WEST TEXAS: Most-ly cloudy, rain in south-east; rain turning to sleet in north; Wednesday colder.

West Texas Benefited by Heavy Rains

Total of .84 Of One Inch Falls Here

Precipitation Is Registered From Ranger to Wink

Practically all of West Texas benefited last night and today by rainfall ranging from showers to two inches and better at some points. Rain was reported as far east as Ranger and as far west as Wink. Moisture met again over the Midland farm and ranch area this morning following rains which fell through the night and early today, a large strip of country receiving precipitation averaging one inch. The precipitation at Midland up to 8:30 a. m. today registered .84 of an inch at the Southern Ice & Utilities gauge. The airport registered .72 up to 7:40 a. m. and reports from ranches in all directions indicated as much as an inch over a large area. Good rains fell at the Schabauer Cattle Company's North and South Curtis places, north of Midland, at the Goldsmith place in Ector county and the Crowley place north of Midland airport.

Rains fell south and southeast to the Midfield and Proctor ranches, averaging from three fourths to an inch. Telegraph lines of one pipe line company were out to the west, following lightning display. Reports from the east indicated as much as three inches at Truscott, north of Ranger, an inch and a half at Sweetwater, two inches at Colorado and an inch and a half at Westport. Penwell, west of Odessa, reported three quarters of an inch. Rainfall of one and one-half inches were reported in Wink and two inches in Monahan. However, Judkins, only 17 miles east of Monahan reported a total of .25 of an inch. To the south, Iran and Rankin both reported .25 of an inch. To the east, the Gulf tank farm reported only a quarter of an inch, Coahoma 1 inch, Roscoe an inch and a half, Ranger a trace.

Ranchmen were pleased with the rains, as moisture already appeared an inch below the surface, weeds were growing rapidly and grass had begun to green up substantially in older clumps. Barring freezing weather, livestock was expected to begin putting on weight soon because of the green stuff rapidly growing. Farmers had been breaking land, with plowing reported to be exceptional smooth during the past week or two. Both plowed and unbroken land was believed to be greatly benefited for spring planting. Some winter pasture, already growing strong over the country, was expected to be revived rapidly from today's rains, providing longer grazing time for livestock now being run on the green stuff.

Both top-soil moisture and bottom season are better than Midland county has experienced for several years, according to ranchmen and farmers. Lake water is standing in several ranch areas. Continued precipitation is in prospect for West Texas, the Dallas weather bureau station forecasting rain turning to sleet in the north tonight, rain in this portion of the state.

CRANIUM CRACKERS

Jason Weatherly left an unusual will, but the text of that document explained his odd bequests. It read: "My sons, Jonathan and Gerald, both cheap gamblers, may have the honor of gambling for my wealth. "In my racing stable are two colts, Merry Mood and Jack Whippet. Both have run the mile in 1:38. To Jonathan I give Merry Mood. Gerald gets Jack Whippet. "Gerald and Jonathan shall race these mounts over a mile course within six months after my death. The horses must carry the same weight. The race shall be run before (names of witnesses) and their decision as to the result of the race shall be final. "To the son owning the winning horse goes one-eighth of my fortune. The son owning the losing horse gets five-eighths. And if either of my sons, in the opinion of the judges, attempt to deliberately lose the race, that son automatically receives only one-eighth of my estate. "Both sons were unable to figure a way of purposely losing the race and yet hoodwink the judges. Instead, a mutual friend's suggestion solved their problem. When the race was run, both sons made desperate efforts to win it.

WHAT SUGGESTION WAS OFFERED BY THE FRIEND AND WHY DID EACH SON TRY SO HARD TO WIN THE RACE?

Leaves Home to Save Dog

Pure adoration is plain on the face of this Great Dane, Symbol, as he looks into the eyes of his 23-year-old mistress, Eleanor Allinger. And no wonder, for Miss Allinger left behind her family, friends and job in Kenmore, N. Y., to save the dog's life. She took Symbol to Savannah, Ga., after a court ordered the dog either deported or destroyed when the S. P. C. A. complained because his ears had been clipped in violation of state law.

Farm Bill Is Passed In Senate

Measure Goes to White House for Signature of FDR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP). — A crop control bill, praised as "the best farm bill ever enacted as 'regimentation' and 'more harness' for the farmer, received final congressional approval Monday. The measure, establishing a system under which the secretary of agriculture, in cooperation with farmer committees, may prescribe limitations upon the quantity of wheat, corn, cotton, rice and tobacco grown or marketed, now goes to the White House for the expected signature of President Roosevelt.

The last step in its tortuous journey through Congress, which began in mid-November, was taken when the Senate adopted a compromise measure, based upon the conflicting bills passed originally by House and Senate.

While the bill established varying approaches for each of the crops affected, in general it directs the secretary of agriculture to make an estimate of the expected supply, set this figure against expected demand and adjust production accordingly. This would be done by paying benefits to farmers who planted no more than a specified acreage. In addition, in years of bumper crops, the secretary of agriculture would be empowered to fix marketing quotas, limiting the quantities that could be sold and thereby protecting the price. Such quotas would be dependent on a two-thirds vote of farmers taking part in special referendum.

Because of the big crops of the last year, the administration began agitating for farm legislation last spring to replace the old Agriculture Adjustment Act invalidated by the Supreme Court. Congress agreed to make the legislation the first order of business upon reconvening, and President Roosevelt called a special session last fall to deal with this, and among other problems.

Before Christmas, divergent bills were approved by both House and Senate after much stormy debate. Upon reconvening after the holidays a conference committee representing both houses took up the task of working the provisions of the two measures into one bill. In so doing they incurred the wrath of dairy and cattle interests by eliminating provisions, contained in both bills, preventing farmers from going into the dairying or cattle raising business on land withdrawn from crop production. They were also complaints that matter included in neither bill was added by the conferees.

Doctors' Lectures Begin Wednesday in Refresher Courses

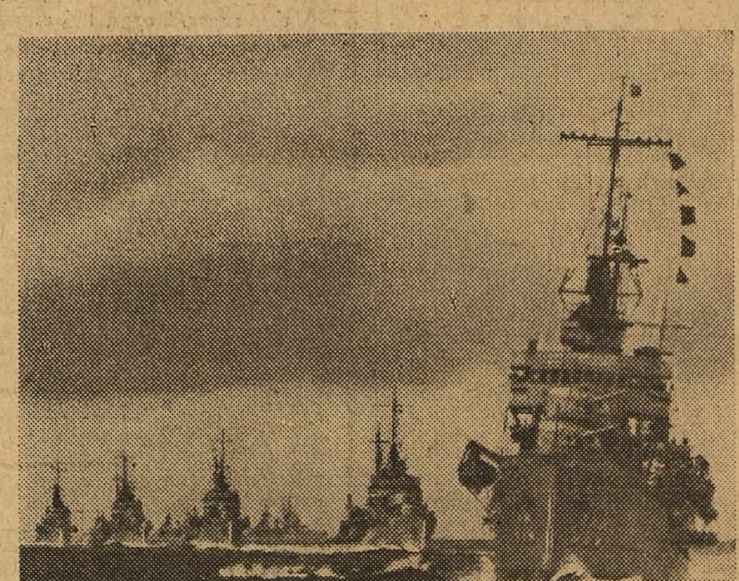

Lectures will begin at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the two-day post-graduate refresher courses in pediatrics and obstetrics for practicing physicians of the second medical district. Given under sponsorship of the State Medical Association, the courses will be conducted by Dr. Ben Passmore of San Antonio and Dr. W. R. Woodward of Sherman. Dr. F. C. Hudson, of Stamford, is counselor of the district and will appear on the programs. Dr. W. E. Ryan of Midland is local chairman. Doctors are expected from several West Texas towns.

Besides the lectures, a banquet will be held Wednesday evening at the Crystal ball room of Hotel Scharbauer where all sessions are scheduled. On Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, a lecture for women only will be held, with Dr. Passmore discussing phases of obstetrics. Dr. Hudson, at noon Thursday, will address the Rotary club on the subject of "Men Past 40."

Destroyers in Full Dress Drill

With the attention of the entire world centered on new armaments, Uncle Sam sends five of his newest destroyers churning through Pacific waters, as shown above, serving notice that America can protect her own. The new vessels, most modern in design and equipment, look as grim as though bound on a belligerent mission. Actually, they are engaging in annual practice maneuvers off the west coast.

Quick Approval of Aid Appropriation Is Requested Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP). — The house appropriation committee asked the house today to approve immediately the $250,000,000 emergency relief appropriation for the next four months. It suggested quick action because of the "drastic change which has taken place in private employment" since September and indications that the situation will not improve immediately. The appropriation would be used to keep at least 2,000,000 persons on relief rolls for the next few months.

Jackson Declares 200 Corporations Control Country

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP). — Assistant Attorney General Robert Jackson told the senate committee today that whether "60 families or 160 families" controlled the economic life of the nation he was against that kind of concentration. He made the assertion while testifying before the senate judiciary sub-committee considering his nomination as solicitor general. He said it was true more than one-half of the nation's wealth was controlled by 200 corporations.

Fingerprints were taken in an effort to identify the men.

Strikers Tell of Working for Week For Two Dollars

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 15 (AP). — Poorly clothed young Mexicans who barely could understand English told the Texas Industrial Commission today of working in pecan shelling factories for salaries ranging from one dollar and fifty cents to two dollars per week. They said they decided to "strike" when employers cut wages sixteen per cent. From Washington, Secretary of State Hull sent a telegram to Governor Allred asking a preliminary report on the arrest of 64 Mexicans in connection with the strike. The Mexican ambassador to Washington has asked an investigation.

Ambitious 1938 Work Program Adopted by Chamber of Commerce

Chamber of commerce directors, in regular meeting Monday night, adopted an ambitious program of work for 1938, with definite goals set for each standing committee. "Told" to Kill

Eyes turned heavenward, 20-year-old Margaret Tack, shown above on the witness stand in a Detroit court, seems to be listening for "voices" of the sort which, she testified, impelled her to kill Lloyd McCurdy, her sweetheart. The girl said the voices told her "He will never marry me." She feared she would become an unwed mother, she said, so shot McCurdy and then herself in a parked automobile last Sept. 9.

Richardson Well Heads 55 Barrels In 15-Hour Period

By FRANK GARDNER. Three heads, totalling an estimated 55 barrels of oil, were made over a period of 15 hours by Richardson Oils, Inc., No. 1 Slaughter estate, new wildcat strike extending the Slaughter pool, southwestern Hockley, two and a quarter miles to the north. Drilling was halted at 4:04 feet in lime, and operators are now preparing to swab casing for oil load for acid treatment. The last four feet of section were reported to have been tight, although samples showed oil saturation. Gas volume is estimated at 500,000 to 1,000,000 feet daily. The well topped the main pay at 4:30 and had broken increases nearly to total depth. Location is 330 feet out of the southwest corner of labour 59, league 39, Maverick county school land.

Honolulu No. 1-51 Slaughter, east offset to a producer in the main body of the Slaughter pool, is drilling at 4:64 feet in lime. Gulf No. 1 Mallet, outpost test two miles southwest of production, is drilling at 4:60 in lime and anhydrite. It topped brown lime at 3:85 and solid lime at 4:20, reportedly flat with the nearest producer. Gulf No. 1 Gordon, a mile southeast of the farthest southeast well in the pool, is drilling at 4:26 in lime. Some called top of solid lime at 4:25. The brown lime was entered at 3:38-85.

Culberson Test Abandoned.

Collins & Brewer, No. 1 C. M. Caldwell, northeastern Culberson county wildcat, is preparing to abandon after drilling to total depth of 2:35, in Delaware sand. It had shallow oil showing at around 500 feet which appeared promising for several days but later exhausted. Location is 1:90 feet from the south, 1:20 feet from the west line of section 14, block 42, public school land.

West of Toyah in Reeves county, J. C. Hill and Barnett No. 1 Ely is preparing to drill ahead from 3:92, in Delaware sand. It topped Delaware black lime at 3:814 and sand at 3:877. No oil, gas or water have yet been encountered in the Delaware.

Another Reeves Delaware test, C. R. "Smilo" Mallison No. 1 H. L. Brown-State, seven miles northwest of Pecos, is drilling at 4:131 feet in hard gray lime. Base of the last salt was called at 4:06.

Seminole Spread East.

Indicating a one-mile east extension of the Seminole pool in Gaines, Amerada No. 1 Robertson this morning was drilling at 5:072 feet, eight feet past top of tools lost in the hole. There is 1,100 feet of fluid in the hole. Crew ran bailer six times off top of the fluid and each time recovered a full barrel of oil, which tested 30.5 gravity. When tools have been sidetracked, tubing will be run and the well will be acidified. It is bottomed in lime at 5:112 feet. Location is 660 feet out of the southwest corner of section 195, block G, W. T. E. R. survey. Shell No. 1 Robertson, a mile and a half east of the south end of the Wasson pool in northwestern Gaines, is swabbing out mud preparatory to drilling plug with standard tools from 7-inch pipe cemented on bottom at 4:674. Behind the Scenes in Washington

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in this article are those of Mr. Dutcher, NEA-Reporter-Telegram Washington correspondent, and are not to be construed as expressing the editorial policy of The Reporter-Telegram.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. — It has become almost customary for the President to order watermelon, only to have Congress hand him a plate of spinach. Heretofore this has not happened by prearrangement.

Following his request for legislation aimed at "prevention of profiteering in time of war and equalization of the burdens of the possible war," however, Roosevelt seems perfectly willing to accept the Shepard-May bill, which, even if it aims at those objectives, certainly falls a long way short. Majority Leader Sam Rayburn says he expects early passage by the House.

The bill alarms those who fear the administration is moving or fumbling toward a war in which American troops will again fight overseas and it worries some who fear creation of a dictatorship under cloak of an alleged emergency. It doesn't satisfy those who have been most zealous for prevention of wartime profiteering.

Vague Tax Clause.
AS revised by Chairman Andrew J. May of the House Military Affairs Committee, the measure would empower the President to fix prices, rents, rates and compensations after Congress declared war, to control at his discretion all material resources, industrial organizations and public services, to register and conscript individuals managing or controlling industry, to put all forms of business under a licensing system (except newspapers, periodicals and books) and to establish priorities.

Sweeping Legislation.
THE bill calls for a wartime tax system which "shall absorb all profits above a fair normal return to be fixed by Congress." But it merely directs the secretary of the treasury to keep formulating such a tax plan, with provisions that the plan be effective in wartime if meanwhile adopted by Congress.

Thus, it is contended by opponents who will try to block the bill, it really does nothing but provide for a military and economic dictatorship in event of war. Congressman Ross Collins, of Mississippi, expert on military affairs, says the bill makes war profiteering inevitable and would make it possible to pay 100 per cent profit to low-cost manufacturers.

Meanwhile, any future President who could build up a war psychology would have read-made machinery for a dictatorship. Even many believers in a "next war" think there will be no conflict this side of Hawaii and don't see the need of devising such a straightjacket far in advance.

Romantic Note.
SENATOR William H. Smathers of New Jersey can thank Senator Claude Pepper of Florida for his beautiful new bride, who comes from Mrs. Pepper's home town. One day last November Pepper noticed Smathers staring intently at the young woman, who was his wife's guest in the Senate gallery. "Her name is Mary Jim Foley," said Pepper, startling Smathers with a tap on the shoulder.

"My gawd, introduce me!" exclaimed Smathers. "She's the loveliest—"

So they all had lunch together that day and it was the beginning of a whirlwind courtship. Probably this is the first instance where in a member of Congress spotted his future wife in the gallery.

Chums Once More.
JOHN L. LEWIS and F. D. Roosevelt are relatively chummy again. Former evidences of a mutual personal antipathy are much less conspicuous.

The White House appreciated the high compliments Lewis paid Roosevelt at the United Mine Workers' convention. Lewis appreciated Roosevelt's request for $250,000,000 more for relief funds, which he had been urging, and the President's public declaration for maintenance of wage scales. Socially, the two men began to get together at the time Lewis visited the White House with Owen Young, Tom Lamont, Phil Murray, Charles Taussig and A. A. Berle.

Appearance of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis at a White House dinner the other night drew little attention, but it was significant. It was the first time Lewis ever dined at the White House. He was invited once, but couldn't attend. There was a long hiatus before the raincheck arrived.

The Town Quack

hear, it is set for later in the season.

Here is some stuff I read: Among the old time beliefs is the one that every time a baby is born the baby's mother loses two teeth. I am told that lots of people who live away, out in the country believe this. And it is said to be a fact that when a married couple lose their teeth that they don't have any more children. One of the two may lose his or her teeth and children will continue to come along but if they both become toothless, the stork ceases to stop.

An old, old story: An efficiency expert came to a town and he advertised that he could find work for everyone. His racket was to advise men as to the kind of work they might be suited for.

And among those who consulted him was a Greek. "What's your name?" asked the expert.

"Gus Poppopppppopulos," was the reply. "Gus," said the expert, "you are ideally fitted for selling motor-cycles."

Depression Lands Man in Business
AMARILLO (AP).—The business depression a few years ago made a successful purebred Hereford breeder of C. C. Reid of Amarillo.

Reid lost his job with an oil company, and after looking around and finding no prospect of another job he went into the cattle business on a small scale, buying and selling a few commercial stock.

Later he bought a few purebreds of the Domino and Stanway lines. Now he has a herd of 15 registered purebreds which he intends to use as the foundation for a larger herd.

"Things looked bad when I lost my job," Reid says, "but now I'm

Pays Way in School By Training Horses

COLLEGE STATION (AP).—When Harry H. Pelot, 24-year-old freshman student in veterinary medicine at Texas A. & M. college, wanted to come to college, his best friends, horses, showed the way.

Considered by A. & M. experts as one of the best young trainers in this section, Pelot is earning his college expenses by training mounts for showmen. Four horses now are enrolled in his private school for show mounts.

A. & M. officials cooperated by giving the young trainer assistance in his work and by interesting horse owners to send their mounts to Pelot for schooling.

Pelot has had neigling acquaintance with horses since he toddled about as a three-year-old on his father's farm at Blackburn, Mo. He started his equestrian career on a pony but soon was riding his own five-gaited saddle mare.

High school days found him picking up pocket money by breaking horses for nearby farmers, and it wasn't long until Pelot-trained mounts were nuzzling prize ribbons and cups on the grand circuit. He trained horses for the Clarkson Valley stable in St. Louis, Mo.; the W. G. Brown stable at Lamar, Colo.; the B. B. Tucker stable in Fort Worth; and the Horseshoe stable and the Rendezvous stable in Dallas.

han county. The brands are identical.

Maybe This Is Why You're Constipated
Perhaps the kind of food you eat doesn't give your bowels anything to work on. Meat, potatoes and bread don't form the kind of soft, bulky mass that will help move your bowels. If so, a dish of crispy crunchy Kellogg's All- Bran for breakfast will give you just the kind of "bulk" your intestines may need to work properly. And in addition, it contains the intestinal tonic, vitamin B, which helps to tone them. If you want to get at the cause of your trouble, eat some Kellogg's All-Bran every day—as a cereal or baked in muffins. And drink plenty of water. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Three Are Hostesses for Colorful Valentine Tea Monday Afternoon

Mmes. Hal Peck, Roy Parks, Ellis Cowden Entertain Approximately 300 Guests at Parks Home from 3 o'Clock Until 6

Most brilliant of the Valentine gaities, leading the parties for the new season was the Valentine tea with which a trio of hostesses, Mrs. Hal Peck, Mrs. Ellis Cowden, and Mrs. Roy Parks, entertained at the home of the latter, 202 South G street, Monday afternoon from 3 o'clock until 6 o'clock.

Decorations for the affair followed a red and white theme in keeping with the tradition of Valentine. Red roses and red carnations were used throughout the living room and dining room.

Mrs. Paul Oles greeted guests at the door. In the receiving line were the hostesses, Mmes. Parks, Cowden and Peck, each of whom was gowned in a shade of mauve with touches of red and wore a Valentine heart corsage of sweetpeas and rosebud. Similar corsages were worn by each member of the houseparty.

Mrs. Chappell Davis directed the guests to the dining room. The tea table was laid with an Italian cut work cloth over red and white in crystal candelabra centered the table, flanked on either side by unique large red hearts ornamented of red roses, edged with corollas and red lace.

Treat Colds Proved Way
Doubly proved—in world's largest colds-clinic, and by everyday use in more homes than any other medication of its kind. No "dosing." Just massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. Relief begins almost at once. And long after sleep comes, VapoRub keeps right on working. Its poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm, relieves irritation and coughing, helps break local congestion. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

NEW YORK.—Fritz Crisler's leaving the Ivy-clad, hallowed walls of Princeton for the bustling, midwestern atmosphere of Michigan would be a wise move on his part even if the athletic directorship were not in the offing. Crisler's success, as everyone should be willing to agree, runs in cycles. In 1935, Old Nassau had an unblemished season of nine victories. The Tiger has since hit the skids, slowly but surely. In '36 it won four, lost two, and tied two. Last season it won four and lost four. And prospects for 1938 do not indicate an undefeated season by any means. Michigan, on the other hand, is due for a rise after four years of wallowing in the football doldrums. In 1934-'36-'36, they were battered from pillar to post, but the Wolverines started to snap out of it in '37. They won four and lost four, which practically made Harry Kipke's last season at Ann Arbor a howling success. Fritz Crisler will have a veteran Michigan team with which to work next fall. And Michigan is just about due.

The North Texas Twins. Delmer and Elmer Brown are twins. Delmer (he looks like Elmer) is one-fourth of North Texas State Teachers' crack relay team. Elmer (he looks like Delmer) is another fourth. Only two people can tell them apart at first glance. The two are Delmer and Elmer Brown. The only others who can make a good stab at it are Blaine and Wayne. Rideout, also twins, and the other half of this colorful relay quartet which currently is one of the giddiest things in the world for sports writers to figure out. Somehow, twins can tell twins apart.

Last spring, while returning home from the Penn relays, Delmer and Elmer Brown stopped in Knoxville to eat. Elmer puttered around the car a bit while Delmer went inside the restaurant and sat down. A moment later, Delmer left to wash his hands. In came Elmer. He sat down opposite to where Delmer had been sitting. The waitress returned and, just a bit puzzled, moved the silver and napkin over in front of him.

Then Elmer decided to wash his hands. He left the table. A few seconds later, Delmer returned and sat down where he originally had been seated. The distracted waitress came back, shifted the table service again and then burst out with, "Now then, young man... if you'll make up your mind just where you will sit I'll take your order!"

Delmer and Elmer broad jump in addition to running on the medley relay team. No one could tell the difference, so Delmer once jumped for Elmer in a dual meet with the University of Texas. He won second place for Elmer, but was very careful not to do better. He had saved first place for himself. Once Delmer was sick for a week and Elmer went to all his classes for him. Fortunately, they were courses he wasn't taking at the time, so he was able to double up. Elmer went so far as to take three examinations for his brother, and insists he did better than Delmer himself could have done. Never a dull moment for these boys.

Organization of World Workers Is Urged by Stalin

MOSCOW, Feb. 15 (AP).—Joseph Stalin, leader of the communist party, urged Monday that the Soviet union bolster its defense program by organizing the working classes of other countries to give Russia political aid "in case of military attacks."

The "final victory for socialism" will not be complete, he said, until such aid is added to Russia's efforts to strengthen her army and navy.

Stalin's declarations were made in a letter to Pravda, the party organ, written in response to a question of a young communist league agitator.

"The aid of the international proletariat appears to be a force without which the final victory of socialism in one country is not to be

PRINCE ALBERT

THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

YOU know something, Ab? Burl Tatum (left) says, "Ridin' the old range isn't half as lonesome when you've got a cool, mellow Prince Albert 'makin' cigarette a-goin'." "Don't I know it, Burl," Ab Hudkins (right) comes back. "Prince Albert is a good friend o' mine. It treats my tongue right, and it draws perfect. In fact, P.A. makes a fellow feel he's right with the world." "Sure enough," Bruce Galbraith (center) puts in. "It's one 'makin' tobacco that rings the bell everywhere. I understand it's as popular in the big cities as it is out here on the prairies." (Plenty popular with pipe-smokers everywhere too!)
