Named 'Dion'

Too sleepy to pay any attention to the photographer, the Dion triplets, above, born to Mrs. J. Elin Dion, wife of a Hollywood bond salesman, prove the name must mean something so far as babies in multiple lots are concerned. Combined weight of the triplets, reported in excellent condition, was 15 pounds five ounces, almost two pounds more than the weight at birth of the famous Dionne quintuplets, whose name is pronounced the same.

Man, Woman Found Dead in Hotel at San Angelo Today

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 21. (A. P.)—Will H. Boothe, El Dorado ranchman, and Mrs. W. J. Covington, San Angelo, were found shot to death in a hotel room here today.

A pistol from which two shots had been fired was grasped in Boothe's hand. Both were about 35 and divorced.

Justice of peace Hugh Jackson, holding an inquest, questioned the woman's son, Robert DuCoty, 11, who said he went to sleep at midnight and didn't hear the shots. The couple had been dead six or seven hours when discovered.

OIL MEN HERE.

R. H. Bucklew, Quaker State representative of Oil City, Pennsylvania, and W. A. Nelson, supervisor of the southwestern district of the Quaker State Oil and Refining Company, have been in Midland several days on business.

Schools Dismiss For the Circus

Midland youngsters can take in the circus Friday without going through the process of playing hockey. Supt. W. W. Lackey announced today the school board had declared that all local schools will be dismissed tomorrow afternoon so that pupils can attend the afternoon performance of the Al G. Barnes and Sells Photo show.

After the circus—which starts at 2 o'clock—members of the band and pep squad will leave for Wink in order to be on hand when the Midland-Wink football game starts at 8 o'clock.

Gijon Falls To Franco's Rebel Army

Last Stronghold of Loyalists in North Is Captured Today

IRUN, Spain, Oct. 21. (A. P.)—Insurgent military headquarters announced today that Gijon, the government's last important stronghold in the Spanish northwest, had surrendered to generalissimo Francisco Franco's rebel force.

Insurgents declared they would enter the seaport tomorrow. It was reported the surrender came after a flight of many government officials to France.

Indications were that insurgents would clean up quickly the last fragments of government troops in the territory and transfer troops to eastern Spain for an impending major offensive there.

Chinese Bombers Avoid Foreign Areas in Flight

SHANGHAI, Oct. 21. (A. P.)—Chinese bombers avoided the International Settlement in raids on the Japanese today as the result of a request by American Ambassador Johnson that Chinese avoid foreign areas.

They damaged a Japanese mill and fired buildings while Japanese anti-aircraft guns apparently proved ineffective.

In North China Chinese reported advances both on the Peiping-Hankow and the Chinese-Pukow Railroads. They said their planes bombed the railroad station at Pingyuan, in Shantung Province, and destroyed a huge store of Japanese munitions.

A dispatch from Peiping, however, said a Japanese force occupied the south bank of the Tsingchiang River, fourteen miles north of Changteh on the Peiping-Hankow Railroad in Northern Honan Province.

Japanese acknowledge their campaign in Shansi Province, north of Honan, is being obstructed by difficult terrain and stiffer resistance than the Chinese had put up before. A spokesman scoffed at reports Japanese are withdrawing in Shantung Province, the eastern route of their southward drive. Chinese reports from Shantung said Gen. Han Fu-Chiu's provincial forces have retaken lost positions near Tchow on the Tientsin-Pukow Railroad without heavy fighting.

Arbitration Is Tried in Strike Closed Oil Field

ARDMORE, Okla., Oct. 21. (A. P.)—Faced with Governor E. W. Marland's edict that state troops will not strike-closed wells until peace is restored, arbitrators pleaded today with the CIO union and the Jones oil company officials to end their deadlock.

The company has accepted seven of the union's nine demands but declined union recognition and reinstatement of discharged workers.

High School Artists On Rotary Program

Music and songs by high school representatives entertained Rotarians and guests today at the weekly luncheon in Hotel Scharbauer Crystal ball room.

Mrs. DeLoe Douglas, director of the high school music department, sang a popular number. The high school girls' quartette, composed of Jessa Lynn Tuttle, first soprano, Barbara Jean Harper, second soprano, Jacqueline Crawley, first alto, and Wanda Ticker, second alto, sang one number.

John Nixon played the piano accompaniments, also one piano solo.

Vice-president W. R. Upham appointed a nominating committee, composed of Addison Wadley, Bill Simpson and Fred Wemple, to propose a successor to A. O. Thomas, president, who recently moved to Amarillo. The election will be held next Thursday.

Commercial Planes Lead in Landings

Commercial planes led three to one in landings at Sloan field today, reports in early afternoon showed. Included were: A Lockheed 12 of Loffland Brothers Company, with Eddie Ross piloting, coming from Tulsa and to return there this afternoon; a ship of the Trinity Drilling Company flown by Garza Wooten, from Dallas; a Lockheed 12 of the Superior Oil Company, Sam Gormly pilot, coming from Houston and probably to return there this afternoon; a Beechcraft from Laredo; a Spartan from Oklahoma, flown by Pilot Thompson; and a Waco flown by Geo. McEntire from Houston where he had gone Wednesday night.

Military planes included an O-46 observation plane, piloted by Lt. W. T. Heffley from El Paso to Fort Sill, Okla., and an observation land plane flown by Lt. E. R. Dyson from El Paso to Hensley field at Dallas.

After Flames Destroyed School

Strangely alone after the building to which it was attached had fallen before flames, this fire escape was one of the few parts of the Slippery Rock Normal School, Slippery Rock, Pa., that was left standing after the fire destroyed the structure. Girl students with coats over pajamas stroll slowly by and in the background, through the haze of smoke, stands a steeple with the clocks gleaming faintly.

Girl Declares She Shot Man to Prevent Attack

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 21. (A. P.)—Fighting for acquittal for killing Paul Reeves, 25, Margaret Drennam, 20, sobbingly told a jury today she shot her alleged secret lover to prevent him from assaulting her a second time.

Believing she was pregnant as the result of a first attack, she said she went to Reeves to tell him about it and took her father's pistol for protection. Unable to break from his grasp until she drew the gun, she said, she didn't know how many times she fired.

Step by step, defense attorneys called witnesses in an effort to substantiate the version of the shooting in the opening address to the jury of 11 men and one woman that Paul Reeves introduced himself to Miss Drennam as a single man named Jack Lyons; that she became pregnant after he attacked her in August, and that she shot him in his bungalow, while his wife was at the "movies," because he attempted a second attack.

Scouting in Buffalo Trails Council Showing Large Gains, Leaders Report

That boys in thirty-six towns of the Buffalo Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, are now enjoying the advantages of the Scouting program, and that one out of every three new twelve year old boys in the territory is joining the scout movement are disclosed in the folder, "An Accounting to the Sustaining Members of the Buffalo Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America," which is this week being mailed from district headquarters in Sweetwater to all sustaining members of the council.

Under the heading, Scouting and Growth, Continue to Grow, is the following: "Because of the continued support of more than 800 sustaining members of the Buffalo Trails Council and the personal service of more than 300 active scout leaders, Scouting and Cubbing in the Buffalo Trails Council are being made available to an increased number of boys.

"At present 1,141 scouts and scouters are officially registered in the council. In addition, 127 Cubs and 28 cubbers are registered. This represents an increase of more than 10 per cent since the first of the year. Including those who have dropped out during the year, many of whom have had several years of scouting, a total of 1,574 scouts and cubbers have enjoyed the benefits of scouting during 1937. Such a large number of boys living the Scout Oath and Law are the similar Cub promises should be a great influence for good.

"We are proud to inform you that one out of every three new twelve year old boys in our territory is joining the scout movement. We are hopeful by the close of 1938 to have increased this number to one out of every two. If we are successful in this endeavor, we will be able to meet the goal set for us by the Ten Year Program of the Boy Scouts of America which was started in 1933. The goal of this program is the following: One out of every four new male citizens a four year scout trained man.

"The enrollment of one boy out of every two will enable us to keep in scouting one half of that number for four years. The individuals with lesser service will also be benefitted because of their contact with scouting. Naturally it is our desire to keep in scouting every boy for four full years. The average length of service in this council is increasing every year, which means that scouts are finding the scout program increasingly attractive."

The thirty-six towns of the council in which troops are located are: Big Spring, Midland, Sweetwater, Pecos, Snyder, Colorado, Coahoma, Stanton, Forsan, Westbrook, McCaulley, Dunn, Rotan, Sylvester, Roscoe, Blackwell, Odessa, Grand Falls, Barstow, Wink, Monahans, Aspernort, Balmorhea, Kermit, Lorraine, Hermleigh, Jayton, Swenson, Turner, Roby, Pylon, Spade, Pflugman, Ira, Penwell and Mentone.

There are 6,500 boys of scout age in the Buffalo Trails Council with 1,339 new twelve year old every year, according to the folder, which also places the number of boys of cub age at 4,000. Our challenge, according to the folder, is to make scouting and cubbing available to every boy, whether city boy or rural boy. "Your continued support will make this possible."

The aim of the scout movement is to develop character and to train for citizenship by promoting the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, by training in scoutcraft, by education, and health, and by teaching patriotism, courage, self reliance and other kindred traits.

Among the activities provided in the Buffalo Trails Council are: Vocational exploration in over 100 different subjects; scoutcraft, including woodcraft, handicraft, campcraft, first aid, life saving, personal health, etc.; civic service, a "good turn" to someone every day and opportunities to practice good citizenship; special events, round-up, field days, rallies, swimming meets, troop sponsored events, courts of honor, etc.

Under the heading of cubbing is the following: "Cubbing is a leisure time, character-influencing program for boys of pre-scout age—9, 10 and 11 years sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America. The cub program is See (SCOUTING) Page 8

Eden Thanks Italy After Crisis Ends

Fascists Agree to Withdraw Troops From Spanish War

LONDON, Oct. 21. (A. P.)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, addressing the house of commons at the opening fall session, today thanked Italy for making an "eleventh hour" contribution to Europe's program of non-intervention in Spain by agreeing to preliminary steps for withdrawal of foreign fighters in insurgent armies.

He reiterated Britain's determination to "maintain right of way" in the Mediterranean.

Europe's fascist-Nazi front broke a dangerous deadlock last night over the presence of foreign soldiers in Spain and agreed to a scheme through the non-intervention committee for getting them home.

Count Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador, faced with what his antagonists described as a "stiffening attitude" by Great Britain and France, accepted British proposals for evacuating the foreign volunteers rather than precipitate a crisis.

The action, supported by German agreement, took place in the session of the nine-power subcommittee of the 27-nation "hands off Spain" body.

It also facilitated adoption of a formula which will enable Great Britain and France, as well as Italy and Germany, to stave off any showdown on the Spanish problem which, informed sources said, none wanted to face now.

It delayed indefinitely both complete withdrawal of the volunteers and the granting of belligerent rights to the warring parties in Spain.

It also facilitated adoption of a formula which will enable Great Britain and France, as well as Italy and Germany, to stave off any showdown on the Spanish problem which, informed sources said, none wanted to face now.

Roosevelt Warns Against Pushing Crop Loans More

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (A. P.)—President Roosevelt, informed persons said last night, has cautioned farm leaders against pushing crop loans to a point where the drain on federal revenues becomes too great.

Certain of the leaders called on him to ask 60-cents-a-bushel loans on corn to improve prices. While there was no word as to whether their plea would be granted, Mr. Roosevelt was understood to have raised the question whether the budget would permit wide extension of loans at that time.

However, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace subsequently told a press conference a government loan of this year's large corn crop "should be exceedingly desirable." He declined to say what loan rate he favored but conceded that a corn loan of about 46 cents a bushel would be comparable to the government's 8-cent-a-pound loan on this year's cotton crop.

Request for the corn loans was made by Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who was accompanied to the White House by Wallace.

Earl Smith, vice-president of the federation, who was also at the conference, said they told the president there was an "immediate necessity" for a corn program in view of prevailing low prices for future contracts and the impending harvest of 2,861,953,000 bushels, a yield more than one billion bushels in excess of last year's crop.

O'Neal said he proposed a loan program that would insure a farm price of 60 cents a bushel, or approximately 75 per cent of the "parity" price of corn. Parity, he said, now is 84 cents.

"The price of corn reaches 'parity' when the amount of money received per bushel for it will buy, when paid out for non-farm products, the same quantity it bought in the pre-war period," he said.

It was feared, O'Neal said, that the 1937 crop of corn would have to sell at 30 or 35 cents a bushel unless the market could, in effect, be "pegged" by a government loan program.

Windsors See Germany First

A good time was had by all, apparently, when the Duke of Windsor inspected a model factory near Berlin. The Duke laughs, and the working girl (wages 10 cents an hour) in the background smiles merrily. Even our Dr. Robert Ley, Labor Front leader in charge of the inspection tour, wears a satisfied expression.

Animatedly discussing what they have seen, the Duke (bareheaded) and Duchess of Windsor stroll through the model workers' village near Tegeler Lake, Berlin, attended by a crowd of Nazi officials and school children. A little later the Duke sneaked out the back door of a cottage, away from it all. He'll study housing in the U. S., too.

Loving Delaware Test Develops Hole Full of Salt Water Today

BY FRANK GARDNER. Hole full of salt water from 4,326 to 4,344 feet, the total depth, apparently spelled this today to Continental Oil Company No. 1 E. C. Marrs, Delaware test two and one-half miles north and eight and one-half miles west of production in the Mason pool, was shut down at 3:17 p. m. in sand preparatory to slugging back to shut off water. It had 800 feet of fluid in the hole, of which 150 was oil and the rest salt water. Slight show of oil and gas had been logged at 3,131, and show of oil and salt water from 3,133-67. It is 900 feet from the south, 330 feet from the east line of section 2, block 57, township 1, T. & P. survey.

Two and one-half miles northwest of the Mason pool, Barnett No. 1-A Johnson, 330 feet from the south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 12, block 56, township 1, is drilling below 2,022 feet in anhydrite and lime.

Runs Drilling Test. A small amount of oil and gas was apparent on one-hour drillstem test from 5,345-75 of Standard of Texas No. 1 M. B. Sawyer, prospective three-quarter mile north west extension of the Bohago area in Yoakum. Drillstem test from 5,315-45, of one hour's duration, had revealed 30 feet of drilling fluid, no oil or gas. Operators are now preparing to drill ahead from 5,375 up the western Yoakum. Wiggins et al No. 1 Bartlett is drilling at 1,250 in red shale. J. L. Greene No. 1 Nevels is drilling anhydrite at 4,300, with See (OIL NEWS) Page 8

Measure Is Passed In The House

Bill Has Favorable Chance of Passage, Senator Hill Says

AUSTIN, Oct. 21. (A. P.)—The senate voted today by an overwhelming majority to start consideration tomorrow of the general tax bill.

It voted to set the measure for special order at that time after somewhat vitriolic charges mingled with laughter during the debate.

Senator Joe Hill, supporter of the bill, interpreted the vote as favorable of chances for final passage. The bill as it now stands is approximately like this:

Telephone franchisees—increased 50 per cent with certain exceptions. Hard liquor mixed drinks—10 per cent of gross receipts. Oil—Raised from 2 3/4 to 3 per cent of value.

Sulphur—Raised from $1.03 to $1.10 per ton. Telephone companies—1 1/2 per cent of gross receipts compared with 2 in cities of more than 10,000 population. Gas, light and water companies—New rates graduated from 8 to 1 1/2 per cent compared with present graduation of 7 to 1 3/8.

The house, idling until it received the bill which levies on natural resources, utilities and radio stations, and legalizes and taxes liquor sale by the drink, dabbled at local bills and resolutions.

There was belief in some quarters that the upper chamber was ready quickly to send the bill back to the house which wrote it so as to provide about $5,000,000 additional revenue annually.

2 Seriously Hurt As Cars Derailed In Missouri City

BLACKWELL, Mo., Oct. 21. (A. P.)—A railroad agent and mail clerk were seriously injured and about 200 passengers were shaken up when six coaches of the Missouri-Pacific's "Texan" derailed here today.

The train broke in two as it reached the station. Coaches crushed a frame building. Sam McKinnis, agent, was dug from the wreckage. The clerk's name was not learned immediately.

Texas 'Death Book' Reveals 189 Killed In Sept. Accidents

AUSTIN, Oct. 21. (A. P.)—The public safety department's "death book" today revealed September highway crashes hurtled 189 Texas motorists to their deaths and sent 1,392 to hospitals where more might die.

Records totaled 297 more traffic accidents last month over the month preceding with the death toll increased by two and the injury list by 446. Almost seven per cent of the 1,106 crack-ups resulted fatally and 42 of the dead were pedestrians.

Increased flow of highway traffic, due in some part to Saturday football games over the state, was cited by traffic experts as possible cause for the mounting toll but they warned again the principle factor was carelessness and excessive speed.

Safety officials hope the amended driver's license law to be put in operation in November and the addition of 138 highway patrolmen, who graduated from training school last week, may have some effect on irresponsible drivers. Examiners have been assigned to strategic points throughout Texas' 22,000 miles highway network.

Brokerage Firm Here Locks Doors

Officials of the H. O. Bedford and Co., brokers, announced this afternoon that all offices of the firm had been forced to close their doors, pending adjustments of losses sustained by action of the New York correspondent brokers, Fenner & Beane, in closing out the entire account with them.

E. G. Lamar, manager of the local office, was in El Paso today conferring with Bedford and others in the office here could not make any further statement other than that the office had been closed, presumably because of the recent "break" in the New York market.

STAKES AND SPECTACLES ON FAR EAST TRADE

There has been a great deal of toloftly talk about "our stake in the Far East," and the value of trade with China and Japan as affecting American policy there.

Instead of windy generalities about such trade, the thing to do is to put on a pair of spectacles and look closely. The Commerce Department's most recent trade figures are good ones on which to focus the spectacles.

They reveal that for the month of August, American exports were as follows:

	1936	1937
China	$ 4,810,000	$ 6,081,000
Japan	10,763,000	24,644,000
U. S. Imports from these countries during the same periods were:
From China	$ 4,693,000	$ 7,961,000
From Japan	16,948,000	16,297,000

Now of course this is an appreciable stake, and helps greatly in the building up of American export trade, which was $178,975,000 in August, 1936, and jumped to $277,695,000 in August, 1937.

The 1936 figures are more reliable as a gauge for the future, because the increase in both China's and Japan's imports from the United States this year is clearly due in both cases largely to their demand for war materials, airplanes for the Chinese, and scrap-iron and other similar supplies for the Japanese.

Such trade is temporary. We found that out to our cost when Europe fought in 1914-1918. After the war it suddenly dropped away, leaving us holding a great bag of increased production facilities and no sales. Therefore the "war boom" in sales to China and Japan is nothing to get enthusiastic about.

Taking the figures for 1936, before the present war began, we find that American exports to Japan were only exceeded by those to Canada and the United Kingdom, while we sent as much export to Cuba as to China, and more to Australia and South Africa.

Even under the "war boom" conditions in China and Japan, causing them to take an abnormal amount of American goods, only a fraction more than 10 per cent of America's rising exports went in August to both countries combined. And of course export takes only a small percentage of all American production.

Beside this trade, with its tremendous risks of war, the market of peaceful nations who can trade with us and with each other in amity and good will, together with that tremendous home market that is the greatest of all, look very attractive indeed.

QUAINT CUSTOMS

In the eastern part of the country is a religious sect whose members still cling to the quaint old beliefs that a man's word is as good as his contract, that one should not borrow more than he intends to repay, and that the simple things of life are best.

Queer, these people who are so far behind the times. They know not the joy of installment purchases, double dealing, onerous debt. Their beliefs set them entirely apart.

Yet they live in peace and contentment, in fellowship and friendship with their neighbors, unworried by tomorrow's reckoning. And the hurrying, blase world might find the utopia it seeks in the life of these fortunate, carefree farmers.

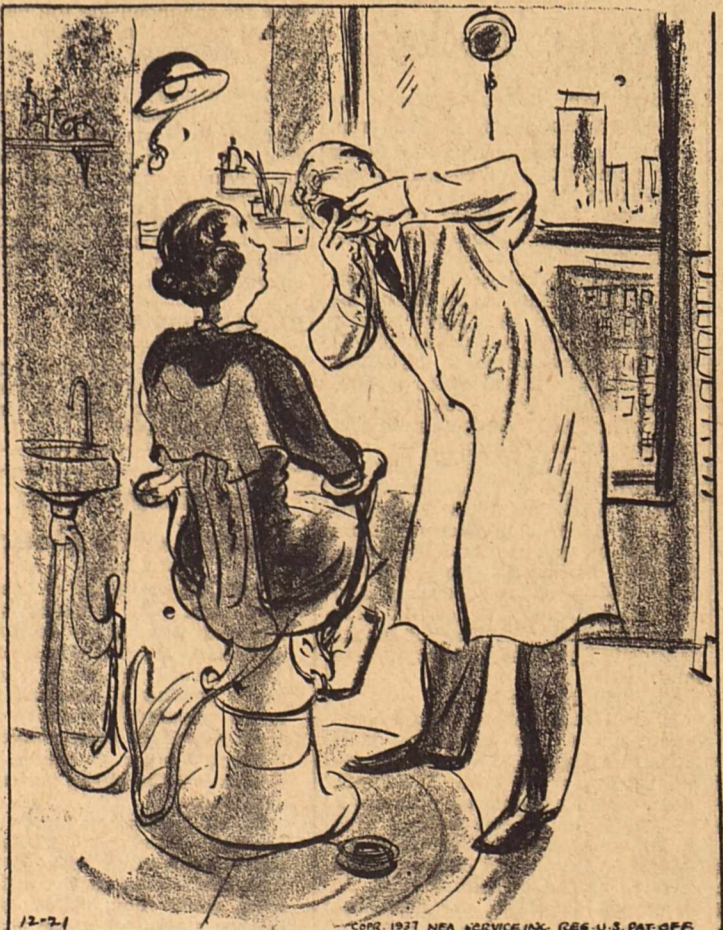

Massachusetts woman got a divorce when she testified that her husband slapped her because she failed to serve spinach for dinner. She has the sympathy and good wishes of every small boy in the land.

Anyhow, when the Duke of Windsor visits America the ship news reporters won't have to ask him their favorite question. You know—"What do you think of American women?"

Minnesota has a law prohibiting women from wearing Santa Claus costumes. Okay. Dad is the real Santa Claus.

Canada's Most Powerful Labor Goup Is The Catholic Union, With 50,000 Members

By CHARLES ROBERT MORGAN
NEA Service Special Correspondent.

MONTREAL, Quebec, Oct. 19.—A labor organization backed by the Roman Catholic church has mushroomed into prominence during the past few months, and today has a larger membership than any other labor union in the province of Quebec.

The immediate object is to enroll every Roman Catholic worker in Quebec. Later it hopes to have every Catholic worker in Canada on its membership rolls.

It is "La Confederation des Travailleurs Catholiques de Canada," or the Catholic Workers' Union of Canada, and it now lists 50,000 members, 20,000 of whom have joined within the past 30 months. The federation is divided into 12 syndicates, each dealing with a separate industry, or a group of small industries in one community. The chairman of each syndicate holds a seat on a central council.

His Decision Final.
While the church as such takes no active part in organization, many of its priests do, and the fact that leaders of the union share their course closely in accordance with ecclesiastical advice carries heavy weight in a province 75 per cent of whose people are French and 90 per cent of those are Roman Catholics.

Monsignor Alfred Cote, Quebec City, is the union's chaplain, and his decision on any matter of policy within the union is final. The union calls no strikes, opens no negotiation with employers without first securing the approval of the church. Once that is secured, the whole power of the church is thrown behind the workers. In Quebec that is often decisive.

In a recent strike among 10,000 textile workers in Quebec, the government refused to take any part in negotiations. After four weeks of fruitless haggling, Cardinal Roderique Villeneuve, primate of the Catholic church in Canada, intervened. Immediately Premier Maurice Duplessis called a meeting at which a temporary settlement was quickly reached. But no settlement had seemed possible until the supreme head of the church took action.

Many Workers Join.
The union was formed in 1907, but during the World War it almost ceased to exist. It was reorganized after that, but its greatest growth has been made since 1934 when Alfred Charpentier was elected president. As in the United States, the depression provided the impetus, and the encyclical of Pope Pius XI in 1931 (Quadragesimo Anno) provided the philosophical background.

Many organized Quebec workers have been for many years members and officers of various international unions with headquarters in the United States. This handicapped Catholic organization. But gradually headway began to be made with the slogan: "Keep your money in Quebec. Join the Catholic union and the church will stand behind you."

While the great majority of the members today are French-Canadians and Catholics, workers of other races and creeds do belong. Union officials say that regardless of race or creed every member will always receive equal rights in the organization, but its opponents suggest that once the union becomes strong enough to enforce its will in every industry and shop, non-Catholics are apt to be expelled from their union and their jobs, their places to be filled by French Canadians and Catholics.

"Separatist Movement" Afoot.
This view has been aggravated by a nationalist movement which has been growing in the province for several years. Its object is to set up a French-Canadian republic along the St. Lawrence river separate from the rest of Canada, owing allegiance to no other power.

French-Canadians outnumber English Canadians in Quebec at least 10 to one, but industry, commerce and finance are largely controlled by the English, and there are millions of dollars of English and American money invested.

During the last provincial election the "separatist" movement was widely discussed, but on election of the Duplessis government it died down.

The Catholic Workers' Federation denies that it has any sympathy whatever with the nationalist movement. But at Magog, Quebec, during a textile strike, leaders openly threatened that every English-speaking and non-Catholic mill worker would be fired as soon as the strike was settled. Nothing like that was actually done when the strike was settled.

Only Fireman's Salary.
Charpentier, head of the union, is a fireman by trade, 48 years old. He is a quiet-spoken French-Canadian, plainly sincere in his belief that the union is doing a service to his church and the workmen of his race and creed. One of 11 children and reared in abject poverty, Charpentier started out as a bricklayer, but joined the fire department so as to have an opportunity to study, in which his

The Town Quack

The front of our office is different, but I can't say it has reached the stage where it encourages anybody to want to work. Yesterday, with the flying plaster etc., our desks got covered with dirt. Today we can watch them put the new front on. In a few days, we should be inspired to get down to business.

It's funny how easy it is to think of going after a cup of coffee on a cool morning. Waiters and waitresses say that the average customer will sit down to a bunch of dirty dishes even when all the rest of the counter is clean and unoccupied. I think that's why "Slim" quit waiting on the counter and began delivering wholesale groceries.

Horse tracks were discovered on the polo field the other day. It is expected that officers will be called out to investigate the mystery.

It is unofficially rumored that Fish Pollard will go to Old Mexico to manage a big ranch. All I've got to say is that we will lose a good deputy, but he can run the ranch.

Sombody writes us as follows: "Why not let's develop a civic pride, at least to the extent of corralling all the stray papers, boxes and what-not that skip so gleefully over our town when the wind blows. One look at the courthouse grounds (and other open spaces as well) shows how much of the debris there is about. How much nicer our town would look without it. Let's try to clean up—AND KEEP IT CLEAN."

All I have to say is: "Amen, sister."

You don't have to look at the courthouse square to see the loose papers. I know of one neighborhood where several families live in one house. They use a common trash basket in the alley and quickly overload it. The yards of all the neighbors catch the overflow. A larger, covered basket would do the job.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—It is interesting to watch the growth of an incipient war psychology in Washington. In fact it is so interesting to some persons who are especially sensitive on the subject of war that it gives them cold chills.

No one thinks we are really going to war, of course. But so many of both the best and most intelligent minds here are talking about what it would be like if we did, that it would be holding out on the reader not to mention it.

In no time at all, Washington—high and low—has come to be teeming with people who turn out to be military-naval strategists of the most articulate order.

Imaginations Run Riot.
SENATOR R. M. LOGAN of Kentucky, who ranks well up on the Senate Military Affairs Committee, proposes a naval blockade of Japan which he thinks would make the Japanese behave. For one such suggestion made publicly a Washington correspondent can hear a hundred in private.

Roosevelt, with his warning "let no one imagine that America will escape," and his advocacy of collective "quarantine" against aggressor nations, started all this.

He left the imagination free to roam the distance between an admontory shake of the finger at Japan and positive military-naval action in a "preventive war."

He can have no complaint as to the activity of local imaginations, including those of men in the higher official rungs.

Military and naval men naturally in view of their function speak in terms of action. But they're far from the only ones who can tell you how long it would take to develop an effective bombing base in Alaska. (About a year, if you want to know.)

And of course the pacifist groups are indulging in more war talk than anyone, since they consider it their job to warn everybody that ditching the neutrality act is our first step toward international conflict.

What F. D. R. Said in '23.
MR. ROOSEVELT, a peace-loving man, has reminded the country that he learned a lot as assistant secretary of the navy before, during and after the World War.

The most definite thing he ever said as large as hers. Technical improvements in navies he said, made it progressively harder to operate them for from home shores.

Today one hears protection of the Philippines would require a navy thrice the size of Japan's. Roosevelt asked his readers to imagine war as a case of "Japan and United States, four or five thousand miles apart, making faces at each other across a no-man's water as broad as the Pacific."

The Nine Power Treaty and Japan's promise therein to respect Chinese sovereignty were then hailed by the future President as one of the most excellent reason for scouting the "inevitability" theory. All of which, although proving nothing, makes interesting reading today when as Logan says, "dealing with foreign nations at war is a matter of improvisation from day to day."

Mr. Roosevelt, seated at the piano, expects to do the improvising.

Beer Tins Make Shingles.

ABILENE, Tex. (U.P.)—Dr. E. W. Crow has decided upon discarded beer cans to use for roofing his barns. The cans will be straightened into tin "shingles" and nailed to the roof. About 32,000 cans are needed to roof a 30 by 60 foot building, Dr. Crow estimates, and the high quality metal and varnish finish is expected to give his barns a lasting top.

Strange Murder Trial Held By Correspondence

PITTSBURGH (U.P.)—A murder trial by correspondence, with the defendant in Italy and the plaintiffs in Pittsburgh, was held in an 11-year-old case against James Farrone.

Farrone was arrested in Italy on request of United States authorities, who say he is suspected of killing Joseph Abrilo here in 1926. By agreement, Italians accused of murder in the United States are tried at "home" if they are apprehended in Italy.

Boy Goes on Spurge After Finding $241

CALGARY (U.P.)—King for a day was the story of a 13-year-old Calgary boy which ended tearfully in the juvenile court here. The youngster found a wallet containing $158 in cash and checks amounting to $183. When he ap-

Marshall Goldberg, Pittsburgh's hippest halfback, is caught in an unusual pose—standing still. Panther opponents are advised to take a good look at this picture of the Vanishing Vandal because they won't see much of him during the game as he skeddaddles up the field.

Engineers Float Pipe To Lake Erie Placement

CLEVELAND (U.P.)—Engineers faced with the problem of laying more than 500 yards of heavy steel pipe in Lake Erie, accomplished their task by floating tite pipe to its resting place.

Sections of the pipe were coupled together in 120-foot lengths. Water tight couplings were used and each end was sealed with an airtight cap. Then floating cranes dragged the pipe lengths out over the water.

The caps on the sections were removed and the pipe sank into the trench dug for it. Estimated cost of the job, handled by the municipal engineering department, was $15,000.

peared in court the checks were intact but the cash had been reduced by nearly $100.

In England, labor permits issued to foreign girls entering the country are good for 12 months only and are extended only in exceptional cases.

Two Present Papers At Modern Study Club Meeting

Mrs. S. S. Stinson and Mrs. James H. Chapple presented papers at the meeting of the Modern Study club with Mrs. Fred Turner Wednesday afternoon.

"Legislation" was the general subject for the study, with Mrs. Stinson discussing "Social Security and the Old Age Pension" and Mrs. Chapple bringing information on the "Deportation of Criminal Aliens."

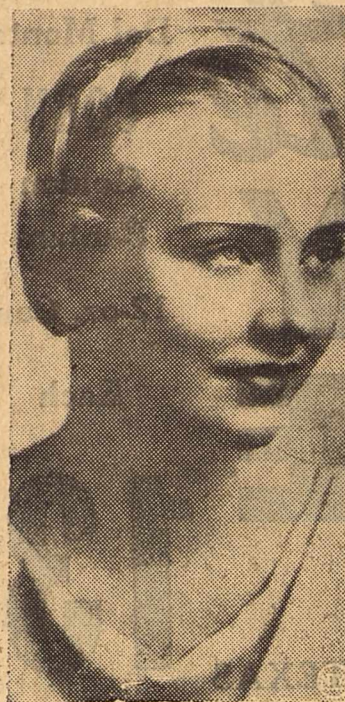

Mrs. John M. Hills was program leader.

Sixteen members and one guest, Mrs. Moore, were present, club members including: Mmes. R. H. Biggs, Chapple, P. P. Bridgewater, F. C. Cummings, J. M. Haywood, Hills, R. S. Johnston, E. P. Lamar, L. C. Link, F. I. McConnell, P. A. Nelson, J. H. Rhoden, A. H. Riley, J. W. Skinner, Stinson, and the hostess.

Waders Find Skeleton.

PADUCAH, Tex. (UP)—Three Paducah girls received a scare recently while wading in Buck Creek, south of here. Their feet suddenly struck something hard and slick in the soft sand—and looking into the clear water, they saw the bones and skeleton of a man being uncovered by the running water.

American Beauties

A thick robe of golden blonde hair forming a gleaming halo around classic features—wide blue eyes—pale iridescent skin—Jane Lewis, recently a student at Bryn Mawr college, is an almost perfect beauty. Her classmates thought so, too. In her second year, they named this girl from Princeton, N. J., as the most beautiful in her class. She came to New York to work a few weeks in a big specialty store's college shop and has stayed on, proving that beauty and brains sometimes do go hand in hand.

We, The Women

Respect Husband As You Did Boss

BY RUTH MILLER.

BUSINESS girls would be matrimony's greatest boon if they would only transfer to their husbands the healthy respect they showed their bosses.

But too often they marry with the thought—"It's certainly going to be nice, not having to please an unreasonable man to keep my job."

And henceforth the perfectly groomed secretary turns into a wife who does not trouble to look her morning best at the breakfast table.

When her husband goes into a rage because every shirt in his drawer is minus at least one button, she either shouts back at him or weeps in her most abused manner. Neither of which she ever did when the boss yelled at her because she misplaced a set of important carbons.

She becomes indignant when her husband swears, though she was outwardly tolerant of any language her boss felt called upon to use.

Believe me, she was cordial to the boss' friends, whether she secretly thought they were heels or not. But she tells her husband that George—good old George to the man she married—is a bore and she hopes he won't be coming around often.

She didn't complain to the boss every time she had a headache. In fact she tried by an added touch of rouge and an assumed brightness to fool him. But she forces a tired husband to listen sympathetically to all her small ailments.

Her boss' jokes weren't always funny, but she laughed hard enough to convince even the boss that they were good. Now she groans when her husband gives off a pun he thinks is good enough to repeat at the office.

Day after day she catered to her boss' helplessness—and never once did she make fun of him for not being able to find anything on his desk. And yet she won't accept with good grace the fact that a dresser drawer is an unknown wilderness to the man she married.

It's queer she doesn't see that the qualities that made her a perfect secretary would go a long way toward making her a perfect wife.

Textbook Heroine in College

DENTON, Texas, Oct. —Texas school children know Nancy Harris as the gay little heroine who rides ponies to adventure in the state-adopted texts, "Real Life Readers," which they use in their first classes in school.

But Nancy, whose fan mail has reached from coast to coast, is growing up, and this year is a freshman at the North Texas State Teachers College, where her father, Dr. B. B. Harris, is dean.

Above, Nancy is seen as she was when Dr. Cora M. Martin first conceived the idea of a series of readers about real children. The picture is one of those used to illustrate the books.

Below, Nancy today, a charming little co-ed of 15.

Study of Handel, Musical Numbers Occupy Robyn Club

Thirty-five children responded to roll call at the regular meeting of the Robyn music club at the Watson studio Wednesday afternoon, each giving some musical expression and its definition.

Marjorie Barron and Ann Ulmer presided at the attendance card, presenting gold stars to those who were present and green stars to those absent or tardy.

A review of Bach, discussed at a former meeting, was held, with children giving information about the great composer.

Study of the life of Handel was begun, Miss Lydie G. Watson teaching the lesson on the musician who was a contemporary of Bach. She told the story of the difference between the opera which is a secular story set to music and the oratorio, which is a Biblical story set to music. Handel having composed the greatest oratorio ever written, "The Messiah."

Love on the Dole Puts Bookkeeping in Snarl

ST. PAUL (UP)—Love complicates the bookkeeping of the St. Paul public welfare board, according to Frank M. Rarig, Jr., secretary of the board.

If the son of parents on relief wishes to marry the daughter of parents similarly situated, Rarig said, it increases the cost for the board to give them their own home.

Oscar Vitt Named Manager of the Cleveland Club

CLEVELAND, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland baseball club announced Wednesday appointment of Oscar Vitt, manager of the Newark club of the International league, as new manager of the Indians, replacing Steve O'Neill.

Replacement of O'Neill as the Cleveland pilot came after months of uncertainty over his status. Vitt, 47, managed the New York Yankees' Newark farm club for the last two years, finishing 25 1/2 games ahead of Montreal last season and defeating Columbus in the seven-game Little World series.

He formerly played third base with Detroit and Boston in the American league, winding up his major league playing in the 1922 season.

Tomorrow's Circus Day! Barnes-Sells Floto Here for 2 Shows

That exciting, thrilling hour which has caused Johnny all week to keep his ears scrupulously scrubbed, is upon us.

In fact with sunup tomorrow, it's here. The exact minute is when the two great special steel trains of the Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto Combined Circus rumble to a stop in Midland and begin unloading for the season's first day of white-top amusement.

Circus Day! The holiday that makes all the city kin and which brings the rich and poor to sit side by side and "Ah" and "Oh" and marvel at the wonders and daring that neither age nor time can dim.

Circus Day! A phrase that brings a quickening of the blood stream; a sparkle to the eye and untold joy to thousands. And now it's only twelve hours away.

Dawn tomorrow will bring to Midland some 26 acres of tent necessary to house this colossal amusement enterprise formed by the uniting of these world famous names of the tented world.

Hundreds upon hundreds of the world's foremost arenic stars, and scores of European novelty acts are part of this year's colossal program. Features never before attempted are made possible because of the uniting of these two giants of the tented world. One of the many hundreds is the largest group of ferocious jungle beasts ever assembled. Despite the fact these unruly animals refuse to be tamed or trained, they are made to perform.

This daring feat is accomplished by Bert Nelson, the greatest wild animal trainer in the world. Nelson, with only a chair and whip as his protection steps into the cages and forces the brutes to obey his command. No more stirring, or thrilling sight has ever been, or ever will be, witnessed.

While everything is new with the Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto Combined Circus for the 1937 season, every department has been increased in size. This year sixty master clowns cavort and make merry on the huge hippodrome track. Four hundred horses comprise the horse fair, while the menagerie consists of 800 furred and feathered creatures displayed in electric-lighted cages.

The greatest riding act ever brought to America, the famous Christiani troupe, come to this super circus direct from European triumphs. Composed of four men and their two sisters, this sensational turn features Lucio, the only rider in the history of the world accomplishing twisting somersaults from horse to horse.

In the European contingent is also daring, exotic America, in breath-taking balancing feats high in the dome of the tent, on a swinging trapeze. America, without holding to ropes or supports, tiptoes about on swinging and whirling bars, utterly the last gasp in daring. Hal Silvers, unrivaled and most versatile genius of the tight wire, is also from Europe, as are the Fly Artons and the Two Karleys.

The colossal opening spectacle, Old Mexico, was two years in the making and uses hundreds of costumes and gowns richly inlaid with jewels. Hundreds of animals take part in this pageant of unbelievable loveliness.

Performances will be given at 7 and 8 p. m. at N. Front Street, West End Addition, the doors opening an hour earlier.

Down-town general admission and reserved seat tickets on sale circus day at Midland Drug Co.

This great combined circus—the Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto Combined Circus, will be the only railroad circus to exhibit in Midland this year.

Young Entrepreneur Caught.

ELKO, Nev. (UP)—Numerous children present in an Elko theatre without the ceremony of passing the box office puzzled John Rowberry, manager. He hid behind a curtain until the lights were turned off and found a 12-year-old boy admitting his pals through an exit door—for 5 cents each.

BULLDOGS DISREGARD THE BETTING ODDS AND CONCEDE SELVES A CHANCE TO MUZZLE THE RAMPAGING WILDCATS

BY JESS RODGERS.

Going about their work as determinedly as if the game tomorrow night were for the district championship itself, the Midland Bulldogs have avowed they won't be any "lamb" for the slaughter by the Wink Wildcats, but instead will give the oil field lads just about the toughest fight they have had this year.

Spirit is just about all they do have, however, as injuries have reduced their attack to a mild breeze. What was expected at the beginning of the season to be a cyclone attack has failed to materialize, partly because some of the boys have been crippled up and partly because certain members failed to come through as had been expected.

The coaches have been experimenting with all possible backfield combinations this week in an effort to find a quartet that can seriously threaten the heavier Wildcat line. The Bulldogs will go into the game with probably the lowest chance of victory ever accorded them. Wink supporters will probably be offering as many as 50 points—and their past record this season indicates they might be capable of winning by that large a score. But the Bulldogs are not paying any attention to the betting odds they are devoting their time to possible means of stopping the Wink offense while they tally a few time themselves.

The Bulldogs are going to find two of the outstanding backs in West Texas on the Wildcat team in Webb and Hodgett. Both are three year letter men and this has been the best season to date for each of them. They have not been effectively stopped all year by any of the five clubs they have met.

A third member of the backfield who may come through and outshine the two more publicized members is Don Ezell, 165-pound halfback. He was better than the other two in the game with Midland last year and has shown no signs of wear or tear this season.

Ezell is one of three brothers on the Wildcat first string. The other starters from the family will probably be Dee at guard and Beekman at end. Dee and Don are twin brothers and Beekman is one year older. And Ripley might well be paged on this one—the weight of each is 165 pounds! I'm not sure even Ripley would believe that. Some doubt might also be cast at the list of weights turned in on some of the other boys but proof is not at hand.

The Wildcats will be presenting a veteran at every position in the line and the backfield. They have Calahan, a one-year vet, to complete the backfield, Keefe at the other end, Chaney at the other guard, both one year men, Dendy and Rutherford at tackles, Dendy a two-year and Rutherford a one-year man, and Craig, also a one-year man, at center.

The Wink line is credited with weighing 1135 pounds for an average of 162 while the backfield averages 163. The average for the entire team is 162 plus, around seven or eight pounds larger than the Midland club. Calahan at half, who comes in at 167 pounds, is listed as the heaviest member of the squad.

Should any replacement be needed on the Wildcat team coach Turner has seven lettermen and 13 making their first appearance to turn to. Which doesn't make such a bright picture for the Bulldogs. The Bulldog coaches this week have been working Truelove to take the place of little Jay Francis, quarterback and spark plug of the team who is out with injuries. Truelove is green and light, but he is probably the fastest man left on the squad and has had enough basketball experience to give him a chance to snare a pass.

The Bulldogs have been able to complete a pass in only one of their games to date and this has worked a terrific mental as well as physical handicap on the team. Just what will be on the throwing end tomorrow night hasn't been decided, but the boys will necessarily have to take to the air occasionally.

Norton Is Losing Sleep Over Game With Grizzly Club

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 21.—Coach Homer Norton of the Texas Aggies is losing lots of sleep this week and well he may, for his Aggies tangle with Baylor, the proverbial bad-boy of the Southwest Conference, in the Aggie home opening game Saturday, Oct. 23, on Kyle field. The Bears, with one of the strongest teams in their long grid history, come to Aggieland as one of the 15 undefeated major grid teams in the country.

In the past, with comparatively weak teams, Baylor earned a reputation for upsetting championship hopes of team after team in year after year and made the conference race the neck and neck affair.

usually is each year. This year the majority of sports experts picked Baylor as the weakest team and likely to finish last in the seven-team conference race. Instead, they continued their upsetting habits and have made the pre-season guesses look bad.

Fans of the Southwest, recognizing the game as the outstanding attraction on the Texas grid card for the week, have flooded Aggie ticket offices with orders. With a seating capacity of 33,000, Ticket Manager E. W. Hooker is not worried over a complete sell-out, however, but he feels certain that the game crowd will be one of the largest, aside from Thanksgiving Day games, ever to flock to Kyle field.

With freshmen as the cannon fodder, Coach Norton is drilling his Aggies overtime on pass defense, passing being the high point of the Bears' tumultuous attack. Scouts brought back charts of plays Baylor used in its past two games and it is these plays which Norton is pointing his team to smother. He also is testing the Aggie offense against the five-man defensive line the Bears favor.

Shuffling his backfields again, Norton plans to alternate Dangerous Dick Todd, Crowell, and Bounding Bob Neersta, the Flotonia Flash at one of the halves and "Korky" Claffens, Brady, and Bill (Rock) Andish, Brennan, at the other spot. Both of the latter are listed as fullbacks but are working well at either spot.

Owens Rogers, Mart, and Dick Vitek, Granger, have been sharing the quarterback duties and the spot of passing fullback is divided between Ken Mills, Groesbeck, and Jim Shockey, left hander from Gilmer. Mills has a pass completion average of 442, and Shockey boasts a 435 average.

Turtle Finds Welcome. MT. MORRIS, Ill. (UP)—Busy with her household duties, Mrs. Evert Lantz heard a strange tapping noise at the kitchen door. She opened it and found a large turtle on the doorstep. Turtle meat featured the dinner menu that night.

Cyclist Proves Skill.

TACOMA, Wash. (U.P.)—William Whaley, 20, and Irish, rode a bicycle around the narrow rim of a wading pool here for 24 hours—and 52. Friends challenged Whaley to do the stunt, asserting that he could not maintain his balance for that long a time. Whaley proved his ability, but was unable to walk when he finished the ride.

New "Meanest Thief" Found.

THE PAS, Man. (U.P.)—A new candidate for the title of "meanest thief" has been nominated in this northern town. Boxes for the collection of funds to aid science in its fight against cancer were distributed about the various public buildings. An inspection a few days later revealed the theft of the box from the post office lobby.

Police Autos Vulnerable.

ELYRIA, O. (U.P.)—Police cruiser cars are as vulnerable as private automobiles, it seems. Service Director I. D. Faxon ordered the city's three police cars into a garage to have their fenders hammered out, after complaints from Mayor Leonard Smith about their battered appearance.

Gold Necklace Bagged.

LINDSAY, Cal. (U.P.)—George Dennis and Bob Eddy, Lindsay youths, had "good hunting" with the opening of the 1937 dove season. While cleaning their catch a gold necklace was discovered in the craw of one of the doves. The 14-inch necklace was in good condition.

German Wheat Regulated.

BERLIN (U.P.)—To insure the country's bread supply, the German government has forbidden the use of rye or wheat for any other purpose than for human consumption and seeding.

adapted to meet the needs of boys of the age group mentioned and is unique among programs in its use of natural neighborhood groups as a means to aid the home and its boys in finding at home the larger values of human life. An interesting activities program leads the cubs to seek achievement honors. Scouts are used to assist cubs in their activities. Parents serve as leaders and most work is done in the natural neighborhood group known as the "den". All cub activity is done under the direction of a Cubmaster who is assisted by Pack Committeemen, Den Dads, Den Mothers, and Den Chiefs who are Boy Scouts assigned to service. Each cub organization, which is a federation of dens, is known as a "Pack". Your Dollar is Spent Thusly.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Jury Chosen for Trial of Golfer

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 21. (AP)—Hollywood's John Montague was identified today as a participant in a $700 roadside robbery here in 1930 by a man who served a prison term for the robbery.

Roger Norton, Cleveland, testified that Montague, then known as Laverne Moore, was an accomplice in the robbery.

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 21. (AP)—Twelve rugged natives of this Adirondack mountain country reluctantly forsook their deer titles and took the oath as jurors Wednesday night to try John Montague dapper pal of Hollywood notables on a seven-year-old robbery charge.

Selection of the jury was completed at the end of two days' examination of 46 men and four women, the latter rejected because of what State Prosecutor Thomas W. McDonald termed a "lack of proper facilities to make them comfortable." Submission of testimony will begin tomorrow.

Montague, accused of the $700 robbery of a Jay, N. Y., roadhouse when he was known as Laverne Moore of Syracuse, N. Y., sat in court throughout the jury selection conferring frequently with his counsel. He was arrested in Hollywood where he had won acclaim by prodigious golfing feats.

Testimony of Garr Brothers Attacked

SHELBYVILLE, Ky., Oct. 21. (AP)—The commonwealth Wednesday attacked the defense contention that Roy Garr shot Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt to death in self defense.

Through witnesses Attorney General Hubert S. Meredith sought to show that all three bullets that struck down the ex-leutenant governor, charged with slaying the Garr's sister, Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor, were fired into Denhardt's back. Denhardt was killed here September 20 on the eve of his second trial, the first having ended in a hung jury.

Roy Garr testified he had conferred with commonwealth's attorney H. B. Kinsolving, Jr., regarding evidence he expected to be introduced at Denhardt's second trial that Roy said would cast reflection on "My sister's character." Meredith hammered at Roy on cross examination: "Isn't it true that you shot the general because you were disappointed the jury at New Castle didn't convict him and because you didn't want the new evidence brought out?"

Each time Roy answered "No," and added "I shot to protect my life."

Boy Hitch-Hikers Get "Lift" By Henry Ford

WOOSTER, O. (AP)—Two school boys here are willing to testify that Henry Ford doesn't turn thumbs-down on hitchhikers.

The youths, John Smucker and Robert Strong, were on their way home from summer jobs in Pontiac, Mich., when they were picked up by the owner of a maroon-colored Ford, driven by a chauffeur.

Almost certain that their benefactor was the motor magnate, the boys asked him who he was as they stepped out of the car, after a 35-mile lift. Ford then revealed his identity.
