Results of the pool, which was taken after a dispute over removal of headquarters, were announced when a special committee reported on a canvass of votes.

Issuance of Bonds For 'Gym' Endorsed By The Lions Club

Endorsement of the $40,000 bond issue election to be held here Saturday for the erection of a high school gymnasium was voted by members of the Midland Lions Club at their regular weekly luncheon today after Dr. W. W. Lackey and numerous club members had expressed themselves as heartily favoring the bond issue.
Dr. Lackey presented facts regarding the bond issue and told of the dire need of a school gymnasium here. Forty-five percent of the entire cost of the spacious building will be put up by the government, he said. The history of the long fight for a gymnasium here was related by the school superintendent who exhibited an architect's drawing of the proposed plant and told of the various departments to be housed in the new building which will cost approximately $75,000, $35,000 of which will be supplied by the government. Gymnasiums for both the girls and boys, band hall, and manual training, mechanical drawing and physical education departments will be housed in the proposed building, he said.
Club members speaking in behalf of the bond issue included Duke Kimbrough, Russell Conking, Dr. J. B. Thomas, M. C. Ulmer, J. H. Goodman and Bill Collyns.
The musical part of the program was featured by a vocal solo by Fred Gordon Middleton and a piano solo by Frank Nixon, both artists being popular high school students. Middleton was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. De Lo Douglas.
Duke Kimbrough was in charge of the program.
Dr. W. L. Sutton, Russell Conking and Frank Nixon, both artists were appointed as a committee to be in charge of advertising and ticket sales for the Leona Flood violin concert to be staged at the high school auditorium here next Monday evening under the auspices of the club.
The luncheon was served by the Busy Bee Club.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 3 (P).—Approximately 600 employees of the Indian Territory Illuminating oil company staged an orderly walk-out today in the Oklahoma City field as a climax to a four day dispute over the dismissal of 64 workmen.
Maurice Daly, state director of the CIO-affiliated oil workers union, said the strike was authorized and would report to President Harvey Fremming in Washington.
Burdette Blue, ITIO president, said the strike was a violation of a contract workers had signed.

Pierre Tartoue, Famous Painter, Likes Midland

"I have a good impression of Midland," declared Pierre Tartoue, famous portrait painter who spent the week-end here. He added that he expected to return here to do several portraits.
The painter and his wife left late Tuesday for Fort Worth where he will exhibit some of his paintings at the "Texas Hotel." Among the group will be the valuable portrait of the blond beauty, Anita Louise, and the portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bradley of Kansas City which were on exhibit in the Hotel Scharbauer here.
Tartoue, a Parisian visitor, who has painted portraits of noted men and women in far-off quarters of the globe, praised the beauty of Midland women, and the splendor of the sunsets here.

Treasury Experts Prepare to Offer Tax Suggestions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (P).—Treasury experts put finishing touches today on new revenue recommendations which may mean substantial changes in the tax structure.
Hearings start tomorrow before the house ways and means committee.
Treasury recommendations are expected to show whether the administration intends to lighten the tax load on business and whether new taxes will be sought in an effort to balance the budget.

Believe Germany To Annex Danzig

BERLIN, Nov. 3 (P).—German officials Tuesday night staunchly believed the Free City of Danzig would remain separate entity despite a forecast by its Nazi leader "the time will soon come when the flag of the third reich will be the state flag also of the Free City of Danzig."
The prediction, made last night by District Leader, Albert Forster, was described authoritatively here as merely "a rhetorical twist of speech."
The general view in foreign quarters, however, was that Forster's statement was intended as a trial balloon looking to Danzig's ultimate union with Germany.
(The town of Danzig, Baltic sea port, was a part of Prussia before the World War. It was established with surrounding territory, as the Free City of Danzig under protection of the league of nations in 1920.)
A foreign office spokesman here expressed the opinion what Forster really meant was:
"Just as the Nazi party in Germany on assuming full power raised its part flag to a national emblem, so the Danzig Nazis now that they fully control the little Free State, will also make their party flag the state emblem."

Rev. Harvey Childress, pastor of the Church of Christ, is expected to return this afternoon from Snyder where he recently underwent an appendectomy. He is reported to be doing well following the operation.

Pedestrians And Drivers Receive Verbal Lessons

Downtown drivers were receiving effective "verbal lessons" in traffic safety today as J. S. Clary, originator of the Nation Wide Safety patrol, boomed constructive criticism over loud speaking equipment to drivers and pedestrians.
Stationed at the corner of Baird and Wall streets, Clary called attention to rules of safety and traffic courtesies which should be observed.
For the past 14 months Clary has been conducting his safety patrol in some 45 states. He said the organization is entirely dependent upon voluntary support, that he had nothing but safety to sell. He declares that advertising for any firm would not be undertaken by him. Working independently, Clary, an El Paso resident, will be here with his assistant, Bill Bogart, Fort Worth, the remainder of the week.
Clary says the sole object of the organization is to eliminate "accidents through traffic education."
A capable speaker, his voice at frequent intervals this morning reminded drivers and pedestrians of traffic violations of which they were guilty.
Some of the persons admonished through the loud speaker returned to the curb and smiled their acknowledgement. Others were openly apathetic and advised them to arrest him if he felt so inclined.
Clary goes from city to city, selling his services to police departments in an effort to educate "the man in the street" to observe traffic regulations and rules as a means of reducing accidents. He works solely on his own initiative but with the verbal approval of the National Safety Council on his work.

Lon Smith Declares R. R. Comm. Payroll A Fourth Too Large

AUSTIN, Nov. 3 (P).—Railroad Commissioner Lon Smith told a house investigating committee today the commission could operate efficiently with 25 fewer employees.
Smith said he had not attempted to abolish the unnecessary positions because he was not summoned in two years to meetings of other members on appointment of workers or fixing salaries.

South Extension To Vacuum Pool Spraying 24 to 30 Barrels a Day

By FRANK GARDNER.
Spray of oil estimated at from 24 to 30 barrels a day was being made today by Texas Company No. 1-L State, prospective three-mile south extension of the Vacuum pool in Lea county, N. M., as it drilled into the lower 4,300 feet. Gauge on gas showed its volume to be 4,092,000 cubic feet daily. Last oil show was at 4,297 feet. Gas had been struck from 4,234-30, 4,282-84 and from 4,286-88. Rainbows of oil were logged from 4,245-50 and from 4,252-54.
Performance of the Texas Company's strike places the Vacuum pool in the front ranks of important Permian Basin fields. It has yet to drill the prolific lower pay from which Magnolia No. 2 State-Bridges, most southwesterly producer in the pool, flowed 51 barrels an hour, natural. The No. 1-L ran over 50 feet higher structure than the nearest pool well. It is located in the center of the southwest of the northeast of section 1-18s-34e. Oil string of 7-inch casing was cemented at 4,128.
Repollo Oil Company No. 1 R. W. Cowden, southeastern Lea find in the sandy lime belt northeast of the Cooper pool and west of sand production, is drilling ahead below 3,524 feet in lime. At that depth, it swabbed 2 1/2 barrels of oil in four hours, lowering fluid column to bottom of pipe. Crew then let it run for two hours and a half and ran swab again, recovering five barrels of oil before reaching bottom of pipe. The well had found an increase in oil from 3,618-20. It is located in the northeast corner of section 31-23s-27e.
Skelly Oil Company No. 1 William H. Combest, important wildcat between the Lynn area and the Cooper pool, is coring below 3,501 feet in lime. Cores from 3,384 to present depth have been bleeding oil, and heavy gas has shown through the 12-pound circulating mud. No. 1 Combest's location is the northwest of the northwest of section 31-23s-27e.

Superintendent of Schools Here Paid Tribute By Paper

The Interscholastic Leaguer, official publication of the Texas State Interscholastic League, paid glowing tribute to W. W. Lackey, superintendent of Midland schools, in its latest release.
Under a one-column picture of Mr. Lackey the following article was written:
"Hardin-Simmons University conferred this far western degree of LL. D. on a public school executive, W. W. Lackey, of Midland, in recognition of his long and successful public school service.
"Ninety percent of LEAGUER readers can identify the above picture with no type to help, but for the other ten percent we print his name beneath the picture. Indeed, it is doubtful if there is any school executive more widely known in Texas than Superintendent Lackey. For nearly thirty years he has been with the Midland schools, in a community which, in that time, has been transformed from a cow-town to an oil metropolis, but through-out the period when drought meant bankruptcy and the more recent period when affluence meant division of pipe. Crew then let it run for two hours and a half and ran swab again, recovering five barrels of oil before reaching bottom of pipe. The well had found an increase in oil from 3,618-20. It is located in the northeast corner of section 31-23s-27e.
Club members speaking in behalf of the bond issue included Duke Kimbrough, Russell Conking, Dr. J. B. Thomas, M. C. Ulmer, J. H. Goodman and Bill Collyns.

Four Nations Open Parley In Brussels

Seek Settlement Of Jap-Sino War By Negotiation

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 3 (P).—Four important powers joined today at Brussels in a conference in an appeal to China and Japan to seek a settlement of the far eastern conflict by direct negotiation.
A proposal advanced by Norman Davis, head of the United States delegation, was supported by delegates from Great Britain, France and Italy.
The Italian representative declared Italy could not approve any measures other than efforts to induce direct negotiations and that there was no question of invoking sanctions.
At Shanghai, negotiations were under way to move warfare away from the fringes of the French concession, where many American persons live.
A new obstacle to settlement of the Far Eastern situation arose last night on the eve of the Brussels conference when China declared she would consider no peace terms which did not provide for Japanese evacuation of Chinese territory.
Dr. Wellington Koo, China's representative, said China would not be contributing to international law and order if she accepts peace with Japan "at any price."
He warned that if Japan is not checked, there is "every danger" Japanese would "throw the world into general war."
There was serious doubt among the delegates Japan could be induced to give up her position in North China and inner Mongolia.
Efforts to find a formula to bridge the abyss between the two countries continued, however, in a series of hotel room talks with Norman H. Davis, head of the United States delegation, as the central figure.
Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, and his associates spent hours with the American delegation immediately afterward. Dr. K. Wellington Koo, head of the Chinese delegation, arrived to consult Davis.
A Chinese spokesman said China would welcome conciliation, but only with the understanding Japan evacuate Chinese territory. He added the Chinese also would welcome Japanese representation at the conference.
Later, however, delegation circles reported the Chinese had reversed their position and were opposed to extending a second invitation to Japan, thus forcing abandonment of the idea.

Army to Buy 600 Head Of Horses This Year

Midland breeders of thoroughbred or half breed horses will have a good market this fiscal year when army buyers begin their purchases, according to information given by Frank Reeves, Fort Worth Star-Telegram writer in "Chuck Wagon Gossip." Reeves said:
"The War Department is interested in horses and especially so in Texas horses. The reason is simple, which is the branch of the army charged with buying the horses used in the army and to foster the breeding of horses so there will be an available supply for the army needs. owns 675 stallions in service in the different states and Texas producers have 130 of them and Oklahoma breeders 30. For years the purchasing and breeding department of the remount service was located in Fort Reno, Okla., but on July 1 this department was transferred to Fort Worth and offices were opened with Maj. Marion I. Voorries (Cav.), M. C., officer in charge; Lieut. Col. Joseph M. Dornblaser, V. C., headquarters veterinarian; Roy W. Sparks, chief clerk, Q. M. C.; Miss Marion L. Stevens, stenographer, and C. P. Johnson, groom. The office is located at 3301 E. Camp street just north of the Beasley Riding Stable.
"Purchases of horses in the Fort Worth area this year have been set at 300 cavalry riding horses, 149 light artillery riding and 40 light field artillery riding horses. The purchase price for these horses will average $165. Purchases are made in most instances in localities where government stallions have been in use. Major Voorries says: "Localities using government stallions find that buyers of polo horses for use in the east favor horses sired by the government thoroughbred stallions and many of them have sold at fancy prices."
The foreign governments maintain remount departments and many of them are much more elaborate than that of the United States, even though the need for horses is not so great as in the United States.
The government is motorizing some departments of the army that used horses, but authorities are in accord that nothing can replace the horse in mud, sand and very rough country."

Didn't Get a Scent For This

Its head tightly wedged in a glass bottle, this striped skunk wandered disconsolately through the streets of Derry, a New Hampshire village, until Lawyer-Woodsman George Grinnell bravely stopped the animal, pulled the bottle off, as pictured above. The grateful skunk trotted back into the woods, leaving no appreciable memento of his visit.

A 'White Blackboard' for School

The traditional blackboards in American schools soon may become as outmoded as hand plates if "white blackboards" like the one pictured above prove successful. The inventor, Paul F. Born, right, president of the Elgin, Ill., board of education, has just written his message to Elgin high school pupils in black chalk.

Federal Control of Cotton Is Favored

ABILENE, Nov. 3 (P).—Federal control of cotton—compulsory if necessary—by placing acreage on a percentage allotment plan was favored by West Texas farmers, many of whom are tenants, who gathered here Tuesday for a discussion of pending agricultural legislation.
Principal speakers were Congressman Charles L. South of Coleman, 21st District, and Clyde L. Garrett of Eastland, 17th district. The meeting was called by J. L. Wilkinson of Coleman, president of the West Texas Cotton Growers' Association.
Farmers differed slightly as to a plan of financing the farm program. Most of them voiced a desire for a process tax on farm commodities, and others wanted a direct appropriation from Congress.
Solution of present farm methods displacing many tenants, was suggested through graduated payments under on unit as under the old Bankhead bill. The number of tenants has been decreasing greatly in recent years in this area, it was pointed out.
Congressman South said: "The problem facing Southern cotton farmers today is the greatest in the nation, and a solution will be found only when growers become students of the entire situation." He added more important farm legislation was passed at the last session of Congress than ever before, and that he felt sure a successful program would be worked out in the special session beginning November 15.
Representative Garrett suggested that further uses of cotton be found and experiment stations for that work be set up. He favored production of better staple cotton and the expanding of a program for that work.
No desire for control of per acre yield was expressed, but instead farmers said they wanted improvements of crops through soil conservation measures.

Firemen Called to Extinguish Gin Fire

The Midland fire department was called out late Tuesday afternoon to extinguish a small fire at the Williams and Miller gin. Cotton seed and hulls were reported to have started blazing from an unknown cause, prompting the call for aid of the department. The blaze was extinguished before more than a little damage could result.

PREPARING FOR PEACE

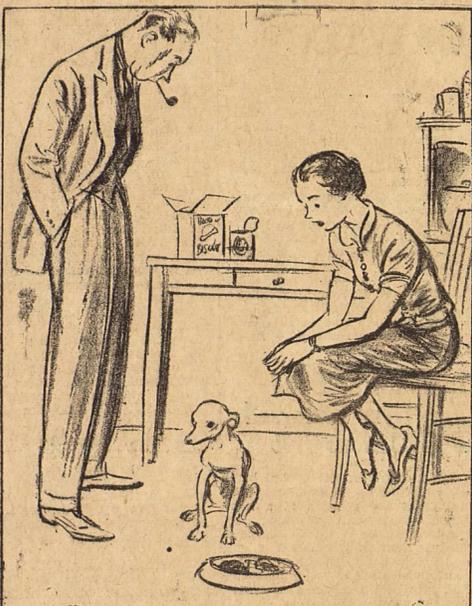

The keel of the U. S. navy's newest battleship—the first to be built since the Washington naval treaty of 1922—is to be laid down two months ahead of time, and work on this naval giant will be under way before another fortnight has passed. The ship will cost $60,000,000 and will carry nine 16-inch guns; it will be named the North Carolina and it will be ready in 1941.

Considering the woefully unsettled state of the world, it is hard to avoid a feeling of thanksgiving that our fleet is being strengthened by this addition, costly as it is. And if the cost is hard to forget, we might remember that the North Carolina will serve her purpose even if she never fires a shot at any enemy in her entire career.

There is still something to be said for the theory that adequate preparedness can help to keep a nation out of war. If, by the mere fact of her existence, the North Carolina helps make other nations wary of starting trouble with the United States, she will be worth every cent she costs.

Three Men On A War Horse

HERGLOCK

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON.—In Washington, at least, enthusiasm over the coming American tour of those two great lovers, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, falls well this side of the bonfire-burning stage.

The great heart of America may go out to these twain in the form of mob demonstrations, society brawls over their entertainment and antics of local politicians. But insofar as federal government officials are concerned, the frost is on the pumpkin. There is even a suspicion among them that the fanfare over the royal visit may be interspersed with one or two sour notes.

The State Department professes vagueness as to the Duke's status en tour and thus far there hasn't been a peep out of the British embassy. Later, possibly, this will be all fixed up and a happy, cozy time will be enjoyed by all. Just at present, however, there's a noticeable tension in the air at the embassy.

Ickes Cold to Bedaux.

The flippant press conference remarks of Secretary Ickes about his cool response to the request of Charles E. Bedaux—who has full charge of the Eddie-Wally invasion—for a suggested itinerary of projects appears to have pitched the official key. For the time being, at least, Ickes let the cabled request go unannounced for about a week. Bedaux representatives then put him on the spot by letting newspapermen know he had the cable. Ickes cabled a list of PWA and other projects collect and said to correspondents, among other things: "He will have to work out his own itinerary and handle his own publicity." The reference was to Bedaux, not the Duke of Windsor.

The obvious fact is that Ickes took his cue or thought he was taking it from down the street in the White House-State Department region.

Whether or not the government later manager to defrost itself, it's certain to see to it that arrangements are made for police protection. It just would never do to let our souvenir-hunters in press formation tear the clothes off the brother of the King of England. Some officials shudder at their own visions of enormous crowds surrounding the two visiting celebrities. They have nightmares of such structures as Tri-Borough Bridge and Norris Dam being pushed over in the crush.

Labor Not Impressed.

American labor, whose problems the Duke will study—according to advance announcement, has not yet extended welcoming arms. Inquiry at C. I. O. and A. F. of L. reveals that no dual appointments have been made with John Lewis or William Green. Privately, labor leaders indicate that they note a more than faint aroma of fascism in the vicinity of the Duke, that his tour in Germany does not set so well with them and that the fact Edward will be under the wing of Bedaux fails to convince them that his tour will be a great blessing to labor. Since there's a liberal, pro-labor government here this attitude is more or less reflected in other quarters.

One reason a large advertising-publicity firm has been engaged to handle press relations for the Duke and Duchess is that Edward has been dissatisfied with his previous publicity in this country. Recent newspaper articles appearing in Washington and New York indicate that this sad condition may not be improved.

Probably it isn't true that Windsor will try to sell business men the Bedaux industrial efficiency scheme, which organized labor detests, and time clocks for President Thomas J. Watson of International Business Machines, who recently mastered the Hitler salute and was decorated by the Fuehrer. But that's been widely reported. Bedaux is reported to admit fascism no end, and the Bedaux system has been described in an A. F. of L. report as "a method of forcing the last ounce of effort out of workers at the smallest cost in wages."

Possibly all this will be forgotten in a general wave of excitement when the Duke and Duchess land. Some insiders are convinced that the British government will decide to have its embassy here welcome Edward and use him as an instrument for building up good-will in this country.

Fighting Deer Discovered 20 Miles From Cleveland

GEAUGA LAKE, O. (U.P.)—While Robert Crampton was inspecting timber near here—only 20 miles from the heart of metropolitan Cleveland—he stopped near some bushes and was kicked in the face by a deer.

A buck, doe and fawn broke and ran, startled by his intrusion.

Youth Group Plans Non-Alcoholic Club

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (U.P.)—The Federated Youth Council of Mahoning county, opposed to vice and gambling, plans to establish a non-alcoholic, non-gambling "night club."

"We will make the club a spot where young people can go, do square-dancing and regular dancing and get home at a decent hour," says Miss Virginia Jones, head of the movement.

Love Finds a Way, But It's Not Legal

BUDAPEST (U.P.)—In order to propose marriage to his sweetheart, whose parents had successfully thwarted the courtship, Johann Halapi adopted the expedient of setting fire to the girl's home. He reasoned that the parents would be so preoccupied with the fire that he would be unnoticed. Police said the proposal would have to be deferred until Halapi answered arson charges.

In most districts of Hungary, gypsies must now have at least one bath monthly. This is to be taken under official control of the local authority.

The Town Quack

Not long ago, the amplified voice in Hotel Scharbauer is reported to have said: "Calling Mr. Big Shot, Mr. Big Shot, please." Fifteen men are reported to have started toward the desk. I take no responsibility for the report that in the mad scramble Jack Bodkin and Perry Craddock collided head-on and that Pete Droppelman got his hand stepped on.

Reports continue to come in about Midland polo horses which have been making good. We recently referred to the fact that Elliott Cowden's former cutting horse was used by Cecil Smith in the final big game between Old Westbury and Greentree, for the national open championship. It has come out that Smith also played, in the course of games leading up to the finals, a gray horse he bought last year from Homer Ingham. And this week Ed Bradley, four-goal player of Kansas City, was here. He told about a good horse he had played which came from Midland. It was one raised by Tom Nance, bought and trained by Rip Smith, later sold to Cecil Childers and then to Bradley. The horse was called Shamrock. Speaking of Hotel Scharbauer. The winter furniture has been placed back in the lobby, with the warm rug on the floor, newly upholstered easy chairs and divans. If Clarence will furnish the gas, we will have a comfortable winter. He can always be counted on to furnish ice water and a place to loaf.

Blondy Cross, sports editor of the Angelo Times, reported the sale not long ago by Marion Flynt of a polo pony, for $350, which Flynt had nursed and trained himself. Cross added that, by good authority, he had found that Flynt rode the horse one time.

Even though I knew that, I was too tender hearted to expose Flynt. Add to the list of "Mr. Big Shots" the name of W. P. (Red) Knight. Didn't he bring in a new well in the Pecos valley a Monday? He probably has forgotten by now that he ever played the stock market.

To correct a rumor floating around town, I will say that Luther (Fuzzy) Tidwell is still fire chief. Just because Jay Harrison has a red Zephyr is no sign he has taken over the fire department.

Yesterday I saw Henry Locklar driving down the highway pulling a four-horse trailer full of cotton.

Plans for next year's rodeo must be under way. I saw Leonard Proctor this morning studying the pro-

It's Carrillo for Governor!

One of Carrillo's favorite stories is how his great-grandfather, Carlos Antonio, then provisional governor of California, defended the territory against an invading army of Mexicans. "They fought three days," says Carrillo, then one man was shot in the arm so both sides stopped and they all had a barbecue."

American Beauty

Hazel-eyed, brunette Adele Girard has an unusual occupation for anyone, let alone the 21-year-old daughter of the concert master for Victor Herbert. She plays swing music on the harp with Joe Marsala's peppy orchestra. Tall and poised, the stunning young musician realizes that her hair really is her best feature. She massages it thoroughly once a day, has a shampoo once a week.

Fine Arts club next March. Program Numbers.

Rev. J. E. Pickering and Miss Louise Latham appeared on the program for the meeting.

Mr. Pickering spoke on boys and their tendencies and cited statistics to show that while in former years crime was chiefly committed by mature and older men, youths are now chief offenders. He quoted figures to show that in 1913 the average age of burglars was 29 while now it is 20; in 1913 average age of murderers was 36 and now it is 25, while 78 per cent of robberies committed in the United States are the work of youths under 19 years of age.

The speaker stressed the fact that boys need more positive and less negative discipline.

Miss Latham reviewed Dorothea Brande's popular inspirational volume, "Wake Up and Live," which is said to have helped many readers to a realization of a fuller, more successful life.

A large crowd was present for the meeting.

Mrs. Brown Is Hostess to Alpha Club at Bridge

Mrs. Jack Brown was hostess to the Alpha club with two tables of bridge at her home, 206 W. Louisiana, Tuesday afternoon.

Guests were Mrs. A. H. Flaherty and Mrs. D. L. DelHomme.

High score in the afternoon's play went to Mrs. DelHomme and second high to the hostess, while Mrs. T. R. Parker cut high.

A salad plate was served at the close of play to the guests and the following club members: Mmes. C. R. Inman, Geo. Bennett, W. L. Haseltine, Parker, M. L. Weatherall, and the hostess.

Mrs. Bond Teaches Bible Class Study

Mrs. Curtis Bond again substituted for Rev. Harvey Childress as teacher of the Women's Bible class of the Church of Christ, Tuesday afternoon, the study topic being "The Mission of the Church."

Present were: Mmes. A. G. Bohannon, E. W. Watlington Sr., E. W. Watlington Jr., Paul Jackson, Pearl Parrott, Frank Drake, Davis, W. F. Heil, Bond, and Miss Christine Golladay.

During Revolutionary days, the regulation uniform of the Continental Army was buff and blue with shiny knee boots, lace cuffs and collars, and glistening belts. It was seldom used, however.

Wesley Bible Class Hears Two Papers Presented Tuesday

Two papers were presented at the monthly social meeting of the Wesley Bible class with Mrs. M. D. Johnson, 1111 W. Illinois, Tuesday afternoon, in addition to other program numbers.

Mrs. Fannin also read the Twenty-third Psalm and Mrs. W. T. Beauchamp offered prayer.

The meeting was dismissed with sentence prayers after which refreshments were served to the following 10 members: Mmes. Reising, F. H. Wilmoth, M. V. Coman, Beauchamp, W. A. Black, Mary S. Ray, Fannin, E. J. Patterson, L. C. Stephenson and the hostess.

Stamp News

FOR the first time in history a postage stamp is to picture a living President of the United States. Himself a veteran collector, President Franklin D. Roosevelt will be shown on a forthcoming Guatemalan issue, commemorating the 150th anniversary of our Constitution.

The miniature sheet is to consist of a block of four "airmail" stamps, bearing the heads of President Roosevelt, George Washington and a map of the three Americas. The Pan-American building in our capital will comprise the fourth stamp central design. Light and dark blue with a brown center, the stamps will likely run to a printing of 100,000 miniature sheets, and appear about the first of the year.

In the interests of American goodwill, Cuba has announced issue of a series of symbolic postage stamps honoring the United States and all nations of North, South and Central America.

Since the 1937 U. S. stamp program is now rounded out, it is likely the Postoffice Department will turn next, in 1938, to revision of the regular series. The first of this group will probably appear in January. Before 1937 has closed, United States will have issued this year 15 commemoratives, two airmails and one souvenir pane.

Important new issues: Australia—set of three values to commemorate 150th anniversary of settlement of country; Peru—series of four in connection with the Inter-American Aeronautic Conference held recently at Lima; Spain—miniature sheets of the Toledo stamps on perforated and unwatermarked paper. Design shows ruins of bridge after an air raid. (Copyright, 1937, NSA Service, Inc.)

Regal—But Not So Costly

Because of domestication and selective breeding of mink, regal coats like this one cost far less than in the past. In the days when trappers were the sole source of supply for mink skins, years often were required to obtain enough matched pelts for a coat; now it is almost possible to raise pelts to order.

We, The Women

BY RUTH MILETT.

Have you ever looked at yourself carefully? I don't mean in your well-lighted mirror in your hand. I mean looked at your real self—not just the outside of you that is visible in a looking-glass.

Suppose you do, just to see what you find. Instead of worrying over your nose which you are sure is quite like the Fisher body girl's, take a grown-up view of beauty. Use a new tape measure. Forget about waist lines long enough to think about laughter lines.

See if you can pass this beauty test. Are you glad to be alive? So glad that you swing around a street with head high? Are you glad enough to think of days as chances for adventure rather than weary hours to be lived through somehow?

Do you like people as you find them and wish them well? Honestly want them to have the good things that life hands out once in a while? Like them well enough so that your mind dwells on their good qualities and skins over their weaknesses and faults?

Are you a gay person? When discouraging hours come along, do you straighten your shoulder, put on your brightest lipstick, your most absurd hat, and refuse to droop or sag? Do you talk about the good things that happen to you or the bad?

Have you the light touch? The quality that makes you do the gentle, understanding thing. The touch that can relieve a stranger's embarrassment, or a friend's hurt too long, or your figure that isn't quite like the Fisher body girl's, take a grown-up view of beauty.

Use a new tape measure. Forget about waist lines long enough to think about laughter lines.

Miss Mary V. Miller was in charge of the program and Miss Norene Kirby presided at the business meeting.

Members answered roll call with quotations from the pledge ritual. Present were: Misses Kirby, McMullan, Bivins, Miller, Ruth Pratt, Roberts, Mmes. Stallworth, Johnston, Potter, Foy Proctor.

TRAFFIC SCHOOL IS RESCHEDULED

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (U.P.)—Pennsylvania State College's school for traffic officers will be held again from April 26 to May 6, 1938. This year more than 50 "students" attended the course directed by Colonel Lawrence B. Tipton, of the Northwestern University Traffic Institute.

Style Suits a Star.

One of the smartest utilitarian outfits this Fall is the three-piece suit. Shopping in Beverly Hills, Irene Dunne was seen wearing a tailored henna ensemble. The three-quarter length top coat had large brown suede buttons; the jacket was of henna with a pinkish gray thread running through the weave and the plain skirt was made with a single pleat at the side. A white silk blouse, dark brown suede oxford, a matching henna felt hat with an upward-pointing feather and henna calf purse completed the outfit.

Emergency Meals.

If Sunday evening guests have ever caught you with a "bare cupboard" you will realize the comfort that many housewives get from having "emergency" or Sunday-night shelves—stocked with the makings of a quick meal.

Old Adage Outmoded.

SALEM, Ore. (U.P.)—Maying hay while the sun shines may be out of date within a few years, according to the department of agriculture, which describes artificial drying methods. The drying is done by passing the heated air of hot furnace gases through the forage on an endless apron conveyor or in a revolving drum.

Baptist Class Chooses Title of "Golden Rule"

Doris Nell Smith was elected president and Jane Whatley secretary in an organization meeting of Mrs. Pearl Blair's class of the Baptist Sunday school at her home recently. The class, composed of 10-year-old girls, chose "Golden Rule Class" as its title.

The afternoon was spent in Halloween games.

Attending were: Eileen Elland, Patsy Ruth Pope, Lena Faye Shelburne, Doris Nell Smith, Wanda Lee Tindle, Jane Whatley, Virginia Ruth Whittenburg, Frances Hill, Theresa Stringer, Helen Hallman, all class members, and two little guests, Betty Hays and Jo Ann Blair.

AUTO LICENSE 28 CENTS.

JACKSON, Mich. (U.P.)—Howard E. Jester, 17-year-old high school student, paid what is probably the lowest price on record for his auto license plates. For his home-made car, a six-foot long vehicle with a two-cylinder motor weighing 80 pounds, he paid a fee of 28 cents for both plates.

Snake Pays Jail Visit.

The PAYOFF

By JESS RODGERS.

When the Midland Bulldogs take the field Friday night here against the Kermit Yellowjackets they will be going after the win that will put them above the .500 mark in the percentage column, and should have little trouble in coming through.

The Yellowjackets evidently have the wrong name this year because there certainly is no sting in the the 7-B club was plenty lucky to get out without being defeated. According to the reports, first downs were about 15-6 and penetrations 3-0, all in favor of Andrews.

The Winkler county boys have undoubtedly proven a disappointment to their coach, "Tommy" Thompson, this year as he was quoted before the season opened as saying Kermit would be a great deal superior to the club they had last year. To date they have failed to compile as good a record.

The Yellowjackets opened the season this year with Class-A Cathedral High of El Paso and came out on the short end of a 25-0 score. In their next out, they looked a lot better before finally going down before Fabens by a 6-0 count. Games since played by Kermit indicate Fabens was far weaker than had been declared.

In their belief of improvement enough to make an impression in the district race this year, the Yellowjackets went into their next game full of pep and ginger which lasted about a couple of minutes. Their opposition was Wink, and when the game was over the Wildcats had made a total of 73 points while whitewashing the Kermit youngsters.

Before fully recovering from the Wink assault, the Yellowjackets took on the Pecos Eagles and were again buried under by a top heavy score, this time 40-0.

Determined to play out the string, though, the Yellowjackets took on Stanton the next week in what they believed would give them their first victory of the season. But Stanton got the jump on them early in the first quarter and before Kermit could find out what was happening was hopelessly beaten. The final score was 56-0 in favor of Stanton.

The Yellowjackets did not have a game scheduled last week but Coach Thompson evidently felt that more work would do them some good, therefore the Andrews game. The records show that in the six games played by the Kermit club the opposition has made an even 200 points without the Yellowjackets having once scratched.

The Yellowjackets expect to be greatly strengthened in the game, probably not enough to win but enough to make things more interesting for the spectators, with the addition of four or five new players. Thompson has been carrying some likely looking ineligible on the bench all season and they will become eligible for play during this week. The boys were forced to ride the bench a year because of the transfer rule but their year of idleness is up this week and they are sure to be ready.

spite the apparent weakness of the opposition. Many faults were found in the 18-13 win over a weak Roxy club and the coaches are doing their best to iron out some of the weaknesses. They had the boys out last night and put them through a tough scrimmage, just as if they were going up against the league leaders. The coaches are determined to capture the game Friday night and get the Bulldogs out of the cellar depths in the conference standings. In three conference games to date the Bulldogs have been on the short end of the score each time and are tied with Kermit at the bottom position with three losses and no victories.

Life Saving Work Of Red Cross Is Cited By Official

Pointing out that the growing number of bathing pools and beaches throughout the country was ample proof that an army of trained life savers are needed, Mrs. J. A. Haley said, "It has also held a County Red Cross Chapter, revealed yesterday that the American Red Cross had trained 81,291 persons in swimming and life saving methods during the past year.

"The Red Cross was the pioneering organization in the movement for accident prevention and general safety in the United States," Mrs. Haley said. "It has also held a consistent lead in the promotion of swimming and life saving classes, thereby working toward making our swimming beaches and the thousands of bathing pools safe for novice and expert as well."

This year's group of swimmers and life savers brought the total number of persons trained by the Red Cross since 1914 to 796,499, she said, adding that the Red Cross technique in life saving is now the standard in America and has been adopted in other nations since those early days at the beginning of the World War.

Mrs. Haley said that increased cooperation on the part of other organizations such as the Boy Scouts, 4-H Clubs, school groups, CCC and other government departments or groups, and many private organizations had resulted in further spread of the water safety idea. "The national organization, she pointed out, has been pleased at all times to lend assistance to such groups, and in many instances provided the instructors for complete courses in the classes.

"Radiating from a dozen Red Cross national aquatic schools conducted annually is a powerful influence which is stimulating hundreds of private and public summer camps and schools, thousands of CCC camp boys and millions of other individuals who are taking to water sports as the major part of the summer recreation," Mrs. Haley said.

"When America went back to its classrooms this fall, the colleges and universities, preparatory and high schools which have pools undoubtedly felt the stimulating effect of the high powered coaching and guidance of more than 1,500 teachers and adult students—those who made up the faculties and student bodies of the twelve national aquatic schools scattered strategically throughout the United States. We are seeing increasing results from these schools each year."

This country, the chairman concluded, is obviously becoming more "water safety minded," and a great measure of safety for young and old is being provided wherever swimming is enjoyed.

Violinist Who Will Appear Here Boasts Outstanding Record

The overwhelming acclaim which greeted Leona Flood, noted violinist, in Halifax, where she recently gave the first Canadian concert of her present world tour, was repeated October 8 in Spokane, Wash., where she gave the first American concert of this lengthy tour which will take her to Australia, New Zealand and other distant lands.

"Ever so often," writes the Spokane-Review, "things happen that can only adequately be described as rare. Such was the experience last evening of Spokane music lovers, who attended the opening concert of the Civic Symphony and heard Leona Flood as guest artist. It was violin playing in the grand manner. She is an artist who stands preeminently as one of the noble exponents of her art. And this world noble is not applied to a superb feat of performance alone, but includes all the elements that make them rare artists, even in this day of fine musicians—a true artist."

Great interest is evident in the coming to this city of Leona Flood, who is widely regarded as destined to rank in the not too distant future as America's greatest woman violinist.

The Flood concert will take place at the high school auditorium here on next Monday evening at eight o'clock.

Paraguayan Coup Is Halted By Officials

ASUNCION Paraguay, Nov. 3. (P) — A state of war was enforced in Asuncion, capital of Paraguay, last night after an attempted uprising by members of the army who sought to create a dictatorship.

Lieutenant Colonel Arturo Bray, chief of the Asuncion headquarters, was authorized to establish the rule although a communique from the secretary of state said the revolt had been suppressed.

The insurrection apparently centered at Concepcion, 135 miles north of Asuncion. (Newspaper dispatches to Buenos Aires said the government quickly gained control and the rebels surrendered unconditionally. These reports said the revolutionaries, adherents of Colonel Rafael Franco, deposed provisional president, were in one regiment of the Asuncion garrison.)

The secretary of state's communique said: "The government of the republic has control of the situation in the capital and has the unbreakable loyalty and support of army and navy commanders to crush the revolution and punish them."

"All regiments at Asuncion are loyal and are ready to proceed on orders. The Chaco division is loyal and at its post. Order in the rest of the country has not been affected."

High Blood Pressure Leads to More Deaths

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Degenerative heart disease is increasing in the United States, according to Dr. Fred M. Smith, of the University of Iowa college of medicine, but the cause of the disease is unknown.

Hypertension—high blood pressure—overworks the heart, imposes upon it an extra load, produces a breakdown of the arteries, and an ultimate collapse of the heart," Dr. Smith said. "Yet the direct cause of hypertension is unknown."

"We also know the disease in some instances are hereditary," Dr. Smith told the International Medical Assembly here.

Treatment of high blood pressure, Dr. Smith said, involves plenty of rest and sleep and "keeping the patient's mind off his ailment."
