Do You Remember "Little Boy Blue"?

This year over 4,000 children will die beneath the wheels of traffic.

One of them may be your child or your friend's or that youngster down the block.

The number of these unnecessary, tragic accidents is diminishing, but not fast enough.

We quote the first stanza of an old familiar poem:

"The little toy dog is covered with dust,
But sturdy and staunch it stands;
And the little red soldier is red with rust,
And his musket molds in his hands.
Time was when the little toy dog was new
And the soldier was passing fair,
And that was the time when our Little Boy Blue
Kissed them and put them there."

Four thousand "Little Boy Blues" this year? Four thousand little toy dogs waiting? Upsetting, isn't it? But does it upset you enough?

Will it be on your mind when driving a bit too fast on a city street? Will you slow down when you see a child playing near the curb? For the responsibility is yours; there are no brakes on an impetuous youngster.

Will you, in your car, remember "Little Boy Blue" and drive more carefully?

Letter to Editor

Dear Sir:

After compiling the figures of gross premiums and losses in Midland for the past year the State Fire Insurance Commission gives Midland a ten per cent good fire record credit. The same that it has been for the last year or so. While an additional credit of ten or fifteen per cent would not have helped any one individual much in the reduction of fire premiums, yet when the total premiums written are taken into consideration it means several thousand dollars savings to the town as a whole.

This matter of fire prevention is something we can all give more serious thought to. Not only do the fires we have increase our rates but they consume property, much of which could never be replaced and on which a value in dollar and cents cannot be placed. Many times human life is taken and if a check-up were made, it would be revealed that every fire we have had in Midland someone was injured more or less in some way. It is a recognized fact that every fire we have had in Midland could have been prevented.

We do not have any arson bugs in Midland, but we are more or less inclined to be careless about this matter of fire prevention.

If you live in a house built several years ago have you noticed the wiring and if it needs attention? Are all the closets in your home inspected regularly, to see that nothing accumulates that would cause a combustion? Many fires are caused by the careless handling of cigarettes, one still lit is thrown in a waste basket, a window curtain is blown against one on an ash tray, someone goes to sleep smoking and awakes with the smoke so thick you can hardly cut it with a knife. There are numerous ways that a fire can start and for cause there is a prevention.

The only thing that is absolutely necessary is for every citizen of Midland to give it just a little thought and then practice fire prevention and in so doing reduce the fire insurance rates, save untold thousands of dollars in loss of property and the most important of all, human lives and suffering. The fire prevention committee of the chamber of commerce desires a to join hands with the committee in charge of cleaning up Midland and we urge every merchant to check carefully and keep the papers and packing boxes out of the rear of their store buildings and put them in the trash boxes designed for that purpose. That each citizen appoint himself a committee of one to make the town safer from fires.

Babson Says Advertising Will Help Defeat Recession

Strong Performance of Retail Trade Gives Indication That Business Gloom Near End

By ROGER W. BABSON

(Copyright, 1938, Publishers Financial Bureau)
BABSON PARK, Fla., Feb. 19.—Business sentiment is about as bad as I ever remember. I think it is even flatter than in the 1932-33 period. Yet, strange as it may seem, this is a good sign. America has pulled herself out of former tailspins. The turn has always come quietly and unseason while pessimism and uncertainty were at their peak. Today I am convinced that the despair and gloom of businessmen has gone too far. We may even be making the turn right now. Among the most important reasons why I think this is possible is the excellent performance of retail trade.

Industrial output has fallen like a comet, yet retail trade has held up remarkably well. January "clearances," while not quite matching the whirlwind 1937 season, were good. Merchants cut prices much more than usual in order to keep their goods moving. These recent sales have offered some real bargains and there will be more between now and the Easter season. Not only grocery, meat, department, clothing, furniture and shoe stores, but the big mail-order houses, are going after business "hammer and tongs." Various, retail clothing prices have come down 5-15 per cent and retail food has backedwatered about 7 per cent.

Many Fortunes Made in 1932.
This current period of industrial recession shows how sensitive the business cycle is. Each phase brings its own special opportunities. People with foresight and courage who bought securities and commodities and started new enterprises in 1932 have established fortunes. We have a similar opportunity today—in a smaller way. Right now cash is a "sale" and raw materials and securities are a "buy." Those who are buying and investing today are doing themselves a good turn. More important, they are doing a service for their communities and the nation. As retail shelves are emptied orders shift back to factories and the "Help Wanted" signs are hung up once more.

Newspaper, magazine and radio advertisers are doing their bit, too, to help defeat the recession before it degenerates into a major depression. For thirty years, I have studied the business cycle and have tried to discover how the peaks and valleys can be ironed out. I have always been convinced that one of the solutions is by the proper use of advertising. When times are good and business is booming, advertisers like to drive for orders. This is only natural. Actually, however, manufacturers and merchants should hold back in good times and build up an advertising backlog which they can pump out to maintain their sales volume and their employment in periods such as the present.

Why Not Advertising "Relief."
If all concerns in the same industry would agree to spend a certain percentage of their gross sales on advertising, this policy might be made workable. The trouble is that a few outfits would always back out of the bargain and take advantage of their competitors' programs. Two or three concerns can scarcely afford to carry the advertising for the industry. So, while the logical policy is to cut down on space when business is coming in under its own momentum and to boost sales budgets in slack periods, in practice the opposite happens.

The government is pouring out money for various purposes to stimulate public purchasing power. Why not consider a policy of allowing business concerns to deduct any increase in their advertising and selling expenses from their tax bills during periods when industrial production is running below normal? Depressions are serious only when retail selling stops. Most of our basic economic troubles today are not connected with production, but rather with distribution and taxation. Speeding up the flow of goods is where we must put the emphasis rather than on speeding up the assembly line. Space advertising can play a tremendous part in this program.

Time to "Plug" Sales.
Advertising is to mass distribution what the machine is to mass production. Right now, for instance, it deserves a good share of credit for the comparatively excellent volume of retail trade. "Sales" cannot move goods unless customers know about them. I think that merchants and manufacturers now realize this more than they did in 1929. Not only should purchasing power be inflated, but the will to buy should be encouraged. Advertising is the last item to cut in your sales budget unless you want to close shop.

Cutting prices is just as essential as maintaining or stepping up your advertising quotas. Despite its early 1938 slap-in-the-face, purchasing power is still satisfactory, although I expect that the year 1938 will average under 1937. Farm income may be down, factory payrolls may be lower, and there may be a sharp break in dividend payments. However, the drop in income on the average need not mean substantially less goods for everyone this year. Why? Because merchandise "sales" and cheaper food bills can go a long way toward offsetting the drop in the average family's income. If you give careful attention to your personal and household buying this year, I think you will come very close to matching your 1937 living standard.

Three Buying Rules.
I have three specific suggestions along this line for the months ahead. First, shop carefully for your food. Always stock up on "sale" days on your staples. Watch the clothing, shoe, and other merchandise sales, although look carefully before you leap. Second, pay cash for your goods. Conservatively, installment buying costs you 10 to 35 per cent more than cash. Third, make a simple budget and stick to it! Remember, "A dollar saved is a dollar earned." There is no easier way to increase your income 10 per cent than by carefully buying all goods from tomato soup to Oriental rugs! 1938 will be not too bad a year.

necessary is for every citizen of Midland to give it just a little thought and then practice fire prevention and in so doing reduce the fire insurance rates, save untold thousands of dollars in loss of property and the most important of all, human lives and suffering. The fire prevention committee of the chamber of commerce desires a to join hands with the committee in charge of cleaning up Midland and we urge every merchant to check carefully and keep the papers and packing boxes out of the rear of their store buildings and put them in the trash boxes designed for that purpose. phoned me the other day while the press was running. A minute after the press stopped, a man with a loud voice called me up.

Well, we have two candidates for district attorney here and two at Big Spring. It's up to us to get both of ours in the run-off.

A man over in precinct No. 2 told me the other day he didn't think he would announce for commissioner. Only four men in the race so far.

A story going the rounds about two old country boys from away, away out in the country is that they went to some swell city restaurant and had a big meal. And then the waiter brought in two finger bowls.

Bewildered, they surveyed the mysterious objects, looked at each other inquiringly, and finally one spoke up:

"What could they be?"
The other one shrugged his shoulders. After 10 minutes of wondering, one of them couldn't stand it any longer and he called to the waiter.

"Water," he said, "if you will kindly pardon me, but what are those things with water in them?"
"Those are finger bowls," said the waiter.

"Finger what?"
"Finger bowls in which to wash your fingers."
"Serves you right, Bill!" spoke up the other old country boy. "You ask him a foolish question and he gives you a foolish answer."

The Golden Text is: "O Lord, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep" (Psalms 92:5.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "God spake all these words, saying, Thou shalt have no other gods before me" (Exodus 20:1, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It should be thoroughly understood that all men have one Mind, one God and Father, one Life, Truth, and Love. Bulldogs Beaten by Courtney Team in Tournament Finals

MCCAMEY, Feb. 19. (Special).—Courtney high school won the district basketball championship here tonight when the quintet from the Martin county school came through with a hard-earned decision over the defending champions, the Midland high school Bulldogs.

Midland had entered the finals by defeating the pre-tournament favorite, McCamey, 35-28, in an upset this morning, but the Bulldogs were not match for the country boys in the final setto. Corley, Courtney forward, was high point man of the game with a total of 11 points. Adams of Midland got nine points to lead the losers in scoring.

An all-tournament team was picked with Corley and Norman of Midland being chosen forwards, Reeves of McCamey at center and Reynolds of McCamey and Mitchell of Wink at the guard positions. Corley was chosen the outstanding player of the tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brunson and children made a trip to their New Mexico ranch Saturday.

Thirty-Three Tables Laid for Games On Mezzanine of Hotel Scharbauer; Mrs. Daniel Is Head of Committee

Large attendance was reported for the benefit bridge given by the City-County Federation on the mezzanine of Hotel Scharbauer Saturday afternoon.

Thirty-three tables were laid for the bridge games. Score prizes were not awarded but holders of three lucky numbers received awards of mixed pot plants. They were Miss Frances Gillett, Mrs. A. H. Riley, and Mrs. A. Nelson.

Cold drinks were served during the games.

Mrs. I. E. Daniel headed the ways and means committee which had charge of arrangements for the bridge. She was assisted by Mrs. Wallace Irwin, Mrs. J. R. Martin, and Mrs. Allan Hargrave.

Though no detailed financial statement was reported, officials said they considered the bridge "very successful."

Several out-of-town guests were present.

Lois Class Entertains With Party at Church

Members of the Lois class and husbands were entertained with a George Washington birthday party at the Baptist church Thursday evening. Attributed to sickness and bad weather, only 50 per cent of the class membership was present.

A number of games furnished amusement but the high point of the evening's fun was the mock funeral of "Old Aunt Rhody's Old Gray Goose" in the manner of Mother Goose tales. Tyson Midkiff presided as the minister at the coffin of the "goose" while Mrs. Midkiff, class president, had the role of the bereaved "Aunt Rhody" and Mrs. W. T. Chandler was chief consolation friend. As class members filed by the coffin to view the remains, each found herself staring at her own reflection in a mirror, inferentially being that a number of "geeses" were present.

Traditional Washington birthday refreshments were served. Favors were little hatchets tied with ribbons.

Present were: Meses. and Messrs. W. A. Sherrod, J. C. Montgomery, W. T. Chandler, L. Bryan, J. V. Hobbs, E. C. Cook, Tyson Midkiff, Joe Pierce, C. V. Dale, L. O. McGallian, Mmes. J. D. Webb, Charles Langford, V. C. Ray, J. V. Avara, Paul Marshall.

Class guests were: Meses. and Messrs. E. E. Morris, T. O. Midkiff, L. L. Payne, L. W. Leggett, J. J. Kelly, R. E. Kihsey, Don Davis, A. Knickerbocker, Wallace Irwin, W. W. La Force, and the hostess.

Flower Exchange To Be Sponsored By Federation

Two phases of the City-County Federation's beautification work for this year will be the sale of azaleas, and the sponsoring of a flower exchange, according to reports of officials of the group.

The azaleas (a cross between azaleas and chrysanthemums) are said to be beautiful flowering bushes which will thrive here and which bloom profusely all summer.

The committee in charge of the sales is composed of Mrs. Frank Williamson, Mrs. Kenneth Ferguson and Mrs. Chas. Brown. Those interested are asked to telephone Mrs. Williamson at 761-W, Mrs. Ferguson at 124, or Mrs. Brown at 453 for literature illustrating the plants and for price quotations.

The flower exchange will be held at the home of Mrs. L. B. Lancaster, 1705 W. Indiana, Friday morning. Any one who has extra plants, seeds or cuttings is urged to bring and exchange them for others needed. No charge will be made for any plant.

The Federation is sponsoring these two activities to encourage citizens to beautify their grounds.

Junior High PTA Host to Attractive Colonial Tea

Billowing skirts, graceful fichus, and powdered hair brought the quaint beauty of early-day society to the colonial twilight silver tea with which Junior High PTA members entertained at the junior high school building Friday evening.

Greeted by Mrs. Glenn Brunson, president of the host organization, and others of the receiving line in costumes such as grandmother and great-grandmother wore, guests signed in the register presided over by Mrs. O. F. Hedrick and Mrs. Don G. Stookey.

Mrs. Brunson presided as mistress of ceremonies introducing the program presented in the assembly room.

The brass ensemble of the high school band played "Memories of Stephen Foster" as the opening selection.

Principal R. C. Fagg of Junior High School welcomed the guests. In a brief resume, he pointed out the importance of the elementary school in the state educational system citing statistics showing that of the 1,057,003 children enrolled in Texas schools last year, 78 per cent were in the elementary grades; that 74 per cent of the white teachers in the state system are in the elementary grades; and that 68 per cent of the total teachers' salaries are paid to elementary teachers.

Directed by Mrs. De Lo Douglas, the boys' quartette of the high school presented two numbers, "Sleep Kentucky Babe" and "There is a Tavern in the Town."

Paying tribute to the cooperation of parents and the work of PTA's, Supt. W. W. Lackey declared, "We have the best cooperation in Midland I ever heard of."

He also announced letting of contract for the new gymnasium which he said would be when completed one of the largest and best in this part of the state.

He then discussed "Three Laws of Teaching," stressing the fact that self-activity is what helps the child learn, that the greatest contribution that can be made is to inspire the child and fire him with ambition.

A piano solo, "Fammennoi-Ostrow" (Rubenstein) was presented by Wallace Wimberly following Mr. Lackey's talk.

Miss Mary Braddus of Odessa read "Second Minute" accompanied by Miss Edna Marie Jones at the piano. Miss Braddus was in colonial costume.

Melba Schlosses presented a colonial dance, accompanied by Miss Jessie Scott; Price at the piano. Delmar Yoakum, member of the public speaking class of Miss Agatha Bruner in high school, read "He Knew Lincoln" by Johnson.

A solo, "Gwine to Hebben" (Jacks Wolf), was presented by Chase Murph, Baptist choir director, accompanied by Mrs. Clyde Barron at faith.

Amended FHA Program Helps Families of Moderate Means

'MIDDLE CLASS' GIVEN CHANCES TO OWN HOMES

The Federal Housing Administration program under the amended law, signed by President Roosevelt on Thursday, Feb. 3, 1938, is designed to assist families of moderate means to obtain adequate and decent housing on the most favorable terms in the history of the country.

In the language of the senate banking and currency committee, it is intended "to utilize the best available means for achieving a sustained long term residential construction program with a minimum expenditure of federal funds and a maximum reliance upon private business enterprise."

It deals solely with projects and mortgages that are considered economically sound. It is designed to be largely self-sustaining through the operation of a federal mortgage insurance system which has been carefully established and successfully operated since 1934.

The Housing Administration is authorized to insure a total of $2,000,000,000 outstanding at any one time and with the approval of the President this amount may be increased to $3,000,000,000.

"This program," said Administrator Stewart McDonald, "should prove a stimulus to the construction industry but too much should not be expected of it at once. The machinery is here for the government to do its part. The success of the program in the long run, however, depends upon the whole-hearted, voluntary cooperation of private capital and private industry, by which I mean the lending institutions, the material and equipment manufacturers and distributors, the builders and developers, and labor."

Small Homes Financing.
The total maximum annual carrying charge for an FHA insured mortgage on which a commitment is issued hereafter will be five and one-half per cent.

This will include five per cent interest and one-half of one per cent mortgage insurance premium. In the case of newly constructed homes securing mortgages not exceeding $5400 and meeting certain other conditions the premium rate will be one-fourth of one per cent, making the total annual carrying charge to the borrower five and one-fourth per cent.

The annual service charge of one-half of one per cent which the lending institutions have been permitted to charge under FHA regulations will be discontinued on all mortgages for which a commitment to insure is issued hereafter.

The insurance premium in the future will be based upon the outstanding balance instead of the original face value of the mortgage as provided in the old law.

Elimination of the annual service charge and the reduced cost of the mortgage insurance will represent a maximum saving of approximately one per cent per annum to home builders and buyers on newly constructed houses carrying mortgages of $5400 or less. On all other insurable mortgages the saving will be approximately three-fourths of one per cent per annum.

On newly constructed houses appraised at $6,000 or less, the minimum permissible down payment or equity requirement will be reduced from twenty per cent to ten per cent. Thus, on a $6,000 newly constructed house, the minimum down payment would be $600 and the maximum insurable mortgage would be $5400, representing ninety per cent of the appraised value.

On newly constructed houses appraised at $10,000 or less, the insurable limit will be ninety per cent of the appraised value up to $6,000 plus eighty per cent of the appraised value above $6,000. For example, on a newly constructed $10,000 house the minimum down payment would be $1400 and the insurable mortgage limit would be $6000. On all other homes housing from one to four families, the insurable mortgage limit will remain at eighty per cent of the appraisal value, but not in excess of $16,000 under any circumstances.

Multi-Family and Group Housing.
Under the amended law, the multi-family and group housing program is divided into two main parts, one designed to promote construction of large scale projects covered by mortgages up to $5,000,000 and the other to encourage building of smaller developments covered by mortgages ranging from $16,000 to $200,000.

An important feature of the new program is the provision for insuring mortgages not only on multi-family structures, but also upon developments consisting of single family houses. Under this provision it will be possible for developers to obtain blanket mortgage financing, including funds advanced for construction, on groups of single family houses and then sell them on convenient payment plans or rent them as they see fit.

The regulations will permit partial releases from the blanket mortgage as separate properties are sold.

The Federal Housing Administration will insure mortgages up to 80 per cent of the appraised value of projects provided that, in the case of large scale developments constructed under Section 207, the amount of the mortgage may not exceed $1350 per room, and in the case of the smaller developments built under Section 210, the mortgage may not exceed $1150 per room.

The maximum interest rate which lending institutions will be permitted to charge will be 4 1/2 per cent on mortgages insured under Section 207 and 5 per cent on mortgages insured under Section 210.

The mortgage insurance premium will be charged at the rate of one-half of one per cent annually on the outstanding principal of the mortgage.

The multi-family and group housing operations will be carried on separately from the small homes program designed primarily for industrial ownership. A separate insuring fund of $1,000,000 has been set aside out of appraisal fees collected by the Federal Housing Administration during the past three years.

The Federal Housing Administration should not be confused with the slum clearance and government subsidiary program of the United States Housing Authority. It is aimed primarily to promote the construction of housing facilities for wage earning and salaried families who by preference or necessity live in rented dwellings. Such families make up the great majority of the urban population and they, therefore, constitute the broadest market for new housing. According to the 1930 census, approximately 56 per cent of all urban families in the United States occupied rented dwellings. The 38 cities of 100,000 and over range in the proportion of renting families from a high of 78.6 per cent for New York City to a low of 37.3 per cent for Tacoma, Wash.

At the same time the program provides exceptional opportunities for sound investment. This is true for two principal reasons. First, the relative breadth of the rental market and second, the planning and construction of the project.

Modernization and Repair Program.
Notices have been sent to 7,000 lending institutions throughout the United States authorizing them to begin making modernization and repair loans under Title I of the amended act.

Persons, partnerships and corporations are eligible to borrow money under the modernization and repair credit plan. The borrower must have an assured income, demonstrate his ability to repay the loan, and own the property to be improved or have a lease on it running at least six months longer than the term of the loan.

Amounts up to $10,000 may be borrowed to repair or improve existing structures and amounts up to $2500 may be borrowed for the erection of new structures.

anhydrite and lime at 4,093 feet.

Shell No. 1-C Baumgart, prospective mile and a half east extension to the Denver pool, drilled plug from 7-inch pipe set at 4,617 and is now washing to bottom at 5,018. It showed saturation and porosity in the bottom 200 feet. Shell No. 1-D Baumgart, outpost test a half-mile to the northeast, is preparing to set surface pipe at 240 feet, in sand rock.

Gaines East Acidized.
A mile east of the Seminole pool in Gaines, Amerada No. 1 R. W. Robertson was treated with 3,000 gallons of acid and swabbed into pits for eight and one-half hours until an estimated 225 barrels of fluid, representing oil load and acid residue, had been recovered. It was then turned into tanks, and swabbed 58 barrels of fluid, eight per cent basic sediment and with no water, in eight hours, running swab twice hourly. The well then was allowed to stand for two hours. It was swabbed twice during the next day and yielded five and one-half barrels of fluid, six per cent basic sediment. Operators have now shut it in to build up pressure. Total depth is 5,112, in lime, and location is 660 feet out of the southwest corner of section 196, block G, W. T. R. R. survey.

Shell No. 1 M. B. Robertson, north-west Gaines wildcat a mile and a half east of the south end of the Wasson pool, is drilling at 4,676 in lime, two feet below 7-inch casing seat.

Drillstem test will be run this morning in Plymouth, Carter and Conoco No. 1 H. Giesecke, southeast Gaines failure. Late yesterday hole was being conditioned preparatory to running the test. Packer will probably be set at around 5,410 feet. It is understood that the well will be abandoned, since it showed no oil in drilling to contract depth of 5,800 feet.

Reeves Delaware Tests.
Seven miles northwest of the town of Pecos in Reeves, C. R. "Smilio" Mallison and Richardson Oils, Inc. No. 1 H. L. Brown-State, is drilling at 4,363, in Delaware sand, with no free oil in the hole. It had slight showing of oil from 4,229 to 4,302 and some gas at 4,330 which kicked up tools.

West of Toyah in Reeves, Jack C. Hill and Barnett Petroleum Company No. 1 Ely is drilling at 4,150, in Delaware sand, with no shows logged. It topped black lime at 3,814 and sand at 3,877.

In Hudspeth, Haymon Krupp No. 1 Thaxton is drilling at 4,120 in brown lime, while Krupp No. 3 Briggs is drilling at 3,150 in black shale.

Humble No. 1 Lewis & Wardlaw, in western Tom Green, is drilling shale below 6,218 feet.

Formal Dedication Of New Pipe Organ Will Be Made Today

Officials of the First Presbyterian church today will present a program in which a new pipe organ will be dedicated to the memory of Ralph T. Buey, donor of the first organ installed in the church.

The first church pipe organ to come into Midland was presented to the First Presbyterian church by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Buey Jr. It was dedicated on November 24, 1935 to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Buey Sr., father and mother of Mrs. Buey. This organ served its purpose beautifully and well. It won many admirers and developed many sentimental attachments in almost every one. However, since Mr. Buey had been called to his reward, but continued to live on in the hearts and minds of his many friends and admirers, a movement was started to perpetuate his memory in an expressive manner. As a result a more voluminous organ will be dedicated "In Memoriam—Ralph T. Buey" Sunday, February 20, at eleven o'clock in the First Presbyterian church.

The first organ was traded in on this new one, with the consent of Mrs. Buey, and the plaque to Mr. and Mrs. Davis will be placed on the console of the new organ along with the one to Mr. Buey.

Following is a letter which comes from Mrs. Buey:

Dear Mr. Coleman:

"I want to be one among the many to congratulate the Midland church on the installation of the new Wicks Pipe Organ. I am sure it will enable the worshippers in the beautiful church to draw much nearer to the One unto Whom His people have ever attempted to 'sing a new song.'"

"I am most happy not only in the thought that we have had a small part in securing this organ for the church but also in the sweeter thought still that the organ is to be dedicated to my beloved husband. It memorializes him most beautifully in that he loved so dearly the church, the worship of the church, and especially the sweet and mellow tones of the pipe organ. It seemed to lift him into the very presence of his Lord to Whose side he has so recently been called and with Whom he shall always be.

"I am fully conscious of the fact that this appropriate Memorial has been made possible by the many friends of my late husband, some of whom are not even identified with this church. I appreciate it more than words can express and shall always treasure the thought that you loved him too.

"May our Father ever abundantly bless the Midland church in all her worthy endeavors."

Sincerely your friend,
Lorraine D. Buey

Shillings are in constant demand in England. There are 1,090,000 coin gas meters in greater London alone, and these may hold as many as 30 shillings each before they are emptied once every two months. The pitcher's box was 45 feet from home plate in the early days of baseball. Later it was changed to 55 feet and finally to 60½ feet, which is the distance today.

Many Manufacturing Firms to Exhibit At Oil Exposition

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A total of 407 manufacturing companies will have exhibits at the International Petroleum Exposition here, May 14 to 21, showing the developments in the production division of the industry in several years past, including reduction of drilling cost, speeding up of drilling operations, more effective exploration tests, and greater recovery from the oil sands.

The exhibits, says Hugh M. Stalcup, vice-president of the Skelly Oil company and chairman of the International Petroleum Exposition production committee, will feature high pressure boilers and superheaters for deep well operations; vertical engines with separate drives for rotary tables; economical use of steam; circumferential field welding of casing; water flooding; repressuring; stage acidizing methods to obtain greater recovery; portable rotaries for core, wildcat, exploration and shallow well drilling up to 4,000 feet; heavier pumping equipment for deep wells; bottom hole pressure studies to gauge the lives of oil fields.

A total of 317 companies will have exhibits featuring pipeline equipment; 303 companies featuring repressuring; and 208 companies featuring marketing. A scientific exhibit of working models, costing $250,000 to construct, also will be exhibited.

Keeping Furniture Light. Some furniture polishes tend to darken wood. If you wish to keep your furniture in its original tone, select a polish that has as its basic ingredients turpentine and beeswax. Do not use too much polish or allow it to remain on the wood too long. Polish with clean, soft cloths until every bit of the surface is completely dry and softly shining.

The PAYOFF

BY JESS RODGERS.

It hasn't reached the stage where "Friendship ceases and hell begins" but it has got around to the time where "Play stops and work begins."

We're talking exclusively about having a baseball club here again this year. The decision rests with the people! Not with a bare handful.

Fincher Withers has made the town an offer that appears just about the best one that could possibly be made. And if the town lets it go by, the town is chumping off. Organized baseball is an asset, not a liability to a town.

The value of advertising the town would get through having a club in baseball cannot be estimated off-hand. The name of the town would appear in most of the state papers each day, regardless of whether they were playing at home or not. And when people see the name of a town in which organized baseball is supported they just naturally expect that town to be better than one that fails to support the game.

Midland has long been known as a town where entertainment in sports was at a premium. You don't have to question people to hear them say they wished there was something to do at night. And if any proof is needed that a lot of people are serious in their complaint just look around the next time you attend a wrestling match, boxing match or some other sport in some of the near-by towns and you can see a lot of folks from here.

Night baseball will not only be a boon to the people who already live here but will be an inducement to other people to move here. We won't go so far as to say that lack of baseball has kept people from moving here but having it will make them gladder to locate in the city.

Not for nothing is baseball called the national pastime. At a baseball game the garbage collector is on a level with the man sitting next to him—whether he be doctor, lawyer, merchant or chief. They're both there for the same reason—to gain relaxation and to enjoy the number one sport.

It's Up to You. It has been taken for granted all along that Midland would again be in the league this year. In a way, that surmise was okay. But it is going to take the concerted efforts of the citizenry at large to once more place a team on the field. To reiterate: a small group cannot be responsible.

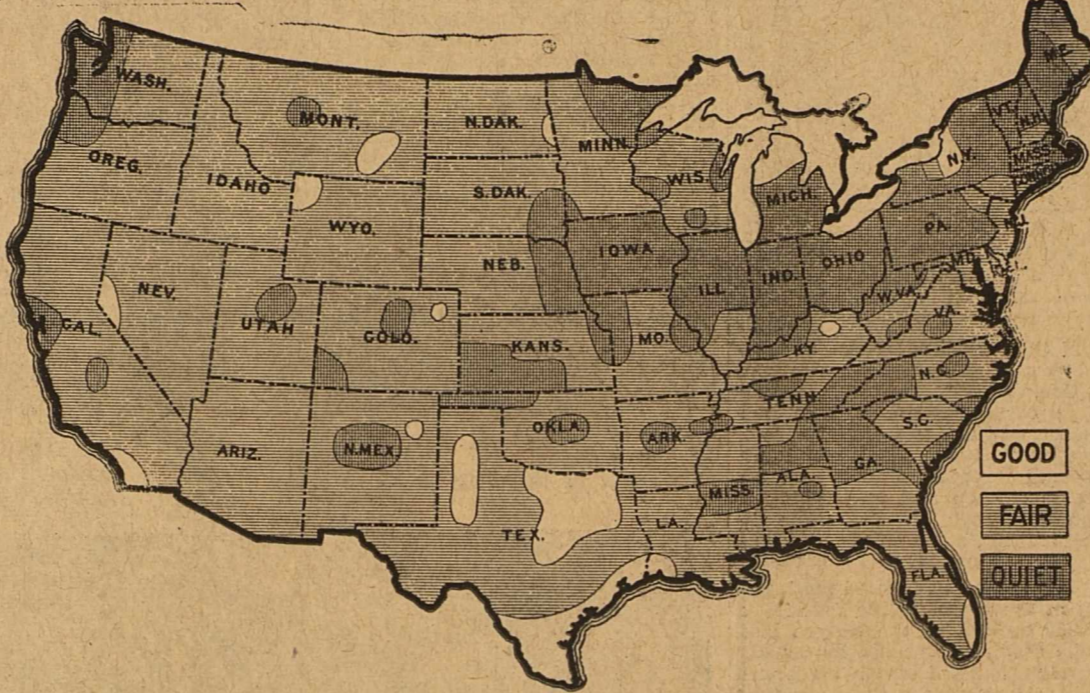

Tomorrow, the sale of 2500 opening day tickets will be started. At first, an attempt to get rid of the tickets will be made by letting the merchants contract for them. But it is doubtful if the merchants can absorb the entire load. Later, if all the tickets are not contracted for by the merchants, a door to door sale will probably be attempted.

If you are approached, buy a ticket. You will be doing your part towards aiding a civic enterprise. It is to be the town's team—not just one man's. Withers is president of the club and stands a chance to make some money out of the club. He also stands a chance to lose some money on it. He's gambling on the people of Midland supporting the team.

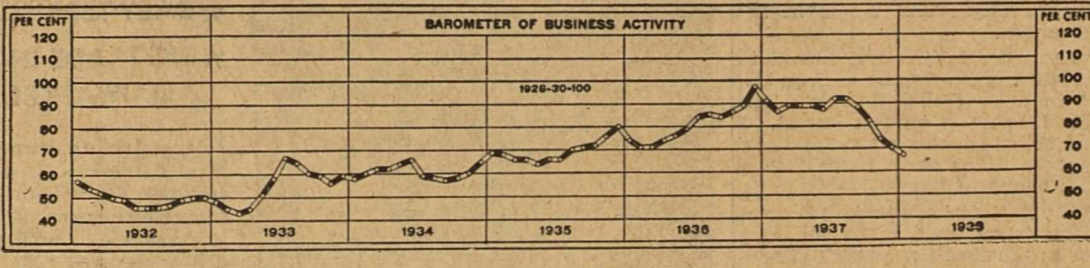

This'n that—E. P. Lawson, Midland battler who went to the Gold-ron Gloves state tournament in Fort Worth, was knocked out in the second round by Fuller Rogers of Ft. Worth. . . J. C. Wallace, Big Spring middleweight who had made plenty of loud talk about how he wouldn't find anyone very tough in Cowtown, also kissed the canvas for the ten count in the first round. . . Jim Payne, major dome of the Rowell club last year, has taken out and Neal Rabe will be solo boss this year. . . Clovis has raised $2500 in cash to give Josh Billings. . . Roswell promises to do likewise for Rabe. . . Withers is the only one offering backers something for their money.

Game Propagation to Be Studied by Comm. NACOGDOCHES (AP)—A. E. Wood, chairman of the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, notified Moss Adams, Nacogdoches sportsman, the commission would hold a meeting here the week of March 20 to make a study of game propagation. The week of March 20 is national observance week for wild fowl, Adams said.

Trail Driver Who Helped Start NA Brand Is Relative of Woman Now Living at Midland

Last Sunday's story in The Reporter-Telegram about the C-Ranch, in which the sale of the 90-section NA ranch to Mabee & Pyle was mentioned, attracted the attention of Mrs. D. U. Fox, living at Michigan and A streets here.

Mrs. Fox is a sister-in-law of Daniel Anderson, who was born at Midland, his father being Robert L. Anderson, now living at Uvalde, who was one of the founders of the NA brand. Mrs. Fox has a clipping from the Uvalde Leader-News in which Robert L. Anderson, now 73 years old, recently was interviewed about his early trail driving and ranching days.

Bob Anderson, as he is remembered by early Midland residents, lived here from 1895 to about 1905, his home having been at the old Burton-Lingo place now occupied by Gordon Holcombe and family. In 1890, at the age of 26, he had bought an interest in the NA ranch and was manager of it for several years, later selling it to Nelson Morris, owner of the C-Ranch. The late Tom White had been associated with the NA ranch and helped Anderson brand out the cattle when they were sold to Morris. Anderson, since boyhood, had been associated with J. D. Houston, South Texas ranchman, going on trail herds to Kansas and running ranches in various parts of South and West Texas.

In 1894, Anderson was married to Miss Mary Crosby of Fort Stockton. While living at Midland, their two children, Dunn and Roberta, were born.

Bob Anderson's early trail driving experiences, beginning when he was only 14 years of age, recounted in the Uvalde Leader-News interview, read like the novels which have been written around trail days. He learned his cow punching and ranching on the open range, often going for days without taking off his boots and leaving the saddle only to change horses, get a few bites at the chuck wagon or snatch a few winks of sleep on his bed roll.

Saint Jo, Shamrock First to Describe Works Program Acts

SAN ANTONIO—Mayors of Saint Jo and Shamrock were first Texas sponsors to describe their local Works Program activities in response to the United States Community Improvement Appraisal being conducted by the Works Progress Administration in this state. It was reported today by State Administrator H. P. Drought.

Although these two officials were first to send complete reports of the improvements realized by their communities through the use of Works Program funds, scores of other mayors and county judges have signified their intention of joining in the nationwide analysis of the results of the Works Program.

"Early response to our letters of invitation has been very encouraging," declared Drought, "and we believe that this survey will be of great assistance in evaluating the results of five years of activity by Texas communities in cooperation with the Federal Works Program."

From Saint Jo, town of 950 population in Montague county, came a report of the construction of 5,700 feet of city sewer lines and other sanitation work, grading and graveling of two miles of streets, beautification of the public square, and the construction of 900 square yards of sidewalks. Of the sanitation work, Mayor T. E. Giles wrote that it has practically eliminated typhoid fever in his community.

Shamrock's civic report listed the graveling and oiling of five miles of streets, rehabilitation of a municipal water line, construction of a modern swimming pool, and operation of a sewing room employing 22 women for more than two years.

The United States Community Improvement Appraisal is an attempt by national groups to analyze the tangible results of the Federal Works Program. Drought explained, "All cities, counties and state departments which have utilized Federal funds to make public improvements have been invited to describe and evaluate their activities from a local viewpoint. Their entries will be received until March 8. Non-partisan appraisal committees will report on the various local entities and their conclusions along with the local reports upon which they are based will be sent to a national appraisal committee in Washington, Drought said.

He Knows Now That He Gessed Right

ABILENE (AP)—Appearance early in February of a bouquet of blossoms on the desk of Postmaster O. A. Hale prompted predictions of a freeze that would kill fruit trees.

Scott explained the blossoms came from an almond tree in his yard and that two trees he planted in 1915 never have become adapted to this climate. Only twice in that period, he said, have the almond trees escaped late freezes.

But I have eaten almonds grown in my yard," he said.

Small Daughter Is Father's Advisor

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Sunshine Mitcham, 11, daughter of G. P. Mitcham, Cisco Hereford breeder, has an eye for fine Herefords despite her youth.

Three years ago while traveling with her father in Wyoming, the two were passing through a pasture of the Wyoming Hereford ranch. One young heifer stood out and Sunshine remarked: "That's the kind we want to take home with us."

Mitcham and Sunshine returned to the ranch for an auction sale and upon Sunshine's judgment he bought the animal for $1,400.

Mitcham has begun to reap returns and has sold two of the cow's calves, one for $750 and another for $500. He has a third calf, a bull, from the cow and has received one good offer for it.

Tract Blown Out Two Years Ago Regained

AUSTIN (AP)—Federal Soil Conservation authorities say increased yields of a formerly "blown-out" tract near Hereford have led one cooperator to value his land at $2,250.

Project Manager O. T. Williams reports wheat planted in the fall of 1935 was blown out, leaving the field bare. A survey revealed approximately 25 per cent of the top soil had been removed by the wind.

The farmer first hesitated to consent to contour cultivation, furrowing and terracing due to the costs. The following spring, listing and chiseling checked the soil drifting and grain sorghums planted later yielded a good cover crop. Since then the field was terraced to hold rain where it fell and provide moisture for growing plants.

SPONSORS TO ATTEMPT TO SELL 2500 DUCATS TO INSURE FULL YEAR OF PLAY

The sale of tickets to the opening day baseball game of the season here will be started Monday. Date of the first game has not been definitely decided upon, pending adoption of a West Texas-New Mexico League schedule, but it is expected to be either April 27 or May 4.

The advisory council of the Midland club, composed of J. P. Butler, Cotter Hiett and Dr. J. B. Thomas, Friday afternoon adopted a plan whereby it is hoped the tickets will be disposed of through the merchants of the city.

Merchants will be asked to agree to take a specified number of the tickets and give them away with purchases made in stores. Several merchants have already signified their willingness to take a large number of the tickets, disposing of them to their customers. Some of the merchants have indicated they would give one of the tickets, priced $1.10, with each five dollar purchase, others indicate they will give out the tickets with each ten dollar purchase.

Fincher Withers, president of the club, has promised to place a team in Midland this year if 2500 opening day tickets are sold. The tickets will be good either of the first three days of the season. Unless it is strongly indicated the tickets will not be sold, Withers will continue work on getting the park in shape and making other arrangements to return Midland to organized baseball. During the next month, possibly less time will be needed, it should be known whether or not the tickets will be sold. If the tickets are not sold, Withers will probably place his team in some other West Texas or New Mexico town.

Short Course for Farmers Will Be In Two Sections

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—The annual Texas A. & M. college farmers' short course will be divided into two sections this year, Director H. H. Williamson, of the extension service, announces. Boys and girls will meet July 6-8, inclusive, and adults will meet July 12-14, inclusive. Both groups heretofore have met at the same time.

The short course was divided, Director Williamson said, to permit attendance of more farm people, the college facilities having been a limiting factor on attendance. "We expect to be able to accommodate approximately 8,000 visitors under this new plan," Director Williamson said.

Texas College Assn. Meeting April 29-30

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—The program for the annual meeting of the association of Texas colleges at Waco, April 29-30, has been built on the work being done by the commission on coordination in promoting a state-wide brooking program, says Dr. T. D. Brooks, association president. Dr. Brooks is dean of the school of arts and sciences and graduate school at Texas A. & M. college.

Dr. J. U. Yarbrough, of Southern Methodist university, Dallas, will report on the study of current efforts at adaptation to individual differences on the college level. Dr. H. T. Manuel, of the University of Texas, Austin, will speak on the findings in the study concerning Texas high school graduates as college material.

Other speakers include: Dean E. G. Williams of University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.; Dr. Ben D. Wood of Columbia university, New York; and director of the cooperative test service of the American Council of Education, Dean Colby D. Hall of Texas Christian university, Fort Worth; and Registrar Warren Clement of Texas Technological college, Lubbock.

The Texas association of junior colleges will open its annual session at Waco April 28.

The railway that runs beneath London, a distance of 6 1/2 miles, and conveys letters and parcels between Whitechapel and Paddington, gives a service of about 850 journeys a day, at an average of 20 miles an hour.

It is estimated that a rocket ship powered enough to leave the gravitational field of the earth and return, would cost $100,000,000.

Proclamation WHEREAS, the State of Texas is an empire within itself, vast in its area, unparalleled in the glory of its heroic deeds and romantic history, unrivaled in the splendid progress and achievements of its brilliant past and living present, and unmatched in the marvelous opportunities it has in store for its citizens ever in the future; and

WHEREAS, we are approaching the date, March the second, which marks the birth of Texas liberty and the beginning of the Republic of Texas, and its subsequent entry into the sisterhood of states of this Union; and

WHEREAS, there is a movement throughout this state that Texas Week, beginning February 27 and closing March 5, 1938, be properly observed in commemoration of the birth of the Republic of Texas;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, M. C. Ullmer, Mayor of the City of Midland, in accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8 of the Forty-Second Legislature, proclaim Texas Week and invite our citizens to observe Texas Week, not as a season of holidays but as a week of better work and better living;

FIRST, I urge every home, office, place of business and industry, every public and private school to fly a Texas flag each day during Texas Week; and

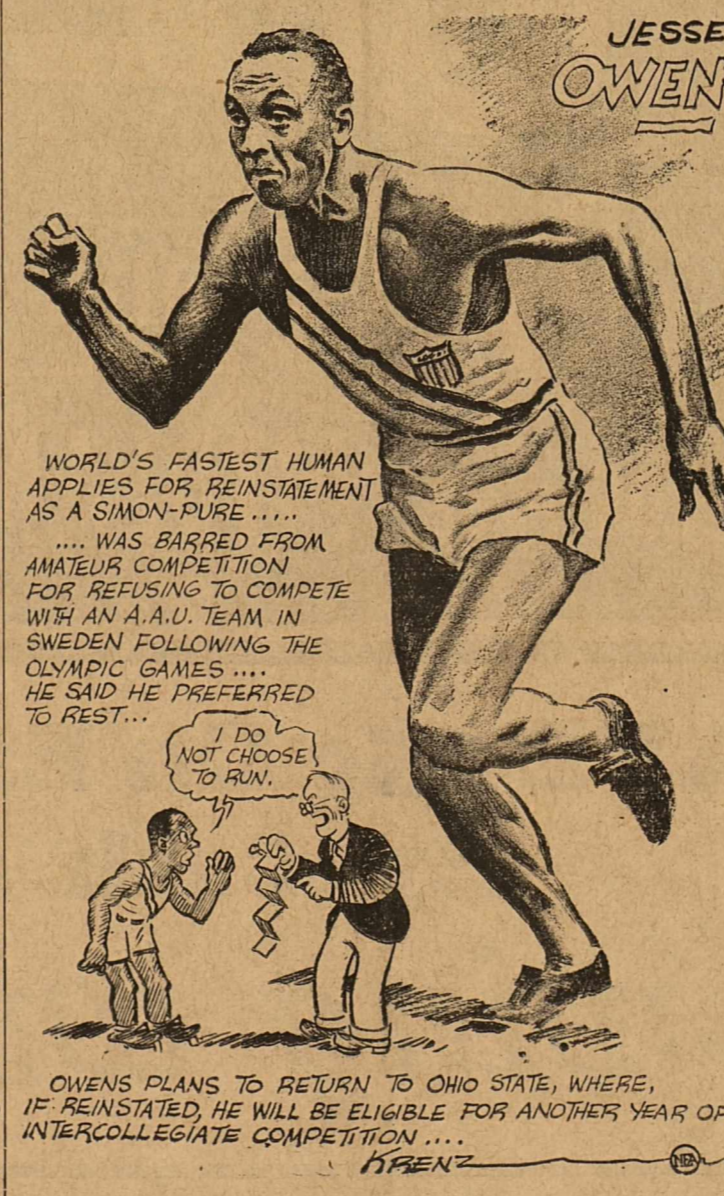

SECOND, I urge all schools and colleges to observe Texas Week with appropriate assembly programs; make Texas Week education week and book week; hang Texas pictures in home and school and office; plant trees and flowers and dedicate them; and make patriotic pilgrimages to places of historical significance; and

THIRD, I urge the people in the markets and industries, professional pursuits, clubs, conventions, churches, lodges, and other assemblies to render appropriate programs during Texas Week; and FOURTH, I urge all Texans to make an effort towards the preservation of our natural resources; to become more interested in the expansion of cities and harbors, and to work for the improvement of our roads and highways. I also urge that we, as Texans, encourage the study of Texas history in all high schools, as well as in our elementary schools.

FIFTH, Let us all, for the brief space of Texas Week, extol the cultural and spiritual values of the romantic traditions of our history and dedicate ourselves to the lofty ideals of statesmanship, character, and leadership which our forefathers exhibited in their lives consecrated to liberty, happiness, and service. Let us put into practice our state motto "FRIENDSHIP."

Advantages of Life Insurance Cited by Company Man Here

R. J. Graham, local representative of the Southwestern Life Insurance Co., has recently received the financial statement of his company and it appears in a full-page advertisement of this issue. Mr. and Mrs. Graham moved to this city several weeks ago from South Carolina. He is a graduate of the University of Texas and has been in the life insurance business for four years, having won several honors in that profession.

In commenting on the statement of his company, Mr. Graham said that C. F. O'Donnell, president, has announced that no increase in Southwestern Life rates is contemplated. "Lots of people think that life insurance rates are about the same among legal reserve companies," continued Mr. Graham. "This belief is probably based on the fact that there is a minimum below which no company can safely go, determined by definite mortality tables and conservative expectations of interest earned on investments. But most companies' premiums are well above this minimum, and today there is a larger difference between the rates of the leading companies than ever before. The companies with the best records on their investments and the lowest overhead expenses are naturally able to make lower rates than their competitors. Every change in Ordinary Life insurance rates made by Southwestern Life during its 35 year's history has been downward. Safety, of course, is of absolute first importance in the buying of life insurance, but the careful buyer today can save money without sacrificing anything in the way of security."

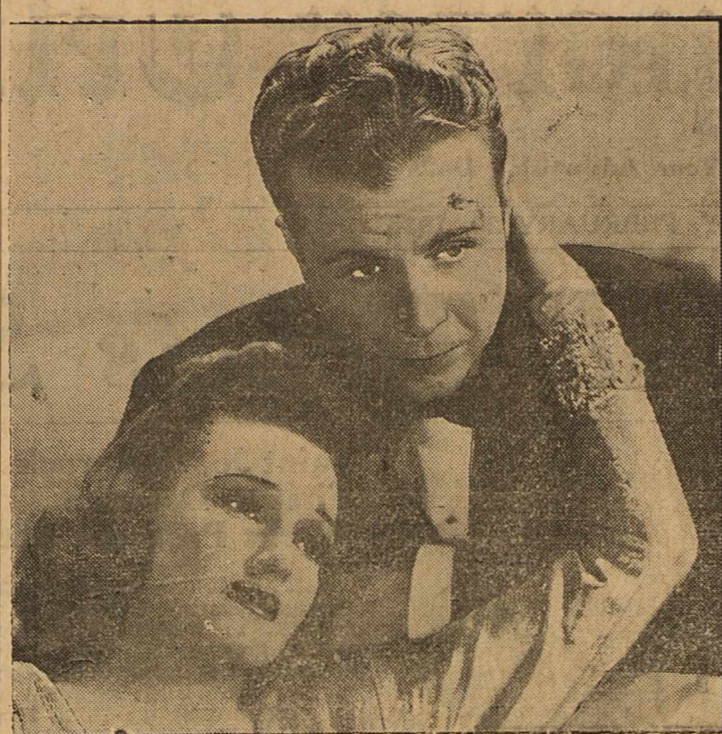

Mr. Graham also reported that due to continued satisfactory earnings on Southwestern Life's investments, the rate of excess interest allowed on proceeds of maturing policies left with the company will be one-half of one per cent during 1938, making a total of four per cent paid, three and one-half per cent being guaranteed.

Clarendon Pioneer Nearing 100 Mark

CLARENDON, Tex. (AP).—Richard Bowlin of Hedley, who will be 89 in April, came to Texas from Virginia 70 years ago. No prairie schooner, but the houseboat built of timber felled on his father's Virginia farm, carried him much of the distance to the new country.

"After the war between the states my father was ruined and decided to move the family to Texas," Bowlin said. "We planned a river trip, built a houseboat in the Powell river basin and waited for the rise to start the long journey. My father's group of 10, and the families of Charlie and John Blakemore, numbering 15 more and all related, were aboard the houseboat.

"The vessel, built of rough hewn timber, measured 22 by 65 feet. A top was a six-room structure, comprising a kitchen, a living room and dining room, three bedrooms, and two large fireplaces that gave a touch of comfort. The stubby stern fitted with a rudder enabled one person to steer, and forward was a large paddle operated with a lever, which kept us free of embankments. The paddles could increase the speed when it was necessary to run a cross current, but the boat had no power of its own and simply drifted with the flow of the rivers.

"Late afternoon, Feb. 2, 1838, the long-awaited flood waters swirled down the Powell river valley, lifting the boat from its moorings. It was a moment of excitement and considerable misgivings, too, for none of us knew anything about navigation. We followed the Powell river into the Clinch river, thence into the Tennessee and Ohio, and finally reached the Mississippi at Cairo.

"Progress was slow, for at sundown we staked the houseboat to a bollard, or shore line tree. Our only light was the feeble flicker of tallow candles or a skillet of grease with a twisted torch of cotton cloth. The children kept several firelines attached to the stern. The sport broke the monotony and also furnished food.

"One morning our boat suddenly gained speed and bobbed about like a cork. We were entering the Tennessee rapids opposite Muscle Shoals without knowing it and as we approached the white, racing water the houseboat pitched wildly while extra hands stood by at paddle and stern.

"A more picturesque scene was presented the day we sailed into the Mississippi. A panorama of ships moved about us as we slipped into the father of waters and soon were a part of the procession.

"We reached Memphis, Tenn., in exactly three months, selling the houseboat there and continuing the trip by steamboat. Jefferson, Tex., was our destination. After a year there we moved to Sulphur Springs, using an ox team for transport. We moved to Grapevine in 1832, and lived there until we settled in Donley county. In 1892, I filed on a section, teeming with game, six miles east of Clarendon, built a dugout, and the first three years of occupation earned a living by hunting and trapping. I shipped quail, prairie chicken and wild turkey to Denver through I. E. Jones, the village butcher, and sold my pelts and furs on the market.

"The fall of 1894 found me hunting in the region of the Palo Duro. I had camped in the canyon and while searching for my horses one morning, bumped into a big brown bear as I rounded a sharp curve of a narrow bench with a low, overhanging cliff. I had my 30-30 rifle with a 160-grain bullet, but I was not hunting bear, I reasoned, and in a flash had cleared the low cliff like a hurdler, except there was more of might and magic in my movements.

"I ran the incline and turned to discover the bear was running, too, but in an opposite direction. The animal made a perfect target. I fired without taking a bead and saw the bear flinch as it broke into a small clump of brush.

"The next spring I broke 160 acres of my sandy land and I am sure that in the first five years I plowed up 1,000 rattlesnakes. I never was bitten, nor did one ever strike at me unless I attacked. After a year or so I learned a rattlesnake would not strike unless coiled, and thereafter, instead of leaping plow handles when I turned one up, I would frequently just kick it from the furrow and follow the plow without looking back."

Mr. Bowlin now spends much time reading stories of out-door life and nature magazines and reminiscing with old friends about the days when neighbors were distant and big game plentiful.

Shrink Wool Carefully. Begin to shrink your woolen material the day before you are going to sew it on. Clip the selvages, wet a sheet and place on flat surface. Lay the woolen cloth face down over the sheet, roll together and leave overnight. Open and press dry, working on the back of the fabric. White cotton and linen may be soaked in cold water for several hours, then hung over a clean line to drip until dry.

Pioneer Spirit Is Espoused by Man

COLORADO, Tex. (AP).—Col. C. M. Adams, pioneer Colorado business man and banker who was born in a covered wagon as his mother fled before Gen. Sherman's devastating march through Georgia, still espouses the pioneer spirit.

Having lived through the disastrous drought of 1885 to 1887 and several subsequent economic setbacks, he sees no cause for alarm at the present business recession. "The prices of finished goods have risen out of proportion to the prices of farm commodities," he believes, "and we are going through a leveling out process."

Coming to Colorado in 1883, he worked with the late Dr. P. C. Coleman, B. Reagan and other pioneers in carving civilization out of the unfenced prairies. He was president of the first chamber of commerce at Colorado, postmaster, mayor, a member of the original campaign committee for a West Texas agricultural and mechanical college which resulted in the establishment of the Texas Technological college at Lubbock, and participated in the promotion of many other West Texas projects. He was vice president of the old Colorado National bank and an active director of the City National bank since the two institutions merged a few years ago.

"Charlie" Adams, as he has been known to West Texas for 55 years, was 18 when he started his business career as a clerk in a jewelry store here in 1883. Through ability to make friends he became city secretary two years later and when 23 was appointed postmaster of this West Texas cowtown with a population of 5,000. In 1890 he established a dry good business which he operated successfully 38 years.

His wife, who shares with him the credit in the civic development of Colorado, is the former Fannie Rix, member of a prominent West Texas family, whom he married April 13, 1887. She is a charter member of the oldest Colorado women's club and has been a leader among the pioneer women of West Texas. They celebrated their golden wedding last year.

Col. Adams was born April 17, 1865, in Barbour county, Ala., in a covered wagon while en route to his grandmother's plantation in Mississippi. His mother and grandmother, accompanied by two slaves, had been forced to flee from their Georgia plantation laid waste by Gen. Sherman's army. His father, later a lawyer at Memphis, Tenn., and Colorado, Texas, was at the time a member of Hood's second cavalry.

STATE MAN SPEAKS TO STUDENTS IN ASSEMBLY.
In the Midland High School auditorium on Thursday, February 17, Doctor W. E. Ryan introduced to the student body Doctor Woodward of the State Department.

Doctor Woodward spoke to the students on "Romance of Food." He said if one didn't get proper vitamins in his diet one would have many number of disease. He told a story about a small girl, whose family was very poor, and who was adopted by some wealthy people. Her foster parents could not get her to eat any of their food, but they soon found that she liked bacon and beans. One's taste for food is determined by habit. The likes that are cultivated in childhood usually remain with one through adult life. In order to be healthy one should include in his diet a proper variety of all the vitamins.

CAST FOR FACULTY PLAY SELECTED.
"The Family Upstairs," by Harry Delf, a three-act comedy, has been selected by Miss Agatha Bruner, dramatic coach of the high school, as the annual faculty play.

The cast of characters is as follows:
Joe Heller, the father, Mr. Armstrong.
Emma Heller, the mother, Miss Merle Smith.
Louise Heller, the elder sister, Miss Ina Mae Vaught.
Willie Heller, the brother, Mr. Fredis.
Annabelle, younger sister, Miss Mary Wilson.
Charles Grant, Mr. Robert Meyer.
Mrs. Grant, his mother, Mrs. De Lo Douglas.
Herbert Grant, his brother, Mr. Hill.
Miss Calahan, Miss Louise Latham.

HEAD PRINTER FROM FT. WORTH VISITS ANNUAL STAFF.
Mr. W. J. Murphee, head of the service department in Ft. Worth, visited the annual work in session Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Bonner, also of Ft. Worth, accompanied Mr. Murphee on his trip.

Mr. Murphee and Mr. Bonner were introduced to those members of the staff who were working on the annual that afternoon.

Having been associated with the printing of annuals for many years, Mr. Murphee gave a demonstration of how to build-up a snapshot panel in less than half the time required the old way and the new method is far more accurate.

Mr. Murphee was a very interesting person and the staff benefited greatly from his explanations.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS SEE PRO TENNIS PLAYERS.
In an interview with Harold Barnes and Joe Norman, who with Fred Gordon Middleton, Bobby Walker, Frank Wade Arrington, and Mr. H. C. Barnes, attended a tennis tournament at A. C. C. they explained that the group left for Abilene on Monday to see the tennis matches between Vines and Perry and between Senior and Bell.

The party registered at the Hilton Hotel and went out to Abilene Christian College to see about reserved seats. Harold said, "I was glad we didn't get reserved seats, because they were just like the others."

Joe Norman said, "I never saw such fast tennis playing. It looked like they would tear the ball up."

Fred Gordon got the signatures of both Senior and Perry and seemed to enjoy talking to them and their wives.

The boys who went to Abilene play tennis and are really accomplished players, too. The tennis season will soon be started and quite a number will probably be out for training, the five boys already mentioned, being in the group.

SUMMER PROJECT IN HOME MAKING.
Twenty students interested in summer home making projects met with Miss Crawley in room 302, Thursday, February 17.

Miss Crawley announced in assembly Wednesday, February 16, that summer projects for girls were being offered this summer to girls who have taken home economics.

The students are to choose, plan, and start a home project during June and the teacher will visit the homes and supervise the work, returning early in September to check on the results.

If the project has proved successful the student will receive one half credit to be added to her high school credits.

The projects can consist of: planning and raising a garden, canning, improvement in the home, needlework, and a very wide variety of other interesting and helpful things.

MIDLAND ENTERS TYPING CONTEST.
Thursday evening, February 17, Midland entered a typing contest at Odessa. They were competing with Kermit, Odessa and Andrews.

Those students who represented Midland in the contest were: Francis Burris, Ed Dorsey, Janelle McMullan, and Granada Saye. They were accompanied by Miss Mary Waters, typing teacher of Midland High School.

A student from Kermit made the highest score, and the next highest was made by a student from Odessa. Francis Burris made third highest.

Kermit's average score was 98.28, Odessa's, 93.51, and Midland's 90.56.

This was the first contest the Midland students had entered this year.

JUNIORS TO BATTLE.
Monday, February 20, will bring the opening of the intramural basketball games between the three junior home-rooms. All letter men prior to 1938 will be excluded and will, in all probability, be coaches for their home-room teams.

Miss Miley's room call themselves "Bears," "The Deers," Miss Vaught's room, are a likely bunch. And Mr. Myer's room will bear the name of "Tigers." The games will be "battle royals."

The schedule is as follows: Feb. 21—12:25—10C vs. 10B. Feb. 25—12:25—10A vs. 10B. Feb. 28—12:25—10A vs. 10C.

CLASS "A" CONTEST MUSIC SELECTED.
The nearness of the yearly music contest to be held in Abilene is shown by the fact that the music has been selected and released to all the schools in the Class A, B, and C districts.

Midland High School will be in Class "A", thus singing the following songs that have just arrived: Mixed Chorus—"The Green Cathedral"—Carl Hahn.

Boy's Glee Club—"Sing Me a Chanty With a Yo-Heave-Ho"—Wellesley.

Girl's Glee Club—"A Tiny Seed Became a Shrine"—Coburn.

Boy's Quartet—"Passing By"—Purcell.

Girl's Quartet—"Bird Song at Eventide"—Erie Coates.

Girl's Solo—"Dawn"—Curran.

Boy's Solo—"Little Mother of Mine"—Burleigh.

One optional song may be selected by each group.

The award for the mixed clubs is a loving cup; for the solos—a gold medal.

Mrs. De Lo Douglas, music director, states that the persons for the solos have not been selected, but they will be announced at a later date.

NEW PENCIL SHARPENERS.
Don't faint, just relax. At last, every room in high school has pencil sharpeners.

In 1935 there was only one sharpener, in Mrs. Scrogg's bookkeeping and shorthand room. Finally, it had been used so much by 466 students that at the last of the year it collapsed, completely exhausted.

The next year, 1936, Mr. Shifflett thought he needed one so he had one put in his office. The first day he had it in, his office looked like Mrs. Holdaway's store at noon; the next day it looked like an audience does that is trying to see Robert Taylor in person.

Well, when it finally got to look like the Centennial at Dallas, Mr. Shifflett had it taken out. At the first of this year, 1937, Mr. Taylor had the same trouble as he was the only one that had a pencil sharpener in his room.

Now, all the students can truthfully say they are well pleased to have one in every room. It is so much more convenient than having to carry a knife around or being late to class after waiting, trying to use the only one in school.

On behalf of all Midland High School, we thank you, Mr. Lackey, for your thoughtfulness.

GRADUATE COMPLIMENTS JUNIOR PLAY.
A letter received from B. C. Girdley written to Miss Bruner states "I've heard so many compliments on the Junior play even way down here. It must have been grand—wish I could have seen it—you always choose such good plays."

I had the pleasure of seeing Maurice Evans in "King Richard II", a few weeks ago. It was wonderful! The diction, enunciation, lighting, scenery, and costumes were marvelous!

B. C. is enrolled as a freshman at the University of Texas. As a high school student he was always interested in dramatic, and last year was a member of the one-act play cast.

PERSONALS.
Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moore of Salina, Kansas, sister and brother-in-law of Miss Agatha Bruner, teacher in Midland High School, spent a few days here visiting, en route to California.

E. P. Lawson, a senior, left Wednesday morning for Fort Worth, Texas, where he will participate in the Golden Gloves Tournament sponsored by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Berdean Rains was called to Big Spring Monday, February 14, to attend the funeral of Mr. James L. Johnson, prominent citizen of Porsan, Texas. His sudden death was caused by pneumonia.

Mr. DeFord, Spaulding Sporting Goods salesman, was in Midland Thursday, and attended the chapel exercises.

RHYTHM NEWS.
Out of the band Mr. Armstrong, picked nine students for the brass ensemble who played for the PTA Friday night, for the silver tea, at the Junior High School. Those that were selected were: R. O. Brooks, Johnny Pickering, Dalton Cobb, Cedric Ferguson, Val Boran, Jack Walton, David Holster, Billy McGrew and Robert Blalock. They played the "Memories of Stephen Foster."

MR. LACKEY PRESENTS JUNIOR AND SENIORS WITH REMEMBRANCE.
Monday, Valentine's day and Mr. Lackey's birthday, each member of both the junior and senior classes was presented with a Valentine from Mr. Lackey. The Valentines were very much appreciated indeed, because they were not the ordinary card with a verse, but instead a beautiful picture of the superintendent.

Each student had his choice of one or two pictures. One picture was taken in the cap and gown just after Mr. Lackey had received his LL. D. degree from Hardin-Simmons College. The other picture was taken from the oil painting that hangs in assembly hall. Both were very beautiful pictures, that may be framed.

CLASSES BREAK OLD TRADITION BY GIVING BOOKS.
The junior and senior classes broke the old tradition of giving "Prof" a big heart-shaped box of candy on his birthday, February 14, by purchasing two books instead. The books were entitled "The Importance of Living", by Lin Yutang, Chinese author and philosopher, and "Drums Along the Mohawk" by Edmunds.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?
On the popular question, "Should women wear short or long skirts?" a few of our outstanding students give answers.

Louise Elkin says, "I think women should wear short skirts because they are more comfortable." Johnnie Howe says, "I think women should wear short skirts because they are easier to walk in, cooler for the oncoming summer, and more sporty looking."

"Lover Boy" Adams says girls should wear long skirts because they are more becoming.

Jack Hanks says, "It does not make any difference to me which they wear."

YOUR HIT PARADE.

AUNTIE ADVICE.
(All questions answered truthfully) Dear Auntie,
What has Virginia Ford got that I haven't? I suppose you have noticed that Buddy has been going with her instead of me. I have lain awake nights trying to think of some way to get him back. I couldn't stand not getting to go with him. Is it anything I have done that makes him feel this way? If so, I will gladly apologize (on bended knees).

I just don't feel like living now that he's going with Virginia Ford. Dear Virginia D.
I think you'll live over this. Everyone has to have his first love affair. I don't think you will ever get Buddy back, but I'll tell you what you might do! Try letting your dresses down an inch or two, and walk around with a book on your head to acquire poise. But for heaven's sakes, don't get that "smug", con-cited air that your rival has developed lately.

Auntie Advice.
Dear Auntie Advice,
I've been using my influence on Wesley W. but it doesn't seem to do any good. I suggested that we exchange rings but he won't. I hinted about taking me to the banquet, but that didn't do any good either. What am I to do?

Dear Maxine,
Jr. has his affections placed other places. (If you get what I mean). What's the matter with Felix H. and Russel Holster? They look like they're all right. I could add, though, that you might try curling your eyelashes and rolling your nose above your knees.

THAT'S LIFE.
"Father, I cannot tell a lie, I cut down your cherry tree."
Many times we have heard this saying of our own George Washington, but have thought little about it. This year, many a howl will rise up from us kids because we will miss our holiday. We are allowed only five holidays a year and have used them all; consequently, we have no more holidays—That's life!

All day as we answer our dear teacher's questions, we will remember what a good time little George had cutting cherry trees and here we are reciting our history, English, and geometry lessons. That's life!

Let's suggest a few lessons for Tuesday: first period, sleep; second period, tell stories; third period, serve refreshments; fourth period, entertainment; and then start all over again. That's life!

Thundering Din Only Students' Morning Alarm

COLUMBUS, O. (U.P.).—At exactly 7:30 every weekday morning, a deafening noise such as is usually associated with a boiler factory rumbles through a lodging house near Ohio State University's campus. That's William Edwards and Howard Unruh getting up.

He served as president of T. C. U. from 1906 to 1911, which includes the time of the school's great fire and the subsequent removal from Waco to Fort Worth. He has published many articles on Biblical and archaeological subjects and is an authority in both fields.

Woman Lion Hunter Delivers Sixth Kill

EAGLE PASS (AP).—Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Maverick county's lion hunter, trapped and killed her sixth Mexican mountain lion recently in the lower Indio ranch country. The sixth victim was a cub, the offspring of a large lioness Mrs. Kennedy trapped and killed Jan. 28.

For years, it was believed that cultures scented their carrion meals miles away, but tests show the birds to have nasal organs of very low development.

note that only the engineering students understand, to a common alarm clock, is the result. When the clock's hammer descends at 6:30 a wire attached to it sets to work some mechanism that eventually pulls a prop from beneath the raised window. The window drops with a bang, and in doing so turns on some more wires and pulleys, turning on the pilot light in the stove, starting the radio and lighting a light above it.

These model "T"s are getting to be a racket; we owe it all to John.

This Rountree—Davis affair seems to be progressing rather slowly. Can't something be done about it, E. B.?

Can Mrs. Myer dance? Just ask Dub Lynch.

Boy, it's bad when Martha and Neva get so scared they can't even go to bed at night.

It seems that Button and Jessa Lynn have stepped into the spot light from nowhere. But we know

Button has an "S. L."

With spring coming on there should be new romances blossoming every once in a while now.

You really should read some of these mushy letters E. B. gets from Stanford University in California.

Jack Nobles seems to be getting worried over Jeanne, he says she isn't herself these days. It may be the dipsy—doodle—or, E. B. Rountree.

Billy Simpson has a new car. We will have comparative safety for a few days, but just you wait till he gets the governor off.

Johnnie, do you know what they can do to any body for stealing a car?

Little Mary Sue Cowden surely is a flirt around the boys, just look at John for example.

Jay Francis seems to be doing O. K. Irene Price has a steady boy friend in Odessa. Jay, better be careful.

Cricket Bible Revolutionized After 75 Years

LONDON. (U.P.).—Old-timers are likely to be greatly upset when they see the new edition of "Wisden's Almanack," the Bible of cricket, which is being published in London.

For the 1938 "Almanack" will represent the greatest revolution in cricket since overhand bowling was legalized in 1864. Not only will the front cover be drastically altered, but for the first time there will appear a picture of a cricketer in action and, most sensational of all, will be an entirely new section for women's cricket.

For 75 years this little book with the yellow paper covers has been published in much the same form, but now it will be bound in linen instead of paper, and illustration of the old top-hats will replace most of the present wording in the cover, and there will be more pictures, for hitherto the only picture in "Wisden" has been the Five Cricketers of the year.

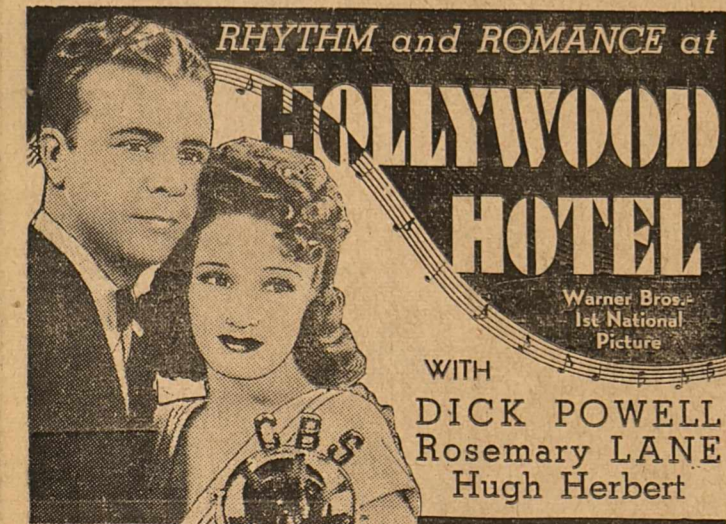

There will be more articles, the type will be plainer, the present division into two books will be scrapped, and the order be changed. Births and deaths will be listed instead of first, the county matches will be described for what they are worth instead of each occupying a page as at present.

The list of county matches will be given in alphabetical order, so that Yorkshire, who has always appeared first in the list, will now be last for evermore. Finally, there will be an index.

Wilfrid Brooks, the present editor of "Wisden," has been working on this revolutionary change for three years and he has not done it without taking counsel. He asked for suggestions and got them in thousands, from all over the world. He even consulted schoolboys, and found some of the ideas sound. In defence of the special section for women's cricket, he says: "And why not? It has been going officially for 10 years."
