CHARLEY LOCKHART

State Treasurer Spends Night Here

Charley Lockhart, state treasurer, spent the night Thursday in Midland visiting friends.

Mr. Lockhart recently paid his filing fee and made the formal announcement that he would be a candidate for re-election to the office he now holds.

In making his announcement, Mr. Lockhart said, "I am not unaware of the fact that the electorate of the state has been kind in placing me in charge of their finances. During all the time that I have been serving the public, I have never lost sight of the fact that a public officer is a public trust."

Lockhart expressed his appreciation for the warm reception he has always received in this section of the state. This was his first visit to Midland, and he expressed surprise at the progress and apparent progressiveness of the West Texas metropolis. He left for Lubbock today at noon, but said that if possible, he intends to return this summer for a longer stay in Midland.

Seven Soldiers Get West Point Offers

FORT SAM HOUSTON.—Opportunity for distinguished careers as army officers came today for seven enlisted men of the army of the United States who were notified they would be admitted to the corps of cadets at the United States military academy, West Point, New York, next July. This is a realization of their ambitions which has carried them through intensive study and hard preparation in their first military battle to win commissions from the ranks in a nationwide competition with similarly ambitious soldiers.

The seven selected are six regular army soldiers serving in Texas, and a noncommissioned officer of the Texas national guard.

The Texas national guardsman, Corporal Warren Joseph Lane of headquarters battery, 61st field artillery brigade, is a native of Texas and was born at Alamo Heights October 20, 1917. He was graduated from the Thomas Jefferson high school, San Antonio, in 1935, and has been a guardsman for the past two years. He lives at 106 Taylor street, San Antonio.

Four of the regular army soldiers selected are now stationed at Fort Sam Houston. They include Private First Class Thomas A. Norwood, company C, 23rd infantry, and Privates Robert A. Berman, Howard L. Burrell and Wilfred C. Ford, all of battery D, 15th field artillery. Privates Selmer Gustaves, of the air corps at Kelly field, and Carl W. Stapleton of the first cavalry division, Fort Bliss, Texas, complete the list of regulars.

The selection of another candidate for admission to the academy, Philip H. Riedel, Jr., son of Lieut. Col. Philip H. Riedel, V. C., of Fort Sam Houston, is also a possibility. Riedel has qualified for his appointment but his status has not been determined definitely and is contingent upon the availability of a vacancy in the group of candidates for a presidential appointment from the United States at large.

All of the successful candidates are graduates of the West Point preparatory school, conducted annually under regular army supervision at Camp Bullis, San Antonio, and from which 31 candidates were examined for West Point last March.

Analysis of the results of the examinations of the 31 candidates show that only 10 actually failed in the educational tests. The majority of the others who passed educationally and did not receive appointments, were unable to pass the strict physical tests. A few passed both the physical and educational tests but failed to qualify with sufficiently high averages to overcome higher grades made in the nationwide competitions.

Second Lieut. John K. Neff, 12th field artillery, of Fort Sam Houston, a graduate of the military academy in the class of 1936, was the

Work Relief Act Passed By House

Party Lines Again Refer to Repulse Republican Efforts

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP).—President Roosevelt expressed the hope today congress in the coming anti-monopoly study would cover methods of avoiding future depressions through avoidance of unwarmed inventories and unabsorbed high prices of some commodities.

He made the remark in denying the administration's original lending and spending program was a failure.

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP).—The house voted a $3,000,000,000 appropriation for President Roosevelt's lending-spending campaign against the depression last night, with the chamber's huge democratic majority strongly aligned behind the chief executive once more.

Shattered earlier in the session by the wage-hour issue and the re-organization bill, the party lines returned, to the delight of administration leaders, to repulse repeated efforts to amend or recommit the bill and finally to pass it, 329 to 70.

The measure, appropriating $1,250,000,000 for work relief, $965,000,000 for public works, $175,000,000 for the Farm Security administration, $75,000,000 for the National Youth administration, and lesser sums for administrative expenses and other purposes, goes next to the senate.

There, a coalition of republicans and conservative democrats is expected to oppose the measure, seeking to reduce the sums appropriated and to restrict the uses to which the money may be put.

The $3,000,000,000 in the bill is an integral part of the program of $4,500,000,000 in loans and expenditures which President Roosevelt proposed several weeks ago as means of increasing general purchasing power. The remaining $1,500,000,000 was provided in previous legislation for highway building for CCC camps and for loans by the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Only twice did the situation get out of the hands of the administration, and then on the question of broadening rather than restricting the scope of the bill. One successful amendment made farmers eligible for WPA work, whether or not registered on any state relief roll.

The other amendment was a proposal by Representative Rankin (D-Miss) to add to the bill $100,000,000 for rural electrification. Over the objection of the leadership, which wanted to limit the figure to $60,000,000, Rankin's proposal was approved 259 to 139.

Two major republican amendments were produced by Representative Taber (R-N.Y.), ranking minority member of the committee.

These, to turn the relief problem back to the states and to strike out a $965,000,000 appropriation for public works were beaten, 106 to 39 and 91 to 28.

China "Lifeline" Threatened by the Advance of Nippons

SHANGHAI, May 13. (AP).—A Japanese army spokesman predicted today the east-west Lunghai railroad, China's "lifeline" on the central front, would be cut before dawn. Japanese dumped tons of explosives in an effort to speed the advance of their troops.

SHANGHAI, May 13. (AP).—Japanese armies closed in today in a gigantic pincher movement that directly threatened Suchow, goal of their campaign, and China's hold on the vital central front.

Dozens of Japanese columns, supported by tanks, warplanes and big guns, hammered the Chinese defenders north and south of the Lunghai railroad, east-west "lifeline" that crosses the important north-south Peiping-Hankow railroad at Suchow.

Tangshan, a station on the Lunghai between Kweichow and Suchow, became the danger spot. Chinese acknowledged they had lost Yungcheng, about 30 miles south of Tangshan and 45 miles east of Kweichow, after a terrific Japanese bombardment, levelled their defenses.

Capture of Yungcheng, therefore, placed a Japanese force 30 miles south of the Lunghai and 50 miles in a direct line from Suchow. On the north, the deepest-penetrating Japanese column was only three miles from the Lunghai, threatening to sever it at Sinanchen, 65 miles east of Suchow.

200,000 Czechs Demonstrate for Democracy

Flags waved, bands played, and 200,000 Czech citizens sardined themselves into Prague's main street, as seen above, to pledge support of their present democratic government. The demonstration was a protest against the pro-Nazi aims of Konrad Henlein, who has demanded the right to create "a state within a state" with his Sudeten-German minority group.

Atlantic 1 Texaco-University Tops Anhydrite at 1,455 Feet

By FRANK GARDNER.

Topping of anhydrite at 1,455 feet, a datum of plus 1,834, by Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 Texaco-University, southwestern Andrews wildcat, provided most interesting oil development of the day. The marker was reported to check three feet low to Grisham-Hunter No. 1 R. B. Cowden, small producer three and a half miles to the south, in northwest Ector. Atlantic's test is 684 feet from the north, 679 feet from the east line of section 26, block 11, University survey, over five miles north of the Goldsmith field. Interest in the area has run high since three core tests drilled to the surface by a major company, found strong gas flows in the Yates sand. One of the tests is said to have gone to 4,224 feet.

Five miles west of the Fuhrman pool in Andrews, H. S. Forgeron No. 1 Lockhart & Brown this morning had balled down drilling fluid 3,000 feet from the top on open-hole test. It was showing a little free oil on baller. Total depth is 4,483 feet in lime. Operator said that he would not test other than by balling at this point but would deepen to the expected main pay at around 4,600 feet. Last core taken was from 4,463-83, with recovery of 19 feet, 10 inches of fairly tight lime showing some bleeding. Core from 4,443-63 had shown recovery of 18 feet, six inches. Top three feet were porous lime, and rest of the core was sandy lime except for the bottom three feet, which were lime. Entire core bore strong odor of oil and gas. Well is 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 20, block A-41, public school land.

Three and a half miles to the northeast, Seaboard No. 1 Thornberry has been temporarily abandoned at 4,767 feet. It showed no oil or gas and had also failed to encounter water, lack of porosity in the lime probably being responsible, since it is well below the water horizon of the Fuhrman pool. Location is the center of the northeast quarter of section 8, block A-41, Eastland Cores saturation.

Interest in Eastland Oil Company No. 1 P. C. Dunbar, in southwest corner of Gaines, was revived when it showed oil saturation in cores from 4,492-95 and from 4,500-03. Core had been taken from 4,492 to 4,508 and was fully recovered. The test is drilling ahead below 4,550 in lime. Leaky casing seat had delayed drilling of plugs from 7-inch casing seat at 4,280, forcing several cement jobs. The well had shown porosity and saturation at intervals over the last 100 feet in drilling to 4,483, bottom of the hole when pipe was set. Nine feet of new hole were made before core was taken. Location is 2,310 feet from the south, 330 feet from the west line of section 24, block A-12, public school land.

Flinley & Cherry and Sawyer Drilling Company No. 1 Paul W. Dalmonth, in southern Gaines four and a half miles northwest of Landreth No. 1 KIRK, small producer, is preparing to plug and abandon. Six feet of core recovered from 4,903-23, the total depth, showed sulphur water. The well had been shot with 280 quarts while bottomed at 4,783 but swabbed only sulphur water after the shot. It is 1,980 feet from the north, 860 feet from the west line of section 6, block A-21, public school land.

Three miles to the southeast, Landreth No. 1 Dalmonth is drilling unchanged at 4,817 feet in lime.

J. L. Frick and Osage Drilling Company No. 1 Atlantic-T. S. Riley, central Gaines wildcat four miles northwest of the Seminole pool, is drilling at 4,720 feet in lime. Steel line measurement had corrected 4,670 to equal 4,680 feet.

Webb Shot, Clearing.

Magnolia No. 1 J. D. Webb, central Yoakum wildcat two miles southwest of Plains, is cleaning out after shot with 285 quarts from 5,304-80, the top of cement plug.

Helmreich & Payne, Inc. and Conoco No. 1 Ohio-Lloyd Dowell, indicated mile and a half west extension to the Denver pool of southwestern Yoakum, is fishing for two strings of tools. Second string was lost while drilling by first set. Total depth is 4,955 in lime. The well is making 8 barrels of oil per day with about six million cubic feet of gas.

Humble No. 2 Lynn, in the Denver field, flowed 305 barrels of oil the first 20 hours of potential test, bottomed at 5,100, after acidizing.

Gulf No. 1 Mallett, two-mile southwest outpost to the Slaughter pool in southwest Hockley, pumped 31 barrels of oil and 111 barrels of water on 24-hour test. It is bottomed at 5,040 feet, plugged back from 5,125.

In southeast Cochran, Texaco No. 1 Mallett is plugging back from 5,122 to 5,068 to shut off bottom-hole water. Honolulu No. 1-91 Dean, three miles northwest of the Dugan pool is drilling at 4,515 in lime.

Gulf States No. 1 Gulf-Graham, in northeast Yoakum, is coring at 5,274 in lime. No shows have been logged.

Gulf No. 1 Swenson, in northeast Garza, is drilling lime at 4,808 feet.

McKee In Dolomite.

Magnolia No. 1-A McKee, in northern Pecos' Imperia area, is drilling at 6,048 feet in tan dolomite. First tan dolomite was logged from 6,032-34. The well is not yet in the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician.

In western Crane, Gulf No. 8 Waddell, deep test, is drilling at 4,284 in lime, while Gulf No. 4 McKnight, also a deep try, had reached 1,513 in anhydrite.

Magnolia No. 3-46 Sealey, northern Ward test, flowed 447.79 barrels through open 2-inch tubing on 24-hour potential test, bottomed at 2,858. It topped pay at 2,742 and was shot with 210 quarts.

Texaco No. 1 Wilkinson, in southern Howard is making two balers of water hourly and an estimated two barrels of oil per day while cleaning out at 3,240. It has been shot.

Crockett Well Gauged.

Choate & Hogan No. 1-I University pumped 41 barrels of oil per day on test made after acidizing with 2,500 gallons at 1,573 feet. It is 1,980 feet south of their No. 1-K University, 104-barrels discovery pumper in the new northwest Crockett pool.

Choate & Hogan No. 1-J University was on test after treating with 2,000 gallons at 1,860 feet. It is a mile and a half south and slightly east of the discovery.

The public is invited to attend the evening performance.

Wallace Declares Justice Hughes Switched Opinion

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP).—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace made public last night an unprecedented letter to Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes telling him, in effect, that he had switched his opinion on an important point of legal procedure.

Earlier in the day, Hughes had made a speech in which, besides criticizing unnamed judges as unqualified, he called on administrative agencies of the government to display judicial "impartiality and independence." Though he did not mention Wallace's department, his listeners were reminded of a supreme court decision April 25 invalidating a Wallace order reducing rates charged by commission men in the Kansas City livestock market.

The order was invalidated on the ground the commission men were not given opportunity to rebut findings of fact made by an examiner of the agriculture department.

Wallace, in addition to a position taken two years ago, sent a letter to senators saying the effect of the supreme court decision was to give "The Kansas City commission men and their attorneys $700,000 of impounded money which rightfully belongs to the farmers."

Wallace said that in the case in question the findings were not thrown open to rebuttal, but he contended that he inherited the case from the Hoover administration, and that 20 months ago he established the practice of permitting such rebuttals.

Hughes, in his speech earlier in the day to the American-law institute, had devoted much time to a discussion of proper procedure by administrative agencies.

In another portion of the speech dealing with judges, he praised the bench in general, but said some judges do harm because of their "spontaneous ineptness."

He said "the maintenance of the standards of judicial office rests primarily with the electorate, where judges were elected, and with the appointing power, where they are appointed, and in both relations a vigilant bar through its organized efforts to secure good judges should exercise, and should constantly seek to exercise, a potent influence."

Besides his remarks on judges, Hughes also said that government administrative agencies must function with judicial "impartiality and independence" if they are to prove successful.

Credit Given China by Two Big Powers

Arrangements Made To Get Munitions Into the Country

GENEVA, May 13. (AP).—Chinese sources said today China had obtained from the League of Nations powers, particularly Britain and France, agreements for credits for the purchase of arms and also assurance of aid in getting arms into China.

Dr. Wellington Koo, China's delegate to the league council, was said to have obtained the agreements in behind the scenes negotiations. The arrangements were kept secret.

Ailing Haile Selassie, once Conquering Lion of Judah, fought futilely before the League of Nations council yesterday to save Ethiopia from being recognized as Italian.

Great Britain and France won freedom for league states to acknowledge formally the fruits of Italy's 1935-36 war despite the exiled emperor's dramatic appearance. There was no vote—merely a series of declarations by council members.

With the majority of delegates declaring their nations in favor of freedom to recognize Ethiopia as Italian, the bearded emperor's cause was lost.

He sat with his head bent low and his eyes closed as his representative, Ato Lawrence Taezaz, read his statement at a morning session.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in this article are those of Mr. Dutcher, NEA-Reporter-Telegram Washington correspondent, and are not to be construed as expressing the editorial policy of The Reporter-Telegram.

WASHINGTON, May 13. — Holly-wood has beckoned to white-haired, tough-jawed William H. Moran, who was 54 years a government sleuth and spent the last 18 of them as chief of the U. S. Secret Service.

And Moran has answered the call. When he quit two years ago he commented tartly on the meagerness of government salaries and retirement pay—and perhaps few had a better right, considering the millions of dollars of counterfeit money Moran had kept out of circulation. Just what the big movie concern which has hired Moran in "an advisory capacity" wants him to do is not known here. But presumably he will have to be less tight-lipped than he always has been in Washington. Newspaper men never learned anything from Moran. He always tried to keep himself out of the newspapers and, although he could use the money, has refused to write memoirs.

He has let it be understood that he wanted to be known merely as: William H. Moran, Presbyterian deacon and bass choir singer.

Green's Face Red. ANYONE could get much amusement from looking back at the old records of the A. F. of L. and finding all the sweet things William Green and John L. Lewis used to say about each other. Green was a member of the United Mine Workers and it was Lewis support which won him the A. F. of L. presidency, so it was natural that much flowery language should be exchanged in public before the time Lewis formed the C. I. O. No one bothers to exhume those compliments.

Up in Pennsylvania, however, politicians seeking to obtain the Democratic nomination of Lieut.-Governor Tom Kennedy for governor are using an endorsement of Kennedy by Green which rings strangely in all ears. Kennedy is in the Pennsylvania race because Lewis insisted that the Democratic politicians nominate him and Green has organized a group of A. F. of L. leaders into a group to oppose Kennedy. "You honored yourselves when you elected our friend, our colleague, our fellow trade unionist, Thomas Kennedy, as lieutenant-governor of this state," Green told the Pennsylvania state federation of labor about three years ago. "And I hope that he will go further. I hope that the people of this state, the great mass of the people and all of their friends, will honor him by electing him to a still higher position, and it would be a wonderful thing if some time we go into the chief executive's office in the capitol and say, 'How do you do, Governor Kennedy." But in Green's mind today the election of Kennedy as governor would be a symbol of new prestige and power for Lewis and the C. I. O.

Mrs. Black and the Navy. MRS. HUGO BLACK, handsome and popular wife of the Supreme Court justice, was a war-time yeomanette in the Naval Intelligence Service. She joined up at the age of 18.

She recalls how she reported to the Brooklyn Naval Hospital for a physical examination and how a trained nurse turned the library into a temporary examining room. After it was over she found that her clothes had fallen down behind a heavy bookcase where she had placed them. Wrapped in white sheeting, she called on the Navy for help.

"When at last I recovered what belonged to me I left a perspiring, wilted group of men," she reported in the Junior League Magazine. "They had removed hundreds of heavy medical journals, and take each section down one by one, and as I left I could almost hear their prayer: 'Oh, Lord, keep this a man's navy!'"

After that the now Mrs. Black was kept busy looking up addresses on suspicious cablegrams that came to the Navy's attention.

The children of the President have always called his mother "grand mere," after the French. But Buzzie and Sistine Dall, speaking to or of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, use the plain American "grandpa" and "grandma."

Year's Search Clewless for Missing Co-Ed CLEVELAND, (U.P.) — Slightly more than a year ago, some time between 11:15 p. m., May 4, 1937, and the morning of May 5, Ruth Baumgardner, Ohio Wesleyan University co-ed from suburban Lakewood, O., walked out of her college dormitory—either by her own free will or by coercion. She has not been heard from since.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baumgardner, still retain the William J. Burns detective agency to direct the search for their daughter.

Dozens of leads to the girl's whereabouts have poured into the detective agency and into the parents' home ever since Miss Baumgardner was found missing. Many of them were followed up without success. For a time, Mr. and Mrs. Baumgardner posted a $500 reward for information leading to the finding of their daughter—but to no avail.

Had Little Money. The meager facts known about the co-ed's disappearance are these: She last was seen attired in pajamas and a lounging robe near her dormitory rooms, in Delaware, O. Next morning she had vanished. She left behind all her possessions except a brown suit, hat, pair of shoes and a pocketbook presumably containing only $3 or $4.

One of the best substantiated clews was one which developed shortly after Miss Baumgardner was discovered missing. Two women reported that they had seen a girl, answering to the description of the co-ed, hitch-hiking in Zanesville, O., shortly before noon the day of her disappearance was noted.

The girl hitch-hiker was accompanied by a boy, Gaston Stickleler, Cleveland manager of the Burns Detective Agency, attached importance to this clew because the two women noted the hitch-hikers before they knew that Miss Baumgardner was missing.

The widespread publicity of the case has brought many letters, telegrams, phone calls, and purported clews from "cranks." A sensational development in the case last December has not yet been proved in this category—neither has it been proved otherwise.

Prisoner's Story Defied. A prisoner in the Belmont county jail at St. Clairsville, O., told authorities that his cellmate and three other Pittsburgers had abducted Miss Baumgardner from Delaware.

They believed, apparently, that she might be ransomed. The cellmate and racketeers, however, subsequently were indicted for the slaying of a state patrolman. An exhaustive investigation failed to produce any evidence that the four men were connected with Miss Baumgardner's disappearance.

Pump Invented By Archimedes Is Modernized

AMES, Ia. (U.P.) — The Greeks had a machine for it, too, but Walter Rollman, graduate engineering assistant at Iowa State College, found it could be improved.

Searching for a pump that chemicals would not corrode, Rollman hit upon "Archimedes screw," a device without valves invented by the ancient Greek to lift water from one level to another.

As Archimedes invented it, the device was a spiral pipe that dipped into the water and when it turned over and over the water came out the other end.

But the machine had its shortcomings. When the water entered the pipe, there was so much back-suction that it took more of Archimedes' slaves to turn up a gallon of water than it required to run up and down hill in a bucket brigade.

Rollman figured that the back suction was caused by air pressure. He eliminated it by inserting tubes into the spiral just below the water line.

Thus the pressure is relieved and when the pipes go round and round, water flows freely.

Rattlesnake Bill Collins, who is trying to bring in a rattlesnake for Marlon Flynn to enter in McCamey's snake derby, says he is surprised that nobody has tried to win the $1 prize for furnishing the fastest snake. He adds that he wouldn't attempt to capture a rattlesnake himself for ten dollars.

Karl Crowley, Texas gubernatorial candidate, has asked an investigation of an alleged "radio monopoly" in Texas because he was asked to submit a copy of his manuscript for examination by a station's attorneys for censorship and revision.

If he gets the stations investigated for that, he might as well start investigating newspapers too. We had the pleasure not long ago of leaving out most of a candidate's announcement speech, due to the fact that what he said about the present office holder sounded libelous, slanderous, vicious and malicious. A radio station should have the privilege of cutting such copy also.

Everybody who ever swung a golf club, they tell me, wants a chance at a trophy now and then. Well, the open city tournament is about to come off, and you don't have to own stock, pay dues or owe money to the country club to get in on it. And still Mr. and Mrs. Baumgardner retain hope that their daughter is alive and that some day they will have her with them again.

STORIES IN STAMPS

EGYPT'S TENSION LESSENS

TWO years ago a tense Egypt mapped extensive border fortifications in the face of rising international discontent and Italian arming in neighboring Libya. Mersa Matruh, which became a large military post during the Anglo-Italian tension in the Mediterranean over the Ethiopian War, was re-fortified, special anti-aircraft batteries were laid out for the Nile valley, and Alexandria was placed under the constant guard of the powerful British fleet.

But now the barbed-wire barriers which were laid in the country of the Pharaohs do not loom as significant since Great Britain and Italy have reached a "treaty of friendship." For under this treaty Italy has agreed to reduce her Libyan garrison 50 per cent, thus lessening the tension of Egypt.

The British air force in turn has been sharply reduced along the 550-mile parched border. Peace seems to have come once more to the land of oases. A current Egyptian stamp, showing an airplane in flight over the ancient Pyramids, is shown here.

Canadian Yukon Faces Changes

OTTAWA, (U.P.) — A "bigger British Columbia" movement was furthered here at the recent sitting of the Rowell Commission, appointed to consider provincial affairs in their relationship to the dominion.

British Columbia under the tentative proposal, would absorb the entire Yukon territory, rich in natural resources. A year ago, the government agreed to the proposal with exception of one reservation, in respect to a Federal grant.

Terms advanced by the province of British Columbia were: 1. That the Yukon be absorbed, but that the Federal government retain functions of the postoffice, national revenue, Indians, justice, and similar Federal departments. 2. That the Federal government pay British Columbia $100,000 for three to five years, with a readjustment to be forthcoming in future years.

3. That reservation for the British Columbia Indians in the area should be mutually financed. 4. That delimitation of the boundary between the Yukon and the Northwest Territories be mutually agreed upon.

5. That settlement of other influencing problems be mutually agreed upon. The proposition was acceptable to the government, exclusive of the $100,000 allocation for an indefinite number of years. The Federal government was acceptable to increasing the subsidy if British Columbia would agree to a definite five-year term. The five-year subsidy of $125,000 was suggested. The province accepted the proposal and the stage was set for completing the proposal, but Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia decided the question should be held in abeyance pending the findings of the Rowell Commission.

Pattullo proposed to take in the MacKenzie Basin as well as the Yukon. This would give British Columbia an eastern boundary stretching along the 120th meridian to Amundsen Gulf on Beaufort Sea, encompassing the entire MacKenzie area north of Fort Simpson. Cutting through the Great Bear Lake district, the boundary would just miss the Eldorado radium mines, located at 118 degrees east of the 120th meridian.

Westside Club Sees Demonstration of Fruit Use in Menu

Westside home demonstration club met in regular session Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. C. Carden for the purpose of demonstrating the uses and value of dried fruits in the menu.

Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth made the first of a series of demonstrations on fruit cooking by using dried fruits, prunes and raisins in a party sandwich loaf.

The demonstration was followed by the regular business session and ten-minute recreation period led by Mrs. Carden and Mrs. W. A. Conn.

Mrs. Hollingsworth also made a talk on fruit cooking, emphasizing the value of dried fruit in the everyday menu because of its nutritious value and economy.

The party sandwich loaf and upside-down cake were served to the following: Mmes. J. L. Hundle, W. A. Conn, H. S. Whitnir, L. M. Hallman, H. Smith, J. A. Mead, S. L. Alexander, Hollingsworth, R. E. Ward, and the hostess and two club visitors, Mrs. A. C. Francis and Mrs. M. H. Carden.

The recipe as given by Mrs. Hollingsworth follows:

Party Sandwich Loaf.
Cut crusts off sandwich loaf. Slice it lengthwise into three slices 1/2-inch thick.
Spread the first slice with butter and 1/2 cup raisins and 1/4 cup nuts which have been run through food chopper (use finest knife). Spread the second slice with 1/4 cup peanut butter and 1/2 cup prune pulp. Ice with cream cheese and serve on platter with lettuce or parsley finish. (Use only two-thirds length of loaf).

Variations: The prune and peanut spread is especially adapted to the pinwheel sandwich. Cut lengthwise slice of loaf 1/4-inch thick. Let stand in damp cloth 20 minutes. Spread and roll. Slice and arrange on plate.

Designers Do Stout Work In Dressing Mature Figures

(From Lord and Taylor, New York)

Interesting and new, these smart summer dresses for mature figures combine youthfulness and dignity. Both are priced for moderate budgets. The monotone print ensemble, left, in navy with white dots or wine with white, includes a trim dress with square neckline that can be worn low or high, and a full-length silk coat—short sleeved and beautifully fitted through the waistline. The washable navy sheer outfit, right, consists of a tailored dress with pleated bosom and crystal buttons and a long-sleeved, boxy jacket.

BY MARIAN YOUNG, NEA Service Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK.—The excellent results of one of the very best jobs done by Paris and American designers within the past few years shine in the "mature figure" departments these days. Clothes of all types seem to get better for mother, and younger matrons, too, seem to have reached the peak of perfection this year.

No longer does a manufacturer pick a size 14 model from the rack and then make it in sizes up to 44. If he handles dresses for mature figures at all the chances are ten to one that some good designer created each one of them with a mature figure definitely in mind. And modern buyers in retail stores now are anxious to have their large size customers and those with "figure problems" walk out in clothes which make them feel as smart as their daughters do in slim little tennis dresses.

For the woman who expects to spend much of the summer in the city, navy and black sheers and prints are featured for daytime. If she has large upper arms, she avoids anything without sleeves like a plain, short sleeved and beautifully fitted through the waistline. The washable navy sheer outfit, right, consists of a tailored dress with pleated bosom and crystal buttons and a long-sleeved, boxy jacket.

Jacket outfits with dark sheer frocks and matching jackets or dark dresses and white linen or pique jackets, are other favorites for town. The former types are practical no end, and the latter, in spite of the fact that a white jacket isn't easy to keep clean are cool-looking and comfortable and contribute much toward that crisp look everyone strives for from June to September.

At that, it may be about as definite an explanation as can well be given of an emotion that varies with each of the billion or so people who feel it.

We've always known we preferred eating ice cream to drinking milk but we never hoped to get scientific support for our preference.

Now Dr. T. A. McCormick, Kentucky's state health officer takes up the cudgels in behalf of the icy sweet.

"One serving," declares the doctor, in praising ice cream "gives an energy value more than 10 per cent greater than that of a cup of whole milk."

Friendly Builders Class Has Monthly Social Thursday

Friendly Builders class of the Methodist church held its monthly social at the home of Mrs. Chas. Pepper at the Gulf Tank Farm Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Frank Prothro and Mrs. N. G. Oates as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Walter Beauchamp, class president, presided at the business meeting during which 6 visits and several trays and gifts of flowers were reported.

Mrs. J. L. Tidwell brought the devotional, using as her selection from the Scriptures, Mark 8:35-37.

Three visitors were present. They were Mmes. W. E. Hogsett, Joe Howze, F. E. Withers.

Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon's program to the guests and the following class members: Mmes. C. E. Nolan, Frank Nixon, A. B. Stickey, D. E. Holster, E. J. Voliva, J. L. Tidwell, W. C. Hinds, Jess Barber, Fred Barber, A. W. Lester, Everett Kiebold, Bill Wyches, Roy McKee, and the three hostesses.

Pockets are no longer content to be overlooked on midly's costumes, whether for day, night, or sport wear. Tailored satin night gowns are equipped with four pockets, two cleverly placed on either side front of the waist. And by the way, these night gowns do not confine themselves to the traditional white or the pastel shades. They go in for dark, lively blues and rich reds.

Back to pockets—fashion writers tell us that in Europe beach togs are now being made with pockets on the knees.

We take it all back—the praises we've been giving modern dress designers for being ultra-practical in their ideas.

Pockets to be pockets, we say, be-long in at least approximately the traditional place on the costume.

For the we-est young ladies there are tiny suits of pique and dotted swiss with accompanying sunbonnets which are a delight to behold. These play suits are made with pleated shorts of the pique and scant sun-back bodices of the swiss, including windlike sleeve effects over the shoulders. In bright red, pink, or blue, they are sure to make most any toddler look like the cherub her mother fondly believes her to be.

Club Closes Year With Log Cabin Bridge-Luncheon

Entertaining the Modern Bridge club in its last meeting of the season, Mrs. M. P. Turner was hostess for a bridge-luncheon at the Log Cabin Thursday afternoon.

Table flowers were red verbenas while a color scheme of blue and yellow distinguished playing accessories.

Following the three-course luncheon, the afternoon hours were occupied with two tables of bridge. High score in play went to Mrs. Raleigh P. Coats and second high to Mrs. Dalas Dale.

Two guests were present, Mrs. K. Ratliff and Mrs. Coats.

Club members attending were: Mmes. R. S. Anderson, Dale, F. R. Schenck, Tom Roberts, Myri Manschreck, and the hostess.

Home Art Club Hears Papers Read By Three Members

Three papers were presented at the meeting of the Home Art club with Mrs. N. W. Bigham and Mrs. Max Engle hostesses at the home of the latter Thursday afternoon.

CARDINALS MEET CLOVIS PIONEERS HERE TONIGHT AT 8:15

'LEFTY' PARKS TO START ON MOUND FOR THE RED BIRDS

The Midland Cardinals, back home after a road trip of nine days, during which time they won three games and lost four, the final game scheduled in Lubbock was rained out yesterday, are now back home for the same length of time and will meet the Clovis Pioneers here tonight at 8:15. The clubs meet again tomorrow night at the same time and Sunday at 3 o'clock.

Manager Withers, instead of boasting a triple threat club is openly moaning that it is a "cripple" team. Lanky Cliff Neighbors, ace of the pitching staff, pulled a muscle in his side against Hobbs last week and had a recurrence of the accident against Lubbock and is apt to be out for quite a spell. Catcher Del Ballinger has both an injured leg and injured foot that are greatly hampering his movements and big Jake Suytar, first baseman, had a shoulder knocked out of joint Wednesday. Suytar, however, is likely to start the game tonight.

"Lefty" Parks, the only portside hurler on the squad, will get the nod from manager Withers to open the game tonight. Parks, in his last out, against Hobbs, appeared to finally be getting into top shape. Although being defeated, Parks pitched one of the best games of any Cardinal hurler to date. On the mound for the Pioneers tonight will probably be Bill Duncan, fireball righthander well known in this area. Duncan formerly pitched for Odessa, Crane and McCamey.

The Pioneers right now are in bottom position in the standings, two and a half games behind the Cardinals, but have been strengthening their club and are due to have some more new men report to them here.

Local fans tonight will get their first look since last year at Larry Battle, new Cardinal shortstop. He played with Hobbs last year. Manager Withers also announced today that George Byrd, a third baseman, was enroute from Little Rock, Ark. to join the club and that Bennie Campbell, a left handed pitcher, was on his way here from Three Rivers, Mich., to join the club.

Dobie Declares All Colleges Should Not Be Exactly Alike

AUSTIN.—While it is right and proper that the requirements laid down by the Association of American Universities for classifying universities as "of the first class" be met, as has been done by the University of Texas, the compliance with these rules for standardization is not all that goes to make an educational institution of high rank, according to J. Frank Dobie, professor of English at the University, who in addition to being a writer of national note, is something of a nonconformist as to things in general. Dobie does not approve of making the universities all from the same pattern. He does not believe in measuring them by arithmetical standards in order to divide them into different classifications.

In a recent article which he wrote for the Alacide, published by the Ex-Students association of the University of Texas, Dobie expresses the opinion that there are other things relating to an institution of higher learning that should be considered in determining its standard than those that are purely physical. These things may not be tangible. They consist of its spirit, its humanity, its contribution to the art of living over the land from which it has sprung, the shadow of its rock upon a thirsty soil, its impulse on human lives passing through it, he said.

'Second Best' Rizzo Furnishes Bucs With Much-Needed-Right Hand Hitter

By JERRY BRONFIELD
NEA Service Sports Writer.

PITTSBURGH.—Up from the Columbus Red Birds of the American Association this year came two likable-looking young outfielders, each armed with a contract admitting them to the National League baseball wars—Enos Slaughter with the Cardinals and Johnny Rizzo with the Pirates.

Slaughter was judged a little better of the two, was hailed by A. A. observers as the prize package of the 1938 rookie crop.

Rizzo? Oh, he'd get along, they figured. After all, he'd hit 358 with Columbus—20 some points less than Slaughter—and he seemed to know what to do and when to do it, in the outfield.

And so John Costa Rizzo, a quiet Italian youth from Galveston, Tex., went to Pittsburgh's spring training camp labeled as "second best" of a couple of rookies stars.

Now that the 1938 campaign is well under way, civic-minded Pittsburghers have lapped the "second" off the label. And Pirate fans, unlike the Flatbush fanatics who follow the Brooklyn Dodgers, are right a good deal of the time.

Adds Balance to Attack.

Every pennant hope the Pirates entertain this year are based on this stocky-looking rookie. Pie Traynor has long contended he had too many left-handed hitters in his lineup. What he needed was a solid righthander who could tear the cover off the ball.

He found just what he was looking for in Rizzo. Arky Vaughan, Gus Suhr, the two Waners—southpaws all. Rizzo supplies the balance Traynor was seeking.

The Pirate manager points out a startling similarity to Ducky Medwick in the manner in which the young Italian stands up to the plate. Rizzo is six feet tall and scales 190 pounds, yet he looks stocky and somewhat squat. His hands are plenty big, his wrists and forearms powerful. No wonder he propels the ball for great distances.

He isn't expected to set a home run mark of any sort, but no one will be greatly surprised if he leads the league in triples, this season. Three-base blows are his specialty.

Yo Ho! And A Three-Base Hit!

AT LAST PIE TRAYNOR HAS FOUND A RIGHT-HANDED SLUGGER WHO FITS IN HIS GALAXY OF LEFT-HANDED STARS... JOHNNY RIZZO AS DISPLAYED BY HIS AVERAGES, HAS THE PUNCH TO CLEAN THE BASES LOADED WITH WANERS, VAUGHANS AND OTHER HITTERS.

and Traynor doesn't care if he never hits for the circuit.

"If he continues the pace he's been setting for the early weeks of this season we're going to be a ball club they'll have to worry about."

"Whether formally or informally planted, the grounds of the University of Texas should wave an blossom a kind of poem on the lovely landscapes of Texas. For instance, I wonder why retama trees, native to the land, which drop as gracefully as willows and bloom their golden flowers all summer long, cannot be planted against some of the glaring walls on the south and east sides of the main building."

Traynor maintains. "And I don't think Rizzo's is another case of a 'hot' start. He's got the eye, the rhythm, and the strength to keep hitting like this all year. And don't think for a moment he isn't helping out in the field."

The last is by way of an afterthought. Traynor doesn't want folks to regard Rizzo merely as a guy who knows how to swing a big stick. He's got the goods in the garden.

Toured the Country.

Rizzo broke into organized ball with Galveston in 1913, after starring in high school football, baseball and track. In his first season with the Texas club he batted .276, which was pretty good for a mere kid.

He served subsequent stretches with Hutchinson, Kan., and Bartlesville, Okla., before being sold to the Cincinnati Reds. Without getting a chance to play, however, he was sent to the Cards in a deal for Jim Bottomley. The chain gang farmed him to Elmira, later to Houston, and finally, in 1937, to Columbus.

Rizzo says the biggest difference between minor and major is he gets more good balls to hit at in the big show.

But National League pitchers are beginning to discover they'd better keep the good ones at a minimum when they face the Pirate star.

His base hits are ringing out like a register in a five-and-dime store. They're not five-and-dime hits, however.

Style Blended In Vieux Carre Old Buildings

NEW ORLEANS, (U.P.)—New Orleans' famous French and Spanish architecture is neither French nor Spanish—it's local.

So said Paul Philippe Cret, of Philadelphia, recently awarded the gold medal of the American Institute of Architects at their convention here.

In the opinion of Cret, a native of France, the famed old buildings of the city's Vieux Carre are a product of the evolution of Spanish and French culture.

"Some buildings have pure French architecture in the front main buildings and yet their patios are pure Spanish," Cret said.

Cret, professor for 35 years at the University of California, deplored the rapid demolition of the city's ancient buildings to make room for the new, and said Orleansians could do much to preserve their old landmarks. Many other cities have already completed the destruction and there is nothing there to preserve, he said.

Puny Boy, 15, Is Strong Man 3 Years Later

OMERVILLE, Mass. (U.P.)—Three years ago doctors advised John F. Roach to withdraw from high school because of poor health.

Roach, now 18, is acclaimed by physical culture experts as the strongest boy of his age in this country.

Determined to overcome his poor physical condition, Roach joined a Y. M. C. A. and took up boxing. He soon won a prize for his prowess. Then he joined a special weight-lifting class.

Soon he was champion strong man of the "Y", and last year represented it in the New England Y. M. C. A. tourney at Haverhill, where he broke three long standing records. Moreover, he scored the greatest number of points ever made by a 17-year-old boy.

Now rated as one of the strongest men in America, he hopes to improve sufficiently to represent the United States in weight-lifting in the 1940 Olympics at Japan.

Turning in a brilliant 4:10 mile on the anchor lap of the distance medley relay, Blaine Rideout is shown as he broke the tape to give North Texas State Teachers College a victory and new unofficial world record of 9:59.4 for the event at the Penn Relays.

Granite State To Modernize 1786 Basic Law

CONCORD, N. H. (U.P.)—New Hampshire's 12th state constitutional convention meets here today to consider changes in its 152-year-old constitution, which would permit a sales tax levy and reduce the membership of its house—largest in the nation.

Sponsored by Republican Governor Francis P. Murphy, the sales tax was the storm point of the 1937 (biennial) legislative session, longest on record. Though really, gasoline, liquor and racetrack levies still were climbing, the sales tax proposal was defeated and many legislators favored the graduated income tax proposal of former U. S. Representative Raymond B. Stevens of Landaff, recently chairman of the federal trade commission.

The 477 convention delegates, elected in a special election last March, also will consider a proposal to reduce the size of the house of representatives, now averaging from 440 to 460 members.

Needlecraft Club Members Engage in Home Building

Discussion of home building plans was an interesting feature of the meeting of the Needlecraft club with Mrs. Reuben Graham, 1903 W. Texas, Thursday afternoon.

Three members of the club, Mrs. A. W. Wyatt, Mrs. Welden Worden, and Mrs. Graham now have homes in the process of construction, the two former in Elmwood and the latter on N. Michigan. In addition, a fourth club member, Mrs. Robert Cox has just had a new home completed on W. Texas.

The hostess used spring flowers in the party rooms and at the close of the afternoon served a picnic plate to a visitor, Mrs. Rob Henderson, and the following club members: Mmes. Wallace Ford, Ross Jeffers, Buddy Tanner, Wyatt, Owen Jeffers, Alvin Johnson, Worden.

Roaming Rivers Keep U. S. Busy

WASHINGTON, (U.P.) - Roaming rivers that won't "stay put" are creating perplexing problems for the General Land Office. The rivers, while wearing away some banks, build up other banks, creating new plots of land which are owned by - well, that's what the General Land Office has to decide. The office is sending surveyors to Blaine county, Okla., to determine ownership of 100 acres of land built up by the Canadian river since 1914. Another "problem plot" is a six-mile stretch of territory along the Missouri river near Bismarck, N. D. This land is just one of a series of new areas built up by the Missouri river. Since 1886, when the office first surveyed the Missouri, the river has shifted its course almost continuously. The river "rooms" particularly freely over the wide flood plain near Bismarck. The office has decided title to lands created by Lake Michigan, the Red and Cimarron rivers in Texas and Oklahoma. The Red and Cimarron still are considered vagrants that are building up new areas - and making headaches for government surveyors.

Louisiana Blinks Its Eyes, Sees Huey Long "Reincarnated" as Son Campaigns on Campus

By NEA Service.

BATON ROUGE, La.—It isn't often that the people of a whole state pay much attention to the campus campaign and the election of undergraduate officers of the state university.

But when Russell Long started his drive for president of the student body of Louisiana State University here, the people of Louisiana cocked their ears and peered their eyes to hear and watch the hottest, most spectacular campaign in L. S. U.'s history.

For 19-year-old Russell Long, in fact, voice and electioneering methods, is the reincarnation of his father, the late Senator Huey P. Long. And now that Long has demonstrated his ability to poll almost as many votes as did his two opponents combined, Louisiana is wondering whether another member of the Long dynasty has leaped into the saddle to ride to the political wars.

Long received 1392 votes; Claiborne Dameron, 1203 votes; and "Blondie" Bennett, against whom Long concentrated his campaign, only 798 votes. Said Long after the elections, with the confidence typical of his father: "We've got 'em licked to a frazzle."

ADULTS with no family or per-have gasped at the sight of Russell Long in action.

"It's Huey come back again!" They have said it over and over. Huey Long's fantastic pug nose, his windmill gestures, his torrential flow of language, his eyes hot with excitement, his storm of vituperation at his opponents, are all there again on this earth in his son Russell Long.

Russell Long's campaign was a

Swim-suited coeds with "LONG" lettered on their bare backs, as at right, introduced a novel note into Russell Long's campaign for the campus presidency. At upper left, Shirley Leche, coed niece of Governor Richard W. Leche, prettily campaigns for Long from a sound truck. A glimpse of Russell Long, lower center, as he addressed a pre-election meeting, is startlingly reminiscent of his father, Huey Long. Claiborne Dameron, lower left is Long's closest competitor in the campaign.

The scantiest of swimming suits, with LONG in big black letters painted on their bare young backs. He organized loud-speakers on trucks to roll about the campus.

The morning of the election, he plastered L. S. U. campus with black-printed handbills, the same kind of political dodgers in the same kind of type his father used to issue to plaster Louisiana from one end to the other: "BEWARE OF LAST MINUTE LIES!" they were headed.

"The Ship Is Sinking and Blondie Bennett and His Gang Are Blown Up!" They went on the promise L. S. U. students a co-operative laundry, a co-operative book exchange, a straightaway bus service between the campus and Baton Rouge, if Russell Long were elected, and all "at no additional increase in fees."

Whiffs of tear-gas and fist-fights marked Russell Long's meeting when it was held the night before election. He shouted vituperation at the "laundry trust" that he said was charging students at L. S. U. twice what they should pay; offered to resign the presidency of the student body if he couldn't get them, without extra fee, a co-operative laundry plant on the campus, a co-operative book exchange and a straightaway bus service to town. It was like Huey Long attacking the trusts in his Louisiana campaigns in 1923 and 1927. Same voice, same gestures, same tactics.

NEARLY 8,000 Louisiana boys and girls attend L. S. U. from every parish (county) in the state. If Russell Long makes good with them, how high will he climb? Will the Long dynasty rule on into a second generation? Louisiana is asking that, very seriously today.

If you ask Russell Long that question, his answer is: "Yes!" His avowed intention is to follow in his father's footsteps. He is building up his machine, state-wide, on the L. S. U. campus. He is studying law and specializing in debate. He is planning to make politics his business, his profession, his vocation and his avocation, as his father did before him.

Case Won Out of Court By Sandlot Youngsters WATERVLIET, N. Y. (U.P.)—Their baseball confiscated by a neighbor to prevent possible damage to windows facing a sandlot ball field, 50 Watervliet youngsters sought justice in city court. City Judge John F. McMahon settled the litigation "out of court."

After hearing the boys state their case the judge called a recess. He went to a sporting goods store and bought two baseballs. Returning, he conferred with the plaintiffs. The baseballs changed hands.

When the judge called for resumption of the hearing, he was forced to dismiss the action. The plaintiffs had disappeared.

Hibernating Bear Roused By Unseasonal Warmth LADYSMITH, Wis. (U.P.)—One black bear in this county had a momentary conviction that summer arrived early. Forest Ranger Theodore W. Schmall notified the state conservation department here about it.

A WPA crew clearing the roadside piled brush around a huge pine stump and set it afire. When it was blazing hotly, Schmall reported the bear leaped out of the hollow stump, cooled himself by rolling in the snow, and then hurried north.

Negro, 109, Laments He's Same, World's Different ATHENS, Tex. (U.P.)—Everything is changed but himself, R. H. Paige, 109-year-old Negro, commented when he arrived here from New Orleans for a visit.

Paige is the father of 22 children, and his oldest boy is 83. Paige told how he was "tired of being a slave" when the Civil War opened, so he joined the Union forces. He fought in the Battle of Shiloh as a member of the 111th Field Artillery, and now lives on a $100 monthly pension.

"I'll live to a ripe old age," he predicted.

Pit Toilets Offered To County Residents All persons interested in procuring sanitary pit toilets, today were advised to get in touch with Buck Dupuy at 407 N. Colorado street.

Approximately 20 of the buildings have already been constructed and several others have been contracted.

All labor used in constructing the toilets is furnished by the government and owners have to pay only for the lumber that is used. The State Health Department has endorsed the idea of the pit toilets as an aid in preventing diseases during the hot summer months.

Anyone living in Midland county can procure the toilets, and Dupuy said that through cooperation with the lumber yards here the materials used in construction could be paid for in installments.
