DYNAMITE BLASTS ARE REPORTED IN MAHONING VALLEY

Canton Worker Tells Officers His Home Is Bombed

BOARD DEPARTS

Mediators Unable To Get Settlement Of Strike

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, June 25 (P)—Dynamite blasts boomed as the back-to-work movement in the steel strike locked mills of the Mahoning Valley got underway today after Governor Martin L. Davey of Ohio announced the plants could resume operations under national guard protection.

The president's mediation board planned to leave Cleveland after an unsuccessful attempt to settle the strike with an appeal for a "man to man" conference with steel corporation and unionist officials.

Miners peacefully picketed Bethlehem Steel's Cambria workers here but a projected march of 30,000 miners on the city apparently failed to materialize.

One dynamite blast ripped up railway tracks in the northeast section of Canton, Ohio, and a Republic steel employe of the same section reported his home had been bombed.

HOWARD COUNTY WILL START WORK ON HIGHWAY ONE

Work Order For Road Project Received In Big Spring

BIG SPRING, June 25. (SPL)—Work order for a road project covering approximately 10 miles on highway No. 1 from near the east city limits to near the Martin county line was received here Thursday by Andy S. Pruitt, in charge of the highway department office here since June 1.

The order covered grading, drainage, structure, base and two course topping.

Pruitt said that the contractors, Morgan Construction Company of Brady and T. M. Brown and Son, already had some of their equipment on hand and likely would start work early next week.

Brown, according to Pruitt, has set up offices near the Wright calcine pit southeast of the airport.

Involved in the work is a three mile stretch west of Big Spring from the overpass westward to the point where the old highway intersects the new, and a half mile stretch near the Martin county line, paved two years ago.

The work order also will cover the widening of East Third street, a project which is to be accomplished by joint cooperation between the state highway department, the city and property owners.

RUSSIA ACCUSED OF SHIPPIN ARMS TO SPANISH REDS

Italy and Germany Are Also Cited By Eden

LONDON, June 25 (P)—British liberals and conservatives, clashing in the house of commons over German intervention in Spain, today heard Foreign Secretary Eden declare that Soviet Russia, as well as Germany and Italy, has sent a "very large" shipment of arms to Spain.

Eden joined Premier Chamberlain in urging a cool British attitude toward the German-Italian withdrawal from the neutrality patrol, saying they had not lost to the control plan yet, and that retention of peace in Europe is not hopeless.

Meanwhile, Italian and German warships strung out on the Mediterranean, with British and French also represented.

Pioneer Plainview Doctor Slain by Prisoner

Fall of the Royal Guard

That horrible, haunting nightmare of the public performer came true for the royal horse guardsman in the center of this picture when, in the full panoply of ceremonial, he stumbled and fell headlong, his sword clattering noisily on the cobblestones. The accident took place as the guards were marching into Windsor Castle for the service of the most noble Order of the Garter, attended by the king and queen.

Was Called to Jail To Give Treatment To Man Being Held

PLAINVIEW, June 25 (P)—Dr. E. F. McClendon, 69, pioneer physician and county health officer, was shot to death today by a prisoner he had been called to treat in the Hale county jail.

District Attorney Charles Dean said that a murder charge had been filed against a man who said he was Henry Egbert King, 39, Comanche. Officers said the man was arrested in Petersburg last night, became violent early today, and when the doctor and two officers entered the cell the prisoner struck policeman Nath Burkett with a broomstick, grabbed Burkett's gun, shot the doctor and slightly wounded deputy sheriff Bill Shook.

HEAT WAVE OVER COUNTRY CAUSES THIRTEEN TO DIE

Six Deaths Occur In Chicago When 97 Is Registered

CHICAGO, June 25 (P)—A heat wave spread from the plains of Texas to the Great Lakes today, accounting for at least thirteen deaths and establishing new record June temperatures at many points.

Six of the deaths were in Chicago, where thermometers climbed to 97 degrees. In ten hours the temperature ascended 27 degrees to set a new June 24 record. The old record, 93, was established in 1923. Shenandoah, Iowa, sweltered under a record high of 107. Des Moines reported 99.

Readings near or beyond the 100 degree mark were numerous. In Oklahoma, Hollis reported 105, Lawton 104 and Ponca City and El Reno 102.

It was 99 in Springfield and Kewanee, Ill., 98 in Davenport, Iowa, and Ottawa, Ill., 97 in Chicago, St. Louis and Centralia, Ill.

The intense heat was regarded as ideal "corn weather." Conditions were favorable, too, to farmers gathering a harvest in the sun-seared southwest.

Hot winds from the southwest brought 100 degree heat to Stevens Point, Wis. Los Angeles reported 82.

Forecasters predicted temperatures would drop "considerably" tomorrow.

The mercury climbed to 97 in Midland yesterday but was still four degrees below the maximum of 101 for the year which was registered May 21.

Generally fair is the prediction for today and tomorrow, no relief being promised from the heat.

ANHYDRITE TOPPED BY TERRY WILDCAT

Foree No. 1 Poole Hits First Marker At 2,240 Feet

BY FRANK GARDNER
It was reported this morning that R. L. Foree et al No. 1 Poole, northwestern Terry county wildcat in the center of the northeast quarter of section 54, block D-11, public school, had topped anhydrite at 2,240 feet. The top was also called at 2,245. Elevation of the well was not yet available. It is now drilling below 2,280 feet.

In northeastern Yoakum, Magnolia No. 1 Taylor, in the northeast corner of section 201, block D, John H. Gibson survey, is drilling at 4,460 feet in lime and anhydrite. It topped lime at 4,424 feet, corrected measurement. Steel-line corrected depth of 4,440 to equal 4,455 feet.

R. R. Rhodes announced here today that he would cement a string of 7-inch casing in his wildcat west of Plains in Yoakum, the No. 1 L. E. Shook estate, before resuming drilling below 5,235, the present depth. Crew will start running the pipe tomorrow, and it will be set at around 5,000 feet. The test showed rainbow on pits and oil-stained sample from 5,080-90 and 5,174-82. It is located in the center of the northeast quarter of section 420, block D, Gibson survey.

As Steel 'Peace Parley' Heard Effort Called 'Futile'

Far from their goal of settlement of the seven-state steel strike were these steel operators, union representatives and federal mediators when they were photographed singly for this composite picture as they appeared at the federal mediation board's deliberations in Cleveland. How divergent were operators' and strikers' viewpoints was evident in the blunt statement of Republic Steel President Tom M. Girdler that his company "will not enter into an agreement, oral or written, with an irresponsible organization" and that "the C. I. O. as presently constituted is utterly irresponsible." He added that discussion of such a contract would be "futile."

Home Constructing Expanding at Fast Rate in Texas Now

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25—Home construction is expanding at a fast rate in Texas, it is shown by reports of the 88 Federal savings and loan associations in that state received today by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Direct reduction mortgage loans for construction, purchase, recon-ditioning and refinancing of residential dwellings in Texas, made by these associations, increased sharply during the past twelve months, the reports revealed. These loans totalled $11,953,951 on June 1, 1936; the figure had jumped to $16,869,496 on June 1 this year, an increase of $4,915,545.

A direct reduction loan is one in which the face value of the mortgage is continually decreased by easy monthly payments like rent until the borrower owns his home (See CONSTRUCTION) Page 6

Don't Water the Grass Saturday; Installing Pump

Installation of one of the new pumping units at the city water works reservoir in Moody addition will be made tonight and city officials asked today that all water users refrain from watering lawns Saturday.

Water for household use only was requested, in order to make possible the catching up of water in the city standpipe after shutting down pumping while the new unit is being installed.

The job being done tonight is a part of the $29,000 extensions which will double the city's daily See (WATER) Page 6

ALLRED MAY RUN FOR THIRD TERM

Clark Says Governor Is Being Requested To Be Candidate

AUSTIN, June 25 (P)—The possibility that Governor Allred would stand for a precedent-shattering third term aroused speculation here today.

Secretary of State Edward Clark, close friend of Allred, said that the governor was being deluged with letters urging him to seek another term, and that while the governor had no definite plans for the future would be "responsive to the people's wishes."

CHARLES EAGLE PLUME BLACKFOOT INDIAN, IS ENTERTAINER AT PICNIC

Entertained with sparkling wit and a brilliant speech by Charles Eagle Plume, highly educated Indian of the Blackfoot tribe; and songs and skits by home talent hill billies and blackface comedians, 150 persons, representing club members, their wives and guests, attended the annual picnic of the Rotary club at Cloverdale park Thursday evening.

A meal of barbecued chicken, steaks, beans and accessories satiated the appetites of the large crowd.

John P. Howe was general chairman of the event, with W. B. Simpson, Percy J. Mims, L. H. Tiffin and Herbert Collings in charge of refreshments, and Winston Borum and Clint Lackey in charge of entertainment.

Hillbilly songs and black face skits were presented by Winston Borum, Turney Neely, Dr. Waldo Leggett and Chase Murph of Fort Worth.

Dr. W. E. Ryan paid tribute to the administration of W. R. Upham whose term as club president ended with the Thursday meeting, and presented him the official diamond, studded past president's button.

Charles Eagle Plume, young anthropologist and philosopher, representing the Frontier Fiesta, spoke to the crowd and gave interpretations of Indian lore, life and culture. His Indian dances, exhibiting various costumes, were highly entertaining.

Eagle Plume exhibited a keen sense of humor, exquisite grace and beauty in his dancing, authentic costumes and an amazing and flu-

3 MORE CONVICTS CAPTURED TODAY; NINE STILL LOOSE

Four Believed To Be Surrounded Near Glen Rose

HUNTSVILLE, June 25 (P)—The capture of three more of the 19 escapes from the Eastham prison farm today brought the total back behind the bars to 10, and four are believed surrounded near Glen Rose after kidnapping a young couple and taking their car.

One of the kidnapers is believed to be the ringleader of the break, Bybee. Another Harry Roberts of Throckmorton. Captured were Clyde Brown, 26, serving a sentence from Rusk of theft, Aaron Burleson, 28, from San Antonio, serving 72 years for robbery, Jack Sanders, 31, Dallas; 20 years for robbery.

Four kidnapers tied up a night-watchman and mechanic at Covington and stole an automobile, Harold David, kidnap victim said. It was later wrecked.

YOUTH SESSION WILL SIMULATE THE SENATE AND HOUSE; TO MEET JULY 2

MILWAUKEE, June 25. (U.P.)—Young minds throughout the nation will be offered an opportunity to grapple with major problems of the day at a model congress of the United States which is scheduled here July 2 to 5.

For four days Milwaukee will be the youth capital of the nation as more than 2,000 young men and women foregather here to play the parts of senators and representatives. They will debate, confer and frame measures in simulating activities of one of the most powerful lawmaking bodies in the world.

Seventy-three youth leaders who signed the call for the congress announced that its purpose is "to give the nation's youth an opportunity to consider its mutual problems, seek its own solutions and strengthen the cooperative efforts among organization of youth and organizations serving youth."

"It will," they said, "provide the means by which these organizations can accomplish things together which they could not accomplish alone. In a spirit of rivalry fellowship it will offer young Americans a chance to learn from each other and from their elders how they best can work together to contribute to the welfare of their generation, their country and their world."

Indorsed by Senators
The names of 11 senators and of 32 representatives were appended to the call as endorses. The senators were Arthur Capper, Kas.; Dennis Chavez, N. M.; Edwin C. Johnson, Colo.; Robert M. LaFollette, Wis.; Marvel M. Logan, Ky.; Ernest Lundeen, Minn.; Gerald P. N. D.; Claude Pepper, Fla.; P. P. Pope, Ida.; Harry H. Trantz, Wyo.; and Elbert D. Ts, Utah.

Representatives included John T. Bernard, Henry C. Paul, John Kvale, Minn.,

To avoid shilly-shallying when the congress convenes, delegates are instructed to come with portfolios of proposals for legislation and resolutions ready for reference to committees. Adults experienced in the ways of legislation will be available to appear before the committees.

Sponsors of the congress have issued a challenge to the senators and representatives to consider what to do about:

1. Unemployment.
2. The threat of a second world war.
3. Slums.
4. Crime and delinquency.
5. Inability to finish school and college.
6. Share-cropping and mortgage foreclosures.
7. Lynching, religious intolerance and prejudice.

William H. Hinckley, national chairman of the congress, said that young Americans will derive from it excellent training in the ways of democracy and practical citizenship.

"Throughout the world democracy is on trial," he said. "This project is an effort to make democracy a living, breathing thing for this generation of youth."

HIGH REHOUSING RENTS

What is the good of "eradicating" slums, if the new houses you build are too expensive to be occupied by the people you built them for?

Major rehousing projects undertaken by the federal government are at last nearing completion in Cleveland, and the rent scales have been announced. In the cheaper of the two projects, rents begin at $12.75 a month for two-room apartments, and go up to $22.44 a month for six rooms. In addition, charges for heat, water and electricity will be collected with the rent. These charges will range from about $5.35 to $8 a month.

As ordinary rents go, those scales are moderate enough; but they are not moderate for the typical slum dweller. Indeed, the reason that we have slums is simply the fact that there are a great many people who cannot for the life of them pay rates as high as those indicated above.

If we really plan to abolish slums, we must provide new housing at prices that slum-dwellers can afford to pay.

DISCONTENT IN RUSSIA

Probably it won't be possible for us in America to know just what is happening in Russia until some time after it has actually happened; but on the face of things some profound wave of discontent must be surging across that country these days. How else is one to interpret the recurring executions, the mass arrests, the dismissals of thousands of once-trusted Communists and the unexplained ruthlessness of the wide-spread program of repression?

It will be almost impossible to pass an intelligent judgment until all the returns are in, and the returns are coming in very slowly. But one must admit that according to all indications the Stalin government is meeting progressively greater difficulties in keeping the masses contented. Whether the discontent is with Communism as such or with Stalin's peculiar brand of despotism, no one can say at this distance; but that such discontent does exist in a nationwide and menacing form it is impossible to doubt.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

Behind the Scenes - tyinf
WASHINGTON, June 24. — As to the numerous rumors concerning the sudden departure of Vice President Jack Garner from his job as presiding officer of the Senate:

The essential reason was that Garner and President Roosevelt had split widely apart on the issues of labor and relief, and that Roosevelt had undertaken on at least two occasions to give the vice president mild private spankings for what he considered efforts to sabotage his policies.

Garner is 67 years old and does not like to be spanked. He does not like to be around Washington in the summer time, either.

He dropped the word around that he was thinking of taking off for his home in Uvalde, Texas, about the first of June, but failed to get a rise out of the President. Then he advised Roosevelt in person that he would like to take a vacation. Whether he expected in reply a plea that he stay on the job is a matter of guesswork, as Jack told no one. But what Roosevelt said was that he thought it would be a good idea.

Word was given out that the vice president would be gone only

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything).

Texas men have, with reference to having offices at Midland and using that as headquarters, is residence accommodations.

"They tell me it is difficult, if not impossible to make satisfactory rental arrangements for residence property. . . . It would be an item in the whole question of locating an office there if we knew about four families of our men could make satisfactory house arrangements, for the office help etc. could presumably find accommodations.

"I just mention this so that you might have some suggestions along the line. It seems as much demand as there appears to be for low cost residences at Midland some enterprising real estate firm could do a good business by building some neat little houses."

Any comment I would add would be superfluous.

two or three weeks. But he told close friends he would be back by Aug. 1 if Congress hadn't quit by then. Actually, he hasn't been expected back at this session. Undoubtedly he would be willing to return and break a tie vote on a compromise court plan if he were needed. But the administration won't force a court vote if it looks as close as that.

Indicates Growing Insurgency

SPECIFICALLY, Garner gave secret backing to Senator Jimmy Byrnes in the latter's attempt to make Roosevelt publicly condemn sidown strikes and to cut the federal relief appropriation from $1,500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000. He also favored Byrnes' elevation to the Senate majority leadership in case Roosevelt can be persuaded to appoint Leader Joe Robinson to the Supreme Court, knowing that the White House would want Senator Barkley of Kentucky to succeed Robinson.

Garner, however, has been willing to go along with Roosevelt on the Supreme Court issue. The incident of his retreat to . . . and Labor Only would tighten, closing the net and suspending him from the ceiling. To keep bad men from jumping on automobile running boards someone else suggested all cars be built with retractable running and doorknobs. Whereas if you want to catch all criminals—Cummings is advised—you merely have a bell ring at a certain time all over the country, whereupon everybody runs to the nearest school house to register and be fingerprinted, and the fingerprints are sent to Washington so all the crooks can be identified.

"Have every bank teller's window, every industrial payroll desk or window and every money-carrying bag equipped with a high pressure type of Skunk Oil Vapor spray, that could be released silently and automatically on the clothes of these thugs," writes another inspired genius, "and from what I hear the only way to rid oneself of this vile odor is to burn the clothes, and this can't be done in such a hurry before detection."

Sooner OR Later

SOME of the diners at Pierre's restaurant one evening before the steel strikes were more than moderately surprised to observe Mr. and Mrs. John L. Lewis at the same table with the arch-conservative Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth and her brother, Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr. Conversation appeared to be animated and at one point became so loud that Teddy Roosevelt was heard to exclaim: "What I'm interested in in this struggle, is what's going to become of people like my sister and me!" "I'm not concerned with that," replied Lewis, placing both hands on the table. "I'm interested in labor."

Uvalde is chiefly significantly in its relationship to the growing divergence between Roosevelt and conservative senators, chiefly from the south, who hope to block further presidential reform efforts and to dictate the Democratic nomination in 1940.

ATTORNEY GENERAL HOMER CUMMINGS keeps on receiving no end of remarkable suggestions for curing the crime problem, indicating that Yankee ingenuity and inventive genius are far from dead.

Many of the numerous proposals for thwarting bank robbers contain diagrams for traps. One plan is for a trap door to be placed in front of each cashier's window. When the holdup man appeared with his gun, the teller would push a button and the bank robber would fall into a chute, at the end of which would be a net. As the robber fell into the net a string around it

Nurses Need Vision, Says Catholic Sister

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — The nurse of today must be prepared to assist in the prevention of disease by teaching health, giving expert nursing service, and co-operating with the medical and other professions, thereby taking her place in the public health program of the nation, believes Sister M. Olivia, O. S. B., dean of the School of Nursing of the Catholic University of America.

"The nursing profession needs young women of vision, desire for service and devotion to altruistic aims," Sister Olivia said. "For them the opportunities are many." Essentials of medical and surgical nursing, as well as obstetrics and child care, communicable disease and mental nursing, were emphasized by Sister Olivia in the nursing care of illness and its prevention.

Pitcher Stung by Bee, Loses Game on Balk

CONCORD, Mass. (U.P.) — A bee saved the day for the All-Star baseball team at Massachusetts Reformatory.

A bee stung Pitcher George Johnson of the West Cardinals team just as he was winding up to pitch.

Johnson didn't make the pitch—the umpire called it a balk. A prisoner on third base, who was attempting to steal home, was allowed to score on the balk, tying the game.

CARDINALS SET HIGH SCORING RECORD BY BEATING HOBBS 30-1

DAVIS GETS FIVE HITS, LETS DOWN DRILLERS WITH 8

HOBBS, June 25. (SPL.)—The Midland Cardinals set a new high scoring record here last night when they defeated the Hobbs Drillers by the practically unheard of score of 30-1.

Three hits and a fielder's choice gave the Drillers their only run in the sixth inning, Robinson crossing the plate on Thomas' single. Manager Davis pitched for Midland and gave up only eight hits. In addition to pitching the victory, Davis had a perfect average at the plate with five hits, four of them doubles, and scored five runs out of five official trips up. He walked on two appearances at the plate.

Davis walked two men and fanned nine while Hobbs was using five pitchers who gave up a total of 25 hits. Midland's biggest inning was the eighth when the Cardinals made 10 scores. Serafine and Schiffrer hit home runs.

Two Underrated Young Pitchers, Raw Field Hand Boost Cubs To Top

By RICHARD McCANN
NEA Service Sports Writer
The Chicago Cubs lost six out of their first seven games this season and applications for Manager Charley Grimm's job immediately poured into the front office.

Applications are still stacking up at Wrigley Field, but they're no longer applications for Professor Grimm's chair. Now they are requests for world series seats.

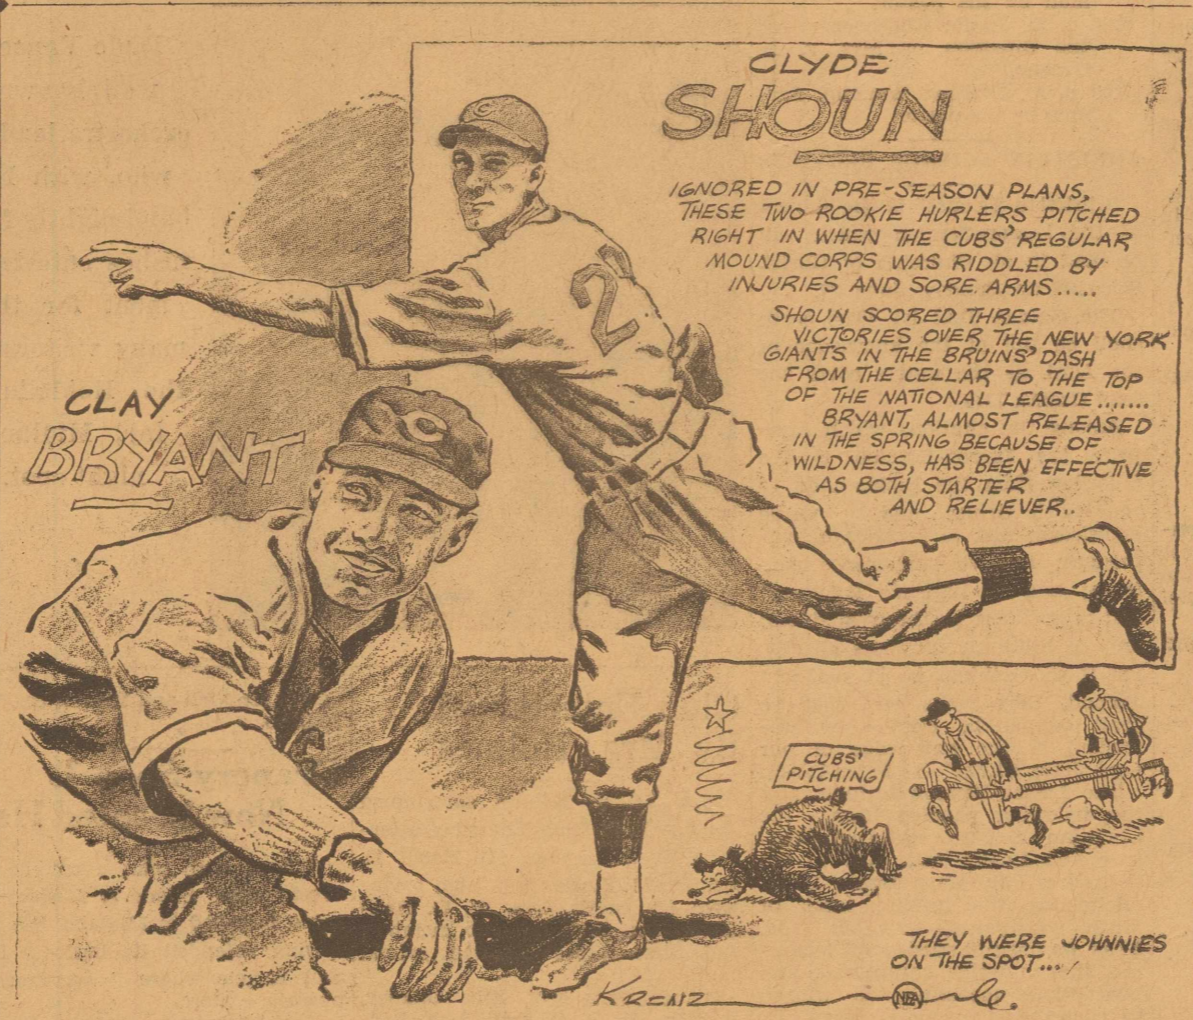

You see, after their stumbling start, the Cubs staged one of their famous surges which carried them right into the midst of the National League pennant squabble.

According to the experts, the Cubs owe it all to a wild young right-handed pitcher, who was supposed to be exiled to the minors

CLYDE SHOUN

IGNORED IN PRE-SEASON PLANS, THESE TWO ROOKIE HURLERS PITCHED RIGHT IN WHEN THE CUBS' REGULAR MOUND CORPS WAS RIDDLED BY INJURIES AND SORE ARMS.....
SHOUN SCORED THREE VICTORIES OVER THE NEW YORK GIANTS IN THE BRUINS' DASH FROM THE CELLAR TO THE TOP OF THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.....
BRYANT, ALMOST RELEASED IN THE SPRING BECAUSE OF WILDNESS, HAS BEEN EFFECTIVE AS BOTH STARTER AND RELIEVER.

CLAY BRYANT

THEY WERE JOHNNIES ON THE SPOT.....

when piling time came; a daffy young southpaw who, during spring training, had nothing more than his fingerprints on the ball; a rookie center fielder, who was almost chased back to the bushes in one of Professor Charley's rare fits of temper, and a first baseman relieved from the Gas House in St. Louis.

BRYANT IS BIG SURPRISE

Professor Grimm is particularly grateful to the two young pitchers. They couldn't have stepped out of obscurity and mediocrity at a more opportune moment, because at the time the regular Cub pitching staff was moving around a smelly to the high heavens with liniment soaking into their aching arms.

The young right-hander, Mr. Clay Bryant, has proved himself to be the most effective relief pitcher in the National League. His Johnny-on-the-spot hurling was the big feature the day that the Cubs snatched the league lead from the New York Giants.

Young Mr. Bryant relieved a sorely beset Tex Carleton with the score 4-3 against him and calmly and contemptuously proceeded to hold the opposition to one hit and no runs in five innings while the Bruins slugged from behind to win. That's just one of the many bright things accomplished by Mr. Bryant this year. The brightest, of course, was when he outpitched Dizzy Dean, a right-handed pitcher at St. Louis. And, strangely, Mr. Bryant was was almost left out on the Pacific Coast when the Cubs broke up their training quarters and started home back in April. Seems he was wilder than a Saturday night party. Yet, somehow or other, control was his biggest asset in compiling a string of 18 consecutive scoreless innings of relief pitching.

The young southpaw, Mr. Clyde Shoun, has been a sensation in the role of Jack the Giant Killer. He is enjoying quite a run on Broadway, having won three games over the New York Giants so far. He is something of a Dizzy Dean in nature, the boys say, Gabby and always stirring up fights. However, he fights his own battles.

Last year he broke a couple of knuckles when his fist was in collision with some poor lad's jawbone during a scuffle in a hotel room.

Both he and Bryant joined the Cubs the same year—1935—and both were released for further development to Birmingham of the Southern Association.

Now it looks like both have developed at the same time.

MARTY SHAKES CURSE

The rookie center fielder, Mr. Joe Marty, seems to have shaken off the curse of being called the National League Joe DiMaggio and is finally living the life he was accustomed to out in the Pacific Coast League last season. At first this year it looked like Joe was going to be another Paul Strand. He couldn't hit Aunt Minnie's outfield and he couldn't catch cold out in the field.

Grimm, disgusted with the youths' sins, almost gave up all hope for him. Once, after Marty had failed to deliver in the clutch at bat and had cost the Cubs a ball game by failing to touch up at third base on a long fly, Grimm's temper boiled over and he let loose a terrific blast at the rookie.

Marty took the reprimands apologetically. That night the baseball reporters asked Grimm if Marty would continue to patrol center field.

"You bet he will," said Grimm. "Anybody who can take what's coming to him in the spirit Marty did can play ball for me. He'll do all right."

Joe's reform at bat and outfield dates from that day. He's now hitting well over 300.

Jimmy (The Ripper) Collins has done more than solve Professor Grimm's first base problem. He has fired the Cubs with some of the Gas House Gang spirit.

And they're a different lot this year. Last season's defeatist complex can't get to first base with Jimmy Collins there.

Federal land holdings in the United States are estimated to contain nearly 200,000,000,000 tons of coal.

Social Security Made Simple

QUESTION: Are part-time and irregular employees included under the old-age benefits section of the Social Security Act?

ANSWER: Yes, part-time and irregular employees under the age of 65 in covered occupations are included under the old-age benefits section of the Act. This applies to a school boy working after school or week-ends, in a covered occupation, and also applies to persons under age 65 in covered occupations working for short irregular periods. The Act excludes casual labor that is not in the course of the employer's trade or business. Treasury regulations state that corporations do not have casual labor or all work done for a corporation is in the course of the employer's trade or business. Examples follow:

(1) A's business is that of operating a sawmill. He employs B, a painter, at a daily wage to paint his home. B's labor is casual and is not in the course of A's trade or business—that of operating a sawmill. B's services to A are therefore expected.

(2) A's business is that of operating a sawmill. He employs B for two hours, at an hourly wage, to remove sawdust from his mill. B's labor is casual since it is occasional, incidental or irregular, but it is in the course of A's trade or business—that of operating a sawmill—and it is not expected.

(3) A is engaged in the business of operating a department store. He employs additional clerks for short periods. While the services of the clerks are casual, they are in the course of the employer's trade or business, and therefore, not expected.

FORT WORTH (Enroute to Washington) June 24.—At nearly every stop a few more scouts got aboard. There are scouts now on the train from almost every city along the T. & P. They are a happy and noisy group, so noisy, in fact, that they make writing difficult. And, by the way, the Midland boys are the tamest and "best behaved" of all.

Es, Jamboree Mother, your son 1 acting very nice. We are now stopped at a little scattering of huts and are absolutely burning up with the heat—"wish you were here." There is no air conditioning except in the dining and the boys are "suffering." I believe we can live through it—so don't worry.

The two meals we have had have more than made up for the heat, however. The train officials are very courteous and kind, putting up with all our tricks—so far.

We are now only an hour away from Fort Worth and are playing cards, reading, sleeping and fooling around to pass the time away.

Take care of things while we are gone. The Midland group sends "best wishes."

Station Sought to Aid Blimp Research Work

AKRON, Ohio, June 25—Benard Berk has applied to the Federal Communications commission for permission to use a proposed new radio station for research work with blimps.

The station would be used by day for commercial work and at night for radio research, cooperating with blimps belonging to the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company.

Broadcasting equipment would be placed in a salt marsh four miles south of Akron. Studios would be set up in the city.

The station would be powered by a 1,000-watt transmitter and operated on a frequency of 1,530 kilocycles.

modern tanks, nevertheless, was sufficiently strong to resist the warfare of the time. Also, a collection of ammunition, including arrowheads, stones and pieces of iron, was found inside the tank.

Other discoveries were made by Matherat in the course of his excavations and the most important are the ruins of the Roman bridge which was built by Labienus, one of Julius Caesar's lieutenants, about 51 B. C.

This bridge was built entirely of wood and it is in a good state of preservation, having been covered by 10 feet of soil following an earthquake in the 5th century.

For many years, Matherat had been aware of the existence of this bridge, buried somewhere near Beauvais, and only after careful research was he able to disclose it.

A horseshoe, pieces of Roman armor and many projectiles also were among the discoveries made in this same region by the excavators.
