Relive War Days

Tramping feet, martial music and pennons brightening the Champs Elysees announce to Paris that "the Yanks are coming" 20 years after their World War visit in the French capital. And there were plenty of cheers for the 1000 dapper-uniformed Legionnaires who made the trip this fall to renew their friendship with France.

Governor Bailey Loses to Miller In Senator Race

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 19. (AP)—Congressman John E. Miller, democrat running as an independent, won election to the unexpired term of the late senate majority leader Joe T. Robinson in Monday's special general election, defeating Gov. Carl E. Bailey, state democratic committee nominee and ardent New-Dealers, by a handy majority.

Bailey conceded the election at 9:35 p. m. on the basis of returns tabulated by the Associated Press at that hour. Bailey issued this statement:

"To the people of Arkansas: I concede the election of Congressman Miller to succeed Senator Robinson. I shall continue to serve you as governor to the best of my ability."

The Associated Press returns at the hour of the governor's statement showed:

1440 precincts out of 1,923, for Miller 59,465, for Bailey 38,870.

Ransom Paid, Ross Still A Captive

$50,000 Paid for Release; Officers Take up Hunt Today

CHICAGO, Oct. 19. (AP)—Federal agents announced today that $50,000 ransom had been paid for the release of kidnaped Charles Ross but abductors had failed to free the aged manufacturer.

The announcement was made after a deadline set for the return of Ross—8 o'clock this morning—brought no word.

A corps of government agents and state police started a hunt for the snatchers.

The ransom was paid in $5,000 and $20 bills. A list of the currency was sent to banks and police throughout the nation.

Mrs. Ross warned through a public notice to the kidnapers yesterday that if her husband was not released by this morning that full power of the law would be enforced to effect his return.

Officers have remained inactive while negotiations for the release of the kidnaped man have been in progress. Both federal and state officers are expected to swing into action today.

Clawater, southwestern Yoakum wildcat a mile and a half northeast of the Denver No. 1 Whitteburg discovery producer. The interval of saturation was from 5,007-17, and the well this morning was coming ahead at that depth. Previously, it had logged showing of gas in core from 4,923-32. Core from 4,963-67, of which two feet were recovered, was very hard and showed nothing. The well was then drilled from 4,967 to 5,007, at which point coring was resumed. The discovery well, which reached a total depth of 5,001 feet, logged 894 barrels in 24 hours after treating with a total of 14,000 gallons of acid. Location of the American Liberty test is 66 feet from the south and west lines of section 766, block D, Jno. H. Gibson survey.

When the strip tease went out, Broadway and burlesque hunted a successor and found it in Zorita and her snake dance—with the above picture giving a hint why Zorita has been so successful. The snake is "Elmer," one of four Algerian blue bull snakes in Zorita's act, a dance based on a mythological tale of a warrior lover turned into a snake. Between acts charming Zorita takes her slithering charges out for strolls around town.

Allred Gives Address To The Solons

Again Declines to Submit Question Of Appropriations

AUSTIN, Oct. 19. (AP)—Governor Allred, in a special message to the legislature, today declined to submit the subject of appropriations.

In a press conference, the governor also announced he had no intention at this time of calling another special session.

Both houses have requested appropriations submission. The governor said the legislature had considered appropriations for months and had boosted them despite his recommendations against increases.

It should be evident, he said, that they could not be revised intelligently in the short time remaining during this session.

He urged immediate provision for revenue for old age assistance, aid to the blind and dependent children and to finance the teacher retirement plan.

A sub-group of the senate state affairs committee drastically scaled down natural resources and utilities tax increases voted by the house but inserted levies which were not in the house bill. Among these was a 50 per cent increase in the corporation franchise tax, a ten per cent net income tax on radio broadcasting companies, a tax of three per cent of value on crude oil production and levies on gypsum and salt.

Dispute on Freight Rates in Texas Is Finally Settled

AUSTIN, Oct. 19. (AP)—Livestock raisers and railroads which have been locked in litigation over emergency freight rates for feed in 34 counties, agreed Monday on a 25 per cent reduction.

Henry Bell of Fort Worth, secretary of Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, announced the agreement following a conference with representatives of the railroads and the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association.

The rates on livestock feeds shipped into the counties, in the upper Panhandle and southwest Texas would be three-fourths of the regular published schedule, effective as of Oct. 1 and to expire Nov. 30, 1937.

The railroads agreed to apply to the state railroad commission to put the lowered rates into effect.

The commission in orders of August 24, Sept. 8 and Sept. 23 instructed a reduction in the regular rates of 50 per cent on hay and similar feeds and 33 1/3 per cent in cottonseed cake and grain.

On application of the railroads, the commission was temporarily restrained by a Travis county district court from enforcing the orders, and last week an extended hearing was held on whether the injunction should be continued or vacated. District Judge Roy Archer has had the matter under advisement.

The railroads contended in court the orders had been issued without proper notice and hearing, were discriminatory in that they did not apply to trucks and were not justified by drought conditions. They also attacked the law under which the rate reductions were ordered.

Cattlemen and county agricultural agents, supporting the commission, contended the drought situation was serious in many sections of the counties and conditions in every sense justified the lowered tariffs.

While the court hearing was in progress, the commission ordered similar reductions in truck freight rates and called a hearing for Oct. 22 on drought conditions in the 34 counties and any others.

Night Life Gay and Unrestricted Behind Lines In Nationalist Spain

WITH GENERAL FRANCO'S ARMIES (AP)—Night-life in Nationalist Spain gets gayer, these days, the closer it is to the front.

Saragossa, against whose outposts the Madrid brigades have smashed for months, is a Spanish Paris where soldiers and officers can make whoopee until the wee hours of the morning. The re-"blighty" of Nationalist Spain, Saragossa, with a population of 174,000, offers a nocturnal program of amusements ranging from cabarets, where customers can drink beer, sherry, coffee and cognac while watching bespangled dancers doing the fandango, to halls with taxi girls at three dances for a peseta.

There are also cafes with scotch, cocktails and beer on draught that stay open most of the night. Some of the smaller cafes have women barnen and waitresses. The waitresses act as hostesses and have a thirst for the more expensive

Soft Beans, Civil War and Salvador Dali

The subtitle of the above painting by Salvador Dali, Spanish artist, justifies the swift conclusion that it is one of the horrors of war. Dali calls it "Soft Construction of Boiled Beans (Premonition of Civil War)" and it is now on view before oh-ing and ah-ing and gosh-ing Pittsburghers, at the 35th annual international exhibition of paintings at the Carnegie Institute there. It took fourth prize.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)—Associates of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said today the "ever-normal granary" they advocate may cost more than any other crop control program ever undertaken by the administration.

They said it would probably cost $700,000,000 the first year. The administration is leaving to congress the problem of financing whatever crop control system is authorized.

The forecast for West Texas today and tonight is colder in the extreme south, probably frost in the north tonight.

Z. W. Rogers went on trial in district court today charged with assault with intent to maim in connection with an attack on Deputy Sheriff Fisher Pollard during an attempt to break jail.

Pollard suffered serious injuries to both eyes but recovered without any apparent permanent injuries.

Emmet Masters, negro, was given five years in the penitentiary by a district court jury Monday on a charge of murder. He was found guilty of slaying another negro, Stanford Floyd, here a few months ago.

Japanese Launch New Offensive on Shanghai Fronts

SHANGHAI, Oct. 19. (AP)—Japanese launched another major offensive on Shanghai fronts tonight apparently to drive out Chinese before the Brussels nine-power conference convenes at the end of the month to seek to end the conflict.

Chinese said the heaviest attack centered in the most important sailer, Tazang.

Earlier, Chinese struck back in a sharp counter offensive.

The advance of the Japanese army down the two great railroads linking North China with the south has been slowed down, according to authoritative advices Tuesday from points along the southern banks of the Yellow river.

In the East, the Japanese threat to Tsinan, capital of Shantung province, was lessened when the column operating along the Tientsin-Pukow Railroad withdrew fifteen miles northward to Pingyuan-hsien from Tsuchengsang where their line had been threatening the Chinese Tuhai river positions thirty miles from Tsinan.

A portion of the eastern forces was transferred to bolster the Japanese drive that is meeting stiff resistance 150 miles to the west of the Peiping to Hankow Railroad.

Road Mappers On 9-Year Trek

AKRON, O. (U.P.)—Members of the Brazilian highway expedition, blazing a trail for a proposed Pan-American highway from Rio de Janeiro to New York, visited here as they neared the end of their nine-year trip across two continents.

Commander Leonidas Borges de Oliveira, Francisco Lopez de la Cruz, Mario Fava, and S. W. White, who made up the party, traveled through 15 countries in their survey. They prepared 34 maps and charts of the route, which will be turned over to the Pan-American Union in Washington.

Ten thousand miles of the 16,812 miles of the highway are open to motor traffic, they said. It is expected that the route will be opened south to Honduras within two years and that the entire project will be completed in 1942.

With All Their Faults We Love Them Still

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Postmaster-General James Aloysius Farley will be out of the cabinet "by the end of November."

Says who? Well, to be honest about it, this is just one more of those supposedly trustworthy tips from the so-called "inside." Washington correspondents with prophetic tendencies have been sticking their necks out on the basis of such tips for more than three years, every now and then.

Insofar as the last story concerning Jim's future movements is concerned, it just won't come true. This was a very interesting yarn promoted by others than those who had a right to speak for Mr. Farley. The indication was that as soon as a certain organization program and a certain issue of securities therein involved were okayed by the Securities and Exchange Commission, Farley would quit the Post Office and go to work for the company involved with a large bonus of stock.

That story left the inference, if one is to judge from the gossip about town, that the SEC might naturally be expected to act favorably. Diligent research reveals two facts: First, that the SEC has indicated no intention to act precipitately, if at all. Second, that Jim Farley has shown not the slightest sign to SEC that he believed it should.

Plenty of Offers.

Farley would like to quit as Postmaster-General and jump into business for awhile. He has had no end of offers, but if one can judge the man at all from personal scrutiny, he is primarily anxious to take on a job in which his executive abilities will be recognized and given full swing. Rather than the sort of a post which might bring him $100,000 a year, more or less, and carry the implication that Jim was being paid for his influence and prestige within the administration.

And to go even further, as far as this writer can learn, Farley would like to feel that he was being offered a job in recognition of his able administration of the Post Office Department and nothing else.

This writer never heard Mrs. Farley say, apropos of an offer to Jim which carried a huge salary and obviously was inspired with the inference that Farley—or at least his name—would promote the offering organization's interests in Washington: "Oh, no, we're not Roosevelt's!" But there is a very general impression in Washington that Mrs. Farley did say exactly that, and that she did not fail to reflect her bald-headed husband's sentiments.

A Common Affliction.

So perhaps Farley will quit by December and perhaps he won't. If he doesn't, you can be fairly sure, it will be because he has a great yen to stick around long enough to be able to make a better approach toward his ambition of a postal surplus instead of the traditional postal deficit. Farley is a sentimental Irishman, more honest than many of the men with whom he has been willing to associate, and he always has taken that Post Office job seriously.

There is more to be said about Farley, and a good peg on which one might hang much of it is the fact that he has no intention whatever of immediately relinquishing his chairmanships of the Democratic National Committee and the Democratic state chairmanship in New York. It never bothered his conscience to hold those jobs along with the Postmaster-Generalship. Nor, one would gather, did it ever horrify Roosevelt.

Farley hasn't told anyone yet, but it is widely supposed he wants to run for governor of New York in 1938. And some of the hard-thinking dopesters are convinced that he also has in mind the presidency of the United States. If he really has been bitten by the presidential bee, one can only call attention to the fact that it's a common affliction.

Greyhound's Super-Coaches Now in Service to El Paso, Los Angeles, Fort Worth, St. Louis and East

Greyhound's new Super-coaches are now in operation between Ft. Worth and El Paso. Besides providing the finest of all highway travel on this run, it completes a transcontinental Super-coach route from coast to coast.

Greyhound's Super-coaches are so utterly different from any previous type bus used in the industry that they involve radical departures in almost every detail.

The most important single change has been the placing of the motor in the rear of the bus. This arrangement means quieter operation, less vibration and complete absence of exhaust fumes. It also gives more space for passengers and adds to the riding comfort.

Another noticeable feature is the new high, comfort level for passengers. It is above the vibration line and permits passengers to look over the tops of passing private cars.

Special consideration has been given to the baggage space. Two large compartments, water tight and dust proof, have been built under the floor of the coach for suitcases, trunks and large parcels. The baggage rack on the roof has been eliminated.

The interior is modernistic and luxurious. A new system of lighting consists of a continuous circle of frosted glass tubing running entirely around the ceiling.

Deeply-cushioned individual chairs have been entirely redesigned for use in the new Super-coach. They can be made to recline in four optional positions for sightseeing, reading, relaxation or sleep.

Greyhound's new Super-coaches are modern and different, but in every respect they adhere strictly to the high traditions of safety and reliability which Greyhound has established in its nation-wide system.

The Town Quack

you go with a nicely equipped trailer on the back of your car. Tyson and Kotocho Searcy are living there now, and have had such a time finding a roof over their heads, they finally had to buy a house, and were lucky at that. Margaret and Donald Vigeon have solved the housing problem, temporarily by living in the various houses of their friends while they are away on their vacations. We don't know what Donald and Margaret will do if winter comes. The scarcity of places to live in is such that folk are practically grabbing at servants' quarters.

At a horse show in Memphis, Tenn., a newspaper photographer was taking flash-light pictures for the Memphis Commercial Appeal. When he exploded one of his flash bulbs, a show horse bolted and broke an ankle. As a result, it was necessary to destroy the animal. The owner sued the paper for $5,000 on the grounds that the photographer caused the horse's death.

All I have to say in rebuttal is that a horse which would go crazy from a flash of light isn't worth five thousand dollars.

Editor Huntsucker of Goldsmith writes in one story that a plot of ground is needed for a cemetery, in another story he says there is no sickness in Goldsmith. I believe Editor Huntsucker is expecting trouble to break out there soon.

He also is saving chairs for Ralph Shuffler, Clarence Scharbauer and me at a Goldsmith chamber of commerce supper October 26. He says we can all have the floor and personally get our grudges off our chests. I'm not afraid of that. If there's anywhere Ralph Shuffler won't talk it's around a banquet table. He won't quit eating to argue with anybody.

A San Antonio paper had the following paragraph which from the way it reads, must have been in a woman's column:
"Don't move to Midland unless ect will be finished within six years.

The exploratory expedition traveled across almost impassable stretches of country in Central and South America. For weeks at a time they lived on parched corn, roots, and drank water from the stalks of the bejuco tree.

When they had no gasoline they fueled the cars with a mixture of kerosene and alcohol and lubricated them with lard.

The Pan-American Highway would enter the United States at Laredo, and extend from there to Austin, Dallas, Little Rock, Memphis, St. Louis, Springfield, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Akron, Pittsburgh, Washington, Philadelphia and New York, enabling South American visitors to this country to traverse the most important industrial and commercial centers.

The expedition reported it had received both moral and financial support from all of the countries in which it had made surveys and studies of the route and several of the countries have already improved their sections of the 16,000-mile highway.

Where more than 30 similar expeditions have attempted the same undertaking and failed, the present expedition sees the end of the nine-year trip already in sight.

Prisoners Become More Tipsy.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (U.P.)—Police, mystified because drunken prisoners became drunker when placed upstairs in the city jail, made a thorough search. They found a cache in a window sill that contained tobacco, matches, a string used to pull articles from the sidewalk, and a bottle of liquor.

Navy Modestly Triumphant.

EL PASO, Tex. (U.P.)—Augustin Yarnell, 19, wanted to join the navy, but he also liked the figure of a reclining mermaid tattooed in bright colors on his chest. Navy regulations, he was told forbid acceptance of recruits with nude figures tattooed on them. Yarnell joined the navy—with a new skirt embellished on his mermaid.

Mothers! Treat Children's Colds This Proved Way

More mothers use VapoRub than any other medication of its kind—they have proved it by use in their own homes. It was further proved in the world's largest cold-clinic. No "dosing"—just massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. Almost at once, the painless-and-vapor action starts to loosen phlegm, relieve irritation and coughing, help break local congestion. Often by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Study of Nude Co-ed Photos Headache Job

DETROIT. (U.P.)—Looking at photographs of hundreds of nude Wayne University co-eds is "a headache of a job" to Dr. Irvin W. Sanders, chief of the school's health service.

This was his observation after a minor furor arose when two parents and a couple of freshman girls objected to the taking of nude pictures by which the health service spoils defects in posture.

Dr. Sanders vigorously defended the system and pointed out that it is being used by several first-rank schools including Stanford and the Universities of Iowa and Michigan. Pictures Carefully Guarded.

"Mrs. Rea Peterson, a registered nurse, and I are the only ones who ever see the pictures," Dr. Sanders explained. "We took about 900 last month and we worked all day Sunday developing and printing and we aren't half done. It's a headache of a job."

Girls to be photographed in the nude are taken one at a time into an upstairs room of the university clinic building, Dr. Sanders said. A registered nurse instructs them, and they are handed a hospital nightgown.

"Then," Dr. Sander explained, "they are ready for the picture. The small room is curtained off from the side and in front of the camera, so that actually the photographer sees the student only through the lens. Subject Wears Mask.

"The girl enters the room down a curtained aisle at the end of which she is met by another registered nurse, who shows her where to stand on a step a few inches from the floor. Then the girl, wearing a mask, hands the robe to the nurse.

"The camera is already in focus and one picture is taken front view and another from the side. It takes about a minute. As soon as the second click is heard the nurse hands the robe to the girl and it is over.

The parents and girls who objected—their names were not divulged—were curious about who takes the pictures and what is done with them. Dr. Sanders reassured them.

Nurse Operates Camera.

"During the picture-taking," he said, "no one is allowed on the second floor except registered nurses, myself and the student. Mrs. Peterson takes all the pictures, with the exception of one in every 18 which I take after reloading the camera just to see that it is working correctly.

Girls who object to the picture-taking phase of their health examination are excused. Dr. Sander pointed out, and only two or so far have objected.

Bathing suits should be used, he said, "but we found that in some cases the bathing suit covered hid

The PAYOFF

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—One All-America position already appears to be filled. It is that of coach. If his Cornell varsity doesn't accomplish anything else this season—and it is certain to stir up plenty of trouble all the way along the route—the All-America coach for 1937 should be Carl G. Snaveley. When Snaveley switched from North Carolina to Cornell last fall, not too much was expected of him for some time. The once all-powerful Big Red had struck an all-time low under old Gil Dobie—had been in the dumps for several campaigns. Yet after only one season, in which he found his way around, Snaveley has returned Cornell to telescopic heights—has Ithacans singing as they sang in the glorious days of Chuck Barrett, Eddie Kaw, Sunny Sundstrom, and George Plann.

When the speedy negro end, Brud Holland, ran wild against a good Colgate team in routing the Red Raiders by the amazing score of 40-7 the result was attributed to several things.

Colgate's employment of the old double wingback was listed as one reason.

The Hamilton defense was blamed. Andy Kerr's tackles, instead of charging, drifted, and so were going in the direction Cornell wished them to go.

Route of Colgate Tipoff.

"Don't be fooled by our Colgate score," explained Snaveley. "Colgate expected a push-over and was not prepared to do any pushing."

"When we did not go over, the Colgate team became demoralized and simply played the game for our side. I would hate to play Colgate again in November. I suspect that our opponents in the next few games will prove for us and for everybody that we have lots more weak points than strong points."

But if a Colgate array, with nine regulars of last season, numerous lettermen for the other two positions, and reserves, could do nothing with Cornell, nothing more could be expected of an inexperienced Princeton outfit with four sophomores in the line.

So Princeton fell before this rejuvenated Cornell team, 20-7, with the Big Red confining its pyrotechnics to the second half.

Once more the Cornellians were a happy revelation to thousands of the school's loyal alumni who saw their teams slaughtered by Princeton for three years, hand running and who had waited seven years for a victory over the Tiger.

And so Syracuse, Yale, Columbia, Dartmouth, and Pennsylvania, which remain on the Cornell schedule, have lightened their belts in anticipation of headaches from an unexpected source.

Snaveley Just Starting.

Snaveley got a break at Cornell, for three years ago the institution openly announced that star athletes were welcome and would be given assistance. They were asked only to meet the professors half way.

So with that understanding and Snaveley, Cornell may be expected to remain on top or thereabouts for quite a spell.

A winning college coach has to be vastly more than a capable instructor in these years of high-pressured football. He has to be an organizer and a hustler, and in addition to having these qualities, Snaveley is one of the best procurers of talent in the land. It is said that he keeps a card index of every promising preparatory school athlete in America, and keeps in touch with a great many of them.

Snaveley, a native of Buffalo, learned his football the hard way—on the battlefields of western Pennsylvania. He played, at Little Lebanon Valley, and first established a coaching reputation at Bellfonte Academy.

A success for seven years at Bucknell, he gave the south a taste of his skill for two autumns at North Carolina, and then arrived for bigger performances at Cornell.

Nothing succeeds like hard work, and Carl G. Snaveley is a worker from 'way back.

NEW YORK.—Fordham's football publicity department has issued a pronouncing dictionary to help sports writers and announcers with the Ram tongue-twisters, Krywicki, Wojciehovicz, and the others. Albie Booth, Yale's Mighty Atom of not-so-long-ago, is now an ice cream salesman. Don Budge and Gene Mako are going to Australia this winter, but the trip was in the air while Budge and the Hollywood movie moguls tried to work out a formula for a flicker for him that wouldn't spike his amateur status. Offsetting the reputation for murder that the Yankees compiled at the outset of the series, the Ruppert clan set a record in human kindness by giving a full world's series slice to Mrs. Johnny Broaca, wife of the vanishing pitcher, while the front office made good $1400 to Red Ruffing that he didn't earn when his holdout lasted well into the playing season. Wonder what the mighty Equipoise thought when they told him the boss, "Sorry, Whitney, had decided to give up his racing stables? The Giants will train—or is it recuperate?—at Baton Rouge next spring, so Louisiana's Governor Richard W. Leche sent pretty Dorothy Roy up from the Pelican State to represent him at the series. She had a live Pelican as the stadium mascot.

Denny Shute, recently signed for the third time to head Col. Henry L. Doherty's pro staff at the Miami Biltmore Country Club, is enroute with Henry Picard and Byron Nelson to play in the Argentine open.

The United States Bureau of Biological Survey reports a substantial increase in certain species of wild fowl this spring. Maine's most famous waterfowl grounds are in the aptly-named Merrymeeting Bay district. Miami's Orange Bowl Committee is huddling early this year, enthused over the new municipal stadium that will seat 30,000.

What would Gil Dobie thought about when he read how Cornell massacred an Andy Kerr Colgate football machine? Wives planning to buy their huddles new golf clubs for Christmas should remember the new ruling limiting the arsenal to 14 clubs goes into effect on January 1. Those planning not to buy, may welcome this alibi. Insiders confidently expect the international tennis ruling body to okay open tournaments at the next meeting.

Six SW Conference Games This Week To Capture Spotlight

WACO, Oct. 19.—Six Southwest Conference teams will next Saturday give this section of the nation its greatest week-end of football.

Traditional rivals will make it not just one spectacle but three that fans will be watching as Baylor University Golden Bears, chief up-setters are pitted against the Texas A. & M. College Aggies in a College Station set-to. The Aggies, picked by Chick Meehan as the outstanding eleven in the country, have been named for the first berth in the Southwest by scribes, while Baylor was before the Arkansas Razor-back bid due to settle back as the doormat club of the seven-club league.

Only T. C. U. Horned Frogs will not figure in championship play, but the Toads will be in New York for the all-important intersectional tilt with the Fordham Rams.

Rice Institute will be gunning for Dana X. Bible's unproven University of Texas Steers, and at Fort Smith, Ark., Southern Methodist University's Mustangs will battle the University of Arkansas Hogs.

Although Coach Morley Jennings still sees many kinks to be ironed out of the Bear machine, it has shown the world that it is the "finest Baylor club in 15 years," to put it in the words of Curtis Parker, Centenary athletic director. They work together better than any club in recent years.

The trek to Aggieland has been designated the "official trip" of Baylor University student body and about 1,500 of Baylor's 2,100 students will be on the Aggie campus when the first whistle is blown.

Leghorn Crows Over Defeat.

HARROW, Ont. (U.P.)—When a while leghorn hen, entered in the egg-laying contest, began to fall behind her owner, George A. Winton, expressed disappointment and then concern. Not so the hen. She ceased laying, sprouted a fine set of bright red wattles and comb, threw back her head and crowed.

Squirrels Fox Hunters.

EAST PALESTINE, O. (U.P.)—A score of steel workers who "took a day" the first day of squirrel season and reported at work the next morning "we didn't get a shot," spent their lunch period chasing a large saucy fox-squirrel that had stolen close to gather morsels of discarded food.

Ancient Camps In Texas Help Trace Culture

ALPINE, Tex. (U.P.)—New evidence that may prove a long-sought link between the Ice Age cultures and ancient man, has been found in Big Bend state park by archaeologists of Sul Ross State Teachers College.

Three campsites buried under alluvial deposits varying in depth from 7 to 12 feet have been discovered.

At one of the campsites, two levels of occupations were found. A surface site with pottery of the 14th and 15th centuries was found at the same spot.

The importance of another site lay in the discovery of two burials of the Indians of a remote period. One of these lay at a depth of 12 feet and had been protected by grinding slabs that stood on edge.

The second, at a depth of 10 feet, apparently represented a secondary bundle burial. It appeared that the body had been exposed until the flesh decayed, after which the bones had been tightly bundled and buried under a pile of loose stones.

Many spear points, hand axes, grinding stones, and remains of foods, including bones of birds and small animals and an unidentified type of seed hull, were found.

Five Motor Vehicles Piled Up By Mis-Step

PHILADELPHIA (U.P.)—Four automobiles and a police motorcycle were piled up here when a woman stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake.

Mrs. Catherine Anderson, 51, accompanied by her blind husband, Add Anderson, was attempting a right-hand turn. Her foot missed the brake and landed instead on the accelerator.

Motorcycle Policeman George Bramlich and four autos ahead of the Anderson car were involved in the subsequent crash. No one was injured.

Charity Group Sponsors Miniature Auto Show

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The first Miniature Automobile Show, with 500 different 1938 designs, has been held here in advance of the Automobile Show.

Replicas of the newest designs were reproduced by the toy industry, varying in size from 5 inches to 6 feet, for the exhibit, which was sponsored by the Boys' Brotherhood Republic, a charity which provides civic training for New York East Side youngsters.

Midland Women Hear Book Review Monday

A number of Midland women attended Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer's review of "And So—Victoria" at the Settles Hotel, Big Spring, Monday afternoon. Included in one party were Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, Mrs. M. R. Hill, and Mrs. S. A. Debnam.

Among others present were Mrs. F. H. Schouten, Mrs. R. B. Cowden, Mrs. Chas. Klapproth.

The technique of Miss Oppenheimer, who is much in demand in Dallas and other cities of Texas, in reviewing the book which deals with English historical material, was praised by Mrs. Hodge who declared her to be the best reviewer she had heard and one who made the listener wish to read the volume reviewed. She added that at least 250 women were present. Men and high school pupils were among the audience.

Clubwomen hope to bring Miss Oppenheimer to Midland for a review this winter.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, which plans to make the old stable a show place, ordered the removal of beams stopped. The stable was the spot from which riders started westward when the Pony Express carried the mail from the western rail terminus here to the Pacific Coast.

Sow Annuals Now for Early Bloom

Fall sowing of flower seeds is gaining in popularity, as experience proves satisfactory. Many of our annuals are hardy; so much so that they will live through the winter. Poppies are an example. Others have hard seeds which lie dormant until early spring, when they germinate weeks earlier than we could get on the ground to sow them.

The result is that plants from such seeds come to flowering size almost as quickly as those which have been started in hot beds or the greenhouse, and in sturdiness the plants from fall-sown seed have all the better of it. Hothouse plants are notoriously tender. Seldom have they been grown in a temperature low enough to prevent soft growth, and the result is they always require a period of adjustment to outdoor conditions during which they are at a standstill. The plants from fall-sown seeds are as sturdy and thrifty as outdoor children usually are, and come to bloom, of course, much in advance of those from seed sown outdoors in the spring.

Data on Fall Planting.

From a gardener's notebook, the following dates were taken, indicating the blooming time of annuals from fall-sown seed in the latitude of Chicago: Clarkia, June 23; Cosmos, early flowering, July 5; Snow on the Mountain, July 20; Nicotiana, June 29; Phlox Drummondii, July 1; Centaurea Cyanus, June 15; Annual Poppies, June 1; Cynchola, June 14; Anchusa Capensis, July 3.

This is by no means a complete list of varieties which do well from fall sowing. Petunias, Salpiglossis, and Snapdragons, which are among the most difficult of annuals to succeed with when seed are sown in the spring, do much better from fall-sown seed, and all of them self-sow.

plenty of whisky and beer for the domino and chess players. Asks why the lights were kept on all night in this besieged town, one of the military authorities replied: "The enemy can see us in the daytime, can't they?"

In contrast to these and similar front-line towns, there is the serenity of the rear-guard cities like San Sebastian, once one of the gayest resorts in Europe; Burgos, the cathedral town, and historic Valladolid. There the curfew law, which turns out lights at midnight and shuts down all places of amusement at the same time, appears to be aimed at reminding the civil population that Nationalist Spain is still at war despite the return of almost normal conditions in these places.
