

Lost Memory

Confused and tearful was the reunion pictured above when Jimmy Saunders, amnesia victim, stepped from an airplane in Cincinnati and greeted the wife he had not seen or remembered during 30 months' wandering. Saunders' memory, lost when he started to Akron to seek work in 1935, was restored by a California prison practitioner who straightened a misplaced vertebra in his neck.

Town Wide Cantata To Draw Crowd

100 Singers in Annual Program At High School

The city-wide cantata choir, composed of singers from various church choirs, the public school faculty, students, and artists not affiliated with any of these organizations, will give its annual cantata in the auditorium of the high school at 8 o'clock, or after the church hour, Sunday evening, Dec. 12. The program, given purposely a week in advance of the Christmas programs of the churches, will feature "The Christmas Vision," a Christmas cantata for mixed voices by Roy O. Nolte.

The cantata choir will comprise 100 voices: 35 sopranos, 25 altos, 20 tenors, and 20 basses, selected from the best singers of the city. One feature of the cantata will be a men's chorus of 40 male voices. Soloists for the cantata will be: Mrs. De Lo Douglas, director of the Methodist choir of the city, Mrs. M. A. Park, director of the Christian church choir, Mrs. Jack Hawkins, director of the Presbyterian church choir, and Mrs. Roy Parks, and Mrs. Roy Fowler. The invocation will be offered by Rev. W. C. Hinos of the Methodist church, the Scripture will be read by Rev. W. J. Coleman of the Presbyterian church, and the benediction will be pronounced by Rev. J. E. Pickering of the Christian church.

Five attractive Christmas trees have been furnished by Gomer brothers, and these will be decorated by: L. P. Stark, Miss Ella Lunday, Miss Norene Kirby, Miss Gladys Plinson, Miss Jo Hestand, W. H. Hill, Miss Theresa Klapproth, Miss Mary Kennington, and Mrs. Elizabeth Wright. These decorations will lend a wonderful Christmas atmosphere for the cantata.

Ushers will be Roy F. Stockard, general chairman; L. M. Freels, C. A. McClintic, L. W. Taylor, Guy W. Brenneman, W. E. Weathers, W. F. Hejl and J. C. Moore.

Shifflett, M. A. Armstrong, Miss Merle Smith, and Miss Agatha Bruner. Mrs. Holt Jowell and Miss Jesse Scott Price will be at the pianos. The stage at the high school will seat 100 and the auditorium and balcony will seat 700. The program is free and the public is invited. The program will start at 8 o'clock.

Last Member of Brady Gang Gets Death Sentence

HAMMOND, Ind. Dec. 10 (P).—A federal court jury decided last night James Dalhove, last survivor of the Al Brady gang, should die in the electric chair for the murder of state policeman Paul V. Minneman. Dalhove stared straight ahead as the clerk read the verdict, which will make him the third member of the Brady gang to die. Brady and Clarence Shaffer, Jr., were killed Oct. 12 at Bangor, Me., by federal agents who captured Dalhove.

Minneman was slain last May 25 while pursuing Dalhove, Brady, and Shaffer after they held up a bank at Goodland, Ind.

Asserted Head of Death Syndicate Eludes Police Trap

PARIS, Dec. 10 (P).—An asserted chief of an abduction-death syndicate, whose "expert in murder" was Jean De Koven, Brooklyn dancer, escaped a police net today.

With him, police said, were his mistress and a third suspect. Authorities identified the alleged leader as Roger Million, Frenchman. Officials believed Million to be the man who employed Eugene Weidmann, German ex-convict, as the killer for Me-gang.

Weidmann, after a fight with officers, confessed killing the dancer and four men. The body of the dancer was exhumed from under the porch of an abandoned villa yesterday following Weidmann's confession.

Air Mail Plane Due to Stop Here Grounded at Odessa

Pilot Ralph C. Lockwood, flying the Eastern Airlines plane scheduled to stop here today to pick up airmail, was forced to remain on the ground at Odessa today because of inclement flying weather.

Intermittent sleet and snow falls at the Odessa airport kept him from taking off at 7:30 this morning, and he was still grounded at 1:30 this afternoon.

Postmaster Allen Tolbert reported that a total of 535 articles of mail for the plane had been deposited at the local post office. The mail was taken to the airport this morning when their plane ran into a typhoon. A fisherman on the island of Bugtuy, far off the fliers' course, fed and housed the men.

Railroad Solvency Should Be Kept by ICC, FDR Declares

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (P).—President Roosevelt said today that the Interstate Commerce Commission should seek to preserve solvency of the nation's railroads with a view of retaining them under private ownership.

He said at a press conference that the quicker a final determination was reached on the railroads' application for higher freight rates the better it would be all around.

An immediate increase in railroad rates is imperative to avert bankruptcies, the Association of American Railroads told the commission Thursday. Shipping interests quickly called the plea absurd.

The commission has been holding hearings on a request, submitted several weeks ago, that freight rates be increased 15 per cent and Eastern coach fares from 2 to 2 1/2 cents a mile. It is estimated the increase would amount to more than $500,000,000.

In the ordinary course, the commission might not decide about the request for weeks. But the railroad association asked that the new charges go into effect immediately, pending later determination of a permanent rate structure.

American Flier Lost Near Manila Found Alive Today

MANILA, Dec. 10 (P).—Three Philippine army officers and one American were rescued today from a tiny island where their typhoon-battered airplane was forced down four days ago.

One of the fliers was Lt. William Lee, formerly of Weatherford, Tex. A fisherman on the island of Bugtuy, far off the fliers' course, fed and housed the men.

MANILA, Dec. 10 (P).—Three high officials of the Philippine army and a United States army aviation lieutenant missing since Monday when their plane ran into a typhoon, have been found alive, the army air field here was notified today.

Philippine army officials reported the trio had been found on a small island off the Pacific side of Luzon, but nothing was learned immediately concerning the condition of the men or their plane.

The officials, Major General Paulino Santos, chief of staff of the Philippine army; Lieut. William Lee, U. S. A., chief of the Philippine army air corps; and Col. Fidel Segundino, chief of the Philippine army intelligence corps, dropped from sight Monday while returning here from centers of Moro rebellion in the Southern Archipelago.

A typhoon which caused extensive damage in the Central Archipelago, swept across the path of their transport plane and for a time hid the fate of a bomber carrying two other Filipino fliers, who subsequently made a safe forced landing.

Opening Services In New Church Are To Be Held Sunday

Opening services in the new Presbyterian church at the corner of West Texas and A streets will be held Sunday, Rev. W. J. Coleman, pastor, has announced.

"The ideal church" will be the subject of Mr. Coleman's sermon at the 11 o'clock hour, the first to be preached in the new structure. An organ prelude, "Alleluia! Alleluia!" will open the worship hour, followed by hymns, anthem, and other portions of the worship ritual.

Second service in the new church will be the "People's Hour" at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, when a special Christmas worship hour will be observed. Seasonal musical numbers and carol singing will feature the program and the minister will present a brief Christmas message on "God Among Men." The service will adjourn in time for the congregation to attend the Christmas cantata at the high school.

TULSA, Okla. (U.P.)—Oilfield operating equipment has come a long way since the first well was drilled in Tulsa, Pa., in 1859. The first well was only 50 feet deep. Today giant rotary drills are manufactured which are capable of drilling two miles into any kind of rock formation.

First Snow Of The Year Falls Here

Mercury Drops to 24 Degrees in the City Last Night

Vision of a "White Christmas" were seen by Midland residents today when the first snow of the season started falling this morning. The flakes melted as fast as they fell in the city, but from outside the city limits reports indicated the ground was partially covered. Never falling heavily at any time, the flakes would stop falling, only to start again.

Reports from Odessa indicated the air mail plane, scheduled to pick up air mail here at 5:55 this morning, had been unable to take off because of intermittent snow and sleet.

A light sleet fell during the night in Midland, following a heavy mist that froze as it settled. Ice was visible in all open spots this morning where water had been allowed to accumulate. The mercury dropped to 24 degrees here last night, the second lowest temperature recorded during the season. The mercury had climbed to 32 degrees at 1 o'clock this afternoon, the maximum for the day.

According to West Texas Gas Company officials, the weather was clear in Lubbock and Amarillo and snow had not fell there today. The temperature in Lubbock at noon was reported to be 33 degrees.

From southeast portions of the country came reports that the snow was much heavier than in town, almost completely blanketing the country.

Ginners Urged to Use Precautions In Fire Prevention

AUSTIN—Marvin Hall, Texas fire insurance commissioner, today reminded all cotton ginners and warehousemen to use "common-sense fire precautions" during the present heavy season of cotton production.

In a statement directed especially to West Texas cotton men, Hall emphasized the necessity for utmost caution and care around the gin and warehouse so that the increased cotton hazards would not cause a disastrous fire.

"The extreme haste in the gin to keep pace with a grueling 24-hour schedule has been responsible for the disregard of some important precautions against fires in a few of our West Texas gins," Hall said. "This situation, which of course is not evident in the great majority of our well-managed gins, has caused in some instances wasteful fire losses which might easily have been avoided. It is therefore doubly important to remind the cotton men of a few of the primary precautions they can take."

"As for the ginners, it is unnecessary to call to their attention the tremendous hazard entailed by the accumulation of lint or rubbish inside the plant, and seed cotton outside. The boilers, smokestacks, and flues should be kept clean, and any inflammable materials should be kept at a safe distance. There should be no burning of burs and hulls under the boilers, a practice every cotton man knows is dangerous. It is important, too, to maintain a clear space of at least 100 feet between the gin and any baled or unbaled cotton."

"The warehousemen can also do much to insure safety from fires," Hall continued. "They should guard against the immediate acceptance of bales from the gin, as the danger of packing fire in the bales is always present. An excellent practice is to invoke a 72-hour embargo on all bales fresh from the gin. Inside the warehouse, the proper maintenance of fire fighting facilities such as barrels of water with buckets, posting of 'No Smoking' signs, vertical pipe and hose, and clear aislesways is important. Cotton should never be stored over one bale high, as tiering is a dangerous fire hazard."

There are at present a group of the Texas fire insurance department's inspectors in West Texas, Hall said, who are inspecting cotton property to see if the proper safeguards are being maintained and all precautions observed.

"It cannot be stressed too strongly that to sacrifice caution for haste and unsafe arrangement or practices not only submits all cotton property to disastrous fires, but also jeopardizes the good fire record credit which most West Texas towns now enjoy. Too many fires, or a single fire with a great loss, often deprives a community of this credit, which simply means that the whole population will be taxed by increased fire insurance rates," Hall concluded.

Japanese Strike From All Sides at Nanking Today

Germ Found That Killed 11 Babies

Discovery of the germ which caused deaths of 11 newborn babies in two weeks has led Dr. Francis A. Dulak, right, member of the staff of Chicago's St. Elizabeth hospital, to hope that lives of seven other infants infected by the virulent and little-known malady can be saved. Physicians and board of health experts found the germ after injecting white rats with blood from one of the dead infants. The rats died, violently. The malady, enteritis, causes acute intestinal inflammation.

350,000 Additional Jobs Provided for By The WPA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (P).—The government ordered a $23,000,000-a-month increase in WPA spending Thursday to cope with mounting unemployment.

Harry L. Hopkins, the works administrator, announced that work relief projects would be expanded within the next few weeks to provide 350,000 additional jobs.

His announcement increased speculation as to whether President Roosevelt's announced goal of a balanced budget in the next fiscal year could be achieved in view of the business recession.

Hopkins said he was not thinking at this time of asking a deficiency appropriation to supplement the $1,275,000,000 the president has budgeted for WPA this fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

Death resulted from a broken neck and a possible skull fracture, a physician said.

Van Vlack was accused of slaying his former wife, Mildred Hook, and two officers.

Turner's West Extension To Harper Pool Pumps, Flows 570

By FRANK GARDNER.
High initial test of 570 barrels in 24 hours, pumping and flowing, was reported today for Fred Turner, Jr., No. 1-A E. Parker, well extending Harper pool production in Ector another mile westward. No. 1-A Parker was shot several weeks ago with 400 quarts of nitro from 4080 to 4317, the total depth, but had been delayed in taking gauge by a protracted fishing job which necessitated drilling up bailer. Location is 330 feet from the north, 231 feet from the west line of section 16, block 44, township 2 south, T. & P. survey.

Sulphur water amounting to six ballers in an hour and a half was encountered at total depth of 4457 feet by Mr. Turner. No. 1 Griffin, north offset to the company's No. 1 Wanda Hinkle, farthest south producer in Ector's Poster pool. It had shown only one barrel of oil daily from pay at 4,225-37 before drilling into water. Operators will plug off water and attempt to develop production from upper showing. No. 1 Griffin is in the southwest corner of section 20, block 42 township 2 south, T. & P. survey. Walter Donnelly No. 1 Connell, west side Penn pool test, is preparing to clean out after shooting 540 quarts of nitro from 3,446 to 3,667, the bottom. Shot was tamped with 100 feet of gravel, and the well failed to clean itself following explosion.

Refusal Is Voiced To Ultimatum

Fall of Capital Is Forecast by Leader Of Attacking Force

SHANGHAI, Dec. 10 (P).—Japanese struck from all sides at Nanking in a general attack which a Japanese spokesman declared tonight had put the Chinese capital "in the process of falling."

The attack was launched after Chinese refused to heed a Japanese ultimatum to surrender the city by noon or face a general assault.

The spokesman said he assumed the Japanese had penetrated Nanking's great wall and were engaged in "mopping up operations." Earlier reports said bitter hand-to-hand fighting was in progress outside the wall.

No report was received as to whether 16 Americans inside the walls were safe.

Japanese announced Kauchuan, principal southeastern gate in Nanking's walls, had been captured. Chinese artillery hammered away at the Japanese lines and prevented the invaders from establishing position from which they could bring heavy guns to bear on the city. Thus far the Japanese have been able to bring only light field pieces into action against Nanking's defenses.

Chinese lines held in spite of punishing bombardments from the air.

Foreign sources said Japanese columns had taken Chinkiang, capital of Kiangsu province. The city, with a population of 150,000 lies 40 miles east of Nanking.

The strategic Yangtze river center was said to have fallen after the Japanese broke through its defenses and mopped up the Chinese in house-to-house fighting.

Amendment to Wage, Hour Act Approved By the House Comm.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (P).—The house labor committee approved Thursday night an amendment to the wage-hour bill giving authority over the determination of minimum wages and maximum hours to a single administrator in the labor department.

By a vote of nine to six, it adopted a proposal by Chairman Norton (D-NJ) to scrap the idea of a five-man administrative board. The latter type of administration has been approved by the senate.

The single administrator would be directed to appoint a committee for each industry for which minimum wages and maximum hours are to be fixed. Employers and labor would have equal representation on this committee which in turn would select three members representing the public.

The entire group would go into all the factors involved and make recommendations about hours and wages to the administrator. The latter would be empowered to approve or reject their proposals.

If the administrator should reject the recommendations, the committee would reopen the entire question and file upon a second vote, it should persist in its original recommendation, the administrator could dismiss the committee and appoint another to begin the same progress anew.

Greed Dims Luster of Man's "Miracles"

Thirty-six years ago, almost to the day, a gifted Italian sat him down, tapped a telegraph key, and performed a miracle.

The sputtering, crackling sparks which his key-tapping caused to jump into the air were weak little things—apparently. They flashed and died, and a person half a mile away could neither have seen nor heard them.

But somehow they reached up into empty space and tapped an invisible source of energy; and far across the Atlantic ocean they caused a telegraph receiving set to click out a message.

Guglielmo Marconi had bridged space and had sent a message 3000 miles through the inert atmosphere.

His miracle of wireless telegraphy is a familiar one, by now; so familiar that most of the time we fail to recognize it as a miracle at all, and take it just as much for granted as we do such every-day miracles as sunrise, a baby's laugh or the love of a boy for a girl.

But it remains a miracle, nevertheless; and we might have a better understanding of the world we live in if we could remember that the whole structure of modern society is built on just such miracles, so that the mere existence of our complicated civilization is one of the most breath-taking miracles of all time.

The real truth about man is not at all the sort of truth that the "realists" proclaim—that he is just another animal, with greed and self-interest his eternal motive-springs. It is a much more noble and surprising truth: that he is a miracle worker, able to transcend the limitations which nature has put upon him, capable of surpassing himself and of building for himself a world infinitely complex, beautiful and wondrous.

Consider Marconi's miracle, for instance, and all that has grown out of it.

The ship at sea is no longer isolated. Nation now talks with nation, over mountain barriers, limitless deserts and storm-bound ocean. The air by night is filled with music, which can be tapped by any man who owns a cheap little box of tubes and wires. And the ordinary daily life that we live is keyed to this succession of miracles, so that if they should suddenly cease to exist we could not carry on our regular routine at all.

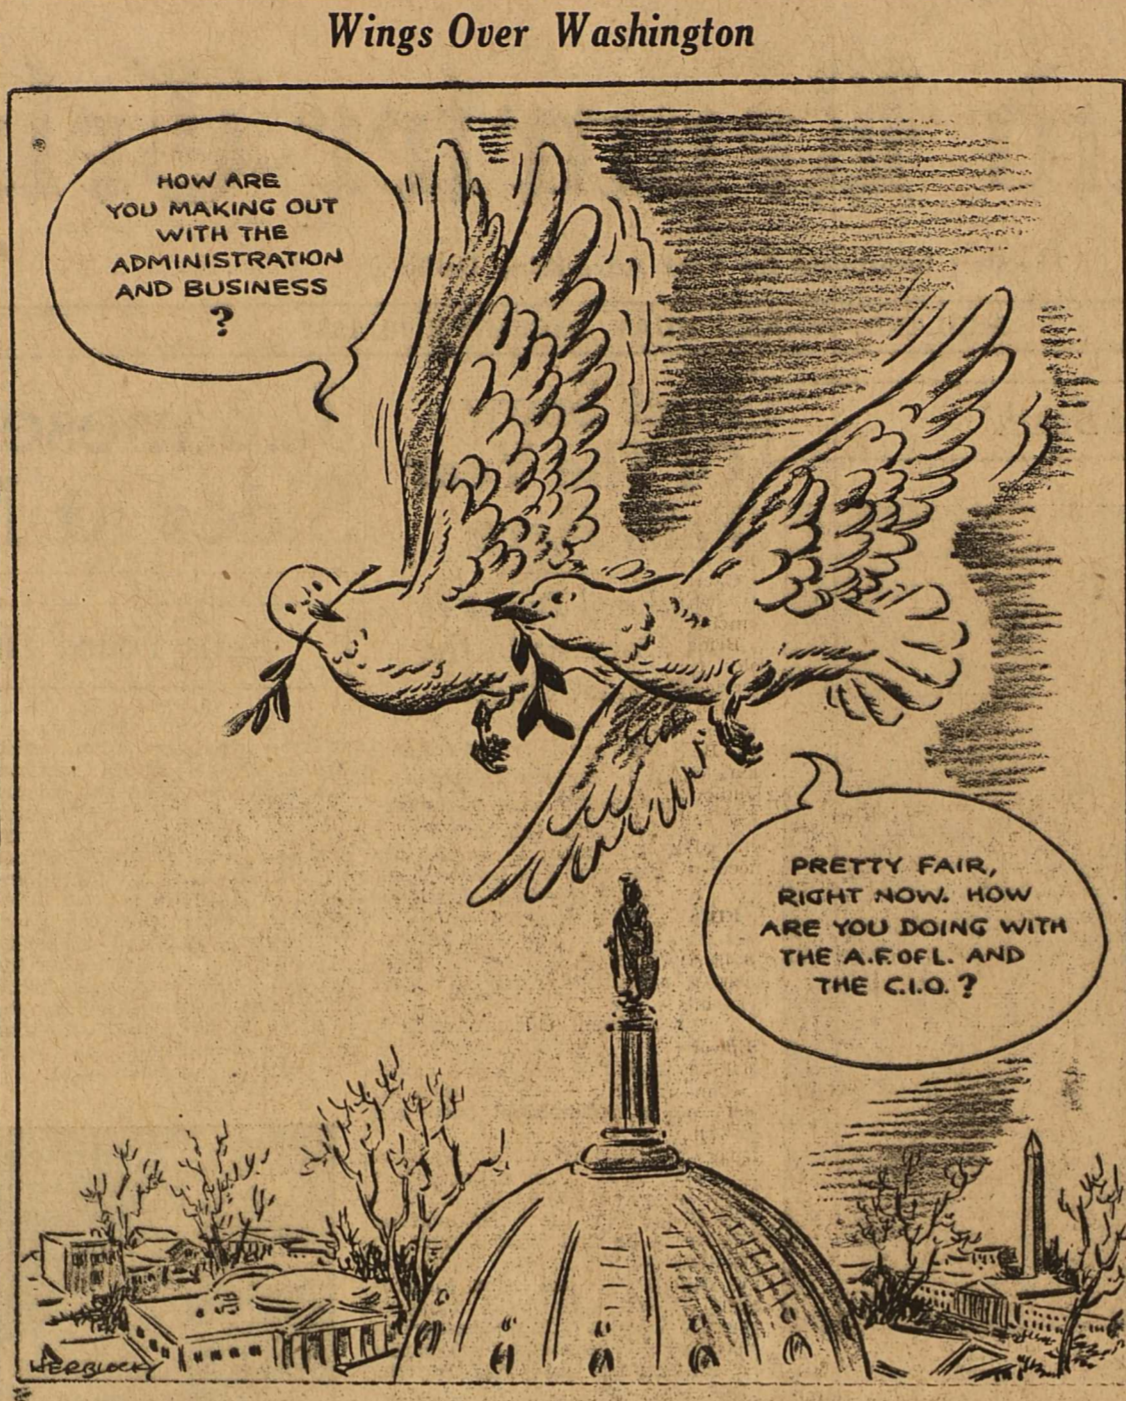

Now one thing is certain about people who inhabit such a world: they have to live up to it. They can perform wonders that make the geni of the Arabian Nights look like stupid incompetents, they cannot very well go on living by the ideals and customs of the cave man period. The old jungle-rule of tooth and claw fits this era no better than does a stone age hatchet.

War, dictatorship, conscienceless wealth, unscrupulous demagoguery, oppression in any or all of its forms—these things are disastrously out of date in our modern age. Miracle-workers like Marconi have set us free of the limitations of our physical world; now it is up to us to set ourselves free of the limitations of our own blindness, greed and folly.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. — Roosevelt once said of Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson: "He is the only man I have who can do everything."

Jackson, who caught the biggest fish on the recent presidential vacation trip, is the administration's fair-haired boy. The President's personal fondness for him explains why he is invited on the trip for conversations which could just as well have been had in the White House.

The conversations between the two men, however, were potentially of great political importance. One subject was anti-monopoly legislation, on which Jackson, as head of the Justice Department's anti-trust section and perhaps the most brilliant all-round lawyer in the government service, is the administration expert.

New York Key to 1940.

THE other topic had to do with Roosevelt's concern over the 1938 elections in New York state. The President wants Jackson to be the Democratic candidate for governor there next year—in case Postmaster General Jim Farley decides not to seek that post. It has been widely believed that Farley wants to be governor and Roosevelt will back him 100 per cent if he does. But Jim hasn't said a word to the President or anyone else, and F. D. R. appears to have exhibited a delicate reticence about asking him.

Meanwhile, New York state is virtually the key to 1940. Any presidential candidate who can't carry it probably can't win the election. If Republican should elect a governor, senator or both in Roosevelt's home state next year, the New Deal's prestige and political fortunes would suffer a terrific blow. Also, any reasonable conservative Republican governor or senator from New York would almost automatically become a leading Republican presidential candidate.

District Attorney Tom Dewey of New York City, able and spectacular anti-racket crusader, won a sensational victory over Tammany opposition in the recent New York election and fairly exudes political "it." More and more he is becoming a white hope to the battered Republicans — and correspondingly is regarded increasingly as a menace by the Democrats.

Dewey is certain to run for governor next year, administration politicians believe. What of LaGuardia? ONE group of administration politicians is convinced that Farley could lick and Republican gubernatorial nominee — except Dewey. They doubt whether anyone could beat Dewey — except Jackson. A native New Yorker, as Dewey is not, Jackson carries much the same type of appeal as a clean-cut, urbane, honest, extremely able public servant. Farley's greatest handicap might be his inability to obtain support of the American Labor Party, which polled nearly 500,000 votes for Mayor F. H. LaGuardia last month and also has strength upstate. The A. L. P. would be likely to support Jackson if he were the Democratic candidate, if only because Dewey would be the more conservative of the two men.

Poised in mid-air is LaGuardia, who also has presidential aspirations and — like everyone else — wonders which way various political cats are going to jump. Conceivably he will run for the Senate as a Republican. And there is speculation whether Senator Robert F. Wagner, Democrat, might not want to take a crack at the governorship, perhaps in a deal with Governor Herbert Lehman, who would like to have Wagner's seat in the Senate.

Certainly the word for anyone interested in 1940 politics is — Watch New York!

State-Wide Drive to Spur Small Home Construction in Oklahoma Is Started

OKLAHOMA CITY.—A state-wide drive to spur small home construction through the facilities of the Federal Home Loan Bank system and with the safeguards provided by the Federal Home Building Service plan, now being established in key communities throughout the country, was under way here today.

The pattern for expansion of the service, developed through the operation of the insured savings and loan associations and leading architects of Oklahoma City, was laid before the Oklahoma Building and Loan League at its annual convention in Tulsa this week. Outlying communities already have tied in with the Oklahoma City groups in a broad campaign, and the Insured Savings and Loan institutions of Tulsa will inaugurate a similar movement January 1.

A portfolio of small house designs is being prepared by the Oklahoma Small House Service Bureau, organized by resolution of the Oklahoma State Society of Architects following endorsement of the Federal Home Building Service plan at the society's convention last July. The bureau will provide technical services heretofore unavailable in the field of homes costing $7500 or less—services which will assure proper designs, structures suited to family needs, and neighborhood, specification of good materials, selection of qualified contractors and supervision of construction.

Eight building and loan associations, all members of the Federal Home Loan Bank system, have sponsored the service plan here and all elements of the building industry are expected to participate. Mayors of both Little Rock and North Little Rock and the chamber of commerce have given their endorsement. Their action makes Oklahoma City the latest addition in the list of communities seeking through adoption of the Federal program, to stimulate new confidence in home ownership and provide added security for the investments of lending institutions.

Donald H. McNeal, technical director for the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, who directed the reconditioning of 500,000 of the million homes refinanced by the F.H.L.B., stressed the extent of shoddy construction revealed by the corporation's activities, here this week.

"The Federal Home Building Service plan found a spring board in the construction-inspection activities undertaken previously by savings and loan associations in Oklahoma City," he said. "At the same time it was realized that inspection without the other constructive features which distinguish our plan is a slow and indirect method of attaining sound construction. After all you cannot blame the home seeker for using inadequate house plans and sketchy specifications, and neglecting expert supervision of construction, if adequate advisory and supervisory services are not readily available to him. These needs our plan is providing.

"Concretely, this service means that the man and wife desiring to build a home by borrowing most of the cost can go to the lending institution and be assured of a well-planned and well-built home that will give them the utmost for their money. The lender knows that his loan is protected by a property that is secure against the inroads of abnormal obsolescence and depreciation. He further will have the advantage of dealing with a satisfied customer.

"Lesser risks mean larger loans and more favorable rates and terms to the borrower and broaden the market for small homes. Such preferential treatment for those who adhere to sound standards will aid every element of the building industry."

McNeal praised the cooperation of the architectural bureau formed here under the leadership of Thomas L. Sorey, chairman, and the building and loan group led by O. O. Hayes, president; John F. Mahr and Fred J. Crooks. The architects enlisted in the movement will provide their services at a fee commensurate with the average man's pocketbook—a fee, McNeal contends, that experience in other parts of the country proves will be more than overshadowed by economies of construction and assurance of a sound investment.

Commenting on activities of the Federal Home Loan Bank system, whose 3900 member lending insti-

Labor Problems Studied in Extension Courses

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (U.P.) — A college extension course in labor problems was made available to Pennsylvania industrial workers this year.

Trained specialists assigned by the Pennsylvania state college are conducting conference-type classes in various local school districts. Problems for discussion include working periods, industrial hazards, wages, methods of conservative unionism, and revolutionary unionism; employ representation, union management, unemployment compensation, wage and hours laws, workmen's compensation, and industrial conflict.

The extension service augments the course given last year to 4,000 supervisors of Pennsylvania industries.

tutions do nearly one-half of the residential construction in the country, McNeal stressed the fact that those activities are in the interest of private industry. The Federal Home Building Service plan, he pointed out, is essentially a locally-financed and locally-directed enterprise, with the government merely cooperating in establishment and promotion of the program. He predicted an encouraging growth in the movement for supervised construction, particularly in the areas which have suffered from widespread jerry-building in the past.

Mrs. Duffey Is Hostess to 1928 Club Thursday

In courtesy to the 1928 club, Mrs. C. C. Duffey entertained with three tables of bridge at her home, 1407 W. Holloway, Thursday afternoon. Christmas decorations were employed.

In the bridge games, high score for guests went to Mrs. Tom Sloan, high score for club members to Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith, and second high to Mrs. Don Sivals.

Club guests were: Mmes. Tom Sloan, Allen Tolbert, W. T. Walsh. At the close of play refreshments were served to the guests and the following club members: Mmes. James Fitzgerald, Goldsmith, Roy Parks, Johnson Phillips, William B. Simpson, Sivals, Harvey Sloan, M. C. Ulmer, Ed M. Whitaker, and the hostess.

Lois Class Plans Christmas Party

Plans for a Christmas program to be presented next Thursday in the church basement were made by members of the Lois class of the Baptist church meeting at the home of Mrs. J. V. Hobb, teacher, Thursday afternoon.

Each member will bring an inexpensive gift to exchange with other members of the class.

Present for the meeting yesterday were: Mmes. M. O. Prestridge, Charles Langford, W. T. Chandler, G. B. Stringer, C. V. Dale, Annie Collier, and the hostess.

Keep Face Spotless With Quick Action

BY ALICIA HART.
NEA Service Staff Writer.

The day you notice that the pores in the skin on or around your nose seem to be getting slightly large, go right out and get one of the efficacious pore cleansers and a bottle of skin tonic. If you begin thorough home treatments right away, the pores will shrink back to normal. If you procrastinate for months and months, you'll be sorry.

Generally speaking, pores get larger because tiny particles of dirt collect in them, remain there to expand the walls of the pores. Therefore, if you remove every tiny particle of dirt several times a day,

Blue and Silver Motif Employed At Bridge Party

Tallies in blue and silver and prize wrappings repeating the same colors lent a modernistic Christmas air to the afternoon party with which Mrs. Myrl Manschreck entertained the Modern Bridge club at her home, 911 W. College, Thursday afternoon.

Playing awards in the two tables of bridge games went to Mrs. Thomas Betzel for high score club member, to Mrs. Tom Roberts for second high, and to Mrs. Bill Fritz for high score guest.

At tea time a salad course was served to Mrs. Fritz and the following club members: Mmes. Robert Fields, Betzel, A. B. Gross, F. R. Schenck, Dick Anderson, W. B. Chapman, Tom Roberts, and the hostess.

you're not likely to be headed for trouble.

Put on skin tonic after you have cleansed face with soap and water or cream, let it dry before you apply foundation lotion and makeup. If you are past 30 or are bothered with unusually large pores you no doubt will find a mild astringent more satisfactory than skin tonic.

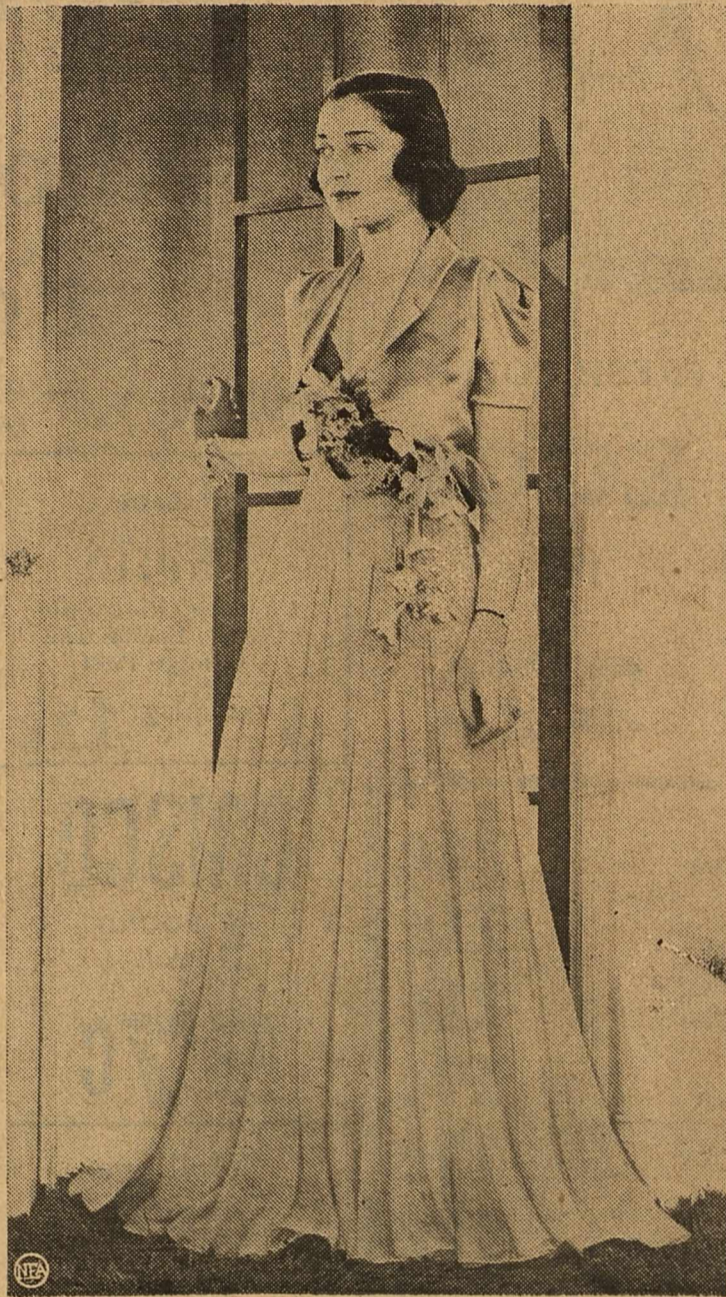

Blackheads and other minor blemishes require immediate treatment, too. For the former, wash face and throat carefully, smooth pore paste over the area where blackheads are evident and massage lightly, according to directions. Rinse the paste off with quite hot water, then covering forefingers with cleansing tissues, press out a few of the blackheads. Do not try to remove all dirt from every pore during the first treatment, and be careful not to bruise the skin. Afterward, put a little alcohol on each spot you have squeezed, then use a mild astringent.

One with oily skin should not leave cream on her face all night, or use a greasy foundation. Furthermore, elimination of excessively greasy foods from the diet often helps.

In Case You Journey South

For dancing under the light of a tropical moon and to wear at northern resorts next summer, nothing could be lovelier than this gown of hyacinth blue chiffon, a feature of the Miami Biltmore fashion show, held at the Waldorf Astoria. The matching bolero is of sleek slipper satin, the corsage in shades of rose, blue and white. The full skirt hangs from a closely fitted bodice.

Western Motif Chosen by Hostess For Bridge-Luncheon

A western theme was followed in the bridge-luncheon with which Mrs. R. I. Dickey complimented the Twelve-ite club at her home, 513 W. Wall, Thursday afternoon at one o'clock.

Cactus plants centered the tables at which a two-course western luncheon was served.

Bridge games, played at two tables, occupied the guests after the service hour.

Club members present were: Mmes. Hall Edwards, Frank Fulk, W. B. Harkrider, Sidney B. Iverson, Wallace Irwin, Harry Prickett, Dudley Wood, and the hostess.

We, The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT.
Ladies are developed, not born. At least that's the opinion of Dorothy Wilding who has seen little slum girls who grew up to be charming ladies—and women with inherited titles whose arrogance and lack of consideration marked them as anything but ladies.

Miss Wilding, over from London is the British official court photographer. When any member of the royal family wants to be photographed, Miss Wilding is sent for. It was she who photographed the royal family in all the splendor of their coronation robes and the glitter of their jewels.

But her patrons haven't always been royally, so she has a good background for comparison. Assurance Is Acquired.

This woman who has learned a lot about human nature by watching it when it is wholly absorbed in itself is convinced that without intelligence and a sympathetic nature no born lady is a real one. And she is satisfied that with these two qualities any woman can be a lady.

Sympathy makes a woman want to put others from the lowest to the highest, at ease. And intelligence shows her the ways in which it can be done.

Intelligence also shows her how to look the part of a lady, and how to gain the poise we associate with the word.

Miss Wilding told me that she has photographed titled ladies who had no notion of how to sit or walk gracefully, and who found hands and feet as much in the way as a self-conscious school girl.

And that she has photographed girls who had gained position by their own charm and brains who moved with perfect assurance and gracefulness.

All of which makes her thing that even the appearance of a lady is not as much a matter of blue blood as what goes on in the back of the brain.

Queenly Manner.

But what of England's queen? "Oh, but she's a really lady," her majesty's photographer said. "I never photograph her but what she thanks each one of my helpers personally. She looks with genuine interest on each person who serves her in even the slightest way."

And in that remark it seems Miss Wilding has handed us women a fairly accurate yardstick for measuring ourselves and our sisters.

If a woman has as much consideration for "little people" as she has for "big"—well, she's a lady. And her grandfather deserves little of the credit.

Home Art Club Has Program At Cox Home

Mrs. M. D. Cox was hostess to the Home Art club at her home, 611 N. Colorado, Thursday afternoon.

Following the usual practice, an instructive study program was presented by three speakers, Mrs. H. L. Albrecht, Mrs. J. W. Drummond, and Mrs. Max Engle.

"Table Manners" and "Culture" were two of the trio of topics discussed.

Club guests were Mrs. Ray Parker and Mrs. V. Z. Wren.

Christmas decorations suggested the holiday season in the party rooms and the same theme was followed in the party plate served to Mmes. N. W. Bigham, Iris Bounds, Guy Breneman, Drummond, H. B. Dunagan, Julia Filson, Ernest Neill, J. B. Neill, Engle, Albrecht, John B. Mills, B. C. Girdley and the hostess.

Mmes. Mills, Albrecht, and Girdley were new members.

Official announcement has just been released by the Magnolia Petroleum Company that arrangements have been closed with 19 radio stations to carry play-by-play broadcasts of the quarter finals, semi-finals and final games in the race for the Texas Interscholastic Football Championship.

The one quarter final game scheduled for Friday, December 10th between Conroe and Pocktown will be heard over Stations KTHH Houston, KRIS Corpus Christi, KRGV Weslaco, KTSA San Antonio and KNOW Austin. On Saturday, December 11th, football fans will be treated to a choice of three quarter final games. The game between Wichita Falls and El Paso will be played at Wichita Falls and broadcast over stations KGKO Wichita Falls, KRBC Abilene, KGNC Amarillo, KFYO Lubbock, KGKL San Angelo. Fort Worth tangles with Sherman at Fort Worth and will be heard over stations KRLL Dallas, KTAT Fort Worth and KRRV Sherman. In addition to sponsoring these broadcasts, the Magnolia Petroleum Company is distributing thousands of score cards through Magnolia Dealers so that football fans can keep a record of results. Just what radio stations will carry next week's semi-final games will not be known until scores are posted for the quarter final games on tap for Friday and Saturday. Whatever the result, definite arrangements have been closed between Magnolia and the radio stations so that fans are assured of an eyewitness, play-by-play account of the remaining games.

Jr. Wednesday Club Will Sponsor Dance

Coach Gray started Capt. Don White and Warren Osborne at the guards, Tarlton Jones, six foot seven inch senior, at center and Willie Tate and Henry Chovanec at the forwards. White, Osborne, Tate and Chovanec are lettermen. Substitutes used in the opener were three Houston sophomores, Tom Nelson, Robert Moers and Glen Parmlay, and it appears Gray will have to depend largely on these eight players until mid-year, when three ex-John Tarleton stars, Oran Spears, Elmer Finley and Jimmy Britt, become eligible for varsity ball.

Milk and Honey Idea Of Buffalo Is Formed

BUFFALO, N. Y. (U.P.)—George B. Wellbaum of New York apparently is convinced that Buffalo is the Land of milk and honey. While driving along a downtown street, Wellbaum was annoyed by several scraps of paper which blew into his car. Later he saw the paper on the floor and discovered a $5 bill and three $1 bills.

'Experts' Were Just Merely 'Guessperts' In Picking Winner

FORT WORTH, Tex. Dec. 10.—More than 200 sports "experts" in the Southwest are not very expert—at least at predicting Southwest Conference football winners.

"A. & M. or Arkansas will win the title (possibly tie for it); Baylor will finish in the cellar." These were the quite definite opinion—expressed compositely—of more than 200 Southwest sports writers and radio commentators, as expressed in a poll taken last August by J. Willard Ridings, director of the T. C. U. News Service.

Well, everyone now knows that Rice took the title, and that Baylor decidedly did not finish in the cellar! Just for the fun of it, here are the pre-season rankings by the "experts," together with the actual standings after the season's play:

- Experts Consensus. 1.—A. & M. 2.—Arkansas. 3.—T. C. U. 4.—S. M. U. 5.—Rice 6.—Texas. 7.—Baylor Conference Standings. 1.—Rice. 2.—T. C. U. 3.—Arkansas. 4.—Baylor. 5.—A. & M. 6.—S. M. U. 7.—Texas.

Univ. Pessimistic Over Outlook for Quintet Prospects

AUSTIN, Dec. 10.—University of Texas basketball followers are pessimistic about the chances of Jack Gray's Longhorns in the '38 Southwest conference race, following their 31-33 defeat by San Marcos Teachers in their opening game this week.

Prospects tinged with gloom because only four lettermen, including one '37 regular, were available slumped a bit more when the longhorns found themselves outplayed by the Lone Star quintet. The teams will try it again at San Marcos Saturday night.

Prospective Office Seekers Shy From Announcements Now

AUSTIN.—The state politicians, as a rule, are being pretty coy. They may talk freely enough in secret caucuses, but when they blossom forth in print the result is that they "may decide to run," or they "intend to run (formal announcement to come later)," or they will "have a statement to make about the first of the year."

Meanwhile, two men who will fight it out for the office of state superintendent of public instruction have formally announced and are busily engaged in their campaign. W. E. James, veteran school man, will be the powerful opponent of L. A. Woods, present incumbent who is seeking his fourth term.

James announced for the office last September. Since that time he has canvassed 20 counties and is at present traveling in the interest of his campaign. In November he issued his tentative platform, which advocates drastic changes in the administration of school affairs to bring about economy and efficiency.

Woods announced for re-election in September, a week before the James' announcement, and he has been asked no opportunity to make a bid for votes.

Furnishing a sharp contrast is the governor's race. Only one man—Clarence E. Farmer—has formally announced, and the announcement was made as late as December 5. It is understood, of course, that Atty. Gen. Bill McCraw and Col. Ernest O. Thompson will run, but neither has made an official statement to that effect.

Gov. James V. Allred is deliberating the question of running for a third term, and the perennial Fergusonians are toying with the idea of renewing their political activities.

In the attorney general's race, only Bob Calvert, speaker of the house of representatives, has formally announced. His foremost rival, Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul, is sure to come out in the open before long, and the same can be said of Ralph Yarbrough, Jerry Mann, and other prospective candidates.

Down the line it goes, with prospective candidates for the various state offices, for one reason or another, holding their fire.

Only in the state superintendent's race can the voters begin speculating on as many as two avowed candidates.
