Rainless Lightning Fires Forests in the Northwest

SPOKANE, Wash., July 29 (AP)—Lightning set the Pacific Northwest's forest ablaze Wednesday. Thousands of men went to the fire lines in forests from the coast to Montana after one of the inland empire's most severe electrical storms in years. Most of the blazes still were small, and foresters hoped to check them, but predictions of wind aroused grave fears.

The worst region was in Western Montana and Northern Idaho, where lookouts counted 208 new fires after lightning struck repeatedly without bringing rain. Heavy rain accompanied the storm in Eastern Washington and the Idaho Panhandle.

The forest service reported fifty fires set in the Clearwater National Forest, forty-seven in the Lolo, forty-four in the St. Joe, and thirty-five in the Cabinet. Lightning started twenty-three fires in North Central Washington's Chelan National Forest.

Thirty fires were reported in Cowlitz county timber, and numerous fires were set in the Columbia National forest near the Columbia river in Southeastern Washington. More than 300 men were sent against one of the Columbia fires.

Enjoying Liberty

The six years they spent in Alabama prisons seem like a bad dream to the four Scottsboro case defendants who gaze at the Statue of Liberty which attorney Samuel Leibowitz points out from his office window after arrival in New York. ### City's Problem in Keeping Pace With the Growth of Population Outlined in Talk By Mayor Ulmer at Rotary Club Luncheon

Problems of meeting necessary improvements in city street, sewer and water systems, with revenue based on current valuations, were discussed before the Rotary club today by Mayor M. C. Ulmer. Pointing out that more than $30,000 worth of such improvements have been made recently, due to the growing population and the building of homes in outlying sections of the city, as well as the heavier consumption of water, Mayor Ulmer said it was necessary both to collect delinquent taxes now on the rolls and to raise the valuations of city property to the 70 per cent level.

During the depression, when demands were not so heavy on the city treasury, valuations were allowed to drop to the extent that a 20 per cent increase on most property is now necessary. The bulk of new construction, started since January 1, will not be taxable until 1938, consequently this year's expenditures must be met with funds from a higher valuation.

Notices are being mailed out to property owners who are asked to appear before the board of equalization, also to those owing delinquent taxes, the mayor said, in fairness to those already doing their part in paying the load. The city needs a total valuation of over $5,000,000, instead of the $4,300,000 recently in use. He pointed out the recent large improvements to the city water system to take care of increased consumption, explaining that Midland has a lower water rate than the average city and commended the citizens for their pride in beautification of lawns and gardens. He said the water system is making money, but must meet the interest on water and sewer bonded indebtedness. He urged property owners to cooperate with the board of equalization sitting in session for the city and schools, and to appear when called with willingness to keep the revenue of the governing bodies up to a level where civic improvements can be advanced along with the expenditure of foreign capital here for construction. Mayor Ulmer was the guest of Marion Flynn, chairman of the Rotary club program today. Other guests were Dr. Thomas W. Braham, president of McMurry College, Abilene; Raymond Van Zandt, Stanton; Harvey Fryar, Midland; Walter Fleet, Midland; Ralph Bit-tick, San Angelo; Walter Carmichael, San Antonio; Pat Dillard, Fort Worth and Cecil C. Collins, Big Spring. (See CITY'S PROBLEMS, page 8)

Allred May Enter a Third Term Race, Is Secretary's Opinion

AUSTIN, July 29 (AP)—Edward Clark, secretary of state and adviser of Governor Allred, reiterated today that he believed a strong possibility existed that Allred will try to shatter precedent and obtain the election for a third term.

Clark intimated, however, that the governor probably will decide against such a course if the legislature enacts the major points of his program at the fall session.

He said the "governor is prepared to run if necessary" and listed his goals as balancing the budget, financing a broad social security program and state regulation of public utilities.

Stanfield, Ada, Pontotoc county attorney; and Sam Y. Colby, Madill, Marshall county attorney, all of whom have filed charges against Traxler, said they believed they had a stronger claim.

Chinese Troops Take Leave of Peiping; "Betrayal" Cried

TIENTSIN, July 29 (AP)—Bomb-made flames crackled through sections of this teeming North China commercial city and many of its outlying villages today, in the wake of Japanese air raiders.

Chinese troops, holding grimly to positions won in the three-army assault on vital positions of the Japanese military headquarters here, declared that "thousands of non-combatant men, women and children had been killed or injured."

The lives of Tientsin's many Americans and other foreigners were imperiled, Lieut. Paul Carraway, son of Senator Hattie Caraway of Arkansas, was listed as being there. Hankins reported simultaneously that 1,000 Chinese soldiers were killed in Japan's onslaught at Nanyuan, Chinese military headquarters in South Peiping. Peiping suddenly became peaceful, as all Chinese soldiers withdrew and the pro-Japanese general, Chang Tse-Chung, took charge.

In Shanghai, newspapers cried "betrayal" over the withdrawal of soldiers from Peiping where it became apparent that Japanese approved leaders were stepping in.

In Tokyo, Japan's foreign minister Koki Hirota was told by the diet that the Japanese government would reject "interference" by a third power in the conflict.

No Prospect Left to Patton for Clemency

AUSTIN, July 29 (AP)—The last avenue of escape apparently had closed for George Patton, aged Athens farmer, sentenced to die in the electric chair after midnight tonight for the slaying of Mrs. Carrie McGehee in 1935.

Governor Allred said he contemplated no action in view of refusal of the board of pardons and paroles to recommend clemency. The board Tuesday denied Patton's application for commutation of sentence, announcing that a study of the testimony indicated the sentence was justified.

Compromise Reached by Truckers and Grocers

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 29 (AP)—Striking truck drivers last night unanimously ratified a compromise contract reached with wholesale grocery merchants and ended the most serious phase of Buffalo's eight-day food embargo.

They agreed to go back to work early today and rush new supplies to grocery store shelves empty of many staple foods.

The ratification was voted at a strikers mass meeting, where 300 of the estimated 1,000 striking drivers heard details of the compromise.

The compromise provided a modified closed shop, 5 per cent pay increase for all employees who have not been advanced since last March 1, a $25.20 minimum for unskilled workers and a 48-hour week.

Minimums for skilled workers were set at 65 cents an hour for truck drivers and 62 1/2 cents an hour for helpers.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 29.—This is the best guess available right now, and please remember it's only a guess:
Solicitor General Stanley F. Reed will be appointed to the Supreme Court to succeed Justice Willis Van Devanter, retired.
Next best guess, perhaps, is Judge Sam G. Bratton of Albuquerque, N. M., sitting in the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals, including parts of eight western states. At any rate, the White House is hearing plenty from Bratton's backers.
One of the worst crimes the New Deal ever committed against the country and itself was the thing it did to the solicitor-general's office after Felix Frankfurter had refused the post in 1933. But Reed took that office more than two years ago and has carried the brunt of defending New Deal laws before the Supreme Court, lately with conspicuous success. He argued the Wagner Act as well as the AAA case and many others.

May Get Place on Supreme Court

Stanley F. Reed, shown above at his desk as solicitor-general, is being mentioned as one of the most active possibilities for the Supreme Court post left vacant by the resignation of Associate Justice Van Devanter. Reed has defended New Deal legislation before the court, was counsel for the RFC, and for the Federal Farm Board under Hoover. He is regarded as one of the ablest reconcilers of New Deal laws with traditional constitutional views.

Reed for several years was counsel for the old Hoover farm board and early in 1933 became general counsel for RFC under Hoover. He served Roosevelt ably as a legal expert in the banking emergency. He was slated for a federal judgeship in Kentucky when Roosevelt decided he should be solicitor-general. His arguments have indicated definite liberalism along with a desire to fit New Deal laws into reasonable constitutional limitations. He is 53 years old.

Bratton was a liberal Democratic senator from New Mexico until Roosevelt made him a federal judge. As an ex-senator, he could be sure of little opposition to his confirmation.

Raw Wounds
Don't fall too hard for these nice, pretty stories about harmony restored in the Democratic party. Knives are being sharpened as never before. If Roosevelt and his friends have anything to do about it, 1933 will be known to history as "the great year of reprisals," meaning that Roosevelt will not forgive or forget the scuttling of the court bill and other items of his program.

Even while Vice-President Jack Garner and his Democratic-Republican coalition seemed to rule the Capitol Hill roost after giving the court bill its coup de grace, Roosevelt showed that he was still trying to run the works by taking Senator Majority Leader Alben Barkley off for a yacht weekend. And their sole companions were the LaFollette brothers of Wisconsin, who come nearest to being prospective leaders of a new Farmer-Labor party.

Senator Ed Burke of Nebraska, opposition court plan leader, got to see Roosevelt through Garners request, assured the President that the senate judiciary committee would do its best to patch up a

King George as Duke
Ordered to Get Haircut
EDMONTON, Alta. (U.P.)—Col. Louis Scott, prominent Edmonton army officer, claims he is probably the only man in the world who ordered King George VI to get a haircut and was obeyed.

Col. Scott said the king, then the Duke of York, was attending a Royal Air Force training school under his command in 1918 when he appeared one day in ranks with his hair shaggy.

Bicycles Are Registered As Safety Precaution

LYNN, Mass. (U.P.)—Some 1,400 Lynn school children have registered their bicycles with the police department's traffic bureau as a safety measure—believed the first New England city to have such a movement.

Each cyclist wrote out a description of his bicycle, including the condition of lights and signal devices.

When a bicycle passes examination, the owner is given a "bicycle permit," which he carries with him whenever he rides. An aluminum non-rust license plate also is issued at 25 cents cost.

The department gives each registrant a printed book of safety rules.

Big Ballot

Senator Barkley, the new majority leader, described his emotions at the caucus leadership election as the vote counter reached the point where he had pulled out 37 slips of paper declaring for Pat Harrison and 37 for himself.

"That last ballot looked as big as a quilt!" he says.

The Senate Fight

Your correspondent may have erred in asserting recently that Senator Sherman Minton of Indiana would be the assistant majority leader under Barkley. Minton wants his close friend, Senator Lew Schwelienbach of Washington, to take the job. It is probable that Senator Hugo Black of Alabama will be made another assistant leader and that Minton will become the party whip.

The extent to which these men and other Senate New Dealers can operate successfully in assembling a pro-administration majority in the senate will decide whether congress is to be under control of Garner or Roosevelt. The question right now is determination as to how much of the Roosevelt program can be salvaged from the debris in the "We wanna go home!" cry of the Garner - Republican - conservative Democratic coalition.

Farmers Earnings Show Extremely Wide Range

ST. PAUL (U.P.)—Average earnings of farmers on 150 parcels of southeastern Minnesota land for 1936 were $2,914, according to a study made at the University Farm here.

The range revealed by the study was great, the low income being $265 while the best money-maker took in $12,027. The difference was credited to management, soil conditions, invasion of insects, drought and similar farm factors.

Tabulators warned that these figures could not be taken as an average for all farmers, even of the entire section from which the 150 cooperators were chosen. They pointed out the figures were probably high because of the type of farmer willing to cooperate in the study.
For five years, the farm economists found the incomes ranged from $5,000 to $9,000 annually on a selected group of farms.

American Cheese Molds
1 pint fresh cooked or canned peas
2 cups milk
1 tablespoon flour
3/4 lb. sharp American cheese
1 tablespoon gelatine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon cayenne
1 cup whipping cream

Drain all liquid from peas. Heat milk in top of double boiler. Blend flour until smooth with 2 tablespoons of cold water, and add slowly to hot milk, stirring vigorously to keep smooth until thickened. Cook 15 minutes with occasional stirring. Add cheese which has been grated or sliced thin; remove from heat and stir until thoroughly blended with white sauce. Have gelatine softened in 3 tablespoons cold water; add to hot cheese sauce and stir to distribute thoroughly. Add seasonings and cool until mixture begins to congeal; then fold in the cream whipped until stiff, and the peas. Turn into individual molds, cover, and place in refrigerator to congeal. When ready to serve, unmold onto thick tomato slices. Transfer to platter and garnish with cress or parsley. Serves 6.

Raspberry Cheese Salad
2 packages cream cheese
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 teaspoons sugar

A few whole berries may be used for garnishing. Serves 4.

How can we train children to keep alive, to take pains, use their wits and see what's to be seen? It is not too difficult. ## French Director Gets Beautiful Impression of American Girls

French Director Gets Beautiful Impression of American Girls
By GEORGE ROSS
NEW YORK, July 28.—When a Frenchman remarks that "ze American girl is ze most bee-oo-tee-ful girl in the world," that's no news, as Pierre Sandrini apologetically admits.

Monsieur Sandrini probably is Paris' greatest connoisseur of Gallic pulchritude. For as regisseur of the famous cafe, Bal Tabarin, he picks the fairest flowers of France. He now is over here to stage a glittering girl spectacle for the International Casino that soon will blossom on Times Square. "Ze American girl," Mons. Sandrini started out again. But his interpreter interrupted him with a gesture that meant, "but you've already said that." There was a two-minute exchange between the brace of boulevardiers in a rapid flow of French. When they emerged, the translator took charge. "What Mons. Sandrini is trying to say," he explained, "is that ze American girl has no more variety than any other country in the world. You have a wider crop of beauty over here, while we in France must be content with a single type."

Monsieur Sandrini was satisfied to let his medium air the remainder of his views on ideal femininity. "Personally," his translator rambled on, "he is susceptible to bribes, but Mons. Sandrini says that after all his years of experience, he is forced to admit that gentlemen prefer blondes."

Happiness at Home After Whirl at Life

WHAT is the best career for a woman? Business, home and children, a man's entertainment, or his good companion? Emma, the heroine of Louis Paul's newest novel, "Emma" (Doubleday, Doran and Co., $2.50), was determined to find out. Whether she ever reached any definite decision is doubtful. But she certainly succeeded in seeing life.

"Emma" is the biography of the childless wife of a successful business man, vaguely unhappy because of the lack of a guiding light in her dreamless drifting. Leaving her husband, not for any lack of love, but because of the purposelessness of her life, Emma seeks both economic and spiritual independence. Starting with a small coffee shop, Emma progresses until she is president of a chain of popular restaurants.

But even this success and the whirl of big business have not filled the emptiness of her soul. So Emma is reunited with her husband and professes to find true happiness in the new home they construct. But the fact remains that Emma and her husband had a home before she left him. They have a home again when she returns. And if that's an answer to Emma's problem, she seems easily satisfied. However, any weakness in the basic action is more than compensated for by Mr. Paul's excellent prose and his portrayal of characters.—W. V.

Charles Ruggles Is Unlike His Roles

Charles Ruggles' realistic characterizations on the screen have often made it necessary for him to offset the public's impression that his offstage life is similar to the role he plays.

To avoid any such notion, since his role of Dinwiddie in "Turn Off the Moon" at the Yucca Theatre tomorrow, presents him as an astrological hypochondriac, Mr. Ruggles explained his views on astrology in a recent interview.

"Astrology has a definite place in the world if taken with a grain of salt," he said. "Psychologically speaking it is a good release valve. But if you were to guide your life according to your horoscope, most of which are merely mimeographed handouts, you're playing a dirty trick on yourself.

"I love stars. There is nothing in the world that aids romance more than stars, except possibly the lack of stars. But I do not, definitely and emphatically believe my destiny is controlled by my horoscope.

"I once had my horoscope read. That was back in the days when I worked on the stage. The astrologer told me I should make a success in my life's work. My life's work according to the stars was plumbing."

Mr. Ruggles claims his latest production owes a great deal to astrology. "The comedy situations are based on my refusing to marry my sweetheart, who has been waiting fifteen years, until the stars are in their right orbits. My astrologer tells me that before this can take place I must aid a

Criticism of Labor and Political Leaders Almost Unseats Mexican Senator Padilla, Termed a "Henchman" of Ousted Calles

MEXICO CITY, July 29 (AP)—Senator Ezequiel Padilla's congressional seat was imperiled last week because he accused "politicians and labor leaders" of playing President Lazaro Cardenas false.

Having voted, 38 to 2, to censure the Guerrero member for saying Cardenas' administration was "obstructed precisely by those who ought to second it with the greatest enthusiasm," the senate was thinking also about kicking him out.

Senator Jose M. Davila of the federal district, proposed to his colleagues that they vote Padilla out and seat his substitute, Jesus Torres, although some parliamentarians said that could not be done.

(Substitutes, or "suplentes," are regularly elected along with Mexican senators and deputies to replace them if they become incapacitated.)

At Tlaxcala, too, was the big confederation of Workers of Mexico (CTM), which took Padilla's sensational statement to be aimed largely at its directors.

The "Mexican Labor News," published in English by the CTM, backed Labor University, cited the senator's condemnation of the recent general oil strike and labor strife in Ocozacoacoatlán, Vera Cruz, as efforts by "certain labor leaders" to undermine the "genuine Mexican program . . . of President Cardenas" to show Padilla had the CTM in mind.

The incident rought the name of former President Plutarco Elias Calles, whom Cardenas exiled 15 months ago, back into the newspapers.

Identifying Padilla as the "henchman" of Calles "who served as the mouthpiece" for the latter's anti-radicalism statement of June, 1935, which marked his break with Cardenas, the "Labor News" said the senator's outburst was recognized as only the "feeble echo" of Calles' warning.

A statement from the CTM previously suggested Padilla had gone to San Diego, Cal., "to receive fresh inspiration from Gen Calles in his task of serving the native reactionary groups.

Neutral observers, taking into account the CTM's known sensitiveness to criticism, understood why it got excited over Padilla's remarks. But could explain the senate's ire only on the ground that the glove fitted some sensational hands.

"The dynamic and noble intentioned work of President Cardenas," Padilla had said, "is being obstructed . . . by those who ought to second it with the greatest enthusiasm.

"President Cardenas is a man who works, who builds, who constructs under the postulates of the Mexican revolution; but many politicians and labor leaders do not respond in unison to the president's proposals.

"In fact, the president talks constantly of unification, and the answer is irreconcilable division and lamentable inter-union tragedies; the president advise, arbitrates and the leaders object, disobey, act with-

ST. PAUL (U.P.)—Completion of 138 demonstration windbreaks on rural credit department-owned farms in the arid western sector of Minnesota has been announced by Grover Conzet, state forester.

Each demonstration windbreak consists of an outer belt to catch snow, into which go 500 Siberian poplar trees, and an inner break of 300 American elms, 300 green ash and 200 spruce. Between the two belts is a line where drifting snow is held.

Wind erosion control planting announced by Conzet included 60,000 trees in severely damaged areas of three counties.

Hornsby's Next Stop Cincinnati; Dressen to Giants as Terry Aide

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service
HORNSBY'S NEXT STOP CINCINNATI; DRESSEN TO GIANTS AS TERRY AID

There is more to the latest Rogers Hornsby story than his being thrown out again, this time like a sacrifice bunter.

From an unimpeachable source it is learned that Hornsby's next stop will be Cincinnati, where he is to succeed Charley Dressen next spring.

The same authority has Dressen going to New York, where, after a season as coach and chief assistant to Bill Terry, he will become manager of the Giants in 1938.

Donald Barnes, president of the Browns, brought in Gabby Street as Jim Bottomley's right-hand man in order to have someone handy next spring in the event that Sunny Jim doesn't relish the deep digging in St. Louis, or that conditions merit another change. Being fired by the Browns in midseason certainly is enough to mark the finish of the ordinary manager, but there never was anything commonplace about Hard-Boiled Hornsby.

The Rajah has more baseball lives than a game has innings. They wrote his obituary in August, 1932, when, broken by misfortune, he was tossed out by the Chicago Cubs when he least expected to be.

It was that winter that Branch Rickey, whose scalp he once demanded, took Hornsby back into the St. Louis Cardinal fold, and who in 1934 engineered his bow in the American League as manager of the Browns.

Giles Sponsoring Hornsby
A product of this same Cardinal organization, Warren G. Giles, would be sponsoring Hornsby in Cincinnati.

Hornsby's American League ouster in St. Louis was as sudden and mysterious as were his sale to the Giants by the Cardinals, his transfer from the Polo Grounds to Braves' Field, and his not exactly honorable discharge by the Cubs.

Only a week before Barnes ex-

POPULAR SUCCESSOR OF ROGERS HORNSBY HUMANIZES ST. LOUIS BROWNS... THE RAJAH'S IRON HAND FAILED TO CLUB MEDIOCRE TALENT OUT OF ITS TRACKS...

pressed complete confidence in Hornsby.

However, the facts were that the new owners of the Browns were looking for an excuse and Hornsby was fed up.

Barnes & Co. may have heard of the Cincinnati urge.

Also Hornsby's boss playing, which has had him in trouble before, may have brought the thing to a head, although I understand that the gee-gees have been running for him all right of late, and that he had $200 on a $32 plug just the other day.

Barnes & Co. expected more than Hornsby could get out of a second division club.

The new proprietors of the Browns didn't spend a quarter to help Hornsby. The Rajah himself made deals calculated to bolster the Browns, and picked up Catcher Benny Huffman at Ray Dean's Hot Springs baseball school. Indeed, Hornsby's sales and deals have kept the Browns' heads above water for three years, and his presence helped the outfit as a gate attraction on the road.

Bottomley Humanizes Browns
Hornsby's iron hand failed to club mediocre talent out of its tracks.

Perhaps the likeable Jim Bottomley and his sunny disposition will fare better. Certainly, Bottomley will humanize the Browns.

Sunny Jim doesn't have to worry though. Baseball was good to him while he was first basing and helping to bat the Cardinals to four pennants and two world championships. He has a 127-acre farm at Bourbon, Mo., property at Nakomis, Ill., and is worth $100,000. He wanted to retire a year ago, explaining that he didn't want to be a leech. As for Dressen's transfer to New York, Terry's contract as manager expires next year, and he long has aspired to devote all of his time to the front office. He long has had great faith in Dressen's judgment of players and managerial skill.

And Giles, not long removed from the Cardinal chain, like everybody else in it, still regards Hornsby as a managerial genius, particularly in the heat of battle with a club that is headed somewhere. He also respects the Rajah as one of the best appraisers of baseball talent in the business. A graduate of the Cardinal school, he is in favor of strict discipline.

Backed by a superior officer of that type, the cold, unemotional and self-centered Hornsby might make some headway in Cincinnati. Anyway, he'll continue to stand or fall on his own opinions.

Hotel Loses Softball Heat to Gulf Team From Odessa

Odessa's Gulf Soft Ball team trekked twenty miles, but not in vain, Wednesday night and took the local Hotel Scharbauer to a neat trimming, 9 to 6. The hotel hitters accounted for 13, but could not convert them as ably as Odessa batsmen, who used only eight hits to produce the nine runs.

Tonight's Industrial League games will find the Sinclair and Gulf attempting to prove the superiority of their products, while the Hardware will take on its dread rival, the KRLH.

Mine Protects Rodents As Safety Measure

ROY, Mont. (U.P.)—Rats, usually hunted and destroyed by man, are protected carefully by operators of the mines south of here.

According to Jim Martenic, a miner, the formation in the mines is loose and cave-ins are common. The sand in the mines is the habitat for rats and many nests are located among the workings.

The management has instructed the men to protect the rats and their nests. The rats are valuable because instinctively they sense a coming slip of the earth long before the men notice the signs.

Australian Wool Clip To Pass 3,000,000 Bales

SYDNEY (UP)—The National Association of Wool-selling Brokers forecasts the 1937-38 wool clip at 3,146,000 bales, of which 82 per cent should be merino and 18 per cent crossbred.

Of this total clip, it is estimated that about 2,860,000 bales will be offered for sale through brokers' stores; the amount offered before Christmas, it is predicted, will not exceed 1,500,000 bales.

The new selling season opens at Sydney on Aug. 30, followed by Adelaide on Sept. 2, Perth on Sept. 13 and Melbourne on Sept. 27.

On an estimated average weight of 300 pounds avoirdupois, the new clip will run to 943,800,000 pounds.

Ask Motorists Stay Off Cut-Off While Hot Top Being Laid

Hot topping of State Highway No. 158 (Andrews cut-off) from Midland to the Midland-Ector county line is scheduled to be started Friday, according to George Finley of Pecos, division highway engineer, who was in the city yesterday.

The laying of the prime coat with single asphalt surface will take from eight to ten days during which time all traffic to Goldsmith, Andrews, Seminole and points north and west will be routed through Odessa. Co-operation of the citizenry of this section in keeping off the road during the final stages of construction was urged by Finley, who stated that traffic will handicap the workers and will be detrimental to the paving.

High Goal Polo Man Looks Over Ponies In Angelo Area

SAN ANGELO, July 29.—Cecil Smith, one of the most talked of men in polo, was a San Angelo visitor last night, while he looks over polo ponies he has bought for future delivery and while he checks up on other polo prospects.

There are only two ten-goal men in the United States, and the talk is that Mr. Smith may be elevated to that ranking at the fall meeting of the committee that ranks the players.

Accompanying Mr. Smith was Owen O'Hanlon, in charge of the stables of Charley Wrightman, president of the Standard Oil of Kansas and rated as perhaps the best mounted man in polo.

Mr. Smith took part in one of the most amazing polo expeditions on record last fall when he at Number 3 player on the Texas Ranger team of Mr. Wrightman, took a leading part in the winning of five tournaments on the Pacific coast. It is Mr. Smith's belief that the horse is 70 to 80 per cent of the success of a polo player.

Most Americans at Peiping Reported Safe at Embassy

PEIPING (By Wireless to Shanghai), July 29 (P).—Most of Peiping's 675 American residents were shepherded safely last night inside the United States embassy compound.

Julius Flisar, of Easton, Pa., a member of the United States marine guard, was the only American casualty at the close of the first day of the Japanese punitive offensive to drive the Chinese army from Peiping and the surrounding country.

He was wounded slightly when Chinese sentries, evidently mistaking him for a Japanese, fired at him as he walked in a Peiping street.

The U. S. Marine embassy guard of 500 men built emergency encampments and assisted the civilian refugees to establish themselves inside the embassy quarter.

The Japanese embassy circulated a statement last night, reaffirming that its military does not intend to

Market Demand Rise Aids Relations of Other Oil States

AUSTIN, July 29, (P).—One reason the railroad commission was able to step up Texas oil production considerably this year without incurring the wrath of oil men in the other states is that national market demand as estimated by the United States Bureau of Mines has risen steadily.

The bureau calculated market requirements next month at 3,462,900 barrels daily. Its estimate of demand six months ago was 3,066,600.

How much longer this upward swing will continue is uncertain, but commission officials are confident the demand one year hence will be larger. There may be a drop, however, with the end of the peak gases invade Peiping and will no bombard the city. The statement guaranteed the safety of all foreigners in this former Manchu capital.

(Secretary of State Cordell Hull in Washington said that possible evacuation of American civilians from Peiping was being considered as one eventually to be met.)

Uncertainty for the future grew, however, when the Chinese 29th army threw up a network of barricades and dug entrenchments facing the embassy quarter.
