Behind the Scenes in Washington

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in this article are those of Mr. Dutcher, NEA-Reporter-Telegram Washington correspondent, and are not to be construed as expressing the editorial policy of The Reporter-Telegram.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Behind the President's decision that the government should resume pump priming to aid business were confidential reports from administration economists who said conditions were getting no better fast and that the immediate outlook seemed distinctly sour.

Advisers who had hoped April would bring an upturn found that the depression cure was going still lower. They urged against any further waiting to see if an improvement wouldn't just happen, pointing out that no new public works program could really get started before late summer or fall.

Three Factors.
THREE factors were stressed to the President as aiding the economic havoc primarily caused, as the economists see it, by a downward spiral accelerated by decreasing purchasing power.

1—Reliable estimates had appeared which showed that inventories at the first of the year were $5,000,000,000 in excess of those stocked two years ago. While some of the inventory had been worked off, a huge amount remained. New purchasing power was held to be necessary, since billions of private dollars placed in the purchasing stream were creating no new industrial activity as long as the goods they bought were being taken out of inventory.

2—A sharp decline in installment credit was noted. This also meant that a large amount of current purchasing power was sterile, since it was being used to pay for goods taken off the market last year. And bank figures showed that an increasingly abnormal percentage of the cash going into the purchasing stream was landing in the banks and being kept there as assets.

3—The economists reported that the government's monthly contribution to purchasing power had dropped from above $300,000,000 a month in 1936 to $75,000,000 in 1937 and subsequently. They get those figures by subtracting the amount the government takes out of the "income stream" in taxes from the amount the government puts into it by spending. Important factors in this computation, for instance, were the bonus money outgo in 1936 and the drain of new social security taxes in 1937.

Pump-Priming.
WHEN business bloomed in 1934 and 1935, economists said, the government "contribution" was about $250,000,000 a month. The difference between that and $75,000,000 is $175,000,000, which is one estimate of the amount government would have to throw into the pot to get business on the upgrade again.

Thus, according to this theory, injection of about $2,000,000,000 more into the next year's pump ought to do the trick.
How long such pump-priming must be continued is a serious problem yet to be solved. The national debt is due to be increased, but it's orthodox administration thinking now that it's better to boost the debt than to have a depression which does nothing but get worse—and in an election year at that.

Embarrassing Moment.
SENATOR HARRY F. BYRD, the gentleman from Virginia, and Mrs. Byrd and Mrs. Billy Mitchell were sitting in the House gallery reserved for members when Congressman Maury Maverick of Texas arose to make a speech.

"There's that baboon Maverick," sneered Byrd.
"He happens to be my husband and I think he's fine, but I'll be glad to pass on your remark to him," said Mrs. Maverick, turning in her seat just in front of the senator.
Byrd flushed and sputtered, but was stopped by Mrs. Byrd who

Play With That, My Friend

said, "Harry, you had better shut up. You've said enough."

But Mrs. Mitchell leaned forward to say she thought Maverick was one of the best men in Congress and that her husband, the late Gen. Billy Mitchell, had always said so, too.

Other congressional wives within earshot could hardly wait to leap outside and spread the tale.

Victoria to Honor Native Son May 15

VICTORIA, Texas (P).—To honor Otto Praeger, a native of Victoria, credited with being mainly responsible for the inauguration and early development of the United States airmail service, postmaster Leopold Morris is preparing an elaborate observance of national airmail week here May 15-21. The service will be in operation 20 years Morris has invited Praeger to deliver his address here during anniversary week.

Morris received the following telegram from Harlee Branch, second assistant postmaster general, in recognition of Praeger's part in creating the service:
"Mr. Praeger worked tirelessly and persistently for the inauguration of the airmail service, and after its establishment his faith and persistence were of great value in assuring the success and continuance of the service. It would be most fitting that he be properly honored for his tirelessness and effective work on behalf of the establishment of the airmail service."

Praeger, born at Victoria in February, 1871, was second assistant postmaster general under postmaster general Albert S. Burleson when the airmail service was established. The former postoffice official, now residing at San Diego, Cal., is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herman Praeger, pioneer residents of Victoria. His father was a hardware merchant here and engaged in the same business at San Antonio when the son was 10.

Before his appointment to the postoffice department, Otto Praeger had served one year as postmaster at Washington, D. C. Previously he had been Washington correspondent for the Dallas News and other Texas newspapers. Before going to Washington he was a reporter for the San Antonio Express and known as the champion long distance bicyclist of America.

After seven years in the service of the government, Praeger resigned to become operating executive of a commercial air transportation service between New York and Chicago. Subsequently he went to Bangkok, Siam, as postal adviser to the Siamese government, remaining in that country six years. He next served three years on the United States Maritime Commission.

Mrs. Praeger is a member of the Holden family of Holdenville, Okla. Postoffices are authorized to use a special cachet during airmail week. The cachet designed for Victoria includes a portrait of Praeger beneath the words: "A native Victorian started it."

Terraced Fields Are Proven to Be Best

AUSTIN (P).—Reports of crop yields last year by the Federal Soil Conservation service showing terraced fields produced from a third to a fourth more cotton and an increase of between 150 and 200 pounds of grain sorghums to the acre, have persuaded many farmers to adopt moisture conservation practices.

"Farmers are coming to realize water conserved by terraces and contour tillage may mean the difference between success and failure of crops in dry years and brings increased yields in years of good moisture," said J. T. Reese, superintendent of the demonstration camp in the Memphis, Texas area.

The engineer reports more than 900 miles of terraces have been constructed to conserve moisture on more than 15,000 acres in the area.

He points out when rain comes, water will be held on the treated fields by these structures and will seep into the soil to become available for crop use instead of running off and causing erosion.

Grand Circuit To Offer Five All-Age Races

GOSHEN, N. Y. (UP).—Five new events for all-age trotters, with former winners of the Hambletonian and runners-up in it candidates for honors, as well as other good performers, have been named in stakes to be inaugurated on the 1933 Grand Circuit for $3,000 each.

Greyhound, victor at Goshen in 1935; Rosalind, Hambletonian winner, 1936; Farr, second last year, and Hollywood Audrey, fourth in 1937, are some of the entries that the five aged trots have drawn. Four horses with marks of 2 minutes or better are eligible to each stake, with 12 horses in four of the events and 11 in the fifth.

The new all-age trotting stakes are the Trotting Derby, the Championship Stallion Stake, the Matron Stake, the American, and National stakes.

The Trotting Derby will be raced at Good Time Park, Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 8-13. The American and National all-aged trots will be run at the Agawam, Mass., Grand Circuit meeting July 27-Aug. 6. The Championship Stallion and Matron stakes have yet to be awarded to tracks.

Horsemen characterize the new stakes as the most far-reaching forward step taken by the sport in favor of its aged horses in 25 years.

Transparent Covers.

Food that need not be kept in the ice box will stay fresh and moist longer if kept covered. Light, transparent covers of a glass-like composition with chrome bands and handles are good-looking, come in various sizes and protect food from dust and flies.

The Town Quack

Clarence Scharbauer, his brother-in-law Frank Cowden, Frank's brother-in-law George Glass and George's brother-in-law O. B. Holt.

If you are any sort of a sportsman, don't miss the polo games Sunday and Monday afternoons at Midland Fair field. The New Mexico Military Institute team will collide with a picked team of star players to represent Midland. My wager would go for the Institute.

John Casselman's ferret, over at the Wes-Tex Food Market, goes under one floor and out through another, as Mrs. Inman, at the nearby jewelry store, will testify. Police Chief Andy Norwood held the varmint at bay with a broom while others summoned John to recapture his new pet.

Every man of the Fort Worth delegation knew those boy ropers of ours who met them at the train yesterday. "Here are our boys," they would remark as they got off the train. Roy Parks was the papa of that stunt, having those boys appear at the stock show, and it was one of the best features to advertise Midland that we've had in years.

Streptococci Races Clocked.
ROCHESTER, Minn. (UP).—Scientists clocked streptococci in races five-hundredths of an inch in length in a Mayo clinic laboratory here. To the scientists the winners do not matter because it is the losers that are the stronger agents in aggravating the common cold.

Grasshopper Eggs Object of Tests
DALHART, Texas (P).—Frank Stubbs, Dallam county agent, is endeavoring to determine with a test jar how soon a batch of grasshopper eggs hatch after the ground becomes warm in the spring.

Stubbs placed the eggs, along with the earth in which they were laid, in a test jar in his office April 1. Stubbs believes the time required for the eggs to hatch in the earth of his office will indicate the approximate time required for hatching in the field.

"This information will be valuable," he said, "because it will show the time to begin an intensive search for breeding grounds."
The eggs are from the long-winged, migratory type of hoppers that must be poisoned fairly young, because after they take to the air effective control becomes almost impossible, Stubbs said.

Irritated Yegg Somewhere.
FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP).—A hard-working burglar who took $45 from a dry goods store safe after knocking off two knobs probably would like to have his head examined. The cracksman laboriously broke a skylight in the store, lowered himself and chiseled off the two heavy knobs. Then he took the $45, but overlooked $650 in the safe.

Razor Blades, 270 Kinds, Put In Hobby Bag

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP).—A year or so ago Robert B. Bennett, a chemical engineer with a Ph.D. from Purdue university, started to find a satisfactory razor blade.

In a short time he had several different brands on hand. Today he has 275 different kinds—all neatly filed in their boxes. It's his hobby. He has bought them here and in nearly every cross-roads settlement at which he stopped during a vacation trip through Michigan and Wisconsin.

He buys a complete package of each different kind, leaves one blade in the box and puts the others in his shaving kit. He says he has gotten everything from half a shave to 30 shaves from a single blade.

Bennett has one other hobby which he started just recently—collecting elements. Of the 92 known elements he has 40 including mercury, neon gas, boron (which he isolated from boric acid), selenium and tellurium.

When natty young men in peg-top pants were setting the country on its ear with the ferocious words of that new hit—"Tiger Rag"—the name SOUTHERN SELECT even then, stood for the South's choicest beer. Through three generations that reputation has stood . . . time has but mellowed the goodness of this fine brew. Today—when Southerners think of good beer—their first thought turns naturally to SOUTHERN SELECT. It must be good to have pleased so many people. If you haven't tried it you're missing one of nature's glorious treats.

In Texas—it's

TO THE LADIES:
As a compliment to the men of the house keep some SOUTHERN SELECT on ice for that "late evening" thirst or to serve with meals. P. S. Meals taste lots better served with SOUTHERN SELECT, too.

Keltner Declared Best on Third Base Since Traynor

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service.
CLEVELAND.—Perhaps it's true, Cleveland may have the goofiest baseball reporters in the land, and an outfit that has reached daffier heights than any club that ever represented Brooklyn.

Learned baseball men with the New York Giants, who accompanied the Indians north, tell me that the current edition is a typical Cuyahoga county outfit.

"They'll hit in a hundred runs, and kick in a hundred," they smile.

I am inclined to believe that the Tribe is as drunk with power in their own way as are Mussolini and Hitler. The difference is that in Italy and Germany the head men will make deals. When the Redskins shoved off for New Orleans, everybody but those in charge knew that the array needed a second baseman. Yet here they are starting the championship campaign without one, when they could have landed Eric Mc-

Nair of the Boston Red Sox for a veteran pitcher who seldom, if ever, has beaten the Yankees.

The PAYOFF

BY JESS RODGERS.
Well, the Cardinals CAN hit. Anyone who saw them wallop Larrupin' Lopey Lopez' Tejanos yesterday afternoon will have to admit that. Of course, the opposition wasn't anything to speak of, but some of the Cardinals did show they knew what a bat was for.

It is doubtful if there is anyone in town who knows what the final score was yesterday. Call it 25-3 in favor of the Cards and you won't miss it far. The Mexicans looked even worse than the Cards did against the Hollywood bunch.

The Cards should get a much stiffer test this afternoon when they tangle with the Iraah club of the Permian Basin League. The Pecos county team has a lot of old-timers on the squad and will probably give the Cardinals another lesson. The Iraah team has already engaged in several games this year and is far ahead of the Cardinals in condition.

Manager Withers already has a pretty definite idea of what boys he will keep for the season and for the benefit of Eddie Dyer, St. Louis Cardinal scout here looking over the surplus talent, will probably play the boys today that he is not going to hold over here.

Dyer is likely to find very little in the assortment that he will consider placing with another club. Outside of a half-dozen players in camp, the talent is very mediocre. And Dyer will not be interested in any players who do not appear to have a chance to go on up the baseball ladder. In fact, Withers will probably keep two or three for the team here that Dyer would not class as major league prospects, but they will be of help to the club here and that is what is wanted this year.

Ayres Dosdoorian, the second baseman secured by Withers in the Sacramento school, played three innings of the game yesterday. He snared everything that came his way on second and hit the ball plenty hard at the plate. But his hitting cannot be judged by what he did yesterday. Even we could have got one safety off Chino's dinky curve. However, Dosdoorian stands up to the plate and takes a smooth cut that indicates he knows what it is all about.

There is a rather funny story connected with the securing of Dosdoorian. Both Withers and Bill Delancey, manager of the Albuquerque team, took a "shine" to the Armenian in the baseball school and put in a claim for him. After listening to both managers bicker backward and forward, Sacramento officials told them to flip a coin for him. They did—and Withers won.

Four other players arrived last night and will see action in the Saturday and Sunday games with Crane.

Both games will be held at Cily Park. The Saturday game was originally scheduled for Crane but the Gulf team didn't get their lights in and transferred the game here.

Remember: The game Saturday starts at 4 p. m.; the Sunday game at 3 p. m.

Players arriving last night from California were Frank Nelson and Henry Proschauer, pitchers, Albert Larreu, third baseman and Ellsworth Snylar, first baseman. A catcher, Don Ballinger, will probably arrive within the next few days. He has been showing so much form with Sacramento that the coast team wants to keep him but Withers is demanding they live up to their promise and send him here.

Eddie Dyer tells us that if the local club appears to need help during the first three or four weeks of the season that it will be forthcoming. Clubs of higher classification in the Cardinal chain will be cutting down and the men will have to be placed somewhere. He says that if Bud Brewer does not stick with Sacramento and Jack Nook falls to hold up at Jacksonville there is a chance for Midland to get both.

We wish both all the luck in the world in being able to stick, but if they can't local baseball fans sure would like to see them back here again this year.

A RING—BUT NOT FROM RUPPERT

Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankees' star outfielder, and the season's number one holdout, stretches lazily as a clamoring alarm clock, set for 7 a. m., starts him on another day in San Francisco. The young Italian batting star seems quite unperturbed over the fact that he and Col. Jacob Ruppert have been unable to get together on salary differences. Even though this makes the third, straight season that DiMag' has not appeared on opening day with the Broadway Bombers.

Capt. John Santos and B. B. Brooks, veteran commercial fishermen who will operate the fleet, said they planned to erect a cannery here as soon as the volume of catch justified the development.

To Drive Donkey Team 2,000 Miles

EDINBURG, (AP).—L. V. Brown, resident of Edinburg three years and for 22 years a clown in a circus, started recently for Greeley, Col., driving a team of four donkeys hitched to an old-time covered wagon. One of the animals is a performing donkey Brown used in his circus act.

He expects to average 20 miles a day and finish the journey July 4, when he is scheduled to appear in a rodeo at the Greeley Fourth of July celebration. His route across Texas is by way of San Antonio, Fredericksburg and Amarillo.

Teacher Traynor.
Difference between Weaver and Traynor and Groh and Ott is the former pair made look ridiculously easy what the latter duo made appear tough. Weaver and Traynor would contribute more toward breaking up a batting rally early in their first long step than Groh and Ott could possibly hope to do in a week.

The art of playing third base passed out with Traynor, but I have an idea that Keltner will bring it back. His long range hitting will give him the opportunity. And he has the equipment.

Good ball players are scarce nowadays, but I have an idea that we have an old school type player in Kenny Keltner.
