The Town Quack

Kent Boone is one cowman who knows how to sell his calves. While most of the ranchers around here have been complaining that there are no buyers, Kent has his calves ready to deliver in a few days and will have his money in the bank. Roy Parks, who bought Kent's calves, said: "I just got tired of hearing Kent gripe about not having any buyers, so I bought 'em myself." Some of the ranchmen who are griping just haven't griped enough, apparently.

Midland voters are not the only ones who will decide on issuance of bonds for improvement of the schools. Big Spring voters will go to the polls to decide on $65,000, to which a federal grant of $40,000 would be added, for erection of a ward school, gymnasium and repair a wing of the high school. Big Spring civic leaders say they are behind in improving the schools along with the rest of the city, and they must vote the $65,000 and get the $40,000 while it is available.

When the polls open Saturday morning here, each property tax paying voter in the No. 1 school district will have the solemn responsibility of deciding whether or not to issue bonds of $40,000, to which

Which Would be More Embarrassing?

Behind the Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—If one concedes the propriety of Jimmy Roosevelt's position on the federal payroll as one of his father's secretaries the sniffing over his new assignment as "co-ordinator" or "clearing house" between the President and the independent federal agencies is bound to seem superfluous.

It's a job that needs doing. It might have been given to someone other than Jimmy. On the other hand, the President's son is a person peculiarly fitted to try to handle it.

Big problems and little problems are poured in on the White House. The big ones are more than enough to keep the elder Roosevelt busy. Cabinet members sometimes use discretion as between big ones and little ones at cabinet meetings and sometimes not. Any way, the President hasn't been able to see all the heads of nearly a score of administrations, commissions and boards to discuss both their big and little problems.

Jimmy Has Advantages.
THAT's been a hit-or-miss, catch-as-catch-can affair which has led to much bickering on the line of "That fellow gets in and we don't" and "The President doesn't understand our problems." The idea now is the regularize the situation with Jimmy reserving a half an hour a week for each agency and serving both as a funnel into the inner office and a conveyor of orders or advice in reverse. The problems he will handle will be mostly minor.

Governor Eccles of Federal Reserve, Harry Hopkins of WPA, Chairman Bill Douglas of SEC and other big shots will not be taking vital national policies to Jimmy.

The extent and nature of Jimmy's abilities have yet to be proved, although they surely match any other White House secretary's. But the father-son relationship is so close that no official will be jealous, no one will dare try to undermine Jimmy and no one will try to disregard or upset the arrangement without due thought. If it were any other man, that would be a miracle. At the same time if Jimmy makes messes of things the word is sure to get around. It seemed rather odd that this new work should be announced with such ballyhoo.

Roosevelt's eldest son works at the White House partly because his father was lonely after his bodyguard and comrade, Gus Gennerich, followed Louis Howe to the grave. The President does want Jimmy to go into politics and make a great success—perhaps even day-dreams that he will some time be in the White House in his own right. But "Crown Prince" talk is absurd. Jimmy has a wonderful chance for study and contacts. So far he hasn't even been elected a town constable. And it will take a lot more than that.

New "Assistant Presidents"
GOSSIP is naming the six new administrative assistants to the President whose jobs will soon be created by Congress and who will be expected to have a "passion for anonymity." It's expected Jimmy will be one—although not the most "passionate" of them. The others are as likely as not to be: William H. McReynolds, now administrative assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury. Ebert K. Burlaw, now administrative assistant to Secretary Ickes and Grand Vizier of the Interior Department and PWA. (Burlaw was once in bad at the White House, but Ickes stood staunchly by him. Recently the President has had much contact with him on official matters and now greatly admires his extraordinary adminis-

Army Tests Prove Power of Forces

PORT SAM HOUSTON, Oct. 28.—No war is a war without an enemy. Since the tests of the army's proposed new "streamlined" infantry division are being conducted under conditions closely approximating actual war it was found necessary to provide an actual enemy force. An enemy that would not actually fire general bullets but would be in the field and maneuver and fire blank ammunition to simulate an enemy force.

United States Army soldiers do not particularly enjoy the onus of classification as an "enemy" but will

Methodist Circles Hold Study Meetings Monday Afternoon

Plans for a joint study meeting of all circles of the Methodist women's missionary society to be held at the home of Mrs. W. L. Pratt November 15, were made at a meeting of Mary Scharbauer circle at the home of Mrs. Everett Klebold, 942 N. Baird, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. D. W. Young, circle chairman, presided.

Mrs. O. F. Hedrick in charge of the mission study, was in the center of two chapters, "Islam's Contact with Christendom" and "The Christian Missionary Movement," from the text, "What Is This Moslem World?"

Devotional was led by Mrs. C. M. Epps.

Refreshments were served to 18 members including: Mmes. Epps, T. A. Fannin, B. G. Grafa, J. M. Haygood, Hedrick, B. F. Haag, C. E. Nolan, N. G. Oates, W. L. Pratt, S. M. Vaughan, Terry, Elkin, John, M. Speed Sr., S. H. Hudkins, R. J. Kelly, Velma Stewart, J. H. Rhoden, and the hostess.

Mrs. H. C. Barnes, study leader gave the lesson outline and also led the devotional at the meeting of the Laura Haygood circle with Mrs. M. H. Crawford, 901 North D street.

Two chapters in the text, "What Is This Moslem World?" were studied, parts being discussed by Mrs. Harry Tate and Mrs. Wilson.

Fifteen women were present, including one new member.

Refreshments were served at the close of the hour.

VISIT BROTHER HERE.

Christian Church Will Observe Woman's Day

Decision to observe Woman's Day on the first Sunday in December was made at the meeting of the Missionary society of the First Christian church at the home of Mrs. Glenn Brunson on Carrizo street, Monday afternoon.

A committee composed of Mrs. Geo. Ratliff, Mrs. J. K. Graves, Mrs. John Casselman and Rev. J. E. Pickering, pastor, will arrange the program for the occasion.

Mrs. S. P. Hall was study leader for the afternoon. Mrs. J. E. Pickering opened the program with prayer and Mrs. L. B. Pemberton brought the devotional. Four numbers were presented.

Mrs. Casselman discussed "New Frontiers for the Rural Church," Mrs. Glenn Brunson read a poem, "A Country Church," Mrs. B. W. Recer spoke on "The Way the Church Has of Working in Rural Schools," and Mrs. Geo. Ratliff talked on "The Rural Church and Religious Education."

Mrs. J. E. Pickering spoke on "Elarging the Spiritual Life Through Reading."

At the close of the program a social hour was held and refreshments were served to: Members Mmes. Chas. Brown, Glenn Brunson, John Casselman, F. C. Cummings, S. P. Hall, Florence Harrington, D. H. Jones, Chas. L. Klapproth, S. E. Mickey, M. A. Park, C. R. Perkins, L. B. Pemberton, J. E. Pickering, Ella Ragsdale, Geo. Ratliff, B. W. Recer, W. B. Standerfer, B. W. Stevens, J. V. Stokes Sr., J. K. Graves, Coats, Horace Rankin; guests, Mmes. Fanny Luther Abel, A. B. Johnson, Robt. Pearson, and Harry A. Callings of Quilley.

Dorothy Again

America's most quoted woman comes home from a trip abroad—Dorothy Parker, whose witty quips are repeated around the world. That look of surprise she wears on arrival at New York may be due to hearing the latest words put in her mouth in an effort to make a plain jist better. For many "bon mots" she never uttered are attributed to her.

Westward Trend of Art Studied By Palette Club

"American Art" formed the theme of the program presented by the Palette club in its meeting with Mrs. Ben W. Smith as hostess at the Haley Hotel Monday evening.

Each member present took part on the program which followed the westward trend of painting in this country. Beginning with the first landscapist who painted the Hudson river, the Catskills, Adirondacks, and the lake region of New York, the evening's study followed the artists who went West with the building of the Union Pacific railroad. At first these were draftsman, but soon huge canvases were brought back which depicted the grandeur of the Rockies, the Sierra Nevadas, the Canadian Rockies, and the Grand Canyon.

Guests present were: Mrs. Guy Fisher and Mrs. John D. Robinson. Members attending were: Mmes. R. M. Barron, Mary S. Ray, John Hix, Clarence Hale, John Gossett, N. W. Bigham, F. H. Lanham, Bert Haigh, Miss Nell Shaw, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Haigh as hostess.

Midland Bride Is Complimented at Big Spring Party

BIG SPRING, Nov. 2.—Mrs. J. T. Pryor, formerly Miss Doris Barrett, was named as honor guest at a miscellaneous shower given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. C. T. McDonald in the home of Mrs. S. J. Atkins. The color note was seasonal yellow and black which colors also prevailed in the refreshment plate.

Guests were: Mesdames W. R. Wyatt, H. Reaves, W. W. Coleman, John K. Whitaker, J. B. King, G. Morehead, Wayland McDonald, Clyde Pierce, J. D. Stenbridge, F. S. McCullough, Zeb Womack, Fannie Barrett, Vera Bangarner, S. J. Atkins, Miss Catherine Barrett and the hostess.

Gifts were sent by Mesdames W. G. Anderson, W. R. Perry, J. C. Neel, G. W. Felton, Billy Lewis, Joe B. Neal, J. B. Sloan, Frank Sims, W. A. Prescott, T. A. Rogers, R. A. Elder, Bob Clarke, J. I. Low, Bob Wren, Shelby Hall, John Horner and Misses Robbie Elder, Jennie Fay Felton, Mildred Sloan and Pauline Howie.

Catholic Group Meets for Study At Cusack Home

Study of the history of the church was continued at a combined meeting of St. Anne's Altar society and the Catholic Study club at the home of Mrs. J. P. Cusack, 900 W. Louisiana, Monday afternoon.

The reading of current events was followed by a business meeting as other features of the session.

Father G. M. Carlier of St. George's church was present. Others attending were: Mmes. Fred Wright, A. H. Riley, J. J. Kelly, Sarah Dorsey, Hayes, F. H. Schouten, Henry W. Yodot, Keller, Cecil Yodon, Dan Delhomme, C. C. Duffey, Earl Moran, Allen Tolbert, Jas. H. Capple, and the hostess.

The Study club will meet Monday of next week with Mrs. C. C. Duffey.

Duet of Parties Honors Pastime Club on Friday

Friday was a crowded day in the calendar of the Pastime club whose members were entertained by Mrs. L. C. Brewer in the afternoon and were feted by Mrs. W. L. Coody with a Halloween party in the evening.

Officers were elected in the afternoon meeting. Mrs. J. M. Sheen being named president, Mrs. Dora Sapp secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. C. C. Harris, reporter.

The buying committee which will purchase a gift for each hostess is composed of Mrs. Ruth Carson, Mrs. Estelle Boone, and Mrs. J. C. Weathered Sr.

Mrs. Brewer received a pair of gloves as a hostess-gift from the club members.

In the jumble work contests which furnished the fun for the group, prizes went to Mrs. Estelle Horton and Mrs. J. T. Weathered Jr.

Refreshments were served: to Mmes. Ruth Carson, J. E. Miller, C. C. Harris, J. T. Weathered Sr., J. T. Weathered Jr., W. L. Coody, J. M. Sheen, Estelle Boone, Dora Sapp, Estelle Horton, Miss Jane Weathered, and the hostess.

Evening Party.

Halloween joy prevailed at the evening party at the Coody home on the Rankin highway for which members and their husbands were guests.

Halloween stunts were played and ghost stories told. Favours and prizes were in the Halloween motif, and the same theme was employed in the refreshments served.

Present were: Mmes. and Messrs. Carson, Miller, Harris, Weathered Jr., Weathered Sr., Sheen, Boone, Sapp, Brewer, Coody, Mrs. Horton, Miss Weathered, Mr. Miller.

Rural Schools

Warfield.

The Halloween masquerade party at Warfield school Friday night was thoroughly enjoyed by about 90 guests who were gaily and cleverly costumed and masked. Miss Birdie Lee Robertson, teacher, reported.

In fact, some were disguised so that their identity could hardly be detected. Glenn Leach had to unmask after every one had failed to guess who he was.

The schoolroom was attractively decorated with Halloween symbols and jack-o-lanterns. Small paper bats and owls were passed out to the guests.

The evening's entertainment was a series of contests between the "bats" and the "owls." After hard competition, the "bats" won. They were awarded Halloween candy.

Refreshments were served.

Several of the children were absent from school this week on account of sickness and other reasons. Lowell Stewart has a whooping cough but is doing nicely.

Miss Robertson spent the weekend with Miss Beryl Tidwell of Stanton. Marvin Bryant, principal, visited with his parents east of Midland.

The teachers and pupils are very proud of their new basket ball. There is also a smaller ball for the younger children.

Stokes.

Stokes won over Valley View in girls' and boys' junior basket ball games Thursday at Stokes.

Beginning Monday the school went back on the regular 9 o'clock till 4 o'clock schedule. During the height of the cotton picking season, the school has opened at 8 o'clock and closed at 2 o'clock.

Third and fourth grades of the school are working on an Arabian unit.

Three pupils were lost to the school by their moving away recently. They were Leron Harris, Darrel Harris and LaJuan Harris who moved with their family to Colorado.

Methodist Group Goes to Coahoma

Twelve young people from Midland attended the meeting of the Signal Mount Union of Methodist young people at Coahoma Sunday. Included in the group were: Doris Tidwell, Freddie Lou Barber, Daphane Shafer, Mary Jane Walker, Ferrol Ficke, Eleanor Hedrick, Carolyn Oates, Silva Louise Ficke, Alvon Patterson, Ernest Nance, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gwyn.

Coahoma young people were in charge of the program which carried out the theme, "Youth's Part in a World Peace Program."

A special song, "The Hymn of the Nations," a playlet, "Shall We Have Peace?" and the playing of taps were features of the program.

A game period followed the program numbers and refreshments were served.

The district rally of young people will be held at Sweetwater, November 6-7, Miss Freddie Atkins, district director, announced.

Baptist Women Will Pack Box For Orphans

In a joint business meeting of all circles of the Baptist W.M.U. at the church Monday afternoon, it was decided to pack a box for Buckner's Orphan Home.

Mrs. Myrtle Smith presided at the meeting, during which reports were made by circle chairmen.

Mrs. Peters led the devotional and Mrs. Troy Eiland offered the opening prayer.

Approximately 29 women were in attendance.

Malta Fever Found In Parts of Texas

AUSTIN.—Undulant fever or Malta fever, a disease contracted from cattle, goats or sheep which are infected with contagious abortion, is being reported sporadically throughout Texas and the nation, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. This indicates malta fever to be a public health problem and the attendant need of more general recognition by the public to the disease.

Undulant fever is so called because of the wave-like variations in temperature. The symptoms include rise in temperature, loss of weight and strength, chills, sweats and joint pains. The disease has rather a low mortality rate, but important because symptoms may persist for a number of weeks and even months before normal health and strength are restored.

In Texas, the goat, horse and cows are the usual spreaders of the disease. The germs of undulant fever enter the body through the mouth or skin. Therefore, care should be used in handling animals known to be infected and dairy products from the same sources should be pasteurized, if used. More men acquire this disease than women and adults seem more likely to have it than children. More cases are found in the rural areas than in the cities.

The true prevention of undulant fever is based upon the detection of the disease in livestock and the elimination of infected stock from the herds. Dairy herds should be tested for Bacillus abortus. This is a task that cannot be accomplished in a short time. Pasteurization of milk will prevent the spread from this source.

Two Are Hostesses For Luncheon

Culminating pre-nuptial affairs in courtesy to Miss Ruby Hodges whose marriage to H. L. Straughan Jr. took place Sunday was the two o'clock luncheon in the Blue Room of the Hotel Scharbauer for which Mrs. John Perkins and her daughter, Mrs. Don Traynor, were hostesses Thursday.

A bowl of autumn flowers centered the luncheon table where the group of guests, most of whom had known each other for years, gathered for the meal and for leisurely conversation.

Present were: The honoree, her mother, Mrs. J. H. Dean, her sister, Miss Helen Hodges, Miss Myrtle Holley, Mrs. Thomas Lee Speed, Miss Helen Fasken, Mrs. Nancy Stevens, Mrs. Con Thomas, and the hostesses.

Many Schools Get NYA Student Help

AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—Although the number of School Aid jobs assigned to the National Youth Administration in Texas was reduced about one-third this year, 1,850 separate secondary schools have been approved for participation in the program, and at least 300 others have been recommended for participation.

J. C. Kellam, State Youth Director, said this week that the number of schools participating this year probably will equal the maximum reached last academic year, when 2,135 secondary schools took part in a program under which needy youths who have passed their 16th birthday are provided with part time employment so they may continue their education.

Secondary schools already approved have been assigned 5842 jobs on which a student may earn as much as $6 a month.

The College and Graduate Aid program has been completely organized, with 84 colleges and universities participating. Job assignments number 4,096. On each a student may earn an average of $15 a month. However, in some schools, the funds authorized for one job are split through employment of two students, with a result that a greater number of students are assigned to NYA jobs.

All students selected to receive School or College Aid are assigned to useful and practical work under the supervision of the local school officials.

Found in the mountains.. the secret of COFFEE HAPPINESS

OH, BOY!

WISE WIVES KEEP HUSBANDS HAPPY WITH MOUNTAIN COFFEE

That keen, mountain-fresh aroma of Folger's, drifting through the house, wakes up your husband with a smile... Starts him off for the day with a song in his heart!

DIFFERENT AS SUNSHINE AND RAIN!

Most ordinary brands use coffees that are grown in the lowlands, and taste alike! They're weak and flat compared with the racy tang of the prize mountain-grown coffees you get in Folger's. Everybody spots the difference right off!

MAKES BUDGET-KEEPERS HAPPY, TOO!

Nature grows so much extra flavor into Folger's—you use less coffee! ¼ less—most housewives say! Instead of using 4 spoons for 1 cup, use only 3 spoons of Folger's. Get better flavor, plus coffee savings!

IF YOU'VE BEEN UNHAPPILY DRIFTING FROM BRAND TO BRAND because you think all coffees are alike—why not get Folger's today and use ¼ less coffee yourself? Your first taste of this different, tangy, mountain-blend will tell you you've found coffee happiness for life!

Why Folger's is so noticeably different... so rich in flavor you use ¼ less Here's coffee as keen and invigorating as a mountain breeze! Different as day and night from ordinary brands that use lowland coffees—because Folger's is mountain-grown! It brings you coffees from tiny mountain-top plantations in Central America!

Up there the soil is different—a volcanic ash. The rain is different—tropic downpours. And there's a difference in the air—crisp, cool mountain air! And what a wonderful difference it makes in the coffee! Its flavor is richer, keener—with a rare, wine-y tang that makes lowland coffees taste thin and flat by comparison. This folger difference in Folger's means greater economy! Housewives everywhere say they use ¼ less!

Folger's mountain-grown flavor is making passengers happy on 16 great railroads today—and on TWA and United Airlines. Just say the word to your grocer—and let Folger bring coffee happiness into your life, too!

Year After 'Stork Derby' Ends, Six Mothers Await Verdict From Canada's Highest Court

Heading the Supreme Court of Canada which is considering validity of the "Stork Derby," will be Chief Justice Lyman Duff, pictured here in typical high silk hat and wing collar.

BY JAMES MONTAGNES, NEA Service Special Correspondent.

TORONTO, Ont. — Their futures resting in the hands of the Supreme Court of Canada, which is weighing the validity of the bizarre will of Charles Vance Millar creating the $500,000 "Stork Derby," six toll-worn Toronto mothers who look forward to winning or sharing the prize today awaited a verdict from the high tribunal with mingled hopes and fears.

Final Decision Soon.

A decision was expected shortly from the Dominion's highest court, as the first anniversary of the end of the maternity sweepstakes, Oct. 31, 1936, was at hand. Validity of the will leaving a half-million dollar prize to the Toronto mother or mothers who had the most children in the 10 year period after the death of the eccentric bachelor lawyer, has been upheld by the Ontario Supreme Court and the Ontario Court of Appeals.

Distant relatives of Miller are attacking the will on the ground that the "Stork Derby" prize clause is against public policy. Legal authorities said it was not likely the case would be carried to the Privy Council in London, ultimate legal authority in the British Empire.

Upholding of the document by the Supreme Court would throw the case back on the shoulders of Justice Middleton of the Ontario Supreme Court, who then must decide which mother wins the fortune or those entitled to share in it.

More Children on Way. As the gowned Supreme Court Justices deliberated on the question, the six mothers topping the field by reason of having each borne nine registered and eligible children during the baby race period went about their usual tasks. Two of them, Mrs. Matthew Kenny and Mrs. Kathleen Nagle, are expecting new additions to their swarming families. "I'm not very worried about the money," Mrs. Kenny said, remarking how- ever that she was "not feeling so good." As a tribute to the creator of the "Stork Derby" Mrs. Kenny has on display in the front yard of her home wood carvings she has made of him, and his farm house birthplace. "I've plenty of new carvings inside," she said proudly. Mrs. Kenny, 34, seven of whose 14 children are living, said her husband was doing odd jobs and the family was not on relief.

There's a definite link between the "Stork Derby" and the scrubbing board—they go hand in hand like poverty and children, as Mrs. Matthew Kenny with her 12 offspring could tell. This picture was made two years ago as Kenny and some of the children gathered 'round the washtub.

Expressing the hope to see "some of that $500,000 soon," Mrs. Nagle, 35, mother of 12, said, "we can use it, although my husband has been working in odd carpentry jobs." With seven of her children grouped about her on the veranda of their curtainless home, Mrs. Nagle said

A comprehensive picture of activity created by members of the world's largest organization of youth, the Junior Red Cross, was given today by Mrs. J. A. Haley, chairman of the Midland County Red Cross Chapter, who pointed out that the organization functions in 52 counties.

The growth of the Junior Red Cross, not only in the United States but in many foreign countries as well, has been phenomenal," Mrs. Haley remarked. "We in the adult Red Cross attribute this great growth to the fact that the Juniors have been organized for service, and that there have been so many things found by them to be done."

The local chairman pointed out that members of the Junior Red Cross had been responsible, during the past spring, for the inauguration of a recreation and playground service among children of flood refugees in Red Cross camps and temporary shelters along the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys that had created new standards for disaster relief work. Members of the Junior Red Cross in all sections of the country had contributed toys and books and money for this undertaking.

"From the national children's fund maintained by the Junior society," Mrs. Haley said, "appropriations were made during the year to buy playground equipment, and books for children in communities unable to support such projects and those hard hit by disasters; lunches for school children in disaster districts, and libraries and school-books for schools where books have been destroyed by catastrophes of various kinds, as well as for schools in mountain or rural areas without funds for such expenditures."

She also told of Junior Red Cross groups that are engaged in work for the blind, including the printing and binding of books in braille, all paid for by the national children's fund. The organization also provided many thousands of menu covers to be supplied mess rooms of ships of the United States naval fleet at Christmas time, and for Veterans Hospitals.

"In 36,500 elementary and high schools in the United States Junior Red Cross members are actively engaged in a campaign for international understanding through the study of problems among children abroad as well as carrying on a large correspondence with children in other lands," she explained. "A much greater understanding of other nations has been achieved through the exchange of photograph albums, letters, and samples of handwork, thereby stimulating an international interest that would be hard to inculcate in any other way."

The Red Cross chairman said that at the present time the American membership of the Junior Red Cross had reached the impressive total of 8,577,198 boys and girls, an increase of 226,000 over the membership figures for last year. This work, she concluded is sponsored by the American Red she was mighty thankful they had escaped illness during the infantile paralysis epidemic here.

Race Reconciles Two. Meanwhile the youngest of the six mothers, Mrs. Pauline Mae Clark, 26, had the baby prize contest to thank for a reconciliation with her husband. Prospects of winning the "Stork Derby" purse brought them together again. Mrs. Clark gave birth to 10 children during the prize contest decade, one being born just outside the city limits of Toronto.

"All is well with my family," said Mrs. Annie Smith, wife of a Toronto fireman, another of the six with nine eligible children. Talking cheerily above the music from a radio, she said she was looking forward to sharing the prize money soon.

Legal Fees Set. Mrs. Isabel MacLean, whose husband is an Ontario government employe, said they expected no new babies. Nine of their 10 children are living and the family is all well. Mrs. MacLean continued. With the others she said she was looking forward toward a prize share.

Urban Russia Expands. MOSCOW (U.P.) — During the years of the two Five-Year Plans the urban population in the U. S. S. R. increased from 26,000,000 to 40,000,000 inhabitants.

Egrets Seen in Ohio.

NORWALK, O. (U.P.) — Large white birds seen wading in flooded fields near here were identified as American egrets. The egret is a semi-tropical bird.

Behind Mrs. Kathleen Nagle as she stands in the doorway of her Toronto home are the Nagle children of the "Stork Derby," fading into an apparently limitless background like the figures in some artist's conception of this colossal practical joke, with a fortune of $500,000 at stake.

The older children in her family of 16 are working and helping their father pay for the big weekly food bill, Mrs. Arthur Timleck, 38, the sixth mother, explained. No one could use the money better than her family, she said.

One thing the mothers were consoled by as they awaited the decision was that the government has taken steps to fix the amounts lawyers will receive in the case so that the bulk of the prize-winnings will not go for legal fees. No fees have yet been paid.

Care of Teeth of Pre-School Child Often Neglected

By HELEN STOCKING.

A common mistake of parents is to minimize the importance of the care of the child's first set of teeth. The twenty deciduous teeth are the forerunners of the permanent teeth and they should be properly cared for in order to give the child every possible advantage of having sound, regular, permanent teeth. Teeth play an important role in the development of the mouth and face. The facial muscles get their exercise largely through the process of chewing food. If the child is able to chew on all his teeth, there is a balanced and even growth of muscle and jaw bone. Most undeveloped jaws are the result of want of proper foods and lack of vigorous chewing. When it is observed that a child is not chewing in a normal way, the parent should have his teeth examined to ascertain the reason. Much more can be done for the child if he is taken to the dentist before any serious mouth condition arises. Why go to the expense of filling the child's first teeth when they become decayed? Why not have them extracted? These questions are frequently asked. Corrective care is just as necessary for temporary teeth as for permanent teeth. The chief reasons for filling rather than extracting baby teeth are: (1) Premature extraction of baby teeth is likely to make the second set erupt crookedly. (2) If baby teeth are allowed to decay they may abscess and become a source of infection that may go through the entire system. (3) Neglected first teeth ache as badly as neglected permanent teeth do. (4) If the teeth are decayed and neglected or are prematurely extracted, the food cannot be chewed properly. Indigestion follows. Prenatal care should not be overlooked, for the foundation of the first teeth is laid down during the third and fourth months of pregnancy. It is very important that the mother receive a diet proficient in calcium, phosphorous, and vitamin D. Good habits of mouth care, established in childhood, with regular supervision and corrective care are likely to be followed throughout life. They are the best safeguards of health that can be devised.

Eggs With Green Yolks Produced in Experiment

LONGMONT, Col. (U.P.) — Four Longmont hens are producing green-yolked eggs as a result of a feeding experiment by Ray Anderson, feed merchant here. A Nile green shows in the yolk after Anderson adds a green vegetable protein to the hen's feed. "The eggs don't look so appetizing on a plate," Anderson admitted, "but they are really just as good as the yellow yolk."

Church Ceremony Unites Midland Couple Here Saturday Evening

Miss Lucy Raney and Thurman Bryant, both of Midland, were married in the First Christian church here Saturday evening at 9 o'clock in a ceremony of quiet beauty. Rev. J. E. Pickering, pastor, read the single ring service in the presence of a large group of friends. The young couple entered to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. J. E. Pickering and took their places before the pulpit which was draped with ferns and flanked by clusters of huge white chrysanthemums. There were no attendants. The bride wore a modish brown costume. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant left for a short wedding trip after which they will make their home here, where he is employed by Stanolind Oil Company.

93 Percent of Midland School Students Pass in Work First Six Weeks

Distinction lists for the first six weeks, released by the Midland schools recently, show that 93 percent of the pupils who received reports for the period passed in their work, and that 497 were placed on the distinction list. The distinction lists are in three groups: Those with a straight A record (summa cum laude et honore); those with a minimum of half A's and half B's (summa cum laude); and those with better than a B average, but less than half A's (magna cum laude). The first group should correspond to a grade of from 95 to 100; the second group, to a grade of 85 or better. Those in the two highest brackets who also have grades of 95 or better in department or behavior, are placed on the honor roll. The lists follow by schools:

Masterful Sleuth In Picture at Ritz

From the pages of the Saturday Evening Post now steps the amazing Mr. Moto, his eyes as mild as his timid smile, his mind as quick as his trigger finger. Peter Lorre, the screen's master of impersonation, thrillingly portrays J. P. Marquand's diminutive Japanese master of crime detection, in Twentieth Century-Fox's "Think Fast, Mr. Moto," which will open today at the Ritz theatre. Virginia Field and Thomas Beck are featured in the romantic roles and it is due only to Mr. Moto's tireless persistence and sense of timing that the mystery and danger which threatens their romance is cleared up. Victims of an international smuggling ring, headed by Sig Rummann, the couple are in a precarious position in Rummann's Shanghai. More romantic complications than ever floored Cupid with one fatal blow. Speaking specifically, Madeleine is a mouse-like secretary to an unemployed nephew, Francis Lederer, to the States. Five years later Lederer's escapades are the scandal of San Francisco. On his death bed, Lederer's uncle leaves his entire fortune to Madeleine with instructions for Madeleine to make Lederer fail in love with her and marry the fortune instead of inheriting it. Madeleine goes to Shanghai to prevent her from spending the fortune while he tries to recoup it through the courts. Lederer goes along as her private secretary. Thus begins one of the wildest husband-hunts in all screen history, with Mischa Auer, a penniless Baron, joining in the fun.

LIKE FATHER

Mrs. Moto is a character not entirely above suspicion himself, for, as created by J. P. Marquand, he is neither sinner nor saint exclusively, in which spirit Howard Ellis Smith and Norman Foster skillfully adapted the screen play.

Jess Willard, Jr., above, son of the former world heavyweight champion, has started his first training as a boxer under the direction of Ike Deeter, who coached a Washington State squad to the national intercollegiate team title last spring. Willard, 23, and standing 6 feet 1 inch, weighs 187 pounds now, but is expected to scale down to the 179-pound college division. A junior, he has played in the backfield in varsity football and was the high hurdle champion of the northern division of the Pacific Coast Conference last spring.
