More Blood Shed In Steel Strike Zone

Burglars Make Escape After Gunfight With Local Man

Punished Poser

When a candid camera craze struck Maryland College for Women at Lutherville, daring, dark-eyed Jean Brand posed like this for the other girl students, but the picture circulated, even to a national magazine, strangely enough. The dean objected, ordered Jean confined to the campus for the rest of the term. She objected, quit.

World's First Bale Of 1937 Cotton Put On Edinburg Market

EDINBURG, June 15. (AP)—What is claimed to be the world's first 1937 bale of cotton moved from Starr county Monday.

Francisco Perez Lozano for the fifth time in his experience as a cotton producer laid claims to the honor which carries with it an award of $500 from the Southern Bagging Company.

The bale was taken by truck, driven by C. R. Kitzpatrick, president of the Edinburg chamber of commerce, accompanied by John Paul Jones of Edinburg for the Corpus Christi market.

ALLRED URGES A HALT BE CALLED ON GAMBLING WAR

Talk to Legislature Roundly Scored In Both Houses

AUSTIN, June 15. (AP)—Governor Allred today urged the legislature to call a halt to the war on gambling before invading the privacy of homes.

The house yesterday broadened a bill against dog track betting to outlaw all gambling, including bridge in the homes and shooting marbles for keeps on playgrounds.

The governor said he had been making a fight against public, commercial gambling, particularly the racketeering type but that he does not want to see the government invade the privacy of homes.

The governor's message drew fire from critics in both houses. Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth said the message was "vindicative and the unfairest" ever sent to a Texas legislature.

Representative George Howard of Houston moved to expunge the governor's message from the records on grounds that it impinged the integrity of the amendment's author.

TWO SURPRISED IN ATTEMPT TO ROB CACTUS CLUB HERE

One Believed Shot In Escaping From Building

EXCHANGE SHOTS Proprietor and One Burglar Engage In Duel

Two burglars who were surprised in an attempt to rob the Cactus Club, pool hall and domino parlor over the Midland Drug, about 3 a. m. today had apparently made good their escape this afternoon, neither of them being apprehended. It was believed that one of the men was suffering from a bullet wound in his right side.

Leslie Van Dyke, co-proprietor of the club, is reported to have told officers that he was asleep in a small room in the southeast corner of the main room this morning when he heard noises out on the main floor. He took a .380 automatic, stepped out, pulled a light cord and commanded a man a few feet from him to throw up his hands. The man complied with his demand.

At the same time another man, unseen before by Van Dyke called to him:

"Drop that gun or I'll kill you."

Van Dyke immediately swung his gun in the direction of the second man, firing as he did so. In semi-darkness the two then waged a pistol duel with each other. Van Dyke firing five times and the burglar firing three times. All of the bullets fired by the burglar struck dangerously close to Van Dyke, two of them not appearing to more than six inches from where he was standing. While Van Dyke was exchanging shots with the man the latter managed to back to a toilet in the northwest part of the building and escape out a window and down a ladder at the side of the building. Van Dyke expressed an opinion one of his shots took effect as only four of the bullets fired by him could be found embedded in the walls.

When the shooting first started the first man discovered by Van Dyke ducked down behind the bar and raced down the front stairway, tearing out plate glass door in gaining freedom from the building. He dropped a .38 Colt on the stairs; the gun being recovered later by Van Dyke. The pistol used by the other burglar in the gunfight was believed to be a six-shooter as the shells were not thrown out.

The burglars first, apparently, entered the upstairs of the Ever-Ready service station, adjoining the club on the west. They got about $5 or $6 in loose change from the Ever-Ready cash register, which was open, then apparently went out an upstairs window. They entered the north window of the club by prying a screen loose at the bottom and breaking the window fastener and opening it.

After they got in, they jimmied the Cactus Club cash register and took $10 in change. They then took time out to drink two bottles of beer. Later they bored 1/2-inch holes in the floor, making an opening in the top-floor about 10 1/2 by 12 inches. However, they failed to penetrate the sub-floor, over the Midland drug.

In making their escape the burglars left a kit, containing a new rope and heavy hammer, also a brace and bit and a dark coat.

CAUTION DRIVERS TRAFFIC LAWS TO BE ENFORCED HERE

Stricter Obedience To Laws Urged By Patrolman

City Patrolman Coons announced today that hereafter he is going to be more strict on enforcement of overparking, parking over the white parking lines and parking cars and trucks in restricted zones.

With the announcement that he had quite a bit of trouble in stopping truck drivers from parking in alleys and thereby blocking travel through them, he said that tickets would be given for each offense.

Coons has been marking cars and trucks for their first offenses, of giving tickets until the second time drivers were guilty of violations; and the same system will be followed on overparking and parking across the lines. But double-parking and parking in restricted zones will be penalized at each occurrence hereafter, he said.

Citizens generally have cooperated with him in his enforcement of the new ordinances, he said, but several have consistently refused to make an effort to follow instructions.

Persons hailed into court for the first time have been either freed or given the minimum fine by Judge Knowles, with each offense afterwards netting stiffer penalties.

Garbage Collectors Give Evidence To Federals

KEPT FROM HOME

Entrance Prohibited Day Mrs. Parsons Disappeared

STONY BROOK, N. Y. June 15. (AP)—Two garbage collectors today told federal agents that last Wednesday, the day Mrs. Alice McDonnell Parsons vanished, they were not allowed to enter the Parsons Long Island home as usual.

They said it was the first time such a thing had happened in four years. They declared Mrs. Anna Kupryanova, Russian housekeeper and companion of Mrs. Parsons, met them, pointed to a large package tied with cord and told them "that was all."

Officers said that the story of the man was getting the "most careful consideration."

A brother of Mrs. Parsons said he believed his sister had been abducted by amateurs who are awaiting a favorable opportunity to communicate with the family.

WPA OFFICES IN BIG SPRING SHUT

Director Transferred To Marshall; Midland Now In Angelo District

BIG SPRING, June 15. (SPL)—District No. 18 WPA headquarters in Big Spring has become all but a thing of the past Monday as the staff separated and a few pieces of remaining furniture were moved.

R. H. McNew, district director here since the program opened in July 1935, closed the office one day in advance of the official closing date and prepared to leave for his new assignment as assistant district No. 1 director at Marshall.

He said that he and his family would leave Wednesday. In closing out the district office here, through which little less than one million dollars of work has been handled in two years, he expressed appreciation "to sponsors and local people for a fine spirit of co-operation and patient appreciation for our work." This attitude on the part of the public and sponsors made the functions of the district office devoid of perplexing problems which might have arisen, he said.

WPA projects will go on without interruption while on his way to New Remind. Big Spring and Howard county, along with Glasscock, Martin, Midland and Ector, will be served by the San Angelo district office.

Three large truck loads of records were moved from here last week with the bulk being dispatched Saturday to San Angelo. Twenty members of the district staff here have either been assigned to WPA duty elsewhere, or have not yet accepted appointments tendered them, McNew disclosed.

WAR DEBTS TO THE U. S. DUE TODAY; ONLY ONE TO PAY

Finland Only Nation To Continue Its Payments

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—War debt installments totaling $1,500,000,000 fall due today from 13 European countries, but there is no sign that the merest fraction will be paid.

Only Finland, owing $163,143, has announced its intention of paying promptly as usual. All the other countries have been in default since 1933.

Recent expressions in France and Great Britain—the largest debtors—of hope that something might be done soon about a possible settlement of the war debt problem have not been followed as yet by any official action.

The United States has voiced its willingness to consider any refunding proposal.

Of today's total bill, $205,388,754 is the regular semi-annual installment and $1,314,281,109 represents payments in arrears.

NEGRO GIVEN YEAR IN DISTRICT COURT

A negro man, Anderson 'Black and Tan' Parson, was given a year in the penitentiary yesterday by a district court jury here for assault with intent to kill, following indictment for an attack with a knife upon another negro, Henry Woodberry.

J. W. Jones was given two years in the penitentiary on two counts, car theft and forgery, the sentences to run concurrently. He pleaded guilty to both charges and threw himself upon the mercy of the court, dispensing with a jury.

The grand jury met again today and were investigating the death of Raymond Webb, Midland floor finisher, who died at a local hospital of stab wounds allegedly inflicted in a dance hall fight at Walker's place at the Lightfoot camp east of Midland. Two men Scott Stringer and Winford Crow were charged with murder by officials investigating the death of Webb.

STRIKES GATHER MOMENTUM IN 8 NORTHERN STATES

80,000 Now Involved As New Walkouts Are Ordered

SEVERAL HURT

8 at Ambridge and 7 At Johnstown Are Hurt in Fights

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. June 15. (AP)—A CIO siege of steel plants involving 80,000 men in seven states of the great lakes region gathered momentum with new bloodshed today.

One person was stabbed and a score beaten at Ambridge, Pa., as 500 CIO pickets assaulted 50 members of the American Federation of Labor seeking to return to work at the National Electric Products plant.

Seven were injured, two critically here shortly after midnight as pickets and police clashed at the gates of the Bethlehem steel company plant.

It was the second flare of violence of the night at the Cambria plant, now involved with a C. I. O. called strike. Pickets and state police clashed last night at another entrance to the huge works. One man was injured and four were arrested.

Meanwhile, the steel workers' organizing committee lightened its grip upon strike-beset steel producers with a projected nationwide embargo against mines supplying them with fuel.

Three persons were injured in violence at the gates of Bethlehem Steel Corp. plants here while the vanguard of 10,131 miners in pits owned by four independent steel companies were answering the strike call of John L. Lewis.

Local authorities swore in citizen vigilantes to preserve order. Homer Martin, UAWA head, said that Detroit auto workers might refuse to handle steel made where strikes have been called in plants, and framed new demands on General Motors.

Insurgents were so close that rifle bullets fell in the city streets, as long lines of automobiles carried refugees westward on the bay of Biscay coast to government-held Santander.

TOWARD DEMOCRACY

When the spring elections in Belgium dealt a crushing blow to the ambitions of that country's Fascist party, it began to look as if the swing toward dictatorship might be subsiding in Europe. Further evidence to the same effect is now provided by the elections in Holland.

In Holland the voters gave a strong endorsement to the "middle of the road" policies of Premier Hendrikus Colijn. The Dutch Nazi party, which had expected to win at least 10 seats in Parliament, apparently gets no more than four. The Dutch Communists suffered a similar setback and evidently must forfeit several of the seats they now hold.

For a time it looked as if the swing toward dictatorship would be irresistible. The democracies have got their second wind, however, and the old standards of freedom and liberty are advancing once more.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 14. — Vacancies on two of the most important of the independent federal commissions are forcing the administration to decide whether it wants to abandon the habit of filling such vital posts with weak sisters and political hacks.

Herbert J. Drane is quitting the Federal Power Commission and Irvin Stewart, in open disgust, has left the Federal Communications Commission.

The Federal Power Commission, although charged with regulation of electric energy in interstate commerce, and although it is now actively lobbying for the huge task of supervising and co-ordinating the Roosevelt program of separating the country into eight regional developments along the line of TVA, is notoriously weak.

The Federal Communications Commission is commonly regarded here as the New Deal's hottest hotbed of scandal. It has supervision over radio, telephones, telegraph, and television. Although there is plenty of violent arguments as to the relative performances of other government agencies under the New Deal, few insiders in Washington will argue with much heat that the FCC has not put on as disgraceful a performance as any. The general idea here is that "politics and favoritism" should be engraved as a motto on FCC's front door. Stewart was the commission member most conspicuous for a combination of honesty and ability.

Rate Cuts Chief Pride
VARIOUS "deserving Democrats" are after the two posts. They include certain members of Congress, some too confident of renomination and re-election next year, who would prefer the assurance of a nice steady job to the trials, tribulations, and expense of the next campaign.

The outstanding job of FCC has been the investigation of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the subsequent rate reduction in long distance telephone rates negotiated principally by Carl

Driscoll's Name to Fore
THE situation as to the Federal Power Commission vacancy is similar. This commission was so severely criticized that a national power policy committee was created to perform the function of thinking and planning on a national scale, a function that was previously supposed to be within the commission's bailiwick. And when the public utilities holding company bill was passed, Congress deemed it advisable to commit administration and enforcement not to the FPC but to the securities exchange.

Either someone like Wheat will be appointed to the commission or the lobbyists and politicians will persuade Roosevelt to appoint a congressman or other favorite who can be depended upon to be as sweetly reasonable to the detriment of the public interests as most other members of the commission have been.

Chances are fairly bright that the post will go to a Texas congressman who wants a relatively permanent job.

Few things are more important in Washington than the appointment to the several independent commissions. Inadequacy of the Federal Trade and Interstate Com-

If Du Pont-Roosevelt Nuptial Festivities Go Awry, Mrs. MacMullan Will Be Blamed

Expert Supervises Philadelphia Party

By NEA Service
PHILADELPHIA, June 15—The much-heralded wedding of the du Pont and Roosevelt scions may be an event which pricks the public's curiosity more than any story since the recent nuptials of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. But to a slim bright-eyed, exceptionally busy society matron of this city, the affair on June 30 is another job.

And, although she has been busy planning the invitations, the guest list, the seating arrangements, the food, the decorations and the music ever since March, she insists that the du Pont-Roosevelt bridal party is no more important nor expensive than a series of other June weddings, for whose arrangements she is responsible.

Arranging an affair like the wedding of Ethel du Pont and Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., is all in the day's work for energetic Mrs. Edward J. MacMullan (above), Philadelphia socialite.

You see, Mrs. Edward J. MacMullan, to whom the job of seeing that everything goes right at this uniting of the president's son and munitions magnate's daughter, has been in the business of planning important weddings, debutante parties and teas for 14 years.

June has always been a heavy month for her and this June promises to be even more rushed than usual.

"Managed" Parties Are Still Good Fun

"I started in this business," she explained in an interview, "in order to render a much-needed service whereby all the details of debutante parties and weddings might be taken from the shoulders of the mothers and daughters. But I never, never take the fun of giving a party away from them. My business is to relieve them of responsibility, but not of any attendant pleasures."

Naturally, running as many parties as she does necessitates her employing a large staff. She has numerous secretaries who take care of the invitations, numerous typists who make up lists of guests. She has in her service young society women who help in the matter of receiving and hosting.

"I have my own lists of guests but I always use these in cooperation with the hostess and her lists," Mrs. MacMullan says. "A tea list, for instance, is always made up entirely of friends of the hostess. When it comes to a wedding list, I work with the mother and the daughter. At debutante parties, it is always necessary to supply extra boys because of this system of cut-in dancing."

"At a dancing party, we must have twice as many boys as girls; at a large ball three times as many, to assure an adequate stagline. It's a vicious system and it spoils dancing, I think. A popular girl doesn't get a chance to dance really at all, because she changes partners so often. And the girls who are neglected by the stag-line have a perfectly miserable time."

"I noticed a change creeping in this winter, though. Often when the orchestra was playing a beautiful Viennese waltz, I saw girls flatly refusing to be cut in on. They enjoyed the dancing of a partner so much they weren't going to have it spoiled by taking a new partner every few steps."

"Another thing I noticed was that behavior among young people at parties is better since repeal, noticeably so. Most of the boys drink tomato juice, which we always serve on the cocktail trays. And both boys and girls drink quantities of milk. I always encourage a milk bar at parties."

Has Run Other du Pont Parties

Mrs. MacMullan, who lives in Rosemont, a fashionable suburb of Philadelphia, has her offices in the Bellevue-Stratford in a sumptuous suite. From this suite, Mrs. MacMullan directs her varied activities. She herself supervises every party and even if she has as many as three parties in one evening, she goes to all three of them for a time, leaving a few of her secretaries at each one.

"The people for whom I plan parties give them not to make a display or a show, as some people may imagine," she says, "but in order to give their daughters a dignified introduction to the world or to give their children a wedding in good taste. Surely they are entitled to that."

Mrs. MacMullan "got the job" of the du Pont-Roosevelt wedding logically enough, for she arranged Ethel du Pont's parties in her debutante year. She is now arranging the debutante party for Almee du Pont, Ethel's younger sister, that will take place next fall. And it was Mrs. MacMullan who arranged the famous Widener Ball for John Peabody at the Bellevue-Stratford here last winter.

"I don't know what made everyone so curious about that Widener ball," Mrs. MacMullan went on. "I myself had two other balls just as large the same week as the Widener Ball and neither of them got any publicity at all. I guess it was just one of those unpredictable things."

"I do have most of the debutantes in Wilmington and Philadelphia and the suburbs of Philadelphia. I arrange teas, dinner dances, balls and dances. Yacht entertainment is informal and is almost always arranged by the people themselves. I merely give suggestions for clothes but I don't do anything much about them; I'm not interested in planning clothes and I find that the mothers and daughters usually know what they want to wear."

"What I do arrange is the catering, the decorating, the parking of cars, the entertainment, the seating of the diners. It's important to know how to seat people because if you place a girl who is interested only in horses next to a boy who cares nothing at all about them, they won't have a good time."

Roosevelt Wedding Only Average in Cost

"As to financing a party, the usual procedure is that the hostess tells me approximately what she can spend and then I tell her what she can get for it. Sometimes, of course, the figures have to be revised. I get a great deal of satisfaction from doing a lot for a hostess who can spend comparatively little. I often work on a budget system, working out exactly what it's possible to get within a limited sum. My mothers won't throw their money away and I like to see that they get as much as possible."

"Of course the kind of entertainment varies with the price. When a hostess wants a floor show, that mounts up. The du Pont-Roosevelt wedding is not at all outstanding in the matter of costs. It is the same in cost as a dozen others I am arranging for this month. It will be a simple ceremony; the young people are both very sweet and that is all I can say about that. Yes, the invitations went out two weeks ago and they did contain a map showing people how to get to the du Pont home."

Mrs. MacMullan does not consider her work related to that of experts in etiquette, but she does say that she often has to tell people the fine points, like how to walk in a wedding procession, which side the bride walks on, and other related small, though important items. She never gets tired of planning parties, or even of giving to them, and she would find it almost impossible to ascertain how many parties she has gone to in fourteen years.

DRILLERS CONTINUE TO HOLD INDIAN SIGN ON CARDINALS, COP OPENER 13-5

The Hobbs Drillers continued to be the hardest club in the league for the fifth place club moved in again yesterday and took the Cardinals to the tune of 13-5.

Kyle Riddle, until recently the number 1 pitcher at Texas A & M, was on the mound for the winners, and while not looking overly impressive, he was far better than Daiss and deserved to win.

It was the same old story with Daiss—he was as wild as a March hare. And when he "slowed up" to get the ball over he found the Hobbs hitters ready. Daiss walked eight Drillers, Kaerwer getting four of the free tickets. He gave up 10 hits and hit one, which with seven errors by his mates was more than enough for the New Mexicans to walk off with the game.

The Drillers took a one run lead in the first inning but the Cards went two ahead in the third on a hit batsman, a double and two singles. But they failed to hold the lead long as the visitors made 5 runs in the third when 11 men marched to the plate. In this hectic frame Potocar made two errors, Orr made two, Daiss walked three and gave up three hits.

The Cards made two more in the fifth but they failed to help any. The Drillers kept pecking away at Daiss, making one in the sixth, one in the seventh and coming through with five more in the ninth. The Cards managed to boot three more in the ninth to make a total of seven errors for the day. Daiss finally struck out the last two men to stop the scoring.

League President Milton Price was in the stand and witnessed what was probably one of the sorriest games of the season. A strong wind whipped sand across the playing field all during the game, not only giving the players and spectators a lot of trouble but also the umpires. Umpire Currie, behind the plate, had "sand in his eye" all afternoon and did little to appease the feelings of the Midland fans who were watching the club take a sound drubbing.

Approximately 150 fans stuck out the game despite the sand, errors and numerous base hits. Riddle struck out 11 and walked six while Daiss struck out eight and walked the same number. Riddle twice hit Murphy while the Midland right fielder was at the plate while Bates was unable to dodge one of Daiss' heaves in the second inning.

The same two clubs will meet again today with either Frost or Thomas scheduled to be on the mound for the Cards.

"Who's Portraying Who?" James Dunn Asks Self In "Venus Makes Trouble"

In his latest picture, James Dunn portrays a character so like a fellow named James Dunn that after the film had been before the camera a few days Jimmy was never certain when he was acting and when he was not.

It just so happens that in Columbia's new romantic comedy "Venus Makes Trouble," Jimmy is seen as a sales promoter who thinks fast and talks faster. The actor broke into the movies some years ago because of his mental and vocal powers.

Jimmy comes by his rapid-fire patter honestly. He was born in New York, where his father, a Wall Street stock and bond broker, enjoyed a reputation as a man who could get in two yesses to any prospect's no.

Intending that the boy should become either a bond broker or a corporation attorney, Jimmy's father installed him in the brokerage office as soon as his son finished school. He didn't know that Jimmy was nursing a yen for an acting career.

Jimmy's chance came when some mining stock was to be delivered to a client who happened to be a motion picture casting director. Jimmy grabbed the stock and delivered it to the director, and then began talking—fast. He talked so fast and convincing that he was a "movie actor" by the time he took a breath.

Peculiarly enough, when the mining stock proved worthless Jimmy lost his movie job. That meant only one thing—he would have to talk his way into something else. So Jimmy sold himself as an actor to an Englewood, (N. J.) stock company. One stock role led to another, as they sometimes do, and then Jimmy found himself on Broadway in "Night Stick." His performance in this play led to a lead opposite Helen Morgan in "Sweet Adeline," and he was practically famous. In 1931, Jimmy made his screen debut with Sally Eilers in "Bad Girl"; he's been a star ever since. "Come Closer, Folks" and "Two-Fisted Gentleman" are two of Jimmy's more recent pictures.

In "Venus Makes Trouble," Jimmy shares honors with Patricia Ellis. Others in the cast include Gene Morgan, Thurston Hall and Astrid Allwyn. Gordon Wiles directed. Michael L. Simmons wrote the story and screen play.

Jamboree News. BILLY NOBLE. In slightly more than a week the Midland scouts will entrain for what will probably be one of the most colorful and eventful trips they will ever take. At approximately 6:35 a. m., June 24, we will step onto the special car provided for the Buffalo Trail contingent and start for the glorious and famous capital of the United States of America. Arriving there probably June 26, we will have a three-day training camp before the gala pre-opening day, June 29. On June 30 the official opening Camp-fire and Torch Ceremony will begin the Jamboree. Of course, excursions and sight-seeing will be carried out on that day, but the camp-fire actually starts the stupendous and colossal undertaking. Lack of time and space prevents a complete program of details as worked out by the Jamboree officials, but we shall attempt to present a typical day in camp. There will be no "beauty rest" or an extra "forty winks" on a Jamboree morning for reveille will be sounded at 7:00 a. m. and at 7:45 a. m. breakfast will be served. From 9:00 to 12:30 a. m. excursions, sight-seeing, and arena display rehearsals will take place. The hungry mob will take up knife and fork at 12:30 p. m. After a short rest period activities again will be started at 2:00 p. m. Excursions will be resumed at that time and an hour later the camp theatres will begin performances, one at 3:00 p. m. and one at 4:30 p. m. With appetite thoroughly whet by the day's activities, the boys will dine at 6:00 p. m. Bringing to a close "a perfect day," camp-fire and Arena displays will begin at 8:00 p. m. A thoroughly happy and tired group of scouts will "turn in" at 10:00 p. m. as "taps" ends the activities of an eventful day in the Jamboree. REFUSES STRIKE DUTY. OUTLOOK FOR SUMMER RANGE FEEDS IN STATE FOUND MATERIALLY IMPROVED

The outlook for summer range feeds in Texas was materially improved on June 1, according to the monthly Livestock and Range Report of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, issued through the office of V. C. Childs, senior agricultural statistician. The droughty situation in the northwest and west portions of Texas was effectively broken by heavy general rains during May, but in central and south Texas rains were spotted, and in east and southeast Texas it was very dry. The sheep area of the Edwards Plateau and much of the Trans-Pecos region was well covered by moisture during the last two days of May. Localities in the dry south district received some moisture and rains were continuing into June through most of the dry areas of central, east, and southeast Texas. The late rains, however, came too late in May to be altogether reflected by improved range conditions as of June 1.

The condition of cattle ranges on June 1, 1937, at 76 per cent of normal is 4 points below the condition reported a month ago, 12 points below a year ago, and 9 points below the 10-year average. The late rains, however, have greatly improved the outlook for summer grazing, and the condition of ranges should show rapid improvement during early June. Last year the rainfall through May was general and sufficiently early to be reflected in a high reported condition of ranges on June 1. Sheep ranges were much below the 10 year average condition for June 1, but recent rains have greatly improved the situation. Local areas are still in need of moisture, but most of the sheep and goat country received an abundance of moisture during May and early June, and generally, the present outlook is favorable.

Weeds and matured grass have furnished grazing in most areas during May, but droughty conditions have caused considerable poverty movement from the dry southern district. Other areas, however, had not reached a stage of moving livestock to more favored areas. The movement of cattle to market and to northern pastures in Oklahoma and Kansas was very heavy during May, and prices of most classes were very satisfactory. The condition of cattle was only 1 point below the condition reported a month ago and is now rated at 81 per cent of normal. Most of the "shrink" occurred in the dry areas of south and southeast Texas. Cattle held up well in other districts and in some favored areas marked gains were made. Cattle that were marketed during May were in better than average flesh.

While conditions through the sheep area were becoming very dry, sheep were holding up well and lambs were making good growth, except in a limited area of the southeast portion of the Trans-Pecos region. Present conditions are satisfactory, and a heavy movement of spring lambs may be expected during June. The movement of shorn yearlings and other sheep reached a record proportion during April when approximately 400,000 head of sheep and lambs moved to markets and to other states. The shipments to markets and to other states during the first three weeks of May will probably establish another record sheep movement from Texas, but shipments were greatly curtailed during the last week of May following the decline in prices. While the condition of sheep at 83 per cent of normal is 4 points below a month ago, the outlook for summer grazing is more favorable since moisture has fallen over most of the sheep area.

Western ranges are in fair to good condition, but considerably below average. Feed prospects were greatly improved by late May and early June rains. Cattle and sheep are making good gains with better feed, according to the monthly Livestock and Range Report of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics issued through the Denver regional office.

Western ranges and pastures made slow growth during May and did not make the usual improvement. Late May and early June rains greatly improved range feed prospects in the dry areas of the western Great Plains and southwest, but some northern and local areas are still short of moisture. Range conditions did not show the marked improvement during May 1937 that came in May 1935 following the 1934 drought. Range conditions are below the ten-year average condition in all the western states except New Mexico, Arizona, Washington, Utah, and Nevada. The range condition for June 1 of 76 per cent is the lowest in fifteen years of record, except on June 1, 1934, when the condition was 70 per cent. Moisture is still short in eastern and north-central Montana and parts of western North Dakota. Western Montana and Wyoming have good feed prospects. The eastern Nebraska, and Kansas have good moisture and feed prospects. Recent rains broke the drought situation in the western South Dakota, western Nebraska, and eastern Wyoming areas. General recent rains gave much needed moisture to drought areas of western Kansas, eastern Colorado, western Oklahoma, eastern New Mexico, and the dry areas of north and south Texas. Summer feed prospects are generally good in Texas and Oklahoma. Late rains will permit the planting of feed crops in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. There are a few dry spots in southwest and northwest New Mexico and

Social Security Made Simple

Question No. 14
QUESTION: May an employee use a name on his Social Security account card other than the exact name under which he was born?

ANSWER: An employee may use a name on his account card other than the name under which he was born. He should, however, show his real name on line 1 of the application, sign his name on the application as he usually signs it, and attach to such application a request that his account card be issued in a name other than that shown on line 1.

It is necessary the employee's real name be shown on line 1 in order that proper identification may be made at the time he applies for benefits, and for verification of his age. His account card will then be given to him under the name by which he is known to his employer.

TELEPHONE CO. IN NEW OFFICES HERE

Much New Equipment Being Put in For Benefit Of Subscribers

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. moved into its new public business office here yesterday. A. O. Thomas, District Manager, announced this morning. The new office is located in the recently completed front extension to the present building at the corner of Big Spring and Missouri streets, 2 block west and a block south of the former location. The office is attractively equipped with new furnishing throughout. Walnut desks and chairs have been purchased. The walls and ceiling have been finished in a light cream color and the linoleum has been laid on the floors. Venetian blinds will be installed within the next few days. Installation of one new section of switchboard for local subscribers and three new positions for long distance calls is well under way and should be completed early in July, Thomas said. The new switchboard equipment is being installed in the new 28 foot addition to the rear of the building.

The company's $24,000 expansion program in Midland was started last January.

southeast Arizona. Ranges are good in Utah and Nevada. Range feed is generally good in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and southeastern Washington. California has good feed in the south, but below average elsewhere. Lower northern California ranges have matured rapidly. Higher and mountain ranges are generally good in all western states. The condition of ranges is 76 per cent of normal, compared with 75 per cent last month, 83 per cent a year ago, and the ten year (1927-1936) average of 84.4 per cent.

Cattle are generally in good condition and made fair to good gains during May in areas of better feed. A few cattle are thin in the dry northern Great Plains areas and a few local areas. May cattle shipments were heavy from western feeding areas, with a good volume of grass-fat cattle from Southern California. Texas cattle shipments were heavy during May. Demand for cattle in the northern areas, where cattle numbers were reduced by drought, was limited by lack of feed. Texas and most areas that had good feed last year have a good calf crop. The condition of cattle is 82 per cent of normal, compared with 80 per cent last month, 86 per cent a year ago, and the ten year (1927-1936) average of 86.1 per cent.

Sheep are generally in good condition except in the 1936 drought areas. May gains were limited by slow growth of feed. Recent rains improved sheep ranges in Texas and New Mexico. Texas and New Mexico generally have good crops east of the Continental Divide, except in the 1936 drought areas. The lamb crop west of the Rockies is fair to good, with some winter loss in California and Oregon. Early lambs have developed slowly in Idaho, with only fair progress in Oregon and Washington. Most of the fat lambs have moved from California, but many feeder lambs are left. The Texas sheep and lamb shipments in May were the heaviest on record, following a heavy April movement. The condition of sheep and lambs is 86 per cent of normal, compared with 85 per cent last month, 87 per cent a year ago, and the ten year (1927-1936) average of 85.3 per cent.
