Bodies of 2 Found Today By Officers

Wife of McGregor Constable, Milford Man Found Dead

MILFORD, Nov. 19. (P) — Mrs. Billie Wheat, wife of the constable at McGregor, was found shot to death in a cotton field near here today.

The body was found in her husband's automobile several hours after she had disappeared in Waco last night.

Mrs. Wheat, telephone operator here, went with several women to Waco yesterday to attend a lodge meeting.

Deputy sheriff John Duncan said that officers investigating the slaying of Mrs. Wheat had found the body of R. G. McSpadden in a barn near Milford.

Duncan said that information on the finding of McSpadden's body was meager. He was formerly a telephone lineman.

Mrs. Wheat, chief operator at Milford, and McSpadden had known each other for a number of years before her marriage to Billie Wheat.

"Alfalfa Bill" in Race for Governor Of Oklahoma Again

BROKEN BOW, Okla., Nov. 19. (P) — Piery William H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray came from retirement on his "one-mule" Yashua Creek farm Thursday seeking another term as governor of Oklahoma.

The gaunt, mustached unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1932 punctuated his announcement with a demand for "rigid economy" in state government and defiance of his political foes.

His criticism of the Roosevelt administration was discarded and Murray said his 1936 campaign for nomination and election on the Democratic ticket would be pitched strictly on state issues.

"Federal questions," he said, "are for candidates for United States Congress and Senate; for no governor can affect them."

As founder of the National Association for Economy and Tax Equality, Murray delivered numerous speeches critical of spending policies of the Roosevelt administration during the last presidential campaign. He introduced Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas when the Republican nominee made a campaign speech in Oklahoma City, but did not announce support of Landon's candidacy.

Once more, Murray said, his friends would be asked to "pay the freight," just as they bought his "crackers and cheese" when he returned penniless from a fruitless colonization attempt in Bolivia in 1929 to launch a pretentious and successful campaign for the governorship.

French Minister to Be Queried on Plot Against the State

PARIS, Nov. 19. (P) — Communist members of the chamber of deputies voted today to ask Minister of the Interior Max Dormoy to tell parliament about what they called a fascist plot against the security of the state.

The action was taken as agents of the Surete Nationale extended an inquiry into three more cities in an effort to ferret out arms depots of secret military organizations and smash an alleged conspiracy.

A vast supply of arms has been seized.

Insurance Company Group Meets Here

A meeting of district agents of the Universal Life and Accident Insurance Company of Dallas was held here yesterday with 10 officials and their wives present.

The meeting was presided over by Whitaker Brodnax, Dallas, president of the organization. He was speaker at a banquet held at noon in the Hotel Schrabauer coffee shop and gave an interesting talk, relating how he came through Midland 50 years ago in a wagon in his last trip here. Tribute to the city for its rapid growth and development were voiced by the speaker.

Tentative plans for locating of district headquarters here were discussed by officials before adjournment.

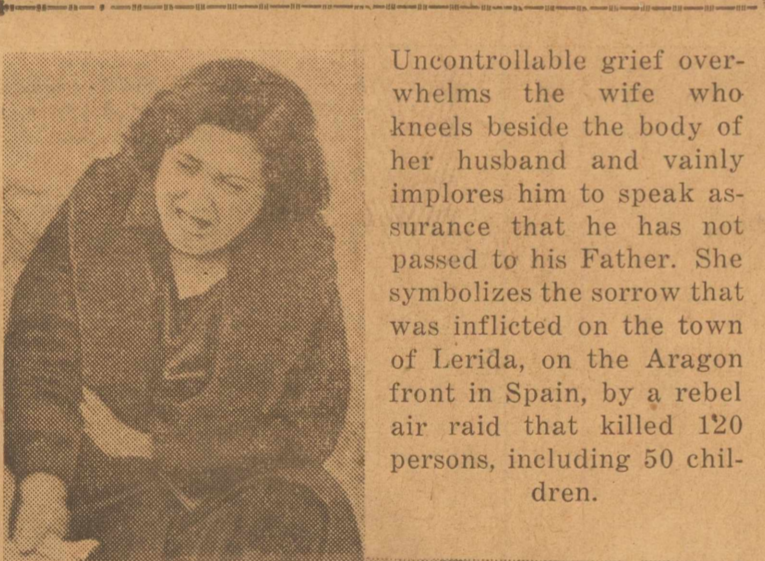

Among those present were Brodnax, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Bishop, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Abell, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Neal, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Freeman, Monahans; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Rone, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nunn, Lubbock; H. R. Breazale, Midland.

"Business Before Romance"

"When I feel I can leave the business a few days, we'll take a bridal trip," announced 19-year-old Jesse Livermore, Jr., son of the Wall Street plunger, from his office at Stamford, Conn., where he recently took over a bottling company. Above he affectionately greets his bride of a few days, the beautiful young Baltimore divorcee, Mrs. Evelyn Sullivan, in a very unbusiness-like office scene.

Air Raid Widow

Uncontrollable grief overwhelms the wife who kneels beside the body of her husband and vainly implores him to speak assurance that he has not passed to his Father. She symbolizes the sorrow that was inflicted on the town of Lerida, on the Aragon front in Spain, by a rebel air raid that killed 120 persons, including 50 children.

First Line of Defense Ranked As The Strongest In History; Bomber Vital

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 19. (U.P.) — The United States today is strong enough to guarantee that the shores of this country will never hear the echo of hostile gunfire, according to a high ranking naval officer attached to the fleet stationed at the largest of all mainland naval bases here.

"The navy now is strongest in American history," said this officer, who refused to allow his name to be used.

He pointed out his statement was based on the belief that, as it is at present constituted, and with the continued replacement of obsolete ships, the navy is well equipped to meet an opposing fleet far at sea and defeat it decisively.

In such a naval battle, this officer believes, the United States fleet would be able to stalemate every movement of any potential invader, and eventually cripple the enemy "beyond hope of further resistance."

Asked concerning the "normal course of action," if the fleet were suddenly called upon to defend the shores of this country from an enemy, it was stressed that, while the actual tactical operations are a secret, it is a well known fact the navy places much of its dependence upon speedy reconnaissance by giant patrol bombers.

These huge planes recently assigned to take over all functions of scouting destroyers, would be the first to contact an enemy.

Once contact was established the battleships, heavy and light cruisers, would swing into action, screened by destroyers, and reinforced by submarines and aircraft carriers with their large broods of combat planes.

These combat planes, it is the belief in the navy, would be able to sweep successfully any opposition from the skies and give the American fleet's bombers full sway.

The transferring of all destroyers to the battleforce materially strengthened that main-line of defense, officers point out, making

Jap Troops Crack Lines Of Chinese

Shattering Blow Delivered Against Nanking Defenders

SHANGHAI, Nov. 19. (P) — Japanese troops today cracked the southern pivot of the Hindenburg line defending Nanking and struck shattering blows along its central and northern fronts.

Fighting through rain and mud, the Japanese drove the last Chinese from Kashing and occupied a vital southern link in the Hindenburg chain. Chinese made great preparations to defend Nanking.

A Japanese spokesman said Japanese shock troops had smashed through Chinese lines north of Changshu and then turned southward to attack the city itself.

Japanese reports from the southern end of the 100-mile battlefield said one gate of Kashing, 35 miles southeast of Soochow, already had fallen. Chinese, however, declared there was still heavy fighting at Seven Star Ridge, four miles northwest of Kashing.

Civilian ministers of the Chinese government continued their withdrawal from Nanking before the threat of a Japanese advance to the capital itself.

Foreign ambassadors and ministers were given unofficial notification the government was moving, but the envoys made no announcement of their own plans.

The United States gunboats Luzon and Oahu were steaming down the Yangtze to stand by at Nanking.

Eyston Sets Speed Record of 311.42 With Racer Today

He exceeded by ten miles an hour the record set by Sir Malcolm Campbell.

Marketing Quotas On Corn Are to Be Put in Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (P) — The house agriculture committee today decided to write marketing quotas for corn into administration of the farm bill.

Chairman Jones, Texas, said the committee had rejected the subcommittee's recommendation that a processing tax be levied on wheat.

No decision was reached on the question of marketing quotas for wheat.

Jones said that the committee did not discuss suggestions for a voluntary control program for cotton.

Brook Released on Bond By Officers

SAN SABA, Nov. 19. (P) — Jamie Brook, prominent ranchman and president of the Brady chamber of commerce, was released under $5,000 bail yesterday in the fatal shooting of Mike Miller.

Miller, a stock farmer, was shot on a ranch on the edge of San Saba county leased by Brook. He died Thursday morning and funeral services were conducted later in the day.

W. A. Parker, the ranch foreman, told officers that Miller was shot as he advanced with a rifle toward a hunting party of which Brook was a member.

The Brady ranchman waived examining trial.

BRING BACK VENISON.

Guy Cowden and R. M. Evans successfully bagged a deer each on the Fey ranch in the Davis mountains, returning to Midland yesterday. They got their deer a few minutes after riding out from the ranch house, in the early morning. They also went "cat" hunting and gave chase to a panther which finally eluded them in a rocky canyon.

Landing Survivors After Thrilling Rescue

Torchlight flares cast an eerie light over the Coast Guard Cutter Mendota as exhausted, half-frozen survivors of the stricken Greek steamer Tenny Chandris were pictured, above, being brought ashore at Norfolk, Va., after a thrilling rescue at sea. The 21 survivors clung to wreckage in shark-infested waters off Cape Hatteras for 30 hours before they were rescued by the crews of the Mendota and the tanker Swiftsure. Seven of their comrades were lost.

Trade Pacts With Britain, Canada Concluded By U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (P) — The United States proposed a new reciprocal trade agreement with Canada last night a few hours after announcing negotiation for a similar pact with Great Britain.

Secretary Hull's statement, that the new negotiations with the United States' northern neighbor were being contemplated caused some surprise because a Canadian-American reciprocal pact has been in effect since Jan. 1, 1936.

State Department officials said merely they wanted to broaden the base of the present pact. Unofficial observers said, however, that the new treaty might equalize losses which Canada otherwise would suffer because of a British-American agreement.

Canada May Ask Tariff Cut

It was explained in Great Britain and the United States decide to cut tariffs and other barriers against each other's goods, Canada might be confronted with increased American competition in Great Britain.

United States officials express hope the proposed pact with Great Britain will result in a relaxation of tariff restrictions applied by the United Kingdom against American products under the present system of "empire preference."

Canada may ask tariff cut.

Should such preference duties be lowered in the case of the United States, some observers said, this country's agriculture would be able more nearly to compete on an equal basis with Canadian agricultural goods in the British market.

If this is true, Canada may ask additional tariff concessions from the United States.

Canada and the United Kingdom together take approximately one-third of all United States exports.

Last of Escaped Kidnapers Caught

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 19. (P) — Percy (Angel Face) Geary, last of the three O'Connell kidnap gang members who escaped early Tuesday from the Onondago county penitentiary at Jamesville, was captured Thursday.

He was taken in a parking station shack, where he had hidden since 4 p. m., Wednesday, without a shot being fired. The capture was made by Patrolman Tom Lewis and Frank Disling, acting on a tip from the parking lot attendant, Casper Mira, 20.

Geary was taken less than two blocks from the rooming house where his fellow prison breakers, John Oley and Harold Crowley, were seized Wednesday.

Geary at that time eluded capture by leaping 15 feet to the ground. When captured he was limping, presumably from injuries received in the leap.

The trio faced long prison terms for the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell Jr., of Albany, in 1933. They were being held in the Onondago prison pending an appeal, and were slated to become inmates of Alcatraz prison in California.

They fled from the jail early Tuesday after Geary sawed his way to freedom and then forced guards to liberate the other two.

Snyder Howard Pool Well Flows 130 In 30 Minutes

By FRANK GARDNER.

The Snyder pool of eastern Howard county, between the Chalk and Dodge-Denman fields, came in for interest today when a flow of 130 barrels of oil in 30 minutes was registered by Iron Mountain No. 2 (formerly No. 3) Snyder, on the west side of the pool. The well extends production in the main body of the pool nearly one-half mile west. It is about a half-mile north-east of the Moore Brothers-Eastland No. 1 Snyder, discovery well of the area, which was produced for some months but later abandoned.

No. 2 Snyder has been shut with 360 quarts from 2,590 to 2,800, the total depth, flowing 1,242 barrels in 24 hours afterward. While cleaning out, a string of drilling tools was lost when shot cavings settled around it. In an attempt to recover the drilling string, crew also lost the fishing tools. Fishing string and all of the drilling string except the bit were subsequently recovered. Efforts to fish out bit have proved fruitless, and operators will probably tube the well and complete it with bit in the hole.

Location of the Iron Mountain well is 990 feet from the south, 2,310 feet from the east line of section 28, block 30, township 1 south, T. & P. survey. Size of its production far surpasses any uncovered by other wells in the area.

McKee Reaming.

Magnolia No. 1-A McKee, highly interesting Ordovician prospect in northern Pecos, this morning was reaming core hole from 4,900-14, present depth, preparatory to core ahead. It topped Simpson at 4,775, datum minus 2,390, which is far higher than other wells in the area which penetrated to the Ordovician.

Moore Brothers No. 1 Perner, in Crockett, also seeking Ordovician production, is drilling at 7,460 in black sandy shale.

Gainies Test Running Low.

Anhydrite was topped at 2,300, datum plus 1,233 by Mitchell & Sullivan No. 1 Shell-T. S. Riley, northwestern Gainies wildcat. On the first marker, it is running 145 feet lower than the old Wahlenmaier-York & Harper No. 1 Jones, dry hole four miles and a half to the north and slightly east, which topped it at 2,172, 1,378 feet above sea level. The No. 1 Shell-Riley is drilling ahead. It is located 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 447, block G, C. C. S. D. & T. G. N. G. survey.

Flow of 102 barrels through casing in three hours was made today by Humble No. 1 Riley, Wasson

10 Drivers Given Licenses After Tests

Seven drivers and three chauffeurs were awarded the license application of one drive was delayed Thursday in the first tests conducted here by members of the state Safety Department.

The one applicant was refused his license at this time because he failed the tests as prescribed by a recent law passed by the state legislature. He will take the tests again in the near future, and if he passes, will be awarded a drivers license.

Two examiners of the department will be in Midland each Thursday between the hours of 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. to test all applicants for their licenses to drive. Those who are unable to pass the tests will be told by the examiners how to correct driving faults and will be given tests.

The slogans must not be more than ten words in length. The contest is open to everyone and is sponsored by the newly organized Safety Council of Midland. Bill Collins and W. G. Epley are in charge of the contest and will name judges to pass on all entries, announcing the winner on Thursday, November 25. All entries should be taken or mailed to the chamber of commerce.

Temperature Registers 21 Degrees Here

Slight Let-Up From Cold Predicted By Weather Bureau

Midland and West Texas were hit by the coldest weather of the season last night, the mercury here dropping to 21. It was the second night this week when freezing temperature was registered, the mercury falling to 32 degrees Tuesday night.

At the airport, nine miles west of town, a reading of 21.8 was recorded at 7 o'clock this morning. The mercury had climbed back to 40 degrees in town at noon today.

Although the damage from the freeze in this area was not considered extensive, quite a bit of unopened cotton was said damaged or ruined by it.

Ice was visible this morning in several places where water had been allowed to stand by the curbs. It was still visible in many places where the sun had not reached it by noon today.

As the mercury sagged to sub-freezing rain, which had been forecast for this area, failed to materialize. The weather forecast for tonight is for slightly warmer, much warmer tomorrow.

Light snow fell Thursday in the Amarillo and Berger areas and temperatures skidded generally hitting a low of 16.2 degrees at Amarillo.

As the freezing weather moved toward San Antonio, where a low of around 29 degrees was expected, weather forecasters, warned North Texans of a hard freeze which might prove dangerous to unprotected livestock.

Lubbock reported the mercury was dropping more than a degree an hour. Shortly before midnight it had reached the 24-degree mark and a minimum of around 20 was expected.

The Dallas sector likewise bundled up for 20-degree weather and a possibility of the winter's first snowfall.

Within 350 miles northwest of Dallas, shippers were warned to guard against 14 to 22 degree readings; 10 to 20 degrees to the west, and freezing to the east and south.

Fort Worth expected snow; Austin awaited a low of 28; San Antonio's weatherman predicted much colder weather Saturday would follow the city's freeze.

Other late temperatures: San Angelo 34, with colder weather due; Houston, 59; Beaumont, 60; Dallas, 32.

Officers Follow Cold Trail for Three Escapees

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 19. (P) — Officers followed a cooling trail today in pursuit of three convicts who broke from a penitentiary truck yesterday.

Warden W. W. Waid said that there was nothing new on the pursuit of Roy Wheat, Lufkin lime-terminer, Jesse Billings, San Antonio, Rex Bailey, Houston.

The prisoners were among 15 or 20 on the truck returning from a construction job on the Goree prison farm, four miles south of here. When the truck, equipped with sideboards shoulder-high, reached downtown Huntsville on highway No. 75, the men vaulted over the sides. Two guards following in an automobile opened fire, but none of the prisoners were wounded, so far as was known.

None of the remaining prisoners attempted to flee. About 40 guards and officers with several bloodhounds took the trail of the escaped men.

Mail Car Hurdles Wrecked Engine

Poised high above the ground at a perilous angle, this express car of a speeding passenger train was carried by its momentum almost entirely over the half-buried wreckage of the derailed locomotive, in a wreck near Batesville, Miss. Plowing into a herd of stray cattle, the engine and three express cars were derailed, killing the fireman, injuring the engineer critically. No passengers were hurt.

The Town Quack

Elmer comes to the rescue! Right when I had no idea what to use for a column, along comes the most scathing denunciation of myself I have ever read. Elmer, you will never know how I appreciate the time you took and the effort you made to recognize my feeble efforts to entertain or amuse. Your suggestion that I move my column over to the comic page is a good one. If I could get a letter from you every day, I would know that was the right location. But if you think I'm going to miss a chance to pass on your good letter, you are mistaken, because it wouldn't be treating you right. The newspaper itself has no use for anonymous letters, but I, in my independent position, can take notice of anything or anybody I want to, regardless of how important or insignificant. Folks, meet Elmer, and read his letter which evidently was written while he lost sleep from eating too big a steak for supper:

"So the San Angelo Times 'finally got around' to answering your 'tirade'—you big bully! Aren't you ashamed of yourself, now? And they wrote their answer as a news story rather than as an editorial, did you say? Well, what could be more fitting—after all, it's supposed to be news when a man bites a dog! Likewise, when the editors of a good paper deem to notice small-town, would-be columnists. As a matter of fact, you should feel honored that a real newspaperman has read your stuff and found fit to answer—most of the people read it in the same way as they do the comic section; something to be read, amused by, and forgotten. "Your 'column' is properly headed, though—it's the only sign of intelligence I've noticed, coming from you. 'The Town Quack!' I assume, naturally, that you mean the word 'quack' to symbolize the incessant and perpetually annoying noise made by ducks—most fitting in this instance!

"I wonder why your paper doesn't grow up—get rid of its vestigial remnants, such as your column. The paper does show signs of having passed adolescence—on all pages except that on which your column appears. Or, if your 'column' must continue, why not put it in a more proper place, the comic section? That isn't such a good idea, though—you're only funny when trying to be serious, which isn't too often—praise be to Allah!

"Come along, Old Timer, wake up. Rip Van Winkle did so; you can too. The Angelo Times only grow what you asked for—what are you crying about? Incidentally, one very good reason why I subscribe to the Times, and not to the Midland Reporter-Telegram, is because someone of your calibre isn't always 'quacking' and making other futile noises in space supposedly meant for news.

"Pick up whatever pieces the Times left, little boy, and go on home. Next time don't place your dollies beneath a steam-roller.

"Naturally, you won't print this. You'd be foolish to—too many people agree with me—and that would hurt your pride. To say nothing of the prestige of 'The Town Quack.' But give it a thought, huh?"

"Yours,
"Elmer."

Dear Elmer: I'll let you know if I decide to quit writing the column. Maybe you can get on in my place.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. — Reorganization of the federal government, for decades a diverting topic of conversation, seems likely to become a reality as the 75th Congress assembles to act or not to act on the Roosevelt program.

The best reason for thinking so is the fact that reorganization bills designed to effect a portion of the recommendations of Roosevelt and his Brownlow-Merriam-Gulick committee of experts, carries an obvious price tag.

The price, payable to Congress, would be the removal of a thousand or more government career men—in a process which would lay their jobs open to patronage raids. And the price may be raised before Congress gives the President some of the power he wants for the purpose of "stream-lining" the executive set-up. Sixty Days for Veto. THE administration, with reserva-

15-year term civil service administrator would replace the present civil service commission and would be charged with developing a federal career service.

The President would be authorized to bring about 300,000 now-exempt federal employes into the civil service and to establish a new Department of Welfare under a cabinet secretary, who presumably would be Harry Hopkins of WPA. The comptroller general's office would be abolished and a general auditing department—under executive direction—be placed with the Budget Bureau, with pre-audit functions plus a post-audit agency accountable to Congress and reporting to it on government expenditures.

The President would be given six administrative assistants. The name of the Interior Department would be changed to Department of Conservation and a National Resources Planning Board would be set up to study "development and utilization" of the nation's natural and human resources.

Price Is Patronage. THE House has passed bills with more or less similar provisions as to presidential reorganization powers and authorizing the six assistants. It has before it bills with more or less similar provisions as to civil service and the comptroller general's office.

The "price" referred to is a Byrnes bill provision permitting the President to find that any office of the head of a bureau, agency, division or service is "policy determining in character," whereafter he could name new appointees. They would require Senate confirmation. The net effect would be to make hundreds, if not thousands, of jobs now held by experienced career men and item of senatorial patronage.

Chief fight in the House, and probably the Senate, is expected to center on the provision which would put nearly all federal employes under civil service. Enactment of this proposal would be a remarkable renunciation of power (patronage power) by President and Congress. There is also sure to be a battle against abolition of the comptroller general's office, formerly held by Republican John R. McCarl, who blocked expenditures as to whose legality he and New Dealers disagreed.

Lobbies May Block It. DESPITE assurances from administration sources that the ways are cleared for passage, a long history of refusals by Congress to act on presidential recommendations invites skepticism as to the likelihood of an important reorganization act now. A combination of lobbies may block nearly everything proposed. But there are few who won't agree that Roosevelt never said a

Cost of Living Rising Steadily in Canada

OTTAWA, (U.P.) — The cost of living is rising steadily in Canada, according to findings of the Federal Department of Labor.

The primary index of 100 is based on the year 1913. In August of last year it was 127. By the same month in 1937 it had risen to 132. Incomplete figures show the upward movement continuing.

Calculation of the index is based on a study of the prices of such primary necessities as food, fuel, clothing and rent. The most recent calculations give $17.48 as the cost of these necessities per week to a family of five exclusive of clothing. Last year the cost was $16.72.

How to Be a "Reg'lar" Fellow—Without Pills

There's a better way to get on the "regular" side than by overstimulating your intestines with cathartics. Give up the vest-pocket cures and eat a natural laxative food—Kellogg's All-Bran.

Instead of abusing your intestines, All-Bran supplies TWO things they need. First, it's a good source of vitamin "B,"—the vitamin that tones up your intestinal tract. Second, All-Bran provides "bulk"—it absorbs water and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination.

Eat this crunchy, toasted cereal with milk or cream and fruits—or in cooking. But however you eat it, use it regularly: eat two tablespoons of All-Bran and drink plenty of water. If you do this every day you can avoid common constipation and cathartics, too! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. At every grocer's.

Veiled Glamor

HERE are the kind of creations one sees atop the smartest heads these winter nights. Created by Juliette Nicole, they include, from top to bottom, a fanciful affair of ostrich plumes with embroidered veil which covers the bosom; a huge pink cabbage rose with black sequin leaves and a pointed veil that covers the face and falls to the waistline at the sides; a Spanish creation with flame colored velvet bows at the top and a chenille dotted veil. This ties under the chin. Also a pom-pom of bunny fur on a black velvet bow. The veil is circular. And a royal blue sequin head-dress, without a veil—lovely with Nicole's gold lace dress with royal blue sash.

LOBOES AFTER FIRST VICTORY OVER THE BULLDOGS TONIGHT

WARD COUNTY SCHOOL NEVER WINNER OVER MIDLAND IN GRID GAME; BOTH CLUBS READY TO "SHOOT THE WORKS"

The Midland Bulldogs tonight will be making their final home appearance of the year when they tackle the Monahans Loboes, a club that has never been able to defeat them, on Lackey field at 7:30.

Monahans was admitted to the league three seasons ago and for the past two years the Bulldogs have hung defeats on them. Only one other game between the two teams is known to have been played, that several years ago, and the Bulldogs won by an overwhelming score. But that was before Monahans was more than just a couple of stores and a depot in the sand hills of Ward county.

The Loboes have, for the past two years, had good clubs and had they been able to stop one Midland player, Dave Wafford, would probably have won each year. It was the big boy who led the Bulldogs to a 13-0 victory in 1935 after a heavier Lobo squad had kept the upper hand over Midland through the first half of the game. Last year he was again the power that brought victory to the Bulldogs, scoring two touchdowns on long runs and completing a pass for a third to give Midland a 19-6 vic-down less than was scored against Midland. Pecos defeated the Bulldogs two touchdowns, and the latter was unable to score on the Wink team.

The Loboes have scored in every game they have played this year, and it appears likely that the Bulldogs will have to score at least twice tonight to come through with a win.

In Leroy Hary, quarterback, the Loboes present a back who has been all-conference for the past two years and who is reputed to be better this year than before. He also has a little brother in the Lobo backfield who is declared to be another Kelton. In Connell, a half who may be held out of the game because of questions as to his eligibility, the Loboes offer a speed merchant who has scored in every game in which he has participated this year. He is fast, shifty and has a lot of power at going through the line.

The Bulldogs are all in good physical condition except Jay Francis, quarterback. Because of a foot injury suffered early in the season, he is not likely to see action more than half of the time.

The Bulldogs are anxious to win the game tonight, not only to advance themselves a notch in the conference standings, but also to compile a very favorable home record. A win would give them five victories in six starts at home.

The two contesting teams tonight will be confronting records of about equal rating. Each has two wins and three losses in conference competition, but Monahans also has a tie game listed.

In eight games played, the Bulldogs have won five and lost three, while the Loboes have won four, lost four and tied one for the season. The offensive and defensive records are about equal.

Eagles Set for Lone Star Title Clash

DENTON, Texas.—Between the onrushing grid juggernaut of the East Texas State Teachers College and its coveted Lone Star title stands this determined line of warriors from the North Texas State Teachers College at Denton. On Nov. 20, date of North Texas' "open house" for former students and friends, Jack Sisco's Eagles, last year's pennant winners, will defend their title in a grudge tilt that is expected to draw record crowds. Sisco has whipped a comparatively green squad of youngsters into real conference contenders. The above men will probably start the game, with the exception of Elenburg, who is out with a broken arm. The lineup: backs, left to right, Otis "Jug" Reeves and Lanier "Shorty" Hester, I. T. James, Johnny Shoemaker; line, left to right, Johnson, Walker, Ricks, Killian, Vineyard, Mershon, Elenburg.

Winning Plays Of 1937

Frogs Confident They Can Defeat Rice Owls Saturday

FORT WORTH, Nov. 19.—"We beat the championship Rice Owls of 1934; we can beat the championship-bound Owls of 1937."

Maybe T. C. U. is "whistling in the dark" in this line of reasoning, but it is a comforting thought for the Horned Frogs, nevertheless.

It has been 13 years since the Institute defeated the Christians. That was in 1924, when Rice came out on the long end of a 7-to-3 game played on old Clark field at T. C. U.

The two elevens have met 15 times and the record books show the Frogs victorious 10 times, the Owls 3 times, and 2 tie games. The all-time score is: T. C. U. 166, Rice Institute 100.

This year the season's record favors the Owls rather strongly at first glance, but a more careful analysis will show the two teams to be fairly evenly matched.

In the conference, Rice has tied the Aggies 6 and 6, T. C. U. also tied them, 7 to 7. Rice beat Texas 14 to 7. T. C. U. took State 14 to 0, Arkansas fell 26 to 20, before the Owls, while the Frogs only tied the Razorbacks, 7 to 7. The net difference in the record there is too small to take into account.

In the whole season's play, the Owls shade the Frogs a bit. They have won 3, dropped 2, and tied 2, while T. C. U. has won but 2, lost 4, and tied 2.

The only direct comparison here is Tulsa. T. C. U. took the Hurricane rather easily, 20 to 13, while the best Rice could get was a scoreless tie. On the other hand, the Institute hold a 13-to-7 victory over the strong Auburn eleven, while the Frogs were not able to put down any of their outstanding inter-sectional foes.

Anyway, the complete record for the two teams, since they first played in 1914, is as follows:

- 1914—T. C. U. 0, Rice 0
- 1915—T. C. U. 3, Rice 33
- 1916—T. C. U. 7, Rice 7
- 1917—T. C. U. 0, Rice 26
- 1923—T. C. U. 6, Rice 0
- 1924—T. C. U. 3, Rice 7
- 1928—T. C. U. 7, Rice 0
- 1929—T. C. U. 24, Rice 0
- 1930—T. C. U. 20, Rice 0
- 1931—T. C. U. 7, Rice 6
- 1932—T. C. U. 16, Rice 6
- 1933—T. C. U. 26, Rice 6
- 1934—T. C. U. 7, Rice 2
- 1935—T. C. U. 27, Rice 7
- 1936—T. C. U. 13, Rice 0

The PAYOFF

BY JESS RODGERS. The game tonight between the Midland Bulldogs and the Monahans Loboes may precipitate a battle of words between officials of the two schools that will be better than the combat on the gridiron.

Seems as how the Monahans club has a member of it one Jack Connell, a better than fair halfback, that all member clubs of the league have admitted ineligible—all, that is, except Monahans.

Connell attended Ranger high school last year and some persons claim he was a member of the team down there. Making the Ranger team is no longer anything to brag about, but it does interfere with the eligibility of a boy who attends another school during his next year.

Taking cognizance of general reports that Connell was ineligible, Supt. Lackey asked the Ranger school head for a report on Connell and here is the answer:

"Jack Connell ineligible to play football 1936-37; attended Ranger high school during 1935-36, failing both semesters. Has represented Ranger high school in football."

Signed—J. Cleo Powell, Supt. of Schools. Seems that keeping boys younger than 19 and not letting them be eligible for more than 8 semesters is not enough, the coaches also have to be sure they are passing in their grades.

In an effort to dodge an oral squabble, coach Taylor has asked coach Greer of the Loboes not to play Connell tonight. With the reminder that the game will be protested regardless of who wins if Connell does play.

So—if you bet on Midland and Monahans wins, just refuse to pay off. The district committee is sure to back up the Midland protest and award the game to Midland. All this is contingent upon Connell playing.

Coach Greer may decide that as this is the last game of the year for his team and that it is not going anywhere in the league race anyhow he might just as well use Connell and try to win the game. He may think he has all to win and nothing to lose.

To Greer and Supt. Lang: More than one school head in the district is just about ready to take action against Monahans for using a man they know is ineligible. I have heard at least three declare they would be willing to leave Monahans out in the cold without league affiliation next year if the question is voted on. All the movement lacks is a leader. Take a friendly tip and leave Connell out of the game tonight.

It is unfortunate when arguments like this come up but the coaches themselves vote the eligibility rules and it is up to them to see that they are enforced. Tacit approval of violations by failure to protest against ineligible players will finally cause downfall of the league structure if allowed to keep on.

But here is where proving a boy ineligible was a boomerang in a big way. (Bill Collyns is the authority.)

Not long ago, district 8-B committee ruled ineligible a McCamey man. McCamey officials gathered what they considered ample proof that the boy was eligible and asked for another hearing. After hearing all the evidence the committee made the following ruling:

Not only was the boy still ineligible but three of his mates on the McCamey club were hereby and thereby found guilty of the same charge and all conference wins of the McCamey club were thereby forfeit.

After laying off picking them for a couple of weeks (thank goodness) here is another stab:

- Arizona vs. Kansas. Guessing the Jayhawkers.
- Arkansas vs. Geo. Washington. The Porkers can't win the SW crown but they will take this one.
- Baylor vs. Loyola (L. A.) Hardin-Simmons beat Loyola—surely Baylor can do as well.
- Boston College vs. Boston Uni. Call it a scoreless tie.
- Centenary vs. Texas Tech. Tech should win, but maybe they won't.
- Columbia vs. Dartmouth. Dartmouth will bounce back without mercy after their surprise tie last week.
- Florida vs. Georgia Tech. The straight dope—Tech. Harvard vs. Yale. One of the best of the day. Yale.

Holy Cross vs. Carnegie Tech. Two powerful clubs, Tech.

Idaho vs. Montana, Popovich and Montana.

Illinois vs. Chicago. Chicago won their 37 game last week.

Fordham vs. St. Mary (Cal). The Gaels fall to gallop.

Indiana vs. Purdue. Eney, meeny, miny, mo—Purdue.

Iowa State vs. Kansas State. State is a cinch, Kansas.

Marquette vs. Duquesne. Two coaches on the sidelines wouldn't help Marquette.

Michigan vs. Ohio State. Schmidt, py damm.

Minnesota vs. Wisconsin. The Badgers keep on rolling.

Nebraska vs. Iowa. Iowa is tough, but not good enough.

Northwestern vs. Notre Dame. Crystal gazers say Notre Dame.

Oklahoma vs. Oklahoma A&M. Stick to the University boys.

Oregon State vs. Wash. State. Make mine Washington State.

Pittsburgh vs. Penn State. The Panthers get a breather.

Princeton vs. Navv. A Sailor bags him a Tiger.

Stanford vs. California. What a spot for a long shot, California.

Temple vs. Villanova. Pop Warner and Temple in a close one.

TCU vs. Rice. Crazy or not, TCU.

Tulane vs. Sewanee. It's too easy, Tulane.

Woman Serves as Call Boy for Railroad

DALLAS (AP)—Had the engineer of the "runaway" train, famous in song, started his wild ride over the Katy lines out of Dallas, he probably would have been called for his moment of fame by Ruth Eley, one of few women roundhouse employes in the country.

Miss Eley, employed by the Katy 18 years, is not only called "Boy" at the roundhouse, but also "Call Boy" at the railroad.

Distilleries By-Product Sold as Stock Feed

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A movement to stop river pollution forced Peoria liquor distillers to find other uses for their waste products until they have built up a profitable business in by-products.

Before the campaign got under way industrial waste in the river here reportedly was equivalent to the sewage volume of a city of 3,000,000 population.

Now the distilleries dry the grain after fermentation and sell it for cattle feed. Prices have ranged from cost, $10 a ton, to as high as $42.

Waste products from the distilleries are only about 15 per cent of their former volume. Treatment processes may permit the utilization of 98 per cent of the waste in by-products or leave it harmless to pollute rivers.

The potato beetle made an appearance in Germany just prior to the World War, but was quickly exterminated.

IT REALLY HAPPENED IN FOOTBALL!

UNOFFICIAL gunplay in a football game was pulled to good advantage during part of a Clemson-Virginia Polytechnic Institute contest at Columbia, S. C., years ago. Clemson's backs stood well behind the line of scrimmage and, after the ball was passed from center, these backfield men, spread almost entirely across the field, passed it back and forth—more like basketball than football. Suddenly, a spectator, schooled in the play, fired a gun on the sidelines, and the Clemson back who had the ball at the time, was off for a good gain through a scattered defense. The referee, however, finally located the gun-toter, ruled it "coaching from the sidelines," and banned further use of the play. V. P. I. won 17-11.

It was stressed the transfer of the giant patrol bombers to the scouting force, makes it possible for the navy to establish and chart the course of an enemy long before it would be possible for even the speediest surface craft to discover the presence of a hostile fleet.

Before the end of 1939 the navy will have 176 of the huge, two-motored PBV-class patrol bombers in service—it is these planes, with a cruising range of more than 4,000 miles and a top speed of 150 miles an hour, which the navy classes as the most deadly and efficient aircraft in the world.

Planes from these carriers could maintain contact with, and harass an enemy until the bulk of the fleet could move up into battle position—so the heavy 14-inch and 16-inch guns of the dreadnaughts could get in their devastating broadsides.

Once-combat was joined between the fleets proper the aircraft would assume a place in the fighting lines, with pilots and observers coaching gunners to their targets and spotting the fall of shells.

To maintain its efficiency at top peak, intricate maneuvers are worked out almost weekly by the various fleet units at West Coast bases. Weeks of gunnery practice are held and navigation and scouting problems are given to line officers to solve.

The efficiency of the units of the fleet, almost to the last vessel and gun is attested by the symbolic, red-painted "E's" to be found on gun turrets, and funnels, attesting perfection in target practice, and engineering.
