HOW A BIGGER NAVY MAY LEAD TO PEACE

It would be a strange thing if the four new $60,000,000 battleships soon to be added to the American navy should be the means of leading the world back to disarmament and peace.

Strange—but not unprecedented. For however welcome the pill may be to the anti-preparedness camp, it remains true that it was a super-powerful American navy which led directly to an effective peace movement in the early 1920s.

For it does seem to be true that a United States fleet which is a match for all comers is one of the most potent arguments for peace.

Go back a little way in history and see how it worked out the other time.

An enormous naval building program was started by the United States during the war. When the war ended, this program was continued. As we swung into the decade of the twenties, America had a fleet which no other nation on earth could match.

And because no other nation could match America's wealth, no other nation could hope to catch up. Within a very few years, America would be the unquestioned mistress of the seas.

That single truth was the dominating factor at the Washington arms conference. We initiated that conference; the stupendous reduction program which grew out of it was initiated by us.

Naval reduction was not the only fruit of that conference, either. The far eastern situation was tense. A war was obviously in the making—a war which looked certain to involve America.

It was able to do those things largely because Uncle Sam was the man who could put the most chips on the table.

Right now the world is fast approaching a new crisis in its affairs. Once again it is staggering under an arms race; once again the clouds are black on the oriental horizon.

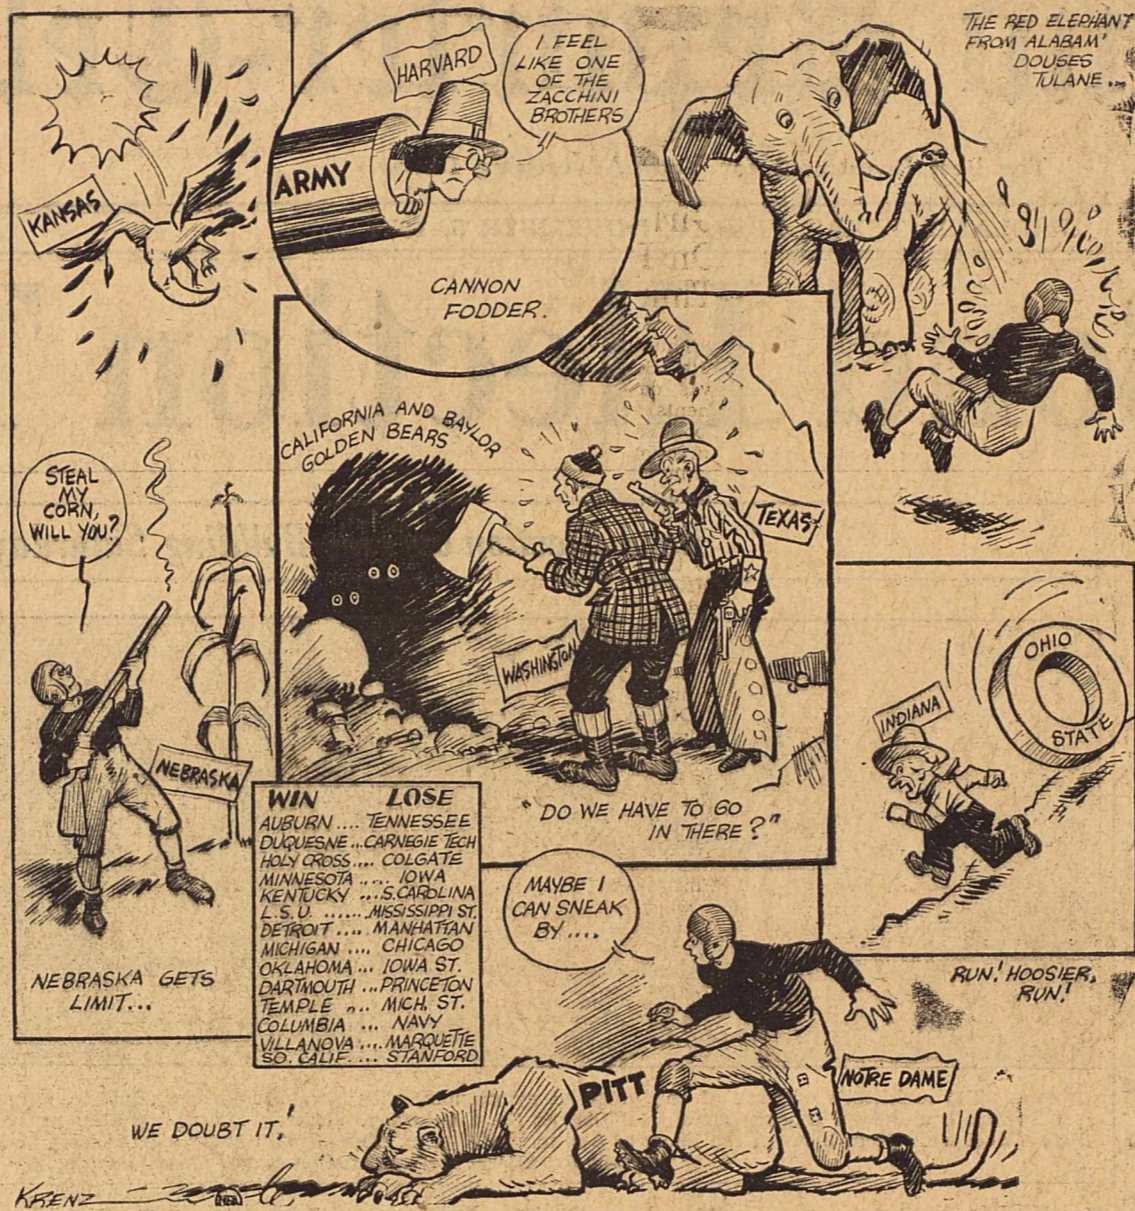

And when that day comes, a first-class American fleet—buttressed by the great new battleships soon to be built—might be just the factor which would make it a success.

No Prophet--All Loss

The Town Quack

I tried for about ten or twelve years to be nice to everybody and never made a friend or an enemy for the paper. It takes a few editorial scraps to get any action.

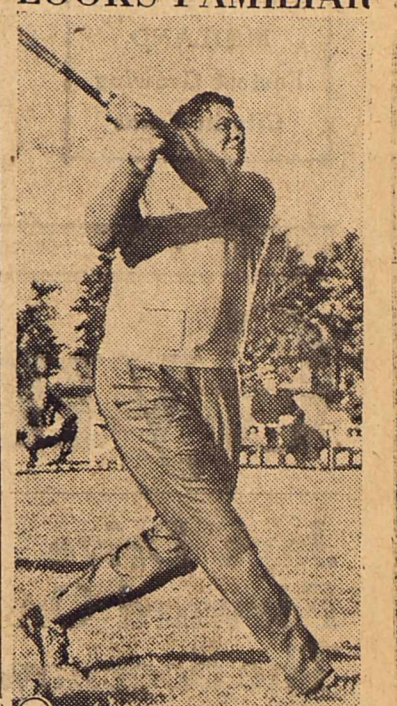

The weather this morning was almost the kind which makes men say: "What did you do with your summer wages?"

Jess Rodgers read this: "A true yodel is one who always says 'Good Morning' and then leaves the 'g' off of all other words ending in 'ing'."

I still think Pete Flanagan's old story about the country boy who went to a dance in another neighborhood, and told about his brother who could jump twenty feet—backwards—uphill—and against the wind, was the best yarn of the decade.

I don't want to be giving out anything which should be considered confidential, but I believe the Bulldogs will win a game tonight. And, on top of that, I believe they stand a good chance to win two out of the three remaining games.

LOOKS FAMILIAR

Memories were stirred when a Mr. George Herman Ruth, a man of leisure, stepped up to bat during a charity softball game at the Meadowbrook Club, Westbury, L. I., and looped a fly to the outfield. Mr. Ruth used to play baseball. "They called him Babe."

O. M. W. Sprague attributes it to the sharp rise in construction costs. "This increase in price in the construction field," he says, "has not been a result of an intense demand exceeding the capacity of the construction on heavy industries. It has been a result of an advance in prices, material prices, and labor wages in advance of a demand even distantly approaching the capacity production in the construction industries."

That seems to be the principal obstacle in the way of more active business in this country with its attendant, more or less distant, danger of possibly going so far as to create an inflationary situation.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

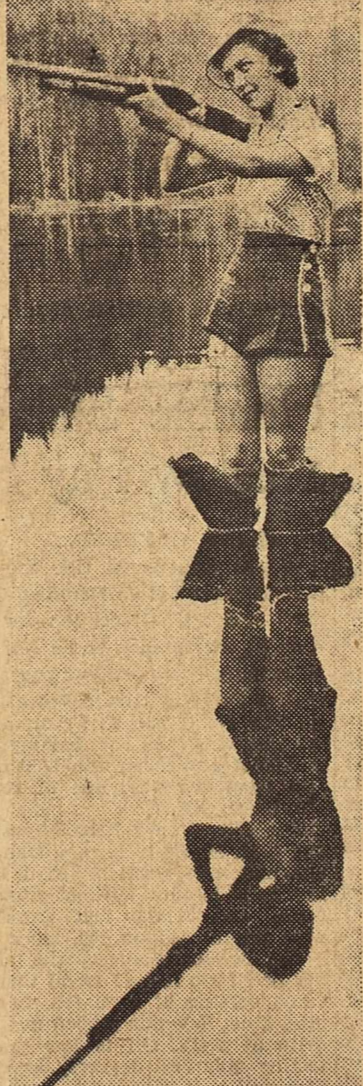

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Anyone who has an idea how to start a building boom will kindly forward same to the White House. A secret call for suggestions recently went out to all spots in the federal set-up which have been in any way concerned with housing. Numerous confidential reports have been or are being prepared. Experts in one agency were told by a superior to submit all ideas they had, whether the ideas seemed sound or not.

Behind the President's sudden active interest is a rather wide-spread belief among his advisers that before long the country may need a building boom or an armament program in order to give a fillip to business and employment. Few prefer the armament method.

A secondary factor is the high cost of living. Rents are rising and although this ordinarily would cause a spurt in dwelling construction, no such effect is in sight because building costs also have risen sharply. Rents threaten to add even greater burdens to the H. C. L. because there's a huge national housing shortage.

The human animal shows a marked preference for profits of from 10 to 100 per cent when offered a safe, low return, long-time investment in housing. Authorities here say that complete safety in a limited dividend housing requires

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

The UNICORN FISH CARRIES A SINGLE HORN ON ITS HEAD.

CHINESE merchants employ firefly catchers, who do nothing else during the summer months. Experts catch as many as three thousand of the insects in a single night. Besides being used in medicines, fireflies also furnish a grease, which is used by oriental woodworkers, for hardening bamboo.

TEXAS BUSINESS CONTINUES DURING LAST 30 DAYS AT AN UPWARD TREND

AUSTIN, Texas.—Contrary to the current downward tendency of business in the country at large, Texas business continued during the last thirty days its strong upward trend, the gain from August to September having been almost as great as that from July to August, according to Dr. F. A. Euechel, assistant director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

After adjustment for seasonal variation the composite index for September is 105.6, compared with 103 for August and 91.7 for September, 1936, an increase of 14 per cent over last year. The index is expressed as a percentage of the average month in 1930 which is used as a base.

"Each of the components of the index for September made sharp gains over the preceding month, except that of payrolls, for which the decline—99.9 to 98.7—was almost negligible," Dr. Euechel said. "The index of employment rose from 94.4 to 96.6; miscellaneous freight loadings from 81.4 to 94.1; runs of crude oil to stills from 176.3 to 182.3; department store sales from 134.1 to 135.3; iron and steel consumption, 124 to 129."

"Compared with September last year, each component of the index made a wide gain. The index of employment increased from 88.4 to 96.6; payrolls from 80.5 to 98.7; miscellaneous freight car loadings from 79 to 94; runs of crude oil to stills, 150.6 to 182.3; department store sales 101.5 to 115.3; and electric power consumption, 106.8 to 129.2.

"The recent collapse of security prices on the stock market, the declining trend of commodity prices, and the sharp drop of activity in the capital goods industries have aroused considerable apprehension regarding the future course of industry and trade in the country at large. The drab picture is brightened considerably, however, by the high rate of retail trade and the fact that this trade is being supported on the broad basis of improved farm buying power and increased urban payrolls. As a consequence, retail inventories should soon be reduced, which in turn may be expected to stimulate wholesale and manufacturing activity.

"The slump in production of steel has been particularly abrupt, and there is yet no definite assurance that the bottom has been reached or that the upward trend will soon be resumed. Reasons for the continued rapid drop in the ingot production rate," says the Iron Age, "are the exhaustion of backlogs, the slowness of the automobile industry in releasing tonnage orders, the almost complete cessation of railroad buying, the slump in building a dividend limit of about 4 per cent, since dwellings offering rents based on that rate are always sure to be occupied whereas a rate of say six per cent presents the risk of vacancies in any time of depression.

Need Capital Outlet. Administration advisers agree with President Gay of the New York Stock Exchange that "what the country needs is capital outlet." But most of them add, not through Wall Street. Investment in housing is the best outlet, they think, not only from the standpoint of the national welfare but that of the individual investor who lately has been shown that it is still possible to lose his shirt in the stock market.

Fossil Teeth Found. ALAMOSA, Colo. (U.P.)—Fossils excavated at a depth of four feet near here have been identified tentatively as teeth of the prehistoric imperial mammoth elephant. It is known that a species of mastodons roamed Colorado and Wyoming in the Pleistocene age, but fossils found near here were the first of their type discovered west of Texas.

Boots For Cows in Britain. LONDON. (U.P.)—So successful have been rubber boots for sheep to cure foot-rot that a British rubber company have now made a seamless rubber boot for cows. Like the sheep boot, it is an effective preventive as well as facilitating the swift cure of diseases which have cost farmers thousands of pounds.

BULLDOGS DETERMINED TO QUIT CELLAR AT EXPENSE OF KERMIT

CLUBS WILL MEET TONIGHT HERE; AND MIDLAND FAVORED

In the best playing condition of any time since early in the season and pepped up by a victory over a non-conference foe last week, the Midland Bulldogs will take the field tonight at 8 o'clock on Lackey field against the Kermit Yellowjackets confident they will ring up their first conference victory in four starts.

Forecasts have established the Bulldogs favorites to cop the game by scores ranging from 14 to 50 points. Comparative scores deduced by the two clubs against the same competition give Midland an advantage of from two to five touchdowns. Pecos, a club that could beat Midland only 12 points, defeated Kermit 40-0. Wink, after smashing Kermit 73-0, overpowered Midland by a 46-0 count.

Kermit is sure to be improved tonight since they have about five new boys eligible for conference play for the first time. Just how much difference the newcomers will be able to make in a club that has been held scoreless all season remains to be seen.

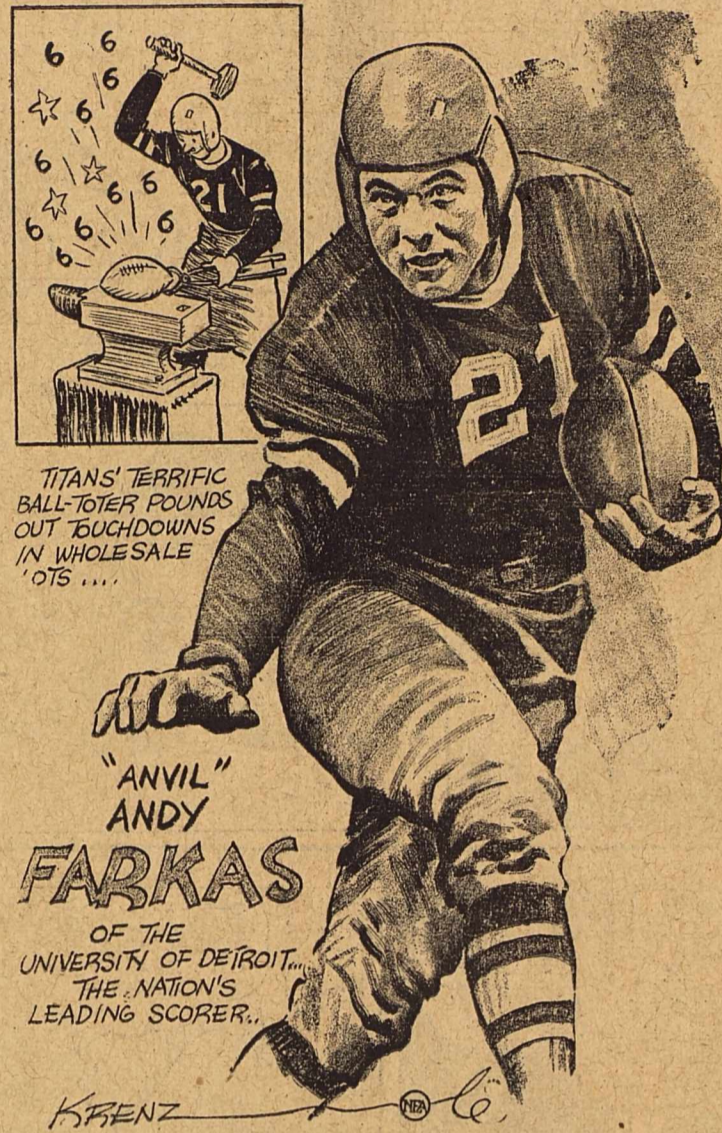

Jay Francis, quarterback and spark plug of the Bulldogs, is still handicapped by an injured leg but is expected to see service during the game. Several of the substitutes who have failed to get in more than a few minutes so far and some that have not yet broken into the line-up are expected to see some work during the game tonight.

Unless Kermit shows a club tonight that is greatly improved over their past games, the Midland coaches will be given an opportunity

Blood Curdler

Midway crowds next week are due to have their blood curdled nightly by acts, such as those sketched above, performed by 'Daredevil' Daniels. Daniels, who appears with the T. J. Tidwell shows and carnival, goes through his death-defying repertoire atop a 150-foot "high-pole" as it sways over the heads of the onlookers. He uses no net or safety device. In 1930 he was lucky enough to escape injury in a 150-foot fall to the floor of the Palais Royal in Paris. The carnival will exhibit in Midland for one week beginning Monday at the grounds of the Pagoda swimming pool.

Nurses Confess All About Love In a Hospital

Characterized in song and story as the most romantic women in the world, hospital nurses actually are anything but that, according to five members of that profession who are engaged by Metro-Goldwyn - Mayer for hospital scenes in "Between Two Women" which open for a 2 day showing at the Yucca Theatre this week.

Although good-looking enough to make the gruggest patient's heart go pitty-pat, these girls, Edna Eidson, Elsie Evarovold, Helen Siley, Esther Swensid, and Ruth Van Ausdehan, claim that such things happen only in story books.

Asked why men fall in love with their nurses, the girls gave varying answers—all negative:

Said Miss Eidson: "They love you and leave you. They forget you as soon as they leave the hospital." Said Miss Evarovold: "Men like to be babied, and while they are being pampered they think they like you, but they don't."

Tea In Ceylon Bitter.

COLOMBO, (U.P.)—It is difficult to get a decent cup of tea in the trains of Ceylon, the home of tea. That is the complaint with which H. C. N. Yates, chairman of the Dimbulla Planters' Association, confronted the Tea Propaganda Board meeting here to decide on means to popularize the beverage throughout the world.

Pheasant Enters House.

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (U.P.)—A pheasant was an unexpected guest of Miss Mary McEvoy at her home here. The bird flew through a front room window, and fluttered to test out some of the boys who will be returning next year.

In all games played so far this year by the Bulldogs, they have either been on the losing end or just barely the winner. They have three wins and as many losses and all the victories have been rung up by one touchdown margins, forcing the coaches to keep their strongest eleven on the field all during the games.

Should the game prove as easy tonight as some of the supporters of the club expect it to, the coaches will undoubtedly give some of the regulars as much rest as possible, not only because they need it but also to preclude the chance of them getting injured before the game here next Thursday with the Stanton club.

Right now, Midland and Kermit are tied for the cellar in the conference standings and the Bulldogs are determined they will be the one that gets out of the depths tonight. And it will be a decided upset if they fail to.

Grand Prize "Winter Weight" Beer Makes Way Over the State

A beer made heavier for "warmth"—a special brew for the winter season—in heavier clothes and food—made its way over Texas this week as the Gulf Brewing Company of Houston dispatched its first shipments of "Winter Weight" Grand Prize beer. It was announced by F. H. Roberts, President.

In explaining the brewing of "Winter Weight" beer, Frank P. Brog-niez, Brewmaster, said that it is made through the increased use of materials, resulting in a heavier bodied Grand Prize beer balanced to give winter warmth.

"Winter-Weight", he said, "in a few moments after consumption will develop the effect of a tingling glow in one's system, which creates a desirable warmth." "On the other hand, our regular Grand Prize, which is drunk during summer months, is of a lighter body, so as to create a cool and refreshing feeling. "Bock", as most people know, is a tonic and is consumed only during spring."

The full delicacy of flavor and aroma of Grand Prize beer is derived when it is served properly. "Winter Weight" should be served at a temperature of about 40 degrees, the beer rising to about 42 degrees when poured into the glass. "Regular" and "Bock" should be served at about 36 degrees, which rise to approximately 38 degrees.

Through the policies of the brewers of Grand Prize, Texas has become well-known in the brewing industry. The conviction to use the finest materials only, regardless of cost, has resulted in a quality that has captured Texas and spread the name of Grand Prize far and wide.

At the Universal and International Brewers Congress, at Ghent in 1913, the same formula by which Grand Prize beer is made, a Brog-niez family secret handed down from father to son, generation to generation, won the world's grand prize for lager beer, in competition with over 4,000 beers from over the world.

Grand Prize has created phenomenal sales records, and sales continue to climb. During the first nine

Buffaloes And Cranes Meet In Stanton Saturday

STANTON, Nov. 5.—A team of Stanton Buffaloes, severely weakened by the inelegibility of one of their strongest players, will meet the strong Crane Cranes here tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in a district 7-B conference game.

Graham, halfback and chief ground gainer for the Buffaloes, deserted the ties of football for those of matrimony early in the week and has not reported for practice since. He will be ineligible for the game against Crane, but will be eligible for the Armistice Day game against Midland if he returns to school next week.

The vastly improved Buffaloes had been conceded a good chance to upset the Cranes before the withdrawal of Graham but their chances went with him. With Eidson, Graham formed the best passing combination in the district. Graham was on the receiving end of several passes each game from Eidson and this constituted the strongest offensive of the locals. Besides being an important half of the passing attack, Graham had proven to be the only consistent ground gainer on the squad.

With the exception of Graham, the squad is in first class condition and ready for the battle.

Cowden Praised for Showing on Cadet's Polo Team at NMMI

Midland's only collegiate polo player, Frank Cowden Jr., is attracting considerable notice by his good work with the New Mexico Military Institute team at Roswell. Never having a polo mallet in his hand until last year, he was given a berth on the first string this season and is creditably holding down the No. 4 position.

Playing in the Southwestern Open Polo Tournament at Fort Bliss, the cadets surprised even their own coach by defeating the fast Arizona Military Institute team at Roswell. Never having a polo mallet in his hand until last year, he was given a berth on the first string this season and is creditably holding down the No. 4 position.

The second win put the Cadets in line for the finals and they will go back Sunday to be pitted against the fast and powerful Seventh Cavalry team, on which two of West Point's most famous players, Lt.

Estes and Lt. Wilson, are now playing.

Cadet Shirley, captain of the Institute team, is said to be one of the best players in the game, either collegiate or otherwise. Coach A. H. Norton at Roswell has expressed jubilation at the combination he has found this season.

The dinosaur that laid the eggs discovered in 1922 in Mongolia is known as Protoceratops, a very small creature when compared with most of its relatives.
