Winter gripped Midland and all of West Texas in icy hands last night and today, rain and snow slowing traffic from Dallas to Pecos.

Rain started falling in Midland late Monday afternoon, giving way in the early hours this morning to sleet and snow. The rainfall inside the city limits totaled .65 up to 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Snow fell heavily during 7 and 8 o'clock this morning, gradually coming to a stop for the next hour and being replaced by light rain and sleet. Snow started falling in earnes at about 11 o'clock and by one this afternoon a white blanket was gradually covering everything except the streets, traffic causing the snow to melt as it fell.

Be Speaker At Banquet

State Official Is Invited Here by Chamber Commerce

Directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, in regular monthly session last night, decided upon Hon. Robert Lee Bobbitt, state highway commissioner, as the prin cipal speaker for the annual chamber of commerce banquet to be held sometime in January, exact date for the annual affair to be set for Mr. Bobbitt's convenience. Ed M. Whit-aker, J. Howard Hodge and Dr. W. . Ryan were appointed as a committee to invite the speaker and to set the date for the affair.

Mayor M. C. Ulmer was named by President Marion Flynt to serve as toastmaster at the banquet, the toastmaster to be in charge of the arrangement of the program.

Officers and directors for 1938 will be nominated by a committee composed of J. E. Hill, chairman; W. T. Doherty, Allen Watts and R. M. Barron, the nominating commit tee being instructed to report at the annual banquet.

W. B. Simpson was chairman of the ticket sale and menu committee for the banquet. Alec Turner of the Scharbauer Cattle Co. will be asked to audit the books of the chamber of commerce. Authorization was given by the directors to have 5,000 copies of the 1938 map showing the oil fields and pipe lines of the Permian Basin printed early in January, the maps, published annually by the chamber of commerce for a number of years, being in great demand among the oil fraternity.

Now Is Time for U. S. War or Peace Choice

It is hard to read those news stories about the encounter of the American marines and the Japanese army in Shanghai without feeling just about as a motorist feels when, driving around a curve, he meets some fool speeder coming at 60 miles an hour on the wrong side of the road, and misses a fatal smashup by a fraction of a second and a fifth of an inch.

For while the even tenor of Japanese-American relations seems to remain unbroken, there was a terrific amount of dynamite packed into that tense half hour at the Shanghai barricades. Nothing much actually happened, but some pretty frightening things very easily might have happened.

The Japanese troops, as you may recall, had gone filtering through the city to take control of a big part of the International Settlement. They were more or less on their muscle; they had captured Shanghai, they were a tough, victorious army, and they didn't care if the whole world knew it.

So by and by they took over a bit of land either in or immediately adjacent to the American defense sector. resently two marine officers came up and tried to crash he Japanese picket lines. They were met with leveled ayonets and some hot words, but they finally got through o the Japanese commander.

While these doughty marines were telling the Japanese to move on, other incidents were taking place up and down the city. Four enlisted men of the marine corps were threatened by Japanese officers with drawn pistols. An American citizen was beaten up by Japanese soldiers. * A truck load of British soldiers was menaced by the vic-

Somehow it all came out all right. The Japanese moved back from the disputed sector, there were a certain number of apologies and explanations, and everything was smoothed over. But for about half an hour a disastrously bad accident was all reared up on its hind legs waiting to happen. Since it didn't happen, we have leisure to try to figure out what we would have done if it had happened.

What sort of stake have we in China, anyway? Just how important is it to us, as a nation, to keep a specified dozen blocks of Shanghai out of Japanese control? What propose, although it is not yet beare we protecting out there? What do we do if our marines and the Japanese troops are actually thrown together in a pitched battle one of these days?

We might as well figure out the answers at our leisure, because we may have to give the answers in a terrible hurry, some day soon. And when we give them we shall be deciding irrevocably between war and peace.

It is folly to say that we can't possibly be entangled in the war in China. We can, very easily; a little bad luck the other day might have done it. The time for us to decide definitely what we are going to do there is now, before some incalculable incident compels us to make up our minds between breakfast and dinner.

Air Martyrs

The pre-eminent feature that makes the airplane a valued means of transportation is the airplane's great speed-so very much greater than any speed which can be maintained by a means of transportation which is earthbound. But the price of this speed, unfortunately, seems to be a tragic toll in human lives.

The flyers to pay that toll most recently were Rudy Kling and Frank Haines, two of the country's leading air race pilots, who crashed to their deaths in the opening race of the Miami Air Show.

Such tragedies seem an inescapable part of the air racing game; and the air racing game, in turn, seems to be absolutely essential to the development of higher airplane speeds-which, in turn, are essential to the continued development of aviation. It is a tragic situation, from which there is no obvious escape. Apparently we must, every so often, sacrifice one or more fine young men in order that the miracle of human flight may make the necessary progress.

Labor Peace Delay

Evidently the experiment of getting the two bosses together for a straight-out, man-to-man talk was not quite the prescription that the A. F. of L.-C. I. O. tangle needed.

Now the job of finding a feasible compromise to settle the row between the labor rivals goes back to commit-

Neither John L. Lewis nor William Green seems to have realized that a compromise must be what its name so clearly implies—a compromise, a settlement in which each side makes some sacrifices and gives up some cherished point. It is to be hoped that the "committee of 13," which will take up the problem leteration. so clearly implies—a compromise, a settlement in which which will take up the problem later this month, will have a clearer view of realities.

The one certainty is that for the sake of labor and business alike this row has got to be settled. It can be settled only through compromise. It will be tragic if such a compromise cannot be reached.

Minuet Club to Dance Saturday

Why Use Pills or Purgatives?

The purpose of most cathartics is to over-stimulate your intestines. Afterward, you may feel weakened. In cases of common constipation, isn't it better to keep "regular" with a whole-some NATURAL food like Kellogg's All-Bran?

All-Bran?
All-Bran will keep you "regular" as the time-table—but it works so differently from medicines. It doesn't overstimulate your intestines; it gives them TWO things they need. First, All-Bran provides "bulk"—it absorbs water and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination. Next, vitamin "B,"—All-Bran is a good source of this vitamin that tones up your intestinal tract.

Use All-Bran REGULARLY: eat two tablespoons every day and drink

NEW YORK. Dec. 14. (AP) —Max
Schmeling signalized his return to to the fistic wars last night by sys tematically cutting down Harry Thomas, crude but willing Chicago heavyweight in the eighth round of a 15-round match before a near-capacity crowd in Madison

Germany's former holder of the world championship, back in a New York ring for the first time since he flattened Joe Louis in the summer of 1936, toyed with Thomas for six rounds, put on the pressure finally near the end of the seventh and stopped his rugged opponent with a slam-bang finish.

Thomas was knocked to the can-vas seven times before Referee Arthur Donovan halted the onesided affair, with only six seconds of the eighth round remaining.

Never before flattened in course of an ambitious but not to conspicious career, Thomas was the victim of a technical knockout after carrying the fight to his famous opponent for six rounds and doing his best to make the 6 to 1 favorite

Jocko Joins Dionne Ouint's Zoo

It's a monkey! Emilie can hardly believe it's true, and old Santawho looks remarkably like genial Dr. Dafoe—chuckles as his tiny friend takes Jocko in her arms. The monkey's big eyes bulge as he sees what fun he's going to have with the Dionne quintuplets. He won't bite or make too much noise, for after all he's just a sawdust monkey.
