Son of Cyclone Davis Attains Own Fame; Is Week-End Visitor

Son of an illustrious father and mother, yet famous in his own right, Arlon Barton Davis, son of Cyclone Davis, was in Midland over the week end, contacting public officials and county school heads with reference to the possible appearance here of his father. Although Cyclone Davis is 84 years old, as a speaker he is still active and in demand. Stoutly refusing to be paid for making lectures, his engagements are arranged by his son who humorously says the angels won't take care of the veteran's expenses, so he does it through sale of the book, "Memoirs by Cyclone Davis," of which several editions have been published and bought up by important personages throughout the country.

Arlon Davis, who travels in his deluxe automobile which is equipped with everything from chuck box to office, formerly bore the distinction of being the youngest newspaper editor, youngest mayor, youngest bank president and youngest chamber of commerce president in Texas. He organized the former Cowboy State Bank at Shafter Lake and was connected with preliminary organization of the Midland National Bank in the earlier days. He is co-author of the book which bears his father's name. He once got national-wide publicity through being invited to President Wilson's second wedding in answer to a classified ad. He paid $14 rent on a suit to attend the formal affair and was unabashed in Washington society, in spite of being an "East Texas hill-billy."

Newspaper clippings refer to Arlon B. Davis as a poet, cowboy, author, athlete, actor, organizer, politico, publicist, builder, banker who is optimistic, vigilant and determined.

Imports Are Studied By Countries

Japan Closes Door To 700 Articles in Move to Raise Cash

By Associated Press
The question of imports for warring nations was posed today as a major issue for international powers.

Japan, seeking to pare her international bills and provide more war cash, closed the door to 700 articles. France considered throwing open the Pyrenees frontier to allow arms and volunteers to go to the Spanish government. The step was raised as a possibility aimed to break the stalemate in the Anglo-French-Italian Mediterranean crisis. The cabinet meets Wednesday to consider action.

Despite drastic action, Japan will continue to take heavy American purchases of cotton, oil and steel. Chinese and Japanese resumed their battle for Shanghai along a 25-mile front. Rains turned trenches into quagmires.

The promised Chinese offensive failed to develop, mired down by the pouring rain.

Congressmen Look Forward to Speech By FDR Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP).—Members of congress look to President Roosevelt's Tuesday evening "fireside chat" to the country for a cue on the calling of a special November session.

One of their number spoke out today against a special meeting. Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) of the senate naval affairs committee told reporters:

Nine men charged with drunkenness were tried by him in city court and they likewise were assessed $14.30 fines by the judge.

Economy Program Pushed

School Fund Share Occupational Tax Would Be Slashed

AUSTIN, Oct. 11. (AP).—The senate plowed deeper into its economy program today when members voted, 14-11, to admit introduction of a bill limiting the available school fund's share of occupational taxes to one-fourth.

Senator Small, Amarillo, author, specified the remaining three-fourths of such taxes should go to the general fund to reduce the deficit.

He charged improper allocation of occupational levies, of which the school fund receives half from oil and a third from cigarettes, unjustly penalizes general revenue.

Representatives Jones, Jourdan, offered a house resolution asking Governor Allred to submit reduction of expenditures but an attempt to act on the proposal failed 65-70.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Farsighted Republican politicians who couldn't keep their minds off 1940 even if they tried, cast frequent sidelong glances at Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Dewey is famous in the east as the special prosecutor who has broken up vice and other rackets in New York City. He is now running for district attorney of New York on the same ticket with Mayor F. H. LaGuardia. A spectacular reform district attorney in the metropolis would be an obvious good Republican bet for the governorship, timber being as scarce as it is, and nearly any Republican governor of New York would be a strong candidate for presidential nomination.

All this would require some fast going, however, and Mr. Dewey is a long shot in an obstacle race. Tammany still has many jobs and privileges and the night mare of Mr. Dewey making hay for himself by busting up Tammany rackets in district after district is calculated to bring all the bickering groups in that once powerful machine together in an effort to smother him.

Dewey runs only in the Tammany stronghold of Manhattan and not in the adjacent boroughs. Thus he is considered to have a poorer chance than LaGuardia.

Furthermore, the Republicans figure, Postmaster General Jim Farley has his mind set on running for governor next year and can be depended upon to do all he can to keep Tammany from being discredited and Dewey from being built up.

Tips on Control of Sleeping Sickness Sent to Horsemen

Users of thoroughbred stallions and others who have connections with the Fort Worth Remount Area have received bulletins from Major Marion I. Voorhees, officer in charge, relative to the outbreak of encephalomyelitis (sleeping sickness).

Every precaution should be taken to protect the remount stallions as well as all other valuable horses, according to the communication, and the following information was recommended as being helpful in preventing the disease:

1. Keep down flies and mosquitoes to a minimum by keeping manure cleaned up, wet places in stalls sprinkled with lime and the use of fly spray around animals.
2. Animals regularly stabled are not as susceptible as animals kept on pasture.
3. Isolate affected cases from well animals.
4. At the first symptoms call your local graduate veterinarian and notify this office at once.
5. Until the veterinarian arrives, first aid treatment consists of:
 - (1) Applying cold wet sacks to animal's head and neck.
 - (2) Keep animals in shady cool stall and use fly spray to keep down flies.
 - (3) Feed green feeds if obtainable, otherwise alfalfa or a bright

Look for Third Term Race.

SUBCONSCIOUSLY, at least there's an obvious tendency among most Democrats and most Republicans to assume the likelihood of a Roosevelt third term candidacy in 1940. But there is absolutely no "dope" on this subject, aside from the fact that Roosevelt deliberately has avoided committing himself on it.

Recent huddles of Republicans here and elsewhere have revealed the fact that most G. O. P. leaders are thinking in terms which indicate assumption of a third term candidacy. Privately, nearly all of them say they think it's probable and unanimously they say they hope Roosevelt will run again—even admitting, in many cases, that the President is still far more popular than they want him to be.

Stamp News

ISSUANCE of four territorial stamps will complete the United States Postoffice Department's stamp program for the year. The Hawaiian adhesive goes on sale Oct. 18 at Honolulu, and the Alaskan and Puerto Rican issues are expected early in November. The Virgin Islands issue will be ready about mid-December.

Tentative plans indicate the central design of the Alaskan issue will be a picture of Mt. McKinley, loftiest peak on the North American continent. Native scenes will be depicted in the other territories.

An official announcement of the Delaware tercentenary issue is expected early in 1938. Applications for this and for other stamps commemorating anniversaries and historical events already are being sent to the department.

Pictures of pagodas were banned in Burma's competition among artists for designs of a new pictorial series. Pagodas, which crown almost every hill of Burma, are reminders of the teachings of Buddha to the intensely religious people. Placing a black cancellation line across the pagoda would be considered sacrilegious, so pagoda designs were taboo.

An Armistice cachet will be issued on Nov. 11 from Fort Berencas, Fla., canceled at 11 o'clock, the actual hour of the signing of the Armistice ending the World War.

A single 10-centime yellow and black stamp commemorates the establishment of "portable post-offices" in Switzerland. One of the new buses housing the mobile offices forms the central design. (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

Mrs. Bohannon Is Hostess to South Camp Club

Mrs. A. G. Bohannon was hostess to the South Camp home demonstration club at her ranch home recently.

Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, county home demonstration agent, gave a demonstration on bed linens and bed making. She gave the following list of rules to be used in dressing the bed: First, see that there is a slat for every row of coils in the springs; second, cover the springs with protector; third, cover mattress with mattress protector; fourth, have mattress pad (same size as mattress above); fifth, have long sheets that will allow at least six inches to tuck under the mattress. This assures the sleeper an undisturbed sleep in the way of wrinkling of sheets. Last, use any covering you might like. Mrs. Hollingsworth used a feather comfort made at an earlier date by club women.

She also showed a woven bedspread made from home grown wool and various other sample spreads and blankets, having posters to show the various steps used in making blankets from the raw wool to the finished products.

The hostess used flowers from her own garden for decoration throughout the house and a refreshment plate was served to the following: Mmes. Mart Wilson, Floyd Cogburn, Elmer Smith, Leonard Huff, M. R. McCarter, Miss Dova Cogburn, Mrs. Hollingsworth and the hostess.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Wilson, Oct. 28.

Margaret Speaks Is Guest Star of Firestone Tonight

Returning from a brief concert tour in the south, Margaret Speaks, famous Voice of Firestone soprano, will be the featured star on the regular Monday night Firestone program, October 11, over the NBC-Red network at 8:30 EST.

Miss Speaks will sing "Moon Marketing" by Weaver; "Ah Love But a Day" by Beach; and "Linden Lea" by Lamson. Special arrangements of "Danger" from "Love at Work" by Gordon-Revel and "After You" by Siegel will be sung by Miss Speaks and the Firestone Choral Singers. The Firestone Symphonic Orchestra, under the direction of Alfred Wallenstein, will interpret "Zigeuner" from "Bitter Sweet" by Coward.

Alan Holt, baritone with the Firestone Choral Singers, certainly can "take it." While attending Purdue University, he played three years of varsity football and has, with considerable pride, followed the gridiron progress of his alma mater ever since.

Margaret Speaks, Firestone soprano and Ohio State graduate, listened to Holt's detailed explanation of Purdue's football superiority preceding the Ohio State-Purdue clash at Columbus Saturday, October 2.

"I understand football," Holt beamed, "I played three years in college."

Before the rehearsal for the Monday evening Firestone program, October 11, Miss Speaks inquired about the outcome of the game.

An extemporaneous and greatly enlarged Firestone Chorus which you don't hear over the air replied: "Ask Holt. He understands football—he played three years in college!"

BOOK REVIEW

By A. W.

The Far East Comes Nearer, by Hessel Tillman; J. B. Lippincott co. When war broke out in Spain the publishing companies were swamped with novels, essays, and histories of Spain and biographies of leader in the conflict. Now with the Chinese-Japanese situation causing so much interest, publishers are receiving new manuscripts every day about China and Japan. One of the best books written about the war in the far east is The Far East Comes Nearer. It was begun before the recent storm broke out and is a quiet, balanced analysis of the causes for the conflict.

It may be true that Japan desires glory and plunder, but the greatest cause for her present orgy of destruction is fear—fear of what will happen to the population of this small island if they do not gain new territory in which to expand. Japan is about the size of the state of Montana and 70,000,000 people live there now. Their population increases at the rate of one million a year. They have few natural resources. However Mr. Tillman does not seek to prove that because Japan is in such a dilemma is justified in its wanton aggression on China. He merely presents the situation clearly and in an unbiased manner. He also tries to be fair in his presentation of the situation in China. He gives a clear description of the plans and progress of reconstruction in China under Chiang Kai-shek, but he believes that reconstruction in China is a race against time. China has started her progress of national rebirth at the same time when the Greatest Power of the Pacific has started a program of expansion. Mr. Tillman's analysis of China's willingness and ability to engage in major conflicts is very interesting. But he very wisely refrains from prophesying the outcome of the conflict.

The Far East Comes Nearer is required reading for those who take more than a passive interest in world affairs.

Zeppelin: The story of Lighter-than-air craft by the late Captain Ernest A. Lehmann, Commander of the Hindenburg, in collaboration with Leonhard Adelt, Longmans, Green and Company.

Captain Lehmann's career covers the entire development of lighter-than-air craft. He was an airship captain before the war. He commanded Navy and Army airships during the war, and participated in the air raids on London and other large English industrial cities. After the war he played an important part in re-establishing the Zeppelin as a means of commerce.

His books reveals the kind of man he was: quiet, gentle, peace loving, even in times of war, for he hated his part in sending death and destruction on people and cities. The book is a history of the development of the rigid airship, but it is also full of human interest stories that will appeal to any reader. —A. W.

New Book Interests Midland Readers From Two Angles

"Home Builders of West Texas," a volume of sketches of pioneer women of the western part of the state just off the press of the Naylor company, will be of interest to Midland readers from a two-fold angle.

First, the author, Miss Kate Adele Hill, is known to Midlanders through her work as district home demonstration agent of this region which brought her to Midland on frequent visits.

Second, the first sketch in the book concerns Mrs. Annie Dickinson Cusenbary of Sutton county, the mother of Mrs. Cliff M. Epps of this place. Mrs. Cusenbary died in April of this year. The story tells briefly of her life from the time when she came as a bride to the little three-room ranch house (where, by the way, she installed what was probably the first bath tub in the county) to the last years of her life spent in the beautiful home which was the first brick house in the county.

The record of Mrs. Cusenbary's life as a home maker in a land that was, at the beginning of her sojourn in it, a rough frontier, introduces brief histories of a dozen West Texas wives who helped build up in West Texas a culture and society distinctively their own.

Threading the whole book is Miss Hill's admiration for these women, who, without fuss or fame, quietly built up their homes in a raw land a spirit of culture to barricade them from the coarsening influences of frontier living. The volume is a tribute to what may be termed the typical house wife of early West Texas. —K. E.

Dangerous Age Fixed. BERKELEY, Cal. (UP) — The "dangerous age" for accidents has been statistically fixed at the University of California as the high school age. YANKEES COP WORLD SERIES BY DEFEATING THE GIANTS, 4-2

GOMEZ WINS HIS SECOND STRAIGHT DURING SERIES

BY ALAN GOULD.
POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 11. (P)—The conquering Yankees climaxed another record-smashing chapter in their book of amazing baseball accomplishments yesterday by over-powering the Giants in a booming finish to the second successive all-New York world series.

The Yankees blazed out a 4 to 2 victory on a rain-drenched diamond in the fifth and final game while Lefty Gomez repulsed repeated counter attacks by the Giants after Mel Ott's homer tied the score in the third inning.

The triumph by the Yankees, 4 games to 1, marked their fifth successive victory in baseball's big money battle and their sixth since the war. They won previously in 1923, 1927, 1928, 1932 and 1936.

Gomez Double Hero.
This set an all-time record. The Yankees broke a tie with the Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics, each of whom was victorious in five world series. The champions now have captured 20 of their last 25 series games and there's no club in either league that, in two years, has come close to challenging their supremacy.

Gomez, the eccentric southpaw, was the hero of the decisive game. The Yankees tallied all their runs off the portside delivery of gangling Cliff Melton, Giant freshman who feiled for the second time in the series. Five of the eight Yankees hits went for extra bases, including a double, two triples and two home runs, but Gomez enjoyed the distinction of batting home the winning run with a single as he repeated his opening game triumph over the Giants.

The lanky Castilian portside, by winning two contests, ran his world series record to five victories, with no defeats. He beat the Cubs once in 1933 and the Giants twice last year. He is now tied in the record books with Jack Coombs and Herb Pennock, each of whom posted five victories without a setback.

Home runs by Hoag into the right field stands in the second and by DiMaggio in the third, a drive that hit the upper roof near the left-field line, put the Yankees off in front. Melton fanned no less than five batsmen in the first three frames but he made the fatal mistake of pitching too many, extra base balls.

Gehrig Stranded.
After Ott's smash tied the score,

Tiny Lazzari started the winning outburst in the fifth with a 450 foot triple to center. Gomez then shot a single off Whitehead's glove to bring Lazzari across with what proved the winning tally.

Gomez advanced when Red Rolfe walked and scored on Lou Gehrig's double to center. Another pass to Bill Dickey, filled the bases but Melton pulled himself out of the jam by retiring Hoag on a foul to Danning.

That ended the Yankee scoring. Lou Gehrig, got his second extra base hit, a triple on a drive that bounced over the prosaute Jimmy

Nazi Germany and Fascist Spain

Nazi Germany's active sympathy with the Spanish Fascists was strikingly emphasized when Nicholas Franco, brother of Gen. Pity the Poor Passer

The steeple-jack's life is as safe as a government bond compared to the life of a passer these days. The kicker is protected under present rules, but not the luckless fellow who flings the forward passes as you can see very well here in this picture of Clemson's Halfback Bailey about to feel the Army brutes at West Point.

Texans to Know Size Of Additional Taxes Within a Few Days

AUSTIN, Oct. 11. (AP) — Texans probably will know in a few days how heavy an additional tax burden the House wants to place on the backs of natural resources production.

They also may find out definitely whether a majority of the Senate favors slashing departmental appropriations to slow down the increase in the general fund deficit, as was indicated strongly last week.

In addition, they likely will learn whether the House is willing to hard liquor to be sold legally by the drink in preponderantly wet centers such as Galveston, El Paso and San Antonio.

The sale by the drink bill or the $10,000,000 omnibus tax proposal striking mainly at natural resources producers is expected to come up for floor discussion in the lower chamber tomorrow.

The omnibus measure would raise levies on natural resources and public utilities except telegraph companies 46 per cent and place a ten per cent tax on picture show admissions costing more than 40 cents.

Presentation of a flood of amendments to change the proposed rates was certain, and some legislators believed the percentage of increase would be slashed to 25 or 33 1/3 per cent before the House sent the proposal to an uncertain fate in the Senate. Sponsors of the bill hoped for final action in the House by Wednesday or Thursday.

Narcissus Is Favorite Indoor Bloom

Paper-White Narcissus.

The season of gardening for flat dwellers is at hand. Paper-white narcissus, Chinese lilies, hyacinths and daffodils, which are easily brought into flower indoors, are all obtainable. During the winter, flowers may be grown from bulbs with little trouble.

Paper-white narcissi will come to flower in six weeks if the bulbs are placed in a shallow bowl with gravel to hold them upright and the bowl is kept full of water. Hyacinths will flower if placed in glasses full of water so modeled that a shoulder holds the bulb at top of the glass, while ample space is left below for roots to develop.

Germany Demands Return of Lands

BERLIN, Oct. 11. (AP) — Europe throughout the coming month will echo and re-echo with Germany's demands for restoration of her war-torn colonies, authorities of the foreign office predicted Sunday.

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler decided during the annual congress of the Nazi party at Nurnberg last month that the time had come to push the demand for return of her pre-war colonies into the forefront of Germany's foreign policy.

At Nurnberg the Fuehrer made a flat demand for restoration of Germany's foreign possessions before a gathering of diplomats from many lands, and amazed his international audience.

Authoritative sources said that during his recent visit to Berlin Premier Benito Mussolini promised Italy's support for the colonial claims of Hitler's regime.

Hitler, a foreign office spokesman said, probably will not end any speech without hammering anew in-

Plea to Save Mother Earth Wins The Navajos; Last Great Chieftains Rally

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz., Oct. 11. (U.P.)—The government has received influential aid in its program to improve cattle overstocking and depleted oil conditions on the entire 16,000,000 acre Navajo reservation, with Chee Dodge, last of the great chieftains, pledging his support.

Chee, whose influence is expected to iron out a difficulties which has arisen with Indians who oppose the federal plan, recited range dangers threatening his tribe before a group of Indians and officials who assembled at Pincon.

Words of the white-thatched, jewel-becked mediator who also is one of the tribe's most successful stockmen, were regarded by white emissaries as a classic of reasoning and oratory. His speech strengthened hopes of the government and probably assured eventual success of the two-unit program.

Long Roundup Underway. The plan, including a program of building soil by controlled planting and grazing, together with a reduction in the million head of animals owned by the Indians—is underway today. Four hundred of Arizona's hardest riding cowboys and Navajos have begun a roundup that will last until the first snows.

Chee's speech, presented calmly before listeners who largely were headmen from all sections of the great tribe began:

"Sixty-eight years ago we came back from Fort Sumner. At that time we were just a small band. We also owned a very small band of stock. But, up to this day, we are told we have increased to 50,000. Also, our stock increased tremendously with us.

"At that time we had plenty of grass for our stock. We just kept increasing our stock, thinking nothing about the grass our stock ate, thinking nothing about the soil the grass grew from, thinking nothing about our Mother Earth.

"Years back a person could almost see the grass sprouting right after the rains. And after it rained you could walk on the soil and it would sound like you were walking in the snow—cracking under your soles. But now the ground is just like cement. The only thing a persons hears cracking are his knee-joints from walking on the hard ground."

Points to Hardships. Chee said the grass was killed because the stock was permitted to run over the reservation. He cited the great hardships brought about by dust storms, caused by depletion of soil.

He urged the Indians aid the government in its conservation program, and, pointing to some of the younger members of the tribe, he appealed to the "oldtimers."

"Have pity on these youngsters, the coming Navajos will take our place. They have no place to go. This is their reservation. If we had two or three reservations it would probably be different.

"If we have increased in 68 years from a handful to 50,000 what will be the population of the Navajos 30 years hence?"

Then, he cried:

"My people, Mother Earth is slowly dying."

Rio Grande Valley Oil Fields Will Be Publicized at Show

MALLEN, Oct. 11.—Lower Rio Grande Valley oil fields will be given international publicity through the McAllen Chamber of Commerce exhibit at the Oil-World Exposition in Houston, Oct. 11-16. McAllen will be the only city, according to General Manager Ed Lenzner of the exposition, to have a booth at the show.

The McAllen booth will be in charge of Paul T. Vickers, chamber of commerce manager, under whose 11-year secretaryship of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, the idea of town exhibits at the international petroleum show at Tulsa, was generated by Ralph M. Barron, banker and Midland chamber director. Midland has become the leading oil city of the Permian Basin.

More than 5,000 oil maps and pieces of McAllen literature will be given out from the McAllen booth at the Houston petroleum show. The maps show McAllen as the headquarters city for 11 different oil fields, and the literature advertises the valley city as the oil metropolis for that area of Southeast Texas and Northern Mexico. Citrus growing, farming and tourist attractions of the Rio Grande Valley are also exploited in the folders.

Beware The Cough From a common cold That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many cough remedies, such as Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, and fluid extract of Licorice Root, but it also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect, and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote, perfectly blended with all of these so that it will reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of people, who really know their drugs, use Creomulsion in their own families, realizing that this excellent preparation aids nature to soothe the inflamed mucous membranes, to heal the irritated tissues, and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion "tops" for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible, and active in going to the very seat of the trouble. Creomulsion is generally found satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritation, especially those stubborn ones that start as just a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained from the very first bottle of Creomulsion. Don't worry through another sleepless night—use Creomulsion. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no typhen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product, and the relief that you want. (Adv.)
