at the close of the session.

Registration records shows the largest total student attendance in the history of the school. The total enrollment of 643 resident college students for the session is twelve less than the 135-36 main session, but fewer withdrawals of enrolled students made a record total attendance.

At the beginning of the fall session the library was moved to Chambers Hall and a new dining hall was built in the basement of the hall, which was made possible by a gift for the improvements by E. D. Chambers of Glenn, Texas.

A steel stadium is taking form on the new athletic field east of the main campus, since successful culmination of a campaign by an athletic committee, members of the board of trustees, and business men of Abilene. The stadium will be completed in a few weeks, officials say.

A movement to have another record enrollment for the thirty-second session, beginning September 15, is under way by combined efforts of the Student's Association, the Ex-students Association, and the Mothers and Dads club, which have pledged themselves to advance Christian education and promote the growth of A. C. C.

The Wagner act was invoked in Chicago as CIO attorneys were drafting a complaint against the Inland steel for unfair labor practices.

More than 300,000 residents of Michigan's Saginaw valley are without electric service despite an announcement by John L. Lewis that the Washington power workers strike had been settled.

Mayor Daniel Knaggs of Monroe asked civilians with military experience to enlist as deputies to protect the Republic steel plant reopening.

HITLER'S PAPER CALLS ON POPE TO VISIT GERMANY

Ascertain Facts For Himself, He Is Told

BERLIN, June 9 (P)—Schwarzkops, the official organ of Adolf Hitler's picked Schutz staffel guards today called on Pope Pius to come to Germany and find out for himself the facts in the breach between the Catholic church and the Nazi government.

The paper's injection of a personal element followed official press demands that Germans choose between Hitler and the Vatican.

In Rome, the Pope told a group of Barbarian pilgrims that conditions in Germany were "so grave, menacing and dolorous" for Catholicism that it "causes one to weep."

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, June 9 (U.P.)—United States Judge Robert A. Cooper, who sentenced eight Puerto Rican nationalists to prison terms for conspiring to overthrow the island escaped injury late Tuesday as between 12 and 15 shots were fired at him.

He was returning to his home when the incident occurred. The nationalists were flown to the United States yesterday and arrived in Atlanta early this morning at the federal penitentiary to begin serving their sentences.

The shots were fired by three or four men, the judge afterwards declaring that for a few seconds there was a regular fusillade.

Judge Cooper, former governor of South Carolina and United States district judge for the district of Puerto Rico since January, 1934, was in his car at the time of the incident. One bullet pierced the windshield, narrowly missing Detective Francisco Davila, the judge's personal bodyguard for the last year.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 9. — The Treasury's list of tax dodgers, if it's ever revealed, will be found to be sprinkled with many of the names that make headlines.

Identity of the "horrible examples," whose devices for evading taxes were described in Secretary Morgenthau's letter to the President, has become a pet topic of speculation.

The man who incorporated his yacht so as to avoid taxes on the money spent to operate it is a very famous and important automobile magnate. There have been other yacht-incorporators but the automobile man is the one Morgenthau had in mind.

A celebrated publisher is also among those whose lawyers found ways to escape payment of as much as the Treasury thinks he should have paid.

Another man, known to be listed, is a member of a prominent eastern industrial family. He evaded some taxes by incorporating his racing stable.

Four to One on Barkley JUST a few days ago Senator Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina was the chief contender for the Senate majority leadership against Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, the White House choice—all candidacies being based on the probability that Senator Joe Robinson of Arkansas, present leader, would sooner or later be appointed to the Supreme Court.

evenings, within reason, and who tries to be particularly agreeable and nice and considerate. And so many, many times she draws a gambling man. Or maybe she's to blame; maybe it's her fault that he develops the mania.

But anyway just do a little observing, and you'll find that the men who do lots of card playing and the like don't have many battle-axes among their women folks.

Most of their women folks are particularly nice and sweet and agreeable. Just check up and see if this isn't true.

LaFollette accepted that sum and compromised on a previous demand for more, he told his friends he would ask for an additional sum before Congress adjourned.

But now LaFollette is tired and indicates a willingness to let the committee wind up and fade away.

He is being urged to ask for more money and to investigate labor tactics in the textile industry; efforts by "professional patriots" to suppress free speech; alleged oppression of agricultural labor in the south and elsewhere; and activities of the Black Legion and other secret orders.

Some of the opposition to continuance of the LaFollette investigation arises from the feeling that it has been a valuable aid to John L. Lewis and the organizing efforts of the C. I. O.

Current betting is about four to one on Robinson to make the court, but anyone who takes the short end isn't necessarily looney.

Byrnes, however, isn't after the leadership any more. Roosevelt let the word out that his thumbs were down on Jimmy. For that reason or some other, Byrnes has swung his support to Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, a stalwart conservative. Pat was understood to have let it be known earlier that he didn't want Robinson's post. But it now appears that he does.

Practically all the really significant Senate-White House shenanigans go on under the surface, so it's necessary to watch closely in order to keep track. Vice President Jack Garner, who was roaring with indignation about the sidown strikes, was close behind Byrnes—and not entirely secretly—when the latter tossed in an amendment which would have made Roosevelt approve or disapprove an unqualified condemnation of sidowns. Then Justice Van Devanter resigned. And in no time at all the alert, agile Byrnes was all over the Senate boosting Robinson for the court. Garner meanwhile, allowed it to be known that he was supporting Byrnes for the leadership. Roosevelt pushed all available buttons to block the play insofar as it concerned Byrnes. Barring a smashing defeat for the President, Barkley and not Harrison will be the next administration floor leader—if Robinson goes on the court.

Urge LaFollette to Go On THERE'S an inside dispute as to whether the LaFollette civil liberties investigation, which has produced evidence as to labor espionage and oppression such as that in Harlan county, should keep right on going.

At present the committee is quietly investigating labor policies and anti-union activities of the Ford Motor Company. But the last 400,000 voted for the committee has just about run out. When

Mrs. Hallman Honoree At Attractive Entertainment

Shower Given at Club For Recent Bride

Miss Lucille McMullan, Miss Marguerite Bivens and Mrs. Ernest Neill entertained at Midland Country Club Monday night complimenting Mrs. A. L. Hallman, Jr., the former Miss Thalia Howell.

In the receiving line were Miss McMullan, Mrs. Hallman, Jr., Mrs. G. W. Howell of Odessa, the bride's mother, Miss Bivens, Mrs. A. L. Hallman, Sr., and Mrs. Neill. Miss Bill Adams presided at the bride's book and Mrs. W. J. Coleman was at the piano. Mrs. Johnnie Sherrod sang a contralto solo, "My Heart Is A Haven" (Irving S. Steinel), accompanied by Mrs. Coleman.

The entertainment was delightful and the gifts were presented to the honoree in a novel way. Mrs. Neill and Miss McMullan brought a table into the club room on which there was a gold vase with blue streamers flowing in all directions. At the end of each streamer was a card with a rhyme beginning with a letter in the name "Hallman." The last card instructed the bride to look behind the door, where she found a number of lovely gifts. Others were then brought in from adjoining rooms.

During the refreshment hour, Mrs. Coleman played nuptial music. The guest list included: Mesdames C. C. Crech, Olen Frayar, Hayden Wilmoth, Ray Parker, J. B. Mills, Charles Ballard, Eddie Flannery, Vyron Wilkerson, G. W. Howell, A. L. Hallman, Sr., Leonard Hallman, J. P. H. McMullan, S. P. Park, H. B. Dunagan.

Flower Fashion

Notes

Flowers or plants in season are always appreciated and they are most economical, too.

Tobacco smoke does not harm flowers, but the freshest cold breeze may, or too warm a draft!

No flower has yet taken first place as a boutonniere away from the carnation.

Overcrowding is the most common fault in arranging flowers. The individual beauty of the blossoms is lost when there are too many to show. Simplicity in arrangement is most beautiful.

Floral gifts are appreciated in different ways. A young person will usually like best an arrangement or corsage, while an older person is likely to prefer a plant.

A person who is very ill should receive flowers of soft and soothing colors. Brilliant, spectacular flowers may be saved for the convalescent.

If a choice of flowers for a gift bothers you, send roses. They are always appropriate, and for every occasion.

A single flower is oftentimes more attractive in a street costume than a dozen. Choose your nosegay or boutonniere according to your clothes.

The Business Girl's Auxiliary met Tuesday night at the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Leo Booker presided at the business meeting and Mrs. L. H. Tiffen led the devotion.

The program on "The Study of Presbyterians Women's Birthday Gift" was led by Mrs. P. D. Larson, assisted by Mrs. Hayden Wilmoth, Miss Marguerite Bivens, Mrs. W. J. Coleman, and Mrs. Sherwood O'Neal.

The meeting was closed with a prayer and the group went to the home of Mrs. L. H. Tiffen, 513 West Wall, for a refreshment plate. On July 13 the auxiliary will have a picnic at the O'Neal ranch. Attending were Mesdames Leo Booker, Sherwood O'Neal, W. J. Coleman, P. D. Larson, B. W. Recker, G. H. Wilmoth, L. H. Tiffen, Margaret Scott and Miss Marguerite Bivens. Miss Izetta Lee was a visitor.

Juanita Perkins And T. J. Potter Marry

TEMPLE, Tex., June 9.—Miss Juanita Louella Perkins became the bride of Thomas J. Potter of Midland at 8 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Knight at 1006 South First street, with the Rev. C. E. Alexander performing the single ring ceremony.

The bride was dressed in navy blue with yellow accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow roses. The bride and groom were unattended with only immediate friends present.

The bride is a graduate of Scott and White hospital and was surgical nurse at Midwest hospital in Midland for several years. Mr. Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Potter of Midland, a pioneer family. He was graduated from Midland high school and attended Texas A. & M. College, and is now employed with Skelly Oil Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Potter left immediately after the ceremony for a brief trip to Corpus Christi after which they will be at home at 504 West Illinois, in Midland.

wash the stars and stripes for practical reasons since flags of good quality are made to stand up under exposure and years of wear. As with all colored fabrics, however, certain definite precautions must be observed. Don't soak the flag or leave it in the water any longer than necessary. Use all the soap you need to keep up a continuous frothy lather, and water that has been reduced to an even tepid temperature for both washing and rinsing. Soak up the excess moisture by rolling it in a towel for a moment before hanging it up to dry.

When it comes to drying you must be careful to obey the traditional rules for hanging the flag. Even though it flutters from the wash line, it must always be hung in a certain way. If the wash line runs north and south, the starchy field must face the north. If the line runs east and west, it must face the east. At no time should the flag be permitted to touch the ground.

Employers Warned to Pay Employment Tax

Expressing the opinion that hundreds of taxable employers in this district still labored under the misapprehension that they were not subject to the taxing provisions of Title VIII of the Social Security Act and were not obliged to file Treasury Form SS-1, Collector of Internal Revenue, W. A. Thomas, today called attention to that section of the act which provides that "every individual" shall pay income tax on wages and that "every employer" shall pay an excise tax on his employee's wages.

"Too many employers are confusing the provisions of Titles VIII and IX and think that because they do not employ as many as eight persons they are exempt from paying this tax," Mr. Thomas said. "This is not true. The Title VIII tax is due from every taxable employer, and from his employee. It is due and payable monthly. The employer deducts one per cent of the employee's wages and adds another one per cent as his own share of the tax."

Drastic penalties, ranging from 5 per cent to 25 per cent of the tax due, will be imposed on the employers who willfully neglect to pay this tax monthly, Collector Thomas warned, pointing out that when an employer makes a deduction from the employee's taxable wages under the provisions of Title VIII he becomes the custodian of federal funds. The law also makes the employer liable for the employee's tax on all wages paid by him whether he collects it from his employee or not.

Another point Mr. Thomas stressed was that there are no provisions under Title VIII for state participation, consequently no deductions are allowed. Both employer and employee must pay their full and equal share of the tax, which is based on the employee's wages. "Some employers have made the mistake of sending in their Treasury forms SS-1 to cover a two or three month

Delphian Club Entertains With A Morning Coffee

Mrs. C. Green Leads Program on Russia

Members of the Delphian Club entertained their guests at a coffee Tuesday morning at the Midland Country Club. Guests were received by the club officers, Mrs. Hal Peck, Mrs. W. T. Walsh, Mrs. Charles Klapproth, and Mrs. Wallace Irwin.

Coffee was poured by Mrs. Ross Williams and Mrs. Leo Hendricks. The table was laid with a Normandy lace cloth and centered with green tapers and a crystal bowl of geraniums and baby's breath.

Mrs. Peck opened the program by giving the Delphian aims and a history of the local chapter. A program on the Career of Tolstoy and the Literature of the Soviets was led by Mrs. Cecil Green. Papers given were as follows:

"Tolstoy As a Young Man," Mrs. Cecil Green.
"Tolstoy the Landed Proprietor," Mrs. W. T. Walsh.
"Tolstoy the Sage and Prophet," Mrs. Charles Klapproth.
"Influences Shaping Russia's Present Cultural Activities," Mrs. Curtis Bond.
"Drama in Soviet Russia," Mrs. F.

H. Schouten.
"Post Revolutionary Literature," Mrs. A. O. Thomas.
"Career of Rasputin," Mrs. Leo Hendricks.

The study table was covered with a Russian tablecloth, having brass candleholders on either side of a madana. A pencil sketch from a life portrait of Tolstoy was used. Those present were:

Mesdames W. H. Sloan, Robt. Turpin, L. E. West, N. E. Tanner, Chapell Davis, Frank Fuik, Dudley Wood, Tom Sealy, W. Bryant, Hal Peck, W. T. Walsh, Cecil Green, Chas. Klapproth, Curtis Bond, F. H. Schouten, A. O. Thomas, Leo Hendricks, Ross Williams, John Adams, Steve Debnam, J. D. Dillard, Wallace Irwin, E. P. Lamar, H. B. Dunagan, Fred Turner, Jr., John Haley.

Curtis Bond, Geo. M. Kirkwood, E. W. Cowden, W. L. Simmons, Fred Wemple, Jr., R. Steele Johnston, W. F. Hejl, Roy Parks, Poy Proctor, Geo. Ratliff, L. A. Denton, F. C. Cummings, Richard E. Gile, V. period," the Collector said. "This is not correct. A separate return must be made for each month based on the wages paid in that calendar month. The bureau will not accept accumulated returns."

Some employers, the Collector explained, are of the opinion that if the employee has no Social Security number they are not required to pay the tax assessed against both. This is not so. The employer must pay the full tax regardless of the employee's failure to produce a number. All employers should obtain the account number of each employee whether he be a new or old addition to the pay roll. In the event the employee shows no disposition to get a number, the employer at the time he files his Treasury form SS-1 should add to that return treasury form SS-5 in behalf of his reluctant employee.

Collector Thomas said much needless correspondence between the taxpayer and his office could be avoided if the employer took great care to sign that space in form SS-1 denoting his title. Only an officer of a member of the firm or one with a power of attorney in that space. Too many employers whose payments are over ten dollars fail to obtain a notary's signature and seal on Form SS-1, using instead the unsworn signature of two persons. This last method of attesting is available only to those whose employee-employer tax is ten dollars or less.

In the language of the act, those employers and employees who are exempted from the taxing provisions of Title VIII are as follows:

Agricultural labor; domestic service in a private home; casual labor not in the course of the employer's trade or business; service performed by an individual who has attained the age of sixty-five years; service performed as an officer or member of the crew of a vessel documented under the laws of the United States or of any foreign country; service performed in the employ of the United States government or of any instrumentalities of the United States; service performed in the employ of a state, a political subdivision thereof, or an instrumentality of one or more states or political subdivisions; service performed in the employ of a corporation, community chest, fund or foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes, or for the prevention of

CARDINALS AND SPUDDERS OPEN 3-GAME SERIES TODAY 4:30

RED BIRDS BACK TRIP ON THE ROAD FROM SUCCESSFUL

The Midland Cardinals and the Wink Spudders this afternoon at 4:30 will play the first of a three-day series at City Park.

The Cardinals returned this morning from Roswell where they won all three games played with the strong Sunshiners. The clean sweep of the Roswell series gave the Red Birds a record of six wins in seven games on the road and elevated them to 4 1/2 games ahead of Odessa, second place club, in the league standings.

After suffering a severe slump in both their fielding and hitting during most of their last home stay the Cardinals suddenly began to play the ball they are capable of during the road stand and once more have a commanding lead on top position.

The Spudders have shown they are not going to be cellar team by beating the Odessa Oilers three games in a row this week. Through their defeats of Odessa the Cardinals built up their league lead, but the Spudders are likely to prove just about as troublesome for the Cards as for Odessa. They have not played daylight ball for the past week but it will not take them long to adjust themselves to daytime games once they start.

Following the conclusion of the Wink series Friday the Roswell Sunshiners will be here for two games—Saturday and Sunday. In their last appearance here the Sunshiners split a two-game series with the Cardinals.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the Cards will be hosts to the up and coming Hobbs club. After having stayed in the cellar most of the season, the Hobbs club has indicated they are not going to be there much longer. At present they are tied with Monahans for the cellar but Manager Withers is hiring and firing players daily in an effort to get a winning combination together.

The Hobbs club took two games in a row from the Cards in their last appearance, then split two on their home field. The Red Birds are going to be out to keep the New Mexicans in the cellar, also to avenge the defeats handed them here.

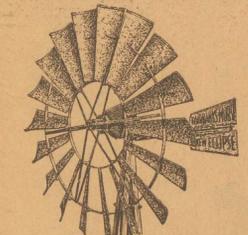

BY JESS RODGERS

A comparison not long ago by Ed Prael of the league leading Oklahoma City and the runner-up Beaumont clubs brings forth the thought that the situation in the WTNM League bears a very close resemblance, although the situation out here is directly reversed.

Whereas in the Texas League a bunch of Oklahoma City so-called times are leading the youthful Beaumont club, and gradually adding a little to their lead, in the circuit out here the youthful Midland Cardinals are slowly but surely pulling up a little more ahead of the veteran Odessa club.

Taking the Midland and Odessa clubs man for man the age variance would probably be somewhere close to 10 years. Behind the plate the Cardinals would be offering Potocar in comparison to Barbee. Potocar is not more than 21, if that old, while Barbee has been catching for the strong Texon club for the last half dozen years, possibly longer.

At first base Paul Schiffner would probably shade Bailey White by at least five years. On second the margin is probably greater between Orr and Hoffman. At short, little "Rabbit" Stein, who might be 20, has a lot of years advantage over either Ray or Decker. At third the situation is much the same when comparing Serafine and Capps; however, not nearly as much as was the difference as there was in the ages of Serafine and Dorley, third baseman for the Oilers early in the year.

In the outfield, the Cardinal trio of Nook, Randell and Murphy will probably not average over 20 years; the Oiler outfield patrol is undoubtedly quite a bit older. As for the pitching staff, the margin there is greater than at any other place. Odessa has yet to place a pitcher on the mound—that we have seen—who is less than one score and ten. And some of them would probably be glad to drop back to 30.

Without comparing the relative merits of the club man for man we will pick the Cardinals to remain ahead of the Oilers, barring unforeseen accidents over which they have no control. It is extremely doubtful if Charley Bryan can have the same amount of control over the group of old heads on his club that Wray Query and Joe Davis can have over the bunch of youngsters they have corraled.

Taking ball players as a whole it is doubtful if there is any other group of athletes that will dissipate as consistently. Why, we won't pretend to say, nevertheless, the fact remains. And it is a certainty a bunch of youngsters will not be as apt to break out of bounds as often as will a bunch of old players. Kids just have more of the old "college try" and desire to hold their jobs than do veterans. Most of them still believe they have a future in the game in leagues of high classification; a veteran class D player realizes he is just about as high as he will ever go and will not put out any helluva lot to improve on his game.

Incidentally, we would like to know how Charley Bryan is managing to use men on his team that are holding down jobs in other towns. Catcher Barbee's name still appears in the Texon line-up and in all probabilities he is still holding his job in that town. Also, we doubt that Bill Duncan would quit his job at Crane to sign up for the comparatively small salary that he would get for playing with the Oilers. We are not criticizing Bryan but we do wonder just how he figures to come out ahead using men like that. He couldn't sell them, neither could he trade them. From a nondescript performer in 1936 to a booming threat for the league batting title this year, Walt Reinhardt of Roswell has shown

CARDS SWEEP SERIES WITH ROSWELL BY TAKING THIRD STRAIGHT 11 TO 5

ROSWELL, June 8. (SPL). — The Midland Cardinals beat the Roswell Sunshiners for the third straight time today, 11-5, giving them a clean sweep of the three game series.

The league leaders jumped on Miller for 11 hits and 9 runs before he was chased in the fifth; Scott replacing him.

Henderson, Roswell outfielder, hit probably the longest blow ever seen at Thorne park when he smashed a home run drive high over the scoreboard in centerfield with one on in the third.

Thomas chalked up his second victory of the season for the Red Birds. He gave up 11 hits but was stingy in the pinches and got some good support from his mates, only one error being charged against them.

The win placed the Cardinals 4 1/2 games ahead of the second place Odessa Oilers who lost their third straight to Wink.

Social History Covers Pueblos

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (U.P.) — A two-month population study of San Juan Parish here is being conducted by Dr. J. H. Watkins, assistant professor of public health at the Yale University School of Medicine.

Documents which have been preserved by the priests of the old San Juan church are among the oldest systems of records of any population in America. Baptisms, marriages and deaths of the San Juan Pueblo Indians and Spanish colonists have been recorded in these documents and kept as far back as 1726, according to Dr. Watkins.

Complete History of Race Although records rivaling those of San Juan in age have been discovered along the Atlantic coast, in New England and California, none of them furnish the complete picture of a single race that the records here do of the San Juan Indians.

The documents at the San Juan parish have preserved for more than 200 years the population trends and fluctuations of a clearly defined stock, unaffected by the waves of immigration and migrations that complicate the records of other North American social groups. Dr. Watkins' chief concern in his study is the historical significance of the San Juan records, which are kept in archives of the Catholic archdiocese at Santa Fe, N. M.

Population Trend Sought He is endeavoring to find how this population has reacted to climatic conditions and disease, how its growth has compared with that of other races, chiefly Spanish, under similar conditions, and what definite population trends are shown.

A secondary part of his study will include the application of his findings in predicting future growth of the Indians. The primary purpose of the study is to correlate the historical facts of the San Juan parish. Dr. Watkins said, although any trends discovered will be used in an effort to project into the future, and any conclusion found will be used in further studies.

The study is financed by a grant from the Carnegie Foundation, and the completed survey will be turned over to the government.

of industry, all the symptoms of economic stagnation so familiar in Britain, the United States, and elsewhere under the regime of financial conservatism. A cabinet crisis developed.

King Leopold himself was a novice at ruling. He had succeeded his lamented father only a year and a month before. He was also a novice at economics.

So the King sent for outside help. He called a brilliant French economist, of the new school, to Brussels. Day by day, for hours at a time, the economist worked with the king, instructing him in the whole theory of finance. Leopold was endlessly curious, never satisfied until he knew the reasons for each proposal.

Leopold Picked Him

MEANWHILE, Belgium was without a cabinet. The "old-gang" politicians who had been ruling Belgium for years drew up a slate.

"This," they told the French economist, "will be the new cabinet. You see, it's almost the same as the last, with a few names shifted around." They sent the list to King Leopold. It was, they said, "in the bag."

An hour passed. Then another. The official "rubberstamp" on the cabinet slate did not emerge. The "old-gang" grew nervous. Something was wrong.

From their point of view, it was. When the list came out, it looked different from the one sent in. And the name of the practically unknown, certainly politically inexperienced, Paul Van Zeeland led them all, as Premier!

From that day on, the young premier and the young king have been new-dealing together. So far they have won their battle. Belgium is much better off than she was previously.

Paul Van Zeeland and Franklin D. Roosevelt should have a lot to talk about!

Sheepherders Aid Fliers

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (U.P.) — The art of sheepherding, old as it is, occasionally can be of benefit to the newer art of flying. Recently two airplanes circled, helplessly over the Klamath Falls airport, unable to land. Sheepherders fixed that. They chased a flock of sheep off the runway so the hapless fliers could return to earth.

MY OWN SUCCESS STORY

Giving people more mileage

I like people to know that I'm not just hired at my station. I'm the proprietor, making my living, all on my own. Naturally I'm choosy about anything I recommend, so no matter how close you might check whatever I say about mileage and performance, I can always look you square in the eye. And that goes double for my Conoco Germ Processed oil. It is the only kind that can Oil-Plate your engine. The patent Germ Process, you might say, gives this oil a real strong "yen" for metal. The oil actually joins up with every working part, always leaving a durable, slippery Oil-Plating that cannot run down, whether your car is stopped or hitting it up. Then you can start up a thousand times a day, or streak along from morning till night. But Oil-Plating will still be there, heading off wear, and letting you skip a lot of stops you used to make for oil. You'll be back here saying even more than me, about all your mileage and performance from Conoco Germ Processed oil.
