

Road Group In Meeting Here Monday

Representatives of 9 Towns Expected to Be in Attendance

Delegates from eight towns are expected to be here in the morning at a meeting with Midland representatives seeking to perfect plans for securing final designation and construction of gaps remaining in the east-west highway through Bronte, Maverick, Robert Lee, Sterling City, Garden City, Midland, Scharbauer City, Goldsmith and Kermit.

Letters were mailed by the local chamber of commerce to civic organizations in each town requesting them to have representatives here. The meeting will open at 10 o'clock in the Hotel Scharbauer.

Plans call for a permanent organization to promote traffic over the road and taking over of it by the state highway commission.

Marion Flynt, president of the Midland chamber of commerce, who mailed the invitations to neighboring towns, expressed confidence last night delegations from each town invited would attend.

Stressing the fact that the meeting is open to the public, he urged all local persons interested in designation of the road as a state highway to attend. Joe Caverley, ranchman and prominent Garden City resident, is expected to head the delegation from that town.

From Robert Lee, Mayor Russell and city secretary Green will be in charge of a group of at least a half-dozen prominent business men.

The Kermit delegation will be in charge of Judge S. M. Halley and J. B. Walton, two of the largest land owners of Winkler county. Several county officials are expected to accompany them.

From Goldsmith, E. F. Huntsucker, publisher of the Goldsmith Tribune and secretary of the Goldsmith Business Mens club, will, with several business men, comprise the delegation.

Sterling City is expected to send a large group in charge of S. M. Bailey, merchant, and Judge Brown. The Bronte delegation will be headed by Mayor J. M. Cumbre and other city officials.

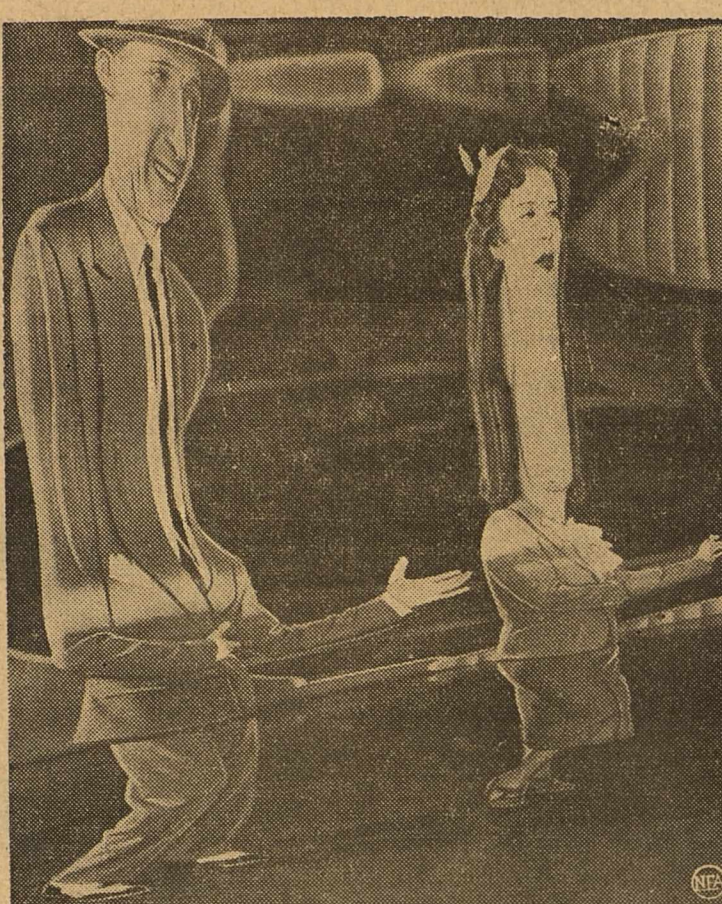

Tentative designation of the highway, No. 159, from Bronte to Kermit has been made by the highway commission.

Sponsors of the meeting last night expressed confidence there would be someone here from almost all, if not each one, of the towns invited to participate.

Once designated and constructed, the proposed road would greatly shorten the distance between Central West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. It has been pointed out numerous times.

To date, Kermit and Midland have led the fight for the road, and through their efforts, part of the route has been hard surfaced and part is being constructed. An eight-mile sector is all that remains unopened between Midland and Kermit.

Can't Gracie Get Anything Straight?

Gracie Allen surely has a talent for getting things twisted. And she doesn't have to be in front of a microphone to do it, either. Look at her reflection above. You'd hardly know her. No, that's not her partner, George Burns, beside her. It's Fred Astaire. The picture is a scene from their new movie.

He's Santa's 'Little Helper'

Santa Claus may be working like a beaver in his toy stop way up in the frozen north, but he'd never get all the Christmas stockings filled without help from fire and police station "sub-workshops" like the one shown above. Big, tough cops and fire ladders all over the nation are accommodating clumsy fingers to the delicate task of renovating dolls, trains, teddy bears and tricycles of yesteryear to gladden the hearts of needy children whom Santa might forget.

Concern Over Customs Is Voiced by US

Maritime System Being Directed By the Japanese

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. (AP) — The United States formally has expressed its concern to the Japanese government over an attempt to interfere with the integrity of the Chinese maritime customs system.

Secretary Hull announced this step had been taken today in commenting on reports that the Japanese authorities in Shanghai intend taking over the Chinese customs organization.

Similar action was taken by other world powers, including Great Britain, with which the secretary of state said the United States is in close contact.

Secretary Hull said that, on instructions from Washington, Ambassador Joseph C. Grew had conveyed this government's formal representations to the Japanese foreign office at Tokyo.

Hull emphasized, however, that the action of this government did not represent a joint move with other powers, each having acted independently.

Hull said the Japanese government was told that the United States naturally will be very much concerned by any action affecting its present functions and the collection of receipts of the customs service in China.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 27. (AP) — Mrs. Ann Marie Hahn, 31, was sentenced today to die in the electric chair March 10 for the murder by poison of Jacob Wagner, 78.

Judge Charles Bell denied a motion for a new trial. Mrs. Hahn retained the calm marking her trial demeanor when sentenced.

Teachers Approve Enabling Acts in Closing Sessions

HOUSTON, Nov. 27. (AP) — The Texas State Teachers Association convention approved enabling acts permitting formation of local and district units at the final session today.

R. H. Brister, Waco school superintendent, was elected president. George P. Wilcox, College Station, was named first vice president.

Dallas was chosen the next convention city.

Ablene was designated football champion of the Oil Belt district and Austin High in the El Paso district. The two schools will meet next Saturday in Ablene.

In district 14, no champion was designated as the quarrel between Port Arthur and Beaumont could not be settled. The district will not have an official champion this year.

Wichita Falls Is Convention Site Of Baptists '38

BEAUMONT, Nov. 27. (AP) — Wichita Falls was chosen next year's convention city of the Texas Baptist training union at the closing conference session here today.

H. O. Rothell, Dallas, was elected president. Presidents of 17 Texas districts designated vice presidents of the next convention.

Greyhound Lines Files Against Railroad Union

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27. (AP) — The Greyhound lines filed nine suits in federal court today asking $7,500,000 damages from the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, 20 officers and members.

The company charged a strike was called "with the view of restoring patronage of motor bus operators to railroads and increasing the number of trainmen employed by the railroads."

Citizens Urged to Buy Christmas Seals

WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 27. — Increased effort is needed to eliminate tuberculosis from this country, President Roosevelt declared in his proclamation endorsing Christmas Seals. The sale of seals started Nov. 26 throughout the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico and will continue until Christmas Day.

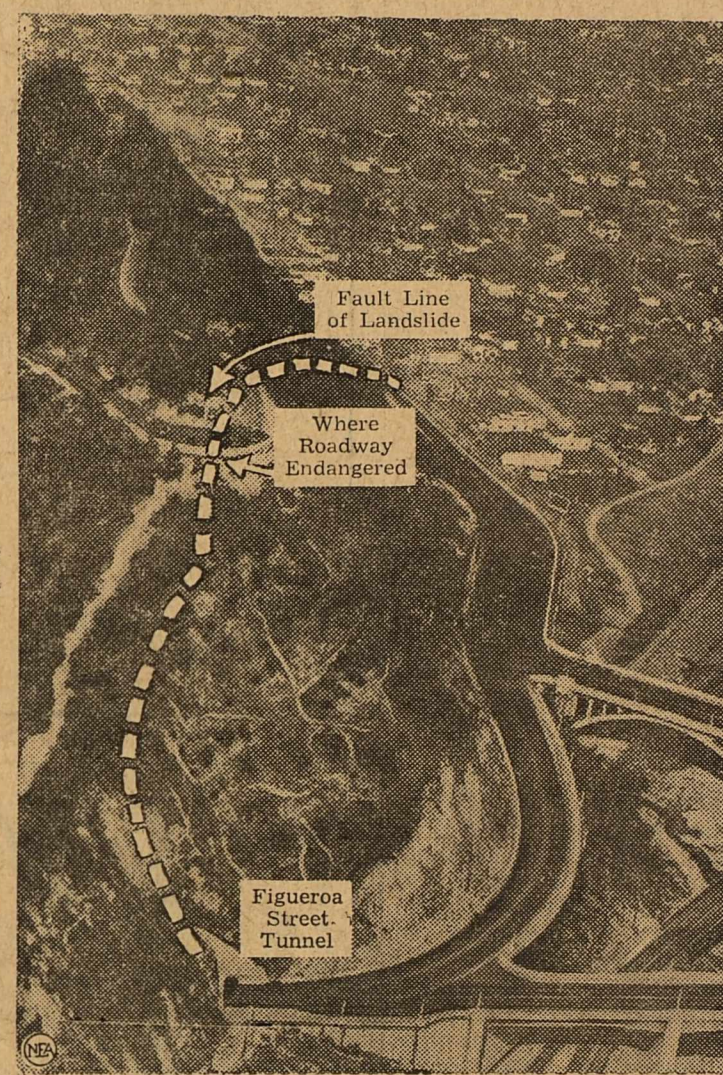

More than 2000 state, county and city tuberculosis associations over the country are supported by the income from the sales.

The President's endorsement: "On Thanksgiving Day those well known harbingers of health, the colorful Christmas Seals, again will go on sale. For thirty years funds from the annual sale of these seals have been used in the nationwide campaign to cure and prevent tuberculosis."

'500 Millions Top' Message To Barkley

Rivalling the colossal spectacles of the movies, a sliding mountain, overhanging scenic Riverside Drive, is giving bored Los Angeles its greatest thrill. Spitting away from the mountain at points indicated by the dotted line, above, the two-million-ton mass of soil and rock threatens to plunge 600 feet into the Los Angeles river, covering roadway, bridges, railroad tracks and small residences and the entrance to the Figueroa street tunnel. In greatest immediate danger was the Elysian Park roadway, winding around the mountain directly below the main fissure. Newsreel cameramen are standing by.

Greater Avalanche Said Due on 'Moving Mountain'

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27. (AP) — Engineers predicted today a greater avalanche than the estimated million ton earth slide last night for Elysian Park's "moving mountain."

The city engineer's office expressed grave concern because last night's slide, a city block long, came from the peak's mid-section. Debris wrecked portions of the Riverside drive viaduct and snapped telephone and light poles.

A huge block of earth fell on the viaduct approach to the $300,000 Dayton Avenue bridge. The viaduct sagged, Riverside drive buckled for 100 yards, a water main was crushed. That was about the extent of the damage. But the noise and the spectacle left the city in pandemonium for an hour.

A few boulders fell into the dry bed of the Los Angeles river, 100 yards from the foot of the slide. It was not determined immediately what damage, if any, had been done to the bridge.

Disinterested spectators agreed that it was a good spectacle even in the darkness, and the city fathers were happy to know that the worst was over.

Anhydrite Top, Sulphur Water Feature Gaines-Yoakum Sector

By FRANK GARDNER. Topping of anhydrite at a favorable point by a wildcat two miles north of Denver area production and development of sulphur water by a well in the southeast part of the Wasson pool featured yesterday's happenings in the Gaines-Yoakum sector.

Murchison & Pikes No. 1 Standard Oil Company of Texas-M. E. Sawyer, two miles north by north-east of American Liberty No. 1 L. Clavwater, which recently extended the Denver area of southwest Yoakum a mile and a half to the northeast, topped anhydrite at 2,203, datum of plus 1,420. On the marker, it is running practically flat with the Clavwater well. No. 1 Standard-Sawyer is located 650 feet from the south, 1,900 feet from the east line of section 702, block D, John H. Gibson survey. It is drilling ahead at 2,510 feet in salt and anhydrite.

In northwest Gaines' Wasson pool, Shell No. 1 R. A. Cox, diagonal southwest offset to A. G. Carter No. 2 Sharpe, a producer, late in the week was swabbing an estimated eight barrels of fluid, 95 per cent sulphur water and the rest oil, each hour into pits. Operators plan to test for another day, then will probably plug back in an attempt to shut off water. The well drilled to a total depth of 4,995 feet in lime. It is located 440 feet out of the northeast corner of section 380, block G, C. C. S. D. & R. G. N. G. survey.

American Liberty No. 1 Willard, Gaines test expected to link the Wasson and Denver pools, yesterday had drilled to 3,535 feet, in anhydrite and red rock. High Yates sand top at 2,950 feet has centered interest upon the well. It is 440 feet from the south and west lines of section 38, block AX, public school land.

Senate Committee Searches for New Revenue Sources

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. (AP) — President Roosevelt suggested today farm program be kept within $500,000,000 in an effort to bring federal spending within the income.

In a letter to Senator Barkley, democratic leader, he said: "We cannot hope to continue on a sound basis for financial management of government affairs unless regular annual expenditures are brought within revenues."

If it is found impossible to keep the farm program within the $500,000,000 limit, the president said, he would "urge steps be taken to provide necessary increase in revenues to meet any excess expenditures under the new farm program."

Letter Published. Mr. Roosevelt's letter was made public by Barkley as congressional tax experts began a search for extra sources of revenue in the event the new crop control legislation exceeds present costs.

Some members of the house tax subcommittee, which discussed the problem, favored processing taxes on major commodities similar to those in the invalidated AAA.

Others proposed lowering income tax exemptions and broadening the income tax base, although they noted such proposals always have met opposition.

No decisions were reached, for members pointed out that the amount needed will not be known until the crop control bill is enacted.

In senate debate yesterday, Senator Tydings, (D-Md.) asked cost data from Secretary Wallace and the department of agriculture.

He said the treasury lacked "money either in hand or in sight" to finance even a $500,000,000 program.

If the program costs more than that, Tydings said it would "accentuate the depression just that much more in government finance."

Process Tax Used. Senator Pope (D-Idaho), co-author of the bill under debate, said processing taxes might be the solution if additional funds were needed.

Pope commented that senate debate on the complicated program boiled down to suggestions for "minor changes" only, mentioning "strengthen restrictions against corn, wheat and cotton farmers using diverted acreage for competing with dairy and livestock producers."

Reward penalty provisions so that unintentional failure of farmers to make required reports would not subject them to fines.

The house agriculture committee split meanwhile into two factions on provisions of the crop bill which it had approved 16 to 7.

Most of the 16-14 democrats and two republicans appeared ready to defend the bill, but Representative Andresen (R-Minn.) said he would ask the house to reject the program because it "is strictly compulsory" and Representative Bollweaver (Prog-Wis.) said the measure would encourage the planting of feed crops to such an extent as to promote "dangerous" competition to the dairy industry.

Greatest Fog In Years Curtains All Of England

LONDON, Nov. 27. (AP) — At least ten deaths were attributed to the greatest fog in many years curtaining half of England today.

Transportation was choked, pedestrians endangered, trains and buses ran behind schedule or quit and shipping on the lower Thames was halted.

Pedestrians formed hand to hand chains to guide themselves along sidewalks behind leaders carrying torches or blazing newspapers. Three persons fell into reservoirs and a river while groping in darkness.

Midland, Panhandle Polo Clubs Will Meet Here

A two game polo series between the Midland team and the Panhandle "4" has been scheduled here next Saturday and Sunday afternoons, it was announced yesterday.

The Panhandle quartet is recognized as one of the strongest teams in the southwest, boasting wins over Wichita Falls, Cochrane Springs, the New Mexico Military Institute and several other strong line-ups.

The NMMI team recently went to the finals in a tournament held in El Paso before being defeated, indicating the caliber of the opposition that the Midland team will be called upon to face.

Heading the Panhandle team will probably be Gus White, sheriff of Dawson county, and one of the best polo players in the state. Others who will make up the player list of the visitors are not known at present but Jay Floyd, captain of the Midland team, has been assured by White that the team taking the field for Panhandle here next Saturday and Sunday would be the strongest ever presented on a Midland field. The horses of the Panhandle players are said to be some of the best polo stock in the state, assuring a rough time for the Midland team.

Floyd declared the Midland team would be strengthened greatly for series through the acquisition of Cecil Childers, former star of the El Rancho team, and a six-goal handicap player. Other members of the club will probably be Gene Linticum of San Angelo, Rip Smith and Floyd of Midland. All carry handicaps and have had several years of experience in high class competition.

Floyd said the Midland field, just east of the Fair Grounds, would be worked over this week and put in perfect shape for the two games. The games will start at 3 o'clock each day; admission will be 40 cents.

RETURN HOME. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Walker and baby left for their home in San Angelo Friday after spending the Thanksgiving holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Walker.

TO VISIT IN HOBBS. Mrs. E. C. Hitchcock will leave today for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. John Lee McCrary, at Hobbs, N. M.

TO CONVENTION. Dr. and Mrs. James H. Chapple and daughter left Saturday for New Orleans where he will attend the Southern Medical Convention. They will be gone about a week.

VISITS HERE. Miss Elizabeth Dickinson of Yoakum, Texas, is visiting in Midland over the holidays as the guest of Boyd Laughlin, attorney.

"Better Motoring"

The "Public Safety" Campaign started today by the Midland Safety Council with the cooperation of civic organizations, demands the attention and support of every citizen of Midland. It is your campaign because it vitally concerns you, your family and your friends. It is undertaken to improve automobile driving and present motor vehicle accidents on the streets of our city.

During the past ten or fifteen years the use of automobiles in the United States has increased so tremendously that there are now more than 24,000,000 registered cars in the country. The fact that more than 1,000,000 people were injured and nearly 37,800 killed in motor vehicle accidents in the United States last year indicates that many operators are not fully qualified to drive a powerful machine through city streets and along our connecting highways. Accidents are seldom the result of direct intentions, but occur because a driver does not know how to control his car properly, or because a good driver momentarily fails to give proper attention to his driving.

In our city, as in most cities, the streets we are using today are the same streets our forefathers used before the day of automobiles. Property values make any wholesale widening of these streets, particularly in business and heavy travelled sections, too costly to consider. Safer and less congested streets can be obtained in most instances only by adequate control measures properly enforced and by better and more skilful driving.

The inexperienced and unskilful automobile driver risks his own life and that of pedestrians and other motorists every time he operates his car. The "Real Driver" who has learned the fine points of skilful driving knows how to control his car at all times and not only enjoys his driving more, but through his actions and example contributes in large part to the safety of our community.

We are hopeful that this campaign of the Safety Council will result in renewed interest in the art of driving and that the number of "Real Drivers" in Midland will increase continuously. We are proud of our city. Let us be equally proud of having the safest and most skilful drivers in the state. This would be a reputation worth having. It can be had if each motorist makes a personal check of his driving ability, keeps his car under control and obeys traffic rules and regulations.

The Wolf Where the Doorstep Ought To Be

The Town Quack

Some of the chumps who bet on Odessa to beat Midland complain that Francis had his legs greased so tacklers' hands would slip off.

Well, those who bet on Odessa were trying to put the skids on Midland folks by offering only 7 points when about 99 percent of the people thought Odessa would win by 12 or more.

Anyway, it is doubtful if people who predict football scores miss out as often as do weather forecasters.

Ralph Shuffler "cussed" me all fall because I wouldn't bet with him on the game. Wonder how he feels now?

Many of you probably heard this one on justice of peace Knowles but I heard it for the first time Saturday.

As the story goes: About 25 years ago, when he was county judge, one day in court a witness made a flat statement that judge was a d— liar.

"Court is adjourned for 10 minutes while I whip the witness," the judge declared.

At the end of ten minutes he had completed his job and ordered court be convened again.

Let's see—Judge is 82 now so that made him 57 at the time. Shades of Fitzsimmons!

I'll bet even that the next governor Texas has will be red haired.

A final paragraph about football: If you think Midland had a bad season, consider Kernit. They did not win a game or make a point in nine games while their opposition made 285.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Roosevelt and the New Dealers have a plan for ending the depression before it approaches disastrous proportions. The plan has curiously little in common with remedies proposed or described in most congressional speeches and newspaper dispatches.

The President's economists have told him that there isn't much chance of any pickup in business worth speaking of before some time next spring. The administration is now convinced that the country is in one of those old-fashioned economic spirals of declining production and purchasing power—and that nothing can actually be done about it until some sort of a new balance of prices, production and purchasing power is achieved, although now is the time to plan.

At Odds on Tax Repeal. THIS is not a very common viewpoint outside the inner circle of advisers. Congress is very likely, in the meantime, to take the word of business interests and conservative economists that there's no cure like repeal of the corporate surplus profits tax.

New Dealers scoff at that proposal and others of the sort, claiming that Wall Street is entirely unrealistic in its suggestions as to the depression's causes and possible cures. But there will be a real fight over the surplus profits tax if Roosevelt sticks to his determination to confine action to alleviations for small businesses.

During that other period which Democrats like to call "the Hoover depression" there were several upturns in the spring in 1930, 1931 and 1932.

Friends of Mr. Hoover like to say that the depression really ended in 1932 and that only the presidential campaign and Roosevelt's election prevented a parade to recovery from continuing. Roosevelt's friends say the trouble was that Hoover never had a plan of action ready with which to take advantage of an upturn when he saw one.

Predict Upturn by Spring

ANYWAY, Roosevelt's idea now is that there will be at least a leveling off of the declining industrial curve some time in the spring and that the government-promoted private house-building boom, previously discussed in this column, can then take hold and provide impetus which will start industry spiraling upward again. (Latest decision is to ask Congress to get the FHA interest-service charge rate down from 6 1/4 per cent to around 4 1/2.)

Although the administration and its economists believe there's no chance of turning up the business curve at once, that doesn't mean they expect the curve to keep go-

Letters to Editor

Editor:— I have been called to San Diego on account of the serious illness of my mother. I am writing this enroute. I wanted to come in and tell you about the splendid cooperation of Midland merchants and the city. You know that Mr. Byerley and I have come from Arkansas to make Midland our home; we are the other "B" in the B&B food store. We bought the Kirby block of land at 1802 West Wall street, and on Oct. 5 I took possession it. With the marvelous cooperation of everyone who helped me with my home, in less than 45 days I have made numerous improvements and have a lovely home out there. But I believe this record of your wonderful little city's ability to do things quick, and the show of friendliness and hospitality will surpass any of your past records. On Friday afternoon, even after banking hours, I went in to talk to your mayor about helping me to get some city water on my block of land without too much expense. He said he would surely find some way to help me. I got up Saturday morning and there wasn't a drop of water in my new tank. I called Mr. Cole and told him my predicament and he said they would come out at once. That was at 8 o'clock on Saturday morning, mind you. I then called Mr. John Howe, who had done some other work for me. He too said "they would be out at once." And you know how cold it was. Well, by 12 o'clock that day they had city water running into my house; and they had almost one-half block of pipe line to put in. So, I've only highest praise and admiration for the beautiful city and its citizens, and certainly want you to know that we are with you one and all 100 percent to make Midland the best little city in West Texas. Very sincerely yours, Mrs. H. G. Byerley.

TCU Beats SMU 3-0; Rice Tops Bears

PLACE KICK BY O'BRIEN GIVES FROGS VICTORY

FORT WORTH, Nov. 27. (AP) — Half-pint Davey O'Brien beat the Southern Methodist University Mustangs with a field goal today to give the TCU Horned Frogs a 3-0 victory and keep them in the Southwest Conference title race. The game was finale for TCU but if SMU defeats Rice next Saturday at Dallas TCU will win the championship.

The field goal was kicked by O'Brien from the 13-yard line after he had carried to the Mustang five. It was his second attempt to kick a goal, minutes before Hughes, SMU tackle, had broken through and blocked a try from the 17.

In the second and third periods TCU was set back in its own territory on account of a strong wind that nullified O'Brien's punting efforts. In the fourth, with the wind at their backs, TCU surged forward scarcely impeded by a Mustang line that wilted under the battering Horned Frog linemen.

O'Brien picked up a first down at the 37 to start the first drive in the last period. A SMU penalty and a line back by Clark and line plunging by O'Brien carried to the 7.

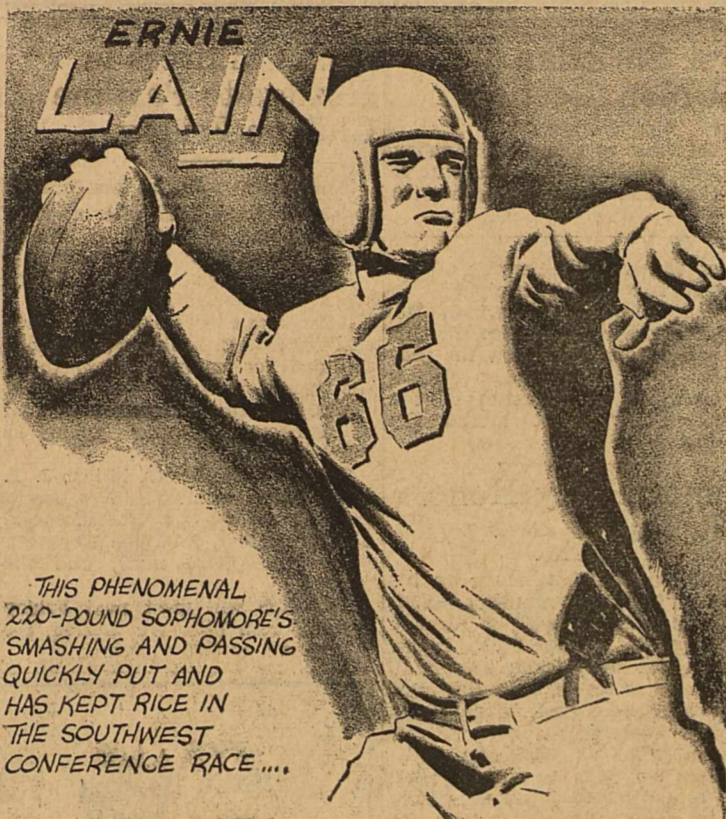

John Hall, TCU back, gave O'Brien his second opportunity with an interception of a pass on the SMU 28. O'Brien passed to Clifford on the 11, sneaked to the 7 off right guard and got to the 5 on another plunge at the line. From the 13 he made his second placement good.

SMU missed a golden opportunity to score in the second period when a Jack Morrison set the stage with a 74-yard punt to the TCU 6. Regaining the ball a few minutes later, Jackson, Mustang half, cut off tackle to the TCU 19 and Belville followed with a spinner to the 10, but the drive bogged down when Morrison deserted line play and passed twice over the line.

O'Brien stole the show, but crowding him were Ki Aldrich, center, and I. B. Hale, tackle.

CORDILL LEADS OWLS TO A HARD 13-TO-7 VICTORY

HOUSTON, Nov. 27. (AP) — Ole Cordill, raw-boned West Texan from Big Spring, nudged Rice closer to the Southwest Conference flag today with a pair of touchdowns that dropped Baylor's Bears, 13-7.

Once by air and once around Cordill struck and Baylor, scrapping back in the dying minutes of play, could not overcome the damage done by the 195-pound back.

On the opening kickoff, Cordill almost slipped away for a score, starting from behind his goal line and carrying 60 yards in a broken field before Patterson snatched him. Mid-way in the second period, Cordill's quick kick bounced out on the Baylor 9 and Schuehle, Rice back, toted Patterson's return kick to the Baylor 12. Lain rifled a pass that Cordill carried across from the 5. Exalt's kick was good.

In the third period, Cordill again manufactured a scoring chance by a shoestring interception of Patterson's long heave and hustled to the Rice 32. Vickers rambled to the Baylor 43 and Cordill slashed end for 21 more. Schuehle, Vickers and Cordill laid the ball on the 1 and Cordill cracked across.

Patterson's passes and runs brought the Baylor score. It started on the Baylor 25 when he passed to Barnes for 20 and continued with smacks at the line with Gernand to carry to the Rice 9 where he fumbled. Rice recovered but Patterson, Gernand and Brazell, coming back with a surge after a Rick kick, placed the ball on the goal and Gernand plunged over for a score. Gernand added the point.

Rice and TCU victories fixed the race for a tailor-made finish. A Rice win over SMU Saturday would win the flag for the Owls by a half game; a tie would give them a deadlock with TCU; a loss would drop the Owl, scoreless in their first three games of the season, into second slot.

Their claims seem justified when it is remembered what kind of exhibitions the Bulldogs put up against those two clubs. In the Pecos game, they apparently couldn't do anything right, while in the Crane game they went "haywire" in the first five minutes, and when they finally recovered their equilibrium couldn't make up in 45 minutes of fine play for five minutes of non-play.

Let's just take a look back over the season and see what the coaches have had to put up with:

Before the season started they thought they were set with a line-up composed of Van Dyke and Pace at ends, Klatt and Eldson at guards, Adams and English at tackles, Whittaker at center, Taylor and Wright at halves, Francis at quarter and McMullan at full. Ten members of that 11 were in there when the final game ended but there was a lot of changes during the season.

To start a hard luck streak that dogged them all season the coaches saw Eldson eliminated for six full weeks by an appendicitis operation. And when he went out he left a hole in the line that was never filled until he returned.

At the same time, Taylor became ill and though he was able to return and play a part of the time against Pecos he was far from being in the best possible shape.

Next, Whittaker came up with a stomach ailment that made him only a partial regular. When that was over he came up with a broken back. By that time the coaches thought their luck would surely change, but it had only started. Van Dyke and Pace didn't develop like the coaches had expected them to and they worked overtime trying to find someone to replace them at ends. Whittaker was given a stab at playing end, so was Adams, Barnes and Norman. But when Adams or Whittaker were moved to the flanks that left other holes in the line. Norman proved to be a better than fair pass shagger but was too inexperienced to be any help on defense.

Then, the crowning blow of all fell, Jay Francis, who was the chief ground gainer and practically the only scoring threat, came up with knee and ankle injuries that kept him from ever reaching peak condition.

Wright showed such a glaring weakness on pass defense that he was replaced with an even smaller youngster, Dale Truelove. Proof, however, that he had largely overcome this handicap was given by Wright in the Odessa game when he twice intercepted passes and placed them in scoring position.

Finally, with Eldson back in the line-up and Pace and Van Dyke demonstrating ability comparable to any flankers in the district, another blow fell when Pace was forced to undergo an operation that knocked him out for the rest of the season. At the time, he was a better defensive end than anybody else on the squad while Van Dyke had proved his ability as an offensive end. The coaches alternated Barnes and Norman at Pace's position and both came through, particularly in the Odessa game.

The continued misfortune was something that was not expected before the season, neither was there anything that could be done about it.

Proof of just how serious the situation became at various times during the season is shown by the fact that Adams played every position on the field at one time or another. Recognized as the best tackle in the district, yet the coaches were forced to move him all over the line-up in vain efforts to strengthen a battered line-up.

The never-ending run of hard luck suffered by the team this year was enough to have discouraged almost any pair of coaches in the district. But Taylor and Myer kept plugging, ever making the best of the situation, and never giving up.

Had any misfortune dogged the team last year Midland would have never had a regional champion.

The record this year compares more than favorably with that of the team last year. If there are any of the "wolves" left that were yelping for the scalps of Taylor and Myer a few weeks ago they are in for a hard winter. The fans in general recognize that the two have compiled a record that they can well be proud of.

Any honors received by them are fully deserved. With the close of the playing season, now comes the time when all and sundry will be naming their "all" teams.

Coaches of the district this year voted to pick a club, also to accept teams picked by sportswriters. The votes cast by both coaches and writers will be counted and a first and second team will be named.

I filled out one of the blanks mailed out by the coaches but will not print it unless the teams finally named differ quite a bit from those I picked.

The coaches also asked for a nomination for the outstanding end, outstanding lineman and outstanding back in the district.

I listed them like this: Callon, Adams, Francis.

And don't be too surprised if those three win. Callon has probably received more free advertising this year than any other man in the district. And he has earned it. In only two games, against Midland and Wink, was he kept from scoring. And in almost every game played he has intercepted a pass for a score.

The ability of Adams is pretty generally recognized, too. I talked with several of the boys on the Wink squad and they were unanimous in pronouncing him the best lineman they had played against. And they met them all.

Francis' record speaks for itself. He has made almost every point scored by the Bulldogs this season despite the fact every club he has faced has been drilled to stop him. The Pecos votes will probably go to Richards of the Eagles and the Wink votes will go to one of the Wildcats. But the Midland, Odessa, and Monahans votes should go for Francis. Johnny Smith and coach Toby Greer at Monahans have been singing praise for the little Bulldog field general all year and after the one-man show he put on in Odessa Thursday they should be convinced.

Whereas there has been a dearth of outstanding linemen in the district it has been overflooded with good backs. There will probably be no unanimous choice such as there was with Wafford in the game last year, almost a dozen backs will be prominently mentioned for the first team.

Midland boasts of McMullan and Francis, Odessa—Webster and Maurice, Wink—Webb, Hodgett and Ezell, Crane—Brannon and Boyd, Stanton—Eldson and Graham, Kermit—Dawson, Monahans—Hary and Hary, Pecos—Ellis and Richards. And any coach would be glad to have any four named.

The season is over, but football talk is still going on.
The surprise win turned in over Odessa is still the main topic of conversation all over town, and the coaches as well as the boys are coming in for their share of the praise. The odds are six-two-even that Taylor and Myer could not their contracts renewed for another year right now if they wanted to.
I don't want to say "I told you so," but just remember that I climbed aboard the Taylor "band wagon" soon after the Pecos defeat.
Neither Taylor nor Myer will claim that they could have defeated Wink this year even had their team been at full strength, but both will claim they had a better club than either Pecos or Crane. And

HOW TO KEEP FROM GROWING OLD

"Always drive fast out of alleys." "Always race with locomotives to crossings. Engineers like it; it breaks the monotony of their jobs." "Always pass the car ahead on curves or turns. Don't use your horn, it may unnerve the other fellow and cause him to turn out too far." "Demand half the road—the middle half. Insist on your rights." "Always speed; it shows people you are a man of pep even though an amateur driver." "Drive confidently, just as though there were not eighteen million other cars in service." "Always lock your brakes when skidding. It makes the job more artistic." "Always pass cars on hills. It shows you have more power; and you can turn out if you meet a car at the top." "In sloppy weather drive close to pedestrians. Dry cleaners appreciate it." "Never look around when you back up. There is never anything behind you." Of course you, the reader, never do any of the above things. You are a gentleman and act accordingly—but do you look the part? And try dry cleaning your own clothes in gasoline near a fire or when there is plenty of static in the air, which will often cause a spark and set fire to the gasoline, and burn you and your house to a crisp.

'The Kid' Grows Up, Takes a Wife

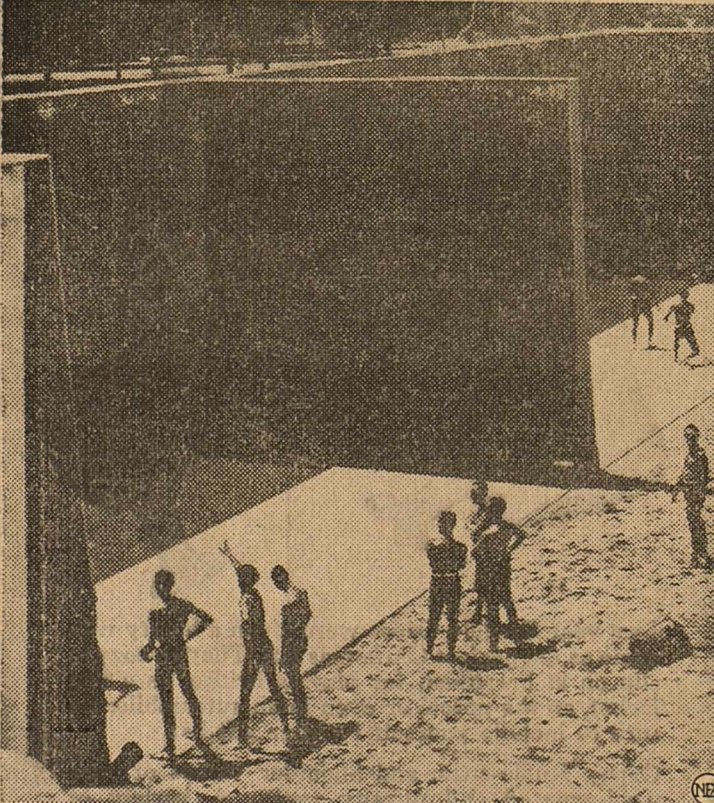

And so the ragged little urchin grew up to be a millionaire and married the beautiful movie actress. That's the real life story of Jackie Coogan, who began a climb to fame and fortune as a 4-year-old playing "kid" parts with Charlie Chaplin, and who is shown above just a moment after Betty Grable, ingenue of modern films, became his bride. Betty dabs at a tear as the couple emerged from St. Brendan's Catholic church in Los Angeles.

Girl Lied and Boy Killed Self

Two young lovers, Warren Sincilar Staley, 17, and Loretta Harynek, 15, shown above in a recent snapshot, are separated by death now because the girl told Warren she was to become a mother. It was a "white lie to make him happy," she said. It didn't. Worried, the boy stole a car at Mexico Mo., where he was a student in the Missouri Military Academy, drove to Chicago, where both homes were. There, chased by police, he wrecked the car and then shot himself to death. Notes on his body professed love for the girl.

MAGNIFIED HANDBALL

Amateurs pictured here are practicing in a Havana fronton with the idea of becoming professional jai-alai players. Public contests are played in courts that are vastly longer and the arm used by the participants is lengthened by adding what in Cuba is known as a "hollow hand." The latter is made of rattan and curved like a sickle to catch and deliver the ball in jai-alai, pronounced "high-a-high," and considered the fastest of all games.

Bags First Buck With Bow

William VanVorst is shown dragging out of the wilds of Newaygo county, Mich., the first buck killed in that state's first regulated deer hunting season for archers. VanVorst, a Lowell, Mich., bank teller, was one of more than 200 bow and arrow hunters who had roamed the woods of two Michigan counties since Nov. 1. He used a 70-pound home-made yew bow and drove a 27-inch steel-head arrow through the 115-pound spikehorn buck's lungs. The deer was running at a rapid pace and was about 15 yards from VanVorst when he shot.

"Under the leadership of the National Tuberculosis Association, state and local societies and committees in all parts of the United States conduct organized health programs in all the communities in which the seals are sold. Free clinics, nursing service, tuberculin testing, X-raying, rehabilitation, medical and social research are among the health protection measures that Christmas Seals help to support. This splendid service must be continued without curtailment.

"We must wage with increasing vigor our fight to eliminate this plague as one of the greatest foes to health. We must not in any way abate the fight against so appalling a scourge which claims a very large number of its victims from our young people between the ages of fifteen and thirty. A renewed and intensified program must be put into effect. Attention must be focused to protect the health of our young men and women whether in high school or colleges or among skilled or unskilled industrial workers. We must guard with the utmost vigilance the health of all.

"The aid of every American is needed in this cause. Tuberculosis is everybody's problem. I therefore urge all to do their part generously in supporting the thirty-first annual Christmas Seal sale to be carried on between Thanksgiving and Christmas."

Irrigation Work in Willacy County Is Nearing Completion

RAYMONDVILLE, Texas. (AP)—Through the united efforts of 350 men and officials, the planning and building of canals, siphons, reservoirs, pumps and drainage ditches to irrigate Willacy county farm land is nearly three-fourths finished, it is estimated. The system, begun seven years ago, will carry water 29 miles from the Rio Grande to make fertile about 70,300 acres.

The original project of the Willacy county water control and improvement district No. 1 at Raymondville contemplated irrigating 125,000 acres. It was begun in 1930. Reservoirs capable of storing 36,000 acres feet of water and 10 miles of main canal from the reservoirs to the main north floodway northwest of Santa Rosa were constructed but temporarily abandoned for lack of funds.

Approximately $4,850,000 by the PWA after years of litigation permitted resumption of construction of canals last fall. The first contracts were let May 1, 1937, and district authorities expect completion of the project in two years.

The two reservoirs will irrigate 23,000 acres in the Lasara, Raymondville, and Santa Margarita territories by gravity flow, and some 42,000 acres north and west in the Hargill and Rollo areas of Willacy by relief pump.

Approximately 5,000 acres will be watered directly from the main north-south canal. A total of 28,000-acre-feet, or water to a depth of one foot on 28,000 acres, will be stored in the reservoirs; and 8,000 acre-feet in the settling basins at the river and in the 28-mile main canal.

Four centrifugal pumps, each capable of sending 150 second-feet of silt-laden water into settling basins will be installed on the bank of the Rio Grande south of Mercedes. Diesel engines of 300 horse-power each will operate the huge turbines. Cost of this unit is estimated at $170,000, district engineer W. E. Anderson said.

Where the main canal crosses under the north floodway, eight miles northwest of Santa Rosa in Cameron county, a siphon 11 feet in diameter and 1,000 feet long is being constructed. Another 750 feet long is being built under the Arroyo Colorado some four miles north of the Rio Grande. A dam and box under the main canal is also to be constructed, six feet square and 220 feet long.

Ten miles of main canal was finished before money was exhausted in 1930, and since contracts were let the main canal south through Cameron county to the river is approaching completion. Twenty-two miles had been completed by the middle of September.

Sometime in 1939, if district manager H. R. F. Heiland's plans are realized, the now dry acres in Willacy county will become fertile as muddy river water roars down the eight-foot drop, and fills the huge reservoir.

Warbling Fire Siren So Old It Explodes

FREMONT, Neb. (UP)—Fremont's "warbling" fire siren, in use since 1885, will "warble" no more. Age and increasing steam pressure at the city power plant proved too much, and the whistle burst during a test.

The siren, which could be heard for miles around, had been known as "Old McGinty," a name given in the days of hand-drawn fire carts. During its life, the whistle was used to summon fire fighters to more than 2,000 blazes. Plans are being made to replace it, but not with a whistle of the "warbling" type. Most "warblers" are constructed for low steam pressure, and the Fremont plant's pressure is now too high.
